Writing of Upper Broad River Mission, Bro. Whittington says: "The changes on the Shelby District place me in charge of Marion Circuit, and Upper Broad River Mission. Here we have been toiling this year, climbing up and down the mountains, crossing the greater and lesser rivers, seeking the lost sheep of the house of Israel whom Jesus came to seek and to save. We have found a great many who are aliens from God and strangers to grace, but willing to hear the truth as it is in Jesus. Some have been heard to say "what must I do to be saved?" and by the light of God's spirit have been enabled to step into the pool and be healed of their sins. We closed a protracted meeting at Antioch on the 13th which was a glorious time. Five conversions, 10 accessions to the church. Five adults and four children were baptized by sprinkling."

Rev. T. C. Smith, writing from Wilkesboro' under date of Sept 15th says:

"The Lord hath done great things for us whereof we are glad."

The people around Union church, with what aid they could get from other parts of the circuit, prepared a beautiful camp ground and an arbor, expecting to have a camp meeting but turned it into a basket meeting, and a better time we seldom see. It lasted over a week, opening on Friday 3d inst. and closing Sunday 12th

The power of the most high came down; preachers and people were in the Spirit from the very beginning, and the work smoothly and rapidly progressed. Nearly all the mourners were converted, backsliders were reclaimed, and all hearts were brought closer together. Number of conversions 55 more or less, accessions 43.

Our P. E., Bro. Benton, and Bro. Bagwell were with us till Wednesday evening. Bro. Carson, local from Taylorsville till Tuesday, and Bro. Wiley until the close. The Lord reward them for their faithful labors! Bro. Wiley preached eleven sermons, and did much efficient altar work, though in feeble health. I don't think the good people of Wilkes will ever forget him, and I may will rise up to call him blessed

We expect to have a regular old fashion camp meeting next year. Several have promised to build tents."

Rev. M. C. Thomas writing from Concord under date of Sept. 20th says:

"Please say through the ADVOCATE that we have had, up to the present, a good work in this circuit—having held five protracted meetings—one more yet to be held. Thirty-three accessions made to the church by these meetings and otherwise—expecting others still to unite with us. A few more than said number have made a profession of faith in Christ.

I herewith thankfully acknowledge the efficient help of Rev. Bros Brent, Bruton, Sherrill, Bate, Pepper, David Brown and Bro Willis Dikes. Exhorter, from Concord, in my protracted meetings. To God be the glory for whatever measure of success we have had in building up the church and saving souls!

I have a lot secured for a parsonage and enough on subscription to [illegible] a district for a [illegible] dwelling [illegible] The cost of lot and house $1200. We hope to raise more for other necessary purposes."

Rev. T. W. Smith, of Cokesbury circuit, says:

"We have had a series of meetings on Cokesbury ct. The first was held at Bethel, continued from 3rd Q. M. Our beloved, and efficient P. E., W. S Black, remained with us until Tuesday afternoon, encouraging and instructing us by four practical and able sermons. The church was refreshed, and there were seven conversions and seven additions.

The 2nd meeting was held at Salem. It was a very gracious season. The membership was greatly revived. Twenty six additions and about the same number of conversions. One of the good brethren from Bethany said, that he felt that Salem was as good a place to die, as anywhere. Bro. Fishblate, a convert from Judaism, now at Trinity, was with us, and seemed to be fully in the spirit. I was much pleased with him, and he gives promise of a useful life

The 3rd meeting held at Wesley Chapel, continued only four days. I think the church was benefited, but no other visible results.

Fourth meeting held at Bethany, was a time of refreshing from the Lord. The exercises were begun on Friday 3rd Sept. with a sermon from the words "Will thou not revive us again, that we may rejoice in thee?" And ere the meeting closed the prayer was answered to the hearts of many of the good people at Bethany. The shout of victory was often heard, and old and young rejoiced together. There were 14 accessions. I don't know the number of conversions. These meetings embraced 30 days, services twice each day, with two or three exceptions. I am not in favor of flattering notices of the labors of ministers, but I deem it proper to say that Bro. B. R. Hall of Fayetteville, was with me at the three last named churches, and was abundant and efficient in labors. May the Lord reward him. We also had Bro. Speller with us a part of the time at each church. He is a useful laborer in the vineyard. All the glory be given Jesus!"

Religious Brevities.

Bishop Kavanaugh, is now on an official visit to California. The Bishop is seventy-three years of age, and has been in the ministry fifty three years.

It is said that the Pope has invited Archbishop Ledochowski to come to Rome at the end of his period of imprisonment, to receive the insignia of Cardinal, as part compensation for his persecutions at the hand of the Prussian government.

WE see it stated that Miss Berenice Morrison, a young lady of wealth, of Howard county, Missouri, has donated one hundred thousand dollars to Pritchett Institute, belonging to our Church, located at Glasgow, Missouri.

Rev. B. Griffin, of the M. E. Church, Canada, was so very seriously ill last week that his recovery was not expected.

The chair of Mathematics in Vanderbilt University has been filled by the election of Prof. W. Leroy Broun, of the University of Georgia.

A telegram from Santa Fe, New Mexico, Sept. 19, says the body of Rev. F. J. Tolby, Methodist minister for Cimarron and Elizabethtown, was found between those two places. He had been shot through the heart. His horse was found tied to a tree a short distance from the body. There is no clew to the murderers.

The Episcopal Convention for the Diocese of Fond du Lac, held last week, elected Rev. J. H. H. Brown, of Cohoes, N. Y., bishop.

SUNDAY morning last Bishop Wightman reached Guyandotte, in good health, and preached at night to the delight and edification of a large audience. He is a man of great physical, as well as mental powers, and performs an almost incredible amount of work. He is no unpreaching prelate.—Central Methodist.

THE English Methodist papers announce the death of Rev. Chas. Prest, one of the most prominent ministers of the Wesleyan Conference and an Ex President of that body. He had been an active and most successful preacher for above forty-five years. For the last eighteen years he had been General Secretary for Wesleyan Home Missions.

A priest, who has recently abandoned the Romish faith, says that the Catholics of this country are greatly over estimated as to number. Even calculating in their manner—that is, every man, woman, and child—we will not find 5,000,000. Of the children they lose at least fifty per cent., seventy five per cent. of boys, and twenty-five per cent. of girls.

The late Emperor Ferdinand of Austria, left to the Pope a bequest of over five millions of dollars.

The president of the Board of the Propagation of the Faith in view of the great falling off in subscriptions during the present year, makes a special appeal to the Catholics of the United States. He complains that how largely they have been assisted by the Society in past years. From 1822 to 1870 the Propagation [illegible] 615 to Catholic [illegible] United States; receiving in return from our country during thirty of these years only $248,342, and before 1840 nothing worth mentioning.

Conventions.

The Convention is SOMEWHAT surely at work. The ordinances passed, last week, proposing important amendments, are:

An ordinance reducing the number of Super or Court Judges and Districts from twelve to nine.

An ordinance striking out the part of the constitution which binds the Supreme court to two sessions to be held in this city; provides that said other terms may be held at such other places as the Legislature may prescribe.

An ordinance establishing the courts, to wit. A court of Impeachment, Supreme Court, Superior Court Courts of Justice of the Peace and such other courts inferior to the Supreme Court as may be established by the Legislature.

An ordinance providing for the removal of the Republicans of ex-Gov. Holden was discussed for two days, but failed to pass by a vote of 55 to 53

The Convention passed an ordinance regulating the pay of its members—$4 a day and ten cents mileage each way.

An ordinance passed on Saturday providing for the submission of the proposed amendments to the constitution, to the people at the time of the regular November elections.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The creditors of the Bank of Mecklenburg have filed a petition to put it into Bankruptcy.

Even Charlotte has ill-mannered boys and boys who gather about church doors and vestibules and gape at passers by.

The Commercial National Bank, Charlotte has been removed to the building formerly occupied by the Mecklenburg Bank of Mecklenburg.

A negro boy in Wilmington, recently applied for a hunting license, said, as he wanted some place where he could get food and sleep.

Mr. Perry W. Austin, of Durham, who had both arms blown off by the premature firing of a cannon while celebrating the Conservative victory in Orange, died of his wounds. Mr. J. R. Morris lost an eye and was wounded in the head.

Mr. J. W. Quinn, of Cherryville, Gaston County, has a heifer two years old that has been giving milk for the past five months, although she never had a calf.

There are indications of the existence of marl beds several miles in extent, in Brunswick county.

Col. Roger Moore has been made chief of the Wilmington fire department

Mrs. J. W. Hays and Miss Hattie Cousins have taken charge of Oxford female seminary.

Tennessee's new United States Senator, Key, has two daughters at Salem academy in this State

A little daughter of Burton Davis, of Union county, died last Friday of injuries sustained by falling in the fire a month ago.

The distemper is raging among the cattle in Davidson county.

J. G. H. Mitchell has been elected Register of Deeds by the Commissioners of Stokes Co. vice J. L. W. Davis, resigned.

Mr. R. J. Holmes showed [illegible] bury Watchman a nugget of gold weighing 330 pennyweights, taken from the Christian mine in Montgomery county.

The Durham PLANT says that there is a man in that town who lives on [illegible] a year.

Richard G. Sneed has been elected Sheriff of Granville County, vice James I. Moore removed. Mr. Sneed has resigned his position as a member of the State Senate.

Judge Settle has disposed of his plantation on Dan River to Gen. S. A. Douglas.

Mr. J. W. Check, a respectable citizen of Durham, committed suicide last week by fastening the muzzle of his gun to a post and throwing himself from the log. He had been in bad health for some time and it is supposed that he was suffering from mental depression occasioned by his nervous prostration.

Up to Sept 10th, according to a correspondent of the Hillsboro Recorder, 41 students had matriculated at Trinity College.

Mr. Wm Sharpe, of Parkinsonville, has effected the purchase of the Matoac iron property in Stokes county and has begun the work of building and general improvement.

The firemen paraded in the streets last week, and on the old fire engine was a large banner with the words "Give us a new machine."

A collection of over $80 was [illegible] at the concert given by Mr. Mc[illegible] phan Band in Greensboro' last week.

Mr. C. McGinnis, of Moore county, made 320 gallons of sorghum on one acre of land and finds ready sale for it at one dollar per gallon, says Charlotte HOME.

The Greensboro PATRIOT says that Z. B. Vance will be the next Governor of North Carolina. The CHRONICLE [illegible] says W. R. Cox or [illegible] Bridges for Lieutenant Governor.

The Statesville Landmark says the tobacco crop this year in [illegible] county will exceed a million of [illegible]

Mr. J. H. Mills, Superintendent of Orphan Asylum, says the Legislature has ordered the statement that he does not live in Thomasville.

R. H. Morrison, Jr., has [illegible] the Shannon house property, [illegible] three miles from Charlotte, on the [illegible] ville road, for $5,000.

Mrs. T. J. Hutchens, living [illegible] Airy, while attempting to remove from a nest of young chickens a large moccasin snake coiled up among the brood. She despatched and told her husband of the circumstance. He went to the nest and killed the snake and found ten chickens [illegible] all dead—a war of extermination [illegible] taken place. The hen's head was [illegible] len to the size of a man's fist. So says the Surry VISITOR.

The Christian Advocate

...RED AT THE POST OFFICE OF RALEIGH, N. C., AS SECOND CLASS MATTER.

...ISHED EVERY THURSDAY MORNING.

TERMS $2.50 POSTAGE PAID.

Our Agents.

...ers are authorized to receive subscriptions and receipt for the same. All letters on business connected with the paper should be addressed to the Editor.

Time to Stop.

...ers will be supplied regularly with the paper until ordered to stop, when all arrearages must be paid. The date on the address label shows to what time the paper is paid. Persons wishing to discontinue their papers will please notify us at the end of the year, otherwise we shall consider it their wish to continue the paper.

Correspondents.

...ers should be concisely written. All letters should be addressed to the Editor.

Advertisements.

...ers desiring to advertise in our columns will please call for rates, which will be furnished promptly on application.

...ers will please remember that the circulation of this paper is more than double that of any other paper published in the State, and that it is read by the most intelligent class of people in North Carolina.

...ers will please remember that the terms of this paper are strictly cash in advance, and that no deviation from this rule will be made

Children's Goluma

TRUST.

BY MRS M. P. BUTTS.

"Dear little one, art not afraid?
The sunshine will not last;
The shadows gather in the glade,
The day is fading fast."
The child replied, his happy eyes
Aglow with faith's calm light:
"My Father works just over there,
I'm not afraid of night."

We are but children yet, alas!
We are not wise as they;
When shadows fall, with sudden fright
We leave our work or play.
We cannot hear our Father's voice
For our unbelieving fears;
When we might see His loving face
Our eyes are full of tears.

O, little children of the Lord,
Who walk by faith not sight,
Remember that your tender Friend
Still loves you in the night.
Be silent listening for His voice:
No darkness lasts always,
Watch for the tokens of His will.
[illegible] of day.

Answers.

Esau sold his birthright to Jacob. Genesis 25th chap 33d verse. M N Davis.

Manchah was removed from being queen by Asa 2d Chronicles 15th chap. 16th verse. M N Davis.

The verse quoted by J F W Davis "Who hath woe," &c., is found in 23d chap. 29th verse of Proverbs. J R and J W Howard, F B Jones.

"They prevented me in the day of my calamity, &c.," is found in Psalm 28th chap. 18th v. J R and J W Howard, F B Jones.

Balaam said, "Let me die the death of the righteous and let my last end be like his." Numbers 23d 10th. J R and J W Howard.

Moses was 40 years in the wilderness. J R and J W Howard and F B Jones.

The first recorded falsehood is found in Genesis 3d chap. 4th v. J R and J W Howard.

J R and J W Howard and F B Jones send the following as the answer to Enigma proposed by Alice and Pattie Peebles:

1st is Abraham, 2d Abimelech, 3d Rehoboam, 4th Omri, 5th Naaab—the whole is Aaron.

They also send the following answer to Enigma by F B Jones: 1st is Nazareth, 2d Italy, 3d Nain, 4th Elnathan, 5th Vashti, 6th Ephesdammin, 7th Hiram. Its whole is Nineveh.

Questions.

J F W Davis asks what chapter in the Bible contains 21 verses, 16 of which end with the word 'one.'

M N Davis asks. Where in the New Testament do these words occur: "For the fashion of this world passeth away." Also, "of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons."

A M Turner asks "Was there ever a plan of salvation offered unto Judas? If so, when and where is it to be found in the Bible?"

ENIGMA BY UNI.

I am composed of fourteen letters.

My 6th, 4th, 8th and 11th is what every child should learn to be.

My 11th, 10th and 13th is a part of the body.

My 1st, 8th, 9th and 7th is a narrow road.

My 3d, 5th, 11th and 13th is to exercise the right of suffrage.

My 12th, 2d and 4th is an implement used in gardening.

My 6th, 2nd, 14th, 11th and 12th is a point of the compass.

My whole is a command in the Bible that all men and children should obey.

SQUARE WORD—NO. 1.

My first is the father of all men.

My second is the surname of the first white child born on American soil.

My third is a space.

My fourth is an article of food.

(As our little readers may not be acquainted with the method of forming square words we will explain.—The first word must read across and down. The second letter of the first word must begin the second word which must also read across and down. The third letter of the first word must begin the third word which must also read across and down, and so on. For instance

PAN
ALE
NEW

Here the three words form a square, each reading across and down.)

JOHN AND THE POSTAGE STAMP.

John was a boy who 'lived out.' Every week he wrote home to his mother, who lived on a small farm among the hills. One day John picked up an old envelope from the kitchen wood-box, and saw that the postage-stamp on it was not touched by the postmaster's stamp, to show that it had done its duty, and was henceforth useless. 'The postmaster missed his aim then,' said John, 'and left the stamp as good as new. I'll use it myself.'

He moistened it at the nose of the tea-kettle, and carefully pulled the stamp off.

'No,' said conscience, 'for that would be cheating. The stamp has been on one letter; it ought not to carry another.'

'It can carry another,' said John, because you see, there is no mark to prove it worthless. The post-office will not know.'

'But you know,' said conscience, 'and that is enough. It is not honest to use it a second time. It is a little matter, to be sure; it is cheating. God looks for principle. It is the quality of every action that he judges by.'

'But no one will know it,' said John faintly.

'No one!' cried conscience. 'God will know it; that is enough; and He, you know, desires truth in the inward parts.'

'Yes,' cried all the best parts of John's character, 'yes, it is cheating to use the postage-stamp the second time, and and I will not do it.'

John tore it in two, and gave it to the winds. And so John won a victory; and was'nt it worth winning?

Rural and Domestic.

Fruit-Drying.

Whenever fruit is dried in the sun, says an exchange, it is exposed to insects, who deposit more or less eggs upon it. If the climate be calm, as in the Atlantic States, the cold weather sets in so early that these eggs are not hatched out in autumn, and the fruit is usually consumed before the following spring, the consumers ignorant of the fact of having eaten with it millions of insect eggs, which become animated with life as soon as warm weather approaches, if any fruit remains. In California and in all semi-tropical latitudes these eggs hatch out before the approach of autumn, and often destroy the fruit before it is required for consumption, and always injure it. Much sun dried fruit has been shipped to foreign ports, and has been ruined before reaching its destination, and when sold nearer home has been returned to the farmer. Therefore oven-dried fruit is the most reliable, cleanly and wholesome and healthy. Economy and policy all require that the old method of drying be abandoned, unless it can be subjected to some process by which the insects may be destroyed. Fruit dried by artificial means, if carefully watched, is always more wholesome and palatable, and when it is designed to thus prepare it for the home or foreign markets, patent ovens for the purpose should be used, which may be so arranged as to prevent burning and which will cause the juices of the fruit to dry rapidly, and thereby impart a finer and more natural taste, since the process of drying is quickly accomplished.

BITE OF A RATTLESNAKE.—A post-office agent traveling in Texas tells of the successful use of the gall of a rat (lately known as an antidote for the bite of that reptile). In the case spoken of relief was almost instantaneous to the patient, who was writhing in paroxysms of great pain, rapidly swelling and becoming purple. A friend of the writer, who spent several years in California and New Mexico, saw the same remedy successfully used among the Indians in the latter country. In one instance an Indian's dog near the camp was bitten in the nose by a large rattlesnake. The Indians immediately opened the reptile and administered the gall. The cure was rapid and effectual.—St. Augustine Press.

APPLE PIE.—Pare and quarter enough tart apples to lay loosely in the prepared paste; the quarters should not touch one another. Fill the paste two thirds full of thin, sweet cream, then sprinkle over one spoonfull of flour; butter as large as a walnut; cut in bits. Sugar (if a common pie tin is used,) two thirds teacup full. Grate nutmeg over the whole, as no other flavoring gives the peculiar excellent taste. Bake slow; if a brown crust forms over the top before the apples cook, stir it under with a knife. If it is not pronounced splendid the fault will be with the apples or not following the direction.

HORTICULTURAL PUN.—Sir George Rose being introduced to two charming young ladies' whose name were Mary and Louisa, he instantly added with a bow: "Ah, yes! Marie Louisa, the sweetest pear I know;" a compliment worthy of being named with that beautiful one of Sydney Smith, suggested by the pea. A young lady walking with him in the garden paused to examined a favorite flower, on which she had taken great pains. She remarked: "I am afraid, Mr. Smith, that this pea will never come to perfection."

"Then allow me," taking her politely by the hand, "to lead perfection to the pea."

TRANSPLANTING BEETS.—Few people know that the beet transplants almost as well as the cabbage. Almost all people sow their seed too thick, through fear that some of the seed will not grow. After they are up they find the plants must be thinned out, but after that is done will not be enough left to make half the crop they require. In the case of the beet, the thinnings may be transplanted, and they will make nearly as good roots as if the plants grew where the seeds were sown. All that is necessary is to take care that the plants do not wilt; and to this end a little watering or shading may be necessary.—Maryland Farmer.

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT

Volcanic Medicine which Revolves the System by their widest Cathartic action, must not be taken in Constipation. The solid, resulting evil policies operation of is exactly what is required, and will speedily cure the most chronic case.

Tarrant's Effervescent Aperient

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Sept. 29-2m,

Important Results Pleasantly Achieved.

Although the days of irrational medication are happily passing away, and intelligent physicians have ceased to measure the supposed efficacy of a remedy on the violence of its effects, there still linger among the older practitioners a few of those pernicious ideas in favor of "heroic" treatment, which it would be unjust for their patients if they had abandoned. One of these is a fondness for administering drastic purgative, such as blue pill, calomel, jalap and castor oil. A contrast of the effects of these drenching drugs with the mild and beneficent operation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is the very best argument that can be adduced against the wisdom of such destructive treatment. The old fashioned cathartics convulse the stomach, and relax the bowels so abruptly and copiously as to weaken them. Hostetter's Bitters, on the contrary, never gripe the intestines but produce a laxative effect resembling the action of nature. At the same time they remove the cause of constipation, by arousing the dormant liver to secrete the bile necessary to the regular performance of the excretive function, and enable the stomach to thoroughly digest the food. Indigestion and biliousness having been thus overcome, a regular habit of body is the necessary consequence, which the occasional subsequent use of the Bitters renders permanent. Every disagreeable symptom which, in the absence of perfect digestion and evacuation, harrasses the system, vanishes under the influence of the great national stomachic and alterative. Health and vigor are both blessings that follow its use.

Sept 1. 1-m

A FAMOUS MEDICAL INSTITUTION.

From the Chicago Times.

"The name of D. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has become as familiar to the people all over the country as household words. His wonderful success, his pamphlets and books, and his large medical establishment, have brought him into prominence and given him a world reputation. The Times, in the progress of its large, extensive and whole-page communication from Dr Pierce, and our readers may gain from it some idea of the proportions to which both have and the magnitude of his undertakings. He has at Buffalo a mammoth establishment, appropriately named 'The World's Dispensary,' where patients are treated, and the remedies compounded. Here nearly a hundred persons are employed in the several departments, and a corps of able and skilled physicians stand ready to alleviate the suffrings of humanity by the most approved methods. Those physicians are in frequent consultation with Dr. Pierce, and their combined experience is brought to bear on the successful treatment of obstinate cases. The Doctor is a man of large medical experience, and his extensive knowledge of materia medica has been acknowledged by presentations of degrees from two of the first Medical Colleges in the land."

If you would patronize Medicines, scientifically prepared by a skilled Physician and Chemist, use Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines. Golden Medical Discovery is nutritious, tonic alterative, and blood cleansing, and an unequaled Cough Remedy; Pleasant Purgative Pellets, scarcely larger than mustard seeds, operate as an agreeable and reliable physic; Favorite Prescription, a remedy for debilitated females, Extract of Smart Weed, a magical remedy for Pain, Bowel Complaints, and an unequaled Liniment for both human and horse flesh, while his Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is second to none ever offered as the greatest specific for Catarrh and Cold in the Head. Greatest success has followed their use. They are sold by Druggists.

Sept 2-1t.

THE NEEDLE

COTTON GIN.

The American Needle Gin now enters upon its sixth year. During the past season its reputation has been widely established by its successful operation—competing at many of the Southern fairs and beating away first premiums.

In the gin house it has eclipsed its most successful record at fairs

A report from one of our Sixty circle Condenser Gins in Georgia, says: "That during the ginning season it finished 75 bales of cotton." In South Carolina a gin of the same size ginned a bale weighing 519 lbs. in forty-five minutes. From many other reports we feel is pretty well established that a fifty circle will gin a 500 bale in ten hours. As the Willingham Co's Fair a forty circle ginned 199 lbs. seed cotton in six minutes yielding 86 pounds of lint.

At the State Fair of South Carolina, held at Columbia, in December last, a Thirty Circle Condenser was run in the open air through white bones of parsnips and nails were put without setting fire to the cotton or injuring the needle.

☞ Send for circular to

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,

RALEIGH, N. C.

Dealers in Hardware, Sash, Doors and Blinds, Paints Oils and Glass, Wagon and Buggy Material.

July 7-tf

OLD NORTH STATE

FIRE

Insurance Company.

OF

WARRENTON, - - - - - N. C.,

This Company has closed its third year in a condition of GREAT PROSPERITY, and entered upon its fourth year under the MOST PROMISING AUSPICES.

It deserves the liberal patronage which it is receiving because

It is a home institution,
It has ample Capital and Reserves
It pays its loss promptly.

ASSETS.

Cash on hand and in Bank,	$ 8,421 55
Cash in hands of Agents,	4,994 00
Stock Notes,	45,670 00
Real Estate Mortgage,	59,998 8
Loaned on Collaters'l,	7,647 61
Due for premiums,	3,720 63
Interest due and accrued,	916 20
	$130,997 19

LIABILITIES.

All liabilities including full re-insurance Reserved,	$18,481 81
Surplus,	111,816 38
	$130,297 19

WM. S. DAVIS, President.
R. P. LONG, Secretary.

NEW FIRM

The undersigned have this day formed a co partnership under the firm name of

Wainright, Williams & Hood,

and having purchased the stock and good will of J. D. WHITAKER, they will continue the GROCERY and COMMISSION business at

FARMER'S EXCHANGE,

No. 4 Martin Street,

RALEIGH, N. C.

Our Stock will consist of

Bacon,
Flour,
Molasses,
Coffee,
Sugars,
Lard
Salt,
Bagging,
and Ties.

And all other goods in the Grocery line with Staple Dry Goods, Shoes, etc. Having superior facilities for buying, and a small expense account, we guarantee the lowest prices. Consignments of Cotton and produce generally, solicited, to the sale of which our best efforts will be devoted.

Patronage of our friends respectfully solicited.

GEO. H. WAINRIGHT,
(late with Williamson, Upton & Thomas,)
BID T. WILLIAMS, Chatham,
WM. H. HOOD, Johnston.

Raleigh, Sept. 1, 1875.

Having sold my stock of Groceries to Messrs. Wainright, Williams & Hood, I take pleasure in recommending them to my friends and late customers, as entirely worthy of confidence and patronage.

For the present, I may be found at the old stand and hope all those indebted to the late firm of Thompson & Whitaker and to myself, will call and settle as soon as possible.

J. D. WHITAKER.

Raleigh, Sept 8-tf

$250 A MONTH—Agents wanted everywhere. Business honorable and first class. Particulars sent free. Address J. WORTH & CO., St. Louis, Mo

aug 4-12m.

DISSOLUTION.

The firm of WYATT, BINGHAM & CO. has this day been dissolved by mutual consent, L. R. WYATT having withdrawn.

All debts against the late firm of WYATT BINGHAM & Co., will be settled as they come due. All indebted to the late firm will please come forward and make settlement.

B. L. BINGHAM & CO.

"NEWS" BUILDING, No. 6, MARTIN STREET

Raleigh, N. C.

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 26, 1874.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Having purchased the entire interest of MR. L. R WYATT, we shall continue the wholesale and retail

GROCERY, COTTON

AND

COMMISSION BUSINESS,

At the Old Stand.

And will have at all times a large assortment of

GROCERIES,
BAGGING and TIES,
SALT, NAILS,
FLOUR,
BACON,
ETC.

Wishes will be sold at the lowest market prices, and we will be glad to see our friends and customers. Thankful for past favors, we hope to merit a continuance of the same.

B. L. BINGHAM & CO.

sept. 1-tf.

SCHOOL BOOKS

Of all descriptions constantly kept on hand at the lowest cash prices.

L. BRANSON,
Raleigh, N. C.

N. C ALMANAC FOR 1876—

Now in course of preparation. Advertisements taken at reasonable rates. Send in your orders early.

L. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.

NEWS DEPOT—TAKE NOTICE.

I am supplying all the Daily Newspapers and periodicals at the publishers' subscription rates. You can subscribe for 12 months, 6 months, or even one month.

L. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.

BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

Give me a trial before purchasing elsewhere.

L. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.

aug. 26-tf

JUST PUBLISHED.

!! THE SHINING RIVER !!

A NEW SABBATH SCHOOL SONG BOOK

By H. S. & W. O. Perkins.

PRICE 35 CENTS. $30 PER HUNDRED

"Rest in Peace," "What Jesus may say," "Wanderling Child," "What are these," "Watchman awake!" are specimens of the titles of the beautiful new hymns, to sweet new melodies.

!! THE HIGH SCHOOL CHOIR !!

By L. O. EMERSON and W. S. HILLIS.

PRICE $1.00. $9.00 PER DOZEN.

The HIGH SCHOOL CHOIR is similar in general design to the popular and successful "Golden Wreath." While it has been almost universally acclaimed high school, The present work contains many inducements for the devotional, and is entirely fresh and new

THE SONG MONARCH.

PRICE 75 CENTS. $7.50 PER DOZEN.

By H. R PALMER, assisted by [illegible]

Do no think of issuing a Singing School without having this work to select from. It contains [illegible]

Specimen copies of each, post paid to any address, for introduction, will be sent on receipt of the following prices:

OLIVER DITSON & CO., C. H. DITSON & CO.,
Boston. 711 Broadway, New York

Sept 1-tf

MAY BECK, H. NASH, President. H. K. ELLWOOD, Vice President. H. G. MACKEY, Secretary. J. D. HOLSTEAD, Medical Secretary.

Old Dominion

INSURANCE CO.

1113 MAIN ST., RICHMOND, VA.

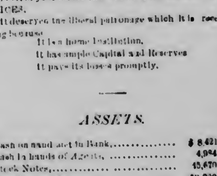
Cash Assets over - - - $325,000.00
$10.000 Deposit in North Carolina.

Lawrence & Watson,

GENERAL AGENTS,

RALEIGH, N. C.

Sept 1 6w



CABINET ORGANS.

UNEQUALED for quality, UNAPPROACHED critically.

THREE HIGHEST MEDALS AND DIPLOMA OF HONOR, AT VIENNA; 1873; PARIS, 1867.

ONLY American Organs ever awarded any medal in Europe, or which present such extraordinary excellence as to command a wide sale there.

ALWAYS awarded highest premiums at Industrial Expositions, in America as well as Europe. Out of hundreds there have not been six in all where any other organs have been preferred.

BEST Declared by Eminent Musicians, in both hemispheres, to be unrivaled. See TESTIMONIAL CIRCULAR, with opinions of more than One Thousand (sent free).

INSIST on having a Mason & Hamlin. Do not take any other. Dealers get LARGE commissions for selling inferior organs, and for this reason they very hard to sell something else.

NEW STYLES with most important improvements ever made. New Solo and Combination Stops. Superb Etagere and other Cases of new designs.

PIANO-HARP CABINET ORGAN an exquisite combination of these instruments.

EASY PAYMENTS. Organs sold for cash or for monthly or quarterly payments; or rented until rent pays for the organ.

CATALOGUES and Circulars, with full particulars, free. Address MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont Street, BOSTON; 25 Union Square, NEW YORK; or 80 & 82 Adams St., CHICAGO.

apl 14-1 year.

JOHN J. FRAY'S

English, Classical and Mathematical School,

14 miles S. E. of Raleigh and 4 miles from Clayton, a station on N. C. R. R. The seventeenth session begins Monday Sept. 13th 1875. Prepares boys and gives [illegible] college, or the active duties of life. Good board [illegible] fuel, lights and washing (no extras) only $13 50 per month. Refers to the faculty of the University of Va., Rev. B. T. Blake and to any of former patrons. For circulars containing particulars &c. Address.

JOHN J. FRAY,
or A. T. MIAL,
Raleigh N. C.

aug. 25-2 m.

THE FIRM OF WYNNE, YANCEY & CO., is this day dissolved by mutual consent.

GEO. W. WYNNE,
T. B. YANCEY,
J. W. LEE.

RALEIGH, June 15th, 1875.

HAVING PURCHASED THE interest as Assignee of the liabilities of the late firm of WYNNE, YANCEY & CO., I would request all those indebted to make [illegible] payment.

Thankful for the patronage so liberally bestowed upon the late firm I trust by personal attention to merit the same.

GEO. W. WYNNE.

June 30-tf

NEW SPRING GOODS JUST ARRIVED.

D. S. WATT & BRO.,

Wholesale and Retail

DEALERS IN

READY MADE CLOTHING

For MEN, YOUTHS and CHILDREN.

Latest Styles and Prices Low.

The celebrated MANHATTEN WHITE SHIRTS, which are acknowledged the best Goods and most perfect Fit that is made. A full line constantly on hand.

Gents and Ladies Hose, Gloves, Suspenders, Handkerchief Neckties, Bows and Silk Scarfs. The latest novelties of the season paper Linen Cuffs and Collars Ladies Leather Belts, Rosebuds, Edgings and Insertions, Curlee Ruffings, and Flutings, Ladies' Neck Ruffs and Collars, Shaped Yokes and Bands, &c

DOMESTIC AND FANCY DRY GOODS.

PRINTS, PRINTS, PRINTS.

Black Alpacas.

Corded dark suits, Striped and Figured Lawns White Pique, Dot Muslins, Check'd Muslins, Nainsook and Lilla'n Lawns, corset Jeans, canvas and Linens.

HATS HATS HATS

Newest Styles and Cheap.

BOOTS AND SHOES.

Our look is complete to this line. Miles and Taylor's goods just need speak for themselves. Other goods which also give satisfaction.

To Country Merchants who buy in the City, we would say give us a call and we will sell goods for one or two days less freight to the City, or than that of the cities of New York.

Your consignments solicited and patrons we invite to return our thanks for past favors and assure such in future that no ever left-favored confident that we are prepared to do the best that can be done in this city.

D. S. WATT & BRO.,
34 Fayetteville St., Corner
mch 9-tf.

SCHEDULES.

PIEDMONT AIR-LINE RAILWAY.

Richmond & Danville Railroad & Danville R. W. N. C. Division, and Seaboard Air Line N. C. R. W.

[illegible]

In effect on and after Sunday, Sept. 19th, 1875.

GOING NORTH

STATIONS.	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Charlotte.....	9.55 P. M	5.45 A. M.
" Air-Line Junc'n	9.51 "	6.01 "
" Salisbury.....	11.18 "	8.34 "
" Greensboro'....	3.15 A. M.	10.55 "
" Danville.....	6.08 "	1.12 P. M.
" Dundee.....	6.15 "	1.20 "
" Burkville.....	11.35 "	6.07 "
Arrive at Richmond...	7.22 P. M.	5.45 "

GOING SOUTH

STATIONS.	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Richmond.....	1.38 P. M.	2.05 A. M.
" Burkville.....	4.52 "	8.36 "
" Dundee.....	10.31 "	1.14 P. M.
" Danville.....	10.39 "	1.22 P. M.
" Greensboro'....	2.06 A. M.	5.35 "
" Salisbury.....	5.32 "	6.15 "
" Air-Line Junc'n	7.02 "	8.01 "
Arrive at Charlo., &c..	7.22 A. M	8.51 "

GOING EAST. GOING WEST

STATIONS.	MAIL.	MAIL.
Leave Greensboro'....	8.00 A. M.	Arrive 1.15 A. M.
" Co. Shops.....	8.35 "	Leave 12.30 "
" Raleigh.....	9.35 "	8.10 P. M.
Arrive at Goldsboro'	11.30 A. M.	Leave 5.00 "

NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. R.

(SALEM BRANCH.)

Leave Greensboro'..... 4.30 P. M.
Arrive at Salem..... 6.13 "
Leave Salem..... 8.40 A.M.
Arrive at Greensboro'.... 10.30 "

Passenger trains leaving Raleigh at 9.10 P. M. connect at Greensboro' with the Northern mail train, making the quickest time to all Northern cities. Pass'r Tickets same as via other routes.

Trains to and from points East of Greensboro connect at Greensboro with Mail Trains to or from points North or South.

Two trains daily, both ways.

On Sunday's lay Leaving Accommodation leave Greensboro' 4.30 P. M. arrive at Salem 6.13 P. M., leave Burkeville 7.35 A. M., arrive at Richmond 1.55 A. M.

No Change of Cars between Charlotte and Richmond, 282 Miles.

Papers that copy advertisements to advertise the Schedule of the coming will please print as above. For further information address

S. E. ALLEN,
Gen'l Ticket Agent,
Greensboro, N. C.

T. M. R. TALCOTT,
Engineer & Gen'l Superintendent.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE

RALEIGH & GASTON RAILROAD CO.

On and after Friday, May 22nd, 1874, trains on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, will run daily (sunday excepted,) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Leave Raleigh,	9.35 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon,	2.50 P. M.
Leaves Weldon,	9.50 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh,	3.45 P. M.

ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon,	5.15 P. M.
Leaves Weldon,	2.21 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh	2.45 P. M.

Mail train makes close connection at Weldon, with the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad and Bay Line steamers via Baltimore, to and from all points North, West and N. Gilmore, and with Petersburg Railroad via Petersburg, Richmond and Washington City to and from all points North and Northeast.

And at Raleigh with the North Carolina Railroad to and from all points South and Southwest, and with the Raleigh & Augusta Air-Line to [illegible] and Fayetteville.

A. B. ANDREWS,
Gen. Sup't.

RALEIGH & AUGUSTA AIR-LINE RAILROAD.

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, S. C., Oct. 25th, 1873.

On and after Monday, October 27th, 1873, trains on the R. & A. A. L. Road will run daily, (sundays excepted,) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Train leaves Raleigh,	4.00 P. M.
Arrives at Seaford,	6.25 "
Train leaves Seaford,	6.30 A. M
Arrives at Raleigh,	9.25 "

FREIGHT TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Seaford	10.35 A. M.
Leaves Seaford,	12.01 A. M
Arrives at Raleigh	5.20 P. M.

Mail Train makes close connection at Raleigh with the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, to and from all points South.

And at Seaford with the Western Railroad to and from Fayetteville, for points on Western Railroad.

A. H. ANDREWS,
Superintendent.

OFFICE SUPT. OF TRANSPORTATION,
Seaboard & Roanoke R. R. Co.,
Portsmouth, Va., Jan. 1st, 1875.

On and after this date, trains of this Road will leave Weldon daily, Sundays excepted, as follows:

Mail train at	4 P. M
No. 1 Freight train at	4 A. M.
No. 2 Freight train at	8 A. M.

ARRIVE AT PORTSMOUTH.

Mail train at	7 15 P. M
No. 1 Freight at	12 00 Noon
No. 2 Freight at	4 00 P. M

Freight trains have a passenger car attached.

Steamer for Edenton, Plymouth and Landings on Blackwater and Chowan Rivers leave Franklin at 7.40 A. M on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

E. G. GHIO.
Sept. Transportation.

FROM

HENRY J. BROWN,

Opposite Masonic Hall.

RALEIGH, N. C.,

UNDERTAKER,

Keeps on hand Fisk's Metallic Burial Cases, Self-Sealing Metallic Burial Cases, and Walnut and other Wood Coffins. HEARSE FURNISHED.

Also Dealer in Furniture. Repairing and Varnishing Promptly Executed.

ap 19-1y

THE CARY COTTON GIN

Is still being manufactured at Cary, N. C., improved in some respect and warranted to give satisfaction or no trade. If properly put to work. Those desiring further information send for Circulars, &c. to

W. M. SORRELL,
Cary, N.C.

June 16-tf.

G. T. LEACH, N. Y. M. T. LEACH

Leach Brothers,

WHOLESALE GROCERS

AND

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

SOUTH-EAST CORNER MARKET, SQUARE, Raleigh, N. C

Again we take great pleasure in presenting our card and return to thanks to the readers of the ADVOCATE for their very liberal patronage during the past ten years, and offer them the largest and best bought stock of Groceries ever offered in any market south of Baltimore, and while just now Bacons, Sugars and Lard are very scarce and high, we have made extra effort and feel sure we have succeeded in bringing other goods equally low and in the end giving our friends all the advantage gained thereby to counter balance any advance in the few articles named.

We wish to invite especial attention to our select stock of staple Groceries bought direct from the Factories and offered here AT FIRST HANDS.

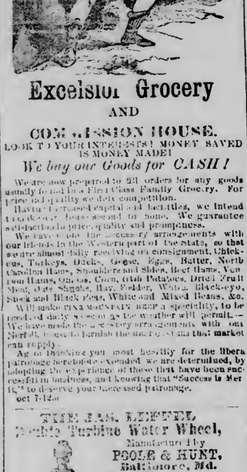
We have now in store:

5 hhds. Ribbon sugars,
10 Mats old mocha Java,
10 Bbls. A Sugar,
10 Bbls Extra Sugar,
10 Bbls. C [illegible]
20 Bbls Crushed,
20 Boxes Bulk Sugar,
10 " Shoulders,
10 " Sides,
50 Kegs English Soda,
100 Bbls. E. D and Sole Leather,
100 Sides Upper Leather,
50 " Harness Leather,
100 Cases Oysters,
50 " Brandy Peaches,
5,000 Yds. Bagging,
6,000 lbs. Ties,
100 Bbls. Super Flour,
100 Bags Assorted Shot,
50 Bbls Extra Flour,
Soda Crackers,
Butter Crackers,
Sugar Crackers,
Boston Crackers,
Reflex Factory and Dairy Cheese,
Goshen W. R. and O. G. Cheese,
1 Kegs Burton Horse and Mule Shoes,
200 lbs. Horse Shoe Nails,
Dalton Rod Nails,
Boxes Assorted Tin Candles,
Boxes Laundry and Toilet Soaps,

We offer especial inducements to country and near-by merchants, and invite an examination of our stock daily to continue.

LEACH BROS

PHILO ALCOTT. WAYNE ALCOTT.



Excelsior Grocery

AND

COMMISSION HOUSE.

LOOK TO YOUR INTERESTS! MONEY SAVED IS MONEY MADE!

We buy our Goods for CASH!

We are now prepared to fill orders for any goods usually found in a First Class Family Grocery. For prices and quality we defy competition.

Having increased capital and facilities, we intend to do our business second to none. We guarantee satisfaction in every particular.

We have made the success by arrangements with our friends in the Western part of North Carolina, so that we are almost daily receiving consignments Chickens, Turkeys, Chickens, Geese, Eggs, Butter, North Carolina Hams, Shoulders and Sides, Best Hams, Virginia Hams, Corn, Irish Potatoes, Dried Fruit, Sheep, Pigs, Shoats, Hay, Fodder, White, Black-eyed, Speckled and Field Peas, Whitsell and Mixed Beans, &c. We will handle PINE MOUNTAIN MEAL a specialty, to be ground daily as soon as the weather will permit.—We have need for a large amount of Cornmeal, with our Northern connections we are determined, by adopting the experience of these that have been successful in business, and knowing that "Success is Merit," to deserve your honored patronage.

THE EAS. ECLIPSE
Double Turbine Water Wheel,
Manufactured by PEOPLE & HUNT,
Baltimore, Md.
7,000 NOW IN USE!
Simple, Strong, Durable, and reliable and safe in every Millers, Farmers, also of Woolen & Stationary Machinery, Sawing Boilers, Gearing & Grist Mills, Mining Machinery, Pumping Machinery, Cotton Gins, Flour Packs, White Lead and other Mills, Shafting and other Hangers, Pulleys, Boxes, Gearing, Saw Mills, Portable Grist Mills, &c. Send for Circular and Price List. Send for Cut.

mch 9-tf.

1875. SPRING STOCK. 1875.

NEW GOODS! GOOD QUALITY!!

LOW PRICES!!!

JOS. P. GULLEY,

RETAILER AND JOBBER OF

Dry Goods, Notions, Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, Trunks, Valises, White Goods, &c.,

RALEIGH, N. C.

My large and carefully selected stock for the Spring and Summer Trade is now in store, and I respectfully invite all buyers of good goods and low prices to call and examine for themselves.

BURT'S GAITERS and BOOTS FOR GENTS

To the public who have bought and used these goods we need only say that we have a full line of them.—For durability and neatness of fit they are unsurpassed.

Also Wilkes and Gent's hand made shoes for the Ladies.

PRINTS! PRINTS! PRINTS!

A large assortment of the latest patterns, at prices that cannot be excelled.

Respectfully,
JOSEPH P. GULLEY.
Corner Fayetteville and Market Square.

oct 7-1y

PLEIS' FIT POWDERS.

These Powders have been tested by over 10000 cases for the cure of Fits (Epilepsy), Spasms, Convulsions, St. Vitus' Dance, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Affections, some over 15 years' standing.

When you ORDER FITS FOR A FEE of $5 and 5 cents for POSTAGE sent to a part of the United States for One Dollar per Box.—These Powders are prepared and sold only by the proprietor, to whom all orders must be addressed,

JOHN M. PLEIS, Jr.,
511 North Third Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

☞ Please mention that you saw this advertisement in THE CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE. mar 31-1y

Williams & Haywood,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Oils, Dye Stuffs, Perfumery,

Fancy Articles, Garden Seeds, Fine Teas, Spices, Flavoring Extracts.

CIGARS, CHEWING TOBACCO &C.

Keep constantly on hand, at lowest market prices, White Lead, Putty, Kerosene Oil, Linseed Oil, Lamp Oil, Tanner's Oil, Window Glass, Varnish, &c., &c. dec, 23-1

A New Musical Era!!

ALL CAN LEARN TO SING.

The most Natural and Easy system of Music yet discovered; learned in one-fourth the time of any other. Now is the time to subscribe. Specimen pages mailed free. TEACHERS wanted as AGENTS.

DUDLEY'S BIBLE & PUBLISHING HOUSE,
Nos. 1104 & 1106 Samson St., Philadelphia.

Aug 4-3m.

TEMPLE HARP.

A New Music Book, upon above system, for Choirs, &c.

CRYSTAL GEMS.

For Sabbath-schools, Singing Classes. Specimen pages mailed free. TEACHERS wanted as AGENTS.

DUDLEY'S BIBLE & PUBLISHING HOUSE,
Nos. 1104 & 1106 Samson St., Philadelphia.

Aug 4-3m.

READ THIS

I will give any one an opportunity to make from $2 to $5 per day in work for me. Work easy and light. A boy 10 years old can fill be bill. Send stamp for particulars. Apply to

B. L. POWELL, Warrenton N. C.

nov. 25 13m.

PROGRESS THE WATCHWORD

Merit and Success Hand in Hand.

BROOKLYN LIFE

INSURANCE COMPANY,

NO. 141 BROADWAY,

NEW YORK.

Assets- - - -$1,500,000.00

CHRISTIAN W. BOUCK, President.
D. P. FACKLER, Actuary.

Wm. M. OGLE, Secretary
DANIEL AYRES, M.D., LL.D., Fee. Ex.

POLICIES VALUABLE IN LIFE, AS WELL AS AT DEATH!

The BROOKLYN LIFE is the only Company in America which guarantees

DEFINITE CASH SURRENDER VALUES.

In case a Policy is forfeited for nonpayment of Premium.

THE BROOKLYN LIFE enjoys the highest reputation for [illegible] INVESTMENT, ECONOMY OF MANAGEMENT, AND CARE IN [illegible] elements of administration the security of a

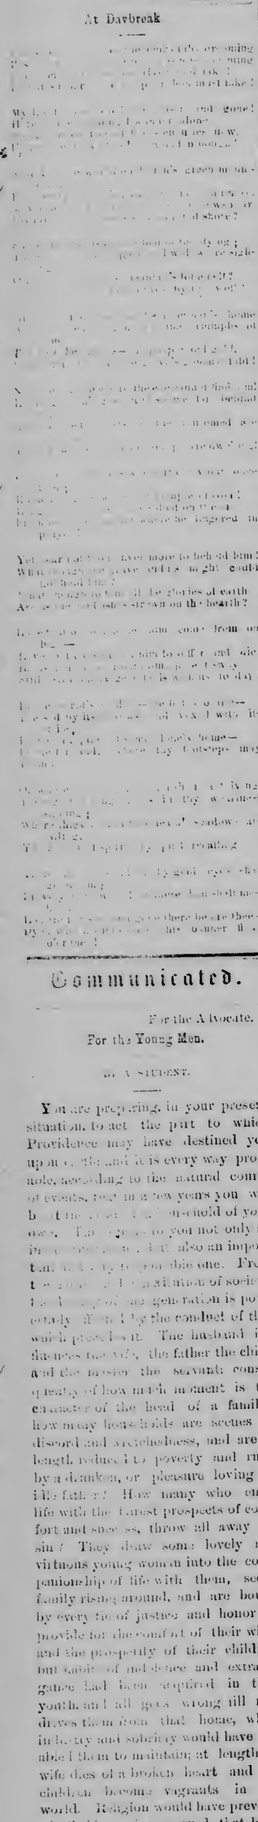
Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Bobbitt & Gray, Publishers. | Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina. | $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Vol. XXI.---No. 39. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, October 6, 1875. | Whole No. 1,077.

Selected Poetry.

At Daybreak



Communicated.

For the Advocate.

For the Young Men.

BY A STUDENT.

You are preparing, in your present situation, to act the part to which Providence may have destined you up in life, and it is every way probable, according to the natural course of events, that in a few years you will be the head of a household of your own. For upon you not only an important duty to perform this one. From the condition of society, the character of one generation is powerfully affected by the conduct of that which preceded it. The husband indulges the wife, the father the child, and the master the servant; consequently how much moment is the character of the head of a family? how many households are scenes of discord and wretchedness, and are at length reduced to poverty and ruin, by a drunken, or pleasure loving or idle father! How many who enter life with the fairest prospects of comfort and success, throw all away by sin! They draw some lovely and virtuous young woman into the companionship of life with them, see a family rising around, and are bound by every tie of justice and honor to provide for the comfort of their wives and the prosperity of their children; but habits of indolence and extravagance had been acquired in their youth, and all goes wrong till ruin drives them from that home, which industry and sobriety would have enabled them to maintain; at length the wife dies of a broken heart and the children become vagrants in the world. Religion would have prevented all this, and preserved that home to be a scene of order, peace, plenty and respectability. But, even when things do not reach this point, and there is neither vice nor want, but sober morals and success, still think of a family without religion, an atheistic household in which there is no worship, no instruction, no regard to eternity, a mere temporal confederation, though still followed with eternal consequences.

For the souls of their children and servants, every father and mother is answerable to God; and oh, what an account will irreligious ones have to render to him at the day of judgment, what an eternity will such parents have to spend in the bottomless pit with those children whose souls sank thither through their guilty neglect! Religion will fit you to preside with dignity over your household; it will add the sanctity of the Christian to the authority of the parent and the master, and render obedience on the part of your children and servants more pleasant and easy, as given to one who has such high claims to it.—Your family prayers will tend to keep up, in all other respects, family order. Piety will strengthen and soften every domestic tie. It will lighten the cares of business, brighten the scenes of prosperity, and yield consolation in the dark season of family sorrow. If called to leave your wife and family, it will mitigate the pang of separation by the prospect of eternal union in a world where death has no power; or, if required to surrender a pious wife or children, it will prevent the sting of that sorrow which hath no hope. What a bliss then to a family; what a benign and heavenly inmate is sincere, consistent, eminent religion, as it sumes forth in the form and character of a godly father and master! And now, young man, let me entreat you to consider what is the true character of your present life, viewed in relation to the life that is to come. Are you now at home or are you away from home?

"Strangers into life we come,
And dying is but going home."

This world is not our home, and unhappy is the man who makes it such. Heaven is the home of immortal man. During the whole time we are upon earth we are away from home, and away from it that we may prepare like a child at school or a youth in his apprenticeship, to go at length finally and fully to possess and enjoy it. This is not your rest.—How short and uncertain is your continuance upon earth! You cannot remain many years—you may not remain one; for what is your life but a vapor, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away? At a moment's notice you may depart. A flash of lightning, a stroke of apoplexy may plunge you suddenly into eternity. You are suspended over that vast gulf by the brittle thread of human life. Instead of living to old age, you may not live to be of age.—Place your finger on your pulse and say, "if this stop but a second, and any second it may stop, I am instantly in heaven or hell." Can you call this home?

Ought you to feel at home here; should you wish to consider this your home? For what a home is it, but such a one as he had whose dwelling was among the tombs? Home, what would you desire it to be such, when there is so much to disturb, distress, and annoy? No. God has provided some better thing for us. Heaven is the home of immortal man. Think what heaven is, and how long it lasts. Heaven is the habitation of Jehovah, the dwelling place of God. The palace of the king eternal, immortal, invisible, Heaven is the residence of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.—Heaven is the house of many mansions; Heaven is the world without sin, curse, death or sorrow. Heaven is the state of perfect knowledge, holiness, love and happiness. And it is everlasting. Our Lord calls it eternal life. The apostle describes it as "a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens." What a home! It is this which Christ died to obtain for his people. It is this which the Scriptures were written to reveal.—What is the preparation for such a home? Religion, nothing but religion. This home is a holy one. Heaven is in fact the home of religion itself for here it is in a wayfaring pilgrimage state. Religion is a heavenly visitant upon earth, traveling back to her native skies, and will never be at rest till she finds herself in the presence of God her divine parent. Nothing therefore but religion can prepare a soul for heaven. You may have a good knowledge of the arts, you may have a competent, or even profound acquaintance with learning and science, you may have talents of a public order, that fit you for action and for influence among your fellow men; but what have these things to do with preparation for heaven? What reference have they to the eternal state. Nothing but holiness will prepare us for a holy heaven. No. It is sincere, experimental piety alone that can prepare us to enter into the presence of God. The heavenly character must be acquired on earth, or it can never be acquired at all. Begin then at once. It is a preparation for eternity, and who can commence such a work too early? You may have but little time allotted for this transcendently momentous affair. "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might, for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom in the grave whither thou goest." Live for eternity, live for heaven; and the only way to do this is to live by faith. Once in heaven you will never leave it. There will be no going out forever. You quit your father's house no more. The celestial family will never break up. Dear at home there, you will be at home forever. But neglect religion and you can never be admitted to the regions of immortality.

Your parents may be there, but you will be excluded and shut up in outer darkness. I can imagine you in the day of judgment, pressing to lay hold upon the hand of your father, but he turns from you as from an object of disgust, exclaiming: "father no longer." You then direct an imploring eye to the mother that bore you, and laying hold on her robe piteously exclaim, "my mother do you not know me?" Gathering up her garments of light, she shakes you off, with the dreadful disownment: "I know not the enemies of my Lord!" They pass to the right hand of the Judge, while you by a power you cannot resist, are sent to the left, and what remains? You will present from that day the melancholy spectacle of an outcast from heaven, a homeless immortal, a vagrant in the universe, and a wretched wanderer through eternity.

Never put off until to-morrow
What should be done to day.

For the Advocate.

A Word About Public Prayer.

There is a tendency in our modern Public Prayers that is very much to be deplored. This tendency, while it may, to some extent, be due to a defect in the system of Public Prayer, is yet more largely attributable to the worldly mindedness of modern christians. But, whatever be the cause of the evil, its existence is none the less of vital importance to the church of God. For, when a congregation, as an individual body of professing christians, has no power in prayer, it has only the form, without the power, of godliness. Indeed prayer, no less in the church than in the individual christian, is the central force of spiritual existence. For what are all the sermons, songs and ceremonies of the church, if they be not accompanied by prayer to render them effective? But, what prayer is to the other acts of devotion, the spirit is to prayer itself, the sine qua non of effectiveness. And it is just in this spiritual element that our modern prayers are most deficient. Most assuredly, they are numerous enough, they are eloquent enough and they are more than lengthy enough. But, as in every thing else connected with public worship, so in this, the tendency is to cold, lifeless formalism. It was to prevent this that the early fathers of Methodism adopted the system of extemporaneous prayers in preference to the use of the Prayer Book, prepared by Mr. Wesley; but, it is to be feared, the evil is not remedied after all their care. But, let us see how this tendency operates: The congregation assemble at church—Bro. A. leads in prayer. Now they are expected to follow him at least in spirit and to utter an "Amen" with the heart if not with the mouth; but really they do not do it, they only listen to what he says. It is a sad fact, but nevertheless true, that there is not one in twenty of professing christians, who ever join in spirit with the one who leads in prayer. One or two responses, it is true, come from the "amen corner," and some other more modest christians respond in their hearts; but then the large majority of the church members take no other part in the prayer that is offered than to kneel down (and that, alas! is fast going out of fashion) and listen to what is said. But are the members of the church altogether to blame for not being more interested in the Public Prayers? I think not. Then let us find the evil, and, having found it, we can better determine what remedy is needed. We cannot expect the congregation to join in spirit, unless the prayer be offered in spirit. But too many of our modern prayers are uttered more for the ears of listeners than they are for the ear of God. Many, it is to be feared, study more to offer prayers, appropriate and acceptable to men, than to utter the plain, simple expression of their hearts to God. These prayers, it is true, are offered in all sincerity and honesty: nothing is asked for that is not needed, but then they are rather intellectual than spiritual offerings. The church of God to-day stands more in need of men to kneel around her altars and pray fervent effectual prayers from the simplicity of their hearts, than of eloquent preachers to fill her pulpits.

There is, moreover, another reason why christians should not be blamed for not joining more heartily in the Public Prayers. It is this: There are thousands of stereotyped forms and expressions which have been used in prayers until they are worn out and thread-bare; and, of all the characteristics of modern prayers, this is one of the most striking. Now when our church-going brother hears the Superintendent at Sabbath School, the preacher at the morning service, the class leader in the evening and some other minister at night, all use the same familiar phrases and expressions in their prayers, is he to be blamed if at length his responsive "amen" grows weak and faint? Most assuredly not. Then, if we want the hearty "amen," we must have the hearty, sincere prayer to call it forth. Let our prayers come from our hearts, however short and simple they may be, and there will be more vital godliness in our churches. "Lord, teach us how to pray."

F. W. L.

A Reminiscence of Dr. Pierce.

[From the Pacific Methodist.]

EDITOR METHODIST:—I have seen frequent allusions in your valuable paper to that wonderful man Lovick Pierce, of Georgia, who I believe is yet living, at more than 90 years of age. I do not remember ever having seen a published notice of the almost miraculous escape of himself and Mrs. Pierce from drowning in the Alabama River.

The circumstances were these. In the summer of 1842, Rev. Dr. Pierce, accompanied by Mrs. Pierce and many other friends, arrived at the landing in Montgomery, Alabama, from Mobile, on board a small river steamer, which, being freighted for Wetampka, did not make a regular landing at Montgomery, but only ran the bow of the boat ashore, for the purpose of landing the passengers, and, with an unpardonable neglect on the part of the Captain, no lights were furnished and held over the side of the boat to guide the passengers to and from the shore in safety. I had just entered the boat with a lady going to Wentumpka, and passed Mr. and Mrs. Pierce going ashore. In a moment after the cry was raised, Dr. and Mrs. Pierce overboard! I cannot depict the emotions which thrilled the many persons who heard this fearful announcement. The silence of death rested upon the scene. A light and boat ere called for—but it seemed as if they never would be brought. The indistinct shadow of two persons, their heads well above the water and facing the shore could be seen. Men and women who had been their fellow-passengers from Mobile, hung over the balustrade of the upper cabin straining eyes and hands in a vain desire to afford assistance, and almost paralyzed with the suddeness of the disaster and the fearful suspense of the situation. After a long time, as it seemed, a torch was brought, which disclosed Dr. and Mrs. Pierce in the water gradually nearing the shore. Her clothing was not displaced, her bonnet retained its usual position upon her head, and his hat and clothing were not in the least deranged by his sudden immersion. Mrs. Pierce was sustained by his left arm, and thus they neared the shore, and were received by one who had entered the river as far as the depth would allow, and who took the hand of Dr. Pierce and both were saved. At my side on the boat, earnestly regarding the scene, was Mr. George Mathews of Montgomery (not little George), and as soon as the feet of Dr. Pierce reached the shore, Mr Mathews clapped his hands and with a loud voice exclaimed—Bless God! bless God! they are saved!

The steamer was of the old fashion build, with stairway to the cabin on each side of the boat, in front of the wheel; at the foot of the stairs in the darkness Mrs. Pierce had struck her foot against the iron brace which supported the cabin, and in an instant was precipitated overboard. Dr. Pierce immediately followed to secure her, a brave act under any circumstances, but in an exigency so sudden, and a night so dark, it was an act of the highest heroism.

With the mention of the name of Rev. Lovick Pierce is always associated in my memory this wonderful deliverance of which I was an eye-witness. An angel's arm sustained that pair in their extreme peril and afforded to that eminent servant of the Lord an extension of more than thirty years of faithful service.

G. M.

Amherst, Mass., Sept. 1, 1875.

SOME somnambulists have been able to walk on places where, had they been awake, they never would have been able to endure the dizzy height; and I see some Christians, if indeed they be Christians, running awful risks, which I think they would never venture upon unless they had fallen into a deep sleep of carnal security. Speak of a man slumbering at the masthead—it is nothing to a professor of religion at ease, while covetousness is his master or worldly company his delight. If professors were awake they would see their danger, and avoid sinful amusements and ungodly associations, as men fly from fierce tigers or deadly cobras.—Spurgeon.

A NET IN SIGHT OF THE BIRD.—It is well known, says the Richmond Christian Advocate, that the Northern Methodist Church gives our brethren in some places no quarter. Where we need fraternity they kick us. Where we are strong they are anxious for hugging. In 1865 the Southern Church was in dire straits—people poor, and buildings burnt. The cry was then disintegrate and absorb. In 1875 new temples have risen on the ashes the fraternal torch left us. Now our ranks are full and fearless. The vinegar is turned to honey. When the fox preaches, beware of the geese.

NOTHING ever happens but once in this world. What I do now I do once and forever. It is over—it is gone, with all its eternity of solemn meaning.—Carlyle.

The Banished Preacher.

Paul Gerhardt was a noble minded and devout minister of the Gospel, who preached in Germany about the middle of the seventeenth century.—One of his settlements was at Brandenburg, a city of the Principality of the same name, thirty-five miles from Berlin.

Gerhardt preached the Reformed Faith, and the purest doctrines of the New Testament. The elector of that time was a man by no means in sympathy with the simple and searching truths taught by the humble minister, and he sent him word that he must alter his pulpit teachings or leave the country.

This bitter message distressed Gerhardt sorely. He had a happy home and a comfortable income in Brandenburg, and if driven away, he did not see how he could provide for his family. Still he felt it was impossible to change his preaching without doing violence to his conscience and his heart.

He determined to obey God rather than man. He wrote to the elector that though it was very hard for him to give up his living, his people, and his country, he could never do otherwise than preach plainly what he found in the Bible.

The consequence was that he was banished from the Principality, and went out with his wife and little children, not knowing where his travels would end. A day's journey brought them to the entrance of a forest, weary and sad. The children wept, and the brave mother herself could not now keep back her tears.

They found a little inn by the wayside, and with heavy hearts prepared to spend the night. After supper Paul Gerhardt walked out in the dark night among the trees. The sight of the tears of his little family had filled his heart with gloom. He knelt down to pray, and soon the words came to him with comfort—

"Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in him, and he shall bring it to pass."

The text seized hold of his mind, and there, alone in the darkness, he began to frame his thoughts into a hymn. . . .

At cost of all I have
At cost of life and limb,
I cling to God, who yet shall save:
I will not turn from him.

The world may fall and flee,
Thou standest fast forever;
Nor fire, nor sword, nor plague from thee
My trusting soul shall sever.

No hunger and no thirst,
No poverty, no pain
Let mighty princes do their worst,
Shall fright me back again.

Gerhardt went into the house, repented the precious text to his wife, and then the lines that he had composed, till she was also comforted. They prayed together, and both felt strong in the resolution to trust every thing to God. Soon after this they retired for the night. But they had scarcely fallen asleep when a loud and stormy knocking was heard at the inn door. A messenger on horseback was there from the Duke Christian, of Meresburg.

"Do you know if Paul Gerhardt has passed this way?" he inquired of the landlord. "I am sent by the Duke to find him."

The inn keeper did not like to disturb his guests, but the messenger insisted, and Gerhardt was called. A letter was put into his hands. It was in Duke Christian's own writing, and signed with his name. The great man had heard of his coming hardship and determined to provide for him.

"Come into my country, Paul Gerhardt," the letter said. "You shall have church, and people, and house, and home, and livelihood, and liberty to preach the Gospel to your heart's content."

It is needless to say that Gerhardt and his family thanked God and went. They had trusted him for their future support, and he had brought it to pass.

Paul Gerhardt's hymns are still loved and sung among Christians of Germany and other lands; but none of them are sweeter than the one composed in the dark woods on the first night of his exile from Brandeburg.

A pastor in one of our exchanges makes this sensible recommendation respecting prayer-meetings:

"Begin sometimes with reading, sometimes with prayer, sometimes with singing; speak sometimes standing, and sometimes, when you have at best a few familiar words to say, sitting. Keep out of everything that looks like a rut. Don't have the same old prayer meeting every time; have a new one, fresh from heaven, with a life of its own, a lesson of its own, a character of its own, every week."

Commenting upon the elevation of Cardinal M'Closkey, the London Times thinks that the Papacy "hopes to dominate in the United States through superstition and the Irish." It, however, believes that "the manly intelligence and individuality of the people are too potent for such domination."

In God's House.

The following passage occurred in one of the Rev Joseph T. Duryea's sermons in New York, recently:

And yet I say that worship should be reverential. That its expression, its mode, its form should be in sympathy with the feeling of a deep awe in the presence of God. And it is for this reason I deprecate everything light and trivial in the house of God. And it is for this reason I desire to banish from it everything in music and in art that suggests a place where men forget God, and worship self, and receive their reward in the pleasures of sin which are for a season. It is for this reason if I know my own heart, I never have dared pretend to invite a laugh or applause in the house of God. I should be ashamed to behave myself before Him at whose feet the angels and archangels bow and cast their crowns before him, and with subdued song describe him: "Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty," as I would not dare to behave at the humblest reception of the lowliest prince that is seated on an earthly throne and holds a scepter. I would rather feel, when I come with the two or three with whom Jesus has promised to be, responsive of the words: "The Lord is in His holy temple; let all the earth keep silence before Him." Depend upon it the depth of our nature, the largeness of our soul, the nobility of our character, the loftiness of our life, will depend upon the measure of our lowly reverence for the great, the strong and holy God, and of His works that testify of Him and so are like Him.

Symptoms of an Over-taxed Brain.

Sleeplessness is oftentimes the prayer of the cerebral lobes for relief from work and worry, and it should never go long unanswered. Some of the greatest and healthiest natures in the world, like Goethe and Thorwaldsen, have had a "talent for sleeping," which made all their other talents shine at their best, for the brain is never so brilliant as just after fully awaking from sound repose. Sir Walter Scott found by experience that his mind was clearest for thinking out his novels just after rising, and for that reason he took pains to prolong as much as possible his morning toilet; and in the same way we may explain the fact that Calvin loved to compose while lying in bed.

In great and pressing crises, when our work and our causes for worry are trebled, the temptation is very strong to cut short our hours of sleep; but these are just the occasions when, if possible, we should sleep the most. General Grant is credited with the statement that he owed the preservation of his health during the late war to the fact that, come what might, he always would have his eight or nine hours' sleep. At one time, during the Vicksburg campaign, I believe, he was unable to obtain this, and then he began to suffer. Gladstone has declared that when he enters his home he leaves the cares of State behind him.

Sleep is food for the brain. If a penny saved is a penny earned, then to economize nerve force by rest is, within certain limits, to supply nerve force by eating and drinking.

The motto of the overtaxed brain-worker should be: More sleep, more sleep, and as much as possible of folding of the hands to sleep. By day or by night, after meals or before, early or late, in the horse car or on the ferry-boat, we should welcome each desire to doze as an angel from heaven. The habit of very early rising, which, under the old dispensation, before the era of the telegraph, steam power, the press, and other agencies that rob us of our nerve force, was a virtue we in this year 1875 should with all our might avoid. Early to bed and late to rise makes the modern brain toiler healthy and wise.—Independent.

The Phœnix.

The most interesting of all fabulous creatures is the Phœnix. It was exceedingly beautiful, as large as an eagle, with a plumage that shone like gold around its neck, a purple body, and a tail of blue and rose-colored feathers. It had a cock's comb under its neck and a magnificent crest. This splendid looking bird was supposed to live five hundred years, and then burn itself, to rise from the ashes young, strong and more beautiful than ever.

An old writer gives a long account of this new birth of the Phœnix, which always took place at Heliopolis, the City of the Sun. A priest made a fire of spices on the altar, and the bird flew into the flames and was burned with the spices. A small worm would then be found in the ashes on the altar, and on the second day after it appeared it would be transformed into a bird, and in one day after that, or the third day after the burning, the Phœnix would be itself again and would go off in fine spirits, and in new clothes that were warranted to last for five hundred years.—From "Some Queer Animals," St. Nicholas.

A Curious People.

Some interesting information respecting the Weddas of Ceylon was given by Mr. Hartshorne, of the Bengal Civil Service, at the meeting of the British Association. The Weddas are a diminutive race of people, averaging about five feet in height, and appear to lead a harmless if not a happy existence—a state of affairs which of course cannot be permitted as civilization advances, and will no doubt ultimately lead to their utter extermination. The Jungle Weddas, so termed to distinguish them from the Village Weddas, would delight the heart of Sir Wilfred Lawson, for they drink nothing but water, and feed principally on honey and roast monkeys, which latter they shoot with bows and arrows. One of their peculiarities is that they never laugh; and, although Mr. Hartshorne when visiting them did his best in the way of jocularity, "trying every conceivable method for arousing laughter," he ignominiously failed. His jokes all fell flat, and he found that even the sight of another person laughing produced in them a feeling of unmistakable disgust. Upon being asked whether they ever laughed, they replied, "No, Why should we? What is there to laugh at?" Mr. Hartshorne is not aware that there is anything in their physical structure or conformation which accounts for this abormal temperament, but thinks it possible that "constant disuse may have caused a certain atrophy and want of power in the muscles of the face which has increased in successive generations," and has left them thus apparently insensible to humor.

Modes of Salutation.

In England the usual mode of greeting is a hearty shake of the hand, with a "Good morning, sir; how do you do?"

The usual salutation at Cairo is, "How do you sweat?"—a dry, hot skin being a sure indication of a destructive ephemeral fever.

Greenlanders have none, and laugh at the idea of one person being superior to another.

Islanders near the Philippines take a person's hand or foot and rub it over their faces.

Laplanders apply their noses against the persons they salute very strongly.

In the Straits of the Sound they raise the left foot of the person addressed, pass it gently over the right leg, and thence to the face.

The inhabitants of the Philippines bend very low, placing their hands on their cheeks, and raise one foot in the air, with the knee bent.

The Dutch, who are considered polite, have a morning salutation, common among all classes, "Smaakelyk eeten," "May you eat a hearty dinner." Another is, "Hoe waart uwe?" "How do you sail?" adopted, no doubt, in the early periods of the Republic, when they were all navigators and fishermen.

Some author has observed, in contrasting the haughty Spaniard with the frivolous Frenchman, that the proud, steady gait and inflexible solemnity of the former were expressed in his mode of salutation, "Comic esta?" "How do you stand?" while the "Comment vous portez vous?"—"How do you carry yourself?" was equally expressive of the gay motion and incessant action of the latter.

In some parts of Africa a young woman, on intended bride, brings a little water in a calabash, and kneeling before her lover, desires him to wash his hands. When he has done this the girl, with a tear of joy sparkling in her eye, drinks the water. This is considered the greatest proof she can give him of her fidelity and attachment.

The Japanese take off a slipper, and the people of Arracan their sandals, in the street, and their stockings in the house, when they salute.

The Negro kings on the coast of Africa salute each other by snapping the middle finger three times.

The inhabitants of Carmine, when they shew particular attachment, open a vein and present their blood to the friend as a beverage.

In Otaheite they rub their noses together.

DO not say you have no convenient place to pray in. Any man can find a place private enough if he is disposed. Our Lord prayed on a mountain, Peter on the house-top, Isaac in the field, Nathanael under the fig tree, Jonah in the whale's belly. Any place may become a closet, an oratory, and a Bethel, and be to us the presence of God.

Dr. Post, writing to the Evangelist mentions that the Nusairi Christians who had been drafted into the dragoon corps of Beirut are allowed to attend Protestant services. They have generally been at their place during the morning hour of worship. Lately two of them have deserted. It is supposed that they have run away to their homes, and it now remains to be seen whether the government will reopen a troublesome question by causing their re rest.

Scientific

The air that is supplied to the houses of Parliament passes through filters of cotton wool. After being used for a short time the filters become of a heavy, murky brown color, and thick with dust and organic impurities. The sieves through which the air is first passed have deposited near them a heap of intercepted particles.

M. D. Conway writes to the Cincinnati Commercial that Mr. Norman Lockyer, the eminent astronomer, who wrote the wonderfully comprehensive articles in the London Times on the transit of Venus, said to him, in reply to a question whether he felt satisfied with the results of the late transit observations: "What ever was done was done by the Americans. They seem to be the only people now that take hold of such things in the right way."

M. P. Truchot states that glass vessels in which various liquids, and even pure water are boiled, give up by degrees a small quantity of their substance—silica, potash, soda and lime. The analysis is the more erroneous the longer the boiling is kept up. This, at least, is what results from the use of glasses brought from Germany and sold at Nancy in 1873 and 1874. This fact may be shown by boiling in a flask pure water mixed with a tincture of red cabbage or sirup of violets, slightly reddened by an acid. After boiling for a few minutes the liquid turns green. French glasses, with a base of soda, are not sensibly attacked and therefore do not offer this inconvenience.

A series of experiments has lately been made by the English war department with a view of ascertaining the practical effect of Prof. Abel's proposed plan for the bursting of common shells filled with water, by means of a detonator consisting of dry compressed gun cotton enveloping a small cap of fulminate of mercury. Some months ago the practicability of exploding sixteen-pounder common shells in this manner was satisfactorily established, and the result of such an arrangement was the bursting of a shell into three hundred fragments, whereas only about thirty pieces were produced by the explosion of an ordinary bursting charge of gunpowder. The effect of such an explosion among troops in the field could not be otherwise than disastrous in the extreme. Lately, however, experiments have been made with nine inch common shells, which far exceed in effect that of any conducted with the field service common shell. On this occasion the bursting element employed was wet gun cotton, in lieu of water. The projectiles then being filled with some eight or nine pounds of wet compressed gun cotton, and a detonator as described above being fitted into the fuse hole socket, they were fired by an ordinary electric fuse. The result was extraordinary, the shells bursting literally into thousands of pieces.

HABITS.—It is a question worth a moment's thought: "Is any bad habit corrected after a person is twenty years old?"

If we answer the question in the negative—and I am strongly inclined to take that side—the duty of parents and teachers is invested at once with tremendous responsibility. It may also be a warning, and so an aid to the young, who need all the help they can have to become better and wiser.

You meet a man after a separation of a score of years. The same habits mark him now that were his before. The child is so truly the father of the man that the man of sixty has the ways that made him notable when a boy. He carries his head just as he did, is stooping or straight, quick or slow, talks through his nose or not, pronounces words wrong just as he did when a young man, and repeats himself all the days of his life.

There are two reasons why bad habits are rarely ever changed by men or women of ripe years: 1. After the habit has become confirmed the person loses all consciousness of it, just as the perfection of health is to be unconscious of having a stomach. 2. One's self-esteem is wounded by criticism, and a habit is cherished all the more fondly because assailed. It has been said—it is very nearly true—that no mortal is willing to be criticised, found fault with, and this makes criticism an ungracious and ungrateful task.—New York Observer.

The Khedive of Egypt is seeking the suppression of polygamy and the slave trade, and establishing schools for the people. He is promoting the education of girls as well as boys. Out of 350,000 boys, 100,000 are in school. Education is compulsory, and the schools are under the supervision of skilled European instructors. The girls' schools are presided over by Miss Whately, a niece of the late Archbishop Whately. Monogamy is insisted upon among his own sons and daughters who are highly educated. The heir apparent is an enlightened prince, and aids his father in the matter of education. So says Mr. McLeon in 'Appleton's Journal.' The Khedive is vigorously exploring the interior of Africa, with the view of opening it to civilization.

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE—Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev J B Bobbitt, } Editors.
R. T. Gray, Esq., }

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID,	$2.20
SIX MONTHS, " "	1.35
If payment be delayed six months,	2.70

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Editors of the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

RALEIGH, N. C., OCTOBER 6, 1875.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly.

Preparing for Conference.

In less than two months the North Carolina Conference will convene in annual session in the city of Wilmington. It is a matter of no small import, as Methodist preachers are well aware, to "get ready for Conference."

Among the most important duties devolving upon the pastor in closing his year's work is the raising the various collections ordered by the Conference. Unfortunately these collections are put off until the near approach of Conference. It would be far better to distribute them through the year. The collection for Domestic and Foreign Missions could be taken early in the year and the Conference collection at a later period. By adopting a plan of this sort the collections would not be crowded one upon the other, and as a consequence, the amount realized for these purposes would be much larger. The Bishop's Fund is raised by the Presiding Elders either privately or publicly in the several charges on their respective Districts. These collections are usually so distributed along through the year as not to come in conflict with the rest of the collections. But it is not our present purpose to say how and when these should be made, but to call attention to the fact that the time for attending to these interests is short.

Another important duty of the pastor is the careful revision of the church record, so as that his successor may enter upon his labors without embarrassment. Much confusion is often caused by a badly kept church register. In some instances there is still greater confusion growing out of the fact that the preacher leaves his successor no church register at all. These instances, we suppose, are not of frequent occurrence, but such has some times been the case to the great detriment of the Church.

The fact is too often lost sight of that the report of the preacher at Conference is a pretty good index of his own qualifications for the pastoral work, and of the character of the people he represents. There are honorable exceptions, it is true, to this rule, but in the main it will hold good. It is a matter, therefore, involving not only the interests of the Church but seriously affecting the usefulness of the preacher and the character of the charge he represents. The introduction of the lay element into our Conferences brings the preacher and people into closer and more intimate relations with each other than formerly. They pay special attention to the reports of the preachers at Conference.

The preacher that brings up an indifferent report is not sought after by the best informed laymen. On the other hand, the faithful, successful and laborious pastor, does not consider the charge which sends up a bad report as desirable, and if sent to it regards it as an affliction. Upon the whole there is nothing which so much affects the relative standing of a preacher and the character of the circuit or station he has served, as the report he makes of it before Conference. Sometimes, it is true, the recording Steward may fail to do his duty in making his report. This however does not excuse the preacher. It is his business to see that he does make out an accurate statement of the amount of the Bishop's apportionment, and the amount collected. The pastor's salary and the amount paid, the Presiding Elder's claim and the amount paid. The amount for Conference collection, foreign and domestic missions; the poor, Sabbath school and Bible cause; educational enterprises of the Conference, building or repairing of churches and parsonages, value of church property and all incidental expenses of the charge. Let these reports all be accurately made and an intelligent understanding of the operations of the church on each charge will be had by the Conference.

Preparing for Conference implies much more than we can enumerate in the brief space of these reflections which are merely designed to be suggestive. While the looking after the statistical and financial reports, the more important work, the purity of the church and the salvation of souls are pre-eminently above all the rest. The best reports at Conference tell us of the sanctification of believers and of the conversion of sinners.

The preachers are earnestly requested to use their best endeavors to extend the circulation of the Advocate. Thousands of our people ought to take it, and many of them could be induced to do so by a little effort on the part of the preachers.

Bishop Capers' Letter.

The letter recently published in the ADVOCATE, purporting to have been written by Bishop Capers, is exciting grave doubts in the minds of many as to its genuineness. The letter, it will be remembered, first appeared in the New York Methodist. It was furnished to that paper by Dr. C. F. Deems having been sent to him from Clinton, S. C. by one "C. B. DuPre." Our first impulse, when we read the letter in the Methodist, was not to give it a place in our columns. It was such an unusual production, and had been brought to light in such a "round about way," that it did not strike us that it was sufficiently authenticated. We could not understand why our lamented Bishop Capers could have entertained views which the letter attributed to him, and his most intimate friends, co-laborers in the Episcopacy, and even his own family, should have known nothing of these views until they were brought to light through a journal in New York. We could not see how a Bishop in our Church could hold opinions so adverse to the accepted views of his Church and only one person, a young man, should have been made acquainted with those views. These reflections and others which we need not mention, were suggested to our mind, when we first read the letter. We concluded, however, after farther consideration, that we would copy it into our paper, not because we supposed any special good could come of it, but we were induced to do so, as much perhaps as from any other reason, from the novelty and remarkableness of the production. The editor of the Southern Advocate in his issue of the 29th ult., throws some light upon the subject. In giving his reasons for declining the publication of the letter in the columns of his paper, he says:

"First. The views set forth in the letter are directly contrary to those Bishop Capers was universally supposed to entertain at the time it was written.

Secondly. It is passing strange that the Bishop should studiously conceal such opinions from the members of his own family, from his episcopal colleagues, and from dear friends more advanced in life, and thus unreservedly unbosom himself upon such grave questions, at a time when the public mind was so suspiciously sensitive upon these questions, to "a young man, just entering public life."

Thirdly. It is not less strange that he should have happened to write to "a young man" so singularly free from the well nigh universal vanity of adolescence, as quietly to lay away his letter, instead of informing the world by its publication that he was honored with the confidence of so distinguished a correspondent; especially, as there is no conceit in the letter, against its being made public.

Fourthly. There is an anachronism in the letter, which it is almost incredible that Bishop Capers should have perpetrated. He was born January 29th, 1790, and therefore was 64 years old on the 29th of January, 1854. This famous letter is dated "February 25th, 1854," when he was nearly a month advanced in his sixty fifth year, yet, he is represented as saying in the letter, "Such, at any rate, is my view of this whole matter in this my sixty fourth year." It does seem most unlikely, that in referring to his age, with the manifest purpose of giving increased gravity to his opinions, he should have thoughtlessly understated it.

There are still other grounds for questioning the genuineness of this timely contribution to the interest of current questions, but we prefer not to unduly prolong this article by detailing them now. For the reasons stated, we concluded that it would be proper to at least postpone the publication of the letter until we could make some enquiry. This we have done, and such information as we have been able to obtain up to this time, is far from dissipating the suspicion that an ingenious fraud has been practiced upon Dr. Deems and the Methodist, and through them upon a very large portion of the American public.

Our investigations thus far have failed to discover any such man in South Carolina, or anywhere else, whose name is "C. B. DuPre." We are informed by an old resident of Clinton, S. C., that no man of that surname ever lived there or in the county in which it is located. A postal card from Dr. Deems, dated Aug. 24th, together with a large package, supposed to contain copies of the Methodist, lies in the office at Clinton, awaiting the demand of Mr. C. B. DuPre, but with a fair prospect of transmission to the Dead Letter Office, unless the P. M. should feel warranted under the circumstances to send them to the Methodist.

It is true, that the result of our investigations thus far is not conclusive against the genuineness of the document, and it is possible that subsequent testimony may authenticate it. If so, we shall hasten to state the fact, and lay the letter in full before our readers. Our reverence for the memory of Bishop Capers—than whom a purer, better man, never lived—is too profound for us to entertain the slightest inclination to suppress any opinion to which he gave utterance. Should Mr. "C. B. DuPre," therefore,—if there is such a personage—produce the original of the letter published in the Methodist, identified by competent judges as in the hand-writing of Bishop Capers, we will very cheerfully and promptly acknowledge its genuineness. Thus far, the weight of testimony very decidedly forbids any such acknowledgment. Our information touching this matter has been obtained through Rev. H. M. Mood, presiding elder of the District in which the town of Clinton is located, who has kindly promised to prosecute the investigation until the question is settled beyond cavil."

We call upon the ladies to interest themselves in behalf of the Advocate. Will you not make an effort to send us a club of subscribers from your church or community?

Subscribe for the Advocate. Price, $2.20 per annum, in advance.

Sporting and other Frauds.

A Paris paper brought to light recently a poulterer's circular intended for the multitude of cockney sportsmen who are abroad in France at this time of the year. The instructive document which is marked "private," reads as follows:

"Sir, Understanding that you are going to open LA CHASSE, I beg to make you an offer of my services. I have a grand selection of partridges, rabbits, hares, pheasants, &c. All game leaving my establishment are arranged with a sufficient number of shot of a suitable description. Trusting for the favor of an order, believe me, &c." In a postscript to the circular it is added that arrangements can be made by which gentlemen who do not go out of town may be given the appearance of having been at LA CHASSE by a special process entirely the invention of the advertiser. Boots and dogs can be splashed in a most efficient and natural manner, guns carefully soiled as if they had been discharged many times, and clothes dusted and dirtied with the best effect.

In reading the above we can not escape remarking the kinship between the cockneys in the sporting world and those in the field of literature, theology, the military and other sciences. The Paris Nimrod who scarcely knows which end of his gun to point at the game, and struts back to the city with pheasants which a few sous have purchased, cuts no more ridiculous figure than many an "A. M." that never heard of a hypothennse, and if forced to conjugate passum, would be likely to say "possum, potatoes and sop."

'Colonel,' 'General,' and 'Major' stalk with a martial air before the names of hundreds who do not know the difference between a platoon and a plateau, and who have smelt as little powder in getting their titles as the Paris cockney does in getting his quails. The letters "D. D." are striking and "LL. D." are imposing and awe inspiring; but some men no doubt wear the former without knowing what they mean; while the latter prolong the names of some who do not know much more than to doubt whether Plato and Bacon and Locke were United States Senators or Hottentot kings, or whether the canons of the Romish Church are columbiads or twelve pounders. Many an "M. D." has his diploma and license who knows so little about Materia Medica that his patients are safe only when his prescriptions are confined to harmless bread-pills.

With a franc the Paris fraud can buy a bag full of birds to swing along the streets of the city and impress rag-pickers and gamins with an idea of his aristocratic leisure and skill in pigeon shooting: but his step, his air, his manner of carrying his gun, all tell the true sportsman that the splashed boots, bloody sleeves and stuffed pouch are lying frauds. So, five dollars, or five thousand, wrapped up in a covering of truculent flattery, a little political influence or a vote upon an appropriation Bill or something of the kind—a promise of a reciprocity of favors etc. etc, will buy oftentimes the degree of 'A. M.' 'D. D.' 'LL. D.' or win the title of General or Colonel; and all these high sounding names may awe the masses into silence and admiration, but a few thumps upon the heads of the owners would reveal their hollowness: the degree letters and titles may, like the lion's skin in the fable, cause the innocent lambs of the world to go scampering in terror over the plains, but the observant may easily discover the long ears and stupid look of the donkey tribe.

There are too many donkeys clothed in lions' skins in this world—too many cockney hunters with their cheaply purchased game—too much "bosh" in the bestowal and use of titles and degrees.

Rev. Dr. Burkhead, pastor of Edenton Street Church, is now comfortably housed with his family in the parsonage near the church. His family arrived last week and received a cordial welcome from several persons who, as representatives of the congregation, had gathered at the Parsonage and "put the house in order" for the coming occupants. The ladies of the charge had furnished the larder and pantry with a good store of supplies and had prepared a warm and attractive breakfast for the popular pastor and his family. Such manifestations of kindness, though in themselves simple and unpretentious, are always appreciated by newly inducted pastors and their families, and cast upon them a flood of sunshine that warms and cheers their hearts.

Dr. Burkhead has made an excellent impression upon the church and community, and his sermons being full of power and unction, attract large congregations at every service.

The revival at Durham continues with interest. A goodly number have professed faith in Christ and joined the church. The Senior was present and took part in the exercises on Sabbath. The meeting has produced a very decided impression upon the citizens of Durham. Bro. Renn, the pastor, and the church are fully enlisted in the work.

We have been requested to publish the Report of the Finance Committee adopted at Greensboro District Conference. It will appear on the first page of the next issue of the ADVOCATE.

The new church building at Sidney, in this county, on the Rockville circuit, Rev. T. B. Rooks preacher in charge, will be dedicated on the 3d Sunday in this month.

Rev. John Chambers, a prominent Presbyterian divine, died on the 22d at Philadelphia, aged 78 years.

For the Sunday-School.

Some of the well-to-do Sunday-schools are now preparing to buy new books, overhauling their libraries, purchasing new tickets, cards, hymn and song books. Let them remember that there are newly-born Sunday schools, poor in money and supplies, who would be glad to get the cast off garments of other Sunday schools. Bro. Gibbons wrote to us last week of such a school on his circuit. Let those who have old, disused books give them to those who have none—either old or new. Write to us of proposed donations and we will give the names of Sunday-schools which will be glad to get them.

"One of the fundamental rules of good teaching is to stop when you have done." Rev Edward Eggleston reminds us of this, through the Sunday school Times, though not to give advice when to stop, but to suggest what should follow, supposing the stop comes, for instance, before the hour is half gone. Instead of being embarrassed, the true teacher, he is certain, will make the very best use of the rest of the time. So far from creating a dilemma, the break in the lesson opens a golden opportunity. It is then the time, for one thing, "to find out where your pupils live; find out what are their purposes, their pursuits, their affections, their difficulties, their temptations. Get inside. If you are already intimate with them, and if they have already shown the beginnings of better things, you can hold a sort of experience meeting without letting them know what you are doing. In proportion as you get inside, you will be able to suit yourself better to their wants, and you may after awhile find adaptations in Scripture lessons of which you did not dream before." Many, perhaps most, teachers under the circumstances are tempted to spin out the lesson to the end of the hour, which is a bad enough practice as every one knows. By way of experiment they might now act on Mr. Eggleston's hints

Through the same channel, and also addressed to teachers' ears, Mr. Eggleston pens another thought in this shape: "There is a line in Campbell's 'Gertrude of Wyoming' in which the poet anticipates one of the profoundest generalizations of the most advanced modern educators—'The playmate ere the tutor of her mind.' Until you can show sympathy with the playfulness of a child's mind you cannot teach it. Behold where most teachers fail!"—Ex.

FREE MASONRY.—The Masonic Journal of last week contained the eloquent address of J. N. Staples, Esq., delivered before the Wentworth Lodge on the 24th of last June. The address is polished and erudite, and among other gems, contains the following:

"Masonry is nothing without the Bible, and all philosophies and religions that do not recognize the teachings of the Scriptures as the ground of their faith and works, sooner or later perish and pass away; therefore Masonry, founded upon the principles and morality of the Bible, has withstood the ponderous weight of centuries, it has seen empires rise and fall, thrones and kingdoms, and principalities and powers come and go; it has withstood the destructive power of war, and lived through countless revolutions: it has defied the persecutions of religious bigots, and survived the wreck of earth's grandest achievements; its light that was kindled on Mount Moriah shines down through the darkest ages of the world, and penetrating the gloom and desolation of two thousand years, breaks upon us, to-day, like the sun in its meridian, brighter, more beautiful than ever before."

M. L Smith.

MESSRS EDITORS: In the Advocate of 22nd ult, I see an obituary notice of brother M. L Smith, written by Dr. Deems of the Church of the Strangers, in N. Y. city. The Dr. says that brother Smith died without having the opportunity of depositing his church letter with any other congregation of Christians

This is a mistake and calculated to make two very wrong impressions; one upon the public mind, and the other upon the minds of brother Smith's relations; the first that we have no Methodist congregation at the Rutherford College where our brother died; and secondly, that he died without being united with the Church.

Brother Smith deposited his letter in the Methodist E. Church, South with the congregation that worships in the College Chapel, soon after his return to the home of his Christian mother. There he lived Christianity and worshiped till the Master called him from the Church militant on earth to the Church triumphant in heaven. Many students who listened to brother Smith's prayers, exhortations and experience in the Prayer Meeting, will strive to meet him in heaven.

R. L. ABERNETHY.

The Concord Register says:

"The Rev. P. A. Strobell has received and accepted a call to preach for the congregation of the Lutheran church of Danville, New York. We are pleased that our friend's talent has been appreciated, and that he has been so deservedly honored by that people. We regret that his walk will no longer be in our midst, and that we lose so genial, talented, and worthy a christian minister from among us.'

METHODISM IN AMERICA.

From 1773 to 1813.—40 Years.

MESSRS EDITORS: I was in Bro. Beverly Rose's room the other day, and he showed me the "Minutes of the Methodist Conferences annually held in America, from 1773 to 1813." As a matter of interest, and encouragement to every Methodist I give below the list of appointments and the number of members in the society for the year 1775.

QUES. 1. How are the preachers stationed?

ANS. New York, Thomas Rankin; Philadelphia, George Smallford; to change in four months.

New Jersey, John King; William Watters.

Baltimore, Francis Asbury; Robert Strawbridge; Abraham Whitworth; Joseph Yeardley.

Norfolk, Richard Wright.

Petersburg, Robert Williams.

QUES 2 What members are there in the society?

ANS. New York,	180.
Philadelphia,	200.
New Jersey,	500.
Maryland,	100.
Virginia,	100.
(Preachers 10)	1160" members.

But these Minutes show a mighty increase in the short space of 40 years.

"In 1813 there were 678 preachers, and 214,397 members." These figures show how wonderfully God has blessed the "people called Methodist" from the beginning of their work of love in this country.

There are many interesting things in their general minutes—especially the memoirs of the sainted dead. Who is writing the history of Methodism in North Carolina?

Our aged friends are yearly passing away, who could furnish the historian with many important facts. Unless our history is written soon, we will lose many thrilling incidents connected with "the best" church on earth. I think Messrs Editors, that you should keep this matter before our people—until some one will come forward, take up his pen and write for the generation to come

Yours truly,

B. B. CULBRETH.

MESSRS EDITORS: I was forcibly struck with the home thrusts of Bro. Betts upon the use and sale of tobacco by the ministry, in your last issue and hope he will continue his exhortations until some improvement is manifested.

Bro. Betts says "It certainly shocks some people to see a preacher preaching purity and spitting tobacco juice in the same pulpit." You are right Bro. B, for I once knew of a church which was thoroughly repainted, recarpeted and placed with some degree of pride in good condition for the assemblage of our annual conference, but horror was expressed by some of the good and fair sisters (whose tiny fingers had done a good deal of the work) ere the session had got under good headway to see their best works spit upon and their new carpets soiled by tobacco juice from the lips of those who should respect God's house and set a good example to the rising generation surrounding them. If the preacher dishonors God's house there will surely be members to follow his example and justify their action by his conduct.

In conclusion allow me to ask Bro. Betts if he thinks it right for a preacher or layman to turn down the leaves of a Bible as a marker, when so many pieces of ribbon or slips of paper can be secured for that purpose. Any story book given as a memento by a friend and upon which a proper valuation is placed, would not receive such treatment from our hands, and yet this, the best of books, given us by our only friend (for earthly friends frequently desert in the hour their services are mostly needed, whereas He says he will never leave or forsake those who put their trust in Him) and containing the most precious truths, is frequently laid aside for the accumulation of dust, or its beauty marred by leaves turned down or "dogged leaved" as we termed it in childhood. Why, sirs, I was recently in a city church and upon its sacred altar stood a new Bible which appeared but little used and yet the minister of the hour and one of the first to use it, injured its appearance by turning down its precious leaves for convenience of reference. You can not imagine the thoughts which flashed through my mind. I thought it wrong and condemned it and I verily believe if the good brother's eye is directed to this communication he will condemn it in the light of disrespect to God's word when so many works of fiction are preserved and kept in splendid order and condition.

Yours,

WILL.

Cottage Lane, Sept. 29th 1875.

A foreign friend writes: "When Signor Grassi recently gave an account to his congregation in Rome of the meetings he attended in Brighton, London, Leicester, and Wisbeach, many in the congregation rose and expressed sorrow for their past indecision and want of faith, and pledged themselves not only to abandon Catholicism, but also to make manifest in their lives their faith in the Gospel. Six priests of the Romish Church came somewhat secretly to read the Bible with him, one of whom is the brother in law of the Pope's private secretary."

State Races!

MESSRS EDITORS: I like your spinality on the State Fair subject; and although we may be in a minority, it is nevertheless composed of some of the best people in the State. The Sentinel says racing is the chief point of interest! Exactly! Now let this effort to popularize vice be put down—at least kept sickly—by the good people of the State. Let the preachers preach against it. Let the managers of the State Fair understand that the religious sentiment of the Christian people of North Carolina cannot be thus outraged by horse racing and gambling, and that we are determined to fight it. I know one or two pastors at least in Raleigh, who will give it a wring. I noticed not long since a newspaper paragraph stating that the Charlotte Fair had been turned into an Annual Race!—Very well. We shall contribute a small pill now and then to help sweat the life out of it.

Yours,

E. A. YATES.

News from the Churches.

Rev. E. A. Yates, in a private note, says "Our District never has been, in my knowledge, in so smooth a working condition—revivals all over it. Why the preachers do not more fully report I know not."

Rev. J F Smoot in a private note of Sept 29th says: "We are now in the midst of a glorious revival at Sanders' School House. Six were converted last night. May the good work go on, 'till the whole neighborhood shall be brought to Jesus."

Rev. L. Shell, writing from Mocksville under date of Sept. 22d, says: "We have had some interesting meetings on the Mocksville circuit. Our camp meeting was quite a success notwithstanding the rain

Our congregations were large to the close. Our Presiding Elder, Rev. D. R. Bruton, Revs. M. V. Sherrill, Stephenson, Pliler and Willson were with us and rendered efficient aid. The preaching was fine and effective. A large number of persons became interested, thirty-five professing to have found pardon. We have had good meetings at Liberty, Shady Grove and Oak Grove. Twenty persons were converted at these meetings, and the same number have united with our church Others will join. We expect to hold several other meetings at which we hope for greater success."

Rev Jas. Mahoney writing under date of Sept 22d says: "The good Lord continues to pour out his spirit and bless us with revivals of religion, on the Carteret circuit, I spent the two past weeks, preaching alternately at South River and Adam's Creek churches

The congregations were not large at either place, at any time during the meeting, owing to sickness more or less in almost every family. Yet, we had the presence and aid of the Holy Spirit. I have not seen, at any time, or place, a greater disposition manifested on the part of a people, to attend church, than was there, and although there were only 8 adults added to the church, twas a great revival of religion. The whole church, the most of whom had lapsed into a cold and backsliden state, were aroused, stirred refreshed and built up, and promised to repent and lead a new life following the commandments of God. Very many of the members of both church communions gave evidence of the blessings they had received, and the renewal of their spiritual strength, during the meeting, by rising to their feet in Love Feast. I had no ministerial aid; a good brother (Peter Carraway) an exhorter, rendered good service.

We hope to say more in reference to the work over there soon."

A correspondent of the Monroe Enquire, writing of the dedication of Marvin Church on Saturday and Sunday the 10th and 11th of September says:

"This Church, which has just been completed, belongs to the organization of the M. E Church, South, is on the Pineville Circuit, 18 miles west of Monroe, and is supplied by Rev. Dr. Lee, the Pastor of that Circuit. Although the weather was very inclement, the Church on both days was well filled Owing to the sickness of the Pastor, and the non-arrival of Rev. John Kelly, of the South Carolina Conference, who was expected to be present, the services were conducted by Rev. W. M. Robey, D. D., alone. The Doctor delivered three of the best sermons the writer has ever listened to. As ministerial help was scarce, the services were concluded on Sunday evening, although it had been intended to protract them through the week, had sufficient help arrived. The building is a very neat one, indeed; in fact, it is one of the best country churches I ever saw. The walls are of brick, and nicely plastered inside. The seats are comfortable, the Pulpit and Altar are nicely finished, and all show the hand and eye of good workmanship.

This Church has cost between $1,500 and $2,000, nearly all of which has been paid for by Messrs L. K. Rone and J. B Squires, the originators of the idea of building a Church at that place, they having received about $300 in cash and subscription. Should your readers wish to contribute to a good work, their contributions will be thankfully received by either of the above gentlemen, and they cannot certainly find a more suitable place for donation than right here. We learn that a proposition has been made by Messrs. Squire and Rone to furnish the brick and do the wood work to build an Academy on the same grounds, if the persons living in the neighborhood will pay for laying the brick and furnish the lumber, which proposition will very likely be accepted."

Religious Brevities.

THE Western Conference held its session at Council Grove, September 1-6. Bishop Marvin presided. G. B. Armstrong was discontinued. J. S Cox received by transfer. C. W. Thorpe was elected and ordained deacon; J. W. Faubion elder. L C. Walters located. A. Williams superannuated. White members, 2,359; local preachers, 9; collected for Missions, $365. Next session at Nebraska City.

The Pittsburgh Christian Advocate tells the story of a brother in the West Virginia Conference, who recently preached for a colored congregation, and after preaching for them, as he thought, the best he knew how, was prayed for by a colored local preacher as follows:—

"O, God, bless de brudder dat spoke! Be his light in his darkness; be his sense in his ignorance; be his strength in his weakness; and O, Lord, bless dis intelligent congregation!"

The Spanish Envoy to Rome is instructed that the Madrid Government will be firm, but moderate, and will respect religion, but at the same time protect the rights of the State. It is believed the Vatican will abate its pretensions.

The New York Advocate says: "The many friends of Dr H. Vincent, our indefatigable and successful Sunday-school and tract editor and secretary, will regret to learn that he is now suffering from exhaustion and depression. His excessive labors during the summer are now telling upon his nervous system, and immediate rest is necessary."

In this happy way Dr. Talmage, of the Christian at Work, dismisses one excellent publisher of his paper, and introduces another: "As one friend comes in, another goes out. B. B. Corwin, Esq., enters, and we say, 'sit down; make yourself at home.' Col. H. C. King goes to Christian Union, and, appreciating his work on this paper in the past, we bid him God speed, and accompany him with our good wishes for the future."

A teacher, counsels one of our exchange, ought to be ahead of his class in all things—even in promptness of attendance at Sunday school. If he is first in his place there, he has a decided start for the day. He can greet each incoming scholar with a pleasant smile and a fitting word, and obtain a fresh influence over them for good. The scholars who are in their class before the teacher often set out for themselves in ways of thinking and doing, and the teacher fails to overtake them during the entire session hour.

Recent Publications

FATHER, BRING HOME YOUR MONEY TO-NIGHT. Temperance Song and Chorus. Words by Mrs M. A. Kidder; music by W. F. Sherrin. New York, Horace Waters & Sons.

Touching words and a plaintive air will make this song take rank among the most popular musical contributions to the cause of temperance.

OUR LIVING AND OUR DEAD. S. D. Pool Editor, Raleigh, $3 a year.

The October number of this excellent North Carolina publication is on our table. It contains "The Soldier's History of the War" by Rev. Jno. Paris Gen. Clingman's Report of the fight near Goldsboro; and Col. J. K. Marshall's Report of the same, "the 58th N. C. at Chicamauga's" "Another Witness—Gettysburg," by T. B. Kingsbury. "Terry's Fort Fisher Expedition," "Evidences of the Mecklenburg Declaration" by Johnstone Jones. Also, Editorials under the Historical Department,

In the Literary Department, Mrs. Harris continues her serial story "Margaret Roselyn" and T. B. Kingsbury, Esq., Rev. Dr. Hooper, J. E. Tyler, "An Amateur Scribbler" and others furnish poems and literary essays,

In the Educational Department is a sketch of Raleigh Female Seminary, by the Principal. "Religious and Popular Orators" an oration delivered during the Summer by Gen. T. L. Clingman, Editorial Reviews of Books etc., etc.

"Lacy Diamonds." By the author of "Odd Trump," "Harwood" etc E. J. Hale and Son, New York.

This is the third of the "Odd Trump" Series of novels whose author has sprung suddenly into a high place among the fiction writers of the day. The first of the series, "The Odd Trump," received almost universal commendation for the intricacy of its plot, the naturalness of its characters and their faithful development, and the vigor and purity of its style. "Harwood" followed, but while it had excellencies, it was in many repects strained in plot and characters, and evinced the crudeness of a first venture in fiction writing as it no doubt was. "Lacy Diamonds," however, makes up for the defects of "Harwood" and is a success. There is nothing "thrilling" in the story yet there is such an interdependence of incident (if we may so term it) that the interest of the reader is caught in the opening chapter and sustained to the close. The hero, Barston, is a splendidly sketched character—noble, brave, self sacrificing, pious and full of health ful influences. He is the absorbing personage of the book. The other characters, Ret, the heroine, Butler, half noble, half vicious, and all others, fail to excite any interest except such as is derived from their connection with the hero. The writer may bring them forward into prominence, but the reader looks over their shoulders at the grand and to worse character of Barston, the noble and good.

"Lacy Diamonds" does great credit to the authors abilities and will benefit the reader, for the contemplation of a good character, either in fiction or real being, always benefits.

Constitutional Convention.

On Monday of last week an ordinance was passed prohibiting mixed schools, only three delegates voting against it.

The ordinance providing for a rotation of the Superior Court Judges also passed. Also an ordinance providing that all funds arising from certain sources shall be used as a general school fund and, that fines and penalties, etc. shall stay in the counties in which they are incurred, and be used there.

The Robeson County contested Election case was taken up as special order on Tuesday. Mr. Jarvis offered a resolution that the whole matter be recommitted to the committee on Privileges and Elections with power to send for persons and papers or appoint commissioners to take testimony. After much discussion and "filibustering" the resolution to recommit passed. The Republican members in order to prevent a quorum left the hall in a body leaving Mr Badger to keep watch over the Democratic manoeuvres. While the Republicans were out of the Hall a call for the vote was made. Mr. Badger called the ayes and noes but as his friends were not present the call was not sustained and. the resolution passed by a VIVA VOCE vote.

Ordinance to amend Art 3. Sec. 10, providing that the Governor by and with the advice and consent of the Senate shall appoint all such officers as are authorized by the constitution and when appointments are not otherwise provided for.

An ordinance providing that no amendment to the constitution shall have the effect of vacating any office now held by virtue of the 4th article, until the present term of such office shall expire.

An ordinance providing that no convention shall hereafter be called except by submitting the question to the people: amendments to be adopted by two thirds of the General Assembly, and ratified by the people.

NORTH CAROLINA.

NEW STORE.—We notice that Messrs T. H. Briggs & Sons have moved into their large and beautiful store nearly opposite the Market House on Fayetteville Street. The building runs through an entire block, from Fayetteville to Salisbury Street. In structure, size and finish it would do credit to any city.—With this new and elegant building, a large and well selected stock of hardware, polite and attentive clerks, and gentlemen at its head of superior business qualifications, we bespeak for this house unparalleled success in their line of business. See their advertisement in another column.

'THE CAROLINA SCHOOL BOY.'—Carolina Central Academy, at Ansonville N. C., has a printing press and will soon have a telegraph office in readiness for the instruction of its pupils.

The students in the Academic Department, who are taught type setting and proof reading without extra charge, propose to issue a semi-monthly paper to be called "THE CAROLINA SCHOOL BOY." Price 81 per annum.

THE SOUTHERN FARMER, for August, comes to hand laden with fresh, interesting and useful matter. The present managing editor, S. C. Rogers, has very clearly proven that he is not wanting in skill in the management of an agricultural journal. The Farmer is a semi-monthly, and well merits a place in every Southern home.—RELIGIOUS MESSENGER.

Student's board at Chapel Hill is only $10 per month.

The railroad has been completed to Shelby.

The Anson county Grange will have a pic-nic at Lilesville, N. C., on the 26th inst., to which the Grangers of Union and Richmond are invited.

A Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, "Orange Lodge No. 30," was organized in Hillsboro on the 22d ult.

Wake Superior Court is in session this week. On the Criminal Docket there are 226 cases; on the Civil Docket 400, and 4,000 poll tax cases.

Hon. Mr. Sibley, of Washington, D. C. has donated his farm in N. C. of 615 acres to the Seminary at High Point.

Mr. Chas. G. Yates has presented to the Presbyterian Church in Greensboro, a new bell weighing, 1198 pounds.

The Greensboro authorities are considering the policy of supplying the town with Artesian wells.

Judge Dick granted the petition of the creditors of the Bank of Mecklenburg and put it into Bankruptcy.

The "Kit Carson Trompe" advertised to appear recently at several places in this State did not put in an appearance. Nobody hurt, except some newspaper men who are mourning over unpaid advertising bills.

By a fire in Shoe Heel, Robeson county last week, the store of Mr. W. B. Barker and residence of Mr. Jackson were burned.

Diptheria is prevailing in many portions of Stokes county.

A man in Stokes county has shot over four hundred squirrels since the leaves came out in the Spring.

Farmers in Stokes are losing many hogs from a prevalent disease thought to be cholera.

Finer tobacco has never been cured in Stokes county than is now found in the barns of planters in that county. The crop is 30 to 50 per cent larger than ever before.

The Winston SENTINEL says that a large lot of tobacco raised in Surry County and carried to Danville, was reshipped to Winston and sold in Brown's Warehouse at prices that more than paid the expense of reshipment. A considerable amount of tobacco is shipped from Danville to Winston—the leading leaf tobacco market in the State.

A miscreant, Verban Castleberry, fifty years old, attempted to commit rape upon the person of a little girl 10 years old in Durham last week. He was committed to jail.

The Charlotte Observer says Doctor Battle, the new editor of the Terbe Southerner while in the trenches near Petersburg, wrote a thrilling romance titled, "The Scarlet Scavenger or the Secret Son of a Gun," which, unfortunately, was never published.

SENTINEL: Mr. McKeown, formerly of Canada, but who has resided at Henderson, in this State, for the past few months, has EN ROUTE from Canada with 50 sheep of the Leicester and Cotswold breeds, to exhibit at our approaching State Fair.

We learn from the Goldsboro Advertiser, that a change of schedule on the Atlantic Road is contemplated, by which the regular mail train will be converted into a mixed passenger and freight train and will leave Goldsboro at 2:30 P. M. and arrive at Morehead City at 10:00 P. M. Returning, leave Morehead at 12 A. M., arrive at Newbern at 2:52 A. M. leaving this place at 6:50 and arriving at Goldsboro at 11.25.

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING. TERMS $2 20 POSTAGE PAID.

Our Agents.

All the traveling and local preachers in the bounds the North Carolina Conference are our authorized Agents. Any person sending us ten subscribers, for one year, will receive the paper free.

Our Correspondents.

Communications for publication should be carefully written, and on but one side of the sheet. All letters and dues should be addressed to the Editor.

How to Remit.

In sending money, all amounts should be sent in registered letter, post office order or check. The cost of registration, or Post Office order can be deducted from the amount in hand. If money is sent otherwise than herein specified it will be at the sender's risk.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

"Pure Gold"—Biglow and Main.

Oliver Ditson and Co's. School Music Books.

Public sale of desirable lots at the Fair Grounds by Mr. Ellington.

We call attention to the advertisement of Mr. Brewster's "Raleigh Stove House." His stock of stoves, grates, tinware, hardware for house uses, was recently selected by Mr. Brewster in person, in New York, and is complete and attractive. Give him a call.

New Goods.—Our city merchants are daily receiving their Fall and Winter goods. Messrs W. H. & R. S. Tucker, and Petty & Jones, have announced the arrival of their new stock, and our Fall advertisement of S. D. Watt, & Bro., and J. P. Gully will appear in our next. Give them a call.

Removal.—Messrs Petty & Jones, the popular dry goods merchants, formerly at No. 20 Fayetteville Street, have moved their store to the building formerly occupied by Messrs Briggs & Sons, one door above A. Creech, Esq. The new room is more capacious and will better meet the demands of their large and constantly increasing trade.

Personal Mention.

Secretary Delano, of the Interior Department, has resigned. His successor has not yet been appointed.

—Carl Shurz has been canvassing Ohio in favor of specie resumption, but disavows intentions to induce independent voters to support the Republican party in 1876. He waits to see what party will meet his approval.

—Henry Walser, Esq., a well known politician of Davidson county, died on the 22nd inst.

Mr. Job Worth, a prominent citizen of Surry County, is reported dead, says the Danbury Reporter.

—Rev. N. Z. Graves has resigned the pastorate of the Presbyterian Church in Goldsboro', with the design of establishing a female college at Warrenton.

—Ex Governor Vance has declined invitations to canvass Ohio and Mississippi in the political contests now going on in those States.

Newspaper Changes.

—Mr. J. S. Tomlinson has bought the interest of his partner Mr. Murrill, in the Hickory Press, and will conduct it alone hereafter.

—Mr. Williamson has sold his paper the Tarboro Southerner, to Messrs Dortch Battle and another gentleman. Mr. Battle will be the editor and is a writer of great versatility and vigor.

—It is reported that a paper is to be published at Murfreesboro', N. C., by R. E. Blakely, Esq., of the Brunswick (Va.) Advocate.

Messrs. W. A. Davis & Co., of the Oxford Torchlight, have bought the Oxford Leader, and will consolidate it with their publication. The Torchlight announces that it will not for the present be identified with any political party. In short, Mr. Blow of the LEADER intimates that he may commence at an early day the publication of another Conservative paper in Granville county.

The Maratock Iron property, recently bought by Mr. Sharswood of Philadelphia, will be called the Maratock Furnace. Several kinds of iron are to be made, and also Bessemer steel. The Reporter says:

"The improvements will embrace the building of a large and substantial dam at Danbury, and the erection of from ten to twenty forges, with machinery of the most improved form. The expediency is also being considered of erecting ten additional forges about a mile farther up the river, to be run by steam power. As soon as feasible a large charcoal furnace will be built near the site of the present one.

Arrangements are contemplated to organize a company, under a very liberal charter which has been secured, at as early a period as convenient, under the style of "The Maratock Iron and Steel Company," with the view to introduce improvements on a very extended scale, including a large coke furnace between the towns Ford and Madison, should the Pilot Mount coal prove available for this purpose; a furnace on the Siemoe-Martin principle, with rolling mill for the production of bar, rod, hoop, sheet and boiler iron, bar and sheet steel, Bessemer steel works, with rail mill and a foundry.

Those improvements will give our town and section considerable importance; making it, in fact, the Pittsburg of the South."

General News.

Trouble with the Indians is apprehended in the negotiations now going on at the Red cloud agency.

Texas hogs are fattened largely on meat, composed in great part of pecan nuts.

British Columbia will send a flagpole 140 feet long, composed of a single tree, to the Centennial.

The greatest depth of the Pacific Ocean, as found by the British ship Challenger, was about five miles.

The eyes of all the Levys in the world are turned to Paris, where the well-known publisher left 17,000,000 francs, but no will.

The town of Indianola, Texas, was almost entirely destroyed by the recent storm on the Gulf of st. The light house, wharves, and nearly every house were swept away, and over one hundred and fifty lost.

The San Francisco Alta California has been sued for libel by the Bulletin and Call for charging the proprietors of the latter papers with being engaged in a conspiracy to create a panic.

The Duncan, Sherman & Co., compromise of 33⅓ per cent. in two semi-annual payments, has been accepted by the Finance Department of the City of Brooklyn, which lost $1,300 17 on its profit at the time of the failure.

A number of New York banks have joined the Philadelphia banks in contributing to a special department in the Centennial Exhibition in which the currency and coin from the earliest time to the present shall be exhibited.

It is announced by the Washington Star that Secretary Bristow will take decided ground in his annual report to Congress, in favor of retiring the 3 per cent certificates issued under the Specie Resumption Act of the last Congress,

There are 4,000 keys to the vaults of the Safe Deposit Company in San Francisco.

Postal cards to the number of 14,298,000 were issued during the month of July.

The New Orleans Bulletin says the public schools of that city are a disgrace and a shame, and they will remain so until a thorough change is made in their management.

The Government receives an average income of $4,000 from the sale of waste paper from the dead-letter office.

Henry county, Virginia, has voted $100,000 to complete the Danville and New River Railroad.

The Constitutional Convention of Texas is discussing the subject of establishing inebriate asylums to be maintained at the expense of liquor dealers.

Governor Bigler reports seventeen thousand dollars additional subscriptions to the Centennial by New York firms during the past week.

The recent storm in Texas appears to have taken in its course a belt of country forty miles in width. The loss of property has been immense.

The Democrats of Massachusetts have renominated Hon. William Gaston for Governor on a reform, reconciliation and hard money platform.

Vice-President Wilson has publicly forbidden the use of his name as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor in Massachusetts.

Gen. Beauregard has written a letter endorsing the Southern Pacific railroad, which he regards of vast importance to the trade of the South.

The Liberal Republican Convention of New York which met at Albany on the 22 advises Liberal Republicans in that State to vote the Democratic ticket.

Boston has given five thousand dollars to the sufferers from the storms in Galveston.

The high altar in the new Catholic Cathedral in New York will cost $250 000, and will be among the finest in the world.

A gentleman in Nueces county, Texas, has a field of sixty thousand acres within one fence. He recently filled an order by telegraph for twenty-six thousand beeves.

A New York youth of twenty, convicted of breaking into his parents apartments and stealing eight dollars, has been sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

A company is organized in Texas to build the immense quantities of bones strewing the cattle ranches. The quantity is reported to be almost incomputable.

Some idea of the conjugal happiness of the King of Holland may be obtained from the fact that his wife, the Queen can talk every language that is spoken in Europe.

Seven years ago George Francis Train predicted that the Bank of California would burst like a bubble, and they were mad enough to hang him for it, but they didn't hang him and the Bank "busted" as he said it would,—"Greensboro Patriot."

The New York Herald, in its abundant Enterprise, has established in Paris a reading room for the convenience of Americans, where can be found the leading American newspaper.

A man named Schell charged with the murder of a young girl, was taken from jail in Bellefontaine Ohio, week before last, by a crowd of disguised men, and hanged.

The total cotton crop for the year ending Sept. 1st, 1875, is estimated at 3,837,845 bales.

A monument will be erected over the grave of the poet-journalist, John R. Thompson, in Richmond, Va., on the 23d of October.

A woman is very like a kettle, when you come to think of it. She sings away so pleasantly—then she stops and, when you least expect it, she boils over! Judy.

The Lynchburg (Va.) Republican reports squirrels migrating southward in large numbers, saying "they may be seen above and below the city just before night-fall, crossing the river on their bark boats, using their tails as sails when the wind is favorable."

Last year the United States bought coffee of Brazil, to the amount of 108,502 tons, besides that obtained from Java, and the West Indies.

The first newspaper ever published in Madagascar has very recently made its appearance. It is well printed and has a moderately good list of subscribers already.

There are only 40,000 Jews in France but their importance there in art, politics, commerce and finance is out of all proportion to their number.

The proprietor of the magnificent Palace Hotel in San Francisco, has tendered to Mrs. Colton, wife of the late President of the Bank of California, a suit of seven rooms with private servants, a private coach and coachman, so long as she may see fit to use them.

The Governor of Colorado has ordered an election October 25th for delegates to a Constitutional Convention, which will meet December 20th. This is preparatory to the formation of a State Government.

Of the original cedars of Lebanon only seven now remain. They cover a space of not over half a mile up on the mountain side. They are more than a thousand years old—indeed, it is believed that some of them were planted by Solomon.

Mrs. Lincoln, since her arrival at Springfield, Ill., on a visit to her sister, is said to manifest much of her former cheerfulness, she rides out frequently, and takes a deep interest in the changes since her former visit to the city. She however, shows no signs of improvement.

"Buck" Fanning, lectured in Baltimore, the other day, and told of some of the things he saw while with the Federal army out West during the war. At Cairo, he said he "saw a coffin which was supposed to contain the dead body of a lieutenant in the army, being sent home for burial. The coffin was broken open by accident, and it was found full of silver ware, stolen in the South. A piece of raw meat was on top of the silver, which emitted the offensive odor expected from a corpse."

It is understood that Tilton has informed the lecture committees, with whom he has made engagements for the coming season that they must not endeavor to excite popular interest by advertising him as the scandal hero. He is to deliver his new lecture in Hudson this month, and the committee in their published card, play around the forbidden fruit as close as they dare. They say: "Theodore Tilton, after three years' absence from the lecture field, for reasons now well understood by the public, has again consented to lecture, and has been engaged to deliver his new lecture, 'The Problem of Life,' at City Hall, Friday, September 17."

Marriages.

Married in Portsmouth N. C. Sept. 22nd 1875, by Rev. W. C. Gannon, Mr. Robt. M Hancock, of Newberne and Miss Emma E. Abbott of Portsmouth, N. C.

Spirit of The Age please copy.

Married, on the 28th Sept in Roxboro, by Rev. W. M. Jordan, Mr. S. P. Satterfield to Miss Lou M. Winstead, daughter of J. M. Winstead Esq deceased, all of Roxboro, N. C.

Married, at the residence of the bride's mother on 29th of Sept, 1875 by Rev. W. R Ferguson, Mr. Lewis J. Pepper, formerly of Federal Point, to Miss Lillie A. Benett, of Bald Head, N. C.

Deaths.

☞Obituary notices of twenty lines are inserted without charge. The excess over twenty lines of EIGHT words is charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line. Count the lines and allow eight words to the line. In this way you may always know the amount to enclose rule.☜

Died, in Cabarrus co. N. C. on the 21st of Sept. 1875, Laura L. L. daughter of W. O. and M A Browne, born August 5th 1872, aged 3 years, 1 month and 16 days.

"Life is a span, a fleeting hour,—
How soon the vapor flies!
Man is a tender, transient flower,
That e'en in blooming dies."

J. C. F.

Leonidas Closs, son of Rev L. L, and Louisa Nash, fell asleep in Jesus, at Woodstock, Davidson county N. C. on the 24th Sept 1875 aged 8 months and 6 days.

When death takes the loveliest objects of earth away, how consoling the thought, that they are not lost, but gone before! Words spoken over eighteen hundred years ago, by him who spake as never man spake, bring sweet comfort to troubled hearts now. "Suffer little children and forbid them not to come unto me, for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

"Methinks I see a thousand charms
Spread o'er thy lovely face,
While infants in thy tender arms
Receive the smiling grace."

HIS FATHER.

Ann Taylor was born in Nash county, N. C July 17th 1850. She was converted to God, and joined the M. E. Church, South, at the age of fourteen; and married Mr. Jessie Bright in Beaufort county N. C. on the 27th of March 1873, and departed this life on the 29th of August 1875, aged 25 years 1 mo. and 12 days. Sister Bright ever remained a consistent follower of Christ; and when she was tempted to engage in the frivolities of the world she remembered the covenant she had made with God, and remained steadfast. The nature of her malady was such, that she could not leave a dying testimony for Jesus. She died as she had lived a quiet christian.

"How blest the righteous when they die,
When sinks the weary soul to rest,
How mildly beams the closing eye
How gently heaves the expiring breast."

L. L. N.

Letters and Funds.

Rev J Mahoney. Rev B B Culbreth, W J Carlton, Rev J Willson paper sent, Rev J McLendon, Rev R L Abernethy, Dr Pierce, J W Dongenday, Rev L Shell for Miss A J Sharpe $2.20, Mrs E Fowler 2.20, H Howard 2.20, W W —— with for sdy 3. Rev W C Norman for W D Wall 2.20, B Fitzgerald 2.20, Rev W C Gannon, Rev D May, R P Keener self 60 cents, J A Monroe, S H Smith paper changed J Willis, O W Carr, F B Jones, Rev W M Jordan, Hymans & Dancy 15, W M Poisson, Rev E A Yates sell 1 20 Rev J F Smoot papers continued Rev T P England for subscribers 6 50, L G Tyson, Rev R A Willis for C B Copeland 1 35 A L Sasser 2.30 J A Lane 2.20, R W Harris J B Mansfield sell 2, Appointments.

GREENSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Winston,	Oct	2- 3
Wentworth at Reidsville	"	9 10
Greensboro	"	16-17
Randleigh at Union Factory,	"	23-24
Stokes,	"	30-31
Davidson, at Lexington,	Nov.	6- 7
Madison, Madison,	"	13-14
South Guilford, Franklinville,	"	20 21
Forsyth, Tabor,	"	27-28

N. H. D WILSON, P. E.
Greensboro, N. C.

SALISBURY DISTRICT.
FOURTH ROUND.

Yadkinville et	Oct.	2- 3
Mooresville et	"	9-10
Mocksville et	"	16-17
Alexander et	"	23-24
Surry et & Sanraton Miss.	"	30- 31
Mt Airy station	Nov.	6- 7
Wilkes et	"	13-14
Salisbury et	"	20-21
Iredell et	"	27-28

D. R. BRUTON, P. E.
Statesville, N. C.

NEWBERN DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Newberne,	Oct.	2- 3
Jones, at Lee's, Mon. & Tues,	"	4- 5
Onteret, at Harlowe's,	"	9-10
Wayne, at Frem'nt, (Ded ol Ch'ch)"		16-17
Craven, Wed, & Thurs.	"	20-21
Snow Hill, Snow Hill.	"	23-24
Neuse & S. Creek Aurora.	"	30-31
Mt Olive, at Mt. Olive,	Nov.	6- 7
Wilson	"	13-14
Goldsboro,	"	20-21

E. A. YATES, P. E
Beaufort N C.

WASHINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND IN PART.

Mattemuskeet,	Oct.	16 17
Bath,	"	23-24
Plymouth & Jamesville,	"	30 31
Columbia,	Nov.	6- 7
Williamston,	"	13-14
Warren.	"	20 21
Roanoke,	"	27-28

The brethren of Cape Hatteras will please meet me at Swan Quarter the 28th of Sept. prepared to take me across the Sound the 29th, and the Preacher in charge will arrange for me to preach and administer the communion at all of the five appointments on his circuit.

The Preacher in charge of Portsmouth and Ocracoke will arrange for me to divide the six days allotted to that charge between Portsmouth and Ocracoke so he may think best so that I may preach and administer the communion at both places. The brethren of that charge will be relied upon to return me to Swan Quarter or some point on Mattemuskeet

WILLIAM CLOSS, P. E.

RALEIGH DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND, Q. M.

Henderson at Henderson,	Oct.	2- 3
Rolesville at Rolesville,	"	9-10
S. M. and Nashville,	"	16-17
Gary,	"	23-24
Raleigh Edenton st,	"	30-31
Youngville,	Nov.	6- 7
Smithfield,	"	13-14

J. P. MOORE, P. E.
Warrenton, N. C

WILMINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Magnolia, Salem,	Oct.	2- 3
Onslow, Tabernacle,	"	8-10
Topsail, Rocky Point,	"	16-17
Whiteville, Shiloh,	"	23-24
Bladen, and Cape Fear Miss. } Windsor,	"	30-31
Wilmington Front Street.	Nov.	6- 7
Smithville,	"	13-14
Clinton, McGee,	"	20-21
Elizabeth, Wayman,	"	27-28
Wilmington 5th st.	"	30

W. S. BLACK, P. E.
Magnolia N. C

HILLSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Deep River Maroney's,	Oct.	2- 3
Yanceyville Prospect,	"	9 10
Leasburg,	"	30 31
Person Bailey's,	Nov	6- 7
Flat River Pleasant Green,	"	13-14
Hillsboro sta,	"	20-21

L. L. HENDREN, P. E.
Chapel Hill N. C.

CHARLOTTE DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Albemarle at Bethel,	Oct.	- 1
Stanley ct. at Rehoboth,	"	2- 3
Monroe ct. at Prospect,	"	9 10
Lilesville,	"	14-15
Wadesboro at Bethel,	"	16-17
Concord sta and ct,	"	23-24
Pleasant Grove ct	"	30- 31
Tryon st. and Calvary Miss. }	Nov.	6- 7
Ansonville ct.	"	13-14
Mt Pleasant at Bethel,	"	20-21
Wadesboro sta,	"	27-28

J. S. NELSON, P. E.
Monroe, N. C.

FAYETTEVILLE DISTRICT.
4TH, ROUND.

Uwharrie Poplar Spring, C. M,	Oct.	3- 4
Jonesboro,' Poplar Spring,	"	9-10
Laurinburg	"	16-17
Robeson,	"	23-24
Cumberland, Rockfish,	"	30-31
Rockingham, Zion,	Nov.	6- 7
Fee Dee, Hebron,	"	13-14
Buckhorn. Cokesbury,	"	20-21
Fayetteville,	"	27-28

Camp meetings will be held in connection with the Quarterly Meetings on Carthage, Montgomery and Uwharrie circuits.

Brethren in the ministry are invited to attend.

S. D. ADAMS, P. E.
Carthage N. C.

SHELBY DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Double Shoals, Union (C M)	Oct,	2- 3
South Fork, Wesley Chapel (C M)	"	9 -10
Cherry Mt. Rock Spring (C M)	"	9 -10
Shelby station,	"	13-14
Shelby ct, Sharon (C M)	"	16 17
Rutherford, Pisgah	"	23-24
Marion,	"	27 28
Morganton,	"	30 31
Lenoir,	Nov.	6- 7
Happy Home,	"	13-14
Newton, Concord	"	20 21
Rock Spring,	"	27 28

Camp meetings will begin Friday evening and close on Wednesday morning. Let the Ministers and Stewards labor earnestly to bring up all the finances. Three-fourths of the ecclesiastical year has passed away and only about one-fourth of our salaries has been paid! Dear Brethren, shall those who preach the gospel to you be sent away unpaid? God's blessings will be in proportion to your faithfulness in His service.

R. G. BARRETT, P. E.
Lincolnton, N. C

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PUBLIC SALE OF DESIRABLE LOTS.

On Thursday, the 7th inst, at 12 o'clock, I will sell at public sale to the highest bidder, three desirable lots, immediately in front of the Main Entrance to the Fair Grounds

These lots have each a frontage of about 55 feet—depth about 300 feet. They are valuable lots as are most eligibly situated. Sale will take place on the lots. Terms made known on day of sale.

J. C. McELLINGTON.

1-t.

THE SOUTHERN FARMER.

A journal devoted to Agriculture, Horticulture, Stock raising and the Manufacturing interests of the South. Sustained by an able corps of Editors and Correspondents. Published semi monthly. Subscription, including postage, per annum, single copy, $2.00; clubs of five and upward, $1.50. Specimen copy, 10 cents.

Address S. C. ROGERS, Memphis, Tenn.
Oct. 6-4t.

"PURE GOLD"

Outranks all other Sunday School Song Books in Popular Favor. Nearly

One Million Copies!

HAVE ALREADY BEEN SOLD.

PURE GOLD

IS A SAFE BOOK TO BUY.

The Words are Good:
The Music is Good:
Good Sentiment:
Good Everything:

☞Many of your Neighbors have used it—ask them how they like it.

Price $30 per 100 Copies,

☞Sent by mail, in paper cover, on receipt of twenty-five cents. Board cover, 35 cents.

BIGLOW & MAIN Publishers,
(Successor to Wm. B. Bradbury.)
76 East 9th Street, New York.
91 Washington St., Chicago

Oct. 6th 4-t.

DITSON & CO'S

School Music Books

Constitute a perfect series, providing in the best manner for every class in every School, Academy and Seminary.

American School Music Readers.

In 3 Books, of which Book I. (35 cents) is admirably arranged for Primary Schools. Book II. (50 cents) and Book III. (50 cents) for Grammar and younger High School or Academy classes. Compiled by L. O. Emerson and W. S. Tilden.

Cheerful Voices,

(50 cents), by L. O. Emerson, is a capital collection of School Songs for Common Schools.

The High School Choir.

($1.00) by L. O. Emerson and W. S. Tilden, is fully equal to their last book, The Hour of Singing, which for some years has been the standard book. The present work, like the other, is for HIGH SCHOOLS, ACADEMIES, and SEMINARIES.

The National Hymn and Tune Book,

(4s cents) furnishes the best collection of Sacred Music extant for opening and closing set owls. Any book sent, post paid, for retail price.

OLIVER DITSON & CO., C. H. DITSON & CO.,
Boston. 711 B'dway, New York.
oct 6-tf

HUGH A CLARKE Professor of Music in the University of Pensylvania, has given, in Clarke's New Method for the Piano Forte, a work which is destined to supersede instructors here-to-fore in vogue. It will be sent by mail for $3.75, by Book and Music Houses.

Oct. 6-tf.

1875. 1875.

JUST ARRIVED!

We announce to our customers that our

DRESS GOODS

have come, consisting of a beautiful line of Berlin Lusters, Figured Mohairs, Cashmeres,

Colored Alpacas, Victoria Twills, Melange Twills,
Striped Mohair, Plaid Mohair, Manchester Cords
Alpaca Lusters, Brilliantine,
Cashmeres Poplins, Matelese Cloth, Corduroy Suitings, &c., &c.

Latest Styles

too numerous to mention, all at much lower prices than last Fall. Call soon, Ladies, if you want a handsome dress, for a little money. We also have a handsome line of at owest figure. A full line of the newest styles of Collars and Cuffs, for Ladies.

Opera Flannels,

Also a complete line of WHITE GOODS. Our Hosiery department is now complete in all qualities.

For Gentlemen:

We have another new lot of those celebrated Ballou Shirts which we guarantee a fit, and a splendid line of Cassimeres, the Charlottesville goods among them. To merchants wishing to buy in this market we can say that it they want to save money give us a call before buying.

PETTY & JONES,
20 Fayetteville street.

July 22-tf.

DISSOLUTION.

The firm of WYATT, BINGHAM & CO, has this day been dissolved by mutual consent, L. B. WYATT having withdrawn.

All debts against the late firm of WYATT BINGHAM & CO., will be settled as they come due. All indebted to the late firm will please come forward and make settlement.

L. B. BINGHAM & CO.

"NEWS" BUILDING, No. 6, MARTIN STREET
Raleigh, N. C.

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 26, 1874.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Having purchased the entire interest of Mr. L. B WYATT, we shall continue the wholesale and retail

GROCERY, COTTON

AND

COMMISSION BUSINESS,

At the Old Stand.

And will have at all times a large assortment of

GROCERIES,
BAGGING and TIES,
SALT, NAILS,
FLOUR,
BACON,
ETC.

Which will be sold at the lowest market prices, and we will be glad to see our friends and customers. Thankful for past favors, we hope to merit a continuance of the same.

sept. 1-tf. B. L. BINGHAM & CO.

A. BAUM.

Professional Butcher,

Wilmington St., Opposite East End Market.

Buys the fattest beef, and can not be beat. No poor or stranked beef to be seen in his shop. Orders for Mountain mess weekly filled by his agents. The best old bacon constantly on hand. Meat butchered in first-class style, and sold low at BAUM'S.

apl 26-tf

JUST ARRIVED AT THE

RALEIGH STOVE HOUSE

Another car load of the old reliable

COTTON KING STOVE;

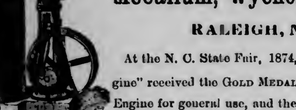
No Better Stove Can be found in the City!

Every one warranted! Call early and get one!

RANGERS, HEATERS and all kinds of COOKING UTENSILS.

FRANKLIN GRATES, PARLOR STOVES, WHICH ARE GEMS OF BEAUTY,

TIN WARE, LAMPS, OILS, WOOD AND WILLOW WARE, CUTLERY AND HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS.



Guns and Locks Repaired, Bell Hanging, &c., &c.

J. C. Brewster, Proprietor.

Oct. 6-tf. No 4 Hargett street, Raleigh, N. C.

OLD NORTH STATE HARDWARE AND

HOUSE FURNISHING STORE,

No. ___ Martin and Market Streets,

RALEIGH, N. C.

I am now receiving my FALL STOCK for 1875, consisting of a full line of

HARDWARE.

Hollow Crockery, Wood and Willow Ware;

Also a large stock of Cooking, Parlor and Heating STOVES. Would call particular attention to those persons who are in want of a first-class Cook Stove to my new design for wood made especially for this market, which I have named the

"Old North State."

FIVE SIZES—NOS. 6, 7, 8, 9, 10.

The No. 6 I will sell for $16.00, complete with pipe and furniture. No. 7 for $18.00 and other Nos. at corresponding prices. Every Stove sold will be warranted to give entire satisfaction. Do not fail to call and look at the Stoves before making purchases.

Also in stock will be found a full line of

Lamp Chimneys,
Wicks, Pratt's Astral
and Kerosene Oils.

Having purchased my entire stock at very low prices I can offer inducements to those in want of anything in my line. An examination of my stock and prices is solicited. Goods marked in plain figures.

C. A. HART,

Market and Martin Streets, directly opposite "The Daily News Office,"

Sept 18-tf. RALEIGH, N. C.

THE HOPE ENGINE,

MANUFACTURED BY

McCallum, Wyckoff & Hope,

RALEIGH, N. C.

At the N. C. State Fair, 1874, the "Hope Engine" received the GOLD MEDAL, as the best Steam Engine for general use, and the SILVER MEDAL as the best Vertical Engine.

We refer to the following parties, who have our HOPE ENGINE in use: W. A. G. Upchurch, of Williamson, Upchurch & Thomas, Raleigh, N. C.; Col. A. W. Shaffer, Raleigh, N. C.; Messrs. Farmer & Co. Goldsboro, N. C.; M. S. Bing, Pennsylvania, N. C.; Messrs. Dail, Brent & Co., Fayetteville, Fayetteville, N. C.; Messrs. Hannah & Wolf, Brick Manufacturers, Raleigh N. C.

We guarantee our HOPE ENGINES equal to the best made North, and we will not be undersold by the manufacturers of any FIRST CLASS ENGINE.

We manufacture

The Carolina Cotton Gin,

which we guarantee equal to the best Gin made. It was awarded the Silver Medal, as the best Gin made in the State, at the N. C. State Fair, 1874.

OUR POWER COTTON PRESS

has no superior. We refer to A. F. Page, Cary, N. C., and A. T. Mial, Master of Raleigh Grange, No. 17, who have our POWER PRESS in use.

We manufacture the celebrated "SUNNY SOUTH" PLOW, and several others, which we will sell at very low figures.

We manufacture SAW MILLS, MILL GEARING, SHAFTING PULLEYS and MILL MACHINERY of every kind.

For full information and Price List, address

McCALLUM, WYCKOFF & HOPE,
Raleigh, N. C.

may 19-tf.

Twenty Years Ago.

WARSON, O., June 17, 1875.

Craddock & Co., 1032 Race Street, Philadelphia:

Please forward by express, C. O. D., one bottle of Dr. James' preparation of Indian Hemp (Cannabis Indica). My mother needs it with success TWENTY YEARS AGO, and as she is just recovering from a long illness, and her lungs being weak we send again at her the lapse of twenty years for your CANABIS INDICA. We know from experience that it is no humbug. I know of several cases that it has cured.

Respectfully,
J. C. FREER.

FLAT ROCK, Huron Co., O., Aug. 2d, 1875.

Inclosed are six dollars and fifty cents for three vials of your Canabis Indica. It is doing its work well.

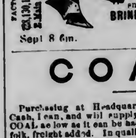
Yours respectfully, E. T. CONSER.

N. B.—This remedy speaks for itself. A single bottle will satisfy the most skeptical. There is not a single symptom of Consumption that it does not dissipate. $2.00 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.50. Pills and Ointment, $1.25 each. Sent at our risk. Address Craddock & Co., 1032 Race Street, Philadelphia.

Sept 22 13 eow

BRINLY PLOWS

BEST AND CHEAPEST IN USE.



Have taken over 250 Premiums at Fairs throughout the South. Send for Illustrated Catalogue with Price List, and certificates of planters who use them.

SOLE MANUFACTURERS:
BRINLY, MILES & HARDY,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

Sept 8 6m.

COAL.

Purchasing at Headquarters, by the Cargo, for Cash, I can, and will supply the best RED ASH COAL as low as it can be had by the carload in Norfolk, freight added. In quality and preparation, this coal is of the purest, cleanest and best.

All cash orders will be promptly filled at following prices—Delivered:

For short Ton (20 Bushels)	$10.00
" long " 28 "	11.50

WOOD!

Oak, Hickory and Pine at lowest prices.

OFFICE—At Yard and in Citizen's Bank building with J. A. Leach & Co. J. A. JONES.

Sept 29-3w.

BLYMYER M'F'G CO.

BELLS

CHURCH, SCHOOL, FIRE & ALARM

Fine toned, low priced, fully warranted. Catalogues giving full particulars, prices, etc., sent free.

BLYMYER MANUFACTURING CO.,
564 to 604 West Eighth St., Cincinnati.

June 30-1y. eow.

BALTIMORE

EYE AND EAR INSTITUTE,

NO. 55 FRANKLIN ST., Baltimore, Md.,

JULIAN J. CHISOLM, M. D., professor of Eye and Ear Diseases in the University of Maryland,

SURGEON IN CHARGE.

This Institution is thoroughly organized and fitted up with every convenience, for the treatment of Eye and Ear Diseases.

☞For further information apply to the above.

Sept 29 3m.

C. J. SHAW, of N. C. with

PEARRE BROS. & CO.

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN

CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATINETS,
Kerseys, Jeans, Cottonades, &c.
MEN AND BOYS' WEAR IN GENERAL.

NO. 8 HANOVER STREET,

Sept 29 tf. Baltimore.

NEW SPRING GOODS JUST ARRIVED.

D. S. WAUT & BRO.,

Wholesale and Retail

DEALERS IN

READY MADE CLOTHING

For MEN, YOUTHS and CHILDREN.

Latest Styles and Prices Low.

The celebrated MANHATTEN WHITE SHIRTS, which are acknowledged the best Goods and most perfect Fit that is made. A full line constantly on hand.

Gents and Ladies Hose, Gloves, Suspenders, Handkerchief, Neckties, Hats and Silk Scarfs. The latest novelties of the season paper Linen Cuffs and Collars Ladies Leather Belts, Hamburg Edgings and Insertions, Castle Ruffings, and Fluteings, Ladies Neck Ruffs and Collars, Stamped Yokes and Bands, &c.

DOMESTIC AND FANCY DRY GOODS.

PRINTS, PRINTS, PRINTS.

Black Alpacas.

Corded Jackonets, Striped and Figured Lawns, White Pique, Mul Muslins, Checked Muslins, Nainsook and Linen Lawns, Corsett Jeans, Cambrics and Linens.

HATS. HATS. HATS

Newest Styles and Cheap.

BOOTS AND SHOES.

Our Stock is complete in this line. Misses and Taylor's goods just in and speak for themselves. Other brands which also give satisfaction.

To Country Merchants who buy in the City, we would say give us a call and we will sell goods for cash as cheap as any House in the City, or this side of Baltimore and New York.

To our numerous friends and patrons we again return our thanks for past favors and as our stock is much larger than ever before, we feel confident that we are prepared to do the best that can be done in this city.

D. S. WAUT & BRO.,
54 Fayetteville st., Raleigh, N.

sept 17-tf.

THE LATEST, BEST, AND CHEAPEST

REVIVAL SONG BOOK,

By Rev. AARON COONS.

Forty Books Wrapped. One Hundred New Pieces. COMPLETE EDITION—256 pages and 350 Songs, 40 cts.—Inside Notes; $4 per 100.

MINIATURE EDITION—128 pages and 175 Songs, 25 cents single copy; $20 per 100.

S. T. GORDON & SON, 18 East 14th St., New York. Sept. 29-4t.

EARLY FALL TRADE

1875.

THEY HAVE COME,

Those beautiful New Fall Style Hats,

Silk Hats, Soft Hats,

High and Medium Crown, and a good stock of WOOL HATS.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

FRESH SUPPLY OF BLEACHED

and Unbleached Domestics,

8-4, 9-4, 10 4, 11-4 and 12-4 Sheeting.

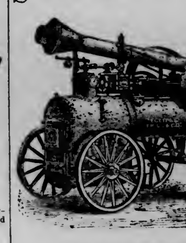
Plaid Homespuns and Gingham, Black and Gray Calicoes, Ladies Neck Ties and Ruchings, Linen Collars and Cuff, and a very large assortment of Hamburg Edgings Cotton Trimmings.

These goods have been purchased within a week—and are in store and for sale at prices which will commend the Trade.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

Sept 1-tf

STEAM POWER.



The Celebrated

Shapley Steam Engine.

By a patented process,

It is Absolutely free of danger from fire.

It is endorsed by all the leading machinists in the United States.

Prices lower than any first class engine in the country.

Engines can be seen at our store. Sizes—3, 8, 8 and 12 Horse Power.

We are agents for the

ROWLAND COTTON GIN,

and have in store the most complete and largest stock in N. C. of Hardware, Sash, Doors, &c.

Prices guaranteed lower than the lowest. Write for circular and prices.

JULIUS LEWIS & CO.,
Fisher Building,
Raleigh, N. C

ELGIN WATCHES

RALEIGH, N. C., January 6th, 1875.

MR. EDW. FASNACH, RALEIGH, N. C.: Dear Sir: I have given the PANTASCOPIC SPECTACLES a faithful trial, and am much pleased with them. They do not fatigue my eyes, and with No. 14 Glasses, I can read the smallest type with unusual perspicuity, and most cheerfully recommend them.

Very Respectfully,
Your Ob't Serv't,

P. F. PESCUD.

It gives me pleasure to state that I have used for a short time, the new PANTASCOPIC STAR SPECTACLES sold by Mr Edward Fasnach, of Raleigh. The use of the glass is exceedingly grateful to weak eyes, and when known, I am persuaded, this glass will become a general favorite

T. H. PRITCHARD.

December 22d, 1874.

ED. FASNACH, Esq.: Dear Sir: The PANTASCOPIC STAR SPECTACLES purchased from you I find to be more beneficial to my eyes than any I have heretofore used, the light from them being clear, and with out any strain or pain to the eye. I cheerfully recommend them to any being compelled to use spectacles.

Very Respectfully,
S. L. RIDDLE.
Raleigh, January 7, 1875. Clerk Sup. Courts.

MR. ED. FASNACH: Dear Sir: I have for some time past been using the PANTASCOPIC STAR SPECTACLES, and it gives me pleasure to state that they have given entire satisfaction. The clearness and coolness of the glass reflected through them is most pleasant to the eye. I cheerf

Children's Column

A Close Hard Man.

A hard, close man was Solomon Ray.
Nothing of value he gave away;
He hoarded and saved;
He pinched and starved;
And the more he had the more he craved

The hard earned dollar he tried to gain
Brought him little but care and pain;
For little he spent,
And all he lent
He made it bring him twenty per cent.

Such was the life of Solomon Ray.
The years went by, and his hair grew gray;
His cheeks grew thin,
And his soul within
Grew hard as the do lar he worke l to win.

But he died one day, as all men mus',
For life is fleeting and man but dust;
The heirs were gay
That laid him away,
And that was the end of Solomon Ray.

They quarreled now who had little cared
For Solomon Ray while his life was spared;
His lands were sold,
And his hard earned gold
All went to the lawyers I am told.

Yet men will cheat and pinch and save,
Nor carry their treasures beyond the grave;
All their gold some day
Will melt away,
Like the selfish savings of Solomon Ray.

Answers.

"My days are like a shadow that declineth and I am withered like grass." Psalm 10th chap. 11th verse. J W Howard.

Butter was used by Abraham while entertaining three angels mentioned Genesis 18th chap. 8th verse. J W Howard.

Ibzan, Judge of Israel, had 30 sons and 30 daughters. Judges 12th chap. 9th verse. J W Howard.

Jeremiah was imprisoned in a dungeon on a false charge. It is said that in the dungeon there was no water but mire. Jer. 38th 6th. J W Howard.

Moses remained in the wilderness forty years. Deut. 29th chap. 5th v. T C W Boshamer.

"They prevented me in the day of my calamity, but the Lord was my stay." Psalm 18th, 18th verse. T C W Boshamer.

Ananias told a falsehood. He sold a possession for so much and kept back a part of the price Acts 5th chap. T C W Boshamer.

"Who hath woe? who hath sorrow?" &c. Proverbs 23d chap. 29th v. T C W Boshamer.

Answer to E. M. Foust's enigma is: 1st Jesse; 2d Ezekiel; 3d Sampson; 4th Uriah; 5th Saul; whole is 'Jesus.' J R and J W Howard.

Answer to Alice and Pattie Peebles' onigma is, 1st Abraham; 2d Abimelech; 3d Rehoboam; 4th Omri; 5th Nadab: whole is Aaron. T C W Boshamer.

Questions.

J. R. Howard asks who gave Paul liberty to speak for himself?

J W Howard asks who had six fingers on each hand and six toes on each foot.

Also who was commanded to teach the children of Judah the use of the bow.

Also, what chapter in the Bible contains the word T one hundred and forty two times.

T C W Boshamer asks who was David's first wife?

Also, what become of Ahab?

Also, where is found "the fruit of the righteous is the tree of life."

ENIGMA BY F. B. JONES.

My 1st and 21st begin the name of the 8th king of Judah.

My 2d, 4th, 20th and 27th one who went naked until his hair grew like eagle feathers and his nails like bird claws.

My 3d, 17th, 24th, a pretended christian who was ambitious of being preferred to every body else.

My 5th a precious stone.

My 6th a thin cake of fine flower anointed or baked in oil.

My 7th, 11th, and 16th a city to which Amaziah fled when his servants conspired against him.

My 8th, 15th, 23d, 26th and 29th the snecssor of Jepthah.

My 9th and 10th, the tenth month of the Jewish sacred year.

My 12th, 19th, and 25th, a prophet and priest who was carried captive to Babylon. My 13th a high priest of the Jews who succeeded Simon.

My 14th and 28th a place famed for its excellent wines.

My 18th, a steep rock near Gibeath.

My 22d a village belonging to the priests, hard by Bethany.

My 30th a Syriac word signifying multitude or worldly riches.

The initials of the above form a sentence composed of seven words and thirty letters found in 21 chapter of 1st John.

Have Father and Mother With You

In boyhood an aged aunt said to the writer of this: "When you grow to be a man I advise you, if possible, to have your father and mother live with you. The blessing of God always rests upon the man who is the support of his parents. I never saw an exception to this, and never heard of one, and I am certain there never was an exception to this law of God." Well, that was thirty years ago, and so deep was the impression lett upon my mind that I have ever since been looking for the exception, but have never seen nor heard of it. Remember, men and women, whose parents have been spared to you, if you would be prosperous, happy, and have the very best that God can give, hold on to the old people, and honor and obey them to the best of your ability. So says the Interior, and so say we.

Rural and Domestic.

TANSY FOR BOTS IN HORSES.—A correspondent of the Department of Agrienlture says: "It appears from remarks made by different writers that none know of any certain remedy. I know of a remedy safe and certain, discovered in the following way: About thirty years ago a friend lost by bots a very fine horse. He took from the stomach of the horse about a gill of bots, and brought them to my office to experiment upon. He made preparations of every remedy he had heard of, and put some of them into mash. Most had no effect, a few affected them slightly, but sage tea more than anything else: that killed them in fifteen hours. He concluded that he would kill them by using nitric acid, but it had no more effect on them than water—the third day they were as lively as when put in. A bunch of tansy was growing by my office. He took a handful of that, bruised it, added a little water, squeezed out the juice and put some in; they were dead in one minute. Since then I have given it to every horse I have seen affected with bots, and have never known it to fail of giving entire relief. My friend had another horse affected with bots, several years later. He gave him the tansy in the morning and a dose of salts in the evening: the next morning he took up from the exercetions three half pints of bots.'

PHENOMENA IN PLANT LIFE.—To show still more impressively the peculiar powers of the wood and bark to conduct the crude and elaborated saps in either direction, and to act either as roots or branches, as circumstances require, we will describe an experiment performed by a French gardener, M. Charillet, at Vincennes, in 1866 and 1867. He selected two dwarf pear-trees, grafted on quince roots which were from four to five feet high. One of them was carefully dug up in April, 1866, and fastened in an inverted position above the other. The leading shoots of the two trees were now flattened on one side with a knife, and the two surfaces firmly bound together in the usual manner of splice grafting. The two shoots grew together, and in the course of the summer following a few leaves appeared on the main stem of the inverted pear-tree, and also on the main branches of the quince roots, which were entirely in the air some eight or ten feet from the ground. The next spring scions from four varieties of pear were set upon the four main branches of the quince roots, two of which lived and grew several inches. Meanwhile the inverted pear-tree bore two pears. Here, then, was a composite tree, consisting, first, of a root of quince, then a pear-tree, upon this an inverted pear-tree, which had branches consisting of inverted quince roots, and these were surmounted by pear-shoots of two unlike kinds.—President W. S. Clark, before Massachusetts Board of Agriculture.

Farm Wages.

The department of agriculture has been investigating the fluctuations in farm wages, and finds that the present average for the whole country is $12.40 per month, with board. This includes of course the black labor of the South, where from $8 to $10.75 is paid, South Carolina paying the least. In Massachusetts $20.25 is obtained, in Maine $15.94, in Vermont $19.57, in Pennsylvania $16.19, in the prairie States from $16 to $17, in the old "border States" $12 to $14, in California $28.60, and Wyoming $32.50. These wages are on contracts by the year; by the season the rate is somewhat higher. There are great contrasts in the cost and method of harvesting and threshing. South Carolina pays 19 cents a bushel, or a toll of every twelfth bushel, for threshing by flail, the New England States 12 or 13 cents for threshing with itinerant horse-powers, the prairie States with large horse-powers about 7 cents, and California with steam power less than 6. The different sharn systems of the States are also described. In New England, the landlord and tenant divide the seed, taxes, repairs and crops, half and half, and this the only part of the country where taxes are so important that the landlord puts half the burden on the tenant. In the middle States the element of stock and tools begins to be reckoned on one side or the other, the tenant having only a third if he furnishes none. Down the coast this usage becomes universal, one third of the product going to the land, one to the owner of the stock and tools, and one to the laborer. Cotton, however, yields only a fourth to the landlord. In the Gulf States, "the tenant freedman is favored with a larger share of the proceeds and a more lenient treatment than the tenant-farmers of the North." A distinction is made between sharers and renters, the former working for a certain portion of the crop, the latter renting the acres and working for themselves. The latter plan of course is the best, wherever the freedman has the tools and mules to "find himself." In the prairie States and on the Pacific coast a money rental is more common than shares.

PRESENT CONFLICT.

A new book on the most important question of the hour. Of the most intense interest to every family. Send for agent's outfit, or call at 1107 Chestnut St., Phila. Pa. Every agent is making money. Every reader wants it. Extra circulars and secure the best selling agency.

P. W. ZIEGLER & CO., 518 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

apl. 15-4t.

The Great Anti-Periodic.

The certainty and promptitude with which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters conquer the most obstinate case of malarial disease, and the complete protection which they afford the system against the miasmatic poisons which impregnate the air of low lying marshy localities, stamp them as the foremost of American antiperiodics. Wherever on this continent fever and ague is a regular visitant—in the bottom land of the South, the new steamboat and mining districts of the West, and in all localities in the Eastern and Middle States where malarial prevails, the Bitters are recognized as the only true specific for the disease, and its most reliable preventive. They are, moreover, a safe and agreeable as well as a certain remedy, and on this account are immeasurably superior to the preparations of quinine, arsenic, bismuth, and other mineral poisons administered as curatives for malarial diseases caused by miasma, and which if persisted in work irreparable injury to the constitution.

Intermittent fever and ague, and the other febrile complaints generated by miasma, are not the only evils which result from it. A great variety of other diseases are superinduced by the irritation which it causes. Among these are neuralgia, rheumatism, gout, periodical headache, palpitation, painful affections of the spleen, and various derangements of the stomach. Which traceable to malaria, the above affections are apt to assume, for the disease which originated them, an intermittent type; that is to say, they recur at regular intervals. Hostetter's Bitters, however, obviates them all, by building the mine inate virus from the system.

Oct 6 1m

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.

Dull heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody, and offensive; the voice is changed, hawking and spitting is practised to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers; the eyes are inflamed, sight impaired, hearing obtuse; smell and taste are impaired; there is a sensation of dizziness, mental depression, lassitude, loss of energy, general debility, may also be present. These symptoms are, however, likely to be greatly modified by various circumstances, such as climate, season, habit, and constitution. No disease more common than Catarrh, and none more baffled by quacks.

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY is, by reason of its composition, the best preparation for Catarrh ever discovered. Under the influence of its mild, cleansing, and healing principles, the diseased membrane is restored to health, the offensive discharges are arrested, the sense of smell, taste, hearing, and vision are restored, and the patient is no longer offensive to himself or others. Personally clean, and free from offensive odors, the sufferer from Catarrh is relieved of the most loathsome disease that afflicts humanity. Sold by druggists throughout the world. Price, with treatise on Catarrh and directions for use, $1.

Beware of imitations, and of cheap preparations said to be "just as good." Genuine only when sold in bottles, with metallic tops, and our name blown in the glass. Ask your druggist for Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and take no other.

Oct. 6-1m

THE NEEDLE

COTTON GIN.

The American Needle Gin now enters upon its sixth year. During the past season its reputation has been widely extended by its successful operation—outselling at many of the Southern fairs and bearing away first premiums.

In the gin house in operation the most successful record at fairs

A report from one of our Macon circle Condenser Gins in Georgia, says: "That during the ginning season it ginned 78 bales of cotton." In South Carolina a gin of the same size, ginned a bale weighing 549 lbs. in forty-two minutes. From many other reports the best is pretty well established that a fifty circle will gin a 500 bale in sixty days in bales. At the Wilmington N. C. Fair a forty circle ginned 199 lbs. seed cotton in 60 minutes yielding 66 pounds of lint.

At the State Fair of South Carolina, held at Columbia, in December last, a Thirty Circle Condenser was run in the open air through which boxes of paper matches a dozen were put without setting fire to the cotton or injuring the needles.

Send for circular to

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,

RALEIGH, N. C.

Dealers in Hardware, Sash, Doors and Blinds, Paints Oils and Glass, Wagon and Buggy Material.

July 7-tf

OLD NORTH STATE FIRE

Insurance Company,

OF

WARRENTON, - - - - - N. C.,

This Company is the best established paper in the confederate States of PROPERTY and entered upon its forty-second year the MOST PROMISING AUSPICES.

Reference to the Financial patronage which it is receiving in Raleigh:

It has been Established,
It has ample Capital and Reserves
It pays its losses promptly.

ASSETS.

Cash on hand & in Bank	$ 8,421 53
Cash in hands of Agents,	4,954 00
Stock Notes,	45,670 00
Real Estate Mortgage,	59,918 50
Loaned on Collaterals,	7,647 63
Due for premiums,	3,721 65
Interest due and accrued,	914 78
	$130,297 19

LIABILITIES.

All liabilities including fall re-
Insurance Reserved,	$18,481 81
Surplus,	111,816 38
	$130,297 19

WM. S DAVIS, President.
B. F. LONG, Secretary.

NEW FIRM

The undersigned have this day formed a co partnership under the firm name of

Weinright Williams & Hood, and having purchased the stock and goodwill of J. O. Whitaker, they will continue the GROCERY and COMMISSION business at

FARMER'S EXCHANGE,

No. 4 Martin Street,

RALEIGH, N. C.

Our Stock will consist of

Bacon,
Flour,
Molasses,
Coffee,
Sugars,
Lard
Salt,
Bagging,
and Ties,

And all other goods in the Grocery line with Staple Dry Goods, Shoes, etc. Having superior facilities for buying, and a small expense account, we guarantee the lowest prices. Consignments of Cotton and produce generally, solicited, before sale or which our best efforts will be devoted.

Patronage of our friends respectfully solicited.

GEO. H. WEINRIGHT,
(late 4th Williamson, Lyle & Thomas)
JOHN T. WILLIAMS,
Wm. H. HOOD,
Raleigh, Sept. 1, 1875.

Having sold my stock of Groceries to Messrs. Weinright, Williams & Hood, I take pleasure in recommending them to my friends and late customers, as worthy of confidence and patronage.

For the present I may be found at the old stand and hope all those indebted to the late firm of Thompson & Whitaker will call and settle as soon as possible.

Raleigh, Sept 9-tf J. O. WHITAKER.

THE BEST ICE CREAM SALOON in the city is at MOSELEY'S.

Ice Cream and Water Ices made to order at MOSELEY'S.

Soda Water and Ice Cream at MOSELEY'S.

Sara and Mineral Waters at MOSELEY'S.

It's the place to get cool. July 7-tf

FASHIONS and GOLD COIN PRESENTS!

Smith's "Instant Dress Elevator."

This CUT shows the Upper Part of the skirt turned side out, with the "Elevator" Ends. You can raise your skirt while passing a mud-puddle, and then let it fall, or you can keep it raised. It keeps the skirts from the Filth. It Secures the skirt in a Tasteful and Fashionable Manner. It dries all the fullness to the back, making the "straight front." It Saves more than Ten Times its Cost. Worn to shade from One Dress to another. Price, 45 cents each. Mailed.

No. 315. This Costume wins the admiration of all. It is one of those styles that is sure to please, especially as it is appropriate for any material, and requires less goods to make than any other suit of equal beauty. It is one of the leading costumes of our city. The ready lady will find it possesses just the secret charm that improves her figure, while the slight or perfect form may feel they were never so advantageously attired. The waist is the regular Jubilee shape; the overskirt is draped to form a wide ruffle each side of the sash, which may be of the same, or Ribbon. Requires 11 yards of 36-inch goods for entire suit. No. of waist, 3742; pattern, with cloth model, 40cts. No. of overskirt, 3724; pattern, with cloth model, 25cts. No. of underskirt, 3725; pattern, with cloth model, 30cts. Mailed on receipt of price.

OR the Patterns and Cloth Models of the ENTIRE SUIT will be GIVEN FREE as PREMIUM to any person who sends $4.10 to us, as one year's subscription to the "PATTERN BAZAAR."

A. BURDETTE SMITH'S

Monthly "World of Fashion,"

FINE ARTS and POLITE Literature.

Single Copies 25 Cents.

Subscription Price, $3 a Year, post-paid, including a premium of Two Dollars' worth of patterns free to each subscriber.

We send our CERTIFICATES for this amount when sending of subscription. TWO of our DRESS ELEVATORS will be given IN PLACE of One Dollar's worth of Patterns, if desired.

The "MONTHLY WORLD OF FASHION," the very finest, most beautiful, attractive magazine to be found in this country, and every person who begins with taking it, will NEVER discontinue it while it is published.

Smith's Illustrated Pattern Bazaar

Subscription Price, 75 Cents a year, post-paid. One Dollar's worth of Patterns given to each subscriber free of expense.

$4,500.00 in Gold Coin to Give Away!

We will give $2,000.00 in GOLD COIN to 65 persons who send us the largest number of subscribers to our "A World of Fashion," at $3.00 each, before March 5, 1876.

As follows: To the Getter-up of the Largest Club,	$300.00 in Gold Coin.

2d Largest Club,	200.00 in Gold Coin.
3d Largest Club,	150.00 in Gold Coin.
4th Largest Club,	130.00 in Gold Coin.
5th Largest Club,	120.00 in Gold Coin.
6th Largest Club,	110.00 in Gold Coin.
7th Largest Club,	100.00 in Gold Coin.
8th Largest Club,	75.00 in Gold Coin.
9th Largest Club,	50.00 in Gold Coin.
10th Largest Club,	35.00 in Gold Coin.
11th Largest Club,	25.00 in Gold Coin.

and so on to the 65th Largest Club.

We will give $2,500.00 in GOLD COIN to 125 persons who send us the largest number of subscribers to our "Monthly" at $1.40 each, before March 1, 1876.

As follows: To the Getter-up of the Largest Club,	$300.00 in Gold Coin.

2d Largest Club,	250.00 in Gold Coin.
3d Largest Club,	200.00 in Gold Coin.
4th Largest Club,	175.00 in Gold Coin.
5th Largest Club,	150.00 in Gold Coin.
6th Largest Club,	125.00 in Gold Coin.
7th Largest Club,	100.00 in Gold Coin.
8th Largest Club,	75.00 in Gold Coin.
9th Largest Club,	50.00 in Gold Coin.
10th Largest Club,	35.00 in Gold Coin.
11th Largest Club,	25.00 in Gold Coin.

and so on to the 125th largest Club.

YOU get a premium for every subscriber you send us. AND every subscriber you send us.

BOTH of these Gold Coin Presents offers will be found at full length in the September number, besides the names and P. O. addresses of 1083 persons who have paid $3,175.00 in Gold, according to our previous offers. You can write to either of them, and they will tell you that we do exactly as we promise.

YOUR BEST way is to send your own subscription to either of our Magazines, when you will get the first number and your certificate of Premium, by which you can show, and at once begin getting subscribers, or send 25 cents for one copy. Send Stamp for Fashion Catalogues.

A. BURDETTE SMITH,
914 Broadway, New-York City.

P. O. Box 5055.

SCHOOL BOOKS

Of all descriptions constantly kept on hand at the lowest cash prices.

L. BRANSON,
Raleigh, N. C.

N. C. ALMANACS FOR 1876—

Now in course of preparation. Advertisements taken at reasonable rates. Send in your orders early.

L. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.

NEWS DEPOT—TAKE NOTICE

I am supplying all the best Newspapers and periodicals at the publishers' subscription rates. You can subscribe for 12 months, 6 months, or even one month.

L. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.

BOOKS AND STATIONERY

Give me a trial before purchasing elsewhere.

L. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.

aug. 28-tf

MAJ. GEO. H. NOEL, President. H. R. ELLIOTT, Vice President. R. C. STRONG, Secretary. J. D. MCINTOSH, Assistant Secretary.

Old Dominion

INSURANCE CO.

1113 MAIN ST., RICHMOND, VA.

Cash Assets over - - - $325,000.00
$10,000 Deposit in North Carolina.

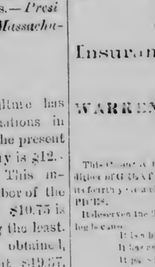
LAW RENCE & WINSTON,

GENERAL AGENTS,

RALEIGH, N. C.

Sept 1-6w

SUI GENERIS.



MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.

UNEQUALED officially. UNAPPROACHED in capacity and excellence by any others. Awarded

THREE HIGHEST MEDALS AND DIPLOMA OF HONOR AT VIENNA; 1873; PARIS, 1867.

ONLY American Organs ever awarded any medal in Europe, or which present such extraordinary excellence as to command a while sale there.

ALWAYS awarded highest premiums at Home Expositions, in America as well as Europe. Out of hundreds there have not been six in all where any other organs have been preferred.

BEST Declared by Eminent Musicians, in both hemispheres, to be UNRIVALED. See TESTIMONIAL CIRCULAR, with opinions of more than One Thousand (sent free).

INSIST on having a Mason & Hamlin. Do not take any other. Dealers get LARGER COMMISSIONS for selling inferior organs, and for this reason often try very hard to sell something else.

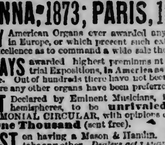
NEW STYLES with most important improvements ever made. New Solo and Combination Stops. Superb Etagere and other Cases of new designs.

PIANO-HARP CABINET ORGAN An exquisite combination of these instruments.

EASY PAYMENTS. Organs sold for cash; or $5 per month; or quarterly payments; or rented until rent pays for the organ.

CATALOGUES and Circulars, with full particulars, free. Address MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont Street, BOSTON, 25 Union Square, NEW YORK; or 80 & 82 Adams St., CHICAGO.

apl 14-1 year.



Volcanic Medicine which Saves the System by their violent Cathartic action, and cures the sick in Constipation. The mild, gentle and painless operation of Tarrant's Effervescent Aperient.

is exactly what is required, and will speedily cure the most chronic case.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Sept. 29-3m

THE FIRM OF WYNNE, YANCEY & CO., is this day dissolved by mutual consent.

GEO. W. WYNNE,
T. B. YANCEY,
J. W. LEE.

Raleigh, June 15th, 1875.

HAVING PURCHASED THE Interest an Assume the liabilities of the late firm of WYNNE, YANCEY & CO., I would request all those indebted to make immediate payment.

Thankful for the patronage so liberally bestowed upon the late firm I trust by personal attention to merit the same.

June 23-tf GEO. W. WYNNE

THE CARY COTTON GIN

Is still being manufactured at Cary, N. C., improved in many respects and warranted to give satisfaction or no trade. If properly put to work. Those desiring further information send for Circular, &c. to

W. M. SORRELL,
Cary, N.C.

June 16-tf.

SCHEDULES

PIEDMONT AIR-LINE RAILWAY.

RICHMOND & DANVILLE, RICHMOND & DANVILLE, AND PIEDMONT AIR-LINE.

CONDENSED SCHEDULE.

TAKING EFFECT SUNDAY, MAY 30, 1875.

Leave Charlotte	9	45	A. M.
Arrive Lincolnton	11	15	A. M.
Leave Lincolnton	11	45	A. M.
Arrive Charlotte	1	15	P. M.
Leave Charlotte	2	45	P. M.
Arrive Lincolnton	4	15	P. M.
Leave Lincolnton	4	45	P. M.
Arrive Charlotte	6	15	P. M.

Connections at Charlotte with Trains on the Atlantic, Tennessee & Ohio Railroad, Richmond & Danville Railroad, Atlanta & Richmond Air-Line Railway, Carolina Central Railroad, and Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta Railroad.

Connections at Lincolnton with Stages for Dallas, Gastonia, Yorkville, Spartanburg, Shelby, Rutherfordton, Asheville, Morganton, Lenoir, Wilkesboro, Statesville, Taylorsville, Hickory, Newton, Conover, Catawba Springs, Lincolnton, Cherryville,

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Bobbitt & Gray, Publishers. | Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina. | $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Vol. XXI.---No. 40. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, October 13, 1875. | Whole No. 1,078.

Selected Poetry.

The Lesson of the Water-Mill.

Listen to the water-mill
Through the livelong day;
How the rolling of the wheel
Wears the hours away!
Languidly beneath the winds
Stir the green forest leaves;
From the hills the echoes sing,
Scudding up the sheaves;
And a proverb haunts my mind,
As a spell is cast:
"The mill cannot grind
With the water that is past."

Velvet winds revive no more
Leaves that once are dead;
Never the spikes cannot reap
Grain once ungathered;
And the full stream flows on Evermore deep and still,
Never gliding back again
Past the water-mill.
Truly speaks the proverb old,
With a meaning vast.
"The mill cannot grind
With the water that is past."

Take the lesson to thyself,
Loving heart and true;
Golden years are passing by,
Youth is passing too.
Learn to make the most of life,
Lose no happy day;
Time will never bring thee back
Chance swept away.
Leave no tender word unsaid,
Love with all thy soul as one
Who shall come no more
With the water that is past.

Of the wasted years of life
That have flitted by;
Of the good that might have been,
Lost without a sigh.
Let the sins once have sinned,
Once have suffered pain,
Be remembered no more,
Bury them again.
Take the present to your heart,
Take it while you may,
For the present comes to all
But to pass away.
Work while yet the daylight shines,
Man or strength and will;
Never mocks the streamlet glides
Unseen by the mill.
Wait not for to-morrow's sun
Never sun shall see;
Work while it is called to-day,
For that day is thee.
Power and riches fly the lazy,
Haste ye while ye may,
And the mill cannot grind
With the water that is past.

Communicated.

For the Advocate.

Discussion with a Henkelite

Messrs Editors: By your permission I will give to the readers of the "Advocate" the last proposition discussed by Rev. F. A. Schmidt and myself which occurred July 20th 1875, viz: 'Confession and absolution as taught in our confessional books, and sustained by the scriptures;' Rev. Schmidt in the affirmative, and myself in the negative. And as a large majority of the people do not know in what sense the Henkelite Lutheran Church teaches confession and absolution, I will for their information state, in a brief manner, that it teaches that it is our duty to confess our sins to ministers of the gospel, and not only confess them, but to confess that we have been "guilty of all manner of sins," (which of course makes us monsters in iniquity, and really places us beyond the hope of redemption, for if we are guilty of all manner of sins it follows that we have committed the unpardonable sin against the Holy Ghost, and hence no necessity of confession,) and also that God has delegated to the ministry the power to forgive sins. Rev. Schmidt labored two hours to show that his position was sustained by the Bible—which he failed to do in the judgment of the public. He failed to produce a single instance of "thus sayeth the Lord" to show, that confession as taught in his books was scriptural, and in regard to absolution (the power of the ministry to forgive sins) he claimed that the ministry had the same power that the Apostles had, but failed to give "thus sayeth the Lord" to sustain his position. Hence he failed to satisfy the public mind of the correctness of his position. We took the ground that confession as taught in the Bible must be made unto God, without which no man can obtain forgiveness of sins through Jesus Christ our Lord; and that while we should make proper confession to our fellow men, in case we do them an injury, and also to the church, when guilty of violating her rules, yet we must look to God alone as our great confessor, and acknowledge to him our sins in the aggregate, and remembering that he alone can wipe out the stain of iniquity. To sustain our position we brought forward the following texts of scripture.—1st John 1, 9; "If we confess our sins He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." The above quotation teaches us that we are to confess our sins unto God. Romans 14, 11; "Every knee shall bow, and every tongue shall confess to God." Here we are taught to confess to God. Psalm 51,3; "I acknowledge my transgressions." In the above the Psalmist acknowledges his transgressions to God, who alone is the proper confessor. Jer. 14,7; 'Our backslidings are many; we have sinned against thee.' In the above confession is made to God. Dan'l, 9; 5, "We have sinned, and have committed iniquity, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled even by departing from thy precept, and from thy judgments" —verse 8th "O Lord, to us belongeth confusion of faces, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers; because we have sinned against thee. "This quotation shows most fully that we should confess our sins to God. Every sin a man commits in thought, word or deed, and in every shape and form is against God and as a consequence must be confessed to him, in order to obtain forgiveness "for he that covereth his sins shall not prosper, but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall find mercy" which is the declaration of God himself. Now in regard to absolution We took the ground that no one but God could forgive sins; and that he had not delegated the power to any man, to forgive sins, in an absolute sense; and although Rev. Schmidt and his church claim right to hear confession of sins from our fellow men, and that it is their duty to confess their sins to him and his church, and the right to forgive sins in the name of God, and in his stead—yet it is contrary to the Bible. We argued that, in an absolute, and judicial sense, no man, not even the Apostles themselves, ever had the power to forgive sins,—and even if they ever had the power, that power was not transmitted to their successors, if so there is no text to prove it in the Bible. We showed also that Rev. Schmidt and his church had the right upon the same ground that they claimed as successors of the Apostles to forgive sins, to heal the sick, to raise the dead, to cleanse the lepers, to strike with blindness, and even with death &c. I demanded of him to show a text in the Bible, assuming the position that he did, that would sustain him in holding to the power to forgive sins—and yet not sustain him in the power to heal the sick, and to raise the dead &c. as above named—which he failed to do. I then said to him that inasmuch as he claim ed the power given to the Apostles, that I had a friend buried in the town grave yard,—and if the congregation would excuse us for a short time, we would walk out to the graveyard and if he would stand at the grave and call my friend by his name saying come forth; and the grave should open and my friend come forth at his call like Lazarus at the bidding of God, I would then believe that he had the power to forgive sins, and that I would join the Lutheran church; but he failed to do so. Hence, I repudiated his claims as unsustained by the word of God We further showed that if God had intended to delegate to the ministry and church the power to forgive sins as the Henkelite church claims, that something would have been said about it in the broad commission as given by our Lord in Matt. 28th, 19 and 20. But not a word is said in regard to giving such power to the ministry and church, or either one of them. But "go ye, therefore and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the son, and of the Holy Ghost. Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you; and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world." The above is prefaced by the following words, viz: "All power is given unto me in heaven, and in earth." But mark you not a word is said about delegating that power or any part of it to the ministry and church, to forgive sins. But those words indicate to us the ground of his authority, upon which he sent the Apostles forth, not to forgive sins, but to instruct all nations in the great plan of redemption, and to declare unto them the terms upon which God would save them, and to teach them that if they failed to comply with His terms they must be damned; and to initiate all who would accept of salvation upon God's terms into the christian church;—and also to teach them to observe all things commanded by God. Mark 16th, 15 and 16. "And he said unto them, go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature, he that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned." Not a word is said in the above commission about the ministry, or church, or both together, "but preach the Gospel to every creature." Go and declare to every creature the terms upon which God proposes to forgive sins, and beg and persuade the people to comply with those terms, and point them to the Lamb of God who taketh away the sin of the world, as man's only hope of redemption, and tell them of the dreadful consequence of a failure upon their part to comply with God's terms. 2d Cor. 5th 19:20, "To wit, that God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them, and hath committed unto us the word of reconciliation." Now then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us, we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God." In the above it is not said that God was in the ministry, reconciling the world unto himself, but in Christ. Rev. Schmidt's position says in the ministry; but God says in Christ. Whom shall we believe, Rev. Schmidt and his church, or God?—We say God, at the risk of being called a fanatic. It is also said in the above quotation "and hath committed unto us the word of reconciliation." Not the power to forgive sins which God certainly would have said, had he intended that man should have that power,—but the word of reconciliation to be preached to others, to inform them as to how they should be reconciled to God. It is also said in the above quotation "We pray you in Christ's stead be ye reconciled to God." Here ministers are taught to entreat, and persuade men to become reconciled to God in Christ Jesus, and not to forgive sins. Finally there is a great difference in declaring the terms upon which God proposes to forgive sins, and the consequence upon the part of sinners in not complying with those terms, and the forgiving of sins upon the part of the ministry, which constitutes the difference between Rev. Schmidt and myself in reference to the proposition, in so far as absolution is concerned.

Yours fraternally,

DANIEL MAY.

P. S. In the close of our discussion I challenged the Rev. F. A. Schmidt to make out a bill of errors in his judgment in the distinctive doctrines of the Methodist Church, South, and put them in proper shape, and sign them in the affirmative, and I would be at his service; but the gentleman, strange to say, backed squarely out,—and without even saying farewell to his opponent, who treated him through the entire debate as kindly as could have been expected under the circumstances, and left next morning for St. Louis, Mo., I hope a better and wiser man than when he came to N. C.; and my advice to him is never again to allow himself to be used as a cat's paw to try to scratch where others of the same grit have tried and FAILED.

Yours, &c., D. M.

Biblical Recorder will please copy and oblige Bro. Bridges and others of our Baptist brethren. D. M.

For the Advocate.

Died in a Good Old Age.

Revelation presents to our minds the fact, that many of the shining lights of the patriarchal age fell asleep "full of years." Of Abraham, Gideon, and David, it is said they "died in a good old age." I imagine I see the "Father of the faithful" as he sleeps with sightless eyes, with the pallor of death upon his brow. Isaac and Ishmael have brought his lifeless form to the "Cave of Machpelah" to bury.—Memory awakens many touching recollections of the past, and swells their filial hearts to overflowing grief. From earliest boyhood they had listened to his counsel, and watched his upright demeanor and devotion to his God, and how could they refrain from weeping when, with a thousand endearing recollections crowding their memory, they were to look upon the hoary locks of their venerated father for the last time? How could Isaac forget the touching scene upon Mount Moriah, when the uplifted hand of the patriarch was stayed by the voice of overshadowing Mercy?

I did not set out to trace the history of pious ones conspicuous in Bible history. The influence of their pious example will live on, directing the mind of man to the source of light and consolation, until the Arch angels trump shall call the sleeping dead to life. An aged veteran of the cross, a man whose existence has been lengthened out to over four score and ten years, has fallen in our midst. Yesterday his lifeless form was consigned to its narrow house, near the church where he loved to meet with his brethren and his God. When I was a boy he was one of the main pillars of the church, making liberal sacrifices of time and of means for its promotion. Oh! how many have witnessed the consistency of his Christian course, and partaken of the hospitalities of his tent on camp-meeting occasions. For over half a century toiling Itinerants, assured of the hearty welcome of a Christian heart, have sought repose beneath his roof. As one of the long tried fathers in Israel, conspicuous for his unwavering fidelity to his God, they loved and honored him, and sought his society. His lineal descendents numbered over a hundred. But his sanctuary privileges on earth have ceased; and while those who bear his image upon their brow, and the remembrance of his virtues upon their hearts, are worshiping in the church militant near his resting place, his enraptured soul will be drinking in the melody of the church triumphant in glory!

As I said before, yesterday, "full of years," the aged man of God was consigned to his resting place, with the tears of grief flowing from the eyes of his children, grand children, and great grand children around his grave. In the midst of such a scene, how can we prevent our minds from running back to the patriarchal age, when Israel was borne by his weeping children to the land of Canaan to sleep in the "Cave of Machpelah?" When one who has for nearly a century lived upon earth, long occupying the position of patriarch of a numerous, well trained progeny—to whom the church has long looked up for examples of Christian piety and consistency; regarding him as the bright exemplar in their midst, passes away, may we not indulge in the feeling that a "Great man, indeed, has fallen in Israel!"

Abner, as captain of the host, could lead Israel to victory and renown, with the banner of his country floating in triumph o'er her fallen foes; but the aged veteran of the cross, whose long and useful life has endeared him to multitudes who admire his purity and consistency of character, leaves behind him an influence that will live on, in the moral elevation of his race, when those who weep above his grave will be sleeping, forgotten by his side.

'Tis meet that feeling hearts should bedew with their tears the falling clods that shut out from view bright exemplars of Christian piety, whose hoary locks and tottering frames we have so often seen in the house of prayer. And while bowing in humble adoration at the footstool of sovereign Mercy, in the sanctuary of the Most High, why may we not indulge the thought that as ministering spirits they are hovering over the devotions of those who worship where they so often knelt, directing their minds in ways of Truth and Holiness? Are there not "ministering spirits" sent forth to watch over, guide, and sustain those who "shall be heirs of salvation?" If so, why should not the spirit of an aged saint of God be sent to watch over the spiritual welfare of those who worship in the house we hope to erect and dedicate to the service of his Master?

With one more view of the subject I will close. The clay tenement of man may decay and crumble into dust, but the eye of Him who burst the barriers of the tomb, is watching over his sleeping dust "till he shall bid it rise." This mortal must put on immortality. Tears of bereavement will not always flow, nor sundered ties sadden the soul of man. There will be a resurrection of the just, and a glorious reunion of kindred spirits in a brighter land. The drapery of mourning may indicate that old Salem Church has been called upon to mourn the loss of some loved one that worshiped with them in other days; but they have the assurance that the crumbling bodies of their sleeping ones will be remodeled by the Great Author, for the reception of the soul in a more glorified state of existence.

Oh! how many seasons of sweet communion have we had with our Father's children in the church militant on earth, the nursery of the church triumphant in heaven! But however strong may be the ties of affection, and connecting links of kindred hearts on earth, this is not our home. We are but pilgrims, journeying to our Father's house. His chastening hand is preparing our minds for the enjoyment of our brighter inheritance of glory. The trump of God will pierce the cold ear of death, and man will come forth; and the leader of Jethro's flock, and the sweet psalmist of Israel, will unite their voices with all the pure that have adorned the Jewish and Christian dispensation in ascribing "salvation to our God," who ransomed man from the grave, and shed a ray of light across his pathway to glory.

OXONIAN.

Oxford, N. C. Oct 1875.

God's Love.

I can measure parental love—how broad, how long, and strong, and deep it is; it is a sea—a deep sea, which parents only can fathom. But the love displayed on yonder hill and bloody cross, where God's own Son is perishing for us, no man nor angel has line to measure. The circumference of the earth, the altitude of the sun, the distance of the planets—these have been determined; but the height, breadth, and length of the love of God pass our knowledge. Such is the Father against whom all of us have sinned a thousand times! Walk the shore where the ocean sleeps in the summer calm, or, lashed into fury by the winter's tempest, is thundering on her sands; and when you have numbered the drops of her waves, the sand on her rounding beach, you have numbered God's mercies and your sins. Well, therefore, may we go to him with the contrition of the prodigal in our hearts, and his confession on our lips: "Father, I have sinned against heaven and in thy sight." The Spirit of God helping us to go to God, be assured that the father who, seeing his son afar off, ran to meet him, fell on his neck, and kissed him, was but an image of Him, who not sparing his own Son, but giving him up to death that we might live, invites and now awaits our coming.—DR. GUTHRIE.

God and the sinner must meet some time, either at the cross for peace, and pardon and life, or at the great white throne for judgment and everlasting death.

For the Advocate.

Greensboro' District Conference.—Report of Finance Committee

MR. CHAIRMAN: Your committe have had under consideration the subject of Finance, committed to their charge, and now beg leave to report.

Without sufficient information before us, to approximate to any degree of exactness the percentage of the annual assessments made in former years for the support of our ministers, which has been paid: we do know, and be it known to the shame of every Methodist, of the church south, whose duty it was to raise the whole amount of those usually small and inadequate assessments, that there has been a large and an embarraissing deficiency. A deficiency that has crippled the energies of our most devoted ministers driven some into side issues and speculations—and others out of the sacred desk, that they might escape the condemnation of those, "who provide not for their own household."

Is this the only evil effect? No—It sadly retards the progress of our beloved itinerant system—diminishes the spirituality of the church, and its individual members, because they are conscious of a neglect of duty as professing christians—it is a barrier to the zeal of the minister and the effectiveness of the preached gospel—it is a lion turned loose in the high, honorable and responsible way to the ministry, which doubtless has had its effect in keeping some young men out of the ministry, who might have been effective in doing much good.

From the financial exhibit made to our last annual Conference, we find the sums collected in this district, and paid over, were short of the assessments, as follows:

Presiding Elder $17,59. Pastors $1,582,26. Bishop $22.20. Widows and Orphans of deceased preachers $187,54, while only $52 was raised for the poor of the church.

The exhibit shows, that somebody has lost over $2,100. Who lost it? Why it is the hard working preachers, and their widows and orphans of our church in the Greensboro District. If they have lost, it follows that somebody has made over $2.100. Who made it? The lay members and friends of our church in the district, who live at ease and have an abundance, many of them in affluance and luxury—4700 Methodists, withheld this sum from the preachers and their families in this Greensboro district last year—less than 45 cts to each member—a sum so insignificant that they could not have missed it from their pockets, their tables, their wardrobes or their business.

Brethren of the laity and friends of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in the Greensboro District, what do you think of this meagre support of your preachers? Will you still be content to let these servants of God travel along through summer's heat and winter's chilling blasts at the peril of health and life, laboring for your good and the salvation of the people without an adequate support, or an equivalent for their labor?

Will you not bestow one serious thought upon this important question? How shall my preacher be paid this year? What is my duty in the premises, How much, not how little, shall I pay? Do not defer these thoughts till the close of the year, nor until you are called upon, but begin to think and to pay in the beginning of the year and then withhold not your hand, but pay all through the year, remembering that a gracious God withholds not, His blessings of sunshine and rain, fruitful seasons and prosperity in business from you for scarcely a single day. Leave not this important matter to chance, but establish for yourselves some system or plan by which you may accomplish the end.

The performance of the duty will then be made easy, your contributions will increase, and blessed be God, the the result will be a large increase of His blessing upon your business, peace of mind and spiritual enjoyment.

God ordained the preaching of the gospel by men as a direct means for the salvation of souls. Did He then make no provision for their support while engaged in this holy work? He did:—upon whom then did He lay the obligation of supporting His ministers? Is it not upon the men and woman whose souls He wants to save? It is—and he required of the Jews a tenth of all they had for this purpose. He may require of us even more, at any rate He does not require of us less than an amount sufficient to accomplish His ends.

God says, "they that preach the gospel shall live of the gospel." "If they minister to you in spiritual things, you shall minister to them in temporal things." "The laborer is worthy of his hire," &c.

Thus seeing our duty as a church, the all important question arises, How shall we best discharge this duty and promote the interest of the church?

All will agree that every one should regularly and systematically contribute of his means as God has blessed him. We cannot suggest a better system than the assessment plan now in use. It is the plan apopted by all governments for their support, and is most equitable and should not be objected to.

We recommend that great care be used in dividing the whole sums assessed, among the various charges and congregations according to their means. The same care should be exercised in dividing these sums among individual members in just proportion according to their several ability to pay—that none have just ground of complaint.

The best and most liberal men of the church, men who are most careful and energetic in their own business, should then be appointed Stewards. If such men cannot be found, then appoint the most pious and devout women of the church, collectors. Let the minister frequently confer with, instruct admonish, and assist them in the discharge of their duties, and we further recommend that this Conference instruct the minister to preach at least one sermon at each of his appointments during the year and early in the year upon the duty of supporting all the interest of the church. Then if the Stewards and collectors will not discharge their duty, let them be regarded as unworthy servants, and let them be turned out and others tried.

Brethren, according to the reports made to this session of the Conference, not exceeding one fourth of the amounts assessed for the support of your preacher this year, has been paid, with an unfavorable prospect for praying the balance, the whole of which is inadequate. They need the money. View this matter in a proper business light. Ask Divine aid—go to work—acquit yourselves like christian men and women blessed as you are with an abundant harvest, peace and quiet—pay the preacher his hire—contribute liberally to all other interests of the church—have a conscience void of offence—and receive God's blessing upon yourselves and families, and all your interests.

Respectfully,

L. C. HANES Chm'n.
V. A SHARPE.
M. SKEEN.
J. S. RAGSDALE.
W. F. BOWMAN.

High Point, N C, Aug. 14th 1875.

Rules for Spelling.

As we propose to help everybody as far as we can we publish some good rules on spelling. We think everybody should learn how to spell, and particularly those who write for the newspapers. If we were to put the spelling of some who send us letters and articles for publication just as it is written the writers would visit us with a storm of wrath. People ought to be very grateful to the editors and printers for upholding their reputation. If you think of going into a spelling-match study the following rules given by the Journal of Education:

Rule I. All monosyllables ending in l, with a single vowel before it, have two l's at the close; mill, sell.

Rule II. All monosyllables ending in l, with two vowels before it, have one l at the close; wail, sail.

Rule III. Monosyllables ending in l, when compounded, retain but one l each; fulfil.

Rule IV. All words of more than one syllable ending in l have only one l at the close, as faithful, delightful; except recall, befall, unwell, ect, Rule V. All derivations from words ending in l have one l only; equality from equal; fulness from full; except they end in er or ll, as mill, miller, full, fuller.

Rule VI. All participles ending in ing from verbs ending in e, lose the e, final; as have, having; amuse, amusing; except they come from verbs ending in double e, and then they retain both; as see, seeing; agree, agreeing.

Rule VII. All verbs in ly, and nouns in ment, retain the final of their primitives; as brave, bravely; refine, refinement; except judgment, acknowledgment.

Rule VIII. All derivations from words ending in er retain the e before the r; as refer, reference; except hindrance from hinder; remembrance from remember; disastrous from disaster; monstrous from monster; wondrous from wonder; cumbrous from cumber, etc.

Rule IX. All compound words, if both end not in l, retain their primitive parts entire; as millstones, chargeable, graceless; except always, also deporable, although, almost, admirable, etc.

Rule X. All monosyllables ending in a consonant, with a single vowel before it, double that consonant in derivatives; as sin, sinner; ship, shipping; big, bigger; glad, gladder.

Rule XI. Monosyllables ending in a consonant with a double vowel before it do not double the consonant, in derivatives; as sleep, sleeping; troop trooper.

Rule XII. All words of more than one syllable, ending in a single consonant, preceded by a single vowel, and accented on the last syllable, double that consonant in derivatives; as commit, committee; compel, compelled; appal, appalling; distil, distillery.

Rule XIII. Nouns of one syllable, ending in y, change y into ies in the plural; and verbs ending in y, preceded by a consonant, change y into ies in the third person singular of the present tense and ied in the past tense and past participle; as fly, flies; apply, he applies; I reply or have replied, or he replied. If they be preceded by a vowel this rule is not applicable; as key, or keys; I play, he plays; we have enjoyed ourselves.

Rule XIV. Compound words whose primitives end in y to i; as beauty beautiful: loveliness.

E. X.

The Iron Mask.

The following anecdote was related to Charles Sumner by Gen. Cass, and is given in A. B. Johnson's "Recollections of Charles Sumner," in Scribner, for July:—

When Gen. Cass was Minister of France, he become somewhat intimate with the then King of the French, Louis Philippe. One evening when they were alone, the General requested permission to ask a question.

"Ask what you please," the King replied.

"Then," queried the Minister, "can your Majesty tell me anything of the Man in the Iron Mask?"

"Ah," replied Louis, somewhat amazed, "yes, and I will tell you all I know about it. When I returned from America, immediately upon seeing my cousin, Count d'Artois, I, evincing this same curiosity, asked him whether he could tell me anything about the mystery. 'Only this,' replied the Count; 'Once, in rambling through the Tuileries, I found myself in the apartments of the Queen, Marie Antoinette. Parting the curtains which concealed me from her eyes, I saw her on her knees before the King. 'In mercy's name,' she said, Sire, tell me who was the Man in the Iron Mask?' 'I cannot tell you,' answered Louis xvi, sternly 'I learned it from my predecessor, and can tell it only to my successor. But this I will tell you; if you knew who he was, you would be greatly disappointed at the curiosity which he has excited."

Look Where You're Going.

If you intend to marry, if you think your happiness will be increased and your interest advanced by matrimony, be sure and "look where you're going. Join yourself in union with no woman who is selfish, for she will sacrifice you; with no one who is fickle, for she will become estranged; have naught to do with a proud one, for she will ruin you. Leave a coquette to the fools who flutter around her; let her own fireside accommodate a scold; and flee from a woman who loves scandal as you would flee from the evil one. "Look where you're going" will sum it all up. Young ladies, when you are surrounded by dashing men, when tones of love and words of compliment float out together, when you are excited by the movement of the whirling waltz, or melted by the tenderness of the mellow music, arrest yourself in that rosy atmosphere of delight, and "look where you're going." When the daring hand is pressing yours, or your delicate tresses are being lifted by him you fancy loves you, when the moonlight invites to trusting and the stars seem to breathe out innocence, listen with caution to the words you hear, gaze into your heart unshrinkingly, and "look where you're going."

Gems.

The peace of God is only known to those who know the God of peace.

A man who sins and thinks he is trusting in the love of God, has been deceived by Satan, who has substituted an idol of indulgence for the true and living God.

GEMS FROM SAPHIR

In our deepest necessity is God's transcendent opportunity.

God is not merely a giver, but a forgiver.

He who does not forgive, will soon lose the sense and enjoydment of God's pardon.

The gift of grace is greater than all the gifts of grace.

Faith is not a small thing—for to believe is to be born of God; regeneration is not inaccessible—for to be born again is to trust in Christ.

Faith is simple, even a look unto the Saviour of sinners. Faith is sublime, for Christ says: "He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also."

Do not be afraid of the shadow. It is a proof of the existence of light.—Our darkest afflictions are oftentimes the shadow of God's approaching presence as he comes with some special mercy for us.

Christ receives sinners. Reserved seats are kept in heaven for many who wear rags and tatters, while many adorned with broad cloth and satin will not get even standing room.

If a man is humble he thinks he is so bad that God cannot care for him, and then believes for the time that God loves us only because, and when, and while we love Him; instead of believing that God loves us always—because He is our God, and that we live only by His love.—G. McDonald.

"They appear to love the doctrines of the gospel," said a young clergyman, in a familiar conversation with his reverend instructor, President Dwight, many years ago. "And do they love the duties of it also?" asked the President, with a significancy that has not been forgotten.

St Patrick's prayer when going to preach at Tara and expecting persecution:

"At Tara to day, the strength of God pilot me, the power of God preserve me; may the wisdom of God instruct me, the eye of God watch over me, the ear of God hear me, the word of God give me sweet talk, the hand of God defend me, the way of God guide me. Christ be with me, Christ before me, Christ after me, Christ in me, Christ under me, Christ over me; Christ on my right hand, Christ on my left hand; Christ on this side, Christ on that side, Christ at my back; Christ in the heart of every person to whom I speak; Christ in the mouth of every person who speaks to me; Christ in the eye of every person who looks upon me; Christ in the ear of every person who hears me at Tara to-day."

Our Scrap Book.

— Jonah's Gourdvine is the name of a paper in Marietta, Ga.

— 'Any letters for Mike Howe?' asked an individual of a clerk at a Post Office window. 'No letters for anybody's cow.'

— The Columbus Journal, describing an Ohio politician, says: 'He is an honest man by profession, and he earns his bread by the sweat of his jaw.'

— General Burnside, says that he likes to get out of Rhode Island, because he can stretch his legs then without being sued by his neighbor for trespass.

— Nothing is so discouraging to a young lawyer just as he waxes eloquent about angel's tears, weeping willows and tombstones, as to be interrupted by the cold-blooded justice with "You're off your nest, bub; this is a case of hog-stealing.'

— A jailor in a Western State had received strict orders not to keep his prisoners in solitary confinement. Once when he had two in charge one escaped, and he was obliged to kick the other out of the door to comply with the regulation.

— Danbury has the champion patient boy. He went to a neighbor's house for a cup of sour milk. 'I haven't anything but sweet milk,' said the woman pettishly. 'I'll wait till it sours,' said the obliging youth, sinking into a chair.

'The steed called Lightning (say the Fates)
Is owned in the United States.
'Twas Franklin's hand first caught the horse;
'Twas harnessed by Professor Morse."

— It was after the dinner and it was dull; the conversation did not seem to start in the least. Then the cynic said: 'Will nobody go home that one may have a fine opportunity to tear him to pieces as soon as he leaves?'

— A man in the swamps of Arkansas, who had been sick, wrote back to his eastern friends, thus: 'I am so changed that my old creditors would hardly know me!'

— The model husband lives in Strasburg, Lancaster County. He never allows his wife to do more than half the work. She puts up all the canned fruit in the summer, and he puts it down in the winter.

— When they build a railroad, the first thing they do is to break ground. This is often done with great ceremony. Then they break the stockholders. This is done without ceremony.

— An Indian and a white man went passing along a street in an American city, when the former espied a window full of wigs; pointing to the owner, who was standing in the doorway, he said, "Ugh! Him great man—big brave—take heap scalps!"

— Mrs. Milliss was asked the other day how she managed to get along so nicely with Mr. Millies, and frankly replied: "Oh, I feed him well. When a woman marries, her happiness for a little while depends upon the state of her husband's heart; after that, it's pretty much according to the state of his stomach."—Brooklyn Argus.

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE—Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev J. B Bobbitt, R. T. Gray, Esq., } Editors.

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID, $2.20
SIX MONTHS, " " 1.35
If payment be delayed six months, 2.70

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Editors of the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

RALEIGH, N. C., OCTOBER 12, 1875.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly.

THE RALEIGH CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE is the cheapest paper published in the interest of Southern Methodism in the South. All our church papers, except one we believe, have been raised in price to $2.50 per annum, while we send forth the ADVOCATE one year for $2.20 postage paid. Surely all our people can afford to subscribe and pay for it if they will. Nothing pays so well in the family as a good religious paper.

Two sudden deaths occurred in Raleigh on Sabbath last. Mr. E. E. Harris, an old and highly respected citizen, fell dead in his yard about half past eleven o'clock. Mr. J. T. Bachalan, the former street commissioner of the city, dropped dead in his room about three o'clock in the afternoon. It is supposed that both died of heart disease. Such dispensations of Divine providence serve as solemn warnings to the living to be ready when the Master shall call.

During our recent visit to Durham, to assist Bro. Renn in the revival, we were impressed with the fact that Methodism is fast gaining ground in that community. We have a large and influential membership, which has recently been increased, and the indications are that in a few years Durham Church will become one of the most desirable stations in the Conference. Bro. Renn is now closing up his pastoral labors for the fourth year. He is greatly beloved by all denominations. He has done faithful work for Methodism in that community.

The Sabbath school, under the supervision of Bro. Julius S. Carr, is one of the best in the State. It is what we term a 'live Sunday school.'—Of the business aspect of Durham we may have something to say hereafter.

Self Esteem.

There are persons to be found in all the avocations and walks of life who "think more highly of themselves than they ought to think." Their own acts, thoughts, and performances are perfect, or as nearly so as possible, while they see little or nothing commendable in others. Such instances of self importance are always detestable, and never more so than when found in the sacred desk. Humility is an element of ministerial and christian character which commends itself to all right minded persons. While some have an exalted opinion of themselves, many are crippled in their usefulness, in the pulpit and out of it, by placing too low an estimate upon their own worth. As servants in the church we are nothing only so far as we are intellectually and spiritually guided by grace divine.

Some people base their estimate of others upon mere external appearance and not upon real worth. In this way a premium is offered for self esteem. The fact that a man has been to college, and comes away with a diploma is not sufficient evidence that he is a scholar. Many who were never so fortunate as to go to college, are better citizens and better scholars than thousands who have hurried through the college curriculum. A man's social position should not be regulated by the amount of property he has, a diploma, which is too often improperly secured, but by his moral worth. Wealth is good in its place, education (not graduation) is better, but good morals and deep piety are better still.

Do What You Can.

God requires that his people should be workers and not idlers in his vineyard. Many lose sight of this and seem to think that they have no part in the work of the church. Hence the burden of keeping up the various departments of the church usually devolves upon the few. If the membership of the Methodist Church in North Carolina were fully alive to all her interests she would soon become a power in our midst unknown to the past. Thousands there are, of her communicants, who do nothing to advance the cause of Christ. They contribute nothing for the support of the gospel and for benevolent purposes.—They plead poverty. There are, in our opinion, few persons who are blessed with health, who could not contribute something for God's cause if they would. Bishop Marvin, in a recent letter to the Pacific Methodist, touching the new church at San Francisco, says on this subject:

"I have not so far forgotten myself as to imagine that prosperity necessarily follows upon the acquisition of a house of worship. Far from it! The house only furnishes the conditions in which work may be done, and work is the invariable condition of church growth and power. Nor will mere work insure the result, but work inspired by faith—work that is the outcome of consecration."

The Temperance Question

To say that intemperance is a deadly evil to a community and ruinous to individuals, is the statement of a truth that needs no argument or proof; that it abounds to an alarming extent in our State and country is a fact that is patent to the most casual observer, and that some barrier should be raised to obstruct its fearful progress and stay its dreadful havoc, is to suggest a possibility which appeals strongly to all who feel an interest in their fellow men. A form of physical disease that should make its appearance in the world and decimate the ranks of men, would excite cities to strict and watchful quarantine and arouse the medical savants of the world to a close study of the seat and cause of the disease and an untiring search for preventives and cures. A murderous band of fiends that should traverse a region, robbing treasuries, burning homes, slaying men and women in cold blood, and filling the land with orphans, would evoke the righteous wrath and fiery indignation of men and communities, and enlist the strong arm of law and military force in the protection of the suffering region and the punishment of the murderous crew. Intemperance is the deadliest of diseases—the most relentless of murderers—reckoning its victims by millions—stalking through the fairest portions of earth, turning bloom into blight, joy into grief and making desolation frown where before prosperity smiled. To stay the hand of such a destroyer is worth the labor, the life-long struggle and study of the philanthropist and humanitarian.

It is doubtful whether legislation can effectually stop the evil;—certainly not until public sentiment has been so fully aroused as to ensure the execution of the laws. A law against murder has little force in a community where life is lightly held and the shedding of human blood arouses no public indignation. A statute against thievery is weak as flaxen band on a Sampson's arms in a community where all are robbers or where no infamy attaches to [the act of stealing. Let public sentiment be educated and expressed against these crimes—let a brand be placed upon the perpetrator and the scorn and loathing of the community follow him,—let every virtuous man's hand be against him—then law will assert its dignity and be promptly and forcibly executed.

In cities Sunday laws against the sale of liquors have failed, because the leaders of public opinion themselves patronize the shops or remain silent when the laws are violated. In towns and neighborhoods the license laws are unheeded and liquor freely sold, because those who should be the moral guides of their fellows, love to tip the glass, take their toddy, and allow drinking and intemperance go unrebuked. Laws against drunkenness lie dead upon the statute book, because the makers of the law themselves are often guilty of the offence and in their pursuit after office and popular favor, pander to the beastly appetites of voters and furnish the fiery liquid for their gratification.

Let public sentiment place its disapproval, positive and unrelenting, upon these practices, and then will be provided the only basis upon which law can work its way to the reformation and cure of the evils.

Perhaps no greater abuse exists—no greater encouragement is given to tippling and intemperance—than is seen in the practice, which some politicians have, of "general treating" on the rounds of their political canvass in a time of party excitement. We have a law against selling or giving away intoxicating liquors on election days, but how the law is shamefully abused is known to every frequenter of polling-places. That men should be elevated to places of trust and confidence—to positions where the control of the rights and liberties of men is placed—where laws are made and construed and executed—positions which are and ought to be regarded as the seats of dignity, honor and all the virtues which adorn human character;—that men, we say, should be elected to such positions, by suffrage bought and won through worm-stills and jugs and kegs, is a blot upon our governmental system. It degrades the voter and the successful candidate and leaves its stain upon the robes of office and robs them of their dignity. It is a poor compliment to the populace that its votes can be purchased in such a way, as well as to the candidate that he can offer no better qualifications for office than generosity in helping men on the path to ruin.

This is an evil that ought to be reached and cured. A friend, who is an ardent advocate of the temperance reform and has been prominent in our legislative halls, suggests and urges that christian people with a combined and persistent effort can afford a remedy and give great impetus and character to the temperance reform, by refusing to cast their votes for any candidate who furnishes his followers with intoxicating liquors. It is a good idea and we invite him to develop it through the columns of the Advocate.

We are requested to state that the dedication of the new Methodist Church at Sidney has been postponed, and will not take place next Sabbath as was announced in our last. Bro. Reeks, the pastor, will be present Sunday to fill his monthly appointment at that place, and it is expected that the services will be protracted several days.

The Circus.

The bulletin boards around the city, and the pages of our secular papers inform us that Satan is setting and arranging the triggers of his favorite trap, in many places in the State. In other words, the circus is on its rounds, with its reckless men, its painted, bedizzened and depraved women, its follies, obscenities and blasphemies. Crowds will flock from the country to join the throngs in town in giving patronage and encouragement to Satan's revel of vice and folly. The old enemy is always at the circus,—and at the end of the performance, with much delight, he counts up his gains for the day. His soliloquy runs thus, perhaps: "I have done well to day; my gains have been handsome.—It was a shrewd and happy thought of mine when I invented the circus. I have many schemes, but none better than this, for here all classes gather and I have a clean fair sweep at all, high and low, rich and poor, old and young, the sedate matron and the blooming maid. My subalterns have acted their parts nobly. Paint and grauze and tinsel have served to conceal from the view of the audience the bloated faces and sin marked bodies of my agents and gave them some deceptive touches of beauty and nobility in which they are as wanting as the veriest demons of my nether kingdom. Bah! Beauty, nobility and virtue! what are they to me but objects of my deadliest hatred! It is my mission to destroy them and my means are ample. I attack virtue first and then the others speedily fall into my voracious maw. Yonder is a young and tender maid, with a rich dower of beauty, who during her whole life has been well guarded against my wiles, lived in a virtuous home, and I have never had a fair chance to win her: but when I saw her enter the door of my trap, and saw her attendant angels leave her, I knew my time had come—the stake was high and dear: I have played the game well and she is almost mine! I watched her blooming face and tender eyes when my female riders first sped around the ring, making exhibitions disgusting even to myself. I saw her eyes averted and a blush mantle her cheek. Gradually she looked upon the scene: the blush (that beauteous flag of modesty) left her face and she smiled at the rude obscene jest of my clown, whom I had directed to summon all his powers in my aid.

"Yonder sits a boy intended for the bar or pulpit or some profession which men call noble and liberal. My aim is to take the feet of all such promising youth out of the paths of rectitude, virtue and high ambition and divert them into lower and vicious ways. I have turned his head to-day. He has learned some 'slang' and foul jests here which he will retain and repeat. I have a slight hold upon him and my grip shall not relax, but tighten.—Archimedes said that if he could find a place to rest his lever he would move the world: and I, if once I can throw a silk covered cord about the soul of a boy, am pretty sure to double and twist and knot the cords until Sampson's strength would not prevail against them. Yonder, side by side, sit a deacon and a steward of their respective churches. They haven't much of what men call religion, but the little they have has been endangered to-day. If they loved their God and respected his religion, they would not be likely to remain quietly in their seats and join in the loud laugh when that God is blasphemed, when their Christ is mocked and their religion reviled. Oh, if only all Christians were made of such stuff! how soon would my banner float over the world which Jesus of Nazareth is trying to win! But best of all, I saw a preacher creep in to take a look at the animals' which I was shrewd enough to provide as attractions for such people. He remained awhile to listen to the splendid music of my Band. As his retiring might attract too much attention, and perhaps evoke from the clown some sally at the expense of his holy calling, he deemed it best to stay during the whole performance. Well, he is estopped now from preaching against the circus and warning his parishioners against attending it.—Perhaps some people will now have less respect for him and his class: if so, I have gained an important point.

"Financially," continues Beelzebub, 'I have surpassed my expectations. To day I have robbed the people of Raleigh of enough money to pay the salaries of all the ministers in the city, or to operate the city government for six months and more, or to feed the starving poor of the city for two or three Winters By the time my circus leaves the State, I will have collected a sum of money large enough to pay off the debt that rests on Greensboro, Trinity and Davenport Colleges which these troublesome Methodists are trying to sustain, with enough left to operate the Oxford Orphan Asylum for two years. Or, this sum would pay the expenses incurred by the Constitutional Convention now in session and moreover build and furnish the new Asylem at Morganton. It is well for me: this money now goes from the State, and ignorance and pauperism and crime abound—these I must promote for they are the pillars of my kingdom." And with a grin and a chuckle, old Satan dances off upon his cloven feet to new fields of conquest, stealing the refrain of the old Methodist revival war-cry, "Shout, shout I'm gaining ground."

Powerful Conversions.

The New Orleans Christian Advocate takes a sensible view of this subject:

"It is not wise to set up any standard of physical phenomena in conversion, nor in the subsequent experience. To say that a man was powerfully converted is no more than saying that he was converted. The real power lies in the inward work of the Spirit; so that if a man is converted at all; he is powerfully converted. The proof of the power is more in the subsequent life than in present physical demonstrations. But God operates in His own way. In some the devil is cast out amid the most fearful throes and convulsions; and in others the divine kingdom breaks upon the soul as silently and sweetly as the morning dawn.

A condition of things such as now obtains is liable, no doubt, to peculiar dangers. The theology of children glides into lax doctrinal views, unless carefully guarded. Our children are of the kingdom of heaven, but the doctrine of total depravity is true, notwithstanding. They are members of the visible church, but baptism is not regenerating. We must still insist upon pungent conviction for sin, deep repentance, the assured pardon of sin, the birth of the Spirit and the complete realization of the blood which "cleanseth us from all sin"—

Pay the Preacher.

Christianity is beautiful in its principles, grand in its perfection, glorious in its experience, and magnificent in its clustering hopes and its brilliant expectations.

In its comprehensive application, Christianity so includes every man as to secure for him justification, with its peace; regeneration, with its joy; adoption, with its rapture; and a triumphant entrance into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, with its happiness, upon the performance of the duties required of him and specified in the covenant recorded in the plan of salvation. Since these inestimable blessings have been provided for us, and are to be made sure upon the performance of certain duties as a condition, it is easy to be seen that we must have our attention drawn to them by some suitable and efficient agency: Therefore, in completing the plan of salvation, God has kindly instituted.

THE LIVING MINISTRY.

The ministerial occupation is one of serious work, grave importance, and solemn responsibility. He is an ambassador for Christ. God sets him as a watchman. Man looks to him for Divine instruction. God and man watch his purity, scrutinize his motives, investigate his actions and demand fidelity in his work; his success in time and his happiness in eternity depend upon the integrity of his allegiance to his God, and his duty to man, he has a work before him, magnificent in its proportions; and stup endous in its results, to perform, a work,

"That might fill an angel's heart,
And filled a Savior's hands."

The Preacher is TAKEN from among men, is of like passion with us, and is subject to all the accidents and necessities in living that we are subject to; hence in connecting the ministry with the plan of salvation, God has ordained that he shall be supported as a minister of the gospel. Hence, "Pay the preacher."

God requires every man to provide for the support of his family, I. Tim. V. 8. "But if any provide not for his own, and especially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel." St. Paul was here speaking of temporal support and nothing else. To this many, if not all, the distinguished men of the Church agree.

To provide for his own house, every man may consult his own taste, inclination, or interest, in selecting his profession or occupation. He may with Cincinnatus choose the plow; or with Lycurgus, politics; or philosophy, with Socrates and Plato. But the minister is called of God. as was Aaron. God calls him, and the Church sanctions the call. The minister, therefore, has to devote his time, his ability, his life to the service of others—which fixes the obligation to provide for his house upon others—for he labors for them.

The obligation is fixed upon God and the World. In this God works by means of human agency. He gives the Church—the World—ample means to pay the preacher, and requires that it shall be done. "Even so hath the Lord ordained, that they which preach the gospel shall live of the gospel."

BEN ELLET.

Oypas Grove, N. C.

Davenport Female College.

Resolved, That Rev. T. J. Gattis be continued in connection with the agency of Davenport Female College, only so far as the collection of outstanding claims are concerned in which he is interested.

The above Resolution was unanimously adopted at the last session of our Conference. There are about fifteen hundred dollars ($1500) of the above claims still unpaid. The College greatly needs the money. I have your obligation for so much. I have your obligation for so much. I am anxious to settle up in full with the Trustees by the close of this year. Please send the amount to Rev. W. M. Robey, Lenoir N. C., or to myself Hillsboro N. C., or send it without fail by your pastor to Conference at Wilmington.

T. J. GATTIS.

Hillisboro N. C. Oct. 5th 1875.

Rev. Dr. Haygood has consented to become an editorial correspondent of the Southern Christian Advocate.—He will add new interest to this excellent paper.

The Covington (Ga.) Star says Bishop Geo. F. Pierce has bought the Capers residence in Oxford, and will soon make his home in that pleasant village.

News from the Churches.

Rev. C. H. Phillips writes that the Lord is reviving his work on the Davidson circuit. More than fifty persons have recently been converted.

Rev. J. M. Anderson writing from Lincolnton, Oct. 5th says: "We have had nine revivals at a number of our churches on South Fork circuit. There have been but few accessions, one a member who were already members have been converted and the church revived very much."

Rev. I. F. Kearns writing under date of Oct. 5th says: "The Lord is still reviving his work on the Montgomery circuit. We have just closed our fourth quarterly meeting in connection with a camp meeting at Zoar, which began on the 25th of Sept. and closed on the 30th We had at this meeting 28 conversions and 15 accessions to the church. Rev. S. D. Adams, our P E. and Rev G Farrar were with us. Also Revs. E. Craven, A. Atkins and J. Ballard of the local ranks. All of these labor for the good of souls and not with a success."

Rev. I. J. Gattis writing from Hillsboro, under date of Oct 5th says: "We are having some very gracious revivals of religion on Flat River circuit. At New Bethel we had about eighteen conversions in two days. At Pleasant Green we have had about fifteen conversions. The prospect is bright for a still larger outpouring of the Holy Spirit, from now until Conference. Flat River Circuit with a little alteration is destined to be one of the best in the Conference.

Rev. D. R. Bruton writing from Statesville under date of Oct. 6th says: "While writing you on business, I will add that our District is in a fine condition—revivals in nearly all of the charges. The preachers are working with great zeal and success.

I returned home last night from a ten days trip in Davie and Yadkin, and found the church here in the midst of a great revival Many have been converted and have joined the church. The work has been going on ever since the Quarterly meeting held 2 weeks ago."

Rev. C. M. Pepper, writing from Monroe, says: "The church at Monroe has been blessed with a glorious revival. I am not able to state the precise number of conversions, but I presume there were not less than fifty, and there were forty three (43) accessions to the church

Many backsliders were reclaimed, and almost the whole membership seemed to receive a fresh baptism of the Holy Spirit. Indeed the work of grace in the church seemed to be as great as that which was done out side in the awakening and conversion of sinners.

I read in some of the accounts of revivals, that there was a great work of grace, with almost no excitement at all. I am thankful to state that that was not the case with us. Almost the whole town was excited, and some times the house of God was made to resound with the shouts of God's militant host Talk about a great revival and almost no excitement! you had just as well talk to me about a great fire in which there was almost no heat at all. For my part I am not ashamed of old fashioned Methodist shoutiug. Our fathers and mothers were not crazy as they went shouting on their way to heaven. After all, I suppose that none of us has seen as much excitement and heard as loud shouting as was seen and heard on the day of Pentecost when bystanders thought the people were drunk with new wine.

Yes, brethren, we had healthy glorious excitement such as did my soul good, and hundreds of others besides. Brothers Nelson, Edwards and Boyles of the itinerancy and Butt and Plyler of the local ranks rendered timely and efficient service. The Lord to whom we would ascribe all the glory, reward them, and make them abundantly successful always!

The members of the church, most of them, entered heartily into the work and by their prayers and songs and efforts otherwise did noble service in the meeting. To God be praise forever!"

Rev. P. F. W. Stamey, writing from Dallas under date of Sept. 30th says: "Our camp meeting at Shilo, Dallas circuit, has just closed, resulting in much good, we hope, to the church of Christ in these lands.

Bro. Barrett, our efficient Presiding Elder, was present at the beginning, and preached with great power. On Sunday his interesting discourse on the resurrection of Christ and the power of the gospel, was listened to attentively by thousands. He held the great congregation spell-bound for the space of one hour. This was a time of rejoicing among God's people. The P. E. left on Monday to attend another camp meeting. Bro. Harris from Lincolnton, came to our rescue on Sabbath evening, and remained until the camp meeting closed.

He also preached some excellent sermons. He and the P. E. are much beloved by my people. Bro. Wells, a local preacher from the Lincolnton circuit, and Bro. Killian, an exhorter from Rock Spring Circuit, were also with us rendering efficient aid. Between 25 and 30 made profession of faith in Christ, and twenty-four persons connected themselves with our church. We had a gracious time, one long to be remembered by the good people of Dallas circuit.

The M. E. Conrea, South, is on gaining ground in this country, as you will see from former reports. The good Lord gave us a nice time in which to hold our C. M. This place is building up rapidly, and I hope by next year there will be twice the number of families tented, than were this year Our people believe in camp-meetings. During this meeting the brethren and sisters purchased a large pictorial family Bible; and presented it to their Pastor, as a token of their love for him May God reward them for their kindness, and unto his name be all the glory forever!"

Rev. J. B Carpenter writing from Rutherford Sept. 20th says:

I will say to you as a matter of religious intelligence that Bro. Norton on the Columbus Mission assisted by local preachers Womack and Littlejohn, have been having refreshing seasons on this work. At a meeting at Bethel 18 were added to the church with about an equal number of conversions.

Bro. Leard has had some good meetings on the Rutherford circuit; at Gilboa, he had 15 accessions to the church.

Bro. Gault on the Cherry Mountain circuit has been holding a series of meetings; at Providence there were about 20 additions to the church, and a number of conversions; at Golden Valley there were 42 additions to the church.

I have been present and assisted at all the places, except Golden Valley, and I can truly say we had refreshing times. To God be all the praise!

I am now engaged as junior preacher on Marion circuit and Upper Broad River Mission and at our meetings which will be held on that work from now till the close of the Conference year, I hope that Bro. Whittington will have much good news to communicate to you

We are well pleased with Bro. Barrett our Elder, but believe me when I say we all regretted to give up Bro. Burkhead who has done so much for Methodism in the Shelby District. We all regretted to lose him from this work

The Grand Lodge of Good Templars.

It was my good fortune to be present at the fourth session of the Grand Lodge of Good Templars held at Fayetteville last week. About one hundred and fifty delegates and visitors were present. The session was the finest one of the kind ever held in the State. Much business of importance was transacted.

The question of granting a second Grand Lodge charter to the colored people of the State was rejected.

N. B. Broughton Esq. was relected G. W. C. Templar.

Thco. N. Ramsay was appointed State Lecturer at a salary of one thousand dollars. The Spirit of the Age was adopted as the organ.

John Armstrong Esq. the Proprietor of the Age was present and obtained forty subscribers. The time of meeting for the Grand Lodge was changed from the fourth Tuesday in September to the fourth Tuesday in August.

Raleigh was selected as the next place of meeting.

N. B. Broughton, W. P Williamson and Mrs Elizabeth Oakesmith were elected Representatives to the Right Worthy Grand Lodge to be held at Louisville Ky. in May next.

Col. J. J. Hickman Right Worthy Grand Templar of the world, was present and delivered several fine lectures at Williams Hall.

He initiated into the Lodge at Fayetteville one hundred and fifty new members.

Altogether it was the best meeting I have ever attended. The hospitality of Fayetteville was unbounded. Everybody came away delighted. As for myself, I should have remained a week longer but my ticket ran out.

Yours fraternally,

GOOD TEMPLAR.

Rev. Dr. Behrends, of the Baptist Church, Cleveland, an open-communionist, argues against the demands of his strict communion brethren. In a recent letter to the Baptist Union, defining his position, he says:

"I believe in the policy of "comprehension," relegating the whole communion question to the preference of local Churches, leaving each Church free to interpret the bearing of the New Testament precept and practice. I have become quite settled in the conviction, from correspondence and personal intercourse, that the representative advocates among Northern Baptists of restricted communion, while firmly maintaining their theory, have no sympathy with any policy that chokes down liberty of thought or freedom of speech, and that would visit practical departure with loss of denominational standing."

At the May meeting of the English Wesleyan Conference the report presented relating to the Wesleyan Methodist training colleges contained some interesting facts. The two colleges are fully occupied and in satisfactory condition. In the South lands college there were 100 female students, and at Westminster there were 131 students. Statistics from the 906 day schools show that 178,717 pupils' names are on the rolls.

Religious Brevities.

A Christian Chinese chapel, under Protestant Episcopal auspices, has been opened in Virginia City, Nevada. The money necessary for its erection was collected by a Chinaman, Ah For. At the dedication, by Bishop Whittaker, 150 of the Chinese population were present. The bishop's address was translated by Ah For, who also spoke to his countrymen in their own language. Ah For will be their pastor.

A noticeable event in the annual meetings of the Wesleyan Missionary Societies this year was that two of their chairmen contributed $500 each to the funds of the societies. One of them had been twenty four years a collector for the Wesleyan Missionary Society.

The Nova Scotia Baptist missionaries who went to Siam with the intention of choosing there a field of labor, have opened their mission among the Telooguos, on the western shore of the Bay of Bengal, a short distance north of the river Godavery.

The New York Sun says that the announcement that Henry Ward Beecher will take a more active part in the management of the Christian Union that heretofore, "should be sufficient to keep the Christian Union out of all families where honor virtue, truth and piety are respected."

The Vanderbilt University.

The dedicatory services of the Vanderbilt University, at Nashville, Tenn., on the 4th instant, drew together in the chapel of that institution a highly cultivated audience. Governor Porter, of Tennessee, delivered an address. The following is an extract from the account of the proceedings:

Bishop McTyeire delivered the keys of the University to Dr. Garland, the newly-elected Chancellor.

The theological, law, medical and academic faculties, twenty-six in number, were on the platform.

Dr. Deems, of the Church of the Strangers, New York, then delivered a verey eloquent and earnest address, which was frequently applauded. Near the close of its delivery he said that while speaking he had received the following dispatch from Mr Vanderbilt:

"Peace and good will to all men" [Immense applause.]

Then gazing for a few moments on an elegant life size portrait of Commodore Vanderbilt, he said, with great tenderness:

"Cornelius, thy prayer is heard and thine alms are had in remembrance in the sight of God' [Great applause.]

Rev A. A. Lipscomb, chancellor of Georgia University, followed by Mr. Deems, speaking with great vivacity.

The faculty of the University were impressively installed by Bishop McTyeire. This ceremony concluded, Bishop McTyeire invited the audience to sing the Inaguration Ode, by Rev. A. A. Lipscomb, to the tune of "Old Hundred," At the conclusion of the ode Bishop McTyeire announced the reception of the following telegram from Mr. Vanderbilt:

"We send greeting to you all.—May your institution be ever blessed by the great Governor of all things.'

The whole audience responded with a loud "Amen."

At night Chancellor Garland gave a reception to the professors, members of the board of trustees and the Bishops.

LOW RATES TO THE FAIR.—The R. & D. R. R. will sell return tickets on the Richmond & Danville & N. C. Railroad from 10th to 16th October, with one admission coupon, at the following low rates: To Raleigh and return, from Goldsboro $2; from Princeton $1.65; from Selma $1.35; from Wilson's Mills $1.20; from Clayton 95 cents; from Carey 75 cents; from Morrisville 90 cents; from Durham $1.30; from Hillsboro $1.70; from Mebanesville $2; Haw River $2 15; Graham 2.25; Co Shops $2.30; Gibsonville $2.65; Greensboro $2.95; Jamestown 3.25; High Point $3.40; Thomasville 3.60 Lexington $3.95; Linwood $4.10; Salisbury $4.45; China Grove $4 70; Concord $5.10; Harrisburg $5.35; Charlotte $5.75; Kernersville $3.50; Salem $3.85; Reidsville $3.70; Ruffin $3.95. Mr. S E. Allen Gen. Ticket agent announces that the tickets will be good for return passage if presented on or before the 19th.

BINGHAM SCHOOL.—The cadets of this school will attend the State Fair and compete for the premium offered for the best drilled company of cadets. They will have their quarters in Haigett Street School House during their stay in this city. Maj. Bingham, the Superintendent, was in town last week, and informed us that the School opened its current session with a larger number than at any session since 1865, with an increase of 20 per cent upon the number last session.—The ESPRIT DU CORPS among the students is excellent, and the discipline consequently good. Among the preparatory schools of the United States, Bingham School is FACILE PRINCEPS.

The Convention.

This body is vigoronsly at work and will adjourn on or before the 18th inst. Until last week, much delay was caused in the transaction of business by the "fillibustering" of the minority. But they agreed to end it, upon condition that the majority would not call the "previous question" on measures proposed, before the minority had an opportunity to discuss them.

An ordinance depriving magistrates of their present jurisdiction and allowing the Legislature to define it, was passed.

An ordinance declaring that not more than five per cent of the Special Tax Bonds, and thirty three and a third per cent of the old State debt should be paid without submitting the question to the people, was rejected.

An ordinance providing for the removal of Judges by the Legislature and of clerks of the courts by the Judges for incompetency &c., passed.

An ordinance was also passed providing that a residence of 90 days in a county shall be necessary to vote therein; and that no one shall be entitled to vote who in open court confesses or is convicted of felony or infamous offence.

An ordinance placing the mode of county government in the power of the Legislature also passed.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The tobacco barns of Duncan Cameron and Ive Allen, Esqs., of Orange county, were burned on the night of the 1st inst.

A negro woman charged with complicity in the infamous outrage committed upon a white child by Castleburg in Orange county, has been lodged in jail.

There are seventy-five students at Chapel Hill and the number is daily increasing.

On the 30th ult. the eastern bound train from Charlotte ran off the track, three and a half miles from the city, everything except the engine leaving the rails. Only one person was injured, and he only slightly.

The commission of three persons to take charge of the Western N. C. Railroad and superintend its construction, consists of W. P. Rollins, of Asheville; W. S. Pearson, of Morganton; and W. P. Canady, of Wilmington.

Gov. Brogden has pardoned William Ellwood, who was sentenced to the penitentiary in Charlotte last Friday. The jury, 8 or 10 lawyers, and a large number of citizens of Mecklenburg, Cleaveland and Rutherford counties signed the petition for pardon.

Guilford county recently lost two aged citizens—Archibald Bevill, aged 78, and William Permar, aged 96.

Misses Rebecca Wilson and Bettie Staples arranged and conducted the regular monthly concert of the Greensboro Sabbath School, Sunday before last, and elicited compliments from the Greensboro PATRIOT.

Mayor Mendenhall, of Greensboro inflicts corporal punishment by proxy. A negro boy was arraigned before the Said Mayor for some offence: his mother was told that if she would administer a good whipping, the fine of five dollars and a stay in the lock-up would be dispensed with. She gathered a supply of switches and proceeded, CORAM JUDICE, to dagellate the victim, until, the PATRIOT says, he was taken out of court a sorer, if not a better, boy.

During September there were 1000 more bales of cotton sold in Charlotte than in the same month of last year.

The old jail building and lot in Charlotte were sold at public auction for the sum of $6,625, J. S. Means and J. W. Wadsworth, being the purchasers. The new jail is finished and cost $20,300.

It is understood that Col. E. A. Osborne will be the assignee of the Bank of Mecklenburg. The election takes place 23rd inst.

They have a centennial Gas Company in Charlotte which furnishes gas at $2 per thousand feet, The old company has reduced its price to $3 per thousand.

We sigh for a centennial Gas company in Raleigh, to force the present company from its exorbitant rate of $7 per thousand feet.

A young man by the name of Ramsey left Albemarle, Stanly county, in a state of intoxication and was found next day in the woods undressed and in a stupified condition, and soon after died It is supposed that he thought he was at home and undressed for bed.

There are one hundred and sixty scholars in the graded school at Greensboro.'

The Greensboro Market house is a financial success to the city. The lot and building cost $2500. The rents the one year amounted to $711, and a lease of lots adjoining for 20 years brings $1320 in advance. By leasing four remaining lots the whole outlay will be restored to the city.

The work on Judge Merrimon's new residence has been commenced, and is being pushed forward rapidly by skilled workmen. Judging from the plan of the house, which we have seen, it will, when completed, be one of the most elegant and tastefully arranged residences in the city. It is located in the beautiful grove opposite Peace Institute.

Aaron Marshall Elliott of Guilford county has just returned from a 7 years stay in Germany, where he has been studying the languages. He first graduated at Haverford College near Philadelphia; then at Cambridge Univ. Mass.; then at the Royal University of Munich in Bavaria. He will probably accept a professorship in Hopkins University in Baltimore.

Newspaper Changes.

—Mr. Josh T. James has disposed of his interest in the PEE DEE HERALD to Col. E. R. Liles, well known to the readers of the paper as "Ereckdote" takes editorial charge of the HERALD.

— Mr. McDuffie of the Shelby AURORA has retired from its control which devolves upon the associate, Mr. Babington. The AURORA is a good paper. We frequently see in it the finger marks of our accomplished friend, Rev. H. Hudson.

— Our young friend F. B. McDowell Esq. has bought a half interest in the Charlotte OBSERVER, Mr. McDowell is a gentleman of talent and culture and we wish him all manner of success. C. Jones, the senior proprietor, is an excellent financier, Mr. Avery is one of the best Editors in the South and Joe Caldwell, Esq the local editor, can put matters in as funny a light as Mark Twain or the DETROIT FREE PRESS man. The Weekly OBSERVER is a good paper, but we suppose the DAILY is also, but we do not see it—the ADVOCATE being only weekly, the Daily does not favor it with an exchange—"it can't observe it." We get the New York HERALD, SUN and N. C. Dailies in exchange and appreciate the kindness of their proprietors, but the Future London's OBSERVER discourses familiarity by unveiling its radiant face but once a week to us.

Personal Mention.

Dr. Porteous, late pastor of A. M. E. Church, Brooklyn, was drowned while going to Sea Cliff in a small boat.

Rev. J. H. Lozier, of Fort Dodge, Iowa, has accepted the nomination of the temperance men of Iowa for Governor of that State.

Vice-President Wilson has publicly forbidden the use of his name as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor in Massachusetts.

Mr. Robert Dale Owen, continues to improve steadily, and the hope of his ultimate restoration to sanity is thereby strengthened. He rides out daily and is in very good health.

Bishop Simpson has been for some time in Norway and Sweden. On the 11 he attended the Swedish Conference at Wisby, August 16 he laid the corner stone of a Methodist church in Stockholm.

Hon. R. B. Vance of North Carolina, James Stevenson of Washington, D. C. and A. T. Davidson of Asheville, N. C. have been appointed as Commissioners to appraise the lands recently ceded to the Cherokee Indians in North Carolina.

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING. TERMS $2 20 POSTAGE PAID.

Our Agents.

All Preachers and local preachers in the bounds of the North Carolina Conference are our authorized Agents. Any person sending us ten subscribers, for one year, will receive the paper free.

Our Correspondents.

All communications or communication should be carefully written, and on but one side of the sheet. All letters and communications should be addressed to the Editor.

How to Remit.

To confirm money, all amounts should be sent in registered letter, post-office order or check. The cost of registration, or Post Office order can be deducted when money is sent. If money is sent otherwise than as herein required it will be at the sender's risk.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Our columns this week attest the esteem in which the business men of Raleigh and the State regard as an advertising medium. Our paper has a larger circulation than any other paper in the State, and advertisers find that their patronage of the Advocate brings them speedy returns.

We would call special attention to the advertisement of W. B. Hutchings. For saddles, bridles, harness &c. there is no house in the State which offers better inducements to buyers. Mr. Hutchings is a high toned christian gentleman, and his long acquaintance with his line of business, and a well merited reputation for fair dealing entitles him to the favor and patronage of the public.

D S Waitt & Bro. make their announcement, in this issue, of the arrival of Fall and Winter goods. It is seldom that business men win upon public favor as rapidly as Waitt & Bro. Capt. George Waitt, for years the popular conductor on the N. C. R. Road, made many friends among the traveling public, who remember him in his new business. His brother D S Waitt, the senior partner, is proverbial for his polite attention to his customers, and his younger brother, Tom as he is familiar called and Mr. Mann are most excellent salesmen. For ready and obliging our friends could not do better than to buy of this house.

A P. Gully's advertisement of his large and well selected stock of Fall and Winter Goods appears in another column. Mr. Gully commands a large trade and caters well to his customers, with excellent goods and low prices. He and his salesmen will be found attentive and polite to those who may call upon them.

Messrs. A. G. Lee & Sons are the agents for Sch'ields Cotton Press, and for the Cotton Tie Press. We commend this press to our patrons. The gentlemen composing the firm are noted for fair dealing, they are doing a large commission business, and all produce consigned to them will receive prompt attention. See their advertisement in another column.

Messrs. T. H. Briggs & Sons have moved into their larger and beautiful store nearly opposite the Market House on Fayetteville Street, the building runs through to Centre block, from Fayetteville to Salisbury Street. In structure, size and finish it would do credit to any city. With this new and elegant building, a large and well selected stock of goods, polite and attentive clerks, and gentlemen at its head of superior business qualifications, we bespeak for this house unparalleled success in their finest business. See their advertisement in another column.

Mr Isaac Oettinger has on hand an unsurpassed stock of millinery goods, complete and fashionable. Mrs Oettinger is a lady of great taste and those who favor her with orders will fin cover that they re favored with a prompt and satisfactory return. Tis is the leading Millinery in the State.

J. M. Rosenbaum, the gentlemanly and enterprising merchant on the corner of Fayetteville and Hagett Street, China's old stand is furnised with a stock fine plaesium in the front rank of clothiers in N. C. He is in every respect reliable and we unhesitatingly commend him to the patronage of our readers.

W. H & R S. Tucker make another announcement of incoming goods for Fall and Winter. Their business is large and having closed out their old goods at auction last winter, they have a new stock of goods for the season.

Mrs R. Leopold advertises her Millinery Store, one door below the Briggs Building, on Fayetteville Street. Though recently removed to Raleigh she commands a good share of patronage and keeps a large and well selected stock of millinery goods, at prices that please.

C. Weikel, Esq., Raleigh's favorite Merchant Tailor, makes an announcement this week to which we call the attention of our readers. Mr. Weikel conducts a large establishment, has the best of workmen, and keeps up with the latest fashions in his line. Give him your orders if you want nicely fitting clothes.

Petty and Jones, finding th t their large and increasing business demanded more room for the display and sale of their goods, have removed to the building formerly occupied by Messrs T. H. Briggs and Sons. The are now well stocked and will be glad to see their friends. Maj. Petty, the senior partner, spent several weeks in New York watching the market and buying at an advantage, so that they can now sell as cheap as the cheapest.

The Pee Dee Herald learns that two colored chil ren were burned to death near the old Rock Road Bridge in Stanly county, recently. their parents locked them in the house and went to preaching.

General News.

The citizens of New York city have sent $3,000 to the Texas sufferers.

The decrease of the public debt for the month of September was $4,342 5 62.

Mayor Cobb, of Boston, has sent to the Texas sufferers by the late storm, $5,000.

The council, with the Indians, for the sale of the Black Hills reached and nothing has been accomplished.

The cotton crop in the United States for the year ending September 1st, 1875, amounts to 3 827 845 bales.

The increase of the number of newspapers issuing from the mail, in Japan, for this year over last was 2 629 648.

The Papal nuncio has demanded the abolition of religious toleration in Spain, and that she shall forbid the exercise of non-Catholic religion.

Railway communication in Russia is steadily increasing; twelve thousand miles are in use, and three thousand in course of construction.

In some of our Northern cities, the horses are all coughing from a disease much like the epizootic of a few years ago. It seems to affect not only the throat and head, but also the heart.

Westervelt charge with complicity in the stealing of little Charlie Ross, in Philadelphia, has been convicted on the last three counts of the indictment, which charged him with conspiracy to conceal the stolen child, and a guilty knowledge of the plot for his abduction and wherewith nuts since he was stolen.

The President has accepted Secretary Delano's resignation. In his letter, the President assures him that he believes he has filled every public trust confided to him with ability and integrity.

The royal committee of architects appointed to inspect the walls of the Chicago Custom House, reported in favor of continuing the work on the building. The Government has accepted their report.

On July 4, 1876, the great explosion which is to shatter the submarine rocks at Hallet's Point and open a navigable channel for vessels of large draft, coming and going through Long Island sound, to and from New York city, will take place.

The increase of railway mileage in Great Britain for the last ten years amounts to 3,309 miles. The increase in the United States for the same period amounts to 37,537 miles, or an average of 3,753 miles for each year, which is more than the whole British increase in a decade.

The 27th of last month was the fiftieth anniversary of the opening of the first railway in the world. The event was duly celebrated at Darlington, England, the principal terminus of the inland line, over which George Stephenson ran his primitive locomotive, a half century ago.

The Starch factories of Northern New Hampshire have made so good a market for Irish potatoes that in many places they have become the staple crop. One farmer last year is reported to have raised 20,000 bushels; instances where farmers had from ten to twenty acres of land in potatoes are not rare.

The late "Book Fair" of the representative publishers of New York, and other leading cities, held in New York, showed that Nelson & Phillips of the New York Methodist Book Concern, had issued 2,376 separate publications, being next to Harper & Brother, the highest on the list, and their sales stood in the same ratio

The commissioners of the Freedmen's Savings Bank and Trust company will commence paying a dividend of 20 per cent, on all audited claims on the first of November next, at their office in Washington City, upon the presentation of the pass book or other evidences of indebtedness. All checks drawn to the order of original depositors. Assignments will be recognized only so far as the delivery of checks as originally drawn to the assignor.

Indiana is reported to have the largest school fund of any State in the Union amounting to over $8,000,000.

A snake with ears has been found near Reading, Pa.

A reef of rocks under water in East River, opposite 125th street, New York City, was blown up with nitro-glycerine, on the 21st inst. The ground for considerable distance was shaken, and there was a terrible commotion on the surface of the river, as massive columns of water mingled with huge rocks, rose to the height of 150 feet. For a long time after the mass was dissevered, the river was lashed and beaten into foam like a storm at sea. The experiment was, in every way a success.

A Tennessee paper announces the death of Mr. Slusher, and says: "He was only nineteen years old, and when young had a very severe attack of rheumatism, which drew him all of shape. If Mr. Slusher had not been crippled he would have been nine feet high. His boot was eighteen inches long, and one of his hands was about the size of four ordinary ones. He could not sit on a chair and pick up anything three feet from him. He measured seven and a half feet around the chest."

Charles Francis Adams has written a letter in which he does not very emphatically decline to be considered a Presidential candidate because he is engaged in writing history, and he adds: "I doubt whether I could be made more useful to the world in any other way."

The Old Man's Curses.—Mr. John S Sammis, the eccentric old gentleman of the town of Crawford, who some fifteen or eighteen years ago predicted his own death as soon to occur; and who constructed at considerable expense a vault for receiving his remains, is not dead yet Some two years since he bought out a rustic burial case, for his cat, dog, and niece so as to have them handy in the case of death in his family. He has had no use for them until last Friday, when his beloved Grimalkin, pride of his heart, caterwauled her life away, being meanwhile fondly embraced by the old man. The burial case was brought out, the cat was placed in it as tenderly as it it had been the remains of some beloved child, and the old man went into mourning. We understand the interment took place yesterday, and we also learn that dog is in delicate health, and his death may be looked for at any day.—From the Newburgh Telegraph."

Marriages.

In the Methodist Church, at Cedar Grove Sept 28th 1875 by Rev. N. J Gattis, Mr. William M. Kinnin to Miss Media L. Watson all of Orange county N. C.

Deaths.

Ordinary notices of twenty lines are inserted without charge. The excess over twenty lines of short words is charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line. Count the lines and allow short words to the line. In this way you may always know the amount to enclose Resolutions of respect are subject to the same rule.

Died of typhoid fever in Randolph co. N. C. on Monday morning at 2 o'clock Sept. 6 th 1875. Louis C. Fuller, aged 12 years,

Also on Tuesday morning at 1 o'clock Sept. 14th 1875, Maggie Fuller aged 10 years, son and daughter of Hezekiah and Jane Fuller.

"Tis God who gives, 'tis he who takes away, And oft our choicest treasures he demands, O, have but faith, our God is good, No needless sorrow cometh from his hand."

M. * * * *

Died at the Methodist parsonage, in Ida Grange, N. C., Tuesday, Oct. 5th 1875, George Goodhue, infant son of the Rev. Jno N. and Mrs. Sarah P. Andrews, aged 2 years 6 months and 20 days.

This is the ninth child that these devoted and afflicted parents have followed to the grave. But they are sustained by the cheering hope of meeting them all in the "better country" at happy reunions, and where there will be no more suffrings or separations. Little George was buried by the writer in the family grave yard near Goldsboro, on the afternoon of the 6th inst. May the rich blessing of Heaven be granted the bereaved family! B.

Died at Bay Stack N. C. on 12 inst. of Typhoid fever, little Maggie Belle daughter of Marcus and Ruth Armfield aged 5 years. We buried her as one of God's precious Jewels one too pure to be defiled by sin and the trouble of a wicked world. The best evidence of a wrecked world. The best evidence of our children is obedience—kindness—gentleness—sweetness.—All these little Maggie possessed in the highest degree. Death's untimely frost snatching this beautiful flower so early has brought clouds of sorrow over the hearts of the dear parents, brothers and sisters.

But may they remember every cloud has its silver lining. Yea lined with the rich promises of God—and may this act of providence bind them stronger to Heaven, weaken their love for earth—and elicit brighter hope for reunion in Heaven.

Gone, gone, little Maggie is gone
To her cold and silent tomb
But to us it is not cheerless
Heaven dispels every gloom
And Maggie is now at rest.

EVA.

Resolution of Respect Adopted by the Quarterly Conference of the Kenansville Circuit.

Whereas in the Providence of Almighty God the church has been called upon to mourn the loss of Bro Thomas Hall, who departed this life at his residence in Hallsville on the 10th of Sept. And whereas for many years Bro Hall has been a faithful and efficient member of this Quarterly Conference. Therefore be it,

Resolved, That while we bow submissively to the blow which the hand of infinite love has dealt, we deeply feel the loss sustained in the death of our estimable brother.

Resolved further that by the death of Bro. Hall this Conference has lost one of its most faithful and efficient members, and the community a man of God, whom they had learned to love as well for his benevolence and charity, as for his many other christian virtues.

Further, That we tender our heartfelt sympathies to the family and friends in this their hour of affliction—and that the secretary be quested to record these resolutions in the minutes of the Conference.

Letters and Funds.

J H Mansfield self $2; Rev H H Gibbone for Dr W Pearson 2 20. E Alden Rev W R Ferguson 20 cents C F Evans Rev J F Kerans for T L Mullinix 60 cents. H W Reinhart $ 20. Rev C A Pepper A G Andrews Rev J J Renn for subs $ 80. Rev J B Carpenter for J K Deck 60 cents Rev P C Janney for L H Case 2,05. J T Driver self 2.20. W Halliburton 2.20. J S Lockhart 2.20. A Walker 2 20. Miss J D Lewis self 1. B I Powell 10. E Alden J R Howard Mrs M Dobbin sett 2. W N Snelling J A Mase Rev L L Hendren for H Henderson 2.20. A Thomas 2.20. T L Perry 50 cents. W T Perry 2.20. Rev P F W Stamey for D Froneberger 2.20. O W Davis 2.20. J E Owens 2.70. A J Falls 20 cents Mr Beans for A G Jennings 1.35 R B Grabbs B Armstrong Rev T J Gattis for J R Pratt 2.25. Rev W C Wilson for M Fulford 2. R O Foard for D A Hanes 2.20. Rev C H Phillips for H W Everhart 2 30. Rev W H Bobbitt for D Conrain 60 cents R B Kluttz for Mrs M J Queen 60 cents paper continued. Rev M Foy for Mrs E A Swindle 50 cents Mrs C Brown 50 cents Mrs J B Thompson Rev J R Brooks W A Conoly Rev C M Andrews Rev D R Bruton paper sent Rev T W Smith correct John Bute 60 cents. Rev S Pearces sett 1, Rev H T Hudson for J M Ware 2.20. B F Ivy Rev M H Hoyle paper sent. S J Jenking J A Monroe.

Appointments.

GREENSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Winston,	Oct	2- 3
Wentworth at Reidsville	"	9-10
Greensboro,	"	16-17
Randolph at Union Factory,	"	23-24
Stokes,	"	30-31
Davidson, at Lexington.	Nov,	6- 7
Madison, Madison,	"	13-14
South Guilford, Franklinville,	"	20-21
Forsyth, Tabor,	"	27-28

N. H. D. Wilson, P. E.
Greensboro, N. C.

SALISBURY DISTRICT.
FOURTH ROUND.

Yadkinville ct	Oct.	2- 3
Mooresville ct	"	9-10
Mocksville ct	"	16-17
Alexander ct	"	23-24
Surry ct & Saurason Mies.	"	30-31
Mt. Airy station	Nov.	6- 7
Wilkes ct	"	13-14
Salisbury ct	"	20-21
Iredell ct	"	27-28

D. R. Bruton, P. E.
Statesville, N. C.

NEWBERN DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Newberne,	Oct.	2- 3
Jones, at Lee's Mon. & Tues,	"	4- 5
Oarteret, at Harlowe's,	"	9-10
Wayne, at Frem'nt, (Ded ot Ch'ich)	"	16-17
Craven, Wed, & Thurs.	"	20-21
Snow Hill, Snow Hill,	"	23-24
Neuse & S. Creek, Aurora.	"	30-31
Mt Olive, at Mt. Olive,	Nov.	6- 7
Wilson	"	13-14
Goldsboro,	"	20-21

E. A. Yates, P. E
Beaufort N C.

WASHINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND IN PART.

Mattemuskeet,	Oct.	16 17
Bath,	"	23-24
Plymouth & Jamesville,	"	30 31
Columbia,	Nov.	6- 7
Williamston,	"	13-14
Warren,	"	20-21
Roanoke,	"	27-28

The brethren of Cape Hatteras will please meet me at Swan Quarter the 28th of Sept. prepared to take me across the Sound the 29th, and the Preacher in charge will arrange for me to preach and administer the communion at all of the five appointments on his circuit.

The Preacher in charge of Portsmouth and Ocracoke will arrange for me to divide the six days allotted to that charge between Portsmouth and Ocracoke as he may think best so that I may preach and administer the communion at both places. The brethren of Columbia or children is obedience—kindness—gentleness—sweetness.—All these little Maggie possessed in the highest degree. Death's unmerely frost snatching this beautiful flower so early has brought clouds of sorrow over the hearts of the dear parents, brothers and sisters. Swan Quarter will be at the regular time.

William Closs, P. E.

RALEIGH DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND, Q. M.

Henderson at Henderson,	Oct.	2- 3
Rolesville at Rolesville,	"	9-10
R. M. and Nashville,	"	16-17
Gary,	"	23-24
Raleigh Edenton st,	"	30-31
Youngsville,	Nov.	6- 7
Smithfield,	"	13-14

J. P. Moore, P. E.
Warrenton, N C

WILMINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Magnolia Salem.	Oct.	2- 3
Onslow, Tabernacle,	"	8-10
Topsail, Rocky Point,	"	16-17
Whiteville, Shiloh,	"	23-24
Bladen, and Cape Fear Miss. } Windsor,	"	30-31
Wilmington Front Street.	Nov.	6- 7
Smithville,	"	13-14
Clinton, McGee,	"	20-21
Elizabeth, Wayman,	"	27-28
Wilmington 5th st.	"	30

W. S. Black, P. E.
Magnolia N. C

HILLSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Deep River Maroney's,	Oct,	2- 3
Yanceyville Prospect,	"	9 10
Leasburg,	"	30 31
Person Bailey's,	Nov.	6- 7
Flat River Pleasant Green,	"	13-14
Hillsboro sta,	"	20-21

L. L. Hendren, P. E.
Chapel Hill N. C.

CHARLOTTE DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Albemarle at Bethel.	Oct.	- 1
Stanley ct. at Rehoboth,	"	2- 3
Monroe ct. at Prospect,	"	9-10
Lilesville,	"	14-15
Wadesboro at Bethel,	"	16-17
Concord sta and ct,	"	23-24
Pleasant Grove ct	"	30-31
Tryon st. and Calvary Miss, }	Nov.	6- 7
Lincolnville ct.	"	13-14
Mt Pleasant at Bethel,	"	20-21
Wadesboro sta,	"	27-28

J. S. Nelson, P. E.
Monroe, N. C.

FAYETTEVILLE DISTRICT.
4TH. ROUND.

Uwharrie Poplar Spring, C. M,	Oct.	3- 4
Jonesboro,' Poplar Spring,	"	9-10
Lumnburg	"	16-17
Robeson,	"	23-24
Cumberland, Rockfish.	"	30 31
Rockingham, Zion.	Nov.	6- 7
Pee Dee, Hebron,	"	13-14
Buckhorn, Cokesbury,	"	20-21
Fayetteville,	"	27-28

Camp meetings will be held in connection with the Quarterly Meetings on Carthage, Montgomery and Uwharrie circuits.

Brethren in the ministry are invited to attend.

S. D. Adams, P. E.
Carthage N. C.

SHELBY DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Double Shoals, Union (C M)	Oct,	2- 3
South Fork, Wesley Chapel (C M)	"	9 -10
Cherry Mt. Rock Spring (C M)	"	9 -10
Shelby station,	"	13-14
Shelby ct. Sharon (C M)	"	16 17
Rutherford, Pisgah	"	23-24
Marion,	"	27 -28
Morganton,	"	30-31
Lenoir,	Nov.	6- 7
Happy Home,	"	13-14
Newton, Concord	"	20 -21
Rock Spring,	"	27 -28

Camp-meetings will begin Friday evening and close on Wednesday morning. Let the Ministers and Stewards labor earnestly to bring up all the finances. Three-fourths of the ecclesiastical year has passed away and only about one-fourth of our salaries has been paid! Dear Brethren, shall those who preach the gospel to you be sent away unpaid? God's blessings will be in proportion to your faithfulness in His service.

R. G. Barrett, P. E.
Lincolnton, N. C

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

SADDLES!

From $3 50 to $40.00

BUGGY HARNESS!

From $9.00 to $100

ON HAND AND FOR SALE BY

W. B. HUTCHINGS,

Where will be found a large stock of Carriage and Buggy Harness, Wagon, Dray and Cart Harness, Bridles, Whips, Collars, Hames, Saddle Cloths, Horse Blankets, Leather, &c., all my own Manufacture, and at prices to suit the times.

☞ GIVE ME A CALL!

W. B. HUTCHINGS,
Fayetteville St., opposite Tucker Hall,
oct 13-12m. Raleigh, N. C.

FALL AND WINTER GOODS!

D. S. WAITT & BRO.,

Are offering a Large and Attractive Stock of

FINE AND CHEAP CLOTHING!

Gents' Furnishing Goods and Neck Wear,

Boots, Shoes, Overcoats, Shawls and Rubber Goods / Hats and Capel Merino Shirts, Drawers and Hosiery Paper and Linen Collars, Suspenders, Handkerchiefs and Yankee Notions. The Celebrated

MANHATTAN FINE WHITE SHIRT,

Acknowledged to be the best and most perfect fitting shirt in the market.

Prints! Prints!

Red, White and Figured Flannels, Opera Flannels, Hamburg Edgings and Insertions, Ladies' Trimmed Hats, Belts, Ribbons, Counterpanes, Comforters, Bed-Quilts and Spreads.

WHITE AND BROWN BLANKETS,

Ladies Striped and Plaid Breakfast Shawls, Knit backs, Jackets and Hoods.

Checks, Plaid Homespuns, Ticklings, Brown and Bleached Sheetings and Shirtings, Corset Jeans, Cambrics and Linings, Trunks, Valises, Umbrellas, Traveling Bags, &c

TO OUR FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS, we take pleasure in saying our stock is now complete in every department, and thanking you for your liberal patronage, we respectfully solicit a continuance of the same. Remember the place, 54 Fayetteville St., Raleigh, N. C.

D S WAITT & BRO

oct 13-3m.

PRICES REDUCED!

LADIES
— AND —
GENTLEMEN:

CALL AT ONCE AND EXAMINE THE EXTENSIVE STOCK, JUST RECEIVED AT

J.P. GULLEY'S,
—OF—
Dry Goods, Clothing,

NOTIONS, BOOTS, SHOES,

Hats Caps, Trunks, Valises,

White Goods, &c., &c.

BURT'S GAITERS & BOOTS FOR GENTS.

PRINTS! PRINTS! PRINTS!

A large stock of the latest patterns, at prices that cannot be excelled.

Respectfully, JOSEPH P. GULLEY,
Corner Fayetteville and Market Square.
Oct 18th, 1875.

A. G. Lee. Ed. H. Lee. Cle R. Lee

A STRICTLY COMMISSION HOUSE.

A. G. LEE & SONS.

RALEIGH, N. C.

Cotton is our Specialty.

We can always obtain the highest market price, and ask our friends who find it inconvenient to accompany their lots to the market to try us. We can beat New York in the nett proceeds of your cotton.

When you bring your cotton to market yourself give us a chance at it. We have orders to fill and can pay the VERY HIGHEST market price for it. Be sure to call and see us before you sell.

We are the Agents for

The SCHOFIELD COTTON PRESS, the best in vented.

A. G. LEE & SONS.
P. O. Box 222, Raleigh, N. C.
sep 1-tf

COTTON TIES.

Something New, But Old!

We have now the agency for the sale of the "Providence Pieced Cotton Tie," in towns along the R. & Gaston Railroad to Fayetteville along the R. & D. Railroad to Goldsboro; thence to Weldon and Beaufort and along the R. & G. Railroad to Weldon, and are now offering this Tie at 4 1-2 cents per pound in car load lots, delivering in any depot in our section.

This Tie is newly done over, put up into bundles same size and weight as the Arrow Tie and uses the Arrow buckle. Each broken one is neatly mended with two rivets, which makes it doubly strong.

Most parties who used them last season say they much prefer them to new ones considering the difference in cost.

All orders for shipments within the next two weeks can get Sixty days, by paying Draft on arrival and deducting same from bill when due.

Orders from merchants and large dealers respectfully solicited.

A. G. LEE & SONS, Agts
Raleigh, N C.
oct 13 tf.

1875. 1876.
FALL AND WINTER.

ISAAC OETTINGER

is now in receipt of his ENTIRE STOCK of MILLINERY, Ladies' Fancy Furnishing, Hair and Needle Goods, to an inspection of which his many customers are respectfully invited. My Stock has been selected with a great deal of care, and consists of Bonnets and Hats for Ladies, Misses, Children and Babies.

Ladies' Sacks, Ladies' Undergarments, Ladies' Cloaks and Sacques, Ruffs, Collars and Cuffs, Mic and Misses Gloves, Zephyr, Saxony and Germantown Wool, Knitting Cotton, Crochet Needles, Worked Slippers,

Mottoes and Motto Frames, every sort of Patterns for Needle Work, Stamped Yokes, Buttons, Embroidering Silk and Cotton, 1,000 Ladies' Silk Scarfs, 1,000 Belts 2,000 yards Ribbon, Real and Imitation Laces, Hamburg Edging and Insertion.

And a Thousand other Articles.

In our Millinery Department we employ some FIRST-CLASS NEW YORK MILLINERS, and guarantee satisfaction. All I ask is a trial. My Stock is the largest, best selected and tastiest in this city, and I may say State,

Oct. 13 6w. ISAAC OETTINGER.

1875. FALL & WINTER 1876.

MRS. R. LEOPOLD

Has received a large and selected stock of

MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS.

Ladies' Bonnets and Hats,
Misses' Children's and Babies',
Fine assortment Ladies White Goods,
Kid Gloves, Ruffs, Collars and Cuffs,
Stamped Yokes, Silk and Cotton.
Ladies Silk Scarfs, Belts, Ribbons,
Laces, Hamburg Edgings and Insertions, all kinds and styles of Combs, Corsets, Shawls,
Ladies' and Children's Striped Hose, &c.

The choicest assortment in the city. Ladies call and examine.

In our MILLINERY DEPARTMENT we have procured a

First-Class Northern Milliner.

MRS. R. LEOPOLD,
Fayetteville Street, next to Briggs Building.
Oct 13-1m.

REMOVAL.

OFFICE OF

T. H. Briggs & Sons,

RALEIGH, N. C.

We have removed to our elegant and commodious NEW STORE in the

BRIGGS BUILDING

where we will be pleased to see our many friends and the public generally.

OUR NEW STORE ROOM,

THIRTY-TWO feet wide and TWO HUNDRED long, together with a large and convenient Cellar and Warehouse adjoining, affords as unequalled facilities for conducting our business.

Customers and visitors will find our salesmen and ourselves polite, careful, accommodating and attentive. We extend a cordial invitation to every body to come and see us.

Respectfully,

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,
oct 13-tf. Briggs Building.

CHANGE IN BUSINESS.

The Old and Well Known House of

J. M. ROSENBAUM

Having concluded to confine itself to certain specialties, announces that its main business it is exclusively

A CLOTHING STORE

of the highest grade, where every article of Gentlemen's and Boy's wear of all kinds and grades is offered

ON THE MOST FAVORABLE TERMS FOR CASH.

Buyers need go no further to be suited. Every class of customers can be supplied.

Attached to the establishment is a Department for the sale of

CHINA, CROCKERY AND GLASSWARE,

Everything in that line can be found of the first quality and at reasonable prices.

The long established character of this House is a sufficient guarantee of its ability and determination to do what it promises. Don't fail to call on

J. M. ROSENBAUM,
Corner Fayetteville and Hargett Sts.
Oct. 13-tf.

COME YE DISCONSOLATE!

Men in search of FIRST-CLASS GOODS, the very Latest Tip of Fashion, and put up in a st yle that will suit the most fastidious taste, go to

WEIKEL'S ESTABLISHMENT,

on Fayetteville Street, one door South of the Southern Express Office.

IT IS A CONCEDED FACT

that Weikel can put up the best and most satisfactory JOB in the way of fine suits of Clothing, from a Wedding to a Business Suit, that can be turned out in Raleigh. The old and young men say it, the ladies (God bless them) say it, and the children cry over it, cry for joy when their revered "dad's" put on a suit of Weikel's clothing.

Weikel takes this occasion to return his thanks for the large and liberal patronage heretofore received, and respectfully asks for continuance of the same. His stock of

CLOTHS,

CASSIMERES,

TWEEDS,

SUITINGS, &c.

is much larger than ever before, and comprises all the Latest Novelties in Style, having been recently purchased at low prices from

FASHION HEADRUARTERS.

As manible forces of Workmen are Picket Men whose skill and ability are known to the "dressing" public.

Come one and all to the Emporium of Fashion, Weikel's the Merchant Tailor, For a first class Suit of Clothes of first class goods, put up in first class style.

"PURE GOLD"

Outranks all other Sunday School Song Books in Popular Favor. Nearly

One Million Copies!

HAVE ALREADY BEEN SOLD.

PURE GOLD

IS A SAFE BOOK TO BUY.

The Words are Good:
The Music is Good:
Good Sentiment:
Good Everything:

☞ Many of your Neighbors have used it—ask them how they like it.

Price $30 per 100 Copies.

☞ Sent by mail, in paper cover, on receipt of twenty-five cents. Board cover, 35 cents.

BIGLOW & MAIN Publishers,
(Successor to Wm. B. Bradbury.)
76 East 9th Street, New York.
91 Washington St., Chicago.
Oct. 6th 4-t.

PETTY & JONES,

30 FAYETTEVILLE STREET.

Having removed to the large and spacious three-story Store recently occupied by Messrs Thos. H. Briggs & Sons, so long our friends, customers, and the public to call on us and examine our new and complete stock of Dry Goods, Hats, Boots, Shoes, Notions, Carpets, Rugs, &c, containing full lines in every Department. We offer both at Wholesale and Retail.

STYLISH PRINTS,

In colorings adapted to the season and in choice designs.

SILKS, DRESS GOODS AND REPELLANTS

Of the best Manufactures, both American and Foreign.

CLOTHS, CASSIMERES AND JEANS

Of different grades and in great variety of colors.

FLANNELS.

All colors, Gilbert's & Washington, Plaid Wool Flannels, Opera Flannels, Shaker Flannels, Medicated Flannels, Canton Flannels, Bleached and Brown. Silk Embroidered Flannels for Skirts.

LINSEYS AND WOOL DRESS PLAIDS,

Cotton Plaids, Ginghams, Osnaburgs, Cotton Duck, Sheetings and Shirtings, Bleached and Brown.

HATS, BOOTS AND SHOES.

A splendid assortment, from lowest price to best quality.

OUR NOTION DEPARTMENT

Is filled with the latest Novelties in Leather and Cloth Belts, Ruchings, Silk Ties, Ladies Scarfs in new patterns, with plain, fringed and embroidered ends. Sash Ribbons, Hosiery, High Back Tuck Combs, Kid Gloves, Laces, Fringes, Buttons, etc.

BALLOU'S POPULAR DRESS SHIRTS,

And Caulfield's Celebrated Hand Made Boots and Gaiters for Gentlemen.

LARGE LINES OF UNDERWEAR

For Ladies and Gentlemen.

CARPETS.

All Wool Super, Extra Super, Tapestry, Brussels and Cotton Chain Carpets, Axminster, Velvet and Brussels Rugs.

PETTY & JONES.
Raleigh, N C.

JUST ARRIVED AT THE

RALEIGH STOVE HOUSE

Another car load of the old reliable

COTTON KING STOVE;

No Better Stove Can be found in the City!

Every one warranted! Call early and get one!

RANGES, HEATERS and all kinds of COOKING UTENSILS.

FRANKLIN GRATES, PARLOR STOVES, WHICH ARE GEMS OF BEAUTY,

TIN WARE, LAMPS, OILS, WOOD AND WILLOW WARE, CUTLERY AND HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS.

Guns and Locks Repaired, Bell Hanging, &c., &c.

J. C. Brewster, Proprietor.
No 4 Hargett street, Raleigh, N. C.
Oct 6 tf

OLD NORTH STATE HARDWARE AND

HOUSE FURNISHING STORE,

No. ____ Martin and Market Streets,

RALEIGH, N. C.

I am now receiving my FALL STOCK for 1875, consisting of a full line of

HARDWARE,

Hollow Crockery, Wood and Willow Ware;

Also a large stock of Cooking, Parlor and Heating STOVES. Would call particular attention to those persons who are in want of a first class Cook Stove to my new design for wood made expressly for this market, which I have named the

"Old North State."

FIVE SIZES—NOS. 6, 7, 8, 9, 10.

The No 6 I will sell for $10.00, complete with pipe and furniture. No. 7 for $15.00 and other Nos. at corresponding prices. Every Stove sold will be warranted to give entire satisfaction. Do not fail to call and look at the Stoves before making purchases.

Also in stock will be found a full line of

Lamp Chimneys,
Wicks, Pratt's Astral
and Kerosene Oils.

Having purchased my entire stock at very low prices I can offer inducements to those in want of anything to my line. An examination of my stock and prices is solicited. Goods marked in plain figures.

C. A. HART,
Market and Martin Streets, directly opposite "The Daily News Office,"
Sept 18-tf. RALEIGH, N. C.

We refer in the following parties, who have our HOPE ENGINE in use: W. G. Upchurch, of Williamson, Upchurch & Pappas, Raleigh, N. C.; Jno. A. Smith, Oxford, N. C.; Moore, Farmer & Co. Goldsboro, N. C.; C. Avery, Greensboro' N. C.; Morris, Dixon Smith & Co., Pilot Cotton Mills, Fayetteville, N. C.; Myers, Hall and Wade, Brick Contractors, Raleigh N. C.

We guarantee our HOPE ENGINE equal to the best made North, and we will not be undersold by the manufacturers of any FIRST-CLASS ENGINE. We manufacture which we guarantee equal to the best Gin made. It was awarded the Silver Medal, as the best Gin made in the State, at the N. C. State Fair, 1874.

The Carolina Cotton Gin,

OUR POWER COTTON PRESS

has no superior. We refer to A. F. Page, Dey, N. C.; H. A. T. Mial, Master of Raleigh Grange, No. 17, who have our POWER PRESS in use.

We manufacture the celebrated "SUNNY SOUTH" PLOW, and several others, which we will sell at very low figures.

We manufacture SAW MILLS, MILL GEARING, SHAFTING PULLEYS and MILL MACHINERY of every kind.

For full information and Price List, address

McCALLUM, WYCKOFF & HOPE,
Raleigh, N. C.
may 19-tf.

DAVENPORT FEMALE COLLEGE,
Lenoir, N. C.

The Fall Session for 1875 will open on Monday 30th August.

Expenses range from $100 to $150 per session. This includes everything for which we are responsible, and we can guarantee that no bill with us shall exceed $300 a year.

Davenport offers all the substantial advantages to be found at other Female Colleges, and we refer with pride to the generous patronage we are receiving as the very best public testimonial of real merit.

Young ladies board in the institution under the immediate care of the President.

Bills must be paid one half in advance, the other promptly at the end of the Session.

No deviation from this rule can be allowed except by previous contract. Address

REV. W. M. ROBEY, Pres
July 7-3m

C. J. SHAW, of N. Y. with

PEARRE BROS. & CO.

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN

CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATINETS,
Kerseys, Jeans, Cottonades, &c.
MEN AND BOYS' WEAR IN GENERAL.

NO. 9 HANOVER STREET,
Sept 29 tf. Baltimore.

A. BAUM,

Professional Butcher,

Wilmington St., Opposite East End Market.

Buys the latest, believe that ever to sell. No poor or streaked beef to be seen in his shop. Orders for Mountain Boys weekly filled by his agents. The best and choicest meats to be had in this Market, conducted in first class style, are sold you at sept 29-tf BAUM'S.

SCHOOLS, COLLEGES, &c

TRINITY COLLEGE.

The session begins Sept. 2nd. 1875.
Tuition $40 to $60 for ten months.
Board $10 to $12 per month.

A receipts full will be given for all expenses clothing and books excepted, for $90 for five months in the regular session; and for 80 dollars in the Preparatory.

We have accommodation for twenty-five to furnish their rooms and board themselves. In this the cost for five months is not over 50 dollars. Young man of limited means will find it to correspond with the President.

B. CRAVEN Pres.
P O. Trinity College, N. C.
July 21 3m.

THOMASVILLE FEMALE COLLEGE,
DAVIDSON CO., N. C., ON N. C. R. R.

Established in 1849—chartered in 1860—Large, finely adapted brick building, in thorough repair. Grounds extensive and beautiful—new and handsome furniture, instruments, &c. Full and carefully arranged course, taught by seven able, earnest and successful teachers.

Children's Column

My Neighbor's Baby.

Across in my neighbor's window,
With its drapings of satin and lace,
I see, 'neath its flowing ringlets,
A baby's innocent face.
His feet, in crimson slippers,
Are tapping the polished glass,
And the crowd in the streets look upward,
And nod and smile as they pass.

Just here in my cottage window,
Catching flies in the sun,
With a patched and faded apron,
Stands my own little one.
His face is as pure and handsome
As the baby's over the way,
And he keeps my heart from breaking
At my toiling every day.

Sometimes when the day is ended,
And I sit in the dusk to rest,
With the face of my sleeping darling
Hugged close to my lonely breast,
I pray that my neighbor's baby
May not catch heaven's roses all,
But that some may crown the forehead
Of my loved one, as they fall.

And when I draw the stockings
From his little weary feet,
And kiss the rosy dimples
In his limbs so round and sweet,
I think of the dainty garments
Some little children wear,
And that my God withholds them
From mine, so pure and fair.

* * * * * * * *

May God forgive my envy—
I know not what I said;
My heart is crushed and troubled,
My neighbor's boy is dead!
I saw the little coffin
As they carried it out to-day—
A mother's heart is breaking
In the mansion over the way.

The light is fair in my window,
The flowers bloom at my door,
The boy is chasing the sunbeams
That dance on the cottage floor;
The roses of health are blooming
On my darling's cheek to-day,
But the baby is gone from the window
Of the mansion over the way.

Answers.

"The fashion of this world passeth away," is found in 1st Cor. 7:31. J R and J W Howard.

'Of a truth I perceive that God is no respector of persons' is found in Acts 10:34. J R and J W Howard.

Ibzan had 30 sons and 30 daughters. F B Jones.

Abraham is first mentioned in the Bible as having used butter, when the three angels appeared to him. F B Jones.

'My days are like a shadow,' etc., is found in Psalms 102:11. F B Jones.

The fainting of the prophet Daniel is mentioned in Daniel 8:27. F B Jones.

Jeremiah was put in a dungeon.—F B Jones.

J R and J W Howard send answer to Square Word No. 1:

A D A M
D A R E
A R E A
M E A T

J R Howard sends as answer to Enigma proposed by Uni, 'Love one another.'

Questions.

Fletcher B. Jones asks what answer did God make to Elijah when he said, "Lord, they have killed thy Prophets and digged down their altars, and I am left alone, and they seek my life," and where it is found. Also—where is found the following verse 'Strive to enter in at the straight gate for many I say unto you will seek to enter in and shall not be able.'—

J. W. Howard asks what command contains the following letters:—

E. E. E. E. E. T. T. T. H. H. H. P. P. it has 5 words each word having 4 letters.—

ENIGMA BY F. B. JONES.

My 1st begins the name of one of the three princes who was cast into the fiery furnace.

My 2nd begins the name of the disciple who said, when told by Christ that Lazarus was dead, "let us also go that we may die with him."

My 3rd begins the name of the damsel who "knew Peter's voice.'

My 4th begins the name of a man whom Elijah addressed thus, 'go tell thy Lord Elijah is here.'

My 5th begins the name of the man to whom Christ said, 'Verily, verily I say unto thee, except a man be born again he cannot see the kingdom of God.'

My 6th begins the name of the giant whose coat of mail weighed 156 pounds.

7th begins the name of the place where Elisha smote the Syrians with blindness.

My 8th begins the name of the last King of the ancient Syrians.

My 9th begins the name of one of the books of the Old Testament.

My 10th begins the name of a follower of Jesus and a ruler of the Jews.

My 11th begins the name of the father of Aram. The above letters form that which is carrying thousands of souls to ruin every year.

A Fable.

A certain rabbi had two sons, whom he and his wife tenderly loved. Duty obliged the rabbi to take a journey to a distant country. During his absence his two promising boys sickened and died. The grief stricken mother laid them ont on their bed, drew the curtain, and waited anxiously for her husband. He came. It was night. 'How are my boys?' was the first question. 'Let me see them.' 'Stay awhile,' said the wife; 'I am in great trouble. Some years ago a friend lent me some jewels. I took great care of them, and at last began to prize them as my own. Since your departure my friend has called for them, but I did not like to part with them. Shall I give them up!' 'Wife! what a strange request is this! Give them up, and that instantly, this very night Show me the jewels.' She took the rabbi to their bed, drew aside the curtain, and said: 'Husband, there are the jewels.' The rabbi bowed his head and wept.

"And then."

The following story is told of Filippo Neri, an old-time saint. He was living at one of the Italian Universities, when a young man whom he had known as a boy ran up to him with a face full of delight, and told him what he had been long wishing, above all things in the world, was at length fulfilled, his parents having just given him leave to study the law; and that he had now come to the law school in this University on account of its great fame, and meant to spare no pains or labor getting through his studies as quickly and as well as possible. In this way he ran on for a long time; and when at last he came to a stop, Neri, who had been listening with great patience and kindness, said:

'Well! and when you have got through your course of studies, what do you mean to do then?'

'Then I shall take my Doctor's degree,' answered the young man.

'And then?' asked Filippo Neri.

'And then,' continued the youth, 'I shall have a number of difficult and knotty cases to manage, and shall catch people's notice by my eloquence, my zeal, my learning, my acuteness, and gain a great reputation.'

'And then?'

'And then,' replied the youth—'why then,' there can't be a question, I shall be promoted to some high office or other; besides, I shall make money and grow rich.'

'And then?' repeated Filippo.

'And then,' pursued the young lawyer—'then I shall live comfortably and honorably, in health and dignity, and shall be able to look forward quietly to a happy old age.'

'And then?'

'And then,' said the youth—'and then—and then—I shall die.'

Again Filippo said, 'And then?' Whereupon the young man made no answer, but cast down his head and went away.

The conversation of Christ with His disciples when He took His leave of them at the last Supper, was most sweet, loving, and friendly, talking with them lovingly, as a father with his children, when he must depart from them. He took their weakness in good part, and bore with them, though now and then their discourse was very full of simplicity; as when Philip said "Show us the Father,' &c. And Thomas: "We know not the way," &c. And Peter: "I will go with Thee unto death." Each fully showing the thoughts of his heart. Never, since the world began, was a more precious, sweet, and amiable conversation.—Luther.

Rural and Domestic.

WHY SMALL FARMERS ARE PROSPEROUS.—We have often had occasion to call attention to the fact that those we are accustomed to call "small farmers" are generally the most prosperous people in the South. They are not so because small farms and very limited operations are in themselves, best, but because these farmers are working in harmony with their circumstances. They have accepted the situation, and put their own hands to the plough. Having small capital, and often very limited knowledge and skill, they go safely, as they see the way clearly before them. The large planter on the contrary, often without any capital at all of his own, attempts on borrowed money (at fearfully high rates of interest) to conduct large operations, without closely counting the cost or the risks, and fail as any sound minded man, not infatuated with cotton, would see that he must. This does not prove that small farms and small farming are necessarily most profitable, but that our operations, both as to method and to extent, must correspond with our capital and other circumstances.—Rural Carolinian.

TO REMOVE SMOKE STAINS.—An easy and sure way to remove smoke stains from common plain ceilings, is to mix wood ashes with the whitewash just before applying. A pint of ashes to a small pail of whitewash is sufficient, but a little more or less will do no harm The theory is that the ashes eat up the smoke.

A GOOD DENTIFRICE.—Dissolve two ounces of borax in three pints of boiling water; before quite cold add one tablespoonful of tincture of myrh and one tablespoonful of spirits of camphor. Bottle mixture for use. Add one wineglassful of the solution to a pint of tepid water, and use it daily. It preserves and beautifies the teeth and arrests decay.

Milwaukee is called the beer capital of America. It is a city of 100,000 inhabitants, and during the month of June consumed 23,327 barrels of lager beer. This is about a ten gallon keg to each inhabitant, men, women and children, orphans and widows.

Williams & Haywood,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN
Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Oils, Dye Stuffs, Perfumery,
Fancy Articles, Garden Seeds, Fine Teas, Spices, Flavoring Extracts.
CIGARS, CHEWING TOBACCO &C.
Keep constantly on hand, at lowest market prices, White Lead, Putty, Kerosene Oil, Linseed Oil, Lamp Oil, Tanner's Oil, Window Glass, Varnish, &c., &c.
Dec. 21-tf.

THE ONLY ICE CREAM SALOON in the city is at MOSELEY'S.

Ice Cream and Water Ices made to order at MOSELEY'S.

Strawberries and Ice Cream at MOSELEY'S.

Soda and Mineral Waters at MOSELEY'S.

It's the place to get cool. July 7-tf

The Great Anti Periodic.

The certainty and promptitude with which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters conquer the most obstinate case of malarial disease, and the complete protection which they afford the system against the miasmatic poison which pervades the air of low lying marshy localities, stamp them as the foremost of American antiperiodics. Wherever on this continent fever and ague is a regular visitant—in the bottom land of the South, the new clearings and mining districts of the West, and in all localities in the Eastern and Middle States where malaria prevails, the Bitters are recognized as the only true specific for the disease, and its most reliable preventive. They are, moreover, a safe and agreeable as well as a certain remedy, and on this account are immeasurably superior to cathartics for maladies caused by miasma, and which if persisted in work irreparable injury to the constitution.

Unfortunately, fever and ague, and the other febrile complaints generated by miasma, are not the only evils which result from it. A great variety of disorders are superinduced by the irritation which it causes. Among these are neuralgia, rheumatism, gout, periodic headache, pitulsion, painful affections of the spleen, and various derangement of the stomach When traceable to malaria, the above affections are apt to assume, like the disease which originated them, an intermittent type; that is to say, they recur at regular intervals. Hostetter's Bitters, however, obviates them all, by banishing the miasmatic virus from the system.

Oct 6 1-m

From the Philadelphia Presbyterian.

From the World's Dispensary Printing Office and Bindery, Buffalo, N. Y. we have received "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser in plain English; or, Medicine Simplified," by R. V. Pierce, M. D., Consulting Physician in chief to the Board of Physicians and Surgeons at the World's Dispensary. Whoever has had occasion to study the struggle with its inherent weaknesses and diseases, to bear or cure, in its beneficent ignorance is not only of itself a cause of disease and mortality but it is the enemy of every effort to cure or mitigate. Nothing will so speedily remove this cause as knowledge (as elementary as one at least) of the disease to which we are heir, as well as those superinduced by our own imprudence Dr. Pierce has rendered, in our judgment, a benefactor's service, both to the afflicted and to the profession, in his diagnosis of the diseases treated of, and in the presentation of the plain principles involved in their cause and removal. He is sparing of remedies, and usually prescribes such as are safe in unskilled hands. As a book merely of abstract knowledge, it is exceedingly readable and interesting, especially its following subjects—Cerebral Physiology, Human Temperaments, Psychophysics, the Nursing of the Temperaments, Psychophysics, the Nursing of the Sick, Sleep, Ventilation, &c. In one chapter on animal subjects, so delicate in its nature that it is shut up beyond the bounds of warning to all but physicians, so accursed in its results in modern society, he is most explicit, and alike true to God, to virtue, to life, and morality, shows the truth as presented in the teachings of Scripture,—that life begins with conception—with preachers to which is added faithful watchfulness.

Price of the Medical Adviser $1.50, sent post paid. Address the author at Buffalo, N. Y.

Oct 13 1-1

THE HUMAN TELEGRAPH. The nerves are telegraphic fibres operated by the brain; but if the stomach, the great regulator of the system, is disordered, the whole nervous organization is partially shattered for the time being.

Tarrant's Effervescent Aperient

works wonders in cases of nervous debility arising from dyspepsia, by restoring the stomach to its normal condition, and keeping the bowels free. Sold by all druggists.

THE BUFFALO LITHIA WATERS FOR SALE.

The claim is made with entire confidence for these waters that as a curative agent of many forms of CHRONIC DISEASE they have no superior among the medicinal waters of the world. Especially and emphatically is this claim made for them in the peculiar DISEASES OF WOMEN, in AFFECTIONS of the KIDNEYS and BLADDER, and in derangements of the DIGESTIVE and BILIARY ORGANS. In GOUT and RHEUMATISM dependent on URIC ACID in the blood, they have given the most marked and decided relief. In CHRONIC, INTERMITTENT, and REMITTENT FEVER, and all diseases attributable to miasmatic influence they act often like a charm. In SCROFULA they have given a degree of relief which might well induce sufferers from that disease to give it a trial. They are used with advantage throughout the whole year—equally in cold as in warm weather.

The claim thus made for these waters is vouched for by some of the MOST DISTINGUISHED MEDICAL MEN OF THE COUNTRY, both North and South, as well as by numerous reported cases from the most unquestionable sources.

Testimonials sent to any address on application. These waters are put up in case of one dozen half-gallon bottles, at $6 per case.

THOMAS F. GOODE,
Proprietor Buffalo Lithia Springs,
Mecklenburg county Va.

Sept 8 1-m ly.

DITSON & CO'S

School Music Books

Constitute a perfect series, providing in the best manner for every class in every School, Academy and Seminary.

American School Music Readers.

In 3 Books, of which Book I. (35 cents) is admirably arranged for Primary Schools Book II. (50 cents) and Book III. (90 cents) for Grammar and younger High School or Academy classes. Compiled by L. O. EMERSON and W. S. TILDEN.

Cheerful Voices,

(50 cents), by L. O. EMERSON, is a capital collection of Sunday School Songs for Common Schools.

The High School Choir.

($1.60) by L. O. EMERSON and W. S. TILDEN, is fully equal to their last book, The Hour of Singing, which for some years has been the standard book. The present work, like the other, is for HIGH SCHOOLS, ACADEMIES, and SEMINARIES.

The National Hymn and Tune Book,

(1 cents) furnishes the best collection of Sacred Music extant for opening and closing schools.

Any book sent, post paid, for retail price.

OLIVER DITSON & CO., C. H. DITSON & CO.,
Boston. 711 B'dway, New York.
oct 6-1f

BALTIMORE

EYE and EAR INSTITUTE

NO. 55 FRANKLIN ST., Baltimore, Md.,
JULIAN J. CHISOLM, M. D., Professor of Eye and Ear Diseases in the University of Maryland,
SURGEON IN CHARGE.

This Institution is thoroughly organized and fitted up with every convenience, for the treatment of Eye and Ear Diseases.

For further information apply to the above.
Sept 29-3m.

THE FIRM OF WYNNE, YANCEY & CO., is this day dissolved by mutual consent.

OTHO. W. WYNNE
T. B. YANCEY,
J. W. LEE

RALEIGH, June 15th, 1875.

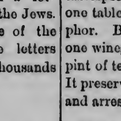
HAVING PURCHASED THE interest an Assume the Liabilities of the late firm of WYNNE, YANCEY & CO., I would request all those indebted to make immediate payment.

Thankful for the patronage so liberally bestowed upon the late firm I trust by personal attention to merit the same.

GEO. W. WYNNE

$5 TO $20 per day! Agents wanted! All classes of working people, of either sex, young or old, making more money at work for us in their spare moments, or all the time than at anything else. Particulars free. Address G. Stinson & Co., Portland, Maine.
Sept 18-1y

BRINLY PLOWS



BEST AND CHEAPEST IN USE.
Have Taken over 250 Premiums at Fairs throughout the South. Send for illustrated Catalogue with Price List, and see the letters of planters who use them and of MANUFACTURERS:
BRINLY, MILES & HARDY,
Louisville, Ky.
Sept 8-6m.

NEW FIRM

The undersigned have this day formed a co-partnership under the firm name of

Wainright, Williams & Food,

and having purchased the stock and goodwill of J. D. WHITAKER, they will continue the GROCERY and COMMISSION business at

FARMER'S EXCHANGE,
No. 4 Martin Street,
RALEIGH, N. C.

Our Stock will consist of

Bacon,
Flour,
Molasses,
Coffee,
Sugars,
Lard
Salt,
Bagging,
and Ties,

And all other goods in the Grocery line with Staple Dry Goods, Shoes, etc. Having superior facilities for buying, and a small expense account, we guarantee the lowest prices. Consignments of Cotton and produce generally, solicited, to the sale of which our best efforts will be devoted.

Patronage of our friends respectfully solicited.

GEO. B. WAINRIGHT,
(late with Williamson, Upjohn & Thomas)
Granville.
WM. H. WILLIAMS,
WM. H. HOOD,
Chatham.
Johnston.
Raleigh, Sept. 1, 1875.

Having sold my stock of Groceries to Messrs. Wainright, Williams & Hood, I take pleasure in recommending them to my friends and late customers, as entirely worthy of confidence and patronage.

For the present I may be found at the old stand and hope all those indebted to the firm of Thompson & Whitaker will call and settle as soon as possible.

J. D. WHITAKER.
Raleigh, Sept 8-tf

OLD NORTH STATE FIRE Insurance Company,

OF

WARRENTON, - - - - N. C.

This Company has closed its third year in a condition of GREAT PROSPERITY, and entered upon its fourth year under the MOST PROMISING AUSPICES.

It deserves the liberal patronage which it is receiving because

It is a home institution,
It has ample Capital and Reserves
It pays its losses promptly.

ASSETS.

Cash on hand and in Bank,	$ 8 421 53
Cash in hands of Agents,	4,984 09
Stock Notes,	15,670 00
Real Estate Mortgage,	29,898 80
Loaned on Collaterals,	7,647 63
Due for premiums,	3,720 63
Interest due and accrued,	944 30
	$130,297 19

LIABILITIES:

All liabilities including full re-insurance Reserved,	$15,480 81
Surplus,	111,816 38
	$130,297 19

WM. S. DAVIS, President.
B. F. LONG, Secretary.

STEAM POWER.

The Celebrated

Shapley Steam Engine.

By a patented process,

It is Absolutely free of danger from fire.

It is endorsed by all the leading machinists in the United States.

Prices lower than any first class engine in the country.

Engines can be seen at our store Nos. 2, 3, 5, 6 and 12 Horse Power.

We are agents for the

ROWLAND COTTON GIN,

and have in store the most complete and largest stock in N. C. of Hardware, Sash, Doors, &c.

Prices guaranteed cheaper than the lowest. Write for circular and prices.

JULIUS LEWIS & CO.,
Fisher Building,
Raleigh, N. C

TYSON & JONES

Carriage Builders,
CARTHAGE, N. C.

Having recently increased our Facilities for Manufacturing, we are prepared to furnish Vehicles of the BEST QUALITY on short notice, and at comparatively low prices. Vehicles shipped at Sanford, Raleigh and Chatham R. R. via Raleigh to any part of the State.

We feel confident that, with the close attention we give the business, together with the materials used, the skilled workman employed, and the many conveniences we have for manufacturing FIRST CLASS WORK, no house in the country can excel us in

STYLE, FINISH, DURABILITY AND

Low Prices.

We manufacture and Keep constantly on hand Harness of the Best Quality.
Repairing neatly Done at Short Notice
Send for Circular.
July 21 1-y

The Best Household Oil in the World!

C. WEST & SONS' ALADDIN SECURITY OIL.

Warranted 150 Degrees Fire Test

Endorsed by the Fire Insurance Companies,

Read the following certificate, selected from many others:

RALEIGH, N. C., December 28, '74.

MESSRS. C. WEST & SONS: Gentlemen—Having used the Aladdin Security Oil in this city for illuminating purposes, I take pleasure in recommending your "Aladdin Security Oil" as the safest and best ever used in our household.

Yours, truly,
(Signed) ANDREW REESE, Pres't.

GET IT WILL NOT EXPLODE.

Ask your Storekeeper for it

Wholesale Depot 113 115 W Lombard Street, Baltimore.
Sept 1-6m.

DR. D. E. EVERITT,

RALEIGH, N. C.

The undersigned, having permanently located in Raleigh, respectfully tenders his professional services to the practice of Dentistry, both Operative and Mechanical, to the citizens of Raleigh and the public.

Office rooms over Tasker's Store, same as recently occupied by Dr. Arrington.
Sept 15-tf

SCHEDULES.

PIEDMONT AIR-LINE RAILWAY.

RICHMOND & DANVILLE, RICHMOND & DANVILLE R. W., N. C. DIVISION, and NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. W.

CONDENSED TIME-TABLE.

In effect on and after Sunday, Sept. 19th, 1875.

GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Charlotte	9 5 P. M	5.45 A. M.
" Allenton	9 33 "	6.01 "
" Salisbury	10 3 "	6.34 "
" Greensboro	8 15 A. M	10 50 "
" Danville	6 08 "	1.12 P. M.
" Dardee	6.18 "	1.20 "
" Burkville	7 05 "	2 07 "
Arrive at Richmond	7 22 P. M.	3.4- "

GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Richmond	1.30 P. M	5.05 A. M.
" Burkville	4.52 "	8.30 "
" Dardee	10.31 "	2 14 P. M.
" Danville	5 39 "	2 47 P. M.
" Greensboro	8.00 A. M.	8.15 "
" Salisbury	7.32 "	8.25 "
" Allenton	8 05 "	8.43 "
Arrive at Charlotte	8.22 A M	8.43 "

GOING EAST.

STATIONS.	MAIL.
Leave Greensboro	3.00 A. M.	Arrive 1.45 A. M.
" Co. Shops	4.03 "	Leave 12.30 "
" Raleigh	6.35 "	8.10 P. M.
Arrive at Goldsboro	9.15 A M	Leave 5.00 "

GOING WEST.

	Mail.
Arrive 1.45 A. M.
Leave 12.30 "
8.10 P. M.
Leave 5.00 "

NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. R.

(SALEM BRANCH.)

Leave Greensboro	4.50 P. M.
Arrive at Salem	6.15 "
Leave Salem	8.40 A. M
Arrive at Greensboro	10.05 "

Passenger train leaving Raleigh at 5.10 P. M. connects at Greensboro with the Northern bound train, making no quicker time to all Northern cities. Prices of tickets same as via other routes.

Through tickets from points East of Greensboro connect at Greensboro with Mail Trains to or from points North or South.

Through baggage both ways.

Close connections, insuring Accommodation, are made at 9.00 A. M. at Burkville 4.55 P. M., arrive at Gill's 5.25 P. M.

No Change of Cars between Charlotte and Richmond, 282 Miles.

Papers and all late arrangements to advertise the schedule of this company can be procured there.

For further information address

S. E. ALLEN,
Gen'l Ticket Agent,
Greensboro, N. C.

T. M. R. TALBOTT,
Engineer & Gen'l Superintendent.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE

RALEIGH & GASTON RAILROAD CO.

On and after Friday, May 22nd, 1874, trains on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, will run daily (Sunday excepted), as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Leave Raleigh,	9.35 A. M.
Arrive at Weldon,	3.30 P. M.
Leave Weldon,	9.50 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh	3.45 P. M.

ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon,	5.15 P. M.
Leaves Weldon,	2.2- A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh	2.45 P. M.

Mail train makes close connection at Weldon, with the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad and Bay Line Steamers via Baltimore, to and from all points North, West and Northwest, and with Petersburg Railroad via Petersburg, Richmond and Washington City, to and from all points North and Northwest.

And at Raleigh with the North Carolina Railroad to and from all points South and Southwest, and with the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line to Haywood and Hamlet Depot, Carolina.

A. B. ANDREWS,
Gen. Supt.

RALEIGH & AUGUSTA AIR-LINE RAILROAD.

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 27th, 1875.

On and after Monday, October 25th, 1875, trains on the R. & A. A. L. Road will run daily, (Sundays excepted,) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Train leaves Raleigh,	4.00 P. M.
Arrives at Sanford,	6.25 "
Train leaves Sanford,	6.30 A. M
Arrives at Raleigh,	9.2- "

FREIGHT TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Sanford	10.35 A. M.
Leaves Sanford,	12.40 A. M
Arrives at Raleigh	3.50 P. M.

Mail Train makes close connection at Raleigh with the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, to and from all points South

And at Sanford with the Western Railroad to and from Fayetteville and points on Western Railroad.

A. B. ANDREWS,
Superintendent.

OFFICE SUPT. OF TRANSPORTATION,
Seaboard & Roanoke R. R. Co.,
Portsmouth, Va., Jan. 1st, 1875.

On and after this date, trains of this Road will leave Weldon daily, Sundays excepted, as follows:

All train at	1 P. M.
No. 1 Freight train at	4 A. M.
No. 2 Freight train at	2 A. M.

ARRIVE AT PORTSMOUTH.

Mail train at	7.15 P. M.
No 1 Freight at	12.00 Noon.
No 2 Freight at	4.00 P. M.

Freight trains have a passenger car attached.

Steamer for Edenton, Pigmouth and Landings on Blackwater and Chowan Rivers leave Franklin at 7.30 A. M on Mondays Wednesdays and Fridays.

E. G. GHIO,
Supt. Transportation.

MAJ. BEN. H. NEAL, President H. K. SALTON, Vice President. B. G. SMOOT, Secretary. A. D. MCLEOD, Assistant Secretary.

Old Dominion INSURANCE CO.

1113 MAIN ST., RICHMOND, VA.

Cash Assets over - - - $325,000.00
$10.000 Deposit in North Carolina.

Lawrence & Winston,

GENERAL AGENTS,

RALEIGH, N. C.

Sept 1-6w.

SCHOOL BOOKS

Of all descriptions constantly kept on hand at the lowest cash prices.

L. BRANSON,
Raleigh, N. C.

N. C. ALMANACS FOR 1876—

Now in course of preparation. Advertisements taken at reasonable rates. Send in your orders early.

L. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.

NEWS DEPOT—TAKE NOTICE

I am supplying all the best Newspapers and periodicals at the publishers' subscription rates. You can subscribe for 12 months, 6 months, or even one month.

L. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.

BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

Give me a trial before purchasing elsewhere.

L. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.
aug 25-tf

JOHN J. FRAY'S

English, Classical and Mathematical School,

14 miles S. E. of Raleigh and 4 miles from Clayton, a station on N. C. R. R. The seventeenth session begins Monday Sept. 13th 1875. Prepares boys and girls for College, or the active duties of life. Good board including fuel, lights and washing (no extras) only $13.50 per month. Refers to the faculty of the University of Va., Rev. B. T. Blake and to any of former patrons For circulars containing particulars &c. Address,

JOHN J. FRAY,
or A. F. MILL,
Raleigh N. C.

aug. 25-3 m.

THE CARY COTTON GIN.

Is still being manufactured at Cary, N. C., improved in some respect and warranted to give satisfaction or no trade if properly put to work. Those desiring further information send for Circular, &c. to

W. M. SORRELL,
Cary, N. C.

June 16-tf.

Agents Wanted. THE CENTENNIAL GAZETTEER of the UNITED STATES Shows the grand results of 100 years of Freedom and Progress. New and complete. Over 1000 pages. Illustrated. Everybody buys it, and agents make from $100 to $200 a month.

Address, J. C. McCURDY & CO., Philadelphia, Pa.
Sept 22 9t.

$200 a month. Agents wanted everywhere. Particulars sent free. Address J. WORTH & CO., St. Louis, Mo.
aug 4-12m.

DISSOLUTION.

The firm of WYATT, BINGHAM & CO. has this day been dissolved by mutual consent, L. R. WYATT having withdrawn.

All debts against the late firm of WYATT, BINGHAM & Co., will be settled as they come due. All indebted to the late firm will please come forward and make settlement.

B. L. BINGHAM & CO.

"NEWS" BUILDING, No. 6, MARTIN STREET
Raleigh, N. C.

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 26, 1874.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Having purchased the entire interest of Mr. L. R. WYATT, we shall continue the wholesale and retail

GROCERY, COTTON
AND COMMISSION BUSINESS,
At the Old Stand.

And will keep on all times a large assortment of

GROCERIES,
BAGGING and TIES,
SALT, NAILS,
FLOUR,
BACON,
ETC.

Which will be sold at the lowest market prices, and we will be glad to see our friends and customers. Thankful for past favors, we hope to merit a continuance of the same.

B. L. BINGHAM & CO.
sept. 1-tf.

SUI GENERIS.

MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.

UNEQUALED for speed and UNAPPROACHED critically

In capacity and excellence by any others. Awarded

THREE HIGHEST MEDALS AND DIPLOMA OF HONOR AT VIENNA, 1873; PARIS, 1867.

ONLY American Organs ever awarded any medal in Europe, or which present such extraordinary excellence as to command a wide sale there.

ALWAYS awarded highest premiums at Industrial Expositions, in America as well as Europe. Out of hundreds there have not been six in all where any other organs have been preferred.

BEST Declared by Eminent Musicians, in both Europe and America, to be unrivaled. See TESTIMONIAL CIRCULAR, with opinions of more than One Thousand (sent free).

INSIST on having a Mason & Hamlin. Do not take any other. Dealers get LARGER COMMISSIONS for selling inferior organs, and for this reason often try very hard to sell something else.

NEW STYLES with most important improvements ever made. New Combination Stops. Superb Solo and Chime Effects. New Equipments and other Cases of new designs.

PIANO-HARP CABINET ORGAN an exquisite combination of these instruments.

EASY PAYMENTS. Organs sold for cash; or for monthly or quarterly payments; or rented until rent pays for the organ.

CATALOGUES and Circulars, with full particulars, sent free. Address MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont Street, BOSTON, 25 Union Square, NEW YORK; or 80 & 82 Adams St., CHICAGO.

apl 14 1 year.

G. T. LEACH, N. Y. M. T. LEACH

Leach Brothers,

WHOLESALE GROCERS
AND
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

SOUTH-EAST CORNER MARKET SQUARE, Raleigh, N. C

Again we take great pleasure in presenting our card and returning thanks to the readers of the ADVOCATE for their very liberal patronage during the past four years, and offer them the largest and best bought stock of Groceries ever offered in any market south of Baltimore, and while just now Bacons, Sugars and Lard are very scarce and high, we have made extra efforts at cost and we have succeeded in bringing other goods equally low as I intend giving our friends all the advantage realized thereby to counter balance any advance in staples goods named.

We wish to invite especial attention to our elect stock of Stanee Shoes and Boots bought direct from the Factories and offered here AT FIRST PROFITS.

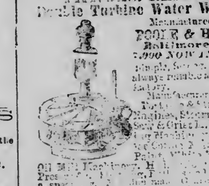
We have now in store:

300 Sacks Rio Coffees,
10 Mats old Government Java,
10 Bags A Sugar,
10 Bbls Ex C Sugar,
10 Bbls. & H Yellow Sugar,
20 Bbls Demerara,
20 Boxes Bulk Sides,
10 " " Shoulders,
20 Rolls English Sole,
1,000 lbs. G. H and Sole Leather,
100 Sides Upper Leather,
50 " Harness Leather,
100 Cases Oysters,
50 " Brandy Peaches,
5,000 Yds. Bagging,
Cotton Ties,
100 bbls. Extra Flour,
100 Kegs Assorted Nails,
50 Bbls Extra Flour,
50 Cases Forrester's Crackers,
" Sinai Crackers,
60 Boxes Factory and Dairy Cheese,
6,000 W. P. and G. D. Cut Cigs,
1 Nice Imported Horse and Mule Shoes,
200 lbs. Horse Shoe Nails,
2 Boxes Best Axes,
50 Boxes Adamantine Candles,
100 Boxes Laundry and Toilet Soaps.

We also would call especial attention to country and family trade and invite an examination of our stock and prices before purchasing elsewhere.

Oct 7 1-6m LEACH BROS

THE IMPROVED LEFFEL Double Turbine Water Wheel,



Manufactured by JAMES LEFFEL & CO. SPRINGFIELD, OHIO. JOHN T. NOYE & SON, BUFFALO, N. Y. JAMES LEFFEL & CO. 110 LIBERTY ST. NEW YORK.

Pamphlets, Price Lists, Discounts, Testimonials, &c., sent free on application to the manufacturers, JAMES LEFFEL & CO., Springfield, Ohio, or 110 Liberty St., New York.

Mention this paper. Dec 23-1y

PLEIS' FIT POWDERS.

These Powders have been tested by over 40,000 cases for the cure of Fits (Epilepsy), Spasms, Convulsions, St. Vitus' Dance, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Affections, some over 40 years' standing.

When you ORDER STATE AGE.

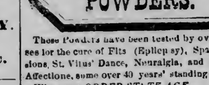
PRICE, $5 CENTS PER BOX, or sent to all parts of the United States for One Dollar per Box.—These Powders are prepared and sold only by the proprietor, to whom all orders must be addressed,

JOHN M. PLEIS, Jr.,
843 North Third street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Please mention that you saw this advertisement in THE CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE. mar 31-1y



THE LATEST, BEST, AND CHEAPEST
REVIVAL SONG BOOK,
By Rev. ASHBON COONS.

Forty Books Assorted. One Hundred New Pieces. Complete Edition 256 pages and 150 Songs, 25 cents; single copy, 30 cents per doz.

Musical Fruits 2- pages and 1-- Songs, 25 cents; by mail 30 cents per doz.

S. T. GORDON & SON, 13 East 14th St., New York. Sept 29-3t.

PROGRESS THE WATCHWORD

Merit and Success Hand in Hand.

BROOKLYN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

NO. 141 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

Assets- - - -$1,500,000.00

CHRISTIAN W. BOUCK, President.
D. P. FACKLER, Actuary.

WM. M. COLE, Secretary
DANIEL AYRES, M.D., L.L.D., Med. Dir'r

POLICIES VALUABLE IN LIFE, AS WELL AS AT DEATH!

The BROOKLYN LIFE is the only Company in America which guarantees

DEFINITE CASH SURRENDER VALUES,

In case a Policy is forfeited for non-payment of Premium

THE BROOKLYN LIFE enjoys the highest reputation for solidity, INVESTMENT, ECONOMY OF MANAGEMENT, AND CARE IN THE SELECTION OF RISKS—the elements of administration the security of a Life Insurance Company rest upon.

The laws of New York compel Companies in that State to calculate the cash value of Policies, each and every year, and in a certain legal standard of reserve and accumulation to be held by the Companies to meet all their liabilities

Insurers in looking around for Companies in which to insure, should carefully see to this important safeguard. IT WILL BE FOUND IN THE BROOKLYN LIFE

WM. LITTLE, M.D., MEDICAL EXAMINER

A. W. LAWRENCE,
General Agent for North Carolina,
Office at Raleigh.

may 18-tf

MOSELEY'S CONFECTIONERY
RALEIGH N. C.
Is the Place to Buy
French and Plain Candies,
Foreign and Domestic Fruits,
RAISINS, NUTS, etc.,
Fine Cigars, Smoking Tobacco, Chewing Tobacco, Fine Cut Chewing Tobacco, Fancy Good. Childrens Toys,
Carriages for the Little Folks,
CROQUET SET, BASE BALLS AND BATS, Marbles, Tops, and Kites,
All at MOSELEY'S

INSURE AGAINST FIRE!

In PESCUD & SON'S Agency, Raleigh, N. C.

Money and time saved to those who insure through us in the following strong and prompt Companies, viz; Home, N. Y. Georgia Home, N. C. Home, City Fire, Richmond, New Orleans, Amazon, Atlas, Hartford, Atlantic, New York, Firemans Fund, Cal., Penn of Philadelphia, Franklin of Philadelphia.

Extra inducements offered to all who want insurance on Cotton and Tobacco Factories, Mills, Gins, Farm property and dwellings and country stores.—Send for a blank application, instructions and forms to Pescud & Son Raleigh, N. C.

P. F. PESCUD. P. F. PESCUD, Jr.
Jan 20-tf

J. G. WILLIAMS, Pres't. S. C. WHITE, Cashier.
W. S. PRIMROSE, Asst'n Cashier.

NORTH CA

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Babbitt & Gray, Publishers. | Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina. | $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Vol. XXI.---No. 41. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, October 20, 1875. | Whole No. 1,079.

Selected Poetry.

Christian, Why Art Thou Fearful?

[illegible], why art thou fearful?
[illegible] Lord of all;
[illegible] heart be cheerful,
[illegible] to Him shall call.
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE—Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev J. B Bobbitt, R. T. Gray, Esq., } Editors.

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID,	$2.20
SIX MONTHS, " "	1.35
If payment be delayed six months,	2.70

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Editors of the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

RALEIGH, N. C., OCTOBER 20, 1875.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly.

The Lord Careth for His People.

God's people in all ages have felt the need of his tender and loving care. The prayer of David—"Hold thou me up, and I shall be safe," is but the prayer of all true believers. It implies moral weakness and perpetual exposure to evil and apostacy. Again the Psalmist prays, "keep back thy servant also from presumptuous sins—let them not have dominion over me," —clearly implying that a believer, left to the tendencies of his fallen nature, might become a prey to the worst sins. The Apostle Paul in addressing the converted Hebrews exhorts them most earnestly: "Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God." Here the truth of man's tendency to depart from God is set forth. But the language of God himself is yet stronger still in the establishment of this truth. He affirms, "my people are bent to backsliding from me," and "why is this people of Jerusalem slidden back by a perpetual backsliding?"—showing unmistakably that there is a constant, a perpetual tendency and proneness to evil doing. The sun rises, as we know, but to set; the clock is wound up but to run down; and not more natural is it for them thus to obey the laws that govern them, than for the heart of a child of God to follow the promptings of its corrupt and wayward nature.—There is, then, in every child of God, the innate principle of departure from right. But while this is true, it is also true that the Father of all mercies has never manifested in all his dealings with man anything but kindness and tender forbearance. He has blended kindness with all his rebukes, tenderness with all his chastisements, love and justice with all his dealings.

Nothing but the most infinite, tender and unchanging love of the blessed Master could prompt him to restore to fellowship the wandering believer. There is so much of base ingratitude, so much of deep turpitude in the sin of a believer's departure from the Lord, that but for the nature of Christ's love, there could be no possible hope of his return. This costly and beautiful love of Christ is seen in his taking the first step in the restoration of the soul—the first advance is on the part of the Lord. Man is, naturally, spiritually dead. There is no more self-recovery after, than there is before conversion. It is the work of Divinity. The same state of mind, the same principle that led to the first step in declension from God, leads on to each successive one, until but for restraining and restoring grace the soul would be forever shut out from God. But the expression of David: "The Lord restoreth my soul" is beautiful and comforting.

Nothing less than omnipotence can bring us back when we have wandered away from God. The same power that converted, must restore, or reconvert. The power that created, must recreate—this power Jesus alone possesses. It was essential to the full salvation of his church that he, and he alone, should be invested with this power.

This power is graciously exercised in the restoration of the soul. Jesus breaks down the hard heart, arrests the soul in its onward progress of departure from him; places upon it a powerful check, lays it low—humbles, abases it, requires confession of sin and faith in the sufficiency of his atoning sacrifice upon the cross.—Thus the returning backslider is brought into favor and friendship with the son of God. There is, perhaps, not a more striking exhibition of tenderness and loving kindness recorded in the word of God than that which is seen in the return of the prodigal son to his father's house.—"And when he was a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran and fell on his neck and kissed him." How many prodigals, wayward sons, in the church who, if they would but return with contrite spirits to their father's house, would be greeted with a 'holy kiss,' and received with open arms to the divine embrace of the king of kings and Lord of Lords!

We trust the preachers are doing what they can to circulate the ADVOCATE. It will not only benefit your people spiritually to read it, but it will aid you in your pastoral work.—It carries with it precious truths wherever it goes. Urge your people to take it. It is the organ of our Conference, and is largely dependent upon your influence and agency for existence. From all directions we receive words of encouragement and commendation. Surely if the proper efforts were made by all our preachers we should soon have ten thousand subscribers.

On Church Debts.

It is a pleasant thing to a community to have a pleasant, comfortable and elegant church building. Though God can be worshipped anywhere, in hut or palace, in field or forest, under the spreading canopy, of the sky, or deep down in caves and mines under the earth—wherever there are dependent creatures with joyous or grief-stricken hearts; and though worship when genuine is acceptable wherever offered, still we believe in erecting substantial and beautiful houses for the service of song, and prayer and praise. It is right that men should erect tasty and elegant structures for God when their means will justify the expenditure and when the edifices do not formalize religion and dampen its ardor. Neat church-buildings attract men to attend upon the preaching of the word, who otherwise might absent themselves from its influence. They, also, beget a commendable pride on the part of church members and give strength to the society which builds and supports them.

But, however desirable elegant and costly temples for the worship of the glorious Lord of the universe may be, it is both wrong and impolitic to erect them and leave them to groan under debts for which individuals or the church buildings themselves are held responsible. In some places, especially in cities, it is common to put the edifices under a heavy mortgage in order to build and furnish them in elegance, and then leave the debt for succeeding pastors and people to arrange and adjust. This course is unwise and ruinous to a congregation. People avoid joining a church in debt which they will be called upon to assist in paying, just as they avoid purchasing property in a city over which there hangs a debt to be cancelled by heavy taxation of its citizens. One does not fancy being made to any extent responsible for a debt which he has had no voice in contracting, and hence will shun the society which is lying under the oppressive incubus of indebtedness.

Moreover, a church debt always interferes with the success of church duties and enterprises. The congregation takes refuge behind it when an increase of the pastor's salary is proposed. The Missionary collections never overtake the assessments for missions because they are continually falling over the church debt which lies like a stumbling block in the way: charities are omitted and the poor of the church pine in their hunger and nakedness because the church must economize in order to "lift the mortgage." The debt, nevertheless, usually remains and is bequeathed to other generations; for if there is an obligation which people are slow to discharge, it is that incurred in the building of a church.

It is wrong to erect a church without paying for it, for it is not a christian act to incur a debt when the probability is that it will not be speedily and promptly discharged.—It is wrong and ungenerous to use and enjoy anything and leave to others the inconvenience and expense of paying for it. It is wrong, too, to subject the church to the odium which attaches to unpaid debts and to leave the cause of religion to languish in a community where fidelity to pledges is a gauge of honesty and morality.

It is, moreover, a mockery to offer a church to God when it is not owned by those who present the offering Bishop Marvin will not dedicate a building to the worship of God until the debt incurred in its erection is paid or arranged. And he is right. If God is worthy of the gift of a temple in which he may be worshiped, he is worthy of one which is free and unencumbered by debt—a thing which His word warns men to avoid. When we build churches we should pay for them with the same promptness which we observe in other matters; otherwise a new formula of dedication will be necessary, which would read, some one suggests, as follows:

"We dedicate this edifice to Thee, our Lord and Master; we give it Thee, and Thy cause and kingdom, subject to a mortgage of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($150,000). We bequeath it to our children and our children's children, as the greatest boon we can confer on them (subject to the mortgage aforesaid), and we trust that they will have the grace and the money to pay the interest and lift the mortgage. Preserve it from fire and foreclosure, we pray Thee, and make it abundantly useful to Thyself,—subject, of course, to the aforesaid mortgage."

We invite a careful reading of the article of Bro. Hudson on the celebration of the centennial of North Carolina Methodism, which appears in another column. We fully concur with him in the opinion that we, as a people, should commemorate our centennial. It will be remembered that early in the year Rev. R. S. Webb, of our Conference, directed attention to the fact that 1876 was the centennial of N. C. Methodism, and we are glad that brother Hudson has again introduced the subject, and we trust a committee will be appointed at our approaching Conference to take all necessary steps in arranging for the celebration next year.

We are pleased to learn that our church in Greensboro, under the pastoral care of Rev. W. H. Bobbitt, is enjoying a precious season of grace. The College, we learn, is sharing largely in the benefits of the revival.

Items.

Rev. Dr. Jones, the popular president of Greensboro Female College, was in the city last week. He favored us with a call on Thursday. He informs us that the College is enjoying a liberal patronage. The number of boarders the present session is in excess of any previous session, since the opening of the institution.

We were pleased to welcome into our sanctum during the past week, Rev. H. P. Cole, of Hillsboro Station; Rev. F. H. Wood, of Wilson Station; Rev. J. E. Thompson, of Cary circuit; Rev. C. C. Dodson, of Pittsboro, and Rev. J. P. Moore, the Presiding Elder of this District. Rev. H. H. Gibbons we met on the Fair grounds, and had a pleasant social chat with him.

Friends who send us notices of revivals, other items or communications, are reminded that their publication will be more certainly ensured and our convenience greatly promoted if they are written on sheets or slips of paper separate from those on which business matters are written. Items of interest injected in the midst of, or on same page with business matters, are apt to be overlooked. Please remember this suggestion.

We are indebted to the Managers for a Complimentary ticket to the Anniversary Celebration of the Columbian and Hesperian Societies at Trinity College on the evening of October 22d. The Presidents are T. M. Closs and W. D. Turner; Vice Presidents P. J. Kernodle and W. P. Ivy; Debators, J. P. Gibson J. E. Thompson G. S. Bradshaw, N. E. Coltrane, W. G. Bradshaw and J. H. Small jr.; Orators J. F. Tanner and L. S. Gaither; Managers A. P. Tyer, H. M. Barrow, E. T. White; Chief Marshal, W. L. Cuninggim.

Rev. E. W. Thompson, of Fayetteville Station, had a slight hemorrhage from the lungs recently which causes anxiety among his many friends, but which, we trust, will not be followed by other or more serious indications of danger. He feels that he is in need of rest, but is loth to put off the armor which he has borne so well, and will not do so unless absolute necessity arises. His pulpit was occupied Sunday before last by Rev. B. R. Hall, a recent graduate of Trinity, who will join the Conference at its approaching session. His sermons are good and strong, without effort at mere word adornment, but impressive and eloquent. Young in years, energetic and zealous, he gives promise of a life of usefulness to the Church.

Mr. Jno. M. Rose, of Fayetteville, is Secretary of the Fayetteville and Western Railroad, a staunch Presbyterian, the honored head of an interesting family; like the late Gov. Swain, knows something of almost every person in the State, and with other accomplishments is an excellent connoisseur and cultivator of grapes. On a recent visit to Fayetteville the writer, with a number of friends, had an opportunity of measuring his hospitality and the extent of his private grapery. Though late in the season, his Scuppernong vines were laden with their delicious fruit and other varieties abounded, to the edification of his guests. Our party was large, with appetites formidable, but the supply of hospitality and grapes was inexhaustible. We vote our host to be "a rose without a thorn."

Conference Blanks.

MESSRS EDITORS: The blanks ordered by the Conference for the pastors are ready and have been sent out to the Presiding Elders of each District for distribution. A few are left at the office of the Raleigh Christian Advocate to supply those who may visit Raleigh, and some are in my hands, so that the preachers may know where to get them. It is to be hoped that the pastors will have their reports on the blanks furnished and in the envelopes that have been prepared and sent out with them. I hope that all the preachers will make earnest efforts to secure the amounts apportioned to their respective charges for the superannuated preachers and the widows and orphans of deceased preachers, remembering that they may leave widows and orphans, and that they may be one day superannuated.

H. H. GIBBONS.

Franklinton N. C. Oct 15th, 1875

MESSRS EDITORS: The Conference at its last session passed a resolution, directing the Presiding Elders to take up collections on their Districts, (the Shelby District excepted, having paid its portion of the claim) to pay the missionary drafts for the year 1868, which remain unpaid, the payment of which the Conference assumed at its session in Statesville. The missionaries need the money very much to pay debts contracted upon the faith of their drafts, which remain yet unpaid. This subject has been up at the session of our Conference several times, and only a portion of the money has been collected to liquidate the claims. At the last session of the Conference, Dr. Closs generously promised to collect his portion of the amount on his District.

I hope the Presiding Elders will give this matter their attention, have the money collected, and fully pay off the drafts at the next Conference. The missionaries need it.

ONE OF THE NUMBER.

Shall North Carolina Methodism Celebrate Her Centennial Year?

When will that year be? It will be in 1876. Jesse Lee, in his "Short History of the Methodists," says "In 1776, on the 21st day of March, the fourth Conference was held in Baltimore. At that time there were 4 new circuits added—three of which were in Va., viz: Fairfax, Hanover and Pittsylvania. The other was called Carolina as it lay in the State of North Carolina." Next March then, 1876, will be exactly one hundred years since Methodism in her regular organized form began her illustrious race in the State. Bro. Webb, in the beginning of this year, referring to the propriety of holding the centennial, brought out some other evidence as to the fact, that next year would be the hundreth year of N. C. Methodism, which proof I need not quote here.—Dr. Stevens, the Historian of our Church, fixes the date at the same time with Jesse Lee. No more need be said on this point, but the main question comes up—Shall North Carolina Methodism commemorate her centennial year? Yes, by all means.—Why? In the first place, I remark, that the precedent of centennial celebrations has been set before us. In 1839, there was the famous centenary in England and America of Wesley's first conference. In 1866 the centennial of the founding of Methodism in New York was celebrated and made the occasion of securing enormous contributions for educational enterprises. It was a grand success in getting funds for colleges. Millions rolled out of the pockets of the people into the sublime work of church education. In 1873 Pennsylvania Methodism commemorated the hundredth anniversary of the meeting of the first Conference in America—the starting point of organized Methodism. Besides all this, this is an era of patriotic centennials. Mecklenburg has had hers in a brilliant way. The Northern people have had them by the dozen. Next year is to be the grand centennial of the nation at Philadelphia. The air is rife with the spirit of centennials. And it will be a most favorable time for the Methodists of N. C. to move in honor of their beloved Church.

In the second place, the early pioneers of N. C. Methodism deserve to be honored with a grand centennial. They were glorious spiritual heroes. Their quenchless zeal, their vehement oratory, their pathetic songs, their earnest prayers, their heroic sermons delivered in the field, in the barn, under the dripping arbor, laid the broad foundations on which the glory of the Methodist Church of the present day stands and rejoices in her splendid success. Are we willing to let these grand old warriors in the army of Christ die and be forever forgotten? Shall the world honor her heroes and crown them with centennial glory, and the Church leave hers neglected in forgotten graves? Surely not. But I cannot dwell here.

In the third place, the success of N. C. Methodism has been such as to deserve a commemorative centennial. Methodism started latest in the field, but she has overtaken her sister denominations. Yes, has passed the most of them, and now stands in the front rank of numerical strength, pulpit efficiency and educational success. It is the glory of Methodism that she has won her converts mainly from the ranks of the poor, the illiterate, the neglected, the wicked and the bottom of society, and has developed them out into fruitful manhood and pure character. No other church has such laurels on her head as the Methodist for having labored so much for the lowly in the first instance, and then elevated them to positions of honor and usefulness in Church and State. Such magnificent success ought to be crowned with centennial honors.

But I hasten on to say in the last place, that the observance of the centennial could be made the occasion of bringing in vast sums of money to aid our Colleges. These occasions have been made successful in this way in other places; why not in North Carolina? I have referred to the fact that the Northern Methodists reaped from such a field a most bountiful harvest of money in 1866. The Northern Baptists and Presbyterians also succeeded in raising school funds on the occasion of their centennials.

THE OBJECTS OF THE CENTENNIAL CONTRIBUTIONS.

Let us have four. Greensboro Female College, Trinity College, Davenport College, and the building a Metropolitan Church in Raleigh. I shall not now argue the merits of these enterprises, but simply suggest them. Let the appeal made in the various parts of the Conference be general, and let each donor put his contribution in an envelope, and write on it the name of the institution to which he desires it to go. This plan will harmonize all the parties to be enlisted in the centennial.

PLAN OF OPERATION,

1. Let each pastor preach a centennial sermon in his charge and take up a contribution.

2. Let there be one grand centennial in each District supervised by the Presiding Elder.

3. Let the great centennial be held at the Conference in 1876, on the first night of its session.

All this is, of course, merely suggestive. If we determine to go into it, a committee could be appointed at Conference to mature the most feasible plan of operation. I hope the brethren will speak out on this subject at once. I believe if the matter was properly managed, it would create a new and glorious era in the history of N. C. Methodism. It would relieve the spirit of our primitive fathers. It would unlock the streams of liberality that stand now as rivers frozen in the winter's cold. It would bring to light much valuable historical material. North Carolina Methodism is our spiritual mother. She stands at the last mile post of a hundred years' journey, surrounded with a hundred thousand hopeful children. Her form is still beautiful, her step is still elastic in the road of the Itinerancy, her eye still beams with the radiance of celestial fire, her bosom still heaves with fruitful harvests; let us deck her serene brow with the golden crown of liberal contributions and tender remembrance, and send her on into the second century all radiant with the hope of grander results.

H. T. HUDSON.

"Who Should pay the Preacher?"

"The answer to that is, 'EVERY BODY,' "The most solemn obligation rests upon every body to pay the preacher. Excuse yourself as you will; you are not exempt, sir. "I do not hear the preacher preach. That does not exempt you "I have to work for my living and the preacher is no better to work than I am." That does not exempt you. "The preacher fills his sermons will hell fire and damnation, and I do not like such preaching.' That does not exempt you. "The preacher is so cold in his sermons, that I always go to sleep." That does not exempt you. "Then what will exempt me?" Nothing, "Can you prove that." Yes, Sir. "Give me the proof."

THE CHRISTIAN MINISTER IS THE GREAT AGENCY FOR ALL GOOD.

Remove the Christian ministry from the world and you would effectually close the BIBLE. You would shut out the light of inspiration, blot the expectation of the poor and crush the hope of the righteous. The religion of the Bible as unfolded by the Christian ministry, is the song of the joyful, the comfort of the widow, the support of the orphan, and the solace of the dying. It gives peace to the troubled, strength to the weak, rest to the weary, wealth to the poor, light to the blind, wisdom to the ignorant, and life to the dead. It disarms the blood-thirsty assassin, stops the thief in his ruinous career, and makes the black-hearted seducer look with loathing upon the humbled object of his unholy lust. It makes a bad man good—it washes away his impurities in the fountain of redeeming grace. It changes a bedlam into a Paradise, and would make earth a heaven. It guides the youth, sustains the aged, cheers the living and supports the dying: for it gives "beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning: and the garments of praise for the spirit of heaviness." No other power or agency can accomplish these things "That will do to put you Christian people under obligation to pay the preacher; but I am a man of the world and draw my pleasures and happiness from other sources." Then, when the preacher is to be paid, you would say, "To what purpose is this waste?" Waste means useless expenditure. Then to pay the preacher is the "waste." NOT SO! As a man of the world you are under the highest obligation to pay the preacher.

The obligation to pay the preacher is based upon two distinct interests—THE SPIRITUAL. THE TEMPORAL.

You discard the spiritual, and base your obligation on the temporal. Well, the temporal fixes the obligation on every person, whether he is a Church-member or not.

Now, this principle is true and underlies every temporal obligation, viz: Temporal obligation is based upon valuable consideration. Valuable consideration is that the temporal interest is benefitted in some way by the act.

That the estate, or property of society is benefitted by the existence, labors and sacrifices of the Christian ministry is a truth patent to every intelligent man and woman, and it is susceptible of the clearest logical conclusion. The value of property is found in these two circumstances:—First, ITS USES, SECOND, THE PERPETUITY OF ITS POSSESSION. Its usefulness is in its promoting the pleasure or interest of its owner; as a horse, a farm, merchandise. The perpetuity of its possession depends upon the character and the stability of the government under which the property is held. The character, and the stability of the government depend essentially upon the character of the Religion of the people.

B. ELLET.

Oypas Grove, N. C. Oct, 1875.

Conference Notice.

Ministers who expect to attend the approaching session of our Conference, in this city, for admission or ordination; and members of the Conference, whose wives will be in attendance, will please notify me, by letter, immediately, that homes may be provided for them.

J. E. MANN.

Wilmington N. C. Oct. 14th 1875.

MESSRS EDITORS: I furnished the facts for my brother M. L. Smith's obituary, written by Dr. C. F. Deems. I am responsible for the error which was corrected by Rev. R. L. Abernethy.

Respectfully,

T. C. SMITH.

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 12th 1875.

News from the Churches.

Rev. J. P. Simpson writing under date of Oct. 11th says: "The revival influence on our Circuit continues. Fifteen more souls have been recently added to our church."

Rev. J. W. North writes Oct 14th: "We have had a gracious revival at E. Bethel on this the Shelby circuit.—There were 21 conversions and 13 accessions, and the membership was greatly revived. The circuit generally is 'looking up.'"

Rev. R. P. Bibb writing from Mt. Olive, Oct 9th, says: "We have had good times on my circuit. We have received valuable additions to our church. I will write you more fully at another time. I have several meetings to hold yet, at which we are looking for prosperity."

Rev. Solomon Pool, writing from Chapel Hill, under date of Oct. 13th says: "We are in the midst of a gracious revival. Bro. W. H. Moore, our pastor, has labored faithfully and successfully in it for more than a week, and is still protracting. We have had some bright conversions and there are still several penitents at the altar. The church has been greatly blessed."

Rev. J. H. Grimo, writing from Wadesboro under date of Oct 13th, says: We have just closed our round of protracted meetings. We have held two since I wrote last, one at Sandy Plains which resulted in 32 conversions and one at Union, at which place we had 18 conversions. We have had 182 conversions and about 150 accessions thus far. I think we will bring up all the financial interests of the church."

Rev. E. J. Endaily writing from Madison says: The Lord is reviving his work in our section of the country. I held a meeting at a place on the line between the Stokes and Madison circuits, called Davis' Chapel, which commenced on the 5th Sunday in August. This is an entirely new place for preaching, though in the midst of a large and populous neighborhood. Our meeting continued five days. We had a glorious time. The spirit of the Lord was present in all his convicting and converting power. Sinners were cut to the heart and constrained to say what must we do to be saved? Christians were made happy and a most powerful influence exerted for good on the whole region of country around. The results of the meeting were 13 conversions and 14 accessions to the church. We organized a society of 20 or 22 members. Also, a subscription was raised and something near $100 pledged to build a new church. Bro. Scroggs, of Stokes circuit, was with me several days, and rendered most efficient service. Also, Bro. E. L. Stacey, preached once. A remarkable thing about this meeting was that every convert joined our church."

Rev. W. D. Lee, writing from Pineville, Oct. 6th. says: "Please report the result of our eleven days meeting at Harrison's on the Pineville ct. as follows: Forty eight applications for membership, quite a number of whom professed to have realized a sense of pardoned sin; and a general revival among us. Our Presiding Elder preached for us once; J. M. Boyd of the S. C. Conference, five times; W. S. Haltom, three times; and a young local Bro. Elington, once. This last named Bro. is a marvellous preacher. Not educated, does not pronounce very well, reads hymns rather awkwardly, exhibits no special marks of a genius either in physical feature or social conversation, but if the sermon which he preached for us is a true index of the man, then I risk nothing in saying, he has no equal among us. I have not heard a sermon from any man in our District that would compare with that. I am not the man that deals in 'puffs' nor am I in a hurry. Let us wait and see.

This is a pleasant little field of labor. When I came here last year I found two church edifices and one hundred and eighty-five members. To these we have added one church building and about one hundred and ten members. There is still room for growth in grace and good works, and if the good Lord shall continue to bless us as He has done the last two years it will be but a little while till the Bishop may send a first class preacher to this people who in other days were accustomed to listen to such men as Claudius Pritchard, Wm. Barringer and James Stacey. They are worthy of a strong preacher. They know how to bear with the weak."

The missions of the Reformed Church are carried on in China at Amoy, in India in the Arcot district, in Japan at Yokohama and Yedo. There are 11 stations, 15 missionaries, 19 assistant missionaries, 6 native minister, 55 catechists and Bible readers, 36 school teachers, 25 churches and 1, 269 communicants. The missionary physicians treated 11,304 patients during 1874.

A well attended conference on Christian literature was held at Allahabad on the twenty fourth and twenty fifth of February, to consider what steps should be taken for increasing the supply of Urdu and Hindi Christian literature. The various tract, Bible, mission and publishing societies were represented.

Religious Intelligence.

The Bishop of Manchester has emphatically set his veto on raffling at religious fairs in England.

Negotiations between Russia and the Vatican in relation to the Russian Catholic Church have been abandoned for the present.

The Arabs made an attack on the England Palestine exploration party recently, near Acre, wounding the leader, Lieut. Conder.

The Pope has written a letter to the Archbishop of Naples, anathematizing the new organization known as the National Catholic Church.

The Bible Society has manufactured during the year, at the Bible House, New York, 742,366 copies of the Scriptures, and its issues during the fifty nine years of its existence amount to the portly number of 31,893, 332.

At two cents a week, the Woman's Baptist Missionary Society raised during the past year fifty thousand dollars.

A convention representing the Sunday Schools of Virginia, of all Protestant churches, met in Broad Street Methodist Church, Richmond, on the 6th inst.

Rev. J. J. Lafferty of the Richmond Advocate has been afflicted recently by the loss of two little children—a boy and girl.

A preacher in Holland called the Sabbath "God's dyke, shutting out an ocean of evils."

Thirteen thousand pupils have attended the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, under the direction of Dr. Eben Tourjee, since it was first established.

Among the contributions to Wesleyan missions acknowledged by the Parent Society is one of $1,200 from a son of the "Successful Merchant."

Another Protestant church has been opened in Mexico, the Methodists having secured a neat and convenient chapel in the old city of Puebla, and dedicated it without disturbance.

It has been suspected that Commodore Vanderbilt would aid handsomely in the erection of a tabernacle for Moody and Sankey, if invited to do so. He has been slightly interviewed about it.

The now famous maxim, "in necessary things unity, in doubtful things liberty, in all things charity," is one that Richard Baxter dug out of an obscure German treatise by Rupert Meldenius, on the peace of the Church.

In St. Petersburg a society of ladies has renounced the use of silk dresses, and every other kind of expensive attire, in order to employ the money so saved in the education of poor orphans.

In the course of an address lately delivered by Cardinal Manning, he stated his belief that nothing but the intervention of the "blessed and immaculate Mother" saved France from destruction at the hands of the Germans.

The London Watchman contains the following: "The Italo-American Methodists in Rome have just paid a large sum for a very eligible plot of building ground on the Plazzi Poli, next to the Church of the Crocifferi, upon which they propose to build a chapel. There will be only a partition wall between the Roman and the Methodist churches."

At the recent London Presbyterian council the Welsh Calvinistic Methodists were among the brethren acknowledged heartily as worthy a place in the Alliance. Their moderator, Rev. J. Williams, spoke for them, and said that they "had one hundred thousand members, and a thousand churches, and a very great debt—the debt being significant of activity."

Dean Stanley has done another unconventional thing in inviting the Pan Presbyterian Synod to visit and go over the Jerusalem Chamber. The dean did not fail to point out the reason of this act of liberality. It was in that chamber that Presbyterian divines of 1645 sat and drew up the Westminster Confession, which is to this day the standard of Presbyterian orthodoxy.

Personal Mention.

Col. R. T. Bennett, of Anson, donated the money he received as mileage to and from the Convention, to the county authorities.

Judge McKinney, of the Supreme Court of Tennessee, died at Knoxville on the 9th inst.

Gen. Joe E. Johnston will be present at the unveiling of Stonewall Jackson's statue in Richmond on the 26th inst.

Alexander Stephens, of Georgia, is seriously ill.

Gen. Grant's fortune is estimated at $1.000.000. In 1800 it was less than $750 a year.

THE CONVENTION.—This body, after a session of 31 working days, adjourned on the 11th inst, having accomplished much wise and beneficial legislation. The amendments proposed will be submitted to the people for their adoption or rejection, in November 1876. Next week we will give an abstract of the amendments proposed by the Convention.

TURNER'S N. C. ALMANAC.—We have received from Jas. H. Enniss, Esq. Bookseller Raleigh N. C. a copy of his valuable annual Almanac. It has been enlarged to 64 pages and is replete with interesting information, statistics, recipes &c. &c. It is published by Jas. H. Enniss, Esq. Price 10 cents.

Col. P. Donan, formerly editor of the "Metropolitan Record," New York, and later of the Lexington (Ky) "Caucasian," has become sole editor of the Raleigh Sentinel. The Metropolitan Record was the organ of the N. Y. Democracy and was conducted with marked ability by Col. Donan; while the Caucasian, under his control, achieved a national reputation for the vigor and pungency of its scathing editorials. We welcome him to the North Carolina press brotherhood, and trust his connection with it will be permanent.

The State Fair.

The Fair commenced on Tuesday morning, Gov. Brogden formally inaugurating it by a speech at 11 o'clock. The attendance this day was not large, as exhibitors were principally engaged in arranging their articles. A good number Monday night served to lay the dust and during the whole week the great dusty roads leading to them were in excellent condition. On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday the attendance was very large—especially on Thursday when the crowd was estimated at from 10 000 to 15,000. Every part of the State was represented by the products of its industries and by its noble men and fair women. The Commodious Grand Stand was nicely crowded, as also Floral Hall and the other departments. Upon the whole, the Fair was an eminent success, surpassing all that have been held heretofore. The gambling schemes that disgraced the Grounds and brought grief to many "innocents abroad" last year were noticeably absent, and the MORALE of the Fair was good.

EXHIBITIONS.

The exhibitions were of the highest order. In Farmer's Hall the display was good. Fair specimens of garden vegetables, cereals etc etc. attracted the eye. In the General Exhibition Hall were also fine displays. Creech, the Turners, Gully and others had attractive displays of goods. E. L. Harris, of Granville, a mere youth, exhibited specimens of crayon drawings which evince high artistic talent. In Mechanic's Hall, E. H. Briggs & Sons, Julius Lewis, C. A. Hall, Brewster and Lumsden had elegantly arranged displays of hardware and cutlery. Mr. Harp and others also exhibited the buggies, phætons &c. &c.

Mr. Shultz, of Salem, exhibited over 50 specimens home-made furniture from his Salem establishment.

In Machinery Hall the exhibition was more than usually extensive and attractive. Several Northern Machine works had engines and machines on exhibition. McCallum, Wyckoff & Hope of this city, George Allen of Newbern, and other machinists contributed their machinatures to the display. J. B Farrar, of W. M. Sorrell of Cary, L. C. Hance, of Lexington also exhibited machines which they are inventors or agents.

The display of horses and other stock, poultry &c. was also attractive. In a side tent on the grounds was a repulsive 1600 pound hog from Franklin county, which the exhibitor (not having entered the hog for a premium, but only as a "show") revealed to wondering eyes at the moderate charge of 10 cents a leg. His swineship was huge, but we doubt the statement emblazoned on a canvas front of the tent—"1600 pounds"—was much larger than the hog itself. It is said some one offered $1 a pound—but—for a sight of the scales that made the hog's weight as alleged.

The Military display was also good. The cadets of the Bingham School presented a fine appearance and by their excellent drilling elicited the highest encomiums from men acquainted with military science, and by their gentlemanly bearing during their stay in Raleigh won the esteem of all who observed it. Maj. Bingham and the friends of the renowned "Bingham School" may well be proud of the laurels which the cadets have won "in the hall and on the sward." The Raleigh Light Infantry, Capt. Basil Manly commanding, was the only volunteer company on parade. The company sustained itself admirably as by its difficult evolutions and the fine appearance of its officers and men won the admiration of the people.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Mr. Jasper Davis, a well known citizen of Stokes county is dead. Also, M. Tyre Glenn, of Yadkin county, a prominent and wealthy man, father of Hon. W. B. Glenn and Mrs. Judge Settle.

An enthusiastic meeting was held in Mt. Airy looking to the building of a narrow gauge railroad from that point to Greensboro. The Visitor says that two months work will be commenced.

The house of Isaac Armfield, in Surry county, was entered by a burglar and a sum of $80 and a fine suit of clothes stolen therefrom.

Sydney Burnett, a negro charged with the murder of another at Prospect Hill last August, was acquitted on his trial.

Isaac Stubbs, the negro who killed Mr. Warters, near Kinston, two weeks ago, has surrendered himself to the Sheriff of Lenoir county.

The colored lecturess, purporting to be a resident of Hayti, who lectured in Goldsboro, Charlotte, Statesville and other points, is now in Morganton, charged with brutal treatment of a child. She was unable to pay a fine of $5 or refused to do so, and was jailed.

The Patriot says a lady of Greensboro has recently been presented with a diamond, in the rough, worth $5,000.

The Synod of the Presbyterian Church in this State met at Greensboro last week. Rev. J. Rumple, of Salisbury, preached the opening sermon.

Aleck Morehead, colored, fell on a pitchfork loaded of hay upon a pitch-fork and received wounds from which he died to-day.

The commissioners of the Western N. C. Railroad have made arrangements with 350 penitentiary convicts to work on the road.

There will be no court held for Surry County, during the first week of the term, Judge Cloud being a witness in the Iredell court which will be in session at the same time.

The Winston Sentinel says there will be eight or ten new tobacco factories in operation in Winston by next year, making about fourteen in all.

The Salem PRESS conveys the following intelligence that "a cannon ball shot into the signboard at the old Shepherd place a mile below town" on the 9th inst. The sign-board has our sympathies.

Gov. Brogden last week accepted the tender of the services of the Tarboro Independent Light Infantry, Capt. Lee, to the Philadelphia Centennial. It is the oldest Military Company in the State, and the second oldest in the United States, the Boston Light Infantry being the only company in the U. S. that is older.

We learn from the "Robesonian" that John W Lamb, the lad who killed his father in Columbus county some time since, was tried at Robeson Court last week, found guilty and sentenced to be hanged, but was granted a new trial by the Supreme Court on a question of law.

The Hon. A. M. Waddell has written two interesting letters to the Wilmington papers on the financial condition which he takes the ground that the Republican party in the last Legislature passed the act proposing to compromise the payment on the first of July next for the purpose of carrying it into effect when the Democratic party when it shall come into power.

The Convention has carried out the expectation that it would be a body of retrenchment. It has reduced the number of Supreme Court Judges, thereby saving thereby $5,000. It has reduced the number of Superior Court Judges, thereby saving thereby $7,200. It has reduced the pay of the members of the Legislature to $4 per day and limited the session to thirty days, thereby saving from $30,000 to $40,000 a session.

The ordinance which provides for a convention on Wednesday, abolishes the Magistrates of juri-dictions created by present law, and leaving the matter of arranging their jurisdiction to the action of the Legislature, is a very important measure of relief to the State. It gives the Legislature power to discontinue and apply remedies where needed.

RALEIGH NEWS.

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING. TERMS $2.50 POSTAGE PAID.

Our Agents.

The travelling and local preachers in the bounds of this Annual Conference are our authorized agents. Any person sending us ten subscribers, for one year, will receive the paper free.

Our Correspondents.

Communications for publication should be carefully written, and on one side of the sheet. All letters and articles intended for the paper must be addressed to the Editor.

How to Remit.

In sending money, all amounts should be sent in registered letter, post office order or check. The cost of registration, or Post Office order can be deducted from the amount to be remitted. If money is sent otherwise than as above specified it will be at the sender's risk.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

An Outfit Free—

Glow & Mum—Brightest and Best.

J. W. Hinsdale, formerly of Fayetteville, has removed to Raleigh, where he will practice the profession of his profession. Col. Hinsdale is an able lawyer and will give strict and faithful attention to business entrusted to his care.

General News.

In consequence of the Colorado State Fair being held as Boulder, Sept. 20th.

The Republicans of Massachusetts have nominated Alexander H. Rice for Governor.

Secretaries of the Treasury Department are to attend Gen. Spinner with a magnificent

A case in this city has been recently decided by the Chief Justice in Germany that a priest has no right to marry.

Statistics show that the persons nominated for the offices of Postmaster in Iowa this year are women.

Prof. W. Bennett of Syracuse University, has returned from Europe with six thousand volumes for the university library.

Two counterfeit books have been attached to the Treasury office. The safes are in the same case with the business hours.

The Bank of California was reopened on Monday. The deposits on the day of opening would be counted by a quarter of a million dollars.

Mr. Conkling, being convinced that John Quincy Adams's many memorials in favor of slavery deserve memorials in Westminster Abbey, has arranged to introduce them, and at his own expense.

A paper out of the State of New York is called Manhattan Island holds 1,249,000 souls.

The Bible is published a year by the American Bible Society, one of the oldest institutions in the country.

The second Bible, one of the oldest in Virginia, is for sale.

A Vatican congress, with delegates from all parts of the world, will be held in London, Eng.

Two hundred beautiful women from Europe are to be at Vienna, and among them one of Lord Beaconsfield's best critics.

Queen Victoria offered a man some years ago a cottage on Mount Pleasant, but has just refused a handsome bedding.

It appears the Queen recently asked Marshal MacMahon if one might pass twenty-four hours in Paris and the Marshal replied

The Governor of the American State of Colorado has called out the militia to keep Indians from attacking the United States troops, who are retaliating hostile Indians.

Two large cotton barns were burned in Columbus, Miss., last week by the generation of spontaneous combustion, a peculiar atmospheric phenomenon.

Settle.

Queen Victoria's youngest son, Prince Leopold, has joined the temperance movement, and is now President of the Oxford University branch of England Temperance Society.

Fifty-four thousand crates of peaches per week are shipped from New York in a box, arranged on the Allegretti refrigerating plan. It is said the fruit being delivered in England is in fine condition, and eagerly purchased.

Mr. James Lick has settled upon Mount Hamilton, in Santa Clara county, as a desirable site to build the California Observatory, and has ordered a larger telescope in Europe than any now in existence, and will present it to the State.

Marriages.

Married on the 9th inst. by Rev. H. T. Hudson at the residence of Mr A. J. Bynum on the Cape, Mr John A. Ware of Shelby and Miss Ida H. Hedgecock of Pittsboro, N. C.

Married on the 11th inst. at Golf Hill, N. C. by the Rev. M. V. Sherrill, Mr. Matthew Reynolds and Miss Sarah Alice Sparnell.

Deaths.

Obituary notices of twenty lines are inserted free of charge. The excess over twenty lines and four words is charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line. Count the lines and seven words to the line. In this way you always know the amount to enclose. Resolutions of respect are subject to the same rule.

Mrs. Emeline Redmond, wife of James M. Redmond and the daughter of Edmond Pearce Esq. of Montgomery county, died the 19th inst. 1875.

Sister Dobson was a member of the M. E. Church, South, nearly one years. Her health began declining for a number of years, but her meaning to keep her house in order to the final end. Tho' her health was very declining, yet her death was sudden no one thought her end was so near. The morning of the day she died she was as well from her bed, but was in a few hours after stricken with Paralysis; gave no intelligent utterance. Afterwards the several times made an effort to speak to her husband and children, but sunk into a never-ending sleep, and she doubtless rested from the labors of this life, to rest in the shadows of the Almighty, in the bosom of God. A little infant of a few weeks old since followed her to her rest. Let all tears be wiped away at the filling of such graves.

T. A. BOONE.

Died in Northampton N. C. Oct 2nd 1875. Infant child of K. K. and Mary S. Gregory age 13 months.

A little flower that bloomed awhile,
And died from our sight;
And passed beyond the bounds of earth,
To bloom in heavenly light.

He came to bless and cheer awhile,
Our hearts and make them glad;
Then vanished to rover from our view,
And left them drear and sad.

We know to us he was not given,
But as a fragile flower lent,
To draw our hearts to God and heaven,
This sorrow was in mercy sent.

In that far land of glory,
Where thy angel spirit dwells;
We hope to meet them and sing praises,
To him who doeth all things well.

MISS N. G.

Dr. L. the 24th of Jan. last, A. G. McLeod, among one more from home while engaged at his work, aged about fifty years. Our brother was called away suddenly, but he died at his post, he fell in the arms of Jesus, and is gone to his labor to reward. In his death the church has lost one of its faithful members. He was a loving member of the M. E. Church, and was always found at his post. He left to mourn their loss a kind and affectionate wife and one little daughter, with many friends, brethren and sisters. Our brother is gone we can't return, but we will soon follow him.

D. B. McLEOD.

In Golf Hill N. C. on the 9th inst, Ruby Hector, infant daughter of Henry Williams, aged 12 months and 17 days.

M. Y. SHERRILL.

Died in Smithfield, Oct. 8th 1875. Robert Paine, son of Rev. J. F. and Virginia H. Sumnot, aged eight months and seven days. "What I do thou knowest not now, but thou shalt know hereafter." O, blessed Jesus, heal our bleeding hearts and cheer us on to heaven!

FATHER AND MOTHER.

Brother Robert H. Abernethy of Cleveland county N. C. has passed over to the home and society of the blessed. He was born Nov 11th 1808, and died, Oct. 3rd 1875. He was for many years a member of the M. E. Church South, and served long and faithfully in the capacity of steward. The nature of his last illness prevented a dying testimony, but the epistle of a well spent life, is known and read of all who knew him; warranting the hope that he has entered into the joys of his Lord. May his bereaved wife and son follow him, as he followed Christ, and by a life of faith and patience, seek a reunion with him, "on the land which is very far off."

JNO. W. NORTH.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT TO THE MEMORY OF REV. CORNELIUS COSONS PASSED BY THE NORTH GUILFORD QUARTERLY CONFERENCE AT MUIRK'S CHAPELL, SEPTEMBER 1875.

Rev. Cornelius Cosons came among us a few years as a local preacher from Canada, and joined this Quarterly Conference and labored as we believe faithfully to promote the cause of God among us, and by an all wise Providence he has lately been taken from us.

Resolved 1st, That while we bow submissively to the Master's will in removing him from us by death, we sincerely mourn his loss.

Resolved 2nd. That we rejoice to learn that he died in great peace and trust he has gone to everlasting rest.

Resolved 3rd, That this tribute of respect to his memory be published in the Raleigh Christian Advocate and that a copy of the same be sent to his family.

Nashville Advocate please copy.

S. H. BELSAMECK.
C. W. H. SMITH.
E. F. SHELER.

Letters and Funds.

Rev W D Lee, S W H Smith, Rev R P Ribb, J C Blocker sell $4.40, Rev C W King, Rev J S Smoot W A Betts, Rev J P Simpson for Miss Mary C Beaman 2.20, Rev E J Endaily, Rev J T Harris for H M Rhyne 2.20, M H Wincoff sell 2 20, Rev W H Harriss, N W Ayer & Son, Rev J W Randle, P W Ziegler & Co. S P Tharp sell 2 10, Rev L Culbreth papers changed, W D Rounsres sell 2.20, Rev C C Dodson for J P Boon 2.20, H G Steadman 60 cts, T C Smith, T C W Beshauer Miss M McAllister sell 2 20, Rev W V Sherrill, Rev Dr E H Myers, L S Burnett sell 2.20 Mrs M Harrelson sell 2.20, Rev M O Sherrill Rev S Pool sell 2.20, D B McLeod, Rev T A Boone paper sent, Bigbow & Main, J H Cornelius paper changed, J T Ledbrand sell 2,20, Rev J P Simpson, J A Snyder, Rev F H Wood for Miss M E Bareloot 3.45. Rev H P Cole for J W Rousou 2 20 Rev R S Webb for subs J W J Parker for R Mebride 60 cts. 1, Peterson 60 cts. H C Andrews sell 60 cts. Rev J A Gumm for subs 5,00 Rev T J Harriss Rev T S Campbell Rev S E Mann Rev P F W Stamey T E Robberts sell 2.25 M J Leverett sell 2 25 Rev J W North Rev J R Griffi n Rev H H Gibbons Rev J H Gumm Rev J Tillett paper sent

Appointments.

GREENSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Vinston,	Oct	2 3
Wentworth at Reidsville	"	9 10
Greensboro.	"	16-17
Randolph at Union Factory,	"	23 24
Stokes,	"	30 31
Davidson at Lexington	Nov.	6 7
Madison, Madison,	"	13-14
South Guilford, Franklinville,	"	20 21
Forsyth, Tabor,	"	27-28

N. H. D. WILSON, P. E.
Greensboro, N. C.

SALISBURY DISTRICT.
FOURTH ROUND.

Yadkinville ct	Oct.	2- 3
Mooresville ct	"	9-10
Mocksville ct	"	16-17
Alexander ct	"	23-24
Surry ct & Saurston Miss.	"	30 31
Mt Airy station	Nov.	6- 7
Wilkes ct	"	13-14
Salisbury ct	"	20-21
Iredell ct	"	27-28

D. R. BRITON, P. E.
Statesville, N. C.

WASHINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND IN PART.

Matthews-keet,	Oct.	16 17
Bath,	"	23-24
Plymouth & Jamesville,	"	30 31
Columbia,	Nov.	6- 7
Williamston,	"	13-14
Warren,	"	20-21
Roanoke,	"	27-28

The brethren of Cape Hatteras will please meet me at Swan Quarter the 28th of Sept. prepared to take me across the Sound the 29th, and the Preacher in charge will arrange for me to preach and administer the communion at all of the five appointments on his circuit.

The Preacher in charge of Portsmouth and Ocracoke will arrange for me to divide the six days allotted to that charge between Portsmouth and Ocracoke as he may think best so that I may preach and administer the communion at both places. The brethren of that charge will be relied upon to return me to Swan Quarter or some point on Matthews-keet.

WILLIAM CLOSS, P. E.

RALEIGH DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND, Q. M.

Henderson at Henderson,	Oct.	2- 3
Rolesville at Rolesville,	"	9-10
R. M. and Nashville,	"	16-17
Cary,	"	23-24
Raleigh Edenton st,	"	30-31
Youngville,	Nov.	6- 7
Smithfield,	"	13-14

J. P. MOORE, P. E.
Warrenton, N. C.

CHARLOTTE DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Albemarle at Bethel,	Oct.	- 1
Stanley ct. at Rehoboth,	"	2- 3
Monroe ct. at Prospect.	"	9-10
Lilesville,	"	14-15
Wadesboro at Bethel,	"	16-17
Concord sta and ct,	"	23-24
Pleasant Grove ct	"	30-31
Tryon st, and Calvary Miss.	Nov.	6- 7
Thomasville ct.	"	13-14
Mt Pleasant ct Bethel,	"	20-21
Wadesboro sta,	"	27-28

J. S. NELSON, P. E.
Monroe, N. C.

FAYETTEVILLE DISTRICT.
4TH. ROUND.

Uwharrie Poplar Spring, C M,	Oct.	3- 4
Jonesboro, Poplar Spring,	"	9-10
Laurinburg	"	16-17
Robeson,	"	23-24
Cumberland, Rockfish,	"	30 31
Rockingham, Zion,	Nov.	6- 7
See Doe, Hebron,	"	13-14
Buckhorn, Cokesbury,	"	20-21
Fayetteville,	"	27-28

Camp meetings will be held in connection with the Quarterly Meetings on Carthage, Montgomery and Uwharrie circuits.

Brethren in the ministry are invited to attend.

S. D. ADAMS, P. E.
Carthage N. C.

HILLSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Deep River Maroney's,	Oct.	2- 3
Yanceyville Prospect,	"	9 10
Leasburg,	"	30 31
Person Bailey's,	Nov.	6- 7
Flat River Pleasant Green,	"	13-14
Hillsboro sta,	"	20-21

L. L. HENDREN, P. E.
Chapel Hill N. C.

SHELBY DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Double Shoals, Union (C M)	Oct.	2- 3
South Fork, Wesley Chapel (C M)	"	9-10
Cherry Mt. Rock Spring (C M)	"	9-10
Shelby station,	"	13-14
Shelby ct. Sharon (C M)	"	16 17
Rutherford, Pisgah	"	23-24
Marion,	"	27-28
Morganton,	"	30 31
Lenoir,	Nov.	6 7
Happy Home,	"	13-14
Newton, Concord	"	20 21
Rock Spring.	"	27-28

Camp-meetings will begin Friday evening and close on Wednesday morning. Let the Ministers and Stewards labor earnestly to bring up all the finances. Three-fourths of the ecclesiastical year has passed away and only about one-fourth of our salaries has been paid! Dear Brethren, shall those who preach the gospel to you be sent away, unpaid? God's blessings will be in proportion to your faithfulness in His service.

R. G. BARRETT, P. E.
Lincolnton, N. C

WILMINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Magnolia, Salem,	Oct.	2-- 3
Onslow, Tabernacle,	"	8-10
Topsail, Rocky Point,	"	16-17
Whiteville, Shiloh,	"	23-24
Bladen, and Cape Fear Miss. } Windsor,	"	30-31
Wilmington Front Street,	Nov.	6- 7
Smithville,	"	13.14
Clinton, McGee,	"	20.21
Elizabeth, Wayman,	"	27--28
Wilmington 5th st.	"	30

W. S. BLACK, P. E.
Magnolia N. C

NEWBERN DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Newberne,	Oct.	2-- 3
Jones, at Lee's, Mon. & Tues,	"	4- 5
Carteret, at Harlowe's,	"	9-10
Wayne, at Fremont, (Ded of Ch'rch)	"	16-17
Craven. Wed, & Thurs.	"	20-21
Snow Hill, Snow Hill,	"	23-24
Neuse & S. Creek, Aurora.	"	30-31
Mt Olive, n. Mt. Olive,	Nov.	6- 7
Wilson	"	13-14
Goldsboro,	"	20-21

E. A. YATES, P. E.
Beaufort N C.

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

WHOLESALE CASH PRICES.

Office of CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE. October 6, 1875.

REMARKS.

Business greatly improved. Country produce offered in quantities; especially in exchange for groceries.

COTTON.

Old cotton none. New crop coming to market freely. Tendency downward. We quote: Middlings 12 low mindlings 1 1-2 Lower grades none offered.

General Market.

FLOUR, North Carolina $7@8.50.
CORN 1.00
CORN MEAL—100
BAGGING, Standard 15 1 2.
" Dundo 13 1-2.
BACON, N. C hog round, 14.
" " " hams 16 1 2
BULK C R. sides, 13 to 14
" " shoulders, 10 to 11
LARD, North Carolina, 16 1-2
" Western Iderees, 17 1-2@20
" " kegs, 16 1 2@17 1-2
COFFEE, Prime Rio, 24
" Fair Rio, 20@24
SYRUP, common, 37 1-2
MOLASSES, Cuba, 50.
SALT $2.25.
CHEESE, Cream, 18 1-2.
" Factory, 17.
" Dairy, none.
NAILS, on basis for 10d, $4.00
SUGAR A, 13 1-2.
" Extra C, 11 1-4.
" Yellow, 10@11
LEATHER, Sole 27 1-2@30
HIDES, green, 7@8.
" dry, 18 1-2
TALLOW, 5@6
POTATOES, sweet 75
" Irish, $1.00@$1.25.
OATS, shelled, 50
" sheaf, $1.25
FODDER, old, $1.50, New 1.25
HAY, N C, bales', .00
CHICKENS, grown, 30
" young, 20@30
EGGS, 25
BUTTER, country, 25@30
FISH, Mullets, $6 to 6.50.
" Cat Herrings, 7@75
" Mackerel, new family, $1 00
BEESWAX, 25.
HAIR, 3
BEEF on foot, 7
" dressed prime, 8@10.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

JOHN W. HINSDALE,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Room No. 2 First Floor, Law Building,
Fayetteville Street,
RALEIGH, N. C.

Attends all the Courts in Raleigh and Fayetteville. Claims collected in all parts of North Carolina. Refers to Hon. R. M. Pearson, Chief Justice of N. C.; Hon. M. W. Ransom, U. S. Senate; Citizens' National Bank, W. H. & R. S. Tucker, Williams & Haywood, Raleigh, N. C.; Fayetteville National Bank, Merchants' Bank of Fayetteville; J. D. Williamson & Son; E. J. Lilly & Co., Fayetteville, N. C.; Bank of New Hanover, Wilmington, N. C.; Mortou, Biles & Co., Phelps, Dodge and Co., H. K. Thurber & Co., H. B. Claflin & Co., New York; D. Landreth & Co., Philadelphia; G. W. Gail & Ax, Balt mara.

He has formed a business connection with Messrs. MacRae & Broadfoot of Fayetteville N. C. relating only to his future business at that point. All communications addressed to John W. Hinsdale care of MacRae & Broadfoot at Fayetteville, will receive prompt attention.
Oct. 13-1f

"The Book for the People" evidently Clarke's New Method for the Piano Forte, by Hiram A. Clarke, Professor of Music in the University of Pennsylvania, is the work destined to be in the hands of every teacher and student of music. Book and Music Dealers supply it for $3.75.

"BRIGHTEST AND BEST"
Has already been adopted by about
2,000 SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

"BRIGHTEST AND BEST"
Commends itself wherever used, and promises to attain as great popularity as any of our previous publications.

"BRIGHTEST AND BEST"
Is Sold by Booksellers all over the United States.

160 Pages; Price, $30 per 100 copies.

Examine "BRIGHTEST AND BEST" before you buy a new song book for your Sunday-School.

Sent by mail, in paper cover, on receipt of twenty five cents. Board cover, thirty-five cents.

BIGLOW & MAIN,
76 East Ninth St., New York.
81 Washington St., Chicago.
Oct. 2-2t.

AN OUTFIT FREE.

We want some one in every county to take order and deliver goods for the old and original C. O. D. House. Large cash wages. Splendid chance in every neighborhood for the right person of either sex, young or old. Samples, new Hats, circulars, terms, etc. a complete outfit sent free and post paid. Send for it at once and make money at your homes. Address, H. J. HALL & CO, 6 N. Howard Street Baltimore, Md.
Oct. 2-10t.

oct 20-13t. eow.

SADDLES!
From $3.50 to $40.00
BUGGY HARNESS!
From $9.00 to $100
ON HAND AND FOR SALE BY
W. B. HUTCHINGS,

Where will be found a large stock of Carriage and Buggy Harness. Wagon, Dray and Cart Harness. Bridles, Whips, Collars, Hames, Saddle Cloths, Horse Blankets, Leather, &c., all my own Manufacture, and at prices to suit the times.

GIVE ME A CALL!
W. B. HUTCHINGS,
Fayetteville St., opposite Tucker Hall,
oct 13-13m. Raleigh, N. C.

The Best Household Oil in the World!

C. WEST & SONS' ALADDIN SECURITY OIL.
Warranted 150 Degrees Fire Test.

Endorsed by the Fire Insurance Companies.

Read the following certificate, selected from many others:

HOWARD FIRE INS. CO. OF BALTIMORE, December 28, '74.

Messrs C. West & Sons: Gentlemen—Having used the various oils sold in this city for illuminating purposes, I take pleasure in recommending your "Aladdin security" as the safest and best ever used in our household. Yours, truly,
(signed) ANDREW REESE, Pres't.

IT WILL NOT EXPLODE.
Ask your Storekeeper for it
Wholesale Depot: C. WEST & SONS,
118, 115 W Lombard Street, Baltimore.
Sep. 1-6m.

THE FIRM OF WYNNE, YANCEY & CO., is this day dissolved by mutual consent.

GEO. W. WYNNE,
T. B. YANCEY,
J. W. LEE.

RALEIGH, June 15th, 1875.

HAVING PURCHASED THE Interest as Assignee of the liabilities of the late firm of WYNNE, YANCEY & CO., I would request all those indebted to make immediate payment.

Thankful for the patronage so liberally bestowed upon the late firm I trust by personal attention to merit the same.

June 23-tf GEO. W. WYNNE.

FALL AND WINTER GOODS!

D. S. WAITT & BRO.,

Are offering a Large and Attractive Stock of

FINE AND CHEAP CLOTHING!

Gents' Furnishing Goods and Neck Wear.

Boots, Shoes, Overcoats, Shawls and Rubber Goods / Hats and Capel Merino Shirts, Drawers and Hosiery Paper and Linen Collars, Suspenders, Handkerchiefs and Yankee Notions. The Celebrated

MANHATTAN FINE WHITE SHIRT,

Acknowledged to be the best and most perfect fitting shirt in the market.

Prints! Prints!

Red, White and Figured Flannels, Opera Flannels, Hamburg Edgings and Insertions, Ladies' Trimmed Hats, Be ts, ribbons, Counterpanes, Comforters, Bed Quilts and Spreads.

WHITE AND BROWN BLANKETS,

Ladies Striped and Plaid Breakfast Shawls, Knit backs, Jackets and Hoods.

Checks, Plaid Homespuns, Tickings, Brown and Bleached Sheetings and shirtings, Corset Jeans, Cambrics and Linings, Trunks, Valises, Umbrellas, Traveling Bags, &c

TO OUR FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS, we take pleasure in saying our stock is now complete in every department, and thanking you for your liberal patronage, we respectfully solicit a continuance of the same. Remember the place; 54 Fayetteville St., Raleigh, N. C.

D S WAITT & BRO.

oct 13-3m.

PRICES REDUCED!

LADIES
— AND —
GENTLEMEN:

CALL AT ONCE AND EXAMINE THE EXTENSIVE STOCK, JUST RECEIVED AT

J.P. GULLEY'S,
—OF—
Dry Goods, Clothing.

NOTIONS, BOOTS, SHOES,
Hats, Caps, Trunks, Valises,
White Goods, &c., &c.

BURT'S GAITERS & BOOTS FOR GENTS

PRINTS! PRINTS! PRINTS!

A large stock of the latest patterns, at prices that cannot be excelled.

Respectfully,
JOSEPH P. GULLEY.
Corner Fayetteville and Market Square.
Oct 13th, 1875.

A. G. LEE. ED. H. LEE. CLE R. LEE

A STRICTLY COMMISSION HOUSE.

A. G. LEE & SONS.

RALEIGH, N. C.

Cotton is our Specialty.

We can always obtain the highest market price, and ask our friends who find it inconvenient to accompany their lots to the market to try us. We sell best New York in the end; proceeds of your cotton.

When you bring your cotton to market yourself give us a chance at it. We have orders to fill and can pay the very highest market price for it. Be sure to call and see us before you sell.

We are the Agents for

The SCHOFIELD COTTON PRESS, the best in vented.

A. G. LEE & SONS.
P. O. Box 222, Raleigh, N. C.
sep 1-tf

COTTON TIES.

Something New, But Old!

We have now the agency for the sale of the "Providence Plaited Cotton Tie," in towns along the R. & G. Air-Line Railroad to Fayetteville along the R. & G. Railroad to Goldsboro; thence to Weldon and Hertford and along the R. & G. Railroad to Weldon, and are now offering this Tie at 4 1-2 cents per pound in car load lots, delivering in any depot in our section.

This Tie is newly done over, put up into bundles same size and weight as the Arrow Tie and see the Arrow buckle. Each broken one is neatly mended with two rivets, which makes it doubly strong.

Most parties who used them last season say they much prefer them to new ones considering the difference in cost.

All orders for shipments within the next two weeks can get Sixty days, they paying freight on arrival and deducting same from bill when due.

Orders from merchants and large dealers respectfully solicited.

A. G. LEE & SONS, Agts.
oct 13 tf. Raleigh, N C

1875. 1876.
FALL AND WINTER.

ISAAC GETTINGER

Is now in receipt of his ENTIRE STOCK of MILLINERY, Ladies' Fancy Furnishing, Hair and Necklaces, to an inspection of which his many customers are respectfully invited. My Stock has been selected with a great deal of care, and consists of Bonnets and Hats for Ladies, Misses, Children and Babies

Ladies' Sacks, Ladies' Undergarments, Ladies' Cloaks and Sacques, Ruffs, Collars and Cuffs, Silk and other Gloves, Zephyr, Saxony and Germantown Wool, Knitting Cotton, Crochet Needles, Worked Slippers,

Mottoes and Motto Frames, every sort of Patterns for Needle Work, Stamped Yokes, Buttons, Embroidering Silk and Cotton, 1,000 Ladies' Silk Scarfs, 1,000 Belts 20,000 yards Ribbon, Real and Imitation Laces, Hamburg Edging and Insertion,

And a Thousand other Articles.

In our Millinery Department we employ some FIRST-CLASS NEW YORK MILLINERS, and guarantee satisfaction. All I ask is a trial. My Stock is the largest, best selected and tastiest in this city, and I may say State,

Oct. 13 6w. ISAAC GETTINGER.

1875. FALL & WINTER 1876.

MRS. R. LEOPOLD

Has received a large and selected stock of

MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS.

Ladies' Bonnets and Hats,
Misses' Children's and Babies',
Fine assortment Ladies White Goods,
Kid Gloves, Ruffs, Collars and Cuffs,
Stamped Yokes, Silk and Cotton,
Ladies Silk Scarfs, Belts, Ribbons.
Laces, Hamburg Edgings and Insertions, all kinds and styles of Combs, Corsets, Shawls,

Ladies' and Children's Striped Hose, &c.

The choicest assortment in the city. Ladies call and examine.

In our MILLINERY DEPARTMENT we have procured a

First-Class Northern Milliner.

MRS. R. LEOPOLD,
Fayetteville Street, next to Briggs Building.
Oct 13-1m.

COMPLETE STOCK.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER

Have now completed their purchases in all departments of the DRY GOODS LINE.

The ONLY ENTIRELY NEW FALL STOCK in the city of Raleigh, having come out last winter their old business.

New Dress Goods,
New Shades and Colors,
Best Quality,
Lowest Prices.

Camels Hair, Cashmere, all wool serge—Diagonals, Plaids, Black and Colored Silks, and the best Black Alpacas.

REMARKABLE BARGAINS
— IN —
HOUSE-KEEPING GOODS.

HATS, BOOTS AND SHOES,

Carpeting of all makes and colors. Gloves, Hosiery, Trunks and Valises, and a complete stock of Mens Wear.

Attention of strangers and wholesale dealers is invited W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.
Oct 13-tf.

REMOVAL.

OFFICE OF
T. H. Briggs & Sons,
RALEIGH, N. C.

We have removed to our elegant and commodious NEW STORE in the

BRIGGS BUILDING

where we will be pleased to see our many friends and the public generally.

OUR NEW STORE ROOM,

THIRTY-TWO feet wide and TWO HUNDRED long, together with a large and convenient Cellar and Warehouse adjoining, affords us unequalled facilities for conducting our business.

Customers and visitors will find our salesmen and corps ever polite, careful, accommodating and attentive. We extend a cordial invitation to every body to come and see us.

Respectfully,

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,
oct 13-tf. Briggs Building.

CHANGE IN BUSINESS.

The Old and Well Known House of

J. M. ROSENBAUM

Having concluded to confine itself to certain specialties, announces that in its main business it is exclusively

A CLOTHING STORE

of the highest grade, where every article of Gentleman's and Boy's wear of all kinds and grades is offered

ON THE MOST FAVORABLE TERMS FOR CASH.

Buyers need go no farther to be suited. Every class of customers can be supplied.

Attached to the establishment is a Department for the sale of

CHINA, CROCKERY AND GLASSWARE,

Everything in that line can be found of the first quality and at reasonable prices.

The long established character of this House is a sufficient guarantee of its ability and determination to do what it promises. Don't fail to call on

J. M. ROSENBAUM,
Corner Fayetteville and Hargett Sts.
Oct. 13-tf.

COME YE DISCONSOLATE!

Men in search of FIRST-CLASS GOODS, the very latest Tie of Fashion, and put up in a style that will suit the most fastidious taste, go to

WEIKEL'S ESTABLISHMENT,

on Fayetteville Street, one door South of the Southern Express Office.

IT IS A CONCEDED FACT

that Weikel can put up the best and most satisfactory JOB in the way of fine suits of Clothing, from a Wedding to a Business Suit, that can be turned out in Raleigh. The old and young men say it, the ladies (God bless them) endorse and the children cry over it, cry for joy when their revered "dada's" put on a suit of Weikel's clothing.

Weikel takes this occasion to return his thanks for the large and liberal patronage heretofore received, and respectfully asks for continuance of the same. His stock of

CLOTHS,
CASSIMERES,
TWEEDS,
SUITINGS, &c.

is much larger than ever before, and comprises all the Latest Novelties in Style, having been recently purchased at low prices from

FASHION HEADQUARTERS.

As usual his force of Workmen are Picked Men whose skill and ability are known to the "dressing" public.

Come one and all to the Emporium of Fashion, Weikel's the Merchant Tailor, For a first class Suit of Clothes of first class goods, put up in first class style.

SCHOOL BOOKS

Of all descriptions constantly kept on hand at the lowest cash prices.

L. BRANSON,
Raleigh, N. C.

N. C. ALMANACS FOR 1876—

Now in course of preparation. Advertisements taken at reasonable rates. Send in your orders early.

L. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.

NEWS DEPOT—TAKE NOTICE

I am supplying all the best Newspapers and periodicals at the publishers' subscription rates. You can subscribe for 12 months, 6 months, or even one month.

L. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.

BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

Give me a trial before purchasing elsewhere.

L. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.
aug 26 tf

PETTY & JONES,

30 FAYETTEVILLE STREET.

Have removed to the large and spacious three-story Store recently occupied by Messrs Thos. H. Briggs & Son, where our friends, customers, and the public in general can find us and examine our new and complete Stock of Dry Goods, Hats, Boots, Shoes Notions, Carpets, Rugs, &c., containing full lines in every Department. We offer both at Wholesale and Retail.

STYLISH PRINTS,

In colorings adapted to the season and in choice designs.

SILKS, DRESS GOODS AND REPELLANTS

Of the best Manufactures, both American and Foreign.

CLOTHS, CASSIMERES AND JEANS

Of different grades and in great variety of colors.

FLANNELS.

All colors, Hilbert's & Washington, Plaid Wool Flannels, Opera Flannels Shaker Flannels, Medicated Flannels, Canton Flannels, Bleached and Brown. Silk Embroidered Flannels for Skirts.

LINSEYS AND WOOL DRESS PLAIDS,

Cotton Plaids, Ginghams, Osnaburgs, Cotton Duck, Sheetings and Shirtings, Bleached and Brown.

HATS, BOOTS AND SHOES.

A splendid assortment, from lowest price to best quality.

OUR NOTION DEPARTMENT

Is filled with the latest Novelties in Leather and Cloth Belts, Ruchings, Silk Ties, Ladies Scarfs in new patterns, with plain, fringed and embroidered ends. Sash Ribbons, Hosiery, High Back Tuck Combs, Kid Gloves, Laces, Fringes, Buttons, etc.

BALLOU'S POPULAR DRESS SHIRTS,

And Cahill's Celebrated Hand Made Boots and Gaiters for Gentlemen.

LARGE LINES OF UNDERWEAR

For Ladies and Gentlemen.

CARPETS.

All Wool Super Extra Super, Tapestry, Brussels and Cotton Chain Carpets, Axminster, Velvet and Brussels Rugs.

PETTY & JONES.

Raleigh, N C.

JUST ARRIVED AT THE

RALEIGH STOVE HOUSE

Another car load of the old reliable

COTTON KING STOVE;

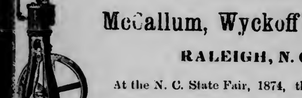
No Better Stove Can be found in the City!

Every one warranted! Call early and get one!

RANGERS, HEATERS and all kinds of COOKING UTENSILS.

FRANKLIN GRATES, PARLOR STOVES, WHICH ARE GEMS OF BEAUTY,

TIN WARE, LAMPS, OILS, WOOD AND WILLOW WARE, CUTLERY AND HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS.



Guns and Locks Repaired, Bell Hanging, &c., &c.

J. C. Brewster, Proprietor.
Oct 6 tf No 4 Hargett street, Raleigh, N. C.

OLD NORTH STATE HARDWARE AND

HOUSE FURNISHING STORE,

No. — Martin and Market Streets,

RALEIGH, N. C.

I am now receiving my FALL STOCK for 1875, consisting of a full line of

HARDWARE,
Hollow Crockery, Wood and Willow Ware;

Also a large stock of Cooking, Parlor and Heating STOVES. Would call particular attention to those persons who are in want of a first-class Cook Stove to my new design for wood made expressly for this market, which I have named the

"Old North State,"

FIVE SIZES—NOS. 6, 7, 8, 9, 10.

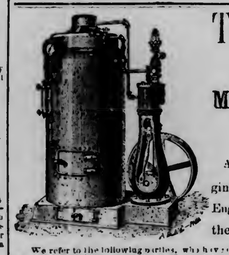
The No. 6 I will sell for $10.00, complete with pipe and furniture No. 7 for $15.00 and other Nos at corresponding prices Every Stove sold will be warranted to give entire satisfaction. Do not fail to call and look at the Stoves before making purchases.

Also in stock will be found a full line of

Lamp Chimneys,
Wicks, Pratt's Astral
and Kerosene Oils.

Having purchased my entire stock at very low prices I can offer inducements to those in want of anything in my line. An examination of my stock and prices is solicited. Goods marked in plain figures.

C. A. HART,
Market and Martin Streets, directly opposite "The Daily News Office,"
Sept 18-tf. RALEIGH, N. C.



THE HOPE ENGINE.

MANUFACTURED BY

McCallum, Wyckoff & Hope,

RALEIGH, N. C.

At the N. C. State Fair, 1874, the "Hope Engine" received the GOLD MEDAL, as the best Steam Engine for general use, and the SILVER MEDAL as the best Vertical Engine.

We refer to the following parties, who have used "Hope Engines": Wm. G. Upchurch, of Wilkesboro, N. C., 45 H. P.; Jno. Kennedy, Raleigh, N. C., Messrs. Purnell & Co., Goldsboro, N. C., 45 H. P.; Messrs. Hall & Wade, Brick Manufacturers, Raleigh, N. C.; Messrs. Hall & Wade, Brick Manufacturers, Raleigh, N. C. We guarantee our HOPE ENGINES equal to the best made in the North, and we will not be undersold by the manufacturers of any FIRST CLASS ENGINE.

We manufacture

The Carolina Cotton Gin,

which we guarantee equal to the best Gin made. It was awarded the Silver Medal, as the best Gin made in the State, at the N. C. State Fair, 1874.

OUR POWER COTTON PRESS

has no superior. We refer to A. F. Page, Cary, N. C., and T. T. Mial, Master of Raleigh Grange, No. 17, who have our POWER PRESS in use.

We manufacture the celebrated "SUNNY SOUTH" PLOW, and several others, which we will sell at very low figures.

We manufacture SAW MILLS, MILL GEARING, SHAFTING PULLEYS and MILL MACHINERY of every kind.

For full information and Price List, address

McCALLUM, WYCKOFF & HOPE,
Rale

Children's Column.

A Bubble.

Who is at the cottage window,
Whose the sunbeams sparkle bright,
With his dreamy little child face
Lost in wonder and delight?

Little Carl with eyes the bluest,
Ruddy cheeks and tangled hair,
Blowing bubbles, rainbow-tinted,
Floating, quivering in the air.

As he blows another gently,
What within it meets his gaze,
Fixed upon its wondrous beauty
With a look of deep amaze!

What sees he within the bubble,
Which he saw not in the rest?
For the bright eyes dance with pleasure
And a tremor fills his breast:

'Tis the picture there reflected
Of the meadow newly mown,
And the vineyard and the orchard,
All, one day, to be his own.

This he sees within the bubble,
All of this, and something more:
Little Gretchen—'tis his child-wife—
Coming to the cottage door.

Carl, O Carl! thou'lt soon be blowing
Bubbles of still fairer kind—
Glowing visions of the future,
Airy day-dreams of the mind.

In them, too, will be reflected
This same picture o'er and o'er:
Fields and harvests fair—and Gretchen
Coming to thy cottage door.

Answers.

Peter opened his mouth and said, "Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons." Acts 10 chap. 34 verse. T. C. W. Boshamer

King Agrippa gave Paul liberty to speak for himself. Acts 26th chap 1st v. T C W Boshamer.

The chapter containing the word T one hundred and forty two times is the 119th Psalm. T C W Boshamer.

T C W Boshamer asks where is found "as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord." Also what king made a most impious feast to his lords.

MESSRS EDITORS: I herewith send for publication:

A PROPOSITION TO ALL THE YOUTHS WHO READ THE CHILDREN'S COLUMN.

How many will join me in reading the Holy Bible through in one year? The list will remain open until January 1st, so that all who do not get their mails regularly, can have ample time for sending in their names. By reading three (3) chapters every day and five (5) on Sunday, we can get through in one year. I want a little army of readers to join me. We will commence on New Year's day.

WILLIE A. BETTS.

Ansonville, N. C., Oct. 7th, 1875.

Geese Full of Fun

A goose has perhaps the keenest appreciation of humor of any animal, unless it be her own arch enemy the fox. The writer once saw in a little grassy paddock some eight or ten fat and healthy pigs and half a score of geese. From this paddock a narrow, open gate gave entrance into the farm-yard, and, as evening drew on, the geese ranged themselves in a row near this Thermopylæ. Obviously, supper-time was approaching, and the pigs wished to return home to their troughs. Equally clearly the geese had given each other the word not to let them pass through the gate which they guarded without paying toll. First there came up a jolly, good humored little pig, who trotted cheerfully along with a confidence which ought to have disarmed criticism, till he came among the geese. Then with a cackle and a scream, every neck was stretched to get a bite at him, and, squalling and yelling, the poor, little porker ran the gauntlet. The same fate befell six or seven more of his brethren in succession, each betraying increasing trepidation as he approached the fatal pass, and made a bolt, through the corps de garde, of geese whose chattering and screeches of delight were almost undistinguishable from human laughter. At last the biggest pig of the party brought up the rear. He was a pink fleshed, clean young fellow, with fat limbs and sides, and his ears were cocked, and his tail sharply twisted in the intelligent wide-awake manner which so completely distinguishes the intellectual pig from the mere swine multitude. With a loud grunt of defiance, this brave beast charged through the flock of geese, and had acually almost gained the gate, when a large gray goose made one grab at his fat ham, caught up the skin in a bunch and gave it a tremendous pinch with her red beak. Needless to say the air was rent with the squeals of agony of the injured pig and the ecstatic paeans of the flock of geese in chorus. From the order in which the transaction took place, we derive the impression that a similar game of prisoner's base probably formed the entertainment of the geese every evening.—Frances Power Cobb.

ODD IDEAS.—Von Helmont tells us that Adam was created without a beard, but that after he had fallen and sinned, because of the sinful propensities which he derived from the fruit of the forbidden tree, a beard was made a part of his punishment and disgrace, bringing him thus into nearer resemblance with the beasts toward whom he made his nature approximate. The same stigma was not inflicted upon Eve, because, even in the fall, she retained much of her original modesty, and therefore deserved no such opprobrious mark.

Rural and Domestic.

TREATMENT OF OLD STRAWBERRY BEDS.—We are often asked how we treat our strawberry beds after we have taken off one crop. We plow them under generally, but sometimes we take a scythe and mow off all the tops of the plants as close as we can, rake off the leaves, cut out walks, and weed them if necessary, and then let them grow, to bear another year. We have had most excellent success with beds treated in this way. If the land was well manured in the start, and the plants have done well the first and second years, there are few weeds and little grass among the plants, and it will generally pay to mow off the tops, and leave the beds to bear again. It seems contrary to reason to mow off the leaves, and we once denounced it as a heresy; but facts are stubborn things, and the facts are as we have given above. We have tried it, and with the best success. We shall try it again this year. When the strawberry is cultivated in hills they need not be renewed oftener than once in five or six years, and we have known them to do well even longer than that. For field culture, or growing on a large scale for the market, it will probably be found cheaper and better to plant each year, and plow up after one crop; but for gardens it will often prove profitable to mow off, and keep over the beds for a second crop.—Congregationalist.

UNFERMENTED WINE. In answer to several inquiries we give the following directions for preparing sacramental wine:

The grapes should be allowed to thoroughly ripen. They are then picked, and all green and rotten grapes and stems removed. The grapes are then crused and pressed in the usual manner. If it is desired to have the wine sweetened, the sugar should now be added and stirred until it is dissolved. From onefourth of a pound to three-fourths of a pound to each gallon may be used.

The juice is now put into bottles and the bottles put into water, and the water raised to the boiling temperature, and kept boiling for half an hour. At the end of this time remove them one by one, and cork them tightly, wiring in the corks. Replace them as fast as corked, and boil them again for an hour.

Wine thus perpared will keep indefinitely; and we think those who use it thus prepared for sacramental purposes will desire nothing better.—Northern Christian Advocate.

MILK DIET IN HEART DISEASE.—The opinion of Dr. Pecholier, an eminent French physician, is now cited in favor of milk diet in the treatment of disease of the heart. He states that in active hypertrophy—namely, in those cases where the consequences of the development of the muscular fibers prevail over the embarrassment of the circulation caused by the dilation of the cavities, the contraction of the orifices or the insufficiency of the valves—and where, in consequence, the tension of the blood is great in the arteries, and the radial pulse is full and hard—in such cases, at their commencement, the milk diet, together with the use of digitalis, and sometimes without it, will, if continued long enough, induce at once an amendment of the symptoms, and even, at last, all absorption of the superabundant muscular tissues, and thus effect a cure. It is found that, under the influence of this diet, the impulses of the heart diminish, together with the palpitation, also the congested condition of the face, the brain and the lungs. The patient experiences an unexpected improvement, and by the adotion of this plan life may be prolonged and rendered more supportable a great palliation of the symptoms resulting, even though there be no cure.

THE VALUE OF SUNFLOWERS.—We would call the attention of farmers at this time to the value of sunflowers as a crop, and enumerate some of their values and uses. In the first place, the flowers abound in honey, and furnish food for bees. The seeds contain oleaginous matter, and yield oil at the rate of one gallon to the barrel, which is but little inferior to olive oil. One acre produce fifty bushels of seeds. It is also valuable for food for horses and poultry; it has been used for bread by the American Indians, and also in Portugal. The leaves are excellent fodder for cattle. The stalk, while growing, may be utilized as bean poles where they are scarce or difficult to be obtained, and when dry may be used as a roofing, or set up against a fence to form a wind break: They contain a large amount of potash, and are excellent for fire-kindling. The seed has also been recommended for fuel. The reputation of the growing sunflower to absorb miasmatic vapors, and in preventing fever and ague, is well known.—Buckeye Farmer.

ODD IDEAS.—Von Helmont tells us that Adam was created without a beard, but that after he had fallen and sinned, because of the sinful propensities which he derived from the fruit of the forbidden tree, a beard was made a part of his punishment and disgrace, bringing him thus into nearer resemblance with the beasts toward whom he made his nature approximato. The same stigma was not inflicted upon Eve, because, even in the fall, she retained much of her original modesty, and therefore deserved no such opprobrious mark.

The Great Anti Periodic.

The certainty and promptitude with which Dr. Tutt's Pain Killer conquers the most obstinate case of malarial disease, and its complete protection which they afford the system against the miasmatic poison, while it counteracts the deadly lying malady, is wonderful, stamping it as the discovery of American genius. Whatever else this eminent fever and ague doctor may do, he has done his country, the South, the world, a most astonishing service in the discovery of this great remedy. Blood diseases yield to it, and it will cure

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Babbitt & Gray, Publishers. | Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina. | $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Vol. XXI.---No. 42. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, October 27, 1875. | Whole No. 1,080.

Selected Poetry.

The Weeping Saviour.

[illegible] over,
[illegible] is still the same;
[illegible] and Elder Brother,
[illegible]
[illegible] thee,
[illegible]?

[illegible] us,
[illegible] roll,
[illegible]
[illegible] soul.
[illegible] like thee,
[illegible] Bethany.

[illegible] still to glory
[illegible] nearer's tear,
[illegible] story
[illegible] where.
[illegible] to Us,
[illegible]
[illegible] many

[illegible] tear of sorrow
[illegible] drying
[illegible] to-morrow,
[illegible] never prove,
[illegible] come to me,
[illegible] of Bethany.

Communicated.

For the Advocate.

EVERLASTING PUNISHMENT.

BY REV. E. A. YATES.

No. 2

In our last it was shown that the wicked are not punished forever because they violated an infinite law, and so deserves infinite punishment. It has not been, nor can it be proved that the law violated was infinite and since, further, even if the sin were infinite, the act of sinning would not be, as that would involve of that principle of philosophy that punishment is more to be imputed to the effect than is provided for the cause—or, making an infinite effect to follow a finite cause.

It was also shown that he is not punished forever "because he is in a state of forever sinning;' since it is a fundamental principle that "where no law is there is no transgression;" and as there can be nothing else but transgression of law, it would inevitably follow that as there is sinning in hell there must be law—and if law, then obedience, or "necessitated holiness;" and this is just what the argument was not constructed to prove.

But to grant this fallacy to a small—the least, we notice further: If the endless punishment of the sinner in the other world takes place because he is forever sinning or disobeying law there; then it also follows that the reward of the righteous in heaven likewise place because he is there becoming righteous or obeying law! The two stands absolutely correlated to each right-ousness. Therefore, the one that goes to heaven is not rewarded for obedience to law and becoming holy here, but because it there obeys law and acts righteously, and therefore always being rewarded.—Our righteousness in obeying law, necessarily supposes the presence of temptation to disobey—therefore there is temptation, or evil, in heaven!—Moreover, if the keepers of law in heaven are not "necessitated" to obey and be holy—then their disobedience is possible; and the saved in heaven are probationers as well as the lost in hell. It does not avail to say that the habit of holiness prevents falling; for that would apply to infants saved in heaven.

In other words, if there are acts of sin such to be punished, then there is room for law; if there is law, then there is also probation—(or a farce)—and the time may come when the lost can be saved. And it then follows, that there are righteous acts in heaven to be rewarded, then there is also law; and if there is law, then there is also probation—(or else a "necessitated holiness")—and if there is a probation, then a time may come when the saved may be lost! Now, we had always supposed that the happiness of the saved in heaven was a fixed and certain thing—that here in this life they washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb—that going up "through great tribulation," as the result of their obedience to law here in this world, they are there counted worthy to dwell where no night is—where neither fear, anxiety nor self denial ever give trouble to the soul—and thank God, with joy, we believe so yet. If we are "faithful until death" we shall receive a crown that can never fade. And so of the lost—they are punished for the "things done in the body," and not because they are "always sinning in hell." The argument, therefore, that "the sinner is forever punished because he is forever sinning," proves too much, and is loaded with absurdities.

"Where sickness, sorrow, pain and death, Are felt and feared no more;"

We proceed now with the argument, which to our mind is a satisfactory answer to the fatal delusion of Universalism. And let it be understood in the beginning that reason can deal only with elements within its reach—that such quibbles as "How do we know but so and so," and "It may be that so and so," are unknown to solid argument, and can only satisfy minds that become weary at the approach of thought.

The Universalist says that "Everlasting Punishment is unreasonable because it is not in harmony with God's character." Our answer is that, that is the very thing for him to prove. If he can do that, he has his case. We propose to prove the fact of Everlasting Punishment. If he can prove that this is not in harmony with the known character of God, we give up our fact; for no supposed logical fact can stand plainly contrary to goodness and justice. All we have to do then is to prove the fact—taking it for granted that it it be a fact it is necessarily in harmony with God's character. This is the syllogism on this point:—

Every act of God is necessarily in harmony with Goodness and Justice.

Everlasting punishment is an act of God, i e, punishment for violation of His law.

Therefore everlasting punishment is necessarily in harmony with Goodness and Justice. To prove the fact, then, is our work. The Universalist can gain his cause in two ways: 1. Prove that Everlasting Punishment is not a fact, or 2nd. Prove that it is contrary to God's goodness and justice. What element can reason take hold of to prove the first proposition? And to prove the second, he must have knowledge of the effects through out the moral universe of the crime of sin, so as to determine what Justice and Goodness require as adequate punishment! Now these are elements that logic can in no wise utilize with any argumentative value—they are beyond the grasp of human reason.

Let it be stated, then, in plain words, that the sinner is punished with everlasting banishment from God, not "because he has sinned against an infinite law"—which infinity of law may be true or not—nor yet "because he is forever sinning in hell," but "because he has wilfully chosen evil, and culminated his crime by rejecting the blood of Christ; and there is no conceivable plan, in accord with reason, by which he can ever be relieved from punishment.

The most moderate Universalists hold that the lost will finally be reclaimed and saved. We shall simply show that no such plan of restoration to heaven can possibly exist that is not contrary to reason and out of harmony with God's character.

To get the argument into as concise a form as possible, let us suppose that when Adam sinned no plan of restoration to God's favor had been provided for him; then the duration of his punishment, of course, would have been endless. This is simply a truism; since, if left without any possible plan or way of salvation, he would have been, looking at him from any standpoint and upon any supposition, utterly without hope forever! No one will deny this. But now a glorious plan is provided for him and his posterity; and it is equally as plain that those of his posterity who finally reject that plan, are in the very same condition in which Adam would have been had no plan been provided for him—with this additional aggravation of their case, that besides violating God's law as did Adam, they have wilfully rejected God's merciful plan! In other words, absence of all plan, and rejection of the only plan, necessarily results in the same thing, viz: endless impossibility of being restored, or, Everlasting Punishment.

The argument that through the Atonement all will be saved, "because the sinner suffers in this world the penalty of sin," scarcely deserves notice. First, it makes the Atonement of Christ require a useless thing, viz: pureness of heart. For men do live and die wicked, but if all go to heaven, then pureness of heart was unnecessary—unless it were wrought by abstract suffering, in which case two absurdities follow—first, the more a man is tortured for some terrible crime, the purer he becomes; and secondly, there could be no necessity for Christ's blood. Secondly, in another way it nullifies the necessity for the Atonement, since man suffers all that is due to Justice. Thirdly, it contradicts the plainest facts, viz: wicked men as a general thing suffer least—whether that suffering be in conscience or otherwise. In other words, the argument assumes necessarily that the more wicked a man is the more he suffers, which is not true; and if it were, then this absurdity would also follow: the more righteous a man is the less he suffers—and so, when man perfectly keeps God's law, he is perfectly exempt from suffering in this life. Now hear that! thou whipped, stoned, and ship wrecked Paul, and be amazed at the keenness of modern reasoning!

Thus far, then, there is little or no difficulty; and the clearest headed school of Universalists are driven to acknowledge it, and to fall back upon their last entrenchment, viz: that beyond death there is another trial, or plan, or way, by which the lost soul in hell can be restored. And this brings us to the very gate of the last fortress of their argument. We might justly be content to sit down and starve them out, since the onus probandi fairly rests with them—to prove that such a plan does really exist. They attempt nothing reasonable on this point—only blinding themselves with "How do we know but so and so."—But while the burden of proof clearly rests with them, we shall waive that, and show that no such plan can possibly exist beyond death that is not wholly unreasonable.

(To be Continued.)

For the Advocate.

Notes from Mississippi

It may be truthfully said that the Editors of religious journals are pastors of flocks that range in extensive fields. Pastoral sermons from the editorial columns every week, pastoral cullings from their exchanges, pastoral suggestions, reproofs, warnings, cautions, exhortations with a mixture of general intelligence, both religious and secular, that may interest and inform every class.

Dear sir:! Need I tell you that a religious press is a power for good, and that he occupies a responsible position who supplies it with the food it distributes? Editors need the prayers of the people everywhere as truly as regular pastors of the flocks. I rejoice to learn that your journal meets with favor, is increasing in popularity, wielding a salutary influence in moulding the character and sentiments of the church in your dear Old State.

North Carolina is fortunate in being now exempt, to a great extent, from those political distractions that are rife in some of her sister States of the South. May she fully regain the right of being governed by the intelligence, virtue and will of her own native sons and then become "The Old North State forever!" Unfortunately, we, of Mississippi, are now in the midst of one of those periodical excitements immediately preceding a popular election, that often evokes both bad feelings and lawlessness. It is almost too much to hope for, that when ignorance, passion and corruption so largely predominate, the intelligent, patriotic and highsouled citizens who are the burdenbearers—being taxed beyond all precedent—should not "groan to be set free;" and employ all laudable means to secure their political deliverance—with the natural and inalienable right to govern, by the election of trustworthy men to manage State and national affairs.

The God of the seasons has been very bountiful in bestowing his blessings this year. It is the most fruitful year of the last ten. The country has been very healthful until within the last six or eight weeks. But while the average sickness has been greater, the average deaths have been but little if any more than usual. This general sickness, in common parlance, has been extremely unfortunate; for it retards the harvesting of the products of diligent toil. At no time since the war has there been shown greater industry and economy in the production of a crop. The corn crop of Mississippi is unprecedented. While there has not been a year in the last ten that every county did not import corn largely, there will hardly be any that will not this year gather an ample supply. The cotton too was never better; but I fear much of it will be lost owing to sickness and the large quantity produced. This great staple will, it is hoped, lift the country out of some of its pecuniary embarrassments, provided the crop can be gathered and the price should not fall too low. Revivals of religion have not prevailed very extensively this summer and fall—owing no doubt to the inability of the people, because of sickness, to meet together at camp and protracted meetings. Notwithstanding, all, or nearly all, of the pastoral charges have been visited with evidences of divine goodness, and there have been a goodly number of professions of faith in Christ, and accessions to the church.

Before your correspondent came to Mississippi he lived three years in Alabama; he has now been three years a member of N. Mississippi Conference. Having mixed much with society generally and the church especially and made observations on the constitution of the one and the working of the other, he is first led almost to wonder how N. Carolina could spare so much of its best material to build up society and the church in this and adjoining States; and also to wonder if you have any of the good left. But from all I can ascertain, there is hardly a perceptible diminution in the land whence this good material has been drawn.

In the second place, I am more than ever confirmed in the faith that Methodism, pure and unadulterated, is adapted to the religious wants of the country, and am confirmed in my convictions of its apostolicity. In this regard there is not one of the evangelical churches of the land, so well suited to carry the Gospel to every family in every nook and corner, and preach the good tidings to all the poor.

Structurally, it is a vast machinery with its several parts properly adjusted and working harmoniously. So it has been working for a centnry and bringing the world to God. Its achievements have been glorious. Fifty years ago there were 350,000 members in the U. S. and Canada. Now there are in the same countries near three and a half millions. "According to the time it shall be said What hath God wrought?" We may say without subjecting onrselves to the imputation of variety that others have felt the stimulating power of Methodism and onjoyed many of its number of communicants But are they all true believers in Christ? Are they free from sin and servants of God? Are they holy and do they bring forth fruit unto holiness? Are they going on to perfection in all the christian graces? Are they seeking to do good as well as to be good? No one who wishes to meet God's demands should be content without an effort, a constant effort, to be a blessing to others. We pass over life's pilgrimage but once; let our track be luminous, that others may be led to walk as children of Light.

THOS. S. CAMPBELL.

Iuka Miss., Oct. 12th 1875.

Daily Work.

The world is full of broad, shallow, popular religious life. There are multitudes of religious books, enterprises, societies, assemblies and associations. There is no doubt much piety, zeal, and enthusiasm in all this; as also much speechmaking, self praise, and trumpet-blowing.

But men's sins are not pardoned, nor are their souls saved, by the glittering generalities that go to occupy the attention of the religious world. Men will be ignorant, even in colleges if they will not learn; hungry in cook shops, if they will not eat; and lost in the religious tumult, if they do not have personal dealings with the Lord.

We must have our daily soul work between onrselves and God, our secret communion with him, or we shall starve, even though surrounded by plenty. We must read our Bibles, do our praying and believing and weeping before the Lord, conquer our own enemies in the strength that Jesus gives, and grow in grace and in the knowledge of God singly and in his sight. We cannot be pardoned in masses, or saved in crowds. Straight is the gate, and each must find it and enter it for himself alone. Let us beware, lest, in seeking outward excitement, we forget and lose the blessedness of inward Christian life. Let us walk with God!

Hold the Fort.

[P. P. BLISS.]

Ho, my comrades! see the signal
Waving in the sky!
Reinforcements now appearing,
Victory is nigh!

CHORUS—"Hold the fort, for I am coming,"
Jesus signals still,
Wave the answer back to heaven,
"By thy grace we will."

See the mighty host advancing,
Satan leading on;
Mighty men around us falling,
Courage almost gone!

See the glorious banner waving
Hear the trumpet blow!
In our Leader's name we'll triumph
Over every foe!

Fierce and long the battle rages,
But our help is near;
Onward comes our great Commander,
Cheer, my comrades, cheer!

Habits.

It is a question worth a moment's thought: "Is any bad habit corrected after a person is twenty years old?"

If we answer the question in the negative—and I am strongly inclined to take that side—the duty of parents and teachers is invested at once with tremendous responsibility. It may also be a warning, and so aid to the young, who need all the help they can have to become better and wiser.

You meet a man after a separation of a score of years. The same habits mark him now that were his before. The child is so truly the father of the man that the man of sixty has the ways that made him notable when a boy. He carries his head just as he did, is stooping or straight, quick or slow, talks through his nose or not, pronounces words wrong just as he did when a young man, repeats himself all the days of his life.

There are two reasons why bad habits are rarely if ever changed by men or women of ripe years: 1. After the habit has become confirmed the person loses all consciousness of it, just as the perfection of health is to be unconscious of having a stomach. 2. One's self-esteem is wounded by criticism, and a habit is cherished all the more fondly because assailed. It has been said—it is very nearly true—that no mortal is willing to be criticised, found fault with, and this makes criticism an ungracious and ungrateful task.—New York Observer.

Dry-Good Christians.

There seems to be in the churches a great strife raging. It is an Austerlitz of ribbons. The carnage of color is seen all over our religious assemblages. Along on the ontskirts of the Sabbath audiences yon see, here and there, a picket of fashion. But down in the middle of the church are the solid columns, blazing away all through the service. Five hundred "broken down and contrite hearts" covered up in rainbows and spangles. Followers of the "meek and lowly Nazarene" all a-jingle and a flash.—Ten cents for the missionary cause and two hundred and fifty dollars for trappings. Church of God hung by the neck with gold chains, diamond-locketed. Unsophisticated person traveling on two yards of silk, dragged by the lady going up the aisle in front of him. Diamonds enough to give all India the Gospel. The item of dress among Christian people on the Sabbath day is an outrage on the Christian religion.

For graceful and beautiful apparel we have admiration. But this strife in Christian circles as to who shall excel in costly millinery, and who shall dash up to the church door in gayest turn-out, and who shall make the most blazonment of wardrobe, is one of the great hindrances to religious advancement. Our ladies' hats and shawls are so fine that on rainy days we are afraid to go to church lest we get a drop on them. Our head gear is worth more than our souls. We teeter and swagger up the aisles, to the disgust of good men and the grief of angels Enough money is expended by the Christians of our city, in excess of the requisite outlay for dress, to relieve all the poverty, and educate all the ignorance, and bulk all the crime. Much of the piety of our churches is being smothered under shirred basques and jabot ruffles and Louisines. Some of our Christian gentlemen have boots so tight they can hardly walk in paths of righteousness. and they feel in church more like swearing than praying, because their corns hurt; and our Christian women shut out the sun of righteousness by twenty-dollar parasols, lace-trimmed, silk-lined, silver-mounted. The poor are kept out of the church because their plain apparel looks so bad in the contrast.

We want a great ecclesiastical reformation in this matter of Sabbath accoutrement. Shoo these religious peacocks out of the house of God.—By your example make subdued and modest costume more popular than gaudy apparel. Do not put so much dry-goods on your back that you can not climb into glory. You cannot sail into the harbor of heaven with such a rigging as that.—Dr Talmage in Christian at Work.

Pray for Him.

That is, pray for your pastor. He is a mortal man, and if a good one, is fully sensible of his weakness and short comings. He needs a knowledge of the fact that in your meetings and families you do not fail to plead with God that he will give his blessing. It is wonderful how a depressed pastor takes heart when he hears a good man or woman affectionately beseeching God to fit him for his work, and bless it to those over whom he has charge. He feels fortified and strengthened by the upholding hands and hearts of the saints, and looks for a blessing, because a blessing such as God has promised, is asked by those most deeply interested.

We once heard a minister say in a sermon, "Brethren, it would be a happy thing for the church if the people would pray more for their pastors and talk less about them." The discussions are supposed to indicate a certain kind of interest, and they do; but it is not the healthy interest exhibited by those who hold their connections with heaven. Pray for your minister, and beyond saying something to help now and then, talk but little. There will be enough to do all the criticising, fault-finding, and belittling; let it be your enjoyment to ask the blessing of God. And when you pray, it is not that you simply ask for external blessings, such as belong to his home and family, but that you seek the more important ones of spiritual strength and facility, and a blessing on his work. If you take his sermon as he preaches it, to God, asking him to make it effective, you infinitely add to its value. If you seek a blessing on him in his study, his walk among the people, his preaching and other public work, you will be like Aaron and Hur, holding up the hands of the leader of the congregation. Therefore, pray for him. If you do pray, pray more; if you do not, begin it at once.—United Presbyterian.

LIFE is made, not of great sacrifices or duties, but of little things, in which smiles and kindness and small obligations given habitually are what win and preserve the heart and preserve comfort.—Sir H. Davy.

That Lost Child.

The trial of Westervelt, one of the men charged with abducting little Charlie Ross last year, has revived the deep interest which was felt a year ago in this tragedy. The trial, which has been going on in Philadelphia for several days, has brought to light, for the first time, the remarkable correspondence, which has been conducted through a period of six months, between the father of the abducted child and the robbers. The latter dropped their letters to Mr. Ross in the street letter boxes, and Mr. Ross replied to them in the personal columns of the daily papers. Early in the correspondence the abductors demanded the sum of twenty thousand dollars before they would restore the child. Mr. Ross collected this sum from his friends and relatives, and announced his readiness to turn it over in return for the child. But the difficulty to be surmounted on the part of the robbers was how to make the transfer without becoming liable to arrest and punishment.

They arranged several plans all of which Mr. Ross endeavored to carry out to the letter. After proving to the satisfaction of the father that the correspondent were really in possession of his boy, by the minute descriptions they gave of his dress, Mr. Ross did all in his power to regain possession of his child He carried the twenty thousand dollars about him for days He was ordered in one letter to put it in a satchel, station himself on a certain train, on a certain day, and watch for a person in the fields waving a white flag. When he saw such a man, he was to drop the satchel containing the money, and he should receive the child as soon as the money (which was to be in denominations ranging from one to ten dollars, and unmarked) was found to be all right Mr. Ross did as he was directed; but the conspirators did not dare to carry out their part of the progamme. Every few days Mr. Ross received a new proposition, and each letter was accompanied, in almost every instance, with the announcement by the writer that he "meant business," and that if the child was not ransomed soon he would be killed. Mr. Ross followed the directions of these men for some six months, as explicity as possible. They told him to address his personals to "Ros," at first, and when that term had been used until it attracted too much attention, he was required to change it to "John" and then to "Saul of Tarsus," etc.

These ineffectual negotiations were conducted up to the time the two burglars, Mosher and Douglas, were killed on Long Island, near New York, when the correspondence terminated.

The conspirators condescendingly informed Mr. Ross that they had made a mistake in taking his child. They had supposed they were carrying off a rich man's boy; but they reminded him that he had rich relatives who could raise the money they demanded. Next time, they said, they should not commit the error of taking a poor man's child. Fathers and mothers will be likely to congratulate themselves that these two bad men are now beyond the power of committing any more such mistakes or such crimes.

The mental strain upon Mr Ross can scarcely be conceived. In almost constant correspondence with these malefactors, he was blamed by the public as being a conspirator with them, as prepared to compound with the villains; while on the other hand he was constantly warned by the abductors that the boy should be put to death the very instant it became apparent that detectives were likely to discover him. He was a perfect example of that hope deferred that "maketh the heart sick," and Mr. Ross, at length, succumbed to the strain, and was prostrated with a long illness. Whether or not the boy is yet alive appears to be a question, but the hope is not yet utterly abandoned that the child may yet be found.—N. W. Christian Advocate.

LIFE WITHIN.—How hard it is to feel that the power of life is to be found inside, not outside, in the heart and thoughts, not in the visible actions and show; in the living seed, not in the plant which has no root? How often do men cultivate the garden of their souls just the other way! How often do we try, and persevere in trying, to make a sort of neat show of our outer good qualities, without anything within to correspond; just like children who plant blossoms without any roots in the ground to make a pretty show for the hour! We find fault in our lives, and we cut off the weed, but we do not root it up; we find something wanting in ourselves, and we supply it not by sowing the divine seed of heavenly principle, but by copying the deeds that the principle ought to produce.—Temple.

The faith that justifies is the faith that purifies. The blood that justifies is the blood that sanctifies.

Old Folks at Home.

There are a few cases where father and mother and children maintain that best of all relations to the last, but only a few. In the majority of American homes the old folks, however tenderly nourished, are held aloof as companions, barred from all the daily interests, the jests, the pleasures which give to life its actual zest Hence they turn incessantly to the scenes of their youth and drearily recount them, simply because it was then they were recognized as companions, rather than burdens; or, most pathetic of all, the old man finds in his grandchild the nearest friend in the lonesome latter days, because the baby has not yet learned to snub him. In every house where the old folks yet linger it would be worth while for the gay girls and young fellows to spare a little time from their work or idleness, and remembering all that they owe to these queer old men and unfashionable old women, try to discover what hopes, and love, and fancies they have carried with them to the edge of the grave. They have but a little way to go till they reach the great darkness; a young, cheery voice and loving hand would do much to make those few steps less solitary.

Varieties.

Desirable quarters: silver ones.

A deliberative body; a slow man.

SHADES of night—window curtains.

A MAN will sleep upon every disaster but his own.

IT is hard to make good house-keeping from empty presses.

WE possess only what we comprehend.

TRUE valor is fire; bullying is smoke.

LITTLE sins commonly lead to great evils.

PARDON others often; thyself seldom.

CONFIDENCE may not be reciprocal, but kindness should be.

THEY need much whom nothing will content.

WORDS, like sunbeams, burn deeper when condensed.

ONE bad example spoils many good precepts.

WHEN gold speaks, many tongues are silent.

NEVER carry two faces under one hood.

When in hot water, call on your friends; they will be cool enough.

A MAN who acquires a habit of giving way to depression is on the road to ruin.

THERE is a second youth for man, better and holier than his first, if he will look on and not look back.

EACH Pisgah of labor has its glimpse of the promised land.

EVERY good deed that we do is not only a present pleasure, but a prop for the future.

SIN is never overcome by looking at it, but by looking away from it to Him who bore our sins, yours and mine, on the cross.

SUPERIORITY to the love of distinction is the source of the highest distinction. Those whose ruling motive is popular applause are the followers of the multitude. The multitude knows this, and despises them accordingly.

HE that for giving a draught of water to a thirsty person should expect to be paid with a good plantation, would be modest in his demands compared with those who think they deserve heaven for the little good they do on earth.

An Indiana newspaper mildly but firmly protests against putting a $2 collar on a 25 cent dog.

Willie was disputing with his sister: "It is true," he said firmly; "for mother says so, and if she says so it is so, if it ain't so."

A Western editor insists that he wrote the word "trousseau" as plain as a pike staff in connection with certain bridal presents. The printer, however, vulgarly put it "tronsers."

A joke at the expense of those ladies who are perpetually striving to gain a hearing of the Press has been going the round of literary circles, to the effect "that they looked much better in muslin than in print.

"If the Bible is God's word, why didn't He make it so plain that every-boy can easily understand it?' said a caviller. "If God made coal for our use as fuel, why didn't He distribute it in convenient places on the surface, instead of burying it in mines?" was the reply.

Two persons were once disputing so loudly on the subject of religion that they awoke a big dog, which had been sleeping on the hearth before them, and forthwith barked most furiously. An old divine present, who had been quietly sipping his tea while the disputants were talking, gave the dog a kick, and exclaimed: "Hold your tongue, you silly brute! you know no more about it than they do!"

A SCOTCH lad came to his clergyman for examination previous to his receiving his first communion. The pastor, knowing that his young friend was not very profound in this theology, and not wishing to discourage him, took the Old Testament, and asked him in reference to the Mossic law, how many commandments there were. After a little thought he put his answer in the form of a supposition, and replied, cautiously, "Aiblins (perhaps) a hunner." The clergyman was vexed, and told him such ignorance was intolerable, that he could not proceed in examination, and that the youth must wait and learn more; so he went away. On return home he met a friend on his way to the manse, and on learning that he too was going to the minister for examination, shrewdly asked him, "Well, what will ye say noo if the minister speers hoo mony commandments there are?" "Say why, I shall say ten, to be sure." To which the other rejoined, with great triumph, "Ton! Try ye him wi'ten! I tried him wi' a hunner, and he wasna satisfied."

Not once or twice alone in the world's history has God seemed to make his very best and gravest servants drink to the very dregs the cup of apparent failure—called them suddenly away by the sharp stroke of martyrdom, or down the long declivities of a lingering disease, before even a distant view of their work has been vouchsafed to them; flung them, as it were, aside like broken instruments, useless for their destined purpose, ere he crowned with an immortality of success and blessings the lives which fools regarded as madness and the end that has been without human honor. It is but a part of that merciful fire in which he is purging away the dross from the seven-times refined gold of a spirit which shall be worthy of eternal bliss.—Farrar.

IT is reported of a woman who, being sick, was asked whether she was willing to live or die, she answered, "Which God pleases." "But," said one, "if God should refer it to you, which would you choose." "Truly replied she, "I would refer it to him again." Thus that man obtains his will of God whose will is subjected to God.—S. S. Advocate.

British cruisers are busy doing for the eastern coast of Africa the work which was formerly necessary on the west coast. The slaves rescued from a number of Arab dhows have been settling on the Seychelles Islands, in the Indian ocean. The Church Missionary Society has sent one of its agents thither, in order to look after the spiritual interests of the freed slaves.

We are what we are; we can not be truly other than ourselves. We reach perfection not by copying, much less by aiming at originality; but by consistently and steadily working out the life which is common to us all, according to the character which God has given us.—F. W. Robertson.

GOD has three sorts of servants in the world: some are slaves, and serve him from the principle of fear; others are hirelings, and serve him for the sake of wages; and the last are sons, and serve him under the influence of love.

A number of ladies at Simla, India, are making arrangements for the erection of a small house in the mountains for overworked or invalided Zenana teachers.

If you do not take trouble with your children when they are young they will give you trouble when they are old.—J. C. Ryle.

Sweet Oil for Poison.

A plain farmer writes: "It is now over twenty years since I heard that sweet oil would cure the bite of a rattle-snake, not knowing that it would cure other kinds of poison. Practice and experience have taught me that it will cure poison of any kind, both on man and beast. The patient must take a spoonful of it internally and bathe the wound for a cure. To cure a horse it takes eight times as much as for a man. One of the most extreme cases of snake bites occurred eleven years ago. It had been of thirty days' standing, and the patient had been given up by his physician. I gave him a spoonful of the oil, which effected a cure. It will cure bloat in cattle caused by fresh clover. It will cure the stings of bees, spiders, or other insects, and persons who have been poisoned by a low running vine called ivy."

A large wedding took place in Dalton, Ga., recently attended by a large number of the citizens of the town and guests from adjoining towns and from Tennessee. Since then a large majority have been taken violently ill and several have died. It is supposed that in the refreshments served there must have been something that caused this illness, but nothing definite is known.

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE—Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev J. B Bobbitt, R. T. Gray, Esq., } Editors.

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

ORONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID,	$2.20
SIX MONTHS, " "	1.35
If payment be delayed six months,	2.70

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Editors of the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

RALEIGH, N. C., OCTOBER 27, 1875.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly.

Ministerial Success.

There is no avocation, no work, no responsibility and no anxiety comparable with that of the Christian ministry. He who enters the ministerial ranks without a firm conviction of this fact in his own mind and heart may well question his probabilities of success. Ten chances to one that he will prove a failure. From a religious exchange we clip the following which our ministerial brethren will heartily endorse. To some who may not have rightly considered the dignity and work of the ministry these suggestions may be of service. Hard study, thorough preparation, as well as pastoral visiting, prayer and faith, are elements of moral power:

"The minister's success in his great life work requires intellectual outlay commensurate with the physical.—No man can preach perpetually and successfully who does not study.—New books must be perused because they are the reflections of the world's current thought. The daily and weekly newspapers must be read or one feels himself drifting behind in the general news of the religious and secular world, which no sensitive mind can complacently allow.

Sermons must be prepared which are abreast of the times. All the interests of the Church must be studied—the Sunday school work must have attention, the prayer meeting must be kept alive, the classes must be organized and re-organized, the Church records must be kept written up, ministers' associations and district conferences must be attended, the pastoral work must not be neglected, letters must be answered, ways and means must be devised for repairing churches and parsonages, and paying off church debts, and often the work of collecting all the necessary money is unjustly devolved upon his hands and heart entirely.

But then, furthermore, the Methodist preacher must ever be in the community, where he resides, a moral power. He must stand clearly defined on all questions of reform. His very presence should be a rebuke to sin of every kind, social and political in high and low places. He must be a man of prayer. When called upon to console the sick and dying, words are not enough, there must be the spirit of prayer. When called to counsel the erring the weight of a godly character should be felt.—Whether standing in the pulpit or walking the streets, the same manliness, the same character should impress men. A minister need not be exclusive—should not be, but he has no time to spend loitering about stores and offices and other public places.—It is a sad sight to see a Christian minister in the midst of a group of unconverted men and boys regaling them with ludicrous anecdotes, and though it may be very entertaining to the bystanders, it will dull the edge of next Sunday's sermon very much."

We learn from Rev. C. C. Dodson who passed through the city on Friday, from Edgecombe, whither he had been to dedicate a new and beautiful church near Tarboro, on Tarboro circuit, that the services were of a highly interesting and profitable nature.—On Sabbath morning Bro. Dodson, assisted by the Pastor, Rev. F. D. Swindell, dedicated this church, appropriately called McKendree Chapel, to the worship and service of Almighty God. After the sermon preached by Bro. Dodson, and before the setting apart of the church to the service of God, a collection was taken up to liquidate a debt incurred in its erection, amounting in money and pledges to $716, more than enough to cover all expenses. The services were continued from the Sabbath through the week. Up to Thursday—there were some 20 converts—10 accessions to the church and a wide spread influence over the whole community.

We learn from Rev. J. C. Hartsell that Mrs. Hartsell, his wife, has for several months been a great sufferer, and for the past four weeks extremely ill. Bro. Hartsell will have the prayers of his brethren in the ministry and the church generally, in behalf of his afflicted companion. May a kind Providence right early restore her to health, if consistent with the Divine will; but if her days are soon to be numbered, may she be ready for joys on high.

We have on hand several interesting communications, revival and obituary notices which are left over this week, but will be published in due time.—We crave the indulgence of the writers

Send your job work to the Raleigh Christian Advocate.

A Test of Christian Character.

The use which the Christian makes of trials and temptations, is a test of his sincerity, and the genuineness of his faith. God does not permit his people to be sorely tried because he delighteth in their affliction. He is ever moved with tenderness towards them. "Like as a father pitieth his children so the Lord pitieth them that fear him." But while he is moved with compassion towards those who love and fear him, he nevertheless understandeth perfectly the necessities of all, and trials and temptations are often sent as blessings in disguise. There are those among the professed disciples of our Lord, who can only be disciplined for heaven under the law of trial and suffering. Hence, to many the shades of darkness often seem to overshadow their path through life. If when trials come they are endured with patient submission, they strengthen the faith and develop the soul into the higher and richer enjoyment of Christian experience. They test the sufficiency of Divine grace under the most adverse circumstances. Not only do they test the power and sufficiency of this grace in their individual cases, but they give proof to others that their faith is well founded. The Western Christian Advocate, in an article bearing upon this subject, says:

"It is the way in which a man bears trials, that enables others to determine whether or not he is a Christian. When men wish to know whether a man is truly a follower of Christ, they do not inquire what is his creed, and what his theological opinions, nor what are his professions; but, How does he bear himself in the midst of trials? He may be ever so circumspect in prosperity, when he has peaceful sailing on a quiet sea, and with favoring breezes; but this is not sufficient evidence of his Christian character. They must see him in the storm, when the billows are high, when the winds of adversity are blowing fiercely, and the waves of affliction are beating heavily against him; they must see him disappointed, circumvented, persecuted, and insulted; and if he endures these things with a Christian spirit, they ask no other evidence of his genuineness.

Christ is our example of the manner in which we should endure trial.—"For Christ also hath suffered for us, leaving us an example that we should follow in his footsteps." And it is only by studying and imitating his example that we can so bear our trials as to derive from them the benefit in disciplining and perfecting our characters, which God designs they shall minister. It is the privilege and duty of every Christian to endure with so much of the patience, forbearance, and sweetness of spirit which Christ manifested, that they will always be benefited by trial, and men be compelled to acknowledge that they "have been with Christ and learned of him," and are his followers. 'The school of Christ has three classes of scholars; in the first class we learn how to be stuck with thorns without losing our patience; in the second class we learn how to make the sting positively advantageous; in the third class of this school we learn how even to rejoice in being pierced and wounded.'"

Cheap Capital.

We often hear men complaining of the want of 'capital' with which to prosecute business and make their way in the world—to support themselves and families and reach a competency in worldly store. You will see them lounging on street corners, sitting at the tavern or post office, whittling chairs and goods-boxes, or in their offices propping their feet upon the table or window-sills, repining over the lack of starting capital—building air-castles and laying schemes, like Col Sellers, with "millions in them" if only the capital was at hand with which to prosecute and develop them. And all the while there is 'capital' within their reach;—not money resources, perhaps, but capital more necessary and powerful than money and much cheaper—capital without which money is of little avail. Every man with a modicum of sense and good health can be readily furnished with capital if he would only utilize it. A good name is the starting point—not an aristocratic name with the accumulated dignity and importance that attaches to an illustrious family, but a name among one's neighbors for sobriety and honesty—a name that when mentioned elicits respect because of the virtue and worth of him who bears it. Any one can acquire this capital by careful conversation and upright conduct among his fellow-men, and when acquired is an invaluable means to success in business. Honesty, scrupulous, unbending honesty in dealing, in buying and selling, though it may sometimes require the sacrifice of some temporary advantage and gain, will in the end bring patronage and prosperity, if conjoined with other qualities.

Attention to business, punctuality in meeting engagements, fidelity in keeping promises, energy and zeal in the prosecution of what the hand finds to do, economy in expenditures, politeness toward equals, inferiors and superiors in age, experience and station, are all elements of capital stock within the power of every one to seize and use. Nature, the great capitalist, furnishes these to all her children, without usury, only requiring that they shall be employed and cultivated.

Hard Times.

It cannot be denied that these are "hard times." Financial failures in all directions, the collapsing of long-established business houses in England and the United States, the stopping of mills and factories, the hush of humming industries—all evince a wide spread depression, in money matters. "Hard money" advocates say that it is the dark hour before the dawn of the day of commercial splendor that will come with resumption of specie payment. "Inflationists" say that it is the beginning of the long night of the financial gloom that will follow the contraction of the volume of currency. There are a great many people advocating one and the other side of the financial questions who know as little about finance as the kanakas of Honolulu know about ice. Men whose financial operations never extended much further than the asking of a loan and the cool endurance of a creditor's dun, laud inflation or contraction and attempt to explain the benign influence it would have upon the industries and trade of the nation.

The question is entering into politics—parties are dividing on it—it will be the battle ground of party, but not sectional, strife for the next year or two, and we therefore are out of the discussion. We are willing to admit that one of the two policies is the best for the country; but which it is we are not certain; a dilemma similar to that of the old lady who knew that a test of good indigo was that it would sink or swim when placed in water—but whether it should sink or swim, she couldn't remember.

Perhaps, though, too much importance is given to each theory by its advocates, and the real cause of our troubles may be found in something else than in the fact that there is too much or too little currency in circulation.

The spirit of speculation has for the last ten years run too high. Our people have been made mad by their desire for large fortunes and big dis plays. Men have 'overdone' business,—have sought credit beyond their power to sustain it—"carried too much stock," while their purses have been drawn heavily upon by families whose ambition it is to excel one an other in worldly show, in high living, gorgeous equipages, grand residences with showy exteriors and richly furnished within. Too many have thought they were rich, because their credit was good,—a prolific source of bankruptcy and ruin.

The contraction that is needed is in the cutting down of useless expenses—the narrowing of the spirit of speculation: and the expansion we want is the increase of honest industry, greater energy and a broader and more active Christianity.

Bro. S. L. Riddle, an official member of Person Street Church, is an incessant and successful worker. He has been holding prayer meetings at private houses weekly for months past, and God has owned his labors in the conviction and conversion of a number of persons. The good work thus commenced will, we trust, extend its influence to the church and result in a genuine and powerful revival of religion.

In a private note Rev. Dr. Craven conveys the following gratifying intelligence from Trinity College: "We have a very interesting revival. The church has been much blessed. There have been about 15 conversions. Things look hopeful. Our College affairs are prosperous. We have an increase, in the number of students, of 25 per cent over last year. There are 15 seniors, 15 juniors, 30 sophomores, 31 Freshmen, 20 in special courses, 13 in Law and 15 in Theology."

Conference Blanks.

MESSRS EDITORS: The blanks ordered by the Conference for the pastors are ready and have been sent ont to the Presiding Elders of each District for distribution. A few are left at the office of the Raleigh Christian Advocate to supply those who may visit Raleigh, and some are in my hands, so that the preachers may know where to get them. It is to be hoped that the pastors will have their reports on the blanks furnished and in the envelopes that have been prepared and sent out with them. I hope that all the preachers will make earnest efforts to secure the amounts apportioned to their respective charges for the superannuated preachers and the widows and orphans of deceased preachers, remembering that they may leave widows and orphans, and that they may be one day superannated.

H. H. GIBSON.

Franklinton N. C. Oct 15th, 1875.

Conference Notice.

Ministers who expect to attend the approaching session of our Conference, in this city, for admission or ordination; and members of the Conference, whose wives will be in attendance, will please notify me, by letter, immediately, that homes may be provided for them.

J. E. MANN.

Wilmington N. C. Oct. 14th 1875

SUPERANUATED PREACHERS &c.—Let the following give me their post office: W D. Meachem, John Jones, J. D. Buie, Mrs. W. F. Clegg, Mrs. Anderson.

A. D. BETTS.

Ansonville N. C.

Everybody Ought to pay the Preacher.

Under the head of temporal obligation it will appear that, "Everybody ought to pay the preacher," because everybody is benefited by him. Through the agency of the christian ministry, Life, Character, and Property are protected. By christian ministry here is meant the Protestant christian ministry. And the farther that ministry is removed from Roman Catholicism the more protection society, in its three great rights, receives from it. That these things are so, let facts be submitted to our consideration.

First, the value of property is based upon the perpetuity of its title. If your house is valued at ten thousand dollars, and you know that at the going down of the sun to day the title will pass away from you, never to be restored, it would be of very little value to you. But if you know that the government is sufficiently stable to preserve your rights, and so pure that it will respect your rights, then the house is worth to you ten thousand dollars.

All governments that have not the agency of the christian ministry are fickle, unstable, unreliable as a protector. This sentiment has monumental illustration and demonstrations of the truthfulness of this proposition. Reference to Mexico alone is sufficient. The religion of that country is Roman Catholicism. The government unreliable, unstable, fickle, property is unsafe, character is not respected, human life is not properly appreciated. The Eastern Continent has multiplied illustrations of this truth. In the last twenty five years France has experienced every possible form of government. Notwithstanding the unparalleled suffering of that people and the destruction of property during the war with Russia; yet in a few months after the war the communists caused more destruction of property and suffering among the people than did that war.

Wherever the doors of a government are open to Protestant christianity, the circumstances are different. The christian ministry teach the great personal individual rights, and enforce them by enlightening the mind and training the conscience. It shows individual, personal responsibility to God. It makes every one a free moral agent. When a government is based upon these great principles it is stable. It is like the house built upon a rock.

Maintain these principles, have them deeply imbedded in the hearts and consciences of men, and your government will be safe, your property secured.

In proportion as the government approaches these principles, it becomes republican, and simple. That government is best, which being stable, allows the greatest freedom—compatible with the rights of others—to its subjects, and is the least expensive. That government is based alone upon the principles taught by the christian ministry.

The United States government is an illustration of this truth. Here the gospel has free course and is glorified. And here the largest liberty is given. The government has stood longer, free of changes than any other during the century of its existence, property has been secured—save slavery.

Now the christian ministry is the grand support of this government. Then everybody is benefited by the ministry; all should support the ministry in the proportion that he is benefitted.

Saint Paul said: "Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come."

BEN ELLET.

Oypas Grove, N. C. Oct. 1875.

MESSRS EDITORS: I have just received a letter from Rev. P. L. Herman, who has charge of the church in Thomasville, giving an account of the glorious revival now in progress at that place. The meeting has been going on for three weeks—52 persons have professed conversion and the good work is now general in the community. At the risk of offending the modesty of my good brother, I must publish a few sentences from his letter for the benefit of your readers. Bro. Herman says—"We did not send off for this or that D D.,—we did not send for Moody to preach and Sankey to sing; but we sent for God Almighty—and glory be to his holy name—he came—and now all God's people are prophets" * * *

"We hope to hear good news from your church before long. God is so near. You and your flock can make ready and invite Him, and when He comes, a fire will be kindled that water cannot quench. "Bless the Lord, O! my soul."

"Preach the simple gospel and ask God to be present to bless the word in the salvation of the people."

Shall the brother's hope be realized? Shall we have a glorious revival at Edenton Street? Let us make ready and invite the Saviour. O! for a gracious baptism of the Holy Ghost!

O! brethren, let us call mightily upon God and depend on him alone for grand results. God knows we greatly need such a revival as that at Thomasville. Sinners are going down to ruin all around us. O! dear brethren, let us cry to God for help until he hears and answers!

L. S. BURKHEAD.

The Centennial.

MESSRS EDITORS: The suggestions of Bros. Webb and Hudson, in regard to the "Centennial" of N. C. Methodism, are entitled to notice;—first, because an event so important should not be allowed to pass without making an impression; and second, because the institutions of learning mentioned by Bro H need some untried agency, to arouse many of our people to the giving point in their behalf. Possibly the "Centennial" movement may be the thing.

On reading Bro. H.'s communication, I was reminded of a "snake" story I once heard. The members of the "Snipe" family—father and sons—were notorious for wickedness. Unluckily, Bill Snipes was bitten by a Rattlesnake, and becoming alarmed for his safety sent for a neighboring class leader to pray for him. The "leader" came, and in his prayer thanked God for "rattlesnakes;" and prayed that "one might be sent to bite Sam, and another to bite Jake, and a big one to bite the old man," saying—that nothing but rattlesnakes would bring the Snipe family to repentance."

By all means let us see what can be done in this way. Keep it before the people, is the idea—advertise if you would get your wares into market. And then that "Centennial' Church for Raleigh,—let us have it. One too, that will in every way meet the demands of a growing Church, in such a centre. It is to be feared that in this country, most people have too little invested in the Church to feel proper concern for it. O for a "Centennial' gale that shall unearth much of the gold and silver belonging to God, and get it into position for his glory!

V. A. SHARPE.

MESSRS EDITORS: The cause of the superannuated preachers, widows and orphans was nobly presented by our pastor upon yesterday, and I must say that I wish THAT appeal could have been heard at every appointment throughout the bounds of our Conference, as it would have surely stirred the hearts of our people within them and I hope stimulated them to an enlarged liberality. Now, sirs, I do not wish to be considered as reporting the sermon for I am satisfied I could not do so if I so desired. I simply wish to present in my own way some of the views advanced on the occasion as I may recollect them.

According to statistics submitted to our last annual Conference, there were but about eight preachers whose salaries exceeded one thousand dollars, and but three or four the sum of twelve hundred, while many had received but three hundred dollars for their year's faithful work. Now some of these men are educated, men who have spent years in study and perfecting themselves for their work; and while we admit that in this large number there is a variety of talent, yet we would conscientiously and honestly ask, "In what other calling could we receive men's services at such poor pay? and again, how can we expect our beloved Methodism to hold its head erect and contend with other denominations when our preachers are so poorly paid? Is it a wonder that our Bishops feel at times a scarcity of laborers when so uninviting a field is presented? The vows of our preachers require them to be men of one work; hence they can follow no other avocation for a support. Again, they are to go wherever sent and know not where their lot for next year will be cast until it falls from the lips of the Bishop. For their support they must depend upon the liberality and faithfulness of stewards. In what other business would a man leave it to others to fix his pay? Why, the farmer even fixes the price of his grain, his produce and his meats, but the preacher must depend upon the liberality of others and there are some stingy souls who, forgetting that the laborer is worthy of his hire, would have him live of the Gospel,—such diet as they themselves do not relish. Yes, stewards, the preacher must live on what you allow him whether it is too little or not; whether it will support him or not; whether he can educate his children or not, whether he can have any thing to purchase books for his improvement or not; and then again he must labor faithfully, go whenever sent for and preach splendidly whether he receives his pay or not; or whether burdened with debt occasioned by want of liberality of our people, and then after too old for labor or called to rest, his family are too often forgotten in the annual collections required by the Conference for their support; With no home they can call their own the ymust suffer out their days and look forward to their reward beyond this vale of tears. But, Messrs Editors, I find I am occupying too much of your space and not doing this important subject justice, and will conclude by a rough suggestion which I trust will be enlarged and improved upon by our next annual Conference; and that is, to require our Presiding Elders by an exchange of preachers (or in any way they may deem best) to have this subject properly presented at least one time at each appointment during the year; or if this is not expedient let one or two ministers be appointed as special agents to travel throughout the bounds of the Conference and present this subject properly to our people, yes to every congregation or appointment, for I am satisfied that our present meager collections in some localities are attributable to the imperfect manner in which the subject is too often presented.

Yours

WILL.

Cottage Lane. Oct 18th, 1875.

News from the Churches.

Rev. J. W. Pnett writes under date of Oct. 20th and says: "The Lord is giving success to his word on this, the Rockspring circuit. A goodly number of penitents have been converted recently, and some are joining the church, for which we thank God and take courage."

R.v. M H. Hoyle, writing from Wadesboro under date of Oct. 15th says: "The spirit of the Lord has been with us again in the Lilesville circuit. I protracted a meeting at Shiloh, from the 2nd Sunday of September, until after the 3rd Sunday. A revival spirit pervaded the congregation from the beginning of the meeting. The church was abundantly revived; and there were 22 conversions and 21 accessions to our church. I had no clerical assistance during the entire meeting. Uncle Stubbs and other official brethren from the Wadesboro circuit, working together with the officials of my charge, relieved me of nearly all the labor except preaching. The most interesting feature of the meeting was the conversion and baptism of Mr. Geo. W. Martin, in the 74th year of his age.'

I held a meeting of eight days at Shady Grove, embracing the 4th Sunday of Sept, which resulted in seven accessions and seven conversions. One backslider was reclaimed, and the church was greatly resuscitated. It was truly a gracious season of refreshing to us all.

Rev. J. D. Carpenter writing from Nebo, McDowell county under date of Oct. 21st says: Please allow a place in the ADVOCATE for an account of our meeting at Mt. Pinnacle in McDowell co N. C. This is a new place—a school house, and temporary place of worship for any denomination. It is about seven miles South of the noted Nebo Camp Ground.

We began the meeting the 3rd Sunday in Sept. Had service every evening for about 20 days. Bro. M. L. Kaylor preached three times for us with telling effect. Had no other ministerial help. Truly it was a "time of refreshing from the presence of the Lord!"

We had no church here—not a single member—no one to lead in prayer at first, except myself, but God soon remedied all that. The first time we opened the door of the church sixteen joined. And thus the work went on. The congregation increased till the house would not contain more than one third of the people, all of whom behaved admirably. The whole country for miles around was astounded at the pentecostal revival—such an one as had never been in this section before. Many were converted at the altar—in the grove—at home—in the fields, on the highway; in short, any where and every where the spirit of God worked wonders.

Many, nearly all, of the most wicked men in our country, were happily converted. There is not a single young man or young lady, nor old one either, left out of the church in our immediate neighborhood.

Final result: eighty three professed religion and several backsliders reclaimed—total about 90 converted. Seventy five joined our church and about 12 the Baptist church. The lay brethren of the Baptist church labored faithfully with us during the meeting. A great many heads of familes were converted, consequently, family altars are being erected. Unlike many revivals, the male converts nearly doubled the female.

Several will move their membership here from other churches. We are organizing with about 100 members. Have a good subscription to build a large commodious church, which we anticipate building this winter. Bro. Wm. L. Morrisson proposes to give us any amount of land any where about here that we want on which to build.'

Thus the Lord has given another strong church to the Marion circuit—to his name be all the glory!

One good omen here the people willingly subscribe for the Raleigh CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE. May it prove a blessing to them as it has to many others.

Resolutions of 4th Quarterly Conference on the Newton Circuit.

Whereas Bishop Marvin has removed our former Presiding Elder, Rev. L S. Burkhead D. D., from this the Shelby District, and placed him in charge of Edenton St. Church Raleigh N. C., it is therefore Resolved, by the Quarterly Conference of the Newton Circuit now in session. That while we regret very much to part with Dr. Burkhead, who has been so earnest, zealous, faithful and successful in the discharge of every duty as Presiding Elder, yet we submit to the orders of our beloved Bishop, as being for the best interest of the whole church, and congratulate our brethren of Edenton St. Church in securing the services of Dr. Burkhead. Our loss is their gain.

Resolved, That should it ever happen in our Itinerant plan that Dr. Burkhead is again called on to take charge of the "Empire District," we assure him now that we stand ready to receive him with open arms.

Resolved, That while we hold that Dr. Burkhead has but few equals as a presiding officer, yet we feel that we have been highly favored in having Rev. R. G. Barrett as his successor, whom we consider as being in every respect worthy of the high and responsible position of presiding over the "Empire District," and hereby bid him welcome among us as our Presiding Elder, and bid him God-speed in his arduous work.

The foregoing resolutions were unanimously adopted by a rising vote, and ordered to be published in the ADVOCATE.

Bible Distribution.

TO MINISTERS OF THE GOSPEL IN NORTH CAROLINA: Dear Brethren: All of you, doubtless, meet with persons destitute of the Holy Scriptures, and would be glad to be instrumental in the supply of such wants. Your ministry involves care and effort for the planting of the written Word within your fields of labor; and I would respectfully call your attention to the fact that auxiliary Bible Societies and their depositaries are everywhere within your reach, and that orders from you for cheap Bibles and Testaments for donation with statements of the parties to whom they are to be given, and of the fact that they are within the limits of the Societies on which the orders are drawn, should be readily accepted.

Depositaries and other officers of Auxiliary Bible Societies are hereby requested to supply you on the above conditions, and I would respectfully suggest that each of you cut out this circular and carry it with you.

Yours in the bonds of the Gospel,

C. H. WILEY,

Dist. Supt. American Bible Society in North Carolina.

Religious Intelligence.

General Howard says that to Methodists belongs the honor of carrying Christianity to Alaska.

Six hnndred missionaries, with three thousand native helpers, is the numerical force to carry the gospel to India's 300,000,000 of people.

The great unfinished Roman Catholic cathedral on Fifth avenue, New York, was sold for taxes last week. Under the Tammany ring the taxes were remitted, but have been assessed according to law since it went out of authority. The building was bought by a Romanist.

Alderman Carlisle, of Belfast, Ireland, is erecting a Wesleyan church as a memorial of an only son, of much promise. It is said it will be the finest structure occupied by the denomination in the United Kingdom.

Rev. A. P. Parker, of the Missouri Conference, M. E. Church South, under appointment as missionary to China, accompanies Mrs. Lambuth on her return to that country. They are to sail from San Francisco in a few days.

A priest, who has recently abandoned the Romish faith, says that the Catholics of this country are greatly over-estimated as to number. Even calculating in their manner—that is every man, woman and child—we will not find 5,000,000. Of the children they lose at least fifty per cent.—seventy-five per cent. of boys and twenty-five per cent. of girls.

The Holston Conference M. E. Church, North, at its recent session, instructed its delegates to the General Conference to vote against electing presiding elders.

The July reports from the Chinese Mission schools of the American Missionary Association show a total membership for that month of 483, and an average attendance of 306.

The presiding Prostestant Episcopal Bishop has called a special meeting of the House of Bishops, in Grace church, New York, on Thursday, October 28, at ten o'clock, for the purpose of electing missionary bishops for Africa and China, and also of receiving the report of the Mexican commission.

NORTH CAROLINA.

M. L. Bost, of Cabarrus county, lost a hand in a cotton gin week before last.

The Fair of the Cape Fear Agricultural Association will begin on the 9th of November.

Diptheria of a malignant type has been prevailing in Concord and vicinity.

The epizootic, which troubled horses so much in the fall of 1872, has again made its appearance in many parts of the State.

A Sewing Machine factory is in operation at Shelby, and walnut timber, used for the tables of the machines, is bringing good prices.

There is talk of a change of gauge on the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad. It is said a change will cost not more than $12.000, which to R. R. Companies is regarded a mere song.

The Fair fell through at Charlotte and "Carolina Park Races" were substituted therefor, but they too have run off the track—being indefinitely and fortunately postponed.

The "Wide Awake" is the next thing in North Carolina Journalism. Mr. H. I. McDuffie, formerly of the Shelby Aurora, will commence its publication at Fayetteville at an early date.

A thief picked the pocket of R. R. King, Esq., in Charlotte, on 'circus day' and got a bundle of "Presbyterians" (newspapers). We hope he read them carefully.

The Southern HOME says that A. J. Williams, son of W. P. Williams of Sharon township, aged 12 years, picked 205 lbs. of cotton in one day. Washie Boatwright, son of Z. J. Boatwright, same township, aged 7 years, picked 106 lbs. in one day.

A thirty pound cabbage has been on exhibition at the depot in Morganton.—It was raised in Mitchell county where large cabbages abound.

Meetings in the interest of the Fayetteville and Goldsboro Railway will be held at Newton Grove on the 28th inst., and at Grantham's Store on the 30th inst.

Several pockets were picked by the "light fingered gentry" at the circus at Charlotte week before last.

The town clock, on the old market at Fayetteville has, the Gazette says, "had its face washed and new figures painted thereon.

The powder magazine in Campbellton (a Fayetteville suburb) was robbed of 9 kegs of powder belonging to different merchants in town.

A new bridge across the Catawba River, near Rutherford College, has been recently completed by Messrs Sides and Connelly Brothers. Though at present a toll bridge, arrangements are being made to have passage free to all.

The Charlottese complain of the poor quality of gas manufactured by the Centennial Gas Company, but the Company explains and promises a remedy.

Capt. Thomas H. Allen, of Charlotte has been elected Chief Engineer of the Western N. C. Railroad. J. M. Wooten of Wooten's Express was given the exclusive right to run an express line over the road and has now an unbroken line from Wilmington to Asheville.

The Wilmington Star has been informed that the mother and father of a family somewhere in Richmond county left home one day leaving four children in charge of a negro woman. When they returned the children were all dead; the negro woman said she had cooked a cabbage for dinner of which the children had eaten heartily but knew nothing of the cause of the death. Upon being asked to eat of the cabbage herself, she readily did so, and soon after died. Upon examination, it was found that a young rattlesnake which had hidden in the cabbage head was cooked with it, the cabbage being cooked without splitting and the poison of the snake being infused into it.

Constitutional Amendments.

The delegate from Orange, Mr. Turner, has furnished the "Sentinel" the following synopsis of the 33 proposed amendments to the constitution:

1st Amendment: That section 1, of article 9, be stricken out and two new sections be substituted. The section to be stricken out is in regard to lands given to the state by congress and the appropriation of fines, penalties, &c. The section to be substituted gives all lands and proceeds of lands, given by the United States to the state, to educational purposes; and all swamp lands, &c., are to be used for purposes of education.

2nd Amendment strikes out section 17, article 3, and substitutes a section providing for the establishment of a bureau of agriculture, immigration and statistics, and the protection of sheep husbandry.

3d Amendment adds to section 25, of article 1, that "secret political societies are dangerous to the liberties of a free people and should not be tolerated."

4th Amends section 10, article 3, by providing that the governor, with the advice of the senate, shall appoint all officers whose appointments are not otherwise provided for.

5th Abrogates and amends section 15, 16 and 17, of article 4, and allows the general assembly to allot and distribute all judicial power among the several counties except that of the supreme court, which is fixed by the constitution itself.

6th Strikes out sections 1 and 2, of article 13, and forbids calling a convention without first consulting the people at the polls.

7th Provides for submitting the amendments to the constitution to the people, at the polls, Tuesday after the 1st Monday in November, 1876. The amendments will be ratified or rejected together.

8th Provides for publishing the ordinances for the information of the people.

9th Requires the judge to reside in the district for which he is elected, and forbids his holding court in the same county more than once in four years.

10th Reduces the number of judges from 12 to 9, and authorizes the legislature to increase or diminish the number.

11th Provides for the assembling of the legislature in January instead of December.

12th Forbids white and black children going to the same school, and provides that no discrimination shall be made to the prejudice of either race.

13th Fixes the pay of members of the general assembly at $1 a day and 10 cents mileage, and limits the session to 60 days. If the session is prolonged beyond 60 days, members receive no pay.

14th Provides that the term of office for senators and members of the legislature shall begin at the time of their election.

15th, That section 29, of article 2, is amended to allow the general assembly to change the time of holding elections for the general assembly.

16th Strikes from the constitution section 4, of article 2, which is the republican gerrymander of the senatorial districts in 1868.

17th Reduces the number of supreme judges from five to three, as our fathers had it.

18th Declares the judicial power shall be vested in a court for the trial of impeachments, a supreme court, superior courts, courts of justice of the peace, and such others inferior to the supreme court as may be established by law.

19th Establishes the supreme court at Raleigh, until otherwise provided by the general assembly.

20th Strikes section 8 article 2, from the constitution. This section was the republican gerrymander of the house of representatives.

21st Forbids vacating any office or term of office now existing under the constitution.

22nd Provides for the election of judges of the supreme court and superior court, by general ticket, or vote of all the people; but allows the general assembly to change the mode of electing superior court judges from general ticket to district elections

23d Requires 12 months' residence in the state, and 90 days in the county, before a man can vote, and excludes felons and ex-penitentiary convicts from holding office or voting until restored to citizenship by due process of law.

24th Provides for the removal by the legislature of any judge of the supreme court, for mental or physical disability. It also provides for the removal of judges of the supreme and superior courts by the judges of the courts for the same reason. Appeal in case of removal is allowed as in other cases or suits.

25th Provides that article 7 of the constitution be amended by adding that the general assembly shall have power to modify, change or abrogate any and all of the provisions of the article, and substitute others in their place, except section 7, 9 and 13. This allows the legislature to appoint magistrates as under the old constitution.

26th Gives jurisdiction to justices of the peace over civil actions founded on contract, when the sum does not exceed $200; and allows the justices to call to a jury of six men in certain cases.

39th Authorizes the employment of convicts on public works and highways.

28th Adds the following new section to article 4 "In case the general assembly shall establish other inferior courts, the presiding officers and clerks thereof shall be elected in such manner as the general assembly may prescribe."

29th Forbids marriage between white and black and all persons of negro descent to the third generation.

30th Adds to article 1, section 24—"Nothing herein contained shall justify the practice of carrying concealed weapons or prevent the legislature from enacting penal statutes against said practice."

31st Abolishes section 31, of article 4, and provides for filling all vacancies in offices provided for by this article by the governor not otherwise provided for.

32d Provides for paying officers and members of the convention.

33d Gives power to the supreme court to try issues and questions of fact as under the old constitution.

...across the Catawba ... Female College, has been ... by Messrs Sides and ... Though at present ... arrangements are being ... passage free to all.

...ffers complaint of the ... gas manufactured by ... Gas Company, but the ... grams and promises a ...

...mas H. Allen, of Char... elected Chief Engineer ... N C Railroad E... of Wood's Express was ... sive right to run an ex... the road and has now ... me from Wilmington to ...

...ington St. has been un... ...ne father and father of ... ...ewson in Richmond ... one day leaving four ... ...ence of a negro woman, ...ried the children were ... ...negro woman said she ... ...cabbage for dinner of ... ...ey got on a leave of absence ... ...n in Europe.

... son of Dr. W. G. Hill, ... returned to this city, af... ...on the seas for eight ...

...Moltke, the great German General, ...ocats Sherman, McClellan, ...rston were the only real ... the late war in the U. S.

...Forrest, whom the Grand ... considered the handsomest ... America, has married a Ne... ...or.

...B. Glenn, Esq., will make Win... ...re home.

...H. Belo, formerly of Salem, ...ecome sole proprietor of the ... Daily News.

...Commerce: S. Westry Battle, ...prominent and respected ... W. S. Battle, Esq., has just ... appointment as assistant ... U. S. Navy, reaching ... day. Dr. Battle was one ... ...cessful applicants, after a most ...ive examination extending ... of eight days. This evin... ...merit.

...ED LOVE: ON WITH THE ... A. B. Andrews, who has ... years Superintendent of ... and Gaston, and Raleigh and ... the railroads, has resigned ... and accepted the superin... of the North Carolina and ... North Carolina roads ...rriers in Raleigh. Capt. ... has been the working genius of ... Railroad and by his indomi... and "push" has been of ... service to that road. He is ... gentleman, determined in his ... always practical and is an ac... R. & D. Railroad of which ...

...Mail.—We have two bills of pa... ...y that are of revolutionary ... one is this: "N. Carolina ... No. 2889. ONE FOURTH OF A ... By Authority of Congress at ... April 2 1776." It is printed on ... and on heavy brown paper, ... the wording; is a picture of a ...

...other bill is printed: "Two ... DOLLAR. According to a ... Congress passed at Philadelphia ... February 17, 1776. MIND ... Printed by HALL and ... Piedmont Press.

...on night of the 8thinst., Dr. J. K. ... of Lexington, Davidson county, ... killed himself at home in his ... during the gun by fastening a string ... trigger and putting it around the ... No cause is known to induce ... to the dreadful deed. He was ... esteemed beloved by the people of Lex...

...The Tarboro TRANSCRIPT says: "We ... learned there is a man living near ... who is only 25 years old and is ... among the company of his third wife. ... was 21 when he was first married and ... 12 days to be 24 when he took ... second wife."

General News

...A cotton mill at Berlin.

...Spartanburg S. C., has ... of five years.

...ton weighing 955 pounds was ... Saturday.

...ng Rangers" a secret society of ... recently burned a colliery near ... loss over $10 000.

...ion in connection of the will of the late ... Sarah Georgia, who left ... dollars to various charit...

...papers are rife with the account ... failures in England and the ... The failures in the former ... for the last two or three months, ag... over $100 000 000.

...ter of Hon. Mabel Young who was ... a certificate in botany in the Warren ... Institute in Boston, has lost ... and is an inmate of a private in...

...Springfield Republican thinks that ... is resulted by a man, she ought ... her family.

...Duke of Edinburgh on visiting Nijni ... was presented by the mercantile ... with samovars of bread and a ... pieces of salt in token of friendship and ... to the Queen was presented on and ... a silver salver worth $1,400.

...Empress Josephine's residence near ... known as Malmaison, is about to be ... under the manner. Napoleon III. was ... to have purchased the estate during his ... and restored to the condition it was ... when occupied by Josephine.

...The Albany (Oregon) Democrat says that ... Perkins from one city shipped to ... one week, receiving, Cincinnatus, Ohio, ... Chattanooga, Tenn., of this years' pro... ...It goes by steamship to San Francisco and thence overland by rail, and has been ordered by some extensive farmer in the ... to consignee, to be used for seeding ... Gov. Grover was occasioned by ... Perkins asking with him a sample ... grain and displaying it to Ohio far...

...A large number of the best citizens of Bal... ...have signed a petition asking the City ... to have the School Board the right of ... such pension to those teachers ... who have served for 30 years or more, and ... are incapable, by reason of age, for ... work in the schools.

...Twenty-five Georgia towns have driven out ... retail liquor dealers.

...The operatives in the Fall River mills have ... ...ed of their idleness, and returned to ... work.

...Recent rains have swollen the rivers and ... ...es in England and great loss of property ... been caused by inundation.

...Diplomatic relations between Holland and ... ...have been broken off.

...Typhoons in Japanese waters have been ... ...ed to China.

...Confederation Government has pacified the ... ...by granting amnesty to the Bishops.

...Governor of New York has requested the ... ...Police to resign. General W. ... ...smith has complied; the others, Matsell, ...Superintendent, refuse to give up ... office.

The Christian Advocate

...ISHED IN THE CITY OF RAL... ...EVERY WEDNESDAY MORN... ...TERMS $2 20 POSTAGE PAID.

Our Agents.

...ching and local preachers in the bounds ... Conference are our authorized ... sending us ten subscribers, for ... we give the paper free.

Our Correspondents.

...communication should be carefully ... one side of the sheet. All letters ... addressed to the Editor.

How to Remit.

...Money, all amounts should be sent in ... Post-office order or check. The cost ... Post office order can be deducted ... amount. If money is sent otherwise ... it will be at the sender's risk.

Personal Mention.

...Forrest has bought an inter... ...ville, Ga.

...Davis, of Wofford Col... ...ing on a leave of absence ... in Europe.

...son of Dr. W. G. Hill, ... returned to this city, af... ...on the seas for eight ...

...Moltke, the great German General, ...locates Sherman, McClellan, ...rston were the only real ... the late war in the U. S.

...Forrest, whom the Grand ... considered the handsomest ... America, has married a Ne... ...or.

...B. Glenn, Esq., will make Win... ...re home.

...H. Belo, formerly of Salem, ...ecome sole proprietor of the ... Daily News.

...mmerce: S. Westry Battle, ...prominent and respected ... W. S. Battle, Esq., has just ... appointment as assistant ... U. S. Navy, reaching ... day. Dr. Battle was one ... ...cessful applicants, after a most ...ive examination extending ... of eight days. This evin... ...merit.

...ED LOVE: ON WITH THE ... A. B. Andrews, who has ... years Superintendent of ... and Gaston, and Raleigh and ... the railroads, has resigned ... and accepted the superin... of the North Carolina and ... North Carolina roads ...rriers in Raleigh. Capt. ... has been the working genius of ... Railroad and by his indomi... and "push" has been of ... service to that road. He is ... gentleman, determined in his ... always practical and is an ac... R. & D. Railroad of which ...

...Mail.—We have two bills of pa... ...y that are of revolutionary ... one is this: "N. Carolina ... No. 2889. ONE FOURTH OF A ... By Authority of Congress at ... April 2 1776." It is printed on ... and on heavy brown paper, ... the wording; is a picture of a ...

...other bill is printed: "Two ... DOLLAR. According to a ... Congress passed at Philadelphia ... February 17, 1776. MIND ... Printed by HALL and ... Piedmont Press.

...on night of the 8thinst., Dr. J. K. ... of Lexington, Davidson county, ... killed himself at home in his ... during the gun by fastening a string ... trigger and putting it around the ... No cause is known to induce ... to the dreadful deed. He was ... esteemed beloved by the people of Lex...

...The Tarboro TRANSCRIPT says: "We ... learned there is a man living near ... who is only 25 years old and is ... among the company of his third wife. ... was 21 when he was first married and ... 12 days to be 24 when he took ... second wife."

General News

...A cotton mill at Berlin.

...Spartanburg S. C., has ... of five years.

...ton weighing 955 pounds was ... Saturday.

...ng Rangers" a secret society of ... recently burned a colliery near ... loss over $10 000.

...ion in connection of the will of the late ... Sarah Georgia, who left ... dollars to various charit...

...papers are rife with the account ... failures in England and the ... The failures in the former ... for the last two or three months, ag... over $100 000 000.

...ter of Hon. Mabel Young who was ... a certificate in botany in the Warren ... Institute in Boston, has lost ... and is an inmate of a private in...

...Springfield Republican thinks that ... is resulted by a man, she ought ... her family.

...Duke of Edinburgh on visiting Nijni ... was presented by the mercantile ... with samovars of bread and a ... pieces of salt in token of friendship and ... to the Queen was presented on and ... a silver salver worth $1,400.

...Empress Josephine's residence near ... known as Malmaison, is about to be ... under the manner. Napoleon III. was ... to have purchased the estate during his ... and restored to the condition it was ... when occupied by Josephine.

...The Albany (Oregon) Democrat says that ... Perkins from one city shipped to ... one week, receiving, Cincinnatus, Ohio, ... Chattanooga, Tenn., of this years' pro... ...It goes by steamship to San Francisco and thence overland by rail, and has been ordered by some extensive farmer in the ... to consignee, to be used for seeding ... Gov. Grover was occasioned by ... Perkins asking with him a sample ... grain and displaying it to Ohio far...

...A large number of the best citizens of Bal... ...have signed a petition asking the City ... to have the School Board the right of ... such pension to those teachers ... who have served for 30 years or more, and ... are incapable, by reason of age, for ... work in the schools.

...Twenty-five Georgia towns have driven out ... retail liquor dealers.

...The operatives in the Fall River mills have ... ...ed of their idleness, and returned to ... work.

...Recent rains have swollen the rivers and ... ...es in England and great loss of property ... been caused by inundation.

...Diplomatic relations between Holland and ... ...have been broken off.

...Typhoons in Japanese waters have been ... ...ed to China.

...Confederation Government has pacified the ... ...by granting amnesty to the Bishops.

...Governor of New York has requested the ... ...Police to resign. General W. ... ...smith has complied; the others, Matsell, ...Superintendent, refuse to give up ... office.

MADAME MCMAHON collected 24,384 405 for the sufferers by the Gironde inundation.

THE mammoth hotel to be built at St. Louis by Boston capitalists will be 12 stories, 300 feet square, 170 feet high, and will contain 2,000 rooms accommodating 3,500 lodgers.

A PREMIUM of $1 000 has been offered by the Memphis Cotton Exchange for the best bale of cotton, of the present crop, raised in the country about Memphis, for exhibition at the Centennial.

IT has been proposed to establish a pigeon post between Europe and the United States, and an ocean homing bird of great docility has been discovered in Iceland which is said to be admirably calculated for the purpose, being able to fly at the marvellous rate of 150 miles per hour.

FOR SCARLET FEVER.—An eminent physician of Chicago, says he cures ninety-nine out of every hundred cases by giving the patient warm lemonade with gum arabic dissolved in it. A cloth wrung out in hot water and laid upon the stomach, should be removed as rapidly as it becomes cool.

Marriages.

Married Oct 6th, 1875, at the residence of the bride's father Isaiah Wagner, Esq., by Rev. Thos A. Coon, Mr. J. W. Johnston, to Miss Sue E. Wagner, all of Iredell co. N. C.

By the same, Oct. 20th, 1875, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. H. M. Honeycutt Mr. R. M. Sanders to Miss Mollie J. Honeycutt, all of Iredell co. N. C.

By the same, Oct. 21st, 1875, at the parsonage in Mooresville, Mr. W J Cook to Miss Julia J. Brawley, all of Shepherd's Cross Roads, N C.

Married at the residence of Benj. Walton, Esq., on 17th inst by Rev. J. E. Thompson. Mr. T. A. Bingham and Miss Bettie Ligon, all of Wake county.

Married at the residence of the bride's mother Mrs M. M. Pender, Oct. 6th, by Rev. F. D Swindell, Miss Mary Pender, to Mr. David Braswell, all of Edgecombe co.

Married by Rev. T. A. Boone, in Montgomery co. on the 14th Oct, George W McAniey Esq, to Miss Alice Barringer, daughter of E G L Barringer.

Married at the bride's residence, Oct 14th, 1875, by Rev. J. T. Bagwell, Mr. W. C. Dunnam and Miss Eliza J. Purdie, of Bladen.

Deaths.

☞Obituary notices of twenty lines are inserted without charge. The excess over twenty lines of same words is charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line. Count the lines and allow same words to the line. In this way you may always know the amount to enclose. Resolutions of respect are subject to the same rule ☜

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

When such a man as Joseph H. Separk is so suddenly taken from among us by the stern hands of death, we are at a loss for words to express our sorrow and regret.

It is however fit and proper, that we who cherish his memory so dear, who have so highly respected him as a citizen, and loved him as a christian and a Mason, should set apart a memorial page, in the records of our Lodge, thereby showing forth the estimate we have of his many virtues and offering the token of sympathy and friendship to his bereaved and sorrowing family.

The subject of this memoir was born in the city of Petersburg Va. the 25th of June 1830, He served his apprenticeship as moulder and machinist in the city of Richmond Va. He removed to the city of Raleigh in the year 1862, and was raised to the sublime degree of a master mason in Hiram Lodge the 15th of April 1864, in which he remained an active and faithful member to the day of his death.

He was elected Mayor of the city of Raleigh the 6th day of May 1875, in which position he proved himself worthy of the trust that had been confided to him by his townsmen.

His death occurred on the 30th day of August 1875 in his 45th year.

He leaves a dear wife and 6 children 4 males and 2 females to mourn their irreparable loss. Therefore Resolved that while we deplore the loss of a brother so good and true, yet we rejoice to be assured that he is been removed from our Temple terrestrial to the Temple celestial, "not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

Resolved, That we tender to his distressed relatives our heartfelt sympathy and condolence, and with them give thanks to God for the hope of a glorious resurrection.

Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to the family of the deceased, and to the 'Christian Advocate' (of this city) for publication.

E. B. THOMAS, J. C. R. LITTLE, T. W. BLAKE, } Com.

Hiram Lodge No. 10 A. F. & A. M. Oct. 1875.

Died at his residence in Lenoir county, on Monday night the 15th inst, after a brief illness of intense suffering, Bro. L. H. Aldridge in the 57th year of his age. Bro Aldridge had for some years been a firm and consistent member of the Methodist Church—was perfectly resigned to the will of his Creator, and died with a lively hope of a blessed immortality though the redeeming merits of Jesus.

R. B. G.

Died at Cedar Creek, Bladen co. Sept. 28th, 1875, Nettie Goldston, only child of Dr. J. L. and W. L. McKay, aged 3 months and 1 day.

"Not lost but gone before"

J. SANDFORD.

North Carolina Presbyterian please copy.

James Crews has passed away from earth He is at home with God his Saviour! A heavenly harp and crown are his. His death gives no occasion for tears for he is infinitely happier than we, and he leaves to his children the rich legacy of a noble example and a stainless character. His whole life was a testimony to the truth of the christian religion, and truly may it be said of him, that he had fought the good fight, he had kept the faith and was ready to be offered up.

For several weeks before his death it was evident that his end was near. His body was disaffected by disease but was literally worn out with age. His mind was not clouded and an unusual cheerfulness never forsook him to the last.

His funeral was preached at Salem Church on Wednesday afternoon the 29th ult. by Rev. J. R. Griffith from Psalms 58 11. "Verily there is a reward for the righteous." At the close of the sermon Rev. L. K. Willie pronounced a eulogy of the deceased after which the body was interred near the church.

There was present at these services a larger number of relatives of the deceased than was ever known to be assembled on a similar occasion in Granville County. Mr Crews has had more than one hundred lineal descendents, exclusive of those that may have been born in other States, and his family connections can scarcely be numbered. They all loved him dearly, and his influence upon them will be felt for good, to the latest generation of his posterity.

Died on Tuesday morning, Sept 28th, 1875, at his residence near Salem Church in Granville county, James Crews, aged 90 years and nearly two months, having been born July 2, 1785. Mr. Crews at the time of his death was doubtless the oldest white male citizen of Granville county. His career has been in many respects a remarkable one. Endowed by nature with a vigorous constitution and a sound mind, he started early and set out in life to carve out his fortune with no human aid but his wife, but carrying within a brave heart, a strong will and an implicit trust in God. He steadily and actively pursued a course of honest industry in the quiet, rural life of a farmer until he acquired an estate that enabled him to provide well for a large family of children and to secure for his declining years all the comforts which his simple habits required. He early connected himself with the Methodist Episcopal Church, and amid all its vicissitudes in Granville county he maintained to the end of life his devotion to her doctrines and mode of worship. He was literally the temporal father of Salem Church, for by his instrumentality it was founded, and until his children grew up around him and began to take their places in the Church, it was mainly through his support that it was sustained. Though devoted to the Church of his choice he was no bigot. There was nothing narrow or contracted in his religious opinions. His great heart was too deep and too broad and his christianity was too earnest to be confined within any mere sectarian limits. His religion was emphatically a religion of the heart. It was the great motor of his life; it was practical, earnest, diffusive. It consisted of a profound love for the God he worshiped, and a broad liberal christian charity for his fellow-men, and as he approached the end of life it seemed to shed upon his path-way a radiance of more than earthly splendor. His fondness for sacred music amounted to a passion. He purchased and presented to the Salem Church a handsome Cabinet Organ, and it was his great delight to sit near this his favorite instrument during divine service and on other occasions when opportunity offered, always with an attentive ear, and often were the big tears seen to roll down his cheeks as he would become enraptured by its sweet strains.

Died, Sept. 12th 1875, in the county of Montgomery, N. C., Sister Mary A. Atkins, aged 32 years.

Sister Atkins was a member of the church about 12 years, and such was her spirit and character, that she had endeared herself very much to the membership and people, generally. Submissive to the will of God. she endured her afflictions, as seeing him who is "invisible" to human sight, but sensible to human feeling

All that a devoted husband, relatives and friends could do, was done for her comfort, but God willed otherwise, and now, no doubt. she enjoys that "rest that remaineth for the people of God."

She has left a bereaved husband and four little children to mourn her loss, but they sorrow not as those who have "no hope."

May God, in his infinite mercy, sustain the bereaved family in their sad affliction, and may it eventuate in good to them for time and eternity.

Her funeral sermon was preached by the writer of this imperfect tribute, to a large and sympathising audience, from Rev. 21st c 3rd and 4th verses, and her remains were deposited in the grave to await the dawn of the resurrection morn.

T. PAGE RICAUD.

Miss Cora Rhodes Burnett was born on the 10th day of July 1854, and died suddenly of rheumatism of the heart on the 10th day of Octoober 1875.

She was an amiable christian young lady, and beloved by all, who knew her. She had been a consistent member of the church at Bullock's for several years. She was suddenly called away in the midst of her young life; but the summons did not find her unprepared to go.

Thus has passed from the sufferings of earth to the rest of heaven a pure, exemplary christian. May God bind up the sorrowing hearts of her devoted parents and affectionate brothers and sisters. "She is not dead but sleepeth." Her funeral sermon was preached by her pastor Rev. J. R. Griffith at the residence of her father to many relatives and friends.

R.

Letters and Funds.

R A Bynum self $2.70. Rev V A Sharpe have been sent. Rev Jas Mahoney Rev J C Hartsell for H Edwards 2 20. Miss F Mercer Ed Alden N W Ayer & Sons M Pettingill & Co M T Goodwin self 75 cts. Rev G W Pepper paper sent. Rev M H Hoyle paper continued Rev G W Brown R B Gilliam J W Howard N Tibbols & Sons P C Hawn Geo P Rowell & Co Rev J S Nelson Rev A D Betts Rev T A Boone T King self 2 20. R W Harris R W Belo self 2 00, for Miss O Hollen 2 20 Rev Dr Hayzood W M Houston for Mrs L Houston 2. H L Beckerdite Rev H H Gibbons Geo R Ransom R G Pace for adv 12 50. Rev J W Puett for M W Sherrill 2.20. Rev J D Carpenter 50 cents. papers sent. N D Myers for V Clevel 2 20. Rev S H Heisseboch for Mrs N. McNairy 2.20 H Voter self 2. R Loador self 2 Rev J F Smart for Mrs M L Adams 2.20, C L Eason 2.20. Miss M Cobb 3 20. E A Brewer Rev C H Wiley.

Appointments.

SALISBURY DISTRICT.
FOURTH ROUND.

Yadkinville ct	Oct.	2- 3
Mooresville ct	"	9-10
Mocksville ct	"	16-17
Alexander ct	"	23-24
Surry ct & Saurattos Miss.	"	30 31
Mt Alry station	Nov.	6- 7
Wilkes ct	"	13-14
Salisbury ct	"	20-21
Iredell ct	"	27-28

D. R. BRUTON, P. E.
Statesville, N. C.

WASHINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND IN PART.

Mattemuskeet,	Oct.	16 17
Bath,	"	23-24
Plymouth & Jamesville,	"	30 31
Columbia.	Nov.	6- 7
Williamston,	"	13-14
Warren,	"	20-21
Roanoke,	"	27- 28

The brethren of Cape Hatteras will please meet me at Swan Quarter the 28th of Sept prepared to take me across the Sound the 29th, and the Preacher in charge will arrange for me to preach and administer the communion at all of the five appointments on his circuit.

The Preacher in charge of Portsmouth and Ocracoke will arrange for me to divide the six days allotted to that charge between Portsmouth and Ocracoke as he may think best so that I may preach and administer the communion at both places. The brethren of that charge will be relied upon to return me to Swan Quarter or some point on Matlemuskeet

WILLIAM CLOSE, P. E.

RALEIGH DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND, Q. M.

Henderson at Hendersons,	Oct.	2- 3
Rolesville at Rolesville,	"	9-10
R. M. and Nashville,	"	16-17
Dary,	"	23-24
Raleigh Edenton st,	"	30 31
Youngville,	Nov.	6- 7
Smithfield,	"	13-14

J. P. MOORE, P. E.
Warrenton, N. C.

CHARLOTTE DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Albemarle at Bethel,	Oct.	- 1
Stanley ct. at Rehoboth,	"	2- 3
Monroe ct. at Prospect,	"	9-10
Lillesville,	"	14-15
Wadesboro at Bethel,	"	16- 17
Concord sta and ct,	"	23-24
Pleasant Grove ct	"	30- 31
Tryon st, and Calvary Miss.	Nov.	6- 7
Catawba ct.	"	13-14
Mt Pleasant at Bethel,	"	20-21
Wadesboro sta,	"	27-28

J. S. NELSON, P. E.
Monroe. N. C.

FAYETTEVILLE DISTRICT.
4TH. ROUND.

Uwharrie Popler Spring, C. M,	Oct.	3- 4
Jonesboro,' Poplar Spring,	"	9-10
Laurnburg	"	16-17
Robeson,	"	23-24
Cumberland, Rockfish,	"	30- 31
Rockingham, Zion,	Nov.	6- 7
Pee Dee, Hebron,	"	13-14
Buckhorn. Cokesbury,	"	20-21
Fayetteville,	"	27-28

Camp meetings will be held in connection with the Quarterly Meetings on Carthage, Montgomery and Uwharrie circuits.

Brethren in the ministry are invited to attend.

S. D. ADAMS, P. E.
Carthage N. C.

HILLSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Deep River Maroney's,	Oct.	2- 3
Yanceyville Prospect,	"	9 10
Leasburg,	"	30 31
Person Bailey's,	Nov.	6- 7
Flat River Pleasant Green,	"	13-14
Hillsboro sta,	"	20-21

L. L. HENDREN, P. E.
Chapel Hill N. C.

SHELBY DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Double Shoals, Union (C M)	Oct,	2- 3
South Fork, Wesley Chapel (C M)	"	9 -10
Cherry Mt. Rock Spring (C M)	"	9 -10
Shelby station,	"	13-14
Shelby ct. Sharon (C M)	"	16 17
Rutherford, Pisgah	"	23-24
Marion,	"	27-28
Morganton,	"	30-31
Lenoir,	Nov.	6- 7
Happy Home,	"	13-14
Newton, Concord	"	20 21
Rock Spring,	"	27-28

Camp-meetings. will begin Friday evening and close on Wednesday morning. Let the Ministers and Stewards labor earnestly to bring up all the finances. Three tenths of the ecclesiastical year has passed away and only about one-fourth of our salaries has been paid! Dear Brethren, shall those who preach the gospel to you be sent away unpaid! God's blessings will be in proportion to your faithfulness in His service.

R. G. BARRETT, P. E.
Lincolnton, N. C

WILMINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Magnolia Salem,	Oct.	2- 3
Onslow, Tabernacle,	"	8-10
Topsail, Rocky Point,	"	15-17
Walterville, Shiloh,	"	23-24
Bladen, and Cape Fear Miss. } Windsor,	"	30-31
Wilmington Front Street,	Nov.	6- 7
Smithville,	"	13-14
Clinton, McGee,	"	20.21
Elizabeth, Waymans,	"	27 -28
Wilmington 5th st.	"	30

W. S. BLACK, P. E.
Magnolia N. C

NEWBERN DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Newberne,	Oct.	2- 3
Jones, at Lee's, Mon. & Tues,	"	4- 5
Oatterel, at Harlowe's,	"	9-10
Wayne, at Prem st, (Oed ol Ch'rch)	"	16-17
Craven, Wed. & Tuers.	"	20-21
Snow Hill, Snow Hill.	"	23 24
Neuse & S. Creek. Aurora.	"	30-31
Mt Olive, & Mt. Olive,	Nov.	6- 7
Wilson	"	13-14
Goldsboro,	"	20-21

E. A. YATES, P. E
Beaufort N C.

GREENSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Winston,	Oct	2- 3
Wentworth at Reidsville	"	9-10
Greensboro,	"	16-17
Randolph at Union Factory,	"	23-24
Stokes,	"	30-31
Davidson, at Lexington	Nov,	6- 7
Madison, Madison,	"	13-14
South Guilford, Frankliuville,	"	20-21
Forsyth, Tabor,	"	27-28

N. H. D. WILSON, P. E.
Greensboro, N. C

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

WHOLESALE CASH PRICES.

Office of CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, October 26, 1875

REMARKS

Business greatly improved. Country produce offered in quantities; especially in exchange for groceries

COTTON.

Old cotton none. New crop coming to market freely. Tendency downward. We quote: Middlings 12¾ Low middlings 12 1-2. Lower grades n ne offered.

General Market.

FLOUR, North Carolina $7@6.50.
CORN 1.00
CORN MEAL—100
BAGGING, Standard 15 1 2.
" Dundo 13 1-2.
BACON, N. C. sug round, 14.
" " hams 16 1-2
BULK C R. sides, 13 -
" shoulders, 10 to 11
LARD, North Carolina, 16 1-2
" Western tierces, 17 1-2 20
" " kegs, 16 1 2@17 1-2
COFFEE, Prime Rio, 25
" Fair Rio, 22@24
SYRUP, common, 37 1-2
MOLASSES, Cuba, 50.
SALT $2.25.
CHEESE, Cream, 13 16
" Factory, 11.
" Dairy, none.
NAILS, on basis for 10d, $4.00
SUGAR A, 12 1-2.
" Extra C. 11 1-4.
" Yellow, 10@11
LEATHER, Sole T 1-2 @30
HIDES, green, 7@8.
" dry, 13 1-2
TALLOW, 7@8
POTATOES, sweet 75
" Irish, $1.00@$1.25.
OATS, shelled, 50
" sheaf, $1.25
FODDER, old, $1.50, New 1.25
HAY, N. C. bales' .60
CHICKENS, grown, 30
" young, 20@30
EGGS, 25
BUTTER, country, 25@30
PEAS, Marlets A 6@6.50.
" Cut Herriers, 7@75
" Mackerel, new family, $1 50
" dressed prime, 8@10.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

AGENTS Wanted for the GRAND NEW BOOK.
PRESENT CONFLICT
of SCIENCE with RELIGION; or,
MODERN SKEPTICISM met on its OWN GROUND
The grandest theme and most vital question of the day. By the author of "SCIENCE AND THE BIBLE." Every man, woman, and child wants to read it. It gives the Christian a reason for his Faith, proves the wonderful discoveries of Science in harmony with God's Word, disproves the Tyndall assertions, and destroys the Darwin Theory. It sells beyond all expectation First agent sold 32, second 17, third 25, first week. First agent $1 second week. Every body buys it. Avoid the sensational trash advertised by other publishers, and secure territory for this book, that sells because the people need and want it. Send for circular and terms to agents.
P. W. ZIEGLER & CO., 518 ARCH st., Philadelphia, Pa.
Oct 27 5-1

R. H MACY & CO.
14TH ST. & 6TH AVE. NEW YORK.
The Largest Importers in America of Dolls and Toys suitable for Holiday Presents. The LARGEST RETAIL FANCY GOODS ESTABLISHMENT in New York ☞ Catalogues sent free to any address. ☜ Orders by mail attended to with special care.
Oct 27-4t

ARTHUR'S
ILLUSTRATED HOME MAGAZINE. "The Household Magazine of America." Two serial Stories in 1876 "EAGLESCLIFFE," by Mrs. Julia C. R. Dorr; and "MIRIAM," by T. S. Arthur. BUTTERICK'S Newest Patterns in every number. Terms $2.5 per year; 3 copies for $5.50. Splendid Book offers and Premiums specimen number 10 cts.
oct 27-2t eow T. S. ARTHUR & SON, Philad'a.

Marcy's Scioptican and Lantern Slides. New and brilliant effects, Circular free.
SPECIAL OFFERS TO SUNDAY-S HOOLS
L. J. MARCY, 1310 CHESNUT STREET Philadelphia, Pa.
Oct 27 3-m.

JOHN W. HINSDALE,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
Room No. 2, First Floor, Law Building, Fayetteville street.
RALEIGH, N. C.
Attends all the Courts in Raleigh and Fayetteville. Claims collected in all parts of North Carolina. Refers to Hon. R. M. Pearson, Chief Justice of N. C. Hon. M. W. Ransom, U. S Senator: Citizens' National Bank, W. H. & R. S. Tucker, Williams & Haywood, Raleigh, N. C.; Fayetteville National Bank, Merchants' Bank of Fayetteville; J. D. Williams & Co. R. J. Lilly & Co., Fayetteville, N. C.; Bank of New Hanover, Wilmington, N. C.; Morton, Bliss & Co. Phelps, Dodge and Co., H. K. Thurber & Co., H. B. Claflin & Co., New York: D. Lanier & Co. Philadelphia; G. W. Gail & Ax, Balt more.
He has formed a business connection with Messrs. Mackie & Broodfoot of Fayetteville N. C. relating only to his future business at that point. All communications addressed to John W. Hinsdale care of Mackie & Broodfoot at Fayetteville, will receive prompt attention.
Oct. 8-1f

FALL AND WINTER GOODS!

D. S. WAITT & BRO.,
Are offering a Large and Attractive Stock of
FINE AND CHEAP CLOTHING!
Gents' Furnishing Goods and Neck Wear,
Boots, Shoes, Overcoats, Shawls and Rubber Goods / Hats and Caps! Merino Shirts, Drawers and Hosiery Paper and Linen Collars, Suspenders, Handkerchiefs and Yankee Notions. The Celebrated
MANHATTAN FINE WHITE SHIRT,
Acknowledged to be the best and most perfect fitting shirt in the market.

Prints! Prints!
Red, White and Figured Flannels, Opera Flannels, Hamburg Edgings and Insertions, Ladies' Trimmed Hats, Beits, Ribbons, Counterpanes, Comforters, Bed-Quilts and Spreads.
WHITE AND BROWN BLANKETS,
Ladies Striped and Plaid Breakfast Shawls, Knit backs, Jackets and Hoods.
Checks, Plaid Homespuns, Tickings, Brown and Bleached Sheetings and shirtings, Corset Jeans, Cambrics and Linings, Trunks, Valises, Umbrellas, Travelling Bags, &c.

TO OUR FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS, we take pleasure in saying our stock is now complete in every department, and thanking you for your liberal patronage, we respectfully solicit a continuance of the same. Remember the place, 34 Fayetteville St., Raleigh N. C.
D S WAITT & BRO.
oct 13-3m.

PRICES REDUCED!
LADIES
— AND —
GENTLEMEN:
CALL AT ONCE AND EXAMINE THE EXTENSIVE STOCK, JUST RECEIVED AT
J.P. GULLEY'S,
—OF—
Dry Goods, Clothing,
NOTIONS, BOOTS, SHOES,
Hats, Caps, Trunks, Valises, White Goods, &c., &c.
BURT'S GAITERS & BOOTS FOR GENTS.
PRINTS! PRINTS! PRINTS!
A large stock of the latest patterns, at prices that cannot be excelled.
Respectfully
JOSEPH P. GULLEY.
Corner Fayetteville and Market Square.
Oct 13th, 1875.

A. G. LEE. ED. H. LEE. CLE R. LEE
A STRICTLY COMMISSION HOUSE.
A. G. LEE & SONS.
RALEIGH, N. C.
Cotton is our Specialty.
We can always obtain the highest market price, and ask our friends who find it inconvenient to accompany their lots to the market to try us. We can beat New York in the nett proceeds of your cotton.
When you bring your cotton to market yourself give us a chance at it. We have orders to fill and can pay the VERY HIGHEST market price for it. Be sure to call and see us before you sell.
We are the Agents for
The SCHOFIELD COTTON PRESS, the best invented.
A. G. LEE & SONS.
sep 1-tf P. O. Box 272, Raleigh, N. C.

COTTON TIES.
Something New, But Old!
We have now in agency for the sale of the "Providence Picced Cotton Tie," in towns along the R. & A-line Railroad to Fayetteville along the R. & D. Railroad to Goldsboro, thence to Weldon and Beaufort and along the R. & G. Railroad to Weldon, and are now offering this Tie at 1-3 cents per pound in car load lots, delivering in any depot in our section.
This Tie is newly done over, put up into bundles same size and weight as the Arrow Tie and use the Arrow buckle Each broken one is neatly mended with two rivets, which makes it doubly strong.
Most parties who used them last season say they much prefer them to new ones considering the difference in cost.
All orders for shipments within the next two weeks can get SIXTY days, they paying freight on arrival and deducting same from bill when due.
Orders from merchants and large dealers respectfully solicited.
A. G. LEE & SONS, Agts., Raleigh, N C
oct 13-1t.

COMPLETE STOCK.
OFFICE OF
T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,
RALEIGH, N. C.
We have removed to our elegant and commodious NEW STORE in the
BRIGGS BUILDING
where we will be pleased to see our many friends and the public generally.
OUR NEW STORE ROOM,
THIRTY-TWO feet wide and TWO HUNDRED long, together with a large and convenient Cellar and Warehouse adjoining, affords us unequalled facilities for conducting our business.
Customers and visitors will find our salesmen and ourselves polite, careful, accommodating and attentive. We extend a cordial invitation to every body to come and see us.
Respectfully,
T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,
oct 13-tf. Briggs Building.

AN OUTFIT FREE,
We want some one in every county to take order and deliver goods for the old and original C. O. D. House Large cash wages. Should engage in every neighborhood for the right person of either sex, young or old. Samples, new lists, circulars, terms, etc., a complete outfit sent free and post paid. Send for it at once and make money at your leisure. Address, P. J. HALL & CO, 6 N. Howard Street Baltimore, Md.
Oct, 20-14t.

JUST ARRIVED AT THE
RALEIGH STOVE HOUSE
Another car load of the old reliable
COTTON KING STOVE;
No Better Stove Can be found in the City!
Every one warranted! Call early and get one!
RANGERS, HEATERS and all kinds of COOKING UTENSILS.
FRANKLIN GRATES, PARLOR STOVES, WHICH ARE GEMS OF BEAUTY,
TIN WARE, LAMPS, OILS, WOOD AND WILLOW WARE, CUTLERY AND HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS.

Guns and Locks Repaired, Bell Hanging, &c., &c.
J. C. Brewster, Proprietor.
Oct 6 tf No 4 Hargett street, Raleigh, N. C.

OLD NORTH STATE HARDWARE AND
HOUSE FURNISHING STORE,
No. ____ Martin and Market Streets,
RALEIGH, N. C.
I am now receiving my FALL STOCK for 1875, consisting of a full line of
HARDWARE,
Hollow Crockery, Wood and Willow Ware;

Also a large stock of Cooking, Parlor and Heating STOVES. Would call particular attention to those persons who

Children's Column

A Child's Evening Hymn.

BY BENJAMIN GOUGH.

Ere I lay me down to rest,
Jesus, hear a child's request;
I can only lisp my prayer,
Asking for thy love and care.
I am very young and weak;
Gentle Jesus, hear me speak;
See thy child on bended knee—
Suffer me to come to thee.

Let me now thy kindness prove—
What I want is Jesus' love;
Save thy little child from harm,
Clasp me in thy loving arm.
Ere I sleep upon my bed,
Lay thy hands upon my head;
Thy sweet blessing give to me,
Suffer me to come to thee.

Me, thy ransomed child, receive,
All my naughty words forgive;
Peace bestow and joy impart.
Sealed upon my childish heart.
Sprinkle me with thy dear blood—
Make me holy, meek and good;
Like thyself thy child would be—
Suffer me to come to thee.

O'er my bed may angels keep Watch while I in safety sleep.
Let me rest upon thy breast,
Let my dreams be bright and blest;
When I in the morning wake,
Into thy protection take.
Till in heaven thy face I see,
Suffer me to come to thee.

CHILDREN'S FRIEND.

Answers.

Ahab was killed in battle. 1st Kiugs 22d chap. Florence Mercer.

King Agrippa gave Paul liberty to speak for himself. Acts. 26th ch. 1st. verse. Florence Mercer.

"Strive to enter in at the straight gate &c. is found in Luke 13th ch. 24th v. J. W. Howard.

J. W. Howard sends the following answer to Enigma proposed by F. B. Jones.

Its 1st is Shadrach; 2d Thomas; 3d Rhoda; 4th Obadiah; 5th Nicodemus; 6th Goliath; 7th Dathan; 8th Rezin; 9th Isaiah: 10th Nathanael: 11th Kemuel. Its whole is "Strong drink."

J. W. Howard sends answer to another enigma by F. B. Jones, which is "And now little children abide in me."

Questions.

Florence Mercer asks in what chapter and verse in the Bible is the bittern spoken of. Also where is the ostrich spoken of as lifting herself on high, scorning the house and his rider.

J. W. Howard asks for the chapters and verses in the Bible which contain the following five new things:

"A new heart" "a new creature" "a new name" "a new commandment" "a new song." Also what king had "horns of iron."

For Boys and Girls.

My little boy wakes early and delights to creep slyly into bed and wake me with kisses. One morning coaxing him to lie still awhile, I fell asleep again. When I woke he was looking very sadly at me; perhaps my closed eyelids had made him think of a neighbor's child he had seen sleeping the sleep of death. Sighing he said softly.

"Mamma, what do little boys do when their mammas go to heaven and leave them behind?"

My own mother left me so when I was nine years old. While now my boy's anxious face lay close to mine on the pillow, there came over me smothering memories of the lonely days that came after, when she was not there to help me off to school nor to welcome me home at night—those motherless nights, when first a servant put me to bed.

"I wish, Harry, neither you nor any little boy or girl need ever know how hard it is to live without a mother!"

So I said to the little fellow; but to you older boys and girls I can't help giving an older wish: That you who have a mother, love her carefully. Be as good as ever you can be, and you cannot equal her goodness to you.

Girls, be quick to save her steps about the house; she has taken miles of steps for you before you could stand alone.

Boys, you will always be in debt to your mother. Money cannot hire such faithful service as hers has been; it can barely be paid for in pure heart coin. Love!

HOW BOBBIE LOST HIS RIDE.—"Get your hat, Bobbie, as quickly as you can," said grandpa, as he drove up to the gate in a new shining buggy, drawn by his beautiful black horse, Dandy Jim. "I will give you a ride."

"Goodie, goodie," said little Bobbie, clapping his hands and dancing in great glee.

"But you must be very quick, because I am in great haste." said grand pa.

Bobbie rushed into the house crying: "Quick, quick, mamma, get my hat; grandpa is going to take me to ride."

"Where is your hat?" said his mother.

"I don't know where I left it. Oh, dear me! where can it be!" said Bobbie, as he ran up stairs to look for it, while mamma hunted down stairs.

"Come, Bobbie, I can't wait another second,' called grandpa, gathering up the reins; you must learn to take better care of your hat,' and off he went, leaving poor Bobbie crying very hard, as he watched Dandy Jim prancing down the street.

Careless Bobbie learned a good lesson that day, for he was always very careful afterward to put his hat where he could find it at once.—Congregationalist.

As you cannot avoid your own company, make it as good as possible.

Rural and Domestic.

Which Breed of Cow to Select.

Whenever an intelligent dairyman proposes to keep and to milk a given number of cows, he naturally inquires what breed of cows shall I buy and breed for giving me the best returns in dairy product—milk, butter, cheese. The answer must depend upon what you purpose to do with your milk. If you propose to sell it by the quart or can, then quantity rather than quality will be your desire, for the more quarts or cans per annum the greater your return of money or its equivalent. In response to this interrogation Professor Wetherell writes: "Among the breeds that rank highest in quantity are short horns and Holsteins, and their crosses—half-bloods, three-fourths or higher. If you want a smaller breed, Ayrshires may be introduced, with their crosses. These breeds and their crosses have been found to be good for cheese production, if that be your purpose. If butter, then use Jerseys, Guernseys or Devons, is the ordinary advice. I have no objection to using short-horn crosses for butter, or any other purpose for which a cow is kept on a milk farm. Whatever breed or race of cat the you select for your farm, you should be content with none but good cows—ay, the best. My precept is, "get the best breed," breed none but the best, and breed rather than buy for the replenishing of your herd, unless you keep it for selling milk by the can, or peddling it, as some do, living near villages or inland cities. A skilful man may select and buy good cows by paying high prices; and high-priced cows, if good, are the cheapest to buy or to keep."

Onions Sown in the Fall.

Last year we published an article by Peter Henderson in which he gave the experience of a Long Island market gardener who sowed his onions in autumn. We gave the plan a trial in our own gardens last fall, but the sowing was not made until the very end of September, and the young plants did not all make sufficient growth to stand the very severe winter, even though they were all covered. Still the success, though only partial, was sufficient to show that this method is worthy of consideration, and from the amount that came to maturity in our bed this summer we have no doubt that it will answer wherever sets are used; but where onions can be raised directly from fall sowing except for such as are to be marketed green or very early. The idea is to sow the seed in the fall at such a time as will allow the plants to form a bulb large enough to stand the winter, and yet not so large as to run up to flower the next season; in fact, to raise onion sets which, instead of being harvested, are to be left in the ground, where they will be ready to grow as soon as spring opens. On long Island the middle of September is found to be the best time to sow; further south it should be later and north of that earlier. Success will largely depend upon the time of sowing, and this for any particular locality can only be ascertained by experiment. The covering should not be put on until cold weather has stopped the growth of the bulbs, and may be of straw, leaves, marsh hay or other litter. Leaves applied while it is snowing will not blow about.

On or about the 1st of October would be the proper time to seed them here.—Ex.

Gather the Seed Corn Early.

Seed corn should be gathered before we have our heavy frosts in the Fall. I have made it a practice for several years past to go into my corn field, just as earliest ears are getting ripe, and husk and sort out the earliest and fairest ears and; then store them in the loft of my granary. I have not had any trouble in getting a good stand of corn, and do not have to wait until late to plant, for fear that the seed is not good. If corn is taken off the stalk before it is thoroughly ripened, it will probably shrivel up some; but it will come up rank and the kernel will decay sooner, and birds and squirrels will prey on it less.

Thousands of bushels of corn would be annually saved in the United States, if more pains were taken with the seed, and a good stand obtained. Don't store seed corn in a bin among the grain or nearer than eight to ten feet above the grain bin, as grain in larger quantities frequently heats, and the heat arising from the grain will destroy its vitality.

Brother farmers, just try gathering seed before frost, and you will find yourselves well paid for time and trouble, besides the satisfaction of knowing that you have good seed. In central Iowa, I generally gather from the 6th to the 15th of September, to avoid full moon frost.—Cor. Rural World.

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT

THE PHILOSOPHY OF HEADACHE. The stomach, the bowels and the liver are responsible for every pang that racks the head. Hesolute, tone and invigorate the action of these allied organs with and you cure the complaint at its source.

Tarrant's Seltzer Aperient.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Oct 27-2t.

The Great Anti Periodic.

The certainty and promptitude with which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters conquer the most obstinate case of malarial disease, and the complete protection which they afford the system against the miasmatic poison which impregnates the air of low lying marshy localities, stamp them as the foremost of Amarious antiperiodics. Wherever on this continent fever and ague is a regular visitant—in the bottom land of the South, the new clearings and mining districts of the West, and in all localities in the Eastern and Middle States where malaria prevails, the Bitters are recognized as the only true specific for the disease, and its most reliable preventive. They are, moreover, a safe and agreeable as well as a certain remedy, and on this account are immeasurably superior to the preparations of quinine, arsenic, bismuth, and other mineral poisons mistakenly administered as curatives for maladies caused by miasma, and which if persisted in work irreparable injury to the constitution.

Unfortunately, fever and ague, and the other febrile complaints generated by miasma, are not the only evils which result from it. A great variety of disorders are superinduced by the irritation which it causes. Among these are neuralgia, rheumatism, gout, periodical headache, palpitation, painful affections of the spleen, and various derangement of the stomach. When traceable to malaria, the above affections are apt to assume, like the disease which originated them, an intermittent type; that is to say, they recur at regular intervals. Hostetter's Bitters, however, obviates them all, by banishing the miasmatic virus from the system.

Oct 6 1-m

From the New York Tribune

A Want Supplied

The American mind is active. It has given us books of fiction for the sentimentalist, learned books for the scholar and professional student, but few books for the people. A book for the people must treat on a subject of universal interest. Such a subject is the physical man, and such a book THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER," a copy of which has been recently laid on our table. The high professional attainments of its author—Dr. R. V. PIERCE, of Buffalo N. Y.—and the advantages derived by him from an extensive practice, would alone insure for his work a cordial reception. But these are not the merits for which it claims our attention. The Author is a man of the people. He sympathizes with them in all their ambitious, efforts, and attitments. He perceives their wants—knowledge of themselves—and believing that all truth should be made as universal as God's own sunlight, from his fund of learning and experience he has produced a work in which he gives them the benefits of his labors. In it he considers man in every phase of his existence, from the moment he emerges "from a zygote also, too diminutive for the sight, until he gradually evolves to the maturity of those Conclusive Powers, the exercise of which furnishes subjective evidence of our immortality." Proceeding upon the theory that every fact of mind has a physical antecedent he has given an admirable treatise on Cerebral Physiology, and shown the bearings of the facts thus established upon individual and social welfare. The Author believes with spencer, that "as vigorous health and its accompanying high spirits are larger elements of happiness than any other things whatever, the leading law to maintain them is a teaching that yields to no other whatever," and accordingly has introduced an extensive discussion of the methods of which we may preserve the integrity of the system and ofttimes prevent the onset of disease. Domestic Remedies—their preparation, use, and effects—form a prominent feature of the work. The hygienic treatment, or nursing of the sick, is an important subject, and receives attention commensurate with its importance. Nearly all diseases to which flesh is heir are described, their symptoms and causes explained, and proper domestic treatment suggested. To reciprocate the many favors bestowed upon him by a generous public, the author offers his book at a price ($1.50) little exceeding the cost of publication. Our readers can obtain this practical and valuable work by addressing the author.

Oct. 27-1t.

CHANGE IN BUSINESS.

The Old and Well Known House of

J. M. ROSENBAUM

Having concluded to confine itself to certain specialties, announces that its main business it is exclusively

A CLOTHING STORE

of the highest grade, where every article of Gentlemen's and Boy's wear of all kinds and grades is offered

ON THE MOST FAVORABLE TERMS FOR CASH.

Buyers need go no farther to be suited. Every class of customers can be supplied.

Attached to the establishment is a Department for the sale of

CHINA, CROCKERY AND GLASSWARE,

Everything in that line can be found of the first quality and at reasonable prices.

The long established character of this House is a sufficient guarantee of its ability and determination to do what it promises. Don't fail to call on

J. M. ROSENBAUM,
Corner Fayetteville and Hargett Sts.

Oct. 13-tf.

COME YE DISCONSOLATE!

Men in search of FIRST-CLASS GOODS, that very Latest Tip of Fashion, and put up in a style that will suit the most fastidious taste, go to

WEIKEL'S ESTABLISHMENT,

on Fayetteville Street, one door South of the Southern Express Office.

IT IS A CONCEDED FACT

that Weikel can put up the best and most satisfactory JOB in the way of fine suits of Clothing, from a Wedding to a Business Suit, that can be turned out in Raleigh. The old and young men say it, the ladies (God bless them) end sore and the children cry over it, cry for joy when their revered "dad's" put on a suit of Weikel's clothing.

Weikel takes this occasion to return his thanks for the large and liberal patronage heretofore received, and respectfully asks for continuance of the same. His stock of

CLOTHS,

CASSIMERES,

TWEEDS,

SUITINGS, &c.

is much larger than ever before, and comprises all the Latest Novelties in Style, having been recently purchased at low prices from

FASHION HEADQUARTERS.

An unusable force of Workmen are Picked Men whose skill and ability are known to the "dressing" publike.

Come one and all to the Emporium of Fashion, Weikel's the Merchant Tailor. For a first class Suit of Clothes of first class goods, put up in first class style.

SCHOOL BOOKS

Of all descriptions constantly kept on hand at the lowest cash prices.

L. BRANSON,
Raleigh, N. C.

N. C. ALMANACS FOR 1876—

Now in course of preparation. Advertisements taken at reasonable rates. Send in your orders early.

L. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.

NEWS DEPOT—TAKE NOTICE

I am supplying all the best Newspapers and periodicals at the publishers' subscription rates. You can subscribe for 12 months, 6 months, or even one month.

L. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.

BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

Give me a trial before purchasing elsewhere.

L. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.

Williams & Haywood,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Oils, Dye Stuffs, Perfumery,

Fancy Articles, Garden Seeds, Fine Teas, Spices, Flavoring Extracts.

CIGARS, CHEWING TOBACCO &C.

Keep constantly on hand, at lowest market prices, White lead, Putty, Kerosene Oil, Linseed Oil, Lamp Oil, Tanner's Oil, Window Glass, Varnish, &c., &c.

Dec. 23 tf.

C. J. SHAW, of N. C., with

PEARRE BROS. & CO.

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN

CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATINETS, Kerseys, Jeans, Cottonades, &c.

MEN AND BOYS' WEAR IN GENERAL.

NO. 9 HANOVER STREET,

Sept 29 tf. Baltimore.

NEW FIRM

The undersigned have this day formed a co partnership under the firm name of

Wainright, Williams & Hood.

and having purchased the stock and goodwill of J. D. WHITAKER, they will continue the GROCERY and COMMISSION business at

FARMER'S EXCHANGE,

No. 4 Martin Street,

RALEIGH, N. C.

Our Stock will consist of

Bacon,
Flour,
Molasses,
Coffee,
Sugars,
Lard
Salt,
Bagging,
and Ties,

And all other goods in the Grocery line with Staple Dry Goods, Shoes, etc. Having superior facilities for buying, and a small expense account, we guarantee the lowest prices. Consignments of Cotton and Produce generally, solicited, to the sale of which our best efforts will be devoted.

Patronage of our friends respectfully solicited

GEO. H. WAINRIGHT, (late with Williamson, Up'h & Thomas)
MID. T. WILLIAMS, of Granville.
WM. B. HOOD, of Nathaniel Johnston.

Raleigh, Sept, 1, 1875.

Having sold my stock of Groceries to Messrs. Wainright, Williams & Hood, I take pleasure in recommending them to my friends and late customers, as entirely worthy of confidence and patronage.

For the present I may be found at the old stand and hope all those indebted to the late firm of Thompson & Whitaker and to myself will call and settle as soon as possible.

J. D. WHITAKER.

Raleigh, Sept 8-tf

STEAM POWER.

The Celebrated

Shapley Steam Engine.

By a patented process,

It is Absolutely free of danger from fire.

It is endorsed by all the leading machinists in the United States.

Prices lower than any first class engine in the country.

Engines can be seen at our store. Sizes—3, 5, 8 and 12 Horse Power.

We are agents for the

ROWLAND COTTON GIN,

and have in store the most complete and largest stock in N. C. of Hardware, Sash, Doors, &c.

Prices guaranteed lower than the lowest. Write for circular and prices.

JULIUS LEWIS & CO.,
Fisher Building,
Raleigh, N. C

TYSON & JONES

Carriage Builders,

CARTHAGE, N. C.

Having recently increased our Facilities for Manufacturing, we are prepared to furnish Vehicles of the BEST QUALITY on short notice, and at comparatively low prices. Vehicles shipped at Sanford, Raleigh and Graham & R. R. via Raleigh to any part of the State.

We feel confident that, with the close attention we give the business, together with the materials used the skilled workmen employed, and the many conveniences we have for manufacturing FIRST CLASS WORK, no house in the country can operate on

STYLE, FINISH, DURABILITY AND

Low Prices.

We manufacture and keep constantly on hand Carriages of the Best Quality.

Repairing neatly Done at Short Notice

Send for Circular.

July 21 1-y

The Best Illuminating Oil in the World!

C. WEST & SONS' ALADDIN SECURITY OIL.

Warranted 150 Degrees Fire Test

Endorsed by the Fire Insurance Companies.

Read the following certificate, selected from many others:

HOW. ED PIERPONT, CO. OF BALTIMORE, December 28, '74

Messrs C. West & Sons: Gentlemen—Having used the various oils sold in this city for illuminating purposes, I take pleasure in recommending your "Aladdin security" as the safest and best ever used in our household. Yours, truly

(Signed) ANDREW REESE, Pres't

GIT WILL NOT EXPLODE.

Ask your Storekeeper for it

Wholesale Depot: C. WEST & SONS, 118, 115 W Lombard street, Baltimore.

Sep. 1-6m.

THE FIRM OF WYNNE, YANCEY & CO., is this day dissolved by mutual consent.

GEO. W. WYNNE,
T. B. YANCEY,
J. W. LEE

RALEIGH, June 15th, 1875

HAVING PURCHASED THE interest as assumed the liabilities of the late firm of WYNNE, YANCEY & CO., I would request all those indebted to make immediate payment.

Thanking for the patronage so liberally bestowed upon the late firm I trust by personal attention to merit the same.

June 25-tf GEO. W. WYNNE

BALTIMORE

EYE and EAR INSTITUTE

NO. 25 FRANKLIN ST., Baltimore, Md.,

JULIAN J. CHISOLM, M. D., Professor of Eye and Ear Diseases in the University of Maryland,

SURGEON IN CHARGE.

This institution is thoroughly organized and fitted up with every convenience, for the treatment of Eye and Ear Diseases.

For further information apply to the above.

Sept 29-3m.

BRINLY PLOWS

BEST AND CHEAPEST IN USE.

Have taken over 250 premiums at Fairs throughout the South. Send for illustrated Catalogue with Price List, an certificates of planters who use them.

SOLE MANUFACTURERS:

BRINLY, MILES & HARDY,
Louisville, Ky.

FACTORY, Cor. 13th and Main Streets.

Sept 8-6m.

Agents Wanted. The CENTENNIAL GAZETTEER of the UNITED STATES. Shows the grand results of 100 years of Freedom and Progress. Now sold complete. Over 1000 pages. Illustrated. Everybody buys it, and agents make from $100 to $300 a month. Address J. C. McCURDY & CO., Philadelphia, Pa. Sept 22 9t.

THE CARY COTTON GIN.

I still being manufactured at Cary, N. C., improved in some respect and warranted to give satisfaction or parts of it properly put to work. Those desiring further information send for Circular, &c. to

W. M. SORRELL,
Cary, N. C.

June 16-tf.

$5 TO $20 per day! Agents wanted! All classes of working people, of either sex, young or old, making more money at work for us in their spare moments, or all the time, than at anything else. Particulars free. Address G. Stinson & Co., Portland, Maine. Sept 16-1m

OLD NORTH STATE FIRE

Insurance Company,

OF

WARRENTON, - - - - - N. C.,

This company has closed its third year in a condition of GREAT PROSPERITY, and entered upon its fourth year under the MOST PROMISING AUSPICES.

It deserves the liberal patronage which it is receiving because

It is a home institution.
It has ample Capital and Reserves
It pays its losses promptly.

ASSETS.

Cash on hand and in Bank,	$ 8 421 53
Cash in hands of Agents,	4 884 00
Stock Notes,	42,970 00
Real Estate Mortgage,	29,978 83
Loaned on Collaterals,	7,647 63
Due for premiums,	8,720 65
Interest due and accrued,	904 26
	$130,297 19

LIABILITIES:

All Liabilities including full re-insurance Reserve,	$ 8 481 81
Surplus,	1 1,815 38
	$130,297 19

WM. S. DAVIS, President.
B. F. LONG, Secretary.

SCHEDULES.

PIEDMONT AIR-LINE RAILWAY.

RICHMOND & DANVILLE R. W., N. C. DIVISION, AND NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. W.

CHANGE OF TIME-TABLE

To take effect on and after Sunday, Sept. 19th, 1875.

GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Charlotte,	9.15 P. M.	5.45 A. M.
" Air-Line Junc'n	9.36 "	6.09 "
" Salisbury,	11.08 "	7.34 "
" Greensboro',	3.15 A. M.	10.55 "
" Danville,	6.09 "	1.12 P. M.
" Dundee,	6.18 "	1.20 "
" Burkville,	6.35 "	6.07 "
Arrive at Richmond,	7.22 P. M.	8.45 "

GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Richmond,	1.38 P. M.	5.05 A. M.
" Burkville,	4.52 "	8.36 "
" Dundee,	5.38 "	1.14 P. M.
" Danville,	7.08 "	1.17 P. M.
" Greensboro',	3.00 A. M.	8.25 "
" Salisbury,	5.22 "	6.15 "
" Air-Line Junc'n	8.05 "	9.45 "
Arrive at Charlotte,	8.22 A. M.	8.43 "

GOING EAST.		GOING WEST
STATIONS.	MAIL.	MAIL.
Leave Greensboro',	3.00 A. M.	Arrive 1.45 A. M.
" Co. Shops,	4.31 "	Leave 12.30 "
" Raleigh,	7.35 "	9.10 P. M.
Arrive at Goldsboro'	11.30 A. M.	Leave 5.00 "

NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. R.

(SALEM BRANCH.)

Leave Greensboro',	4.30 P. M.
Arrive at Salem,	6.15 "
Leave Salem,	8.40 A. M.
Arrive at Greensboro',	10.25 "

Passenger train leaving Raleigh at 5.10 P. M. connects at Greensboro' with the Northern bound train; making the quickest time to all Northern cities. Price of Tickets same as via other Routes.

Trains to and from points East of Greensboro run connect at Greensboro with Mail Trains to or from points North or South.

Two trains daily, both ways,

On Sundays Lynchburg Accommodation leave Richmond at 9.00 A. M., arrive at Burkeville 12.43 P. M.; leave Burkeville 4.35 A. M., arrive at Richmond 7.58 A. M.

No Change of Cars between Charlotte and Richmond, 282 Miles.

Papers that have arrangements to advertise the Schedule of this company will please print as above.

For further information address

S. E. ALLEN,
Gen'l Ticket Agent,
Greensboro, N. C.

T. M. R. TALCOTT,
Engineer & Gen'l Superintendent

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE

RALEIGH & GASTON RAILROAD CO.

On and after Friday, May 22nd, 1874, trains on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, will run daily (Sunday excepted) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Leave Raleigh,	2.35 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon,	5.30 P. M.
Leaves Weldon,	9.50 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh,	4.45 P. M.

ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon,	5.15 P. M.
Leaves Weldon,	2.30 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh,	2.45 P. M.

Mail train makes close connection at Weldon, with the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad, Atlantic Bay Line Steamers via Baltimore, to and from all points North, West and Northwest, and with Petersburg Railroad via Petersburg, Richmond and Washington City, to and from all points North and Northwest.

And at Raleigh with the North Carolina Railroad to and from all points South and Southwest, and with the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line to Haywood and Fayetteville.

A. B. ANDREWS,
Gen. Sup't.

RALEIGH & AUGUSTA AIR-LINE RAILROAD.

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 25th, 1875.

On and after Monday, October 25th, 1875, trains on the R. & A. A. L. Road will run daily, (Sundays excepted,) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Train leaves Raleigh,	4.00 P. M.
Arrives at Sanford,	6.25 "
Train leaves Sanford,	6.30 A. M
Arrives at Raleigh,	9.20 "

FREIGHT TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Sanford	10.55 A. M.
Leaves Sanford,	11.00 A. M
Arrives at Raleigh	3.50 P. M.

Mail Train makes close connection at Raleigh with the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, to and from all points North.

And at Sanford with the Western Railroad, to and from Fayetteville and points on Western Railroad.

A. B. ANDREWS,
Superintendent.

OFFICE SUPT OF TRANSPORTATION,
Seaboard & Roanoke R. R. Co.,
Portsmouth, Va., Jan. 1st, 1875.

On and after this date, trains of this Road will leave Weldon daily, Sundays excepted, as follows:

Mail train at	4 P. M.
No. 1 Freight train at	4 A. M.
No. 2 Freight train at	8 A. M.

ARRIVE AT PORTSMOUTH.

Mail train at	7 15 P. M.
No 1 Freight at	12 00 NOON.
No 2 Freight at	4 00 P. M.

Freight trains have a passenger car attached.

Steamer for Elenton, Plymouth and Landings on Blackwater and Chowan Rivers leave Franklin at 7.40 A. M. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays,

E. G. GHIO,
Supt. Transportation.

DITSON & CO'S

School Music Books

Constitute a perfect series, providing in the best manner for every class in every School, Academy and Seminary.

American School Music Readers.

In 3 Books, of which Book I. (35 cents) is admirably arranged for Primary Schools. Book II. (50 cents) and Book III. (60 cents) for Grammar and younger High School or Academy classes. Compiled by L. O. EMERSON and W. S. TILDEN.

Cheerful Voices,

(50 cents), by L. O. EMERSON, is a capital collection of School Songs for Common Schools.

The High School Choir.

($1.00) by L. O. EMERSON and W. S. TILDEN, is fully equal to their last book, The Hour of Singing, which for some years has been the standard book. The present work, like the other, is for HIGH SCHOOLS, ACADEMIES, and SEMINARIES.

The National Hymn and Tune Book,

(4s cents) furnishes the best collection of Sacred Music extant for opening and closing schools.

Any book sent, post paid, for retail price.

OLIVER DITSON & CO., C.H. DITSON & CO.,
Boston. 711 B'dway, New York.
oct 6-tf

DISSOLUTION.

The firm of WYATT, BINGHAM & CO. has this day been dissolved by mutual consent, L. R. WYATT having withdrawn.

All debts against the late firm of WYATT BINGHAM & CO., will be settled as they come due. All indebted to the late firm will please come forward and make settlement

B. L. BINGHAM & CO.

"NEWS" BUILDING, No. 6, MARTIN STREET
Raleigh, N. C.

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 26, 1874.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Having purchased the entire interest of Mr. L. R. WYATT, we shall continue the wholesale and retail

GROCERY, COTTON

AND

COMMISSION BUSINESS,

At the Old Stand.

And will have at all times a large assortment of

GROCERIES,
BAGGING and TIES,
SALT,
NAILS,
FLOUR,
BACON,
ETC.

Which will be sold at the lowest market prices, and we will be glad to see our friends and customers. Thankful for past favors, we hope to meet a continuance of the same.

B. L. BINGHAM & CO.

sept. 1-tf.

SUI GENERIS.

MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.

UNEQUALED in judges' certificates UNAPPROACHED in capacity and excellence by any others. Awarded

THREE HIGHEST MEDALS AND DIPLOMA OF HONOR AT VIENNA, 1873; PARIS, 1867.

ONLY American Organs ever awarded any medal in Europe, or which have attained extraordinary excellence as to command a wide sale there.

ALWAYS awarded highest premiums at Industrial Expositions in America as well as at Europe. Out of hundreds there have not been six in all where any other organs have been preferred.

BEST Declared by Eminent Musicians, in both hemispheres, to be unrivaled. See TESTIMONIAL CIRCULAR, with opinions of more than One Thousand (sent free).

INSIST on having a Mason & Hamlin. Do not be taken by other. Dealers get LARGER COMMISSIONS for selling inferior organs, and for the reason often try very hard to sell something else.

NEW STYLES with most important improvements ever made. New Solo and Combination Stops. Superb Mirrored and other Cases of new designs.

PIANO-HARP CABINET ORGAN An exquisite combination of these instruments.

EASY PAYMENTS, for monthly or quarterly payments; or rented until rent pays for the organ.

CATALOGUES and Circulars, with full particulars, free. Address MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont Street, BOSTON. 25 Union Square, NEW YORK; or 80 & 82 Adams St., CHICAGO.

apl 14 1 year.

G. T. LEACH, N. Y. M. T. LEACH

Leach Brothers,

WHOLESALE GROCERS

AND

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

SOUTH-EAST CORNER MARKET, SQUARE, Raleigh, N. C

Again we take great pleasure in presenting our card and returning thanks to the readers of the ADVOCATE for their very liberal patronage during the past four years, and offer them the largest and best bought stock of Groceries ever offered in any market south of Baltimore, and while just now Bacons, Sugars and Lard are very scarce and high, we have made extra efforts and feel sure we have succeeded in bringing other goods equally low and intend giving our friends all the advantages gained thereby to counter balance any advance in the few goods named.

We wish to invite especial attention to our select stock of staple Shoes and Boots bought direct from the Factories and offered here AT FIRST PROFITS.

We have now in store:

5,000 lbs. Rio Coffees,
10 Mats old Gov. Java,
5,000 lbs. A Sugar,
10 Bbls. Ex C Sugar,
10 Bbls. A F Yellow Sugar,
20 Bbls Demarara,
20 Boxes Bull Sides,
10 " Shoulders,
5 Kegs Eagle Soda,
1,000 lbs. G. D and Sole Leather,
100 Sides Upper Leather,
50 " Harness Leather,
100 Cases Oysters,
50 " Brandy Peaches,
5,000 Yds. Bagging,
6,000 lbs. Ties,
100 Bbls. Super Flour,
100 Bags Assorted Shot,
50 Bbls Extra Flour,
50 Cases Forrester's Crackers,
0 " Soda Crackers,
60 Boxes Factory and Dairy Cheese,
Wines W. P. and C. B., rum Corn,
1 Kegs Burden Horse and Mule shoes,
200 lbs. Horse Shoe Nails,
25 Bags Bacon Best Axes,
25 Boxes Adamantine Candles,
100 Boxes Laundry and Toilet Soaps,

We offer especial inducements to country and resident merchants, and invite an examination of our stock defy competition

Oct 7 12-tf LEACH BROS

THE JAS. LEFFEL Double Turbine Water Wheel,

Manufactured by POOLE & HUNT, Baltimore, Md. 7,000 NOW IN USE! Simple, Strong, Durable, and very reliable at all gate heights. Manufacturers also, of Portable & Stationary Engines, Steam Boilers, Saw & Grist Mills, Mining Machinery, Pulleys and Shafting, Gearing, Tin, Plow, Paint, White Lead and Mineral Paints, Oils, Belting, Packings, Pipe and Fittings, Iron Fronts, Shutters, Doors, Sash, Blinds, Mouldings, Brackets, Scroll Sawing, Planing, Re-sawing, Matching, Re-saw Blades, Files, Emery Wheels, Portable Grain Mills, Corn Shellers, Feed Cutters, Wood Pulleys, Hangers, Shafting, Gearing, Couplings, Clutches, Set Screws, Iron Pipe and Fittings, Steam Gauges, Lubricators, Governors, Steam Pumps, Injectors, Oil Mill Machinery, Cotton Gins and Presses, Cotton Seed Hullers, Cotton Seed Crushers, Cotton Seed Planters, Cotton Seed Cake Mills, Cotton Seed Meal Mills, Cotton Seed Cake Breakers, Cotton Seed Cake Crushers, Cotton Seed Cake Elevators, Cotton Seed Cake Conveyors, Cotton Seed Cake Packers, Cotton Seed Cake Scales, Cotton Seed Cake Stamps, Cotton Seed Cake Trucks, Cotton Seed Cake Warehouses, Cotton Seed Cake Agents, Cotton Seed Cake Brokers, Cotton Seed Cake Commission Merchants, Cotton Seed Cake Exporters, Cotton Seed Cake Importers, Cotton Seed Cake Manufacturers, Cotton Seed Cake Dealers, Cotton Seed Cake Jobbers, Cotton Seed Cake Retailers, Cotton Seed Cake Wholesalers, Cotton Seed Cake Agents, Cotton Seed Cake Brokers, Cotton Seed Cake Commission Merchants, Cotton Seed Cake Exporters, Cotton Seed Cake Importers, Cotton Seed Cake Manufacturers, Cotton Seed Cake Dealers, Cotton Seed Cake Jobbers, Cotton Seed Cake Retailers, Cotton Seed Cake Wholesalers, mch 24-12m.

PLEIS' FIT POWDERS.

These Powders have been tested by over 40,000 cases for the cure of Fits (Epilepsy), Spasms, Convulsions, St. Vitus' Dance, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Affections, some over 40 years' standing.

When you ORDER STATE AGE.

PRICE, 50 CENTS PER BOX; or sent to all parts of the United States for One Dollar per Box.—These Powders are prepared and sold only by the proprietor, to whom all orders must be addressed,

JOHN M. PLEIS, Jr.,

56) North Third street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Please mention that you saw this advertisement in THE CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE. mar 31-1y

JOHN J. FRAY'S

English, Classical and Mathematical School,

14 miles N. E. of Raleigh and 4 miles from Clayton, station on N. C. R. R. The seventeenth session begins Monday Sept 13th 1875. Prepares boys and girls for College, or the active duties of life. Good board including fuel, lights and washing (no extras) only $12 50 per month. Refers to the faculty of the University of Va., now R. T. Bicks and to any of former patrons. For circulars containing particulars &c Address

JOHN J. FRAY,
or A. T. MIAL,
Raleigh N. C.

aug. 25-2m.

$250 A MONTH! Agents wanted everywhere. Business strictly honorable and first class. Particulars sent free. Address J. WORTH & CO., St. Louis, Mo. aug 4-12m.

PROGRESS THE WATCHWORD

Merit and Success Hand in Hand.

BROOKLYN LIFE

INSURANCE COMPANY,

NO. 141 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

Assets- - - -$1,500,000.00

CHRISTIAN W. BOUCK, President.
D. P. FACKLER, Actuary.

Wm. M. COLE, Secretary
DANIEL AYRES, M.D., LL.D., Med. Dir.

POLICIES VALUABLE IN LIFE, AS WELL AS AT DEATH!

The BROOKLYN LIFE is the only Company in America which guarantees

DEFINITE CASH SURRENDER VALUES,

In case a Policy is forfeited for nonpayment of Premium.

THE BROOKLYN LIFE enjoys the highest reputation for INVESTMENT, ECONOMY OF MANAGEMENT, AND CARE IN THE SELECTION OF RISKS—upon which elements of administration the security of a Life Insurance Corporation depends.

The laws of New York compel Companies in that State to calculate the cash value of their Policies, each and every year, and in a certain legal standard of reserve and accumulation must be held by the Companies to meet all their liabilities

Insurers in looking around for Companies in which to insure, should carefully see to the important safeguard. IT WILL BE FOUND IN THE BROOKLYN LIFE

WM. LITTLE, M.D., MEDICAL EXAMINER.

A. W. LAWRENCE,

General Agent for North Carolina,
Office at Raleigh.

may 18-tf

MOSELEY'S CONFECTIONERY

RALEIGH N C

Is the Place to Buy

French and Plain Candies,

Foreign

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Bobbitt & Gray, Publishers. | Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina. | $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Vol. XXI.---No. 43. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, November 3, 1875. | Whole No. 1,081.

Selected Poetry.

SUNSET.

BY M. H.

The [illegible] glow of the sunset
[illegible] faded slowly away.
[illegible] I am near my journey's end,
[illegible] another golden day.

[illegible] one more link in the chain of life
[illegible] day has been riven,
[illegible] another link
[illegible] soul from heaven.

[illegible] watched the setting sun,
[illegible] robe of gorgeous hue,
[illegible] thought if heaven were far away,
[illegible] hidden from mortal view.

[illegible] the clouds were rent,
[illegible] through their glories were seen
[illegible] and the harpers grand,
[illegible] golden trees of green,

[illegible] white throne, in dazzling light,
[illegible] walls of jasper and gold,
[illegible] forms in their stately pride,
[illegible] to behold;

[illegible] the arches of heaven ring
[illegible] songs of the glad redeemed,
[illegible] rays, from the great white
[illegible] garment gloomed;

[illegible] scattering gold,
[illegible] pulses stirred,
[illegible] of Christ the Son of God
[illegible] our risen Lord.

[illegible] gazed with eager eyes,
[illegible] to fade away,
[illegible] a moment bright,
[illegible] to-day;

[illegible] a lesson taught
[illegible] and strife,
[illegible] the clouds of earth
[illegible] life.

[illegible] lower lands of earth
[illegible] Christ, our King.
[illegible] last by the great white
[illegible] ransomed sing.

Communicated.

For the Advocate.

EVERLASTING PUNISHMENT.

BY REV. E. A. YATES.

No. 3

In our last it was shown, in part, that the sinner is punished forever, not because he has sinned against an infinite law," nor yet "because he is always sinning in hell, and therefore always to be punished; since sin in hell could not exist without law; nor law without freedom to obey or disobey—or, in other words, probation in hell—which was more matter than the laws of argument was sent out to show in—but that the sinner is punished forever because he has wilfully chosen evil, rejected the blood of Christ, sinned out his time of probation, and there is no conceivable plan by which he can ever be relieved from punishment. Let us examine:

1. If there is a way in hell by which the lost soul can be restored, it must be the same plan furnished here and continued beyond death; or it is different. If it is the same, then we propose to show that that would be contrary to Justice and Goodness.—But if it is different, we can conceive of its differentiation lying only in one direction to keep clear of essential unity with the same plan, viz: the sou in her suffering just so much as will pay the penalty and satisfy justice and then be released; which we propose to show is an absurdity. There can be no conception of a third plan that does not essentially hinge upon one of these two.

First, then, if the present plan of salvation is continued to the sinner beyond death, it is very clear that when the sinner reaches hell, and no longer doubts its reality, having no further use for sin, he will at once embrace the plan, accept Christ, and thus forestall all punishment. For the same plan offered there would absolutely have all motives on one side. There could be no trial whatever. It would be really a forced acceptance. It would resolve itself simply into the question asked the sinner, "Which do you prefer, to stay in hell and be punished, or come to heaven to be made happy?" It is a moral impossibility that the lost soul could do otherwise than accept. The plan would therefore be worse than the one which saves all by suffering in this life: since it lacks that element of punishment as a motive. By the present plan continued there, the sinner would not only get clear of "suffering affliction with the people of God in this life, (which Moses chose rather than sinful pleasure,) but he would also get clear of suffering with the enemies of God in the world to come! So that the present plan continued there would give the worst sinner the easiest and most pleasant route, between the Scylla of suffering here and the Charybdis of punishment hereafter, into glory! and ought to be entitled, "The way to heaven made sinfully easy!"

Secondly, the present plan continued beyond death, destroys all motive to a life of holiness, and offers a premium to vice. For it is the boldest nonsense to talk of virtue being its own reward. It is true, the righteous man has peace, but that peace necessarily links on to the hereafter—is simply a part of the interest on the capital he has laid up at God's right hand by obeying this law here. One of the best men that ever lived said, that "if in this life only we have hope in Christ, of all men we are the most miserable." And the good man chooses to suffer affliction with the people of God here, rather than enjoy the pleasure of sin for a season, having respect to the reward hereafter.—There is therefore no adequate motive to maintain, through affliction, a life of holiness here, if the present plan is continued beyond death: and the continuation of such a plan would be simply saying to the sinner, "Live as you please, gratify the flesh, and when you die, and wake up in eternity, you will then have the same plan presented to you." This syllogism presents the absurdity!

Whatever suffering is required of man in the way of self-denial and resistance to sin that is not necessary, is contrary to Goodness and Justice.

But, by the present plan of salvation continued after death, the suffering consequent upon the demand of holiness in resistance to sin, is not necessary, since the sinner can live unholy and easy here, and be saved by the present plan, beyond death and the reach of present suffering.

Therefore, it is contrary to Goodness and Justice to require the affliction attendant upon a holy life here!

But to make this strong argument clear let us illustrate: Here are two women. Let us present the first. In early life she was taught God's law; she read His word and obeyed its teachings. When she came to proper age she married, and for some years the ordinary sorrows of life were hers. But her husband suddenly dies, and she is left with several little children depending upon her labor for support. She still strives to love and serve God; and while she plies her needle night and day to get them bread, she sings:

"In hope of that immortal crown
I now the cross sustain,
And gladly wander up and down,
And smile at toil and pain.
I suffer out my three-score years,
Till my deliverer come,
And wipe away His servants tears,
And take His exile home."

But she is now still young and handsome. Many of the wicked around her are gay, well-fed and clothed, while her poor little ones are ill fed, poorly clad, and uneducated. Wicked men tempt her with gold to violate God's law. She sees in their offer gay attire for herself and children. Luxury of food and drink comes with both hands full as a price for virtue. She refuses all, and chooses suffering rather than sin.—But now under all this sorrow she is taken sick, and yonder in that scanty room, in the midst of her crying children, she expires.

Now let us present the second woman. In early life she was taught God's law. She read His word, but had no fondness for it. The few years of her married life were full of misery to all around her. She is gay, lustful, worldly, wicked. Her husband is deserted that she may riot in sin. Gold, flashy men, wine, fast horses, balls, jewels and gay clothing, constitute the stream upon the bosom of which she floats. She declares hell to be a myth—the invention of priestcraft to keep people from enjoying themselves. She despises virtue, hates the good, laughs at religion and refuses the Bible. She profanes the name of God, violates the Sabbath, entraps the unsuspecting and ruins the innocent. Suddenly, however, in all her flush of sin, death overtakes her. Opening her eyes upon the reality of hell, having no more use for sin, she is presented the plan of salvation through Christ, and, of course, she gladly accepts and enters heaven. Now, the good woman first described, —she who obeyed God's law, suffered in life and died poor and lonely rather than sin—looks upon this scene, and instead of being filled with praise to God for His goodness and justice, very justly feels that her sufferings were unnecessary—that she might have sinned, clothed and fed herself and children, lived in ease and pleasure at the expense of virtue—and still have entered heaven as the other. She justly charges upon Goodness that her suffering was endured without cause or profit, and upon Justice, that law had not been vindicated.—Now who will dare deny that if the present plan of salvation is continued to the sinner beyond death, a premium is offered for vice; and there is no adequate motive to live righteously and godly in this life!

Secondly. It clearly appears, then, that if the lost soul in hell is ever restored it must be by a plan which is wholly different from the present one. Now there is only one conceivable plan, differing essentially from the present one, that could relieve the sinner in hell from endless punishment. It is this: that he suffer the full penalty for sin demanded by Justice, and then be released. But the utter weakness of this proposition, and impossibility of such a plan of restoring the lost soul may be shown in several ways.

First, it assumes the very thing to be proved, viz: that justice demands as a penalty for violated law less than endless punishment. God alone possesses a full knowledge of the extent, effect, and criminality of man's sin, and what justice demands as punishment. Human reason cannot weigh such a question as that, for it is necessarily ignorant of all the facts in the case. So the proposition is a rope of sand—absolutely worthless, unless it could be shown that justice does not demand endless punishment. The argument is, therefore, the simplest petitio principii.

Secondly, the plan assumes that the sinner, by suffering a definite length of time, is thus fitted for heaven.—But the truth is, that even if he could by suffering satisfy justice, this would give him no qualification for dwelling with the pure and good. For a plan must necessarily possess some element not only for paying the sinner's debt, —or satisfying justice—and thus releasing him from prison; but also for healing his disease—or cleaning the soul. The plan therefore not only fails of its intention, viz: satisfying justice by suffering; but also fails in the attempt to make suffering in hell do double duty, by superseding with it the cleansing blood of Christ.

Thirdly. The plan of saving the sinner by a definite time of suffering in hell, charges the Almighty with folly. In the Atonement of Christ for man's salvation God amazed the Universe by His sacrifice. He emptied heaven of its glory, and sent His priceless jewel to be shattered upon Calvary's rock to satisfy justice and save man; and made all this ado about a small matter; when by the above plan, all that necessity required was to leave the sinner to pay his own debt by suffering just enough—a million of years or so—to satisfy justice! This, of itself, is sufficient answer to the argument. It nullifies the necessity for Christ's Atonement!

Fourthly. To show the further absurdity of the plan to save the sinner by "suffering a definite time in hell," it requires simply to follow its consequences; the plan would set up in heaven two rival objects of praise, viz: the sufferings of hell and the Lord Jesus Christ—two Saviours: the Son of God, and penal fires!—Moreover, it would make heaven into two classes: the one saved by Christ's blood, the other saved by its own powers of endurance! While one class should sing "Unto him who hath redeemed us and washed us from our sins in his own blood, be honor and glory forever," the other class could sing equally as loud of the praises of suffering in hell; and waving their crowns on high, boast that they had paid their own debts, and were independents in heaven!

These two plans, then, viz: "the present one continued after death," and "suffering a definite time in hell to satisfy Justice. and then be released," having thus been shown to be utterly impossible; it follows that if the present glorious plan of salvation here is finally rejected by the sinner, Endless Punishment cannot be otherwise than the awful result.

"While life prolongs its precious light,
Mercy is found and peace is given;
But soon, oh soon, approaching night
Shall blot out every hope of heaven."

The Dance---No. 1.

BY REV. B. CRAVEN, D.D. L.L.D.

"A fancy ball," "the first hop of the season," "the pleasure club," "they had a little dance at the hotel at night" and such like expressions are common in the newspapers. These are technicalities of a custom that is manifestly on the increase; the public chronicles of a vice that inflicts heavy penalties upon society. They are proofs of usage that tends to destroy by the easy steps of graded vice, and of a prevailing disposition among the innocent to seek pleasure upon the dangerous border land of ruin.

By usage, by fair construction of law, and by the united voice of the Bishops, our Church condemns dancing, not simply as an impropriety but as a positive vice. It is not simply an infraction of a Church statute, but a violation of the law of God; not simply unfavorable to piety, but incompatible with the "life that is hid with Christ in God."

1. Biblical examples claimed, prove nothing. The dances referred to in the Bible had not the most remote similarity to modern dances, in mode, spirit, occasion, or intention. Though obsolete, if any one chooses to practice a genuine Bible dance, I have no objection.

2. By whom, for what purpose, and with what results the dance was introduced in Greece, Rome, France and England, can be fully ascertained from books within the reach of most persons. The information thus obtained will not be given to the public by the advocates of the Art.

3. Let us examine the philosophy of dancing; to that end we state the following propositions, which will perhaps be generally admitted.

1. Every sentiment, emotion, passion, inclination, and thought of the soul has its external manifestation in the body, and is thus expressed by countenance, physical development, motion, tensions and attitudes. By this law the painter expresses both thought and feeling.

3. These outward manifestations being artificially assumed, have a strong tendency to create in the soul their corresponding thoughts and feelings.

4. These manifestations being seen in others, have an almost irresistible power to produce the same manifestations, thoughts and feelings in the beholder. Hence, laughter produces laughter without even the cause being known.

5. The dance is the expression of thought and feeling by motion and attitude in regular rythem, and generally regulated by music.

6. The intelligent dancer simply expresses his thought and feeling. What they are may be inferred from his countenance, motions and attitudes. What these indicate may be best studied by the lady or gentleman standing out before the company, and going through the whole routine without a companion or music

7. The uninstructed dancer is very likely to acquire the appropriate thought and feeling by simply going through the motions and attitudes of the dance. They that stand in the way of sinners, are apt to sin; and whoever sits in the seat of the scorner, generally scorns.

8 The music and literature of the dance have an intent. They are not accidental, but have studied, systematic art, they are the expression of concept and feeling, and in very many instances were originally made more for hoped for consequences, than for mere enjoyment as a dance.

9. For what conceivable purpose were the most of fashionable dances composed? "For pleasure." What kind? Every pleasure is the gratification of some feeling, and what feeling is it, that would naturally express itself by the attitudes, very peculiar motions, and nowhere else-allowable familiarities of the dance? Is the dance to acquire grace of action? Grace or elegance of manner is relative, not abstract, depending upon what is to be done or signified, and training for all purposes must be in the precise line of the thing to be done. What duty or service in life requires men and women to bound from the floor in dactyls and anapests, hold each other by the hands or otherwise use steps not available either for walking or running, and practice attitudes and positions so very peculiar? The study of either the aesthetics or morals of the dance might show many people that they signify what they do not intend; but by practice may come to intend what they signify.

10. The artistic meaning of the dance, is that by the influence of music and motion the soul shall be brought to some certain condition of thought and feeling; that for the time being the dancers shall forget all differences of rank and character; that they shall yield themselves fully to the genius of the composition; and that nothing permitted by the dance shall be deemed in bad taste or offensive. Now if it should happen, that the composition, including both the music and dance—movement, is morally bad in any way, then a pernicious effect is stamped upon both body and soul.

11. I affirm that the whole of dance literature is morally impure; that the songs that belong to much of it, are generally immoral and often indecent; that innocency is no protection against its pernicious influence; and that the head of John the Baptist is not the only tribute that has been paid to its evil power.

B. CRAVEN.

The Methodist Church is accomplishing a good work in Australia. It has three Conferences, all flourishing. Strange enough, the first Methodist preacher there was a convict. He was under sentence of death in England for murder. He was converted, and became so thoroughly changed that through the intercession of friends his sentence was commuted to banishment.

IT IS related that an Indian once brought up a young lion, and, finding him weak and harmless, never attempted to control him: Every day the lion gained in strength and became more difficult to manage. At last, when excited by rage, he fell upon the Indian and tore him to pieces. It is thus with evil habits and bad passions. They are like this lion—they will cause much vexation in after life, and may perhaps destroy us. Youth, remember and beware.

For the Advocate.

"The Temperance Question."

Your issue of the 13th inst. has a well considered and timely article under the above caption. It is such a paper as I have long desired to see filling a conspicuous place in our Conference organ. You have opened the battle in a manner worthy of the great theme. And now I pray you so far as you shall have time and room for it, press the attack. Make it so hot and so persistent that the roar of the battle shall never die on the air until it shall be swallowed up in the shout of the victors, the cries of the vanquished and the applause of all the good in earth and heaven.

Having in view the reform advocated by you, the following resolutions were introduced into our third quarterly Conference this year and set for consideration at the fourth.

Resolved 1st, That we condemn the practice known as "treating" in political contests, either on or before the day of election and whether by candidates or their friends and supporters.

2nd, That as individuals we will henceforth vote for no man who does it or procures it to be done; and as the official body of the church we advise and request all members of the church within this pastorate to unite with us in this resolution.

3rd, That the presiding elder is requested to lay these resolutions before the various Quarterly Conferences of this District, with the request of this Conference that they join with us as a church in this or some better effort to put down this most potent engine of corruption and crime

4th, That every Quarterly Conference in North Carolina and all churches by whatever name known throughout the State are asked to deal with this question officially, if in their godly judgment it shall seem right and expedient, and as shall appear to them best.

5th, That these resolutions be set for consideration at the next Quarterly Conference: and to the end that they may receive the consideration which their importance demands, all the official members are urged to be present."

We shall never win this battle, Messrs. Editors until we win the hearts of the people. I saw lately a man just returned from a distant State to which he migrated a few years ago. He says human life is too lightly regarded there. He could not stay in such a community. Men kill on the slightest provocation. To be sure murder is a crime in the eyo of the law there as well as here. But society condones it; public sentiment allows it, extenuating if not justifying; and the law is not and cannot be enforced

There is a town I have seen, half of whose married men, I have been told, maintain their two or more separate establishments in one of which presides the wife; in the other that poor creature, outcast of earth and heaven, whose "steps take hold on hell." No grand jury finds a bill and no solicitor draws one against these violators of the law of God and man. In "a whole city full" of glass houses it would be dangerous to begin throwing rocks. Public sentiment laughs, curls its mocking lip, and with a flash of its bold, devil-may care eye bids the broken and dishonored law of the land stand aside.

I have known men who were moral lepers and unfit for association with the good and pure, who, wherever they went, were hailed as the darlings of society and were received as equals with cordial welcome by those whose shoe-latchets they were not worthy to have stooped down and unloosed Why? Because of the moral cowardice of men and women! Why? Because public sentiment is faithless in the great responsibility laid upon it!

Among a certain people I wot of, but need not name, I am told that thievery, falsehood and licentiousness are the rule, and you would look almost in vain for the opposites of those vices. Why? Because again the emasculated law bows its head and veils its face in the presence of a depraved public sentiment and is silent because it is weak.

I know a town whose solitary academy has been converted into a distillery: and now three stores, three whiskey shops, two whiskey-mills, one drug-store, one almost forsaken church and no school are the marks and signs by which that community are willing to be judged by the world. Can it be that public sentiment there spurns the school, forgets the church, strikes hands with Mammon, and bows down at the feet of this fiery devil?

Enough for the present. Our inquiry is ought the foregoing resolutions to be adopted by the churches. That inquiry I propose to prosecute in my next. Acknowledging the courtesy of your invitation, I am very truly, brethren.

Your obedient servant,
HENRY T. JORDAN.
Roxboro, N. C, Oct. 23rd, 1875.

For the Advocate.

MESSRS EDITORS: If not intruding upon your time and space, I would say a few words about the ancient landmarks of Methodism through the columns of the "ADVOCATE" to its many readers. And I come at once to the subject matter of my brief article. I shall, with the divine aid of the good Spirit, try to speak the truth as it is in Jesus; and if you deem what I say, is worth a place in your columns, well; if not just throw it aside. I feel moved to raise my voice in earnest protestations against a growing evil in our beloved communion. And that evil consists in a new sort of Methodism which strangely ignores class meetings, love-feasts, family worship, &c. &c. I would call special attention to the criminal neglect of class-meetings by a large majority of our membership. Why are not class-meetings largely attended as in the days of Wesley, Asbury, Coke and other fathers of our glorious Methodism? aye and even in the earlier days and experience of the present membership who connected themselves with the Methodist Episcopal Church South, twenty years ago and upwards? I joined the church in 1853 and very many were the p[illegible] seasons that I enjoyed in the [illegible] room. O what a holy and hallowed influence for good pervaded the consecrated place when the self-denying, cross-bearing followers of the meek and lowly Jesus punctually assembled themselves together, not only to taste His mercies themselves, and to get more spiritual good, but also to help one another on the way to glory and to God! Many of my brethren, and sisters too, remember how the blessed Spirit was poured out on many such occasions, and how many of the tempted followers of Christ, whose feet had well nigh slipped, and who were almost ready to sink down the sides of the pit, being entreated by the faithful class-leader—turned their feet to the testimonies of the Lord, went to the class-meeting, listened to their neighbors and friends as they bore testimony to the truth of the gospel as it is in Jesus, and as they listened, and prayed, and examined their hearts (for the class-room is doubtless the best spot on earth for self examination,) they have been warmed by the Spirit, and "fed" by Christ "upon the sincere milk of the word." And I have believed, and do believe to day that there have been thousands of souls eternally saved through the instrumentality of the class-meeting, who would have been forever lost had there been no such institution in the Methodist Church. I for one have abundant cause to praise the "God of all grace" for this precious means of grace, for I was reclaimed from my backslidings in the year 1857 through the instrumentality of a faithful class-leader and faithful members of the class to which I belonged. It was in the class-room I was led to examine my heart in "all godly sincerity" and find that I had left my first love. Surrounded by sympathizing brethren and sisters in Christ, and aided by their prayers and godly admonitions I was enabled to appropriate in larger measures the rich blessings of the gospel to my individual use and spiritual comfort. Glory be to God that I ever attended a class meeting! Mr. Wesley and his coadjutors [illegible] the class-meeting as one o[illegible] and most effectual means [illegible] ing scriptural holiness over the w[illegible] Our bishops see the utility and importance of class-meetings and earnestly recommend that such meetings be held in all the churches It is true that such meetings are held in a few of the churches—but alas how few! And how few of the members are [illegible] when they are held!

Now Messrs Editors, I verily believe it to be the duty of Methodists to attend class meetings punctually—and I also believe it to be the duty of the minister to see that suitable men be appointed leaders, and also to see that class-meetings are held. Why, but a few years ago many of our preachers led the class, and they related their experience to the brethren, and joyfully listened to the brethren and sisters whilst they, in turn, spoken of the dealings of God with their souls. And such meetings! I have been present at class meetings led by the pastor when all present were baptised with the Holy Ghost, and made happy in the love of God. I am surprised at some of the brethren who have abandoned class-meetings. They seem to recognize the importance of such meetings but they say "it's no use to try to get the membership to attend—that the times have changed very materially and that now under the "new order of things," they will not deny themselves so much as to go to class-meetings because the attendance upon such meetings are no longer a test of church membership." St. Paul in his second epistle to Timothy chap.—3d and 4th verses writes: "For the time will come, when they will not endure sound doctrine, but will heap up to themselves teachers, according to their own desires, having etching ears. And they will turn away their ears from the truth, and turn aside to fables." Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed," says St. James. How can we do this if we fail to assemble ourselves together. The Prophet wrote that; "they that feared the Lord, spake often one to another etc. This is sound, wholesome doctrin for any christian especially for Methodists. O Lord revive Primitive Methodism in our midst!

A. METHODIST.

For the Advocate.

Carteret Circuit.

MESSRS EDITORS: I propose to give your many readers a brief history of the country embraced in the Carteret circuit, lying mostly in Carteret county, and first I will allude to the land.

There are many of our people residing in middle and western North Carolina that know very little, if any thing, of the richness and fertility of the lands in this section. Your mountain people don't visit this part of the country, and therefore know but little of this portion of the good old State. There are large tracts of land on New Port River, and Deep Creek, that will produce, by proper cultivation, from 10 to 15 bbls of corn to the acre, and from 1000 to 1500 pounds seed cotton The lands on "Harlowe Creek," with a canal now completed, navigable for small freight boats, running through the centre, will produce an average of 800 to 1000 pounds seed cotton, and 6 to 10 bbls corn per acre. This yield may be increased by manuring.

On Adams Creek, Neuse and South Rivers, the lands are very rich. I know one plantation on Neuse, on a part of which, two bales cotton were raised to the acre, I mean the plantation owned and cultivated by John H. Nelson. The same is equally well adapted to corn, peas and potatoes. The most of the light lands near New Port River are well adapted to truck farming. On Nelson's farm the frost and freezes of spring do not destroy the early trucking crops as on the farms on the New Port River, Bogue sound, and near Morehead city. There is said to be 20.000 acres of land between Adam's Creek and South River, that, if cleared and well tilled would produce equal to any land in this or any of the western States. We need population in this country, more enterprising farming—to make it a great producing country. We have some of the right sort, but we need more. On Harlowe Creek there are some as good farmers as you could find anywhere. Bells, Taylors Hartisiys, Stantons, and others are good farmers and good men, but there is room for many more to come in, occupy, possess and till the land.

'Tis a good country for game,—deer bears and foxes, may be found in almost every section in this country, especially in the bays and on the many creeks. 'Tis no unusual thing to catch and kill bears at this season of the year; on South River deer turkeys, ducks and squirrels are in great abundance. Indeed if chills and fever don't kill, there is no fear of dying for want of something to eat. Fish, oysters, clams, scollups &c are abundant in the lakes, rivers and sounds which bind this section all around. Sometimes near Morehead and Beaufort, the hardy fishmen catch large whales.

The fruits of the country are fine. The large fox and scuppernong grape, large blue and white figs together with nearly every kind of fruits raised in any part of the State.

JAMES MAHONEY.
New Port, Oct. 14th 1875.

Holiness.

The following thoughts from the pen of Bishop Janes may encourage some of the readers of the Southern Evangelist in seeking heart purity, as well as strengthening those who are earnestly urging the Church to the highest state of religious experience. The Bishop says: "If there is any religious truth that should be urged upon the disciples of Jesus with the sweetness of constraining love and the solemnity of His Divine authority, it is the truth that Christians may and ought to be holy. O that tens of thousands of individuals, filled with its bliss, and inspired by its power, were telling of its charms and inviting to its pursuit! O that tens of thousands of spiritual limners, the Holy Spirit guiding their pencils, were actively and ceaselessly engaged in portraying the glories of this subject to the vision of the Church until EVERY MEMBER of it, ravished by its beauties, and impelled by its attraction, would aspire to its attainment, by faith enter into its enjoyment, and then join in labors to spread it! Reader, before you proceed further, stop and pray for this.—Holiness is the greatest good, the highest destiny of the militant Church, and the most precious interest of the race. A holy Church would soon make a holy world."—Southern Evangelist.

A Horrible Death.

The Charlotte Observer gives an account of the horrible death, on the railroad in the outskirts of the city, of Wm Dulin, who lived near Poplar Tent Church in Cabbarus Co. On Monday, the 18th inst., he came to Charlotte on business and while there received of the Clerk of the Court $733,54 being his portion of an estate of which he was heir. It was noticed at the time that he was intoxicated. Late in the evening he started home, being very drunk. Nothing more was heard of him until Tuesday morning when it was reported that a man had been killed by a train on the night before, at the crossing of the dirt road and railroad near "Phifer's field." It is supposed that his horse took fright at an approaching train, and running away threw his rider upon a cattle-guard near the crossing, breaking and leaving the saddle girth on the edge of the guard. There is no doubt that the head of the rider struck the track and he was thus killed. He was frightfully mangled, however by the train that passed immediately after, and by two other trains that ran over him that night and next morning. The Observer then relates the horrible appearance of the remains at the coroner's inquest:

"The sight presented upon arriving there, was one which, once seen, will never be forgotten. Close to the cattle guard was the first evidence of blood; here is where the train struck and ran over the head, and all around were lying brains and pieces of skull: a little further on between two crossties, was lying just half of the head and face as if he had been cleft in the centre of the head with an axe; on the right of this laid his neck tie and on the left a pint bottle of corn whiskey with about one drink gone, the bottle was unbroken and the cork was still in it. A little further up the track, laid one hand, cut off just above the wrist; a little further still, was a part of his overcoat, and about 25 yards from where the first blood was seen, laid what was left of the body. This, when we saw it, had been lifted from between the rails and placed on the side of the track. All along, over this 25 yards, brains, pieces of clothing and portions of skull bones, covered the ground and ties. One does not care to see such a sight more than once in a life time. The body was headless, and one arm, which had been broken in a score of places, hung to the shoulder by the skin. From the hips up, the trunk was made, and was a perfect jelly; the surgeon could hardly find a sound spot on it. The legs were not broken, strangely enough, and the shoes remained on the feet.

The jury of inquest heard the testimony of Mr. Smith, which is embodied in the above statement, but postponed making up a verdict until to-morrow at 11 o'clock, at which time the engineer and fireman, of the first train will be examined.

An examination of this train was made, yesterday morning. Blood and brains were found spattered all over the lower machinery of the locomotive and a portion of the dead man's shirt was found on the foremost trucks of the third card. About the place where the accident occurred, the fragments of what had been a human being, were scattered all around, and formed a sight which was sickening in the extreme.

What could be picked up of what was once Wm Dulin, was gathered together, and wrapped in a sheet, placed in a coffin and carried to the family burying ground.

Deceased was a man about 35 years of age. He was unmarried, but was the guardian of several children of a dead brother or sister, and these lived with him. He was a well-to-do farmer, and bore an excellent character. His was a frightful death, and the circumstances under which it occurred, render it peculiarly sad. The story carries a little sermon with it, but we will let better men elaborate it."

A MAIDEN went out in early morn to gather flowers, and she said: "These are only buds, and I will not gather them till the sun has opened their petals." At noon she went into the garden and found those same buds all wilted in the sun. She deplored her folly, and the next day gathered her nosegay early. Thus God often calls his loveliest children home ere they are blighted by sin and sorrow.

An article in the Brooklyn Eagle, on the choirs and choir music of the City of Churches, says there are in that city 225 churches, whose aggregate expenditure for music is annually $170,000, or an average of about $750. to each church. The most expensive choir costs about $8,000, the next $9,000, the next $5,000 and so they run down the scale to nearly nothing.

A WHITE garment appears worse with slight soiling than do colored garments much soiled; so a little fault in a good man attracts more attention than a great offense in a bad man.

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE—Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev J. B Bobbitt, R. T. Gray, Esq., } Editors.

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID,	$2.20
IX MONTHS, " "	1,35
If payment be delayed six months,	2.70

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Editors of the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

RALEIGH, N. C., NOVEMBER 3, 1875.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly.

THE ADVOCATE 14 MONTHS FOR $2.20. —We invite the attention of our ministers and people to the following proposition: To all persons subscribing for the ADVOCATE between this date and January 1st 1876, the ADVOCATE will be sent until the first of January 1877 for $2.20. Under this proposition, subscribers sending in their names at once, will receive the paper free for two months. Let subscriptions now begin.

WE are pleased to learn that our brethren are succeeding in raising the Conference collections. We trust a satisfactory report will come up from every charge.

WE appeal to the preachers, to whom we look for aid, not to forget the claims of the ADVOCATE. Send us subscribers and renewals, to be paid for at Conference.

Rutherford College, of which Rev. R. L. Abernethy is President, is enjoying a liberal patronage. About 160 students are in attendance the present session.

Rev. Dr. Burkhead. in charge of Edenton Street Church, is attracting large congregations by his ablo sermons and faithfulness in pastoral work.

WE trust the articles from Rev. E. A. Yates on "eternal punishment" have been carefully read. The third number appears in this issue.

WE invite a careful perusal of Article No. 1 from the pen of Dr. Craven on dancing. He takes decided grounds against this popular amusement.

The fourth Quarterly Meeting for Edenton Street Station was held last Saturday and Sunday, Rev. J. P. Moore, the Presiding Elder, officiating.

WE are glad to know that the question of the Centennial is exciting some interest among the preachers. Now that the subject is prominently before the Conference we should be glad to have a full expression in regard to it from the brethren.

Bro. Englaud, we regret to learn, has been compelled to quit his work on Smithville circuit for a season on account of failing health, and has repaired to Statesville for the purpose of recruiting. We trust he will be speedily and effectually restored to health and vigor.

Walter Page, Esq., of Cary, and a tutor at Randolph Macon College, furnishes the Advocate with a very interesting letter from Richmond on the occasion of the unveiliug of Foley's Statue of Jackson. We trust our talented young friend will not allow his pen to be idle in the future, and that he will furnish us with frequent letters.

AT a mass meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association held in the Baptist Church on the 24th ult., Rev. Messrs Atkinson, Drs. Pritchard and Burkhead, Col. T. C. Fuller and E R. Stamps, Esq., made effective addresses. This Association has done much good in the city during the past, and efforts are being made to increase its usefulness.

The agent of Trinity College informs us that parties who have made pledges to the College are tardy in paying. We very much regret this. It is of the first importance that all these pledges be redeemed as early as practicable. Do not wait for the agent to call on you but send the amount direct to him by post office order, registered letter or by your preacher to Conference. See notice of Bro. Sharpe in another column.

Rev. W. H. Milburn is again in the lecture field this season, with a number of new lectures, among which we note Charles Lamb, Patrick Henry, Alexander Hamiltou, Johu Randolph of Roanoke, and others. He will be happy to receive applications. His terms are low. His address is P. O. Box 5087, New York city.

Rev. Dr. Fuller has beou renominated by the Holston and Tennessee Conferences as editor of the Atlantic Advocate.

The American Wesleyan General Conference met in Sycamore, Ill; Oct. 20. Rev. L. N. Stratton, editor of the American Wesleyan, was elected Secretary.

Worldly Amusement.

There is a growing tendency in society to patronize and popularize traveling theatres and circuses. This is indicativo of a low and unscriptural state of morals It is greatly to be deplored that with the advanco of science and education, the morals of the country should retrograde or fail to keep pace with the progress of the age. May it not be well to prayerfully institute the inquiry: why this increase of evil—of perverted taste in society?

We are inclined to the opinion that a prominent reason has its beginning at home—has formidablo existence under the parental roof. Parents are too slack concerning the morals of their offspring; "train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it." Mothers and fathers of the present day seem to think that the dance, the theatre, and the circus may be visited with impunity—that refinement and good morals are in no wise affected by them. These very parents, many of them, would have scorned the idea of attending such places of amusements in their early life. They were taught, and properly so too, to believe that innocence was no safe guard against the pernicious influences of these places of social and moral coutamination. They have of late, however, been persuaded that, in as much as many of those in the higher ranks of society give countenance to them, their children will lose social caste if they do not go with the multitude who seek worldly pleasures of this character. If attending the dance, the theatre, and the circus is proposed to give social caste to our children, we would prefer that they should grow up to be ostracised by this class rather than to be their equals socially. Parents should never lose sight of the fact that the highest type of a young lady or gentlemen is alone to be found in the path of christiau duty—"avoiding even the appearance of evil."

Another reason why these evil habits are growing upon the people, is that our preachers do not preach enough upon the subject. They do not show the moral taint which such places of sinful amusements send out through society wherever they go.—Faithful pastors can in a great measure control these matters with which the purity of the church and the character of our holy religion are so intimately connected.

Building Parsonages.

We cannot too strongly urge the importance of building parsonages on all our circuits and stations. It is more or less embarrassing for the preacher, with a family, to be sent to a charge where there is no parsonage, and frequently no furniture for the house which may be rented for him. It adds not only to the comfort but usefulness of the preacher to give him a parsonago well furcished, and to have stored away at least a month's supplies for him and his family upon their arrival. The Western Methodist, in alluding to this subject, says:

"Perhaps the most interesting chapter in Dr. Guthrie's biography is the one describing his labors in securing church manses in Scotland. We want a Dr. Guthrie in the United States.—A good parsonage goes far to make a good pastor. It certainly goes far to make long pastorates. A moderate salary plus a home is worth a large salary plus a landlord. Most of the denominations have now adopted an itinerant ministry—only it is not systematized. The little girl who was asked, "Where do you live?" and replied, "Nowhere, I am a Methodist minister's daughter," might have been any other minister's daughter. Castlo Nowhere is the country clergyman's parsonage.

"If a man be a lawyer, or a doctor, a merchant or a mechanic, he can have a home of his own. The lot may be small and the house contracted, but it is his. He does not have to consider every Spring, "Where shall we live next year?" And the flowers are more fragrant, and the strawberries more luscious, and the very laugh of his children more merry, because he enjoys them under his own vine and apple-tree. And there is no landlord to molest him or make him afraid."

MATRIMONIAL.—It was the pleasure of the senior to unite in marriago on the 28th ult., at the residence of the brido's father, Rev. W. J. W. Crowder, Capt. Alex Miller of New Berne and Miss Bettie M. Crowder of this city. The following notice of the marriage appeared in the Daily Sentinel on the evening of the 28th. It is written in such good taste that we, with pleasure, copy it in the Advocate:

"Again two sonls have been made glad and two hearts to beat as one.—This morning at 9 o'clock, Capt. Alex Miller, of Newbern, N. C., led to the altar one of Raleigh's loveliest daughtors, Miss Bettie M., oldest daughter of Rev. W. J. W. Crowder. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the brido's father by Rev. J. B. Bobbitt, of the Christian Advocate, and was witnessed by a large number of the friends and relatives of the happy pair. After many congratulations they were escorted to the North Carolina depot by a number of young ladies and gentlemen, where amid kisses, hearty hand-shakings, and a few silent tears, they took their departure for a northern bridal tour."

Rev. R. S. Webb, writing under date of Oct. 28th, says: "We are having a glorious revival at Company Shops. The meeting has been going on over two weeks, and getting better and better every night. There have been about thirty conversions and the altar is still crowded. I will give a full report at the close."

A Catholic Priest in a New Role.

For several years there was in Raleigh one Father McNamara. Last Winter he was "unfrocked" by his Bishop for irregularities and went to New York, where for some months he delivered lectures, his theme usually being Irish Freedom or something akin to it. While in Raleigh he was noted for the tyranny which he exorcised over his congregation, for his intense devotion to Ireland, his native country, and for the undignified and ridiculous antics and speeches at public meetings and St. Patrick festivals. We have heard him at Metropolitan Hall and other places, dwelling upon the woes of Ireland and abusing its enemies until, in the frenzy of his wild passion, he would become almost profane and blasphemous. He is a man of talent and education and not without much of that eloquence for which his countrymen are noted.

In New York, he has been organizing revolutions to free Ireland, ostensibly so, but really no doubt to further his pecuniary interests. The principal organization which he affected was called the 'Sacred Order of the United Irishmen Redivivi," which had a number of Lodges scattered through the city with fearfully mystic rites. At one time there were 180 members in the city each paying 25 cents a week to a fund to further the liberation of Ireland. Father McNamara was at its head with the title "National President O. U. I. R." In the initiation each candidate was sworn secretly, his hands crossed over a basin of blood obtained from a neighboring slaughter house, with a large, sharp bladed axe hanging from the ceiling directly over his head. McNamara declared that even if the Pope and Kaiser William, or any other potentate, opposed the movement, he alone would free Ireland.

Among the recruits obtained by the ex priest was Thos. McGeoghehau, a young man of fine education and talent, a writer for the press, and one who, McNamara saw, would assist greatly in furthering his schemes. Fascinating him by his attentions and conversational gifts, the patriot-priest drew him into the order and saw him develop into one of his most zealous supporters. Some of the rites, however, did not sit well upon his conscience, and consulting his confessor, he was told that he could not receive absolution unless he should withdraw from the 'Redivivi.' This he finally determined to do, though he feared that loss of life would be the penalty for the withdrawal. To a letter written by him to McNamara, announcing his purpose, the latter wrote an abusive threatening letter, telling him that he had no right to withdraw his allegiance to the order and closing, "Be ready to appear before the body as soon as called or they will proceed against you as a traitor. Choose your course and take the consequences."

McGeoghehan refused to appear and McNamara, with several others, met at a secret place, determined upon his death and appointed one of the number to do the fatal deed. The authorities of the law were appealed to for protection of the young man, and it is likely that proceedings will be had against the late priest and his co-conspirators.

McNamara, (says the N. Y. Herald from which we glean the foregoing facts,) was seen on one of the streets of the city, armed with a bludgeon and being urged to stay the hand of the order in its alleged purpose, said that he saw no reason to reverse the sentence pronounced and that the young man must die "at set of sun."

We incline to the belief that 'Father Mac's" mania has developed into insanity and that he will shortly doff his familiar long-frock for a straight-jacket or a convict's stripes.

We publish in another column an article from Dr. Kennedy on the Bishop Capers' letter. The Christian Neighbor has the following, which is in conflict with the information given by Dr. Kennedy. We give what is published on both sides and leave the reader to form his own judgment.—We would state however, that our opinion as expressed in a former issue, remains unchanged!

"On yesterday, we were honored with a call from Dr. Henry D Capers' of Oxford, Ga., who, to the gratification of his friends as well as those of his father, Bishop Capers of precious memory, is spending a few days in the city. Dr. Capers assures us there is no doubt of the genuineness of his father's letter as published last week in the Neighbor—that he is well acquainted with C. B. DuPre of Clinton, Tenn., and that he has seen the original letter and cannot be mistaken. He is unable to account for the error—putting Clinton, S. C, for Clinton, Tenn."

Trinity College.

To all whose notes and subscriptions to Trinity College, are NOW, or may be DUE, by Dec. the 1st 1875.—

DEAR BRETHREN: Many of you are not convenient to money order Post Offices; and therefore cannot so safely send money by mail: will you please send it to me, by your preacher to Conference? This will be both safe and convenient. But do not defer it longer than this. As these subscriptions were made in good faith, they have been relied upon, and must be paid or this interest must suffer.

Let whoever can, remit to me at once to Thomasville N. C. These papers are in my hands, and I am anxious to give credit.

Yours, etc,
V. A. SHARPE, Agt. T. C.

The Bishop Capers' Letter.

The Southern Christian Advocate has this additional information touching this remarkablo letter which we copy in full for the information of all concerned:

"Some weeks since we devoted an article to the consideration of this now famous production, in which we gave distinctly and fully the prominent reasons which led us to suspect its genuineness, and consequently to decline its publication. We stated in that article that the information obtained up to that time, though bearing very heavily against the validity of the document, was not conclusive; and that we held ourself ready cheerfully to publish the letter as genuine, if subsequent investigation should establish the fact We have pursued the investigation, and we have now to say, that the results do not leave the faintest trace of doubt upon our mind that the letter is an unmitigated fraud.

It has been extensively circulated throughout the country that, by an inadvertence, "S. C." was substituted for Tenn, and that Mr. or Col or some thing, "C. B. DuPre" lived at Clinton, Tenn. Well, our inquiries immediately took that direction, and elicited the information contained in the following note:

CLINTON, TENN., Oct. 19, 1875

REV. F. M. KENNEDY, MACON, GA.—Dear Sir:—In answer to your inquiry concerning C. B. DuPre, I will say I know of no one by that name, neither can I find any one in this section who does. I have received two or three letters making the same request as yourself.

Respectfully,
P. M. LILES, Dept P. M.

So much for C. B. DuPre, who provokingly misleads an anxious public who would fain find the fortunate possessor of so valuable a relic as this "remarkablo letter." Possibly "the strange slip of Mr. Du Pre's pen" which substituted S. C for Tenn, may have been repeated in putting Clinton for some other town. Who knows? Let the note to Dr. Deems be hunted up from the trash of the Methodist office and critically scrutinized; it may throw some valuable light upon the identity and residence of this obscure depositary of Bishop Capers' otherwise undivulged sentiments. How sad, that one whose early promise was so bright, should in the brief period of twenty years sink into such profound obscurity as to defy the most diligent search!

Again, the genuineness of the "remarkable letter" has been exultantly claimed upon the statement that "the original" (which, of course, the public understood to be a letter in Bishop Capers' handwriting, of which the published letter was a faithful copy) had been seen by one capable of authenticating its genuineness. But, pressing the inquiry upon this point, we find that no such letter in Bishop Capers' handwriting has been seen by any body, and that the only "original" claimed to have been seen, is that of which the publication in the Methodist is a copy. Our original suspicions, therefore, have solidified into the firm belief that Bishop Capers' never wrote any such letter, and that notwithstanding the Methodist's unqualified and emphatic assertion "The Bishop Capers' letter is genuine," that journal has been betrayed by the mythical C. B. DuPre into the propagation of an ingenious but arrant fraud. "The forgery" was executed with consummate skill, and attests abilities of no common order; but that it is a "forgery," no longer remains an open question to our mind. While we have been anxious to settle the question of the genuineness of the document, we feel no care about discovering the perpetrator of the fraud. We are perfectly willing that America should furnish a Junius to puzzle the wits of the curious, and—despite the infinite disparity in moral qualities—that C. B. DuPre should be the man.

In closing this article, it is proper to say that throughout this investigation we have been impelled by a single desire to reach the truth. We have been uninfluenced by any supposed bearing of "the letter" upon pending questions between the Churches; and we now declare, that if the proof could have been furnished, we should have realized far more gratification from declaring the genuineness of the "Bishop Capers' letter" than arises from the duty of denouncing such a sacrilegious fraud upon a name which we revere next to that of our own father."

Church Dedication.

On the 3d Sunday in Oct. a large concourse of people assembled from all parts of the county to witness the dedication of a new church at Noble's, eight miles from Tarboro. The first service performed was the baptism and reception into the church of five persons. The sermon was preached by Rev. C. C. Dodson from Isaiah 63d chapter 1st verse.

After the sermon about $600 was subscribed to liquidate the indebtedness of the building, the remainder was pledged by the trustees, and the house was set apart from all unhallowed purposes, to the service of Almighty God, under the name of McKendre Chapel, and given to the use of the M. E. Church, South. The erection of the building is largely due to Dr. A. B. Nobles who donated the lot, superintended the work, and gave liberally of his means.

It is a neat, commodious, well arranged building costing about ($1000.)—one thousand dollars.

On the 1st Sunday in Oct I began a meeting there, in the store house in which we have been worshiping. Shortly after the meeting began I was taken sick and was absent a week, but two lay brethren, J. L. Horne Sr. and Dr. Noble's carried on the services for four days until Bro. Holden of Rocky Mount came to their assistance. The meeting still continues up to this writing 22 have professed conversion and 21 have united with the Church; there were 22 at the altar last night. The laymen have thrown themselves into the front rank and worked with commendable zeal. The Church itself is revived. I am indebted to Bro's Dodson and Holden for valuable assistance. We are looking forward to glorious results yet.

Yours fraternally,
W. D. SWINDELL.
Tarboro Oct, 25th 1875.

Letter from Richmond.

MESSRS EDITORS: Although the ceremonies of to-day have, I see, brought here a number of gentlemen from your city, among them several representatives of the press, yet the thought has occurred to me, of writing you a letter. For without having any better claim upon a good position to day at the unveiling of the Jackson statue, than a very low place in the great procession that seemed to have no end, I was singularly fortunate in getting a good position both for seeing and for hearing.

The papers this evening say that such a crowd of men women and children was never before seen at the capital of the Old Dominion; and well it may be believed, for they seemed innumerable. Very early in the day, the part of the capitol grounds that was not inclosed by ropes was crowded; and the number of people grew steadily greater until nearly one o clock, when the ceremonies began. The procession alone was more than an hour in entering the gates.

When everything was ready, prayer was offered by Bishop Doggett. Gov. Kemper then made a speech of welcome to the multitude. When he closed, he introduced as the orator of the occasion Rev. M. D. Hoge. Dr. Hoge, you remember, you had the pleasure of hearing in your city last summer. But he was not been the eloquent man that he was to day. For to day he had to eulogize his friend, "a man," as some one remarked, "who has made famous all that knew him." The orator did not deliver his oration as it has come out in print: he both curtailed it and modified it, but weakened it not a whit. In the opening of his speech, Dr. Hoge, turned to the venerable form of Gen. Joseph E. Johnston, and exclaimed. "There are ten thousand men here to day that rejoice to look once more upon the face of this old hero." Gen. Bradley Johnson rushed to the front waving his hat as a command to cheer; and hats were raised as far as the eye could see, and a roar of voices went up that rivaled the very thunder in its sound.

The speaker did not close with the long studied climax of his printed oration. He was telling of that saying of Jackson's before his death, that the "Stonewall Brigade" were brave men, and that the day would come when every one would feel proud that he belonged to it; and with an emphatic shout, he said: "Gentlemen, that day is now come. Behold your commander!"

In an instant, the veil was lifted from the statue; and a great shout, again went up mingled with the noise of the cannon and musketry. When the noise had somewhat subsided, you could see here and there in the crowd a rough old hand raised, and hear a hoarse voice say, "there he is, there he is—that's old Stonewall!" One other great cheer, and the multitude dispersed. Gov. Kemper introduced the daughter of Stonewall Jackson. As the blushing child stood upon the railing and bowed to the old soldiers that had followed her father, a thousand men said, "God bless her."

Although a shower of rain has stopped to some extent the display of fire works, the city is gaily illuminated; and as I write now the firing of cannons jars the houses. Among the things that are attracting great attention is, I see, your townsman Mr. Brown's painting of Gen Jackson.

This is a great day for Virginia, and a thrilling day. True, some indeed may not admire the men that wear here their tattered jackets; but no one can help admiring those who wear here their wooden limbs, and those who, standing around their chieftain in bronze, wear moistened countenances. Surely, in it all there must be a healthful joy to all men of our land, to see one of their brothers giving historic importance to the age and to the country that they live in; a healthful joy to all men at least, whose patriotism has neither sunk into indifference nor risen to fanaticism. This is a great day to Virginia. I said, yes, it is old England saying to her daughter, "This Jackson, this son of yours, a right brave man—I delight to honor him." And Virginia answering, "yes, I am proud of him. He has made me illustrious, and I love his memory."

Now I should like to write you something about the Fair. But there was little to be seen at the Fair-grounds to-day. I see here, however, one of the type-writing machines that you have seen advertised so much recently. It works admirably. By touching little keys there is a key for every letter and for every other character used in writing,) you can, with a little practice, print as rapidly as you can write.

Then you see the inevitable collection of things that is at every Fair. A few pretty paintings, a half-acre of plows, enthusiastic horse jockeys, despondent farmers, the big bull, the large hog, exquisite dandies, old women with great flocks of children, a host of sewing-machine agents, a few ugly chickens, the man with the rod balloons and the omnipresent old blind organ-grinder. After such a sight as these things present, a mere spectator comes away with a resolution never to go to another Fair, a resolution very easily kept until another Fair comes, and then as easily broken.

WALTER PAGE
Richmond, Oct. 26th 1875.

Send your job work to the Raleigh Christian Advocate.

News from the Churches.

Rev. L. J. Holden, writing from Rocky Mount, under date of Oct. 20th says: "We closed our last protracted meeting for this year, a few days ago. I have labored nearly four months in protracted meetings, and God has blessed abundantly. We have had during the year (203) two hundred and three converts and 180 accessions to the church. I have had but five or six sermons preached for me, and yet my voice is good; but I am worn in body and mind, but I thank God my heart feels better."

Rev. T H. Edwards, writing from Winchester, Oct. 24th says:

"I have just closed a very remarkable service in Bethel Church, have just received 59 members into the church and administered to them the sacrament of the Lord's Supper. See such an army of recruits all kneeling at one time for sacrament, more, I suppose, than ever com nuued at one time at this church. It was the result of a meeting hold one month ago, at which 69 were converted, but some of them went to other churches

The revival was the result of a very prosperous S. School, which has been kept up through the summer. We have now a Young Men's Prayer Meeting in which nino are leading in prayer."

Rev. T. A. Coon, writing to us from Mooresville circuit says: "It has never before been our pleasure to report such a season of grace as that through which we have just passed. We have had a "time of refreshing from the presence of the Lord." A harvest of souls has been reaped. The Lord has owned and blessed the labors of his servants in this portion of his moral heritage. Our 4th Quarterly Conference was held at McKendre Chapel embracing the 2nd Sabbath in this mouth, and proved indeed to be a time of great spiritual power to the church. The membership was greatly revived, members found peace in believing and 100 were added to the church. Such results have never before been realized in the history of this church. The revival influence was not only felt by those who attended with the means of grace, but by those who remained at home, and we trust a great moral reformation has been effected among such as have not been persuaded to be christians, and that they may yet seek and find the one thing needful. Almost every family in the community is represented in the number of those who have been happily converted to God. Our beloved Bro. Bruton P. E. remained with us till Monday evening, preaching with his usual earnestness, and greatly endearing himself to the people. Bro. W. P. Williams, an esteemed local minister of this circuit, was with us a portion of the time, and preached three excellent sermons. The membership was fully alive to the importance of the work, and the young converts did some effective preaching. At Wesley Chapel we have also had a gracious revival of religion, and several accessions to the church. The outlook for Mooresville circuit is encouraging. It is destined to take high rank among the circuits of the Salisbury District. To God be all the praise."

Bro. Henry C. Nance, a layman on Uwharrie circuit, writing under date of Oct. 23rd says: "As our preacher Bro. Farrar is not very much inclined to write, we would like to speak through the ADVOCATE in regard to a protracted meeting held at Mount Tabor church on the Uwharrie circuit. The meeting embraced the second Sunday in Oct. and it continued all the week. There were brethren of several denominations who joined in with us, viz: Protestant Methodists Baptists and Friends who did good service among us. The public exercises were conducted by Bro. Farrar, Bro. Henry Lewallen and Sister Sarah Wilson. We had a glorious meeting. The church was built up in a wonderful manner and many were brought from darkness to light and from the power of sin and Satan unto God.

There were twelve added to the church. I will further state that the Uwharrie circuit is in a hopeful condition, though there has not been a general revival on the circuit; and again I state there has been a considerable interest taken in the cause of Sabbath Schools. We had a Sabbath School celebration at Oak Grove church and those who attended were very much interested with the exercises and encouraged in the cause of Sabbath Schools. Our preacher is a great advocate for Sabbath Schools and we would like to have him come back next year. This is the general wish of the people about Mount Tabor church and all aronnd the circuit as far as my knowledge extends."

Rev. J. W. Randle, writes from Magnolia, Oct. 26th and says: "I am glad to be able to report to you the result of some very gracious meetings on Magnolia Circuit. The first meeting we protracted was at Harrell Store. It commenced with our third qnarterly meeting which gave us the advantage of two sermons from our excellent Presiding Elder whose sermons are full of thought and power. On Monday evening Rev. W. N. Conoley came to my assistance and entered into the meeting with a zeal and power fully commensurate with the importance of the work before us. The Holy Spirit was poured out upon us and sixteen were converted and added to the Church. Our next meeting was held at Providence. The valuable service, of Bro. Conoley were again procured. He preaches with power and demonstration of the Spirit. We were favored with one sermon at this meeting from Bro. Black. We had a very gracious meeting and received twenty-three into the Church. The next point was Carlton's Chapel. The prospect was gloomy for a few days, but with the kind assistance of our Presiding Elder we broke down the wall of partition and the Holy Spirit come to our assistance and twelve were received into the Church. Our fourth Qnarterly Meeting drew near and we went to Salem and Bro. Sandford came to our assistance, and preached us first to the Cross and then carried us with Paul up into the third Heaven. The Spirit of the Master was with us and twenty precious souls were added to the Church, such we trust as shall finally be saved. We have had seventy-three accessions during the year. Our people also are inspired with a spirit of building and repairing churches. At Harrell Store we expect to have a new church soon, the lot has been procured, the lumber is sawed, and the work is commenced. We also have a subscription to repair Providence Church. The lumber is sawed and on the yard for the purpose of repairing Salem Church.

Our Church at Magnolia has also been very neatly repaired and presents quite a different appearance to what it did a year ago. We have a few noble spirits at this place who are always ready to work, or contribnte of their means for the promotion of the great work of saving souls. We also held a meeting here of some interest and trust that the seed sown will yet spring up and produce abundant fruit to the honor and glory of God."

The Missionary Drafts.

MESSRS EDITORS: I see in your paper of the 20th inst. the attention of the P Elders called to a resolution of the last session of the Conference which requested them to collect the amounts still due on the missionary drafts for 1868 As I am mentioned by name in the above communication, I desire to say, that the Conference also passed a resolution requesting the secretary of the Conference to divide the amount to the several Districts (except the Shelby) and furnish each P. Elder with the amount assessed to his District. That is the last I have heard of the matter. I have been anxious to raise the money but have not received any statement of the amount I am expected to raise.

I can bear testimony to ability and faithfulness with which the Missionary on my Distriot performed his work; and feel that it is a shame that he has been kept ont of his just rights until now.

WILLIAM CLOSS.
Washington N. C. Oct. 22d 1875.

Religious Brevities.

The Tennssee Conference at its late session found Dr Hanuer guilty of the chages lately preferred against him, and he was indefinitely suspended from the ministry.

St. John's Episcopal Church, Chillicothe, Ohio, has transferred itself to the Reformed Episcopal Church.

BISHOP PIERCE is visiting the Indian Mission Conference. A railroad now runs through the Indian Territory.

Bishop Atkinson confirmed a number of persons in St. Luke's church, Salisbury, on Oct. 16.

Rev. M. H. Houston, for 7 years Missionary in China, lectured in Concord last week.

Rev. J. H. Fitzgerald, pastor of the Hillsboro Presbyterian church, has returned from Virginia and resumed his duties.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Mr. S. D. Waitt, the senior partner of Waitt & Bro., is North laying in his second stock of winter clothing and other articles in his line. New goods are daily arriving, and customers are continually crowding the store.

To those of our patrons who buy goods in Raleigh we cheerfully commend to them the houses advertised in our columns.

The taxable property in the city of Wilmington is assessed at four millions of dollars. The total debt of the city is $630.610.

Mr. Luckenbach, of Charlotte, while in a trench repairing a gas pipe, was stifled by escaping gas, but recovered in a short while.

The Grand Jury of Robeson county have found a bill of indictment for libel against the Wilmington Post. The Post was very abusive of the commissioners of Robeson county for their decision in the case of the delegates to the Convention.

The Roanoke News reports the Weldon Fair to have been a success.

The gin-house and a large barn, with 25 bales of cotton, belonging to Mr. La Fayette Staton, of Edgecombe county, were burned on the 22d inst. No insurance.

The Salisbury Watchman claims that at the recent Fair held in that place, Rowan county showed her capability to make the finest county exhibitions in the State.

A negro man named George Borland was committed to jail in Orange county last week for attempted violence on a little daughter of Mr. George Rhodes, aged about 12 years.

Mr. James Norwood, of Orange county, received, in premiums at the State Fair, about $700, covering awards for fine stock, agricultural products and essays on the best mode of farm management.

The Wilmington Fair takes place next week.

Col. Geo. P. Chamberlain, of Atlanta, Ga., has been appointed Supervisor of Internal Revenue for the District composed of Virginia and the Carolinas, in place of Col. Perry.

By an act of the last Legislature, Sheriffs are compelled to settle with the State Treasurer by the 1st Monday in December, or forfeit $1,000 and 10 per cent of the amount uncollected.

The Ansonian says that there is an old negress in Anson county, named Rose Candle, whose age is 103 and who picks every day half as much cotton as any picker.

A number of the citizens of Raleigh presented Col. Thos. Holt, President of the State Agricultural Society, with a handsome gold headed cane engraved with agricultural emblems.

Gov. Vance has gone to Missouri, at the invitation of the Jews of St. Joseph, to deliver his celebrated lecture on the "Scattered Nations."

The Committee of Arrangements for the unveiling of Stonewall Jackson's statue in Richmond, Va., on the 26th ult., sent an escort for Mrs. Jackson and daughter from Charlotte to Richmond. At the conclusion of the ceremonies at the unveiling of the statue, the ghost soldier's daughter was presented to the audience and was received with prolonged cheers.

The Charlotte Observer tells about a man in Charlotte, dumb from childhood, who was taught to speak several words distinctly under the manipulations of a "corn doctor." Wonderful cures, and the Observer must have credulous readers to believe it.

The Observer omits the 'k' in spelling the name of the editor of the Wadesboro Argus and has it Night. What good would Wadesboro derive from its Argus—the hundred eyed—if some one should over it? In Caldwell's absence, Andy ought to be unknighted.

Fab. H. Busbee, Esq., of Raleigh, delivered the address at the Petersburg Fair and has been highly complimented by the Press of that city.

The N. C. Yearly meeting of Friends will commence on Thursday, 11th inst., in New Garden, Guilford co. Last night fifty Friends arrived from Indiana.

Week before last Henry A. Martin, an inmate of Stokes county poor house, was found dead in the road near that place, having left Danbury late in the night in a drunken state. He belonged to one of the best families of the State, was a graduate of Chapel Hill, and in his younger days was a member of the Legislature and a lawyer of fine promise. Liquor and bad associations ruined him down.

Concord Register: We have been informed that there is a man in this county, about eighty years old, who says that when he went to housekeeping some sixty years ago he built a fire in his house, which he has never let go out from that day to this, keeping it up through summer as well as winter. The fact that he has lived in the same house sixty years is in itself remarkable, but keeping up a fire for that length of time seems almost incredible.

The rise in the price of spirits of turpentine has made business more active in Wilmington.

The Methodist ladies Aid Society of Shelby gave a supper in that town recently and realized $100.

Jno. N. Staples, Esq., will address the citizens of Fentress Township, Guilford co., at Pleasant Garden next Saturday (Nov. 6th) at 12 o'clock, and the ladies are especially invited.

Mr. Seth Rogers, an energetic Canadian, living near Greensboro, lost his house, barn and hay stacks by fire on the 13th ult., but was fully insured. Supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

A husband, wife and only child in Greensboro all have the same birthday, Oct. 23d.

S. E. Allen, former General Ticket Agent of the N. C. Railroad, has resigned and been succeeded by J. R. Mcmurdo.

The Institute for the Deaf, Dumb and Blind at Raleigh has 115 pupils and a capacity for 200.

The Blue Ridge, in sight of Mt. Mary, was white with snow on the 26th ult.

The Richmond and Danville Railroad has been reorganized in its management. The following are the officers under the new regime: A S Buford, President; Shoolbraid, Assistant to the President; J R Talcott, Gen. Superintendent; W H Green, Supt. R & D and N W N C Division; A B Andrews, Supt. N C Division; Sol. Haas, Gen. Freight Agent; J R Mcmurdo, Gen. Ticket Agent.

Shelby Aurora: We have been struck during the progress of our Court at the fact that there were fewer cases of crime before the bar of justice than in other days. The cases of petty larceny are very much diminished, especially among the freedmen. In this respect, a very great reformation is going on among the negroes. They are learning the wholesome lesson that stealing don't pay.

It is with an evident air of impatience and disgust that the Shelby Aurora man writes the following:

"Shelby can boast of the best and roomiest market house of any town in the State. It is located back of Rudisill & Miller's store, and generally occupied by horses and dogs during the day time, drove of hound dogs clean the house during the night. And yet our people go there and buy their fresh meats and seem very well satisfied."

The Greensboro Patriot, under the head of "Something for Bamum," says: "There is a farmer residing in three miles of this place, who has a goose about six months old which is a curiosity. Its body is equally divided between cat and rabbit. The head and four feet are perfect cat, while the hind legs and tail are rabbit. It hops like a rabbit and has the slyness and cunning of a rabbit, yet is a good mouser."

A NEW SUPERINTENDENT.—Maj. J. H. Winder, of Raleigh, was on Friday last elected Superintendent of the R. & D. and R. & A. Air Line Railroad, in place of Capt A. B. Andrews, resigned. Maj. Winder is an affable and accomplished gentleman, of considerable Railroad experience and will make an efficient officer. The Company is to be congratulated on securing his services.

FRIEND OF TEMPERANCE ALMANAC have just received a copy of the Friend of Temperance Almanac for 1876. It is published by Rev. R. H. Whitaker, Raleigh, N. C., and contains a large amount of valuable information besides the temperance songs, odes, anecdotes, &c. It is a new enterprise of Bro. Whitaker's and deserves encouragement.

DURHAM TOBACCO PLANT.—Bro. Green has enlarged his paper, giving four additional columns of reading matter. The PLANT is one of our newsies, and a well valued exchanges and we congratulate our contemporary upon its evidences of thrift and prosperity.

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY THURSDAY MORNING. TERMS $2.50 POSTAGE PAID.

Our Agents.

[illegible] and local preachers in the bounds of this Conference are our authorized agents for sending us ten subscribers, for whom we send the paper free.

Our Correspondents.

[illegible] communication should be carefully written on one side of the sheet. All letters should be addressed to the Editor.

How to Remit.

Money, all amounts should be sent in a post office order or check. The cost of a post office order can be deducted from the money is sent otherwise the amount must be at the sender's risk.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

[illegible] Panacea.

[illegible] Lots—J C McElling

[illegible]ment of Rev. L. [illegible] Carolina Almanac [illegible] Orders for books will [illegible] by him.

[illegible] Watford, of Richmond, Va. [illegible] American Tract Society [illegible] Illustrated Christian Weekly, [illegible] Southern Branch of the [illegible]. He gives special [illegible] selection of libraries for [illegible]. We recommend Mr. [illegible] persons desiring books &c.. [illegible]rtisement.

[illegible] Andrews & Co., clothiers [illegible] have their establishment [illegible] at Niagara. What good [illegible] the Advocate. They are [illegible], have a large assort [illegible] made clothing for men [illegible] gents' goods for gentlemen [illegible] they are also agents for [illegible] Mud Shirts" which are [illegible] durability and sell free- [illegible] best quality and low [illegible] ministers and others who [illegible] themselves with an out [illegible] to send their orders to [illegible] & Co who will give [illegible] careful attention,—[illegible] Wamsutta dress shirt [illegible] quality, style and fit to [illegible] many price sold for six for $7.50.

Book Notices.

[illegible] M. E. Church 1844—[illegible] A THIRTY YEARS [illegible] RECOLLECTIONS OF THE [illegible] by Edward H. Myers [illegible] Gen. A. H. [illegible] Mason, Ga. J. W. [illegible]

[illegible] from the author the [illegible] information which is [illegible] origin of the [illegible] between the churches [illegible] the legal aspects of [illegible] present relations of [illegible] movement to- [illegible] which has been [illegible] some review of [illegible] and the develop- [illegible] organized the sepa- [illegible] Missions, so that [illegible] matter to carry it into [illegible] thoroughly and well [illegible]. Mr. Myers is devoted to the [illegible] desires the exis- [illegible] and cordial fraternal rela- [illegible] Church, under the plan of [illegible] not consider that [illegible] assistant or mechani- [illegible] rights shall [illegible] for "peace [illegible] wish the [illegible] compromise itself to [illegible]

[illegible] match research [illegible] familiarity with the history [illegible] of Methodism, and [illegible] is a readable [illegible] He was for several [illegible] of Reading Church [illegible] a member of several [illegible] and is one of the [illegible] by our Bishops [illegible] difficulties" be- [illegible] Northern and Southern

General News.

[illegible] conducted in [illegible]

[illegible] recently been [illegible] by [illegible] Mr. Alex [illegible] Mr. W. J. W. [illegible]

[illegible] been struck [illegible] Court at the [illegible] Baptist [illegible] Mr. Jenkins, Mr. R. F. [illegible] Pastor, all of Lees- [illegible]

[illegible] Baptist [illegible] Rev. W. J. Kounce [illegible] Oct. 26th, by [illegible] Rev. D. R. Walker and [illegible] Brunswick co. [illegible] Oct 20 h [illegible] Oct 21st, by Rev. J. [illegible] Mr. Geo. G. Arrington, to Miss Sarah F. Hawk [illegible] Warren co N. C.

[illegible] Oct 21st, by Rev. J. Tillett, at [illegible] residence of Dr. James Williamson, [illegible] Person co, N. C., an [illegible] Miss Isadora A. Williamson of Roxboro N. C.

[illegible] Oct 14th [illegible] Robert Lewis to Miss Ann Bryan [illegible] Person Co, N. C. by Ira T. [illegible]

Deaths.

[illegible] notices of twenty lines are inserted free of charge. The excess over twenty lines will be charged for at the rate of 1 cent per line. Count the lines and send the amount with the notice. In this way [illegible] know the amount to enclose [illegible] Obituaries are subject to the same [illegible]

[illegible] daughter of J. W. and [illegible] was born June 26, 1832, and [illegible] near Catawba Depot [illegible] Aug. 16, 1875. Aged [illegible] 1 month and 20 days.

[illegible] to O. W. Davis August 20, [illegible] she lived as a dutiful and [illegible] until the day of her [illegible] by whom she gave birth to 12 [illegible], of which she preceeded her to the [illegible] land, and one of which soon followed [illegible]

[illegible] Davis connected herself with the M. [illegible] South on profession of faith when [illegible] was single, and lived a consistent [illegible] to the good Lord called her away [illegible] a mother, sorrow, to join, we [illegible] to bleed was not living above.

[illegible] she took a great deal of pains [illegible] those intrusted to her care. As a wife, she seemed to be ready to assist her husband in all his undertakings to provide for himself and family. When able to get to church, her seat was rarely ever vacant. Her doors were ever open for the reception of God's ministers. It was my good pleasure to call on sister Davis often and she always treated me as any good christian would their Pastor.

Many who traveled Dallas circuit in the past will remember her.

She expressed a readiness to die, and talked of death with a calm christian spirit, and told her companion how she wanted him to train the children left to his care. She leaves a husband, 8 children, and a large number of relatives and friends to mourn her loss. I preached her funeral last Sunday to a large weeping congregation. The church militant has lost a member, but the church triumphant, we trust, has gained one.

May God be with those who mourn her loss.

P F. W. STAMEY.

Died at the Bluff Factory, Cumberland co. N. C. of typhoid fever William Z Pattishall, on the third inst.

He left a wife and two children and a large number of friends and relatives to mourn his loss.

He joined the M. E. Church while young and lived a peaceful and quiet life to the day of his death and when summoned to leave this world and go to the spirit land, he shouted and gave God the glory, and passed away as one going to sleep.

E. A. BREWER.

Mrs. Mary M. Bethell died at the residence of her son, Wm. P. Bethell, near Danville, Va. on Sunday, Oct. 24th 1875.

Sister Bethell was the daughter of Rev. Geo. W. Jeffries, a local minister of our church, and was born in Person co. N. C. Aug. 1820. Brought up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord," she demonstrated the value of her religious training by consecrating her heart to God at the early age of fifteen years. She at once connected herself with the Methodist Church, and for forty-years her path through life was radiant with the light of a consistent christian example and a holy influence. A devout member of my own church, who for fifty years had been her intimate friend, declares that she had never known her to indulge in anger. Her disposition was, indeed, one of rare sweetness and amiability. Her charity to the poor was a marked feature in her character, and the needy who came to her door were never sent away unrelieved. She visited the sick with great fidelity and loved to point them to the Great Physician. The privileges of the Sanctuary were highly appreciated by her, and although her deafness often prevented her hearing the sermon, she declared that one of her chief pleasures was to be in God's house and to mingle with his devout worshipers. Like her adored Master, she was a friend to the humble, and in other days, would take delight in spending her Sabbaths in instructing the slaves under her charge in the knowledge of God. It is usual to praise the dead, sometimes injudiciously, but all who knew the deceased will testify that there is no exaggeration in saying that she was one of the meekest, purest, most zealous and most consistent christians that ever lived in any community.

On the 1st Dec. 1840, she was united in marriage, with Maj. W. D Bethell, and until death called her away from the loved companionships of earth, she was to her husband a devoted wife, to her children a tender mother, and to her friends, true and faithful.

Her last illness was borne with much patience and fortitude. The Gospel which has sustained her amid many heavy trials, furnished grace sufficient for the supreme exigency. Faith supplied her with its "realizing light," and every cloud fled, swift-winged from her sky; no shadow darkened her spirit. She met death calmly and without fear. In her last hours sweetly reposing on Jesus, she repeated the beautiful hymn, beginning

"What is there here to court my stay.
To hold me back from home,
While angels beckon me away,
And Jesus olds me come?"

Mother in Israel thou art not dead; only gone before. As the setting sun leaves its brightness imprinted on the heavens, so the radiance of thy piety lingers on the path of life, and in its light we may follow in thy steps. Even in the grief of parting, Faith whispers of the happy greeting beyond the river, and Hope points to the everlasting reunions of the better lands. We know that she shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day.

S S, LAMBETH.

Ida, daughter of John W. and Cordelia Vandeson formerly of Pitt Co. N. C. was born Oct 8th 1871, and died in Durham N. C. of typhoid fever, Oct 19th 1875, aged four years and eleven days. Thus is gone from the family circle here another sweet child to dwell with her departed little brother in the great family of heaven. May the sorrow stricken parents find them again in the arms of Him who said, "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven"

J. J. REES.

Letters and Funds.

Rev J Willson for Mrs H Carraway 2,20, W Starr 2, Rev S V Hoyle, W M Poisson, Rev R S Webb for Miss A J Holt 2 20 Wm Boone 1 25, J T Merritt 2.20, Rev J W Wheeler, Rev M V Sherrill, Rev J W Puett for J A Mundy 2,20 Rev B C Phillips for Mrs S Sheppard 2 20 G W Luther 2.20, Mrs R G Odell sell 1,50, L W Ashley, J W O'Sell, Rev J W Jenkins, Rev W B Maness for Mrs J E Blackwell 1.20, Dr J T Leach self 2, Rev I T Wycho for E Paul 2 20 Mrs S McKay 2,20 Mrs R S McNeill 2.20.

Appointments.

SALISBURY DISTRICT.
FOURTH ROUND.

Yadkinville ct	Oct.	2- 3
Mooresville ct	"	9-10
Mocksville ct	"	16-17
Alexander ct	"	23-24
Surry ct & Saurason Miss.	"	30 31
Mt. Airy station	Nov.	6- 7
Wilkes ct	"	13-14
Salisbury st	"	20-21
Iredell ct	"	27-28

D. R. BRITON, P. E.
Statesville, N. C.

WILMINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Magnolia, Salem,	Oct.	2- 3
Onslow, Tabernacle,	"	9-10
Topsail, Rocky Point,	"	16-17
Whiteville, Shiloh,	"	23-24
Bladen, and Cape Fear Miss. } Windsor,	"	30-31
Wilmington Front Street,	Nov.	6- 7
Smithville,	"	13-14
Clinton, McGee,	"	20-21
Elizabeth, Wayman,	"	27-28
Wilmington 5th st.	"	30

W. S. BLACK, P. E.
Magnolia N. C

CHARLOTTE DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Albemarle at Bethel.	Oct.	- 1
Stanley ct. at Kehoboth,	"	2- 3
Monroe ct. at Prospect,	"	9-10
Lilesville,	"	14-15
Wadesboro at Bethel,	"	16- 17
Concord sta and ct,	"	23-24
Pleasant Grove ct	"	30- 31
Tryon st. and Calvary Miss. }	Nov.	6- 7
Jacksonville ct	"	13-14
Mt. Pleasant ct Bethel,	"	20- 21
Wadesboro sta,	"	27-28

J. S. NELSON, P. E
Monroe, N. C.

FAYETTEVILLE DISTRICT.
4TH. ROUND.

Uwharrie Poplar Spring, C. M.	Oct.	3- 4
Jonesboro,' Poplar Spring,	"	9 10
Laurinburg	"	16-17
Robeson,	"	23-24
Cumberland, Rockfish,	"	30 31
Rockingham, Zion,	Nov.	6- 7
Pee Dee, Hebron,	"	13-14
Buckhorn. Cokesbury.	"	20-21
Fayetteville,	"	27-28

Camp meetings will be held in connection with the Quarterly Meetings on Carthage, Montgomery and Uwharrie circuits.

Brethren in the ministry are invited to attend.

S. D. ADAMS, P. E.
Carthage N. C.

HILLSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Deep River Maroney's,	Oct,	2- 3
Yanceyville Prospect,	"	9 10
Leasburg,	"	30 31
Person Valley's,	Nov.	6- 7
Flat River Pleasant Green,	"	13-14
Hillsboro sta,	"	20-21

L. L. HENDREN, P. E.
Chapel Hill N. C.

SHELBY DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Double Shoals, Union (C M)	Oct,	2- 3
South Fork, Wesley Chapel (C M)	"	9 -10
Liberty Mt. Rock Spring (C M)	"	9 -10
Shelby station,	"	15-14
Shelby ct. (Shelby (C M)	"	16 17
Rutherford, Pisgah	"	23-24
Marion,	"	27-28
Morganton,	"	30-31
Lenoir,	Nov.	6- 7
Happy Home,	"	13-14
Newton, Concord	"	20 21
Rock Spring,	"	27-28

Camp-meetings, will begin Friday evening and close on Wednesday morning. Let the Ministers and Stewards labor earnestly to bring up all the finances. Three-fourths of the ecclesiastical year has passed away and only about one-fourth of our salaries has been paid! Dear Brethren, shall those who preach the gospel to you be sent away unpaid? God's blessings will be in proportion to your faithfulness in His service.

R. G. BARRETT, P. E.
Lincolnton. N. C

NEWBERN DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Newberne,	Oct.	2- 3
Jones, at Lee's Mon. & Tues,	"	4- 5
Dockery, at Harlowe's,	"	9-10
Wayne at Fremont, (Ded of Ch'ich)	"	16-17
Craven. Wed, & Thurs.	"	20-21
Snow Hill. Snow Hill.	"	23 24
Neuse & S. Creek. Aurora.	"	30 31
Mt Olive, & Mt. Olive,	Nov.	6- 7
Wilson	"	13-14
Goldsboro,	"	20-21

E. A. YATES, P. E
Beaufort N C.

GREENSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Winston,	Oct	2- 3
Wentworth at Reidsville	"	9 10
Greensboro	"	16- 17
Randolph at Union Factory,	"	23-24
Stokes,	"	30-31
Davidson. at Lexington	Nov,	6- 7
Madison, Madison,	"	13-14
Elizabeth, Franklinville,	"	20 21
Forsyth, Tabor,	"	27-28

N. H. D. WILSON, P. E.
Greensboro, N. C

WASHINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND IN PART.

Matteumskeet,	Oct.	16 17
Bath,	"	23-24
Plymouth & Jamesville,	"	30 31
Columbia.	Nov.	6- 7
Williamston,	"	13-14
Warren,	"	20 21
Roanoke,	"	27-28

The brethren of Cape Hatteras will please meet me at Swan Quarter the 28th of September prepared to take me across the Sound the 29th, and the Preacher in charge will arrange for me to preach and administer the communion at all of the five appointments on his circuit.

The Preacher in charge of Portsmouth and Ocracoke will arrange for me to divide the six days allotted to that charge between Portsmouth and Ocracoke as he may think best so that I may preach and administer the communion at both places. The brethren of that charge will be relied upon to return me to Swan Quarter or some point on Matteumskeet

WILLIAM CLOSS, P. E.

RALEIGH DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND, Q. M.

Henderson at Henderson,	Oct.	2- 3
Rolesville at Rolesville,	"	9-10
R. M. and Nashville,	"	16-17
Gary,	"	23-24
Raleigh Eden on st,	"	30 31
Youngsville. Zion's	Nov.	6- 7
Smithfield,	"	13-14

J. P. MOORE, P. E.
Warrenton, N. C

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

WHOLESALE CASH PRICES.

Office of CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.
November 2, 1875

REMARKS.

Business greatly improved. Country produce offered in quantities; especially in exchange for groceries.

COTTON.

Old cotton none. New crop coming to market freely. Tendency downward. We quote: Middlings 12¾ Low mindlings 12 1-2 Lower grades none offered.

General Market.

FLOUR, North Carolina $7@5.5[illegible]
CORN 1.00
CORN MEAL—100
BAGGING, Standard 15 1 2.
" Dundo 13 1-2,
BACON, N. C hog round, 14.
" hams 18 1-2
BULK C. R. sides, 15
" shoulders, 10 to 11
LARD, North Carolina, 16 1-2
" Western tierces, 17 1-2@
" kegs, 18 1-2@17 1-2
COFFEE, Prime Rio, 21
" Fair Rio, 22@24
SYRUP, common, 37 1-2
MOLASSES, Cuba, 50.
SALT $2.25.
CHEESE, Cream, 15 16.
" Factory, 17.
" Dairy, none.
NAILS, on basis for 10d. $4.00
SUGAR A 13 1-2.
" Extra C. 11 1-4.
" Yellow, 10@11
LEATHER, Sole 27 1-2@30
HIDES, green, 7@8.
" dry, 13 1-2
TALLOW, 7@8
POTATOES, sweet 75
" Irish, $1.00@$1.25.
OATS, shelled, 80
" sheaf, $1.25
FODDER, old, $1.50, New 1.25
HAY, N. C, baled ..60
CHICKENS, grown, 30
" young, 30@30
EGGS, 25
BUTTER, country, 25@30
FISH, Mullets, $6 to 6.50.
" Cut Herrings, 7@75
" Mackerel, new family, $17.00
BEESWAX, 25.
RAGS, 3
BEEF on foot, 7
" dressed prime, 8@10.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

BRANSON'S NORTH CAROLINA ALMANAC FOR 1876.

Only $3.00 per 100—the cheapest and best Almanac published in the State.

L. BRANSON,
Raleigh, N. C.

ORDER ANY BOOKS YOU WANT

If not on hand, I will procure and send them to you on short notice.

L. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.

SCHOOL BOOKS! SCHOOL BOOKS!!

SCHOOL BOOKS!!!

I am prepared to supply the schools at the lowest cash rates. These are good reasons why you ought to trade with me.

L. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.

nov. 3-tf.

B. L. BINGHAM & CO.,

Wholesale & Retail Grocers AND

GENERAL

Commission Merchants,

News Building, Nos. 6 & 7 Martin Street.

RALEIGH, N. C

We have in store and [illegible] the largest and best selected stock of [illegible] in the city, the prices of which we guarantee to be as [illegible] lowest.

200 sacks Family and Extra flour.
75 kegs Cut Down Nails.
100 sacks Mocha and [illegible] Salt (2½ lbs.)
25 Kegs best Soda
25 cases Lemon Extract Lye
50 barrels Sugar, all grades.
50 barrels New Crop Cuba Molasses.
20 sacks Coffee.
40 boxes Flakes and Crackers.
30 cases Soap.
20 cases Brandy Peaches.
30 boxes Candy.
500 lengths Cotton Yarns.
40 boxes best Cream Cheese

Also a large supply of

BAGGING,
TIES.
BUTTER,
SUGARS,
BULK MEAT,
LARD,
RICE,
HAMS,
&c., &c., &c.

We take this opportunity of thanking our old friends and customers for their liberal patronage they have bestowed upon us, and [illegible] to merit a continuance of the same. We will be able to continue to [illegible] Produce for the [illegible] as heretofore.

Our stock is [illegible] and we are now ready to offer [illegible] to our friends and the public generally. We [illegible] with us [illegible] who are ready to serve you promptly and [illegible]

Prompt attention given to all orders and goods promptly shipped.

Very Respectfully,
B. L. BINGHAM & CO.

Nov 3-1.

IMPORTANT SALE.

On Friday, the [illegible] day of December, 1875 I will sell to the highest bidder at

APEX, N. C

50 Very Desirable Town Lots—three of which are [illegible] on the same day, [illegible] within one mile of Apex, [illegible] and the terms will be [illegible]

Terms [illegible]

[illegible] ELLINGTON

Nov. 31-2.

[illegible] PAY. [illegible] PAY.

CANVASSERS [illegible] place for the Bible [illegible]

$250 IN ADVANCE, POSTPAID.

A Treasury of [illegible] Volumes every week, with [illegible] Engravings, published by the AMERICAN TRACT SOCIETY

Applications, accompanied by no doubtful reference, [illegible] may be sent to

T. L. D. WALFORD, [illegible] St., Richmond, Va.
SOUTHERN BRANCH.

American [illegible] Sabbath School and Bible [illegible] Depository, [illegible] MAIN [illegible]

Richmond, Va.,

All Books used at [illegible] Schools, and liberal discount allowed to the trade.

Special attention [illegible] consisting of S. S. Libraries, and [illegible] are prepared to give satisfaction.

T. L. D. WALFORD.

GIVES PERFECT SATISFACTION

For Sabbath Schools

The Shining River.

For High and Grammar Schools.

THE [illegible] ... GEOGRAPHY.

The [illegible] Geography [illegible] published for 50 cents less [illegible] Introduction. [illegible] and [illegible] Rivers are shown with [illegible] accompanying [illegible] Price [illegible] cents. Rivers of the [illegible] to be [illegible] and children's [illegible]

For [illegible]

[illegible] ELLINGTON

NOW READY.

A new [illegible] Methodist Hymn and Tune Book for Prayer Meetings, Camp Meetings, [illegible]

Price		BY
30 cents	[illegible] Praise of [illegible] LIVING WATERS For Prayer Meetings	P. P. BLISS.

Sent [illegible] receipt of price. [illegible] Rivers or Hymns and Tunes [illegible] Pieces. OLIVER DITSON & CO., [illegible] & CO., [illegible] & CO., 711 Chestnut, Philadelphia. [illegible] & Co., 30 Murray, New York

nov-4tf

SWAIM'S CELEBRATED PANACEA

Has acquired a [illegible] reputation which the efficacy [illegible] has [illegible] for more than FIFTY YEARS, as a [illegible] Purifier of the Blood. Cleanser [illegible] Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Bowels and Pelvic Viscera. [illegible] Diseases of the Skin, Ulcers, [illegible] Tumors, Hip-joint Disease, [illegible] Rheumatism, Neuralgia, [illegible] Dyspepsia, Debility, [illegible] Dropsy, [illegible] Female Complaints, [illegible] Nervous Diseases arising [illegible] Indiscretion, Exposure, Hereditary taint, [illegible] Mercurial Poisoning, [illegible] Blood Poisoning, [illegible] years, and is [illegible] by no one in which so many [illegible] have been [illegible] as in this. [illegible] perfectly safe for the most delicate [illegible] of [illegible] both old and young. IN ALL CASES WHERE THE BLOOD IS NOT PURE, IT SHOULD BE USED FREELY. Pamphlets only at

SWAIM'S LABORATORY,
133 So. Seventh St., Chestnut, Philadelphia.

[illegible] pamphlets furnished on application to Laboratory.

AGENTS [illegible] GRAND NEW BOOK.

PRESENT CONFLICT of SCIENCE with RELIGION; or, MODERN SKEPTICISM Arrayed in Open Conflict with the Bible.

The [illegible] work of the [illegible] DAY AND THE Bible," every [illegible] needs. [illegible] Wade [illegible] it. It gives the Christian's [illegible] for the Faith, proves the wonderful [illegible] of the Bible to every soul's [illegible] and [illegible] God's Word, [illegible] Evolution, [illegible] and destroys [illegible] Infidel [illegible] Agents [illegible] Pictorial [illegible] Prospectus [illegible] Territory [illegible] Address [illegible] Publishers, Philadelphia, Pa.

Oct 27 5-t

R. H. MACY & CO.,

14TH ST. & 6TH AVE. NEW YORK.

The Largest Importers in America of Holland Dry Goods suitable for Holiday Presents. [illegible] Assortment in New York. [illegible] Fancy Goods [illegible] and Bric-a-Brac [illegible] Orders by mail attended to as to special care.

Oct 27-4t.

ARTHUR'S

ILLUSTRATED HOME MAGAZINE. "The Household Magazine of America." Twenty-first year in 1876. "EAGLES LIKE," by Mrs. Julia C. R. Dorr, and "MIRIAM," by T. S. Arthur. BRIGHT STORIES, New-est Patterns in every number. Terms $2.50 per year; 3 copies for $6.50. Splendid [illegible] premiums [illegible] specimen number FREE.

T. S. ARTHUR & SON, Philada.

JOHN W. HINSDALE,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
Room No. 2, First Floor, Law Building,
RALEIGH, N. C.

Attends all the Courts in Raleigh and Fayetteville. Claims collected in all parts of North Carolina. Refers to Hon. R. R. Pearson, Chief Justice of N. Carolina, M. W. Ransom, U. S. Senator; National Bank, W. H. & B. S. Turner, Williams & Haywood, Raleigh, N. C.; Fayetteville National Bank, Merchants' Bank of Fayetteville, J. [illegible] Williams & Co., R. [illegible] Jolly & Co., Fayetteville, N. C.; Bank of New Hanover, Wilmington, N. C.; Morton, Bliss & Co., Bailey, Hall and Co., H. B. Thurber & Co., N. [illegible] Jollie & Co., New York; D. Leadbeth & Co., Philadelphia, [illegible] and [illegible] and more.

Reference [illegible] Messrs. Merchants of Raleigh, [illegible] Messrs. Worth & Worth, Fayetteville, N. C. [illegible] Collections [illegible] Address [illegible] of claims [illegible] Prompt attention [illegible] Office [illegible] prompt attention.

Oct. 27-1y

PRICES REDUCED!

LADIES
— AND —
GENTLEMEN:

CALL AT ONCE AND EXAMINE THE EXTENSIVE STOCK, JUST RECEIVED AT

J.P. GULLEY'S,
—OF—
Dry Goods, Clothing,

NOTIONS, BOOTS, SHOES,
Hats, Caps, Trunks, Valises,
White Goods, &c., &c.
BURT'S GAITERS & BOOTS FOR GENTS

PRINTS! PRINTS! PRINTS!

A Large stock [illegible] the late [illegible] pattern at prices that cannot be excelled.

Respectfully,
JOSEPH P. GULLEY,
Corner Fayetteville and Market Square.

Oct 13th, 1875.

A. G. LEE. ED. H. LEE. CLE R. LEE

A STRICTLY COMMISSION HOUSE.

A. G. LEE & SONS.

RALEIGH, N. C.

Cotton is our Specialty.

We can always obtain the highest market price, and ask our friends who find it inconvenient to accompany their [illegible] to the market to try us. We can [illegible] New York in the next proceeds of your cotton.

When you bring your cotton to market yourself [illegible] a cause at all. We are [illegible] to fill and can pay the very highest market price for it. Be sure to call and see us before you sell.

We are the Agents for

The SCHOFIELD COTTON PRESS, the best in vented.

A. G. LEE & SONS.
P. O. Box 222, Raleigh, N. C.

sep 1-1f

COTTON TIES.

Something New, But Old!

We have now the agency for the sale of the "Providence Picced Cotton Tie," in towns along the R. & G. Railroad, [illegible] to Fayetteville along the R. & D. Railroad to Goldsboro; thence to Weldon and Rocky Mount and along the L. & G. Railroad to Weldon, and are now offering this Tie at 4 1-2 cents per pound in car load lots, delivering to any depot in our section.

This Tie is easily done over, put up into bundles same size and weight as the Arrow Tie and use the arrow buckle. Each broken one is neatly mended with two rivets, which makes it doubly strong.

Most parties who used them last season say they much prefer them to new ones considering the difference in cost.

All orders for shipments within the next two weeks can get Sixty days, they paying freight on arrival and deducting same from bill when due.

Orders from merchants and large dealers respectfully solicited.

A. G. LEE & SONS Agts.,
Raleigh, N C

oct 13-1f.

COMPLETE STOCK.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER

Have now completed their purchases in all departments of the DRY GOODS LINE.

We ONLY ENTIRELY NEW FALL STOCK in the city of Raleigh, having closed out last winter their old business.

New Dress Goods,

New Shades and Colors,

Best Quality,

Lowest Prices.

Camels Hair, Cashmere, all wool serge—Diagonals, Plaids, Black and Colored Silks, and the best Black Alpacas.

REMARKABLE BARGAINS

— IN —

HOUSE KEEPING GOODS.

HATS, BOOTS AND SHOES.

Our selling of all makes and colors. Gloves, Hosiery, Ribbons and Flowers, and a complete stock of Men's [illegible]

Attention of strangers and wholesale dealers is invited.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

oct 13-1f

REMOVAL.

OFFICE OF

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,

RALEIGH, N. C.

We have removed to our elegant and commodious new STORE in the

BRIGGS BUILDING

where we will be pleased to see our many friends and the public generally.

OUR NEW STORE ROOM,

THIRTY-TWO feet wide and TWO HUNDRED long, together with a large and convenient Cellar and Warehouse adjoining, affords us unequalled facilities for conducting our business.

Customers and visitors will find our salesmen and ourselves polite, careful, accommodating and attentive. We extend a cordial invitation to every body to come and see us.

Respectfully,

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,

oct 13-tf. Briggs Building.

OPIUM Morphine Habit AND Intemperance

Speedily cured by DR. BEERS' safe, speedy and sure Remedy. NO CHARGE for treatment until cured. Call on or address

Dr. J. C. BEERS, 113 John St., Cincinnati, O.

Sept 22-13t. o o w.

INSTORE:

A full line of the FAMOUS WAMSUTTA SHIRTS the very best Shirt made—warranted to fit perfectly, or no sale.

KEEP'S PATENT

PARTLY-MADE DRESS SHIRTS.

Only $15 Per Dozen!

Or Six for $7.50!

All those who have been waiting for them can now be supplied
Sent to any address on receipt of price. Two size of collar is the only measure necessary to insure a fit.

SOLE AGENTS, R. B. ANDREWS & CO.,
Clothiers, Raleigh N. C.

OUR STOCK OF FALL AND WINTER CLOTHING FOR MEN & BOYS is LARGE and COMPLETE in every department. The Largest Stock and Lowest Prices go together here.

R. B. ANDREWS & CO.,

Clothiers and Gents' Furnishers,

nov 3-3m. Raleigh, N. C.

JUST ARRIVED AT THE

RALEIGH STOVE HOUSE

Another car load of the old reliable

COTTON KING STOVE;

No Better Stove Can be found in the City!

Every one warranted! Call early and get one!

RANGERS, HEATERS and all kinds of COOKING UTENSILS.

FRANKLIN GRATES, PARLOR STOVES, WHICH ARE GEMS OF BEAUTY,

TIN WARE, LAMPS, OILS, WOOD AND WILLOW WARE, CUTLERY AND HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS.

Guns and Locks Repaired, Bell Hanging, &c., &c.

J. C. Brewster, Proprietor.

Oct 6 tf No 4 Hargett street, Raleigh, N. C.

OLD NORTH STATE HARDWARE AND

HOUSE FURNISHING STORE,

No. ___ Martin and Market Streets,

RALEIGH, N. C.

I am now receiving my FALL STOCK for 1875, consisting of a full line of

HARDWARE,

Hollow Crockery, Wood and Willow Ware;

Also a large stock of Cooking, Parlor and Heating STOVES. Would call particular attention to those persons who are in want of a first-class Cook Stove to use on the new wood coate expressly for this market, which I have named the

"Old North State."

FIVE SIZES—NOS. 6, 7, 8, 9, 10.

The No. 6 [illegible] for $10.00, complete with pipe and furniture. No. 7 for $13.00 and other Nos at corresponding prices. Every Stove sold will be warranted to give entire satisfaction. Do not fail to call and look at the Stoves before making purchases.

Also in stock will be found a full line of

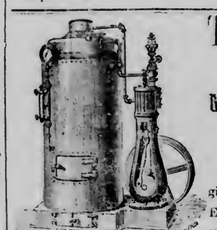
Lamp Chimneys,
Wicks, Pratt's Astral
and Kerosene Oils.

Having purchased my entire stock at very low prices I can offer inducements to those in want of anything in my line. An examination of my stock and prices is solicited. Goods marked in plain figures.

C. A. HART,

Market and Martin Streets, directly opposite "The Daily News Office,"

Sept. 18-tf. RALEIGH, N. C.



THE HOPE ENGINE.

MANUFACTURED BY

McCallum, Wyckoff & Hope,

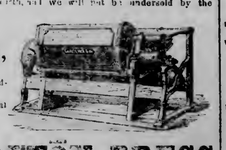
RALEIGH, N. C.

At the N. C. State Fair, 1874, the "Hope Engine" received the GOLD MEDAL, as the best Steam Engine for general use, and the SILVER MEDAL as the best Vertical Engine.

We refer to the following parties, who have used [illegible] Engine: W. G. Upchurch, of Williamston, Upchurch & Johnson, Raleigh, N. C.; W. A. Wright, Tarboro, N. C.; Geo. Parmer, Parmer & Co., Goldsboro, N. C.; C. S. Hines, Wilmington, N. C.; Peter Lutz, Lutz & Co., Fayetteville, N. C.; Messrs. Hassell & Vick, Dover, N. C.; [illegible] & Co., Kinston, N. C.

We guarantee our [illegible] Saw Mill Engine to be as [illegible] North, and we will not be undersold by the manufacturers of any first class Engine.

We manufacture



The Carolina Cotton Gin,

which we guarantee equal to the best Gin made. It was awarded the Silver Medal, as the best Gin made in the State, at the N. C State Fair, 1874.

OUR POWER COTTON PRESS

has no superior. We refer to A. F. Page, Cary, N. C.; [illegible] Mill, Garner's, Raleigh Grange, No. 17, who have our POWER PRESS in use.

We manufacture the celebrated "SUNNY SOUTH" [illegible] and several other sizes which we will sell at very low figures.

We manufacture SAW MILLS, MILL GEARING, SHAFTING, PULLEYS and MILL MACHINERY of every kind.

For full information and Price List, address

McCALLUM, WYCKOFF & HOPE,
Raleigh, N. C.

may 19-tf.

Twenty Years Ago.

WARREN, O., June 17, 1855.

Craddock & Co., 1031 Race Street, Philadelphia:

Please forward by express, C. O. D., one bottle of Dr. James' preparation of Indian Hemp (Cannabis Indica). My mother used it with success TWENTY YEARS AGO, and as she is just recovering from a long illness, and her lungs being weak, we send again, after the lapse of twenty years, for your CANNABIS INDICA. We know from experience that it is no humbug. I know of several cases that it has cured.

Respectfully,
J. C. FREER.

FLAT ROCK, Huron Co., O., Aug. 2, 1875.

Inclosed are six dollars and fifty cents for three bottles of your Cannabis Indica. It is doing its work well.

Yours respectfully, E T CONSER

N. B.—This remedy speaks for itself. A single bottle will satisfy the most skeptical. There is not a single symptom of Consumption that it does not relieve. $2.50 per bottle, or three bottles for $6.50. Pills and Ointment, $1.25 extra. Sent at our risk. Address Craddock & Co., 1032 Race Street, Philadelphia.

Sept 22 13 eow

1875. FALL & WINTER 1876.

MRS. R. LEOPOLD

Has received a large and well selected stock of

MILLINERY AND FANCY GOODS.

Ladies' Bonnets and Hats,
Misses' children's and Babies',
Fine assortment Ladies White Goods,
Kid Gloves, Ruffs, Collars and Cuffs,
Stamped Velvet, Silk and Cotton,
Ladies Silk Scarfs, Belts, Ribbons,
Ladies, Hamburg Edging, Insertions, all kinds of Corsets, Hoops, Braids,
Ladies' and Children's Striped Hose &c

The choicest assortment in the city. Ladies call and examine.

In our MILLINERY DEPARTMENT we have one of the

First-Class Northern Milliner.

MRS. R. LEOPOLD.

Fayetteville Street, next to Briggs Building.

Oct 13-1m.

THE BUFFALO LITHIA WATERS

FOR SALE.

The claim is made with entire confidence for these waters that as a curative agent of many forms of CHRONIC DISEASE they have no superior among the medicinal waters of the WORLD. Especially and emphatically is this claim made for them in the peculiar DISEASES OF WOMEN, in AFFECTIONS of the KIDNEYS and BLADDER, and in derangements of the DIGESTIVE and BILIARY ORGANS. In GOUT and RHEUMATISM, dependent on URIC ACID in the blood, they have given the most marked and decided relief. In CHRONIC, INTERMITTENT, and REMITTENT FEVER, and all diseases attributable to miasmatic influence they act often like a charm. In SCROFULA they have given a degree of relief which might well induce sufferers from that disease to give it a trial. They are used with advantage throughout the whole year—equally in cold as in warm weather.

The claim thus made for these waters is vouched for by some of the MOST DISTINGUISHED MEDICAL MEN OF THE COUNTRY, both North and South, as well as by numerous reported case from the most unquestionable sources.

Testimonials sent to any address on application. These waters are put up in case of one dozen half-gallon bottles, at $6 per case.

THOMAS F. GOODE,
Proprietor Buffalo Lithia Spring

A Street Idyl.

Wind shaken lilies, silver-belled and sweet,
Pearls flosting down the dusty London street;
Embodied dreams—a resurrection bright,
Of some foregone, forgotten lost delight.

Who drew them from their dusky, cool retreat,
Where they could hear the spring's first pulses beat
In deep green woods, or by the silvery gleam
Of some slow rippling, forest-shadowed stream;

Where are they drifting in that snowy trese?
To make death tender with their loveliness,
Or stir within some weary, death-cold breast
Thoughts which the dull, hard world had laid to rest?

Will they reflect their image clear that lies
In the soft depths of little children's eyes?
Or will those chalices of silver bells
Imprison tears within their fragrant cells?

Oh, myriad-voiced! beneath the summer sky,
To some a song, to some a bitter cry,
Pass to your mission, while I hear the beat
Of angel footsteps flutter from the street.

The Cursed Water.

A LEGEND.

[Selected for the Advocate by F. B. J.]

In the land of Arabia once lived an old man who had spent his life in searching after the "philosopher's stone," by means of which one could make gold in any desired quanitity, also an elixir to ward off old age, and preserve eternal youth and vigor.

Abu Taleb, as the old man we speak of was named, lived in a capacious room with a large fire-place, and had mortars of iron and glass, pincers of various sizes, crucibles, furnaces and bellows. On long shelves were bottles and jars filled with liquids of various colors, the poisonous drugs having a skull painted on them, and in a corner of the kitchen an old blanket was spread, on which the alchemist rested at night an hour or two, when he did not look at the stars on the blue firmament above.

His house stood upon the borders of a great desert, and his sister Kadijah lived with him. She was exceedingly avaricious, and therefore said one day to herself: "My brother has his head always full of other things and hardly knows what he is eating, whether I cook delicious meals for him or give him only pulse to eat and water to drink." She therefore took twice a day, or fourteen times a week, barley flour, poured hot water over it, and added occasionally a little, butter and placed this frugal meal on her brother's table. One day, however, when Abu Taleb thought the propitious hour had arrived, and the lead in his crucible would soon be transformed into pure gold, he ate but very little of his porridge and poured the rest in a tub, to prevent his sister from reproving him and annoying him by untimely questions.

Thus the remnant was left in the tub, as the alchemist had poured it out, and gradually began to spread a peculiar odor. The sensitive nose of Abu Taleb soon perceived the spirit in it, and he did not rest until he had separated it from the husks and poured in into a bottle. When he tasted it, he found that it circulated through his veins like fire, and made him believe that he had indeed found the water of life. No wonder that he concluded to make the most of it. He therefore ate from that time but one-third of his porridge, just enough to keep him from starving, and poured the rest in his tub, in order to obtain more and more of the precious water.

Meanwhile a great famine came over the land, and a half-starved little boy, whose parents had already died, approached the window of the alchemist to beg for food left on the table, but Abu Taleb poured it rather into his tub and chased the poor starving orphan from his threshold, till he lost his way in the desert and laid down under a shrub to die.

Then the guardian angel of the child, approached with tears in his eyes the throne of God, and accused Abu Taleb of having caused the death of the orphan. And the Lord said to the ministering spirit: "Hasten down and curse the beverage which Abu Taleb prepares of barley and water, and all which will be henceforth prepared. Curse them even to the ends of the earth."

And then the angel went forth, and bedded first the body of the little boy on soft moss, and rolled four heavy stones over his grave, that he might sleep securely untouched by the wild beasts of the desert. Then he entered the laboratory of the alchemist, stepped near the bottle which contained the liquid, and said: "Cursed be thou! Those who drink of thee shall think they are taking healing medicine, but shalt prove a poison unto them. Those who use thee shall mean to derive strength from thee, but thou shalt be unto them like water poured into a blazing coal-fire, which does not extinguish it, but increases its heat; thou shalt consume their strength as vinegar destroys steel. Thou shalt weaken the body of man and wrap his soul into utter darkness. Those who will drink of thee thou shalt bind with stronger fetters than syrants do their slaves; and when thy friends curse thee at the dawn of day, and cry and sigh over their misery, they shall not be able to do without thee and with trembling hands reach after thee. Thou shalt poison the son in the father, and the child in his mother's womb, that the grandchildren shall with hollow eyes look back upon the slain generations and say: From our fathers cometh our misery! Thou shalt appear as harmless as the water which sparkles in the spring and shalt nevertheless destroy whole nations and cause them to vanish away, like the shadow when it declineth. Satan has many snares, thou shalt be his greatest and he shall welcome thee as his first ally. Cursed be thou! cursed henceforth unto the end of time!"

Thus spake the angel of the Lord and returned whence had come.

After this Abu Taleb died, and being guilty of the death of the orphan child and burdened with the great weight of his sin, sank down to the lowest parts of the earth, like a millstone which has been cast into the sea.

Not one little starving child, but many, many have been slain with hunger, while the sweet wholesome grain of the field which should have fed them, has been turned into the cursed fire-water.

I. C. B.

Children's Column.

Answers.

Strive to enter in at the straight gate. Luke 13th chap. 24th verse.—T C W Boshamer, M P Davis.

An account of the man of great stature who had six fingers on each hand, six toes on each foot, is found in 2nd Samuel 21st chap. 20th verse. T C W Boshamer.

Lord, they have killed thy prophets and digged down their altars and I am left alone, and they seek my life. The Lord said, "Go forth and stand upon the mount before the Lord.—Behold the Lord passed by and a great and strong wind rent the mountains and broke in pieces the rocks before the Lord; found in 1st Kings, 19th chap. 10th and 11th verses. T C W Boshamer.

Belshazzar made an impious feast. Dan. 5th chap. M P Davis, J W Howard.

"But as for me and my house we will serve the Lord," is found in Joshua 24th chap. 15th v. J W Howard.

M P Davis writes that she will enlist in young Mr. Betts' army of Bible readers.

Questions.

T C W Boshamer asks where is found the following: "He shall build me a house, and I will establish his throne forever."

M P Davis asks where is found the following, "Israel shall blossom and bud and fill the face of the world with fruit." Also "Salvation is of the Lord."

SQUARE WORD BY J. W. HOWARD.

First, a son of Joktan; second, a king of Sodom in the days of Abraham; third, the father of Uz and Hul; fourth, an animal used in sacrifice.

BIBLE ENIGMA BY J W. HOWARD.

1st. A natural sign of joy or sorrow. 2d. The daughter of Aristobulus 3d, 9th, 12th and 16th, one who was renowned for wisdom though was excelled by Solomon. 11th one who trembled before Paul. 5th an instrument of correction. 8th and 15th begin the name given to Peter by Christ. 7th a Pharisee who came to Jesus at night for instruction. 10th begins the name of a son of Eliphaz. 4th and 12th the father of Hezron. 14th the son of Josiah. The whole is what the prophet Isaiah forcfold Christ should be called.

Who'll Turn the Grindstone?

When I was a little boy, I remember one cold winter's morning I was accosted by a smiling man; with an axe on his shoulder—"My pretty boy," said he, "Has your father a grindstone?" "Yes, sir," said I. "You are a fine little fellow," said he, "will you let me grind my axe on it?" Pleased with his compliment of "fine little fellow," "Oh yes, sir," I answered, "it is down in the shop."—"And will you, my man," said he, patting me on the head, "get a little hot water?" How could I refuse? I ran, and soon brought a kettle full. "How old are you, and what's your name?" continued he. Without waiting for a reply, "I am sure you are one of the finest lads that I have ever seen; will you just turn turn a few minutes for me? Tickled with the flattery, like a little fool I went to work, and bitterly did I rue the day. It was a new axe, and I toiled and tugged till I was almost tired to death. The school bell rung and I could not get away: my hands were blistered, and it was not half ground. At length, however, the axe was sharpened, and the man turned to me with, "Now, you little rascal, you've played the truant; scud to school or you'll rue it.' Alas, thought I, it was hard enough to turn a grindstone this cold day, but now to be called a little rascal was too much. It sunk deep into my mind, and often have I thought of it since.

When I see a merchant over polite to his customers, begging them to taste a little brandy and throwing his goods on the counter, thinks I, that man has an axe to grind.

When I see a man flattering the people, making great professions of attachment to liberty, who is in private life a tyrant—methinks, look out, good people, that fellow would set you turning grindstones.

When I see a man hoisted into office by party spirit, without a single qualification to render him either respectable or useful—alas, methinks, deluded people, you are doomed for a season to turn the grindstone for a booby.

A. BAUM,
Professional Butcher,
Wilmington St., Opposite East End Market.
Hurrah the fattest beeves that ever bled. No poor or stunted beef to be seen in his shop. Orders for Mountain stock weekly filled by his agents. The best and choicest meats to be had in this Market, butchered in first class style, are sold you at apl 28 tf BAUM'S.

A Train of Evils.

If weakness of the stomach is allowed to become chronic, the following evils supervene—Digestion is permanently impaired, the system is very imperfectly nourished, the blood becomes thin and watery, and the bile being unemployed for digestive and assimilative purposes, enters the circulation through the thoracic duct, and injects itself into the superficial vessels, giving to the skin and whites of the eyes the saffron tinge indicative of biliousness. Headache, nausea, constipation, pains in the side, palpitations, heart-burn, dizziness, and many other harrassing symptoms which accompany the internal derangement above described, which, if unchecked is as sure to be followed by serious disease, as the rising of the sun by its setting. It is manifest, therefore, that an inability of the stomach to act upon the food should be overcome with all delay. The invigorating influence upon that organ of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is speedily felt in the disappearance of all the disagreeable symptoms alluded to. The proscribed mineral remedies for general debility usually fail to achieve any lasting result, because they do not invigorate the stomach; Hostetter's Bitters always succeed because that is their primal effect. The very fact that they are such an excellent stomachic, constitutes them one of the best general tonics in existence. To restore digestion is the final step towards the recovery of health, when impaired by any of the multifarious complaints which springe from dyspepsia, and that step will be found to have been taken by the invalid who has availed himself of this famous anti-dyspeptic remedy.
Nov 5-1m.

"Throw Physic to The Dogs; I'll None of it.

We do not in the least feel like blaming Macbeth for this expression of disgust; indeed, we are rather inclined to sympathize with him. Even nowadays most of the cathartics offered to the public are great, repulsive-looking pills, the very appearance of which is sufficient to "turn one's stomach." Had Macbeth ever taken Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets he would not have uttered those words of contempt. It is really encouraging, when one is ill, to find that a little, sugar-coated Pellet, no larger than a grain of mustard, will as promptly produce the desired effect as a dose of great, nauseating pills. These little Pellets, unlike other cathartics, are really nature's physic. They do not debilitate, but tone and invigorate the system. No family should be without Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.
Nov 5-1t

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF HEADACHE. The stomach, the bowels and the liver are responsible for every pang that racks the head. Regulate, tone and harmonize the action of these allied organs with Tarrant's Seltzer Aperient.
and you cure the complaint at its source.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
Oct. 27-2t.

CHANGE IN BUSINESS.

The old and Well Known House of

J. M. ROSENBAUM

Having concluded to confine itself to certain specialties, announces that its main business it is exclusively

A CLOTHING STORE

of the highest grade, where every article of Gentlemen's and Boy's wear of all kinds and grades is offered

ON THE MOST FAVORABLE TERMS FOR CASH.

Buyers need go no farther to be suited. Every class of customers can be supplied.

Attached to the establishment is a Department for the sale of

CHINA, CROCKERY AND GLASSWARE,

Everything in that line can be found of the first quality and at reasonable prices.

The long established character of this House is a sufficient guarantee of its ability and determination to do all it promises. Don't fail to call on

J. M. ROSENBAUM,
Corner Fayetteville and Hargett Sts.
Oct. 13-tf.

SADDLES!
From $3.50 to $40.00
BUGGY HARNESS!
From $9.00 to $100
ON HAND AND FOR SALE BY
W. B. HUTCHINGS,
Where will be found a large stock of Carriage and Buggy Harness, Wagon, Dray and Cart Harness, Bridles, Whips, Collars, Hames, Saddle Cloths, Horse Blankets, Leather, &c., of my own Manufacture, and at prices to suit the times.
GIVE ME A CALL!
W. B. HUTCHINGS,
Fayetteville St., opposite Ticket Hall, oct 13-12m. Nos. 1, 3 & 5, Raleigh, N. C.

A New Musical Era!!
ALL CAN LEARN TO SING.
The most Natural and Easy system of Music yet discovered; learned in one-fourth the time of any other.
TEMPLE HARP.
A New Music Book upon above system, for Choirs, &c.
CRYSTAL GEMS.
For Sabbath-Schools, same system. Specimen pages mailed free. Excellent vocal and instrumental.
MULLER'S BIBLE & PUBLISHING HOUSE,
Nos. 1102 & 1104 Samson St., Philadelphia.
Aug 4-3m.

COME YE DISCONSOLATE!
Men in search of FIRST-CLASS GOODS, that very Latest Tip of Fashion, and put up in a style that will suit the most fastidious taste, go to
WEIKEL'S ESTABLISHMENT,
on Fayetteville Street, one door South of the Southern Express Office.

IT IS A CONCEDED FACT

that Weikel can put up the best and most satisfactory JOB in the way of fine suits of Clothing, from a Wedding to a Business Suit, that can be turned out in Raleigh. The old and young men say it, the ladies (God bless them) endorse and the children cry over it, cry for joy when their revered "dad's" put on a suit of Weikel's clothing.

Weikel takes this occasion to return his thanks for the large and liberal patronage heretofore received, and respectfully asks for continuance of the same. His stock of

CLOTHS,
CASSIMERES,
TWEEDS,
SUITINGS, &c.

is much larger than ever before, and comprises all the Latest Novelties in Style, having been recently purchased at low prices from

FASHION HEADQUARTERS.

As usual his force of Workmen are Picked Men whose skill and ability are known to the "dressing" public.
Come one and all to the Emporium of Fashion, Weikel's the Merchant Tailor, For a first class Suit of Clothes of first class goods, put up in first class style.

Williams & Haywood.
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN
Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Oils, Dye Stuffs, Perfumery,
Fancy Articles, Garden Seeds, Fine Teas, Spices, Flavoring Extracts.
CIGARS, CHEWING TOBACCO &C.
Keep constantly on hand, at lowest market prices, White Lead, Putty, Kerosene Oil, Linseed Oil, Lamp Oil, Tanner's Oil, Window Glass, Varnish, &c., &c.
Dec. 29-1-t

C. J. SHAW, of N. C. with
PEARRE BROS. & CO.
WHOLESALE DEALERS IN
CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATINETS,
Kerseys, Jeans, Cottonades, &c.
MEN AND BOYS' WEAR IN GENERAL
NO. 9 HANOVER STREET,
Sept 29-tf. Baltimore.

NEW FIRM
The undersigned here this day formed a co-partnership under the firm name of Wainright, Williams & Hood.
and having purchased the stock and goodwill of J. D. Weaver, they will continue the GROCERY and COMMISSION business at
FARMER'S EXCHANGE,
No. 4 Martin Street,
RALEIGH, N. C.
Our Stock will consist of
Bacon,
Flour,
Molasses,
Coffee,
Sugar,
Lard
Salt,
Bagging,
and Ties.
And all other goods in the Grocery line with Staple Dry Goods, Shoes, etc. Having superior facilities for buying, and a small expense account, we guarantee the lowest prices. Consignments of Cotton and produce generally, solicited, to the sale of which our best efforts will be devoted.
Patronage of our friends respectfully solicited.
GEO. H. WAINRIGHT, Granville.
(late with Williamson, Upchurch & Thomas)
MID. T. WILLIAMS, Chatham.
Wm H. HOOD, Johnston.
Raleigh, Sept, 1, 1875.

Having sold my stock of Groceries to Messrs Wainright, Williams & Hood, I take pleasure in recommending them to my friends and late customers, as entirely worthy of confidence and patronage.
For the present I may be found at the old stand and hope all those indebted to me before sale of Thompson & Whitaker and to myself will call and settle as soon as possible.
Raleigh, Sept 84f J. D. WHITAKER.

STEAM POWER.

The Celebrated
Shapley Steam Engine.
By a patented process,
It is Absolutely free of danger from fire.
It is endorsed by all the leading machinists in the United States.
Prices lower than any first class engine in the country.
Engines can be seen at our store, Sizes—3, 5, 8 and 15 Horse Power.
We are agents for the
ROWLAND COTTON GIN,
and have in store the most complete and largest stock in N. C. of Hardware, Sash, Doors, &c.
Prices guaranteed lower than the lowest. Write for circular and prices.
JULIUS LEWIS & CO.,
Fisher Building, Raleigh, N. C

TYSON & JONES

Carriage Builders,
CARTHAGE, N. C.
Having recently increased our Facilities for Manufacturing, we are prepared to furnish Vehicles of the BEST QUALITY on short notice, and at comparatively low prices. Vehicles shipped at Sanford, Raleigh and Chatham R. R. via Raleigh to any part of the State.
We feel confident that, with the close attention we give the business, together with the material used and skilled workmen employed, and the many conveniences we have for manufacturing FIRST CLASS WORK, no house in the country can excel us in
STYLE, FINSH, DURABILITY AND
Low Prices.
We manufacture and keep constantly on hand harness of the Best Quality.
Repairing neatly Done at Short Notice
Send for Circular.
July 21 1-y

The Best Household Oil in the World!
C. WEST & SONS' ALADDIN SECURITY OIL.
Warranted 150 Degrees Fire Test
Endorsed by the Fire Insurance Companies,
Read the following certificate, selected from many others:
HOWARD FIRE INS. CO. OF BALTIMORE, December 23, '74.
Messrs C. West & Sons: Gentlemen—Having used the various oils sold in this city for illuminating purposes, I take pleasure in recommending your "Aladdin Security" as the safest and best ever used in our household.
Yours, truly,
(Signed) ANDREW REESE, Pres't.
IT WILL NOT EXPLODE.
Ask your Storekeeper for it
Wholesale Depot, C. WEST & SON'S,
115, 115 W Lombard street, Baltimore.
Sep. 1-6m.

THE FIRM OF WYNNE, YANCEY & CO., is this day dissolved by mutual consent.
GEO. W. WYNNE,
T. B. YANCEY,
J. W. LEE
Raleigh, June 15th, 1875.

HAVING PURCHASED THE interest of Jasmine Hall's liabilities of the late firm of WYNNE, YANCEY & CO., I would request all those indebted to make immediate payment.
Thankful for the patronage so liberally bestowed upon the late firm I trust by personal attention to merit the same.
June 15-tf GEO. W. WYNNE

BALTIMORE
EYE and EAR INSTITUTE
NO. 85 FRANKLIN ST., Baltimore, Md.,
JULIAN J. CHISOLM, M. D., Professor of Eye and Ear Diseases in the University of Maryland, SURGEON IN CHARGE.
This Institution is thoroughly organized and fitted up with every convenience, for the treatment of Eye and Ear Diseases.
For further information apply to the above.
Sept 9-3m.

BRINLY PLOWS
BEST AND CHEAPEST IN USE.
Have taken over 250 Premiums at Fairs throughout the South. Send for Illustrated Descriptive Pamphlet. Price List and certificates of planters as to merits of the same, sent MANUFACTURED BY
BRINLY, MILES & HARDY,
Louisville, KY.
Sept 8-6m.

Agents Wanted for the CENTENNIAL GAZETTEER of the UNITED STATES.
Shows in large and small results of 100 years of Freedom and Progress. New and complete. Over 1600 pages. Illustrated. Everybody buys it, and agents make from $100 to $200 a month.
Address, J. C. McCURDY & CO., Philadelphia, Pa.
Sept 22 2t.

THE CARY COTTON GIN.
Is still being manufactured at Cary, N. C., improved in some respect and warranted to give satisfaction or no sale if properly put to work. Those desiring further information send for Circular, &c., to
W. M. SORRELL,
Cary, N.C.
June 16-tf.

$5 TO $20 per day! Agents wanted! All classes of working people, of either sex, young or old, making more money at work for us in their spare moments, or all the time, than at anything else. Particulars free. Address G. Stinson & Co., Portland, Maine.
Sept 16-12m

OLD NORTH STATE
FIRE
Insurance Company,
OF
WARRENTON, - - - - - N. C.,
This Company has closed its third year in a condition of GREAT PROSPERITY, and entered upon its fourth year under the MOST PROMISING AUSPICES.
It deserves the liberal patronage which it is receiving because
It is a home institution.
It has ample Capital and Reserves.
It pays its loss promptly.

ASSETS.

Cash on hand and in Bank	$ 8 421 53
Cash in hands of Agents	4,264 10
Stock Notes	15,750 00
Real Estate Mortgage	10 918 84
Loaned on Collaterals	7,647 65
Due for premiums	3,720 65
Interest due and accrued	914 52
	$133,297 19

LIABILITIES:

All liabilities including full re-Insurance Reserve	$ 8 481 81
Surplus	1,816 38
	$130,297 19

WM. S. DAVIS, President.
H. P. LONG, Secretary.

SCHEDULES.
PIEDMONT AIR-LINE RAILWAY.
Richmond & Danville Richmond & Danville R. W., N. C. Division, and North Western N. C. R. W.
UNION TIME-TABLE
In effect on and after Sunday, Sept. 19th, 1875.

GOING NORTH

STATIONS.	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Charlotte	9 15 P. M.	5.45 A. M.
" Air-Line Junction	9 33 "	6.01 "
" Salisbury	11.18 "	8.34 "
" Greensboro'	3.15 A. M.	10 55 "
" Danville	6.05 "	1.12 P. M.
" Dundee	6.18 "	1.29 "
" Burkville	11 35 "	6 07 "
Arrive at Richmond	2.22 P. M.	8.45 "

GOING SOUTH

STATIONS.	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Richmond	1.35 P. M.	5.08 A. M.
" Burkville	4.52 "	8.36 "
" Dundee	10.33 "	1.14 P. M.
" Danville	10.59 "	1.37 P. M.
" Greensboro'	3.00 A. M.	5.58 "
" Salisbury	5.32 "	6.15 "
" Air-Line Junction	9.05 "	9.25 "
Arrive at Charlotte	9.22 A. M.	8.43 "

GOING EAST.		GOING WEST
STATIONS.	MAIL	MAIL.
Leave Greensboro'	3.00 A. M.	Arrive 1.45 A. M.
" Co. Shops	3.37 "	Leave 12.30 "
" Raleigh	5.35 "	8.10 P. M.
Arrive at Goldsboro	11.30 A. M.	Leave 5.00 "

NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. R.
(SALEM BRANCH.)

Leave Greensboro'	4.30 P. M.
Arrive at Salem	8.15 "
Leave Salem	8.40 A. M.
Arrive at Greensboro	12.08 "

Passenger train leaving Raleigh at 5.10 P. M. connects at Greensboro' with the Northern bound train; making the quickest time to all Northern cities. Price of Tickets same as via other routes.
Trains to and from points East of Greensboro connect at Greensboro with Mail Trains to or from points North or South.
Two trains daily, both ways.
On Sundays Lynchburg Accommodation leave Richmond a. 9.00 A. M., arrive at Burkeville 12.43 P. M., leave Burkeville 4.35 A. M., arrive at Richmond 7.55 A. M.
No Change of Cars between Charlotte and Richmond, 282 Miles.
Papers that have arrangements to advertise the Schedule of this company will please print as above.
For further information address
S. K. ALLEN,
Gen'l Ticket Agent,
Greensboro, N. C.
T. M. R. TALCOTT,
Engineer & Gen'l superintendent.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE
RALEIGH & GASTON RAILROAD CO.
On and after Friday, May 22nd, 1874, trains on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, will run daily (Sunday excepted) as follows:
MAIL TRAIN.

Leave Raleigh	3.35 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon	8.30 P. M.
Leaves Weldon	9.50 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh	3.45 P. M.

ACCOMODATION TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh	5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon	5.15 P. M.
Leaves Weldon	2.x. A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh	2.45 P. M.

Mail train makes close connection at Weldon, with the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad and Bay Line Steamers via Baltimore, to and from all points North, West and Northwest, and with Petersburg Railroad via Petersburg, Richmond and Washington City, to and from all points North and Northwest.
And at Raleigh with the North Carolina Railroad to and from all points South and Southwest, and with the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line to Haywood and Fayetteville.
A. B. ANDREWS,
Gen. Sup't.

RALEIGH & AUGUSTA AIR-LINE RAILROAD.
SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 27th, 1873.
On and after Monday, October 27th, 1873, trains on the R. & A. A. L. Road will run daily, (Sundays excepted,) as follows:
MAIL TRAIN.

Train leaves Raleigh	4.00 P. M.
Arrives at Sanford	6.25 "
Train leaves Sanford	6.30 A. M
Arrives at Raleigh	9.20 "

FREIGHT TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh	8.15 A. M.
Arrives at Sanford	10.35 A. M.
Leaves Sanford	12.00 A. M
Arrives at Raleigh	3.50 P. M.

Mail Train makes close connection at Raleigh with the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, to and from all points North.
And at Sanford with the Western Railroad, to and from Fayetteville and points on Western Railroad.
A. B. ANDREWS,
Superintendent.

OFFICE SUPT OF TRANSPORTATION,
Seaboard & Roanoke R. R. Co.,
Portsmouth, Va., Jan. 1st, 1875.
On and after this date, trains of this Road will leave Weldon daily, Sundays excepted, as follows:

Mail train at	4 P. M.
No. 1 Freight train at	4 A. M.
No. 2 Freight train at	8 A. M.
ARRIVE AT PORTSMOUTH.
Mail train at	7 15 P. M.
No 1 Freight at	12 00 NOON.
No 2 Freight at	4 00 P. M.

Freight trains have a passenger car attached.
Steamer for Edenton, Plymouth and Landings on Blackwater and Chowan Rivers leave Franklin at 7.40 A. M on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.
E. G. GHIO,
Supt. Transportation.

1875. 1876.
FALL AND WINTER.
ISAAC OETTINGER
Is now in receipt of his ENTIRE STOCK of MILLINERY, Ladies' Fancy Furnishing, Hair and Needle Goods, to an inspection of which his many customers are respectfully invited. My Stock has been selected with a great deal of care, and consists of Bonnets and Hats for Ladies, Misses, Children and Babies.
Ladies' Socks, Ladies' Undergarments, Ladies' Cloaks and Sacques, Ruffs, Collars and Cuffs, Kid and other Gloves, Zephyr, Saxony and Germantown Wool, Knitting Cotton, Crochet Needles, Worked Slippers,
Mottoes and Motto Frames, every sort of Patterns for Needle Work, Stamped Yokes, Buttons, Embroidering Silk and Cotton, 1,000 Ladies' Silk Scarfs, 1,000 Belts
2,1000 yards Ribbon, Reel and Imitation Laces, Hamburg Edging and Insertion.
And a Thousand other Articles.
In our Millinery Department we employ some FIRST-CLASS NEW YORK MILLINERS, and guarantee satisfaction. All I ask is a trial. My Stock is the largest, best selected and tastiest in this city, and I say any State,
Oct. 13 6m. ISAAC OETTINGER.

Marey's Sciopticon and Lantern Slides. New and brilliant effects. Circular free.
SPECIAL OFFERS TO SUNDAY-SCHOOLS
L. J. MAREY, 1310 Chestnut Street Philadelphia.
Oct 21 3-m.

FALL AND WINTER GOODS!
D. S. WAITT & BRO.,
Are offering a Large and Attractive Stock of
FINE AND CHEAP CLOTHING!
Gents' Furnishing Goods and Neck Wear,
Boots, Shoes, Overcoats, Shawls and Rubber Goods; Hats and Caps; Merino Shirts, Drawers and Hosiery; Paper and Linen Collars, Suspenders, Handkerchiefs and Yankee Notions. Prices celebrated.
MANHATTAN FINE WHITE SHIRT,
Acknowledged to be the best and most perfect fitting shirt in the market.
Prints! Prints!
Red, White and Figured Flannels, Opera Flannels, Hamburg Edgings and Insertions, Ladies' Trimmed Hats, Belts, Ribbons, Counterpanes, Comforters, Bed-Quilts and Spreads.
WHITE AND BROWN BLANKETS,
Ladies Striped and Plaid Breakfast Shawls, Knit Sacks, Jackets and Hoods.
Checks, Plaid Homespuns, Tickings, Brown and Bleached Sheetings and Shirtings, Corset Jeans, Cambrics and Linings, Trunks, Valises, Umbrellas, Traveling Bags, &c.
TO OUR FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS, we take pleasure in saying our stock is now complete in every department, and thanking you for your liberal patronage, we respectfully solicit a continuance of the same. Remember the place; 54 Fayetteville St., Raleigh, N. C.
D. S. WAITT & BRO.
oct 13-3m.

SUI GENERIS.
PALMAM QUI MERUIT FERAT
VIENNA 1873. PARIS 1867.
MASON & HAMLIN
CABINET ORGANS,
UNEQUALED if not EQUAL UNAPPROACHED
in capacity and excellence by any others. Awarded
THREE HIGHEST MEDALS AND DIPLOMA OF HONOR AT
VIENNA, 1873; PARIS, 1867,
ONLY American Organs ever awarded any medal
ONLY in Europe, or which present such extraordinary excellence as to command a sale there.
ALWAYS awarded highest premiums at Industrial Expositions, in America as well as Europe. Out of hundreds there have not been six in all where any other organs have been preferred.
BEST Declared by Eminent Musicians, in both hemispheres, to be unrivaled. See TESTIMONIAL CIRCULAR, with opinions of more than One Thousand (sent free).
INSIST take any other. Dealers get LARGER COMMISSIONS for selling inferior organs, and for this reason often try very hard to sell something else.
NEW STYLES with most important improvements ever made. New Vox-Celeste and Combination Stops. Superb Etagere and other Cases of new designs.
PIANO-HARP CABINET ORGAN An exquisite combination of these instruments.
EASY PAYMENTS. Organs sold for cash; or for monthly or quarterly payments; or rented until rent pays for the organ.
CATALOGUES and Circulars, with full particulars, free. Address MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont Street, BOSTON. 25 Union Square, NEW YORK; or 80 & 82 Adams St., CHICAGO.
apl 14-1 year.
G. T. LEACH, N. Y. M. T. LEACH
Leach Brothers,
WHOLESALE GROCERS
AND
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
SOUTH-EAST CORNER MARKET, SQUARE, Raleigh, N. C.
Again we take great pleasure in presenting our card and returning thanks to the readers of the ADVOCATE for their very liberal patronage during the past four years, and offer them the largest and best bought stock of Groceries ever offered in any market south of Baltimore, and while just now Bacon, Sugars and Lard are high, and scarce, we have made extra efforts at "cost sure we have succeeded in bringing other goods quality low and intend giving our friends all the advantages of the same. Thankful for favors, and hoping for a continuance of the same.
We wish to invite especial attention to our elect stock of canned goods and pickles bought direct from the Factories and offered here AT FIRST PROFITS.
We have now in store:
50 Sacks Rio Coffee,
10 Mats old Gov. Java,
10 Bbls. A Sugar,
10 Bbls Ex C Sugar,
10 Bbls. B F Yellow Sugar,
20 Bbls Demerara,
20 Boxes Bulk Soda,
10 " Shoulders,
50 Kegs English Soda,
100 lbs. G. D and Sole Leather,
150 Sides Upper Leather,
20 " Harness Leather,
700 Cases O. strip,
50 " Brandy Peaches,
5,000 Yds. Bagging,
6,000 lbs. Ties,
100 Bbls. Super Flour,
100 Bags Assorted Shot,
50 Bbls Extra Flour,
50 Cases Fancy Crackers,
50 " Soda Crackers,
60 Bbls. Factory and Dairy Cheese,
1000 M. P. and S. G. Cigars,
5 Kegs Borden Horse and Mule Shoes,
200 lbs. Horse Shoe Nails,
25 Dozen Bed Cords,
5 Boxes Adamantine Candles,
100 Boxes Laundry and Toilet Soaps.
We offer especial inducements to country and necessary merchants, and invite an examination of our stock before purchasing elsewhere.
Oct 1-12m LEACH BROS

THE JAS. LEFFEL
Double Turbine Water Wheel,
Manufactured by
POOLE & HUNT,
Baltimore, Md.
75,000 NOW IN USE!
Simple, Strong, Durable, and as reliable and satisfactory.
Manufacturers, also, of Portable & Stationary Engines, Steam Boilers, Saw & Grist Mills, Mining Machinery, Coloring for Cotton Yarn, Fire Paint, White Lead and Oil Mill Machinery. Send for Circular and Price List.
Proposals for Building Mills and Machinery a specialty. Correspondence solicited. Send for circular.
mch 24-12m.

PLEIS' FIT POWDERS.
These Powders have been tested by over 40,000 cases for the cure of Fits (Epilepsy), Spasms, Convulsions, St. Vitus' Dance, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Affections, some over 40 years' standing.
When you ORDER STATE AGE.
PRICE, $5 CENTS PER BOX, or sent to all parts of the United States for One Dollar per Box.—These Powders are prepared and sold only by the proprietor, to whom all orders must be addressed,
JOHN M. PLEIS, Jr.,
50 North Third street, Philadelphia, Pa.
Please mention that you saw this advertisement in THE CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE. mar 31-1y

JOHN J. FRAY'S
English, Classical and Mathematical School,
14 miles S. E. of Raleigh and 4 miles from Clayton, a station on N. C. R. R. The seventeenth session begins Monday Sept. 13th 1875. Prepares boys and girls for college, or the active duties of life. Good board (including fuel, lights and washing (no extras) only $12.50 per month. Refers to the faculty of the University of Va., Rev. B. T. Binkley and to any of former patrons. For circular containing particulars &c. Address
JOHN J. FRAY,
or A. T. MIAL,
Raleigh N. C.
aug 24-2 m.

$250 A MONTH—Agents wanted everywhere. Business honorable and first class. Particulars sent free. Address J. WORTH & CO., St. Louis, Mo.

PROGRESS THE WATCHWORD
Merit and Success Hand in Hand.
BROOKLYN LIFE
INSURANCE COMPANY,
NO. 141 BROADWAY,
NEW YORK.
Assets- - - -$1,500,000.00
CHRISTIAN W. BOUCK, President.
D. P. FACKLER, Actuary.
Wm. M. OOLE, Secretary
DANIEL AYRES, M.D., LL.D., &c., Pres'
POLICIES VALUABLE IN LIFE, AS WELL AS AT DEATH;
The BROOKLYN LIFE is the only Company in America which guarantees
DEFINITE CASH SURRENDER VALUES,
in case a Policy is forfeited for nonpayment of premium.
THE BROOKLYN LIFE enjoys the highest reputation for INTEGRITY, INVESTMENT, ECONOMY OF MANAGEMENT, AND CARE IN THE SELECTION OF RISKS—all those elements of administration the security of a Life Insurance Corporation depends.
The laws of New York compel Companies in that State to calculate the cost value of their Policies, each and every year, and in a certain legal standard of reserve and accumulation must be held by the Companies to meet all their liabilities.
Insurers in looking around for Companies in which to insure, should carefully see for this important safeguard. IT WILL BE FOUND IN THE BROOKLYN LIFE.
WM. LITTLE, M.D., MEDICAL EXAMINER
A. W. LAWRENCE,
General Agent for North Carolina,
may 18-tf Office at Raleigh

MOSELEY'S CONFECTIONERY
RALEIGH, N. C.
Is the Place to Buy
French and Plain Candies,
Foreign and Domestic Fruits,
RAISINS, NUTS, etc.,
Fine Cigars, Smoking Tobacco, Chewing Tobacco, Fine Cut Chewing Tobacco,
Fancy Good. Childrens Toys,
Carriages for the Little Folks,
CROQUET SET,
BASE BALLS AND BATS.
Marbles, Tops and Kites,
All at MOSELEY'S

INSURE AGAINST FIRE!
In PESCUD & SON'S Agency, Raleigh, N. C.
Money and time saved to those who insure through us in the following strong and prompt Companies, viz:
Home, N. Y. Georgia Home.
N. C. Home, City Fire, Richmond,
New Orleans, Amazon,
Atlas, Hartford, Atlantic, New York.
Firemans Fund, Cal., Penn of Philadelphia.
Franklin of Philadelphia.
Extra indemnity offered to all who want insurance on Cotton and Tobacco Factories, Mills, Gins, Farm property and dwellings and country stores.—Also, all newspapers in the United States and Canada printing over 5,000 copies each issue. Also, all the Medical, Masonic, Agricultural, Scientific, Commercial, Insurance, Real Estate, Law, Sporting, Musical Journals and other special class periodicals; very complete mail papers printed in the United States

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Turner & Gray, Publishers. | Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina. | $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Vol. XXI.---No. 44. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, November 10, 1875. | Whole No. 1,082.

Selected Poetry.

Wedded Love

[illegible] S. PHAM.

[illegible] the death of Bishop [illegible] "After two were [illegible] passing strange, [illegible] come? [illegible] to rose forsooth. [illegible] cried? [illegible] her hand and shed [illegible] a single [illegible] tears? [illegible] tomps?

[illegible] does love glide [illegible] and sere with age. [illegible] the cold vault [illegible] the autumn flowers, [illegible] birds, [illegible] her pale hands [illegible] winds?

[illegible] darkened eyes, [illegible] the gates [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE—Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev J. B Babbitt, R. T Gray, Esq., } Editors.

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID,	$2.20
IX MONTHS, " "	1.35
If payment be delayed six months,	2.70

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Editors of the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

RALEIGH, N. C., NOVEMBER 10, 1875.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly.

NOTICE.

Any person sending us the following numbers of the Raleigh CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE will confer a favor and receive proper compensation for so doing. The numbers wanted for 1869 and a part of 1870 are the Episcopal Methodist. In 1870 the name of the paper was changed to Christian Advocate. The missing numbers from our file are the issues of July 14th, 1869, No. 28; October 20th, 1869, No. 42; December 15th, 1869, No. 50; December 28th, 1870, No. 50; May 31, 1871, No. 22; August 23d, 1871, No. 33; Oct. 18th, 1871, No. 41; April 24, 1872, No. 17; Jan. 27th 1875, No. 4. It is very important that we keep a complete file, and we shall be obliged to any one who will send us the numbers called for.

THE ADVOCATE has the most extensive circulation of any other paper in the State, daily or weekly. The character of the paper and its extensive circulation makes it the best advertising medium in the State.

Rev. R A. Willis, in returning to his charge from Hillsboro, where he had been assisting Bro. Cole in a protracted meeting, favored us with his company on Friday night

Bro. B. Dixon, who was ordained deacon at our last Conference, has passed to his reward in Heaven. Dr. Closs furnishes us with an interesting obituary notice of the deceased.

Rev. V. A. Sharpe, agent for Trinity College, passed through the city on Saturday last en route for Louisburg, where he had arranged to spend the Sabbath in the interest of the College.

In another column, Mr. W. F. Tillett, of Randolph Macon College, supplements the letter which appeared last week from Mr. Walter Page, with a graphic description of Foley's Statue of Jackson. Mr. Tillett is the son of Rev. J. Tillett, of our Conference.

We are pained to announce the death of Sister Hartsell, wife of Rev. J. C. Hartsell, of the North Carolina Conference. She sweetly fell asleep in Jesus on the 1st instant. Our brother Hartsell will have the sympathy and prayers of his brethren in this sad affliction.

ROCK SPRING SEMINARY.—The Anniversary Celebration of the Franklin Literary Society of Rock Spring Seminary will come off Friday evening, Nov. 26th President, W. O. Benton: Orators, Jno. W. Kelley, R. E. Linneberger, W. M. Houston, Jno. H. Rutledge. Rival Orators, S. J. Whitener and S. W. Stewart. Chief Marshal, W. L. C. Killian.

THE ADVOCATE 14 MONTHS FOR $2.20. —We invite the attention of our ministers and people to the following proposition: To all persons subscribing for the ADVOCATE between this date and January 1st 1876, the ADVOCATE will be sent until the first of January 1877 for $2.20. Under this proposition, subscribers sending in their names at once, will receive the paper free for two months. Let subscriptions now begin.

We request all subscribers who are in arrears, or whose subscriptions have expired, or are about to expire, to pay the amounts to their pastors from whom we will collect at Conference. We hope that none will fail to renew, but that each subscriber to whom the paper is now going, will allow himself to be one of the ten thousand subscribers which Bro. Dodson and Cole propose shall be furnished next year as a centennial offering to the Advocate.

In another column "Centennial" efforts for the ADVOCATE are proposed. We heartily endorse this proposition, and trust that it will meet with favor from all our people. We want to push our subscription list to ten or twelve thousand next year, and invoke the aid of our ministers and all friends of the paper.—With the earnest, faithful efforts of our preachers, the consummation so devoutly wished can be reached. Let the campaign begin now, when from harvested grain and gathered cotton the money is coming to the hands of our people. Bros. Dodson and Cole do not propose these efforts as a Church charity to the Advocate, but as the discharge of a duty—the performance of a work that will redown to the good of the Church—making more Methodists and better ones.

Methodist Schools.

The Pacific Methodist in a well written article on Methodist Schools says: 'Methodism was born in a college and has always fostered schools. The care of her children has been one of the greatest objects of her anxiety. But with all the attention she has bestowed upon the subject of education, there remains much to be done in this widening field of labor for the church. The nurture of the children of the church is not secured simply by church services and Sabbath-school work. Every thing connected with the bringing up of a child has an educative influence. It is not sufficient for us to devote one day in seven in efforts to mould the character aright, for the remaining six days under usual circumstances may undo all the good done. Parents do not connect the education of their children with religious instruction, and then wonder why they grow up thoughtless about religion and church duties. The secular education of children ought to be under home and religious influences. The perfect character cannot be secured otherwise. Intellectual training without moral balance produces abortions and monstrosities. The intellectual and moral powers both must be cultivated, if true education is desired. That system of education which looks to this two fold development is the most desirable for the good of Church and State. Our popular school system gives but a one sided development. Children easily learn that the Bible and prayer are not proper in their school rooms. Doubt and infidelity are planted in their minds with the very budding of thought. The parent who wants to raise his child with reference to another world, can not feel that the public school is sufficient with its unhallowed tendency. If he is religious, his child ought to have all the religious restraints and advantages possible. The presence of God and his word in his education are adjuncts. On a purely pious basis, therefore, we need church schools for the nurture of our children. We want them as numerous as possible for the salvation of souls.

Church perpetuity and prosperity demand that every facility for correct education shall be furnished under her auspices. Unless she takes care of her own children in their education, they will drift away from parental moorings. If our children are educated where God, religion, and the Bible are eliminated, the chances are greatly in favor of their walking in the broad way of the skeptic or the profligate. If other churches are to educate them for us, they will gather them into their own folds. They are furnishing schools for their own benefit, and in our educational destitution we must patronize them, they take our children. It is an absolute necessity that we have church schools for our protection and growth as a church. Let us sustain our schools. Besides the religious and church benefit in educating our children under home influences and pressing them in the growth of the church, church schools are of great moral and material force. Any place where good schools exist has great advantage over those places without them.'

The Southern Churchman is responsible for the following which we most heartily endorse:

"If we earnestly desire a true and genuine revival in our parishes there must be a preaching that will not tell about the 'exceeding sinfulness of sin,' but the exceeding sinfulness of rascality, of lying, of stealing, of evil speaking, of slandering, of covetousness as well as of the vices, that all agree are gross beyond speech. By such preaching we shall prepare the way of the Lord. Stop cheating, said John to the publicans. Stop violence and grumbling, said John to the soldiers. Stop turning your backs to the cry of the destitute, said John to those who had more than one coat. Stop your pride, may we say to our people; stop your pride, your high looks, your worldliness, and all other vices we have spoken of above. Stop thinking you can enter heaven without being holy. Stop thinking you can become holy by saying a prayer once in twenty four hours and by going to church once in one hundred and sixty eight. Holiness is not got by innoculation, nor by wishing for it, but by earnest and constant striving, with many prayers and Bible readings, with many services and sacraments, with taking our religious principles on week days into our housekeeping, into our sewing and darning, into our farming, into our merchandizing, into our medical and legal practice."

We are indebted to Col. Thos. B. Long, Special Agent of the P. O. Department, for the October number of the Official Postal Guide, containing an alphabetical list of all post offices in the U. S, with county state and salary, regulations of the P. O. Department, instructions to the public, postage tables and mail schedules. It is invaluable as a reference book in an editor's office, and to every one who has much to do with the United States Mails. A note from Col Long informs us that he has supplied every newspaper in the State with a copy of the book at his own individual expense. He has been an efficient officer—this act shows him to be a generous one.

There is a contest of the will of the late Miss Telfair, of Savannah, Georgia, who left over one million of dollars to various charitable objects.

Dime Novels.

Some facetiously inclined friend, in an anonymous but well written note, sends to the writer one of Beadle's Dime Novels, thus placing us under obligations, not for the book, but for the suggestion of something to write about. We have not the time, and if we had, would not feel an inclination, to read and digest the history of "Buckskin Bill" the hero whose name the novel bears. It is not the least pleasant reflection in which we are able to indulge, that we have never read one of Beadle's Dime Novels. Several years ago in an evil moment, we fell upon one, and dipped for a few minutes into the trashy food, but found it so unpalatable and nauseating that our appetite rebelled and a sight of one of its kith and kin is enough almost to produce a "fit of the horrors" now. Among the good resolutions which men are always making, and of the few we have faithfully kept, we give a prominent place to the resolve that as long as there should be anything else to read, though it were nothing more than our boyhood primer or the variety-filled dictionary, we would never read a "dime novel." It is not evidence, either, of a remarkably good taste that we refrain from reading such books; for it is a remarkably bad taste that induces the reading and perusing the appreciation of them

What is a "Dime Novel?" A cheaply printed, cheaply bound mess of sensational stuff, and extravagant fiction, recounting hair-breadth escapes from death, the exciting scenes of border life; the bloody deeds of pirates and highway robbers, of abandoned men and soiled women,—written by penny a liners whose morbid fancy is kept alive and goaded to its work by the prospect of reward which will buy the gratification of low appetites. To call it literature is to dignify it with a title of which it is not worthy and to place it in association with writings where it has no right to be.

It is to be regretted that such works of fiction are so eagerly sought after and so widely read. It argues a depraved taste and vitiated morals in a people that such books should find so ready sale among them. In fiction of this character, there is nothing to be commended,—nothing to redeem the worst qualities it possesses. A well written romance, the product of a cultivated imagination and a chaste pen, is a work of art, worthy of the study and patronage of all lovers of art Next to inspired writers and teachers, some of the best moral teachers the world has had have been novelists They have inculcated morality and philanthropy, have reformed abuses in government and society, and even in the church, and have furthered education and æsthetic culture We do not wish to be understood as commending all works of fiction that lay claims, even justly, to respectability, nor as encouraging the reading of even the highest works to the exclusion of more solid, substantial and healthful mental food. For, in the first case, there are many romances by popular authors, that are respectable and decent, and which are nevertheless to be eschewed; and in the second place, there are but few, if any, who could constantly and exclusively read even the highest works of fiction without manifest injury to themselves.

But Dime Novels possess nothing in common with the higher works of literary art. They teach no good lesson—paint no high and noble character—inculcate no high principle—aim at the reformation of no evils—and assist nothing in the elevation of character or literary taste. On the contrary, their whole tendency is to evil. They are corrupting to good morals and fatal to literary taste. Their only chance to please is to excite the imagination of the reader to a fever heat by recounting thrilling adventures and dark intrigues—by painting vice in pleasant garb and making wicked men and women attractive by endowing them with bravery and generosity. They beget impatience of the sober realities of life, and dissatisfaction with its every day duties, and incite to a wild, roving, dissipating career. As the ranks of desperadoes, burglars and highway men are thinned by the arms of the law, they are filled again with recruits from the readers of sensational and impure fiction like "Beadle's Dime Novels," Ainsworth's "Dick Turpin" "Jack Sheppard" and others of that ilk.

There is a Mr. Comstock in New York who has devoted his life work to a crusade against the publishers and vendors of impure and demoralizing literature; he hunts them down and prosecutes them to conviction and punishment under the law. He ought to lay his heavy hand on Beadle et id omne genus.

Dr. Edward Eggleston, the story writer, who has lately become pastor of a Congregational church, is still continued on his own Conference Minutes as "supernumerary." The Northern Christian Advocate thinks a "Methodist preacher 'must be sick' to become pastor to a Congregational church."

The smallest dew-drop that rests on a lily at night holds in itself the image of a shining star, and in the most humble, insignificant person something good and true can always be found.

Send your job work to the Raleigh Christian Advocate.

The Centennial of N. C. Methodism.

MESSRS EDITORS: I see that there are some movings among our people toward a Centennial Celebration over the introduction of Methodism into North Carolina. Somebody says these occasions are becoming quite frequent: be it so. They will be held, let the Christian public have a hand in them, and a heavy one too, to guide them in the proper channel and to secure proper results. I do not think the omen a bad one, by any manner of means, that our people would gather up the noble deeds of the past, in Politics and Religion, and give fitting expressions of their feelings and then let those feelings take the shape of charities and of setting on foot nobler schemes of benevolence to raise men nearer to the cross of Jesus and the smile of God's merciful face.

Let us then have a grand Methodist Centennial in Raleigh March 21st, 1876, over the introduction of Methodism into our old State. Surely it was an event worthy of calling forth the richest words of eulogy and actions and beneficence M the logs found our people small and weak, but its hands have been laid in peace and love upon those feeble proportions and they have become grander and more God like Her own proportions, too, have become collossal—her hands touch every noble enterprise; her voice is raised high in behalf of every sweet charity; her songs, like a silver trump, are rung out upon every breeze, moulding the living masses and touching the hearts of the dying ones, kindling light across the Valley. Methodism (without being fulsome) deserves to be cherished as one of the mightiest powers of our civilization. We have a right then to meet and give an expression of what we have done and show especially what we intend to do in the future. Greensboro, Trinity and Davenport especially ought to feel the action of the bounding pulse of noble charities, for in God's name they need them. Let Raleigh have a grand Metropolitan Church, that will send its glittering spire high up into the sunlight of heaven—a grand monument of wholesouled Methodism. Our people, when aroused can and will do noble things—and shame on the cold hearted cynic who says to the contrary! There is one other object we ought to have prominently before us at the Centennial, giving to the Raleigh Christian Advocate ten thousand subscribers. The Advocate does battle for us nobly and firmly, wherever its pure face goes; it opens the way for the herald of the Cross, rallies our people to the work the church has marked out for her men to perform. It brings the gold and silver, the oil and the meal to sustain the Commissariat of the contending host. It gives character and position to our men—flings wide the notes of warning to Zion, when the fiery tides of evil are coming. It raises high the pæans of victory when King Jesus wins the day. It cheers loud notes of encouragement when there is any faltering, and as the notes come, the ranks close up steadily and move on in victorious might.

The Advocate has done more for me, in my humble judgment, than any thing else, save the grace of God A man and a christian gives five dollars to support the Church; —he subscribes for the Advocate, next year he tells the steward. "put me down ten dollars,—double my amount for the Bishop—for the missionary cause and the superannuated fund."—Last year the charge I was on, paid more than twenty dollars, per member, for Church purposes; every family had the Raleigh Christian Advocate.—Here's the touch stone to bring success and power Let us have the centennial and the ten thousand subscribers to the Raleigh Christian Advocate. It can then talk for us, every week, to a congregation of sixty thousand men and women.—This would give us an impulse sufficient to accomplish wonders for the Church in every department and to win souls to Jesus.—Let the impulse come,—like a bounding wave of glory.

Fraternally Yours,
C. C. DODSON.

Pittsboro, Nov 4th, 1875.

Pray for Your Pastor's Wife.

I had just passed through the greatest trial of my life,—one that had well nigh crushed my wife—that did prostrate her on a langnishing bed, and brought her near the gates of death I left home for a country appointment—left with a heavy heart—preached the best that I could—called on a good brother to pray. He prayed for his pastor; prayed that he might be faithful and successful. How it encouraged me and buoyed me up!—But when he prayed for the pastor's afflicted companion—that she might be spared to him and to her children, he touched a tender chord that broke up the fountain of my tears. It was so strange and yet so refreshing. I took courage and resolved to be a better man. Pray for the preacher's wife! It will help him and her too.

A PASTOR.

Some of Mr Sankey's hymns and tunes appear in the Malagasy hymn-book, just published in London. The Christians of Madagascar are reported to be very fond of singing.

Father Boehm having passed the age of one hundred has regained his eye sight, which for some time has been wholly lost to him. "At evening time it shall be light."

The Jackson Statue.

MESSRS EDITORS: It seems, from his communication in your last issue, that our friend, Mr. Walter Page, was so carried away with the large crowd and with the eloquence of the orator, at the unveiling of Jackson's statue, that he forgot to tell you anything about the statue itself, which to me was the most interesting spectacle of the occasion. Perhaps then a few words, descriptive of this great master-piece of the renowned sculptor, may not prove unacceptable to your readers.

The statue is situated in Capitol square, about a hundred yards north of the Capitol building. The pedestal of the statue rests upon a circular foundation, which is of James River granite and is about twenty five feet in diameter. Around the edge of this circular foundation, and at equal intervals apart, are thirty two small iron posts. These posts are connected by a small brass chain, which, being fastened to their tops, slopes gracefully between. Equidistant from this chain, and in the centre of the platform, is situated the pedestal, on the South side of which is carved the following expressive and appropriate inscription:

PRESENTED BY ENGLISH GENTLEMEN AS A TRIBUTE OF ADMIRATION FOR THE SOLDIER AND PATRIOT, THOMAS J. JACKSON.
AND GRATEFULLY ACCEPTED BY VIRGINIA IN THE NAME OF THE SOUTHERN PEOPLE
DOM A. D. 1875.

"LOOK! THERE IS JACKSON STANDING LIKE A STONE WALL."

The statue proper is of bronze and is about seven feet high. It represents the great warrior standing erect and clad in Confederate uniform. His left foot is a little in advance of the other. This causes a slight curve in the left leg about the knee. His body is encircled by a belt, which, owing to the weight of the scabbard, falls a little on the left side. His right elbow is projected so that his right hand, which is covered with a glove and holds the glove of the left, rests on his side. His left hand is elevated to the height of his shoulder and grasps the hilt of a sword, which extending perpendicularly downwards, rests its point on a miniature stone wall. A military cloak swings loosely around his left arm. His head is turned a little to the right, and his eye is fixed intently on some object in the distance. As we stand in front of the statue and look into the face of the great christian soldier, we feel as if we were in the presence of the living man; we feel like taking off our hat to the mighty hero of the battle field and pausing, in silence, to hear him speak.

Altogether, Mr. Foley has been quite successful in this, his last great work. Sculptors, in order to make their statues more attractive, are generally too prone to assume, in behalf of their characters, some extraordinary attitude, or some expression of intense excitement, which, while it makes the statue more expressive, renders it less life like. Here, however, everything is perfectly easy, natural and life-like There is nothing forced about it; and in this respect, as a work of art, it probably has no superior in American Statuary. It is, indeed, a work worthy of the man, whose character and deeds it is intended to commemorate; and, while it will stand in solemn grandeur to speak to coming generations of our own Southern hero, it will yet be a monument to the name of the great sculptor. For he too has now "passed over the River and rests under the shade" with the great chieftian.

WILBER F. TILLETT.

Ashland, Va., Nov. 3rd, 1875.

The Centennial.

I like the way in which Bro. Hudson develops Bro. Webb's suggestion and urges the celebration of the centennial of North Carolina Methodism. Bro. H. always 'stirs things' when he writes, and his sparks have kindled enthusiasm over the idea in many quarters. Next year should be a grand harvest year for the Methodist Church and its institutions. We are pledged to the support of our colleges and there is much to do in their behalf yet. Let us do it, by all means, next year—or at least do much towards it. The "Centennial Church" in Raleigh, too, meets my hearty approval as well as that of all with whom I have spoken. That would be a grand monument to the zeal and devotion of North Carolina Methodists to their Church. For there is nothing, barring godliness and christian activity, that would so advance Methodism in the State as a noble church edifice in the Metropolitan City of the State. Fifteen or twenty thousand dollars ought to be raised for this purpose outside of Raleigh, and Raleigh ought to raise the remainder, ten or fifteen thousand.

I would suggest another noble object to which the Church ought to devote itself specially during next year—and that is a centennial subscription list for the Advocate. Our church paper ought to be widely circulated. It accomplishes good wherever it goes. Families that read the Advocate are stauncher Methodists than those who do not. Churches in which it is freely circulated are more intelligent, more active, more liberal in the support of the preachers and the enterprises of the Conference than those in which the paper finds few readers. With fifty or sixty thousand Methodists in the State, the Advocate ought to have at least one fifth of that number as subscribers. It is an enterprise which the Church in North Carolina cannot dispense with; and hence it ought to give it a liberal support. Let every preacher in the Conference pledge his efforts to obtain fifty new subscribers and secure the renewal of all present ones on his charge, and the end desired would be easily secured.

"Ho! for the Centennial!"

H P. COLE.

Hillsboro Nov. 3rd.

News from the Churches.

Rev. H. P. Cole, of Hillsboro Station, in a letter of 3d of November says:

"During the last three weeks our church has been greatly blessed.—Many have been renewed in mind and heart. About 10 have made a profession of faith in Christ, many others are serious. Bro. Hendren preached for us the first week of the meeting; since that time Bro R A. Willis has been preaching for us. These brethren have declared the truth faithfully and with great power. Give us your prayers."

Rev. H. F. Wiley sends us good news from his charge. He says in a letter of recent date:

"Our camp meeting, held at Pisgah, Alexander circuit, commenced Saturday night 23d ult., and closed Thursday morning 28th, resulting in about 25 conversions and 20 accessions. Our P. E. Rev D. R. Bruton, was with us until Tuesday morning and preached with his usual zeal and earnestness. I take pleasure in acknowledging also, the labors of Bros. J. D. Buie, and H. D. LeQueux, local, Bro Somers was with us Monday and Tuesday but was indisposed and did not preach. Up to this, there have been about 55 conversions, and 44 accessions on the circuit.

Rev. R. L Abernethy, President of Rutherford College, writes November the 1st as follows:

"Last week, Dr. York and myself, aided by Rev. G. B. Wetmore of the Episcopal Church, and Revs. Wm. England and John Dorsey of the M. E. Church, South, commenced and kept up a series of services at night only, in the College Chapel. The result was the glorious conversion of forty-five students and sixteen accessions to the Methodist Church, South. The regular college exercises were continued through the day, and preaching at night.

It was an old fashioned Methodist meeting. We made no previous announcement of the meeting, and thirty souls were converted before the devil found it out.

We left a large number at the altar to be cared for in our prayer meetings and future public services.

Our dear brother Hartsell, the pastor of this Church, is confined at home with his dying companion. Let all the Church pray for sister Hartsell. It seems strange that one so holy and pure as she should be called away so soon.

We have 160 students, with a small weekly increase."

Rev. P. L. Herman, in charge of our church at Thomasville, writes 3d November, relative to the work of grace at that place, as follows:

The revival at Thomasville has been in progress 32 days. Up to date 125 conversions, 57 accessions to the M. E. Church, South; 4 have joined the Baptist Church. We have quite a number of candidates yet to receive into the Methodist Church, besides many backsliders reclaimed. The whole church has been rebaptised with the Holy Ghost. I am sure that more than 500 christians have been quickened into higher spiritual life.—Bro. C. M. Lines, the chairman of our official board, expresses what the whole church feels, "Our peace flows as a river."

The oldest members of the church say that this is one of the most remarkable manifestations of divine grace that they ever experienced; many heads of families have been converted, as well as children and young persons. I have seen a clerk in the store come from behind the counter praising God and embracing customers and beseech them to be reconciled to God.

Thomasville Female College shared in the refreshing showers of divine grace, and every young lady boarding in the institution is now happy in the love of God. President Reinhart has now, emphatically, a group of happy children The following brethren rendered timely aid from time to time: Revs J W. Lewis, V. A. Snarpe, of the Methodist Church, Professor Reinhart and Moore of the Baptist Church. The work was not all done by the preachers; the people heard the Word with gladness. They were not hearers but doers of the Word;—they worked for God and his cause Never was a pastor supported better; every member stood by the preacher. The power of the Holy Ghost came upon the congregation, and all the people began to prophesy, the church worked. Bro. Geo. Dodson and his well trained choir did indeed sing psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, and we feel sure that we could not exchange Dodson for Sankey Thank God, the Church is getting right on the subject of revivals. Send us a revivalist! is the cry of every cold backslidden church. "We want a warm hearted preacher to stir us up." The preacher in charge of Thomasville is not a revivalist, but the God whom we try to serve is a mighty Reviver, -and the preacher and his flock are the subjects of his reviving power. Let the whole church pray, O Lord wilt thou revive us again? our life is hid with Christ in God.

I have always been glad to have any devoted minister to visit my charge and help me in protracted meetings. I am free to confess that I do not understand how it happens that some few ministers in the church have become popular revivalists. God alone can revive. Let the work of God be local in the heart of the church, then the blessing will abide and will not be carried off when the preacher leaves his charge. The church that sends for a revivalist every year or two gives expression to the supposed fact that some favored few can go anywhere and cause the blessing of God to come upon the great congregation at will;—a poor substitute for holy living. Is not this the better plan? pray God to revive the church, and when your prayers are answered, your preacher will be revived, for God's own word declares "Like People, like Priests."

Dr. Burkhead made me say through the ADVOCATE week before last, that "now all God's people are prophets." So they should be everywhere—continue in prayer without ceasing, and then the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ will be realized in the heart of every faithful believer.

We thank God for what he has done for us, and pray that, together with the whole church, we may at last "have a home in glory." Amen.

Rev. J. W. Wheeler, writing from Statesville, says:

"Our meeting closed with the following results: About 30 conversions, 21 accessions, and more to join. Several will go to other churches. The church here has been greatly revived and quickened. We were greatly assisted by Bros. May, M. L. Wood, Buie and our P. E. brother Bruton, all of whom were with us at different stages of the meeting, laboring in the might of the Spirit. We are moving up on this station. The membership has about doubled during the present pastoral term, exclusive of deaths and removals, and our congregation has greatly improved in size, and in almost every other respect. We have built a parsonage, and are now erecting a new brick church, which when completed will be a commodious, handsome structure. The work on the building is progressing well, and the brethren hope at least to have the walls up and covered in by the end of the year."

Pull the Wires!

Conference approaches. Already the rumbling of the great "iron wheel" may be heard in the distance. The time for action has arrived. "Fat appointments" may soon be in our grasp. Let us be up and doing. The time has fully come for bestowing special favors upon the presiding elders. Oh, these presiding elders! Who would not be one just before the appointments are made? Who would be one just after? Bring in your gifts, oh ye ambitious circuit riders and station preachers. Heap up your flatteries upon the men of the cabinet. Tell them of your wonderful talents and remarkable success. Show them how you draw the crowds and build up the waste places. Pull the wires, brother: pull strongly. Get your official members to help, if necessary. You may succeed in pulling yourself into a more desirable appointment next year. Who knows what persistent and well-directed effort may not accomplish? By all means have your board of stewards to pass a few complimentary resolutions. It will show their appreciation of talent, and will effectually conceal your many shortcomings. Get some friend to give you a newspaper puff—the bigger, the better. It will give you a reputation abroad, and will create the impression that you are truly a desirable pastor. If no friend will do this, write a letter or two for the Church papers yourself. State particularly at what a low ebb were all the interests of the Church when you took charge, and what a remarkable improvement there has been under your administration. If possible, see the Bishop. Invite him to call by on his way to Conference. Be exceedingly cordial and courteous to him during his stay. Have all of your admirers (if you have any) to call and see him. Be sure and keep away all those who have not sense enough to appreciate you. Pull the wires! pull the wires! If you get the appointment you want, rejoice over your shrewdness and tact. Laugh at those poor fellows who trust God and the appointing powers, and are thankful for any field in which to work for Christ. If you are disappointed, lay all the blame on your presiding elder; for is it not his special business to secure you the best appointment in the Conference? Pull the wires, then, my brother! pull—X. in Christian Neighbor.

THE NOVEMBER ELECTIONS.—Elections took place on the 2nd inst. in New York, Pennsylvania, Mississippi, Massachusetts, Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota, Virginia and Maryland. In New York the Democratic State ticket was elected by about 10 000 majority, though the Legislature is Republican. In Pennsylvania the Republicans are victorious by about 20 000 majority. In Virginia and Mississippi the Democrats win. In Minnesota, Wisconsin and Massachusetts the Republicans have majorities. In Illinois the result is in doubt. There is great rejoicing in New York over the defeat of the Tammany Democracy.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The Seaboard & Roanoke Railroad declared a dividend of four per cent.

There is a negro man in Hertford studying law.

Four prisoners confined in the Greensville jail for violating the U. S. revenue escaped last week

Samuel Alspaugh, of Forsyth, has 558 pounds of pumpkins from a single vine.

Mr. John Britt, son of the late Rev. LEADER and Miss Emma Britt, of Oxford, were married on the 21st inst.

That the Fair Grounds at Weldon excel any in this State or Virginia, is the boast of the Roanoke News

Brassfield township, Granville county, has a woman one hundred and seven years old.

The TORCHLIGHT calls for a correct history of the venerable Dr. Williamsboro, Granville county.

Mrs. Annie Ruffin, wife of the late Chief Justice Ruffin, died in Hillsboro on the 28th ult; aged 82 years.

Jas. F. Jordan, Esq., of Beaufort, dropped dead at his residence about 5 o'clock on the afternoon of the 31st ult.

There is talk of leasing the A. & N. C. R. R. and the W. N. C. R. R. to the Carolina Central Railway Company.

The Purcell House at Wilmington has been enlarged by the addition of the National Hotel, which adjoined it.

Mr. R. J. Powell, of Chatham, sold from that county in 1873 to 1875, raised that year on an acre of ground 150 bushels of corn.

Miss Ida Lundy, of Pasquotank, was descending the stairway in the house of the Weldon Fair, fell a short distance, causing a severe injury to her back.

Tommie Pate, aged 14, of Washington county, while driving one of his father's, was caught in the cogs and literally crushed to death.

Brown's Tobacco Warehouse in Wilson, says the SENTINEL, is being enlarged, and when completed will be the largest in the State.

The Steam Gin House of Mr. Cyrus Wolfe, in Sharon Township, near Charlotte was burned on the night of the 4th inst. Loss $1,000.

Mr. J Heneman, an extensive cotton co-manufacturer of Charlotte, will remove his operations to Winston or some other point. D. R. Lash, Esq., will remove to Lincolnton

Three little orphans in Salisbury were fighting last week, when one aged 7 stabbed another aged 7 mortally, from which the little fellow died. They were children of a woman named Johnson, and were all illegitimate.

Capt. Jas. Borden, conductor on the train from Weldon to Wilmington, discovered a white man in the act of picking a lady's pocket. He knocked the thief down, stopped the train and kicked him off.

Concord Register: A little daughter of Mr. John W. Fisher, who lives four miles from town, aged about one year and eight months, was accidentally drowned in a creek on last Tuesday.

Concord Register: Rev. J. G. Mack, pastor of Rocky River Church, has received and accepted a call from the church at Fort Mills, S. C. We understand he will remove to that field of labor on the 1st of December.

Capt. W. F. Avery, who on the 1st instant retired from editorial connection with the Charlotte OBSERVER, was on Saturday presented with a handsome ebony cane, silver head, by the employees of the OBSERVER office.

A detachment of nine orphans, from Mar's Hill Asylum, under the leadership of Mr. Sams, the steward, were on a concert tour 11 days, visiting seven places and realizing $100. The expense of the trip were $2. A great many articles of clothing, &c., were also received.

The trial of young Strange for the murder of Murray, which was to have taken place at the late term of Haywood Superior Court, has been moved to Buncombe county and will take place in the Spring. Young Bridgers, charged with being accessory, was released from prison, and is at home in Wilmington.

Mr. Lane, democrat, who has just been elected to Congress from Oregon to succeed of General Joe Lane, formerly United States Senator and candidate for Vice President with Breckinridge in 1860. Gen. Lane is a native of Buncombe county in this State. The late contest is therefore a grandson of North Carolina.

The Messenger says: The total shipments of cotton from Goldsboro for the month of October foot up to 3,415 bales. Of this 1,625 bales were transferred from other roads, 640 bales were shipped from Goldsboro over the A. & N. C. R. R. and 790 bales were shipped from here over the Atlantic road. This is a fine shipment for the month just ended.

The Albemarle Times says: We are informed that the property of the Roanoke Valley and Washington Railroad Co. has passed into the hands of a company of English capitalists who will at once complete the road to the town of Washington. This line when it is finished will be the beginning of a road from Norfolk to Charleston, S. C.

On last Saturday while Gilliam Gray, a very bright and promising son of Dr. Robt. Gilliam, of Rockingham county, while loading his gun let the breech slip off of the ramrod, striking the hammer of a loaded barrel, which discharged the gun, sending the contents into his thigh and severing the large artery, killing him in a few minutes.—Reidsville News.

The Reidsville News says: In Caswell county, on October 24th, Mr. [illegible], Miss Mary Watkins was united in matrimony to Mr. [illegible], of Pittsboro, N. C. A correspondence at this marriage says the bride all the attendants were [illegible] ters, composed of Mr. [illegible] son and lady, Mr. [illegible] lady, Mr. G. A. Graves and lady, O. Williamson and lady and Mr. [illegible] Williamson and lady.

The Washington Echo learns that S. T. Carrow has sold his highly improved farm known as the "Spencer Farm" Messrs. Hooker & Cutchell, on Goose Creek, for 500 bales of cotton at 12½ cents, to be paid in five years, [illegible] each year, amounting to $25,000.

On last Friday night, about 9 o'clock a house belonging to ex-Mayor Hines Henderson, at Shoe Heel, on the Carolina Central Railroad, was burned. It is pretty evident, by a negro, named McLeod, who was subsequently arrested. Loss $500.

...n Christian Advocate

...CITY OF RAL... ...DAY MORN... ...POSTAGE PAID.

...quarters.

...ts should be ... ...ge accordingly. ...ubscribers, for

...pondents.

...ot to carefully ... All letters ... about

...ders to be sent.

...ments should be certain ... stock. The cost ... must be deducted ... not otherwise ... sender's risk.

...ress as follows:

...ly of ... Wake ...

...the late ...boro' ... have 200 ...

...drop- ...o'clock ...

...and will ...

...Wilmington Fair ... Exhibition ...

...ator ... this ... Barrels of ...

...while ... hall at ...ance, ...mp- ...his ...gear ...

...of noble hair ... is carefully ... All letters ... about ...

...WANTED.

...ers should be ... ...ge accordingly. ...ubscribers, for

...pondents.

...not

Children's Column.

Honor as Well as Love.

Little birds sleep sweetly
In their soft, round nests,
Crouching in the cover
Of their mothers' breasts.

Little lambs lie quiet
All the summer night,
With their old ewe mothers,
Warm and soft and white.

But more sweet and quiet
Lie our little heads,
With our own dear mothers
Sitting by our beds.

And their soft sweet voices
Sing our hush a-bies,
While the room grows darker
As we shut our eyes.

And we play at evening
Round our father's knees;
Birds are not so merry,
Singing on the trees.

Lambs are not so happy
'Mid the meadow flowers;
They have play and pleasure,
But not love like ours.

But the heart that's loving,
Works of love will do;
Those we dearly cherish,
We must honor too.

To our father's teaching
Listen day by day,
And our mother's bidding
Cheerfully obey.

For when in his childhood
Our dear Lord was here,
He, too, was obedient
To his mother dear.

And His little children
Must be good as He,
Gentle and submissive,
As he used to be.

Answers.

The bittern is mentioned 3 times; 1st in Isaiah 14th chap. 23d v.; 2nd in 34th chap. and 11th v.; 3d in Zeph. 2d chap. 14th v. F B Jones.

The Ostrich is spoken of as scorning the horse and his rider in Job. 39th chap. 18th v. F B Jones.

King Zedekiah, the son of Chenaanah made him horns of iron. F B Jones.

Questions.

F B Jones asks in what verse in the New Testament is the word "are" found 6 times and the letter "o" 35 times.

Also where is found "we will be blameless of thine oath which thou hast made us swear" and to whom was it addressed.

Also, what Judge of Israel had 40 sons and 30 nephews, and what king had 900 chariots of iron.

ENIGMA BY F. B. JONES.

My first begins the name of one who said "Behold, God will not cast away a perfect man." My second begins the name of him who said that Paul might have been set at liberty had he not appealed unto Cæsar.—My third begins the name of the Book in which is found "Ye shall keep my Sabbaths and reverence my sanctuary." My fourth begins the name of him who said to Elijah hast thou found me, O mine enemy?" My fifth begins the name of one of whom Solomon said "if he shewed himself a worthy man not a hair of him should fall to the earth." My sixth begins the name of the Book in the New Testament where is found "Where the worm dieth not and the fire is not quenched." The whole forms the name of the prophet who loved the wages of unrighteousness."

"THAT'S ENOUGH FOR ME."—"What do you do without a mother to tell all your troubles to? 'asked a child who had a mother of one who had none.

'Mother told me to whom to go before she died,' answered the little orphan. 'I go to the Lord Jesus; he was my mother's friend, and he is mine.'

'Jesus Christ is in the sky. He is away off, and he has a great many things to attend to in heaven. It's not likely he can stop to mind you.'

'I don't know anything about that,' replied the orphan. All I know is, he says he will, and that's enough for me.'

What a beautiful answer that was! And what was enough for this child is enough for us all.

'WHY EVERYTHING WENT WRONG.'—A poor lame boy in Springfield, who became converted, whose home surroundings were very unfriendly, said when relating his experience:

'Once everything went wrong at our house; father was wrong, and mother was wrong, and sister was wrong; but now that Jesus is mine, it is all right, and I know why everything went wrong before; I was all wrong myself.'

Everything will go wrong with us if we are not right in Christ. Every heart has enough within it to make disquiet, and unrest, and unhappiness, until the love of Christ dwells there, turning out all the enemies of happiness and peace.

LEARN FROM BABY.—Jack heard a very strong young farmer say one day that his baby brother had taught him a capital lesson—that was to stretch himself often. Baby did it for some wise reason, he knew; so he had followed the example. Stretching makes you grow, makes you supple and active, and is altogether a good thing. Follow the baby's plan, my dears; stretch your arms, legs, neck and body for a few moments, morning, noon, and night, until further notice. —From 'Jack in the Pulpit,' in St. Nicholas for March.

Small boy in a grocer's store—"How do you sell these figs?" "Two for three cents." "Well, le's see; that's one for two cents and one for one cent, ain't it?" "Yes." "Well, I'll take the one cent one." "Yes, yes, young man, cat all you want."

Rural and Domestic.

The Farm and the House

Perhaps some of your readers are not aware how cheaply they can make out door cellars which answer a good purpose in storing all kinds of roots. —Not having a cellar to my barn, and raising several hundred bushels of roots which I wish to feed to cattle and sheep in the winter-time, the idea occured to me to make a cellar in a bank convenient to both the barn and the shed.

As it was an experiment with me, I thought I would make it as cheap as possible, so if there was a failure there would not be much loss. It was dug out eight feet wide, sixty feet long, and six feet deep. The bottom was rising from the entrance to the rear end, so water would flow out, though from the nature of the ground it is not liable to overflow, and has never troubled in that way

No walls were laid up, but merely a roof put on. That was made of chestnut-poles for rafters, the lower end being put in the ground to the depth of a foot. The pitch of the roof was made very steep, and the poles or rafters were put in, touching one another, and the tops spiked together. Then rye straw was laid on thick, in courses, as you would thatch, and on top of that two feet of earth, well packed and sodded. The lower end was double-boarded and straw-packed between and the door built in the same way.

The cellar was built three years ago, and keeps roots as good as can be desired, and never leaks or freezes. It cost nothing to me but the labor and the price of a few nails and boards for the end.—Cor. Rural Home.

Honey-Comb.

There are two kinds of comb required in a hive—worker and drone: the former small and the latter cells. It takes a great deal of time and expense to construct it. There are about two and a half pounds in a common hive, which is made of honey, on the same principle that if we feed hogs on corn a certain portion of it will produce oil or fat; the same with the bees when gorged with honey for a certain length of time—a portion of it will secrete into wax, which extends from them in the form of small white scales (extends from wax pouches in the end of the abdomen) which they use in constructing comb.

It is universally considered that it will require twenty pounds of honey to make one pound of comb; if so, it will require fifty pounds of honey to furnish one hive with comb, and honey at twenty-five cents per pound would be $12,50.

From this true statement, dear readers, we may judge whether it would be prudent to save and buy all the nice worker comb we can get, and fill our empty hives with it, instead of rendering it into wax and selling it at thirty cents per pound, the usual price, when it is worth $5 per pound to save it from the bees. No wonder the honey ex-tractor is coming into general use by those who know the value of comb.—National Bee Journal.

A Train of Evils.

If weakness of the stomach is allowed to become chronic, the following evils supervene—Digestion is permanently impaired, the system is very imperfectly nourished, the blood becomes thin and watery, and the bile being unemployed for digestive and evacuative purpose, enters the circulation through the thoracic duct, and injects itself into the superficial vessels, giving to the skin a sallowness of the eyes the saffron tinge indicative of billiousness. Headache, nausea, constipation, pains in the side, palpitations, heartburn, dizziness, and many other harrassing symptoms which accompany the internal derangement above described, which, if unchecked is as sure to be followed by serious disease, as the rising of the sun by its setting. It is manifest, therefore, that an inability of the stomach to act upon the food should be overcome without delay. The most invigorating influence upon that organ of the digestive's Stomach Bitters is speedily felt in the disappearance of all the disagreeable symptoms alluded to. This proper herbal mineral remedies for general debility usually fail to achieve any lasting result, because they do not invigorate the stomach; Hostetter's Bitters always succeed because that is their grand object. This very fact that they are such an excellent stomachic constitutes them one of the best general tonics in existence. To restore digestion is the final step towards the recovery of health, when impaired by any of the multifarious complaints which springs from dyspepsia, and that step will be found to have been taken by the invalid who has availed himself of this famous anti-dyspeptic remedy.

Nov 2-3m.

"Heal Thyself."

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book of about 870 pages, illustrated with over 250 engravings and colored plates, and sold at the exceedingly low price of $2.50, tells you how to cure Catarrh "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Sick Billious, and other Headaches, Scrofula, Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases; all diseases peculiar to women, and most other chronic as well as acute disorders. It contains important information for the young and old, male and female, single and married, nowhere else to be found. Man and woman, married and single, are tempted to ask their family physician thousands of question on delicate topics, but are deterred from doing so by their modesty. This work answers just such questions so fully and plainly as to leave no one in doubt. Sold by Agents, or sent by mail (post paid) on receipt of the price. Address the author, R. V. Pierce, D.M., World's Dispensary, Buffalo, N. Y.

From the Lafayette Daily Courier,

A Valuable Work.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo distinguished in surgery and the general practice in the profession he honors, has made a valuable contribution to the medical literature of the day in a compendium to work entitled "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser." While scientific throughout, it is singularly free from technical and stilted terms. It comes right down to the common sense of every-day life. Dr. Pierce is a noble specimen of American manhood. He has sprung from the people, and, with many sympathies in common with the masses, has sought to lend them substantial service in this the great work of his life.

aNov 10 1-t

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT

WHEN THE BLOOD RUSHES with rocket like violence to the head, causing red flashes, vertigo and dimness of sight, it is a certain sign that a mild acid laxative, cooling and equalizing laxative is required and should be at once resorted to.

Tarrant's Seltzer Aperient

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Nov. 10-2t

ARTHUR'S

ILLUSTRATED HOME MAGAZINE. "The Household Magazine of America." Two serial Stories to 1876. "EAGLESCLIFFE," by Mrs. Julia C. R. Dorr, and "MIRIAM," by T. S. Arthur. BEAUTIFUL'S New Colored Patterns in every number. Terms $2.50 per year; 3 copies for $6.50. Splendid Book offers and Premiums. Specimen number 10 cts.

oct 27-3t cow S. ARTHUR & SON, Phila'a.

CHANGE IN BUSINESS.

The Old and Well Known House of

J. M. ROSENBAUM

Having concluded to confine itself to certain specialties, announces that in its main business it is exclusively

A CLOTHING STORE

of the highest grade, where every article of Gentlemen's and Boy's wear of all kinds and grades is offered

ON THE MOST FAVORABLE TERMS FOR CASH.

Buyers need go no farther to be suited. Every class of customers can be supplied.

Attached to the establishment is a Department for the sale of

CHINA, CROCKERY AND GLASSWARE,

Everything in that line can be found of the first quality and at reasonable prices.

The long established character of this House is a sufficient guarantee of its ability and determination to do what it promises. Don't fail to call on

J. M. ROSENBAUM,
Corner Fayetteville and Hargett Sts.

Oct. 13-tf.

COME YE DISCONSOLATE!

Men in search of FIRST-CLASS GOODS, in every Latest Tip of Fashion, and put up in a style that will suit the most fastidious taste, go to

WEIKEL'S ESTABLISHMENT,

on Fayetteville Street, one door South of the Southern Express Office.

IT IS A CONCEDED FACT

that Weikel can put up the best and most satisfactory SUIT in the way of fine suits of Clothing, from a Wedding to a Business Suit, that can be turned out in Raleigh. The old and young men say it, the ladies (God bless them) endorse and the children cry over it, cry for joy when their revered "dad's" put on a suit of Weikel's clothing.

Weikel takes this occasion to return his thanks for the large and liberal patronage heretofore received, and respectfully asks for continuance of the same. His stock of

CLOTHS,
CASSIMERES,
TWEEDS,
SUITINGS, &c.

is much larger than ever before, and comprises all the Latest Novelties in Style, having been recently purchased at low prices from

FASHION HEADQUARTERS.

As usual his force of Workmen are Picked Men whose skill and ability are known to the "dressing" public.

Come one and all to the Emporium of Fashion, Weikel's the Merchant Tailor, For a first class Suit of Clothes of first class goods, put up in first class style.

REMOVAL.

OFFICE OF

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,

RALEIGH, N. C.

We have removed to our elegant and commodious NEW STORE in the

BRIGGS BUILDING

where we will be pleased to see our many friends and the public generally.

OUR NEW STORE ROOM,

THIRTY-TWO feet wide and TWO HUNDRED long, together with a large and convenient Cellar and Warehouse adjoining, affords us unequalled facilities for conducting our business.

Customers and visitors will find our salesmen and ourselves polite, careful, accommodating and attentive. We extend a cordial invitation to every body to come and see us.

Respectfully,

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,

oct 13-tf. Briggs Building.

Williams & Haywood.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Oils, Dye Stuffs, Perfumery,

Fancy Articles, Garden Seeds, Fine Teas, Spices, Flavoring Extracts.

CIGARS, CHEWING TOBACCO &C.

Keep constantly on hand, at lowest market prices, White Lead, Putty, Kerosene Oil, Linseed Oil, Lamp Oil, Tanner's Oil, Window Glass, Varnish, &c., &c.

Nov. 23 1-t.

A. BAUM,
Professional Butcher,

Wilmington St., Opposite East End Market.

Buys the fullest beeves that can be had. No poor or stunted beef to be seen in his shop. Orders for Mountain stock weekly filled by his agents. The best and choicest meats to be had in this Market, butchered in first class style, are sold you at

apl 26-tf BAUM'S

SADDLES!

From $3 50 to $40.00

BUGGY HARNESS!

From $9.00 to $100

ON HAND AND FOR SALE BY

W. B. HUTCHINGS,

Where will be found a large stock of Carriage and Buggy Harness, Wagon, Dray and Cart Harness, Bridles, Whips, Collars, Hames, Saddle Cloths, Horse Blankets, Leather, &c., of my own Manufacture, and at prices to suit the times

☞ GIVE ME A CALL!

W. B. HUTCHINGS,
Fayetteville St., opposite Tucker Hall,
oct 13-12m. Raleigh, N. C.

A New Musical Era!!

ALL CAN LEARN TO SING.

The most Natural and Easy system of Music yet discovered; learned in one-fourth the time of any other.

TEMPLE HARP,
CRYSTAL GEMS.

A New Music Book upon above system, for Choirs, &c.

For Sabbath-Schools, same system. Specimen pages mailed free. TEACHERS wanted AGENTS.

MILLER, BEALE & PUBLISHING HOUSE,
Nos. 1102 & 1104 Sansom St., Philadelphia.

Aug 4-3m.

JOHN W. HINSDALE,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,

ROOM NO. 2 First Floor, Law Building,
Fayetteville street,
RALEIGH, N. C.

Attends all the Courts in Raleigh and Fayetteville. Claims collected in all parts of North Carolina. Refers to Hon. R. M. Pearson, Chief Justice of N. C.; Hon. M. W. Ransom, U. S. Senator; Citizens' National Bank, W. R. & E. S. Tucker, Williams & Haywood, Raleigh, N. C.; Fayetteville National Bank, Merchants' Bank of Fayetteville; J. D. Williams & Bro. & J. Lilly & Co., Fayetteville, N. C.; Bank of New Hanover, Wilmington, N. C.; Morton, Bliss & Co., Phelps, Dodge and Co., M. K. Thorber & Co., H. B. Hollis & Co., New York; D. Landreth & Son, Philadelphia; G. W. Gail & Ax, Baltimore.

Having for nearly fourteen years connection with Messrs. Moffitt & Broadfoot of Fayetteville N. C., relating only to his future business at that point. All communications addressed to John W. Hinsdale care of MacRae & Broadfoot at Fayetteville, will receive prompt attention.

Oct. 3-tf

NEW FIRM

The undersigned have this day formed a co partnership under the firm name of

Wainright, Williams & Hood,

and having purchased the stock and goodwill of J. D. Whitaker, they will continue the GROCERY and COMMISSION business at

FARMER'S EXCHANGE,
No. 4 Martin Street,
RALEIGH, N. C.

Our Stock will consist of

Bacon,
Flour,
Molasses,
Coffee,
Sugars,
Lard
Salt,
Bagging,
and Ties,

And all other goods in the Grocery line with Staple Dry Goods, Shoes, etc. Having superior facilities for buying, and a small expense account, we guarantee the lowest prices. Consignments of Cotton and produce generally, solicited, to the sale of which our best efforts will be devoted.

Patronage of our friends respectfully solicited.

GEO. H. WAINRIGHT,
(late with Williamson, Up'n & Thomas.)
MID T. WILLIAMS,
WM H. HOOD,
Raleigh, Sept, 1, 1875.

Grand Ie.
Cheatham,
Johnston

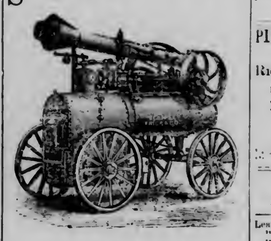
Having sold my stock of Groceries to above firm, Wainright, Williams & Hood, I take pleasure in recommending them to my friends and late customers, as entirely worthy of confidence and patronage.

For the present I may be found at the old stand and hope all those indebted to me before the 1st of January will call and settle with me at once as possible.

J. D. WHITAKER.

Raleigh, Sept 8-tf

STEAM POWER.



The Celebrated

Shapley Steam Engine.

By a patented process,

It is Absolutely free of danger from fire.

It is endorsed by all the leading machinists in the United States.

Prices lower than any first class engine in the country.

Engines can be seen at our store. Sizes—3, 5, 8 and 12 Horse Power.

We are agents for the

ROWLAND COTTON GIN,

and have in store the most complete and largest stock in N. C. of Hardware, Sash, Doors, &c.

Prices guaranteed lower than the lowest. Write for circular and prices.

JULIUS LEWIS & CO.,
Fisher Building,
Raleigh, N. C

TYSON & JONES

Carriage Builders,

CARTHAGE, N. C.

Having recently increased our Facilities for Manufacturing, we are prepared to furnish Vehicles of the BEST QUALITY on short notice, and at comparatively low prices. Vehicles shipped at Sanford, Raleigh and Ghatham R. R. via Raleigh to any part of the State

We feel confident that, with the close attention we give the business, together with the materials used the skilled workman employed, and the many conveniences we have for manufacturing FIRST CLASS WORK, no house in the country can excel us in

STYLE, FINISH, DURABILITY AND Low Price.

☞ We manufacture and keep constantly on hand Harness of the Best Quality.

☞ Repairing neatly Done at Short Notice Send for Circular.

July 21 1-y

The Best now sold in the World!

C. WEST & SONS' ALADDIN SECURITY OIL.

Warranted 150 Degrees Fire Test

Endorsed by the Fire Insurance Companies.

☞ Read the following certificate, selected from many others:

HOWARD FIRE INS. CO. OF BALTIMORE, December 28, '74.

Messrs C. West & Sons: Gentlemen—Having used the various oils sold in this city for illuminating purposes, I take pleasure in recommending your "Aladdin Security" as the safest and best ever used in our household.

Yours, truly,
(Signed) ANDREW REESE, Pres't.

☞ IT WILL NOT EXPLODE.

Ask your Storekeeper for it

Wholesale Depot: C. WEST & SONS,
118, 115 W Lombard Street, Baltimore.

Sep. 1-6m.

THE FIRM OF WYNNE, YANCEY & CO., is this day dissolved by mutual consent.

D. G. WYNNE,
T. B. YANCEY,
J. W. LEE

Raleigh, June 15th, 1875.

HAVING PURCHASED THE interest as I assume the liabilities of the late firm of WYNNE, YANCEY & CO., I would request all those indebted to make immediate payment.

Thanking for the patronage so liberally bestowed upon the late firm I trust by personal attention to merit the same.

June 23-tf GEO. W. WYNNE

BALTIMORE

EYE AND EAR INSTITUTE

NO. 58 FRANKLIN ST., Baltimore, Md.,
JULIAN J. CHISOLM, M. D., Professor of Eye and Ear Diseases in the University of Maryland,
SURGEON IN CHARGE.

This institution is thoroughly organized and fitted up with every convenience, for the treatment of Eye and Ear Diseases.

☞ For further information apply to the above.

Sept 9-3m.

BRINLY PLOWS

BEST AND CHEAPEST IN USE.

Have taken over 250 premiums at Fairs throughout the South. Send for Illustrated Catalogue with Price List and certificates of planters who use them.

SOLE MANUFACTURERS:

BRINLY, MILES & HARDY,
Louisville, Ky.

Sept 8-6m.

Agents Wanted for THE CENTENNIAL GAZETTEER of the UNITED STATES.

Shows the great results of 100 years of Freedom and Progress. New and complete. Over 1000 pages. Illustrated. Every body buys it, and agents make from $100 to $300 a month.

Address, J. C. McCURDY & CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

Sept. 22 9t.

THE CARY COTTON GIN.

Is still being manufactured at Cary, N. C., improved in some respect and warranted to give satisfaction or parties if properly put to work. Those desiring further information send for Circular, &c., to

W. M. SORRELL,
Cary, N.C.

June 15-tf.

$5 TO $20

per day! Agents wanted! All classes of working people, of either sex, young or old, making more money at work for us in their spare moments, or all the time, than at anything else. Particulars free. Address G. Stinson & Co., Portland, Maine.

Sept 16-12m

OLD NORTH STATE

FIRE

Insurance Company,

OF

WARRENTON, - - - - - N. C.,

This Company has closed its third year in a condition of GREAT PROSPERITY, and entered upon its fourth year under the MOST PROMISING AUSPICES.

It deserves the liberal patronage which it is receiving because

It is a home Institution.
It has ample Capital and Reserves
It pays its loss promptly.

ASSETS.

Cash on hand and in Bank	$ 8421 58
Cash Premium Notes	1764 00
Stock Notes	15,770 10
Real Estate, Mortgages	59 908 80
Loans on Collaterals	7,647 68
Due for premiums	8,721 68
Interest accrued	914 75
	$103,297 19

LIABILITIES:

All liabilities for full re-
Insurance Reserved	$ 5 181 81
Surplus	101,856 38
	$103,297 19

THOMAS DAVIS, President.
B. F. LONG, Secretary.

SCHEDULES.

PIEDMONT AIR-LINE RAILWAY.

RICHMOND & DANVILLE, RICHMOND & DANVILLE E. W. N. C. DIVISION, and NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. W.

CONSOLIDATED TIME-TABLE.

To take effect on and after Sunday, Sept. 19th, 1875.

GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Charlotte	9 5 P. M	5.45 A. M.
" Air-Line Junc'n	9 33 "	6.20 "
" Salisbury	1.18 "	9.34 "
" Greensboro'	3.15 A. M	10.55 "
" Danville	6.08 "	1.12 P. M.
" Dundee	6.38 "	1.20 "
" Burkville	7.35 "	6 07 "
Arrive at Richmond	2.22 P. M.	8.45 "

GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Richmond	1.38 P. M.	5.05 A. M.
" Burkville	4.52 "	8.36 "
" Dundee	6.38 "	1.14 P. M.
" Danville	10.39 "	1.17 P. M.
" Greensboro'	3.00 A. M.	8.58 "
" Salisbury	5.52 "	6.15 "
" Air-Line Junc'n	8.05 "	8.55 "
Arrive at Charlotte	8.22 A. M	8.43 "

GOING EAST.	GOING WEST
STATIONS. MAIL.	MAIL.
Leave Greensboro' 3.00 A. M.	Arrive 1.45 A. M.
" Co. Shops 4.31 "	Leave 12.31 "
" Raleigh 5.33 "	" 8.10 P. M.
Arrive at Goldsboro' 11.30 A. M.	Leave 5.00 "

NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. R.
(SALEM BRANCH.)

Leave Greensboro'	4 30 P. M.
Arrive at Salem	6.15 "
Leave Salem	8 40 A.M.
Arrive at Greensboro	10.20 "

Passenger train leaving Raleigh at 5 10 P. M. connects at Greensboro' with the Northern Mail Train, making the quickest time to all Northern cities. Price of Ticket same as via other routes.

Through baggage checked to destination.

Through bills of lading given to and from points North or South.

Two trains only, both mail.

On Sunday's Lynchburg Accommodation leave Richmond at 9.00 A. M., arrive at Burkeville 12.45 P. M., leave Burkeville 4.35 A. M., arrive at Richmond 8.35 A. M.

No Change of Cars between Charlotte and Richmond, 282 Miles.

Passengers will have arrangements to advertise the schedule of this company who please print as above. For further information address

S. E. ALLEN,
Gen'l Ticket Agent,
Greensboro, N. C.

T. M. R. TALCOTT,
Engineer & Gen'l. Superintendent.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE

RALEIGH & GASTON RAILROAD CO.

On and after Friday, May 22nd, 1874, trains on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, will run daily (Sunday excepted) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Leave Petersburg	9.35 A. M.
Arrive at Weldon	3.30 "
Leaves Weldon,	3.50 P. M.
Arrives at Raleigh,	8.15 P. M.

ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon.	5.15 P. M.
Leaves Weldon,	2.30 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh	2.45 P. M.

Mail train makes close connection at Weldon, with the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad and Bay Line Steamers via Baltimore, to and from all points North, West and Northwest, and with Petersburg Railroad to Petersburg, Richmond and Washington City, to and from all points North and Northwest.

And at Raleigh with the North Carolina Railroad to and from all points South and Southwest, and with the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line to Haywood and Fayetteville.

A. B. ANDREWS,
Gen. Sup't.

RALEIGH & AUGUSTA AIR-LINE RAILROAD.

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 27th, 1875.

On and after Monday, October 25th, 1875, trains on the R. & A. A. L. Road will run daily, (Sundays excepted,) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Train leaves Raleigh,	4.00 P. M.
Arrives at Sanford,	6.25 "
Train leaves Sanford,	6.30 A. M
Arrives at Raleigh,	9.05 "

FREIGHT TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Sanford	10.55 A. M.
Leaves Sanford,	11.00 A. M
Arrives at Raleigh	3.50 P. M.

Mail Train makes close connection at Raleigh with the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, to and from all points North.

And at Sanford with the Western Railroad, to and from Fayetteville and points on Western Railroad.

A. B. ANDREWS,
Superintendent.

OFFICE SUPT OF TRANSPORTATION,
Seaboard & Roanoke R. R.,
Portsmouth, Va., Jan. 1st, 1875.

On and after this date, trains of this Road will leave Weldon daily, Sundays excepted, as follows:

Mail train at	4 P. M.
No. 1 Freight train at	4 A. M.
No. 2 Freight train at	8 A. M.

ARRIVE AT PORTSMOUTH.

Mail train at	7 15 P. M.
No 1 Freight at	12 00 NOON.
No 2 Freight at	5 00 P. M.

Freight trains have a passenger car attached.

Steamer for Edenton, Plymouth and Landings on Blackwater and Chowan Rivers leave Franklin at 7.30 A. M. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

E. G. GHIO,
Supt. Transportation.

1875. 1876.

FALL AND WINTER.

ISAAC OETTINGER

is now in receipt of his ENTIRE STOCK of MILLINERY, Ladies' Fancy Furnishing, Hair and Needle Goods, to an inspection of which his many customers are respectfully invited. My Stock has been selected with a great deal of care, and consists of Bonnets and Hats for Ladies, Misses, Children and Babies.

Ladies' Socks, Ladies' Undergarments, Ladies' Cloaks and Sacques, Ruffs, Collars and Cuffs,

Kid and other Gloves, Zephyr, Saxony and Germantown Wool, Knitting Cotton, Crochet Needles, Worked Slippers,

Mottoes and Motto Frames, every sort of Patterns for Needle Work, Stamped Yokes, Buttons, Embroidering Silk and Cotton, 1,000 Ladies' Silk Scarfs, 1,000 Belts.

20,000 yards Ribbon, Realand Imitation Laces, Hamburg Edging and Insertion.

And a Thousand other Articles.

In our Millinery Department we employ only FIRST-CLASS NEW YORK MILLINERS, and guarantee satisfaction. All I ask is a trial My stock is the largest, best selected and cheapest in this city, and I may say State.

ISAAC OETTINGER.

Marey's Sciopticon and Lantern Slides. New and brilliant effects. Circular free.

SPECIAL OFFERS TO SUNDAY-SCHOOLS

L. J. MAREY, 1810 CHESNUT STREET Philadelphia, Oct 21 8-m.

FALL AND WINTER GOODS!

D. S. WAITT & BRO.,

Are offering a Large and Attractive Stock of

FINE AND CHEAP CLOTHING!

Gents' Furnishing Goods and Neck Wear,

Boots, Shoes, Overcoats, Shawls and Rubber Goods / Hats and Cassel Merino Shirts, Drawers and Hosiery Paper and Linen Collars Suspenders, Handkerchiefs and Yankee Notions. The Celebrated

MANHATTAN FINE WHITE SHIRT,

Acknowledged to be the best and most perfect fitting shirt in the market.

Prints! Prints!

Red, White and Figured Flannels, Opera Flannels, Hamburg Edgings and Insertions, Ladies' Trimmed Hats, Belts, Ribbons, Counterpanes, Comforters, Bed-Quilts and Spreads.

WHITE AND BROWN BLANKETS,

Ladies Striped and Plaid Breakfast Shawls, Knit Sacks, Jackets and Hoods.

Checks, Plaid Homespuns, Ticklings, Brown and Bleached Sheetings and Shirtings, Corset Jeans, Cambrics and Linings, Trunks, Valises, Umbrellas, Traveling Bags, &c

TO OUR FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS, We take pleasure in saying our stock is now complete in every department, and thanking you for your liberal patronage, we respectfully solicit a continuance of the same. Remember the place, 54 Fayetteville St., Raleigh, N. C.

D S WAITT & BRO.

oct 13-3m.

SUI GENERIS.

MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.

UNEQUALED Judged critically UNAPPROACHED in capacity and excellence by any others. Awarded

THREE HIGHEST MEDALS AND DIPLOMA OF HONOR AT VIENNA, 1873; PARIS, 1867.

ONLY American Organs ever awarded any medal in Europe, or which present such extraordinary excellence as to command a wide sale there.

ALWAYS awarded highest premiums at Industrial Expositions, in America as well as Europe. Out of hundreds there have not been six in all where any other organs have been preferred.

BEST Declared by Eminent Musicians, in both hemispheres, to be unrivaled. See TESTIMONIAL CIRCULAR, with opinions of more than One Thousand (sent free).

INSIST on having a Mason & Hamlin. Do not take any other. Dealers get LARGER commission for selling inferior organs, and for this reason often try very hard to sell something else.

NEW STYLES with most important improvements ever made. New Solo and Combination Stops. Superb Etagere and other Cases of new designs.

PIANO-HARP CABINET ORGAN An exquisite combination of these instruments.

EASY PAYMENTS. Organs sold for cash; or for monthly or quarterly payments; or rented until rent pays for the organ.

CATALOGUES and Circulars, with full particulars, free. Address MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont Street, BOSTON; 25 Union Square, NEW YORK; or 80 & 82 Adams St., CHICAGO.

apl 14-1 yearr.

G. T. LEACH, N. Y. M. T. LEACH

Leach Brothers,

WHOLESALE GROCERS

AND

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

SOUTH-EAST CORNER MARKET SQUARE, Raleigh, N. C

Again, we take great pleasure in presenting our card and returning thanks to the readers of the ADVOCATE for their very liberal patronage during the past (our own), and offer them the largest and best bought stock of Groceries ever offered in any market south of Baltimore, and while just now Bacons, Sugars and Lard are very scarce and high, we have made extra effort to get a full line we have succeeded in bringing other goods equally low and intend giving our friends all the advantages gained thereby to counter balance any advance in the few goods named.

We wish to invite especial attention to our select stock of staple Shoes and Boots bought direct from the Factories and offered here AT FIRST PROFITS.

We have now in store:

5,000 lbs. Rio Coffees,
10 Mats old Gov. Java,
10 Bbls A Sugar,
10 Bbls Ex C Sugar,
10 Bbls. B F Yellow Sugar,
20 Bbls Demarara,
20 Boxes Bulk Sides,
10 " " Shoulders,
50 Kegs English Soda,
1,500 lbs. G. D and Sole Leather
100 Sides Upper Leather,
50 " Harness Leather,
100 Cases O Oleers,
50 " Rikaby Percher,
5,000 Yds. Bagging,
6,000 lbs. Ties,
100 Bbls. Super Flour,
100 Bags Assorted Shot,
50 Bbls Extra Flour,
50 Cases Forrester's Crackers,
0 " Soda Crackers,
20 Boxes Factory and Dairy Cheese,
6,000 W. P. and G. D. Tobacco Caps,
1 Kegs Burden Horse and Mule Shoes,
200 Lbs. Horse Shoe Nails,
20 Dozen Best Axes,
50 Boxes Adamantine Candles,
100 Boxes Laundry and Toilet Soaps,

We offer especial inducements to country and nearby merchants, and invite an examination of our stock defy competition

Oct 7 12-m LEACH BROS

THE S. & S. LEFFEL Double Turbine Water Wheel,

Manufactured by

POOLE & HUNT,

Baltimore, Md.

LEFFEL'S DOUBLE TURBINE

is simple, strong, durable, always reliable and satisfactory.

Manufacturers, also, of Portable & Stationary Engines, Steam Boilers, Saw & Grist Mills, Mill Gearing, Shafting, Pulleys, Hangers, Machine Castings for Cotton Mills, Flour, Saw & Grist Mills, Mining, Oil Mill Machinery, Brass Castings and other Machinery. Iron Fronts, Shutters, Doors, Railings and Fences; also, Sole Manufacturers of the celebrated Victor Turbine Wheel. Pamphlets and Price-lists free on application.

Mention this paper.

POOLE & HUNT,
Baltimore, Md.

Manufacturers of the celebrated Victor Turbine Wheel.

PLEIS' FIT POWDERS.

These Powders have been tested by over 40,000 cases for the cure of Fits (Epilepsy), Spasms, Convulsions, St. Vitus' Dance, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Affections, some over 40 years' standing.

When you ORDER STATE AGE.

☞ PRICE, 50 CENTS PER BOX; or sent to any parts of the United States for One Dollar per Box.—These Powders are prepared and sold only by the proprietor, to whom all orders must be addressed,

JOHN M. PLEIS, Jr.,
961 North Third street, Philadelphia, Pa.

☞ Please mention that you saw this advertisement in THE CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

mar 31-1y

JOHN J. FRAY'S

English, Classical and Mathematical School.

14 miles S. E. of Raleigh and 4 miles from Clayton, a station on N. C. R. R. The seventeenth session begins Monday Sept 18th 1875. Prepares boys and girls for college, or the active duties of life. Good board including fuel, lights and washing (no extras) only $12.50 per month. Refers to the faculty of the University of Va., Rev R. T. Bikle and to any of former patrons. For circulars containing particulars &c. Address

JOHN J. FRAY,
or A. F. MEAD,
aug. 2-2m Raleigh N. C.

$250 A MONTH.—Agents wanted everywhere. Business honorable and first-class. Particulars sent free. Address J. WORTH & CO., St. Louis, Mo.

aug 4-12m.

PROGRESS THE WATCHWORD

Merit and Success Hand in Hand.

BROOKLYN LIFE

INSURANCE COMPANY,

NO. 141 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

Assets- - - -$1,500,000.00

CHRISTIAN W. BOUCK, President.
D. P. FACKLER, Actuary.

Wm. M. COLL, Secretary
DANIEL AYRES, M.D., LL.D., Examiner

POLICIES VALUABLE IN LIFE, AS WELL AS AT DEATH!

The BROOKLYN LIFE is the only Company in America which guarantees

DEFINITE CASH SURRENDER VALUES,

in case a Policy is forfeited for nonpayment of Premium.

THE BROOKLYN LIFE enjoys the highest reputation for JUDGMENT in INVESTMENT, ECONOMY OF MANAGEMENT, AND CARE IN THE SELECTION OF RISKS—three of the elements of administration the security of a Life Insurance Corporation depends.

The laws of New York compel Companies in that State to calculate the cash value of their Policies, each and every year, and in a certain legal standard of reserve and accumulation must be held by the Companies to meet all their liabilities.

Insurers in looking around for Companies in which to insure should carefully see for this important safeguard. IT WILL BE FOUND IN THE BRO

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Robbins & Gray, Publishers. | Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina. | $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Vol. XXI.---No. 45. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, November 17, 1875. | Whole No. 1,083.

Selected Poetry.

The Ganoid

A friend sends us the following poem for publication in the ADVOCATE. It was written by a gifted man in Louisville Ky., at the time of the meeting of the American Association in that city.

With a hammer in my pocket and a hammer in my hand,
Chipping blocks and cracking rocks in search of "creeping things"
Wonders met me on earth dressed by a fracture fresh and new,
And gazed in fearful horror at the things it brought to view;
I had found a ancient casket that Agassiz when would thrill,
When he saw beneath its cover just a fossil carved his tail

It was lying [illegible] in the matrix of the stone,
And scientific [illegible] bright microscopic fragments shone;
And I thought of all the weary, sad, and slow-drawn [illegible] long years
Since the ganoid commenced her circling search for light and cheer,
And the hue [illegible] must have felt his contracted soul
In the [illegible] around him when this ganoid curled his tail

When from out the turbid ocean soothed an almost [illegible]
And the sun [illegible] radiance to reflect, a single beam,
And [illegible] ess, that dimly rose, the spectres from the west
Glared [illegible] for a little while, and disappeared in haste;
Melted down with heat and horror even ganoids could not prevail
In those [illegible] eras when the ganoid curled his tail.

Check the upward march of Nature, and reverse the wheels of Time,
From the era when Eden blossomed in its fresh-[illegible] its prime Roll it backward, roll it backward—backward still and backward more
Turn a cycle in the effort strains the mind till it is sore.
Still [illegible] beyond you, down within the Past's dim vale,
Are those years unchronicled when this ganoid carved his tail.

And if this [illegible] all the struggles that we make with [illegible]
To [illegible] our names [illegible] century or two,
How [illegible] of horror pond[illegible] [illegible] race,
Are we in [illegible] letters on the Past's [illegible] page,
And each year the [illegible] we [illegible] a fossil fraud
By the [illegible] [illegible] carved his tail.

You're ordained [illegible] ago, and you there, the thing is [illegible]
If you [illegible] the [illegible] a [illegible] is [illegible]
Here's a fossil—look upon him—he's [illegible] fossil fraud,
For a thing I feel to keep him still [illegible]
The sun ripple properties [illegible] fossil proves but [illegible]
Mr. [illegible]
Had you done your work [illegible] carved his tail

Perhaps to-day [illegible] cook,
Pounded [illegible] restless upon their rocking equilibrium
Crushing shells [illegible] [illegible] every one of [illegible]
With [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
But [illegible] prophets," and we only may [illegible]
Our dear [illegible] carved his tail.

But it is a sad reflection—and one [illegible] [illegible]
To know that blood and crying [illegible] [illegible]
Of years;
That Love, and Peace, and Mercy, had not even then begun
To sow the seeds of quiet for the future [illegible] man,
And the cries of God's first creatures were a universal wail,
Of fierce and brutal conflict when this ganoid curled his tail.

C. A. P.

Louisville, Ky.

Communicated.

For the Advocate.

The Dance---No. 2.

BY REV. B. CRAVEN, D.D. LL.D.

The dance, though mentioned in the Bible and practiced in those days, is at this time a modern custom with an old name; as now practiced it did not exist and had never been known at the close of the second century after Christ; it must, therefore, abide the test of the following constructive moral canons. Every thing is morally wrong;—

1. That generally tends to evil. This tendency in the dance may be fairly inferred from the morals of those who practice it most; from its admitted excesses; and from its disregard of character.

2. That disregards the generally admitted rules of prudence. The dance is noted for its abandon, the absence of the old, and especially of people noted for piety; familiarities that would not be tolerated elsewhere; and unnecessary and dangerous possibilities of evil.

3. That predisposes to evil. The dance is a fierce animal excitement; its natural end is not in the ball room, but in cards, drink, and other evils still worse; nothing else leaves men and women, boys and girls, so fearfully exposed to all manner of temptation.

4. That is antagonistic to piety. Penitents never dance; they that walk with God have always avoided such levity; those who with their children converted do not send them to dancing schools; those who wish to reform keep far from such revelry. Those who have felt keen anguish of soul, as the burden of heavy responsibility, as the crushing force of moral, social or material disaster never turn to the grove of Daphne for help and comfort. Not one in all history ever attempted to increase christian faith by dancing; all people instinctively admit that there is antagonism between spirituality and the ball room. It is the world's defiance of God.

As an Athletic Art, we have attempted to show that the Dance is intentionally evil in conception, necessarily pernicious in practice, corrupting in manifestation, and decisively wicked in its teachings.

Judged on its own merits by the laws of morality, it directs and urges both soul and body to wrong desires, thinking and acting. It is Satan's great suggester, a scene painter for the carnival of sensuality, a scoffer that despises prudential regulations, and the incarnation of "dum vivimus vivamus."

The Dance cannot be claimed as a means of accomplishment. To say that its votaries are more accomplished than its opponents, is false They are not superior in body or mind, in elegance or excellences, in taste or judgement, in drawing-rooms or senate halls, at the marriage or the funeral, nor in any other place, avocation or duty. It adds nothing to the true success of sons or daughters; makes no man more manly, and no woman more womanly; it imparts no grace to the husband, none to the wife, none to the man of business, none to any thing good.

As an exercise it is useless, and must be repaid at the expense of the next day; it wears out instead of building up, exposes to disease instead of being a remedy against it, shortens life instead of increasing days, and demands repose during the day, that there may be enough vitality for the dance at night. As an amusement it is not justifiable because of its immoral tendencies, its east, its excitement, its obnoxious social classification, its dangerous character, and its lamentable results. The moral status of the great summer resorts in Europe and America, is well known; the foulest stain in history is seen in the interview annals of court circles in every land, and at all and in all, the dance is the chief amusement; not simply as a repast at which depraved appetites delight to feast, but as a chief means for forming and exciting appetites for every form of vice. Most persons in this country commend, patronize or engage in the dance without any evil intent, and without anticipating evil consequences. They know not what they do, but are not likely to escape the pernicious effect because of their innocence they are dallying with one of the worst forms of temptation ever addressed to the unsuspecting, and think not that the enemy is silently binding them hand and foot. They send their children to the dancing school at the behest of fashion, and thus imperil their souls without excuse A great evil of the times, is the premature developement of youth; too frequently both sexes are grown in thought before they are in body; and for too frequently the body has put forth its successive developements from six to ten years before the appropriate stature is attained. Nothing exceeds the dance in accelerating this fatal precocity. A boy trained to the dance from childhood will have a full grown beard from three to five years sooner thereby; and if a man without beard is unnatural, a beard without a man is intolerable. Not less to be deprecated is the influence upon little girls; a young woman's countenance upon a child's face is frightful. Let parents pause and think what they do. The dancing-school is intrinsically and perpetually a curse; the sequel to the festooned hall is often found in the squalid suburbs of the town.

For the Advocate.

The Heresy of Eliphaz.

BY J. H. MILLS.

Nestor, the old man eloquent of the Greeks, was an orator, because his age and wisdom gave him influence and his "Tuneful words more sweet than honey, flowed." Plato was an orator, because his sound and philosophical arguments were always staled with force and clearness, and his virtuous life gave weight to all he said. Demosthenes was an orator, because he fortified his positions with facts and proofs so arranged as to make permanent impressions, even on his enemies. Then he uttered the noblest sentiments and lived a life of exalted integrity, in an age of bribery and corruption.

Æschines was a polished orator, skilled in logic and rhetoric, and he understood and practiced all the tricks of his trade.

Cicero was an orator who used with skill the accumulated wisdom of former ages, and mastered all the accomplishments of his own age; but his vast ambition and his supreme self complacency injured his influence for good.

Eliphaz, a descendant of "Duke Teman," was a wonderful orator. Such powers as he displayed had not been seen on the earth before, and has equal is seldom seen in modern times. His fine sayings are still in the months of many eloquent speakers. We copy only a few: "He runneth upon the thick bosses of Jehovah's bucklers." "He put no trust in his servants, and his angels he charged with folly." "Thou shalt come to thy grave in a full age, like as a shock of corn cometh in his season." "Although affliction cometh not forth of the dust, neither doth trouble spring out of the ground; yet man is born unto trouble as the sparks fly upward."

Now we are informed that "Naaman, the Captain of the Host of the King of Syria, was a great man with his master, and honorable, a mighty man in valor; but he was a leper."

So Eliphaz was a polished gentleman, gray headed and very aged, dignified decorous, pious in some respects, very fertile in his fancy, and attractive in his orations, even when they were directed against the "perfect and upright." Job; but, alas, Eliphaz cherished in his heart a horrible heresy. This accusation is not our invention. It came down from heaven: "The Lord said to Eliphaz the Temanite, my wrath is kindled against thee and against thy two friends; for ye have not spoken of me the thing that is right, as my servant Job hath."

Now what was the character of his heresy? Satan charged Job with serving God as a hireling for temporal prosperity. Take his property and his children, and he will cease to serve you. God suffered Satan to make Job poor and childless; but Job still blessed the name of the Lord Any mortal man would have been convinced by this test; but the Devil persisted; afflict his body and he will curse his God. Then the Lord gave him to Satan, with the one reservation, to "save his life." The Devil began with boils, then had him tormented by his wife, and last of all sent three orators to overwhelm him with a mixture of valuable truth and dangerous heresy. Eliphaz was the great leader, and his three splendid Philippics attest his power. Bildad and Zophar seem to have been ordinary men. As for the youthful and long winded Elihu, we are not moved that God, Job, or the Devil paid the slightest attention to any word he uttered. But the trial was very severe. Job desired to die, and felt his words all on the side: "God hath delivered me to the ungodly and turned me over into the hands of the wicked." But his final victory was a great triumph for the Bible doctrine of affliction. God made the world, and ordered all things wisely One man is rich, another poor; one man is sick, another enjoys health; one man dies, another lives. God usually consecrates his people through sufferings.

He rules one world with sovereign power, and in great forbearance and tender mercy. Yet his ways are often above our comprehension. But human sympathy and christian charity are the bonds which bind together the rich and the poor, the prosperous and the afflicted. By doing good to others we feel the force and beauty of the saying that "It is more blessed to give than to receive." But the doctrine of Eliphaz is that the prosperous are the good and the afflicted are the wicked. Hear him: "Who ever perished being innocent, or where were the righteous cut off?" He forgot that righteous Abel died by the hand of cruel Cain. He knew nothing of the innocent children drowned in the flood. He says "the wicked travaileth in pain all his days." The Psalmist says "the wicked are not in trouble as other men, neither are they plagued like other men." Eliphaz exhorts Job thus: "Acquaint now thyself with God and be at peace; thereby good shall come unto thee." We recently heard a good pastor use this verse as a text. He urged the people to seek religion and other blessings would follow. He told of a poor and wicked community, in which he held a meeting and all the people joined the church. In a very short time they prospered and all got rich. "So come and get religion and God will bless you." He forgot to mention this truth: "All that will live godly shall suffer persecution." He promised them their good things in this world as well as the next. He preached the doctrine of his text; but the text was the heresy of Eliphaz.

But what connection has this subject with the orphan work? One of our ablest theologians refuses to cooperate in the orphan work, because the orphans, or their parents, were sinners, and are suffering for their sins, or for the sins of their parents, and he does not wish to interfere with God's decrees "Let people reform and mend their ways and God will prosper them." We charge upon him the heresy of Eliphaz, the great heresy in the way of benevolent work, as one day "for the sake of their own souls, and for the sake of the good which ought to be done in the world, we warn the people against the doctrine which refuses to speak through our benevolent enterprises, and which has been handed down to shape its course without reference to the spiritual growth of the men and women, and to augment the sufferings of the needy and neglected.

For the Advocate.

A Visit to Company Shops--Sewing Machine--New Parsonage, etc.

MESSRS. EDITORS: On the 11th ult., at the request of the Rev. R. S Webb, preacher in charge of Alamance circuit, I run up to Company Shops, one of the appointments on that circuit, to assist him in a protracted meeting which he had commenced the day before. On my arrival, I had the pleasure of meeting our mutual friend, the Rev. H P. Cole, of Hillsboro' Station, who had been helping Bro. Webb. Although he had made a fine impression for good on the large and intelligent audience that heard him on Sunday and Monday, he had to return home on Tuesday. I found Bro. Webb, as is usual with him, very deeply interested in the success of his meeting. The interest which had been awakened by the labors of these brethren seemed to increase during the stay of eleven days. So profound was that interest that on the 21st, when Cole's circus was there in full blast, we had as large a congregation as we had the day previous. And, I was credibly informed that at night there were not more than some twenty five or thirty persons at the circus, while we had a good congregation, some 15 or 18 penitents and 5 or 6 persons professed faith in Christ. As Bro. Webb proposed to give you the results of the meeting, I will not attempt to do so. I will, however, give one fact connected with this meeting—one condition, doubtless, of its success—which exhibited the essential oneness of all Christians. I refer to the fact that members of no less that nine different denominations harmoniously worked together for a common result—the glory of God in the salvation of men. The layman who was probably most active and successful is a worthy and influential member of the Society of Friends.

This was my first visit to the Shops; and although I was quite busy while there, I formed a number of pleasant acquaintances. Should the R. R. Company continue their shops at that point, (it is feared they will not do so,) it would unquestionably be the most desirable place for the head quarters of Alamance Circuit.—It is a pleasant, healthy village, with an active, industrious and generous population. I found Bro. Webb in great favor with them. He seems steadily to have grown in the confidence and affection of the people, both in and out of the church, during his four years pastorate with them. As a substantial expression of their love for, and interest in him, the church at that place, assisted by members of other denominations and generous "outsiders," have just presented him with a $75 sewing machine. I learn that the circuit has been very much built up under his ministry. He is a good preacher and an earnest, faithful worker.

We have just moved into our new parsonage—rather the one recently purchased here. It is a comfortable house, with six good-sized rooms, besides a cook-room and other outhouses. It was built about six years ago and is located in a pleasant, healthy part of the town, nearly two blocks south east of the church. The water is thought by some to be the best in Goldsboro'. We get an acre of land with the buildings. As long as this church has been a station we have never had a parsonage here before. Bro. Mann, my predecessor, started the enterprise and secured, in cash and good pledges, nearly enough to pay for the property we have purchased.

We are getting on tolerably well in other respects. We had some revival interest in the Spring; at which time several persons joined the church.

It is believed that the assessment for all claims on our people will be fully met.

Fraternally yours,

JNO. R. BROOKS.

Goldsboro', N. C., Nov. 5th, 1875.

Too high an opinion of ourselves involves the desire of impressing others with the same opinion. This is attended with difficulty. If we do not succeed in inspiring them with an equal idea of our own merits, we shall be expecting more deference and regard than they are inclined to pay—so pride will be disappointed and offended.

The Baptists are about to try camp meetings. The New York Tribune says: "The Baptists, who held an open-air meeting on the Highlands of Martha's Vineyard, were so well pleased with the result that they are making arrangements for the permanent occupancy of the ground and an annual service."

The Powell street M. E. Church, in San Francisco, has adopted resolutions to petition the General Conference to so change the Discipline that women may be licensed and ordained to preach without fear of the law hanging over their heads.

The Precipice.

A father took his little child out into the field one Sabbath, and he lay down under a beautiful shady tree, it being a hot day. The little child ran about gathering wild flowers and little blades of grass, and coming to its father and saying, "Pretty! pretty!" At last the father fell asleep, and while he was sleeping the child wandered away. When he awoke, his first thought was "Where is my child?" He looked all around but could not see him. He shouted at the top of his voice, and all he heard was the echo of his own voice. No response! Then going to a precipice at some distance, he looked down and there upon the rocks and briers, he saw the mangled form of his loved child. He rushed to the spot, took up the lifeless corpse and hugged it to his bosom, and accused himself of being the murderer of his own child. While he was sleeping his child had wandered over the precipice. I thought, as I heard that, what a picture of the Church of God! How many fathers and mothers, how many christian men, are sleeping now while their children wander over the terrible precipice, a thousand times worse than that precipice, right into the bottomless pit of hell. Father, where is your boy to-night? He may be just out here in some public house, he may be reeling through the streets of London, drunk; he may be pressing on down to a drunkard's grave. How many fathers and mothers are there now in London—yes, praying christians too—whose children are wandering away while they are slumbering and sleeping. Is it not time that the Church of God should wake up and come to the Lord as one man, and strive to beat back those dark waves of death that roll through our streets, bearing upon their bosom the noblest young men we have? Oh, my God, wake up the church! And let us trim our lights and go forth and work for the kingdom of God.—Moody.

The Ninety and Nine.

SUNG BY MR. SANKEY.

There were ninety and nine that safely lay
In the shelter of the fold,
But one was out on the hills away,
Far off from the gates of gold.
Away on the mountains wild and bare,
Away from the tender Shepherd's care.

"Lord, thou hast here thy ninety and nine;
Are they not enough for thee?"
But the Shepherd made answer: "This one of mine
Has wandered away from me;
And although the road be rough and steep,
I go to the desert to find my sheep."

But none of the ransomed ever knew
How deep the waters crossed;
Nor how dark was the night that the Lord passed through
Ere he found his sheep that was lost.
Out in the desert he heard its cry—
Sick and helpless, and ready to die.

"Lord, whence are those blood drops all the way
That mark out the mountain's track?"
"They were shed for one who had gone astray Ere the Shepherd could bring him back."
"Lord, when are the hands to be crowned for thee?"
"They are pierced to-night by many a thorn."

And all thro' the mountains, thunder-riven,
And up from the rocky steep,
There rose a cry to the gate of heaven,
"Rejoice! I have found my sheep!"
And the angels echoed around the throne,
"Rejoice, for the Lord brings back his own!"

Marriage.

We sometimes hear the expression that "Marriages are made in heaven." Is it so? What does the Word of God say. "Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers." How can a christian ignore this plain command by marrying one that however moral his or her character may be, knows not the power of God unto salvation. They may think, and probably do, that they can lead these dear ones into the path of peace and righteousness that their prayers will avail for the saving of those precious souls. But if these would consider, for a moment, that the promises of God to hear and answer our petitions, can only apply to those who offer up it in humble submission to his will and obedience to his laws, would they dare so offend the owner of [illegible]? Would our Heavenly Father have given such clear instructions upon a subject of little moment? The fallacy of such hopes is shown in the rareness of such conversions

In most cases they soon learn to take different roads, and the bond that should give strength proves only a hinderance. This may be hidden from the world, but God knows that his Church has lost a power that otherwise would have belonged to it. Whatever weakens individual effort weakens the Church to which he or she belongs, and the Church of to-day needs all its working [illegible]. Would it not be well to keep this subject prominently before our religious people? Can the standard be [illegible] too high? And should we take a [illegible] view of this matter? [illegible] blasted lives of many plead with us, to throw what influence we can, [illegible] the side of right? Parents [illegible] sters, think of these [illegible]

Christian Advocate.

For the Advocate.

Autumnal Reflections.

The leaves are falling before the bickering blast, the flowers, those angel eyes of this lower creation which looked so meekly in our faces, from the walls and hedges, or flaunted their gay plumage along our way, in the bright days that have just gone—are fading, one by one, and the last rose of summer is left blooming almost alone. "All her bright companions faded and gone." Only the Autumn Crocus (half hidden, as if fearing the biting breath of the Frost King) is now to be seen on all the wide range of field and wood. The only traces of those lovely ones that burst into life so gloriously, in the bright May days and under the golden days of June, are seen in broken branches and faded plumage, strewing their native bed with their dying sweets. The sunlight has now lost much of its brilliancy, the hours have come for mourning, and the great Golden Lamp is shaded by the autumnal mists, but a soft and holy light may steal over the dying time of nature's gorgeous drapery. The winds have muffled the sound of their trampings, and a fitting wail is heard sweeping with shivering notes over the plain, and wildly shrieking through the wooded vale, making funeral notes, as the ten thousand forms of beauty die and strip the earth of her covering of beauty and glory, flung upon her bosom by the loving hands of young spring and golden summer time. When the hour of twilight comes, all the songs of nature's minstrelsy seem to be from those who feel that their hearts were beating funeral marches to the grave. The stars come out on the wide field of azure, almost as soon as the sun wheels his burning face below the horizon, and though they seem to crowd all the fields of ether, they do look so like they were weeping, and with burning tapers, moving all in a mighty train of mourners. Aurora too, now sends up her long tapering rosy lights, all along the Hyperborean, to join all the rest in swelling the pomp of sorrow, that lays down the liveries of nature, to their long hibernating sleep. From all these a soft sweet sadness creeps over the heart, stealing from its urn the tribute of a tear, and as the tear crystalizes in hope, we see through the light of the crystal, that though the flowers may fade away from sight and laugh and dance no longer in the rosy beams of morn, or wave in the twilight splendors, the leafy robes, the pride and glory of the grand old forest be swept away, by the breath of autumnal frosts, they only wait the coming of Maytime again, when the soft breath of the south wind shall sweep over the dead robes and they shall all grow and bloom and sing again, full of life and eloquent with bliss, in forms of star-like brilliancy. The glory of man is as these. When the Autumn of our time shall come, we shall "wither as the grass, fade as the flower," and sleep through the winter of time and our forms moulder away to their original elements, but we shall not sleep always; when the winter is over and gone, the long icy winter of death and time—the spring time will come—the voice of the heavenly Turtle will be heard, saying, "Lo! the winter is past, the rain is over and gone," and then shall the warm loving breath of God be breathed over the wintry waste of Death's Empire, and the bright flowers and glorious plants of our dead humanity shall all spring to life again, and every form and face beam with the lineaments of Eternal Beauty, to live in a clime that never feels the invasion of blight or death. It is good for the soul to send out such reflections as these; they are pioneering a path that shall hereafter bloom on the sight. It is leading to where fountains of joy gush up to lave our toil stained feet as we press on to the mount of God: where the soul shall see grander domes and loftier spires gleaming in glory's unclouded sphere, than were ever wrought by the loftiest leaps of our fancy. They plant the Rainbow athwart the frowning brow of the last raging storm of earthly sorrow, and kindle afresh a love for him, who sits upon the Throne of Mercy, to give good gifts to the children of men.

C. C. DODSON.

Pittsboro, Nov. 1st, 1875.

TIME AND ETERNITY.—Each moment of time is one of the successive and separate letters of the alphabet, which go to make up the great book of eternity And eternity being the sum of [illegible] duration, the [illegible] sense of beauty to exist in the higher sense, we are [illegible] the letters of that [illegible] be written on our [illegible] destinies for ourselves. To [illegible] moment by living [illegible] with the [illegible] requirements of the moment, is to [illegible] [illegible] of the [illegible] —Selected.

Apostolic Baptism.

One distinguishing feature of the baptismal rite, as practiced in the apostolic age, was: It could be administered in any place, or at any moment of time. Wherever the apostles preached they could there and then baptize. In Jerusalem, or in the desert, in the jail at Philippi, or the house of Judas, it was always convenient and easy to baptize. The New Testament mentions baptizing in all these places and never hints of difficulty, delay, or preparation. Midnight was as favorable as noon for the performance of baptism. Whole families were baptized inside of an hour after hearing the Gospel, and thousands received baptism apparently in the very first place of their conviction, on the very day when they gladly received the Word, and without moving a step in search of water. All this can be accounted for on the principle that baptism was performed by sprinkling. It cannot be accounted for on any other principle. As far as we conveniently can, let us teach our people the beauty, simplicity, and convenience of apostolic baptism.—Methodist Protestant.

Don't Girls.

Don't think that yards and yards of ribbons, ruffles and laces will add one particle to your value. Don't make a walking milliner's shop or a jeweler's store of yourselves; covering all that is of true merit within you with that which will only attract the shallow brained. Don't think sensible people are to be deceived with vain show; they look for beauty of heart and mind. Don't flatter yourselves it is smart to affect ignorance of it. Don't give the subject of matrimony a thought while you are in your teens, except to qualify yourself for the responsible position it places you in; you need all of that time of your life to fit yourselves for it. You need to study books, the laws of life and health; to be well experienced in the culinary art, as perhaps the happiness and health of hundreds are depending on your knowledge of this. Don't devote your time and talents to the world, or to seeking the things of time and sense that perish with their using God has created you for a nobler purpose, and made you accountable for what he has given you.—Don't sell your birthright for a mess of pottage.

It is a truly sublime spectacle when, in the stillness of the night, in an unclouded sky, the stars, like the world's choir, rise and set, and, as it were, divide existence into two portions—the one belonging to the earthly is silent in the perfect stillness of the night, whilst the other alone comes forth in sublimity, pomp and majesty. Viewed in this light, the starry heavens truly exercise a moral influence over us; and who can readily stray into the paths of immorality if he has been accustomed to live amid such thoughts and feelings, and frequently to dwell upon them? How are we entranced by the empty splendors of this wonderful drama of nature.—Wilhelm von Humboldt.

CRITICISING PREACHING.—I never suffer myself to criticise it, but always act upon the uniform principle of endeavoring to obtain from what I hear all the edification it affords. This is a principle that I would warmly commend to my young friends in the present day—for nothing can be more mischievous than for learners to turn teachers, and young hearers critics. I am persuaded it is one way of drying up the waters of life in the soul; and sure I am that an exact method of weighing words and balancing doctrines which we hear is a miserable exchange for tenderness of the spirit and the dew of heaven.—G. J. Gurney.

PATIENCE THE CROWN.—People are always talking of perseverance and courage and fortitude; but patience is the finest and worshiest part of fortitude, and the rarest too. I have known twenty persevering girls to one patient one; but it is only the twenty first one who can do her work, out and out, and enjoy it. For patience lies at the root of all pleasures as well as of all powers.—Ruskin.

NO DISCOUNT.—A sharp-nosed woman with gray hair called at the Grand Trunk ticket office yesterday and after buying one ticket to Port Huron she asked the agent:

"Say, can't a fool ride for half fare?"

"How old is he?" asked the agent.

"Fifty three"

"No madame, you will have to buy a ticket."

"And you won't throw off?"

"Couldn't, madame."

She went around to the other side of the office where her husband sat on a trunk and reaching out for more money she said:

"Stop looking cross eyed and give [illegible] for we can't discount a cent's worth."

Apostolic Baptism.

One distinguishing feature of the baptismal rite, as practiced in the apostolic age, was: It could be administered in any place, or at any moment of time. Wherever the apostles preached they could there and then baptize. In Jerusalem, or in the desert, in the jail at Philippi, or the house of Judas, it was always convenient and easy to baptize. The New Testament mentions baptizing in all these places and never hints of difficulty, delay, or preparation. Midnight was as favorable as noon for the performance of baptism. Whole families were baptized inside of an hour after hearing the Gospel, and thousands received baptism apparently in the very first place of their conviction, on the very day when they gladly received the Word, and without moving a step in search of water. All this can be accounted for on the principle that baptism was performed by sprinkling. It cannot be accounted for on any other principle. As far as we conveniently can, let us teach our people the beauty, simplicity, and convenience of apostolic baptism.—Methodist Protestant.

Don't Girls.

Don't think that yards and yards of ribbons, ruffles and laces will add one particle to your value. Don't make a walking milliner's shop or a jeweler's store of yourselves; covering all that is of true merit within you with that which will only attract the shallow brained. Don't think sensible people are to be deceived with vain show; they look for beauty of heart and mind. Don't flatter yourselves it is smart to affect ignorance of it. Don't give the subject of matrimony a thought while you are in your teens, except to qualify yourself for the responsible position it places you in; you need all of that time of your life to fit yourselves for it. You need to study books, the laws of life and health; to be well experienced in the culinary art, as perhaps the happiness and health of hundreds are depending on your knowledge of this. Don't devote your time and talents to the world, or to seeking the things of time and sense that perish with their using God has created you for a nobler purpose, and made you accountable for what he has given you.—Don't sell your birthright for a mess of pottage.

It is a truly sublime spectacle when, in the stillness of the night, in an unclouded sky, the stars, like the world's choir, rise and set, and, as it were, divide existence into two portions—the one belonging to the earthly is silent in the perfect stillness of the night, whilst the other alone comes forth in sublimity, pomp and majesty. Viewed in this light, the starry heavens truly exercise a moral influence over us; and who can readily stray into the paths of immorality if he has been accustomed to live amid such thoughts and feelings, and frequently to dwell upon them? How are we entranced by the empty splendors of this wonderful drama of nature.—Wilhelm von Humboldt.

CRITICISING PREACHING.—I never suffer myself to criticise it, but always act upon the uniform principle of endeavoring to obtain from what I hear all the edification it affords. This is a principle that I would warmly commend to my young friends in the present day—for nothing can be more mischievous than for learners to turn teachers, and young hearers critics. I am persuaded it is one way of drying up the waters of life in the soul; and sure I am that an exact method of weighing words and balancing doctrines which we hear is a miserable exchange for tenderness of the spirit and the dew of heaven.—G. J. Gurney.

PATIENCE THE CROWN.—People are always talking of perseverance and courage and fortitude; but patience is the finest and worshiest part of fortitude, and the rarest too. I have known twenty persevering girls to one patient one; but it is only the twenty first one who can do her work, out and out, and enjoy it. For patience lies at the root of all pleasures as well as of all powers.—Ruskin.

NO DISCOUNT.—A sharp-nosed woman with gray hair called at the Grand Trunk ticket office yesterday and after buying one ticket to Port Huron she asked the agent:

"Say, can't a fool ride for half fare?"

"How old is he?" asked the agent.

"Fifty three"

"No madame, you will have to buy a ticket."

"And you won't throw off?"

"Couldn't, madame."

She went around to the other side of the office where her husband sat on a trunk and reaching out for more money she said:

"Stop looking cross eyed and give [illegible] for we can't discount a cent's worth."

Moral Courage in Daily Life.

"Moral Courage," was printed in large letters as the caption of the following items, and placed in a conspicuous place on the door of a systematic merchant in New York, for constant reference, and furnished by him for publication:

Have the courage to discharge a debt while you have the money in your possession.

Have the courage to do without that which you do not need, however much your eyes may covet it.

Have the courage to speak to a friend in a seedy coat, even though you are in company with a rich one, and richly attired.

Have the courage to speak your mind when it is necessary that you should do so, and hold your tongue when it is prudent that you should do so.

Have the courage to own that you are poor, and thus disarm poverty of its sting.

Have the courage to tell a man why you refuse to credit him.

Have the courage to cut the most agreeable acquaintance you have when you are convinced that he lacks principle—a friend should bear with a friend's infirmities, but not with his vices.

Have the courage to show your respect for honesty, in whatever guise it appears, and your contempt for dishonesty and duplicity, by whomsoever exhibited.

Have the courage to prefer comfort and propriety to fashion in all things.

Have the courage to acknowledge your ignorance, rather than to seek for knowledge under false pretenses.

Have the courage in providing an entertainment for your friends not to exceed your means.

REPENTANCE AND PARDON.—Whilst you cannot feel too keenly, do not wait for feeling. No sorrow for the past can be too poignant, but do not wait for that sorrow. If the prodigal had not arisen till he was satisfied with his own repentance, he would have died in the far country. The tears which do not flow from the truant eyes of famine, will come unbidden at the feast of fat things, and the fountains of the great deep, which freeze in the winter of remoteness and estrangement, will break up and brim over in the sunshine of Mercy. The word which you take, be it what it may—"Father, I have sinned, and am no more worthy to be called thy son;" "Take away mine iniquity, and receive me graciously"—whatever the word may be, let it be a true one, and swifter than you return will be the footsteps of forthcoming pardon, and great as may be your own joy in resuming and restoring grace, no less will be the joy in heaven over your repentance. "—Rev. J. Hamilton, D. D.

The glorious autumn weather has come again—how delightful, how invigorating! And yet the cool, beautiful days will carry to many a door a hearse which might be kept away. And why? Merely for the want of a little fire morning and evenings, and an increased warmth of clothing. Do not postpone undergarments for yourselves, and especially do not postpone putting them on the children. Otherwise dysentery, or typhoid fever—that terrible disease—or illness in some other form, may enter your dwellings and bear off some loved inmate. Warm clothing; timely fires; warm hearts; cheerfulness; health and happiness; these all belong together in our autumn.

The foundation-stone of a new Methodist church was laid at Cape Town, Africa, recently. The Governor of the colony and many of the Legislature were present. Wesleyan Methodism is spreading in South Africa.

Sunday the 31st ult. Moody and Sankey began their series of revival services in Brooklyn, New York. At 3.30 there were about five thousand persons in attendance, and at four in the afternoon the large building was packed, and at least five thousand were unable to gain admission.

It is quite easy to perform our duties when they are pleasant, and imply no self sacrifice; the test of principle is to perform them with equal readiness when they are onerous and disagreeable.

If we would have powerful minds, we must think; if we would have faithful hearts, we must love; if we would have vigorous muscles, we must labor; and these three—thought, love, labor—include all that is valuable in life.

The gospel has for centuries been gradually overturning individuals to itself; it has [illegible] unalterably established government.

At a court martial, a young Irish [illegible] when questioned whether he had [illegible] given the lie to a certain person, replied: "No; I only said that either he or the colonel had told a lie, but I was sure it wasn't the colonel."

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE—Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev J. B. Bobbitt, R. T Gray, Esq., } Editors.

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID,	$2.20
IN MONTHS, " "	1,85
If payment be delayed six months,	2.70

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Editors of the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

RALEIGH, N. C., NOVEMBER 17, 1875.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly.

Conference.

Two weeks hence, the session of our annual Conference begins at Wilmington. There is much to do on the various pastoral charges in the way of perfecting the work of the year. We fear that the exhibit of the financial interests of the church from many charges will fall short of what it ought to be. Many people will take refuge in the plea of 'hard times' and try to excuse themselves from giving, not liberally, but even that degree of support to the church and its various interests that they have been accustomed to give. Instead of contracting the amount which they yield to the support of the gospel, men ought always to increase it—instead of retrograding they ought to take a step forward, and grow in liberality as they grow in grace and years. "Hard times" affect preachers, and Bishops, widows and orphans, missionaries and worn-out and infirm ministers of the gospel as much as, or more than, they affect men engaged in secular business; and the more that members of the church contract their giving, the 'harder' are the times for those at work in the spiritual vineyard. In becoming preachers of the gospel, men do not lose their appetite for food nor dispense with the necessity of wearing decent and comfortable clothes: if it were so, then those to whom they preach might have some excuse for tightening the purse-strings. Economy in expenses is at all times commendable—in hard times particularly so—but there is or should be no such thing as economy in the performance of duty. To perform a duty grudgingly and sparingly, because it requires some sacrifice of convenience or money, is to be guilty of a heinous offence against the moral law. In excusing one's self from giving, it will not do to quote Paul's words to Timothy, "If any man provide not for his own, and specially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith and is worse than an infidel," for it has no application, except in making the duty of supporting the ministry more apparent. Man's first duty is to his God and the spread of his gospel—if a member of the church is really a member of Christ's household, he must provide for those whom Christ has sent into the world without scrip or bread or money and who are "specially of his own house;" unless he does so provide, he does indeed "deny the faith and is worse than an infidel."

This year has been notable for the work of the Holy Spirit throughout our Conference. In almost every station and circuit there has been a great outpouring of Divine goodness and mercy. In some charges, the church has been revived as never before, sinners converted and added to the household of faith. For this the church should be grateful and should strive to be worthy of still greater blessings. God requires piety and purity of heart, zeal in christian work and the devotion of much of men's energy and worldly estate to the support of christian enterprises. We should be glad to see every interest of the church reported at Conference as fully sustained throughout our bounds. By an earnest effort during the time that remains, our people on stations and circuits, whether the pastor be personally present or not, can render gratifying accounts to our Bishop and his Council.

We are indebted to Rev. F. D. Swindell for a club of 14 new subscribers to the Advocate since our last; also to Bro. M. A. Abernethy for a club of 22 new subscribers since our last. He says the "most of these are young converts."

Within the past few weeks we have entered a large number of names upon our books. We can but express our gratitude to the brethren who are so zealously at work for the Advocate.—As we have said on former occasions, if all our preachers would present and urge the claims of the Advocate we should soon have ten thousand subscribers.

We have on hand several interesting communications which will receive attention in due time. We trust the writers will not grow impatient at what may appear delay in their publication.

We will publish next week the letters of Dr. Deems to Dr. Kennedy, of the Southern Christian Advocate in reference to the "Capers Letter" which has called forth much discussion since its appearance. We will also reproduce an editorial from the N. Y. Methodist on the same subject.

Thanksgiving Day.

As will be seen from the proclamation of Governor Brogden, Thursday the 25th inst. has been set apart as a day of thanksgiving for the people of this State. President Grant has also designated the same as a day of national prayer and thanksgiving. The custom, although its beauty and propriety commend it to all nations, is we believe peculiar to the United States. It originated among the Puritans of New England in the dark days of its early settlement, and is said by Dr. Franklin to have been proposed as a substitute for a day of fasting, by an old farmer who, in a public assembly, said that instead of burdening the ear of Providence with complaints, it would be more becoming to thank God for the manifold mercies and blessings which they were constantly enjoying. Since that time, the custom has grown in popular favor, and our Presidents and Governors have annually recognized the Christian tendencies of the nation and shown reverence for the Ruler of rulers, by calling upon the people of the nation to unite their grateful hearts and raise the glad psalm of praise and gratitude to Him in whose hands lies the destiny of the frail fabrics which men have framed and called governments.

Men should live lives of thanksgiving to God for mercies. The goodness of God is so abundant and lasting—his blessings so lavish from the first dawn of existence to the going down of life's sun—his Providence so complete and kind—that men's hearts should always overflow with gratitude and their lips always frame new songs of praise. Nevertheless, it is eminently proper that a people should have some special day on which to make, as a nation, their recognition of their dependence upon God and their acknowledgments of His goodness.

As a Nation we have much to be thankful for. War has not raised its horrid front within or without our borders, and the mellow notes of peace are heard instead of the clang and crash of battling hosts The bitterness which has divided the sections, North and South, is passing away—the strongly defined lines which separated Northern and Southern brothers are fading and receding from sight, and warm fraternal feeling is gradually welding the divided sections into one. The past year has been remarkable for the growth of this fraternal feeling. The thoughts of our people have been turned, by the celebration of great events, to the hours when our ancestors were joined in a common struggle, faced by common dangers, involved in common sufferings, cheered by common hopes and achieved a common liberty. Our country has been visited by no plague or famine, but bounteous harvests have repaid the toil of husbandry. Though financial gloom has overspread some quarters and caused decay in some worldly fortunes, yet no national distress has followed; and the stringency in the money market will prove a blessing in disguise, bringing about more economy and destroying the gambling and speculating spirit which has seized upon the country.

The church has reason for hearty thanksgiving. During the past year, revivals of true and pure religion have been frequent and powerful. Satan's kingdom has been shaken and the kingdom of God established in hearts and sections where it was before unknown. The church has been clothed with power and it ought to give praise and magnify the name of its Holy Founder.

As individual men and women we have been blessed and should observe the day set apart for thank-offerings. We have life and liberty, the protection of the laws, the conveniences and comforts of civilization, the privileges of schools, colleges and churches, a healthy climate, clear skies, pure air and limpid streams, fertile soil and bounteous harvests. We have homes and friends and though our purses may not be full or our tables spread with the luxuries of every clime, we live in a land where honest labor meets its reward, and in a world that will not let an honest, industrious man or woman starve.

Plato thanked the God, whom Nature revealed to him, for three things; first, that he was created a man and not a beast; second, that he was born a Grecian and not a barbarian; thirdly, that not only so, but a philosopher also. For these blessings he considered that he should be always grateful, even in the face of personal misfortune and affliction. How much more should we thank our God that he has made us not only human, the resident, of a free and enlightened country, with the advantages that advanced science and art afford; but also that we live in a christian land, enjoying the benefits and pleasures of Christ's holy religion and possessing the hope of a blissful immortality hereafter? Let us be thankful for everything, and let "the choral song ascend, to celebrate our God."

Rev. E. W. Thompson, of Fayetteville Station, has been conducting a series of meetings, assisted by Rev. T. W. Guthrie. We have not learned what the results have been.

Rev. Dr. Vaughn, of Virginia, has occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian Church in this city for several Sabbaths recently. He is an able minister and his sermons have made a most excellent impression.

EARTHLY prosperity should be estimated by its influence on the soul.

Love-Feasts.

In the earlier days of Methodism love-feasts were highly esteemed by our ministry and laity. By many they are still regarded as the best meetings of the church. Traces of their humbling, cementing effect upon the membership were in former times everywhere to be seen, and even now where they are kept up they are followed by the best results. The church that adheres to the old land-marks, esperially class-meetings and love-feasts, is remarkable for spiritual power and influence for good. It is well that these meetings should be kept up on all our charges. We find some valuable reflections upon this subject in the Holston Advocate, which we copy in part into our columns. The writer says:

"Our love feast, as is well known, is a substitute for the primitive "feast of charity," in which the poor of the Church were the guests. The charity of the more able of the Church furnished the poor with an ordinary meal, who partook with them of their own bounty, in token of Christian unity, friendship and love; and the poor guests were made to feel that they were one with their richer brethren, while they partook gratefully, joyfully, and bountifully. In our former lovefeasts, the substitute more nearly resembled the primitive feast, in that all pride and ostentation were banished from the banquet, and all appeared and partook together as "the Lord's poor." It is not so now, where pride, in haughty dress, opens wide her powdered lips, and devours the poor children's bread. Previously, there was consistency between the feast and the guests; there is none now.

"The previous mode of conducting love-feasts precluded the chief embarrassment to an open acknowledgment of Jesus, in that none were allowed to be present except the acknowledged children of God, and such as desired to learn the way of salvation. It was seldom, in those happy days of the Church, that any found their way into the love feast meeting, "to spy out our liberties." All present were regarded as the friends of God; each felt that He was in his Father's house, and surrounded by none except the children composing his family.—Hence all was favorable to freedom of spirit, and the carrying out of the most interesting and profitable part of the meeting; namely, a brief narration of personal experiences. All felt free, as all felt at home."

How we should like to see one of these ancient love-feasts held. Not a primitive Methodist love-feast; but a primitive Christian love feast; one where the poor of the church, God's dearest children, are brought in to partake of a literal feast of good things to which many of them are strangers, to eat, and talk, and sing, and pray together, and rejoice in anticipation of the great feast, when and where the "whole family in Heaven and Earth" shall feast on the heavenly manna. What a soul-inspiring sight it would be. What light and joyous hearts would beat under its happy impulses. And what a "feast of fat things" it would be to the hearts and minds of the charitable hands who might furnish and spread it. It would be more in its reward than a cup of cold water given in the name of a disciple. It would be accepted as having been done to the blessed Jesus in person—"In as much as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me." And how much more Christian like it would be than a modern church festival is with its "grab bag," its "post office," its "election," and its semi-gambling sports by which money is raised to buy a carpet or to build a house for God. And why not have one? How easily it could be done. And how much like the perfume of "ointment poured forth" it would be. And what a felicitous time it would be to have one on the coming Christmas eve.'

NOTICE.

Any person sending us the following numbers of the Raleigh CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE will confer a favor and receive proper compensation for so doing. The numbers wanted for 1869 and a part of 1870 are the Episcopal Methodist. In 1870 the name of the paper was changed to Christian Advocate. The missing numbers from our file are the issues of July 14th, 1869, No. 28; October 20th, 1869, No. 42; December 15th, 1869, No. 50; December 28th, 1870, No. 50; May 31, 1871, No. 22; August 23d, 1871, No. 33; Oct. 18th, 1871, No. 41; April 24, 1872, No. 17; Jan. 27th 1875, No. 4. It is very important that we keep a complete file, and we shall be obliged to any one who will send us the numbers called for.

Conference Notice.

All the rail roads and steamboat lines in this State will pass and return Ministers and delegates to the N. C. Conference, to convene in the city of Wilmington on 1st December, for one first-class fare.

The following roads will give return tickets: Wilmington & Weldon, Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta, North Carolina, N. W. North Carolina, Carolina Central, and Western. The following roads will return those paying first class fare coming, by their presenting a certificate from the Secretary of the Conference: Raleigh & Gaston, Raleigh & Augusta Air Line, Atlantic & North Carolina, and Atlantic, Tennessee & Ohio.

J. E. MANN.

Wilmington, N. C. Nov. 9th, 1875.

Tardy Virtue.

Two or three weeks before the coming of the circus into our State, many of our State secular papers turned themselves into pictorial sheets and blazoned and trumpeted the advent of "the great exposition," publishing complimentary notices and inviting their readers to "go to the circus and have a day of fun."

Since the clowns and riders, animals and tents have gone, leaving their work of demoralization behind, some of these same papers have become virtuous enough to denounce the circus, ridicule the exhibitions and pronounce the actors, managers and hangers-on as pick pockets, thieves and frauds. Accounts are given of pockets picked, innocence injured, ignorance defrauded by thimble-rigging, lotteries and counterfeit money; and the victims, while being pitied, are upbraided for getting into the nets and dens of the spoiler.

This show of virtue and these warning words of wisdom are all very good, but they come too late to be of service or bring consolation.

The experience that has attended the late circus-shows is an experience common to all of them. There is a repetition of the vile scenes and frauds every year, and that it is so is well known to all the papers that praised their coming and now abuse them as they take their leave.

It would have been much better and more virtuous if they had sounded the warning before the circus came. Newspapers are, or ought to be moral guides—sentinels upon the towers. If they retain their wisdom to themselves and allow their trumpets to be silent until the enemy has entered and robbed the castle, they do little or no good. Advice is needed when a danger is approaching—not after it has come and gone. Virtue should come boldly to the front and meet its opponents;—not hide until they have gone away with trophies and then prate and vaunt its own excellencies.

Centennial! Advocate! Widows! Trinity! Metropolitan Church, et cetera, cum grano salis!

MESSRS EDITORS: The man that wrote the article in your last issue, "Pull the Wires," ought to be "called out" to a duel. Please "call him;" and then—you meet him. I endorse Bro. Hudson's centennial; but think the brethren are spreading the plaster too thin to draw good. However, we can get in a few leeches to help draw, especially Ad. and the Gen'l, who always draw (on their imagination.)—The fable tells of an old bird that kept her fledglings in the old nest just so long as the farmer looked for his neighbor to cut his rye. But when he came one morning with his sons, pulled off his coat and said, "boys, go in!" the old bird told her young that moving day had come! So with Metropolitan churches, Educational enterprises, etc. They are not moved by centennials; but by brain, muscle and money—heartily, continuously. Trinity does not need a centennial. She is a centennial herself! So is the ADVOCATE; and the rest; except the widows—they need help. Only Charities can be moved by "centennials." Our ADVOCATE and our colleges are not Charities; but the heart of all our temporal appliances for good. And it is simply a shame on every Methodist, who is able, that he does not pay for and read his own church paper, and support her Educational enterprises. I am for the centennial, then, in the interest of the "Widows and Orphan's Benefit Society." Bro. Hoyle has struck the right string—practical, charitable, and consequently musical. Sing on brethren, according to Hoyle. There is a beautiful connection, too, between the objective results and the instrumental cause, viz: the widows and orphans of the men who worked down the century benefitted by celebrating the fact. I am in earnest, and if I say anything that sounds funny, it is only because I feel good. But I do say, seriously, that this is a noble thought; and if we succeed in it we are largely dependent upon our church paper.—The newspaper is the great lever of the day which no enterprise can ignore and hope to prosper. It is too late to say that we can get along with this or any other church enterprize without the ADVOCATE, any more than can a political party or a civil government without an organ. I do not hesitate to say that, with few exceptions, to the extent of my limited knowledge, those are the most active Christian Methodist families who take and read the ADVOCATE. It deserves and ought to have 10,000 subscribers. O ye dancing, circus-going Methodists, why will ye spend money for that which is not bread?

Let us have the centennial, then, but not try to pull too long a train with one engine, lest down in the valley it breathe its life away in fizz and puff. The nugget of gold in the overhanging rock, and its image reflected in the wavelets below, cannot be secured with a fishing-net. If you work on the rock you gain the prize. If you dip below for all the watery images, you end in splash! The largest rivers have the least crook.—Push on in one direction, and you will constitute a stream that will reflect the stars.

Yours truly,

E. A. YATES.

Vanderbilt University, including its medical, law, theological and literary departments, now numbers four hundred students.

News from the Churches.

Rev. L. E. Stacy writes under date of Nov. 11th, says: "We have had some interesting revivals on the Madison circuit this fall, which have resulted in the conversion of many souls and several additions to the church. We hope do more for the ADVOCATE."

Rev. F. D. Swindell, in charge of Tarboro circuit, writes as follows:

"The revival at McKendree Chapel, Edgecombe county, closed on the night of the 29th of October, after lasting four weeks. The number of accessions to the church was 34. We have abundant reasons for praising God, for such a work of grace. When a revival goes on here, it is in opposition to the life long prejudices, and education of the masses. I have this year received 45 into the church. To God be all the praise!"

Rev. J. T. Bagwell, writing from Elizabethtown, says:

"We have had protracted meetings at most of the appointments on the Elizabeth circuit, at all of which we have had considerable revival interest. Results so far are: several persons have professed conversion, and between forty and fifty have joined the M. E. Church, South. We expect to protract the meeting at two other appointments.

Pray for us, that the Spirit of God may be poured out upon us more abundantly."

A friend from Kenansville sends us the following for publication:

"During the past six months Rev. W. N. Conoley, in connection with Rev. G. C. Garriss, senior preacher of the Circuit, has labored with great success among us. Bro. Conoley is a very talented young minister, filled with religion, and having great zeal and energy in the work of saving souls. He has succeeded in inducing the people to attend on the public worship, and his congregations are very large and attentive. He has been holding protracted meetings throughout the circuit, and his labors have been blessed in an extraordinary manner. God's spirit has been poured out upon the church, christians have been revived, sinners have been convicted, and over a hundred persons have professed conversion. Kenansville Circuit is now in a better condition than it has been for years before. Bro. Conoley's last sermon at Kenansville was exceedingly impressive; the deep sense of the minister's responsibility resting upon him, the touching allusions to the Saviour's dying love, the earnest persuasions and fearful appeals to the sinner, where sotemnand pathetic and must resnlt in much good.

He has endeared himself to many and is decidedly popular with all denominations as well as non-professors.

The people throughout the circuit would be delighted to have him returned, and as he has succeeded in getting them to attend church, he may hereafter succeed in slackening the purse strings sufficiently to obtain a good salary, and with God's blessing extend revivals throughout the circuit.

We have just passed through a glorious revival at Kenansville, several conversions and accessions to the church. We feel much strengthened and encouraged, and hope much good has been done."

MESSRS EDITORS: The last protracted meeting for Alamance circuit closed last week. It was held at Company Shops. It lasted over three weeks. Christians were greatly revived, many backsliders reclaimed, and thirty seven professed conversion. Twenty-two joined our Church and others will.

Brother H. P. Cole, of Hillsboro station, was with me two days at the beginning of the meeting and rendered valuable assistance. Then came to my assistance Bro. J. R. Brooks, of Goldsboro station, who preached sixteen times, besides rendering valuable service in the altar. He greatly endeared himself to the people of Company Shops and vicinity by his efficient and zealous labors. Among those added to the Church was his brother A. D. Brooks, a graduate of Trinity College, who has established a school at this place. Rev. C. N. Morrow, of the Presbyterian Church, preached two zealous sermons the last two nights of the meeting. Young Bro. Holt and Iseley of the Christian Church rendered assistance. The laymen of our own Church and other Churches were very zealous. Daniel Worth, of the Friends, was frequently moved to pray and to speak. It was a meeting of unusual power and its influence seems to have been general, reaching the very best and lowest states of society.

The flourishing lodge of Good Templars and the large Union Sunday School under the superintendency of Capt. W. T. Thornburg, assisted by an able corps of teachers did much to prepare the way for this good meeting.

The day before we commenced our meeting at the Shops we closed a very interesting meeting at Clover Garden, which lasted a week. Nine professed conversion during the meeting and several others at their homes since the meeting closed.

Our Camp-meeting at Phillips' Chapel, which was held the first week in September, was quite a success. Nine professed conversion, and the membership was greatly revived. The preaching at this meeting was mostly done by our P. E., L. L. Hendren, J. W. Jenkins and Wm. H. Moore, and fortunate is the Camp meeting that is served by such a trio. I also had a good meeting at Macedonia.

The best of spirit provails among the many denominations in the bounds of this county. Our Church is growing here; we number now about four hundred and seventy members, most large enough to swarm. My time will be out here at Conference. Here is a field of promise for some active man. Alamance county is destined to be one of the leading counties in the state. Large manufactories for cotton, tobacco and leather are being built, in additon to those that are already in successful operation.

I have received many tokens of appreciation since I have been laboring among this people. On last Monday a week ago, Bro. John Roberson, Agent for Singer's Machine Company, brought to my house a seventy-five dollar sewing maching, as a present from the Company Shops congregation. Many thanks to him and the good people of Company Shops.

R. S. WEBB.

Nov, 10th, 1875.

Current Notes.

The round of our Annual Conferences is still being continued, and, so far as we can learn from the reports already in, there has been advancement during the past year in almost every interest of the Church. Whether that advancement is what it might have been, or ought to have been, is more than we can tell.

A monument to be placed over the grave of the late Dr. A. L. P. Green has arrived at Nashville. The Advocate says it is of Carrara marble, and was cut at Carrara, Italy, at a cost of $4,000. It is thirty-five feet in height, has a cross and crown in bass-relief in front, and is surmounted with a figure representing an angel pointing upward.

One of the most influential colored Methodist preachers in Mississippi urges his race in a printed address to give the leagues and clubs a wide berth, act with the white property-holders, vote only for honest and capable men, and do their part toward getting the color line out of politics. Incidentally he alludes to the Ames administration as "so notoriously corrupt that it is a by-word and a reproach wherever known." The colored people in Mississippi seem to have taken his ad vice.

The world moves and the Baptist Churches are moving. Our readers are aware that for years a movement against the groundless dogma of close communion has been going on in Baptist Churches in this country. We find the following in the papers:

"Boston, October 20.—The Warren Avenue Baptist Church has stricken out that portion of the declaration of faith which makes immersion a prerequisite to communion. The Church is one hundred and twenty-five years old."

This is a sign from one of the oldest Baptist Churches in this country.—Richmond Advocate.

At the recent session of the Holston Conference, the following transfers were announced by Bishop McTyeire:—C. M. Brown, B. R. Wilburn and S. S. Weatherly from the Holston to the Baltimore Conference; W. B. Lyda from the Indian Mission to the Holston Conference; Herbert P. Myers from the South Georgia to the Holston Conference; Wm. E. Munsey to the Louisiana Conference.

Religious Brevities.

A correspondent of the New York Advocate, who recently visited Basle, Switzerland, the city of Erasmus, reports that the Methodist Episcopal Church there, has a membership of 350, with an average congregation of 400.

The Western N. Y. Conference, M. E. Church, favored the election of presiding elders. The New York Advocate says 'most of the old men and all the presiding elders, it is said, voted in the affirmative.'

The Methodist Episcopal Church Tract Board has voted two thousand dollars to continue the publication of the "Lesson Tract" for the South during 1876.

In Uruguay, South America, 1,460 copies of the Bible have been circulated in the last three months, and 1,395 of them were sold in eighteen different towns.

The Warren Avenue Baptist Church, Boston, Dr. G. F. Pentecost, pastor, having listened to a series of sermons on the subject from their pastor, have voted unanimously in favor of open communion.

At the Methodist Conference of Central New York at which 250 ministers were present, the fact was brought out that the average age a which the members were converted was fifteen—the youngest ten and the oldest twenty.

The Illinois Conference resolved, "That we respectfully request the next General Conference to abolish the supernumerary and superannuated relation, and provide for the division of the members of a Conference into effective and non effective members."

We learn that a "Southern Tract Association for the Promotion of Holiness" has been organized, with its head-quarters at Spartanburg, S. C. An "organ" named the Evangelist has been already issued by the Association.

State News.

Major Petty, of the firm of Petty & Jones, has gone North for his second supply of winter goods.

The Sheriff of Wayne county brought six colored persons to the Penitentiary last Wednesday.

Dr. Hawkins has returned from the Hot Springs of Arkansas much improved.

Mrs. Julia A. Gilmer, wife of the late Hon. Jno. A. Gilmer, died in Greensboro on the 5th inst., aged 65.

The attendance on the Yearly Meeting of Friends at New Garden, Guilford co. recently, was estimated at 4,000.

The Greensboro Merchants are discussing the propriety of doing a strictly cash business, or requiring all accounts to be settled at the end of thirty days.

A boy, while playing ball in Graham, a few days in Alamance county, ran against a play mate with such force as to break one bone of his left arm below the elbow.

A new Council of Friends of Temperance was organized in this city last week under the most favorable auspices. Rev. Dr. Burkhead was elected President of the Council.

A fire occurred at the Nense Paper Mills on the 9th instant. A house used for lodging for employees of the factory was consumed by the flames The furniture and other contents were saved.

Our townsman, R. Greer, a skilled worker in wood, carried off the premium at the Weldon fair for a double-shafted wagon, and for a patented dump-cart.

Governor Brogden has appointed J. R. Good, colored, of Newbern, a member of the insane asylum board of directors, in place of G. W. Brodie, colored.

Mr. Heartt, the City Treasurer, paid last week the municipal officers and employees for the month of August, leaving two months' wages still in arrears. The amount paid to salaried officers and policemen was $2,544.72; the street hands and teamsters received $629.75.—Two months' pay is yet due.

A fox-hunting party consisting of twenty one men, forty-two dogs (among whom, that is, the men) were several prominent visitors from the North, guests of Judge Settle and Gen. Douglass, killed one fox in Rockingham county recently. A National Fox-hunting Association was formed and Leu Anderson, Esq., was elected president thereof.

Three barns have recently been burned in Rowan and Iredell counties. The burning of McNeely's has been published in this paper. Mr. John Goodman, of Iredell, in removing his horses nearly lost his own life, and was severely burned. Mr. Drumwright, of Iredell, lost the contents of his tobacco barn by inattention, says the American.

At the Annual stockholders meeting, of the Air-Line Railroad at Atlanta on Wednesday, Col. A. S. Buford was re-elected President with nearly the old Board of Directors. J. H. Wilson succeeds Mr. Wm. J. Yates, resigned.

The Fayetteville Gazette informs us that an enthusiastic meeting held at Newton Grove, Sampson county, recently, subscribed $2,000 toward a survey of the Fayetteville & Goldsboro Railroad. A meeting held at Grant & Harris' store, Wayne county, on the 30th made a small subscription for the same purpose. It is the intention of the President to organize a corps for the survey, and have it in the field by the 22d of this month.

The survey of the Fayetteville and Goldsboro Railroad, says the MESSENGER, will be commenced on the 22d inst. About $200 is yet needed to defray the expenses of the survey.

It is expected that the U. S. Court House and Post Office now in course of erection in this city, will be finished by the 4th July 1877. Active work began on it in April 1874. It is estimated that it will cost $325,000.

Dr. Edward Warren formerly of this State, has resigned his position as surgeon in chief of the Egyptian army, on account of painful opthalmia, and has located in Paris for the practice of his profession.

One of a gang of peddlers who had an affray with a party of circus men at Wadesboro, is supposed to have been killed, not having been heard of since.

The ladies of the Methodist Church in Wadesboro are taking a deep interest in the project of building a parsonage for their pastor. One gentleman proposes to give the necessary shingles for the building.

The Raleigh Light Infantry won the silk banner offered at the Wilmington Fair for the best drilled company. A Norfolk company as well as one from Wilmington competed for the flag.

The State Council of the Friends of Temperance will meet in Lumberton on the 4th Wednesday in this month.

The Biblical Recorder believes, on what seems good authority, that the chair used by General Washington while he was Master of the Lodge in Alexandria, Va., is now in possession of the Masonic Lodge in Edenton, N. C.—that it was sent thither for safe keeping in the Revolutionary war.

The Salisbury WATCHMAN says that Hon. F. E. Shober has promising prospects of being elected Principal Clerk of the next House of Representatives at Washington.

Mr. Charlie Nelson, switchtender of the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad at Goldsboro, was killed by a train coming unexpectedly upon him. He was knocked down by a backing train and run over before he could recover himself, his body being fearfully mutilated.

Little Sam Johnson who recently killed his younger brother in Salisbury, submitted through his counsel to a verdict of manslaughter, and was sentenced to an imprisonment of four months in the county jail of Rowan. The WATCHMAN says: "It appears to have been a case of unintentional and perhaps justifiable homicide. A difficulty was causelessly provoked by the brother who was killed, when one held Sam, while another beat him over the head with a heavy bed slat—which the judge pronounced a deadly weapon—and when he tore loose from them he "jobbed his knife into Fred," to use his own expression, producing the wound from which he died."

The Rev. Joshua Day, pastor of the North Baptist Church, Newark, New Jersey, was stricken with apoplexy in his pulpit on last Sunday morning, while preaching, and fell prostrate to the floor. There is but little hope of his recovery.

Rev. John Goode, of the Irish Wesleyan Conference, from Ballygrane, the place from which Philip Embury and Barbara Heck emigrated to America, is in Canada, soliciting aid to complete two Methodist churches in that part of the country.

DEATH OF CAPT. PLATO DURHAM.—The Charlotte OBSERVER announces the death of Plato Durham, on Saturday the 6th inst. at 6 o'clock. He had been ill for several weeks and was aware of his approaching end. During the Constitutional Convention of 1868 he won a State representation for his boldness and courage. In 1870 he was elected to Congress, but his competitor, Mr. Jones, acquired the seat. In 1874 he was defeated for Congress by Gen. Redd. Vance, the regular Democratic candidate. He was a member of the late Convention and was conspicuous for his knowledge of parliamentary law. Though possessed of faults, his death is greatly mourned in the State, and particularly in Cleveland county, where he was very popular and influential.

SOUTHERN HISTORICAL MONTHLY.—Col. S. D. Pool announces through the SOUTHERN HOME his intention to convert OUR LIVING AND OUR DEAD into a publication to be entitled the SOUTHERN HISTORICAL MAGAZINE. The first number will be issued on the 10th of December and will consist of 144 pages of historical and literary matter. Col. Pool in his letter says,

"I trust an effort will be made in every Southern State to give this enterprise sufficient encouragement to make it worthy of the people of the South, a true exponent of their highest type of manhood, and a faithful mirror of the motives which governed, and the heroic deeds which rendered world-famous the officers, soldiers and sailors of the lost Cause."

THE WIDE-AWAKE.—We have received three or four numbers of a sprightly little paper, with the above title, published in Fayetteville by H. J. McDuffie, Esq. formerly of the Shelby Aurora It is neatly printed, well edited and sustains the impression made by its name. We wish it may "live long and prosper."

The Goldsboro RECORD has discontinued its semi-weekly edition on account of insufficient patronage. The weekly edition will continue to be published.

General News.

A child of Mr. S. C. Howard, of Spartanburg, was choked to death last week by a screw which she swallowed.

The five participants in the murder of the American missionary John L. Stephens, which occurred at Aintabieo, in March 1870, have been executed.

Reports have been received from various portions of Indiana, Missouri, Illinois and other States that thousands of hogs are dying from cholera.

It is said that Mrs. Abraham Lincoln has entirely recovered from her late aberration of mind.

A monument has recently been erected to Edgar A. Poe, which will soon be dedicated with appropriate ceremonies.

The Grangers of Georgia were fully represented at the South Georgia Fair at Perryville.... The fire at Sherman, Texas on the 24 instant destroyed property to the value of $240,000.

The great law suit of Berringer vs Coxe for two millions of dollars worth of coal lands near Wilkesbarre, Pennsylvania, has been decided in favor of Berringer.

Rumor says that Jas. R. Randal, author of "Maryland, my Maryland" and other poems, at present editor of the Augusta "Constitutionalist" is about to start a new Conservative paper in Columbus.

The Fairfield Herald thinks that the cotton crops of South Carolina will this year amount to 325,000 bales or 75,000 short of the crop of last year.

Miguel Cardova a Spaniard in San Francisco, has one thousand finger rings from all quarters of the globe, representing every nation and age, the most valuable collection in the United States, if not in the world.

Mr. Tennyson is said to be writing a poem on the Prince of Wales' visit to India. His official poems, which number about half a dozen, have not been his most successful, but he has not often had as good a subject as this.

The farmers of Scott county, Iowa, announce that they will market this year 1,000,000 bushels of onions. These, they calculate, will bring them about $700,000.

The Empress of Japan has decided on the erection of a college for young girls who wish to devote themselves to teaching, and has given a liberal sum from her private purse toward the expense of construction.

It is now a law in Egypt that every soldier that enters the army must learn to read and write in Arabic The officers are required to learn some foreign language, either English or French. If the soldiers do not know how to read and write when they enter the service, they are taught by their officers.

The one hundred and fortieth anniversary of the birthday of John Adams was celebrated on Saturday last by the scholars of the Adams' Academy at Quincy, Massachusetts. Addresses were delivered by Chas. Francis Adams, Josiah Quincy and President Eliot, of Harvard College.

The creditors of the firm of Stirling, Abrens & Co., of Baltimore, who failed on the 26th of August last, have decided to put the firm into involuntary bankruptcy.

The ninety-ninth anniversary of the battle of White Plains was celebrated by the Historical Society of Westchester County last week. The address was delivered by ex-Minister John Jay.

The United States Court rooms, in the new Post-office building, in New York, are already pronounced unfit for court purposes, the roar of Broadway making the voices of witnesses and Judge inaudible.

The total number of pensioners on the rolls is 244,821, and the disbursements during the last fiscal year amounted to very nearly thirty millions of dollars.

The London correspondent of the SCOTSMAN hears that the French are anticipated to negotiate with Great Britain for the surrender of their rights of fishing in Newfoundland on the now favorable basis of pecuniary indemnity.

The Atlanta HERALD has the following remedy for epizootic: "A simple and effectual remedy for the cough that gives the principal trouble in this disease: Take brown or black mustard, grind it, and give a teaspoonful scattered over the horse's bran mash or chopped food. Give this much to each feed. It serves to cut the phlegm and gives quick relief."

The Baltimore SUN, treating of cotton manufacture in the south, thinks that before twenty-five years have passed away most of the cotton mills will be found in the South, beside the cotton fields, enjoying virtually a monopoly of the manufacture of cotton in this country.

The loss occasioned by the Virginia City fire is now estimated at $7,500,000. The insurance amounts to about $2,000,000, mostly in foreign companies. The small-pox in the Andes mine has been located, and 2,500 miners thrown out of employment.

President Orton, of the Western Union Telegraph, says that for all telegraphic purposes, the English language, is from 25 to 32 per cent. cheaper than the French, German or any other language, and that the economy of its use has been thoroughly established.

The Pilatka HERALD calculates that in the banks of the St. John's rives were one vast orange grove, the prices would not lessen much, and if they did, even at one dollar per hundred (the lowest estimate) there is more money in it than there is in cotton, rice, wheat or any other kind of produce, and with less risk.

Jefferson Clyne, who lives near Wytheville, Va. is only three feet six inches high in his boots, which are No. 13's. He is seventy years old, weighed 12 pounds at his birth, and now weighs forty-seven pounds.

It is officially reported that Gabbard is to be buried on the 18th proximo Having died on that day six years ago the members of the Institut de Canadien have chosen the anniversary of his death for the day of his burial.

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING, TERMS $2 20 POSTAGE PAID.

Our Agents.

Our Traveling and Local Agents in the bounds of the North Carolina Conference are our authorized agents. Any person sending us ten subscribers, for one year, will receive the paper free.

Our Correspondents.

Communications for publication should be carefully written and on but one side of the sheet. All letters should be addressed to the Editor.

How to Remit.

In sending money, all remittances should be sent in registered letter, post-office order or check. The cost of registration, or Post-Office order can be deducted from the amount to be remitted. Money is sent otherwise entirely at the risk of the sender.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

E. N. Freshman — Advertising Agent.
A. Burdette Smith — Leading Fashions.
National Publishing Co. — Agents wanted for Life of Livingstone.
Wm. Y. McAllister — Magic Lanterns.
D. W. Bain, Grand Secretary, advertises meeting of Grand Lodge of Masons.
Proclamation by Gov. Brogden appointing day of Thanksgiving.
Petty & Jones — for another announcement of goods received. They are receiving more and have a good trade. The senior partner is now in New York selecting a large stock for the winter.
W. H. & R. S. Fraser, the merchant princes of Raleigh, are in constant receipt of new and attractive goods which they sell at prices that cannot be compared. The senior partner, Col. Fraser, has just returned from the North where he spent several weeks stocking the largest and most elegant establishment in the city. To advantage. See their new advertisement.
We invite attention to the new and attractive advertisement of the Singer Sewing Machine Co. which appears in another column. This machine, without doubt, is the best in the market. We are reliably informed that during the past year there were 241,057 of these machines sold, being a much greater number than were sold by any other company. This, of itself, establishes the fact of its real excellence and great popularity. It is a beautiful, strong and easily worked. A committee of experts at various and important fairs, and also at the late State Fair, awarded it the Silver Medal, a gold medal for the best sewing machine.
Dr. St. John's advertising agents peddle only the best and most satisfactory articles, having come to this conclusion. Their principal depot is at Elizabeth, N. J., manufactures 1,000 machines each week, employs 3,000 hands, and has five miles of railway running through its grounds. The wood work of the machines is made at the company's works at South Bend, Ind., at both contiguous to the extensive Western forests of that State. A large factory is also operated at Glasgow, Scotland, which supplies machines for foreign trade or use.
Another point of interest is the purchase by the Singer Company manufacturers of pianos permanently in this section of the State, and Mr. F. W. Heald, who has charge of the concern, is a gentleman of large experience in his business and is receiving the confidence of the people. His store is a perfect model of neatness and its machines are kept in elegant order. The general public and the ladies especially are invited to examine his machines at No. 12 Fayetteville Street. They are sold on the most accommodating terms and warranted for five years.
Mr. Heald, in search of travelling agents for the Singer Machines, is a Christian gentleman and we commend him to the public. We have for several years had one of these machines in use in our family, and it has given universal satisfaction.

Death of Maj. Grice.—Major Grice, of Portsmouth, Va., who was recently elected President of the Raleigh & Gaston, & Raleigh & Augusta Air Line Railroads, died suddenly in Portsmouth on the 12th inst. of apoplexy. He left Raleigh on the 11th in good health and was making preparations to remove his family there this day. He was a man of fine business capacity and a gentleman greatly admired for his many excellent qualities.

Marriages.

In this city, on the 19th inst., by Rev. D. Brantley, Mr. Edward Hinton to Miss Mary Ann Lee.
Married at the Episcopal church in this city on Wednesday morning, Nov. 18th by Rev. W. M. Marshall, Mr. S. S. Morehead and Miss Bettie Grimes.
In this county, Nov. 2, by Rev. R. D. Mace, Mr. Jesse Powell and Miss Ella C. Stallings.
In Davie county, Oct. 29, Mr. Thos. Gaither to Miss Fannie Taylor.
On Thursday morning, Nov. 4, at the residence of the bride's father, by Rev. R. D. Mace, Mr. Wm. B. Kidd, Chesterfield county, S. C., and Miss Annie J. Foster, daughter of Mr. J. Jno. Foster.
In Mecklenburg county, on Ramah Church, the 4th inst., by Rev. C. W. Barr, Mr. John T. Black and Miss Lucy S. Dowdess, daughter of Mr. Alfred Dowdess, deceased.
In Union county, on the 29th ult., by Abraham Trull, Esq., Mr. Benj. F. Helms and Miss Clara, daughter of Mr. Joseph Benson. Also on the 25th inst., by the same, Mr. Samantha Beard.
Married, on the morning of the 27th of October, at Leasburg, Caswell county, N. C., by Rev. A. Watson, Rev. James Wheeler and Mrs. Mary E. Satterfield, daughter of I. M. Fisher, Esq.
At the residence of Wm. Tyer on Nov. 4th, 1875 by Rev. R. S. Webb, Mr. Joseph A. Bostwick to Miss Della A. Tyer, all of Anson county.
By Rev. Thos. W. Smith, at the residence of the bride's father, on the evening of Oct 21, 1875, Mr. E. E. Stell Reed to Miss Mary A. Geddie, all of Cumberland co. N. C.
Married at the residence of Duncan Cooper on the 10th of Nov., by Rev. J. T. Bagwell Mr. Wm. Whitted and Miss Sarah E. Cromartie.

Deaths.

Obituary notices of more than one inch in length without charge. The charge is two cents per word for all words in excess of one inch. Count the lines and allow eight words to the line. In this way you can very easily know the amount to enclose. Solicitations of respect are subject to the same rule.

Died near Walesboro N. C. on 11th day of Oct 1875, Isaac S. Smith, aged 36 yrs. 8 mos. and 11 days. Deceased was a consistent member of the Methodist Episcopal church for about 18 years. He was a kind husband and affectionate father, and a good neighbor. He was a man of peace and quietness, and was highly esteemed by all who knew him. He

Children's Column.

Dolly's Washing-Day.

Sleeves rolled up, and dimpled hands,
By her tiny tub she stands,
Busy as the golden bee,
Singing pretty melodies.
Lots of "pieces" she must do,
All, my dolly dear, for you;
No one minute left for play;
This is dolly's washing day.

Quite upset the play-house there;
And her dolly prime and fair,
In the cradle lies alone,
Very quiet, be it known
Little dresses hang to dry;
Dolly wears them by and by;
Earnest eyes—how bright are they,
All on dolly's washing-day.

Work away, dear rosy hands,
Still beside the tub she stands;
Mother missed her long ago.
Wonders what keeps darling so.
When she asks, a sweet surprise
Wakens in the pretty eyes,
"Dont you know," the arch lips say,
"This is dolly's washing-day?"
—The Nursery.

Grandma and the Strawberries.

Sometime ago I called in to see two little boys (pets of mine) who were just recovering from scarlet fever, and had not yet left their pleasant room. I found them sitting by a little table, busily engaged in removing the hulls from some fine large strawberries.

After the usual kiss of welcome I said, "Where did you get those beautiful berries?"

"Mrs G. brought them to us," said Willie. "Wasn't she kind?"

"She was so," I answered. "There are none in market yet, and will not be for a long time."

Presently a large saucer was filled and Willie said, "Please wash these for me."

I washed and drained them carefully; he covered them plentifully with sugar, and, handing them to me, said, "These are for grandma; won't you please put them in her room?"

Gently removing about one third of them, I said, "Here are as many as grandma will eat."

Willie protested: "O, auntie, it looks mean to send so little."

I reasoned, "You want to save a few for papa and mamma, and you ought to eat some yourself, since Mrs. G. brought them for you."

He yielded, and as I turned to leave the room with the berries Harry called out, "Put a card on, won't you, please? so that grandma will know who sent them." In a moment a card was arranged with their approval—"To our dear grandma, with the love of Willie and Harry."

The berries were placed in grandma's room, where she could see them as soon as she entered; returning, I found them both watching eagerly for her coming. In a little while her feeble step was heard, and the two little faces were bright with expectation. A few moments of waiting, and grandma's voice was heard in glad surprise; and then, in loving tones, she thanked her little darlings for their kind remembrance of her.—Clapping their hands with glee at the success of their loving little plan, they returned to their pleasant employment. A portion of berries was put aside for papa and mamma, for Katie the nurse, and Mena the German girl, and then the little fellows helped themselves to the remainder, enjoying them with a keen relish. I never saw two happier boys. Shall I tell you why? They had the good spirit in their hearts, the spirit of love and kindness, which made them think of and care for others.

A few evenings afterward, as grandma sat in the bay-window talking with a friend, I heard her telling the story, and taking the little card from her pocketbook, she read with evident pleasure the loving words written on it. I said to myself as I looked at her, "How much of sweetness has been dropped into that dear old heart by this little act of loving kindness!"

May God bless these dear boys, and all our dear boys and girls, and fill them with his good spirit, so that their lives may drop sweetness all the time.—AUNT ELIZA, in Christian Advocate.

What a dreadful place a schoolhouse must be, and what shocking things happen there, if the talk of school-children is to be relied upon! Yesterday noon I heard a dozen of them speaking about the various incidents of the day. It was impossible to catch all they said, as three or four talked at once, but I managed to learn these startling facts:

Nelly Jones coughed fit to split her sides!

Kitty Carson nearly died of laughing.

That Lawrence boy actually boiled over with rage.

The teacher's eyes shot fire.

Nelly Murray recited loud enough to take off the roof of the house.

Robby Fitz's eyes grew as big as saucers.

Tommy Hudson almost ran his feet off.

Susie Jennings thought she'd burst.

Ellen Walters broke down completely.

And yet it was an ordinary schoolday.—"Jack in the Pulpit," St. Nicholas for March.

Economy is the parent of integrity, of liberty and of ease; and the sister of temperance, of cheerfulness, and health. Profuseness, on the contrary, is a cruel and crafty demon, that gradually involves her followers in dependence and debt—that is, fetters them with iron that enters into their souls.

We cannot escape to-morrow by sleep, nor eternity by death.

Rural and Domestic.

Manure Making

Farmers who expect to thrive must learn the habitual art of manure making. An exchange says.

The farmer who has plenty of stock will find manure making both simple and easy. For the land there is nothing better than good barnyard manure. But in cases where there is not stock enough on the place to yield a full supply, it is best to resort to composts. And it is best to get at the business of composting without further delay—go at it now True, you may be very busy with your crop," but you can certainly catch time enough to start a compost heap or two. Dig out a slight concave in the earth, near the barn or stable, throw a few odds and ends into it, with the loose manure lying about, and the heap is started. Then, from that day on, cast all your refuse rubbish, such as green weeds, rotten vegetables, rotten fruits and the like, upon the pile. Order your women folks to give it all the kitchen slops and soap suds. If it gets to smelling badly, throw on a little finely pulverised earth—dry swamp muck is better, if you have it, but if not, earth will answer.

Thus gather into your pile what you can through the summer—when fall comes on, go to the woods with your wagon, if you live in a woods country, and haul in leaves and throw them into your stable and into your cow lots. If you don't live in a woods country, you may substitute straw and grass for the leaves. Let your stock tramp it all under foot, and mix it with their manure until pretty well cut up, then away with it, all together, to your compost heap, and down with a new supply of straw or leaves, Keep the work up at odd spells, and when early spring comes, haul and spread upon your lands what you have accumulated; and turn it under at the breaking. Don't be afraid of getting your land too rich, and don't for a moment think that what you are doing will be labor lost, even though you do happen to have a soil that is reasonably productive, naturally. It might feed you now, but unless you feed it, the time will come when it will refuse to feed you—or your children. And it will pay you a good return for feeding it, now. Not long since an old gentleman cultivating a Mississippi bottom farm in St. Charles county, Missouri, told the writer of this article that he manured his rich lands every season, and found it to pay better than any other work done on his place

COLOR OF HORSES.—How much or little climate has to do with the color of horses it is very difficult to predicate at this age of the world: for though we may be told that white or gray or chestnut predominate in Arabia, that black is most common in Russia, and that in England, France and Germany bay is found to greatly outnumber any other, there is no telling how far fashion and consequent high prices may have spurred on enterprising breeders to the accomplishment of a triumph over the primordial tendencies of climate. We should be inclined to confine the color of horses in this country to black, bay brown and chestnut. It is true that there are plenty of grays, but gray really belongs to the composite colors: and it is stated by authority that "all gray horses come into the world chestnut, or more generally black." Grays, notwithstanding Gray Mares, are comparatively seldom seen. As for the white horses, which are such "pretty creatures" in the eyes of the nursery governess and her young charges, it may be interesting to their admirers to learn that they are said to be, for the most part, gray horses whose hair is white with age. A white horse, born white, with the pink nose and pinky eyes, is said to be as great a rarity in Europe as an Albino; and there seems to be no good reason why art should be employed to make it increase and multiply. Of black horses, it will be remembered, the old Arab chief had not a very high opinion; and though it might not be impossible to give a list of black horses which have distinguished themselves in England, and won great fame as fast travelers, that color is mostly associated in one's mind with the heavy house hold cavalry and the undertaker.—Pall Mall Gazette.

A Train of Evils.

If weakness of the stomach is allowed to become chronic, the following evils supervene—Digestion is permanently impaired, the system is very imperfectly nourished, the blood becomes thin and watery, and the bile being unemployed for digestive and excrementative purposes, enters the circulation through the thoracic duct, and injects itself into the superficial vessels, giving to the skin and whites of the eyes the saffron tinge indicative of biliousness. Headache, nausea, constipation, pains in the side, palpitation, heartburn, dizziness, and many other harrassing symptoms which accompany the internal derangement above described, which, if unchecked is as sure to be followed by serious disease, as the rising of the sun by its setting. It is manifest, therefore, that an inability of the stomach to act upon the food should be overcome without delay. The invigorating influence upon that organ of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is speedily felt by the thousands upon all the disagreeable symptoms alluded to. The purer Botanical remedies for general debility nearly fail to achieve any lasting result, nor is too much to say invigorate the stomach, Hostetter's Bitters always succeed because that is their prime effect. The very fact that they are such an excellent vegetable constitution gives one of the best general tonics in existence. Therefore, digestion is first step towards the recovery of health, when impaired in any of the multifarious complaints which originate from dyspepsia, and that step will be found to have been taken by the invalid who has availed himself of this famous anti-dyspeptic remedy

Nov 2-1m.

R. H. MACY & CO.

14TH ST. & 6TH AVE. NEW YORK.

The Largest Importers in America of Dolls and Toys suitable for Holiday Presents. The LARGEST RETAIL FANCY GOODS ESTABLISHMENT in New York. Catalogues sent free to any address.

Orders by mail attended to with special care.

Oct 27-4t.

CHANGE IN BUSINESS.

The Old and Well Known House of

J. M. ROSENBAUM

Having concluded to confine itself to certain specialties, announces that in its main business it is exclusively

A CLOTHING STORE

of the highest grade, where every article of Gentlemen's and Boy's wear of all kinds and grades is offered

ON THE MOST FAVORABLE TERMS FOR CASH.

Buyers need go no farther to be suited. Every class of customers can be supplied.

As to the establishment is a Department for the sale of

CHINA, CROCKERY AND GLASSWARE,

Everything in that line can be found of the first quality and at reasonable prices.

The long established character of this House is a sufficient guarantee of its ability and determination to do what it promises. Don't fail to call on

J. M. ROSENBAUM,
Corner Fayetteville and Hargett Sts.

Oct. 1876.

COME YE DISCONSOLATE!

Men in search of FIRST-CLASS GOODS, the very Latest Up-of Fashion, and put up in a style that will suit the most fastidious taste, go to

WEIKEL'S ESTABLISHMENT,

on Fayetteville Street, one door South of the Southern Express Office.

IT IS A CONCEDED FACT

that Weikel can put up the best and most satisfactory Suit in the way of fine cuts of Clothing, from a Wedding Garment to Business Suits, that can be turned out in Raleigh. The old and strong men say it, the ladies (God bless them) endorse it, and the children cry over it, cry for joy when their dear ones "made" put on a suit of Weikel's clothing.

Weikel takes this occasion to return his thanks for the liberal and liberal patronage heretofore received, and respectfully asks for continuance of the same. He stocks of

CLOTHS,

CASSIMERES,

TWEEDS,

SUITINGS, &c.

is much larger than ever before, and comprises all the latest Novelties in Styles, having been recently purchased at low prices from

FASHION HEADQUARTERS.

As several bit horse on Workmen are Picked Men whose skill and ability are known to the "dressing" public.

Come one and all to the Emporium of Fashion, Weikel's the Merchant Tailor, For a first class Suit of Clothes of first class goods put up in first class style.

REMOVAL.

OFFICE OF

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,

RALEIGH, N. C.

We have removed to our elegant and commodious NEW STORE in the

BRIGGS BUILDING

where we will be pleased to see our many friends and the public generally.

OUR NEW STORE ROOM,

THIRTY-TWO feet wide and TWO HUNDRED long, together with a large and convenient Cellar and Warehouse adjoining, affords us unequalled facilities for conducting our business.

Customers and visitors will find our salesmen and ourselves polite, careful, accommodating and attentive. We extend a cordial invitation to every body to come and see us.

Respectfully,

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,

oct 13-tf. Briggs Building.

Williams & Haywood,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Oils, Dye Stuffs, Perfumery,

Fancy Articles, Garden Seeds, Fine Teas, Spices, Flavoring Extracts.

CIGARS, CHEWING TOBACCO &C.

Keep constantly on hand, at lowest market prices, White Lead, Putty, Kerosene oil, Linseed Oil, Lamp Oil, Turner's Oil, Window Glass, Varnish, &c., &c. Dec. 23-1y

A. BAUM,

Professional Butcher,

Wilmington St., Opposite East End Market.

Buys the fattest beeves that can be had. No poor or crooked beef to be seen in his shop. Orders for Mountain stock weekly filled by his agents. The best and choicest meats to be had in this Market, delivered in first class style, are sold you at sp1 28-6

BAUM'S

SADDLES!

From $3 50 to $40.00

BUGGY HARNESS!

From $9.00 to $100

ON HAND AND FOR SALE BY

W. B. HUTCHINGS,

Where will be found a large stock of Carriage and Buggy Harness, Wagon, Dray and Cart Harness, Saddles, Whips, Collars, Bridles, Saddle Cloths, Horse Blankets, Leather, &c., of my own Manufacture, and at prices to suit the times.

GIVE ME A CALL!

W. B. HUTCHINGS,
Fayetteville St., opposite Tucker Hall,
oct 15-12m. Raleigh, N. C.

A New Musical Era!!

ALL CAN LEARN TO SING.

The most Natural and Easy system of Music yet discovered; learned in one-fourth the time of any other.

TEMPLE HARP.

A New Music Book upon above system, for Choirs, &c.

CRYSTAL GEMS.

For Sabbath Schools, on the system. Specimen pages mailed free. TEACHERS wanted as AGENTS.

McLEER'S BIBLE & PUBLISHING HOUSE,
Nos. 1102 & 1104 Cannon St., Philadelphia,
Aug 4-3m.

JOHN W. HINSDALE,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

Room No. 2 First Floor, Law Building,
Fayetteville street.

RALEIGH, N. C

Attends all the Courts in Raleigh and Fayetteville. Claims collected in all parts of North Carolina. Refers to Hon. R. M. Pearson, Chief Justice of N. C.; Hon. M. W. Ransom, U. S. Senator; Cashier National Bank, W. H. & R. S. Tucker, Williams & Haywood, Raleigh, N. C.; Fayetteville National Bank, Merchants Bank of Fayetteville; J. D. Williams, Cashier N. C. Bank, Fayetteville, N. C.; Bank of New Hanover, Wilmington, N. C.; Morton, Bliss & Co., Phelps, Dodge and Co., H. K. Thurber & Co., Hallgarten & Co., New York; D. Landreth & Son, Philadelphia; G. W. Gail & Ax, Baltimore.

He has for such business connection with Messrs. MacRae & Broadfoot of Fayetteville N. C., relating only to his future business at that point. All communications addressed to John W. Hinsdale care of MacRae & Broadfoot at Fayetteville, will receive prompt attention.

Oct. 5-tf.

NEW FIRM

The undersigned have this day formed a co-partnership under the firm name of

Wainright, Williams & Hood,

and having purchased the stock and goodwill of J. D. WAINRIGHT, they will continue the GROCERY and COMMISSION business at

FARMER'S EXCHANGE,

No. 4 Martin Street,

RALEIGH, N. C.

Our Stock will consist of

Bacon,
Flour,
Molasses,
Coffee,
Sugars,
Lard
Salt,
Bagging,
and Ties,

And all other goods in the Grocery line with Staple Dry Goods, Shoes, etc. Having superior facilities for buying, and a small expense account, we guarantee the lowest prices. Consignments of Cotton and produce generally, solicited, to the sale of which our best efforts will be devoted.

Patronage of our friends respectfully solicited.

GEO. H. WAINRIGHT,
late with Williamson, Pyle & Thomas
WM. T. WILLIAMS,
WM. H. HOOD.
Raleigh, Sept. 1, 1875.

Having sold my stock of Groceries to Messrs. Wainright, Williams & Hood, I take pleasure in recommending them to my friends and late customers, as entirely worthy of confidence and patronage.

For the present I may be found at the old stand, and hope all those indebted to be kind enough to call on or address Whitaker and to expect, with all settle as soon as possible.

J. H. WHITAKER
Raleigh, Sept 2-tf

WHEN THE BLOOD RUSHES with rocket-like violence to the head, causing hot flushes, vertigo and dimness of sight, it is a certain sign that a solid constitution, cooling and equalizing laxative be quieted and

Tarrant's Seltzer Aperient

should be at once resorted to.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS

Nov. 16-2t

ARTHUR'S

ILLUSTRATED HOME MAGAZINE. "The Household Monarchs of America." Two Serial Stories in 1876. "EAGLESCLIFFE," by Mrs. Julia C. R. Dorr; and "MIRIAM," by T. S. Arthur. BUTTERICK'S Newest Patterns in every number. Terms $2.5 per year; 3 copies for $6.50. Splendid Book offers and Premiums. Specimen number 10 cts.

oct 27-3t cow T. S. ARTHUR & SON, Philad'a.

TYSON & JONES

Carriage Builders,

CARTHAGE, N. C.

Having recently increased our Facilities for Manufacturing, we are prepared to furnish Vehicles of the BEST QUALITY on short notice, and at comparatively low prices. Vehicles shipped at Sanford, Raleigh and Chatham R. R. via Raleigh to any part of the State.

We feel confident that, with the close attention we give the business, together with the materials used, the skilled workmen employed, and the many conveniences we have for manufacturing FIRST CLASS WORK, to merit the same.

STYLE, FINSH, DURABILITY AND

Low Prices.

We manufacture and keep constantly on hand buggies of the best quality.

Repairing neatly done at short Notice Send for Catalogue.

July 21 1-y

The Best Household Oil in the World!

C. WEST & SONS' ALADDIN SECURITY OIL.

Warranted 150 Degrees Fire Test

Endorsed by the Fire Insurance Companies

Read the following certificate, selected from many others:

HOW TO FIRE INSURE CO. OF BALTIMORE, December 25, '74

Messrs C. West & Son: Gentlemen—Having used the various oils sold in this city in the floating purposes, I cheerfully recommend your "Aladdin Security" as the safest oil I ever used in our household.

(Signed) ANDREW REESE, Pres't.

IT WILL NOT EXPLODE.

Ask your Storekeeper for it

Wholesale Depot C. WEST & SONS,
114, 115 W Lombard Street, Baltimore.

Sep. 1-6m.

C. J. SHAW, of N. C. with

PEARRE BROS. & CO.

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN

CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATINETS,
Kerseys, Jeans, Cottonades, &c.

MEN AND BOYS' WEAR IN GENERAL

NO. 8 HANOVER STREET,

Sept 29 tf Baltimore

AN OUTFIT FREE.

We want some one in every county to take order and deliver goods for the old and original C. O. D. House. Large cash wages. Splendid chance in every neighborhood for the right person of either sex, young or old. Samples, new lists, circulars, terms, &c., sent by mail free. Send 10 cts. paid. Send for it at once and make money at your leisure. Address, B. J. HALL & CO., 6 N. Howard St. Grand Balt more, Md.

Oct. 20-10t.

THE FIRM OF WYNNE, YANCEY & CO., is this day dissolved by mutual consent.

GEO. W. WYNNE,
B. B. YANCEY,
J. W. LEE

RALEIGH, June 15th, 1875

HAVING PURCHASED THE interest an assume the liabilities of the late firm of WYNNE, YANCEY & CO., I would request all those indebted to make immediate payment.

Thankful for the patronage so liberally bestowed upon the late firm I crave a personal attention to merit the same.

June 22-tf GEO. W. WYNNE

BALTIMORE

EYE AND EAR INSTITUTE

NO. 58 FRANKLIN ST., Baltimore, Md.,

JULIAN J. CHISOLM, M. D., Professor of Eye and Ear Diseases in the University of Maryland,

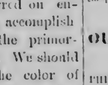
SURGEON IN CHARGE.

This Institution is thoroughly organized and fitted up with every convenience, for the treatment of Eye and Ear Diseases.

For further information apply to the above.

Sept 7 8m.

BRINLY PLOWS



BEST AND CHEAPEST IN USE.

More taken over 250 Premiums at Fairs throughout the South. Send for illustrated Catalogue with Price List and Certificates of planters who use them only MANUFACTURED BY

BRINLY, MILES & HARDY,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

Sept 8-6m.

Agents Wanted for the CENTENNIAL GAZETTEER of the UNITED STATES.

Shows forty-a d results of 100 years of Freedom and Progress. New and complete. Over 1000 pages. Illustrated. Everybody buys it, and agents make from $100 to $300 a month. Address, J. C. McCURDY & CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

Sept 22 9t.

THE CARY COTTON GIN.

Is still being manufactured at Cary, N. C., improved in some respects and warranted to give satisfaction or no trade if properly put to work. Those desiring further information send for Circular, &c. to

W. M. SORRELL,
Cary, N.C.

June 16-tf.

$5 TO $20 per day! Agents wanted! All classes of working people, of either sex, young or old, making more money at work for us in their spare moments, or all the time, than at anything else. Particulars free. Address G. Stinson & Co., Portland, Maine.

Sept 15-1m

OLD NORTH STATE

FIRE

Insurance Company,

OF

WARRENTON, - - - - - N. C.,

This Company has closed its third year in a condition of GREAT PROSPERITY, and entered upon it fourth year under the MOST PROMISING AUSPICES.

It deserves the liberal patronage which it is receiving because

It is a home institution.
It has ample Capital and Reserves
It pays its loss promptly.

ASSETS.

Cash on hand and in Bank..... $ 4,421 50
Cash in hands of Agents..... 1,194 00
Stock Notes..... 45,270 00
Real Estate and Mortgages..... 20,998 85
Loaned on Collaterals..... 7,647 60
Due for premiums..... 3,321 08
Interest due and accrued..... 904 36
$83,297 19

LIABILITIES:

All liabilities including for re-insurance Reserved..... $ 4,881 81
Surplus..... 1,576 38
$5,297 19

WM. S. DAVIS, President.
E. E. LONG, Secretary.

SCHEDULES.

PIEDMONT AIR-LINE RAILWAY.

RICHMOND & DANVILLE RICHMOND & DANVILLE R. W. N. C. Division, and NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. W.

JUNE 27TH, 1875—DAILY.

Fast and other Mail Trains.

GOING NORTH

STATIONS.	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Charlotte.....	9 55 P. M	2.45 A. M.
" Air-Line Junct'n	9 33 "	3.03 "
" Salisbury.....	1.28 "	8.34 "
" Greensboro'.....	3.15 A M	10.55 "
" Danville.....	6.08 "	1.13 P. M.
" Dundee.....	6.18 "	1.20 "
" Burkville.....	7.35 "	2.17 "
Arrive at Richmond...	9.22 P. M.	3.45 "

GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Richmond.....	1.36 P. M	5.05 A. M.
" Burkville.....	4.02 "	8.36 "
" Dundee.....	10.34 "	1.14 P. M.
" Danville.....	10.44 "	1.27 P. M.
" Greensboro'.....	3.00 A M	8.58 "
" Salisbury.....	5.52 "	6.15 "
" Air-Line Junct'n	8.05 "	8.20 "
Arrive at Charlotte	8.22 A M	8.45 "

GOING EAST. GOING WEST

STATIONS.	M'N'D	MAIL.
Leave Greensboro'.	3.00 A. M.	Arrive 1.40 A. M.
" Co. Shops.....	4.31 "	Leave 12.30 "
" Raleigh.....	8.30 "	8.10 P. M.
Arrive at Gaston'o	11.30 A M	Leave 5.00 "

NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. R.

(SALEM BRANCH.)

Leave Greensboro'..... 4.30 P. M.
Arrive at Salem..... 6.15 "
Leave Salem..... 8.40 A.M.
Arrive at Greensboro..... 10.25 "

Passenger train leaving Raleigh at 3.30 P. M. connects at Greensboro' with the Northern bound train; making the quickest time to all Northern cities. Price of Tickets same as via other routes.

Train to and from points East of Greensboro connect at Greensboro with Mail Trains to or from points North or South.

Two trains daily, both ways.

On Sundays Lynchburg Accommodation leave Lynchburg at 9.00 A. M. arrive at Burkville 12.45 P. M. leave Burkville 4.35 A. M., arrive at Richmond 7.45 A. M.

No Change of Cars between Charlotte and Richmond, 282 Miles.

Papers that have arrangements to advertise the Schedule of this Company will please print as above.

For further information address

S. E. ALLEN,
Gen'l Ticket Agent,
Greensboro, N. C.

T. M. R. TALBOTT,
Engineer & Gen'l Superintendent.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE.

RALEIGH & GASTON RAILROAD CO.

On and after Friday, May 22nd, 1874, trains on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, will run daily (Sundays excepted) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Leave Weldon..... 9.35 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon..... 3.30 P. M.
Leaves Weldon..... 2.35 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh..... 8.35 P. M.

ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh..... 5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon..... 1.15 P. M.
Leaves Weldon..... 2.35 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh..... 8.45 P. M.

Mail train makes close connection at Weldon, with the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad and Bay Line Steamers via Baltimore, to and from all points North, West and Northwest, and with Petersburg Railroad via Petersburg, Richmond and Washington City to and from all points North and Northwest.

And at Raleigh with the North Carolina Railroad to and from all points South and South-west, and with the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line to Haywood and Fayetteville.

A. B. ANDREWS,
Gen. Sup't.

RALEIGH & AUGUSTA AIR-LINE RAILROAD.

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 27th, 1873.

On and after Monday, October 27th, 1873, trains on the R. & A. A. L. Road will run daily, (Sundays excepted,) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Train leaves Raleigh, 4.00 P. M.
Arrives at Sanford, 6 25 "
Train leaves Sanford, 6.30 A. M
Arrives at Raleigh, 9 20 "

FREIGHT TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh, 5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Sanford 10.35 A. M.
Leaves Sanford, 1.00 P. M
Arrives at Raleigh 5.30 P. M.

Mail Train makes close connection at Raleigh with the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, to and from all points North.

And at Sanford with the Western Railroad, to and from Fayetteville and points on Western Railroad.

A. B. ANDREWS,
Superintendent.

OFFICE SUPT. OF TRANSPORTATION,
Seaboard & Roanoke R. R. Co.,
Portsmouth, Va., Jan. 1st, 1875.

On and after this date, trains of this Road will leave Weldon daily, Sundays excepted, as follows:

Mail train at 4 P. M.
No. 1 Freight train at 4 A. M.
No. 2 Freight train at 8 A. M.

ARRIVE AT PORTSMOUTH.

Mail train at 7 15 P. M.
No 1 Freight at 12 00 NOON.
No 2 Freight at 3 00 P. M.

Freight trains have a passenger car at each end.

Steamer for Edenton, Plymouth and Inland ports on Blackwater and Chowan rivers leave Franklin at 7.30 A M on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

E. G. GHIO,
Supt. Transportation.

1875. 1876.

FALL AND WINTER.

ISAAC OETTINGER

is now in receipt of his ENTIRE STOCK of MILLINERY, Ladies' Fancy Furnishing, Hair and Needle Goods, to an inspection of which his many customers are respectfully invited. My Stock has been selected with a great deal of care, and consists of Bonnets and Hats for Ladies, Misses, Children and Babies.

Ladies' Sacks, Ladies' Undergarments, Ladies' Cloaks and Jacques, Ruffs, Collars and Cuffs, Kid and other Gloves, Zephyr, Saxony and Germantown Wool, Knitting Cotton, Crochet Needles, Worked Slippers, Moltoes and Motto Frames, every sort of Patterns for Needle Work, Stamped Yokes, Buttons, Embroidering Silk and Cotton, Lace Ladies' Silk Scarfs, Ldc. Belts Tassel yards Ribbon, Real and Imitation Laces, Hamburg Edging and Insertion.

And a Thousand other Articles.

In our Millinery Department we employ only FIRST-CLASS NEW YORK MILLINERS, and guarantee satisfaction. I ask you to visit My Stock in the interest, best selected and tastiest in this city, and I may say State.

ISAAC OETTINGER.

oct 12 6w.

Marey's Sciopticon and Lantern Slides. New and brilliant effects. Circulars free. SPECIAL OFFER TO SUNDAY-SCHOOLS. L. J. MAREY, 1310 CHESNUT STREET Philadelphia.

Oct 27 3-m.

FALL AND WINTER GOODS!

D. S. WAITT & BRO.,

Are offering a Large and Attractive Stock of

FINE AND CHEAP CLOTHING!

Gents' Furnishing Goods and Neck Wear,

Boots, Shoes, Overcoats, Shawls and Rubber Goods! Hats and Caps! Merino Shirts, Drawers and Hosiery Paper and Linen Collars, Suspenders, Handkerchiefs and Yankee Notions. The celebrated

MANHATTAN FINE WHITE SHIRT,

Acknowledged to be the best and most perfect fitting shirt in the market.

Prints! Prints!

Red, White and Fancy Flannels, Opera Flannels, Dancing Ribbons and Insertions, Ladies' Trimmed Hats, Bustles, Corsets, Suspenders, Counterpanes, Bed Quilts and Spreads.

WHITE AND BROWN BLANKETS,

In low Stripped and Plaid Breakfast Shawls, Knit Jackets, Jerkets and Hoods.

Checks, Plaid Homespuns, Ticklings, Brown and Bleached Sheetings and Shirtings, Cotton Flannels, Linseys and Lindsays, Trunks, Valises, Umbrellas, Traveling Bags, &c.

TO OUR FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS, we take pleasure in saying our stock is now complete in every department, and thanking you for your liberal patronage, we respectfully solicit a continuance of the same. Remember the place; 54 Fayetteville St., Raleigh, N. C.

D. S. WAITT & BRO.

oct 13-3m.

SUI GENERIS.

MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.

UNEQUALED for quality UNAPPROACHED in capacity and excellence by any others. Awarded

THREE HIGHEST MEDALS AND DIPLOMA OF HONOR, AT VIENNA, 1873; PARIS, 1867.

ONLY American Organs ever awarded any medal in Europe, or which proof was considered necessary excellence as to command a wide sale there.

ALWAYS awarded highest premiums at International Expositions, in America as well as Europe. Out of hundreds there have not been six in all where any other organs have been preferred.

BEST Decided by Eminent Musicians, in both hemispheres, to be unrivaled. See TESTIMONIAL CIRCULAR, with opinions of more than One Thousand (sent free).

INSIST on having a Mason & Hamlin. Do not be misled by dealers who say they have no other, or that they have some "just as good," or "the same thing," or "will exchange for," etc. We make the above statements because we can prove them, and we do not wish to sell you anything else. The reason others try very hard to sell something else.

NEW STYLES with most important improvements ever made. New Solo and Combination Stops. Superb Elegance and other Cases of new designs.

PIANO-HARP CABINET ORGAN, unique combination of these instruments.

EASY PAYMENTS, for monthly or quarterly payments, or rented until rent pays for the organ.

CATALOGUES and Circulars, with full particulars, free. Address MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont Street, BOSTON; 25 Union Square, NEW YORK; or 80 & 82 Adams St., CHICAGO.

Sept 14 1 year.

G. T. LEACH, N. Y. M. T. LEACH

Leach Brothers,

WHOLESALE GROCERS

AND

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

SOUTH EAST CORNER MARKET SQUARE, RALEIGH, N. C.

Again we take great pleasure in presenting our card and returning the ayes to the readers of the ADVOCATE for their very liberal patronage during the past four years, and offer them the largest and best bought stock of Groceries ever offered in any market south of Baltimore, and while just now Bacons, Sugars and Lard are very scarce and high, we have made extra efforts to meet and we have succeeded in bringing them especially low as I intend giving our friends all the advantages gained thereby to counter balance any advance in the few goods named.

We wish to invite especial attention to our select stock of staple Groceries and Boots bought direct from first hands, and offered here AT FIRST PROFITS.

We have now in store

Cerrillos, Hard coal.
10 Mats old Gov. Java,
10 Bbls. A Sugar,
10 Hhds Extra Sugar,
10 Bbls. B P Yellow Sugar,
20 Bbls Demarara,
20 Boxes Bulk Sides,
10 " " Shoulders,
50 Cases English Soda,
1,500 lbs. G. D and Side Leather
100 Sides Upper Leather,
50 " Harness Leather,
500 Cases O. sters,
50 " Brandy Peaches,
5,000 Yds. Bagging,
6,000 lbs. Ties,
100 Bbls. Super Flour,
100 Bags Assorted Shot,
50 Bbls Extra Flour,
50 Cases Forrester's Crackers,
50 " Soda Crackers,
40 Barrels Factory and Dairy Cheese,
6,000 W P. and G. D. Gun Caps,
1 Keg of Bird-eye Powder and Mule Shoes,
200 lbs. Horse Shoe Nails,
30 Boxes Best Axes,
50 Boxes Adamantine Candles,
100 Boxes Laundry and Toilet Soaps,

We offer especial inducements to country and nearby merchants, and invite an examination of our stock defy competition

Oct 7 12-3t BEACH BROS

THE JAS. LEFFEL

Double Turbine Water Wheel,

Manufactured by

POOLE & HUNT,

Baltimore, Md.

20,000 NOW IN USE!

Simple, Strong, Durable, always reliable and satisfactory.

Manufacturers also, of Portable & Stationary Engines, Steam Boilers, Saw & Grist Mills, Mining Machinery, Castings for Gearing, Flour, Paint, White Lead and Oil Mill Machinery, Hydraulic and other Presses, &c. Iron Pulleys of all patterns and of every best finish. Send for circular.

mch 24-12m.

PLEIS' FIT POWDERS.

These powders have been tested by over 40,000 cases in the cure of Fits (Epilepsy), Spasms, Convulsions, St. Vitus' Dance, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Affections, some over 40 years' standing.

When you ORDER STATE AGE.

Price $5 per Box, 50 CENTS PER BOX, or sent to any parts of the United States for One Dollar per Box.—These Powders are prepared and sold only by the proprietor, to whom all orders must be addressed,

JOHN M. PLEIS, Jr.,

841 North Tabl street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Please mention that you saw this advertisement in The Christian Advocate.

may 31-1y

JOHN J. FRAY'S

English, Classical and Mathematical School,

11 miles S. E. of Raleigh and 1 mile from Clayton, a station on N. C. R. R. The seventeenth session begins Monday Sept 18th 1875. Prepares boys for college or for active duties of life. Good board in healthy locality, tuition and incidentals (no extras) only $12.50 per month. Refers to the nobility of the Counties on the new R. R. Write for circular or any of former patrons. For other information, address the undersigned.

Address, JOHN J. FRAY
Clayton or
Aug. 25-3 m Raleigh N. C.

$250 A MONTH—Agents wanted to sell our Wire Clothes Lines. Business honorable and first class. Particulars sent free. Address

J. WORTH & CO., St. Louis, Mo.

aug 4-12m.

PROGRESS THE WATCHWORD

Merit and Success Hand in Hand.

BROOKLYN LIFE

INSURANCE COMPANY,

NO. 141 BROADWAY,

NEW YORK.

Assets- - - -$1,500,000.00

CHRISTIAN W. BOUCK, President.
D. P. FACKLER, Actuary.

WM. M. COLE, Secretary
DANIEL AYRES, M.D., LL.D., Med. Exam.

POLICIES VALUABLE IN LIFE, AS WELL AS AT DEATH!

The BROOKLYN LIFE is the only Company in America which guarantees

DEFINITE CASH SURRENDER VALUES.

In case a Policy is forfeited for nonpayment of Premium.

THE BROOKLYN LIFE enjoys the highest reputation for solidity, INVESTMENT, ECONOMY OF MANAGEMENT, AND CARE IN THE SELECTION OF RISKS.—Elements of administration the security of a Life Insurance Corporation depends.

The laws of New York compel Companies in that State to calculate the cash value of Policies, each and every year, and in a certain legal standard of reserve and accumulation to be held by the Companies to meet all their liabilities.

Insurers in looking around for Companies in which to insure, should carefully see to this important safeguard. IT WILL BE FOUND IN THE BROOKLYN LIFE

WM. LITTLE, M.D., MEDICAL EXAMINER.

A. W. LAWRENCE,

General Agent for North Carolina,
Office at Raleigh.

may 18-tf

MOSELEY'S CONFECTIONERY

RALEIGH N. C.

Is the Place to Buy

French and Plain Candies,

Foreign and Domestic Fruits,

RAISINS, NUTS, etc.,

Fine Cigars, Smoking Tobacco, Chewing Tobacco, Fine Cut Chewing Tobacco,

Fancy Good. Childrens Toys,

Carriages for the Little Folks,

CROQUET SET,

BASE BALLS AND BATS.

Marbles, Tops, and Kites,

All at MOSELEY'S

INSURE AGAINST FIRE!

In PESCUD & SONS

Agency, Raleigh, N. C.

Money and time saved to those who insure through us in the following strong and prompt Companies, viz; Home, N. Y. Georgia Home
N. C. Home. City Fire, Richmond,
New Orleans, Amazon,
Ætna, Hartford, Atlantic, New York,
Firemans Fund, Cal., Penn of Philadelphia.
Franklin of Philadelphia.

Extra inducements offered to all who want insurance on Cotton and Tobacco Factories, Mills, Gins, Farm property and dwellings and country stores. Send for a blank application, instructions and terms to Pescud & Son Raleigh, N

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Bobbitt & Gray, Publishers. | Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina. | $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Vol. XXI.---No. 46. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, November 24, 1875. | Whole No. 1,084.

Selected Poetry.

The Dawn of Redemption.

BY JAMES G. CLARK.

[illegible]

Communicated.

For the Advocate.

Church Etiquette.

NO. I.

Well-bred men and women, however religious they may be, always behave well in church; but some real pious Christians are seen sometimes to do irreverent deeds in the house of God. I knew a pastor once to rebuke a mechanic who was doing some repairs in his church, that he forgot to take off his hat when he entered the door. Was it wrong? The house of God is his holy temple, and it is sacred, it is grossly disrespectful—to enter it only in the condition of perfect solemnity. There were sacred places during the earliest history of religion, where men were required not to tread with covered feet—"Take off thy shoes—this is holy ground."

I have almost lost my respect for a minister at seeing him enter his church with boisterous stride, walk the aisle with his hat and overcoat on, and ascend the pulpit and doff not his coat and then the hat—then take his time to juice out in complacency—all of which should have been done at the door.

Respect for God, more than church polite, requires us always to take our hat on entering the church door—as we ascend the steps—provided there is no vestibule. All church edifices should be constructed with a vestibule, for the purpose of receiving the head, taking off the overcoat, removing overshoes, depositing umbrellas, &c.

On leaving the church, we should never put on our hats till we get out of the building.

We should walk gently—with as little knocking the floor with the heel as possible—always in church.

It is good manners to look around to see as you take your seat, to see if there is a stranger near to whom a courtesy can be shown—such as handing him a hymn book if you see he has none. It is very bad manners to keep up the turning around, gazing at every individual in the church, and trying to look them out of countenance.

It is very bad manners likewise to keep dragging or shuffling the feet over the floor in church. Some little boys that I know are very much occupied with this bad habit. I do hope, if they can't read this, that it will come to the eyes of either father or mother, and that the proper instruction will be given which will abate the nuisance.

It is not good manners to go to sleep and snore during the sermon.—I do know some good brothers who must have their nap when a certain minister holds forth. They mean no disrespect to him, but it is not much respect to the word of God.

It is not only very bad manners,—showing the worst breeding—but it is positively sinful to whisper and giggle with your companions during the service.

If one enters the church late, and the minister is speaking, it is bad manners to turn round and gaze at him till he is seated. If he is a well-bred person he is mortified enough at interrupting the service, let alone the chief your looks will have upon him. Spare him all you can: you may not know the cause of his lateness.

Lounging in your pew is not at all commendable. Some men are constitutionally restless,—women are rarely so in church. These can be excused if they change their position occasionally during a long sermon.

It is bad manners on the part of a preacher to continue his sermon when he sees his congregation are not appreciating him. If he is a man of any sense, he can at once tell the effect his thoughts are having upon the hearer. I knew a distinguished preacher once, in addressing a strange church, to cut short—in less than twenty minutes—what he intended for a telling sermon. Circumstances embarrassed him—he saw his failure—and stopped, and was commended by his conscience and his congregation.

Be attentive to the reading of the word; and let me add—though not exactly in the same line of thought—always be respectful and reverential to God's holy name. Never take it within your lips except in a spirit of awe and solemnity. It is wrong for a religious man to even repeat a blasphemous oath or phrase, even in conversation. Some religious denominations are taught to bow the head at the mention of the Saviour's name—and some people will not tread upon a piece of paper lest the name of God be printed thereon. Men who have a true respect for the oaths administered by our public functionaries, will always take off their hats and assume a deferential, if not reverential bearing during the ceremony. I knew a magistrate once to require it done.

There is a reason for all things.—Religion is the holiest attribute and aspiration of our natures. It is worthy our deepest veneration and our intensest love. We cannot treat it with coldness and indifference and expect it to live in our hearts and warm them with the pure love of God. It requires of us in all things to be spiritually minded—the opposite is enmity. In the house of God we should especially be devout and polite.

Nov. 11th, 1875. M.

For the Advocate.

"Eternal Punishment."

Brother Yates, in discussing the reasons for the Eternal Punishment of the wicked, shows much logical thought as well as great ability to wield a trenchant pen. He dips, however, so deeply into the metaphysics of the subject, that we become dizzy in gazing into the depths explored; and we would no more dare venture among the huge piles of his syllogisms and propositions than we would among the creaking wheels of a ponderous engine, did we not see, as we think, a wrong element there, which we desire to remove.

There is but one thing in our good brother's discussion upon which we differ; namely, that the sinner does not sin on in hell. This, we think, is the true and only ground of Eternal Punishment. We may not be able to make it so plain that others may see it as we do; yet we honestly confess that we can see it in no other way. One thing our brother cannot deny; namely, that every lost sinner in hell went there a sinner, and that this was the ground upon which alone he was sent there. If, then, he was sent there a sinner and his state is yet unchanged, he is a sinner still; and, if he is a sinner still, he must continue to sin, else the name is not appropriate for a man is not a sinner unless he sins. The fact that he has sinned does not of necessity make him a sinner now, else Christians in heaven are sinners, for all have sinned.

It seems to us that, if a period should come in eternity when God could see that the lost soul is not a sinner, Divine Justice could retain that soul no longer; for Justice claims to punish sinners only.

We propose to discuss our views of this subject without any intention to collide with our able and learned brother. In fact, we are a little fearful of the keen edge of his polished steel, which flashed so triumphantly in a recent controversy in your columns. We do not consider ourself his opponent in this discussion. We are not able to cope with "so formidable a foe." Let this honest admission upon our part show him how we feel in relation to his writings upon this and all other subjects. Then to our argument.

All of man's moral character and deservings are determined by the attitude of his will. Guilt or ill deserving, that for which alone he is punished, arises from the moral state of his will. If the will stands opposed to God, he is a sinner, and sins every moment his will retains that attitude. It needs but one special act of volition in opposition to God, upon any moral subject, to constitute him a sinner. The will once assuming a hostile position towards God, makes the man a sinner; and just so long as his will retains that attitude, he sins continually. But the sinner goes to hell with his will opposed to God, and he remains there unchanged in his moral character, only to become more intensified in character and fixed in his attitude, forever. It must therefore follow, that he sins on in hell forever.

Upon no other grounds can we see the justness of Eternal Punishment. Upon any other supposition, our reasoning must favor the hypothesis of the Universalists; for, if the sinner ceases to sin when he dies, his guilt or ill deserving must cease at the same time, and he stands accountable to Divine Justice for past guilt only, which in the very nature of things must be finite guilt and consequently, capable of being met by a finite amount of suffering. Otherwise, there can be no proportion between the crimes committed and the punishment inflicted; which is contrary to all the rules of human jurisprudence, and directly opposed to every dictate of reason and common sense.

By permission of the Editors, we will at some future time, give another article upon this subject, in regard to "moral law in hell, &c."

TREBOR.

For the Advocate.

Letter from President Robey.

DEAR ADVOCATE: Many imperative duties and some severe family afflictions have combined to force upon your occasional correspondent a long, but unwilling silence.

Sure 'tis pleasant to see one's name in print, and besides we love to write. Nothing prevents us from indulging, perhaps to excess, perhaps to the great annoyance of your many readers, but want of time, and the want of one or two more little things, such as wit, words, and worth, and "power of speech to stir men's blood" Like Byron's critics we have "The mania, but not the muse"

During our silence we have enjoyed the reflection that the ADVOCATE has so many and such contributors as not to need our help. The organ of the Conference was never superior to its present self. We say, hold on to your men, Jordan, Yates, Hudson, Craven, and the rest; and hold on to your editorial quills, as well as your foreman and proof reader.

In these parts we say "hnzza for the centennial movement!" Let's work it up for "God and our native land." None of this generation will live to see another. Let us rear a monument to tell the future that we have been. Let us give Methodism in North Carolina a shove whose impetus shall carry her through another hundred years.

Brother Barrett, "our new Presiding Elder," has been among us.—Our people are pleased—pleased, I believe, every way—officially, clerically, and socially. Of course he did not get "half round" in Lenoir, but he shared the hospitalities of as many as possible, and the rest hope to have another chance at him. Yes, we mean to say that we hope he will consent to visit us again in the same capacity.

Davenport is alive, struggling mightily with the hard times, but nevertheless alive, and she means to live on, if only a kind Providence shall smile upon her. It has been said that some people wish her dead, but we hardly think so. If there be any such cruel ones, her prayer for them is, "Father, forgive them, they know not what they do." And to these cruel ones we will say, there is not the least hope of her dying. She means to live through the "centennial," and then she means to live on forever. More than that, she means to go on improving, offering better advantages and on better terms than any other college in the land. She has some friends, at least, that intend to die by her, let others do as they may. These may not be many, but they will be true. She expects them to rally to her and for her. She is the institution of the "Great West," and the Great West will not forsake her.

W. M. ROBEY.

November 9th.

For the Advocate.

Deceitful People.

In our daily competition for the necessities, the comforts, the luxuries and the honors of life, the experience of Jacob and Esau is not unfrequently repeated, and the fervent, unselfish, confiding spirit is harassed and tormented into absolute cynicism by friction against certain angles peculiar to individual experience.

When we reflect that even so far back as the days of Roman mythology Janus, the two-faced, held the honorable position of porter at the very gate of heaven, we cannot but be impressed with the idea that those who go through the world expecting to come in contact with a class of people who say what they think and mean what they say, have invented for themselves a theory of life which by slow degrees will prove itself to be radically false.

As our hands clasp other hands it is good and pleasant to believe that those with whom we come in contact are sensible, well principled, true-hearted men and women, who by their very presence add a more genial sunshine to the indoor side of life, friends whose fidelity can be relied upon, and who will cling to us bravely and faithfully through evil and good report. It is, perhaps, unfortunate that the pretensions of our so called friends sometimes exceed their performances, and the lips that, figuratively speaking distilled honey in our presence, develop a special faculty for the production of gall in alluding to us behind our backs in such a way that when it reaches our ears and turns our feelings blue with chagrin and disappointment we can reflect with those in days gone by, that

"'Tis slander
Whose edge is sharper than the sword; whose tongue
Out venoms all the worms of Nile."

Looking back to the fact that among the twelve disciples there was but one Judas, let us be comforted and convinced that there is yet a preponderance of good in our social system and refresh our care worn lives by seeking that sweet fountain of which it has been said:

"There are some hearts like wells, green mossed and sweet
As ever summer saw;
And cool their water is—you cool and sweet,
But you must come to draw.
They heard not, yet they rest in calm content,
And not unsought will give;
They can be quiet with their wealth unspent,
So s. if cast dried they live."

P.

Belle Voir, Oct. 22nd.

WHY HE TAKES THEM.

The flock stood waiting by the rapid river,
And would not cross
Although the shepherd kindly called them thither.
And banks of moss,
And fields of grees, and verdant hills surrounded
The further shore;
The danger still their narrow vision bounded
Of crossing o'er.

He stretched his kindly arms, and gently called them—
They would not heed;
The deep, broad river's rapid stream appalled them,
Though pleasant mead
And mountain fair beyond the darkling river
Rose to their view,
And in the distance, bright, unfading ever
Were pastures new.

The shepherd took a lamb, and safely bore it
Within his arms
To where the pastures brightly gleamed before it.
And all alarms
Were hushed. The mother heard its voice of greeting,
And, crossing o'er.
The flock behind her followed in her leading,
Unto the shore.

O stricken hearts, all torn with grief and bleeding,
A Saviour's voice
Ye would not hear, nor follow in his leading
Of your own choice.

So he takes your lambs into his keeping,
Your eyes all dim
And dark with sorrow's clouds, and sad with weeping
May look to him,
And see beyond the darkly rolling river,
Those gone before,
And to the fields with verdure green forever
Cross safely o'er.

E. N. GUNNISON.

For the Advocate.

Buck Creek Falls.

These falls are located in McDowell county North Carolina. As we pursued our course to the trout region along the narrow path that winds along the creek's bank, we had some of the finest landscapes it has ever been my fortune to witness, stupendous wood clad mountains, sweeping up on all sides, encircled by the morning mists, the rugged cliffs that over hung our way; the clear sparkling creek as it rushed through its rocky channel. And now and then the rude huts of the mountaineers with the blue smoke curling from their low chimneys made us feel as if we were in an enchanted land. Until within half a mile of the falls their roar is drowned by that of the creek which is here only a succession of small cataracts and rapids, but now a sound of water, falling from the precipice, is heard above that of the creek below which increases as you go until a sudden bend in the road brings them before your eyes in all their romantic grandeur, tumbling over a giant rock which here crosses its channel. Here nature, as if to gratify one of her grandest freaks, has collected her wildest scenery. The mountain hemming in the narrow valley, with their dark cliffs overhanging the stream, the tall spruce-pines clinging to their almost perpendicular sides, and the spray rising from the cataract, fills the beholder at once with awe and admiration for the Being who created them. At this point the creek is about fifteen feet in width and falls over a precipice sixty feet high in three divisions, of about twenty feet each, and is received into a dark pool (which thunders beneath the ever falling volume of water) and then, as if pleased with the feat it has performed, it hurries on towards the Catawba and is soon lost from view amid the meanderings of the valley. We could have spent the day pleasantly at this spot clambering over the rocks gazing into the caves in the face of the cliffs and watching the conflict of waters, but we were reminded by the sun which neared its zenith that time was flying, and reaching our horses we hastened away to the place we intended to commence fishing for trout, which abound in the creek above the falls.

W. C. ERVIN.

Morganton, N. C., November 1875.

THEY are never alone that are accompanied with noble thoughts.—Sir Philip Sidney.

The Capers Letter.

WE give in another place the letters of Dr. Deems which explain his relations to the Capers letter. It is scarcely necessary to explain our own. We received the document under circumstances that usually indicate genuineness. If a rogue had asked a hundred dollars for the manuscript, we should have declined to consider the case without authenticating evidence. We examined it, and finding that it bore certain critical tests, we printed it. It is a pleasure to us to know that Drs. Summers, McAnnally, Curry and others endorsed our judgment concerning the contents of the paper. We now know that the family of Bishop Capers formed the same judgment. Henry D. Capers is a son and Prof. Stone a son in law of the late bishop. Our confident assertion of the genuineness of the letter was based partly on the then supposed contents of Dr. Capers' letter to Dr Deems, corroborated at that moment by the Christian Neighbor, which we regard as one of our best Southern exchanges. The Neighbor said: "Dr. Capers assures us there is no doubt of the genuineness of his father's letter, * * * that he is well acquainted with C. B. DuPre, of Clinton, Tenn., and that he has seen the original letter and cannot be mistaken." So much for our side of the matter. There is another side.

We are glad Dr. Kennedy, editor of the Macon Advocate, has compelled an authoritative settlement of the question. There are, however, some things that naturally occur to us. Henry D. Capers is vouched for by the editor of the Neighbor, who is an older man than Dr. Kennedy, and must, we suppose, speak from personal knowledge. We asked ourselves why Dr. K., when he read what Dr. Capers said in the Neighbor, did not write to Dr. Capers; why, in short, he wrote off to a postmaster at Clinton, Tenn, and why he puts more faith in a deputy P. M. than in the word of the son of the bishop? We have the authority of Dr. Capers for DuPre's residence. Is that authority good for nothing in the Macon Advocate office?

This line of interrogation could be extended, and it is of the more importance from the fact that Dr. K's first demand was: Why has not the family of Bishop Capers been consulted? The truth is they had been consulted, and the publication of the document had their cordial approval. At least Dr. Capers says so, and until the Neighbor goes into apology for endorsing Dr. Capers we shall be compelled to wonder what the Macon Advocate means by treating a declaration of H. D. Capers as a nullity. So far as our information extends, Dr. C. is a son worthy of his noble father; but Dr. Kennedy has raised a question of veracity with him, and fortified his case with a letter from a deputy postmaster at Clinton, Tenn., who knows no C. B. DuPre. The strength of our point will appear if the reader stops to think that Dr. C. says that he wrote to C. B DuPre, and received letters from him. He must have sent his letter to some place and received replies from some place. Apparently that place is Clinton, Tenn.

The Macon Advocate will see, we hope, that we are not making charges. The onus of this matter is on Dr. Capers, and we naturally wonder, as strangers, what is the matter that Dr. C. is so much beloved by the Neighbor, and so much distrusted (in appearance at least), by Dr Kennedy. We should have waited for the explanations of Dr. Capers and Prof. Stone, if Dr. Kennedy had waited, or had furnished us any hint that he has consulted "the bishop's family." Of course, Dr. Kennedy's challenge puts the genuineness of the Capers letter in doubt; but his triumphant cry for the Capers family six weeks ago, and his more recent neglect of that family leave something for Dr. K to explain. He now stands in apparent opposition to the very authority that he at first invoked.—N. Y. Methodist.

THE REV. DR. DEEMS TO THE REV. DR. KENNEDY.

THE following letters have been sent by their author to the Rev. Dr. Kennedy for publication in the Southern Christian Advocate and copies furnished us, which we gladly insert, as we desire to know and to furnish our readers all the facts in this case. One inadvertence in our paragraph of October 16th we desire to correct. It reads, "Dr. Deems personally knows Mr. DuPre, and assures us that there is not the smallest doubt of the genuineness of the letter." It should read, "Dr. Capers." When that paragraph was published we had never seen Dr. Deems, but had learned the contents of Dr. H. D. Capers' letter. Of course the burden now falls on Dr. Capers, who suggested the sending of the letter. He will doubtless find the gentleman who introduced him to Col. DuPre, and find DuPre and the letter. The facts stated by the Southern Christian Advocate seem to compel him to take some action.—ED. METHODIST.

I

NEW YORK, October 20th, 1875.

MY DEAR DOCTOR:

Yours reached me yesterday. This morning Rev. Dr. Wheeler, the editor of THE METHODIST, whom I had never seen before, at my request promptly brought me the original C. B. DuPre letter, which at your request I gladly send you.

All I know of this matter is that the letter signed C. B DuPre came through the mail to me with the article purporting to be Bishop Capers'. You will perceive that I was simply requested to publish it, the propriety thereof not being left to my judgment. I was closely engaged at the time, and so I sent not only the Capers letter but the DuPre letter to Dr. Wheeler, with whom I had no acquaintance, but who had been represented to me as a scholar and a gentlemen, that he might have all the facts on which to base his editorial judgment. He saw fit, as I think was natural, to publish both the letters.

As I was returning from the inauguration of the Vanderbilt University, a distinguished clergyman of Dayton, O., who was sitting near me in the car, gave me a Western paper quoting some portion of your editorial. On reaching the city I found a letter signed "H. D. Capers," expressing the writer's belief in the genuineness of the Capers letter, and informing me that C. B. DuPre's address was Clinton, Tenn. Thereupon I wrote to you for your editorial, to Dr. H. D. Capers for permission to publish his letter, to the postmaster at Clinton, S. C., to forward all mail matter for Mr. DuPre to Clinton, Tenn., and to Mr. DuPre at Clinton, Tenn., to send me by express the original Bishop Capers letter. You have sent me your editorial, for which I thank you. Dr. Capers has permitted me to publish his letter, and it is now in the hands of the editor of THE METHODIST. I have not heard from Mr. DuPre.

That is all. If the letter be not genuine, no fraud has been practised upon me. I never examined it, never cared whether it was written by Bishop Capers or not, simply sent a package to THE METHODIST which had been sent me for that office. If the question of publication had been left to my judgment, I think those who know me are pretty sure that I would have thoroughly satisfied myself as to the genuineness thereof before it went to the press.

Mr. DuPre should take speedy steps to let the public have proofs of the genuineness of the paper he has purported to copy. It is to be presumed that he will. No one, so far as I see, has any interest in the paper if it be not genuine; and if it be genuine, its only interest to me is as an intellectual and literary curiosity.

It is left to your judgment to publish this letter or to withhold it, but sometime the very little I have had to do with this affair should be known to the public. You will preserve Mr. DuPre's letter.

Very truly yours,
CHARLES F. DEEMS.

II

4 WINTHROP PLACE,
NEW YORK, October 28th, 1875.

REV. AND DEAR BROTHER:

Your paper of the 27th has just reached me, with your editorial marked. Please publish in full and conspicuously my letter to you of the 20th of October, enclosing the original C. B. DuPre letter, which I suppose is now in your possession. If this be a fraud the person who perpetrated it ought to be detected by those interested. I commend your zeal. Bishop Capers' son says that he knows Mr DuPre, that he advised him to send to me the copy of what he believed to be his father's letter, and that he, with Prof. Stone, "recognised the style and general expressions of the letter as being that of my (his) father."

Of course these gentlemen will now exert themselves to find the person whom Dr. Capers advised to send a copy of the letter to me and who directed me to send it to THE METHODIST.

This affair will justify me in hereafter throwing into the waste basket the packages which are sent me from time to time to forward to publishers in this city.

In view of all this I request the publication of my letter of the 20th with this note.

Yours faithfully,
CHARLES F. DEEMS.

To Rev. Dr. KENNEDY, Macon, Ga.

False Prayer.

There is a good deal of this praying which is not prayer at all. Men piously ask the Lord to undertake works by the score which they are too lazy or too penurious to do for themselves. Prayer becomes a cloak for laziness, and piety a mask for avarice. In this point of view, missionary meetings are often the saddest places a thoughtful man can sit for an hour's meditation. He finds himself often wondering in them—not that the heathen are not converted, but that there are any Christians left. Men meet, and pray, and exhort, and turn the whole business over into the Lord's hands with an air of pious resignation, contributing a dollar or two as they leave it as their share toward the enterprise.—Church Journal.

A Personal Statement

MY work as Sunday-school Secretary began with the August number of the Visitor in 1870; it terminates with the December issues of the Magazine Visitor, and Little People. After thoroughly testing the matter by a four years' residence in Nashville, it became evident that my wife could not endure the climate of Middle Tennessee. Under competent medical advice, I removed my family to Oxford, Georgia, November, 1874. In this village my editorial work has been done during the past year. At the time of my removal, and repeatedly afterward, I took occasion to notify the proper persons that my resignation would be promptly and cheerfully tendered whenever it should be thought at all important that I should have my residence in Nashville. September 10 I received from the Secretary of the Book Committee a note, dated September 7, embodying the following resolution, passed August 30, at a called meeting of the members of the Committee residing in Nashville:

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Book Committee that Rev. A. G. Haygood, S.S.S., should reside in this city, and should have an office in the Publishing House

I could not move back to Nashville—a matter perfectly understood by all concerned. My duty under the circumstances was transparently clear, and on the day the Committee's note reached me I forwarded my resignation to the Rev. R. A. Young, D. D., Chairman of the Book Committee. September 14 the resident members of the Committee were called together again, when my resignation was accepted, and the Rev. W. G. E. Cunnyngham, D.D., of the Holston Conference, was elected Sunday-school Secretary of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

And thus, by providential circumstances and the action of the Book Committee, August 30, I have been relieved of a grave responsibility—pressing on me unceasingly for five years and a half—which, of my own motion, I should not have felt free to lay down. It is a satisfaction to me to know that I have done my best, and that my work has been to me, at least, a pleasure and a blessing. If good has been done to others, God be thanked!

The retiring Secretary is under too many obligations to recount them here. He has had many friends and helpers: they deserve and receive his heart felt gratitude. His successor, Dr. Cunnyngham, is known to the entire Church as a man of ability, attainments, and devotion; besides, he is a true lover of the children and of the children's Saviour. Dr. Cunnyngham will put his whole heart in his work, and will deserve what we trust he will realize—very great success. God make him ten-fold more skillful and useful than his predecessor has been!

ATTICUS G. HAYGOOD.

Oxford, Ga.

True Love.

Of all the myths of the fairy age, of its many legends and enchantments, true love seems to be the one great charm which has come down to us unchanged by time, untouched by steam-engines, and unexplained by science. Revenge may still exist with its daggers and flashes, and melodramatic boots and teeth; but we feel little sympathy for it, and are glad to see it looking more and more clumsy and out of place, except indeed in a police court or on the boards of a Surrey theater. Mystery is also somewhat old fashioned, and its poor veils are sadly torn about and darned, and its wonders and terrors exploded. High-flown romance seems out of tune with our modern ideas; but true love is true love by whatever signs and language it is spoken—as long as hearts beat, as long as life exists, in whatever age, iron or golden, we may seek it.—Miss Thackeray.

TRUE hospitality of the home is never loudly and noisily demonstrative. It never overwhelms you with its greeting, though you have not a doubt of its perfect sincerity. You are not disturbed by the creaking of the domestic machinery, suddenly driven at unwonted speed for your accommodation. Quietly it does its work, that it may put you in peaceable possession of its results. He is not the true host, she is not the best hostess, who is ever going to and fro with hurried action, and flurried manner, and heated countenance, as if to say, "See how hospitable I can be;" but rather the one who takes your coming with quiet dignity and noiseless pains-taking; who never obtrudes attention, yet is very attentive all the while; who makes you, in one word—the most expressive word in the English tongue—to be at home. There is no richer, deeper, larger hospitality than that.

The election of Dr. Eccleston as bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church for the diocese of Iowa, has been confirmed, twenty-four dioceses having given their consent to it and only three refused. Of the remaining seventeen dioceses it is thought that fifteen at least will vote aye.

Science.

A Frenchman named Patrian, who styles himself "contractor for public lighting," has a factory and warehouse for the making and selling of oxygen, which is kept stored in metallic reservoirs under a heavy pressure, and delivered to customers for such purposes as the lighting of theatres and dining halls, blow-pipe use, inhalation, and ventilation, and air-baths.

An astronomical school has been opened at Montsouris, France, recently, under the authority of the French Bureau des Longitudes, which contains some unusual provisions, the pupils, six in number, all of them being lieutenants in the national navy. The period of study is six months. Every two months two pupils will leave and be replaced by two other naval lieutenants.

Statuettes and other artistic forms in plaster are made very closely to resemble silver in appearance by being covered with a thin coat of powdered mica. This powder is mixed with collodion, and then applied to the objects in plaster with a brush, after the manner of paint. The mica can be easily tinted in various colors. It can be washed in water, and, unlike silver, is not liable to become tarnished by sulphuretted gases.

The New York Evening Post is responsible for the following curious statement: An apparatus for washing smoke, and thus depriving it of its character of a nuisance, is in operation at a factory at Menilmontant, Paris. A fine shower of water, travelling in the direction of the smoke, and at five times its velocity, is projected into the chimney, where it mixes with the smoke, taking up the soluble gases and precipitating the impurities carried up with the smoke by the draught. The foul water is discharged into a cistern, where it is collected, and a fine black paint is got from it.

"We were witness," says the Photographic News, "the other day, of a very pretty application of light made by a gardener. Everybody knows that the ripening and coloring of fruit are due for the most part to light and heat, and that the roses upon an apple are influenced by the manner in which the sun strikes it. On looking on some fine wall fruit in a Kentish garden, the proprietor called our attention to the manner in which he allowed his peaches to be partially covered by a leaf or two, in places—namely, where he wished them to remain green—and thus heighten by contrast the purple bloom on other portions of the fruit. There were many examples of a leaf being very sharply photographed upon the fruit, and the grower, by exercising a little care during the ripening season, thus enhanced the beauty of his fruit, and also their value, as in the case of a peach it is not only its flavor, but its appearance, which governs the price at Covent Garden."

Frequent mention has been made of the project for flooding the Desert of Sahara. A report has recently been made by Captain Roudaire, charged by the French Government with the investigation of the possibility of converting the interior of Algoria into a sea, to which enterprise frequent reference has been already made in the public press. An appropriation of $2,500 was made by the National Assembly of France, in 1874, for the special inquiry, and a commission was selected, of which Roudaire was placed in charge. The special object was to determine carefully, by leveling, the area that it was thought could be flooded by cutting away the barriers and introducing the water of the Mediterranean. The general result of the investigation went to show that there was a superficies of 6,000 square kilometres capable of inundation, embraced between 34 deg. 36 min. and 33 deg. 51 mm. north latitude, and 3 deg. 40 min. and 3 deg. 51 min. east longitude. In the central portion the depth below the level of the sea varies from twenty to twenty seven metres. None of the large and beautiful oases of Souf would be submerged, Debila, the lowest of all, being fifty-eight metres in altitude. In the Oued Rhir the very inconsiderable and valueless oases of Necira and Dendouga would alone be covered.

Slumbering Christians.

Some somnambulists have been able to walk on places where, had they been awake, they never would have been able to endure the dizzy height; and I see some Christians, if, indeed, they be Christians, running awful risks, which I think they would never venture upon unless they had fallen into a deep sleep of carnal security.—Speak of a man slumbering at the mast-head; it is nothing to a professor of religion at ease, while covetousness is his master or worldly company his delight. If professors were awake they would see their danger, and avoid sinful amusements and ungodly associations, as men fly from fierce tigers or deadly cobras.—Spurgeon.

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev J B Bobbitt, R. T Gray, Esq } Editors.

RATES OF SUBSORIPTION:

ON ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID,	$2.20
IN MONTHS, " "	1.85
If payment be delayed six months,	2.70

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Editors of the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

RALEIGH, N. C., NOVEMBER 24, 1875.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly.

The Sin of Sabbath-Breaking.

The sin of Sabbath breaking is too seldom enforced in the pulpit and by our religious journals. Public opinion, the pulpit and press, like a concentrated battery, ought to flash indignation and ostracising scorn upon all the various forms of Sabbath profanation. The wish of the Atheist, the infidel and the man of vice, is to blot out the Sabbath, believing that the Christian religion will be abolished with it. Without the Sabbath, our public institutions, designed to promote and perpetuate Christianity, would cease; our Sabbath schools would be disbanded; the churches would be closed; the ministry dismissed and discarded from the world; and the great current of sin would sweep on through the land, bearing upon its turbid bosom the busy tribes of men into the dark gulf of eternal ruin. On the strict observance of the Sabbath hangs the whole system of Christianity, and for this reason alone it should be guarded with eternal vigilance.—The violation of the Sabbath is a shame, a burning shame, to a people who profess to receive the Bible as a revelation from Heaven. We are in this regard far worse than the pagan nations, who keep all their sacred days with the most scrupulous fidelity. One thing must be borne in mind; the law of God cannot be broken with impunity. No truth is more clearly established than this. All history attests it. It is written in the ruin of men and of nations. Retribution is as sure in its coming as the movement of the tides, and is often as silent, and always as irresistible. Whoever experiments with the Law of God, will find the work to end in the ruin of soul and body. Broken health, shattered constitutions, squandered for lunes, wayward children, death on the door-step; gloom in the household, the gnawings of remorse, and the stings of a guilty conscience, vindicate, in the case of individuals, the violated laws of our nature and our God. In the case of nations, degeneracy of manners, corruption of morals, venality in public offices, intrigue, profanity, debauchery, theft, bloodthirstiness—in a word every crime that blackens the pages of history and foredooms a people to social overthrow and ruin, attest, at the same moment, the value of the law of God, and the horrible guilt of those who break it.

We long to see our land purged from the sin of Sabbath breaking.—We pray to have a day of rest according to the great Creator's purpose and plan when he made man and placed him upright amid the fresh beauty of Eden. For this glorious consummation every good man should work by precept and example. But it can never come while we carry our own guilt about with us, and give the world an argument against the truth by our own disregard of its injunctions. We must free ourselves first. We must cast out the beams from our own eyes, before we begin our ocilistic experiments with others It is for Christian men to see that a regard for the will of God is with them above all other considerations, and when this spirit rules the churches of the land, a light will begin to appear that shall herald the dawn of a brighter day.

THE North Carolina Conference will convene in annual session in the city of Wilmington on Wednesday, the 1st of December. Bishop McTyeire will preside. From present indications the Conference will be largely attended by persons of our communion from all parts of the State.

REV. V A. SHARPE, Agent for Trinity College, has returned from his trip through the East. He spent the day with us upon his return. From Raleigh he went to Danville to attend the Virginia Conference now in session at that place.

A FRIEND has sent us the following missing numbers from our file: No. 22, May 31, 1871; No. 41, October 18, 1871; and No. 4, Jan. 27, 1875.

We hope to receive all the numbers called for, as it is important we should have a complete file.

ALL persons whose subscription to the ADVOCATE has expired are earnestly requested to renew at once, or we shall be under the necessity of erasing their names from our books.

LET all who wish to read the proceedings of our Conference send in their subscriptions to the ADVOCATE without delay.

WE trust the preachers and lay delegates will all bring with them to Conference many new subscribers and renewals for the ADVOCATE.

Be Kind to thy Mother.

We invite the little readers of the ADVOCATE into the department of the grown people, to talk with them awhile about mother. Did you ever thank God, dear children, for giving you a kind and tender mother? If you never have, we hope you will no longer neglect to do so, for that is one of the greatest blessings He has given you. You are too young yet, perhaps, to know and feel how much you owe your mother. Will you then let us remind you of some of her loving tender care for you? It was your gentle, anxious mother who watched over your helpless infancy.—When your little feet could not bear you along, she softly carried you in her arms. She denied herself many privileges of society to wait upon you and minister to your wants. How many, many sleepless nights and weary days did she pass for your sake, and only relaxed her care when it was no longer necessary! She has, with pleasure, satisfied your curiosity by answering your many questions about things new to you. With interest she has marked your progress in learning to read. She has tried to guard against the bad influence of wicked children. Perhaps she has been sometimes vexed because you did not act prettily and kindly. She has tried to train you to begin to be good and useful. Your faithful mother's love for you is untiring. She is concerned for the health of your bodies, for the improvement of your minds, and for your eternal well-being. She has instructed you in the knowledge of your Saviour, and taught you to bend your knees in prayer to Him who invites little children to come unto him.

We cannot tell you all your mother's care and kindness, but it is to her you are indebted for much of the happiness, comfort and usefulness of your lives. Her love is the most constant you will ever know on earth. It will never die. Even ingratitude and unkindness cannot quench a mother's love for her child. We hope, dear children, none of you will ever be unkind to your mother or cause her pain and sorrow, by being ungrateful and disobedient. If ever you are tempted to be so wicked, remember what your mother has done for you. Think of her unwearied love and tenderness to you; of her suffering and anxieties for your sakes, and resist every impulse to forget such devotedness.

Perhaps, dear children, some of you have no mother; if so, you often feel sad when you see other children happy with their parents and you feel lonely and desolate But do you not know that the Lord has a special care for such unfortunate and lonely little ones! The Bible, you must remember, says "When my father and mother forsake me, then the Lord will take me up." He will never leave nor forsake you, if you put your trust in him, but will be more than father or mother to you. We hope all the little readers of the ADVOCATE will remember what we have said and never be unkind to mother.

WE learn from the New York Advocate that the National Camp Meeting Association is engaged in establishing a publishing house, separate from and entirely independent of the connectional publishing agencies of the church North. Dr. Curry pronounces it a disloyal movement, hostile to the established institutions of the church, and declares that the promoters of the scheme have broken the solemn pledge and contract which, as ministers of the connection, they are under to act as agents in diligently promoting the distribution of the publications sent ont from the Publishing House belonging to the Church North.

The venerable Doctor has warmly advocated "disintegration and absorption" as the right policy to be pursued by the Church North toward the Church South: but now, as he sees a similar policy adopted by the Camp-meeting Association toward the Book Concern in New York, and dangers environing the latter, his wrath waxes hot and he passes from ridicule and predictions of financial failure, to remonstrance, then rebuke and then to unqualified denunciation.

Among other things he says:—"Under the profession of Holiness—a doctrine justly precious to our people—a few men, whose ministerial position and influence have been acquired under our itinerant system, and whose obligations as itinerant preachers bind them to observe the methods of labor prescribed by our chief pastors, unless excused therefrom by actual disability, have, first, organized themselves into an association to choose their own places and times of service, and, next, have set themselves to the task of establishing a publishing institution not recognized in our economy, but claiming the support of our pastors and people. * * We are compelled to characterize this whole publishing movement as in conflict with the connectional obligations of its leaders, and fraught with evil to the Church As a financial project it will either end in early and humiliating failure, or it will build up and foster within the Church an irresponsible agency, the outcome of which will be another and mischievous secession

Rev. H. P. Cole, was in the city last week and spent Thursday with us. The marriage notice which will be found in another place will tell the mission on which he came—to marry a lady of this city. (to another gentleman, however.)

Zeal Christians.

The following is characteristic of Dr. Talmage. When he strikes, the blow is often seen. He deals with practical questions in a practical way. Thousands who are in the church do nothing to advance her interests and promote the cause of Christ.

One half the professed Christians amount to nothing. They go to church. They pay pew rents They have a kind regard for all religious institutions. But as to any firm grip of the truth, any enthusiastic service for Christ, any cheerful self-denial, any over mastering prayer, any capacity to strike hard blows for God, they are a failure. One of two things these half and half professors ought to do; either withdraw their names from the church role or else go as near the fire as to get warm. Do you not know that your present position is an absurdity? You profess to be living for God and heaven, but all the world knows you are lying.—Wake up. Do something before you are dead. Either help pull the Lord's chariot, or get out of the way.

Dr J. M Dunlap, of Anson county, at present pursuing his medical studies at the University of New York, is a devoted Methodist and a promising young physician. From a pleasant business and personal letter we extract the following in reference to the "Church of the Strangers:"

"There is a revival effort going on over the city and with some success. A great many seem to be earnest about their souls' salvation. I heard Dr. Deems yesterday preach an excellent sermon, subject Atheism and Deism. He plainly put it: That if the Atheist is right, the Christian has lost nothing; and if he is wrong he has lost all and the Christian has gained all. He is doing a good work up here, and has large congregations. Up in the gallery are seated about 200 orphans about half of them boys and all dressed alike. The girls are all dressed alike. After the congregation is dismissed, they sing a few songs. I like to see such. There are a great many people here that never hear the gospel."

We had a pleasant note last week from Rev. T. P. Summers, of Morristown, Tenn. He has been elected Principal, for five years, of Morristown Female High School, which was endorsed and adopted by the Morristown District Conference at its last session. The school has a full corps of instructors, is located in a healthy climate and is well governed and patronized. The Fall session began Aug 30th and continues twenty-one weeks, including one week's holiday at Christmas; the Spring session begins at the close of the Fall session and continues twenty weeks. The circular shows some excellent testimonials as to the character of the school and its instructors.

The New York Methodist gives the following specimen of supreme bigotry. It carries its own condemnation with it:

"Dr. Bright, of the Examiner and Chronicle, seems to have authoritatively settled several things at the Baptist Convention recently held at Saratoga. The Independent charges him with saying. There can be nothing permanently salutary in the existence of anyother denomination than the Baptist.' Utterly deny that it is good for the world that there should be any other Church than the Baptist in existence.' The Baptist Church recognizes in full the leadership of Christ; while these Pedobaptist sects are an organized master against King Jesus.' We are sorry to see these evidences that the Baptist Church here abouts is afflicted with a new and aggravated kind of Bright's Disease."

NOTICE.

Any person sending us the following numbers of the Raleigh CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE will confer a favor and receive proper compensation for so doing. The numbers wanted for 1869 and a part of 1870 are the Episcopal Methodist. In 1870 the name of the paper was changed to Christian Advocate. The missing numbers from our file are the issues of July 14th, 1869, No. 28; October 20th, 1869, No. 42; December 15th, 1869, No. 50; December 28th, 1870, No. 50; August 23d, 1871, No. 33; April 24, 1872, No. 17. It is very important that we keep a complete file, and we shall be obliged to any one who will send us the numbers called for.

CONFERENCE NOTICE.

It is earnestly desired that all the class of preachers of the first year will arrange to be in Wilmington by 9 o'clock, A. M., on Tuesday, the day before Conference convenes. The committee are anxious to get as nearly through with the examination as possible before the regular work of the Conference shall be commenced. It is believed that it will be better for both class and committee for all to be present at beginning of the examination.

JNO. R BROOKS, Chairman.
Goldsboro, N. C., Nov. 19 1875.

According to the Methodist, the position of Dr. Edward Eggleston, pastor of the "Church of Christian Endeavor," in Brooklyn, who is a supernumerary member of the Minnesota Conference, was pretty thoroughly discussed as to the law and merits of the case, and his relation was continued by a unanimous vote It seems that Dr. E. had done yeoman's service, years back; and hence its action.

"That Duel"

MESSRS EDITORS: I see in your last issue that Bro. Yates wants blood shed. He wishes the author of "Pull the Wires" challenged for a duel. He evidently seems to suspect the writer to be a man of pluck; therefore, of ocurse, he asks you to meet him. Why did he not say, "I will meet him?" He endorses Bro. Hudson's Centennial move, but thinks the plaster "too thin to draw." Stand back young fledglings! the old man is in the field with his coat off! He wants the plaster spread thick, so it will draw blood, instead of a blister. I am sure he is not a fighting man for the reason, he don't want to see blood flow but wishes it drawn with his plaster; but its too thin to draw, so he recommends that a few leeches be procured to help his plaster draw, especially Add. and the Gen'l, who, he says, ALWAYS draw on their imagination.

There will be no fight unless you do obey Bro. Yates' blood imaginary order and call the author out, as no one but our imaginary Bro. wants him slain on the field of honor. And I will go security that he will not call him. For he has been drawing on his imagination with his plaster until he is evidently very badly scared at "Pull the Wires." He imagined that damage might be done by the author. He thought he saw the tracks of the old man in the ADVOCATE, and he was on his way to Conference and he started for the rye patch. "The wicked flee when no man pursueth." Just see how he got into that rye patch.—What a glorious change seems to have suddenly come over him—after trying to get our Christian Editors to shed innocent blood. Then he comes to his draw plasters the leeches and Leaches—then he betook himself to the rye patch to look after a nest of young birds. Come out of the rye, dear Bro, and draw on your imagination and tell us in the ADVOCATE, after rye harvest, if the old bird got out of the way in time, and if the leeches and plaster had the desired effect.

Countermand your bloody order to the editors to meet upon the gory field the Goliath, who can write so well and to the point, without drawing on his imagination, as the author of "Pull the Wires." Then spread your plaster a little thicker and you will not need the leeches. Add nor the General. Dear Bro., then read the Fight in the Georgia Scenes and tell us which of the three characters you most admire. I am sure, in your imaginations, if you draw correctly, it will be Ransey Sniffle. But "Pull the Wires," dear Bro., if the Bishop should pass that way. But don't take on too long a train with your engine for fear you end in a fizz and a puff.

But, "Pull the Wires!" Selah.

Yours very truly,
JAS ADD LEACH.
Thomasville, N. C., Nov. 17th.

Centennial, Advocate, Widows, Trinity Metropolitan Church, et cetra, cum grano salis.

MESSRS EDITORS: I have read in today's ADVOCATE the article, with the above caption, written by Rev. E. A. Yates, who it seems was feeling good when he wrote. It makes my head almost dizzy, to see how he goes, with a "splash" and a dash and a "fizz" and a puff. He disposes of Centenuials in a sort of Quixotic style, in fact with a small "c." His article is short, but it "spreads" over, the Centennial, the Metropolitan Church, Trinity, the Advocate, the Widows and Orphans, including the birds, the old men and boys and the field of rye, wire pulling and a duel and takes up, on an overhanging rock, over the waters I suppose, where he sees nuggets of gold; alas! I fear the nuggets of gold are only the yellow eyes of a fish. "Men who live in glass houses ought not to throw stones" Nobody doubts but that noble enterprises are made to succeed by nerve, brain and muscle. No one (so far as I know) claims any thing for these noble enterprises, spoken of in the articles on the Centennial, on the score of charity. The Widows and Orphans I have all the time supposed, had as strong claim on us legally, as any paper, College, or anything of the kind, in our economy. Will Bro. Yates dispute that? but if it was a charity, it would take brain and muscle and money to carry it on and not merely a Centennial. These enterprises, built up and cherished bring the nerve, the muscle, the money there, of our church, and then souled men like Bro. Y., to stand on the Rock and dig out, or pick out, the nuggets of gold, for all of these noble enterprises. I am for one, opposed to cramping the benevolence of the sflair, by playing Centennial, on one string that would not be according to "Hoyle." The rogues march is played on a single string, so they say. Let us, Bro. Y, while we feel so good, have the instrument full stringed; then we can have music, according to Hoyle, the church can then have full sweep for her benevolence. Give it full sweep, and it will strike with hands full of nuggets of gold; then all of our enterprises will come on in regular line, and success will surely crown all together. Now Messrs Editors we write this because we too feel good—and are not drawing on the "imagination."

C. C. DODSON.
Pittsboro, N. C. Nov. 16th 1875.

Albemarle Circuit.

This circuit is one of the most fruitful and growing fields of labor, of its size, within the bounds of the District. It is composed of 7 appointments, and there have been revivals at all but one. It is true, that the number of accessions have not been as numerous as in some other charges—there having been only 47, but then the membership have been wonderfully quickened and strengthened, in the "faith once delivered to the saints," and are faithful in its maintenance.

The official board are the most efficient we have ever known, and are always ready to co-operate with the Pastor, in every good work, especially, that which has for its object the salvation of precious souls.

From present indications, we believe that all the assessments will be met, and no debt be left.

Some of the best social material, of the county has been embraced in the work of revival, and so far as mental culture is concerned, is not surpassed by that of any section in which we have labored for the last 34 years.

Class meetings, prayer meetings, and weekly meetings are very popular more or less, held every week at all the churches but one.

There are two local preachers on the circuit, who so far as "gifts and graces" are concerned, will compare favorably with any in the Conference, and are always ready to work when the call is given,

The financial system of the circuit, is admirably adjusted, and its machinery does not require much "Lubricatice Oil" for its remarkably quiet and harmonious action, like we have known in some places. The question, possibly, may arise and be asked, "what is meant by the above figurative expression?" We answer, that it is simply this: A large number take the ADVOCATE, and they read it: consequently the P. C has very little to do with the money matters from the pulpit

The congregations, generally, are large and attteutive, and "gladly receive the word" Sin is rebuked, and piety commended, and the masses seem to be pleased at the idea of plain, honest dealing. The preachers, don't pay much attention to "priming, puttying, sand papering, varnishing, and polishing" the labors of the pulpit, and the consequence is that many of the believers rejoice, and the praises of God are frequently heard in the sanctuary.

The last 4 months have been remarkable for "refreshings from the presence of the Lord," and "Zion," here realizes her "perfection of beauty," and that "God hath shined," and what is better still, the prospect grows brighter and brighter!

It is due to our worthy predecessor, Rev. R C Brown, that we should say it is our honest conviction, a great deal of the happly state of things, on the circuit, is owing to his efficiency and zeal, and the, honest, faithful efforts of a faithful P. E. This is no vain compliment, but the simple plain truth.

To God be all the praise! Amen.

T. PAGE RICAUD, P. C.

N. B. Infant baptism is on rising ground, and we have had the pleasure of baptising many of the little children.

A Model Christian Lady.

I have the pleasure of an acquaintance with a young Christian married lady on this circuit, whose husband is a liberal contribntor to the support of the preacher in charge; yet the good sister, fearing that her preacher and his family might not be as well and comfortably supplied with the necessaries of life as she thought every preacher ought to be, sold some of her fine dressing for the purpose of making a donation to her minister. Her husband and herself are both members of the M. E. Church South.

If there is any thing of which young ladies, either married or single, are very tenacious, I think it is their fine and beautiful dressing. This act on her part needs no comment; but speaks for itself.

Let others of the same spirit and principle do likewise, in some way and our preachers need never be anxious about the comfortable support of themselves and families.

AMICUS.

Snow Hill Circuit, N C, Nov. 12th 1875.

Conference Notice.

All the rail roads and steamboat lines in this State will pass and return Ministers and delegates to the N C. Conference, to convene in the city of Wilmington on 1st December, for one first-class fare.

The following roads will give return tickets: Wilmington & Weldon, Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta, North Carolina, N. W. North Carolina, Carolina Central, and Western, The following roads will return those paying first class fare coming, by their presenting a certificate from the Secretary of the Conference: Raleigh & Gaston, Raleigh & Augusta Air-Line, Atlantic & North Carolina, and Atlantic, Tennessee & Ohio.

J. E. MANN.
Wilmington, N. C. Nov. 9th, 1875.

Up to the hour of going to press, we have no intelligence from the Virginia Conference, now in session at Danville, Va. We understand that Bishop McTyeire will spend next Sabbath in Greensboro.

UPON our first page will be found several interesting communications.

News from the Churches.

Rev. C. H. Phillips, writes from Lexington, Nov 18th: "Since I wrote last, the Lord has visited us with a gracious revival of religion. More than 60 have been converted during the last 4 weeks on the Davidson circuit.

We are now in the midst of a good revival in Lexington. May the good work go on till all the people are saved from sin. Let all say Amen."

Rev. J. Sandford writes as follows concerning his work:

"I have finished my protracted meetings on Bladen Circuit with encouraging success. The church has enjoyed a revival spirit at every point, and where was no materia or very little to work on outside, the communicants have had a season of refreshing from the presence of the Lord. An indefinite number in the church have been reclaimed or converted. We report 50 conversions from the world, with about as many accessions; and have organized a new church with 20 members, the result of labors on the Cape Fear Mission.—This church is added to Bladen Circuit, and several more, in time, might be organized, if the territory was properly cultivated. At Antioch, my thanks are due to Rev. J. W. Randle of the Magnolia ct., and Bro. L Calbreth for efficient aid. At Deems' Chapel, to Bro. Taylor Johnson, resident local preacher. He is an efficient worker and good man.

BETHLEHEM

Here we had no preacher, but the exhorters and laymen worked grandly. The Lord was with us. The services were accompanied with occasional shouts which somewhat startled the fastidious, while the majority seemed to enjoy it finely.

TEREBINTHE.

Here we met with formidable opposition. Our Baptist friends, who had the numerical force, not very politely asked us to retire from the field. The circumstances were embarrassing, especially as we always try to avoid any conflict; but as we had published our meeting nine weeks before, and as this was the third time they had conflicted with us seemingly on purpose, we concluded not to retreat. The result shows that we were correct. Had a gracious time. Bro Bagwell, from Elizabeth ct. and Bro. B. Hall came to our assistance The former, endeared to the people as their former Pastor, entered heartily into the work. His sermons flashed with the genuine logic, and what he lacked in arousing the emotional, he made up by personal encounter with the sinner. Bro. Hall was distinctly heard in every sermon, and the ability with which he handled his subject, as well as his zeal, should and will commend him to the ensuing Conference, to which he applies for admission into the ranks of the itineracy.

CENTER.

Here Bro. Rrandle came to my aid again, and releived me very much in the labors of the meeting. His sermons were good and suitable to the occasion. Bro. Joshua Johnson, local preacher, preached some good sermons. Some of the services were remarkable. The pungent conviction, clear conversions, and shout of christians should have been entirely satisfactory to those yearning for the old landmarks.

WINDSOR.

Similar scenes. This was my 4th Qr. Conference, Bro. Black, P. E. was at his post, actively in earnest for the welfare of the church. Our people do not think his sermons or administrations need any praise.

The Sunday-school interest has been more than ordinarily prosperous. Superintendants, W. J. Parker, Antioch, Rev. Taylor Johnson, Deems Chapel, and Jonathan Dunham, Bethlehem, deserve special notice.

Considering the financial pressure, which has been hard on our people engaged in "tar, pitch and turpentine," we have had a successful year. The work is hard, but the people are unusually kind, with a goodly number, (whose names ought to be recorded in church history) of the most magnanimous men I have ever had under my charge. The pleasant manner in which they received me on coming to the work, was an index to their future manner of making the preacher and his family feel pleasant.

Our association as far as I know, has been as pleasant as possibly could be, when the preacher does his duty for the welfare of the church, and the glory of God. May God bless the people, and when broken up here, may our association continue in the home where the white robed multitude shall part no more.

The first convocation of the colored churches of the Reformed Episcopal Church in South Carolina was held at Pineopolis, August 14. Seven congregations, numbering 638 members, were represented. An assessment for the year of $4 a member was agreed upon, thus making ample provision for the support of two colored preachers. Steps were taken for securing the education of applicants for the ministry.

Old Catholicism is spreading in Italy. In a meeting held at Naples it has constituted itself as a denomination, under the name of "Italian National Catholic Church" About three thousand members were represented.

Send your job work to the Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Religious Brevities.

The meetings of Moody and Sankey in Brooklyn continue to attract large crowds and are of unabated intrest.

Bishop Simpson has returned home, and preached in Grace church, Philadelphia, last Sunday.

Rev. McDuff Simpson, the young, but very eloquent Irish divine, now of the Lexington Presbytery, has been installed pastor of Loch Willow Presbyterian Church, Churchville, Augusta county, Va.

Mount Holyoke Seminary has furnished one hundred and fifteen wives for foreign missionaries. So says an exchange.

Rhode Island has about two thousand more scholars in her Sabbath schools than she has children of a school age.

Dr. Hall's new Church in New York, is to have a $25,000 organ which is to be worked by steam.

A new Methodist Episcopal church has been built in Salt Lake City. The edifice is beautiful and imposing, will seat one thousand persons without crowding, and bids fair to be filled from the day of dedication.

The directers of the Holston Publishing Company have elected Rev. R. N. Price Editor of the Holston Methodist and W. W. Gibson business manager.

Trials of an Editor.

Dr. John, of the Galveston Christian Advocate, is a first rate editor, and makes one of the best papers in the connection; but he has such trials as editors must expect. Under the head of "A Quandary" he writes as follows:

We find the following in an exchane:

"A man bought a horse. It was the first one he had ever owned. He saw in a newspaper that a side window in a stable makes a horse's eye weak on that side; a window in front hurts his eyes by the glare; a window behind makes him squint-eyed; a window on a diagonal line makes him shy when he travels; a stable without a window makes him blind. He sold his horse."

We have several times found ourselves in the same situation respecting the proper mode of editing a paper. One wants the news, and another wants sermons in their place: some people are fond of controversial articles, while others think a preacher ought to fast forty days and nights before he engages in such business: many are pleased with the young folks' corner, and another class would prefer the department displaced to make room for choice literary gems from standard authors or magazines. Many read with interest the "Out look," presenting in brief space the movements of the Christian world each week, while others would prefer a sermon on some doctrinal text. The quantity of advice received would have enabled us to run half a dozen newspapers: but it has been so contradictory and impossible that, if followed, it would have ruined double that number. We see no other course but to follow our own judgment—or sell the horse.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Corn is selling at Durham at $3 per barrel.

A beaver weighing 46 pounds was recently caught in Perquimans county.

Sneak thieves are committing depredations in Charlotte.

A doll put up at auction at the Weldon Fair, brought $25 for the orphans at Oxford.

The work on the Western N. C. Railroad is progressing finely. One hundred and fifty convicts are employed on the road.

The State Treasurer last week paid the first installment of interest on the bonds issued in behalf of the Western N. C. Railroad.

The Concord SUN says that more corn has been made in Cabarrus county this year than for years past.

Mr. Joel B. Walters, a prominent planter of Caswell county, recently lost 17 hogs by cholera.

A young man in Polkton claims the championship of the State as a chicken eater, and is not afraid to enter the lists against a preacher.

The people from Mt. Airy to Greensboro' are in a fever on the subject of a narrow-gauge railroad between the two points.

Meetings of the Aldermen in Charlotte cannot be regularly held for want of a quorum.

Mrs. W. P. Reinhardt had on exhibition at the Hickory Fair a quilt 100 years old. It was of pieced-calico and home-spun flax. The calico cost $1.25 per yard.

Miss Fisher, of Caldwell county, had on exhibition at the Hickory Fair a silk dress, which was spun, wove and made in Catawba county.

Gov. Brogden has ordered a special term of the Superior Court for New Hanover county, to convene on the 6th of December, for the trial of civil cases only. Judge Henry will preside.

From Winnsboro', S. C. to Charlotte, N. C., the freight on a bale of cotton is $2.50. From Fort Mill to Charlotte (11 miles) it is $1.25 per bale. That is the way the Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta Railroad 'extortionates.'

A fire on Thursday broke out in Newbern in the cotten gin of A. R. Denison destroying property to the amount of $18,000.

James Forrest, of Hillsboro, who about a year ago, went to Indiana, has returned home, satisfied that North Caro ina offers more and better inducements for health and fortune than any other State.

There is a bear at large near Cedar Grove, Orange county, and the merchants thereabouts complain that it affects their trade. A new explanation of the 'hard times.'

T. B. Russell, living near Shoe Heel, Robeson Co., lost his cotton gin and a quantity of cotton by fire recently. Loss $2100. Insurance $1500.

Capt. D C Weddison announces his purpose to sever his connection with the Daily News of this city on the first December prox. We regret to lose it from our city press. As local editor of the News he has made for himself quite a reputation. We learn that he has accepted a position on the Wilson Advance. Our best wishes attend him.

The Greensboro Patriot heard an experienced miner who had made the rounds in California, say that the mines in Stanly Co. in this State, are equal to any on the Pacific coast and could be worked to greater profit.

Capt. W F Avery, late of the Charlotte Observer, favored us with a call last week. He has been spending several days in the city. We should be glad to see him connected with the press of Raleigh. He is a clear and forcible writer.

The Concord Register says that Mr. B. Little, who lives near Love's Mill, Stanly county, had his barn, with all of his horse feed, forty or fifty bushels of wheat and three horses, burned up last Friday night. The fire can't be accounted for except upon the supposition that it was the work of an incendiary.

The Fort Fisher Reunion was celebrated with great eclat at Wilmington on the 11th inst. Capt. Wm. Lamb who commanded the forces at that desperate fight on the 15th of Jan. 1865 was present together with many of the survivors of the battle.

A flat, says the Star, crossing the Cape Fear River late in the evening with four railroad hands, was run into by a large tow of a steamer, and narrowly escaped being swamped. The brig struck the stern of the flat and numbers of the men jumped off and clung to the bow chains of the brig. One of them dropped into the water but was rescued by a boat.

The Methodist Church at Greensboro says the Patriot, is always crowded on the occasion of a Sunday-school concert. The last one, arranged by Misses Eugenia Bumpass and Dora Jones was very interesting.

The deputy sheriff of New Hanover county, on Saturday last arrested seven gamblers who had been fleecing the unsuspecting at Wilmington Fair.

Capt. H. M. Dixon, formerly of Co. H., 35th N. C. Regiment, is organizing a Company of 100 men to attend the Centennial next year.

On Thursday night of week before last as Mr Jos. Wells, of Wayne county, was going home, having sold a bale of cotton, he was assaulted on the road by a white man and two negroes who cut off a portion of his coat and robbed him of $10 in money.

The Rocky Mount MAIL says that Messrs Coke, Brown & Co., of Philadelphia, who recently bought of Dr. John Arrington the Mann gold mine of Nash have moved to the mine large quantities of heavy and improved machinery, and have begun operations in earnest.

Rev. Dr. Munsey was advertised for a lecture at Winston on last Monday evening.

Capt. S. E. Allen, late Gen. Ticket Agent of the R. & D. R. R intends to become a citizen of Winston.

The WATCHMAN says that Salisbury will assume the indebtedness of the Fair Association, and relieve it from embarassment.

Some of the Eastern N. C. papers are advocating the erection in the capital square at Raleigh, of an equestrian statue of Gen. R. E. Lee.

Dixon, a negro, while attempting to rob a whiskey wagon in Robeson county last week, was shot by the owner of the wagon, Mr. Smothers, and killed.

The trial of Hedrick for killing Jennings in Yadkin County, last summer took place in Forsythe county last week.

Dr. Samuel Martin, formerly of Winston, N. C. now of Missouri, has invented a brick making machine, which received the award at the Pittsburgh (Pa.) Industrial Exhibition.

The civil suit against James Turner, Executor of T. R. Tate has been removed from Cabarrus to Rowan county. Considerable interest is felt in the case as a large amount of money is at stake.

A Massachusetts woman has written a memoir of the late Dr. Susan Dimock, of Washington.

SAYS the Durham TOBACCO PLANT: "We learn the Baptist church at this place has selected the Rev. Mr. Durham, at present Pastor of the Baptist church at Goldsboro, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Prof. Reid. If he accepts the call, and we learn he will, he will move to Durham and occupy all his time with the church at this place."

A writer in the Greensboro PATRIOT sums up the recent Rockingham fox hunt with the following poetical effusion:

A band of famous fox hunters came from the North;
From the hals of the Douglas they all sailed forth;
With the pack of Len A. and that of Judge Settle
On horses well groomed and the highest of mettle,
They crossed the Big Dan, rode over valley and steep—
Trailed up a red fox, and caught—John Carter's sheep!!

NEW FEED STORE.—About four years ago Mr. W. A. Gattis established as a specialty a feed store. He is the founder of this business in Raleigh. In order to be more convenient to his city customers, he has opened a new store in the Adams and Moore building on Wilmington Street, where he is prepared to furnish, on reasonable terms, corn, fodder, oats, hay, mill feed, bran, peas, &c. Mr. Gattis, it is well known, is a stirring, active business man, and he has established the reputation of fair dealing with his customers. Consignments of forage, flour, and grain of all kinds will receive prompt attention.

A GOOD RECORD.—Under the above heading the Raleigh ERA speaks as follows of Mr. Jones late of this city, now of GOLDSBORO, a sterling man and, with other recommendations, a subscriber to the ADVOCATE. The ERA says: "Geo. T. Jones, Esq., late agent of the North Carolina Railroad, at Raleigh, turned over the effect of his office to J. C. R. Little, Esq., the newly appointed agent, on Monday, 15th inst. We understand that after an official career as agent at this place of three years, involving the collection and accounting for of over four hundred thousand dollars, Mr. Jones leaves without having lost but fifty cents,' and that was pronounced a counterfeit by Teller L. D. Heartt, of the Raleigh National Bank. This is a good showing truly both for the community and the agent Mr. Jones can now cry out, "Bring on your silver pitchers," &c,

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING. TERMS $2 20 POSTAGE PAID.

Our Agents.

The traveling and local preachers in the bounds of the Conferences hereinafter are our authorized agents. Any person sending us ten subscribers, for one year, will receive the paper free.

Our Correspondence.

All communications for publication should be carefully written, and on but one side of the sheet. All letters on business should be addressed to the Editor.

How to Remit.

In sending money, all amounts should be sent in registered letters, or postoffice orders or checks. The cost of registering a letter or postoffice order can be deducted from the amount in remit. If money is sent otherwise than as specified it will be at the sender's risk.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

We invite attention to the advertisement of Messrs Law & Co., Crockery and Glass merchants, who have recently established a branch house in this city. The present establishment is at Atlanta, Ga., their store on Fayetteville street, is the Holleman building, is the most attractive place in Raleigh, the display of handsome crockery, china and glass ware, fancy an substantial, being dazzling in its beauty and completeness. We did not whether there is a more complete establishment of its kind in the South certainly not in the State. It is the Raleigh "Palaces," and will well repay a visit to it. The Messrs Law, the elder and younger, are both cultivated gentleman—not only thoroughly acquainted with their business, but possessed of that refinement which renders business and social intercourse with them pleasant.

BRANSON'S N. C. ALMANAC.—We have received from the publisher a copy of his North Carolina Agricultural Almanac for 1876. The calculations were made for the Almanac by Rev. R. Craven, D.D. LL.D. It is well filled with interesting and useful information upon various subjects. Price ten cents. Address Rev. L. Branson, Raleigh N. C.

A new book—Stonewall Jackson.

Consumptive cure. Dr. W. C. Stevens & Co., Syracuse N. Y.

General News.

The new Constitution of Alabama has been ratified by a large majority.

The Democratic Missouri is said to be gaining. Prize winners are known.

Reed Brooks managed London railway in the interest of our millions of dollars.

It is proposed to move the State capital of West Virginia to Wheeling.

The trial of the thieves and their accomplices in the Custom House robberies is in progress at St. Louis.

Gen. Hancock visited Cedarville, Kansas, where he was received with 21 gun salutes was serenaded and addressed.

A collision on New York Prince Rupert of the Duke of Holstein, is not expected to live.

A Mr. Cole, living in the Hermitage section of Davidson county, Tenn., committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor.

It is said that Mr. Tilden will not accept the nomination for Governor of New York.

Mr. Hayes has appointed Wednesday the 26th inst. as a day of thanksgiving.

Mr. Bowen, of Mississippi, has been appointed Minister to Switzerland.

Mr. Wm. Lamb who commences his purchases of this city on the first of January. We regret to lose him from this city, but wish him success.

Fisher Reunion was celebrated at Wilmington on the 13th

Children's Column.

Good Night.

If I could only lay me down to rest,
Crossing my weary hands upon my breast,
And still my fresh eyes will not shut in fear,
Knowing that they would never open here—
How blissful it must be, both safely in sight,
To say or hear good night.

If only, from the fretting cares of Time,
Its truths eternal let once more climb
No longer count the graves wherein I tread,
But to the moment be all comforted—
It soon could be, what joy to upward flight,
Trading my tired good night.

I watch the sweetest flowers throughout the morn,
Lovely and local mortality they are gone;
The wings of sorrow are forever spread;
I weep, but weeping tethers not back my dead.
If God would but reveal the breaking light,
How sweet to say good night!

Thrill-so ring tide of yearnings will not cease;
I cannot reach to touch the lips of peace;
Nor can I gather to my sobbing breast
The white winged angels God sweet apart.
Yet aspiy I may find them all in sight
After some tired good night

What wonder, then, that I should long to rest,
Crossing my weary hands upon my breast;
To shut my tear-tired eyes without a fear,
Knowing that they would never open here;
To say to each, with heaven alone in sight,
My rapturous good night

Answers.

"Israel shall blossom etc" is found in Isaiah 27th ch. 6th verse. F. B. Jones, T. C. W. Boshamer.

"Salvation belongeth to the Lord" is found in Psalms 3.1 ch 8th v. F. B. Jones.

"He shall build a house for my name and I will establish the throne of his kingdom forever" is found in 2d Samuel 7th ch 12th v.

A new creature found—2d Corinthians 5th ch. 17th verse. A new song. Rev. 2d ch. 17th v A new commandment St. John 2d ch. 8th v. T. C. W. Boshamer.

The bittern is spoken of, Isaiah 34th ch. 11th verse. T. C. W. Boshamer.

BIBLE READERS.

T. C. W. Boshamer writes that he will enlist in the "army of young Bible readers" who, as young brother Betts proposed, shall read the Bible through in a year. To the same effect writes Miss Delia M. Whiteheart in behalf of herself and five of her students, Misses Bettie O. Fearington Julia A Johnson, Hetta Holland, Lillie D Williams and Master M. Williams.

Bro. Wm. H. Harrison, at Lenoir Institute, enlisted the following members of the Sunday School, to wit: Misses O. Aldridge, P. Aldridge, M. Creech, B. Hardy, A. L. Harrison, J. D Pridgen, L. J. Pridgen, E. Byrd, D. Cade, J. Aldridge and Masters R H. Harrison W Moore, J. A Aldridge A. Aldridge, L Holowell, E. Dawson, Geo. B. Harrison.

Questions.

T. C. W. Boshamer asks where is found "I will be as the dew unto Israel." Also, what words of encouragement did our Saviour give to his disciples.

F B Jones asks where is found the following precept: "Prove all things, hold fast that which is good." Also the following promise: "What man is he that feareth the Lord? Him shall he teach in the way that he shall choose." He also proposes the following

ENIGMA.

My 1st begins the name of one who had 70 brothers slain by Abimelech. My 2d one who urged Job to repent of his hypocrisy and wickedness. 3d a river of Europe. 4th one who assisted in carrying the dead bodies of Nadab and Abihu to their graves. 5th The city where Saul was anointed to be king. 6th one who was succeeded by Jepthah and judged Israel 7 years. 7th a city where Joseph the honorable counselor dwelt. 8th a king who was born when his father was but eleven years of age. The whole is the name of a prophet whom God commanded to take his girdle and go to the Euphrates and hide it there in a hole of the rock."

"Replace the Stone."

One day General Washington and some of his officers, while stationed at Boston, went to visit Chelsen. On their way they stopped to rest and refresh themselves at the mansion of Mr. Dexter, a beautiful spot surrounded by stately elms and green fields. The coolness of the shade and the kindness of the host were very tempting to the tired horsemen on a warm summer's day.

They alighted, and after hitching their horses under the trees, went to partake of the cheer within. When the party came out, one of the gentlemen accidentally knocked off a stone from the wall which ran before the house. Washington said he had better replace the stone.

"No," answered the officer, "I will leave that for somebody else."

Washington then went quietly and put the stone up again, saying as he did so, "I always make it my rule in visiting a place to leave things in as good order as I find them."

READING THE SCRIPTURES.—Suppose you have only a very few moments every day. One of the holiest men I ever knew never read more than five or ten verses at once. Every verse had so broad and many-sided a signification, that a few words gave him as much mental food as he could bear at one time. Throughout the day they came upon him in all their various applications and shades of meaning, as circumstances placed him in one position and now in another.

Rural and Domestic.

Fall and Winter Care of Stock

Unlike the system followed by some farmers nearly all the growth or gain in weight made by cattle is during the summer months, they being so poorly fed and cared for during the winter as to grow but little if any, and it is not uncommon to have both young and full grown cattle weigh less in April than they did in October. When grass comes in the spring some weeks time pass before the former state of health and flesh is regained, so that five months out of the twelve not unfrequently is the time in which flesh is added. This, of course, is very unprofitable management, and now is a good time to make preparation to prevent any approach of it.

If supplied with an abundance of good food, a healthy animal will not seriously suffer from exposure to extreme cold, and will even show comparatively little bad effects from exposure to storms of cold rain or snow. But this is expensive work. The animal must keep itself warm in some way, and must get dry if not kept dry. If comfortable shelter does not keep it warm and dry, it must consume more food to supply the extra heat, and if this food is not supplied, the animal must draw on the store of fat it has laid up in the past

It is entirely possible to keep domestic animals too warm in winter; it is common in the attempt to keep them warm, to injure them by confining them in badly ventilated stables or sheds. Neither of these abuses makes it advisable to go to the other extreme and give insufficient shelter. A common mistake, we think, is in neglecting cattle in the fall, allowing them to lose flesh, before giving them grain or shelter.

It is not necessary to have expansive buildings. Even a straw covered shed or table, which can be made in a day and with very little expenditure of money, will keep cattle dry and warm. Neither is it necessary to feed extravagantly, but enough should be given to make up for depreciation in value of the grass by frosts or drought. It is coming to be generally recognized that it does not pay to allow young plants or animals to receive a check to their growth, if this can be avoided; so it is unwise to allow a loss of the grain made during the summer by lack of care or food in Fall or Winter.

Protect the Strawberry Beds.

It being beyond the power of the horticulturist, in most cases, to protect the orchards from the hard freezing of Winter, and thus protect the fruit buds, it stands the lover of fruit in hand to protect the small varieties as far as possible The strawberry is one of the most desirable of fruits and should be found on the table of every farmer, and can just as well be, for it is almost a certain crop with proper care. Cover the bed with a thin coating of light mulch, such as rotten straw, which has become dry, then cover with marsh hay or clean straw A light coat is better than to risk too much, as the vines may be smothered by the heavy coat.

After the danger of frost is over in the spring, rake off the coarser material, leaving the finer mulch during the growing season Great damage is often done about the time the berries ripen, by drouth, and it is of as much importance to protect the plants from this as from the freezing weather of winter If the mulch is put on in the fall, it will prevent the ground from being beaten down and put in a condition to bake when the frost is going out in the spring.

There is nothing on so small a piece of ground that will pay better for the time required upon it, and the only wonder is that farmers do not generally avail themselves of the advantages of a small patch of strawberries.

Pumpkins are good feed for cows They should not be relied on as the only or even the main food, but as an accompaniment or addition to late pasture or grain feeding they are very useful. Fed in reasonable quantities they would tend to increase the quantity of milk. There is a quite common opinion that the seeds are injurious. We have known them to be eaten freely without any apparent injury, but it might be well to remove them.

A Train of Evils.

If weakness of the stomach is allowed to become chronic, the following evils supervene—Digestion is permanently impaired, the system is very imperfectly nourished, the blood becomes thin and watery, and the bile being unemployed for digestive and excretive purposes, enters the circulation through the thoracic duct, and injects itself into the superficial vessels, giving to the skin and whites of the eyes the saffron tinge indicative of biliousness. Headache, nausea, constipation, pains in the side, palpitations, heart-burn, dizziness, and many other harrassing symptoms which accompany the internal derangement above described, which, if unchecked is as sure to be followed by serious disease, as the rising of the sun by its setting. It is manifest, therefore, that an inability of the stomach to act upon the food should be overcome without delay. Too long resting influence upon that organ of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is speedily felt in the disappearance of all the disagreeable symptoms alluded to. The prescribed mineral remedies for general debility usually fail to achieve any lasting result, because they do not invigorate the stomach; Hostetter's bitters always succeed because that is their primal effect. The very fact that they are such an excellent stomachic constitutes them one of the best general tonics in existence. To restore digestion is the final step towards the recovery of health, when impaired by any of the multifarious complaints which arise from dyspepsia, and that step will be found to have been taken by the invalid who has availed himself of this famous anti-dyspeptic remedy.

Nov 2-1m.

R. H. MACY & CO.

14TH ST. & 6TH AVE NEW YORK.

The Largest Importers in America of Dolls and Toys suitable for Holiday Presents. The LARGEST BRETAIL FANCY GOODS ESTABLISHMENT in New York. Illustrated Catalogues sent free to any address.

Orders by mail attended to with special care.

oct 27-4t

A sound trained, THE CENTENNIAL GAZETTEER of the UNITED STATES. Over 1,000 pages, illustrated. Every family buys it, and agents make from $10 to $20 per day. Address A. G. NICHOLS & CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

Sept 15-12w.

"O wearisome condition of humanity!"

How many wretched homes in our land! How many heart broken invalids! Life with many signifies a merely grievous existence. All are subject to disease, but when health is removed the hope is nearly gone out. Sickness is usually incurred through exposure or careless neglect. Especially is this true with those diseases peculiar to woman. Through her own imprudence and folly she is made to drag out a miserable existence—a source of annoyance and anxiety to her relatives, and any thing but a comfort and pleasure to herself. Exposure to the cold at times when she should be most prudent, and overtaxing her body with laborious employment, are both fruitful causes of many of the maladies from which she suffers Gradually the bloom leaves her cheeks, her lips grow ashy white, her vivacity departs, she continually experiences a feeling of weariness and general languor, and altogether presents a ghostly appearance. What does she need? Should she take some stimulating drug which will for the time make her "feel better," or, does her entire system demand reparation? She needs pure vitalizing blood to build up her wasted tissues, bring back the glow of health, and restores comfort where previously there was only suffering.

Every invalid lady should send for "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," in which over fifty pages are devoted to the consideration of those diseases peculiar to Women It will be sent, post-paid, to any address, for $1.00. Address, R. V. Pierce, M. D., World's Dispensary, Buffalo, N.Y. Agents wanted to sell this valuable work

Nov 24-1t.

CHANGE IN BUSINESS.

The old and Well Known House of

J. M. ROSENBAUM

Having concluded to confine itself to certain special lines, announces that this basis business it is exclusively

A CLOTHING STORE

of the highest grade, where every article of Gentlemen's and Boy's wear of all kinds and grades is offered

ON THE MOST FAVORABLE TERMS FOR CASH.

Buyers need go no further to be suited. Every class of customers can be supplied.

CHINA, CROCKERY AND GLASSWARE,

Everything in that line can be found of the first quality and at very reasonable prices.

The long established character of this House is a sufficient guarantee of its ability and determination to do what it promises. Don't fail to call on

J. M. ROSENBAUM,
Corner Fayetteville and Hargett Sts.

Oct. 13-tf.

COME YE DISCONSOLATE!

Must find a stock of FIRST-CLASS GOODS, the very Latest Styles and Fashions, and put up in a style that will suit the most fastidious taste, go to

WEIKEL'S ESTABLISHMENT,

on Fayetteville Street, one door South of the Southern Express office.

IT IS A CONCEDED FACT that Weikel can put up the best and most satisfactory meal in the way of fine cuts of clothing, from a Vest to a Dress Business suit, that can be turned out in Raleigh. The old and young men say it, the ladies (best boss them) endorse it and the children are over heard saying that where Pa or recent "dada" put on a suit or Weikel's coat has Weikel takes this occasion to return his thanks for the liberal and liberal patronage heretofore received, and respectfully asks for continuance of the same.

Remember

CLOTHS,
CASSIMERES,
TWEEDS,
SUITINGS, &c.

to much larger than ever before, and comprises all the latest and most stylish having been recently purchased at low prices from

FASHION HEADQUARTERS.

A special force of Workmen are Picked Men of great skill and ability are known to the "dressing" public.

Come one, call to the Emporium of Fashion Weikel's the Merchant Tailor, for a first class Suit of Clothes of the choicest goods, put up in first class style.

REMOVAL.

OFFICE OF

T. H. Briggs & Sons,

RALEIGH, N. C.

We have removed to our elegant and commodious NEW STORE in the

BRIGGS BUILDING

where we will be pleased to see our many friends and the public generally.

OUR NEW STORE ROOM,

THIRTY-TWO feet wide and TWO HUNDRED long, together with a large and convenient Cellar and Warehouse adjoining, affords us unequalled facilities for conducting our business.

Customers and visitors will find our salesmen and ourselves polite, careful, accommodating and attentive. We extend a cordial invitation to every body to come and see us.

Respectfully,

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,

oct 13-tf. Briggs Building.

Williams & Haywood.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Oils, Dye Stuffs, Perfumery,

Fancy Articles, Garden Seeds, Fine Teas, Spices, Flavoring Extracts.

CIGARS, CHEWING TOBACCO &C.

Keep constantly on hand, at lowest market prices, White Lead, Putty, Kerosene Oil, Linseed Oil, Lamp Oil, Tanner's Oil, Window Glass, Varnish, &c., &c.

Dec. 25-1t.

SADDLES!

From $3 50 to $40.00

BUGGY HARNESS!

From $9.00 to $100

ON HAND AND FOR SALE BY

W. B. HUTCHINGS,

Where will be found a large stock of Carriage and Buggy Harness, Wagon, Dray and Cart Harness, Bridles, Whips, Collars, Hames, Saddle Blanks, Horse Blankets, Leather, &c., all my own Manufacture, and at prices to suit the times.

GIVE ME A CALL!

W. B. HUTCHINGS,
Fayetteville St., opposite Peace Hall,
oct 13 2m Raleigh, N. C.

BRINLY PLOWS

MANUFACTURED IN 1876.

Have taken over 250 Premiums at Fairs throughout the South. Send for illustrated Catalogue and Price List, to Factory, 224 to 230 Main St., Louisville, Ky.

BRINLY, MILES & HARDY,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

Sept 8-6m.

$5 TO $20 per day! Agents wanted in all classes of working people, of either sex, young or old, making more money at work for us in their spare moments, or all the time, than at anything else. Particulars free. Address G. STINSON & Co., Portland, Maine.

Sept 15-12w.

NEW FIRM

The undersigned have this day formed a co partnership under the firm name of

Wainright, Williams & Hood,

and having purchased the stock and goodwill of J. D. Wainright, they will continue the GROCERY and COMMISSION business at

FARMER'S EXCHANGE,

No. 4 Martin Street,

RALEIGH, N. C.

Our Stock will consist of

Bacon,
Flour,
Molasses,
Coffee,
Sugar,
Lard
Salt,
Bagging,
and Ties,

And all other goods in the Grocery line with Staple Dry Goods, Shoes, etc. Having superior facilities for buying, and a small expense account, we guarantee the lowest prices. Consignments of Cotton and produce generally solicited, to the sale of which our best efforts will be devoted.

Patronage of our friends respectfully solicited

GEO H. WAINRIGHT,
WM. H. WILLIAMS,
JAS. H. HOOD.

Raleigh, Sept. 1, 1875.

MID T WILLIAMS,
Wm H. HOOD.
Raleigh, Sept. 1, 1875. 1 Intim. 4 doh ration.

Having sold my stock of Groceries to Messrs. Wainright, Williams & Hood, I take pleasure in recommending them to my friends and late customers, as entirely worthy of confidence and patronage.

For the present I may be found at the old stand and hope all those indebted to me will call and settle as soon as possible.

J. D. WHITAKER

Raleigh, Sept 8-tf

WARRANTED ELIXIR OF LIFE EXPERIENCE

WHEN THE BLOOD RUSHES with rocket like violence to the head, causing hot flushes, vertigo and dizziness of sight, it is a certain sign that a wild sanitious, cooling and equalizing laxative is required and should be at once resorted to.

Tarrant's Seltzer Aperient

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Nov 10-2t

TYSON & JONES

Carriage Builders,

CARTHAGE, N. C.

Having recently increased our Facilities for Manufacturing, we are prepared to furnish Vehicles of the BEST QUALITY on short notice, and at comparatively low prices Vehicles shipped at Sanford, Raleigh and Chatham R. R. via Raleigh to any part of the State

We feel confident that, with the close attention we give the business, together with the materials used the skilled workman employed, and the many conveniences we have for manufacturing FIRST CLASS WORK, no house in the country can excel us in

STYLE, FINISH, DURABILITY AND

Low Prices.

We manufacture and keep constantly on hand Buggies of the Best Quality.

Repairing neatly done Satisfaction Notice Send for Circular

July 21 1yr

The Best Household Oil in the World!

C. WEST & SONS' ALADDIN SECURITY OIL.

Warranted 150 Degrees Fire Test

Endorsed by the Fire Insurance Companies

Read the following certificate, selected from many others:

HOW an Fire Ins Co. of BALTIMORE, December 3, '74

Messrs C. West & Sons: Gentlemen—Having tested the various oils sold in this city for illuminating purposes, I take pleasure in recommending your "Aladdin Security" as the safest and best ever used in our household.

Yours, truly,
ANDREW REESE, Pres't

Signed)

IT WILL NOT EXPLODE.

Ask your Storekeeper for it

Wholesale Depot
148, 115 W Lombard Street, Baltimore.

Sep. 1-6m.

JOHN W. HINSDALE,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

Room No. 2 First Floor, Law Building.

Fayetteville street.

RALEIGH, N. C.

Attends all the Courts in Raleigh and Fayetteville. Claims collected in all parts of North Carolina. Refers to Hon. R. M. Pearson, Chief Justice of N. C.; Hon. M. W. Ransom, U. S. Senator; Citizens' National Bank, W. H. & H. Tucker, Williams & Haywood, Raleigh, N. C.; Fayetteville National Bank, Merchants' Bank of Fayetteville; J. D. Williams & Co., E. J. Lilly & Co., Fayetteville, N. C.; Bank of New Hanover, Wilmington, N. C.; Morton, Bliss & Co., Fiske, Dodge and Co., H. K. Thurber & Co., H. Chadin & Co., New York; D. Landreth & Co., Philadelphia, G. W. Gail & Ax, Balt more.

He has for many business connection with Messrs. Mackie & Broadfoot of Fayetteville N. C. relating only to his future business at that point. All communications addressed to John W. Hinsdale care of Mackie & Broadfoot at Fayetteville, will receive prompt attention.

Oct. 2-tf

C. J. SHAW, of N. C with

PEARRE BROS. & CO.

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN

CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATINETS, Kerseys, Jeans, Cottonades, &c.

MEN AND BOYS' WEAR IN MATERIAL

NO. 9 HANOVER STREET,

Sept 29 tf. Baltimore

AN OUTFIT FREE.

We want some one in every county to take order and deliver goods for one of our clothing, from a Wholesale House Large cash wages Splendid chance In every neighborhood for the right person of either sex, young or old. Samples, now ready, sent free. Address, stating age, where you saw this notice, and enclose 10 cents to pay postage on sample outfit sent free and post paid. Send for it at once and make money at your homes. Address, H. J. HALL & CO., 6 S. Howard Street Baltimore, Md.

Oct. 20-10t.

THE FIRM OF WYNNE, YANCEY & CO., is this day dissolved by mutual consent

GEO. W. WYNNE
T. B. YANCEY
J. W. LEE

RALEIGH, June 15th, 1875

HAVING PURCHASED THE interest as Junius the liabilities of the late firm of WYNNE, YANCEY & CO., I would respectfully ask all those indebted to make immediate payment.

Thankful for the patronage so liberally bestowed upon the late firm I trust by personal attention to merit the same

June 23-tf GEO W. WYNNE

BALTIMORE EYE and EAR INSTITUTE

NO. 88 FRANKLIN ST., Baltimore, Md.,

JULIAN J. CHISOLM M. D., Oculist and Aurist for Eye and Ear Diseases in the University of Maryland,

SURGEON IN CHARGE.

This Institution is thoroughly organized and fitted up with every convenience for the treatment of Eye and Ear Diseases.

For further information apply to the above.

Sept 29 6m.

THE CARY COTTON GIN.

Is still being manufactured at Cary, N. C., improved in some respect and warranted to give satisfaction or no trade if properly put to work. Those desiring further information send for Circular, &c. to

W. M. SORRELL,
Cary, N.C.

June 16-tf.

A New Musical Era!!

ALL CAN LEARN TO SING.

The most Natural and Easy system of Music yet discovered; learned in one fourth the time of any other.

TUNEFUL HARP.

A New Music Book upon above system, for choirs &c.

CRYSTAL GEMS.

For Sabbath-Schools, same system. Specimen pages mailed free. TEACHERS wanted in all towns.

MORNING DEW PUBLISHING HOUSE,

No. 1104 & 1106 Sansom St., Philadelphia.

Aug 4-3m.

OLD NORTH STATE FIRE

Insurance Company,

OF

WARRENTON, - - - - - N. C.,

This Company has closed its third year in a condition of GREAT PROSPERITY, and entered upon its fourth year under the MOST PROMISING AUSPICES.

It deserves the liberal patronage which it is receiving here and

It is a home institution.
It has ample Capital and Reserves
It pays its loss promptly

ASSETS.

Cash on hand and in Bank	$ 21 55
Cash Notes taken in Advance	1 [illegible]
Stock Notes	[illegible]
Real Estate Mortgages	10 [illegible]
Loaned on Collaterals	7 [illegible]
Due for premiums	3 [illegible]
Interest due and accrued	9 [illegible]
	$ [illegible]

LIABILITIES:

All liabilities including [illegible]
Reserve for Reinsurance [illegible]
Surplus [illegible]
$ [illegible]

WM S DAVIS, President.
H. E. GOSS, Secretary.

SCHEDULES.

PIEDMONT AIR-LINE RAILWAY.

RICHMOND & DANVILLE, RICHMOND & DANVILLE R. W. N. C. DIVISION, and NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. W.

CONSOLIDATED TIME-TABLE.

In effect on and after Sunday, Sept. 19th 1875.

GOING NORTH.

STATIONS	Mail.	Express.
Leave Charlotte	3 [illegible] P. M.	7.45 A. M.
" Mecklenburg	3.57 "	8.30 "
" Salisbury	4.55 "	9.34 "
" Greensboro	6.15 A. M.	10.55 "
" Danville	8.48 "	1.27 P. M.
" Burkeville	6.18 "	6.47 "
" Danville	1.35 "	8.47 "
" Raleigh	4.35 "	11.47 "
Arrive at Richmond	2.22 P. M.	9.45 "

GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS
Leave Richmond	1.58 P. M.	9.45 A. M.
" Burkeville	4.52 "	8.36 "
" Danville	1.30 "	1.17 P. M.
" Danville	5.30 "	5.17 "
" Greensboro	8.10 A. M.	8.57 "
" Salisbury	7.32 "	6.50 "
" Air-Line Junction	8.50 "	8.07 "
Arrive at Charlotte	9.22 "	8.42 "

GOING EAST.

STATIONS	Mail.	Express.
Leave Greensboro	8.00 A. M.	12.15 P. M.
" Company Shops	8.30 "	12.45 "
" Raleigh	12.30 P. M.	4.30 "
Arrive at Goldsboro	11.30 A. M.	3.30 "

NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. R.

GOING NORTH.

Leave Greensboro	4.30 P. M.
Arrive at Salem	6.45 "
Leave Salem	8.00 A. M.
Arrive at Greensboro	10.15 "

Passenger train leaves Raleigh at 1.30 P. M. connects at Greensboro with the above mentioned trains making no quicker time to all Northern cities Direct Tickets sold to all points North and West.

The local connection points East or Westbound connect at Greensboro with mail trains from Richmond North or South.

Time the same both ways.

On Sunday Lynchburg Accommodation leaves Richmond at 2.00 A. M., arrives at Burkeville at 7.30 A. M., leave Burkeville 4.30 P. M., arrive at Richmond 9.55 P. M.

No Change of Cars between Charlotte and Richmond, 282 Miles.

Papers look over arrangements to advertise the Schedule of this company will please print as above For further information address

S. E. ALLEN,
Gen'l Ticket Agent,
Greensboro, N. C.

F. M. R. TALBOTT,
Engineer & Gen'l Superintendent

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE.

RALEIGH & GASTON RAILROAD CO.

On and after FRIDAY, May 22nd, 1874 trains on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, will run daily (Sunday excepted) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Leave Raleigh	9.35 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon	3.30 P. M.
Leaves Weldon	9.50 " M.
Arrives at Raleigh	3.45 P. M.

ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh	5.50 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon	11.15 P. M.
Leaves Weldon	2.2 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh	7.30 P. M.

Mail train makes close connection at Weldon with the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad and Big Line Steamers via Portsmouth, from all points North and West and N Chwest, and with Petersburg Railroad via Petersburg, Richmond and Washington City, to and from all points North and Northwest.

Mail at Raleigh with the North Carolina Railroad to and from all points South and Southwest, and also the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line to Hayw and and Fayetteville.

A. B. ANDREWS,
Gen'l Sup't.

RALEIGH & AUGUSTA AIR-LINE RAILROAD.

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, N. C., Oct 25th, 1875.

On and after Monday, October 25th, inst., trains on the R. & A. A. L. Road will run daily, (Sunday excepted,) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Train leaves Raleigh,	4.00 P. M.
Arrives at Sanford,	6.25 "
Train leaves Sanford,	6.30 A. M
Arrives at Raleigh,	9.20 "

FREIGHT TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	5.10 A. M.
Arrives at Sanford	10.30 A. M.
Leaves Sanford,	3.30 P. M.
Arrives at Raleigh	8.50 P. M.

Mail Train makes close connection at R [illegible] with the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, to and from all points North.

And at Sanford with the Western Railroad to and from Fayetteville and points on the Cape Fear Railroad.

A. B. ANDREWS,
Sup rintendent.

ORDER NO. 3.

OFFICE CHIEF OF TRANSPORTATION, Seaboard & Roanoke R. R. Co., Portsmouth, Va., Jan. 1st, 1875.

On and after the date, trains on this Road will leave Weldon daily, Sunday excepted, as follows:

ARRIVE AT PORTSMOUTH.

Mail train at	4 P. M
No. 1 Freight train at	8 A. M.
No. 2 Freight train at	8 A. M.

ARRIVE AT PORTSMOUTH.

Mail train at	7.15 P. M.
No 1 Freight at	12.00 NOON
No 2 Freight at	4.00 P. M.

Freight trains have a passenger car attached

Steamer for Elizabeth, Pigeon, Point and Landings on Blackwater and Nowan Rivers, leaves Franklin at 7.00 A. M. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

E. G. GHIO,
Sup. Transportation.

1875. 1876.

FALL AND WINTER.

ISAAC OETTINGER

Is now in receipt of his ENTIRE STOCK of MILLINERY, Ladies' Fancy Furnishing, Hair and Needle Goods, to an inspection of which his many customers are respectfully invited. My Stock has been selected with a great deal of care, and consists of Bonnets and Hats for Ladies, Misses, Children and Babies.

Ladies' Sacks, Ladies' Undergarments, Ladies' Cloaks and Sacques, Ruffs, Collars and Cuffs, Kid and other Gloves, Zephyr, Saxony and Germantown Wools, Knitting Cotton, Crochet Needles, Worked Slippers,

Mottoes and Motto Frames, every sort of Patterns for Needle Work, Stamped Yokes, Buttons, Embroidering Silk and Cotton, Jobs Bells

Ladies' Silk Scarfs, Jobs Belts

20,000 yards Ribbon, Real and Imitation Laces, Hamburg Edging and Insertion,

And a Thousand other Articles.

In our Millinery Department we employ none FIRST-CLASS NEW YORK MILLINERS, and guarantee satisfaction. All I ask is a trial. My stock is the largest, best selected and tastiest in this city, and I may say State,

ISAAC OETTINGER.

Marcy's Sciopticon and Lantern Slides. New and brilliant effects. Circular free.

SPECIAL OFFER TO SUNDAY-SCHOOLS

L. J. MARCY, 1510 CHESNUT STREET Philadelphia.

Aug 4-3m.

FALL AND WINTER GOODS!

D. S. WAITT & BRO.,

Are offering a Large and Attractive Stock of

FINE AND CHEAP CLOTHING!

Gents' Furnishing Goods and Neck Wear,

[illegible] Shirts, Drawers and Hosiery

MANHATTAN FINE WHITE SHIRT,

Acknowledged to be the best and most perfect fitting shirt in the market.

Prints! Prints!

Red, White and Colored Flannels, Opera Flannels, Blankets, Shawls, Hosiery, Ladies' Trimmed Hats, Notions, white goods, Comforters, Bed-Spreads, &c.

WHITE AND BROWN BLANKETS,

In all sizes, and Plaid Breakfast Shawls, Knit Jackets and Hoods.

Carpets, Oil Cloths, Tickings, Brown and Bleached Sheetings and Shirtings, Tweeds, Jeans, Cassimeres, Hats, Caps, Trunks, Valises, Umbrellas, Travelling Bags.

TO OUR FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS, we take pleasure in saying our stock is now complete in every department, and asking you for your liberal patronage, we promise such a continuance of the same as has characterized our 84 Fayetteville St., Raleigh N. C.

D. S. WAITT & BRO.

oct 13-3m.

SUI GENERIS.

MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.

UNEQUALED UNAPPROACHED

In capacity and excellence by any others. Awarded

THREE HIGHEST MEDALS AND DIPLOMA OF HONOR AT VIENNA, 1873; PARIS, 1867.

ONLY American Organs ever awarded any medal in Europe, or which present such extraordinary combinations to command a wide sale there.

ALWAYS awarded highest premiums at International Expositions, in America as well as Europe. Out of hundreds there have not been six in all where any other organs have been preferred.

BEST Declared by Eminent Musicians, in both hemispheres, to be unrivaled. See TESTIMONIAL CIRCULAR, with opinions of more than One Thousand Great Musicians, sent free.

INSIST on having a Mason & Hamlin. Do not take any other. Dealers get LARGER commissions on inferior organs, and for this reason often try hard to sell something else.

NEW STYLES with most important improvements, in many useful and ornamental Combination Stops. Superb Parlor and other Cases of new designs.

PIANO-HARP CABINET ORGAN An entirely new and beautiful musical combination of these instruments.

EASY PAYMENTS, for monthly or quarterly instalments, if cash not preferred.

CATALOGUES and Circular, with full particulars, free. Address MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont Street, BOSTON; 596 Broadway NEW YORK; or 80 & 82 Adams St., CHICAGO.

apl 11 1 year.

G. T. LEACH, N. Y.

M. T. LEACH

Leach Brothers,

WHOLESALE GROCERS

AND

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

SOUTH EAST CORNER MARKET SQUARE, Raleigh, N. C.

Again we take great pleasure in presenting our card to the notice of the readers of the ADVOCATE for their liberal patronage during the past four years, and hereby we extend our thanks for same, and while we have succeeded in bringing other goods to this market we are still giving our friends all the advantage and benefit derived from the large trade we have established here AT FIRST PROFITS.

We have on hand at present an unusual assortment of Boots bought direct from [illegible] Boots bought direct from [illegible] Shoes, [illegible] Hats, [illegible] Bagging, Ties, Bacon, Lard, Flour, Sugar, Coffee, Salt, Molasses, Soap, Candles, Starch, Rice, Soda, Saleratus, Pepper, Spices, Extracts, Matches, Candies, Tobacco, Snuff, Cigars, Pipes, Fancy Goods, Notions, Crackers, Cheese, Canned Goods, Dried Fruits, Pickles, Sardines, Oysters, Lobsters, Salmon, Mackerel, Herring, Codfish, Corned Beef, Tongues, Potted Meats, Jellies, Preserves, Jams, Marmalade, Pickles, Sauces, Mustard, Pepper Sauce, Worcestershire Sauce, Table Oil, Vinegar, Cider, Wines, Brandies, Whiskies, Gin, Rum, Ale, Porter, Cordials, Bitters, Cigars, Tobacco, Snuff

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Bobbitt & Gray, Publishers. | Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina. | $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Vol. XXI.---No. 47. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, December 1, 1875. | Whole No. 1,085.

Selected Poetry.

Self-Revealed.

"Give me thy pen into my heart,
O angel writer, and I will write, that I
May know myself; I will not cry
Nor weep—dip deep; I will not start."

The angel dipped deep in her heart,
And drew his dripping pen and wrote;
And though her tears together smote,
She did not cry, nor weep, nor start.

He wrote one word in many ways,
As quaint, but beautiful, until
He far white roll was full and still
Her maidest eyes she did not raise.

"Is it all written?" even so,
Behold." She saw not for her sight
Was dim with pain; and in despite
Her woman's tears began to flow.

And through the tears she looked again,
And saw the word all written fair;
And rested and studied, and with her hair
Together, crying, "Love!" but love is pain;

"Yet Thou, dear Christ, has shown me how
To die for love; let others wear
Life's crown in their sunny hair,
I bathe Thy thorns about my brow."

He arose then, bis stately head,
And took her blessing as he heard;
"For through the universe it shall be said
I love to pour out love," he said.

Scribner for December

Communicated.

For the Advocate.

"THE TEMPERANOE QUESTION."

No. 3.

It seems ordered of Providence that all grand achievements shall be begun in weakness. And it is well. It is good for the trial of faith. It is good for the strengthening of the soul, for the exaltation of character, for the development of the highest manhood. In weakness is strength best perfected. Out of darkness is the light born. Out of crosses and confusion come order and beauty.

The chief objection, in its various forms of statement, to our proposed movement is that it is too great an undertaking. It would be a great thing if it could be accomplished; but it is utterly impractical and impracticable. It is attempting too much. We can never succeed in it. So said the Israelites when they lay encamped over against the promised land at Kadesh Barnea, and so saying they wandered wearily in the wilderness yet forty years longer. So said very many wise and good men when Martin Luther, standing alone in the heart of Christendom, denounced the sale of indulgences, when he nailed his thesis to the church door of Wittemberg, and when he burnt the pope's bull of excommunication and denounced the Head of the Church as anti christ. But the only question with the God-fearing monk was "Is it right?" and God found him what soever he lacked. The same question comes to us for answer. Have we Luther's faith? Or do we fear that the horn of the Lord is shortened in these latter days? Shall we be deterred by the greatness of the undertaking? If so the church may as well give over the attempt to convert "a world that lieth in darkness," for that is a much greater undertaking than this.

But would such a course insure the election of the worse of two men to public office, as some say? Frankly, I fear that it would for a while; but not for a very long while. And when public virtue shall have been elevated and the public councils purified; when the violence and turbulence, the riot and ruffianism which now so largely characterize our political strifes and our days of elections, shall have passed away; when the frenzy that is born of drink shall give place to the sober, deliberate thought that should prompt and direct this highest exercise of a freeman's rights, the giving of his vote; when no man, for his own sake, shall dare to offer a voter a drink with reference to his vote, then shall the land stand redeemed from a curse, and the end will be esteemed not unworthy of the great price at which it shall have been secured.

Let us see how it would operate.—Messrs A. and B. seek our votes for a seat in the legislature. Mr. A. "treats" freely and fights his battles with what are weapons he finds, rejecting all pictures and requests to refrain from the demoralizing practice of treating. Mr B. hesitates. He says, "If I do not treat as A. does he will certainly beat me. There are many men who will not vote for a man who does not treat them. A. will get all those votes, I none of them, and you are preparing and insuring my defeat."—We reply, "You will not get our votes if you do treat. Now choose between them and us." He yields to our demand—and is beaten—I confess it—and the party of right, morality, integrity and high principle are driven to the wall! It will not be the first time. Indeed it is the invariable fortune of reform to be defeated in its first efforts. But men will think seriously when they see that a man has been defeated because, and only because, he was in the right. Conscience, reason and justice, yea and patriotism, will speak in a voice of authority and make themselves heard and felt. Another election swells the ranks of the purifiers of the ballot and public sentiment grows apace. The result proclaims itself from afar off.—The tide rolls on with swelling volume, and growing strength and grander sweep. In the end the deluge. It will only need to be worked for and waited for; for it is one of those causes in which the right is so manifestly on our side that it is never a question of results, but only of time and faith and work. Is it worth working for? Is it worth waiting for? Is it worth hoping and praying for?

But it is objected that men will not be candidates for certain defeat, and no one will offer. I admit that ambitious men will not. But conscientious men will. There are enough of them in the land who will not refuse to stand in their places, even till they are hewed down in their tracks, for conscience's sake. There are yet doubtless seven thousand whom the Lord hath reserved to himself who have not bowed the knee to Baal and will not bow.

"But the church ought not to interfere in politics." Amen! God forbid that it ever shall! It is not proposed that any party name or party creed shall appear anywhere in the discussion of the question or in any action taken on it. No party name and no man's name has appeared in these papers, nor shall any. Neither parties nor personalities have any place here. The only object is the conservation of the public morals; and with that the church has a right and a duty to deal in the noisy circle of politics, as well as within the sacred pale of the church. St. Paul interfered here to the extent of requiring Christians to be good citizens and subjects. Our Lord did the same.—We do not propose to do any more.

But some ask "Would not a prohibitory law be better?" They who ask it are not aware, perhaps, that we have and have long had such a law; but it is not enforced and will not be until public sentiment is informed, cultivated and animated and brought into active exercise. Then the paralyzed law may become a living power in the land. This is as a tree "whose fruit withereth; without fruit; twice dead; plucked up by the roots."

Finally, brethren, your prayers are invoked for the right and the truth. This is no mere arm of flesh and blood with which we now propose to cross weapons. Nor is he a neophyte, waiting in holiday trim to flesh his maiden sword. From his baleful eyes gleam the fires that for six thousand years have wasted this fair earth. In his hand is still the ponderous flail with which for so long he has broken the fortunes and peeled and scattered the hopes of men. This elixir of death, distilled in hell and hissing with damnation, is the favorite because most seductive and most powerful emissary of the Prince of Darkness. If it is woe to him that putteth the bottle to his neighbor's lips, shall not they share the woe who reward the deed?

I have very inadequately executed the task I set myself, Messrs Editors. I fail to reach my own conceptions of what ought to be said and written on the subject. But my purpose mainly was to awaken the attention of the Christian public to the subject. That I have not been entirely unsuccessful in that endeavor, I venture to hope from a letter from a distinguished minister of our church of which I give here an extract:

"Permit me to thank you and to thank you again for your communication to the ADVOCATE of this week upon "The Temperance Question," and for the resolutions upon the subject before your Quarterly Conference. The move is unquestionably a proper one and in the right direction. I look with great interest to the result and do most earnestly hope and pray that the resolutions will be adopted and will be the means of leading to grand reformatory measures throughout the church. You may rest assured that whatever the fate of the resolutions, you have the warm concurrence of many christian men and women in the land, (I had nearly said of all christians) and the blessing of God will rest upon your efforts. I wish I could be at your fourth Quarterly Conference."

And here I leave the subject with you. If I have planted a seed that shall germinate and spring up and bear fruit to the glory of God and the good of men, well. If not, I have but cast a seed into the earth.

Faithfully yours,

HENRY T. JORDAN.

Roxboro, N. C., Nov. 10, 1875.

The building of the First Methodist Episcopal church in Pemberton, N. Y., one hundred years ago, was celebrated with appropriate service, October 26 28.

— "My onthankful hearers." said a backwoods preacher, "yon air all like onto hogs eaten acorns. They never look up to see where the acorns come from."

For the Advocate.

Davenport Female College.

TO THE EDITORS OF THE ADVOCATE: It has been well said that there is a time when silence ceases to be a virtue. Availing myself of one of these occasions, and by your courtesy and the use of one of your columns, I propose to say some things which I feel the interests of justice and truth demand should be known in regard to this institution. No one knows the facts of the matter so well as the distinguished divine now at the head of the school: but his hands are so tied by various considerations that he dare not speak of them thus publicly; and though not competent to the discharge of the task, I have determined to appeal to the friends of Methodism and her scholastic literature, myself, if even ever so feebly.

This College, as is well known, is the adopted child of the N. C. Conference. It is not one of her experiments in the field of education. It is a trust which she has accepted from a liberal sister. This trust she accepted—and will she betray it?

Will she, the North Carolina Conference, betray her trust? This is a question we have now to deal with; this is a question which appeals to every Methodist now in the bounds of our Conference You answer no—so does every individual alluded to. You say it in words—so say they. But words are empty things unless accompanied by action—by labor and love and zeal. You say you have spoken kindly, aye warmly and zealously, in your columns in behalf of our institution. You have doubtless given of your means—for I do not know—to the agent—for we once had an agent for its support—and what more shall the editor do? Pardon me—I am not berating you for a dereliction of duty—I desire to appeal to every Methodist who reads your paper.

It may surprise many of your readers to hear it—but it is really not generally known that Davenport Female College is the only institution of this character that the North Carolina Conference possesses, owns, and is responsible for; and even this much was given her, and given her on condition that she maintain it and foster it.

As I understand the situation or condition of the Female Colleges within the bounds of the Conference, Davenport is the only one that is the property of the Conference—all the others in the State being owned by private individuals, but working in the interests of North Carolina Methodism.

Davenport was built under the auspices of and for the South Carolina Conference, but mainly by the citizens of Lenoir and surrounding communities,—some of the largest subscriptions coming from benevolent gentlemen of other denominations. The S. C. Conference raised a small amount of the original cost of the buildings, but the local Board of Trustees here shouldered all the burden of its debt; and in consequence of war troubles and disasters, there is a small portion of this debt yet remaining unpaid. This debt is oppressing heavily and grievously certain members of this old Board of Trustees—one of whom is not a member of our church. These generous friends have borne the heat and the burden of the long, long day, and now must be relieved; and the institution must go unless the Conference comes to its aid in some practical way. Our people here have given all in their power to give—they have given till their liberality even has ceased to be a virtue; and it is nothing but justice that the Conference should now take the matter in hand and devise some plan by which the College shall be sustained.

But it has been and will be said perhaps, "Devise your plan and we will do all we can." We have devised, but we cannot accomplish. The truth is, we have found—and be it said in sorrow and reproach—we have found no true zeal and friendship in the Conference—outside of a small circle, for our college. She is told to wait. She is told there is a larger and a better institution destined to supplant her. She is told that there is a building whose magnificence, splendor, future, &c., &c., &c., we cannot hope or dare to equal. We must take care of ourselves. Ours is only a step-child, and not worthy to heir the true glory.

As a (lay) member of our last Conference, I heard with pain, regret and indignation, the loud and earnest words—yea the golden eloquence of our pulpit—in behalf of Greensboro. I saw and heard the responsive messages, and the deep plans to build up that College, while the words spoken and deeds done in our behalf were those which were calculated to "damn with faint praise." I heard language which I knew was spoken only from a sense of duty—something like the laggard steps of the unwilling school boy—not as the buoyant strides and tones of a zealous lover.

Now, my dear brother, I find that that was not only a sentiment in the body of the North Carolina Conference in session in Raleigh—but it is the dominant spirit of the great portion of our Methodist people through out the State where I have been and heard from.

Why is it that we have been in a deep struggle ever since the North Carolina Conference accepted the trust of this Davenport College? You say we have had an agent and have had able and talented Presidents. It is true our present President was tossed a bone and told to get his soup from it—if he could!

I know that no man has ever worked harder in any interest than President Robey. During the last vacation he travelled over one thousand miles in behalf of the institution, at his own expense of conrse; and the heaviest task he has had to encounter is the spirit of opposition to our school in favor of Greensboro. The institution to him has been a burden and a tax ever since he came to it. He has employed the best faculty in the State constantly, while his patronage does not justify it; and were it not for the local support he gets, his disaster would have been complete long ago.

What is to be done yet in order to place the College on a sure and permanent footing and let it take a just rank,—as it deserves,—among the foremost institutions of the day? This is the question to which I come. I do not in this paper propose its solution. I would ask however that every member to the annual Conference which soon meets in Wilmington, come up to Conference determined to do something in behalf of the College, and do it in fairness, zeal and love. We don't want you to come determined to ignore every consideration but Greensboro College, when the subject of Female Education comes up.

Ours has advantages over every institution in the State, in many essential points—though we may not have velvet carpets for your daughters to walk upon, and walnut furniture to adorn our halls and chambers—all set off with China setts in green and gold.

I trust that I may not be put down as working unjustly against Greensboro. God in his wisdom knows I am not actuated by such a spirit; yet I really do think our people should help the step-child of our Conference out of her little troubles, before they build a monument of pride over the ashes of their dead love.

M. V. MOORE.

Lenoir, N. C., Oct. 30th 1875.

Touching Story.

The New York Sun gives the following touching story as told by Mr. Moody recently A headstrong son was ordered by his father to quit his house, and the proud boy vowed that he would never return until his parent asked him. The mother's intercession is described as

ONE OF MOODY'S MOST ELOQUENT EFFORTS.

"But the mother of that boy never forgot. Oh, what will not a mother's love conquer? It is not chilled by disease, by deformity, by sin, by death. It is always warm, always living. For however atrocious a crime a son may be arraigned, the mother is by his side in the court room. The testimony that convicts him, cuts her harder and deeper than it does him. She weeps as she listens to his sentence, and clings to him as he is led back to his cell. She visits him day after day, she cares for him, she will not listen to blame against him, and she is proud of him. She will not go to see him executed, but she will arrange the clothes that will make him neater and handsomer to the morbid spectators, and before his body is cold, she will throw herself upon it and cover it with kisses. She will take it away and bury it in a quiet churchyard and will plant flowers upon the grave, and she will never tire of visiting that grave and watering the flowers with her tears.

"And this English mother yearned for her son, and prayed that he and his father might be reconciled. She fell sick, and when she knew that she had only days to live, she begged her husband to send for her boy. There was a long, hard struggle in the proud man's breast before he heeded his dying wife's wish, and when the prodigal boy returned home and burst into the sick room, the mother gave a little shriek of joy, but the father, without a glance of welcome or recognition, moved away from the bedside. It was not manly, but it was human. And the mother pleaded with her boy and with her husband, that they would be reconciled with each other, and when the last sad hour came she lay with one hand clasped in her husband's and one in her boy's, trying with her poor dying strength to drag the two stubborn men together. She died in that way; with love for both on her lips, and the husband looked upon his dead wife, the son upon his dead mother, and then they looked upon each other. Their eyes met. There were no first advances then. The son fell into the father's arms, and the arms clasped tightly the slight, trembling form.

THE RESULT.

"That, my hearers, is a true story; but it is not a fair illustration of God's relation to his children, for He has never hated them; He has never been proud, or stubborn, or harsh, but always merciful and with a warm welcome for returning wanderers." As the preacher closed, he extended his right arm to enjoin a silence that was unbroken by a rustic. Then in a moment a low, soft music rose from the organ, and the singer sang tenderly;

Come home, come home;
You are weary at heart;
For the way has been dark,
And so lonely and wild.
Oh, prodigal child
Come home, oh, come home!

He had sung only one or two lines before he melted the hearts that the preacher had warmed. There arose a woman's wild, hysterical shriek many times repeated; and hundreds of men and women wept and sobbed. It seemed at first as though the whole vast congregation was responding to Mr. Moody's invitation to the anxious to visit the inquiry room, for the streams that poured out were strong and heavy, filling the Methodist Church.

Mr. Needham and Sankey hastened to the Tabernacle to open the young men's meeting, a half hour later Mr. Moody joined them and preached his effective sermon once more. The story of the mother's death-bed moved many of them to tears, and a large number fell on their knees to ask for prayers.

American Authorship

In a discussion of International Copyright, in SCRIBNER for December, Dr. Holland writes as follows:

The history of our failure lies all around us. A genius blossoms, and we throw up our hats. The next thing we hear of him is that he is at work upon a salary, getting bread for his wife and children. He hardens and sours into a literary drudge, and never bears the fruit that was promised in his blossoming. The rare genius Halleck spent his life in a counting room. Our living Bryant, who should have had a purely literary life, and left, as the heritage of his country, the consummate fruits of his genius and scholarship, spent his best years on a political newspaper. George William Curtis gives now all the products of his strong and graceful pen to the editior's office. Stoddard, a genuine genius, produces very sparingly, and is giving the weight of his culture to the presentation of other authors and other lives, mostly British. Stedman divides his time between the beautiful work that he loves,—the work to which nature has so generously fitted him,—and the harrassing cares of Wall street. Taylor, who holds in his industrious and accomplished hands the materials and the power to write a better Life of Goethe than ever was produced, delivered last winter a hundred and thirty lectures, and is now editing, for the consideration that is so necessary to "keep the pot boiling." Does any one suppose that he would be doing this if he had the British market of his book secure, with the right of translation into German and French? Moses Coit Tyler, who has an important history on hand, for which, in the intervals of productive toil, he has long been collecting material, is plodding along upon a professor's salary at Ann Arbor. Hawthorne, who, as a writer of fiction, did more for the literary fame of America abroad than any other American, was glad to accept political office, that he might be sure of the bread he could not earn by his pen. Emerson has probably been obliged to earn by lecturing more money than he has ever received from copyright. The magazines are flooded with articles from pens that ought to be at work upon our permanent national literature, simply because money is wanted, and wanted now.

It is an old, sad story. The experiment has been repeated ad nauseam, and yet American authors are blamed for writing hastily and without due preparation The question lies between writing hastily and starving. Give American authors half a chance; give them an opportunity to live, and they will do their work better. Give them the markets of the world, secure a return to them from all who now steal the usufruct of their genius and their labor, relieve them from the present killing competion with books that pay no copyright, and they will do for themselves and their country what the patentees have done for themselves and the country. We do not wonder that Charles Reade, with his intelligent eye upon our positon, and his strong sense of equity and right, should use the most convenient and telling epithets that come to his hand to characterize his opponents. Opposition is so unjust, so short-sighted, so inconsiderate of the interests of a class on which the permanent fame and character of the country most depend, that it may well evoke his ire, in any terms in which he may see fit to express it.

Our Government fosters agriculture, fosters railroads, fosters manufactures, fosters invention, fosters mining interests, fosters scientific exploration, and even fosters the weather, but it does not foster, it never has fostered, that great interest of authorship on which its moral and intellectual character and consideration depend. Anybody can get rich but an author Anybody can realize from his labor his daily bread, except an author. If all the receipts from the copyright of accepted American authors should be put togolther, and all the authors were compelled to live from it, they would not live; they would starve. Is this right? Is it too much to ask of the Government that it place the authorship, not only of this country, but of the world, in a position where it can have an even chance with other interests? It does not ask for the pensions accorded to useful authorship in other countries; it does not seek for grace or guerdon; it simply asks for justice and a fair chance to win for itself the return for labor which it needs, and for its country the consideration due to productive genius and culture.

Which is Better?

Presidents and Governors generally issue their annual October proclamations inviting all the people to meet, in their respective houses of worship, on some appointed day, and return united thanks for the varied and abundant harvests which have crowned the labors of the year. The people sometimes endure short religious services, go home to eat their fat turkeys, and then resume their usual avocations, forgetful of those who famish with hunger and shiver with cold. The Giver of every good and perfect gift has, in his wisdom and mercy, afflicted a part of his people, and has decreed that "the poor shall never cease out of the land," in order that the prosperous may cultivate a soul expanding charity, enlarge the sphere of their human sympathy, guard their hearts against avarice, and grow in all the gospel graces, by doing good to the needy and neglected Thus they will learn, by sweet experience, that "It is more blessed to give than to receive." Our people certainly have cause to be grateful for bountiful crops, and their gratitude ought to assume a practical and substantial shape. Which is better: to be content with the usual verbal thanks, or to make prompt and liberal contributions to furnish food, clothing, and instruction to the poor and promising orphan boys and girls of our State? Can good people really enjoy their fat autumnal feasts, without dividing with those who have so often suffered for food and raiment? The hearts and hands of our people must answer. Contributions of food and clothing for the orphans of the East may be sent by the usual routes of freight, marked, ORPHAN ASYLUM, OXFORD, N. C. Contributions for the orphans of the mountains should be marked ORPHAN ASYLUM, MARS HILL, N. C. Packages going through Asheville will be forwarded by Henry C. Fagg. James H. Moore is Steward at Oxford, and John R. Sams is Steward at Mars Hill. Checks, money orders and registered letters should be directed to them, and they will answer inquiries and send receipts.

J. H. MILLS, Sup't.

Novel Revival Meetings.

The Universalists of New York and Brooklyn have for two or three weeks been holding what they call revival meetings. Sermons have been preached almost every night, and there has been attempt made to increase the interest in Universalist Churches. We never heard of anything of this kind being undertaken previously. The plan does not work. Brethren of the Universalist Church, you will never have a genuine revival of religion unless you change some of your doctrines. You make all your people believe that they will finally be saved anyhow. Though your restorationists admit there may be some dark passages of suffering before the soul of the wicked man finally gets into life, the bad man is willing to risk the intervening discomforts, as he is assured that the finality will be a condition of happiness. He falls back upon the saying, "All is well that ends well." We will tell you how you may have a revival, brethren of the Universalist Church. Admit all the doctrines of the Gospel. Tell men that the righteous will be everlastingly saved, and the unbelieving everlastingly lost, and then pray for the Holy Ghost to bless that Bible truth, and you will have a revival that will make earth and heaven rejoice. Your theology needs reconstruction.—Christian at Work.

Preaching Christ.

Dr. South declared that the text, the theme, the language and the application of the sermon should be Christ. The following will illustrate the meaning:

A young man had been preaching in the presence of a venerable divine, and after he was done he went to the old minister and said:

"What do you think of my sermon?"

'A very poor sermon indeed.'

'Poor sermon!' said the young man; 'it took me a long time to study it.'

'Aye, no doubt of it.'

'Why, did you not think my explanation of the text a very good one?'

'O yes!' said the old preacher, 'very good indeed'

'Well, then, why do you think it a poor sermon? Didn't you think the metaphors were appropriate and the argument conclusive?'

'Yes, they were very good, as far as that goes; but still it was a very poor sermon.'

'Will you tell me why you think it a poor sermon?'

'Because,' said he, 'there was no Christ in it.'

'Well,' said the young man, 'Christ was not the text; we are not to be preaching Christ always; we must preach what is in the text'

So the old man said: 'Don't you know, young man, that from every town and village and little hamlet in England, wherever it may be, there is a road to London?'

'Yes,' said the young man.

'Ah,' said the old divine, 'and so from every text in the Scriptures there is a road to the metropolis of the Scriptures—that is, Christ. And, my dear brother, your business is when you get a text, to say: 'Now what is the road to Christ?' and then preach a sermon running along the road to the great metropolis—Christ. And I have not yet found a text that has not a road to Christ in it. If I should, I would make one. I would go over hedge and ditch, but I would get at my Master, for the sermon cannot do any good unless there is a savor of Christ in it.

Christianity Science.

We are often told in these days that Christianity is effete; that science is about to take its place. Would it then pay better to turn over the work of enlightening the dark places of the earth to the hands of scientists? Science glories in education; has it ever attempted to educate a heathen nation? Its devotees go eagerly to the South Seas to observe the transit of Venus; are any of its savants eager to spend their lives in teaching Fiji cannibals? It dredges the ocean for a new mollusk, and roams a continent for an undiscovered fossil; could it have been trusted to give spelling books to the Hovas of Madagascar, or to make the printing press a necessity to the savage islanders of Hawaii? It has built the electric roadway for thought along the Atlantic floor; could it ever contrive how to scatter ideas in Turkish village, or Arab hovel, or Zulu kraal? It has carried a line of deep sea soundings across the Pacific; can it send a body of men over the sea to toil ill-paid and life-long for the privilege of instructing Chinese ignorance, or women to wear themselves out in teaching the alphabet and the needle to their unhappy sisters in the zenanas of India?—Rev. J. W. Hough, Santa Barbara, Cal.

Modern Skepticism.

Science has done wonders, and cannot be too highly extolled; but why should its worshipers not be content with the just praise of it? Why should they, great and small, professors and sciolists, be so anxious to exalt it at the expense of the only faith which really elevates their kind? If, instead of laboring to shake old beliefs, men of science were able to present a new system, good, bad, or indifferent, which they could prove to be true, then their proceedings would require no apology; but they do nothing of the kind. They have only human faculties; and human faculties, although they may continually be acquiring new facts to work upon, and improved methods of dealing with those facts, are not a whit more able to pass the limits between the seen and the unseen than they were in the earliest days of science. They can display to us the operations of certain powers in a manner quite new and full of interest; but about the origin, intention and duration of these powers they can tell us positively nothing.

The irreligious philosophy of a century ago seemed to think that the world was a fair world, and would probably be managed well enough if it were not for priest-craft and superstition. The irreligious philosophy of to-day is of a different opinion; it troubles itself very little about worship, but denounces the universe, so far as we know it, as a piece of botch work; cannot quite make up its mind whether the author of it is malignant, or only stupid or incapable; and shakes its head significantly at hearing a hint that we have anything belonging to us which is not material. It examines the processes by which this and other worlds were put together, and by which a human race has been arrived at; but it leaves us entirely in the dark as to our business here, and as to how we may make the best of the very wretched estate which they have found human life to be. Of all the unbelief that has been preached to the world, very little has come up to this of the end of the nineteenth century in its cruelly desolating tendency.—Blackwood.

Starting a Bank.

When a fellow gets too poor to "run" a newspaper he starts a National Bank. A Georgia editor tells how it is done:

"In the year 187—A. B. C., and nine others, conceived the plan of organizing a national bank. We ten met and each paid $2,000 in greenbacks, aggregating twenty thousand dollars. Then each gave notes to the bank for $80.000 more, thus giving $20,000 greenbacks and $80,000 in our own notes. We elected our officers: then appointed our president and cashier a committee to go to New York to purchase $100,000 worth of bonds upon thirty or sixty days' time, paying down therefor $20,000 greenbacks. We then went to Washington, drew from the Treasury our $90,000 national bank notes, to which we were entitled; took $80,000 of this to New York to pay Duncan, Sherman & Co. for the bonds purchased of them. We then commenced banking upon an ostensible capital of $100,000—really but $10,000, minus the commissions paid Duncan, Sherman & Co., and with but $2,000 each of greenbacks invested, began a national bank, with notes engraved as follows: National Currency. This note is secured by bonds of the United States deposited with the United States Treasurer at Washington; signed by the Register and Gen. Spinner. The note reading thus: "First National Bank of Okefenoke will pay the bearer, on demand, five dollars; signed by the cashier and president.—Now, what is the five dollars on demand? It does not turn up gold or silver, but a greenback—United States Treasury note.

"Our deposits increased rapidly on the faith and credit of being able to own a national bank, and the first year averaged over $400,000. The profits may be figured abont this way: Upon our bonds deposited we receive semi annually 6½ per cent in gold, equal to 9 per cent. of our notes. Loans upon our deposits 12 per cent. or, more on $100,000 deposits, is 48 per cent, on the nominal capital, $100,000. This is an average of 57 per cent for the nominal $100,000, or much greater when we take into consideration our investments of but $2,000 each. Besides these profits, we are exempt by law from taxes."

A Parable.

I held in my hand a little dry tree, an infant hemlock. Had it lived a century it might have towered up above all the forest, and held up its head in majesty. But it grew on a sort of a bog, and a muskrat, digging his hole under it, bit off its roots, and it was dead. It was full of limbs and knots and gnarls, and I felt curious to know how it happened that it was so.

'Poor fellow! If you had all these limbs and knots to support, I don't wonder you died.'

'And with my roots, which were my mouths with which to feed, all cut off too.'

'Yes, but where do all these ugly limbs come from?' said I.

'Just where all ugly things come from,' said he. 'I am pretty much like you men. Find out where my limbs come from, and you will find where all human sins come from.'

'I'll take you at your word, sir.'

So I took out my knife and peeled off all the bark. But the limbs and the knots were left.

'You must go deeper than that, sir.'

So I began to split and take off layer of wood after layer. But all the knots were there.

"Deeper still," said the dry stick.

Then I split it all off and separating it. The heart was laid bare; it looked like a small rod about six feet long, and perhaps an inch through at the large end. Ah! and I was now surprised to see that every limb and knot and gnarl started in the heart. Every one was there, and every one grew out of the heart. The germ or the starting-point of each one was the center of the heart.

— Fifteen thousand people will go to church to see a beautiful girl married, but if it rains on Sunday they "ain't well."

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE - Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev J. B Babbitt, R. T Gray, Esq, } Editors.

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID, $2.20
SIX MONTHS, " " 1.35
If payment be delayed six months, 2.70

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Editors of the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

RALEIGH, N. C., DECEMBER 1, 1875.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly.

The Advocate.

Before this issue of the ADVOCATE shall have reached a large proportion of its readers, the North Carolina Conference will have convened in the city of Wilmington. We, in common with our brethren of the Conference, have had our seasons of pleasure, and days of toil and anxiety during the ecclesiastical year which has just closed, but we are profoundly grateful to a kind heavenly Father for his unbounded goodness in preserving our lives and permitting us to meet once more in annual session. As a Conference we have been peculiarly blessed. Many of our charges have witnessed gracious outpourings of the Divine Spirit. Thousands, under the preaching of the simple earnest gospel of the Son of God, have been converted and received into our church. Death has not entered our ranks. This is remarkable in a body so large as ours, and is a sufficient cause for profound thanksgiving to the great Head of the Church.

But we set out to say a word about the ADVOCATE. So far as relates to its mechanical appearance and the matter which it contains from week to week, it speaks for itself. It is of its circulation and influence for good among our people, we would speak. - Although the present year has been one of great stringency in money matters and many newspaper publishers, as well as gentlemen from other avocations, have been driven to the wall, and have been compelled to suspend, we are happy to be able to state that the Raleigh Christian Advocate has suffered no loss in patronage.—Our subscription is as large to day as it was one year ago, and in many respects our prospects are more encouraging than at any former time.

We are especially gratified to learn from brethren of the Conference that the ADVOCATE is doing good work for the cause of the Master. The conviction is growing stronger each year in the minds of the ministry and laity that the ADVOCATE is a necessity with us—that a local Conference organ is indispensable to the best interests of our Conference. No one can estimate the great worth of a good religious paper in the family. It is a powerful educator and nothing can supply its place. This is a recognized fact and does not require an argument.

We tender our heartfelt thanks to the brethren who have so earnestly striven to circulate the ADVOCATE among our people, and also to those who have added by their contributions to its columns. As in the past so shall we in the future endeavor to make the paper a co-laborer with the pastor in his labor of love.

Bishop McTyeire, D. D.

Bishop Holland Nimmon McTyeire, who presides at the present session of the N. C. Conference, was born in the year 1824. He joined the Church in 1837, was educated at Randolph Macon College where he was licensed to preach in January 1844. In 1845, he joined the Virginia Conference, and in 1846 was transferred to Mobile, Alabama, and took charge of the Church of which Dr. T. O. Summers had been pastor, the latter having been elected Editor of Nashville Advocate. In 1848 he was transferred to the Louisiana Conference and was in charge of a Church in New Orleans until 1854, when he was made editor of the New Orleans Advocate. He afterwards returned to the Alabama Conference and was stationed in Montgomery when he was elected Bishop, which was at the General Conference held in New Orleans in 1866. He resides in Nashville, Tennessee, is distinguished for his thorough knowledge of the history, laws and usages of our Church and is an able and effective preacher. He is the author of the work entitled "The Manual of the Discipline of the M. E. Church, South,' (a book by the way which should be in the hands of every Methodist—especially of every Methodist minister.) It is said that it was through Bishop McTyeire's influence that Mr. Vanderbilt was induced to make his munificent donation to the Central (now called the Vanderbilt) University, a donation which has given life and prosperity to that institution.

☞ The publication of the ADVOCATE will be delayed a few days next week in order to give our readers a full synopsis of the proceedings of Conference and also the appointments.

Will E. B. ths, of Anson ville desires the post offices of all the young readers who propose with him to read the Bible through next year.

Inordinate Ambition.

Ambition may be laudable when a man desires excellence or superiority that he may accomplish greater good. His ambition is praiseworthy when sought that his influence may be more powerful and wider in its reach for the promotion of the public weal, and God's glory. But when his ambition is simply an inordinate desire of power or eminence, for his own glorification, it is both censurable and hurtful. We believe a truly great man is very little troubled with this kind of ambition. Self is apt to be lost sight of in the great thoughts that fire his intellect and stir his soul. If he be a statesman, he is so absorbed in the great measures of public policy, that he thinks not of himself. If he be a philosopher he is so abstracted in his theories, that he forgets to provide even for his own physical wants. If he be a minister of Christ, he so magnifies the cross in its power over a world of sin, as to leave little room for self in his great heart. It is in the man of shallow intellect—noted for his self esteem that you will find this censurable ambition. Carlyle, it will be remembered, in repelling the charge of ambition laid against Cromwell, gives a graphic picture of the ambitious little man. He describes the man "who lives in misery because he does not shine above other men, who goes about producing himself, pruriently anxious about his gifts and claims; struggling to force everybody, as it were, begging everybody, for God's sake, to acknowledge him a great man and set him over the heads of men. Such a creature he says, 'is among the wretched sights seen under the sun. A great man. A poor morbid prurient empty man; fitter for the ward of a hospital than for a throne among men. I advise you to keep out of his way. He cannot walk on quiet paths—unless you look at him, wonder at him, write paragraphs about him, he cannot live. It is the emptiness of the man, not his greatness. Because there is nothing in himself, he hungers and thirsts that you would find something in him. In good truth, I believe no great man, not so much as a prurient man, who had health and real substance in him of whatever magnitude, was ever much tormented in this way. Old Samuel Johnson, the greatest soul in England in his day, was not ambitious. 'Carsaea Raswell' flaunted at public shows with printed ribbons round his hat, but the great old Samuel staid at home. The world wide soul wrapped up in its thoughts, in its sorrows:—what could paradings and ribbons in the hat do for it?"

Let every man professing Christianity, keep his ambition chastened. Let him give each rigid object, keep it properly in battle, and let it ever be the stimulant to measure up to the highest destiny, to enter every door that opens, in God's providence, upon fields of usefulness, and then if he be great, he will shine and be felt,—if he be small he will at least avoid making a 'wind-bag' of himself, such as is described above.

Ministers of Christ especially should keep a watch over their ambition, and let it be of the right kind, properly directed. The moment that it is discovered that they seek eminence that they may shine and rise over others:—that they seek superiority that they may be noticed and applauded by the multitude, they are paralyzed for the accomplishment of good. They may get the reward they seek on earth, but they will sing no songs, wave no palms, and wear no crowns in the life to come.

Worthy of Note

A lady teacher at Peace Institute, the excellent Presbyterian Female School in Raleigh, not long since wrote to Moody and Sankey, the evangelists, asking their special prayers in behalf of the young ladies at the Institution, that those who were not members of the Church might be led to a newness of life. She did not mention to any one, as we learn, the fact that she had written the letter. A short while thereafter, several young ladies without consultation with each other, or any intended concert of action, but separately, approached the lady-teacher and the venerable Rev. Dr Lacy desiring to be instructed in the way to salvation. The result was that in a short while sixteen professed conversion from their sins and, on Sunday before last, were admitted into the Presbyterian Church in this city.

It is not at any time remarkable that persons, under the condemnation of God's law, should desire to flee from his wrath, obtain pardon for their sins and join the Church. On the contrary, it is strange that the offers of mercy and pardon should be so persistently refused by so many. But we consider it worthy of note that, following the request made of Moody and Sankey (which we suppose was complied with) and during a time when there were no special religious services held at Peace Institute and no special appeals made to these young ladies, so many of them, at the same time and without consultation among themselves, were moved to a change of heart. We cannot but think that the strong faith of the noted revivalists took hold upon the throne of God and brought the influence of the Holy Ghost upon the hearts of the young ladies.

Rev. J. P. Moore, Presiding Elder of this District, was in the city on Sunday and preached at Edenton Street Church at night.

The Methodist Preacher.

The trials and sacrifices of itinerant Methodist preachers are many and great, but there is no element of society that contains so much contentment and genuine happiness. Though realizing, in their organization and work, the perfection and efficiency of a trained army and therefore alert for the word of command and ready in their obedience, to it, Methodist preachers drive more pleasure from their arduous service than many would consider incident to their lot. Though their pay be scant and uncertain, their marches wearisome to the flesh and their contests sharp and frequent, it is seldom that one is found absent from his post, recreant to his duty, tired of the service, or recoiling from the future. The entire devotion of a Methodist preacher to his work—the implicit obedience he pays to superiors, the trusting faith he reposes in the providence of God—all are admirable and beautiful. Ministers in other church systems await invitations and calls, and have an opportunity to see, and be seen by the 'calling' congregation, to inspect the parsonage, preach 'a trial sermon' and measure the length and weight of the purses in the congregation. Before accepting the call, one can tell with a reasonable certainty whether he and the congregation are suited one to the other. He exercises a choice as to the place where and the people unto whom he will minister in holy things. The Methodist preacher has no election of that kind—his will is merged in the will and wisdom of the appointing power,—and he goes anywhere, to the rough mountains or miry swamps - to a comfortable station or a poor paying circuit—into the midst of friends or utter strangers. He utters no complaint but represses the feeling of disappointment that may unbidden arise in his heart, as the announcement of some new and hard field of labor dashes aside the hopes he had dared to entertain.

A preacher of any other denomination may have a fixed place of residence where, the probabilities are, he may spend his life, do his work and find a final resting place near the graves of old friends and comrades. He may establish a home, beautify and adorn it, supply it with conveniences, comforts and perhaps luxurious appointments, and rear his family under the sweet and moral influences that a happy home exerts. But the Methodist itinerant can scarcely hope to have such an abiding place. If he adorns a house, others enjoy its comforts and beauty; the flower he plants or the vine he trails will shed its fragrance not for him but those who succeed to his dwelling place; - the tree which he plants will grow and bear fruit not for his enjoyment but to be gathered for others' feasting. He allows no attachments to spring and grow, lest, in their strength, they tempt him to forget his allegiance to his work and prove recreant to its demands. Being all the while under marching orders, he can have no home while he is an itinerant: the very name of the system negatives the idea of a home. His headquarters are in the saddle, his wardrobe in his saddle-bags, and his commissary supplies—"to be supplied."

Notwithstanding the seeming and real hardships of such a life, Methodist preachers, generally, are the happiest of men. Their life is not without the most pleasant experiences. Friendships, strong and abiding, are formed wherever they go, and that being interpreted, meaneth many a place. To most people the making of new acquaintances is a genuine pleasure; by this standard, the itinerant life is a well spring of pleasure. But it is from the performance of his work and the success which crowns it that the Methodist preacher derives, the most substantial and lasting pleasures of his life.

Revival work is the soul of Methodism and the secret of its success. In it the Methodist preacher finds his element and his chief joy, and considers that his labors are not crowned with complete success unless revivals of religion attend them with the groans of convicted sinners and the shouts of happy converts. In the joys of such work he finds a foretaste of the bliss which the finally saved shall obtain in the eternity of Heaven.

Thanksgiving day was well observed in the churches of Raleigh last week. At Edenton Street Church, Rev. Dr. Burkhead preached an able, forcible and eloquent sermon, taking as his text the 117th Psalm. His arraignment of our nation and society for their sins and shortcomings was strong and striking. He showed how, notwithstanding these national and social evils, God had favored us abundantly, both in positive blessings and in withholding punishments which might have been justly inflicted. Dr. Burkhead has been requested by several of his congregation to allow the publication of the sermon, and he has promised us that as soon as the press of Conference duties is removed, he will prepare it for the ADVOCATE. Dr. Burkhead's work in Raleigh has been successful both as a preacher and a pastor and his return to Edenton Street Church is greatly desired by his congregation.

We direct attention to the appeal of Rev. B. F. Long, in behalf of the Widows' and Orphan's Benefit Society. It is a noble charity and deserves the support of the Conference and the Methodists of the State.

Our Advocate.

BY REV. B. T. BLAKE.

In every weekly issue of our ADVOCATE there are many things to gladden my heart and throw the light of heaven over the shadows which are falling thick around me, in this my evening of life's perilous day. There are also some things that make me sad; but it is an agreeable sadness, which I would not exchange for all the joys of sense; for by the sadness of the countenance the heart is made better. It is better for me to go to the house of mourning than to the house of feasting. I need not now detail the things that make me glad. They are too many and various—may be summed up in a few general remarks, viz: Our ADVOCATE is Methodist; Methodist in doctrines and morals, Episcopal in order and government, neither high church nor low church, but Wesleyan, as Mr. Wesley ordered and arranged for the American societies; itinerant and aggressive in its work, every one, and always at it; no church without a preacher, and no preacher without a church to gladdens my heart that our ADVOCATE is fully committed to christian brotherhood with all denominations of christians; and knows how to treat with courtesy those brethren who hold adverse opinions; ever ready to make advances even towards those who choose to stick a feather in their caps and are too fastidious to feast at the altars of Methodism or relish her simple costume.

Our ADVOCATE knows what in fraternity. No words of mine are needed to settle it in its fixed and well defined position in which it will be sustained by the North Carolina Conference without perhaps one dissenting voice.

The mission of Southern Methodism, as an integral part of the Methodist Episcopal Church, ended in 1844. In 1845, it entered on a new work—a work which no other church could accomplish. With all the disadvantages which have environed her, the Methodist E. Church, South, has achieved a position from which she cannot be displaced, by foes within or foes without. She has her own work, and must do it in her own way without complications that would abridge her liberty.

I have said there were things to make me sad, but it is a pleasurable sadness to turn away for a while from the cheerful view presented above, to read, in each weekly issue of our "Advocate," the memorials of departed worth in the peaceful and triumphant deaths of our ministers and laymen. It was long ago said of Methodists, "they die well." This may be said of all Christians who live well. But there is a special reason why a Methodist should die well. He is taught from the beginning that salvation by grace, through a hearty repentance towards God, and faith in our Lord Jesus Christ, is not an hypothesis which is to suspend the mind in perpetual doubt; but a problem—yea the great problem of life, which each for himself must reduce to an experimental verity. Unhappy indeed, whether in life or in death, must that believer be who refers the question to the great judgment, while all his present hopes lie in dark uncertainty. What we shall be hereafter does not yet appear, but the sons of God know that, when Christ appears, they shall be like him, and see him as he is. The same repentance and faith which brought the assurance of pardon and peace, attend them at every step of their progress towards a holy life. They pioneer the way and smooth the rough passages of life, and to the eyes of the dying christian disclose the open gates of everlasting life.

The foregoing reflections owe their origin to two obituaries in the issue of our ADVOCATE of the 10th inst. One of them is furnished by brother Closs, the other by brother Manoss. In the unadorned narrative of brother Closs we have a beautiful—a sublime picture of the life and death of an aged minister at Cape Hatteras, Oct 6th, brother Dixon.

He who can read that simple story, told with the transparency of truth which carries its own conviction, without deep sympathy, will never go where brother Dixon has gone.

Then what a lovely picture has brother Maness drawn of the life of little Methodist girl, the child of Methodist parents who never saw her cheeks flushed with an angry passion. Who laid her self down at night and slept, until the angels of God came and kissed her soul away, leaving her frail body prepared for her coffin, while all her loved ones slept in hope of seeing her sweet face when the morning light should return.

These two pictures I have hung up in the hall of memory. I shall often look at them while I live, and when memory departs from this house of clay it will carry them to a better house on high, where every view of them will move me to a thankful heart, that in life they taught me, not only how a christian hero dies, but how a timid girl may, at midnight all alone in her chamber, hear the summons to die, and without alarm fold her arms upon her breast and close her eyes and go to sleep in the arms of Jesus.

Oaky Grove, 23rd Nov. 1875.

The Class of the 4th year, N. C. Conference, will meet the committee of examination at Front street Methodist Church, in Wilmington, N. C. Tuesday Nov. 30th, 1875 at 9 o'clock A. M.

JOHN W. NORTH, Ch'n.

News from the Churches.

Rev. J. W. Lewis, writing under date of Nov. 23d says: "Permit me to say, just as I am closing my year's work on Forsythe circuit, that it has not been one of great prosperity; nevertheless, we have had some seasons of refreshing. We had several converts at each of the following places: Mt. Tabor, Concord and Clemmonsville; and at a meeting held last week in our new church at Kernersville, we had 22 converts, making in all upwards of 40."

Bro. Boshamer writes under date of Nov. 17th: 'I have just closed my round of protracted meetings. The holy Spirit was with us in every meeting, and at Jerusalem, Zion, Ridgeway, Manson Chapel and Tabernacle the ranks of the enemy were broken. I can therefore report a number of conversions—bright and beautiful conversions.

I have received about forty persons into the church, nearly all of whom professed conversion at our meetings. Others will join us, I presume, as soon as they have the opportunity.

We gratefully acknowledge our indebtedness to Revs. J. P. Moore, J. A. Cunninggim, F. L. Reid and J. W. Shackford, who gave us valuable assistance at several points.'

Rev. R. O. Burton, writing from Weldon, Nov. 25th says:

"After closing my business letter, I have the pleasure of saying I have been conducting a very gracious revival in Halifax Town, aided, a part of the time, by my excellent friend, Rev. Dr. Whitfield of the Methodist Protestant Church. The religious interest has reached all classes.—24 have professed to be pardoned—21 have joined our church, and up to this time there is no abatement of interest after a protraction of eleven days. Bad weather, night or day, has not prevented the people from attending. Seldom, if ever, have I seen such displays of Divine power—the meeting goes forward. Pray for us."

Rev. T. H Edwards in a recent letter says: "At our 4th Quarterly Conference the P. E., remained with us until Tuesday evening. Bro. Pepper remained. The result of the meeting was 20 conversions and 16 accessions. We have received 125 members during the year and nearly as many have professed conversion. We have four young Men's Christian Associations in full operation. They have been of great assistance to me this year in conducting my revival meetings. They propose having a convention during Christmas and try to spend one Christmas reliving instead of in a frolic. He will begin to do what one is sent to this circuit every year. I have received the Conference envelopes. An improvement could be made in them, I think by adding a place for the assessment as well as amount collected. I have all of mine filled, waiting for Conference.

To the Ministers of the N. C. Conference

DEAR BRETHREN: We desire to give the W. & O. Benefit Society a good send off at Conference, and in order to do this it is very desirable that each minister shall become a life member. There are many reasons why you should do this. Such action on your part would not only place a considerable amount in the treasury, but give to the society and the laity of the Church the best evidence of your hearty endorsement and co-operation. This is needed. The laity are looking to see you take an interest in the matter, and are disappointed at your seeming indifference. We know times are hard, but the importance of the enterprise is such that you should make an effort, if necessary.

So far as this society is concerned, it is a "fixed fact," and we mean that it shall be a success; but we desire that it shall receive an impulse at Conference which shall awaken enthusiasm and establish confidence throughout the Conference. The Financial Secretary, Bro. T. C. Williams, will be at Conference. Cooperate with him and get up a "big demonstration." Don't let other business prevent your giving attention to this matter at Conference. Hearty action has been delayed too long. It is time to take hold of the matter with that zeal which ordinarily does, and always should characterize Methodist preachers.

Very truly,
B. F. Long, Sec'y.

Religious Brevities.

Rev. Dr. Pentecost of Warren Avenue Baptist Church, Boston, has come out bodly in favor of open communion. The National Baptist and the Baptist Union approve his course.

SEVERAL churches were excluded from the Baptist Association of Long Island because of their practice of open communion. Now it appears that since that event the excluded churches have prospered, and the excluders have not.

The missionaries of all the Protestant Churches in the city of Mexico have been meeting in the forenoons and the people, in numbers varying from 80 to 250, in the afternoons, in order to pray for an outpouring of the Spirit upon the whole work in the Mexican capital.

A Japanese nobleman has just presented to the Indian Library in England a Chinese version of the Buddhist Scriptures, weighing three and a quarter tons.

Virginia Conference

LIST OF APPOINTMENTS.

Richmond District—D P Wills P E.
Trinity, Richmond—A C Bledsoe.
Nicholson Street. Richmond—R B Beadle.
Centenary - John E Edwards.
Broad Street—S A Steel.
German Mission—W T Micon.
Sidney—George H Hay.
Oregon—George M Wright.
Clay Street—P A Peterson.
Union—Henry C Cheatham
Manchester—George C Vanderslice.
Henrico and Charles City—Richard Perkinson
New Kent—Wm P Wright.
King William - Charles H Green.
Mathews—A M Hall, Wm HAtwell.
Gloucestnr—L B Beatty.
Williamsburg Circuit -H T Bacon.
J C Grambery, Professor of the Vanderbilt University.
Charlottesville District -Jos A Proctor, P E.
Charlottesville, James F Twitty;
Albemarle, Robert W Watts; Madison, F J Boggs; Louisa, Joshua S Hunter; Scottsville, James E Gates; Fluvana, John W Howard; Batesville, Wm W Spam; Gordonsville, Peter F August; Orange Circuit, P Bradley; Greene, William E Payne; Goochland, Benjamin C Spiller; West Hanover, John Mc Ieland; Piedmont, to be supplied by George W Bailey.
Lynchburg District—John D Blackwell, P E.
Centenary, Wm H Christian; City Mission, to be supplied by Lawrence E Way; Court Street, Wm E Judkins; Amherst, Herbert M Hope; West Amhers, Henry C Paulett, Amherst Missions; J W Parrish: Bedford, Edgar H Pritchett; Jackson, Wm Lawn; South Bedford, M L Bishop; Bedford Springs, Travis J Taylor; Liberty, J R Clark; Nelson, H H Gary; Appomattox, James E McSparran: Campbell, Wm F Bain; Leesville, R L Lee, Buckingham, Chas H Boggs; Prospect, Wesley C Vaden.
Danville District—John M Saunders, P E.
Main Street, Samuel S Lambeth: Lynn Street, James W Bledsoe; Charlotte, Esmond A Gibbs West Charlotte, D W Murray; South of Dan, John D Southall; Ringgold, to be supplied by John Forbes; Bannister,—Fishburn; Pittsylvania, David F Hodges; Franklin, J W Tucker; East Franklin, James A Hughes, Henry; John W Crider; Patrick, Geo E Deshaser; Dan River, G S Warner; Halifax, Henry C Bowles.
Farmville District—Francis M Edwards, P E.
Farmville, Jacob Manuing; Mount Pleasant, Joseph S R Clark; Lunenburg, Jas O Moses; Lewiston, George H Ray; Boydton, James Jameison; Clarksville, J H Maynard; Boydton Circuit, W G Lumpkin; Mecklenburg, Thomas M Beckham; Brunswick, David M Wallace; Nottoway, Jas W Blincoe; Amelia Chas D Crawley; Powhatan, Wm H Atwell; Cumberland, James K Waggener; South Brunswick, Wm R Smith; Farmville College, Paul Whitehead, president.
Petersburg Distret - Leroy M Lee, P E.
Washington Street Petersburg, Jos H Riddick, Bluefield, Petersburg, to [illegible] White; Chesterfield Mission, to be supplied by James Baily; Dinwiddie, Joseph Lear; West Dinwiddie, Jno B Woodward; Sussex, Jos B Merritt, James A Riddick, Supply; Hicks ford, Wm B Rowzie; Prince George, Jacob H Proctor; Surry, William E Allen.
Murfreesboro District—B F Woodward, P E.
Murfreesboro, Franklin C Wood ward; Northampton, Benjamin F Tonnine; Meherrin, James D Lumsden; Bertie, R A M Brooks; Edenton, William P Jerdan; Pasquotank, J L Gandt; Elizabeth City, James C Martin; Suffolk, George E Booker; Gates, Thos L Williams; Southampton, Jos W Compton; Chuckatuck, Charles F Hobday; North Southampton, John N Jones; Dare, J G Bristow; Wesleyan Female College, William G Starr, Pres.
Norfolk District—L S Reid, P. E.
Cumberland Street, Norfolk, Edward M Peterson; Granby Street, Norfolk, Wm E Edwards, Wm J Norfleet, Sup'y; City Mission, to be supplied; Berkley, Wilbur F Robins; Monumental, Portsmouth, James P Garland; Central, Portsmouth, Hezekiah P Mitchell; Second Street, Portsmouth, James H Crown; Norfolk Circuit, James C Reed; East Norfolk Circuit, J B Day; South Norfolk Circuit, F M Gordan; Indian Ridge, John Q Rhodes; Princess Anne, Jos J Edwards; York, Robert N Croons; Hampton, James L Spencer; Smithfield, Robert A Compton; Isle of Wight, to be supplied by Alexander Donnipban; Superintendent of German Missions, Edward N S Brogg; Norfolk Collegiate Institute, Robert M Saunders, Principal.
Randolph Macon District, Edward P. Wilson, P. E.
Rappahannock, Milton L Bishop: Rappahannock Mission, James F Finnell; Culpeper Station, Richard J Moorman; Culpeper Circuit, Edward M Jordan; Spottsylvania, James H Maynard; Caroline, Thos Boydton; King George, Thomas Boggs; Westmoreland, Jas H Davis; Heathsville, David G C Butts, Montross, John W White Walter C Taylor, Sup'y; King and Queen, Wm H Crocker; Lancaster, Alfred Wise; Middlesex, Josiah D Hank, Logan Mission, C H Green; Hanover, Wm G Twitty; Ashland, J H Patterson, Joseph E Potts, Supy Randolph Macon College, James A Duncan President; Jas A Dame Secretary; Agent Virginia Bible ical Society, Thos A Ware: Sunday School Agent, Leonidas Rosser.
Eastern Shore District, John B. Dey, Presiding Elder.
Eastville, R M Saunders; Bell Haven, to be supplied by Edward Hebard; Pongotoague, Beverly W Daugherty; Onacock, Jos H Amiss; Atlantic, James M Anderson; Pocomoke, Wm J Twilly; Wicomo, Chas C Wertenbaker; Salisbury, J G Morr; Berlin, Werter H Gregory; Dorchester, J H Connelley, Cambridge, Patterson.

The American Bible Society issued 41,910 copies of the Scriptures during the month of September—1,397 a day, or about 140 for every working hour of the day. The Society's receipts for that month were $41,304.

At a camp hunt in Onslow county recently, twenty one deer were killed in four days. Sheriff Murrill lead the party.

How Jesus Draws Men.

Dr. Payson once, in the progress of a revival at Portland, gave notice that he would be glad to see any young person who did not intend to seek religion. Any one would be surprised to hear that about thirty or forty came. He spent a very pleasant interview with them, saying nothing about religion till, just as they were about to leave, to close a few very plain remarks thus: "Suppose you should see coming down from heaven a very fine thread, so fine as to be almost invisible, and it should come and gently attach itself to you. You know, we suppose, it came from God. Should you dare to put out your hand and thrust it away? Now such a thread has come from God to you this afternoon. You do not feel, you say, any interest in religion. But by your coming here this afternoon God has fastened one little thread upon you all. It is very weak and frail, and you can easily brush it away. But will you do so? No: welcome it, and it will enlarge and strengthen itself until it becomes a golden thread, to bind you forever to a God of love."

We learn from the city papers that Rev. A. W. Mangum, will (we write on Monday and do not speak as of Wednesday, the date of this issue) will lecture on to morrow (Tuesday) night on the "Past, Present and Future of the University of North Carolina." Prof. Mangum is an able lecturer and we trust his audience will be a large one.

Vice President Willson died at Washington, Nov. 22. He was supposed to be recovering from his late illness, when, at about 7 a. m., he sat up to take his medicine, and then lay down on his left side, and expired without a struggle.

The Vice President was a member of the church, having made a public profession of religion in 1866 at a revival meeting. The country mourns his loss.

GUBERNATORIAL ROLL.—We take the following list of those who have occupied the Executive Chair of our State from the formation of the government down to the present time, from the Raleigh News.—Previous to the adoption of the Constitution of 1835, Governors were elected by the Legislature and the roll is as follows:

In 1776, Richard Caswell of Lenoir; in 1779, Abner Nash of Craven; 1781, Thomas Burke of Orange; 1782, Alexander Martin of Guilford; 1784, Richard Caswell of Lenoir; 1787, Samuel Johnston of Chowan; 1789, Alexander Martin of Guilford; 1792, Richard Dobbs Speight, Jr., of Craven; 1795, Samuel Ashe of New Hanover; 1798, [illegible] Warren; 1817, John Branch of Halifax; 1820, Jesse Franklin of Surry; 1821, Gabriel Holmes of Sampson; 1824, Hutchings Burton of Halifax; 1827, James Iredell of Chowan; 1828, John Owen of Bladen; 1830, Mumford Stokes of Wilkes; 1832, David L. Swain of Buncombe; 1835, Richard Dobson Speight of Craven.

And the Governors elected by the people since the adoption of the Constitution of 1835, are as follows:

In 1837, Edward R. Dudley of New Hanover. 1841. John M. Morehead of Guilford; 1845, William A. Graham of Orange; 1849, Charles Manly of Wake; 1851, David S. Reid of Rockingham, 1854, Warren Winslow, ex-officio, of Cumberland; 1856, Thomas Bragg of Northampton; 1858, John W. Ellis of Person; 1861, Henry T. Clark, ex officio, of Edgecombe; 1863, Z. B. Vance of Buncombe; 1866, W. W. Holden, provisional, of Wake; 1866, Jonathan Worth of Randolph; 1868, Wm. W. Holden of Wake; 1870, Tod R. Caldwell, ex officio, of Burke; 1872, Tod R. Caldwell of Burke; 1874, Curtis H. Brogden, ex officio, of Wayne.

JOURNALISTIC.—Capt. E. C. Woolson, long and favorably known as the sprightly local editor of the Raleigh Daily News, has withdrawn from that paper for the purpose of accepting a proffered position on the Wilson Advance. Mr Woodson has done much toward giving to the News the success which it enjoys, and we trust prosperity will attend him in his new field of labor.

NORTH CAROLINA.

On the 21st ult. Rockingham had ice one quarter of an inch thick.

J. W. McElrath, an old and respectable citizen of Burke, died at Morganton last week.

A vicious horse in Newbern bit a hostler's ear clean off even with his head on Sunday before last.

A falling box broke the arm of Captain Crawford, conductor on the W. & W R. R. last week.

A National Bank is to be started in Winston. The sum of $78,000 has already been subscribed toward it.

For the fiscal year ending June 30th 1875, North Carolina paid Internal Revenue taxes to the amount of $1,729,984.

The exhibition at the Fayetteville Fair was good, and the attendance large.

Judge Kerr at the late term of Rockingham Superior Court, sentenced an old man named Rowe to ten years in the Penitentiary for a brutal assault upon a woman.

Mr. J. J. Stewart, of the Salisbury WATCHMAN has resigned his connection with the paper and its conduct has fallen upon Mr. J. J. Bruner, the co-editor Mr. Thos. K. Bruner, an elder son of the Editor, will be associated in the care of the WATCHMAN.

A little two-year-old son of Mr. Monroe Murphy, of Richmond county, died last week from drinking concentrated lye, which had been carelessly left within reach of him.

As an instance of good farming the Winston Sentinel says that George Mitchell, of Forsyth county, raised over eleven hundred bushels of corn this year from 28 acres of reclaimed upland.

There is a house on the premises of B. J. Millard, Esq., in Duplin county, that was occupied by Lord Cornwallis during the Revolutionary war. It is made of hewn pine logs and looks strong now.

The gin-house of Mr. Jas Skinner in Montgomery county was burned on the 3d ult., together with its contents. Loss fully $1000. A colored man arrested on suspicion as the guilty party.

Wm. Gregory, at Brevard Station, with a cheap shot-gun, and at 200 yards range, brought down a hawk which measured from tip to tip 4 feet 4 inches.

Little Bruce Wallace, in Charlotte, aged 3 years, was roasting potatoes when his clothes caught fire and he was so horribly burned that he died next day.

The Reidsville News expresses the hope that Rev. W. C. Norman will be returned to the charge of Wentworth circuit.

Col. J. M. Robinson, President of the Norfolk Bay Line of Steamers and a railroad man of great experience, has been elected president of the R. & G. Railroad, in place of Maj. Grice, who died recently.

The Winston SENTINAL says that the speech of J. A. Stephenson at Forsyth court in the prosecution of Hedrick was a splendid effort,—full of logic, law and eloquence.

Judge Pratt, and Mr. Massy, chief of the Fire Department in New York are in Hillsboro, with guns, dogs, &c., hunting the game with which that section abounds.

On Friday morning last a young man from Norfolk by the name of Charles States was killed by a falling tree at Armstrong's mill near Franklin, Va. The blow crushed in his skull. He leaves a wife and two children.

Says the Hillsboro Recorder: Many of our farmers have not yet finished seeding wheat, and the succession of rainy days has kept the ground so wet that there is some apprehension that a full crop cannot be got in proper time."

Bishop Cumming, the distinguished Reformed Episcopal Church divine, visited Wilmington recently and became the guest of T. C. Servoss.

Lawyer Bryan, the negro who was hanged in Beaufort last week, for the murder of Michael T. Langley, of Jones county, in 1874, made a full confession of his guilt before his hanging. He was 22 years of age when he committed the deed.

The Rockingham Courier says that Mr A. W. Dawkins and Mr. McGowan, while crossing the trestle on the railroad near Leak's old mill, in Richmond county, accidentally fell through to the ground injuring both of them very seriously.

Asheville Expositor: Col. Dake, of Sharswood, proprietor of the Maraloe Furnace, intends to erect a very handsome residence for his individual use, built of marble or limestone (from Martin's quarry) on the Maraloe estate. The building will be of the Tudor, or Elizabethan style of architecture, and will be surrounded by a park of several hundred acres. Attached to this mansion there will be a chapel where Episcopal service, after the manner of the Cathedral of the Church of England, will be occasionally celebrated. The musical portion of these services will be of the highest species of ecclesiastical art, such as is nowhere heard in the South. To aid in this work, a large organ will be built for the chapel, by Erben, of New York. The elevated and elaborate character of these services will doubtless attract attendance from distant parts of the State.

Says the Charlotte Observer: "We are informed by Judge Schenck that when he left Lincolnton on Saturday, a surveying party was encamped at that place. They said that they were surveying a route, under the direction of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, from Danville, Va., to Spartanburg, S. C., by way of Statesville, Lincolnton and Shelby; beyond this they refused to disclose anything. The B. & O. Railroad Company, several years ago surveyed a route and secured a charter for what was known as "the Plaster Banks and Coal Fields Railroad," from Danville to Statesville. This new route from Danville to Spartanburg, via Statesville and Lincolnton, would save 40 miles travel between the North and South. An examination of the map will show that it is an exact air-line."

Wm. Hedrick who was charged with killing Jennings in Yadkin county last Summer, was tried in Forsyth week before last and convicted of manslaughter.

The Baptist Festival in Winston to raise funds for building a Baptist Church in that town, netted the handsome sum of $300.

Dr. Mumsey delivered his celebrated lecture on Man, in Winston last week. On Friday night he delivered the lecture on the "Ideal-Art-Mausic."

John Dial, a member of the Lowe Gang, who turned State's evidence and convicted George Applewhite, again at his old tricks, says the Robesonian, and stole a fine horse at the Clinton Fair recently.

The Raleigh News Publishing Company gave last Thursday night a banquet, in the News Building, in honor of the Board of Trade of Raleigh. About five hundred invitations were issued and there were upwards of 300 persons present. The occasion was a pleasant one and good cheer abounded. Among the speeches made in response to sentiments proposed those delivered by Rev. Dr. Pritchard, Rev. Mr. Atkinson, Col. Cameron, Mr. McCallum, Maj. R. S Tucker. Grissom and Col Donan, of the Sentinel, were greatly applauded.

We congratulate the News Publishing Company on the prosperity which attends it and which enables it to entertain so large a number of guests and so handsomely. Este perpetua.

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING, TERMS $2 20 POSTAGE PAID.

Our Agents.

All the travelling and local preachers in the bounds of the North Carolina Conference are our authorized agents. Any person sending us ten subscribers, for one year, will receive the paper free.

Our Correspondents.

All communications for publication should be carefully written, and on but one side of the sheet. All letters should be addressed to the Editor.

How to Remit.

In sending money, all amounts should be sent in registered letter, post office order or check. The cost of registration, or Post Office order can be deducted from the amount to be sent. If money is sent otherwise than herein specified it will be at the sender's risk.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Holiday Goods by the well known house of B. H. Macy & Co., 14th Street and 6th Avenue, New York. Send for catalogues and illuminated Centennial Cards, which they furnish free.

W. A. Gattis at his Grain and Feed Store, on Wilmington Street, keeps a full supply of the best of all kinds of grain and rough provender. He has had long experience in the business (which he was the first to make a distinct branch of trade in this city) and deserves patronage. All orders will be promptly filled.

W. H. & R. S. Tucker make an important announcement in our columns this week. They are in receipt of and offer for sale Wamsutta Mus in Shirts at great y reduced prices. The Messrs Tucker are also most extensive dry-goods dealers, as also latung and re inbo.

General News.

Tons of peaches have been dried in Utah this season and are now awaiting shipment.

Illinois expended last year $1 009 960, on school sites and buildings.

The steamer Waco, burned in the Galveston harbor, had on board 3 60 cases petroleum. The vessel had no right to carry this oil, being without the necessary certificate, and her owners will be prosecuted.

A Swedish school house, for exhibition at the Centennial has been shipped from that country to Philadelphia.

Captain Jefferson D. Howell, commander of the steamship Pacific, was a brother of Mrs. Jefferson Davis.

The Khedive of Egypt has decreed that hereafter the Christian, and not the Mohammedan calendar shall be used.

Thomas A. Doyle Republican, has been re-elected Mayor of Providence, R. I., for the tenth time.

Treasurer New has paid into the Treasury $4 000 stolen therefrom since his administration. There were two thefts one of $1 000 and one of $2 000. The guilty party or parties have as yet not been discovered.

A special to the London Times says that the Khedive has applied to England for two financiers to undertake to mend the Egyptian finances, promising the fullest information to the power.

Eight hundred soldiers sailed from Cadiz for Cuba on the 16th, and five thousand more were prepared to embark.

The sum of sixty five thousand dollars has been placed to the credit of the Rev. E. H. Pearce, under the will of the North Carolina Conference, in which a model minister has ceased was in many ways a man. His early piety good and his education, but he was very remarkable for his eminent and practical usefulness. During the years of his membership he was liberal with his means, and was always willing in his efforts for the salvation of souls. He was a faithful steward in the church and in the church and society. Two years ago, when Fifth Street Methodist Church in this city was organized, W. H. High broken up, W. H. High any other one man for its re organization. His integrity as a man and as a christian, and his indomitable perseverance knew him admiration of all who consumption, with which he lingered for several months. During his sickness the writer, his pastor, always found him sensibly enjoying the divine favour and ready to converse cheerfully on religious subjects and his own christian experience. His death was calm and heroic. The very large attendance at his funeral showed the high esteem in which he was held.

The church at this place will sadly miss the wise counsel, the working zeal and the remarkable piety of him who has been taken from us. He leaves a devoted christian wife and her mother, with a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn his loss. May his companion be consoled with the thought that he is only gone to their heavenly home a little before her, where she shall join him again beyond death and the grave. May the glorious consolations of the gospel soothe the afflicted hearts of all those who weep, and may we all strive to make his virtues ours.

J. T. Gibbs.

William O. Wood, son of Spencer and Nancy Wood, aged 23 years died in Randolph county, July 25th 1875, of Typhoid fever. A few days before his death he expressed a willingness to die, calling his sister, he said, "my stay with you is short; but I see a star in that better world, brighter than the morning star," and asked her if she didn't wish she could see the last breath the answer was; may be exclaimed, I do—and said a person don't know the worth of their souls until they come to die. Also said to the writer, "I have got to die," pointing upwards said, "my home is in heaven." He leaves father, mother young wife, 3 sisters, 6 brothers, and many friends to mourn his loss. He had been a member of the M. E. Church, South, for about 8 years. Our loss is his eternal gain.

BY A FRIEND.

Died at Mount Olive in Wayne county on the 9th of November, ult. Mr. Leonidi W. Kornegay, aged 45 years. For two years previous to his death, he had been a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, during the whole of which time, his upright life and character served to elevate him in the estimation of his dearer friends. To say that he was a good man and lived the good of his community, and in the affections of all around him, it seems would be inadequate to that justice which his charitable and human walk entitle him. But what more fitting can be said—he was indeed a good man—one true to himself and to every one else, esteemed and admired; a benefactor to the poor, he won for himself the love of all around him; and floods of tears now bathe his memory since he is dead. Scarce have the lamented remains of our private citizen in this community, ever been so honored by such an immense sorrowing throng as followed him to his grave. Tears were indeed fitting for they are the testimony of the heart and when the heart speaks the truth is told.

He leaves a widow, several brother and several brothers and hosts of friends to silently recount and ponder over his many virtues and acts of love and mercy.

All admired his ride. Many, very many loved him—those most who knew him best.

Though dead and passed away from earth, he still lives in the minds and hearts of those who knew him.

"The Lord grant unto him that he may find mercy of the Lord in that day." 2nd Tim. 1s chap 18th v.

Died the 11th inst. George W. Taylor aged 34 years.

Bro Taylor had been sick with consumption over two years; the last six months of his illness he bore his affliction and endured his sufferings with christian patience. Shortly before he died he desired to depart; his soul was [illegible] October 1809, was born again in August 1851 and died the 2d day of November 1875, after an illness of seventeen days of Typhoid Fever. His mortal remains were interred on the 3d of Nov. at Cove Creek Church, one of the largest concourses of people being present that has ever met there on such an occasion

She had been a consistent member of Antioch M. E. Church South, since Sept 1874 and her example showed how christians should live and how they should die. Her life was one of piety.

Her spirit was too pure for a longer residence in this world.—Weep not for her parents and friends.

"Gone, gone to rest one, gone to thy home,
But its not cheerless, hope dispells its gloom,
While we are weeping o'er the hallowed ground,
Thou art but sleeping till the trump shall sound."

J. B. C.

Asheville Pioneer please copy

Letters and Funds

Rev P L Carraway paper continued. Mrs J C Blocker papers have been regularly sent. E Alden N W Ayer & Son Rev H P Cole H H Chandler & Co Hitchcock & Walden Rev J W North Rev J E Thompson for C B Leach 1 20. Rev W H Bobbitt paper continued Rev A Stegson for Miss Sarah L Davidson 2 20. T B Pace Dr S A Richardson C C Fairchild & Co W H Rand sell 2 Rev J W Lewis W A Betts N W Ayer & Son C W Balcheller T C W Buchanner Rev J B Carpenter paper sent and charged to you. Mrs A T Mial sell 6. V Ballard sell 4 Rev B T Blake Rev J T Gibbs J Weaver A Co Wm Poisson Rev S S Bryant paper changed. Rev C H Phillips for J W Fitzgerald 2 20 G W Johnson for Miss F E Floyd 1.10. Rev W S Black J E Perry sell 2 20. M E Perry sell 1.10, Rev R O Burton T W Harris Rev E A Yates R Kornegay Rev J J Renn Rev T H Edwards D J Thompson for sal 8.80. Turner sell 4. G W Hinshaw for Mrs E A Hinshaw 2.25. Rev P F W Stamey for J Long 2 20. N Hodge 2.20. S Long 2 20. I Gaston 2 20. J Willis 1.20. C T Everhart 2 20 Wm Morris 2 20 M L Carpenter 2 20

Marriages.

Married on the 23rd of November, at the Front Street Methodist E. Church, South, Wilmington N. C., by Reverend J. E. Mann, Mr. C. Henry Schulken, to Miss Alice eldest daughter of James T Petteway, Esq.

Married, on 23rd instant, by Rev. C. H. Phillips, in Jamestown, at the residence of the bride's father, W. C. C Ha of Greensb ro and Lucy J. Cook, daughter of Thomas H Cook

On Thursday Nov. 18th by Rev. A. L. Oerter, in Salem N. C, Jno G Stockton Esq. to Miss Florence Hall.

Married in Durham, N. C. by Rev J. Reid, Nov 23rd 1875, Rev. A. R Raven, of the N. C. Conference, and Miss Annie S eyron of Durham.

Married, on the 24th Nov. at the residence of M. L. Rost, Esq. of Cabarrus county, by Rev M V. Sherrill, Mr. J. W Cannon of Concord, to Miss M Ella Rost.

At Charlotte, at the Charlotte Hotel, on the 17th ult., by the Rev. P. J. Farraway, Mr. B. R Grey and dissenora Hollis.

In Gaston county, on the 17th ult., by Rev. J. R. Peterson Mr Marion N Black and Miss Ella E. daughter of Joseph G. and Susan Agnes

In Thomasville, Ga., on the 10th ult., Capt W. H Trezevant, formerly of Charlotte, and Miss Fanny Hammond, daughter of H. B. Hammond Esq , of Charlotte, N. C

In Fort Mill, S. C., on the 11th ult., Mr. William H. Windle and Miss Dora Ann Blackmon ship

In Lancaster county, on the 11th ult, Mr. J. L. Adams and Miss R. S. Crenshaw.

At the residence of the bride's uncle, Olin Reynolds N. C., on the 16th ult., by Rev. J. Dell Mr Thos H. Davis of Lancaster C. H., to Miss K. Cooper Price.

Deaths.

Obituary notices of twenty lines are inserted without charge. The excess over twenty lines of count words is charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line. Count the lines and allow count words to the line. In this way friends may always know the amount to be paid. Resolutions of respect are subject to the same rule.

Rev. D. N. Richards was born at Burke, N. C. June 10th 1831, and died in the city of Wilmington October 21th 1875.

Bro. Richards was converted and received into the M. E. Church, South, at Fifth Street Church, Wilmington, in the year 1870, under the ministry of the Rev. E. H. Pearce. In which church he continued his membership to the day of his death. He respects and [illegible] opportunities of usefulness upon which he was very remarkable for his sense. During his membership in the small means Methodism was a faithful trustee of the when Fifth city was organized in his church and as a class leader he knew him consumption, with which he lingered for several months. During his sickness the writer, his pastor, always found him sensibly enjoying the divine favour and ready to converse cheerfully on religious subjects and his own christian experience. His death was calm and heroic. The very large attendance at his funeral showed the high esteem in which he was held.

The church at this place will sadly miss the wise counsel, the working zeal and the remarkable piety of him who has been taken from us. He leaves a devoted christian wife and her mother, with a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn his loss. May his companion be consoled with the thought that he is only gone to their heavenly home a little before her, where she shall join him again beyond death and the grave. May the glorious consolations of the gospel soothe the afflicted hearts of all those who weep, and may we all strive to make his virtues ours.

J. T. Gibbs.

William O. Wood, son of Spencer and Nancy Wood, aged 23 years died in Randolph county, July 25th 1875, of Typhoid fever. A few days before his death he expressed a willingness to die, calling his sister, he said, "my stay with you is short; but I see a star in that better world, brighter than the morning star," and asked her if she didn't wish she could see the last breath the answer was; may be exclaimed, I do—and said a person don't know the worth of their souls until they come to die. Also said to the writer, "I have got to die," pointing upwards said, "my home is in heaven." He leaves father, mother young wife, 3 sisters, 6 brothers, and many friends to mourn his loss. He had been a member of the M. E. Church, South, for about 8 years. Our loss is his eternal gain.

BY A FRIEND.

Died at Mount Olive in Wayne county on the 9th of November, ult. Mr. Leonidi W. Kornegay, aged 45 years. For two years previous to his death, he had been a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, during the whole of which time, his upright life and character served to elevate him in the estimation of his dearer friends. To say that he was a good man and lived the good of his community, and in the affections of all around him, it seems would be inadequate to that justice which his charitable and human walk entitle him. But what more fitting can be said—he was indeed a good man—one true to himself and to every one else, esteemed and admired; a benefactor to the poor, he won for himself the love of all around him; and floods of tears now bathe his memory since he is dead. Scarce have the lamented remains of our private citizen in this community, ever been so honored by such an immense sorrowing throng as followed him to his grave. Tears were indeed fitting for they are the testimony of the heart and when the heart speaks the truth is told.

He leaves a widow, several brother and several brothers and hosts of friends to silently recount and ponder over his many virtues and acts of love and mercy.

All admired his ride. Many, very many loved him—those most who knew him best.

Though dead and passed away from earth, he still lives in the minds and hearts of those who knew him.

"The Lord grant unto him that he may find mercy of the Lord in that day." 2nd Tim. 1s chap 18th v.

Died the 11th inst. George W. Taylor aged 34 years.

Bro Taylor had been sick with consumption over two years; the last six months of his illness he bore his affliction and endured his sufferings with christian patience. Shortly before he died he desired to depart; his soul was [illegible] October 1809, was born again in August 1851 and died the 2d day of November 1875, after an illness of seventeen days of Typhoid Fever. His mortal remains were interred on the 3d of Nov. at Cove Creek Church, one of the largest concourses of people being present that has ever met there on such an occasion

She had been a consistent member of Antioch M. E. Church South, since Sept 1874 and her example showed how christians should live and how they should die. Her life was one of piety.

Her spirit was too pure for a longer residence in this world.—Weep not for her parents and friends.

"Gone, gone to rest one, gone to thy home,
But its not cheerless, hope dispells its gloom,
While we are weeping o'er the hallowed ground,
Thou art but sleeping till the trump shall sound."

J. B. C.

Asheville Pioneer please copy

Letters and Funds

Rev P L Carraway paper continued. Mrs J C Blocker papers have been regularly sent. E Alden N W Ayer & Son Rev H P Cole H H Chandler & Co Hitchcock & Walden Rev J W North Rev J E Thompson for C B Leach 1 20. Rev W H Bobbitt paper continued Rev A Stegson for Miss Sarah L Davidson 2 20. T B Pace Dr S A Richardson C C Fairchild & Co W H Rand sell 2 Rev J W Lewis W A Betts N W Ayer & Son C W Balcheller T C W Buchanner Rev J B Carpenter paper sent and charged to you. Mrs A T Mial sell 6. V Ballard sell 4 Rev B T Blake Rev J T Gibbs J Weaver A Co Wm Poisson Rev S S Bryant paper changed. Rev C H Phillips for J W Fitzgerald 2 20 G W Johnson for Miss F E Floyd 1.10. Rev W S Black J E Perry sell 2 20. M E Perry sell 1.10, Rev R O Burton T W Harris Rev E A Yates R Kornegay Rev J J Renn Rev T H Edwards D J Thompson for sal 8.80. Turner sell 4. G W Hinshaw for Mrs E A Hinshaw 2.25. Rev P F W Stamey for J Long 2 20. N Hodge 2.20. S Long 2 20. I Gaston 2 20. J Willis 1.20. C T Everhart 2 20 Wm Morris 2 20 M L Carpenter 2 20

Yesterday's Mail

Brought three more certificates in favor of "Cannabis Indica," the great East India remedy for consumption, bronchitis and asthma:

——: Send me one dozen Ointment and one of Cannabis Indica. When Mr. J. W. Fisher brought to me for examination I found her in the last stage of Tuberculous Consumption, Then it was I concluded to make a fair trial of Indian Hemp, and now there is a general demand for those remedies. The Ointment excels everything of its kind I ever saw or tried.

Fraternally yours,
D. A. Simmons, M. D.

China Grove, Rowan N. C.

N. B.—This remedy speaks for itself. One bottle will satisfy the most skeptical. Ask your druggist to get it. $2 50 per bottle, or three bottles for $6.50. Pills and Ointment, $1 25 each.

As these are imported remedies we do not commission them, but will make cash agents everywhere.

Address,
CRADDOCK & CO.,
1032 Race Street,
Philadelphia.

Sept 29-13t- e o w

Coughs and Colds are often overlooked. A continuance for any length of time causes irritation of the Lungs or some chronic Throat Disease. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are an effectual COUGH REMEDY.

APPOINTMENTS.

SALISBURY DISTRICT.
FOURTH ROUND.

Mt. Airy station	Nov.	6-7
Wilkes ct	"	13-14
Salisbury ct	"	20-21
Iredell ct	"	27-28

D. R. Bruton, P. E.
Statesville, N. C.

GREENSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Davidson, at Lexington,	Nov.	6-7
Madison, Madison,	"	13-14
South Guilford, Franklinville,	"	20-21
Forsyth, Tabor,	"	27-28

N. H. D. Wilson, P. E.
Greensboro, N. C

NEWBERN DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Mt Olive, n. Mt Olive,	Nov.	6-7
Wilson	"	13-14
Goldsboro,	"	20-21

E. A. Yates, P. E
Beaufort N C.

SHELBY DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Lenoir,	Nov.	6 7
Happy Home,	"	13-14
Newton, Concord	"	20 21
Rock Spring,	"	27-28

R. G. Barrett, P. E.
Lincolnton, N C

RALEIGH DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND, Q. M.

Youngsville,	Nov	6-7
Smithfield,	"	13-14

J. F. Moore, P. E.
Warrenton N C

WILMINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Wilmington Front Street.	Nov.	6-7
Smithville,	"	13-14
Clinton, McGee,	"	20-21
Elizabeth, Wayman,	"	27-28
Wilmington 5th st.	"	30

W. S. Black, P. E.
Magnolia N. C

CHARLOTTE DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Tryon st. and Calvary Miss.	Nov.	6 7
Concordville ct.	"	13-14
Mt Pleasant ct. Bethel.	"	20-21
Wadesboro sta,	"	27-28

J. S. Nelson, P. E.
Monroe, N. C

WASHINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND IN PART.

Columbia,	Nov.	6-7
Williamston,	"	13-14
Warren,	"	20 21
Roanoke,	"	27-28

William Closs, P. E.
Hillsboro District.

HILLSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Person Bailey's,	Nov.	6-7
Flat River Pleasant Green,	"	13-14
Hillsboro sta,	"	20-21

L. L. Hendren, P. E.
Chapel Hill N. C.

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

WHOLESALE CASH PRICES.

Office of Christian Advocate
November 30, 1875.

REMARKS.

Business greatly improved. Country produce offered in quantities; especially in exchange for groceries.

COTTON

Old cotton none. New crop coming to market freely. Tendency downward We quote: Middlings 12 Low middlings 12 1-2 Lower grades none offered.

General Market.

FLOUR, North Carolina $7@6.50.
CORN 100
CORN MEAL- 100
BACKING, Standard 15 1-2.
" Dundo 13 1-2.
BACON, N. C. use round, 14.
" " hams 16 1-2
BULK C. R. sides, 15
" shoulders, 10 to 11
LARD, South Carolina, 16 1-2
" Western tierces, 17 1-2@
" " kegs, 16 1-2@17 1-2
COFFEE, Prime Rio, 26
" Fair Rio, 22@24
SYRUP, common, 37 1-2
MOLASSES, Cuba, 50.
SALT $2.25.
CHEESE, Cream, 15 16.
" Factory, 17.
" Dairy, none.
NAILS, on basis 10 6d, $7.00
SUGAR A, 12 1-2.
" Extra C, 11 1-4.
" Yellow, 10@11
LEATHER, sole 27 1-2@30
HIDES, green, 7@8.
" dry, 13 1-2
TALLOW, 7@8
POTATOES, sweet 75
" Irish, $1.00@$1.25.
OATS, shelled, 80
" sheaf, $1.25
FODDER, old, $1.50. New 1.25
HAY, N. C. bales, (5)
CHICKENS, grown, 30
" young, 20@30
EGGS, 30
BUTTER, country, 25@30
FISH, Mullets $6 to 6.50.
" Cat Herrings 7@7.50

EMENTS.

WELL!

THIS BEATS ALL.

6 WAMSUTTA MUSLIN SHIRTS with Richardson's Round Thread Linen Bosoms and Cuffs for only.....$6.50

12 OF THE SAME for only....$13.00

Nearly Ready Made.

ORDERS PROMPTLY FILLED.

The Greatest Bargain of the age.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER,
Leaders of Low Prices and Best Goods.
Dec 1-tf.

R. H. MACY & CO,
MA 14TH ST. & 6TH AVE. NEW YORK, CY
MA The Largest Importers and retailers in Amer CY
MA on of Dolls, and Toys, and Fancy Goods, CY
MA suitable for Holiday trade. We occupy the CY
MA whole block through from 14th to 15th Street, CY
MA and for 17 years have made Holiday Goods a CY
MA specialty. Catalogues CY
MA Hindsboro Centennial Cards sent free to CY
MA any address. Orders attended to with special CY
MA care. CY
MACY MACY MACY MACY MACY MACY
Dec 1-4t

$42 A WEEK.—Agents wanted. Business permanent. No soliciting required. For further particulars address
J. KENNEDY & CO., Richmond, Ind.
Dec 1 4-1

READ THIS

I will give any one an opportunity to make from $3 to $5 per day to work for me. Work easy and light A boy 10 years old can fill be bill. Send stamp for particulars. Apply to
B. F. POWELL, Warrenton, N. C.
nov. 25 13 m.

Stonewall Jackson.

We understand that the well known publishing house of D. APPLETON & CO., New York, have nearly ready for publication the LIFE OF STONEWALL JACKSON, fully illustrated by view and portraits, including the orations and scenes attending the unveiling of Foley's statue of Stonewall Jackson at Richmond. We advise all, especially disabled soldiers and women out of work, to write to the publishers at once and secure an agency, as the work is to be sold by subscription. It will have a large sale.

Nov 24 3-t

OPIUM Morphine Habit AND Intemperance
Specially cured by DR. BEEK'S only known and sure Remedy NO CHARGE for treatment until cured Call on or address
Dr. J. C. BECK, 113 John St., Cincinnati, O.
Sept 22-13t. e o w.

$250 A MONTH—Agents wanted everywhere. Business honorable and first class. Particulars sent free. Address
J. WORTH & Co., St. Louis, Mo.
aug 4-12m.

THE GOLD MEDAL.

The FIRST PREMIUM was awarded to the

Singer Sewing Machine

at the last State Fair in Raleigh.

The sales of the SINGER are the largest.

It is sold on the most LIBERAL TERMS.

A warrant for five years is given with every Machine.

THE SINGER IS ALWAYS RELIABLE.

MME. DeMORESTS PATTERNS

of garments on hand at the office.

CATALOGUE FREE BY MAIL.

Write for Price List of Machines, &c

T. W. HEALD, Manager.
No. 12 Fayetteville St.
Nov 17-tf.

LAW & Co., Atlanta, Ga.

CROCKERY AND GLASS MERCHANTS.

51 FAYETTEVILLE ST., RALEIGH, N. C.

LAW & CO.

Families and Merchants can now find in Raleigh a large assortment of Table Crockery, Bedroom articles at low prices. Glass Ware and Fancy Goods. Call and see Tea Sets, Dinner Sets, Toilet Sets, Bed Room Sets, Chamber Sets, Lamps and Fixtures, Vases and Ornaments, Table Cutlery, Britannia Ware, Looking Glass Plates and Ornaments, Clocks, Lamps and Fire Proof Safes. Call and see us. We guarantee all our Goods to be as represented, and our prices are at the lowest point. Catalogues nearly ready.

LAW & CO.

LAW & Co., Atlanta, Ga.

TO CONSUMPTIVES:

The advertiser, a retired physician, retired from active practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a simple Vegetable Remedy, for the speedy and permanent Cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, and all Throat and Lung Affections, also a Positive and Radical Cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having thoroughly tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, feels it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a conscientious desire to relieve human suffering he will send (free of charge), to all who desire it, this receipe, with with full directions for preparing and successfully using. Sent by return mail by addressing.

Dr. W. C. STEVENS,
Munroe Block, Syracuse, N. Y.
Nov 24 1 y

PETTY & JONES,

Wonderful But True!

SOMETHING NEW!

The King of Shirts!!

SIX WAMSUTTA MUSLIN SHIRTS, with good 2 ply Irish linen bosoms, six different styles to each in Collars, for

For $8.00!

Every Shirt guaranteed.

These Shirts are ready for the button-holes and gussets, any lady can make the buttons holes and put in the gussets, and by so doing can save from $1.00 to $1.50 on each shirt.

PETTY & JONES.

We have to-day received additional to our

Stock of Dress Goods,

CALICOES, DE TEIS, de CASSIMERES, HOOPSKIRTS, and are now exhibiting one of the handsome stock of Goods to be easy all of which were bought at the very LOWEST PRICES, and are sell for small profits, our customers will be sure to get the full value of their money.

Give us a call.

PETTY & JONES,
30 Fayetteville street.
Nov 17-tf

AGENTS WANTED FOR GRAND NEW BOOK.
PRESENT CONFLICT of SCIENCE with RELIGION; or, MODERN SKEPTICISM MET on its OWN GROUND.
The ablest writers on the side of Christianity of the day. By the author of "SCIENCE AND THE BIBLE." Every man, woman, and child wants to read it. It gives the Christian a reason for his Faith, proves the wonderful discoveries of Science in harmony with God's Word, disproves the Tyndall assertions, and destroys the Darwin Theory. It sells beyond all expectation. First agent sold 34, second 17, third 25, first week. First agent sold 34, second week. Everybody buys it. Avoid the sensational books advertised by other publishers, and secure territory for this book, that sells because the people need and want it. Send for circular and terms to agents.
P. W. ZIEGLER & Co., 518 Arch st., Philadelphia, Pa.
Dec 1-4t.

GRAND LODGE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
Office of Grand Secretary,
Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 1, 1875.

THE GRAND LODGE OF FREE and Accepted Masons of North Carolina, will commence its 84th Annual Communication, in this city, on Monday, 6th of December next at 7 o'clock, P. M.

Interim tickets can be obtained by others and representatives on application therefor, over the following named Railroads, &c., at a reduction of one fare for the Round Trip: Wilmington & Weldon Railroad; Western North Carolina Railroad; Seaboard & Roanoke Railroad; and Deep River Navigation Company, on payment of one fare to and from Raleigh, on the following roads at six cents per mile for the Round Trip: Wilmington & Manchester, Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta; and Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta.

Brethren coming from the west over the lines above named will please write their names plainly in the Railroad signature book for tickets.

The Grand Secretary [illegible] requests that all subordinate Lodges in the State according to arrangements

It is specially suggested [illegible] are necessary over the roads named [illegible] payment of full fare.

Nov. 17-3w. D. W. BAIN
Grand Secretary.

THE BUFFALO LITHIA WATERS FOR SALE.

The claim is made with entire confidence for these waters that as a curative agent of many forms of CHRONIC DISEASE they have no superior among the medicinal waters of the WORLD. Especially and emphatically is this claim made for them in the peculiar DISEASES OF WOMEN in AFFECTIONS of the KIDNEYS and BLADDER, and in derangements of the DIGESTIVE and BILIARY ORGANS. In GOUT and RHEUMATISM dependent on URIC ACID in the blood, they have given the most marked and decided relief. In CHRONIC, INTERMITTENT, and REMITTENT FEVER, and all diseases attributable to miasmatic influence they act often like a charm. In SCROFULA they have given a degree of relief which might well induce sufferers from that disease to give it a trial. They are used with advantage throughout the whole year—equally in cold as in warm weather.

The claim thus made for these waters is vouched for by some of the MOST DISTINGUISHED MEDICAL MEN OF THE COUNTRY, both North and South, as well as by numerous reported case from the most unimpeachable sources.

Testimonials sent to any address on application. These waters are put up in case of one dozen half-gallon bottles, at $6 per case.

THOMAS F. GOODE,
Proprietor Buffalo Lithia Springs,
Mecklenburg county Va.
Sept 8 1-m 1y.

PRICES REDUCED:

LADIES
— AND —
GENTLEMEN:

CALL AT ONCE AND EXAMINE THE EXTENSIVE STOCK, JUST RECEIVED AT

J. P. GULLEY'S,
—OF—
Dry Goods, Clothing,

NOTIONS, BOOTS, SHOES,
Hats, Caps, Trunks, Valises,
White Goods, &c., &c.
BURT'S GAITERS & BOOTS FOR GENTS.

PRINTS! PRINTS! PRINTS!

A large stock of the latest patterns, at prices that can not be excelled.
Respectfully
JOSEPH P. GULLEY,
Corner Fayetteville and Market Square.
Oct 13th, 1875.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT!

We are now receiving our SECOND STOCK of Winter Dress Goods!

The latest and most desirable STYLES and FABRICS of the season. Newest shades in CASSIMERES AND CASHMERE DE CLOTHS.

All wool Suitings and Ombet's Hair CLOTHS and SERGES.

A large assortment of New Style Plaid Dress Goods.

Beautiful Plaid Suitings in great variety at extremely low prices from 20 cents up.

Black and Colored Silks!

Attention is called to a most elegant assorted stock of BLACK SILKS—Cashmere finish—offered at less than cost of importation.

Black Dress Goods,

all silk warp Alpaca, pure Mohair and best Black Cashmere—Drap de Ete—Tamise Cloths, and the choicest qualities of Mourning Dress Goods, and all elegant goods as fully stocked. We can duplicate any bill bought in New York during the month of September, at from ten to twenty per cent. less than New York Prices.

WE HAVE JUST RECEIVED

10 cases Standard Prints—a bargain.
7 bales T-S SHIRTING, As low as when cotton sold at 8 cents before the war.
15 bales 4 4 SHEETING,
20 bales North Carolina Plaids.
5 bales Nos. 1 and 2 Osnaburgs.
1 case Kentucky Jeans and Cassimeres—the best bargain ever offered.
24 cases Bleachings of all leading brands, at 20 per cent. less than September prices.

Best and Largest Stock to Select From! TO BE FOUND IN THE STATE.

We are doing a Square Business on a Hush Principle, and guarantee Fair Dealing.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.
nov 17-tf

THE JAS. LEFFEL Double Turbine Water Wheel,
Manufactured by
POOLE & HUNT,
Baltimore, Md.
7,000 NOW IN USE!
Simple, Strong, Durable, always reliable and gives better results.
Mill & mining plan, of Furnace & Stationary Engines, Steam Boilers, Saw & Grist Mills, Mining Machinery, Iron Fronts for Brick Buildings, Pulleys, Gearing, Shafting, Hangers, Boxes, &c. Send for Catalogue.
Oil Well Machinery, Rotary Pumps, Portable Engines, Boilers, Derricks, &c. Pumping Machinery a specialty. Machine tools for sale. Send for catalogue of very best finish. Send for circular.
mch 24-12m.

MAGIC LANTERNS.
The ARTOPTICON is the most powerful Coal Oil Lantern, especially adapted for Sunday-schools. Slides reduced. Catalogue sent on receipt of stamp.
WM. Y. McALLISTER,
728 CHESTNUT ST., PHILADELPHIA.
Nov 17 4-w.

BLYMYER M'F'G CO BELLS
CHURCH SCHOOL FIRE-ALARM
Cincinnati, Ironclad, Chime, Tower Bells, Fully warranted. Catalogues giving full particulars, prices, etc., sent free
BLYMYER MANUFACTURING CO.,
164 to 170 West Eighth St., Cincinnati, O.
June 23-1y. e o w.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE LIFE AND LABORS OF LIVINGSTONE.

INCLUDING HIS LAST JOURNALS.

THE ONLY COMPLETE HISTORY of his thirty years travels in Africa. Vividly portraying his many thrilling adventures and the wonders and wealth of that marvellous country.

805 pages—100 rare Illustrations.

12 000 copies sold in first seven weeks.

For terms to all participants, address,
NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO.
7 & 9 Marietta St., Atlanta, Ga.

B. L. BINGHAM & CO.,
Wholesale & Retail Grocers
AND GENERAL
Commission Merchants,
News Building, Nos. 6 & 7, Martin Street.
RALEIGH, N. C.

We have in store and to arrive the largest and best selected stock of Groceries in the city, the prices of which we guarantee as low as the lowest.

300 sacks Family and Extra flour.
75 kegs Old Dominion Nails.
100 sacks Marshall's Factory filled Salt (240 lbs.)
20 Kegs best Rock.
35 cases Concentrated Lye.
20 barrels Sugar, all grades.
30 barrels New Crop Cuba Molasses.
20 sacks Coffee.
4 boxes Cakes and Crackers,
30 Cases Soap.
20 cases Brandy Peaches.
30 boxes Candy.
300 bundles Cotton Yarns.
40 boxes best Cream Cheese

Also a large supply of
BAGGING,
TIES,
BOOTS, SHOES,
BULK MEAT,
LARD,
RICE,
HAMS,
&c., &c., &c.

We take this opportunity of thanking our old friends and customers for the very liberal patronage they have bestowed upon us, and from having perfected our arrangements, think we will be able to continue to sell them goods that will be satisfactory both as to quality and prices. We have now with us obliging and willing assistants, who are ever ready to serve any one with promptness and fidelity.

Prompt attention given to all orders and goods promptly shipped.

Very Respectfully,
B. L. BINGHAM & CO.
Nov 3-tf.

A. G. Lee. Ed. H. Lee. Cle R. Lee.

A STRICTLY COMMISSION HOUSE.

A. G. LEE & SONS.

RALEIGH, N. C.

Cotton is our Specialty.

We can always obtain the highest market price, and ask our friends who find it inconvenient to accompany their lots to the market to try us. We can ship New York in the next proceeds of your cotton.

When you bring your cotton to market yourself give us a chance at it. We have orders to fill and can pay the very highest market price for it. Be sure to call and see us before you sell.

We are the Agents for

The SCHOFIELD COTTON PRESS, the best invented.

A. G. LEE & SONS.
P. O. Box 222, Raleigh, N. C.
sep 1-tf

COTTON TIES.

Something New, But Old!

We have now the agency for the sale of the "Providence Picced Cotton Tie," in towns along the R. & Air-Line Railroad to Fayetteville along the R. & D. Railroad to Goldsboro; thence to Weldon and Beaufort and along the R. & G. Railroad to Weldon, and are now offering this Tie at 1 1-2 cents per pound in car load lots, delivering in any depot in our section.

This Tie is neatly done over, put up into bundles same size and weight as the Arrow Tie and use the Arrow buckle. Each broken one is neatly mended with two rivets, which makes it dealty strong.

Most parties who used them last season say they much prefer them to new ones considering the difference in cost.

All orders for shipments within the next two weeks can get daily days, they paying freight on arrival and deducting same from bill when due.

Orders from merchants and large dealers respectfully solicited.

A. G. LEE & SONS, Agts.,
Raleigh, N. C.
oct 13 tf.

GIVES PERFECT SATISFACTION
For Sabbath Schools.
The Shining River.
For High and Grammar Schools.
THE HIGH SCHOOL CHOIR.

The former is by H. S. & W. O. Perkins, and sells for 35 cents per copy in boards, and $30 per 100. Issued only a few weeks since, but the publishers are flattered with commendatory letters, and its praises are sounded everywhere. It will prove a veritable River of beauty and melody in hundreds of Sabbath and Sabbath schools.

The latter is just out, and is a book which to Teacher can fail to admire and introduce. It will be a decided element in the musical advance of the time,—sells for $1.00, or $9.00 per dozen.

NOW READY.

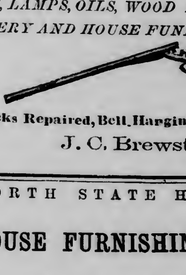
A new collection of most beautiful Hymns and Tunes for Praise Meetings, Prayer Meetings, Camp Meetings &c., &c., entitled LIVING WATERS.

Price
30 cents	For Praise Meetings. LIVING WATERS For Pray-r Meetings.	BY E. F. HODGES.

Now give new life to the singing in your congregation by introducing a few hundred copies on this delightful work.

Specimen copies of Living Waters, Shining River or High School Choir sent, post paid, for Retail Price.
OLIVER DITSON & CO., C. H. DITSON & CO.,
Boston. 711 B'dway, New York
nov 8-4t

ELGIN WATCHES



RALEIGH, N. C., January 6th, 1875.
MR. ED. FASNACH, RALEIGH, N. C.: Dear Sir: I have used the PANTASCOPIC SPECTACLES a faithful trial, and am much pleased with them. They do not fatigue my eyes, and with No. 16 Glasses, I can read the smallest type with unusual perspicuity, and most cheerfully recommend them.
Very Re pectfully,
Your Ob't Se'v't,
P. F. PASCOE.

It gives me pleasure to state that I have used for a short time, the new PANTASCOPIC STAR SPECTACLES sold by Mr Edward Fasnach, of Raleigh. The first of the glasses is exceedingly grateful

Children's Column.

Little Romp.

I'm tired to death and keep quite still;
And being good is hard;
I guess my mamma's company
Forgot to go away.
I've wished and wished they'd think of it,
And that they would get through;
But they must talk forever first;
They almost always do.

I heard Tom calling to me once,
He's launched his boat, I know;
I want to go out and help—
But mamma's eyes said no.
The ladies talk such stuff to me,
It makes me sick to hear—
"How beautiful your hair curls is!" or
"How red your cheeks are, dear!"

I'd ten times rather run a race,
Than play my tunes and things;
I wouldn't swap my dogs and sails
For forty diamond rings
I've got no room in company says,
I 'spect she knows the best;
I don't need much to climb a tree,
Or hunt a squirrel's nest.

"Girls are like berries," papa says,
"Sweeter for running wild;"
But Aunt Matilda shakes her head,
And calls me a "horrid child!"
I'll always be a romp, she knows—
But surely my name is Susie.
I'll look em all some dreadful day.
By growing up a lady.

—Holiday Magazine.

Jabin was the king that had nine hundred chariots of iron. Miss Maggie Woods. (She also joins the band of Bible readers.)

Thos. W. Mansfield writes to W. A. Betts that he will join in the army of Bible readers.

Maggie Woods asks who caught up Elijah's mantle when he ascended to heaven.

Fletcher B. Jones asks where is the following verse found: For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ; that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad."

Also the following promise: "And the God of peace shall bruise Satan under your feet." Also, "Blessed is the man that keepeth the Sabbath from polluting it, and keepeth his hand from doing any evil." Also, who said 'For I suppose I was not a whit behind the very chiefest apostles."

Abdon judge over Israel had 40 sons and 30 nephews. T. C. W. Boshamer.

The word one is found six times in Phillip 4th chap.. 8th verse; in the same chapter the letter E is found 35 times; T. C. W. Boshamer.

"We will be blameless of thine oath which thou hast made us swear" is found in Joshua, 2nd chap. 17th ver. it was addressed to Rahab. T. C. W. Boshamer.

"And he will be a wild man, his hand will be against every man, and every man's hand against him, and his name was called Ishmael; found in Gens. 16th chap. 12th ver. T. C. W. Boshamer.

The Power of Truth.

In a history of Persia is related this beautiful and impressive story:

Abdul Kader, of Gilham, had, when a child, a vision which impressed him with the feeling that he must devote himself to God. So he went to his mother in the morning and told her about it. 'She wept,' he says, 'when I informed her what I had seen. Then, taking out eighty dinars, she told me, that as I had a brother, half of that was all my inheritance. She made me promise, as she gave it to me, never to tell a lie, and then bade me farewell, exclaiming, 'Go, my son; I trust thee to God; we shall not meet again till the day of judgment.'

'I went on well," he adds, 'till I came near to Hamadan, when one kafillan was plundered by sixty horsemen. One fellow asked me what I had got.'

'Forty dinars,' said I, 'are sewn under my garments.'

The fellow laughed, thinking, no doubt, I was joking.

'What have you got?' said another. I gave him the same answer.

When they were dividing the spoil, I was called to the mound where the chief stood. 'What property have you got, my little fellow?' said he.

'I have told two of your men already,' I replied; 'I have forty dinars sewed up in my clothes.'

He ordered them to be ripped open, and found my money.

'And how came you,' said he, with surprise, 'to declare so openly what has been so carefully hidden?'

'Because,' I replied, 'I will not be false to my mother, to whom I have promised I will never tell a lie.'

'Child,' said the robber, 'hast thou such a sense of duty to thy mother at thy years, and am I insensible at my age of the duty I owe to my God? Give me thy hand, innocent boy,' the robber continued, 'that I may swear repentance upon it.'

He did so, his followers all alike struck with the scene.

'You have been our leader in guilt,' said they to their chief, 'be now our leader in the path of virtue;' and they instantly, at his order, made restitution of their spoils, and vowed repentance on my hand.

Rural and Domestic.

Keeping Fruit and Vegetables.

Fruit will generally be scarce, and should be saved in good order. Pick carefully, if the apples are not already put away, and store in a dry, cool place, where the temperature will remain as even as possible. None should be converted into cider which will do for drying purposes, or have good keeping qualities. If not very good, the fruit will be wanted at a fair price before the arrival of another season. Such varieties as the Limber Twig, Pennock, etc., or those that are inclined to wilt, speck or toughen in the cellar, are improved by being placed in the ground It is no disadvantage to have them freeze if they can be kept so until the opening of spring, and be allowed to thaw out in the ground.

Vegetables which must not freeze, if buried in the ground, had better be placed below the surface where there is no danger of water, or a roof arched up so as to leave a space between the covering and the vegetables. In other words, an insulated roof leaves a vacuum which is a non conductor of frosts, and requires a much less thickness of covering to prevent freezing.

The American Artisan has an account of a new process, the invention of Mr. L. E. Kirchofer, for preserving milk. The object of this invention is to subject milk to such a treatment that, without altering its elements of taste, and without the addition of any foreign substance, it may be preserved in its natural state for several months without change, except the rising of cream, whether it be kept in a state of rest, or subject to constant movement, as in sea voyages. It this object be accomplished, the invention is a most important one, as condensed milk is not in favor with most people when used directly as an article of food, although it is excellent when used in cookery, or for tea and coffee. In Mr. Kirchofer's process the milk, fresh drawn from the cow, is placed in cans or bottles, which are filled as nearly full as possible, and immediately corked tightly, or hermetically sealed.

The cans or bottles are then placed in a bath of water, heated to the same temperature as the milk, in such a manner as to allow a free circulation of water beneath and around, but not over them. The temperature of the water bath is then slowly raised to between 150 and 170 Fahrenheit. The water is kept at this temperature for a greater or less length of time, according to the period during which it is desired to preserve the milk. One hour will, it is claimed, preserve the milk four or five weeks. Five hours' heating is enough for eight months or a year.

The fire is then will drawn, and the bath allowed to cool down slowly, after which the cans are withdrawn and the operation is completed An essential condition of success in this process is that the vessels designed to contain the milk should be perfectly clean and sweet, and the milk itself pure and unadulterated. In proportion as greater purity be raised above the point indicated, the milk acquires a cooked taste.—New York Observer.

Hot alum water is a recent suggestion as an insecticide It will destroy red and black ants, cockroaches, spiders, chintz bugs, and all the crawling pests which infest our houses. Take two pounds of alum and dissolve it in three or four quarts of boiling water; let it stand on the fire till the alum disappears; then apply it with a brush, while nearly boiling hot, to every joint and crevice in your closets, bedsteads, pantry shelves, and the like. Brush the crevices in the floor of the skirting or mop boards, if you suspect that they harbor vermin. If, in whitewashing a ceiling, plenty of alum is added to the lime, it will also serve to keep insects at a distance. Cockroaches will flee the paint which has been washed in cool alum water. Sugar barrels and boxes can be freed from ants drawing a chalk line just around the edge of them. The mark must be unbroken, or they will creep over it; but a continuous chalk mark half an inch in width will cut their depredations at at naught. Powdered alum or borax will keep the chintz bugs at a respectful distance; and travelers should always carry a package in their hand bags, to scatter over and under their pillows in places where they have reason to suspect the presence of such bad fellows.—The Journal of Chemistry.

Bone as a Manure.—The bones of all animal creation are composed of three substances, phosphoric acid, lime and gelatine or glue, three of the best fertilizing substances to produce good seed. But where do the bones of animals come from? Certainly from the soil, through the grass, hay, grain, etc., consumed as food. Therefore every horse, bullock, cow, sheep and hog sent off the farm without returning a like quantity of bone to the earth causes our land to yield less and less every year, till the land becomes what is termed worn out. Besides, every load of hay and every bushel of grain sold off the farm carries away the same material, as it is the hay and grain that make the bones of our cattle, horses, etc.

Five per cent. of all plants are composed of ten mineral substances, of which bone forms a large part, and which comes directly from the earth, while the fat of animals is composed of carbon, oxygen and hydrogen, three of the gases that plants take exclusively from the air, in the forms of carbonic acid and water, and which constitute about ninety four per cent. of all plants.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

AN OUTFIT FREE.

We want some one in every county to take order and deliver goods for the oldest and largest house in our line of business. Large cash wages. Splendid chance to every industrious man in his own neighborhood for the right person. Either sex, young or old. Samples, new plan, circulars, terms, etc., a complete outfit sent free and post paid. Send for it at once and secure a big paying business. Address H. G. HALL & CO., 6 N. Howard St. (of Bel timore.) Oct. 27-1y.

A Valuable Medical Treatise.

Hostetter's United States Almanac for 1876 for distribution, gratis, throughout the United States and all civilized countries of the West ern Hemisphere, will be published about the first of January, in the English, German, French, Norwegian, Welsh, Swedish, Hollard, Bohemian and Spanish languages, and all who wish to understand the true philosophy of health should read and ponder the valuable suggestions it contains. In addition to an admirable medical treatise on the causes, prevention and cure of disease in all its forms, it embraces a large amount of information interesting to the merchant, the mechanic, the miner, the farmer, the planter, and the professional man; and the calculations have been made for such meridians and latitudes as are most suitable for accurate and comprehensive National almanac.

The history, uses, and extraordinary sanitary effects of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the stable and alterative of blood purifiers in the whole world, are fully treated upon in its pages, which are also interspersed with pictorial illustrations, valuable recipes for the household, and farm, humorous anecdotes, and other entertaining and amusing reading matter, original and selected. Among the Annuals to appear with the opening of the year, this will be one of the most attractive and amusing reading matter, original and selected. Among the Annuals to appear with the opening of the year, this will be one of the most useful, and may be had for the asking. The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa., have also issued a German edition, with forward page for local matter, which they will furnish gratis to any responsible druggist who will procure one in his locality. Druggists will find it to their interest to procure the Almanac, as the demand for it is unprecedented in every city, town and village, and are extensively used throughout the entire civilized world.

Dec 1-4m

From the Missouri Republican (St. Louis).

A Remarkable Professional Success

Among the orders for the enlargement of this country and city, as well as the introduction of new specialties, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has progressed through strictly legitimate practice to the front rank, and he deserves the success which has crowned his efforts. The large sales of his remedies are the result of a thorough and complete knowledge of the calling and extensive practice of the proprietor, and not unusually large advertising, as some would suppose. In addition to his Golden Medical Discovery, Dr. Pierce has published his Common Sense Medical Adviser, which has had a large general circulation. Dr. Pierce has received acknowledgments and honorary diplomas, and especially scientific degrees from some of the first medical institutions in the land.

COME YE DISCONSOLATE!

Having a stock of FIRST-CLASS GOODS, the very Latest Home Fashion, and put up in a style that will suit the most fastidious taste, call to

WINKEL'S ESTABLISHMENT,

on Fayetteville street, one door South of the Southern Express Office.

IT IS A CONCEDED FACT that we keep up stock at and most satisfactory bulk notwithstanding the rulings of bulling, from a Wedding Cake to a Penny Whistle, can be turned out in the most satisfactory manner by us. The ladies and the children are specially invited to call and see the "small" pa' on a large scale.

Winkel likes the opposition—return his thanks for the liberal and kind patronage heretofore received, and respectfully solicits the continuance of the same. His stock of

CLOTHS,

CASSIMERES,

VESTINGS,

SUITINGS, &c.

is more than ever before, and complises all the Latest Novelties. His shelving been recently purchased at the panic prices.

FASHION HEADQUARTERS.

And for Pickles we are Pickel Men. Orders by mail or express promptly attended to. The surrounding country is invited to call and see us. Mechanics of all kinds can find employment by calling on Winkel.

REMOVAL!

OFFICE OF

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,

RALEIGH, N. C.

We have removed to our present and commodious NEW STORE in the

BRIGGS BUILDING

where we will be pleased to see our many friends and the public generally.

OUR NEW STORE ROOM,

FIFTY-TWO feet wide and TWO HUNDRED long, together with a large and convenient Cellar and Warehouse adjoining, affords us unequalled facilities for conducting our business.

Customers and visitors will find our salesmen and our whole force polite, careful, accommodating and attentive. We extend a cordial invitation to every body to come and see us.

Respectfully,

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,

oct 13-tf. Briggs Building.

BRANSON'S NORTH CAROLINA ALMANAC FOR 1876.

Only 15 pp per 1.00—the cheapest and best Almanac published in the State.

L. BRANSON,
Raleigh, N. C.

ORDER ANY BOOKS YOU WANT

If not on hand, I will procure and send them to you at short notice.

L. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.

SCHOOL BOOKS! SCHOOL BOOKS!!

SCHOOL BOOKS!!!

I am prepared to supply the school at the lowest cash rates. Those are good reasons why you ought to trade with me.

L. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.

nov. 3-tf.

SADDLES!

From $3 50 to $40.00

BUGGY HARNESS!

From $9.00 to $100

ON HAND AND FOR SALE BY

W. B. HUTCHINGS,

Wholesale and Retail Dealer in Stock of Carriage and Buggy Harness, Whips, Bridles, Saddle Cloths, Horse Blankets, Collars, Horse Boots, Saddle Trees, Leather, Findings and Trimmings. Manufactory and Repository on Fayetteville st., opposite Tucker Hall, Raleigh, N. C.

GIVE ME A CALL!

W. B. HUTCHINGS,

Fayetteville st., opposite Tucker Hall, Raleigh, N. C.

oct 13-2m

W. Burns & Haywood,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Oils, Dye Stuffs, Perfumery,

Fancy Articles, Garden Seeds, Fine Teas, Spices, Flavoring Extracts

CIGARS, CHEWING TOBACCO &C.

Keep constantly on hand, at lowest cash prices, A full stock of Pure Drugs and Medicines, Paints, Oils, Dye Stuffs, Perfumery, Fancy Goods, Window Glass, Varnish, &c., &c.

AGENTS, the greatest chance of the age. Address with stamp, National Copying Co., Atlanta, Ga. nov. 24-1m.

CHANGE IN BUSINESS.

The Old and Well Known House of

J. M. ROSENBAUM

Having concluded to confine itself to certain specialties, announces that in its main business it is exclusively

A CLOTHING STORE

of the highest grade, where every article of Gentlemen's and Boy's wear of all kinds and grades is offered

ON THE MOST FAVORABLE TERMS FOR CASH.

Buyers need go no farther to be suited. Every class of customers can be supplied.

Attached to the establishment is a Departure it for the sale of

CHINA, CROCKERY AND GLASSWARE,

Everything in that line can be found of the first quality and at reasonable prices.

The long established character of this House is a sufficient guarantee of its ability and determination to do what it promises. Don't fail to call on

J. M. ROSENBAUM,
Corner Fayetteville and Hargett Sts.

Oct. 13-tf.

NEW FIRM

The undersigned have this day formed a co-partnership under the firm name of

Wainright Williams & Hood,

and having purchased the stock and good will of J. H. WHITAKER, they will continue the GROCERY and COMMISSION business at

FARMER'S EXCHANGE,

No. 4 Martin Street,

RALEIGH, N. C.

Our Stock will consist of

Bacon,
Flour,
Molasses,
Coffee,
Sugar,
Lard
Salt,
Bagging,
and Ties,

And all other goods in the Grocery line with Staple Dry Goods, Shoes, etc. Having superior facilities for buying, and a small expense account, we guarantee the lowest prices. Consignments of Cotton and produce generally, solicited, to the sale of which our best efforts will be devoted.

Patronage of our friends respectfully solicited

GEO. H. WAINRIGHT,
(late with Williamson, Upchurch & Thomas, Graniteville, S. C.)
MILO WILLIAMS,
Wm. H. HOOD,
Raleigh, Sept. 1, 1875.

Having sold my stock of Groceries to Messrs. Wainright, Williams & Hood, I take pleasure in recommending them to my friends and late customers, as entirely worthy of confidence and patronage. For the present, I may be found at the old stand and hope all those indebted to the late firm of Thompson & Whitaker and to myself, will call and settle as soon as possible.

J. H. WHITAKER
Raleigh, Sept 8-tf

TYSON & JONES

Carriage Builders,

CARTHAGE, N. C.

Having recently increased our Facilities for Manufacturing, we are prepared to furnish Vehicles of the BEST QUALITY on short notice, and at comparatively low prices. Vehicles shipped at Sanford, Raleigh and Chatham R. R. via Raleigh to any part of the State

We feel confident that, with the close attention we give the business, together with the materials used, the skilled workmen employed, and the many conveniences we have for manufacturing, FIRST CLASS WORK, no house in the country can excel us in

STYLE, FINISH, DURABILITY AND

Low Prices.

We manufacture and keep constantly on hand mirrors of the Best Quality.

Repairing neatly Done at Short Notice

Send for Circular.

July 21 1-ey

The Best Household Oil in the World!

C. WEST & SONS' ALADDIN SECURITY OIL.

Warranted 150 Degrees Fire Test

Endorsed by the Fire Insurance Companies.

Read the following certificate, selected from many others:

HOWARD FIRE INS. CO. OF BALTIMORE, December 23, '74

Messrs C. West & Sons: Gentlemen—Having used the various oils sold in this city for illuminating purposes, I take pleasure in recommending your "Aladdin security" as the safest and best ever used in our household. Yours, truly,
(Signed) ANDREW REESE, Pres't.

IT WILL NOT EXPLODE.

Ask your Storekeeper for it

Wholesale Depot: C. WEST & SONS,
118, 115 W Lombard street, Baltimore.

Sep. 1-6m.

JOHN W. HINSDALE,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

Room 1, 2 First Floor, Law Building, Fayetteville street.

RALEIGH, N. C.

Attends all the Courts in Raleigh and Fayetteville. Claims collected in all parts of North Carolina. Refers to Hon. R. M. Pearson, Chief Justice of N. C.; Hon. M. W. Ransom, U. S. Senator; Hon. Thomas Settle, Jr., Judge N. C.; Messrs. Battle, Williams & Haywood, Raleigh, N. C.; Fayetteville National Bank Merchants' Bank of Fayetteville; J. D. Williams & Son, Fayetteville; J. Lilly & Co., Fayetteville, N. C.; Hon. Geo. V. Strong, Wilmington, N. C.; Merrion, Bank of New Hanover, Wilmington, N. C.; Messrs. Biles & Co., Phelps, Dodge and Co., H. & Thurber & Co., New York; D. Landreth & Co., Philadelphia; G. W. Gail & Ax, Balt. more.

He has for many years done business with Messrs. MacRae & Broadfoot of Fayetteville N. C., relative only to his future business at that point. All communications addressed to Joseph W. Hinsdale care of MacRae & Broadfoot at Fayetteville, will receive prompt attention.

Oct. 20tf

THE FIRM OF WYNNE, FANCEY & CO., is this day dissolved by mutual consent.

GEO. W. WYNNE,
T. H. FANCEY,
J. W. LEE

RALEIGH, June 15th, 1875

HAVING PURCHASED THE interest and assume the liabilities of the late firm of WYNNE, FANCEY & CO., I would request all those indebted to make immediate payment.

Thankful for the patronage so liberally bestowed upon the late firm I trust by personal attention to merit the same

GEO. W. WYNNE

June 24-tf

BALTIMORE EYE AND EAR INSTITUTE

NO. 25 FRANKLIN ST., BALTIMORE, MD.

JULIAN J. CHISOLM, M. D., Oculist and Aurist and Ear Diseases in the University of Maryland,

SURGEON IN CHARGE.

This Institution is thoroughly organized and fitted up with every requisition for the treatment of Eye and Ear Diseases.

For further information apply to the above.

sept 19-3m.

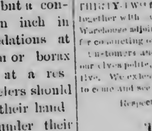
THE CARY COTTON GIN.

Is still being manufactured at Cary, N. C., improved in some respect and warranted to give satisfaction or no sale if properly put to work. Those desiring further information send for Circular, &c. to

W. M. SORRELL,
Cary, N.C.

June 15tf.

BRINLY PLOWS



Have taken over 250 Premiums at Fairs throughout the South. Send for Illustrated Catalogue with Price List, and certificates of planters whose them in use. MANUFACTURED AT SOLE MANUFACTORY

BRINLY, MILES & HARDY,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

Sept 8-6m.

$5 TO $20 per day! Agents wanted! All classes of worklng people, of either sex, young or old, making more money at work for us in their spare moments or all the time, than at anything else. Particulars free. Address G Stinson & Co., Portland, Maine.

OLD NORTH STATE

FIRE

Insurance Company,

OF

WARRENTON, - - - - - N. C.,

This Company has closed its third year in a condition of GREAT PROSPERITY, and entered upon its fourth year under the MOST PROMISING AUSPICES.

It deserves the liberal patronage which it is receiving because

It is a home institution.
It has ample Capital and Reserves
It pays its losses promptly.

ASSETS.

Cash on hand and in Bank	$ 8 621 53
Cash in hands of Agents	4384 00
Stock Notes	45 575 66
Real Estate Mortgages	20 000 00
Loaned on Collaterals	7647 64
Due for premiums	3 721 63
Interest due and accrued	944 93
	$130,297 19

LIABILITIES:

All outstanding claims fully re-
insured & reserved	$ 8 187 81
Surplus	14,486 38
	$130,297 19

WM. S. HAYS, President.
B. F. LONG, Secretary.

SCHEDULES.

PIEDMONT AIR-LINE RAILWAY.

RICHMOND & DANVILLE RICHMOND & DANVILLE R. W., N. C. DIVISION, AND NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. W.

CONDENSED TIME-TABLE.

In effect on and after Sunday, Sept. 19th, 1875.

GOING NORTH

STATIONS	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Charlotte	9 55 P. M.	5 45 A. M.
" Air-Line Junc'n	9 28 "	6 20 "
" Salisbury	8 18 "	7 34 "
" Greensboro'	6 15 A. M.	10 55 "
" Danville	6 48 "	1 12 P. M.
" Burkville	11 35 "	4 15 "
Arrive at Richmond	2 22 P. M.	9 45 "

GOING SOUTH

STATIONS	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Richmond	1 38 P. M.	8 05 A. M.
" Burkville	4 32 "	8 30 "
" Danville	9 01 "	1 14 P. M.
" Greensboro'	9 39 "	1 57 P. M.
" Salisbury	3 00 A. M.	8 55 "
" Air-Line Junc'n	5 32 "	4 35 "
Arrive at Charlotte	5 55 "	5 20 "

GOING EAST. GOING WEST

STATIONS.	Mail.	Mail.
Leave Greensboro'	3 50 A. M.	Arrive 1 45 A. M.
" Stokes	7 41 "	" Leave 12 34 "
" Raleigh	11 30 A. M.	" Leave 9 00 P. M.
Arrive at Goldsboro'	2 15 "

NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. R.

(SALEM BRANCH.)

Leave Greensboro'	4 30 P. M.
Arrive at Salem	8 15 "
Leave Salem	8 30 A. M.
Arrive at Greensboro'	12 05 "

Passenger train connecting Raleigh & Gaston P. M. connects at Greensboro' with the Air-Line bound train, making no quicker time to Richmond. Price of tickets same as by Air-Line. Through passengers for Richmond can leave Salem at 8 30 A. M. and reach Richmond at 5 30 P. M. Connects at Greensboro' with Mail Train for Charlotte, North or South.

Two trains only, both ways.

On Sundays by leaving Accommodation leave Richmond at 9 00 A. M. arrive at Burkeville 12 45 P. M.; leave Burkeville 4 30 A. M., arrive at Richmond 8 30 A. M.

No Change of Cars between Charlotte and Richmond, 282 Miles.

Papers that have arrangements to advertise the schedule of this company will please print as above.

For further information apply to

S. E. ALLEN,
Gen'l Ticket Agent,
Greensboro, N. C.

T. M. R. TALCOTT,
Engineer & Gen'l Superintendent.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE.

RALEIGH & GASTON RAILROAD CO.

On and after Friday, May 22nd, 1874, trains on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, will run daily (sunday excepted) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Leave Weldon	9.45 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon	3.20 P. M.
Leaves Weldon	9.50 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh	3.45 P. M.

ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh	5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon	12.00 M.
Leaves Weldon	2.2 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh	9.25 P. M.

Mail train makes close connection at Weldon, with the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad and Bay Line Steamer for Baltimore, and from all points North, West and Northwest, and with Petersburg Railroad via Petersburg, Richmond and Washington City. Is and from all points North and Northwest.

Mail train leaves the North Carolina Railroad depot at Raleigh with the North Carolina Railroad for and from all points South and Southwest, and with the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line to Haywood and Fayetteville.

A. B. ANDREWS,
Gen. Supt.

RALEIGH & AUGUSTA AIR-LINE RAILROAD.

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 27th, 1875.

On and after Sunday, October 31th, 1875, trains on the R. & A. A. L. Road will run daily, (sundays excepted,) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Train leaves Raleigh	4.00 P. M.
Arrives at Sanford	6.25 "
Train leaves Sanford	6.30 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh	9.20 "

FREIGHT TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh	5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Sanford	10.35 A. M.
Leaves Sanford	12.01 A. M
Arrives at Raleigh	3.50 P. M.

Mail Train makes close connection at Raleigh with the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, to and from all points North.

And at Sanford with the Western Railroad, to and from Fayetteville and points in the South and West.

A. B. ANDREWS,
Superintendent.

OFFICE SUPT. OF TRANSPORTATION,
Portsmouth, Va., Aug. 1st, 1875.

On and after this date trains of this Road will leave Weldon daily, Sundays excepted, as follows:

Mail train at	4 P. M.
No. 1 Freight train at	4 A. M.
No. 2 Freight train at	8 A. M.

ARRIVE AT PORTSMOUTH.

Mail train at	7 15 P. M.
No 1 Freight at	12 00 NOON.
No 2 Freight at	4 00 P. M.

Freight trains have a passenger car attached

Steamer for Edenton, Plymouth and Land Steamer for Edenton, Plymouth and Land ing on Blackwater and Chowan Rivers leave Franklin at 7.30 A. M. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

E. G. GILLO,
Sup't Transportation.

1875. 1876.

FALL AND WINTER.

ISAAC OETTINGER

Is now in receipt of his ENTIRE STOCK of MILLINERY, Ladies' Fancy Furnishing, Hair and Needlework, to an inspection of which the many customers and friends of this house are respectfully invited. My Stock has been selected with a great deal of care, and consists of Bonnets and Hats for Ladies, Misses, Children and Babies.

Ladies' Sacks, Ladies' Undergarments, Ladies' Cloaks and Sacques, Ruffs, Collars and Cuffs, Kid and other Gloves, Zephyr, Saxony and Germantown Wool, Knitting Cotton, Crochet Needles, Worked Slippers,

Mottoes and Motto Frames, every sort of Patterns for Needle Work, Stamped Yokes, Buttons, Embroidering Silk and Cotton, 1,000 Ladies' Silk Scarfs, 1,000 Belts 21,000 yards Ribbon, Real and Imitation Laces, Hamburg Edging and Insertion.

And a Thousand other Articles.

In our Millinery Department we employ none but FIRST-CLASS NEW YORK MILLINERS, and guarantee satisfaction. All I ask is a trial. My Stock is the largest, best selected and tastiest in this city, and I pay

ISAAC OETTINGER.

Myers's Sciopticon and Lantern Slides. New and brilliant effects. Circular free. SPECIAL OFFER TO SUNDAY-SCHOOLS L. J. MARCY, 1846 Chestnut Street Philadelphia. Oct 27 3-m.

FALL AND WINTER GOODS!!

D. S. WAITT & BRO.,

Are offering a Large and Attractive Stock of

FINE AND CHEAP CLOTHING!

Gents' Furnishing Goods and Neck Wear,

Boots, Shoes, Rubbers, Shawls and Rubber Goods! Hats and Caps! White and Colored Shirts, Drawers and Hosiery Paper Collars, Handkerchiefs and Trimmings. The celebrated

MANHATTAN FINE WHITE SHIRT,

A decided advance on the best and most perfect fitting shirt in the market.

Prints! Prints!

Red, White and Fancy Flannels, Opera Flannels, Blankets, Red and Grey Blankets, Ladies' Trimmed Hats, Ribbons and Feathers, Ladies' Underwear, Jeans, Cassimeres and Satinets, Buckles, Canes, Umbrellas, Travelling Bags, &c.

WHITE AND BROWN BLANKETS,

Ladies Scotch and Irish Linen Handkerchiefs, Knit Sacks, Jackets and Shawls, Pickings, Flannels, Linseys, Kentucky Jeans, Cassimeres, Jeans, Chambray, Bleached and Unbleached Sheetings and Shirtings, Prints, Buckles, Canes, Umbrellas, Travelling Bags, &c.

TO THE FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS, we take pleasure in saying that our stock is now complete in every department, and we are ready and willing to wait on you for your liberal patronage, which we cordially solicit. A continuance of the same, respectfully requested.

Remember the place—No. 54 Fayetteville St., Raleigh, N. C.

D. S. WAITT & BRO.

oct 13-3m.

SUI GENERIS.

MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.

UNEQUALED in degree UNAPPROACHED entirely in capacity and excellence by any others. Awarded

THREE HIGHEST MEDALS AND DIPLOMA OF HONOR, AT VIENNA, 1873; PARIS, 1867.

ONLY American Organs ever awarded any medal in Europe, or which present such extraordinary excellence as to command a wide sale there.

ALWAYS marked highest premiums at Industrial Exhibitions in America as well as Europe. Other makers have not been six in all where any other organs have been preferred.

BEST Declared by Eminent Musicians, in both hemispheres, to be unrivaled. See TESTIMONIAL CIRCULAR, with opinions of more than One Thousand (sent free).

INSIST on having a Mason & Hamlin. Do not take any other. Dealers get LARGER COMMISSIONS for selling inferior organs, and will do so for some time to come, unless you insist on having what you want.

NEW STYLES with most important improvements ever made, now ready. New Style and Combination Stops. Superb Etagere and other Cases of new designs.

PIANO-HARP CABINET ORGAN a delightful combination of these instruments.

EASY PAYMENTS. Organs sold for cash or for easy payments, or hired, with full particulars.

CATALOGUES and Circulars, with full particulars of the above, free. Address MASON & HAMLIN CO., 251 Tremont Street, BOSTON. 25 Union Square, NEW YORK: or 80 & 82 Adams St., Chicago.

apl 14 1 year.

G. T. LEACH, N. Y. M. T. LEACH

Leach Brothers,

WHOLESALE GROCERS

AND

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

SOUTH EAST CORNER MARKET SQUARE, Raleigh, N C

Again we take great pleasure in presenting our card to the readers of the ADVOCATE for their very liberal patronage during the past four years, and for the largest and best bought stock of Groceries ever offered in any market south of Baltimore. Sugars and Lard higher, and other articles will follow, we have made extra efforts and are very successful in bringing other articles down to low figures, and giving our friends all the advantage possible thereby to counter balance any advance in the future as required

We wish to invite special attention to our select stock of Cotton Goods and Boots bought direct from the Factories and Jobbers here AT FIRST PROFITS.

We have now in store

Meal Pea, Rice coffee,
50 Mole coffee, Java,
10 Bbls A Sugar,
15 Bbls Extra Sugar,
10 Bbls, B F Yellow Sugar,
25 Bbls Hominy,
20 Boxes Bulk Sides,
10 " " Shoulders,
50 Kegs English Brown,
Lakeside, B. D and Sole Leather
100 Sides Upper Leather,
50 " Harness Leather,
500 Cases O Mackerel,
20 " Brandy Peaches,
1000 Yds. Bagging,
Cotton Ties,
150 Bbls. Super Flour,
100 Bbls Assorted ditto,
50 Bbls Family ditto,
50 Cases Forrester's Crackers,
5 " Soda Crackers,
50 Boxes Factory and Dairy Cheese,
1000 W. P. and G. D. Cam Caps,
1 Keg Barbed Horse and Mule Shoes,
200 lbs. Horse Shoe Nails,
20 Dozen Best Axes,
25 Boxes Adamantine Candles,
10 " Boxes Laundry and Toilet Soaps,

We offer special discounts to country and near-by merchants, and invite an examination of our stock and prices before purchasing elsewhere.

LEACH BROS

Oct 7-12 m

PLEIS' FIT POWDERS.

These Powders have been tested by over 40,000 persons for the cure of Fits (Epilepsy), Spasms, Convulsions, Sick Head Ache, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Affections, some over 40 years' standing

When you ORDER STRAIGHT,

Three Powders sent to any part of the U. S. on receipt of One Dollar per Box.—Three Powders sent to any part of the U. S. on receipt of One Dollar per Box.—Address the proprietor, to whom all orders must be addressed.

JOHN M. PLEIS, Jr.,

230 North Fifth street, Philadelphia, Pa.

See Please mention that you saw this advertisement in our Christian Advocate.

mar 31-1y

SWAIM'S CELEBRATED PANACEA

Has acquired a very extended reputation which its efficacy alone has sustained for more than FIFTY YEARS, as a remedy for Scrofula, Ulcerated Sore Throat, Long-standing Rheumatic Affections, Diseases Arising from Indiscretion or Exposure in Mercury, Chronic Sore Weakness, and all cases where the Lungs are affected or the health broken down by the injudicious use of Mercury, Arsenic, or Quinine. It is a most useful Spring and Fall Purifier of the Blood.

The laboratory is under the direction of Dr. FRANK SWAIM, who has devoted his attention and skill to its careful preparation during the past twenty-five years, and not a bottle put up but is worth many times its cost to the patient. It is perfectly safe for the most diseased and debilitated, and IN ALL CASES WHERE THE BLOOD IS NOT PURE, IT SHOULD BE USED FREELY. PREPARED ONLY AT SWAIM'S LABORATORY, 1133 So. Seventh St., bel. Chestnut, Philadelphia.

Descriptive pamphlets furnished on application to Laboratory.

Nov 3-3m.

ZELL'S ENCYCLOPEDIA.

New and Revised edition. 1000 articles, 3,000 engravings, and 10 splendid Maps. Terms liberal. Now is the time to secure territory. Agents wanted. Specimen copy of publication sent to Agents on receipt of 50 cents with map sent for 25 cent. Baker, Davis & Co., Philadelphia.

Nov. 10-6t.

PROGRESS THE WATCHWORD

Merit and Success Hand in Hand.

BROOKLYN LIFE

INSURANCE COMPANY,

NO. 141 BROADWAY,

NEW YORK.

Assets- - - -$1,500,000.00!!

CHRISTIAN W. BOUCK, President.
D. P. FACKLER, Actuary.

Wm. M. COLE, Secretary
DANIEL AYRES, M.D., LL.D., Med. Dir. etc

POLICIES VALUABLE IN LIFE, AS WELL AS AT DEATH!

The BROOKLYN LIFE is the only Company in America which guarantees

DEFINITE CASH SURRENDER VALUES,

in case a Policy is forfeited for nonpayment of Premium

THE BROOKLYN LIFE enjoys the highest reputation for JUDGMENT OF INVESTMENT, ECONOMY OF MANAGEMENT, AND CARE IN THE SELECTION OF RISKS.—upon which elements of administration the security of a Life Insurance Corporation depends.

The laws of New York compel Companies in that State to calculate the cash value of their Policies, each and every year, and in a certain legal standard of reserve and accumulation must be held by the Companies to meet all their liabilities.

Insurers in looking around for Companies in which to insure, should carefully see for this important safeguard. IT WILL BE FOUND IN THE BROOKLYN LIFE

Wm. LITTLE, M.D., Medical Examiner

A. W. LAWRENCE,

General Agent for North Carolina,
Office at Raleigh.

may 18-tf

MOSELEY'S CONFECTIONERY

RALEIGH, N. C.

Is the Place to Buy

French and Plain Candies,

Foreign and Domestic Fruits,

RAISINS, NUTS, etc.,

Fine Cigars, Smoking Tobacco, Chewing Tobacco, Fine Cut Chewing Tobacco,

Fancy Good. Childrens Toys,

Carriages for the Little Folks,

CROQUET SET,

BASE BALLS AND BATS,

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Bobbitt & Gray, Publishers. | Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina. | $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Vol. XXI.---No. 48. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, December 8, 1875. | Whole No. 1,086.

Selected Poetry.

Selected for the ADVOCATE.

Nearer Home.

Over the hills the sun is setting,
And the eve is drawing on;
Slowly falls the gentle twilight,
For another day is gone.

Gone for ever, its race is over,
Soon the darker shades will come;
Still we cannot know it even
We are one day nearer home.

Every day nearer stands the sail or,
Ready guides the waiting oar;
Angels high in safety drawing
Us to distant native shore.

Then the christian on life's ocean,
As his light boat cuts the foam,
In his evening calm will rejoice
That one day nearer home.

Nearer home, yes, one day nearer,
To our Father's home on high,
To the great bands and the trumpets
In the land beyond the sky.

For the heavens grow brighter o'er us,
And the lamps hang in the dome,
And our hearts are pitched still closer,
For we're one day nearer home.

S. W. R.

Lenoir, N. C., the 30, 1875.

Communicated.

For the Advocate.

EVERLASTING PUNISHMENT."---Trebor.

Messrs Editors: Of course I could not argue with an anonymous writer, as I have two reasons for writing my brief letter. 1st. It required too much time to discover the real name of "Trebor." He has read Poe's Gold Bug" to little advantage who cannot solve as small a mystery as "Trebor." I do not mean that the matter is himself small: for I make my brief reply because I know him—all know him to be a friend and a christian gentleman. 2nd. Because the subject of "Everlasting Punishment" of the wicked, is too important to pass over lightly.

Trebor's difficulty, in his own words, is this:

"Every lost sinner in hell went there a sinner; and this was the ground upon which alone he was sent there. If, then, he was sent there a sinner and his state is yet unchanged, he is a sinner still; and, if he is a sinner still, he must continue to sin, for the name is not appropriate to a man is not a sinner unless he sins."

Now, it is true that every lost sinner is in hell "because he is a sinner" but an impenitent, unpardoned, unsaved sinner; and so forever. Where there is no conceivable plan to change him with reason to reach, pardon and change him! "Trebor" well asks, then, he was sent there a sinner, and his state is yet unchanged, he is a sinner still. True in part, but suppose some plan is arranged by the Almighty for his change, after a hundred or a thousand years? Your argument must, Bro. Trebor, have force against the Universalist's plan or figure for saving the lost soul after it is in hell. Besides, you say that the man in hell "must continue to sin or else the same sinner is not appropriate." And sure it is not, only in so far as it describes a state or condition, and not an activity. The criminal sentenced to prison for life, is not always committing the murder, but laboring the law, in prison. And he is always truly said to be a criminal—not as the word describes his action, but in state or condition. So the lost soul in hell may be said to be a sinner, but the word sinner can only have the meaning of state or condition, and not of action; for it is impossible for a lost soul in hell to be actively a sinner, unless there be law in hell to be kept or violated!

Again, "Trebor," after stating that the seat of man's sin is in the will, he says:

"It needs but one special act or volition in opposition to God, upon any moral subject, to constitute him a sinner. The will once assuming a hostile position towards God, makes the man a sinner; and just so long as the will retains that attitude, he sins continually. But the sinner goes to hell with his will opposed to God, and remains there unchanged in his moral character, only to become more confirmed in character and fixed in that attitude, forever. It must therefore follow, that he sins on in hell forever."

Now, here, my friend and otherwise thoughtful brother, simply shifts the same burden of thought into the vehicle of other words. He first says that the sinner is one who sins; and if he is called a sinner in hell, he must therefore be sinning in hell. And then it is easy to put forever to this, without proving it. Then, next, he simply states what a sinner is, or, how he sins, specifically, viz: by opposition of his will to God. And, then, if he goes to hell with his will opposed to God, it is easy to write that "he remains there unchanged in his moral character and fixed in his attitude forever"—without proving it! How often must we remind ourselves that Everlasting punishment is the subject of argument, and not punishment simply. My good brother will see that in all he has written he has assumed the very thing to be proved.—The Universalists claim that the impenitent sinner will be punished hereafter, but not forever. Now it is plain that however often we may assert that the soul in hell is unchanged, or, is even committing sin there if that were possible, none of this could have any force as an argument against some plan in hell for stopping the sinner's course and changing his attitude towards God. The impossibility of such plan is what remains for us to show to men, and warn them against depending upon it. Our articles on Everlasting punishment were written to show that no such plan of saving the soul in hell could possibly exist in harmony with reason and God's character. If Bro. "Trebor" will grapple with that argument and show its fallacy, I will be under obligations to him, for I am by no means infallable.

Very truly,

E. A. YATES

For the Advocate.

Scolding Preachers.

To begin with—I am in favor of preaching, preaching the gospel according to the divine command,—the gospel of Jesus. I am decidedly in favor of preaching; and I believe in the great commission to preach. I furthermore believe in paying the preacher; and I believe it our duty to do this, as much as I believe it a duty to pay our grocer for his sugar and flour and bacon bill.

But there is one thing I do object to: I don't like to pay any man to scold. I am somewhat like our good and venerable Dr. McFerrin—I claim the privilege of scolding myself I don't want the preacher to do it.

Some people who say they have a call to preach the gospel act as though they had a commission likewise (divine or other) to scold ad libitum. Now I am opposed to mixing the two—in the pulpit especially. I may admit the necessity for both I could plant myself on the same platform that the offended traveller did who admitted the necessity for both butter and hair—yet he would like to have the privilege of mixing them to suit his taste. I don't like my preaching and my scolding mixed—let me have them on separate dishes. If the preachers feel impelled to rake their congregation, let them make their announcements to this effect, and I will promise for one to be a patient if not a devout listener on the several occasions.—But when I go up to the worship of God in His holy temple, I pray that my devotion may not be disturbed by the sound of a ministerial lash upon the back of some derelict individual,—some fellow who hasn't come up to the scratch with quarterage,—some one who did not come out last Thursday night to the prayer meeting—or who failed to be in his pew Sunday was a week ago, because, forsooth, they say he had a small pain in his large toe, or hadn't spent a day with family in a long time, or thought the road to the meeting house was rather muddy for Sunday boots, or because perhaps it looked like it might rain, and he didn't want to have his bran new hat sprinkled.—Yes I really object to this—in the pulpit, that is.

I read in the ADVOCATE that a curse of blood rests upon the whole church because the gospel has not been preached to the heathen. Now I believe this; and I believe as fully and as truly that a curse though not of blood rests upon the church because her preachers preach not the gospel to the membership at home. There is "woe" everywhere because "the gospel' is not preached. We hear of the languor and lukewarmness of both church and people. You may tell the preachers it is because they preach not gospel sermons. You will find the pews always full—(with rare exception) when a genuine live preacher is announced—one who has learned how to and does preach the gospel. But let Mr. So and So, who is good on a scold all the while—let him fill the pulpit, and behold how dreamy the congregation.

Good Preaching all over the land makes good congregations and good churches. A bishop once said "Brethren I dont often scold." That same preacher has the largest audiences in all the Southern Methodist Church. First class preachers dont often scold anywhere.—It is only when a man cant preach that he goes into this scolding business. Think of that O, pastors! If you cant give your congregation a gospel sermon on Sunday morning, ask some brother to lead in prayer, and have the benediction and let the people go home to dinner. Don't spoil their devotion by something you cant help till you quit scolding and go to preaching.

It was remarked at our recent Conference in this city that the people crowded the church on a cold dreary night—wending their way through the mud and the rain. The reason is because the people expected preaching—genuine sermons, not a rehash of other men's ideas, with copious extracts from hymn books, and choice bible phrases their sharpness quite gone from the constant dragging of them over men's heads—all these spiced and peppered up with a complaint about individual peccadillo. The story of the Cross and human redemption will never grow old and wearisome if properly told. Men can be irresistibly led by its sweet magnetism, when all the fires of hell, put under their noses, cant smoke them out of their hiding places.

Preachers, preach the gospel—dont scold.—Perhaps I have scolded long enough now. To end with—I am opposed to scolding,—in the pulpit.

SCOLD.

Dr. Munsey at Greensboro.

The New North State of the 26th ult. thus describes Dr. Munsey's sermon:

"The Rev. Dr. Munsey preached the Thanksgiving sermon at the Methodist Church, to a very large audience. His text was taken from the 102nd Psalm, as follows:

25. Of old hast thou laid the foundation of the earth; and the heavens are the work of thy hands.

26. They shall perish, but thou shalt endure, yea, all of them shall wax old like a garment: as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed:

27. But thou art the same, and thy years shall have no end.

28. The children of thy servants shall continue, and their seed shall be established before thee.

We shall make no attempt to report any part of the sermon Dr. Munsey, in our opinion, is a wonderful man, whose power over an audience is manifest, from the beginning to the end of his discourse. No man, without such power, could enchain the attention and preserve the death-like stillness of so large an assemblage. Yet he accomplished this without an effort. His voice is not strong and would ordinarily be considered weak for a public speaker; but it seems unnecessary for him to exert himself, so enwrapped is the attention given him. Some critics have said he is beyond the comprehension of the ordinary hearer. Let this be as it may, he has some sort of a wonderful influence that rivets attention. It may be his voice, but his tones are not musical. It must be therefore a nameless something—a sort of "spirit' communion—that communicates itself from his mind to that of his audience.

Dr. Munsey is a tall man, of intellectual appearance. The frontal developments of his head are extraordinary. As the parenologists would say, he has almost the pure nervous temperament, his mentality being overshadowing. He is quiet and unassuming in his style of speaking, delivering himself, the most of the time, in a conversational tone, seldom affecting the fervor that is popularly supposed to be the invariable accompaniment of oratory. His word painting is marvelous, being displayed with more profusion in his lecture upon Man (for instance) than in his sermon yesterday. His power of statement and analysis is more remarkable than any other attribute of his style; and it is his cogency of reasoning, more than anything else, that gives him influence over his congregation. When he attempts word painting, he attends to it as a business; but his copiousness of diction does not destroy his analytic power, and he can be as brief in his use of words, when so inclined, as the most logical lawyer.

Aim High.

It is aim that makes the man, without an aim man is nothing, as far as the utter Destitution of force, might, and even Individuality among men can reduce him to nonentity. The strong gusts and currents of the world sweep him this way and that without steam, or sails to impel or helm to guide him; if he is not speedily wrecked or run aground, it is more luck than good management. We have never heard a more touching confession of utter weakness and misery than these words from one singularly blessed with the endowments of nature or of providence,—"My Life is Aimless." Take heed young man, of an aimless life, take heed also of a low and sordid aim. A well ascertained and generous purpose gives vigor, distinctness, and perseverance to all man's efforts. A well disciplined intellect, character, influence, tranquility, and cheerfulness within; success and honor without, are its concomittants. Whatever a man's talent may be, without no aim, or a low one, he is weak and despicable; and he cannot be otherwise than respectable and influential with a high one.

Have the courage to acknowledge your ignorance rather than seek knowledge under false pretences.

Dr. Bethune.

Several interesting anecdotes are related of Dr. Bethune, in the form of "Personal Recollections," by Rev. J. Wheaton Smith, D. D., in a communication to the National Baptist, from which we make the following extracts:

The last sermon I heard from his lips was preached from his old pulpit, at the northeast corner of Tenth and Filbert streets, of a Sunday afternoon. He had been at my service, in Spruce street, in the morning, coming into the gallery quietly just as I was beginning to preach, that he might not embarrass me by his presence. He need not have feared, as I should have known he was listening with the kindness and charity so characteristic of his heart. In the afternoon I went to hear him, and met him after the sermon at the steps of the pulpit, with the request that he would preach for me that evening. He readily assented, but declared I did not deserve it, as I had never preached for him. I told him he was mistaken, and reminded him of a time when we had exchanged pulpits in the wilderness of Maine, he preaching for me in the log school-house," and I preaching for him, with a stump for a pulpit, to a company of lumbermen. "Oh, yes," he added, "I remember; and, by the way, did that fellow ever find his jackknife?" "What fellow?" I asked "Why," he said, "that Sunday when I preached for you in the log schoolhouse, just as I pronounced the benediction, a man arose and said 'that he had lost a fust rate jack knife; that if any member of that congregation had found it he wished they would just sing out." The incident may serve to illustrate the freedom of the doctor in preaching to such congregations. I have often wished that some of those log school-house sermons might have been preserved verbatim.

On one occasion he was among the invited speakers at a New England dinner, in New York. It was a weakness of the doctor's not to be overfond of New England. A Knickerbocker rather than a Puritan, he always insisted that "Plymouth Rock was the blarney stone of the Yankees." The speaking of the evening was of the usual kind, dilating with fondness for the native soil, and somewhat extravagant in its statements of the number of those who, although denizens of the native soil, had found their way into all the earth; so that New England drovers might be found on the Andes, and Connecticut clock peddlers on the steppes of Tartary. When the doctor was called out, near the close of the festivities, he began by saying "that the speeches of the gentlemen who had addressed them might be divided into two classes—the first of which dwelt upon the love of New Englanders for their native soil, and the second of which enumerated the multitude of them who had run off and left it. How this was to be reconciled he could not say, unless it might be on the theory of a story he had heard about two Scotchmen, who came to this country some years ago. At breakfast one moning, a few weeks after their arrival, one of them wore a strangely troubled look. The other, noticing it, asked him: 'Andrew, mon, what's the matter wi' ye this morning?' 'I had a fearfu' dream in the night.' 'What did ye dream, mon?' 'I dinna like to tell.' 'Did ye dream ye saw the deil, mon?' 'No, it was far waur than that.' 'Did ye dream your mither was dead?' 'No, it was far waur than that.' 'Well what did ye dream, mon?' 'Why, I dreamed I was hame again." Your readers will easily conjecture that this audacity of humor brought down the house with thunders of applause.

On another occasion, when on our way to our favorite resort, for a little fly-fishing, in eastern Maine, we stopped over night in Boston, where the doctor was to speak at some anniversary meeting. As was not unusual with him, he was a little late in his appearance at the gathering, and the speaker next preceding him on the programme was evidently talking against time on his arrival. Seeing the doctor walk up the aisle, he suddenly brought his remarks to a close by saying "that the distinguished gentleman who would next address them had now arrived, and he could not understand why he (the speaker) had been appointed to precede him, unless it might be on the principle by which the smaller wheel of a carriage is made to precede the larger." there was slight twinkle in the doctor's eye as he unbuttoned and laid off his great brown overcoat, and commenced by saying: "Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen: The closing remark of my friend who has just addressed you reminds me of a Highlander who, on a visit to Glasgow, caught his first glimpse of a four-wheeled carriage. Fixing his eye with amazement on one of the forward wheels, he exclaimed: 'Weel done, little wheel; the big wheel'l nae catch you." A happier opening could hardly have been made, even had there been a month to consider it.

The Fruits of Faith.

When St. James speaks of good works he means the good actions of a Christian life. A man's life is made up of actions. We cannot help it. Every moment of our life we are doing something. Now our actions must be either good or bad. Good actions are steps by which we ourselves grow better. Bad actions are the steps by which we ourselves are growing worse. A man who leans on, or trusts to Christ to help him to do right, is constantly growing more able to do right, and he grows better. A man who does not, is growing less and less able to do right, because he does wrong so often and so constantly that he becomes more and more the slave of his bad habits. The one man by the power of Christ does what St. James calls "good works," and these good works prove that he has faith, because if he did not lean on Christ for strength he would be doing evil instead of good. The other man—that is, the man who does no good actions—may say that he has faith, but he simply cannot have any real faith, because if he had he would never go on doing evil. Or at least, if he has any faith, he does not use it, and what then? Why he is like the man in our Lord's Parable, who wrapped his talent in a napkin, and, when the day of judgment came, it was taken from him, and he was cast into the outer darkness.

I almost think that this having a certain sort of faith, and not using it, is the most dreadful thing of all to think of. And yet I am afraid there are many who are in this case. We all know how deceitful Satan is. We ought all to know how easy we are to be deceived. Satan can quote Scripture when it suits him, and he knows how to quote it deceitfully. It is one of his favorite devices to get people to take one text by itself and apply it to persons it was never meant for, and then to make them shut their eyes and hearts to the words which God really means for them. I have known many an earnest Christian tormented by fears arising out of Bible words which were meant for quite a different sort of character, and have seen plainly enough that Satan was trying to frighten them away from Christ by deceiving them as to the meaning of God's own Word. That is often sad enough, but yet one feels always sure that God would lead such people right at last, and not let the deceits of Satan triumph. But for every one such case I fear there are a thousand persons who are not in earnest, and who do not care the least for growing better, for whom God's Word is full of awful warnings, but whom Satan lulls to sleep by ever sounding in their ears the music of Christ's promises to those who seek Him truly. It is a fearful thing to think of, but is too true; the very promises which are a savor of life to those who hunger after righteousness are made by Satan the savor of death to those who are in this way willingly deceived.

No man can be saved without faith: for why? It is by God's power and help alone that any of us can overcome sin or attain to holiness, and no man can make use of God's help without knowing it and trusting to it. And faith is trust. But it is not the faith which saves. It is the power of God which saves you—God's power used earnestly and trusted faithfully, and when a man does use God's help as he ought, then you see the fruits of it in a holy and a religious life. And when those fruits are borne, then you know that there must be faith in that man's heart, because without faith he could not have the help of God to enable him to do so. "By their fruits ye shall know them," are the words of Christ himself. Let it be our prayer that God will give us the grace of a true and living faith, and also to use faithfully all those means of grace which will enable us to bring forth fruit abundantly to the praise and glory of His Holy Name. Amen.—Literary Churchman.

An English religious paper says: 'Egypt is opening in a most remarkable manner to the Gospel. Calls for missionary labor come from all directions, and the missionaries are greatly overworked. The Coptic converts are exceedingly active and successful. Eight candidates from the theological seminary were recently licensed, and one native pastor has been appointed. A new and more literal version of the Psalms is passing through the press. The schools are doing a great work. They have, in all, 1,170 pupils, of whom 642 are males and 528 female."

Dr. Hawes used to say that his style of preaching was modelled by the criticisms of Dr. Emmons on a single sermon. Dr. Hawes read a paper to his tutor exuberant with rhetoric.—"Joel," said the sage, "I kept school once. When I whipped the boys I always stripped the leaves off of the rod"—drawing an imaginary rod through his fingers.

No Sabbath.

In a prize essay on the Sabbath, written by a journeyman printer in Scotland, which for singular power of language and beauty, has never been surpassed, there occurs the following passage. Read it, then reflect for a while what a dreary and desolate page this life would present, if the Sabbath were blotted from our civilization:

"Yokefellow, think how the abstraction of the Sabbath would hopelessly enslave the working classes with whom we are identified! Think of labor thus going on in one monotonous and eternal cycle, limbs bending, the mind forever on the rack, the fingers forever straining, the brow forever sweating, the feet forever plodding, the brain forever throbbing, the shoulders forever drooping, the loins forever aching, the restless mind forever scheming. Think of the beauty it would efface, the merry heartedness it would extinguish, the giant strength it would tame, of the resources of nature it would crush, of sickness it would breed, of the projects it would wreck, of the groans it would extort, of the lives it would immolate, and of the cheerless graves it would prematurely dig! See them toiling and moiling, sweating and fretting, grinding and hewing, weaving and spinning, sowing and gathering, mowing and reaping, raising and building, digging and planting, striving and struggling, in the garden and in the field, in the granary and in the barn, in the factory and in the mill, in the warehouse and in the shop, on the mountain and in the ditch, on the roadside and in the wood, in the city and in the country, out at sea and on the shore, in the days of brightness and of gloom. What a picture would the world present if we had no Sabbath!"

Tobacco in Relation to Health.

Dr. Richardson, F. R. S., recently delivered a lecture on this subject. After speaking of introduction of tobacco to Europe, and its enormous consumption at the present time, the lecturer said: The nature of the luxury forms a subject of discussion on which the extremest views prevail. On one side tobacco has been held up as the most harmless of luxuries; and on the other side it has been denounced as the originator, not only of mere functional, but of some worst forms of organic diseases. Following out the researches made by himself, he showed the constituents of tobacco smoke and their results upon the human body, and pointed out the effect exerted by different kinds of tobacco. Speaking of the influence of smoking on the mental faculties, he said: When mental labor is being commenced indulgence in a pipe produces in most persons a heavy, dull condition; but if mental labor be continued for a long time, until exhaustion is felt, then the resort to a pipe gives to some habitues a feeling of relief; it soothes, it is said, and gives new impetus to thought. This is the practical experience of almost all smokers; but few men become so habituated to the pipe as to commence well a day of physical or mental work on tobacco. Dr. Richardson carefully discussed the question whether the practice of smoking could be considered, fairly, as a cause of those fatal diseases, consumption, cancer, and apoplexy. The argument, he stated, was conclusive against this extreme view. The same conclusion was arrived at in respect to insanity, epilepsy, St. Vitus' dance, heart disease, and chronic bronchitis. At the same time, immoderate smoking cannot be carried on without danger, sometimes even to life itself.

We are always glad to be noticed by a bishop, and the notice of Bishop Haven is always good for our soul! He writes of the dedication of Fisk University: "It is crowned with as happy and—Dr. Wheeler, of THE METHODIST, will pardon me for saying it—as handsome an audience as ever Methodism saw together in the North or South, even when his comely countenance has gladdened, if not glorified, the assemblage. It was of all colors, of course, for a colored congregation in the South is of all colors, from as blonde a beauty as ever graced a German throne to as brown a one as ever won Solomon's heart. Most of them were of the sort this same good brother would fain eject from our communion so that their less blonde and hardly less brown kindred might be constrained to enter." It is the second time this godly man has blundered into accusing us of proposing to evict colored people. We have not proposed to evict anybody, not even Gilbert Haven. We again lovingly admonish the Bishop that careless writing is a grievous fault in persons set in authority.—N. Y. Methodist.

The Pope has replied to the Spanish note insisting upon the execution of the Concordat, and opposing religious toleration.

Religion and Art

The Rev. Dr. Washburn said at the Evangelical Alliance in Pittsburg:

"Religion and art are not enemies. Ugliness is not spirituality. Baseness is not simplicity. Whatever is best fitted to convey the power of Christian truth or call forth its devotion is the rule of worship. As I have listened to some declaimers about simplicity, I have thought that had the Maker left to them the building of his universe they would have formed the elms to grow in rectangles, put the sky in half mourning, and made the birds harsh voiced for fear of superstition. But seeing he has thought good in his natural temple to deck the heavens with lights, and spend such wealth of color on all, from the sunrise clouds to the petals of the violet, it were an affront to him if we imagine that we praise him better when our temples are left naked and dumb.

"But worship demands a religious sincerity and truth in every part. Any mingling of the secular or sham is a vice. A church overladen with gilding and upholstery; an amphitheatre which suggests the gladiatorial games; pulpits like a political platform, and a hundred such impertinences, debase the religious feeling. There is far more in these offences against art than many dream, for they are marks of that mercenary spirit which eats into the heart of piety; and we should fear quite as much as an ecclesiastical showbe with which piety that turns the house of God into a concert hall or an elegant lounging room."

The Word "Sincere"

A letter signed "Your friend without wax," would certainly arrest attention and awaken inquiry; and yet that is just what is said when one writes "Your sincere friend." Every one at all familiar with Latin, the moment his attention is called to it, sees that the word come from sine, without, and cera wax. Such is unquestionably the derivation. But what is the history of the word? Two explanations are given. It was common among the Romans and others to fill up flaws in furniture with wax. When wooden vessels were offered for sale in the market the women, who sold those which were sound, genuine, not patched up, vamped—not cracked and holed and then filled up with wax to deceive—said, "Come, buy mine, they are sine cera." Of course, they all might make this claim, and the purchaser might be his own judge. Another explanation is that the words are used to describe perfectly pure honey, which is of course, sine cera. The words may have had both of these, and many other applications. Ever since making the discovery of the hidden import of the word sincere, it has meant vastly more to me. That is a truly estimable friendship which is without wax, which is sincere pure, unmixed, unadulterated. Did we always stop to remember the deep significance of the word, our pens might often refuse to write it, and when we did write it, how much nobler and more genuine our sincerity and friendship would be. There is reason, there are moral qualities, in words as well as in things. "By your words ye shall be justified, and by your words shall ye be condemned." Let us heed "the still small voice," which whispers to us of duty and truth in the very words we use.—Rev. R. S. Mac Arthur, in the Outlook.

Size of Countries.

Greece is about the size of Vermont.

Palestine is about one fourth the size of New York.

Hindustan is more than a hundred times as large as Palestine.

The great desert of Africa has nearly the present dimensions of the United States.

The Red Sea would reach from Washington to Colorado; and it is three times as wide as Lake Ontario.

The English Channel is nearly as large as Lake Superior.

The Mediterranean, if placed across North America, would make sea navigation from San Diego to Baltimore.

The Caspian Sea would stretch from New York to St. Augustine, and is as wide as from New York to Rochester.

Great Britain is two-thirds as large as Japan, one twelfth the size of Hindustan, one twentieth the size of China, and one-twenty-fifth of the United States.

The Gulf of Mexico is about ten times the size of Lake Superior, and about as large as the Sea of Kamschatka, Bay of Bengal, China Sea, Okhotsk, or Japan Sea. Lake Ontario would go in either of them fifty times.

The following bodies of water are nearly equal in size: German Ocean, Black Sea, Yellow Sea, Hudson's Bay is rather larger; the Baltic, Adriatic, Persian Gulf, and Ægean Sea are about half as large, and somewhat larger than Lake Superior.

THE ARTS.

"The Violin, its famous Makers and their Imitators," an English work by George Hart, contains a number of wood engravings from photographs of the works of Stradivarius, Guarnerius, Amati, and others. The frontispiece is from a photograph of Paganini's famous violin.

The art collections of the Louvre have just received an addition of six busts, of the finest white marble, which have been discovered in Africa. They represent the first six Roman Emperors; and although the sculptures are evidently many centuries old, yet they are said to look as fresh as if only recently chiselled.

"The Course of Empire," a painting by Emanuel Leutze in the Capitol at Washington, which has been considered in a decaying and nearly ruined condition, is described by a writer in the New York Times as having been restored to almost its original freshness and beauty. It was painted on a rough plastered wall, by a new process supposed to be indestructible.—The picture had, however, faded, the colors appeared to have sunk, and the shadows had lost depth. It was found that the rough surface had collected a great quantity of dust. This has been carefully removed by brushing, and the result is a real transformation. Visitors to the Capitol next Winter will see the masterpiece of Leutze almost as perfect as when it was first completed. The shadows are deepened, and delicate tints, wholly obscured, have been revealed. The painting has not escaped criticism, some of which has been intelligent and just; but in spite of whatever faults it has, it remains to day among the few conspicuous works of art which have cost the government no more than they are worth.

In answer to the question, Is Romanism on the increase in Great Britain? "Ravenstein's Denominational Statistics" makes the following statement: "There are now nearly a million Roman Catholics in England and Wales, and these are divided according to their nationality thus—English Roman Catholics, 179,000; foreigners, 52,000; Irish, 742,560. This is one side of the subject; now look at the other. In 1801 the population of Great Britain and Ireland was about fifteen millions and three quarters, of whom four millions and a quarter were Roman Catholics, or twenty-seven per cent. of the whole population. Now, the population is nearly thirty-one million and a half, of whom little more than five millions and a half are Roman Catholics, or only eighteen per cent. of the whole population. In other words, while the Roman Catholics have increased at the rate of twenty eight per cent., the Protestants have increased at the rate of 120 per cent. Protestantism has therefore been advancing nearly five times faster than Romanism since the beginning of the present century."

A grandchild of Dr. Emmons, when not more than six years old, came to him with a trouble weighing on her mind.

'A. B. says the moon is made of green cheese, and I don't believe it.'

'Don't you believe it? Why not?'

'I know it isn't.'

'But how do you know?'

'Is it, grandpa?'

'Don't ask me the question; you must find it out yourself.'

'How can I find it out?'

'You must study into it.'

She knew enough to resort to the first of Genesis for information, and after a truly Emmons-like search, she ran into the study.

'I've found it! The moon is not made of green cheese, for the moon was made before the cows were!'

FAITHFULNESS.—An Eastern allegory runs thus: A merchant going abroad for a time, gave respectively to two of his friends two sacks of wheat each, to take care of against his return: Years passed: he came back, and applied for them again. The first took him into his storehouse, and showed them to him; but they were mildewed and worthless. The other led him out into the open country, and pointed out field after field of waving corn, the produce of the two sacks given him. Said the merchant, "You have been a faithful friend. Give me two sacks of that wheat: the rest shall be thine."

Few habits are more injurious than musing, which differs from thinking as pacing one's chamber does from walking abroad. The mind learns nothing, and is not strengthened, but weakened, returning perpetually over the same barren track. Where the thoughts are sombre, the evil is doubly great, and not only time and vigor are squandered, but melancholy becomes fixed. It is really a disease, and the question, how it should be treated, is one of the most important in anthropology.—J. W. Alexander.

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE—Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev J. B Bobbitt, R. T. Gray, Esq. } Editors.

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID,	$2.20
IX MONTHS, " "	1.85
If payment be delayed six months,	2.70

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Editors of the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

RALEIGH, N. C., DECEMBER 8, 1875.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly.

[EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE, M. E. Church, South.

FIRST DAY.

The thirty ninth session of the North Carolina Conference met in Front Street Church, Wilmington, N. C., on the 1st inst. at 9½ o'clock, Bishop H. N. McTyeire presiding.—The Conference is composed of about one hundred and sixty clerical and forty lay members. It is in membership the largest Conference in the Church South, and in point of ministerial and lay delegation is the third largest—Virginia and Tennessee Conferences being larger in the latter respect. The Conference was set off from the Virginia Conference at Petersburg, Va, Feb 8th 1837, the first Conference being held at Greensboro in Jan. 1838, under the presidency of Bishop Morris. The total number of members then was, in round numbers, 19,000—now it is about 54,000. Then there were 80 Sunday schools with 2500 scholars—now there are about 600 Sunday schools, with more than 25,000 scholars. The Conference has been enlarged by the addition of that part of North Carolina territory that was formerly under the jurisdiction of the South Carolina Conference. This place (Wilmington) was formerly in the South Carolina Conference—as also Fayetteville, Wadesboro and a large part of the Cape Fear and Pee Dee sections. There are ten counties in North Carolina under the jurisdiction of the Virginia Conference; and fifteen counties under that of the Holston Conference.

The present session was opened by religious services conducted by Bishop McTyeire and Dr. Burkhead.

Dr. Craven, the Secretary of the last Conference, called the roll and ninety four clerical and twenty nine lay members responded.

Rev. Dr. Craven was elected Secretary of the Conference; O W Carr, V A Sharpe, A S Webb and P L Herman were elected Assistant Secretaries.

The presiding elders were made a committee to nominate the Standing Committees of the Conference.

On motion of J B Bobbitt, W S Black, J E Mann, J T Gibbs and J E Leggett were appointed a committee on public worship.

On motion of B. Craven, the following were appointed a committee on Minutes, viz: E J Lilly, Jas Southgate, W F Kornegay, J T Gibbs and F L Reid.

On motion of J E Mann the third pillar in the Church was fixed as the bar of Conference. On motion of the same it was ordered that the daily sessions of the Conference shall begin at 9½ o'clock, A. M., and close at 1½ o'clock, P. M.

On motion of Dr Burkhead, the committee of Presiding Elders was directed to nominate a committee to take into consideration the celebration of the centennial of N C Methodism.

On motion of J W Jenkins, W H Moore, H H Gibbons and T W Guthrie were appointed a Commmitte on Memoirs. It was stated in our last that no member of our Conference had died during the year, but we were in error in the statement, Rev W F Clegg, a valuable member of the Conference, having died in the early part of the year.

On motion of W D Lee, W C Gannon was put in the place of C C Dodson as Chairman of the Committee of the second year, brother Dodson being absent.

On motion of J B Bobbitt it was ordered that the examination of character should be had with open doors.

On motion of Dr Burkhead T A Boone was appointed to receive collections and take subscriptions for the Southern Quarterly Review and our publications at Nashville.

Question 20 was taken up, "Are all the preachers blameless in their life and official administration," whereupon J P Moore, L L Hendren, N H D Wilson. D R Bruton, R G Barrett, J S Nelson, S D Adams, W S Black, E A Yates and Wm Closs severally passed the examination of character.

The report of the Presiding Elders was received, and the following committees were appointed.

On Education—Clerical: H T Hudson, W H Moore, W H Bobbitt, M L Wood, J R Griffith, M V Sherrill, Jos Wheeler, J Sandford, F H Wood, S V Hoyle. Lay: Dr A A Scroggs, Jas Southgate, W C Doub, R R Crawford, R L Hunt, F A Clarke, J W Leak, J W McGee, W F Kornegay, T J Gatlin.

Sabbath Schools — Clerical: J J Renn, F L Reid, P L Horman, J W Wheeler, J T Harris, A D Betts, T A Boone, J B Alford, J H Wheeler, W H Call. Lay: Luther Bynum, T G Whitaker, O W Carr, B F Sumrow, B F Dixon, M Dove, L Phillips, W J Parker, Wm Arundell, T C Williams.

Books and Periodicals—Clerical: V A Sharpe, J W Jenkins, A A Boshamer, T A Boone, J S Irvin, C M Pepper, W S Chaffin, T W Smith, J R Brooks, A R Raven. Lay: V Allen, A Walker, S L Riddle, G W Flowers, J W Gidney, I N Shaver, G S Cole, K K Council, T D Gay, B W Brown.

Church Property—Clerical: W C Wilson, J W Lewis, John Tillett, C M Anderson, J E Thompson, B B Culbreth, I W Avent, J B Bailey, J P Simpson, R O Burton. Lay: J F Moore, L C Hanes, J C Pinnix, C Gidney, A S Webb, G D Wolfe, J W Leak, J E Leggett, B Thompson, Thos H Gatlin.

Bible Cause—Clerical: O J Brent, S D Peeler, H F Wiley, J F Heitman, W M Jordan, J F Smoot, B C Phillips, J T Bagwell, R A Willis, Jere Johnson. Lay: F A Clarke, B F Dixon. T W Flowers, L C Hanes, Luther Bynum, R L Hunt, E J Lilly, J E Leggett, A B Thompson, T C Williams.

Centennial—Clerical: L S Burkhead, R S Webb, B Craven, L W Crawford, H T Hudson, P J Carraway, I T Wyche, J E Mann, W C Garrison, R O Burton, J B Bobbitt. Lay: T G Whitaker, Jas Southgate, R T Gray, W C Doub, R R Crawford, A Scroggs, F A Clark, E J Lilly, J W McGee, W F Kornegay, T C Williams.

Question 18 was taken up, "Who are superannuated?" John Jones, D C Johnson, B T Blake, J W Floyd, S B Lowder, G E Wyche, W W Albea, W D Mangum, Henry Gray, W M D Moore, passed the examination of character, and were continued in the superannuated relation.

J C Thomas, J C Buie, and C W King passed the examination of character. At the suggestion of A D Betts the Conference engaged in prayer conducted by Dr Closs Question 1st was taken up, "Who are admitted on trial?" J M Rhodes, of Mt. Olive circuit, B R Hall of Fayetteville, and J B Carpenter, of Rutherfordton circuit, were admitted on trial.

A letter from Dr Summers, editor of the Nashville Advocate, was received and read.

Question 5 was taken up, "Who are received by transfer?" J D Carpenter, of the South Carolina Conference, was received.

After various announcements were made, the Conference adjourned with the benediction by the Bishop.

SECOND DAY—Tuesday.

Conference met at 9½ o'clock; Bishop McTyeire in the chair, and was opened with religious services conducted by R O Burton. Upon the calling of the roll it was found that there were many additional arrivals.—The calling of the roll for the remainder of the session was dispensed with.

Various communications were received from the General Board of Missions and were referred to the Board of Missions.

Dr A H Redford, Book Agent, was introduced to the Conference.

Question 12 was taken up, "What traveling preachers are elected elders?" F D Swindell, R M Brown, James Willson, James Mahoney and Edward Howland passed the examination of character, were approved by the committee of examination and were elected to elder's orders.

Question 4 was taken up, "Who are admitted into full connection?" Lucien J Holden, Lucius E Stacey, Paul W F Stamey, Wm H Watkins and D P Goode passed the examination of character, were approved by the committee of examination and were passed to the studies of the third year, and were elected to deacon's orders. D P Goode was continued on trial.

N S Norton having failed to be examined was continued in the studies of the second year.

Rev G D Bernheim, pastor of the Lutheran Church in Wilmington and Rev J B Taylor, pastor of the Baptist Church, were introduced and invited to seats in the bar of the Conference.

Question 3 was taken up, "Who are discontinued?" J C Smith, W H Cunninggim and L W Piggott having passed the examination of character, were discontinued at their own request.

Question 7 was taken up, "Who are the deacons of one year?" Jesse H Guinn, Philip H Greening, T A Coon W C Norman, R F Bumpass, J Sandford and T W Smith having passed the examination of character and having been approved by the committee of examination, were passed to the studies of the fourth year.

T P England having passed the examination of character but failing to be examined, was continued in the studies of the third year.

Question 2 was taken up, "Who remain on trial?" Joseph W Shackford, N M Jurney, J F Craven, W S Roan, J T Gibbs, L L Nash, J W Randle, J R Scroggs, C A Gault, M W Boyles, J M Lumley, passed the examination of character and were continued on trial.

N G Whittington having failed to be examined was continued in the studies of the first year.

W H Cunninggim, L W Piggott and J C Smith passed the examination of character and were discontinued at their own request.

Rev D A Long, fraternal messenger from the Christian Church, and Rev Mr Jones, of the S C Conference were introduced to the Conference. Rev Mr Long then addressed the Conference in a pleasant and cordial manner for several minutes and was welcomed by the Bishop in appropriate terms.

On motion of B Craven it was resolved that two fraternal messengers be appointed to visit the next session of the Virginia and North Carolina Conference of the Christian Church to be held at Salem Chapel in Forsyth county next November; and on motion of Dr. Closs two fraternal messengers were appointed to visit the next session of the Methodist Protestant Conference in this State.

Rev Dr Duncan, President of Randolph Macon College, and Rev W W Duncan, Professor in Wofford College, were introduced to the Conference.

Reports from Trinity College, Greensboro Female College and Davenport Female College were received read and referred to the Committee on Education.

On motion of B Craven the session of the Conference was extended thirty minutes.

The report of the Committee on the publication of the Minutes was read and adopted. The Committee reported that it was impracticable to publish the Minutes before the 1st of January 1876.

Rev Dr Redford then addressed the Conference in behalf of our publishing interests.

Conference then adjourned with the benediction of the Bishop.

THIRD DAY—Friday.

Conference met at the usual hour, and was opened with religious services conducted by Wm H Bobbitt.—The roll of attendance was completed by a partial call of the Conference.

Question 20 was resumed, "Are all the preachers blameless in their life and official administration?"

The remaining elders of the Conference passed the annual examination of character.

Rev. J. R Wilson, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in the city of Wilmington was introdneed to the Conference.

A communication was received from the Grand Master of Masons in North Carolina asking the members of the Conference to give endorsement and all practicable aid to the Masonic Orphan Asylum at Oxford, N. C.

On motion of J P Moore, F L Reid was appointed to convey to the Masons, through their Grand Master, W G Blount, Esq., the cordial sympathy of the Conference for the Orphan Asylum.

A communication was received from Rev C F Deems, D D, pastor of the Church of the Strangers in New York, giving an account of his labors in the Conference and his work in the city of New York, declaring his affection for the members of the Conference and his kind memories connected with various places and events; and asking for a location.

On motion of E A Yates, W H Bobbitt, I T Wyche and J H Wheeler were appointed a Committee to consider the letter of Dr Deems and prepare an appropriate response from the Conference.

Question 16 was taken up, "Who are located this year?" C F Deems was located at at his own request, on motion of M L Wood.

Question 18 was taken up, "Who are superannuated?" J N Somers, W S Haltom and R P Bibb were placed in the superannated relation.

R. P. Bibb addressed the Conference in feeling terms concerning his labors in the ministry, the work he had accomplished by the blessing of the great Head of the Church and his regret that his active labors were brought to a close. Rev. A. W. Mangum followed in a few affecting remarks touching our duties to those who had worn themselves out in the service of the church. The Bishop in this connection addressed the Conference in reference to the superannuated relation and the distribution of the Conference Fund.

Dr. Closs offered the following resolution:

Resolved That the Joint Board of Finance be directed to assess the collections for the superannuated preachers, and the widows and orphans of preachers, for the Bishops and for Missions on the basis of the salaries paid to the pastors in the various circuits stations and missions." On motion of Dr. Closs the resolution was laid on the table for the present. Conference then adjourned with the benediction by the Bishop.

FOURTH DAY.

Conference opened with religious services conducted by Rev L Shell.

Question 20 was continued, "Are all the preachers blameless in life and official conversation?"

During the pendency of the examination of character, the matter of the relations of the colored members of the church came up. The Bishop spoke in terms of regard of the colored Methodists and was followed by Dr Closs, R O Burton, E A Yates and W S Black. W H Moore stated that he had been requested by Bishop Bebee of the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church in America to bear the high regards of himself and people to the North Carolina Conference.

Rev J F Smoot was located at his own request and resolutions were passed by the Conference expressive of the affection and good wishes of the Conference.

Question 25 was taken up, "What local preachers are recommended for Deacon's orders?"

Rev Dr Closs moved that the Rev Matthew C Heptinstall, a minister of the M P Church, who had made application to that effect, be received into the Conference, he to take the vows of a minister without being reordained. After inquiring into the condition and standing of the applicant and a discussion participated in by Revs D R Bruton, Dr Closs, P J Carraway, Ira T Wyche, J P Moore and J B Bobbitt, the question was laid over for future consideration.

Question 25th was again taken up, the following gentlemen of the districts designated being admitted to deacon's orders, viz: Revs I N Mann, Hillsboro District; W H Pegram, Greensboro District; W P Williams, Salisbury District; B F Dixon, Shelby District; J H Davis, Wilmington District, and Wm O'Neil, Newbern District. The case of Rev J W Shackford, a candidate for deacon's orders, proposed by Rev Dr Closs, who read a recommendation of that gentleman from the Washington District Quarterly Conference, created some discussion. Under the church discipline a preacher to be eligible to deacon's orders is required to have been either a traveling preacher for two years or a local preacher for four years. Mr Shackford had been a local preacher for three years and a traveling preacher for one year.

Dr Closs contended that the requirements of the rule were answered. Revs Dr Craven and N H D Wilson opposed, and Rev R O Burton favored.

The Bishop expressed an opinion favorable to the affirmative side of the argument, but declined to pronounce a decision, but would bring the question up before the College of Bishops at their next meeting for their adjudication. The matter was laid over to await their action.

The question, "Who are recommended for Elder's orders?" was taken up, and Rev Neill McNair Smith, of the Charlotte District, was elected.

Question 29 was taken up, "Where shall the next Conference be held?" Greensboro and Monroe were put in nomination and after some discussion, Greensboro was selected as the place.

The Conference then adjourned to meet in the afternoon at 3½ o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Conference met according to adjournment, and was opened with religious services conducted by Rev Dr Duncan, of the Virginia Conference.

The following committees reported, to wit, the committee on the Bible Cause, the committee on Education, committee on Church Property.—(These reports will be published in due time.)

Rev A W Mangum spoke at some length relative to his connection with the University at Chapel Hill. He asked the assistance and prayers of his brethren while he thanked them for the confirmation of his appointment as Professor in that Institution.

Rev Dr Duncan at the request of Dr Closs, spoke at length of Randolph Macon College of which he is President, giving an account of its rise, progress, temporary embarrassment, change of locality and present prosperity.

The committee on the Centennial celebration reported as follows;

The committee to whom was referred the subject of observing the year 1876 as the Centennial of the introduction of Methodism in the State of North Carolina, report as follows:

In March, 1776, we believe on the 23rd day of that month, at a Conference held in the city of Baltimore, a circuit, called "Carolina Circuit," was organized, embracing an indefinite extent of territory and allowing the preacher in charge large liberty for his efforts in spreading "Scriptural holiness" throughout this hitherto unoccupied field. What a wide expanse is here presented for the matured thought of the developed Methodism of 1875! There was one solitary preacher, a stranger to every citizen of the State, belonging to a people who were unknown to all that dwelt in this vast extent of territory; even the name of the founder, under God, of this form of Christian faith and worship had never penetrated this remote region—all external surroundings were unpromising—and that her ald of the Cross, with his horse, saddle-bags, Bible and hymn-book, trusting with a firm and unwavering faith in the God that had redeemed and pardoned him through the blood of his Son, came pioneering this unexplored realm, and carrying the "glad tidings" of the personal salvation that he experienced in his own consciousness, to those that sat in "the region of darkness and the shadow of death."

One hundred years, in the Providence of God, have passed away, and what things do we now behold? A great people instinct with the life and soul of a glorious Christian faith, churches, colleges, schools and seminaries of learning dotting their whole land, and the vitalizing power of this Christianity informed with the energy of divine truth reaching into and elevating all classes, conditions and forms of belief.

Three generations of peoples have gone to their great reward, hundreds of Methodist preachers are enjoying the fruition of that glorious hope they preached to a dying world, thousands of holy men and women have, with their pastors, joined the innumerable company of the redeemed, and are to day singing that grand anthem that swells throughout the arches of glory and is pealing onward through the cycles of eternity, and thousands more, preachers and people, are hastening to join the glorious throng; and still the work goes on, widens, deepens, enlarges and pierces the serried ranks of sin, and girds itself for grander efforts. Let us see what a great work has been accomplished, and prepare for still greater triumphs.

Within the bounds of the N. C. Conference there are 150 pastoral charges manned by 150 effective soldiers of the Cross. We have 17 superannuated preachers that have worn out their frames in pushing on the work, whose hearts warm within them at the triumphs they have witnessed and at the prospect of the rewards just before them. Two hundred and twenty-five local preachers are in our different fields of labor assisting by their counsels, efforts and characters, and 50,000 members fill up the rank and file of this grand army. There are nearly 600 Sunday Schools full of the thought and power that Methodism has infused into our literature nigh on to 4,000 teachers are drilling recruits for the supply of the wasting powers of those that have "fought their fight" and gone to their reward—and this array of leaders is followed on by nearly 30,000 children of the Church, preparing to lift up the weapons that have fallen from the unnerved grasp of those that so gloriously wielded them for the faith. We have three Conference colleges—a college was the cradle of Methodism—with property valued at $125,000;-55 parsonages worth $76,000, and 660 churches worth $600,000, And this is only a sketch of what is included in the N C Confeaence; not to mention the vast interests in the State of North Carolina within the bounds of the Virginia and Holston Conferences.

In view of these facts and statistics, your committee deem it interesting and proper to pause and look back over the field where this great conflict has been fought and won, and gather up, as far as possible, and put into active use for other conflicts, the results of this glorious past, and record the labors, toils and trimmphs of the blessed dead. Your committee therefore recommend the Conference to adopt the following resolutions—viz:

Resolved, That we will celebrate the year 1876 as the Centennial of N C Methodism.

Resolved, That we hold in the city of Raleigh, commencing on the day the Centennial occurs—the 21st of March—a mass meeting of 3 or more days' continuance, that appropriate religious services be held and address es be made by such persons as shall be selected by a committee of five (three preachers and two laymen) to be appointed by this body, developing the history of the Church, and that one or more of our Bishops be invited to aid us by their presence and counsels.

Resolved, That the P E of the Raleigh district, the preacher in charge of the Edenton Street Church in Raleigh, the senior editor of the Raleigh Christian Advocate, W J W Crowder and W J Young be appointed a committee to make arrangements for the celebration called for in the second resolution.

Resolved, That we will labor to raise $60,000 to liquidate the debts of the three colleges of the Conference, and $25,000 for the erection of a Metropolitan Church in the city of Raleigh.

Resolved, That one whole month be devoted to holding religious centennial meetings in each pastoral charge. That each pastor be requested to preach on the great distinctive doctrines of Methodism, viz: the universality of the atonement; justification by faith; regeneration; the witness of the spirit; personal holiness; the itinerancy, and the necessity of our revival system—especially as developing the history and triumphs of Methodism in this State and in the world—and that we may thus interest all our people, young and old, in all the enterprises of the Church, and heartily enlist them in aiding their development and success.

Resolved, That during the month devoted to centennial meetings each pastor shall thoroughly canvass his charge, making, if possible, personal application to every member of his congregation—to all friends of education and progress—for donations for the objects above stated, and if it be not possible for the pastor to personally solicit all within his charge, that he be requested to enlist wise, prudent and active members of his congregation to see that this whole matter be brought to the attention of every one.

Resolved, That each Presiding Elder shall designate the month for holding the centennial meetings in each of the charges of his district, and that he be requested to hold not less than three special mass meetings within the bounds of his district for the purpose of arousing the energies and activities of the church to the importance of the great objects contemplated.

Resolved, That each P E shall set apart Saturday of his District Conference as a centennial day, and that he shall prepare, or cause to be prepared a programme of exercises for that occasion, and that he shall have a collection taken up for the objects named.

Resolved, That Saturday of the next Annual Conference be designated as the "Conference Centennial Day;" that a suitable programme be arranged for that day by a committee appointed by this Conference for that purpose—the object being to present a summary of the results of the efforts of the centennial year and for general thanksgiving to Almighty God for His benedictions upon us.

Resolved, That each donor be privileged to direct the application of his donations to any one or more of the centennial objects, and that his directions be faithfully carried out.

Resolved, That the several sums collected by the operation of these resolutions be transmitted to a treasurer to be sent by him forthwith to the proper authorites of the interests represented, and that all sums not specially directed be deposited in bank for safekeeping until the next session of the Annual Conference, to be by it applied to these object as its wisdom may direct, and that W J W Crowder, of the city of Raleigh, be elected Centennial Treasurer.

Resolved, That the preachers and members of the Virginia and Holston Conferences, within the bounds of the State of North Carolina, be earnestly invited to unite with the N C Conference in the observance of this centennial year

Resolved, That all the Bishops of the M E Church South are hereby cordially and earnestly invited to be with us at as many points within our bounds, during the year, as possible, and assist us by their presence, efforts and godly councils in carrying out the great purposes contemplated in this report.

WHEREAS, We shall need more than ever the medium of the Raleigh Christian Advocate to give wide publicity to the centennial proceedings, speeches, historical reminiscences, &c., therefore.

Resolved, That the preachers be requested to put forth extra exertions to enlarge the subscription list of that paper as early in that year as possible and also during the centennial month.

All of which is most respectfully submitted.

L. S. BURKHEAD,
Chairman.

The following was offered as a substitute to resolution 11 in the above report:

That the several sums collected by the operation of these resolutions be promptly transmitted by the Presiding Elders and preachers in charge to the proper agents or managers of the interests named, and that any sum remaining over undistributed be sent up to the ensuing Conference to be distributed as the Conference may direct.

The report and substitute above was, on motion of Rev L S Burkhead, chairman of the committee, laid over until Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

The Secretary of Conference reported the following statistics:

Whole number of members in all the churches of the Conference 54,992 an increase of 4,085 during the year infants baptized 1,590, a decrease of 41; adults baptized 2,505, decrease of 218; number of Sunday Schools 624, an increase of 38; number of Sunday School teachers 3,835, increase 440, number of Sunday School scholars 27,737, increase 2,873; whole number of churches in the Conference 706, valued at $645,155; number of parsonages 54, valued at $71,100.

The Bishop made a few remarks congratulating the body upon the excellent condition of Methodism in North Carolina, as shown by the statistics read.

Conference then adjourned with the benediction by the Bishop.

FIFTH DAY.

Monday Morning, Dec. 6th.

The Conference met at 9½ o'clock, Bishop McTyeire in the chair, and was opened with religious services conducted by C H Phillips.

The journal of the fourth day was read and approved.

Question 9th was taken up, "What traveling preachers are ordained deacons?" The Bishop reported that on Sunday after divine service in Front Street Church he ordained the following traveling preachers deacons, viz: L J Holden, L E Stacy, P W F Stamey and D P Good.

Question 11th was taken up, "What local preachers are ordained deacons?" The Bishop reported that on Sunday at Front Street Church he ordained the following local deacons, viz: I N Mann, W P Williams, B F Dixon, J H Davis, W O'Neill and J A Bolk.

Question 13th was taken up, "What traveling preachers are ordained elders?" The Bishop reported that on Sunday evening, after preaching at Fifth Street Church, he ordained the following: F D Swindell, James Willson and Edward Howland.

Question 15th was taken up, "What local preachers are ordained elders?" The Bishop reported that he ordained Neill McNair Smith.

A fraternal letter of cordial greeting was received from the Methodist Protestant Conference now in session, and was read to the Conference. The following fraternal messengers were appointed from this Conference to the Methodist Protestant Conference:—R O Burton, Frank C Robbins. Alternates: N H D Wilson and J W Hays.

To the Christian Church, W H Bobbitt and R P Troy. Alternates: S D Adams and W C Doub.

Resolutions of christian salutation to the Colored Methodist E. Church in America were adopted.

The committee on the letter of Dr. Deems introduced complimentary resolutions, which were adopted.

E A Yates and D R Bruton offered a resolution requesting the committee on public worship to arrange for the administration of the Lord's Supper at each session of our Conference, which was adopted.

J B Bobbitt introduced a resolution requesting the Bishop's sermon, preached at Front Street Church on Sabbath morning, for publication in our Conference Minutes.

R O Burton and Wm Closs presented a resolution requiring each preacher in charge of a circuit or station to procure, on his arrival, a church register, and that he report to the next Conference whether or not he has performed this duty.

The committee on Sunday Schools submitted their report which was adopted.

Martin A Holler, a local deacon of the Methodist E Church, having joined our church, and having been recommended by the Quarterly Conference of Lenoir circuit as a proper person to be recognized as a deacon in our church, and having subscribed to the doctrines, discipline and ordination vows of our church, was recognized as a deacon.

The order of the day, being the report of the Centennial committee was taken up, and was after various amendments adopted.

Rev A W Mangum offered a resolution to the effect that the excess over $60,000 raised during the Centennial year shall be applied to the building of a new church in the city of Raleigh.

On motion of Prof W C Doub it was resolved that a collection be taken up during the Centennial meeting to be held in Raleigh for the benefit of the new church in Raleigh.

On motion of J P Moore it was resolved that the pastor of Edenton St. Church be appointed agent to carry out the resolutions of the Conference and the plan of the Trustees in reference to Edenton St. Church.

On motion the time was extended to hear the report of the joint board of finance and Books and Periodicals.

The Conference then adjourned with the benediction by the Bishop.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Conference met at 3½ o'clock, W H Bobbitt in the chair, and was opened with religious exercises conducted by V A Sharpe.

The journal of the morning session was read and approved.

On motion of B Craven, J B Bobbitt, L S Burkhead and R T Gray were appointed a committee to publish the minutes.

A resolution requiring a sermon preached at each Conference before the undergraduates, was adopted. On motion of B B Culbreth, H T Hudson was appointed to preach the sermon next year.

Question 27th was taken up; "What amount is necessary for the superannuated preachers and the widows and orphans of preachers? Answer $6,000.

Question 28th was taken up "What has been collected on the foregoing account and how has it been applied. Bishops Fund assessed $1.500—Paid $1608,82—Paid over assessment $108, 82. Paid on Conference Collection $4,-433,71. This was distributed in open Conference pro rata to the claimants, paying 82 per cent of the claims.

Question 29th was taken up—"What has been collected for missions.

The usual resolution of thanks were offered.

On motion of Dr Burkhead, Dr Closs, Dr Wilson, and R O Burton were appointed to prepare an address opening the way for the grand Centennial to be held in Raleigh.

Question 19 was called, "What preachers have died during the year? "The committee on memoirs presented their report which was adopted.

Question 4th was taken up, "Who are admitted into full connection?" L J Holden, L E Stacy, P W F Stamy and W H Watkins having previously passed the examination of character and having been approved by the committee of examination, were admitted into full connection.

On motion of Dr Wilson, C W King was placed on the superannuated relation.

The Conference then proceeded to raise funds to publish the Minutes.—The Bishop announced the Finance Committee.

The appointments were then announced and the Conference adjourned sine die with the benediction by the Bishop.

APPOINTMENTS.

RALEIGH DISTRICT—J. P. MOORE, P. E.

Raleigh—Edenton street, L S Burkhead.
Raleigh—Person street, W C Norman.
Cary circuit, J E Thompson.
Rolesville circuit, L J Holden.
Smithfield circuit, Jos H Wheeler.
Tar River circuit, Richard S Webb.
Youngville, M J Hunt.
Louisburg station, F L Reid.
Granville circuit, S V Hoyle.
Henderson circuit, A A Boshamer.
Nashville and Rocky Mount, T B Reeks. Toisnot circuit N M Jurney.
Editor Raleigh CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, J B Bobbitt.

HILLSBORO' DISTRICT—L L HENDREN, P E.

Hillsboro' station; H P Coe.
Durham station, Wm H Moore.
Alamance circuit, Wm M Jordan.
Chapel Hill and Haw River, J J Renn.
Pittsboro', Jno Tillett.
Yanceyville, Jno W Jenkins.
Deep River, Thos C Moses.
Leasburg, T J Gattis,
Person circuit, E H Gibbons.
Flat River, J B Martin.
Professor of University of North Carolina, A W Mangum.

GREENSBORO DISTRICT—N R D WILSON, P E.

Greensboro station, S D Adams.
North Guilford circuit, J W Lewis.
South Guilford circuit, Z Rush.
Thomasville and High Point, P L Herman.
Trinity, B Craven.
Davidson circuit, C H Phillips.
Randolph circuit, J F Craven.
Forsythe circuit, S H Belsaber.
Winston station, J F Heitman.
Stokes circuit, J R Scroggs.
Madison circuit, L E Stacy.
Wentworth circuit, R F Bumpass.
President of Trinity College, B Craven.
Agents for the Conference Colleges, A Sharpe and J A Cunninggim.

SALISBURY DISTRICT—D. R. BRUTON, P. E.

Salisbury station, L W Crawford.
Salisbury circuit, R T N Stevenson.
Mooresville circuit, Thos L Triplett.
Statesville station, T A Coon.
Statesville circuit, N S Norton.
Mocksville circuit, Thos A Boone.
Davie circuit, Wm C Willson.
Iredell circuit, M L Wood.
Alexander circuit, H F Wiley.
Wilkes circuit, C A Gault.
Yadkinville circuit, Robert M Brown.
Mt. Airy station, James Willson.
Sumrabown mission, Wm B Mauney.
Surry circuit, to be supplied (by S Creasy).
Blue Ridge mission, A M Long.

SHELBY DISTRICT—A G BAYLESS, P. E.

Shelby station, H Isbell.
Shelby circuit, J W North.
Double Shoals, S D Peeler.
Cherry Mountain, D P Goode.
Rutherfordton, S Leard.
Columbus mission, J B Carpenter.
Marion circuit, N G Whittington.
Upper Broad River mission, J Carpenter.
Dysartville circuit, J C Crisp.
Morganton circuit, J S Ervin.
Caldwell circuit, Geo W Ivy.
Lenoir, W M Robey.
Happy Home circuit, J C Hartsell.
Newton circuit, L Shell.
Rock Spring circuit; J W Pratt.
South Fork circuit, C M Anderson.
Dallas circuit, P F W Stamey.
Lincolnton circuit, Junius T Harris.
President Davenport Female College W M Robey.

CHARLOTTE DISTRICT—W H BOBBITT, P. E.

Charlotte station, P J Carraway, J C Thomas.
South Charlotte circuit, Miles Foy.
Pineville circuit, W D Lee.
Pleasant Grove circuit, T H Edwards
Monroe station, D May.
Monroe circuit, M H Hoyle.
Concord, C M Pepper.
Mt. Pleasant circuit, A D Betts.
Albemarle circuit T P Richard.
Stanley circuit, Ed Howland.
Ansonville circuit, M C Thomas.
Wadesboro station, James W Wheeler.
Wadesboro circuit; Jesse H Guinn
Lilesville circuit; T P England.

FAYETTEVILLE DISTRICT, J S NELSON, P. E.

Fayetteville station, E W Thompson T W Smith.
Cumberland circuit, I W Avent.
Robeson circuit, Ira T Wyche, B Hall.
Laurinburg circuit, T W Guthrie.
Rockingham circuit, Jos Wheeler.
Pee Dee circuit, M V Sherrill.
Uwharrie circuit, Gaston Farrar
Montgomery circuit, I F Keerans.
Cartbage circuit, L H Gibbons.
Jonesboro circuit, B C Phillips.
Buckhorn circuit, W S Chaffin.

WILMINGTON DISTRICT—W S BLACK, P. E.

Wilmington, Front Street, J R Mann.
Wilmington, Fifth Street, J Rhodes.
Topsail circuit, J B Bailey.
Kenansville circuit, J T Bagwell.
Magnolia circuit, S M Davis.
Clinton circuit, J B Alford.
Cokesbury circuit, M V Boyles.
Bladen circuit, J Sanford.
Elizabeth circuit, O J Brent.
Whiteville circuit, P. Greening.
Waccamaw Mission, to be supplied.
Smithville circuit, J W Randle.
Onslow circuit, to be supplied (by G W Hardison.)

NEWBERN DISTRICT—E A YATES P E

Newberne station, W C Gannon.
Goldsboro station, J R Brooks,
Wilson station, R A Willis.
Wayne circuit, F H Wood.
Mt Olive circuit, W H Call.
Kinston station, C C Dodson.
Snow Hill circuit, Jas P Simpson.
Neuse circuit, J J Carden.
Jones circuit, N A Hooker.
Lenoir circuit, J N Andrews.
Swift Creek circuit, to be supplied by Wm Wine.
Craven circuit, D Culbreth.
Beaufort, A R Raven.
Carteret circuit, James Mahoney.
Straits to be supplied.

WASHINGTON DISTRICT—W CLOSS P E.

Washington station, B B Culbreth.
Warrenton station, J W Shackford.
Warren circuit, J R Griffith, J T Gibbs.
Roanoke circuit, R O Burton.
Tarboro circuit, F D Swindell.
Williamston circuit, L L Nash.
Greenville circuit, J. Johnson.
Plymouth and Jamesville, W S Roane.
Columbia circuit, Wm H Watkins
Bath circuit, to be supplied.
Mattamuskeet, Jno D Buie, one to be supplied.
I H Hill, supernumerary.
Portsmouth and Ocracoke, J M Lumley.
Cape Hatteras, to be supplied.

After a few feeling and congratulatory remarks, the Bishop announced that as the Conference had finished the business for which it had been called, it was now adjourned sine die.

Next Conference will be held in Greensboro.

NOTICE.

Any person sending us the following numbers of the Raleigh CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE will confer a favor and receive proper compensation for so doing. The numbers wanted for 1866 and a part of 1870 are the Episcopal Methodist. In 1870 the name of the paper was changed to Christian Advocate. The missing numbers from our file are the issues of July 14th, 1869, No. 28; October 20th, 1869, No. 42; December 15th, 1869, No. 50; December 28th, 1870, No. 50; August 23d, 1871, No. 33; April 24, 1872, No. 17. It is very important that we keep a complete file, and we shall be obliged to any one who will send us the numbers called for.

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING. TERMS $2 20 POSTAGE PAID.

Our Agents.

All the traveling and local preachers in the bounds of the North Carolina Conference are our authorized Agents. Any person sending us ten subscribers, for one year, will receive the paper free.

Our Correspondents.

Communications for publication should be carefully written, and on but one side of the sheet. All letters on business should be addressed to the Editor.

How to Remit.

In sending money, all amounts should be sent in registered letter, post office order or check. The cost of registration, or Post Office order can be deducted from the amount in hand. If money is sent otherwise than herein specified it will be at the sender's risk.

☞ The preachers who wish the ADVOCATE changed will please inform us promptly, from which and to which office the change is to be made.

We were shocked last week by the announcement that a destructive fire in Beaufort had consumed a great portion of the business houses of the town. Twenty-five stores were burned and several residences. Insurance on the buildings was light. The people of the good old town have our sympathies in their calamity.

We surrender the greater portion of our paper this week to the proceedings and appointments of Conference. Both of the editors were in attendance and enjoyed themselves;—and as it seldom happens that both are absent at the same time and the paper left to take care of itself, we trust our readers will pardon the lack of variety which this number exhibits.

The Conference.

The reunion at the Conference held in Wilmington last week, was, as is always the case with Methodist preachers and laymen, pleasant and profitable. Pleasant homes were provided for all—an easy task in so hospitable a city as Wilmington has the distinction of being.

Bishop McTyire presided with ease and ability, and made a very favorable impression upon the Conference and the people of Wilmington.

His sermon on Sabbath morning at Front Street was one of the most practical and appropriate and able discourses we have ever heard at an Annual Conference. As the Conference unanimously requested the sermon for publication in our Conference minutes, we will not attempt to give an analysis of it, inasmuch as we hope our people will soon have an opportunity of reading the entire sermon.

Dr. Craven has been for many years the able and hard working secretary of the Conference and proves as efficient in that capacity as he has shown himself to be in every relation that he has occupied to the Church and society. We are indebted to him for kind courtesies extended to us in the use of his documents and rough minutes of the Conference.

Unfortunately the weather during the week was exceedingly unpleasant, there being scarcely a day when it did not rain copiously. The attendance, however, upon the sessions of the Conference was at all times good. Committee and other work required our attention during the evenings of the week and we had no opportunity of attending the services in the churches at night, but have been assured that the preaching was attractive and good.

Meeting of the Missionary Society.

On Saturday night of Conference week the Front Street Methodist church in Wilmington was filled by a large audience. The meeting was organized under the direction of the Missionary Society with the President, Rev P J Carraway in the chair, and Rev F H Wood acting as Secretary. After religious services conducted by Rev Dr Closs, the Treasurer Jno W Leak, Esq, of the Fayetteville District, read the report of the Missionary collections during the year, by which it appeared that there has been an increase in the amount raised for missions this year over that of last year. The amount collected for Foreign and Domestic missions was reported to be about $4400. The deficiency in the collections for Domestic Missions was announced to be about $300.

Bishop McTyeire and Dr J A Duncan, President of Randolph Macon College had been announced as the speakers for the evening. Bishop McTyeire was unable to be present owing to the late adjournment of the afternoon session of Conference. Dr Duncan was introduced and for an hour swayed the large audience with his powerful and eloquent arguments and appeals in behalf of the darkened nations. Dr Duncan's oratory is of the most graceful and polished style, his ideas being large and brilliant and his elocution nearly approaching, if not reaching, perfection.

A collection for the Missionary cause was taken up and between three and four hundred dollars realized therefrom.

The proposition for a memorial monument to Liberty, to be erected by Frenchman at the entrance of New York harbor, is followed by a proposition from an American resident of Paris for a monument in France to be erected by Americans as a centennial remembrance of the aid rendered us by France one hundred years ago.

Judge Curtis, of the Court of Appeals, has granted a writ of error in the case of Henry D. Denison, charged with Canal frauds.

Grand Lodge F. A M.

SECOND DAY.

The Grand Lodge of Masons of North Carolina met in the Masonic Hall in the Fisher building yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, Grand Master George W. Blount presiding. S. C. Shelton, Senior Grand Warden, appeared and took his seat, and the minutes of the previous day were read and approved.

Brother Mills read his report on the Orphan work, which was referred.

Various special committees on subjects recommended in the Grand Master's address were appointed, and resolutions offered which were referred to appropriate committees.

The reports of the committee on Charters and Dispensations reported favorably on the work of the following Lodges, under dispensation, and charters were granted to them: Numa F. Reid, Snow Creek, Trap Hill, Mount Mourne, Stanley and Apex

The committee on the Grand Secretary's books reported, and recommended the adoption of his suggestion requiring subordinate Lodges to make their returns by the 25th of November.

On motion, the time of meeting of the Grand Lodge was changed from the first Monday to the first Tuesday in December.

Committee No. 3, on Suspensions and Expulsions made a report, which was received and adopted.

A resolution relative to donations to the Orphan Asylum was adopted.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The following officers of the Grand Lodge were last night elected for the ensuing year:

Grand Master—Geo. W. Blount.
S. G. W.—Horace H. Munson.
J. G. W.—R. V. Blackstock.
G. Treasurer—W. E. Anderson.
G. Secretary—Donald Bain.

Mr. J. H. Mills was unanimously re-elected Superintendent of the Orphan Asylums for the next year.

The instal ation of the officers and the dedication of the new Masonic Hall (in which the Lodge is at present holding its sessions) will take place to-night.—DAILY NEWS,

WAKE COUNTY JURY LIST.—At a meeting of the Board of County Commissioners yesterday the following juries were drawn for the January terms of Wake county Superior Court.

First Week.—J H Norris, J Womble, J B Steadman, Jno Norwood, Jas R Young, A Young, (House's Creek township,) Geo G Taylor, N M Mills, J P H Adams, J H Pollard, W R Gower, W J May, J W Fort, J C Gulley, W H Bunch, P C Hardie, S F Bailey, Calvin Holt, Richard Koonce, N B Williams, F J Hartsfield, Thomas H Hill, W H Hart, Henry Raibon, A L Ferrell, A P Cross, Henry Hobby, Henry McDade, colored, John McDade, Z D Ray, F A Whitaker, R B Andrews, C H Beckwith, W J Furgerson, D S Fletcher; and T B Rarely

Second Week.—G S Williams, W G Riddick, J W Smith, Quinlon Adams, (Panther Branch township,) W W Hood, W H J Goodwin, Irvin Pool, J M Monie, J L Stone, Robert Stellings, col., J C Blake, T F Nixon, S Liles, J H Still, J P Beck, Thomas Ward, George Whitaker and A B Freeman.—Daily News.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The Humphrey House at Goldsboro, N. C., under the management of Gregory & Freeman, is unsurpassed by any other hotel in the State. We cheerfully commend the house to the traveling public.

During our stay at Conference in Wilmington, the Senior editor was pleasantly entertained at the Manning House; while the Junior found a delightful home at the house of Preston Cumming, Esq.

We are indebted to the editors of the several daily papers in Wilmington for courtesies shown us during the session of our Conference.

Everything in the food line can be obtained of W. A. Gattis, at his store in the Adams' building, Wilmington street, at the lowest figures. His stock is kept complete all the time, and those wanting goods in his line are requested to call.

General News

HOME.

The present cotton crop, if it can be gathered, will be the largest since the war.

The canals are to be closed on the 10th of December, five days later than last year.

The Welland Canal will not close before the middle of December unless very cold weather sets in.

The guard has been removed from Guilford's grave, as the cement is sufficiently hardened to defy a removal of the body.

The burglar who was shot dead by William H. Searing, while endeavoring to open the Oxford Iron Company's safe in Warren County, N. J., on the night of October 23, has been identified as Ned Hughes, a notorious New York gambler.

The Red River of the North has been closed for the season by ice.

The State census of South Carolina, just completed, shows a total population of 923,447.

Associate Justice Wells, of the Massachusetts Supreme Court, is dead.

Forty students have been expelled from Princeton for refusing to break up a secret society.

Attorney General Pierrepont is of the opinion that Ann Eliza violated the United States statuest when she married Brigham Young, and therefore could not avail herself of her own wrong by suing for alimony and divorce.

The strike of the knitting mill operatives at Amsterdam, N. Y., has ended, they having submitted to the ten per cent. reduction of wages.

Last week there were forwarded to New York from the torpedo station at Newport, R. I, twenty eight large boxes of torpedoes.

The iron business at Reading, Pa., is becoming quite brisk, and there are indications of a general revival of business throughout Eastern Pennsylvania.

A party of Texas State troops have pursued a gang of cattle thieves into Mexico, and had a fight there, the result of which is unknown.

George W. Patterson, ex member of Assembly, and ex Collector of Monmouth County, N. J., has been sentenced to five years' imprisonment, and to pay a fine of $1,000, for embezzling the sum of $13,000.

The wooden bridge over the Schnylkill River at Market-street, Philadelphia, was burned on Saturday, November 20. The fire originated from a defective gas pipe, and the damage amounts to $75,000.

Congress met on the 6th inst. Mr. Kerr of Indiana was elected speaker of the House of Representatives by the Democrats who have control of the House.

"Boss" Wm. Tweed the great New York defaulter made his escape from prison on the 6th inst.

At a regular meeting of McCormick Lodge, No. 228, A F. & A. M. Nov. the 20th 1875, the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas; it has pleased the great Ruler of the Universe to call from labor to reward our Bro. T C. Rosser.

Resolved, That while we humbly submit to the afflictive dispensation of divine providence which has taken from our midst our friend and brother we will ever cherish in our hearts his memory.

Resolved, That in the death of Bro. Rosser this Lodge has lost one of its most consistent members.

Resolved, That we tender to the bereaved family of our dead Bro. our heart felt sympathies in this their sad affliction.

Resolved, That we wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished the family of the deceased Bro., and that a copy be sent to the Raleigh Christian Advocate for publication.

G. W. LUTHER,
B. W. HUNTER,
E YARBOROUGH,
} Com.

We direct special attention to the advertisement of Greensboro Female College which appears in another column.

Marriages.

Married, by Rev P. Greening, at the residence of the bride's father in Union county N. C. Nov. 18th, Mr. W. R. Henson to Miss Martha E. Lemmon, of Union county N. C.

Married, by the same, at the residence of the bride's father, in Cabarrus county, N. C. on Nov 28th, James T. McNames to Miss Margaret L. Lenker of the same county.

Married, on the 6th of Oct. 1875, in Mecklenburg county, N. C by Rev. J. W. Pnett, Mr. Thomas A. Fisher, to Miss Martha A. Hobbs.

By the same, on 25th of November in Gaston county N. C, Lawson A Ballard to Miss Mary A. Ballard.

By the same, on the 30th of Nov. 1875, in Lincoln county N. C. J. W. McIntosh to Miss Frances Hagar.

Married, on the 18th inst. in Stanly county N. C. by R. J. Stone Esq. Mr. D. F. Parker, son of A. Parker, to Miss Hettie Bettie Harris daughter of J. M. and Mary Harris of Stanly.

Married Nov 25th 1875, at the residence of the bride's father in Surry county N. C. by Rev. S M. Davis, Rev. J. B. Maness of the N. C. Conference, to Miss Cornelia F. Evans.

Married on the 2d December 1875 at the residence of the bride's father Wm. Thigpen, by Rev Jas McQueen, Mr Jackson Miller to Miss Elizabeth Ann Thigpen, all of Moore county, N. C.

Letters and Funds.

Rev I F Kecans for N Bingham $3 20, F A Clarke for Mrs M L Barnhardt 2,20 sell 2 20, Rev J T Harris for W T Shipp 2 20, R sell 2,20, P Wingate 2 85, Thomas Wells 2 20, J E Love 2 20 Miss E Miller 2,20 M A Carpenter 2 20 R A Hawkins 2,20 Rev W H Watkins for M Sitterson 2,20 Mrs S Cooper 2,20 Mrs H P Spruill 2 20 Rev T W Smith for K Sessoms 2 20 cash on ac 15 00, Rev P F W Stanley for Isaac Walts 1 35 J Rhyne 2 20 J J C Anders 2 20 A R Anders 2,20 D Hill Ford 2,20 Rev C M Anderson for J Kistler 2,20 N Hoyle 2 20 A Johnson 1.10 Rev R Helton 1.10 E Shuford 2 20 Rev W C Gannon for C Cooper 2 Rev P Greening for Thos L Love 1,35 A W Flanigan 2 20 A Hemby 2,20 R B Klutts 2,20 T A Jerome 2,20 N Leffer 2,20, Rev P J Carraway for G L Moody 2 20 Rev M L Wood for R W Holland 2,20 R L Weaver 1,20 Mrs O Stimpson 2 20 W G Killum sell 1,25 T C Williams for R E Gobbil 2 20, sell 2,20, Old North State ins Co 30, Rev J T Gibbs for Mrs M A Gibbs 2,20 Jos Hodges 2,05 for obituaries 5 00 Rev J F Smoot for G P Smoot 2,60 J D Adams 2,20 Mrs A Vick 2,20 Mrs Elizabeth Powell 3,20 Rev M V Sherrill for A H Smith 2 20, M J Hartsell 2,20 M L Bost 2,20 D Isabaur 1,25 on ac 4,40 Rev B B Culbreth for Mrs F C McCormick 2,20 Rev T H Edwards for D W Reid 2,20 J S Rich 2,20 R Winchester 1,10 Wm Cook 2,20 W B Clark 2,20 Wm Jones 2,20 Mrs S M McNeely 2 20 W L Rone 2,20 M Dove self 2,20 Rev J B Carpenter for J H McKinney 2,20 Rev N S Norton for J C Anderson 1 10 R K Murdock 60 cents Rev D May for Mrs R E Shenault 2 20 M O Sherrill 2 20 Rev J N Andrews for Henry L Edwards 2,20 postage for Mrs C 20 cents Rev G W Ivy for Mrs M M Earnest 1,20 Dr J H Newland 4, T J Johnstone 2,20 S P Bisaner 2 20 M M Huntly 2,20 J M Conley 2,20 J M Honck 2,20 Miss J T Austin 2,20 M Blair 2 20 J H Abernethy 1,15 Rev G H Round 1,20 J Montgomery 2 Rev F D Swindell for Mrs S R Porter, 2,20 Terrell & Bro 2 20, Mrs S Weatherspee 2,20 on ac 7. N M Lawrence 2 20 Mrs E C Williams 2,20 Chas Vines 2,20 Rev Jos Wheeler for Mrs E A Long 2 20 sell 1,20 Rev T P Ricaud for J Ritchey 2 20 A Bosworth 2,20 M T Blalock 2,20 R S Avent 2,20 T S Carter 2,20 Rev J H Wheeler for Mrs I Buckman 2,20 Rev S D Peeler for J C Baker 2,20 J K Wells 2,20. Rev T W Guthrie for subscribers 9,50, Rev T W Smith sell 1, Rev M C Thomas for Jas Fink 2. J Misenheimer 60, C E Sides 60, J Sides 60, Wm Blackwilder 60, A H Wensel 60, R C Lackey 2,20, G W Flowers 2,20, Rev M W Boyles for N M Baker 2,20, A Hinson 2, J Marsh 2 20, J D Marsh 60, Rev S D Adams for subs 5 50. Rev J C Hartsell for Wm Cline 1 10, C M White 2,20, Dr B York 1,10, Rev W H Moore for Miss C Alwaier 2,20, Rev J P Simpson for M A Ormand 2,20, Rev R Moore 2,20, J Speight 2,20, R Smith 2,20, J Exum 2,20. Rev J W Lewis for Mrs St Clair 2,00, Rev E Howland for C W West 2,20, H C Crawford 2,20, W R Maxwell 2,20, D A G Headly 1,10, Rev V A Sharpe for Col J J A Sharpe 2,20, John Sharpe 2,20, Rev J J Renn for S Garris 2,20, S A Thaxton 2,20, A Nichols 2,20, Mrs R E Lyon 2,20, Geo Lougee 2,20, Mrs R P Dowdy 2,20, M L Kaylor 1,20, L Horney 2,20, A Conley 2,20 Thos Martin 2,20 Mrs A J Gilky 2,20, F M Hamlin sell 2,20 B I Powell Rev J Tillett Rev Dr Redford E N Freshman B Abt self 2,20 Mrs Emily C Barnett sell 2,20.

Sudden Changes in the Weather are productive of Throat Diseases, Coughs and Colds. There is no more effectual relief to be found, than in the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches."

A MAN OF A THOUSAND

A CONSUMPTIVE CURED.—When death was hourly expected from CONSUMPTION, all remedies having failed, accident led to a discovery whereby Dr. H. James cured his only child with a preparation of CANABIS INDICA. He now gives this recipe free on receipt of two stamps to pay expenses. There is not a single symptom of consumption that it does not dissipate—Night Sweats, Irritation of the Nerves, Difficult Expectoration, Sharp Pains in the Lungs, Nausea at the Stomach, Inaction of the Bowels, and Wasting of the Muscles. Address Craddock & Co. 1033 Race Street, Philadelphia, Pa., giving name of this paper.

Sept. 29-13t. e o w.

By Racking your Lungs with a Cough, you may irritate them into a condition ripe for the production of tubercles, and then, instead of a curable affection, you will have to deal with Consumption. Dr. Jayne's Expectorant promptly cures all Coughs and Colds, and by imparting vigor to the respiratory organs, enables them to freely throw off all obstructions engendered by neglected Colds, and heals all sore or inflamed parts.

APPOINTMENTS.

SALISBURY DISTRICT.
FOURTH ROUND.

Mt Airy station	Nov.	6-7
Wilkes ct	"	13-14
Salisbury ct	"	20-21
Iredell ct	"	27-28

D. R. BRUTON, P. E.
Statesville, N. C.

GREENSBORO DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Davidson, at Lexington	Nov.	6-7
Madison, Madison,	"	13-14
South Guilford, Franklinville,	"	20-21
Forsyth, Tabor,	"	27-28

N. H. D. WILSON, P. E.
Greensboro, N. C

NEWBERN DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Mt Olive, a. Mt. Olive,	Nov.	6-7
Wilson	"	13-14
Goldsboro.	"	20-21

E. A. YATES, P. E
Beaufort N C.

SHELBY DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Lenoir,	Nov.	6-7
Happy Home,	"	13-14
Newton, Concord	"	20-21
Rock Spring,	"	27-28

R. G. BARRETT, P. E.
Lincolnton, N. C

WILMINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Wilmington Front Street,	Nov.	6-7
Smithville,	"	13-14
Clinton, McGee,	"	20-21
Elizabeth, Wayman,	"	27-28
Wilmington 5th st.	"	30

W. S. BLACK, P. E.
Magnolia N. C

CHARLOTTE DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND.

Tryon st. and Calvary Miss.	Nov.	6-7
Asheville ct	"	13-14
Mt Pleasant st Bethel,	"	20-21
Wadesboro sta.	"	27-28

J. S. NELSON, P. E.
Monroe, N. C.

WASHINGTON DISTRICT.
4TH ROUND IN PART.

Columbia.	Nov.	6-7
Williamston,	"	13-14
Warren,	"	20-21
Roanoke,	"	27-28

WILLIAM CLOSS, P. E.

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

WHOLESALE CASH PRICES.

Office of CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE,
November 30, 1875.

REMARKS.

Business greatly improved. Country produce offered in quantities; especially in exchange for groceries.

COTTON.

Old cotton none. New crop coming to market freely. Tendency downward. We quote: Middlings 12¼ Low middlings 12 1-2 Lower grades none offered.

General Market.

FLOUR, North Carolina $7@6.50.
CORN 1.00
CORN MEAL—100
BAGGING, Standard 15 1-2.
" Dundie 13 1-2.
BACON, N. C. sog round, 14.
" " hams 16 1-2
BULK C. R. sides, 15
" shoulders, 10 to 11
LARD, North Carolina, 16 1-2
" Western tierces, 17 1-2@0
" " kegs, 16 1-2@17 1-2
COFFEE, Prime Rio, 24
" Rio, 22@24
SYRUP, common, 37 1-2
MOLASSES, Cuba, 50.
SALT $2.00.
CHEESE, Cream, 15 16.
" Factory, 17.
" Dairy, none.
NAILS, on basis for 10d, $4.00
SUGAR, A, 13 1-2.
" Extra C, 11 1-4.
" Yellow, 10@11
LEATHER, sole 27 1-2@30
HIDES, green, 7@8.
" dry, 13 1-2
TALLOW, 7@8
POTATOES, sweet 75
" Irish, $1.00@$1.25.
OATS, shelled, 80
" sheaf, $1.80
FODDER, old, $1.50, New 1.25
HAY, N. C. baled, .00
CHICKENS, grown, 20
" young, 20@30
EGGS, 25
BUTTER, country, 25@30
FISH, Mullets, $4 to $5.00.
" Cod Bertinas, 7@7½
" Mackerel, new family, $1.00

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

GREENSBORO FEMALE COLLEGE,
Greensboro, N. C.
The Spring Session of 1876
Will begin on Wednesday, the 12th of January, and continue twenty weeks.

Board (exclusive of washing and lights) $75.
Tuition in regular course, $25.
Charges for extra studies moderate.
For Catalogues containing particulars, apply to Rev. T. M. Jones, President.
N. H. D. WILSON,
President of Board of Trustees.
Dec 8 2m.

Monroe High School,
MONROE, N. C.
Next Session begins Jan. 10th. Building new, large and well adapted.
Health Proverbial. Pupils prepared for College. Board $40 per term. Tuition $15 to 30. Address for circular.
J. D. HODGES
Dec. 8-1 m,

SAMARITAN NERVINE,
The great Nerve Conqueror, cures Epileptic Fits, Convulsions, Spasms, St. Vitus Dance, and all Nervous Diseases; the only known positive remedy for Epileptic Fits. It has been tested by thousands and has never been known to fail in a single case. Trial package free. Enclose stamp for Circulars giving evidence of cures. Address,
Dr S A RICHMOND,
Box 741, St Joseph, Mo.
dec 8-1m.

SITUATION WANTED.
Any one wishing to employ an experienced teacher, qualified to instruct in Higher English, French, Latin, Music, would do well to apply to the undersigned Terms moderate, salary being not so much an object as a pleasant situation. Address, giving reference.
MISS R. E. GOGHILL,
King George C. H Va.

R. H. MACY & CO.
MA 14TH ST. & 6TH AVE. NEW YORK. CY
MA The Largest Importers and retailers in Amert CY
MA ers of Dolls and Toys, and Fancy Goods, CY
MA suitable for Holiday trade. We occupy the CY
MA whole block through from 14th to 15th Street, CY
MA and for 15 years have made Holiday Goods a CY
MA specialty CY
MA Illuminated Centennial Cards sent free to CY
MA any address. Orders attended to with special CY
MA care. CY
MACY MACY MACY MACY MACY MACY
Dec 1-4t

READ THIS
I will give any one an opportunity to make from $5 to $5 per day to work for me. Work can be done at home. A boy 15 years old can do it well. Send stamp for particulars. Apply to
H. POWELL, Warren, R. I.

THE GOLD MEDAL.
The FIRST PREMIUM was awarded to the
Singer Sewing Machine
at the last State Fair in Raleigh.
The sales of the SINGER are the largest.
It is sold on the most LIBERAL TERMS.
A warrant for five years is given with every Machine.
THE SINGER IS ALWAYS RELIABLE.
MME. DeMORESTS PATTERNS
of garments on hand at the office.
CATALOGUE FREE BY MAIL.
Write for Price List of Machines, &c
T. W. HEALD, Manager,
No. 12 Fayetteville St.
Nov 17-tf.

LAW & CO., Atlanta, Ga.
LAW & CO.,
CROCKERY AND GLASS MERCHANTS.
51 FAYETTEVILLE ST., RALEIGH, N. C.
LAW & CO.
LAW & CO., Raleigh, N. C.
Families and Merchants can now find in Raleigh a large assortment of Table, Kitchen and Bedroom articles, at low down prices. Every article made in English Queensware, French China, Glassware, Tea Sets, Bed Room Sets, Dinner Sets, Fine Castors, Spoons and Forks, Rogers' Cutlery, Cut Glass Ware, Trays and Waiters, Tin Chamber Sets, Parlor, Students' and Hall Lamps and Chandeliers, Church Lamps, Bridal Gifts, Birthday Presents and Christmas Gifts. The largest and most varied stock of Goods ever brought to Raleigh. The Celebrated German Students Lamp and Fire Proof "Diamond" Oil—We guarantee all our Goods to be as represented, and our prices are at the lowest point. Catalogues nearly ready.
LAW & CO.

TO CONSUMPTIVES:
The advisor, an old physician, retired from active practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a simple Vegetable Remedy, for the speedy and permanent Cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, and all Throat and Lung Affections, also a Positive and Radical Cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having thoroughly tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, feels it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a conscientious desire to relieve human suffering, he will send (free of charge), to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and successfully using. Sent by return mail, by addressing,
Dr. W. C. STEVENS,
Munroe Block, Syracuse, N. Y.
Nov 24 1 y

PETTY & JONES,
Wonderful But True!
SOMETHING NEW!
The King of Shirts!!
SIX WAMSUTTA MUSLIN SHIRTS, with good $100 Irish Linen Bosoms,
Six different styles in each half dozen,
For $8.00!
Every Shirt guaranteed.
These Shirts are ready for the button-holes and gussets. Any lady can make the button-holes and put in the gussets, and by so doing can save from $1.00 to $1.50 on each shirt.
PETTY & JONES,
We have to-day received additional to our
Stock of Dress Goods
CALICOES, CLOTHS, as CASSIMERS, HOOTS, SHOES, and are now exhibiting one of the most handsome stock of Goods in the city, all of which were bought at the very LOWEST PRICES, and as we sell for small profits, our customers will be sure to get the full value of their money.
Give us a call.
PETTY & JONES,
20 Fayetteville street.
Nov 17-tf.

AGENTS WANTED FOR GRAND NEW BOOK.
PRESENT CONFLICT
of SCIENCE with RELIGION; or,
MODERN SKEPTICISM MET on its OWN GROUND.
The grandest theme and most vital question of the day. By the author of "SCIENCE AND THE BIBLE." Every man, woman, and child wants to read it. It gives the Christian a reason for his Faith, proves the wonderful discoveries of Science in harmony with God's Word, disproves the Tyndall assertions, and destroys the Darwin Theory. It sells beyond all expectation. First agent sold 82, second 47, third 25, first week. First agent 83 second week. Everybody buys it. Avoid the sensational trash advertised by other publishers, and secure territory for this book, that sells because the people need and want it. Send for circular and terms to agents.
P. W. ZIEGLER & CO., 518 Arch st., Philadelphia, Pa.
Dec 1-4t.

GRAND LODGE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
Office of Grand Secretary.
Raleigh, Nov 24, 1875.
THE GRAND LODGE OF FREE and Accepted Masons of North Carolina, will commence its 58th Annual Communication, in this city, on Monday, 6th of December next at 9 o'clock, P. M.
Return tickets can be obtained by officers and representatives on application therefor, over the following named Railroads, viz., at the rates mentioned:
Western North Carolina, Carolina Central; Seaboard & Roanoke Railroads and Dismal Swamp Canal, on payment of one fare to and from and over the following roads at six cents per mile for the Round Trip: Wilmington & Weldon; Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta; and Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta.
Representatives traveling over the lines above mentioned must exhibit their credentials to the Railroad Agents on application for tickets.
The Grand Secretary's certificate of attendance will entitle officers and representatives to return free over all other Railroads in the State, according to arrangements.
It is specially suggested that return tickets are necessary over the roads named to prevent the payment of full fare.

AGENTS! Most Magnificent Gift
EVER OFFERED. LOCAL AGENTS wanted everywhere for THE KING, a weekly family and literary journal, of 16 large pages. Subscription, $1.75. With THE KINGS given away the most splendidly bound quarto volume, entitled American Illustrated, a superb delineation of American scenery. Large commission. Magnificently Illustrated Circular free. Address DAVID WILLIAMS & CO., (Box 3117,) 39 Beekman St., New York. may 5-12m. o m.

AGENTS WANTED FOR
THE LIFE AND LABORS OF
LIVINGSTONE.
INCLUDING HIS LAST JOURNALS.
THE ONLY COMPLETE HISTORY of his thirty years travels in Africa. Vividly portraying his many thrilling adventures and the wonders and wealth of that marvellous country.
805 pages—100 rare Illustrations.
19,000 copies sold in first seven weeks.
For terms and privileges, address,

WELL!
THIS BEATS ALL.
6 WAMSUTTA MUSLIN SHIRTS with Richardson's Round Thread Linen Bosoms and Cuffs for only.....$6.50
12 OF THE SAME for only....$13.00
Nearly Ready Made.
ORDERS PROMPTLY FILLED.
The GREATEST BARGAIN of the age.
W. H. & R. S. TUCKER,
Leaders of Low Prices and Best Goods.
Dec.1-tf.

B. L. BINGHAM & CO.,
Wholesale & Retail Grocers
AND GENERAL
Commission Merchants,
News Building, Nos. 6 & 7 Martin Street,
RALEIGH, N. C.
We have in store and to arrive the largest and best selected stock of Groceries in the city, the prices of which we guarantee as low as the lowest.
300 sacks Family and Extra flour.
75 kegs Old Dominion Nails.
100 sacks Marshall's Factory filled Salt (24 lbs.)
24 Kegs best Soda.
35 cases Concentrated Lye.
20 barrels sugar, all grades.
50 barrels New Crop Cuba Molasses.
10 sacks Coffee.
40 boxes Grkos and Crackers.
30 cases Soap.
20 cases Brandy Peaches.
30 boxes Candy.
300 bunches Cotton Yarns.
40 boxes best Cream Cheese
Also a large supply of
BAGGING,
TIES,
BOOTS, SHOES,
BULK MEAT,
LARD,
RICE,
HAMS,
&c, &c, &c.
We take this opportunity of thanking our old friends and customers for the very liberal patronage they have bestowed upon us, and from having perfected our arrangements, think we will be able to continue to sell them goods that will be satisfactory both as to quality and price. We have now with us obliging and willing assistants, who are ready to serve any one with prices and fidelity.
Prompt attention given to all orders and goods promptly shipped.
Very Respectfully,
B. L. BINGHAM & CO.
Nov 3-tf.
A. G. LEE. ED. H. LEE. CLE R. LEE.

A STRICTLY COMMISSION HOUSE.
A. G. LEE & SONS.
RALEIGH, N. C.
Cotton is our Specialty.
We can always obtain the highest market price, and ask our friends who find it inconvenient to accompany their lots to the market to try us. We can bank New York in the nett proceeds of your cotton.
When you bring your cotton to market yourself give us a chance at it. We have orders to fill and can pay the very highest market price for it. Be sure to call and see us before you sell.
We are the Agents for
The SCHOFIELD COTTON PRESS, the best invented.
A. G. LEE & SONS.
P. O. Box 222, Raleigh, N. C.
sep 1-tf

COTTON TIES.
Something New, But Old!
We have now the agency for the sale of the "Providence Pieced Cotton Tie," in towns along the R. & Air-Line Railroad to Fayetteville along the R. & D. Railroad to Goldsboro; thence to Weldon and Branlord and along the R. & G. Railroad to Weldon and are now offering this Tie at 4 1-2 cents per pound in car load lots, delivering in any depot in our section.
This Tie is newly done over, put up into bundles same size and weight as the Arrow Tie and use the Arrow buckle. Each broken one is neatly mended with two rivets, which makes it doubly strong.
Most parties who used them last season say they much prefer them to new ones considering the difference in cost.
All orders for shipments within the next two weeks can get Sixty days, they paying freight on arrival and deducting same from bill when due.
Orders from merchants and large dealers respectfully solicited.
A. G. LEE & SONS, Agts.,
Raleigh, N. C.
oct 13 tf.

THE JAS. LEFFEL
Double Turbine Water Wheel,
Manufactured by
POOLE & HUNT,
Baltimore, Md.
7,000 NOW IN USE!
Simple, Strong, Durable, always reliable and satisfactory.
Manufacturers, also, of Portable & Stationary Engines, Steam Boilers, Saw & Grist Mills, Mining Machinery, Gearing for Cotton Mills, Flour, Paint, White Lead and Oil Mill Machinery, Hydraulic and other Presses, &c. Shafting, Pulleys and Hangers a specialty. Machine made Gearing of the best and of very best finish. Send for [illegible]
mch 24-12m.

Stonewall Jackson.
We understand that the well known publishing house of D. APPLETON & CO., New York, have nearly ready for publication the LIFE OF STONEWALL JACKSON, fully illustrated by view and portraits, including the orations and scenes attending the unveiling of Foley's Statue of Stonewall Jackson at Richmond. We advise all, especially disabled soldiers and women out of work, to write to the publishers at once and secure an agency, as the work is to be sold by subscription. It will have a large sale.
Nov 24 3-t

GOOD PAY. WANTED! GOOD PAY.
CANVASSERS in every place for the
ILLUSTRATED CHRISTIAN WEEKLY,
$2 50 IN ADVANCE, POSTPAID.
A Treasury of Good Things every week with Beautiful Engravings, published by the AMERICAN TRACT SOCIETY.
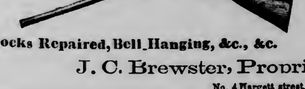
Applications, accompanied by undoubted recommendations, may be made to
T. L. B. WALFORD, 914 Main St., Richmond, Va.
SOUTHERN BRANCH,
American Tract Society and general Sunday School and Religious Book Depository
914 MAIN STREET
Richmond Va.,
All Books sold at publishers prices, and liberal discount allowed to the trade.
Special attention given to the selection of S. S. Libraries, and every Book we select warranted to

I N S T O R E .
A full line of the FAMOUS WAMSUTTA SHIRTS, the very best Shirt made—warranted to fit perfectly, or no sale.
KEEP'S PATENT
PARTLY-MADE DRESS SHIRTS.

Or Six for $7.50!
Only $15 Per Dozen!
All those who have been waiting for them can now be supplied.
Send to any address on receipt of price. The size of collar is the only measure necessary to insure a fit.
SOLE AGENTS, R. B. ANDREWS & CO.,
Clothiers, Raleigh, N. C.

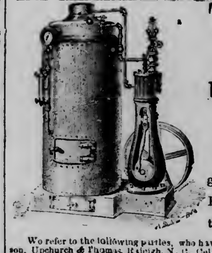
OUR STOCK OF FALL AND WINTER CLOTHING FOR MEN & BOYS
is LARGE and COMPLETE in every department. The Largest Stock and Lowest Prices go together here
R. B. ANDREWS & CO.,
Clothiers and Gents' Furnishers,
nov 3-3m. Raleigh, N. C.

JUST ARRIVED AT THE
RALEIGH STOVE HOUSE
Another car load of the old reliable
COTTON KING STOVE;
No Better Stove Can be found in the City!
Every one warranted! Call early and get one!
RANGERS, HEATERS and all kinds of COOKING UTENSILS,
FRANKLIN GRATES, PARLOR STOVES, WHICH ARE GEMS OF BEAUTY,
TIN WARE, LAMPS, OILS, WOOD AND WILLOW WARE,
CUTLERY AND HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS.


Guns and Locks Repaired, Bell Hanging, &c., &c.
J. C. Brewster, Proprietor.
Oct 6 tf No. 4 Hargett street, Raleigh, N. C.

OLD NORTH STATE HARDWARE AND
HOUSE FURNISHING STORE,
No. ___ Martin and Market Streets,
RALEIGH, N. C.
I am now receiving my FALL STOCK for 1875, consisting of a full line of
HARDWARE.
Hollow Crockery, Wood and Willow Ware;

Also a large stock of Cooking, Parlor and Heating STOVES.
Would call particular attention to those persons who are in want of a first-class Cook stove to my new design for wood, made expressly for this market, which I have named the
"Old North State."
FIVE SIZES—NOS. 6, 7, 8, 9, 10.
The No. 6 I will sell for $10.00, complete with pipe and furniture. No. 7 for $25.00 and other Nos. at corresponding prices. Every Stove sold will be warranted to give entire satisfaction. Do not fail to call and look at the Stoves before making purchases.
Also in stock will be found a full line of
Lamp Chimneys,
Wicks, Pratt's Astral
and Kerosene Oils.
Having purchased my entire stock at very low prices I can offer inducements to those in want of anything in my line. An examination of my stock and prices is solicited. Goods marked in plain figures.
C. A. HART,
Market and Martin Streets, directly opposite "The Daily News Office,"
Sept 18-tf. RALEIGH, N. C.



THE HOPE ENGINE,
MANUFACTURED BY
McCallum, Wyckoff & Hope,
RALEIGH, N. C.
At the N. C. State Fair, 1874, the "Hope Engine" received the GOLD MEDAL, as the best Steam Engine for general use, and the SILVER MEDAL as the best Vertical Engine.
We refer to the following parties, who have our HOPE ENGINE in use: Wm. G. Upch

Children's Column.

MORNING HYMN.

The morning bright
With rosy light
Hath waked me up from sleep;
Father, I own
Thy love alone
Thy little one doth keep.

All through the day,
I humbly pray
Be Thou my guard and guide;
My sins forgive
And let me live,
Blest Jesus, near Thy side.

O! make me rest
Within Thy breast,
Great Spirit of all grace;
Make me like Thee,
Then shall I be Prepared to see Thy face.

The Little Beggar.

A ragged, sad eyed boy, aged nine or ten, stopped me on the street the other day and said:

'I haven't had anything to eat this whole day! Won't you please give me ten cents?'

I gave it to him. I'd have given him the money if it had been necessary to pawn my hat.

'Do you let impostors swindle you in that manner?' inquired an acquaintance, a journalist who has knocked around for a daily paper a dozen years and has seen every phase of human life. Men, women and children have swindled him, or sought to; people have lied to him; his money has been given vagrants who told direful tales of distress, and he ought to be able to correctly read human nature.

'I'll bet that boy is a professional beggar,' continued my friend, chuckling at the idea of my being swindled.

None of us care for the loss of a shin plaster on the street, while every one feels vexed and annoyed at the idea of being swindled out of a single penny. I could not say that the boy was not a swindler, and yet I would have divided my last shilling with him.

'Why?,

I told my friend why, and I will tell you.

One day last year when the wild wind blew the snow over the house roofs and around the corners in blinding cloud; and when the frosty air cut one's face like a knife, a boy of ten came up to me as I waited for the car. He was thinly clad, his face betrayed hunger and suffering, and in a mournful voice he pleaded:

'I'm hungry and cold!'

'Why don't you go home?' I asked.

'I haven't any!'

'Haven't you any relatives!'

'Not one!

'How long have you been here?'

'Three weeks'

The boy spoke in that drawl which professional beggars assume. I believed too, that I had seen his face on the streets time and again. I hardened my heart and said:

'Boy! I know you, and if I catch you asking any one for money again I'll have you arrested!

He moved away quickly. I argued that this proved his guilt, forgetting that a homeless waif might evince fear when entirely innocent.

Five hours later, when night had come and the wind had grown to a fierce gale, the boy halted me again as I plunged through the snow drifts. I did not see him until he called out:

'Mister! I'm almost starved, and I'll freeze to death if I can't get some place to sleep!'

The same thin, ragged clothes, hardly comfortable enough for June weather—the same whine to his voice. I felt like giving him money, but the fear that he had been sent out by his parents to beg restrained and angered. Catching him by the arm, I yelled out:

'See here, boy! if you don't own up that you are lying to me I'll take you to the station!'

Through the blinding storm I saw his white face grow paler, and he cried back:

'Don't take me—don't! Yes, I was lying!'

I released him and he harried away while I walked on, flattering myself that I had played a sharp game and done the generous public a good turn.

An hour later, when the night had grown still and wilder and cold, some one knocked at my door. It was a timid knock, and I wondered who could have sent a child abroad on such a night When I opened the door that same boy was on the step, his face blue with cold, his whole form shivering and a look of desperation in his eyes.

'Please, mister!'—he began, but stopped when recognizing me.

I was puzzled to know why he should have followed me home—why he had selected me for a victim and trailed me so persistently. I might have argued that the storm had driven people of the streets, and that the freezing, starving boy had in his desperation called at the house, but I didn't. Had it been any other boy or any other person asking charity I would have given promptly and freely. But I was angry at his trailing me—angered that he thought he could swindle me, and I grabbed at him and inquired:

'Boy, what is your name?'

He leaped back, and, standing where the furious storm almost buried him from sight, he answered:

'Gill!'

I know you, sir! I shouted and he moved away without another word.

May the Lord forgive me for that night's work! but you might have act after a nig' [illegible] The police men were frozen on their beats, I opened the front door to find that boy dead on the steps, frozen to death! I knew, as the dead white face looked up at me through the snow, that I had wronged him with my suspicions, but it was too late then—the angels had opened to him a gate leading to a place where the human heart and its unworthy thoughts can never enter. Poor Gill. A warm meal or a shilling would have saved his life, and I drove him out to his death.

This is why I give when I am asked now I know that I sometimes give to the unworthy, but it would be better to give all I possessed to an impostor than to have another homeless waif creep back to die on the spot where I had unjustly accused him.

A Valuable Medical Treatise.

Hostetter's United States Almanac for 1876 for distribution, gratis, throughout the United States and civilized countries of the Western Hemisphere, will be published about the first of January, in the English, German, French, Norwegian, Danish, Swedish, Dutch, Bohemian, and Spanish languages, and will contain a treatise on prevention and cure of each and every variety of disease. It embraces a large amount of information interesting to the merchant, mechanic, the miner, the farmer, the plant raiser, the professional man; and the conditions of health and disease for each occupation and latitude are most carefully set forth in language which any one of ordinary common sense can understand. The work will be illustrated with numerous engravings, which will add to the extent of exhausting the two millions already printed. Over forty thousand copies have been made for each occupation and latitude, so as to meet satisfactorily for a correct and comprehensive National Medical Work.

The nature, uses, and extraordinary sanitary effects of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the stable and alterative of more than half the Christian world, are duly set forth in its pages, which are for that period the undoubtedly most widely circulated medium through which physicians have been made acquainted with the excellencies of a proprietary medicine. The Bitters have been made for such occasions and latitudes as are most suitable

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Bobbitt & Gray, Publishers. | Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina. | $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Vol. XXI.---No. 49. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, December 15, 1875. | Whole No. 1,087.

Selected Poetry.

The Touch of Nature.

BY JOHN R. THOMPSON.

Two armies covered hill and plain
Where Rapp hannock's waters
Ran deeply crimsoned with the stain
Of battle's recent slaugh ers.

The summer clouds lay pitched like tents
In mcads of heavenly pasture,
And each dread gun of the elements
Slept in its bid embrasure.

The breeze so softly blew it made
No forest leat to quiver,
And the smoke of the random cannonade
Rolled slowly from the river.

And now where circling hills looked down
With cannon dimly planted,
O'er listless camp and silect town,
The golden sunset slanted.

When on the fervid air there came
A strain now rich, now tender,
The music seemed itself all-tame
With nays departing splendor.

A Federal band, which eve and morn
Played measures brave and nimble,
Had just struck up with flute and horn
And lively clash of cymbal.

Down flocked the soldiers to the banks
Till margined by the pebbles,
One wooded shore was blue with Yanks,
And one was gray with Rebels.

Then all was still, and then the band
With movement light and tricksy,
Made stream and forest, hill and strand,
Reverberate with "Dixie."

The conscious stream, with burnished glow
Went proudly over its pebbles,
But thrilled throughout its deepest flow
With yelling of the Rebels.

Again a pause, and then again
The trumpet pealed a measure,
And "Yankee Doodle" was the strain
To which the shore gave chorus.

The laughing ripples shoreward flow
To kiss the shining pebbles—
Loud shrieked the crowding Boys in Blue
Defiance to the Rebels.

And yet once more the bugle sang
Above the stormy din;
No shout upon the evening rang
There reigned a holy quiet.

The sad, lone stream its noiseless flood
Spread over the glistening pebbles;
All silent now the Yankees stood,
All silent stood the Rebels.

For each responsive soul and heard
That plaintive tune appealing,
So dearly "Home, sweet Home," had stirred
The hidden founts of feeling.

Of blue or gray, the soldier sees,
As by the wand of fairy,
The cottage in the live-oak trees,
The cottage by the prairie.

Or cots on wood or native skies
Bend in their beauty o'er him,
Sending the tear-mist in his eyes—
The dear ones stand before him.

As fades the iris after rain
In April's tearful weather,
The vision vanished as the strain
And daylight died together.

But memory, waked by music's art
Expressed in simplest numbers,
Subdued the stoutest Yankee's heart,
Made right the Rebel's slumbers.

And fair the form of Music shines,
That bright celestial creature,
Who still 'mid war's embattled lines
Gave this one touch of nature.

Communicated.

For the Advocate.

Church Etiquette.

NO. 2.

To my mind, there is no more solemn occasion presenting itself to man than in prayer—prayer to God. What is prayer? It is in its best senses a communion with God. Therefore when we would approach into God's presence, it should be with deepest humility, with the sincerest reverence, —the intensest solemnity. I never take His holy name within my lips without feeling that I in some way should humble myself. Always in our humility we wish,—we deserve—sympathy—we deserve respect. To us, and to all true christians, there is no graver offence against good manners in church than misbehaviour during the moments of prayer. I have been astonished that some people could preserve a stolid indifference during its occasion. I have seen some ladies who did not bow even during any church prayer. I have concluded that it was in consequence of two things: Sometimes the floors of country churches are so dusty that the person's garments will become indecently soiled in consequence of kneeling; sometimes the goadings of fashion will not allow any inclination of the body, bound up in steel and whalebone—and ladies must be fashionable.

But there is no good excuse for gentlemen not kneeling in church—unless sometimes in consequence of a jam in the pews. Many of us know a brilliant minister who—no matter how dusty the floor—kneels upon his linen handkerchief. To some it is a matter of pride—to others a sense of decency and decorum, and economy; for linen is more easily cleaned of dust than docskin pants.

So much respect have I for prayer that when even my youngest prattler repeats his "Now I lay me down to sleep," there is silence and reverence in the house. People should always be taught to treat occasions of prayer with the most solemn of emotions. I have known bad mannered young girls and boys—I cannot say ladies and gentlemen—tittering and corresponding with each other during prayer. This is the height of ill manners, and is intensely sinful also.

It is decorous and just to observe the customs and rules of the churches in which you may chance to worship when away from your own. Methodists when in Episcopal churches should, if possible and convenient, go through the service from the Prayer Book; if in Presbyterian Churches it is right and best to stand with the congregation in prayer. I cannot go so far as to say that should a Methodist go to a Catholic Cathedral he should prostrate himself on the brick pavement and go through the genuflections of the Papal followers. I suppose when even a Methodist does go to the Cathedral, he goes there from other than pious and reverential motives—I infer that he goes from curiosity. If he does, of course he should be polite and profoundly respectful to the worshipers, and not behave as in the theatre—for Methodists do sometimes go to theatres.

No well bred person ever presumes to enter the church during prayers, except under the most pressing of necessities. Of course all rules yield to exceptional influences—the priest ate the show bread at a time when it was not lawful to do so, but was justified. If on your arrival at the church door you find the congregation at prayer,—if your heart is with the worshipers—you will take off your hat, and with devout bearing, follow the minister in his supplications, and give God both heart and mind, the same as if in your pew within. It is bad manners to stand outside and retail anecdotes with irreligious men, and laugh and disturb the worshippers within.

Good manners require us to be at our places in church promptly, at seasonable hours—late comers are sure of annoying somebody. But when the service is over, it is not good manners to rush out—quietness and gentleness should characterize God's people.

These reflections are probably dull, homely and very uncalled for by the majority of the readers of this paper; but yet there are people in the world who misbehave at church, or who do not know what is always required while there; and these must be reached in some manner. In the parable of the sower we do not read that too many seed fell in one place. I hope that some of the thoughts which I am scattering will fall in good ground, and bring forth good fruit. I have a few more handfuls to scatter yet.

M.

For the Advocate.

MAXIMS AND VIRTUES.

Alphabetical Rules Worthy of Adoption.

Actions make a man's character—not his words. Argue not with fools and bigots.

Benevolence on all worthy occasions.

Cheerfulness and consistency in character, and charity for all men's opinions.

Duty must be done under all circumstances.—Despise nothing except sin.

Earnestness in all religious duties especially.

Fidelity in all friendships and trusts.

Gratitude to God for all his good gifts.

Hopefulness in all times of trial and sorrow.

Innocence and Independence: have a business of your own if possible.

Justness in all dealings.

Kindness of heart and manner.

Loving and laboring: the great laws of life.

Mercifulness in all times of power.

Neatness but not extravagance in every habit.

Obedience to lawful authority. Order and system in business operations.

Patience and purity and punctuality in all promises.

Quail not at the devil's finger; and quietly submit to the ways of Providence.

Reverence for God and Religion.

Sincerity and sweetness of temper.

Truthfulness and temperance in all things.

Understand thoroughly, if possible, your calling and profession.

Venture never into the habitations of vice and sin.

Willingness and wishing to learn the truth and the right.

Excusing yourself when temptations assail you.

Yearning after righteousness.

Zealousness in all well doing.

HATS OFF.—Off with your hat my boy, when you enter the house. Gentlemen never keep their hats on in the presence of ladies, and if you always keep yours off when mamma and the girls are by, you will not forget yourself, or be mortified when a guest or stranger happens to be in the parlor. Habit is stronger than any thing else, and you will always find that the easiest way to make sure of doing right on all occasions, is to get in the habit of doing right. Good manners can not be put on at a moment's warning.

Bishop Enoch George.

BY THE REV. J. L. GILDER.

Bishop George, little known to the present generation, was among the most remarkable men that Methodism has produced. When in my boyhood I knew him, he was well stricken in years. His venerable and patriarchal appearance and manners deeply impressed me. His frame was massive. He was tall, broad shouldered, full chested, and sightly inclined to corpulence. His face was broad, his forehead prominent, his eyes deeply sunken, while his abundant hair, mixed with gray, hung carelessly about his neck. The principal defect in his feature was the nose, which was large and unduly depressed. There was gravity and solemnity in his countenance, without the slightest tinge of gloom. He appeared as one conscious of the awful responsibility of his office as a legate of the skies. His voice was deep, clear and melodious, modulated by the topic on which he dwelt; now melting by its pathos, now arousing by its earnestness, and attracting attention by its pleading cadences.

His mind partook largely of the characteristics of his body, showing strength, energy and roundness As a preacher he ranked high. His sermons were listened to with the greatest interest. They were distinguished for naturalness, simplicity, directness and pathos. He was frequently spoken of as the the weeping prophet. Attimes he was intensely emotional, and would exhibit his feeling in his tones and his tears.

He excelled in climacteric declamation. During a sermon I heard him preach in Philadelphia he had been contrasting the glories of heaven with the sorrows of earth, and referring to the final deliverance and triumph of the Christian, he suddenly exclaimed, his voice rising with every sentence, "Brethren it will be glory, glory above glory, glory beyond glory, glory exceeding glory, glory transcending glory." This, though tautological, had all the effect of a climax by reason of the increasing volume and inflexion of the voice. He carried his hearers with him in the ascent. Every heart was stirred, every eye was moistened, and from every part of the house could be heard ejaculations of praise and exultation.

Bishop George began his itinerant ministry in 1789 under the direction of Bishop Asbury, when but twenty one years of age. His labors were arduous, his sacrifices great. In common with his brethren he was subjected to privation and persecution, and while many of them, disheartened, retired from the itinerancy, he eschewed all considerations of ease and safety. One object alone engaged his attention: the extension of Christ's kingdom: and to this he devoted himself with a zeal that no waters could quench.

By his devotion, his consistency, his prudence and his success, he won the confidence of his brethren, and in 1816 he was elected to the episcopacy. In this new relation, he was the same humble, devout, self-denying, earnest and unostentatious man as before. He ruled with simplicity, and exacted nothing of others that he was unwilling to perform or endure himself. His responsibilities and labors were increased. The entire superintendency at this time devolved upon the Bishops and there being no division of the work, as now, they traveled over the whole continent.

Bishop George found the office no sinecure. He made this record: "I found the office of an American superintendent, or Bishop, is the most arduous and responsible in the Church. He who discharges the duties of this office will find no time for loitering or self indulgences." He was eminently a holy man. His devoutness attracted general observation Holiness glowed in his countenance, expressed itself in his conversation, and in fact pervaded his entire spirit and manner. Referring to the distinctive doctrines of Christianity he wrote, "I have wondered how rational beings, with the volume of nature and oracles of God open before them, could object to any of them, especially that of Christian perfection."

The children where he visited never failed to secure recognition and receive instruction. Mrs. Vancleve, wife of the Rev. C. S. Vancleve, pastor of the Centenary Church, Long Branch, New Jersey, retains a distinct remembrance of the Bishop's being at the house of her father, Joshua Bunn, Esq., Pennington, New Jersey, when she was a very little girl. Taking her upon his knee he said words she has never forgotten: "You must go to school to get wisdom, learn to work to get a living, learn to pray to get religion, and then you will grow up to be a fine girl."

At the close of the General Conference of 1826 he proceeded South to attend the Southern Conferences. Three months had hardly intervened ere he ceased at once to work and live. A violent attack of dysentery suddenly prostrated him. He seemed from the first apprehensive of its fatality, but, nothing daunted, he was tranquil and joyful. To some of the preachers who were sitting with him he said: "Brethren, you must excuse me, I am too weak to talk to you. All I can say is, if I die I am going to glory; for this I have been living forty years." When all hope of recovery became extinct, he said to his physician, "I shall soon be in glory." On seeing some of his brethren enter his room, he raised his arms to embrace them and said: "Brethren, rejoice with me; I am going to glory." Thus he continued joyful in the Lord, until in the exuberance of his feelings he clapped his hands in ecstacy and exclaimed, "Shout glory to God! the best of all is God is with us." On the 23d day of August, 1828, he peacefully fell asleep in Jesus, "Absent from the body; present with the Lord."

Thus lived and labored and suffered and departed a man who impressed his character upon the Church and its institutions while in her formative state, and whose memory is deserving of being rescued from the oblivion to which it has been consigned.—N. Y. Methodist.

The Reality of Christ's Life.

When we look at the picture of Christ in the New Testament and see him moving through the "forty days" and the "forty hours" of sorrow, we are wont to lose the signification of this great struggle by so exalting the divine as to make it sweep away the human and to make Christ only an actor upon a stage. His temptation seems slight, his suffering slight, his tears only illustrative of what man ought to shed. There is such a feeling that there must have been in Christ such a sense of unused power, such a knowledge of what he could do if only it were best for the scheme of salvation, that before this feeling the thrilling scenes in his life become only the successive acts in a well performed drama. But we must never exalt the divine at the expense of the sincere. Far better place Christ down among dependent, helpless beings, than suffer any of the scenes of the New Testament to lie in our minds as pieces of a drama or a pantomime. Apparent temptation, apparent grief, apparent agony in the garden, apparent struggling for character, are not what the world needs to see. It has enough of the hypothetical without finding any in the temptation or olive garden. To solve the enigma of the sufferings of a God, some of the early theologians held to the idea of two souls as existing in Jesus. But how they solved their two-souled enigma I know not. We must all escape the influence of those old theories. Christ passed along, not in a representative art like that of the drama, or of the painter, or sculptor, but he moved along in the same paths of trial, and courage, and effort, and sublime heroism as those along which human hearts in our day must move The life was real, the triumph was real. Otherwise divinity is made the ally of pretence and deception. Christ is a real chapter from the book of life.—David Swing.

Batting.

"A he goat came out of the west.... and he smote the ram, and brake his two horns, and cast him down, and stamped upon him."—Daniel viii. 7.

That was a ferocious goat. He butted the horns off the ram; butted him after he was down; and stamped upon him. Rough usage, and yet we have no sympathy with that ram. He was merely beaten at his own game. He tried his best to butt the horns off the goat, and would have been very glad to knock him over and stamp upon him if he could. Neither do we have any respect for the goat. No doubt he usually appeared very solemn and wise, but he was not satisfied with pummeling the ram. He charged around in every direction so that none could stand before him. We were about to say that we would be glad if he had broken his vicious head against a wall or a post; but that is just what he did do. He battered himself into perpetual imbecility against the cliffs of Thermopylæ, and against the sturdy Leonidas.

There are not a few of that kind of goats left in the world Goats are climbers. They have a curious proclivity for getting into conspicuous places. and they are often successful. Many large flocks contain several of them, and they are forever exhibiting their caprine ugliness by butting somebody. They butt the pastor, butt the choir, butt the deacons and butt around in the church promiscuously, and all the time they look preternaturally serious and pious. Sometimes they get to banging each other, and then the noise and tumult they raise is enough to break up a whole congregatation, and sometimes a whole denomination. Whenever there is a quarrelling and battering going on in a church, local or general, it may be set down as a certainty that some of Daniel's goats are at work.—Christian at Work.

Mr Moody and the Skeptical Lawyer.

At one of his meetings in Brooklyn, Mr Moody narrated with telling effect the circumstances attending the conversion of a prominent Western Judge of sceptical sentiments, whose Christian wife had been praying for him for a long time. She had requested Mr. Moody when he was quite a young man to talk to her husband.—He said it was no use, for the Judge was more than a match for him in argument; but yielding to her persistent entreaties he proceeded to the Judge's office, and upon telling him his errand, the old man laughed at him. He, however, promised with a good deal of sarcasm in his tone to write and let Mr. Moody know when he was converted. Special prayer was offered for this man at the Fulton street prayer meeting and other places; and when Mr. Moody returned to the town, while sitting with a friend, the Judge was announced and soon communicated the pleasing news that he was converted. At Mr. Moody's earnest request he related to him the story of the marvellous change which was in substance that one night his wife went to prayer meeting and during her absence he began to think, "Suppose my wife is right; that there is a heaven and a hell, and that she and my children are going to heaven and I am not?" Conviction seized upon him and he commenced to pray. He retired before his wife returned and pretended to be asleep while she prayed for him. Rising early in the morning he told her he did not feel very well, and without waiting for breakfast, proceeded to his office.—He told his clerks they might have a holiday, and shutting himself up in the office prayed that God for Christ's sake would take away the great load of guilt, and soon the burden rolled off. He told his wife that he was a new man, and they both kneeled in prayer, thanking God for his great goodness. Upon his return to America Mr. Moody inquired if the Judge stood firm? He was informed that he had passed gloriously from earth and was now standing at the right hand of God.

Impolite Things.

1 Loud and boisterous laughter.
2. Reading when others are talking.
3. Reading aloud in company without being asked
4. Talking when others are reading.
5. Spitting about the house, smoking, or chewing.
6. Cutting finger nails in company.
7. Leaving a church before public worship is closed.
8. Whispering or laughing in the house of God.
9. Gazing rudely at strangers.
10. Leaving a stranger without a seat.
11. A want of respect and reverence for seniors.
12 Correcting older persons than yourself, especially parents.
13. Receiving a present without an expression of gratitude.
14 Making yourself the hero of your own story.
15. Laughing at the mistakes of others.
16. Joking of others in company.
17. Commencing talking before others have finished speaking.
18. Answering questions that have been put to others.
19. In not listening to what one is saying in company—unless you desire to show open contempt for the speaker. A well bred person will not make an observation whilst another of the company is addressing himself to it.—Educational Depository.

A NOVELTY.—A railroad feature of the Centennial will be a number of peculiarly constructed and commodious cars, now being made by the Cumberland Valley Railroad Company, to run to the Centennial grounds over their own and the Pennsylvania railroad. These passenger cars will have their seats numbered, and directly over each seat will be a receptacle provided with a lock and key, to which a check is attached, and on this check a number is stamped which corresponds with the number of the seat he occupies.

When the excursionist reaches Philadelphia or the Centennial grounds, he can lock up any portion of his bag gage, and thus leave it in safety in the cars. They will be run upon a siding near the Centennial buildings, and the excursionist can depart from the train and return to it at will to unlock his closet and put in or take out food or clothing or any other article. When the train returns the clerk and key are taken up by the conductor with the ticket.

The Free Church Record estimates that outside the bounds of Christendom, there are 4,000 centres of Christian work and gospel teaching, 2,500 congregations, 173,000 communicants, and 1,350,000 nominal Christians.

The Chinese at Home.

THE domestic and social life of the Chinese has perhaps, more features in common with Western nations than that of other Oriental peoples. Although polygamy exist among the wealthier classes, and their women generally live in seclusion, family life is much esteemed and cultivated among them. The first wife has the full control of the household, while the concubines are little more than servants and housemaids. The Chinese illustrate the relation by comparing the wife to the moon and the concubines to the stars, both of which, in their appropriate spheres, revolve around the sun. The utmost respect and obedience to the behests of their parents are enjoined to children. The betrothment of the children is entirely in the hands of the parents, and the obligation of, the former to fulfill the contract made by the latter is enforced by law, even to the annulling of an agreement made by a son himself in ignorance of the arrangements of his parents. Cleanliness is not among the virtues of the Chinese, either in regard to their habitations or their persons. The poorest people do not change their garments until they are worn out. Their dress is neither so uniform nor so unchanging as is generally supposed. Fashions alter there as well as elsewhere, but not so rapidly as among European nations. If it were not for the shaven crown and braided tail of the men, and the crippled feet of the women, little fault could be found with their costume, combining as it does warmth and ease. The garments of the sexes differ more by their colors than by their shape and cut. The diet of the Chinese is sufficient in variety, wholesome, and well cooked, though many of their dishes would appear insipid to the taste of Europeans and Americans.

The proportion of animal food is probably smaller among them than among any other race in the same latitudes. Cooking is almost esteemed as a science in China. The China man considers the Englishman's mode of feeding the nearest approach to that of the savages of Formosa; "for," says he, "the Englishman does the chief work of the slaughter-house upon his dinner-table, and he remits the principal work of the kitchen to his stomach."—Appletons' American Cyclopædia, revised edition, article "China."

Multum in Parvo.

Never take your Christianity from Christians, but ask yourself. "How would the Lord have me act?" and follow him.

The color of our whole life is generally such as the first three or four years in which we are our own masters make it.

The praises of others may be of use in teaching us not what we are, but what we ought to be.

Language is the amber in which a thousand precious thoughts have been safely imbedded and preserved.

Live as long as you may; the first twenty years are the longest half of your life.

A soul occupied with great ideas best performs small duties.

God hands gifts to some, whispers them to others.

While just government protects all in their rights, true religion affords the government its surest support.

Beware of biting jets; the more truth they carry with them the greater wounds they give, the greater smarts they cause, and the greater scars they leave behind them.

Like flakes of snow, that fall unperceived upon the earth, the seemingly unimportant events of life succeed one another. As the snow gathers together, so are our habits formed. No single flake that is added to the pile, produces a sensible change. No single action creates, however it may exhibit, a man's character; but as the tempest hurls the avalanche down the mountain, and overwhelms the inhabitant and his habitation, so passion, acting upon the elements of mischief, which pernicious habits have brought together by imperceptible accumulation, may overthrow the edifice of truth and virtue.—Bentham.

A few years ago this whole nation was startled with the horrible story told of one of the ladies in Baltimore, who had poisoned her guest at the supper table, putting the poison in the cup she hold to his lips. Do not some of our Christian women some times do that? Have not delicate hands held out the very cup which, in due time, was to poison a beloved one? I beg you, dear sisters, to take this thought home to your hearts, and never under any pretense, for any purpose, set such an example whereby your brother might stumble or be made weak.

You can live up to your Bible income, the more you spend the more you have.

Gems from Moody.

They say in England if a man walks he must be poor, if he sometimes calls a cab he must bo bettter off, if one footman rides behind him he is rich, but if two are on the back of his carriage he must have a great inheritance. God has no poor children; they all have great inheritances, two footmen are always behind. "Goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life." Or goodness and mercy may be called God's watch dogs, following in the rear.

I wondered how the shepherds in the East could know every sheep of their flock individually, till one told me that one has a little spot, that one has a large piece out of his ear, that one has a bruised foot, etc. He knows some defect in each. So God knows all his sheep, not by their perfectness, but by their failings.

The king Nebucnadnezzar went to the door of the furnace, looked in, turned around, saying, pale and trembling, "There were three cast into the furnace, but I see a fourth, like unto the Son of God." Yes, the great Palestine Shepherd saw his little lambs among the flames, and leaped right down among them, made green pastures and still waters for them even there and caused the fire should only burn away their bands.

Darius labored till the going down of the sun to save Daniel because he loved him. But he did not love him as our King loves us, he did not go down among the lions himself, bear the penalty, fulfill the law, and let the victim go free.

Marcus Aurelius is said to have chained two lions into his triumphal car. There are two lions which can never be yoked together, the Lion of the tribe of Judah and the roaring lion who goeth about seeking whom he may devour.

God don't direct our paths all at once, but he orders one step at a time.

When those that were bidden would not come to the supper they all began with one consent to make excuse, they did not have any ready, but Satan helped them, and between them they constructed a cradle in which sinners lull themselves to sleep. May God to-night turn the cradle upside down and leave every sinner without excuse for not accepting Jesus.

It would have been a waste of time for Paul to preach to the natives of Malta with that viper hanging to his hand. Let the Church shake off the vipers of pride, worldliness, and unbelief, and then she can preach Christ.

Memory is God's officer, a faithful officer, and in hell he will present no star of hope. Has Judas forgotten the thirty pieces of silver? Has Cain forgotten the pleading look and mournful cry of the first murdered man? Have the antediluvians forgotten Noah? the Sodomites Lot and his heavenly messengers? "Son, remember!"

God does not do things in our way; the Holy Ghost makes his own channels. Who'd have thought that marching round and round Jericho could bring down the walls? Suppose Dr. Buddington and Bishop Potter marching around tooting on their ram's horns. At least we would say, let them be silver trumpets, worthy of the dignity of Church officials.

There was a vessel wrecked in Cleaveland harbor, though the upper lights were all bright, because some one's carelessness had let the lower ones go out. God will take care of the upper lights, but he has left the responsibility of the lower ones to us.

You can't be a Christian because there are hypocrites in the Church? Then you had better get out of the world as soon as possible, for three quarters of the world are hypocrites, and there are only liars in hell, but there wont be one at the marriage supper of the Lamb.

The Lord made room for you in heaven, cannot you make room for him in your heart? The nations don't want him, many of the Churches are locked and barred against him. There is no room for him in our inns.

The only solo ever sung in heaven was when Abel went up, the first redeemed by blood; ever since the songs of redemption have been choruses.

If I thought that baptism was God's way of saving men, I'd give up preaching, borrow a pail, and go round the streets baptising every one I met, and if they wouldn't let me do it I'd catch them asleep, and baptise anyway. But that is not God's way. He says, "Ye must be born again."

Miscellanea.

A new translation of the Bible, by Miss Julia E. Smith, of Glastenburg, is to be published by a Hartford firm. Miss Smith is said to be the first person who ever made a complete translation of the Scripture without aid.

Thomas Carlyle, who is 80 years of age, is rapidly failing in health. Fifty two years since, after for a time teaching mathematics in Fifeshire, he began his literary career by writing for Brewster's Edinburgh Cyclopædia.

In New York the City Mission employs 30 missionaries, who make 60,000 visits a year, reaching 20,000 families. They conduct 100 different services a week, preaching the gospel to 100,000 persons. 1,500 children are gathered into the several Sunday-schools of the mission.

The deep, unalterable feeling that truth has a supreme claim over all things else, and that nothing can justify not merely the utterance of falsehood, but silent connivance with it—this feeling is engraven in man's soul by Him who is the Father of lights. If we did not believe in the unchangeable nature and claims of truth we could not believe in Him.

There is seldom a line of glory written upon the earth's face but a line of suffering runs parallel with it; and they that read the lustrous syllables of the one, and stop not to decipher the spotted and worn inscription of the other, get the lesser half of the lesson earth has to give.

Bishop Whipple of Minnesota, in a letter to President Grant, says that, notwithstanding all the clamors which have been made, the President's peace policy towards the Indians has been a success, and that thousands of them are learning to live as civilized men, and among them are some as true Christians as can be found among the whites.

Rev. S. H. Hellogg, of Allahabad, affirms that statistics, deducible from the recent carefully prepared census of the Indian government, demonstrate "that with only five hundred and seventeen Protestant missionaries to two hundred million people, with all the inveterate hatred of fanatical Mohammedanism, and all the power and prestige of a venerable Brahminism against them, the Church of Christ is, as a matter of fact, gaining on the world to day, at least as rapidly in India as in the most favored sections of America."

In southern Russia the result of a remarkable religious awakening is shown in a now numerous body of earnest Christians known as Stundists or Hourists—names derived from their habit of gathering for social worship and Bible study in a Bibel Stunde—a Bible hour. The Gazette of the Russian Academy of Sciences in describing them says that this brotherhood "owes its origin not to any leader who has gone out of the ranks of the Russian people, but to contact with Protestantism." Their aim is the propagation of pure evangelical morals, and they find enjoyment in mutual Bible study and exposition.

The Bishop of Ripon, England, has refused to allow a Mr. Hoyle of New York to place the words "Requiescat in pace" on the tombstone of his father, in the church-yard of Marsden. In his reply to the request the Bishop says: "The proposed inscription is a prayer for the dead; that all true Protestants believe that the state of the departed is fixed the moment after death; that the soul of the faithful are in joy and felicity, and do not need our prayers; that lost souls can not be benefited by them, and that the inscription is both misleading and erroneous." Mr. Hoyle will sue in the Bishops' Consistory Court for the right to place the inscription on the tombstone.

Will every reader ponder the following extract taken from a letter in the W. C. T. U. It expresses our view of the great movement:

"If we ever succeed in our temperance work, it will be by keeping it strictly a religious work. The whole movement began in prayer, and has been successfully carried on only by prayer. When we have been switched off, defeat and failure have been the result. God is teaching us a lesson. Some of us are slow to learn, others of us see clearly and accept the teaching humbly and reverently."

One has said, with much propriety, "God can use any sort of man—only let the man give himself as he is to God. This is what Elijah did; utterly surrendered his nature to G

No matter what the peculiarity of temperament that peculiarity if sanctified by grace, may be mightily and effectively employed in the Divine service. The point is, and it is the essential point, that there be an utter surrender to God. Only let the individual lie passive in the hands of God, and he will show forth His glory in employing him in the great harvest-field.

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev J B Bobbitt, R T Gray, Esq., } Editors.

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID, $2.50
IN MONTHS, " " 1.25
If payment be delayed six months, 2.50

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Editors of the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

RALEIGH, N. C., DECEMBER 15, 1875.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly.

Bishop Haven out of Place.

At a Sunday school Convention of the Northern Methodist Church recently held in Boston at which there were about two hundred ministers present, Bishop Gilbert Haven, in an address to the body, used the following language:

"The ministers of Boston are in the field of battle; their words are reported, and the Southern papers comment on them. The question is, 'Shall the Nothern people rule the nation?' Shall the Puritan or the cavalier be the ruler?' 'Shall Boston or Charleston be the centre? The Methodist Episcopal Church is the only institution in the South today that represents the American nation.

The malcontents of the South know that they were defeated by one man; that man is President Grant, and if the people throw him over as the command of politicians they will rue it. Pray, brethren, that President Grant may be elected. Pray for the true people of the South, and you will find that thus you will be able to keep down the kindred threatening powers, the slave power and the power of the papacy."

The harangue of Bishop Haven has been severely and justly criticised by the press of the country as an unpardonable interference on the part of a distinguished and leading officer in a large and influential religious denomination, with matters that are wholly political and partisan. We deem it unfortunate for the Church North that its most prominent Bishop should thus strive to commit it, or any of its institutions, to the support of any party or party-men. To ally itself with any party—to take sides in the discussion and furtherance of any purely political issues will draw upon any church the odium of the public and retard it in its proper work—the spread of religion and the salvation of souls. Theology and party politics are separate and distinct and the teachers of the one should not attempt to lead their followers into the contests that attend the other.—Church and State with us are, and should be, disconnected. The government has no right to interfere with or dictate doctrine and worship to any religious society, nor has any religious sect the right to dictate nominations, control elections or direct the affairs of government. Bishop Haven and the two hundred ministers who endorsed his remarks, as well as every individual member of the M. E. Church, North, are entitled, as American citizens, to be Republicans or Democrats, according as their interests and consciences may dictate; and as individuals they have the right to express their views freely and to work zealously for their triumph. But when they attempt to give to the expression of their views the force of an official utterance—a church manifesto,—and to speak for the thousands who are of the same religious faith, they do themselves, their church, their brethren and the cause of religion great wrong and injustice. Bishop Haven and his 'gallant two hundred,' may admire President Grant or Gov. Tilden, Gen. Butler or Mr. Thurman, Gov. Morton or Mr. Hendricks, but they have no right, as ministers, in a church or Sunday-school meeting to speak for their sect as to which one of those notables shall be President of the United States. The Methodist Church in the United States is powerful enough, perhaps, to elect whomsoever it should support with its whole strength. So in North Carolina, the Methodists are numerous enough to elect the Governor of the State if they should unite their votes. But it is as improper and wrong for Bishop Haven in a church meeting to nominate a candidate for the Presidency, as it would be for our Conference to call upon the Methodists of the State to vote for Gen. Robt. Vance or Gov. Brogden, Maj. Mac Robbins or Gen. Hargrove to be governor of North Carolina.

Nor is it right or decent, true or courteous to other sects, to say that the Methodist Episcopal Church "is the only institution in the South that represents the American nation." The M. E. Church, South, the Baptist, Presbyterian, Episcopal and other churches contain members who as Democrats and Republicans are as distinctively American and loyal in their teachings and views as Bishop Haven and his loyal two hundred. The Bishop entertains peculiar and degrading views about the negro and social equality; his expressions have been heretofore quoted and criticised in our columns, not from a political, but moral and social, standpoint. He doubtless makes the reception of these views the test of loyalty. By that standard almost every white person not only in the South, but in the North, too, whether Republican or Democrat, is intensely disloyal. But we are glad to believe that to be loyal to American ideas and institutions, it is not necessary to swallow the pills that the fanatical pharmacist would administer.

In his entrance upon the political arena, or his cyphering on the political slate, Bishop Haven will not have the sympathy or endorsement of our Northern brethren. They may, and doubtless do to a considerable extent, entertain the same admiration for Gen. Grant and the same sympathy with his policy, as Bishop Haven and his noble two hundred do. To that we do not object. But the Northern church will condemn, as we do, the quasi official resolutions which attempt to pervert the great and powerful machinery of the M. E. Church, (North) to political uses. The good sense of that church will see that its interests and the interests of religion demand that it shall keep aloof from the intrigues and complications of party politics.

The fears of some people that the Methodist Church with its boundless numbers, its splendid organization, its rigid discipline, energy, zeal and devotion of its preachers and laity, will at some time attempt to control the government, are utterly groundless. The Church is conscious of its strength but aspires to use it in only one direction—"the spread of scriptural holiness." To that its character restricts its work its license extends no further. It seeks to save souls—not to gain ballots. Its place is in the pulpit and the altar—not on the hustings or in legislative halls. And while it denounces corruption wherever it is found and tries to instill purity everywhere, it should not and will not touch the unclean thing of party politics, but remits the work of making presidents and enacting laws to the hands of those to whom that work belongs.

☞The preachers who wish the ADVOCATE changed will please inform us promptly, from which and to which office the change is to be made.

☞In our acknowledgment of letters and funds we have omitted the names of any persons or amounts paid, we would be glad if they would inform us of the fact.

We trust the preachers will use all possible means to carry out the resolution adopted at Conference, to extend the circulation of the ADVOCATE. Let the work be commenced at once.

A committee was appointed at our late Conference to publish the minutes in pamphlet form. As soon as the Secretary, Dr. Craven, can prepare the matter, we will commence the work of publication.

We should be glad if all our schools and colleges would advertise their respective institutions in our Conference minutes. Send forward your advertisement and state the space you wish it to occupy—whether a fourth, a third, a half or a whole page.

NOTICE.

Any person sending us the following numbers of the Raleigh CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE will confer a favor and receive proper compensation for so doing. The numbers wanted for 1869 and a part of 1870 are the Episcopal Methodist. In 1870 the name of the paper was changed to Christian Advocate. The missing numbers from our file are the issues of July 14th, 1869, No. 28; December 28th, 1870, No. 50. It is very important that we keep a complete file, and we shall be obliged to any one who will send us the numbers called for.

THE London Christian World gives an account of a literary curiosity in the form of "the smallest Bible in the world," which, it says, has just been issued by Mr. Henry Frowde, of the Oxford University Press Warehouse, 7 Paternoster Row, London. Upon taking up the book no one would suppose that it contained more than the New Testament. A fair sized waistcoat pocket would hold it well. It is printed in a most minute though clear type, on tough, unbleached India paper of extreme thinness and opacity, measures just four and a half by two and three-quarter inches, and weighs, when bound in limp Morocco leather, less than three and a half ounces, and can be sent through the British post for a penny.

IN the biography of the Rev. Dr. Goodell, he gives this picture of the way they went to church in Templeton, Massachusetts, at the beginning of the century: The old puritanical horse used to know as the most pious of us that it was holy times, and he stood at the door, saddled and bridled, with his head bowed reverently down, as if in solemn meditation upon the duties he was expected to perform. My father with one of the children in his arms, rode before, my mother sat behind on a pillion, and carried one of the children in her arms, and still another one of the chidren rode behind, clinging as close to her as she did to her husband. I recollect on one occasion, in ascending a steep, sandy hill, the girth of that saddle gave way, and there was an avalanche of the whole load, father and mother and three children, with saddle and pillion, over the horse's tail, plump into a sand bank. The old rheumatic horse never seemed amazed at any thing, but this time he simply opened his eyes wider than usual, turned half around and looked to see if he could help us in any way.

Begin Right.

Our success in any important undertaking depends very much upon a good beginning. If we start wrong it is hard to get right. This reflection is suggested to our mind by the fact that we have just entered upon a new ecclesiastical year with all its pleasures, sorrows, duties and responsibilities. As pastors and people there are duties to be performed and responsibilities to be assumed peculiar to the commencement of the Conference year. The parsonage is to be put in order. Old furniture is to be repaired, and new furniture is to be provided to take the place of that which has served its time and is worn out. All proper arrangements are to be made to give your preacher a hearty welcome as he comes among you in his pastoral relation. He may not be able to pack up and move to his new charge right away. It may be that he has first to pay his annual visit to his aged parents, and spend a week or two under the parental roof. To this you will not and cannot object. It would be unkind—unchristian in you to do so. He may not be able to commence his work before the first Sabbath in January. This will give you ample time to put everything in readiness for his coming, and he will have had time for social reunion at home.

There are duties which belong to the Stewards of each pastoral charge. Upon this and kindred subjects, the last Richmond Advocate expresses our sentiments. The stewards are earnestly counseled to bestir themselves. "Preachers sometimes give away nearly all their money at Conference. Poor fellows! they swell every collection, and have hardly enough left to pay off their store bills and put them on their new Circuit.—If, brother Stewards, you will stir out now for a week or two and gather 50 or 100 dollars, and put them into the hands of the preacher when he meets you, he will not spend. If you don't believe us, just try it. It will not cost you much only a little riding or walking and a few earnest words to the members. Will you not do this much to have your preacher start off well? If the year opens to him lightly it will grow brighter to the close. If it begins in gloom it will grow darker to the end.

Don't stint your preacher. Make a liberal appropriation; not barely enough for his family to live on. Give a fair margin. He would like to be able to entertain his friends and brethren, and to do this he must not be tied too tight. Loosen the strings. Let out a link or two in the financial chain—and even if you did let out last year to the very last link, weld on two or three more links. You can do it; don't be alarmed. Your preacher is going to work for you like a man of nerve and heart. By his preaching and visiting he may bring more people to your church, and they will help you. Put the financial chain on the anvil in the official meeting, and hammer away at it till you add half a dozen new links. Strike hard and fast. Don't be afraid.

Now, brother preacher, let us have a hint. Don't preach all your big sermons first. Scatter them along through the year. There is nothing so bad as lifting up your people to the clouds for about three months and then dragging them along flat on the ground for the other nine. They will begin to wish for Conference.—This is a mighty bad sign. There are many reasons why our people want Conference to come. One is that preachers are sometimes changed at Conference. Hold in smartly on the sugar sticks. Even children tire of candy. Work up your little sermons. More may be gotten out of those week-day texts than you have imagined. We know how it used to be, week day texts and Sunday texts. But all should be Sunday texts. The meaning is preach your best always. No matter if you have only twenty-five hearers. If you will do your very best you will have a hundred next time. The 25 have tongues. They will use them. Don't brag on your first round—wait till the last round. People always remember what a preacher says when he is making the first round in town or country. They have eyes and ears open. Don't tell what great things you did on your last charge. If you fail somebody will put this and that together, and then somebody will be hurt. Too little talk will be better than too much.

Be a pattern. In deportment, in neatness, in promptness, in your intercourse with families in or out of the church, show that you are a minister of Christ. Lay your plans well, and work them from the time you enter your field till you leave it. See that things in your charge are done decently and in order. If at your first sacrament there are green-glass tumblers and a black bottle on the table, hold back your indignation for a time, but never let them see the light of day again except in fragments on the chip-pile. Communion services are now cheap; any stirring lady can collect money enough in two weeks to buy one. If your churches have no altar have a neat one put in; it will cost but little, and save much time now spent in hauling up the benches and squaring them for the communicants.

Make it a matter of conscience to obtain every dollar of every collection appointed by the Conference. Begin early in the year and keep at it. Have a small blank book with a heading for each collection, and get something from everybody. These private donations, with your public collections, will give you all you want for Missions, Conference, Bishops, Bible Cause, Education, and all.

Be sure to notice the children of your charge. He who has the love of children is happy. You can gain the affection and confidence of every child of your charge; and, if you do, you will never be forgotten. You will plant seeds that will yield a great harvest.

Circulate books and papers. Our people must have more of our own literature. If you can get but a few books at a time get them, and gradually increase your stock. Take a catalogue of our books and go over it with the family by the fireside. You will be sure to come upon something that will attract old or young.

See that every family in your charge takes a Church paper. It will cost but a trifle, four cents a week, but will be a great helper to you in your work and to them in giving weekly information of what the Church is doing. A well informed people will be ready to aid you in all your work; but among an uninformed flock you will have hard, up-hill work.

But we must stop. May all of us, preachers and laity, work in earnest this year; and may God's richest blessing rest upon our toil."

We transfer to our columns from the New York Christian Advocate, of November 18, the following article, which, mutatis mutandis, suits our meridian and latitude as well as New York:

THE CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE—A SUGGESTIVE CONVERSATION.

Pastor: "Brother M., I am glad to find you in your office alone, as I have come to see you again about subscribing for the Christian Advocate."

M. "I gave you my answer when you asked me at the prayer meeting."

P. "I know you did; but I have thought over the matter, and have felt it my duty to see you again. Every family of my congregation except yours is to have the paper next year."

M. "You surprise me. Did you not say on Sunday that over twenty in the Church don't take The Advocate!"

P. "I did. There were then twenty three heads of families in the congregation who were without the visits of a religious paper; but I have been to see them, and pleaded with them, until all except you have kindly consented to give me their names."

M. "Brother S. told me you had asked him, and he had declined."

P. "He did the first and second time I called, but at a third interview he promised to take it, and this morning sent over the money. There's his name, (showing the subscription list.) You are the last one now. Do let me put your name on the list.'

M. "What induced Brother N. to take it?"

P. "I think it was the Holy Spirit. I knew his family needed the paper, as his children were growing up without any correct knowledge of the Church, and without taking any interest in its services or work. After using every argument I could to win him, and after appealing to his love of the Church, and love of home, to get him to take the paper, without success I went home with a sad heart, and alone in my study, pleaded earnestly with God to help me gain him. While I prayed, it did seem to me that the Spirit was leading him to think over the words I had used to get his name. Just after dinner the same day my study bell rang, and Brother N. came in. 'I have been thinking over this matter,' said he, 'and though I have said I wouldn't take the paper, something seems to impress me that I ought to do so: I think you may have my name. I will let you have the money the next time I see you.' And he did. I've got the money in my pocket, and I'm going to send it to New York to-morrow. Come, now, Brother M., I want to send yours also."

M. "But I haven't promised you yet.'

P. "I know you haven't, but I've been impressed all the morning that you will. To be frank, I must tell you that I have been asking the good Spirit to help me get your name, and I think he is helping me. Surely (advancing and taking hold of M.'s hand) you will let me have it!"

M. (Relenting and the tears starting.) "Why, I can't stand your appeals; take my name, and here's the money."

Such was the result of the faithful pastor's determined and prayerful effort to place The Christian Advocate in every family in his charge. He had presented strong appeals from the pulpit, both in the large congregation and in the prayer room, and with kind and earnest words had entreated the people to bless themselves, their families, and the Church by securing the weekly visits of their Church paper.

The story of that pastor's battle and victory is suggestive. Brethren of the pastoral work, will you permit us to ask you to push off the canvass at once until you win every family? Brethren of the laity, will you not kindly loan this copy of your Christian Advocate to some non-subscriber, accompanied with a gentle hint to read the story told above? Let us all be winning workers, resting not until the last family is gained.

We are glad to learn that the health of Rev. Bro. Thompson, of Fayetteville Station, is growing better. He has been confined to his house for some weeks, but was able to take a drive last week. We trust he may soon be fully restored to health and strength. It was a noble proposition on the part of his congegation to relieve him of work and to watch over and take care of him during the period of his feeble health.

Paul says if what the man gave him was all Peter had stolen from him, it was a very poor steal.

Send your job work to the Raleigh Christian Advocate.

The Christian Life.

Living in a Christian age, surrounded by Caristian institutions, enjoying Christian light and embracing the Christian faith, you concede the value of a Christian life. It is precious above all else, honoring your character among men now and rewarding you with a glorious and happy life with God hereafter. Do you nurture, strengthen and develop that life as you should, or as your great privileges enable you to do? The natural physical life you do not undervalue. You guard it well against disease, or employ every possible remedy to remove such if it exists. You labor and seek rest, you secure needed comfort, and make every necessary provision to support and prolong that life. Food, clothing, shelter and everything proper are secured at whatever cost of thought and effort. Have you the same care and do you make the same exertion for the spiritual life?

The spiritual life is not spontaneous, and does not perpetuate and strengthen itself without your will, effort, and care. You have, by the generous provision of your Heavenly Father, every thing at hand by which you may secure and properly nurture this life. So to use this provision is the part of a Christian. It is the only and the indisputable evidence of the sincerity and genuineness of your religion. It is in reality religion itself. Look at the home and the inner privacy of life. There are facilities to exercise thought, awaken feeling and prompt action, such as will have an important bearing upon the Christian life. To guard against false ideas, bad principles, and stimulate their opposites, is a work and duty needing constant attention and exercise. Each individual is himself the responsible agent in these things, and no amount of outside facilities and helps will benefit him without his own exertion. Self control and direction are the great things to which all available helps should be employed, such as reading, meditation, prayer and association.

Look at the Christian relation which you sustain, or may, in the Church of Christ. Here the means are abundant, all designed and calculated to aid you in sustaining and developing in the highest measure the Christian life. The preaching of the Gospel, use of ordinances, and fellowship of believers, aside from the promised blessing attending a sincere public profession of Christ, are all divinely arranged means to help you in strengthening the higher and better life within. Do these receive their proper share of attention at your hands—some of that attention which you bestow upon the wardrobe, table and shelter which you deem so necessary for the natural life? Why not? Are they not as important for your spiritual life as the latter are for your physical? Are they not blessings from God as much to be prized and as readily to be appropriated as are the deposits in the mine, the fruitfulness of the soil, the sunlight and showers from heaven? If they are it is an offense to slight them and an irreparable loss to the soul. They are wisely adapted and graciously given to serve our highest and most lasting good. All that is demanded of us is to use them in order that they may accomplish their designed end in our salvation, to the glory of the Giver, who wills "not that any should perish, but that all should turn to him and live." Let us take pains and have a care for that better life—the Christian life; protect and nurture it to bear the ripened fruit of peace and joy on earth and in heaven.—Ex.

Tribute to Methodism.

A wealthy Baptist of Liverpool has built a chapel at a cost of £2,500, and presented it to Wesleyans. The following he states to be his motives for this act of liberality: "I should like to inform my Baptist brethren that I am just as loyal to them, just as firm in my adherence to their views and principles, as when they were first adopted by me; nor am I ever likely to forsake them. The experience of twelve years' residence here has confirmed me in this opinion—that the people of our rural districts, where mining and agricultural operations are joined, require for their spiritual training a religion which, while sound and pure in doctrine, possesses a power to reach their hearts by earnest, faithful preaching of God's Word. This preaching power, this peculiar gift, seems to belong pre eminently to the followers of Wesley, and, united with their truly wonderful organization for bringing that power to bear directly upon the people, even in the most remote localities, qualifies them especially to lead the van in any mission to the masses. My observations in Broughton have led me to the conclusion that, in order to awaken the careless and arouse the impenitent, we must look for success in the employment of a power like that of Methodism."

The New York City Methodist Episcopal Church Extension and Missionary Society, in the nine years of its existence, has expended over $470,000 in carrying on its work. It has 17 churches and chapels under its control; nearly 5,000 children attend its Sunday schools, and it employs 23 pastors and assistants.

During the ten years that the Church Extension Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church has been in operation it has collected and disbursed $916,617.

Why This Waste?

Even in these enlightened days there is a man here and there who thinks it a great waste to send the gospel to the heathen. He would save the men and money, and devoting them to something better, as he calls it, thus secure better results. Hugh Miller used to describe with fearful sarcasm certain moderate gentlemen in Scotland who were not persuaded that it was safe to put the gospel into the hands of the savages, since they might either injure themselves or destroy the truth. The class has not altogether passed out of sight, though we cannot now find a minister who would dare stand forth as the opponent of missionary enterprise.

But it has its opponents: Thus, we noticed the other day, the statement in a newspaper that in India the few Christians have been secured at an enormous expense, the inference being that the outlay ought to be discontinued. It does not pay. There is no right proportion between the sum invested and the result. Money when used ought to be devoted to something that will show a good honest increase and not be thus squandered on a business that is so manifestly a failure. And the men who talk so would immediately put their surplus funds into the bank or into bonds, or some very lucrative business, spending, in the meantime, whatever their taste and appetites demanded, no matter even if these were depraved or ridiculous.

Into all such calculations the value of a soul does not enter. How much is a soul worth? How much would a man give for the salvation of his soul, having once learned its value? How much would the rich man in the parable have expended on the rescue of his? To what extent should we invest our means to save that which is lost—to pluck an immortal soul from the gulf? If a man is a loser who gains the whole world without saving his soul, what amount of benevolence can exceed what is demanded of us in the cause of missions? Why, there has been more money spent in trying to find the remains of Sir John Franklin than is given by many of the denominations to honor Jesus by giving his gospel to the perishing and yet, while men applaud the search for the lost explorer, they rail at the awful expense of the missions of the Christian church.

We have seen monomaniacs in matters missionary as in other things, but they have about them a kind of extravagance that is refreshing rather than otherwise. To be extreme in seeking to save the lost, to be excited in sending the gospel to the perishing, to be enthusiastic in disciplining the nations—God give us more than rare and virtuous madness.—Ex.

Religious Brevities.

The Holston Methodist and Holston Advocate, are to be consolidated, both editors to serve on the paper, one as the Tennessee, the other the Virginia editor.

The Orthodox Friends are co operating in the Moody and Sankey revival movement in Philadelphia.

It is said that more than 300 Roman Catholics, voluntary converts to Protestantism, have been confirmed in Louisiana by Bishop Wilmer, of that State.

The first meetings of Messrs. Moody and Sankey in Philadelphia were crowded in spite of a pouring rain. Ten thousand persons were in and around the building on Sabbath morning.

Queen Victoria, when at Windsor, assembles all the little children connected with the Castle one hour each Sunday evening, and personally gives them religious instruction.

A cable telegram from London announces that an English gentleman has placed $500,000 at the disposal of the Church Missionary Society in answer to King Mtesas' appeal through Mr. Stanley for Christianization in Africa.

Rev. W. H. Clarke has officially declined the appointment of Bishop of Africa.

Bishop Cheney, of the Reformed Episcopal Church, is spending the Winter in Marietta, Ga.

The Northern Advocate says that Bishop Harris is to visit the Liberia annual conference.

The wife of Rev. Henry Leibhardt, D.D., editor of the Haus and Herd, died at their residence in Covington, Ky., at 6½ o'clock, A. M., on Saturday, the 20th ult., of typhoid fever.

The deep, unalterable feeling that truth has a supreme claim over all things else, and that nothing can justify not merely the utterance of falsehood, but silent connivance with it—this feeling is engraven in man's soul by Him who is the Father of lights. If we did not believe in the unchangeable nature and claims of truth we could not believe in Him.

There is seldom a line of glory written upon the earth's face but a line of suffering runs parallel with it; and they that read the lustrous syllables of the one, and stop not to decipher the spotted and worn inscription of the other, get the lesser half of the lesson earth has to give.

In New York the City Mission employs 30 missionaries, who make 60,000 visits a year, reaching 20,000 families. They conduct 100 different services a week, preaching the gospel to 100,000 persons. 1,500 children are gathered into the several Sunday-schools of the mission.

A Touching Incident.

Not many years since certain miners, working far underground came upon the body of a poor fellow who had perished in the suffocating pit forty years before. Some chemical agent to which the body had been subjected—an agent prepared in the laboratory of nature—had effectually arrested the progress of decay. They brought it up to the surface, and for a while, till thoroughly exposed to the atmosphere, it lay—the image of a fine, sturdy young man. No convulsions had passed over the face in death—the features were tranquil; the hair was black as jet. No one recognized the face a generation had grown up since the miner went down into the shaft for the last time. But a tottering old woman who had hurried from her cottage at hearing the news, came up, and she knew again the face which through all these long years she had not forgotten. The miner was to have been her husband on the day after that on which he died. There were no dry eyes when the gray-headed old pilgrim cast herself upon the youthful corpse, and poured into his deaf ear many words of endearment unused for forty years. It was a touching contrast—the one so old, the other so young. They had both been young these long years ago, but time had gone on with the living and stood still with the dead.—London Herald.

Dr. Guthrie on Preaching.

Writing to Rev. J. W. Lowrie, he says: "Deal in pure pithy Saxon. Never use a word with Greek, or Latin, or French root if you can find one with the same meaning in your mother tongue. Use as few adjectives as possible; they load and cumber the truth. Mind 'the three P's.' In every discourse the preacher should aim at Proving, Painting and Persuading; in other words addressing the Reason the Fancy, and the Heart. The more easy your manner, without losing the character of seriousness and solemnity, so much the better. Vigor and birr, without roaring and bellowing, are ever to be aimed at."

POOR PREACH, POOR PAY.—An Onondaga minister, who has preached in an agricultural community, has had a varied experience in getting his pay. One farmer, at the end of the year, offered to settle by giving him a buck, or two dollars in money. The minister took the latter. Another met him one day and said: "I have subscribed forty dollars for preaching; I will give you a cow and call it square. She's an awful poor cow, just like your preaching." The parson drove home the cow.

A SHARP RETORT.—One of the cars of a western bound train contained, among other passengers, a clergyman and five or six young ragamuffins, who, to annoy the minister, kept scoffing at religion and telling disagreeable stories. The good man endured it all, hearing everything without answering, without being moved. Arrived at his journey's end he got out, and only remarked:

"We shall meet again, my children."

"Why shall we meet again?" said the leader of the band.

"Because I am a prison chaplain," was the reply.

"I say, boy! How do you sell your wood?"

"By the cord."

"How long has it been cut?"

"Four feet."

"I mean, how long has it been since it was cut?"

"Been the same length all the time."

In southern Russia the result of a remarkable religious awakening is shown in a new numerous body of earnest Christians known as Stundists or Hourists (names derived from their habit of gathering for social worship and Bible study in a Bibel Stunde—a Bible hour. The Gazette of the Russian Academy of Sciences in describing them says that this brotherhood "owes its origin not to any leader who has gone out of the ranks of the Russian people, but to contact with Protestantism." Their aim is the propagation of pure evangelical morals, and they find enjoyment in mutual Bible study and exposition.

The Kinston Gazette denies the report that it has been sold to any one.

Mr. Charles A. Gregory, a highly esteemed citizen of Greenville county, fell from his horse in an attack of vertigo and injured himself seriously, if not fatally, by striking his head against a rock.

Joseph A. Muller, who was injured at Kinston in firing a Democratic salute, desires to communicate with his brother, John Ludwig Muller, who he believes is in Boston or New York, with the view of obtaining assistance.

Lumberton Robesonian: The Evangelical Lutheran Church, which was established here several months ago, seems to be in a prosperous and healthy condition, and receives a hearty co-operation and support from all the other denominations.

There is to be a tournament at Tois not on the 23d, and fourteen gallant knights will place a stick-lance in rest against a ring. Keep quiet, shade of Ivanhoe!

Col. Pool has presented three bound volumes of Our Living and Our Dead to the Southern Historical Society to be kept in the archives of that association.

The Raleigh CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, the organ of the M. E. Church, South, in North Carolina, has a larger circulation than any other paper in the state. Its readers are estimated at 20 000 every week. Let advertisers make a note of this.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Snow fell in Winston week before last.

Superior Court is in session in New Hanover, Judge Henry presiding.

The Eastern Medical Association met in Wilmington last week.

The chickens and turkeys in Wilmington had scarcely begun to breathe freely after the Conference left, before thieves commenced to break through their coops and steal.

A Sunday-school concert and Christmas tree at the Methodist Church are the things that the Durham boys and girls are dreaming and talking about now.

During the month of November Capt. W. K. Styron manufactured 800,000 to bacco sacks for the firm of W. T. Blackwell & Co.

There will be a grand Temperance demonstration at Knapp of Reeds in Orange county on the 29th inst.

The Greensboro Patriot says that the survey of the narrow gauge railroad between Mt. Airy and Greensboro will begin soon after Christmas.

It is said that Mr. T. B. Kingsbury contemplates starting a newspaper in Durham.

Nearly all the Sheriffs of the State have settled with the State Treasurer for the State taxes.

Policemen are forbidden by the laws of Salisbury to visit bar rooms. A good ordinance.

The collections in Greensboro for the Orphan Asylums on Thanksgiving Day amounted to $87.50.

The average salary of Methodist preachers in North Carolina averages $535, it is said.

Oliver Hampton, son of S. H. Hampton, of Jamestown, N. C., was robbed near Cokesbury, S. C., week before last of $900.

The ladies of Greensboro have formed an "Orphan's Aid Association," for the purpose of raising funds during the Winter, for the Orphans at Oxford and Mar's Hill.

Greensboro laws declare all persons lounging around the streets or begging for food or lodging, to be nuisances, and upon conviction make them work upon the streets for such period as the Mayor may direct.

The Albemarle Times, endorsed by the Oxford Torch Light, recommends J. S. Amis, Esq., of Oxford, as a suitable candidate for Governor. Gen. Robt. Vance is also mentioned by many as the coming candidate of the Democratic party.

Hillsboro Recorder: It is sad to see so many places of business closed. On the block facing the court house Webb's is the only store occupied. We hope to see this changed at the opening of the new year, of which there is a prospect.

Charlotte Southern Home: While the young ladies of St. Mary's were out at an evening concert, some irreverent wretch nailed up all the gates, and the spectacle of seventy five young maidens, in fashionable attire, climbing the fence in a row, was, as a victim writes, "the most sublime."

Weldon News: On Thursday last the residence of Mr. George P. Pope, in lower Halifax, was burned to ashes. It caught from a chimney in the day time and was destroyed. All the furniture was saved, and some of the doors and windows were actually pulled off and saved. The total loss is about five hundred dollars.

The minutes of the Yearly meeting of Friends for 1875 have been published in pamphlet form and show the number of members to be 3,917; received by request 110; by certificate 38; births 100. During the year there only 46 deaths—the average age at death 48, 7-8 years; and every family is in possession of the Holy Scriptures.

The Raleigh News says it is deemed quite certain that there will be a decided change of schedule next week in the running of the trains over the North Carolina Railroad. The proposed change will cause the mail train going West to pass this place in the morning, and going East to pass in the evening.

The contributions to the Oxford Orphan Asylum from December 1, 1874, to November 30th, 1875, were $13,095 98. Disbursements for the same time $12,540 37, leaving in hand $551 61, the amount $82 37 reported in hand last year added making $637 98 in the treasury on the first day of the present month. This includes the receipts and disbursements of the Mars Hill Asylum until the first day of September, when the books of that institution were opened. They also include the receipts and expenses of the ORPHAN'S FRIEND. The number of orphans reported as present last year was 132; admitted since that report 50, making 182; discharged 57, died 2, run away 3, expelled 2, leaving now at Oxford 105. The number now is smaller than usual because many larger boys and girls have been discharged within the last few days to take eligible situations offered them, and the Superintendent has had no time to bring in those awaiting transportation.

The total contributions in cash from September 1 to November 30, for the Mars Hill Asylum were $353 21. One mule was sold for $100 and $110 received from the Oxford Asylum, making the total receipts $563 34. The disbursements during this time amount to $548 20, leaving in hand $15 14. The Oxford Asylum also paid claims against the Mars Hill Asylum amounting to $196 75.

Gin house and machinery, several bales of cotton and quantity of cotton seed, all belonging to Mr. J. J. Bynum, of Wilson county, were burned last Saturday night.

A movement is on foot in Wilson to further and aid the proposed movement to establish a daily mail line between this point and Washington N. C., passing by the offices of Saratoga, Marlboro, Farmville, Greenville and Pactolus.

Wilson Advance: The re election of our honored townsman G. W. Blount, Esq., to the position of Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Masons of North Corolina, against his expressed wishes not to retain the office, was a compliment well deserved.

An attempt was recently made to burn the Nash County jail, by the inmates, three negroes.

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING. TERMS $2 20 POSTAGE PAID.

Our Agents.

All the traveling and local preachers in the bounds of the Annual Conference are our authorized Agents. Any person sending us ten subscribers, for one year, will receive the paper free.

Our Correspondents.

Communications for publication should be carefully written, and on but one side of the sheet. All letters on business should be addressed to the Editor.

How to Remit.

In sending money, all amounts should be sent in registered letter, post office order or check. The cost of registration, or Post Office order can be deducted from the amount in hand. If money is sent otherwise than herein specified it will be at the sender's risk.

General News

Virginia raised 400,000 bushels of peanuts this year.

Eight Jews and Jewesses recently received Christian baptism in London.

The Louisiana orange crop this year is larger than that of any previous year.

The levees to be rebuilt have been staked from Alexandria, Red River, down to New Orleans.

Over 70,000 bales of cotton have been received in Augusta since the first of September.

The Rome Commercial says that Wood's copper mine in North Alabama, has been leased to McElwain for ten years.

The Augusta, Ga., cotton mills produced during the six months ending June 19th, 1875, 164,429 pieces of goods, measuring 6,727,517 yards.

A greater number of orange groves are being planted in Orange county, Fla., this year than ever before during the same length of time.

Eli McDaniel, of Gwinnett county, made one hundred and fifty bushels of corn on a little more than one acre of ground, so says the Ellijay Courier.

The receipts of cotton at New Orleans from the first of September to date, show an increase of about twenty thousand bales over the same period last year.

Phillip Phillips was, at the latest word, singing in Van Diemen's Land.

Senator Ferry, of Connecticut, died on Sunday the 21st ultimo.

The New York Herald says senator Gordon, of Georgia, has purchased the late residence of Mr. Walter S. Cox, in Georgetown, and that the Hon. L. Q. C. Lamar, of Mississippi, will be his guest during the Winter.

According to the late census, in five years, roseville county, S. C., has gained in population 10,000, Beaufort, 9,000; York, 7,000; and Richmond 11,000.

Augusta claims the largest cotton factory in the South. Forty buildings are now in the process of erection, and leases to the value of $350,000 have been completed this year.

After a session of sixty-seven days the Constitutional Convention of Texas closed its labors last week. The new Constitution abolishes the Bureau of Immigration and fails to provide an efficient school law.

Charlotte Observer: On Sunday morning James Fetner, the engineer at whose door is laid the responsibility of the recent accident on the Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta Railroad, by which was encased a great loss of life and property, was brought to this city on the Air Line train. He got on the train at Atlanta, and, it having been ascertained who he was, the conductor, A. J. Vickers, and the baggage master, H. Sidebottom, took him under arrest, tied him and brought him to this city, in order to obtain the reward which had been offered for him. A telegram was sent to Gov. Chamberlain, apprising him of the arrest and confinement, and he will no doubt at once make a requisition upon Gov. Brogden for the prisoner. Fetner was drunk at the time of his arrest.

Prof. Pape, formerly connected with the school of Misses Nash and Miss Kollock in Hillsboro, was found dead in a station house in Baltimore lately.

Marriages.

Married, on the 8th inst., by the Rev. J. B. Babbitt, Mr. E. B. Parkerson, of Norfolk, Va., and Miss S. C. Lowder, of Raleigh.

In Wilson Co., N. C., on the 1st inst., by Rev. A. J. Faulkner, Mr. Turner Joyner, of Johnston Co., to Mrs. Elizabeth J. Upchurch.

Married in Warren Co. N. C., on the 7th inst. at the residence of N. A. Nicholson, father of the bride, Mr. Fletcher Babbitt, and Miss M. Ella Nicholson by Rev. F. B. Andrews.

Married at the residence of the bride's father 24th Nov. 1875, by Rev. G. Farrar, Mr. Stokes Ingram to Miss Kate McAllister, all of Montgomery county.

Married, by Rev. W. D. Gannon in Newberne, N. C Dec. 8th 1875, Mr. Geo. W. Dickerson of Newberne and Miss Amelia Jane Neal, of South River N. C.

Married at the residence of the bride's father at Center N. C. December 1st 1875, by Rev. A. F. Atkins, Mr. John W. Lisk and Miss Julia A. Harris both of Stanley county N. C.

By the same on the 21st of October 1875, at the residence of the Rev. A. F. Atkins, Mr. Martin Bird and Mrs. Mary Smith both of Stanley N. C.

Married at the residence of James T. Pledger in Perquimans on the 25th inst. by Rev. Jno. W. Lewis, Mr. Wiley A. Riddle of Davie co. and Miss Ellen J. Pledger, daughter of Mr. James T. Pledger.

Married on the 8th inst. at the residence of the bride's father, by Rev. Solomon Lea, Mr. W. J. Pulliam to Miss Mary Fanny Newman all of Caswell.

Married on the 8th of Nov. Mr. John Allen and Miss Jemmeta Morgan by Rev. Solomon Lea.

Married by the same the 24th of Nov. Mr. James Walker and Miss Rebecca Walker.

Married by he same the 24th of Nov. Mr. Thomas Hornback and Miss Mary S. Chandler, all of the above in Caswell.

At the residence of Hon. W. M. Robbins, Newberne, N. C., on the 29th ult., Rev. M. L. Wood, of the N. C. Conference and Mrs. Amelia A. Robbins, Rev. H. G. Barrett officiating.

Married in Goldsboro N. C., Nov 30th, by Rev. J. R. Griffeth, Mr. George K. Hundley of Johnston Co, to Miss Mollie Edmondson of Goldsboro.

Married in Oxford, N. C., Dec 8th, by Rev. J. R. Griffith, Mr. Wm. S. Hundley to Miss Bettie Spencer, all of Oxford, Married at the residence of the bride's father in Granville, Co., Nov 25th, by Rev. J. R. Griffith Mr. Moses Dean to Miss Sarah P. Davis, Daughter of J. Harrison Davis of Granville, N. C.

Married Nov 25th, in the Methodist Church Oxford, N. C. by Rev. J. R. Griffith, Rev. Joseph W. Shackford of N. C. Conference, to Miss Cora Kingsbury, of Oxford, N. C.

Deaths.

☞Obituary notices of twenty lines or less inserted without charge. The excess over twenty lines of eight words is charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line. Count the lines and allow eight words to the line. In this way you may always know the amount to be paid. Resolutions of respect are subject to same rule. ☜

Died at Laurinburgh, Nov. 4th of Croup, John Calvin, eldest child of Joseph C. and Emily Everett, aged three years. A lovely sweet bud, transplanted from the garden of Earth to unfold and bloom with immortal freshness and beauty in the Paradise of God.

Died in Morgan on N. C. Sunday 21st ult. Rev. Joseph D Ferree in his sixty-fifth year. Bro. Ferree had been for a long time a prominent member of the M. E. Church in Morganton. He was a man much beloved and highly respected by his large circle of acquaintances, who are resigned only in the belief that their loss is his eternal gain. For years—then months—then weeks—then days, as by regular steps, he was drawn away from his friends the church, and his loving family. All through his affliction, God held up his soul, until made the spirit of his servant to rejoice in prospect of so soon entering the glorified land beyond the river.

And now while we mourn, we also rejoice that in our midst and under our own observation God's word in Ps. 37. 37 has been so long, dear understood. His was a most peaceful death—following a upright life.

His Pastor.

Letters and Funds.

Rev J H Guinn for J M Watson $2 20. D Nevens 2.20. J S Peel 2 20. Rev M H Hoyle for J I Bolton 2 20. J R Bunn 2 20 A D Isles 2 20. J P Vick 2 20. H W Ledbetter 2 20 A M Livings sen 2.20. J B Clark 2.20. Mrs M J Cox 2 20. Rev L J Holden for Rev Mr Winborne 2.20 J J West 2 20. J D Wells 2 20 J H Bixon 2 20. W B Batts 2 20. John S Gaddie 2 20. J A Barnes 2 20. J B H Bobbitt 2.20 C P Turbeville 1 55. Rev Jas Wilson for Mrs L Bryan 60 cents. Rev J W Aycock for H G Adams 2 20 G Philbrick 2 20. Rev I S Moon for Mrs T H Forshee 2 20 R W Mann 2.20. sen 1 20. Rev R A Willis for N W Best 2 20. J M Newsom 2 20. Mrs S O Doss 2.20 W Barnes 2.20 Rev I Tillet for W F Tillet 2 20. drs Dees Travers For Watkins sen 2.20. Rev J S Norris 1 65 Wm Headen 2.20. I D Aycock 2 20. Rev J D Carpenter cash on ac 7 00 Rev R S Webb for J N Roney 2 20. S S Thompson 2 20 Mrs J A Pickett 2 20. Rev T B Rooks for R S Halsey 2. W G Biedsoe 2. Mrs H M Baily 2.20. A L Cawthon 2 Rev L E Stacey for Mrs Mary S Wade 2 20. Miss S Guerrant 2 20 Rev S H Wood for T A Hamrick 2 20. Rev J S Ervin for A B Berry 2 20. E M Roan 50 cents. Rev W C Norman for J F Robertson 2 20. Jas Walker 2 20. G W Price 2 20. J A Peirce 2 20. Rev P L Berman for H V Aycock 2 20 Hoover 2 20 J Philbrick 2 20. Rev B C Pailips for Mrs L B Brown 2 20. J W Lawrence 2 20. Wm Polgreen 2 20. Mrs S B Glenn 2. Rev J T Wyche for A S Floyd 2 25 Rev A A Boshamer for Mrs Wm J Holmes 1. Miss M A Peebles 2 20 J C Hicks 1 10. C D Daytress 2 20. W L Taylor 2 20. Rev J Sandford for J B Simpson 2 20 Wm McN tt 2 20 Miss Lucy Edge 2.20 Dr J H McGee for Miss S Scutherland 2 20. sell 2 20. Rev C M Pepper for 4 subs 2 00. J H Walsh 2.20. H B Adams 2 20. Rev W D Lee for W J Cheery 2 20. J M McGinn 2 20 T A McKinney 2 20. J W Davis 2.20. J S Moore 2 20 L C Rone 2 20 S L Patterson 2 20. Rev J D. Standemeyer 2.20 W S Rude 2 20 R J Jefferson 2 20. Rev L L Hamlen for J A Heath cash 2 20 S W H Hamrick 2 20. Rev L H Giddens for H J Muse 2.20. Jno S uart 2 20. H W Siler 2 20. Jas Davis 2.20 W S T Brewer 1 55. E A Edwards 1 10 Rev W M Boyles for J W Abernethy 2 20 Rev J R Griffith for B L Moss 2 20. Rev H F Wiley for C I Allen 2 20 Wm Claywell 2.10. A M Sloan 2 20. Rev J B Alford for Mrs K Hooks 2.20 on ac 1 00 J C Pinnix sell 2 20 T C Williams for B F Rose 2.20. Rev N S Norton for Jas Anderson 1 10 R Murdock 60 cents. Rev T A Cowan for Miss J White 1.00. W A Gillespie 2 20. Mrs M Chidester 2 20. G W Martin 2 20. W L Lipe 2 20. J W Rogers 2 20. sub 2 Rev T C Moses for E Cole 2.20. B G Aldred 2.00. C A Lee 2 20. J Hawdon 2.20 Anton Evans 2 20. D Elkins 2.20. Rev M Foy for Rev W H Icomb 2.20. J Jennett 2 20. W W Boomer 2 20. Rev G C Garris sell 1 25. Rev N A Hooker sell 1 20. Rev J P Moore for Mrs Jane B Miller 1.20. Rev C A Gault for B B Byers 1.00 Rev L Snell for H Smith 2 20. Rev H Culbreth for Dani Davis 2.20. R Davis 2 20. P A Gaskin 2.20. J Erkins 2 20. J S W Pearce 2 20. Mrs H West 2.20. Rev J T Bagwell for J H Russ 2. D Cromartie 2 Mrs E Gilespir 2.20. N A Savage 2.20. Mrs Ann Purdie 2 20. Mrs J H Russ 2 20. Rev R P Bibb on ac 4. Rev J W Reddoe on ac 10 Rev R M Brown for E H Bell 2.20. H W Herring 2 20. Rev T J Gattis for J J Taylor 1.20. H Harris 2 20. Mr Roberts 2.20. M Tilley 3. Rev B S Black for Mrs S Black 2.20. J B Black 2.20. Mrs O E Cox 2.20. Mrs E J Powell 2 20. Rev T A Boone for subscribers $8.80. Rev H H Gibbons for J A Gill 3. Mrs J Jennings 2.20. Miss M B Arendell 2.20. Rev N M Ray for Mrs Julius Dosher 2.20. sell 1.20. Rev J Johnston for Mrs C Shepherd 2 20. sell 1.20. Rev T H Edwards for H A Starnes 2 20. J J Cohen 1.20. Rev L Snell on ac 60 cents T H Gatlin for sale 3. Rev F A Sharp on ac 6.10. Rev A A Boshamer for Mrs T Curton 2.20. Rev T L Triplett for Rev D Brown 1.20. V H Craige 2.20. W T Gheen 1.20. Rev A D Betts for G B Rushing 2.20. H M Ingram 2.20. W J Parker sell 2 20. Rev S Y Hoyle for Ed Davis 2 20. H H Harris 2.20. S Davis 2.20. J M Braine 2 20. Rev T J Gattis for Rev N McNair Smith 1.20. Rev D R Bruton cash on ac 1,75. H T Jordan for printing 2. J D Hodges 2.50. S W Brown sell 1. Mrs E L Pemberton J F Cavenese sell 2 20. R Kornegay for ob 1 55. Rev F B Andrews for B F Gary 2 20 R H Daniel 2 20. G R Pittard 2.20. Capt T F Andrews 2.20 other papers sent. Rev A G Brown for subs 6.80 J A Buffaloe sell 2 50 McGowan 2 10. J T Patterson sell 5. Rev W S Bliss J B Whitaker L H Barnes Rev G M Anderson, paper continued, G H Kinny sell 60 cents Miss Jane E Weller sell 1. Rev G Farrar for Mis M Fuller 2.20. M Keerans 2 20. J F Horney 2 20. E Keerans 2.20 I Keerans 2.20 O Keerans 2.20. M Lassiter 2 20. J W Hall 2.20. V S Johnson 2.20. J R Elkins R Murray sell 2.20. John J Pan J R Elkins R Murray sell 2.20. John J Pan cett. where was y'r father's post office? C B Clegg paper changed. Rev D R Bruton Col W Clark for Mrs D Clark 2.20. sell 2. W M Brown for H O Sedberry 2 20. H V Long sell 2.20. Rev A D Betts Rev S Lea Rev R M Brown paper changed. T B Buchanan for E Buchanan 2 20. sell 50 cents. Rev C C Dobson for G P Perry 2 20

If your Throat Feels Sore or Uncomfortable, use promptly Dr Jayne's Expectorant. It will relieve the air-passages of all phlegm or mucous, allay inflammation, and so give the affected parts a chance to heal. No safer remedy can be had for all Coughs and Colds, or any complaint of the Throat or Lungs, and if taken in time, a short trial will prove its efficacy.

An Established Remedy.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" are widely known as an established remedy for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, and other troubles of the Throat and Lungs,

APPOINTMENTS.

WILMINGTON DISTRICT.

1st. ROUND

Wilmington 5th st.	Dec.	18-19
Kenansville, Kenansville,	Jan.	1- 2
Clinton Clinton.	"	8- 9
Magnolia, Magnolia.	"	15-16
Bladen, Bethlehem,	"	22-23
Topsail Prospect,	"	29-30
Wilmington Front St,	Feb.	5- 6
Cokesburg, Wesley Chapel,	"	12-13
Whiteville, Whiteville,	"	19-20
Waccamaw Miss	"
Fmi hville Miss Union	"	26-27
Elizabeth, Elizabethtown,	March	4- 5
Onslow, Swansboro,	"	11-12

The District Stewards will meet on the lesson at Front church Wilming on, February 8th at 11 o'clock, A M.

W. S. Black, P. E.
Magnolia N.C.

RALEIGH DISTRICT.

1st. ROUND—1876.

Raleigh Person street,	Jan.	1- 2
Louisburg,	"	8- 9
Granville, Salem,	"	15-16
Tar River and Youngville, Plank Chapel,	"	22 23
Henderson, Ridgeway.	Feb.	5- 6
Roxesville, Sydney,	"	12-13
Nashville & Rocky Mount, and Tosnot, Nashville,	"	19 20
Cary, Ebenezer,	"	26-27
Raleigh Edenton street,	March	4- 5
Smithfield Elizabet',	"	11-12

The District Stewards will please meet me Thursday the 24th day of February 3 o'clock P. M. in the Methodist Church, in Franklinton. Let every charge be represented.

J. P. Moore, P. E.
Warrenton, N. C.

SALISBURY DISTRICT.

FIRST ROUND.

Statesville Station,	Dec.	18 19
Statesville etat Providence,	"	25-26
Alexander et at Taylorsville,	Jan.	1- 2
Wilkes et at Wilkesboro,	"	8- 9
Mooresville et at Mooresville.	"	15-16
Salisbury et at Ebenezer	"	22-23
Yadkin et at Yadkinville,	"	29-30
Mc Airy station and S. Mission at Mt Airy,	Feb.	5- 6
Surry et Blue River Mission at Dobson.	"	8- 9
Iredell et at Olin,	"	12-13
Davie et at Olive Branch,	"	19 20
Mocksville et at Mocksville,	"	26-27
Salisbury station,	Mar.	4- 5

The District Stewards will please meet me in the Methodist Church at Statesville on Tuesday at 11 o'clock A M., December the 28th 1875.

D. R. Button, P. E.
Statesville, N. C.

GRANVILLE CIRCUIT.

1st ROUND.

1st Sunday, 11 o'clock A M, Calvary.
" 3½ " P M., Mt Tabor.
2d Sunday, 11 o'clock A M., Oxford.
" 3½ " P M., Shady Grove.
" 7½ " Oxford.
3d Sunday, 11 o'clock, Bullock's.
" 3½ " Moore's.
4th Sunday, 11 o'clock Salem.
" 7½ " Oxford,

Tuesday before 2nd Sunday 11 o'clock at Grey Rock.

Saturday before 2nd Sunday at Bethel,

Saturday before 3rd Sunday at Perry's Chapel.

Saturday before 4th Sunday at Hermon.

Brethren be punctual at the above times and places, beginning with January 1876.

S. V. HOYLE.

Yesterday's Mail

Brought three more certificates in favor of "Cannabis Indica," the great East India remedy for consumption, bronchitis and asthma:

——: Send me one dozen Ointment and one of Cannbis Indica. When Mr. J. W. Fieber brought his wife to me for examination I found her in the incipient stage of Tuberculous Consumption. Then it was I concluded to make a fair trial of Indian Hemp, and now there is a general demand for those remedies. The Ointment excels everything of its kind I ever saw or tried.

Fraternally yours,
P. A. Sherrill, M. D.

China Grove, Rowan N. C.

N B.—The remedy speaks for itself. One bottle will satisfy the most skeptical. Ask your druggist to get it. $2 50 per bottle, or three bottles for $6.50. Pills and Ointment $1.25 each.

As these are imported remedies we do not consignors them, but will make cash agents everywhere.

Address,
CRADDOCK & CO.,
1082 Race Street,
Philadelphia.

Sept 29 13t. e o w

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

WHOLESALE CASH PRICES.

Office of Christian Advocate,
December 14 1875.

REMARKS.

Business greatly improved. Country produce offered in quantities; especially in exchange for groceries.

COTTON.

Old cotton none. New crop coming to market freely. Tendency downward. We quote Middlings 12; Low mindlings 12 1-2 Lower grades none offered.

General Market.

FLOUR, North Carolina $7@6.50.
CORN 1.00
CORN MEAL—100
BAGGING, Standard 15 1-2.
" Dundu 13 1-2.
BACON, N. C. nog round, 14 to 15.
" hams 14 1-2 to 18
BULK C. R. sides, 12 3-4 13
" shoulders, 10 to 11
LARD, North Carolina, 16 1-2
" Western threes, 17 1-2 20
" kegs, 16 1-2@17 1-2
COFFEE, Prime Rio, 21-2
" Fair Rio, 20
SYRUP, common, 37½@
MOLASSES, Cuba, 30.
SALT $2.25.
CHEESE, Cream, 15 16.
" Factory, 17.
" Dairy, none.
NAILS, on basis for 10d, $4.00
SUGAR A, 13 1-2.
" Extra C. 11 1-4.
" Yellow, 10@11
LEATHER, sole 27 1-2@30
HIDES, green, 7@8.
" dry, 13 14
TALLOW, 7@8
POTATOES, sweet 75
" Irish, $1.00@$1.25.
OATS, shelled, 80
" sheaf, $1.25
FODDER, old, $1.50, New $1.25
HAY, N. C. baled, 1.00
CHICKENS, grown, 30
" young, 20@30
EGGS, 23
BUTTER, country, 25@30
FISH, Mullets, $6 to 6.50.
" Cut Herrings, 7@7.5
" Mackerel, new family, $17.00
BEESWAX, 25.
RAGS, 2
BEEF on foot, 7
" dressed prime, 8@10.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PLEASANT GARDEN ACADEMY,
Male and Female,
Eight Miles from Greensboro, N. C.

R. P. TROY, A. M., — — — Principal,
Mrs R. P. TROY, — — — Teacher of Music.
Miss SARAH McCULLOCH, — Assistant Teacher.

The Spring Session will begin January 4th, 1876, and continue five months.

Tuition per Session, — — — from $7.50 to $14.00
Music, — — — — — — 15.00
Board, with wood and washing, — — — — 9.00
Contingent Fee, — — — — — — 50
Use of Piano, — — — — — — — 2.00

One-half in advance. No deduction after entrance, except for sickness. The low price of board and tuition, healthy location, and the advantages of a commenced Pleasant Garden to the patronage of those having children to educate. All are required to attend Sunday School, and religious service every Sabbath, and especial care is taken to promote moral development.

First-Class Academy,

Conveyance from Greensboro Furnished for $1.00 if notice is given.

Address the Principal at Greensboro, N. C., for further information.

REFERENCES.

Rev. B. Craven, D. D., L L. D., Trinity College, N. C.
" " N. H. D. Wilson, D. D., Greensboro, N. C.
" " W. H. Bobbitt, " "
" L. L. Hendren, Chapel Hill, N. C.
George Ricks, Nashville, N. C.
Dr. Phillip Koonce, Pelcher's Mills, N. C.
" J. W. Adams, Tarboro, N. C.
Dec 15-3m.

AGENTS, the greatest chance of the age. Address with stamp, National Copying Co., Atlanta, Ga. Nov 24-1m.

BEST HOLIDAY GIFT.
For Parent, Child, Teacher, Pastor, Friend.

Sold by all Booksellers.
Dec 15—1t.

MAILED FREE
FLORAL GUIDE
Containing over 1,200 illustrations Vegetable and Flower Seeds, COLORED PLATES, Elegant wood-cuts of vegetables and flowers. Handsomest Guide Published! Send for it.
DETROIT SEED CO., Detroit, Mich.
Dec 15.

GREENSBORO FEMALE COLLEGE,
Greensboro, N. C.
The Spring Session of 1876

Will begin on Wednesday, the 12th of January, and continue twenty weeks.

Board (exclusive of washing and lights)	$75.
Tuition in regular course,	$25.

Charges for extra studies moderate.

For Catalogues containing particulars, apply to Rev T. M. Jones, President.

N. H. D. WILSON,
President of Board of Trustees.

Dec 8 3m.

Monroe High School.
MONROE, N. C.

Next Session begins Jan. 10th. Building new, large and well adapted.

Health Proverbial, Pupils prepared for College. Board $40 per term. Tuition $15 to 30. Address for circular,

J. D. HODGES

Dec. 8-1m.

THE BUFFALO LITHIA WATERS
FOR SALE.

The claim is made with entire confidence for these waters that as a curative agent of many forms of CHRONIC DISEASE they have no superior among the medicinal waters of the world. Especially and emphatically is this claim made for them in the peculiar DISEASES OF WOMEN, in AFFECTIONS of the KIDNEYS and BLADDER, and in derangements of the DIGESTIVE and BILIARY ORGANS. In GOUT and RHEUMATISM dependent on URIC ACID in the blood, they have given the most marked and decided relief. In CHRONIC INTERMITTENT, and REMITTENT FEVER, and all diseases attributable to miasmatic influence they act often like a charm. In SCROFULA they have given a degree of relief which might well induce sufferers from that disease to give them trial. They are used with advantage throughout the whole year—equally in cold as in warm weather.

The claim thus made for these waters is vouched for by some of the MOST DISTINGUISHED MEDICAL MEN OF THE COUNTRY, both North and South, as well as by numerous reported case from the most unquestionable sources.

Testimonials sent to any address on application. These waters are put up in case of one dozen half-gallon bottles, at $6 per case.

THOMAS F. GOODE,
Proprietor Buffalo Lithia Springs,
Mecklenburg county Va.

Sept 8 1m ly.

AGENTS wanted GRAND NEW BOOK.
PRESENT CONFLICT
of SCIENCE with RELIGION; or,
MODERN SKEPTICISM MET on its OWN GROUND.

This treatment of the most vital question of the day, by the author of "SCIENCE AND THE BIBLE," fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a conscientious desire to relieve human suffering, he will send (free of charge), to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and successfully using. Sent by return mail, by addressing.

Dr. W. C. STEVENS,
Manroe Block, Syracuse, N. Y.

Nov 24 1 y

PETTY & JONES,

Wonderful But True!

SOMETHING NEW!

The King of Shirts!!

SIX WAMSUTTA MUSLIN SHIRTS, with good $100 Irish Linen Bosoms,
Six different styles to each half dozen.

For $8.00!

Every Shirt guaranteed.

These Shirts are ready for the button-holes and gussets. Any lady can make the button-holes and put in the gussets, and by so doing can save from $1.00 to $1.50 on each shirt.

PETTY & JONES,

We have to-day received additional to our

Stock of Dress Goods,

CALICOES, CLOTHS, and CASSIMERS, HOOTS, SHOES, and are now exhibiting one of the most handsome stocks of Goods in the city; all of which were bought at the very LOWEST PRICES, and as we sell for small profits, our customers will be sure to get the full value of their money.

Give us a call.

PETTY & JONES,
20 Fayetteville street.

Nov 17-tf.

R. H MACY & CO.
MA 14TH ST. & 6TH AVE. NEW YORK. CY

MA The Largest Importers and retailers in Amer CY
MA es of Dolls and Toys, and Fancy Goods, CY
MA suitable for Holiday trade. We occupy the CY
MA whole block through from 14th to 13thStreet, CY
MA and for 17 years have made Holliday Goods a CY
MA specialty. ☞Catalogues CY
MA Illuminated Centennial Cards sent free to CY
MA any address. Orders attended to with special CY
MA care. CY
MACY MACY MACY MACY MACY
Dec 1-4t

"DOMESTIC" SEWING MACHINES.
Liberal Terms of Exchange for second hand Machines of every description.
"DOMESTIC" PAPER FASHIONS.
The Best Patterns made. Send 2cts. for Catalogue.
Agents Wanted. Address DOMESTIC SEWING MACHINE CO.
NEW YORK.
oct 20-13t. e o w.

SAMARITAN NERVINE,
The great Nerve Compound cures Epileptic Fits, Convulsions, Spasms, St. Vitus Dance, and all Nervous Diseases; the only known positive remedy for Epileptic Fits. It has been tested by thousands and has never been known to fail in a single case. Trial package free. Enclose stamp for Circular, giving evidence of cures. Address,
DR. S. A. RICHMOND,
dec 8-1m. Box 741, St Joseph, Mo.

THE GOLD MEDAL.

The FIRST PREMIUM was awarded to the

Singer Sewing Machine

at the last State Fair in Raleigh.

The sales of the SINGER are the largest.

It is sold on the most LIBERAL TERMS.

A warrant for five years is given with every Machine.

THE SINGER IS ALWAYS RELIABLE.

MME. DeMORESTS PATTERNS

of garments on hand at the office.

CATALOGUE FREE BY MAIL.

Write for Price List of Machines, &c

T. W. HEALD, Manager,
No. 12 Fayetteville St.
Nov 17-tf.

LAW & CO.,
Atlanta, Ga.

LAW & CO.,
CROCKERY AND GLASS MERCHANTS.
51 FAYETTEVILLE ST., RALEIGH, N. C.

Families and Merchants can now find in this city a large assortment of Table, Kitchen and Bedroom articles, at low prices. Stone and Queensware, French China, Glassware, Tea Sets, Bed Room Sets, Dinner Sets, Fine Parlor, Students' and Hall Lamps and Chandeliers, Church Lamps, Bridal Gifts, Birthday Presents and Christmas Gifts. The Celebrated German Student's Lamp a specialty. The largest variety of Goods ever brought to Raleigh. We guarantee all our goods to be as represented, and our prices are at the lowest point. Catalogues nearly ready.

LAW & CO.,
Raleigh, N. C.

LAW & Co.,
Atlanta, Ga.

B. L. BINGHAM & CO.,
Wholesale & Retail Grocers
AND GENERAL
Commission Merchants,
News Building, Nos. 6 & 7 Martin Street,
RALEIGH, N. C.

We have in store and to arrive the largest and best selected stock of Groceries in the city, the prices of which we guarantee as low as the lowest.

300 sacks Family and Extra flour.
75 kegs Old Dominion Nails.
100 sacks Marshall's Factory filled Salt (240 lbs.)
20 Kegs best Soda.
35 cases Concentrated Lye.
30 barrels sugar, all grades.
30 barrels New Crop Cuba Molasses.
20 sacks Coffee.
40 boxes Galces and Crackers,
30 cases Soap.
20 cases Brandy Peaches.
30 boxes Candy.
200 bunches Cotton Yarns.
40 boxes best Cream Cheese

Also a large supply of

BAGGING,
TIES,
BOOTS, SHOES,
BULK MEAT,
LARD,
RICE,
HAMS,
&c, &c, &c.

We take this opportunity of thanking our old friends and customers for the very liberal patronage they have bestowed upon us, and from having perfected our arrangements, think we will be able to continue to sell them goods that will be satisfactory both as to quality and price. We have now with us obliging and willing assistants, who are ever ready to serve any one with promptness and fidelity.

Prompt attention given to all orders and goods promptly shipped.

Very Respectfully,
B. L. BINGHAM & CO.

Nov 3-tf.

A. G. Lee. Ed. H. Lee. Cle R. Lee.

A STRICTLY COMMISSION HOUSE.

A. G. LEE & SONS.

RALEIGH, N. C.

Cotton is our Specialty.

We can always obtain the highest market price, and ask our friends who find it inconvenient to accompany their lots to the market to try us. We can beat New York in the net proceeds of your cottons.

When you bring your cotton to market yourself give us a chance at it. We have orders to fill and can pay the very highest market price for it. Be sure to call and see us before you sell.

We are the Agents for

The SCHOFIELD COTTON PRESS, the best invented.

A. G. LEE & SONS.
P. O. Box 222, Raleigh, N. C.

sept 1-tf

COTTON TIES.

Something New, But Old!

We have now the agency for the sale of the "Providence Pieced Cotton Tie," in towns along the R. & Air-Line Railroad to Fayetteville along the R. & D. Railroad to Goldsboro; thence to Weldon and Scotsdeer and along the R. & G. Railroad to Weldon, and are now offering this Tie at 4 1-2 cents per pound in car load lots, delivering to any depot in our section.

This Tie is newly done over, put up into bundles same size and weight as the Arrow Tie and has the Arrow buckle. Each broken one is neatly mended with two rivets, which makes it doubly strong.

Most parties who used them last season say they much prefer them to new ones considering the difference in cost.

All orders for shipments within the next two weeks can get Sixty days, they paying freight on arrival and deducting same from bill when due.

Orders from merchants and large dealers respectfully solicited.

A. G. LEE & SONS, Agts.,
Raleigh, N. C.

oct 18 tf.

THE JAS. LEFFEL
Double Turbine Water Wheel,
Manufactured by
POOLE & HUNT,
Baltimore, Md.
7,000 NOW IN USE!
Simple, Strong, Durable, always reliable and satisfactory.

Manufacturers, also, of Portable & Stationary Engines, Steam Boilers, Saw & Grist Mills, Mining Machinery, Gearing for Cotton Mills, Flour, Paint, White Lead and Oil Mill Machinery, Hydraulic and other Presses, &c. Shafting, Pulleys and Hangers a specialty. Machine made Gearing. Screw cut and of very best finish. Send for Circular.

mch 24-12m.

Stonewall Jackson.

We understand that the well known publishing house of D. APPLETON & CO., New York, have now ready for publication the LIFE OF STONEWALL JACKSON, fully illustrated by view and portraits, including the stations and scenes attending the unveiling of Foley's Statue of Stonewall Jackson at Richmond. We advise all, especially disabled soldiers and women out of work, to write to the publishers at once and secure an agency, as the work is to be sold by subscription. It will have a large sale.

Nov 24 3-t

OPIUM Morphine Habit AND Intemperance
Speedily cured by DR. BECK'S only known and sure Remedy. NO CHARGE for treatment until cured. Call on or address
Dr. J. C. BECK, 113 John St., Cincinnati, O.
Sept 22 13t. e o w.

BLYMYER MANUFG CO
BELLS
CHURCH SCHOOL FIRE-ALARM
Fine toned, low priced, fully warranted. Catalogues giving full particulars, prices, etc., sent free.
BLYMYER MANUFACTURING CO.
604 to 610 West Eighth St., Cincinnati, O.
June 23-1y. e o w.

READ THIS

I will give any one an opportunity to make from $3 to $5 per day to work for me. Work easy and light. A boy 10 years old can do well. Send stamp for particulars. Apply to

B. L. Powell, Fayetteville N. C.
nov. 25 13 m.

INSTRUCTION.

A full line of the FAMOUS WAMSUTTA SHIRTS, the very best Shirt made—warranted to fit perfectly, or no sale.

KEEP'S PATENT
PARTLY-MADE DRESS SHIRTS.

Only $15 Per Dozen!

Or Six for $7.50!

All those who have been waiting for them can now be supplied.
Sent to any address on receipt of price. The size of collar is the only measure necessary to insure a fit.

SOLE AGENTS, R. B. ANDREWS & CO.,
Clothiers, Raleigh, N. C.

OUR STOCK OF FALL AND WINTER CLOTHING FOR MEN & BOYS is LARGE and COMPLETE in every department. The Largest Stock and Lowest Prices go together here

R. B. ANDREWS & CO.,
Clothiers and Gents' Furnishers,
nov 3-3m. Raleigh, N. C.

JUST ARRIVED AT THE
RALEIGH STOVE HOUSE
Another car load of the old reliable
COTTON KING STOVE;
No Better Stove Can be found in the City!

Every one warranted! Call early and get one!
RANGERS, HEATERS and all kinds of COOKING UTENSILS,
FRANKLIN GRATES, PARLOR STOVES, WHICH ARE GEMS OF BEAUTY,
TIN WARE, LAMPS, OILS, WOOD AND WILLOW WARE,
CUTLERY AND HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS.

Guns and Locks Repaired, Bell Hanging, &c., &c.
J. C. Brewster, Proprietor.
Oct 6 tf No. 4 Hargett street, Raleigh, N. C.

OLD NORTH STATE HARDWARE AND
HOUSE FURNISHING STORE,
No. ___ Martin and Market Streets,
RALEIGH, N. C.

I am now receiving my FALL STOCK for 1875, consisting of a full line of

HARDWARE.
Hollow Crockery, Wood and Willow Ware;

Also a large stock of Cooking, Parlor and Heating STOVES. Would call particular attention to those persons who are in want of a draught Cook Stove to my new design for wood, made expressly for this market, which I have named the

"Old North State,"

FIVE SIZES—NOS. 6, 7, 8, 9, 10.

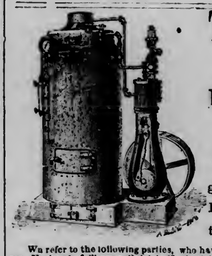
The No. 6 I will sell for $10.00, complete with pipe and furniture. No. 7 for $15.00 and other Nos. at corresponding prices. Every Stove sold will be warranted to give entire satisfaction. Do not fail to call and look at the Stoves before making purchases.

Also in stock will be found a full line of

Lamp Chimneys,
Wicks, Pratt's Astral
and Kerosene Oils.

Having purchased my entire stock at very low prices I can offer inducements to those in want of anything in my line. An examination of my stock and prices is solicited. Goods marked in plain figures.

C. A. HART,
Market and Martin Streets, directly opposite "The Daily News Office,"
Sept 18-tf. RALEIGH, N. C.



THE HOPE ENGINE.
MANUFACTURED BY
McCallum, Wyckoff & Hope,
RALEIGH, N. C.

At the N. C. State Fair, 1874, the "Hope Engine" received the GOLD MEDAL, as the best Steam Engine for general use, and the SILVER MEDAL as the best Vertical Engine.

We refer to the following parties, who have our HOPE ENGINE in use, Wm. G. Upchurch, of Williamson, Upchurch & Thomas, Raleigh, N. C., Col. A. W. Shafer, Raleigh, N. C.,

Children's Column.

Answers.

Elisha caught up Elijah's mantle when he ascended to Heaven. O J Falls, Laura Davis.

"For we must appear before the judgment seat" is found in 2d Cor. 5 chap 10th verse. Willie Jenkins.

"And the God of Peace shall bruise Satan under your feet." Romans 16th chap. 20th v. Willie Jenkins.

Paul said, "For I suppose I am not a whit behind the chiefest apostles." Willie Jenkins.

"Blessed is the man who keepeth the Sabbath from polluting it." Isaiah 56th chap. 2d v. Willie Jenkins.

"I will be as dew unto Israel" is found in Hosea 14th chap. 5th verse. Ida Davis, F B Jones.

"Prove all things, hold fast that which is good;" is found 1st Thess. 5th chap. 21st v.

Willie Jenkins, Ida Davis, Laura Davis, C J Falls, L A Falls and F B Jones say they will join the band of Bible Readers.

Questions.

C J Falls asks who fasted forty days and forty nights besides Christ. Also, where may be found the following: "and when I heard this thing, I rent my garment and my mantle and plucked off the hair of my head and of my beard and sat down astonished."

L A Falls asks where is found the following: "A little one shall become a thousand, and a small one a strong nation."

Laura Davis asks where the following is found: "At her feet he bowed, he fell, he lay down: at her feet he bowed, he fell: where he bowed, there he fell down dead."

Ida Davis asks where is the following: "For in death there is no remembrance of thee: in the grave who shall give thee thanks," Also, "for the kingdom of God is not in word but in power."

BIBLE ENIGMA BY WILLIE JENKINS

My 1st is the disciple whom Jesus loved.

My 2d is the man who caught Elijah's mantle.

My 3d is the mother of Jacob.

My 4th is the priest with whom Samuel lived.

My 5th is the prophetess who sang praises to God after the passage of the Red Sea.

My 6th is the son of promise.

My 7th is the man who was killed by his beautiful hair.

My 8th is the man who was hung on the gallows he prepared for another

My whole is the weeping prophet.

Rural and Domestic.

Farm-Yard Walks.

The simplest and cheapest are made of coarse gravel. Excavate the bed of the path to the depth of six inches or more, and fill it up with stones. This makes excellent drainage, and forms a solid foundation. Let the top be dressed with clean gravel, and the path is finished. On most farms there are troublesome stones lying around, which might be put to a good use in this way. Every barn yard ought to have the convenience of decent paths, when lasting ones can be so easily and cheaply built. That any man can be content to plod around in dung and filth up to his ankles, when he might have dry walks at a trifling expense, is a mystery. Very little thought given to this matter this Fall, would convince any man that, before next Summer, he ought to make some barn-yard walks. Next Winter and Spring he will feel so respectable, when able to keep out of the mud, that he will spare no pains to have all his neighbors enjoying the same blessing.

COTTON SEED MEAL.—There is a great diversity of opinion regarding the relative value of cotton seed meal for feeding to stock. Some of the most observing experimenters have fed it at times, but do not continue its use because they say that, when they do feed it, their cattle are not as uniformly healthy as when they have other kinds of grain. On the other hand, we know of others who have fed it very freely for many years without discovering any ill effects whatever from its use. Our own experience with cotton seed meal for milch cows has been satisfactory when fed at the rate of two quarts of it daily, mixed with four quarts of wheat bran. We consider it perfectly safe, and a valuable feed given in that quantity and proportion to either milch cows or oxen, although for oxen we would prefer giving part corn meal, instead of the four quarts of bran.—New England Farmer.

WORKING TEAMS IN THE COOL OF THE DAY.—A writer in the Country Gentleman says that he breaks prairie soil as follows: "The sod is in splendid condition, the grass well forward; rendering the labor of teams comparatively light. Indeed, my cattle seem to bear the toil on grass alone far better than I could expect, I am trying an experiment with my breaking this season, in order to avoid the excessive heat of mid-day. My cattle are at work as soon as they can see. They work steadily till 10 a. m.; and then turn out until 4 p. m.; and are worked from that time as long as I can see. One week's trial convinces me that I can thus do more work, without danger of hurting my cattle, than to wait till 7 a. m. and work through the heat of the day. The cattle, after, a week's work, take me round a land 120 rods long as fast a I have any desire to walk, pulling a fourteen inch breaker, and cutting two and one half inches deep."

LONG LAMP WICKS.—Cram all the wick you can—that is, make your wick as long as you can—in your lamp, fill up the spaces with sponge, and then pour in the kerosene or coal oil, until the wick and sponge are filled, and the lamp will hold no more. As long as any oil remains in the wick or sponge the lamp will burn. This makes a fireproof or safety lamp. If your lamp is broken, or tipped over, no accident can happen, nor will it soil the carpet or even a cover. As the wick burns away, add more sponge, and keep the lamp full of it.

Never strike a colt when you are breaking him. Push him sidewise or any way. Let him go just where he will and how he will. Let him fall down if he will, but don't strike him.

A Valuable Medical Treatise.

Hostetter's United States Almanac for 1876 for distribution, gratis, throughout the United States and all civilized countries of the Western Hemisphere, will be published about the first of January, in the English, German, French, Norwegian, Welsh, Swedish Holland, Bohemian, and Spanish languages, and all who wish to understand the true philosophy of health should read and ponder the valuable suggestions it contains. In addition to an admirable medical treatise on the cause, prevention and cure of a great variety of diseases, it embraces a large amount of information interesting to the merchant, the mechanic, the miner, the farmer, the planter, and the professional man; and the calculations have been made for each meridians and latitudes as are most suitable for a correct and comprehensive National Calendar.

The nature, uses, and extraordinary sanitary effects of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the stable and alterative of more than half the Christian world, are fully set forth in its pages, which are also interspersed with pictorial illustrations, valuable recipes for the household and farm, humorous anecdotes, and other instructive and amusing reading matter, original and selected. Among the Annuals to appear with the opening of the year, this will be one of the most useful, and may be had for the asking. The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa., on receipt of a two cent stamp, will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood. The Bitters are sold in every city, town and village, and are extensively used throughout the entire civilized world.

Dec 1-1m

"Facts are Stubborn Things."

Thousands of human beings are yearly borne on the swift current of disease down the dark grave, just because they do not possess a knowledge of themselves. A man needs his neighbor, and the first salutation is, "How are you?" or "How is your health?" The query frequently prevails, I am met with one exception of a call." Most persons lightly regard a cold. Wonder, do you know that a cold is one of the most dangerous diseases? A cold not only logs up the power of the entire system, and paralyzes circulation but it is productive of Catarrh, which is quite apt to lead to Consumption, unless you say "it is nothing but a cold in my head." Taney but that cold is really a mild form of Catarrh, and if not arrested in its course will become chronic. Catarrh is one of the most disagreeable, offensive affections in the catalogue of diseases. The passage to the nose is obstructed, the sense of smell impaired and there is a disagreeable sensation and pressure in the head. In the more advanced stages, there is a discharge having an offensive odor. If the disease be allowed to continue in its course, thick, hard incrustations will form in the head, the bones of which sometimes become softened and break away in pieces. Many and persons each year fall victims from such an annoying, disgusting disease when they can just as well be cured of it by Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy all will agree is a most fine old remedy, in fact it is the only cure at sale remedy which has yet been offered to the public. Many harsh, irritating preparations may for a time relieve the worst of the symptoms, but they do not cure the disease. Dr Sage's Catarrh Remedy is soothing and healing in its effects, and when cured will. Dr. Pierce's Golden Douche, according to directions, does and fail to effect a cure. Sold by all Druggists

Dec 1-1m

OFFICE OF

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,

RALEIGH, N. C.

We have removed to our elegant and commodious NEW STORE in

BRIGGS BUILDING

where we will be pleased to see our many friends and the public generally.

OUR NEW STORE ROOM,

THIRTY-TWO feet wide and TWO HUNDRED long, together with a large and convenient Cellar and Warehouse adjoining, affords us unequalled facilities for conducting our business.

Customers and visitors will find our salesmen and ourselves polite, careful, accommodating and attentive. We extend a cordial invitation to every body to come and see us.

Respectfully,

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,

oct 13-tf. Briggs Building.

BRANSON'S NORTH CAROLINA ALMANAC FOR 1876.

Only $3 00 per 100—the cheapest and best Almanac published in the State.

L. BRANSON,
Raleigh, N. C.

ORDER ANY BOOKS YOU WANT

If not on hand, I will procure and send them to you on short notice.

L. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.

SCHOOL BOOKS! SCHOOL BOOKS!!

SCHOOL BOOKS!!!

I am prepared to supply the schools at the lowest cash rates. These are good reasons why you ought to trade with me.

L. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.

nov. 3-tf.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE LIFE AND LABORS OF

LIVINGSTONE.

INCLUDING HIS LAST JOURNALS.

THE ONLY COMPLETE HISTORY of his thirty years travels in Africa. Vividly portraying his many thrilling adventures and the wonders and wealth of that marvellous country.

805 pages—100 rare Illustrations.

19,000 copies sold in first seven weeks.

For terms and particulars, address

NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO.
7 & 9 Marietta St., Atlanta, Ga

Williams & Haywood,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Oils, Dye Stuffs, Perfumery,

Fancy Articles, Garden Seeds, Fine Teas, Spices, Flavoring Extracts.

CIGARS, CHEWING TOBACCO &C.

Keep constantly on hand, at lowest market prices, White Lead, Putty, Kerosene Oil, Linseed Oil, Lamp Oil, Tanner's Oil, Window Glass, Varnish, &c., &c.

Dec. 23-1.

A NEW and the greatest chance of the age. Address at once Lamps National Supplying Co., Atlanta, Ga.

nov 24-1m.

REMOVAL.

RALEIGH, N. C., January 6th, 1875.

MR. EDOR, FASNACH, RALEIGH, N. C.: Dear Sir: I have received the FANTASCOPIC STAR SPECTACLES a faithful trial, and am much pleased with them. They do not fatigue my eyes and with No. 16 Glasses, I can read the smallest type with unusual perspicuity, and most cheerfully recommend them.

Very respectfully,
Your Ob't Serv't,

P. F. PESCUD.

RALEIGH, N. C., January 7, 1875.

MR. EDOR, FASNACH, RALEIGH, N. C.: Dear Sir: I have purchased one of your PANTASCOPIC STAR SPECTACLES, and take great pleasure in stating that they have given entire satisfaction. The clearness and sphereness of the light reflected through them is most pleasant to the eye, and I cheerfully commend them to any one being compelled to use spectacles.

Very Respectfully,

S. L. RIDDLE,
Clerk Reg. Deeds.

MR. EDOR, FASNACH: Dear Sir: I have for some time past been using the PANTASCOPIC STAR SPECTACLES, and take great pleasure in stating that they have given entire satisfaction. The clearness and sphereness of the light reflected through them is most pleasant to the eye, and I cheerfully commend them to any one being compelled to use spectacles.

Respectfully Yours,

J. B. BOBBITT.

Raleigh N. C., May 21st, 1875.

The PANTASCOPIC STAR SPECTACLES are made of white, and blue, and pebble-tinted lenses.

Persons out of the city can be supplied with proper glasses by giving age and occupation. Address

EDWARD FASNACH,
Jeweller, Raleigh, N. C.,

Sole Agent for the Pantascopic Star Spectacles.

Sept. 21-3m.

GIVES PERFECT SATISFACTION

For Sabbath Schools.

The Shining River.

For High and Grammar Schools.

THE HIGH SCHOOL CHOIR.

The former is by H. S. & W. O. Perkins, and sells for 35 cents per copy in Boards, and $30 per 100. Issued only a few weeks since, but the publishers are already receiving complimentary letters, and the praises are sounded everywhere. It will prove a "SHINING RIVER" of beauty and melody in hundreds of homes and sabbath schools.

The latter is just out, and is a book which no Teacher can fail to admire and introduce. It will be a decided element in the musical advance of the time.—Sells for $1.00, or $9.00 per dozen.

NOW READY.

A new collection of most beautiful Hymns and Tunes for Prayer Meetings, Prayer Meetings, Camp Meetings &c., &c., entitled LIVING WATERS.

Price	For Praise Meetings.	BY
30 cents	LIVING WATERS For Prayer Meetings.	D. P. HODGES.

Now give new life to the singing in your congregation by introducing a few hundred copies of this delightful work.

Specimen copies of Living Water, Shining River or High School Choir sent, post paid, for retail Price

OLIVER DITSON & CO., C. H. DITSON & CO.,
Boston. 711 B'dway, New York

nov 3-tf

$5 TO $20 per day! Agents wanted! All classes of working people, of either sex, young or old, making more money at work for us in their spare moments or all the time, than at anything else. Particulars free. Address G. STINSON & Co., Portland, Maine.

Sept 16-1m

COME YE DISCONSOLATE!

Men in search of FIRST-CLASS GOODS, the very Latest Tip of Fashion, and put up in a style that will suit the most fastidious taste, go to

WEIKEL'S ESTABLISHMENT,

on Fayetteville Street, one door South of the Southern Express Office.

IT IS A CONCEDED FACT

that Weikel can put up the best and most satisfactory suit in the way of fine suits of Clothing, from a Wedding Day's Business Suit, that can be turned out in Raleigh. The old and young men say it, the ladies (that bless them) endorse and the children cry over it, cry for joy when their revered "dad's" put on a suit of Weikel's clothing.

Weikel takes this occasion to return his thanks for the large and liberal patronage heretofore received, and respectfully asks for continuance of the same. His stock of

CLOTHS,
CASSIMERES,
TWEEDS,
SUITINGS, &c.

is much larger than ever before, and comprises all the Latest Novelties in Style, having been recently purchased at low prices from

FASHION HE DRUARTERS.

As usual he forces of Workmen are Picked Men whose skill and ability are known to the "dressing" palate.

Come one and all to the Emporium of Fashion, Weikel's the Merchant Tailor, for a first class Suit of Clothes of fir t class goods, put up in first class style.

Oct. 13-tf.

PRICES REDUCED

LADIES

— AND —

GENTLEMEN:

CALL AT ONCE AND EXAMINE THE EXTENSIVE STOCK, JUST RECEIVED AT

J. P. GULLEY'S,

—OF—

Dry Goods, Clothing,

NOTIONS, BOOTS, SHOES,

Hats, Caps, Trunks, Valises,

White Goods &c., &c.

BURT'S GAITERS & BOOTS FOR GENTS

PRINTS! PRINTS! PRINTS!

A Desirable 5 of the latest pattern, at price that cannot be excelled.

Remember

JOSEPH P. GULLEY,
corner Fayetteville and Market Square.

Oct 13-tf. 578

Carriage Builde rs,

CARTHAGE, N. C.

Having recently increased our Facilities for Manufacturing we are prepared to furnish Vehicles of the BEST QUALITY on short notice, and at comparatively low prices. Vehicles shipped at Sanford, Raleigh and Chatham R. R. via Raleigh to any part of the State

We feel confident that, with the close attention we give the business, together with the materials used, the skilled workman employed, and the many conveniences we have for manufacturing FIRST CLASS WORK, no house in the country can excel us in

STYLE, FINSH, DURABILITY AND

Low Prices.

We manufacture and keep constantly on hand harness of the Best Quality.

Repairing neatly Done at Short Notice

Send for Circular.

July 21 1-y

The Best Household Oil in the World!

C. WEST & SONS' ALADDIN SECURITY OIL.

Warranted 120 Degrees Fire Test

Endorsed by the Fire Insurance Companies.

Read the following certificate, selected from many others:

HOWARD FIRE INS. CO. OF BALTIMORE, December 23, '74

Messrs C. West & Sons: Gentlemen—Having used the various oils sold in this city for illuminating purposes, I take pleasure in recommending your "Aladdin Security" as the safest and best ever used in our household. Yours, truly

(Signed) ANDREW REESE, Pres't.

IT WILL NOT EXPLODE.

Ask your Storekeeper for it

Wholesale Depot: C. WEST & SONS,
113, 115 W Lombard Street, Baltimore.

Sep. 1-6m.

JOHN W. HINSDALE,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

Room 1 2 First Floor, Law Building, Fayetteville street.

RALEIGH N C

Attends all the Courts in Raleigh and Fayetteville. Claims collected in all parts of North Carolina. Refers to Hon. R. M. Pearson, Chief Justice of N. C.; Hon. M. W. Ransom, U. S. Senate; Citizens' National Bank, W. H. & S. H. Dunbar, Winston & Haywood, Raleigh, N. C.; Fayetteville National Bank, Merchants' Bank of Fayetteville; J. D. Williams & Co.; E. J. Lilly & Co., Fayetteville, N. C.; Bank of New Hanover, Wilmington, N. C.; Meston, Bliss & Co., Phelps, Dodge and Co., H. K. Thurber & Co., H. B. Claflin & Co., New York; D. Landreth & Co., Philadelphia; G. W. Gail & Ax, Balt more.

He has for such business connection with Messrs. Mackae & Broadfoot of Fayetteville N. C. relating only to his future business at that point. All communications addressed to John W. Hinsdale care of Mackae & Broadfoot at Fayetteville, will receive prompt attention.

Oct. 25-tf.

THE FIRM OF WYNNE, YANCEY & CO., is this day dissolved by mutual consent.

GEO. W. WYNNE,
T. B. YANCEY,
J. W. LEE.

RALEIGH, June 15th, 1875.

HAVING PURCHASED THE interest as Assume the liabilities of the late firm of WYNNE, YANCEY & CO., I would request all those indebted to make immediate payment.

Thankful for the patronage so liberally bestowed upon the late firm I trust h. personal attention to merit the same.

June 23-tf GEO. W. WYNNE.

BALTIMORE

EYE and EAR INSTITUTE

NO 55 FRANKLIN ST., Baltimore, Md.

JULIANA CHISOLM M. D., Professor of Eye and Ear Diseases in the University of Maryland, EUGENE N. CHATARD, Surgeon.

This Institution is thoroughly organized and fitted up with every convenience for the treatment of Eye and Ear Diseases.

For further information apply to the above.

8 apl 13 3m.

THE CARY COTTON GIN.

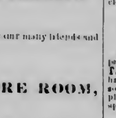
Is still being manufactured at Cary, N. C., improved in some respect and warranted to give satisfaction or the trade if properly put to work. Those desiring further information send for Circular, &c. to

W. M. SORRELL,
Cary, N.C.

June 15-tf.

BRINLY PLOWS

BEST AND CHEAPEST IN USE.



Have taken over 800 Premiums at Fairs throughout the South. Send for Illustrated Catalogue and Price List and certificates of planters who use them.

SOLE MANUFACTURERS:
BRINLY, HILES & HARDY,
Louisville, Ky.

Sept 8-6m.

$5 TO $20 per day! Agents wanted! All classes of working people, of either sex, young or old, making more money at work for us in their spare moments or all the time, than at anything else. Particulars free. Address G. STINSON & Co., Portland, Maine.

Sept 16-1m

CHANGE IN BUSINESS.

The Old and Well Known House of

J. M. ROSENBAUM

Having concluded to confine itself to certain specialties, announces that in its main business it is exclusively

A CLOTHING STORE

of the highest grade, where every article of Gentlemen's and Boy's wear of all kinds and grades is offered

ON THE MOST FAVORABLE TERMS FOR CASH.

Buyers need go no farther to be suited. Every class of customers can be supplied.

Attached to the establishment is a Department for the sale of

CHINA, CROCKERY AND GLASSWARE,

Everything in that line can be found of the first quality and at reasonable prices.

The long established character of this House is a sufficient guarantee of its ability and deterai ation to do what it promises. Don't fail to call on

J. M. ROSENBAUM,
Corner Fayetteville and Hargett Sts.

NEW FIRM.

The undersigned have this day formed a co-partnership under the firm name of

Wainright Williams & Hood.

and having purchased the stock and goods of J. A. Wainright, they will continue the GROCERY and COMMISSION business at

FARMER'S EXCHANGE,

No. 4 Martin Street,

RALEIGH, N. C.

Our Stock will consist of

Bacon,
Flour,
Molasses,
Coffee,
Sugars,
Lard
Salt,
Bagging,
and Ties,

And all other goods in the Grocery line with Staple Dry Goods, Shoes, etc. Having superior facilities for buying, and a small expense account, we guarantee the lowest prices. Consignments of Cotton and produce generally, solicited, to the sale of which our best efforts will be devoted.

Patronage of our friends respectfully solicited

GEO. H. WAINRIGHT,
(late with Williamson, Up'h & Thomas)
MID. T. WILLIAMS,
Wm. H. HOOD.

Raleigh, Sept. 1, 1875. Chatham. Johnston.

Having sold my stock of Groceries to Messrs. Wainright, Williams & Hood, I take pleasure in recommending them to my friends and late customers, as entirely worthy of confidence and patronage.

For the present, I may be found at the old stand and hope all those indebted to the late firm of Thompson & Whitaker and to myself, will call and settle as soon as possible. J. D. WHITAKER.

Raleigh, Sept 8-tf

TYSON & JONES

Carriage Builde rs,

CARTHAGE, N. C.

Having recently increased our Facilities for Manufacturing we are prepared to furnish Vehicles of the BEST QUALITY on short notice, and at comparatively low prices. Vehicles shipped at Sanford, Raleigh and Chatham R. R. via Raleigh to any part of the State

We feel confident that, with the close attention we give the business, together with the materials used, the skilled workman employed, and the many conveniences we have for manufacturing FIRST CLASS WORK, no house in the country can excel us in

STYLE, FINSH, DURABILITY AND

Low Prices.

We manufacture and keep constantly on hand harness of the Best Quality.

Repairing neatly Done at Short Notice

Send for Circular.

July 21 1-y

OLD NORTH STATE

FIRE

Insurance Company,

OF

WARRENTON, - - - - - N. C.,

This Company has closed its third year in a condition of GREAT PROSPERITY, and entered upon its fourth year under the MOST PROMISING AUSPICES.

It deserves the liberal patronage which it is receiving because

It is a home institution.
It has ample Capital and Reserves
It pays its losses promptly.

ASSETS.

Cash on hand at the Bank	$ 8 421 53
Cash in hands of Agents	4,961 19
Stock Notes	15,670 00
Real Estate Mortgage	89,988 81
Loaned on Collaterals	7,647 63
Due for premiums	3,529 63
Interest due and accrued	914 53
	$131,097 19

LIABILITIES:

All liabilities including full reinsurance Reserved	$18 481 81
Surplus	112,615 38
	$130,297 19

WM. S. DAVIS, President.
R. F. LONG, Secretary.

SCHEDULES.

PIEDMONT AIR-LINE RAILWAY.

RICHMOND & DANVILLE RICHMOND & DANVILLE R. W., N. C. DIVISION, AND NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. W.

CONDENSED TIME-TABLE.

In effect on and after Sunday, Sept. 19th, 1875.

GOING NORTH

STATIONS.	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Charlotte	9.3 P. M.	5.45 A. M.
" Air-Line Junc'n	9.31 "	6.30 "
" Salisbury	1.55 "	8.54 "
" Greensboro'	3.15 A. M.	10.55 "
" Danville	6.08 "	1.12 P. M.
" Dundee	6.15 "	2.00 "
" Burkeville	11.35 "	6.47 "
Arrive at Richmond	2.22 P. M.	8.45 "

GOING SOUTH

STATIONS.	MAIL.	EXPRESS.
Leave Richmond	1.38 P. M.	5.08 A. M.
" Burkeville	4.52 "	8.36 "
" Dundee	10.39 "	1.14 P. M.
" Danville	10.39 "	1.17 P. M.
" Greensboro'	3.00 A. M.	3.35 "
" Salisbury	5.32 "	6.10 "
" Air-Line Junc'n	8.05 "	8.25 "
Arrive at Charlotte	8.22 A M	8.45 "

GOING EAST.		GOING WEST
STATIONS.	MAIL	MAIL.
Leave Greensboro'	8.00 A. M.	Arrive 1.45 A. M.
" Co. Shops	4.30 "	Leave 12.30 "
" Gibsonville	11.30 "	Arrive 9.30 P. M.
Arrive at Goldsboro'	11.30 A. M.	Leave 5.00 "

NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. R.

(SALEM BRANCH.)

Leave Greensboro'	4.30 P. M.
Arrive at Salem	6.13 "
Leave Salem	8.40 A. M.
Arrive at Greensboro	10.38 "

Passengers train leaving Raleigh at 2.10 P. M. connects at Greensboro' with the Northern bound train, making the quickest time to all points in Northern Virginia. Tickets same as via other routes.

For Pamlico and Albemarle points Leave at Greensboro connect at Greensboro with Mail Train for Goldsboro' Salem or Danville.

Way trains daily, both ways.

On Smiths Lynchburg Accommodation leave Richmond at 3.00 A. M., arrive at Burkeville 12.48 P. M., leave Burkeville 4.35 A. M., arrive at Richmond 7.55 A. M.

No Change of Cars between Charlotte and Richmond, 282 Miles.

Papers that have arrangements to advertise the Schedule of this company will please print as above. For further information address

S. K. ALLEN,
Gen'l Ticket Agent,
Greensboro, N. C.

F. M. E. TALCOTT,
Engineer & Gen'l superintendent.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE

RALEIGH & GASTON RAILROAD CO.

On and after Friday, May 22nd, 1874, trains on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, will run daily (sunday excepted) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Leave Ralei h	9.35 A. M.
Arrive at Weldon	3.30 P. M.
Leaves Weldon	9.50 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh	4.15 P. M.

ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh	5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon	5.15 P. M.
Leaves Weldon	2.2 5 "
Arrives at Raleigh	2.45 P. M.

Mail train makes close connection at Weldon, with the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad and Bay Line Steamers via Baltimore, to and from all points North, West and N rthwest, Richmond and with Petersburg Railroad via Petersburg, Richmond and Washington City, and from all points North and Northwest

And at Raleigh with the North Carolina Railroad to and from all points South and Southwest, and with the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line to Haywood and Fayetteville.

A. B. ANDREWS,
Gen. Sup't.

RALEIGH & AUGUSTA AIR-LINE RAILROAD.

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, N. C. Oct. 25th, 1875.

On and after Monday, October 25th, 1875, trains on the R. & A. A. L. Road will run daily, (Sundays excepted,) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Train leaves Raleigh,	4.00 P. M.
Arrives at Sanford,	6.25 "
Train leaves Sanford,	6.30 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh,	9.20 "

FREIGHT TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Sanford	10.35 A. M.
Leaves Sanford,	11.00 A. M
Arrives at Raleigh	3.30 P. M.

Mail Train makes close connection a Raleigh with the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, to and from all points North.

And at Sanford with the Western Railroad, to and from Fayetteville and points on Western Railroad.

A. B. ANDREWS,
Superintendent.

OFFICE SUPT OF TRANSPORTATION,
Seaboard & Roanoke R. R. Co.,
Portsmouth, Va., Jan. 1st, 1875.

On and after this date, trains on this Road will leave Weldon daily, Sundays excepted, as follows:

Mail train at	4 P. M.
No. 1 Freight train at	4 A. M.
No. 2 Freight train at	8 A. M.

ARRIVE AT PORTSMOUTH.

Mail train at	7.15 P. M.
No 1 Freight at	12 00 NOON.
No 2 Freight at	4.00 P. M.

Freight trains have a passenger car attached.

Steamer for Edenton, Plymouth and Landings on Blackwater and Chowan Rivers leave Franklin at 7.30 A. M. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

E. G. GHIO,
Sup't Transportation.

1875. 1876.

FALL AND WINTER.

ISAAC GETTINGER

Is now in receipt of his ENTIRE STOCK of MILLINERY, Ladies' Fancy Furnishing, Hair and Needle Goods, to an inspection of which his many customers are respectfully invited. My stock has been selected with a great deal of care, and consists of Bonnets and Hats for Ladies, Misses, Children and Babies.

Ladies' Sacks, Ladies' Undergarments, Ladies' Cloaks and Sacques, Ruffs, Collars and Cuffs, Kid and other Gloves, Zephyr, Saxony and Germantown Wool, Knitting Cotton, Crochet Needles, Worked Slippers,

Mottoes and Motto Frames, every sort of Patterns for Needle Work, Stamped Yokes, Buttons, Embroidering Silk and Cotton, 1,000 Ladies' Silk Boards, 1,000 Belts, 20,000 yards Ribbon, Real and Imitation Laces, Hamburg Edging and Insertion.

And a Thousand other Articles.

In our Millinery Department we employ some FIRST-CLASS NEW YORK MILLINERS, and guarantee satisfaction. All I ask is a trial. My stock is the largest, best selected and tastiest in this city, and I may say State.

Oct. 13 6w. ISAAC GETTINGER.

Marcy's Sciopticon and Lantern Slides.

New and brilliant effects. Circular free.

SPECIAL OFFER TO SUNDAY-SCHOOLS

L. J. MARCY, 1816 CHESNUT STREET Philadelphia.

Oct 27 3-m.

FALL AND WINTER GOODS!

D. S. WAITT & BRO.,

Are offering a Large and Attractive Stock of

FINE AND CHEAP CLOTHING!

Gents' Furnishing Goods and Neck Wear,

Boots, Shoes, Overcoats, Spreads and Rubber Goods! Hat and Cape! Merino Shirts, Drawers and Hosiery Paper and Envelopes, Note Paper, Handkerchiefs and Pocket Knives. The Celebrated

MANHATTAN FINE WHITE SHIRT,

Acknowledged to be the best and most perfect fitting shirt in the market.

Prints! Prints!

Red, White and Fancy Flannels, Opera Flannels, Binding Edgings and Buttons, Ladies' Trimmed Hats, Ivory, Bonnets, Combs, Corsets, Jeans, Cassimeres a d Linings, Trunks, Valises, Umbrellas, Travelling Bags, &c

WHITE AND BROWN BLANKETS,

Ladies Striped and Plaid Breakfast Shawls, Knit Socks, Jackets and Hoods.

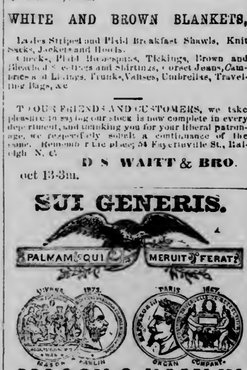
Checks, Plaid Homespuns, Ticklings, Brown and Bleached Sheetings and Shirtings, Corset Jeans, Canvas a d Linings, Trunks, Valises, Umbrellas, Travelling Bags, &c

TO OUR FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS, we take pleasure in saying our stock is now complete in every department, and thanking you for your liberal patronage, we respectfully solicit a continuance of the same. Remember the place is 54 Fayetteville St., Raleigh N. C.

D S WAITT & BRO.

oct 13-3m.

SUI GENERIS.



MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.

UNEQUALED as judged UNAPPROACHED evidently in tonality and excellence by any others. Awarded

THREE HIGHEST MEDALS AND DIPLOMA OF HONOR AT VIENNA, 1873; PARIS, 1867.

ONLY American Organs ever awarded any medal in Europe, or which received such extraordinary excellence as to command a wide sale there.

ALWAYS awarded highest premiums at Industrial Expositions in America as well as Europe. Out of hundreds that have not been six in all where any other organs have been preferred.

BEST Declared by Eminent Musicians, in both hemispheres, to be unrivaled. See TESTIMONIAL CIRCULAR, with opinions of more than ONE THOUSAND (real free).

INSIST on having a Mason & Hamlin. Do not accept any other. Dealers get LARGER COMMISSIONS for selling inferior organs, and for this reason often try very hard to sell something else.

NEW STYLES with most important improvements made every year. New Solo and Combination Stops. Superb Etagere and other Cases of new designs.

PIANO-HARP CABINET ORGAN, quite combination of these instruments.

EASY PAYMENTS, for monthly or quarterly payments; or rented until rent pays for the organ.

CATALOGUES and Circulars, with full particulars, free. Address MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont Street, BOSTON, 25 Union Square, NEW YORK; or 80 & 82 Adams St., CHICAGO.

apl 14 1 year.

G. T. LEACH, N. J. M. T. LEACH

Leach Brothers,

WHOLESALE GROCERS

AND

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

SOUTH-EAST CORNER MARKET, SQUARE, Raleigh N C

PLEIS' FIT POWDERS.

These Powders have been tested by over 40,000 cases for the cure of Fits (Epilepsy), Spasms, Convulsions, St. Vitus' Dance, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Affections, some over 41 years' standing

When you ORDER STATE AGE.

Price $5 per Box, containing 16 POWDERS, or sent to any part of the United States for One Dollar per Box.—These Powders are prepared and sold only by the proprietor, to whom all orders must be addressed,

JOHN M. PLEIS, Jr.,

961 North Third Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

☞ Please mention that you saw this advertisement in THE CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE. mar 31-1y

SWAIM'S CELEBRATED PANACEA

Has long attracted the notice of the most eminent Physicians, by its great efficacy in curing what were considered incurable cases of disease where the patients have been almost destroyed by SCROFULA etc., and Prof. VALENTINE MOTT, of the New York University, Professors GIBSON, DEWEES and CHAPMAN, of Philadelphia, and many other physicians of celebrity, gave, over their own signatures, letters recommending it, and certifying to its great merits. It has been occasionally advertised, and thousands of families throughout the United States recommend and use it. The laboratory is under the direction of DR. FRANKLIN STEWART, who has devoted his attention and skill to its careful preparation during the past twenty-five years, and not a bottle put up but is worth many times its cost to the patient. It is peculiarly suited for the most ill-used and debilitated, and, IN ALL CASES WHERE THE BLOOD IS NOT PURE, IT SHOULD BE USED FREELY.

PREPARED ONLY AT

SWAIM'S LABORATORY,

113 S. Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia

Descriptive pamphlets furnished gratis on application.

Nov 3-3m.

ZELL'S ENCYLOPEDIA.

New and Revised edition. 10,000 articles, 3,000 engravings, and 18 splendid Maps. The best book of universal knowledge, in the language. Now in course of publication. Agents wanted. Specimen with map sent for 20 cent. Baker, Davis & Co. Philadelphia.

Nov. 10-6t.

PROGRESS THE WATCHWORD

Merit and Success Hand in Hand.

BROOKLYN LIFE

INSURANCE COMPANY,

NO. 141 BROADWAY,

NEW YORK.

Assets- - - -$1,500,000.00!!

CHRISTIAN W. BOUCK, President.
D. P. FACKLER, Actuary.

Wm. M. COLE, Secretary
DANIEL AYRES, M.D., L.L.D., Med. Director

POLICIES VALUABLE IN LIFE, AS WELL AS AT DEATH!

The BROOKLYN LIFE is the

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Bobbitt & Gray, Publishers. | Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina. | $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Vol. XXI.---No. 50. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, December 22, 1875. | Whole No. 1,088.

Selected Poetry.

Christmas.

BY LUCY H. S. DEANE.

[illegible]

The Pulpit.

For the Advocate.

A SERMON BY REV. A. O. DODSON.

Who is this that cometh from Edom, with dyed garments from Bozrah? this that is glorious in his apparel, traveling in the greatness of his strength? I that speak in righteousness, mighty to save.—Isaiah 63 chap. and 1st verse.

The Prophet, and through him, the Church in their congregations, is greatly speaks on this text. The speaking is most interesting in the light it assumes in the form of an inquiry. View ing it in the elevated pastoral of the vision, the occupiers of the kingdom of Jesus were looking out to some successful conquerors, the triumphing conquerors of their foes from Gods Yale. Who is this glorious Leader, on his white charger, his victorious legions are marching? The inquiry is not to be one of any ignorance on the part of the interrogators, the name, power, or glory of the leader. The vivid description of his person and movements, shows this clearly.—The question is flung forth (the Spirit) for the purpose of calling di vect attention to his glory, and power and to challenge admiration and worship. Jesus is the exalted Personage. We and all men are encouraged to admire, love and adore, the only legitimate object of worship,—the only name through which men may be saved—Jesus the Saviour of the world —the Prince of Peace, the mighty conqueror for man. Angels, for God and all worlds. He is represented as coming from Edom and Bozrah, the fields of spiritual contest, with dyed garments, and traveling in great might, having triumphed over sin and the enemies of God's true Israel.

Edom (Bible readers will remember) was the inveterate enemy of Israel, in olden times; hence the expressions Edom and Bozrah here bear a representative force, have a spiritual as well as a literal interpretation, and are doubtless used to show that as those foes had been met and overcome, so in like manner should all of the foes and opponents of God's true Israel.

We learn from the Bible that the kingdom of Edom was once very powerful and threatened the overthrow of Jerusalem, "the city of the Great King." Her children (her inhabitants) clamored for its destruction, they said "raze it, raze it, even to the foundations thereof." So say the enemies of the Church now in their mad plottings. Spinoza, Shaftesbury, Hobbes, Bolingbroke, Hume, Payne, Tyndall, Darwin, Huxley, Spencer, "et id omne genus:" but as the clamor was hushed in ruin and defeat then, so will it be now; the iron rod shall be dashed in fury against the potter's vessel and every foe cower under the smiting fury of the leader of God's hosts. For opposition and enmity to Israel Edom and Bozrah were doomed to ruin; and oh! fearful ruin, "when God shall take hold on shield and buckler." And here we may say, from the authority of God's word, that all of God's enemies shall be "overcome at the last." Edom was great, rich and powerful; could boast of a long line of grand Dukes; won great victories, gained honor and the rich spoils of conquest, felt secure in these things. Bozrah, the capital city, was the seat of wealth, learning and legal; a stronghold for power, a place of security. Bozrah, in the old Hebrew, signifies a "fold, or enclosure." Edom not but its walls and towers were of solid massive stones crowned with the engincry of death and destruction, promising its inmates surest refuge, most perfect security. It was situated on an oasis in the Syro Arabian Desert, sixty miles South of Damascus and forty miles East of the river Jordan. From history we learn that it was powerfully fortified, even in the days of the Roman Empire. It was visited by Trajan the conqueror, while he was in the East, who had it improved and beautified to a wonderful extent and chose it for his capitol for a time.—Some of the evidences of these improvements yet remain to bless the curious eye of the antiquary, but now Edom is desolate, the splendid reign of her grand dukes has ceased. Bozrah is a heap of ruins. She was once rich, strong, glorious "and full of lusty life," an enclosed garden of vines and olives, the voice of shout and song and dance rung out on the night breeze and the glare of the lamp of the revelers only paled out at the coming of the morning sunbeam; but faded now is her glory, hushed her song of mirth, her vines and olives are no longer the joy of busy, thronging multitudes. Silence most impressive reigns, where once all was full of "lusty life," smitten by the arm of the Leader of God's Host. All of this is a fit emblem of the ruin inflicted by Jesus on the powers of evil when he dyed his garments in the blood of his enemies, and so shall it finally be of all the opposers of God's Kingdom. We may behold them to day full of power and "spreading themselves like a green bay tree" (as God shame us they expect not) to-morrow they are cut down in a moment.

The person who is represented as coming from Edom and Bozrah and about whom the interrogation is made, was Jesus the mediator of both of God's covenants. The Angel leader in the Old Covenant, and the son of God, the Messiah of the latter day or New Testament Covenant, and he is here represented as coming out from a fearful struggle. All the surroundings go to prove this conclusively; the struggle was against Edom and Bozrah, used here to represent by a definite nomenclature all of the foes of God's pure spiritual kingdom. It was a fearful struggle and manifested by the sacred garments victorious also, as is manifested by coming or traveling in great might. This was true of the work and mission of Jesus. He began the fight with the great foe of God and good almost as soon as the water of baptism dried away from his sacred brow; and the contest raged fiercely, mingled with earthly hatred, from petty loving, time serving men and the malice and the infernal assaults of hell, until Jesus the great leader, as Captain of God's Hosts, in one mad to hand fight, with the Prince of the Pit, took this world away from his vile hands and bore it in the arms of his Divinity up to the place of skulls, with its sins upon his own body, sprinkling it with his precious blood and thus won it back to God and Heaven. By this act he was wounded in the front of the fight, but in being wounded he triumphed, and broke the necks of his enemies;—his foes were all routed and a victory secured for man and heaven, and so firmly establishing the church, that "the gates of hell shall never prevail against it." Oh what a victory was that, when the arm of Jesus brought salvation; and thank God, he who gained this victory, brought this salvation, will lead the Church on to victory, over every foe, though a thousand Edoms full of enemys may stand in the way of her triumphant march. Yes, he will bring the hosts through the gates of the strong city. Let us follow this glorious Captain, who is traveling in the greatness of his strength, "who is glorious in holiness, fearful in praises, doing wonders."

The appearance of this Leader ought to be noticed; he "who is glorious in his apparel." St. John saw him among the candlesticks (that is among the churches) clothed with a garment down to the foot, "and girt about the paps with a golden girdle, his head and hairs were white like wool, as white as snow and his eyes like as a flame of fire, and his feet like unto fine brass, as if they burned in a furnace, and his voice as the sound of many waters; and he had in his right hand seven stars, and out of his mouth went a sharp two edged sword and his countenance was as the sun shineth in his strength, and he was alive forevermore and had the keys of death and hell."

Daniel saw him as the Ancient of Days casting down the thrones of power, "his garments were white as snow, the hair of his head like pure wool, his throne was like the fiery flame and his wheels as burning fire, and he saw that the thrones and kingdoms under the whole heaven, was given to the people of the saints," by this mighty Leader. Thank God for the assurance that the Church has such a leader. She can but succeed, if she follow on "to know the Lord."

He travels, the Prophet says, 'in the greatness of his strength;' not brute strength like Hercules, but in divine and eternal strength. The Psalmist says 'he rode upon a cherub and did fly, he maketh the clouds his chariot." Daniel says, "a thousand thousands ministered unto him and ten times ten thousands went before him." St. John "saw heaven opened and behold a white horse and him that sat upon him was called faithful and true, and in righteousness he doth judge and make war. On his head were many crowns, and he had a name written that no man knew but himself, and he was clothed in a vesture dipped in blood and his name is called the Word of God, and the armies of heaven followed him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen white and clean, and out of his mouth goeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations, and he shall rule them with a rod of iron, and he treadeth the wine press of the fierceness and wrath of Almighty God, and he hath on his vesture, and on his thigh a name written, King of Kings and Lord of Lords." With this glorious retinue, he is represented as going forth to battle for his people and for his church, and the very earth melts and gives way at his coming; his enemies cower at his feet and lick the dust; the deadly simoon is rather to be courted than the presence of the Lord when he wakes to vengeance and judgment; but how different when he comes on a mission to bless and save—then he comes meek and lowly and beautified with salvation; he comes 'gentle as the dews of Hermon,' or like the small rain on the tender grass; he comes the rose of Sharon and the Lily of the Valley, 'fairer than the sons of men—altogether lovely.' How glorious he is then, one greatly to be desired by reason of his beauty.

We come now to notice his speaking. He speaks in righteousness says the text;—that is, in purity and holiness—as to nature and principle, the words are spirit and they are life; he speaks in love and mercy, yet authoritatively, for when he speaks it is done, he has but to command and it stands fast;—he can speak in judgment as the sound of many waters and of mighty thunderings, sweeping away to ruin and destruction even by the breath of his mouth.' How fatal the words of his mouth when touched by the breath of anger. Oh! God, be not angry with us, lest thy words fall in crushing power upon our poor souls! When he speaks authoritatively and in judgment, his words are like a two edged blade, smiting through flint and steel. When his anger no longer burns, and the frown has vanished from his brow by the coming of the sweet waters of penitence and the notes of mourning in Zion there is love and ten er compassion in them alone, though they be 'still and small.' 'Son, daughter, thy sins which were many are all forgiven. May we hear these words now, and feel the precious thrills of joy they bring to the soul, for there is hope and love and heaven in their very sound.

Now we come to notice his might 'He is mighty to save, strong to deliver,' so we learn from the Scriptures, and what, oh! what, would we poor sinners do if his might were not saving might! Then our leader and our captain is a Saviour. Cæsar was a great captain and leader, but no Saviour. When his men fell in the conflict, they had none to deliver them—when they were wounded he could not make them whole again;—'the Captain of our salvation can make the dead alive again and he can make the wounded whole;'—He has a balm for every wound, a cordial for every fear.' Oh! what a Saviour; how mighty is he to save! Let the Bible tell in its own everlasting words of truth—He will save 'all that come to God through him.' 'He that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.' 'Come unto me all ye ends of the earth and be ye saved;' 'Whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely.' He is mighty to save, as is attested by the great multitudes spoken of, 'who have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb,' and by the millions who now are bending their way to the skies with songs on their lips, and peace and heaven in their hearts. These all witness to men and angels his saving might.—His mighty capability is also now seen in the exertion of sovereign grace which is being dispensed far and wide to bring the ruined sons of Adam to home, heaven and glory. Oh, he is mighty to save—and as we sing and shout, we feel his power on our hearts in salvation!

The whole text, and in fact the entire chapter, describes in a highly poetic style the movements of a conqueror. It has been attempted, but the attempt is silly, to show that some other than Jesus is meant. Some say that it may refer to Judas Maccabeus, or John Hyrcanus, but the candid and impartial student, or Bible critic, will dissent. Jesus the son of God, the Eternal King, is the grand character in the description given by the prophet, who gives us things, or knowledge of things to come. He is the conqueror. What did he conquer? We make an answer, warranted by the word of God: Death, hell and the grave, 'and brought to light, life and immortality.' He conquered every foe in the track to heaven and left a blazing lamp in the narrow pass of Death, that the pilgrim might pass through without a single fear. And now he reigns after his conquests and victories,—'reigns over heaven and earth most glorious,' and let us say, as we view the splendors of his reign, 'live forever gracious king!' This reign is (to the souls of men who believe) the reign of glory, peace and Heaven.

Some of the warriors of the ancient times when they had gained a victory and secured great conquests, rode into their capital cities with a mighty retinue of soldiers and captives, and the spoils of successful heroism, seated on the war chariot, their garments dyed with blood spots, their wounds and scars all exposed to the gaze of the multitude. They did this to elicit applause and to show that, by their own valor, in part, they gained the victory. The multitudes hailed them with shouts as the deliverers of the people and empire.

Jesus, the great Leader of whom the Prophet speaks, did all the fighting for our salvation:—He held the spiritual Thermopylae as the key to the battle, and beat back the incursions of hell's dark legions, as they rushed forward to despoil God's heritage and to hurl man down to hell's fiery ruin. He tried the wine press alone of the people 'there was none to help him,' 'his own arm brought the victory.' Then ought he not to ride and reign as a conqueror? and he does ride and reign among the armies of the skies; and those armies, when they see the wounds and scars and his dyed garments they shout and say, 'Worthy, is the Lamb that was slain!' 'worthy our hearts reply. And Jesus reigns here on earth too—gloriously. Every truly converted soul, every church with its spire pointing heavenward, is proof of his reign—Every song of joy, every tear of penitence, is a trophy won by Jesus Christ, and so many joyous proofs of his power to save and conquer—and he wins the trophies from the gates of hell. Then let us say, 'All hail the power of Jesus name!'

Another thought, under this victorious Leader we who trust him, shall be like manner conquer every foe opposing our march to the kingdom, the world, the flesh and the devil. Yea, through him we shall more than conquer these. 'We shall rise above the reach of Satan's rage.' 'Scale the mount of glory and shouting our heavenly Sion gain.' Death itself shall be overcome—his sting extracted and his terror be withdrawn. Jordan's chilling waves shall be opened before our triumphant march 'and we shall go over dry shod.' We shall pass 'hell's iron gate,' fearless of its 'horrible jarring sounds' and unhurt of its flames. We shall mount ere long, in triumph, a chariot, whose wheels are 'driven by love,' and away, away as borne by whirlwinds to the fields of endless glory, to realms of unclouded splendor. And as we near the gates, the man on the watch tower will lift his voice and say 'who is that cometh up from the abode of man, from that world where Jesus went to war for heaven's empire? Then shall Jesus approach and look over the battlements and as his eye falls on the tear stained Pilgrim from earth, he will say 'it is an heir of glory born to me and who has conquered under my banner; let him come in; 'then shall the gates be lifted and the doors fly wide open and the heir of glory shall enter in through the gates into the city; enter laden with the spoils of victory and lay them at Jesus feet and take up the garments of eternal day. Jesus will then give to the heir, thus entering, a crown of glory, a throne and a kingdom, and say 'rule thou over these for thou hast been faithful and true.' Then there will be shoutings and hallelujahs to God and the Lamb, till the very dome of heaven shall quiver with the tide of song.

You who wish to reign and conquer, come join our band and follow our Leader, and follow and fight under him, and you 'shall wear the victor's wreath and the diadem of glory.' Come unite with us—On side shall win the day, for we have King Jesus for our Commander; he will bring us out 'more than conquerors' and when we get to heaven we shall walk the diamond paved way up to where we shall view the Sapphire Throne and look with unclouded vision upon him who sitteth upon the throne with the Rainbow clothing his brow. Oh! then we will have glory and sing 'glory, glory hallelujah,' while over and anon, the whiterobed armies of the skies shall catch up the chorus and roll it back to the throne, like the surging tides of a mighty ocean.

The answer shall then come from the throne 'Now is come salvation' Then will 'the ranks of the redeemed and the whiterobed armies,' be called upon, to witness the placing of the Diadem of the universe, upon the brow of Jesus then the Acanthine thorn shall be removed, its marks and blood spots shall no longer point out a lowered state, but the blazing splendors of the Diadem of the Universe, shall tell of the battles fought, of trophies won—point to him who conquered and who led men and angels to conquer every foe—'who speaks in Righteousness mighty to save.'

For the Advocate.

Sanky and Moody.

The great good these eminent servants of Christ are doing in the world will never be known this side of Heaven.

That they are divinely commissioned and inspired admits of no doubt to the christian world—that the school men eminent in letters—men of the world, should in many cases object to their ministrations and essay to prove that their as merely a sensational work and calculated to overthrow solid religion is not to be wondered at, as this is a fault finding age especially when any thing good is sprung to the surface; and I doubt not if our Saviour should return to his earthly mission as of old, he would be denounced as a usurper and crucified again. Human nature has ever been the same and sin soothing discourses will ever be more heartily endorsed by some than the unvarnished truth.

Now I deny that the preaching of these good men is sensational in the common acceptation of the term; yet all preaching should be so felt for it is a warning cry of mercy through His servants for sinners to flee the wrath to come, and when the issues of eternal life and eternal death are mapped out by the fearful evangelist before the eye of the dying multitudes, it shows the blindness and obduracy of the human heart if it does not create a sensation and will create an unbearable sensation when the great judge shall descend with the shout of angels to judge the quick and the dead That these men without pay (in an earthly sense) should labor so assiduously from day to day, from continent to continent—leaving the dangers of the seas, leaving their families and home comforts for the merely shallow adulation of some or for notoriety, is not consistent with common sense. I believe since the days of Wesley no men have been so truly inspired as the fruit of their work is the approving seal of heaven.

And the people of all classes had better "receive them gladly," for it may be the last great mercy of the good spirit that may move upon our cursed dewded planet. The age eminently needs it, for men are so maddened in their greed for gain or unholy ambition that God is seldom in their thoughts.

So it has been in all ages of the past—when the world had strangely been given to idolatry or running after strange Gods the great God of heaven and earth has mercifully and powerfully riset the evil of the day by his interposing providence in some form or though some mysterious agency. The truth of the old and the sequent verity of the new testament eras attest his truth.

Luther stook the citadel of error and sin when the damnable heresies of his day had nearly driven pure and undefiled religion from the world and penances were as marketable a commodity (so to speak) as tie beads of the stall. Wesley took it up again when the spritual world was shocked by the serving of the shadow for the substance, and thank God the leaven which he issued is still working in all our churches and among all our people.—The conflict between truth and error is always a severe one from the individual to the national life, and when we see as now, the sympathizing cohorts of evil under the leadership of the twin monsters Romanism and false scenic worshiping these forces in deadly array against pure christianity. Let all christians humble themselves and earnestly pray for the advancement of Christ's Kingdom and essay through prayer to fortify themselves against the arrayed powers of darkness; and unless the Church is more faithful to the trust reposed in her, I fear that the armies of anti christ will batter down the walls of our militant Zion. Lord pour out thy holy spirit upon all our people until the glad acclaim shall roll through all our borders "alleluia the Lord God omnipotent reigneth."

J. D. THORNE

Littleton N. C. Dec. 7th 1875.

For the Advocate.

Church Etiquette.

No. 3.

"How did you enjoy the sermon this morning, sister?"

"Well, brother, to tell you the truth, I did not hear enough of it to know what to think of it—Mamie behaved so badly all the while I was kept busy watching her."——

The above is not simply a text—it is the sermon itself. It preaches, in all fullness, against a sorrowful evil—bad behaviour in church—by children.

Now, I am the friend of children, and the friend of mothers likewise. I am a father and know how it is to have the control of little people. I once saw one of our presiding elders stop in the midst of one of his ministerial flights of oratory, and say, to a mother who was endeavoring to quiet a noisy child—a child disturbing as I thought the preacher and the whole congregation. "Be patient, sister;—— I know you could not leave the little fellow at home this morning; and I know your desire to hear the Word. There are some preachers who get provoked with the children—I do not—I sympathize with you and all the rest of the congregation. Quiet your little one if you can."

I heard another minister once exclaim, in a dry prosy talk;—but at the digression, he raised his voice to its highest pitch: "Take that child out of the house!"

Now I have my opinion as to which of those two preachers was justified before God—the judge of us all. It is a delicate, a serious matter in country churches at least—children in the church. I mean the little fellows on whom our reasoning does not all the time prove efficacious. I don't want to hurt Mamie's mother's feelings; but my notion is that a good wholesome whipping sometimes answers when begging fails to accomplish a result of good manners during the services. She was large enough to whip—say seven years old, or perhaps not so much. My advice is, stay at home with her and whip twice next time the offense is committed if whipping once fails.

I have noticed in many churches these little girls, special favorites of indulgent mothers, who had a very provoking habit of acting badly at church and preventing not only the mother, but every one near, from attendance on duty during the service. This bad behavior ought to be remedied some way, and I will authorize the editor of this paper to send at my expense one year's subscription to the Advocate to the mother who will write an article for its columns which will abate most successfully the nuisance. The oldest presiding elder in the State to judge the communications as they appear and decide whose is best; and if you will allow me, I promise that the mother of my children shall not enter the lists.

Nov. 28th. M.

For the Advocate

Rambling Notes

Messrs Editors: On the first Sunday in this month I heard the Rev Mr. Smoot preach at Antioch, M. E. Church, South, Johnson Co. His text was, "Say ye to the righteous, that it shall be well with him: for they shall eat the fruit of their doings Wo unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him: for the reward of his hands shall be given him." Isaiah 3d chap. 10 and 11 verses. A more appropriate text could not have been selected, it being the first of a series of sermons that he proposed to deliver introductory to a protracted meeting. A very intelligent audience were in attendance representing staunch Methodists of high elevation of character, religiously and morally, and possessing all the good and fine qualities of high toned Carolinians; just such people that any man would be honored to form their acquaintance, and in their religious faith are almost as immovable as their native hills, whose picturesque beauty carries me back in fanciful imagination to the period when our christian religion was first proclaimed in the wide, unbroken wilderness, by our venerable forefathers who fled from persecution seeking shelter in an unexplored territory. And now I will remark that Methodism is the most liberal in its teachings, and in its charitable institutions can't be excelled; and it is not a wonder that it is so wide spread and doing such a vast deal of good through out the sunny South. A few days ago two images, said to represent Christ and the Virgin Mary, were sent to the Catholic church, in a large box, and as the wagon was passing down a slippery hill the box tumbled over board and frightened the mules, causing a little stampede; but the box being replaced was transfered to its destination, awaiting the gaze of many curious eyes; and as the priest followed in the silent train next morning in a cool misty rain, I guess something new was in contemplative agitation which I am unable even to imagine; but on the next appointed meeting there will doubtless be many people anxious to be present at the exhibition in the Roman "Cathedral." This is something new to induce and seduce the innocent from the right way but, if all were of the opinion of your humble servant, they would "hold to the horns of their religious integrity" until the Roman ox bellowed vociferously a century.

The second Sunday in this month was Dr. Alford's last appointment at Goshen M. E. Church and the 245 members are doubtless anxious to know who will be the next expounder of our Christian Religion. Farmers are gathering the last remains of their cotton crop which was cut off about ½ by the heavy rains in Aug. and it being low priced and many guano and supply bills being due our twenty dollar Williams dwindle into very small fractional Bills which will find short rest in our depleted pockets. Hard times shall not make flinty hearts, however, and if we are true and faithful all will yet terminate well. Wishing to correct an over sight in the communications to the Record and Messenger giving an account of the Sunday School celebration at Goshen M. E. Church, permit me to make it known to the public that Maj. J. T. Wilson was Superintendent. I request that those papers make the same announcement.

C.

The Blind Girl and Her Bible.

A little girl who loved the Bible dearly became blind, and when she could no longer see to read it she only loved it more. A kind friend gave her a New Testament, printed for the use of the blind, in raised letters, which she could feel with her fingers, and so make out. Never was a child more delighted than she. It was a touching thing to see her, every moment she could spare, passing her fingers slowly over the pages, as her lips silently uttered the precious words. But her touch was not quick enough for her; her finger ends, poor child, were rough, and sometime she had to stop a long time over a word. So one day she took a pen-knife and lightly pared away the skin from just the tips of her fingers, hoping that so her feeling would be more tender, and she could get on faster. What was her distress in finding, after a few days, that her skin had grown again, but so hard that she could not feel the shape of a single letter! She tried and tried, but all in vain; then, bursting into an agony of tears, she pressed the much-loved pages to her lips, to bid them, as she thought, a last farewell. But as she did so she suddenly found out that her lips had the feeling which her fingers had lost. The letters, the words, were quite plain! I cannot tell you her joy that she still could read. And hundreds of times since the blessed book has been held to her lips, not in sorrow, for a farewell kiss, but in thankfulness and joy, that even she can read the words of everlasting life.

Let this ideal volume ever lie
Close to my heart and near my eye;
To me's last hour my thoughts engage,
And be my chosen heritage.

The Shining Light.

Silent Influence

Little do we know of the power of the unconscious influence which we exercise on those around us. Like the unseen but ever active power of gravitation so the influence of our examples and of our lives, though unknown to us, may be uninterrupted and powerful. The words we drop are remembered by others long after we have forgotten them. Our actions, our tones of voice, our looks and motions, and our every peculiarity of thought, and feeling, and action, may be producing an impression upon the minds of others, which we may never know, and which we can never remove. Actions have a louder voice than words, and example is more potent than precept. And thus, things which we say or do without thought, or consciousness or recollection, may exercise an influence upon those around us, not only while we live, but long after we may be silent in the grave. Only the day of judgment, which reveals the secrets of all hearts, can disclose the mighty effects which our conduct may produce. Seclude ourselves as we may from the world, or even side ourselves as we may from our nearest friends, yet still the power of our example, the things we do, the things we leave undone, our likes and dislikes, our habits, our customs, our manners, our indulgences, our pleasures, —all these may be fixing the course of some one around us, for time and for eternity.

How important, then, that all our influence be positive, and all for God. —How important that we walk uprightly before the Lord, devoting our lives to him, keeping a single eye to his glory, and praying to him continually that our efforts may be such as shall be safe for others to follow; and that, in the great day of God it may appear that we have not lived in vain, nor been occasions of injury or mischief to those around us.

The Rainbow and the Sun.

A very beautiful rainbow was lighting up the clouds; every one who saw admired it, and so much praise made it vain. "I am much handsomer than the sun," it exclaimed; "for, bright as he is, he has only one color, and I have so many." The sun heard this, and, without entering into a dispute with the conceited rainbow, he quietly smiled. Then, hiding his beams in the clouds, he concealed himself for an instant, and the rainbow so disappeared. Persons who are vain and ungrateful forget whose hand it is that has made them prosperous. Is it not just that He in His turn should dry up the sources of their prosperity?

Short Items.

Men are often ruined by folly.

Impossibilities are never overcome.

Wilful insults leave no room for apology.

Shells of the Ocean—Gunboat ammunition.

Latest things in front door locks,—Night keys.

When a man has been a gentleman for ten years he becomes a decade man.

Good jokes are like good nuts—the dryer they are, the better they crack!

A smart Kansas woman, who wanted some hair for plastering, shaved her dog and got it.

MARRIAGE.—The gate through which the happy lover leaves his enchanted visions and returns to earth.

No one is so gifted as to be able to outrage public opinion. Those who think they are—are foolish indeed.

The violet grows low and covers itself with its own tears, and of all flowers, yields the sweetest fragrance. Such is humility.

Slang is never proper in respectable society; where it is used, the mark of vulgarity is on the forehead of the person who utters it.

Lying is trying to hide in a fog. If you move about you are in danger of bumping your head against truth; as soon as the fog blows up you are gone, anyhow.

Compliments to ladies from strangers, like presents from the same source, should be looked upon with suspicion, if not rejected altogether. There is nothing so indelicate as the acceptance of either.

'My landlady,' remarks a man, 'makes her tea so strong that it breaks the cups.' 'And mine,' said another, 'makes hers so weak that it can't run out of the pot.'

Truths and Trifles.

Uncle Levi—"Now, Sammy, tell me, have you read the beautiful story of Joseph?" Sam—"Oh, yes, uncle." Uncle—"Well, then, what wrong did they do when they sold their brother?" Sam—"They sold him too cheap, I think."

Two of our "knilled" citizens, after intently witnessing a game of base ball, were heard conversing as follows: "I say, Sambo, less us jine de base ball club." "What for, nigger?" "Well, Sambo, kase it larn you how to ketch fowls on de fly—a much easier way than stealin' dem from the roost."

There was a French singer with a tremendous voice who could not discover what line in art he was best fitted for.—He went to Cherubini, who told him to sing. He sang, and the foundation trembled. "Well," he said, when he had finished, "illustrious master, what shall I become?" "An auctioneer," said Cherubini.

An old farmer, who feared neither God nor man, had hired a devout negro; and to get some Sunday work out of him he would always plan a case of "necessity" on Saturday, and on Sunday would put that point to the man's conscience. One morning Sambo proved refractory; he would "work no more on Sundays." The master then argued with him that it was a case of necessity; that the Scriptures allowed a man to get out of a pit on a Sabbath day a beast that had fallen in. "Yes, mass'r," rejoined the black, "but not if he spend Saturday in digging de pit for de very purpose."

A Philadelphia milliner apprentice went to visit her mother in the country last Sunday, and when that worthy matron beheld her child she exclaimed: "Isabel Marie Stephens, what on airth do you mean coming out in broad daylight with your grown all kajummuxed up in a heap behind ye, and all bound up in that way in front of ye! And hain't ye got no stockings all of one color, that ye haf to wear them zebra colored things? Thought ye was goin' to be a milliner. Sh'd think ye'd married a barber, and was playin' up sign board for him. Did I ever think one of my girls would come to this!"

Warren, a little five-year-old, whose mother is in the daily habit of reading the Bible to him, asked of a young lady visitor, 'Who do you love best in the Bible?' The visitor replied: 'God; don't you?' 'No!' said Warren, 'I love Noah best.' 'Why?' 'Because he built a ship.' After a short pause he continued: 'I tell you what I mean to do; I'm going to get a cannon and fire it off, and make a hole in the clouds and ask God to let Noah down by a string.' The same night Warren was severely attacked with croup. The visitor was in the sick chamber sympathizing with her little friend, when he looked up at her, and in an almost inaudible voice, from the hoarseness of croup, he said: 'I tell you what; if this thing keeps up, I guess I'll go up to Noah, instad of his coming down to me.'

MAKE USE OF LITTLE OPPORTUNITIES.—Dr. Payson once, when traveling, having occasion to call on a lady when she and some friends were sitting down to tea, she would have him stay, and treated him very hospitably. When he left he said, "Madam, you have treated me with much kindness and hospitality, for which I sincerely thank you. Allow me to ask you one question before we part. How do you treat my Master?" This led ultimately to the conversion of the lady and her household.

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev. J. B. Babbitt, D. T. Gray, Esq. } Editors.

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION

ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID,	$2.30
IX MONTHS, " "	1.35
If payment be delayed six months,	2.70

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Editors of the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

RALEIGH, N. C., DECEMBER 22, 1875.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly.

The copy of the Conference Minutes is now in the hands of the printer, and the work will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible.

☞The preachers who wish the ADVOCATE changed will please inform us promptly, from which and to which office the change is to be made.

Dr. Atticus G. Haygood is sought after in all directions. He has recently been elected President of Emory College, Ga. An excellent selection.

Is it too much to ask of each reader of the ADVOCATE to send us one new subscriber? What a nice Christmas gift to the Editors, and what good might thereby be accomplished by the circulation of religious truth!

We acknowledge the kindness of a friend at Polkton, Anson county, in forwarding to us an invitation to attend an entertainment consisting of tableaux, charades, vocal and instrumental music, to be given at that place on Christmas Eve.

☞In accordance with a time-honored custom among newspapers, we will issue no paper next week, it being the Christmas holidays. Editors and printers are entitled to as much enjoyment at Christmas as other people, if they can obtain it. We will at least have that which springs from a week's rest, and from wishing to all our readers a "merry Christmas."

We bespeak for the ADVOCATE the earnest exertions of our ministers to extend its circulation. Next year is the Centennial year of Methodism in our State, and our late Conference determined upon leaving to the Church and future generations some monument of our appreciation of what Methodism is, and has done for our country. It will be a year of activity for our Church, and the ADVOCATE will be needed to carry tidings to all parts of the Conference of what is being done in its borders. Without the ADVOCATE as a medium of communication, the 'Centennial' efforts of the Conference would be far less successful than they will be if the ADVOCATE shall be freely circulated throughout the bounds of our Conference. Appreciating this fact, the Conference, at its late session, resolved that extra efforts to extend the circulation of the ADVOCATE should be made, looking to its being placed in every Methodist family in the State. We trust our ministers will not fail to keep the importance of this matter continually before themselves and those of our communion. And let every subscriber to the ADVOCATE say a word in its behalf to his neighbor who is not a subscriber, and induce him to become a regular and paying reader of the paper. By the aid of our friends our subscription list can be soon and easily doubled.

Singing at Conference.

The following is going the rounds in the secular and religious press.—We are inclined to favor the opinion, expressed by many, that congregational singing is preferred in our church service to exclusive choir singing. There can be no question but that congregational singing at Conference is altogether proper. The preachers generally sing well—they throw soul into their singing, and not only the preachers but the people generally prefer the old familiar tunes usually sung by Methodist preachers, to fashionable artistic choir singing. The paragraph, referred to above, first appeared in a secular paper, during the recent session of the Virginia Conference, held at Danville, Va:

"Bishop McTyeire gave out his hymn, and stated that, as but few in the congregation had hymn books, he would line out the hymn. A new organ had on Tuesday last been put in the recess behind the pulpit, and the choir had been duly practicing for the occasion. It seems that they did not hear the remark of the Bishop in regard to lining his hymn, and they started a new and difficult tune, and one in which neither the Bishop nor the congregation could join. He stood it until they got through with the third verse, and he then, turning to the choir, said in a calm, gentle and dignified tone of voice, 'My friends, sit down. That may be very good singing, and all correct for aught I know, but I prefer congregational singing, and I will line this hymn, and I want a minister to raise it, and I want the congregation to unite in singing it.' He then began at the first verse and lined the entire hymn."

Send your job work to the Raleigh Christian Advocate.

On Keeping the Sabbath.

The observance of the Sabbath is a direct command. It may not be a popular subject to many, but this cannot make it less practical and important. It is especially important and befitting to recur to the subject in this issue, inasmuch as the Sabbath breaks into the coming Christmas holidays. Saturday is Christmas day. It will be difficult for some, more particularly the young, to keep the Sabbath. The temptations will be peculiarly strong to violate the Lord's day, by those who have plans and purposes to carry out during the hilarity of Christmas times. The practical disregard of the holy Sabbath by too many, on ordinary occasions and with far less tempting surroundings, and sometimes by even professing Christians, is our apology for writing this plea and magnifying the blessed Sabbath of rest.

The observance of the Sabbath is obligatory on Christians because it is expressly commanded in God's word. "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy." In the beginning God sanctified the seventh day by resting upon it. There is no doubt it was observed during the early patriarchal times. It was observed before the constitution of the Jewish theocracy and its formal enactment in the decalogue. At the giving of the moral law at Sinai it was incorporated as one of its statutes, and its observance was rigidly enforced during the existence of the theocracy by repeated admonitions and threatenings. It was also earnestly enforced by the teaching of the prophetic dispensation. It is well known, from New Testament history, how scrupulously the Jews observed it in our Lord's time.

But is the Sabbath law binding as an institution of Christianity? This is an important question, for upon its affirmative answer depends the obligation of its religious observance at the present day. Let it be observed, then, that the answer depends upon the question whether Christ recognized it as such. What did he say was the object of his mission? That it was not to destroy, but to fulfill the law and the prophets. The moral law must have been one essential part of that law and the teachings of the prophets which he came to fulfill. This important element in both of these older dispensations was forcibly exemplified and sanctioned in his life and teachings.—He may not have formally re-enacted it, as he did some other precepts of the decalogue, but there is especial recognition of its authority in his teachings. Because, in some instances of the manner of our Saviour's observance of the Sabbath, we find it contradictory of the Pharisaical idea of its sanctity, is no argument that he did not regard its observance at all. This objection is fully answered by the fact that that peculiarity of the Christian dispensation—viz: mercy rather than sacrifice—which distinguishes it from all other, must be maintained, even at the expense of mere external observances. So this objection applies to the manner and not to the fact of its observance.—And as further substantiation of the fact that the Saviour recognized the authority of the Sabbath law, his immediate followers continued its strict observance as related both in the inspired writings and those of the early fathers of the church. So the fact is established that God commands us in revelation to "remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy."

The Sabbath law is one of nature as well as of revelation. God speaks in nature as well as in revelation, only his voice is not so clear or easily interpreted in the former as in the latter. Men are not likely to read their duty as written in nature, and this is why revelation is given. But if revelation, when given, is not studied, the corroborating testimony of nature will not be appreciated. Let us see how this truth is analogically supported by natural laws. It is a conclusion, very fairly reached in medical science, that man requires a certain amount of repose, and that this repose is never so advantageous except in accordance with the "law of periodicity." The Creator first discovers to us the prime importance of this law in the arrangement of the alternation of day and night, the former for labor and the latter for rest. And he has superadded to this by natural (as we shall soon see) as well as by inspired testimony, another division of time—the Sabbatical.

Night, as has been fully ascertained, is not a sufficient period of rest.—Other rest than that obtained by sleep, and for a different object, is necessary to man. And the proof lies in the fact of the restorative advantages of such rest. The philosophical reasoning is based upon the known effect of the undiminished tension of the nervous system and excitement of the circulation. To obviate this, one day in seven is required for relaxation by exclusive rest, or at least a diversion from the customary labor of life. Nor is this conclusion dependent alone upon a mere abstract view of the question. The practical test has been accurately made by legislatures and boards of physicians, and the truth arrived at has been corroborated by the testimony based upon their personal experience of many of the most distinguished men of different professions, of modern times. Dr. Farre, of London, confirms this position in an elaborate testimony which he made, many years ago, before a committee appointed by the British House of Commons for the purpose of investigating this question. That testimony was concurred in by many physicians in America, and in some instances by large boards of physicians, who voted unanimously in its favor. Indeed, the truth here agreed upon is not without confirmation in every man's experience who is a habitual laborer, and who is disposed to give an honest verdict in reference to it. The Sabbath is a welcome day of rest to every diligent laborer who is not blind to his own true interest. It is necessary to beasts of burden, and to man, physically and mentally. It is an essential restoration. Without it the workman destroys his efficiency and shortens his life. The command then in nature as well as in revelation is, "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy."

Christmas.

Though nearly nineteen centuries have passed since the shepherds on the plains of Judea beheld a light "unutterably splendid" that told of the birth of the Christ child, and sang songs of joy at the blessed event, the day is still celebrated in christian lands with grateful hearts. Time has hurried on carrying men and nations to their graves, destroying customs and old usages, making creeds and doctrines obsolete, but the observance of Christmas as a time of rest and merry meeting has survived the lapse of time and the fate of other customs. The proud prince whose under officer surrendered David's son to the unruly mob, has passed away, its glory has been shed, its banners have been furled, its high born senate and victorious legions are dead and silent and powerless—but the humble Nazarene, the scorned and crucified, still lives and bears sway over the nations of the world. Every day his kingdom advances further and new subjects acknowledge his gentle rule. Every recurring year the Christmas carol grows louder and stronger as new peoples celebrate the natal day, and the time is coming nearer when in every vale and on every mountain top, on land and sea, and ringing in the ears of every man, shall be heard the joyous acclaim, "Peace on earth, good will to men."

It is a time for the gathering of friends, the reunion of families, the forgetting of enmities, the gift of friendships and the bright smiles of love. Words of cheer and kind greetings are heard on every side—homes are brighter and happier, and hearts grow larger. Let us not forget the poor and homeless—the cold and hungry unfortunates who need our pity and aid. The Saviour whose birth we celebrate, was once poor and homeless and often cold and hungry and tired. The poor he has commended to our love and care, and according as we treat them will be our reward in Heaven.

We send our greetings to all our readers, and trust the holidays will be filled with pure, innocent and unmeasured pleasures.

[illegible]

Gone, but not Escaped.

William Tweed, the giant defaulter of New York, who robbed the city of nearly six millions of dollars, by forgery, falsehood and open thievery, week before last slipped from the hands of his prison keepers and has gone they know not where. His ill-gotten gains no doubt raised him up friends who lent their intrigue and aid to rescue him from the clutches of the law. He has gone and may never be restored to the power of the courts and the vengeance of the law; but he has not escaped from himself and his crime. The prison in New York may not hold him longer, but the world is a prison to him.—it is only larger than the other. The prosecutor of the courts may no more read in his hearing the long bills of indictment, detailing the crimes of which he could scarcely be brazen enough to plead 'not guilty;' but a more persistent prosecutor, Conscience, will hold up his deeds before him, sleeping or waking. Memory he cannot cast aside, but it will follow him wherever he goes, embittering the freedom he thinks he has gained. He has physical freedom—but remorse, stronger than prison bands to his limbs, holds his soul in its vice-like grasp.

He has eluded his captors, but has not escaped the scorn of the world. He may eat and drink of the luxuries which his money can buy, but they will not have the sweetness even of the crust which the pauper begs. He is a fugitive in the earth and he skulks and hides from the gaze of men lest his disguise be ineffectual to conceal his identity. He can have no home lest his hiding place be discovered and extradition laws deliver him to his country's officers. Sweeny and Corwin and others of his "ring" are hiding in Europe, moving from place to place, avoiding public throughfares and quarters where Americans usually gather. Their trunks are kept packed and they are ready to fly at a moment's warning, when any one likely to know them is seen.

Go where they will, criminals cannot escape punishment for their crimes. They bear about themselves the scourge and torments which violated moral law inflicts. The eye of God follows them and points them out to divine justice which plys them with heavier worse than scorpion whips. Villainy may and does succeed in its objects—property may be and is accumulated by sharp dealing, trickery and fraud, but it is never enjoyed by its possessor; and if it should be, the curse will come upon his children "to the third and fourth generations." The mills of the gods grind slow, it may be, but they grind exceeding sure. The wicked may for a time flourish, but it will soon or later appear that "the way of the transgressor is hard."

Bishop Haven's Course

We are glad to see that the sentiment of the Northern Church is opposed to the imprudent and fanatical action and utterances of Bishop Haven and the two hundred ministers who endorsed his remarks at the Boston meeting recently. The New York Herald and New York Sun took pains to have the Methodist clergy in New York, Philadelphia, and other cities, interviewed upon the subject, and in but one or two instances was there any disposition shown to defend Bishop Haven as an Methodist and an ministerial grove. Bishop Haven is not a [illegible] men of the Northern Church. We are glad to believe, though we have much to complain of at the hands of the Northern Church. He is a bundle of fanaticism, and for his personal hatred of the Church, South, and the Southern people, he alone is to be held responsible.

Rev. Dr. Jno. E. Edwards, of our Church, in a conversation with a newspaper reporter, touched the right key, when he said:

"I am no politician. My relations to society as a minister of the gospel scarcely allow me to do anything more than drop my ballot into the box at an election. I am disinclined, therefore, to express through the press any views I may entertain upon the political issues of the day. I do not hesitate, however, to say that I regard Bishop Haven as a nuisance. His views, I charitably hope, represent but a small portion of the great church with which he is officially connected. If I believed that his views, as expressed in the joint meeting of the Methodist preachers and the Methodist Sunday School Union, and as reported in the Boston papers, really represented the sentiment of the Methodist Episcopal church, North, so far from favoring any approximation to an organic union between the southern and northern churches I should deprecate fraternity itself as a calamity, and as involving a shameful compromise of Southern Methodism."

On account of a change in the schedule on the N. C. Railroad, the ADVOCATE going West to subscribers along that route, will be delayed until Tuesday. Heretofore, it has been going on Monday evening. The schedule is generally considered an inconvenient one; but it is an ill wind that blows good to no body. Our western friends will receive the ADVOCATE one day earlier than heretofore.

NOTICE

Any person sending us the following numbers of the Raleigh CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE will confer a favor and receive proper compensation for so doing. The numbers wanted for 1869 and a part of 1870 are the Episcopal Methodist. In 1870 the name of the paper was changed to Christian Advocate. The missing numbers from our file are the issues of July 14th, 1869, No. 28; December 28th, 1870, No. 50. It is very important that we keep a complete file, and we shall be obliged to any one who will send us the numbers called for.

MESSRS EDITORS: My attention has been called to a notice of the proceedings of the N. C. Conference (in the Biblical Recorder Dec 8th) which purports to be an extract from the proceedings of said Conference in its late session in Wilmington: in which my remarks on the subject of infant baptism are not fully reported, and consequently injustice has been done me.

The subject of discussion was the cause of the neglect of infant baptism in some portion of our work.

It was maintained by one or more persons that it was owing to neglect in instructing the people on this subject.

I maintained that this was not the cause; that our people as a general rule, were right on this subject, for they saw that by divine authority infants were in the church in the Jewish age: they saw them on the plat form of salvation as set forth by the words of the Master "of such is the kingdom of heaven" and that all who die in infancy are received into the church triumphant; and the logic of these facts is inevitable that they are entitled to a place in the visible church in the christian age. But the trouble is that there is such a perpetual outcry against infant baptism in certain quarters, that they are fearful their children may become confused and be led off into other communions before their minds are sufficiently matured to comprehend the arguments, and that their children would be thus lost to the Methodist Church, as many have been.

J. P. MOORE.

Warrenton, N. C. Dec. 13th, 1875.

Biblical Recorder please copy and oblige.

J. P. M.

Governor Brogden has offered a reward of $200 for the capture of Columbus Jones, the youth who recently killed a negro boy named James, at Hickory.

Conference Reports.

ON BOOKS AND PERIODICALS.

Your Committee on Books and Periodicals beg leave to report, that they are deeply impressed with the importance of circulating religious literature among the people. It is not enough that they have the Bible in their houses; but they should be supplied with religious books and with those religious periodicals which are provided for them by the Church and which are so well calculated to instruct them in all matters which pertain to their spiritual good. Our Church has seen the needof having our people supplied with religious literature; hence there has been a publishing house established for this purpose; and we are glad to know that this great interest, is appreciated and cherished by us; and while we are gratified with the fact that our Conference is doing more to sustain the publishing house than any other, we hope that the efforts to extend the circulation of our books and periodicals will still be increased, for in the same ratio in which we help this institution we will increase, we believe, the profitableness of the improvement of our people in knowledge and piety.

Our Sunday School literature has been in the past all that we could reasonably ask, and we doubt not will be in the future, under the conduct of our new secretary, equal to the demands of the times. We therefore commend it to all our Sunday Schools.

The Nashville Christian Advocate, always excellent and true, we commend to the patronage of our people.

For deep research, profound thought and high literary merit, it is our opinion that the Southern Quarterly Review, stands in the front rank among publications of that kind.

The Raleigh CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, the organ of our Conference, not only holds its place in the affections of the preachers and people, but is increasing in favor with both. Having already a very wide circulation, it still deserves a larger patronage, and is we believe destined to a wider sphere of usefulness; and while we recommend to our people other periodicals, we are clearly of opinion that this paper has the first claim upon us; and when our people can take but one paper, we do not hesitate to say that that one should be our own Advocate.

The Monthly Messenger, lately enterprised at Monroe, is strictly a religious paper and published in the interests of Methodism. Though small in size it is intended to be filled with select matter and we doubt not will exert an influence for good. We therefore commend it to the favor of our people.

We offer in conclusion the following resolution:

Resolved that we request the bishop to reappoint Rev. J. B. Babbitt, Editor of the Raleigh CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

Respectfully Submitted,
V. A. SHARPE, Chm'n.

REPORT ON EDUCATION.

Our Church has long since felt the deep importance of providing ample facilities for the thorough education of her children. These facilities have been provided in Greensboro Female College, Trinity College and Davenport Female College. All these institutions are doing a noble work in their respective spheres. But in the founding and enlargement of these Colleges heavy debts have been incurred, the liquidation of which is a primary duty and a pressing necessity. The committee think that harmony of feeling and unity of effort will be promoted by consolidating the debts and interests of these colleges, and always bearing in mind that they are all the property of the Church, and that the prosperity of each is the prosperity of Methodism. In view of these statements, the committee recommend:

Resolved 1st, That J. A. Cunningim and V. A. Sharp be appointed Agents to operate jointly in the interest of all these institutions.

Secondly, That in the work of collecting money and securing bonds whenever any donor expresses his desire that his contribution be applied to a particular one of said colleges, his wishes be strictly complied with; and in the event that no such directions shall be given, the said money and bonds be divided in proportion to the present indebtedness of these colleges, which would be 5 6 to Greensboro Female College and 1 12 to each of the other two.

Thirdly, That the Conference pledge a hearty co operation with the Agents in carrying out the plans which they have so well matured and any other plan which they see fit to adopt to secure the desired result.

Fourthly, That N. H. D. Wilson, B. Craven, L. S. Burkhead, T. M. Jones and A. A. Scroggs be appointed a committee to consider a plan of raising the salaries of the College Agents and fixing the amount.

Fifthly, That we heartily recommend these colleges of the Church to the active sympathy, cordial support and liberal patronage of all our people.

Resolved, That we appreciate the action of the Trustees of the N. C. University in electing one of our body to a professorship in that institution, and that it be the pleasure of this Conference to request our presiding Bishop to appoint A. W. Mangum to that position.

Respectfully submitted,
H. T. HUDSON, Ch'm.

Though Dead he yet Speaketh.

EDITORS ADVOCATE: The following letter was found behind a looking glass in the room which had been occupied by the Rev. Brecken Dixon—our late Pastor,—at the residence of Captain Tilman Farrow at Ocracoke in Feb. 1874.

It will doubtless be read with a great deal of interest by his many friends, especially those of his late charge.

OCRACOKE, N. C.
February 27th, 1874.

MR. T. FARROW—Dear Sir: Please permit me thus to thank you for your kindness to us; and at the same time, in accordance with your own request, permit me to say in the words of Jesus, "One thing thou lackest" that is the "Pearl of great Price;" or in other words, "Except a man be born again he cannot see the kingdom of God." I therefore beseech thee with prayers and tears to seek for the blessing now, for there is no repentance in the grave whither thou goest.

I remain yours truly,
BRECKEN DIXON.

While brother Dixon is quietly reposing in the tomb, awaiting for that great day when he shall be called forth to be rewarded for his labors in his Master's vineyard his noble needs,—his pious walk and godly conversation, and the many examples worthy of imitation set by him while upon earth, are still preaching the unsearchable riches of God's love—and adding lustre to that crown of glory he shall wear in the "Kingdom of God."

A. W. SIMPSON.

The Cape, Dare Co., N. C., December 5th, 1875.

Our friend "Scold" in your last seriously objects to scolding in the pulpit. I suppose there is no honor to be found in doing such a thing through the paper?

Well, I don't want to scold the preachers, or the people, only those of them who are Sunday School workers, superintendents and teachers. Week after week I look in vain over our "Advocate" for some news from them.

Sad; oh, so sad is it not, that not one of that 3,835, whose names are recorded as teachers in our Methodist schools, is ever heard from!

Why can't some of you, sometimes tell us what you are doing. What do you do in your Sunday School? Do you ever sing? Teacher, what do you say to the little ones after the lesson is through? I want to get some information. I have six little darlings in my class and after they have finished the lesson, I find, is the hardest time during the hour.

Is that your experience? Please some one tell us all about your ways; for, some of us would be so glad to hear about the rest. Staying all the time at home in our own school, how can we get out of the old grooves we have worn smooth, until they have become tiresome with the sameness? I guess the kind editors will grant us a little space once in a while.

I believe I'm begging rather than scolding and with a "God bless our Sunday School," I close.

N. M. W.

Religious Brevities.

Rev. Wm. Brock, D. D., a distinguished and successful Baptist pastor in London, died Nov. 13th, aged 68.

Rev. Alfred J. Morrison, a minister of the Presbyterian Church, has accepted a call to a church in Selma, Ala.

Rev. J. C. Hiden has received the degree of D. D., from Furman University. He is a Baptist minister, formerly of Wilmington, N. C.

Dr. Fulton is trying to excommunicate those members of his Church who opposed him recently.

The Universalist clergymen of Boston and vicinity have orgnized an association similar to those of the Baptist and Methodist clergy. It is to be known as the "Ballou Ministerial Association."

What Emperor William and the Italian King did about Ultramontanism, at their recent pleasant interview together, perhaps the "prisoner at the Vatican" may not quite like. The world moves.

With reference to the Guibord funeral, Sir George Bowyer, himself a prominent Catholic, writes to the London Times to declare that the Roman Church cannot curse the ground, for it never curses anything. It can only "unbless." His letter has created a little controversy.

Rev. Mr. Murray, of Boston, has this to say of New England: "The worst form of skepticism is empty Church pews. The worst sign of the times is seen in the fact that the larger half of New England population is growing up with no interest in the sanctuary and no church going habits.' He also says that "young New England is growing up Bibleless."

Work on the national monument to the Pilgrims at Plymouth, Mass., has ended for the season. The monument now stands 41 feet in height, and is ready to receive the statute of Faith, which is to be of the same height—making 82 feet in all. This colossal statue is to weigh 140 tons, and will probably be put in position in July or August of next year.

Whittier sent this response recently to a request for his autograph:

"Our lives are album, written through
With good or ill, with false or true;
And as the blessed angels turn
The pages of our years
God grant they read the good with smiles,
And blot the ill with tears!"

Spring Session at R. M. College

MESSRS EDITORS: If no intrusion, it will greatly oblige me and gratify many persons if you will allow me in answer to numerous inquires to say: Not the 1st of January, but the 15th of February is the beginning of the Spring Session at Randolph Macon. Students entering before that time have to fall into advancing classes at great disadvantage; but on the 15th of February can enter classes just formed.

Board is very cheap—from $10 to $15 per month. Forty-eight dollars will pay all tuition fees from February to last of June—the end of the session. Those who desire to enter College at the opening of the Spring Session will please correspond with the Proctor. Maj. W. A. Shepard, at Ashland, Va.

JAS. A. DUNCAN,
President R. M. College.

A CHANGE OF SCHEDULE ON THE N. C. RAIL ROAD, RALEIGH DIVISION.—On Sunday, the 19th, a change of schedule went into effect embracing both the mail and freight trains, of which we make the following abstract:

Mail train leaves Goldsboro at 8.20 A. M., arrives at Raleigh at 11.05; Greensboro at 4.40, where it connects with the train from Richmond, reaching Charlotte at 8 43.

Leaving Charlotte at 5.45, arrives at Greensboro about 10 A. M., and leaves that point at 11 a. m., reaching Raleigh at 5.40, and Goldsboro at 6.40 p. m.

The freight train is expected to accommodate much of the night travel, connecting with the trains of the R. & G. R. R., and will be provided with the most comfortable coaches on the road. It leaves Goldsboro at 2 p. m., arrives at Raleigh at 7:30, and leaves at 8, arrives at Durham 10:49, Hillsboro 12.22, Shops 2:45, and reaches Greensboro at 6 a. m.

Coming East, leaves Greensboro at 7, p. m., reaches Shops at 9.23 p. m., Hillsboro 12:16 a. m., Durham 1:48, Raleigh 5, and leaves 5:30, reaching Goldsboro at 11:15.

Hillsboro is the meeting point for the mail trains and University for the freights.

There will be but one passenger train on the Western Division, making close connection with the Charlotte and Columbia and the Air Line Roads.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Milton Jowers was killed in Wadesboro recently by Alex. Birmingham.

The telegraph office at Hillsboro will be re-established in a short time.

Burglars are infesting Asheville just now. Three stores were entered recently and robbed of small amounts.

McMurray and Davis of Charlotte have failed in business, and R. Y. McAden has been appointed assignee.

The sale of the Goldsboro Fair Grounds has been postponed until the 4th of January.

A correspondent of the ERA nominates Hon. W. A. Smith as the Republican candidate for Governor.

Mecklenburg county is going to petition Congress to give the mint building at Charlotte for a county court house.

Biddy Brothers, paper manufacturers at Charlotte have failed in business, and their three mills are idle.

The State taxes paid by the Sheriff of Mecklenburg county into the Treasury recently amounted to $22,210.37.

Permission has been obtained of the proper authorities to convert the Farmers' Savings Bank at Charlotte into a National Bank.

From the complaints that appear in the State papers about the delay and failures of the mails, one is apt to conclude that route agents and postmasters are very careless or very inefficient.

A grand mass-meeting in the interests of the Mt. Airy Narrow Gauge Railroad will be held in Mt. Airy on Saturday, January 1st.

The ordinance against the use of firecrackers, Roman candles and other kinds of fire works, will be rigidly enforced in Charlotte during the holidays.

The Charlotte papers complain greatly at the change that has been made in the schedule on the North Carolina Railroad.

Robert B. Peebles of Northampton, and Miss Maggie Cameron, daughter of Paul Cameron, Esq., were married in Hillsboro recently.

At a meeting of the Stockholders of the Florence S. C. Railroad held 25th Nov., it was decided that the Board of Directors should proceed at once to complete and equip the road to Wadesboro and put the road into immediate operation.

W. A. Gattis Esq., founder of the grain and feed buisness in this city is daily adding to his stock. Consignments of grain and other articles of produce are pouring in upon him from all parts of the State, and he is disposing of them for the highest market price. He thoroughly understands his business, and is justly entitled to the highest degree of success. Let buyers and sellers give him a call.

The RECORDER is informed that an old colored man residing a short distance from Hillsboro while out raking up leaves last week raked up $4 in silver, and is supposed to be raking there yet.

Rev. B. F. Marable, of Clinton, has received and accepted a call to the pastorate of the Presbyterian Church at Goldsboro, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Rev. Mr. Graves.

About 2500 bales of cotton have been shipped from Shelby.

Persons should bear in mind the important fact that newspaper postage is one cent per ounce, and one cent for every fraction of an ounce. Most papers weigh over an ounce, and therefore call for two cent postage. Large numbers of papers have been detained at the post office on this account. It is against the law to write on the margin of newspapers.

Mr. George Horney, formerly a well known engineer in Wilmington, was killed recently by the explosion of a boiler of an engine on the Macon and Brunswick Railroad.

Three white men were arrested in Onslow county, a few days ago, charged with being implicated in counterfeiting, and carried to Wilmington for trial.

The first work west of the Blue Ridge on the Spartanburg & Asheville Railroad was commenced on the 8th inst, by Capt. W. P. Fortune's force, near Bull Mountain Gap.

The Charlotte Observer learns that Mrs Theresa Beh of Statesville was found dead in her bed on Sunday before last. She had eaten a hearty supper on the evening before and had retired at her usual bed-time in her customary health. Her daughter was sleeping with her, and upon waking in the morning was unpressibly shocked to find her mother dead. Heart-disease is reported as the cause of her death.

Randolph Sutton, convicted of burglary, has been sentenced to be hanged at Concord on January 21st.

The sale of the McLeod Mills in Robeson county, has been postponed until the first Monday in January.

A flock of turkeys brought from Henry county, Virginia, were sold in Salem lately at 75 cents apiece.

The Wilmington STAR of Tuesday says: "The receipts of cotton yesterday amounted to 81,030 bales. Good priced bales, those.

A heavy forty-eight hour sleet visited Danbury week before last, and did much damage to timber. Subsequent rains deluged the streets and carried away a mill-dam.

Continued ill health compels the withdrawal of Mr. J. M. Horner from Horner and Graves' School, and it will be known hereafter as "The Hillsboro Academy," conducted by Mr. Graves.

The two thieves who stole two horses at Peacock's Store, Columbus county, and a mule belonging to A. Pitman near Lumberton, were captured about 20 miles from Fayetteville and taken to Whiteville last Monday a week.

Judge Henry, who is holding Superior Court in Washington, is giving universal satisfaction to the Bar and the public, by his promptness, decision and fairness. So the Star say.

A negro in Sampson county some time since attempted to kill his wife but shot and killed his child instead. He was convicted at the late term of Sampson Court of manslaughter and sentenced to the penitentiary.

Thirty five convicts escaped from the works of the Spartanburg & Asheville Railroad, in Polk county, last week, and up to latest dates, only about half the number had been re-taken. They were from the N. C. Penitentiary.

The Goldsboro Rescue says: We are informed by a friend, a native of Moore county, that the identical house of Phil. A stor, at which David Fanning, the celebrated boy of 1776 had a fight with a party of gallant Whigs, is still standing in the northern part of Moore county. The bullet holes made one hundred years ago, or nearly so, are now plainly visible.

The last number of the Christian SUN, of Suffolk, Va., contains a portrait of Rev. R. L. Abernethy, President of Rutherford College, Hap'y Home, N. C.—with a well written sketch of his life, showing the early difficulties he encountered only to surmount in the pursuit of an education, and the zealous efforts of his later life. His success in establishing a college of nearly 200 students in the back-woods of Burke, and building a single log school house into a neat town of resources, stores, churches, and comfortable college buildings, has been quite remarkable, and gives promise of future advancement. Such men make the world move.—SOUTHERN HOME.

Before the war there was a suit in the Federal Court by Seligone & Co., of New York, against the Fayetteville & Western Railroad, for $250 000 damages for alleged violation of contract. The case went off the docket upon the pleadings, but at the late term of the Federal Court in this city was reinstated upon affidavit that the case had been dismissed by the Confederate authorities. After a lengthy argument by counsel, the Plaintiffs were nonsuited by Judge Brooks, but advantage being taken of some technicality, the case was continued to the next term. It is thought that the Railroad will gain the suit. Few roads have had as many troubles as the Fayetteville & Western; but we hope that it may yet overcome all and be extended to Greensboro'.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

Oliver Ditson & Co.

Horner & Graves' School at Hillsboro will be continued by Mr. Graves, a teacher of long experience and great ability.

Mr. J. M. Horner returns from Hillsboro to Oxford where he will resume the school he left a few years since. He has a fine reputation as a teacher and manager of boys. See his advertisement.

Our good friend Rev. S. R. Trawick in charge of Shelby Seminary advertises his school this week. He has an experience of many years as a teacher and we are glad to know that he has met with success at Shelby.

Mess A. P. Andrews & Co. have reduced the price of Keep's partly made shirts to 1 dollar each. There is no excuse now for a man to wear a soiled shirt.

Messrs. Petty & Jones announce the arrival of a lot of the best Wamsutta muslin, three ply, shirts; and also that they are in constant receipt of a full line of dress goods, for ladies and gentlemen.

Messrs W. H. & R. S. Tucker say that Santa Claus will be here on the night of the 24th inst, and that they are aiding him in providing for all. In their line, their stock is large and varied enough for Santa Claus to select from, varied as are his tastes. They offer bargains in the sale of shirts.

Our readers will welcome the advertisement of the popular Seedsmen Messrs D. M. Ferry & Co., of Detroit, Mich.—Their Seed Annual for 1876 far surpasses their previous numbers. This firm, one of the largest in the Seed business, needs no indorsement from us.

The Detroit Seed Co., Detroit, Mich., have issued their New Floral Guide for 1876. It surpasses any thing of the kind yet published, and they are offering it Free by mail to all applicants. If you want a handsome Floral work and reliable seeds write to them.

This season's potatoes in Michigan surpass anything ever produced there before, from a yield of 22,861 barrels were shipped in the month of October.

The Centennial Exhibition will be opened on May 10, 1876, and remain up every day, except Sunday, until November 10th.

Augusta claims the largest cotton factory in the South. Forty buildings are now in process of erection, and houses to the value of $350,000 have been completed this year.

In obedience to a recent vote of the citizens of Dalton, the Governor of Georgia has issued his proclamation forbidding the sale of spirituous liquors in that place after the 1st of January, 1876.

The Marquis of Lorne, who married the fourth daughter of Queen Victoria, is a lay preacher. He often preaches in public halls and school-houses, and the poor people hear him gladly.

The Woman's Centennial Executive Committe have raised $30 000 for the erection of a pavilion in which to exhibit every kind of woman's work. To this collection women of all nations are expected to contribute.

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING, TERMS $2 20 POSTAGE PAID.

Our Agents.

All the traveling and local preachers in the bounds of the [illegible] Conference are our authorized Agents. Any person sending us ten subscribers, for one year, will receive the paper free

Our Correspondents.

Communications for publication should be carefully written, and on but one side of the sheet. All letters or communications should be addressed to the Editor.

How to Remit.

In sending money, all persons should be sent in registered letter, post office order or check. The cost of registration, or Post Office order can be deducted from the amount in hand. If money is sent otherwise than herein specified it will be at the sender's risk.

General News

The export of wheat from San Francisco this year will reach 30 000 tons.

There are one hundred and fifty miles of street railway in New York City.

Eighteen Mormons, living at Franklin, Idaho, have been indicted for polygamy.

Pullman has gone to Italy to superintend the placing of his cars on Italian Railroads.

The Alabama award commission have paid out but $7,000 000 of the $15,000,000 allowed.

Mrs. Winters is Secretary of the Michigan Board of Arbitors—the first lady who ever held that position.

The Chicago Board of Education has refused, 11 to 2, to restore Bible reading in the schools.

An average crop of wheat in the United States is now about three hundred million bushels.

Final statement for the month of November shows a decrease of $150 075; coin in the Treasury, $74 000 000; currency, $12,000,000.

The houses built in Philadelphia this year will number 7 000; in St. Louis 4 000; in San Francisco 1,500; in Chicago 9,000; and in New York 500.

The Delaware peach crop of the past season amounted to 3,782 710 bushels and exceeded that of any three previous seasons combined.

Miss Edna E. Smith, of Glastenbury, Conn., has undertaken to complete the work of her Uncle Sydney Smith in Plymouth—the words, but for her own pecuniary interest that of her uncle.

Mr. M. Evans [illegible] Longfellow as poet laureate [illegible] the appointment of Richard H. Lee, of Virginia, Colonel of the Declaration of Independence.

A building three by eighty feet is required to hold the records of the late war. There are three miles of shelving, and upwards of twenty clerks are employed in the compilation of the rolls of the officers and soldiers of the army of the United States.

According to the census returns Rockport, Ct. [illegible] Mariner Wood, York, 7 20 and Samuel Dunn.

Marriages.

[illegible] by Rev Jason Shook on the 30th of December 1875, Mr Andrew Sain and Miss [illegible] Hilton, all of this county.

Sallie Perry Wilkerson please copy.

Married Dec 16th at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. D C Parker, in Chatham N [illegible] by Rev J A Sam, Mr. Sam Hall, merchant, and Miss Fannie Parrish.

Married, at Mr. Hugh Stevens in Craven co. on the 27 h of D c 1875 by Rev. H W Porter Mr. Lewis C. Avery and Miss Caroline [illegible]

By the same on the 21st of Nov 1875 at Mr. John S Heath's, Mr. Elzeph Davis and Miss Barbara Heath all [illegible]

By the same on the 16th Dec 1875, Mr Worry Kilcrease to Miss Mary Ann Hall, all [illegible]

Married in the Methodist Church, in Oxford on the morning of the 15th inst by Rev J. P. Moore, Rev J. B. Hurdle to Miss Nannie, fourth daughter of Thomas Blacknall Esq. of Granville N. C.

Married, on New years day evening, December 31st, at the residence of the bride's father by Rev. R. A. Yates, Mr. Jno. H. Hall and Miss Fannie Belle daughter of Rev. Geo. W. Neal principal of the Newberne Academy.

At the residence of W. W. Cox by Rev. T. J. Gattis on the 16th of November, Mr. W. T. Sheets to Miss O. F. Cox.

In the church at Orange Factory by Rev. T. J. Gattis on the 25th of November, Mr. Henry W. Cates to Miss Permelia Cox.

At the residence of P. Sutherland by Rev T. J. Gattis on the 24th of November, Mr. W. D. Farrington to Miss Ollie Sutherland, All the above parties of Orange county.

Married in Smithfield, Johnston co., N. C., Dec. 14th, by Rev. L. S. Burkhead, D. Miss C. Chamblee to Miss Hettie G. Brown.

Deaths

[illegible] for obituary notices of twenty lines are inserted with out charge. The excess over twenty lines of ninety words is charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line. Count the lines and allow ninety words to the line. In this way you may always know the amount to enclose. Resolutions of respect are subject to the same rule.

Died in Septemberlast near Old Blackburn Church, Cherokee co. S. C. Mrs. Martha Partridge, consort of Rev. John Partridge deceased, in the 80th year of her age.

Sister Pratt died in the full belief that she would know her self in heaven, and that the Lord I have known her as a christian of a very high type. Taere was always a manifest devotion to the cause and cause of Christ that called forth the admiration of every observer of christianity. Pe cially in the discharge of duty everywhere and in every sphere of life. As a Sabbath-school worker she always managed to win the affection and secure the prompt attention of her class, which [illegible] her very successful in leading the children to Jesus. While I write, I call to remembrance many precious seasons I have enjoyed with her in the Class Meeting and in the Prayer meeting, but she is gone, her soul has taken its flight to glory, already she has joined her husband and three children that died [illegible] before. She leaves four children to mourn her departure. May th y, with a the grandchildren follow her, as she follow d Christ.

L. W. AVENT.

Dr. Rackley your lungs with a Cough, you may receive [illegible] condition ripe for the [illegible] of consumption, and then instead of [illegible] Cough, you will have to deal with [illegible] Dr. Jayne's Expectorant [illegible] all coughs and Colds, and by [illegible] the respiratory organs, [illegible] the heavy load off all obstruc- [illegible] consumption, neglected Colds, and [illegible] are all met here.

Letters and Funds.

J B Laine Rev W C Norman, S V Hoyle, Rev E S Barnes, Rev A W Maugham, I S W [illegible] Lee 25, Miss T J Johnston, Rev Jas Wilson, W C Carlton or ans to R M Hooks [illegible] Dr Bahnson for ob, for Mr Perry 2 50, S Aiken, E S Freshmon, Rev V A Sharpe, [illegible] Rev J Rose, W V Piper 2, W E Bostick or S C Livingston 2, J M Yates self 2, Rev J A Craven paper sent, Rev D Duncan, A E Pitt 1, [illegible] 2 50, Rev W S Blake Rev J J Rose, Rev Dr Craven, S M [illegible] 25 new subscription for P Tomlin 2, [illegible] credited prior to payment the 1st inst E L Gay for H B [illegible] 2, Rev W H Pegram 2 50, Mrs [illegible] 2, Rev J Nobles, N A Noble, Rev A D Bolton, Rev A M Boon for J D Sampson 2 50 Rev A Caddell 2 50, Miss M E Barnhardt 2 50, W J Ross 1, E L Sherrill for M Hill 2 20, D W Bain for [illegible] Rev [illegible] Brooks, Rev O J Brent, Rev G W [illegible] Brook, self 2 20, Rev T J Gattis H W Brown Hwell 2 20, J H Horner for self 1 50.

APPOINTMENTS.

SHELBY DISTRICT.

1st. ROUND.

Cherry M'tain at Golden Valley,		Dec.	22-23
Rutherfordton,	at Rutherfordton,	"	25-26
Columbus Miss.		"
Dallas at Dallas,		"	29-30
Lincolnton at Stanly Creek,		Jan.	1-
Rock Spring at Bethel,		"	4- 5
South Fork at Bethlehem,		"	8- 9
Double Shoals at Elliott's,		"	12-13
Newton at Newton,		"	15-16
Happy Home, at Ruthford College,		"	19-20
Morganton,	at Oak Hill,	"	22-23
Dysartsville,		"
Marion,	at Nebo,	"	26-27
Upper B. R. Miss.		"
Caldwell,	at Littlejohn's	"	29-30
Lenoir sta.		"
Shelby sta. at Shelby,		Feb.	2- 3
Shelby cir. at St. Paul's,		"	5- 6

Dear Brethren: Let us duly attend and arrange the Finance [illegible] of this [illegible] Q. M. shall embrace a Sabbath. I beg the District stewards to collect and send on their assessments for District Parsonage to Dr. Miller, or pay it over to me as I come around.

R. G. BARRETT, P. E.
Shelby, N. C.

CHARLOTTE DISTRICT.

1ST ROUND—IN PART.

Monroe,	Dec.	25-26
Charlotte,	Jan.	1- 2
Concord,	"	3- 5
Pineville et at Harrisons,	"	22-23

W. H. Bobbitt, P. E.
Charlotte, N. C.

WILMINGTON DISTRICT.

1st. ROUND.

Wilmington 5th st.		Dec.	18
Evansville, Kenansville,		Jan.	1-
Clinton Clinton,		"
Magnolia, Magnolia,		"	1-2
Bladen, Bethelem,		"	22-23
Topsail Prospect,		"	29-30
Wilmington Front St,		Feb.	5-
Cokesburg, Wesley Chapel,		"	12-13
Whiteville,	Whiteville	"	19-20
Waccamaw Miss.
Smithville, Zion,		"	26-27
Rhodethi, Elizabethtown,		March	4- 5
Onslow, Swansboro,		"	11-

The district Stewards will meet in the basement of Front St. Church Wilmington, February 8th at 11 o'clock, A. M.

W. S. BLACK, P. E.
Magnolia, N. C.

RALEIGH DISTRICT.

1st. ROUND—1876.

Raleigh Fayetteville st.		Jan.	1-
Louisburg,		"	8- 9
Green, Salem,		"	15-
Tar Street,
[illegible]		"	22-23
Youngsville,
Henderson, Knapp's,
Batesville, Sydney,
Nashville & Rocky,
Mount,
and Tosnot,
Cary, Ebenezer,
Raleigh Edenton street,
Smithfield Ebenezer,

The District Stewards will please meet in Thursday Dec 23d at 10 o'clock, A. M. and P. M. in the Methodist Church at Raleigh. Let every charge be represented.

J. P. BROOKS, P. E.
Hertford, N. C.

SALISBURY DISTRICT.

1ST ROUND.

Statesville Station,	Dec.	18-19
Statesville et at Providence	"	20
Alexander et at Pleasantville,	Jan.	1- 2
Wilkesville at Wilkesville,	"
Mooresville, et at Mooresville	"	1-2
Salisbury, Church St.	"	8- 9
Yadkin et at Yadkinville,	"	15-16
Mocksville et at Mocksville,	"	22-23
Salisbury station,	"	29-30

The District Stewards will please meet in the Methodist Church at Statesville on Tuesday the 11th inst at 11 o'clock A. M. to receive assessments for District Parsonage for 1876.

W. H. BOBBITT, P. E.
Charlotte, N. C.

GRANVILLE CIRCUIT.

1ST ROUND.

1st Sunday, 11 o'clock A. M. Oxford.
" " 3d " " P. M. Mt. Moriah.
2d Sunday, 11 o'clock A. M. Oxford.
" " 7 " P. M. Salem.
3d Sunday, 11 o'clock, Bullock.
" " 7 " Oxford.
4th Sunday, 11 o'clock, Salem.
" " 7 " Oxford.

Tuesday before 2d Sunday 11 o'clock at Grey Rock.

Saturday before 2d Sunday at Bent 1.

Saturday before 3d Sunday at Perry's Chapel.

Saturday before 4th Sunday at Hebron.

Brethren be punctual in the above times and places, beginning with January 1876.

S. V. HOYLE.

ELIZABETH CIRCUIT.

First Saturday and Sunday in January at Elizabeth. The other appointments will be filled as they were last year by my predecessor.

The Stewards will please meet me at Elizabeth on Saturday before the first Sunday in January, at 11 o'clock, a. m., A full attendance is desired.

O. J. BRENT.

Dec. 16th, 1875.

A MAN OF A THOUSAND

A CONSUMPTIVE CURED.—When death was hourly expected from Consumption all remedies having failed, accidentally found a discovery whereby Dr. H. James cured his only child with a preparation of CANADA INDIAN HEMP. He now gives this recipe free on receipt of two stamps to pay expenses. Discovers not a single symptom of consumption but it goes not dissipate—Night Sweats, Expectoration of the Lungs, Difficult Expectoration, Sharp Pains in the Lungs, Nausea at the Stomach, Irritation of the Bowels, and Wasting of the Muscles. Address Craddock & Co., 1032 Race Street, Philadelphia, Pa., giving name of this paper. Sept. 29-13t. e o w.

FOR COUGHS, COLDS AND THROAT DISORDERS, use "Brown's Bronchial Troches," having proved their efficacy by a test of many years.

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

WHOLESALE CASH PRICES.

Office of CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE,
December 14, 1875.
REMARKS.

Business greatly improved. Country produce offered in quantities, especially in exchange for groceries.

COTTON

Old cotton none. New crop coming in market freely. Tendency downward. We quote: Middling 12¾ Low middlings 12 1-2. Lower grades none offered.

General Market.

FLOUR, North Carolina $7@8.50.
CORN 1.00
CORN MEAL 100
BAGGING, Standard 15 1-2.
" Dundo 13 1-2.
BACON, N. C. sug rouud, 14 to 15.
" " hams 16 1-2 @18
BULK C. R. sides, 12 3-4 13
" shoulders, 10 to 11
LARD, North Carolina, 16 1-2
" Western Strictly, 17 1-2@
" " kegs, 16 1-2@17 1-2
COFFEE, Prime Rio, 20 1-2
" Fair Rio, 21
SYRUP, common, 37 1-2
MOLASSES, Cuba, 50.
SALT $2.25.
CHEESE, Cream, 15 16.
" Factory, 17.
" Dairy, ouue.
NAILS, on basis for 10d, $4.00
SUGAR A, 13 1-2.
" Extra C, 11 1-4.
" Yellow, 10@11
LEATHER, Sole 27 1-2@30
HIDES, green, 2@3.
" dry, 18 1-2
TALLOW, 3@5
POTATOES, sweet 75
" Irish, $1.00@$1.25.
OATS, shelled, 50
" sheaf, $1 00

THE OLD NORTH STATE FOREVER!

Old North State Cook Stove now in use. Buy it and if you are not pleased with it return to C. A. Hart and get your money. Prices down to suit the times. No. 8 with 35 pieces of furniture, $19 No. 7 $25. Call and see them and examine our stock of Hardware, Tin, Crockery, Wood and Willow Ware, Lamps, Glassware, &c. Best Kerosene Oil 25 cts. per gallon.

C. A. HART,
Market Street and Market Square,
Raleigh, N. C.

Dec 22 3t.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

SHELBY SEMINARY.

Shelby, Cleaveland co. N. C.
Rev. S. R. Trawick, A. M. Prin.
Assistant.
Mrs. E. V. Trawick Music and Ornamentals.

The 10th Term will begin Jan. 10th 1876, and continue 20 weeks. Course of instruction thorough, terms low, health unsurpassed. Apply to the principal for circulars. Dec 22-3m.

MR. J. H. HORNER,

Returns to his home near Oxford, N. C. and will re-open his classical and Mathematical school there the 10th Monday in January next.

Hillsboro' N. C. Dec. 1, 1875.

P. S. He desires still to be addressed, Oxford, N. C. dec 8-2

HILLSBORO' MILITARY ACADEMY

Hillsboro' N. C.

This Institution, recently known as "Horner & Graves's school," will hereafter be conducted by R. H. Graves and J. H. Horner, as heretofore, by the accomplished instructors, Hugh Morson Jr. and Maj. R. H. Hawkins.

The spring session of 1876 will open on the 11th of Jan. For circulars, apply to Maj. R. H. Hawkins until the 5th of Jan. and afterwards, to the Principal. Dec 2 1m.

JUST ARRIVED!

Fifty Dozen Shirts!

Made from [illegible] and fine muslin. These Shirts are [illegible] manufactured by Messrs. Martin Thompson, and are [illegible] Linen Bosom. The bosoms [illegible] Linen throughout.

$7.50 FOR SIX!

THE CHEAPEST IN THE STATE.

[illegible]

SHIRT DEPARTMENT

[illegible] Linen Bosom Shirts [illegible] the price. We will [illegible]

6 OF OUR WAMSUTTA SHIRTS with Richardson's Round Thread Linen Bosoms and Cuffs at $6.00

12 OF THE SAME at $12.00

Ordered and accompanied by check or receipt for the money, we will [illegible] the best goods at the lowest cash prices.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

Dec 22-3t.

Musical Gifts for Christmas!
Musical Gifts for New Year!

[illegible] 75 of the best songs [illegible] ever published, collected in a [illegible] handsome volume of [illegible] music sized pieces. [illegible] Price $1.00. In cloth [illegible] $1.50. In boards, $2.00.

[illegible] style, and binding with the above and the book, we have other books of [illegible] Germau, Scottish and Sacred; also of best Dance Music, and the choicest Operatic Songs.

COLLECTIONS OF CHRISTMAS CAROLS by Howard Sacks. A CHRISTMAS TREE for the shepherds. Pollard. 35 cts. MERRY CHRISTMAS. Piano piece, Wilson 40 cts.

Receive the hearts of the Old Folks with Con-cential Collection for Old Folk's Concerts. 30 cts. By L. Tourjee.

Gladden your Sunday School by introducing SHINING RIVER. One of the sweetest of song books.

Either the above books or any of the principal music books, or by mail, [illegible] retail price, of OLIVER DITSON & CO. C. H. DITSON & CO. Boston. 711 Broadway, N. Y.

D. M. FERRY & CO'S NEW, ILLUSTRATED DESCRIPTIVE AND PRICED SEED ANNUAL 1876 Will be mailed free to all applicants. This, one of the largest and most complete Catalogues published, contains about 250 pages, over 500 fine engravings, 2 elegant colored plates, and gives full descriptions, prices, and directions for planting over 1200 varieties of Vegetable and Flower Seeds, Bedding Plants, Roses, &c., and is invaluable to Farmer, Gardener and Florist. Address D. M. FERRY & CO., Seedsmen and Florists, DETROIT, Mich.

Dec 22 4t.

PLEASANT GARDEN ACADEMY,

Male and Female,

Eight Miles from Greensboro, N. C.

R. P. TROY, A. M., - - - Principal,
Mrs. R. P. TROY, - - - Teacher of Music.
Miss SARAH Mc. ULLOCH, - - Assistant Teacher.

The Spring Session will begin January 4th, 1876, and continue five months.

Tuition per Session, - - - from $7.50 to $15.00
Music, - - - - - - - - 15.00
Board, with wood and washing, - - - - 50.00
Contingent Fee, - - - - - - - 2.00
Use of Piano, - - - - - - - - 5.00

One bottle given to [illegible] exception [illegible] Fine bow piece of board and Tuition, healthy location, and the advantages of a

First-Class Academy,

continued Pleasant Garden to the patronage of those [illegible] educate. All are required to attend Sunday school, and religious services every Sabbath, and especial care is taken to promote moral development.

Conveyance from Greensboro Furnished for $1.00 if notice is given.

Address the Principal at Greensboro, N. C., for further information.

REFERENCES.

Rev. B. Craven, D. D., L. L. D., Trinity College, N. C.
" " N. H. D. Wilson, D. D., Greensboro, N. C.
" " W. H. Bobbitt, Charlotte, N. C.
" " L. L. Hendren, Orand Hill, N. C.
George Hicks, Nashville, N. C.
Dr. Phillip Ree [illegible] Fayetteville Tobacco Works, N. C.
" " J. W. Jones, Yarboro, N. C.

Dec 15-3m.

AGENTS to [illegible] the greatest combination of the age. Address with stamp, National Copying Co., Atlanta, Ga. nov 24 1m.

GREENSBORO FEMALE COLLEGE,

Greensboro, N. C.

The Spring Session of 1876

Will begin on Wednesday, the 12th of January, and continue twenty weeks.

Board (exclusive of washing and lights)	$70.
Tuition in regular course,	$35.

Charges of extra studies moderate.

For Catalogues containing particulars, apply to Rev. T. M. Jones, President.

N. H. R. DENNY,
President of Board of Trustees.

Dec 8 9m

Monroe High School.

MONROE, N. C.

[illegible] session begins Jan. 10th. Building [illegible] and well adapted. [illegible] Coverdale, Pupils prepared or College. Board $10 per term. Tuition $15 to $20. Address for circular.

J. H. HOLMES.

Dec 8 1m.

BEST HOLIDAY GIFT.

For Parent, Child, Teacher, Pastor, Friend.

[illegible] WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED INTERNATIONAL ILLUSTRATED EDITION 3000 ENGRAVINGS

Sold by all Booksellers.

Dec 15—1t.

MAILED FREE FLORAL GUIDE

Contains over 1,200 [illegible] Vegetable and Flower seeds. COLORED PLATES. Elegant [illegible] of vegetables and flowers. Handsomest Guide Published! 62nd year of it. DETROIT SEED CO., Detroit, Mich.

Dec 15 2t.

REMOVAL.

OFFICE OF

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,

RALEIGH, N. C.

We [illegible] and [illegible] and commodious NEW STORE [illegible]

BRIGGS BUILDING

[illegible] pleased to see our many friends and [illegible]

OUR NEW STORE ROOM,

THIRTY-TWO feet wide and TWO HUNDRED long, [illegible] a large and convenient Cellar and Warehouse. Advantages unequalled facilities for [illegible] our business.

Customers will find our salesmen and [illegible] accommodating and attentive. [illegible] a cordial invitation to every body to call and see us.

Respectfully,

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,

Dec 15 1t. Briggs Building.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE LIFE AND LABORS OF LIVINGSTONE.

INCLUDING HIS LAST JOURNALS.

NOW READY. IMPOSING HISTORY of his thirty years' explorations in Africa. Vividly portraying the many [illegible] adventures and the wonders and wealth of that [illegible] continent.

875 pages. 100 rare Illustrations.

[illegible] now sold in first seven weeks.

For [illegible] circulars, address,
NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO.
7 & 9 Marietta St., Atlanta, Ga.

SITUATION WANTED.

A [illegible] wishes employment as expert [illegible] and can be [illegible] in [illegible] English, French, Latin, Music, and [illegible] to apply to the undersigned [illegible] Terms moderate, salary being not so much an object as a pleasant situation. Address, giving references,

MISS H. E. GOGHILL,
King George C. H. Va.

Dec

AGENTS GRAND NEW BOOK.

PRESENT CONFLICT of SCIENCE with RELIGION; or, MODERN SKEPTICISM MET on its OWN GROUND.

[illegible] the most vital question of the [illegible] by the author of "SCIENCE AND THE BIBLE." Every man, woman, and child wants to read it. It gives the Christian a reason for his Faith, powerful [illegible] to science in harmony with God's Word, disproves the Tyndall assertions, and [illegible] Huxley's Theory. Really beyond all expectation. Fast ages sold 31 second 11, third 25, 2100 in first week. First week 31 second week. Everybody buys it. Don't the second [illegible] advertised by other publishers, and secure territory for this book, this week because the people need and want it. Only $1.50 per copy and sells to agents.

P. W. ZIEGLER & CO., 518 Arch st., Philadelphia, Pa.

Dec 1-4.

COME YE DISCONSOLATE!

Head quarters for CHRISTMAS GOODS, the very latest in Dress Patterns, and put up in a style that will suit the most fastidious taste, go to

WEIKEL'S ESTABLISHMENT,

on Fayetteville Street, one door South of the Southern Express Office.

IT IS A CONCEDED FACT

that Weikel can put up the best and most satisfactory [illegible] in the way of [illegible] of Clothing, from a Wedding Suit to a Jacket or Pants. That can be turned out in Raleigh. The old and young men say it, the ladies (God bless the ladies) endorse and the children cry over it, for [illegible] in it reversed "dad's" put on a suit of Weikel's clothing.

Weikel has the pleasure [illegible] to return his thanks for the [illegible] liberal patronage heretofore received, and respectfully asks for continuance of the same. He has [illegible]

CLOTHS,

CASSIMERES,

TWEEDS,

SUITINGS, &c.

[illegible] is much larger than ever before, and comprises all the Latest Novelties in Style, having been recently purchased at low prices from

FASHION HEADQUARTERS.

As usual his [illegible] Workmen are Picked Men whose skill and ability are known to the "dressing" public.

Come one and all to the Emporium of Fashion, Weikel's the Merchant Tailor, For a first class Suit of Clothes of first class goods, put up in first class style.

SADDLES!

From $3.50 to $40.00

BUGGY HARNESS!

From $9.00 to $100

ON HAND AND FOR SALE BY

W. B. HUTCHINGS,

Where will be found a large stock of Carriage and Buggy Harness, Wagon, Buggy and Cart Harness, Bridles, Collar Pads, Collars, Hames, Saddle Cloths, Whips, Blankets, Leather, &c., cheap and Manufactured at prices to suit the times.

W. B. HUTCHINGS,
Fayetteville st., opposite Depot, N. C.

oct 13 3m.

GREENSBORO MARBLE WORKS.

[illegible] Marble Yard is now [illegible] with a large stock of [illegible] Marble, and is prepared to [illegible] Monuments, Tombs, Headstones, Mantels, Table Tops, &c., at the lowest prices. Orders solicited.

Greensboro, N. C. Dec 8 1m.

THE GOLD MEDAL

The FIRST PREMIUM was awarded to [illegible]

Singer Sewing Machine

At the last State Fair [illegible]

The sales of the SINGER [illegible]

It is sold on the most [illegible]

A warrant for five [illegible]

every Machine.

THE SINGER IS ALWAYS SOLD [illegible]

MME. DeMORESTS PATENT [illegible]

of garments on hand at the office.

CATALOGUE FREE BY [illegible]

Write for Price List of Machines.

T. W. HOAG,
[illegible]

Nov 17-6

B. L. BINGHAM & CO.,

Wholesale & Retail Grocers

AND

GENERAL

COMMISSION Merchants,

[illegible] Building Nos. 6 & 7 Martin Street,

RALEIGH, N. C.

[illegible] Headquarters for the largest and [illegible] Salt (2½ lbs.)

Dec Nebo.

[illegible]

THE SINGER IS ALWAYS SOLD [illegible]

MME. DeMORESTS PATENT [illegible]

of garments on hand at the office.

CATALOGUE FREE BY [illegible]

Write for Price List of Machines.

T. W. HOAG,
[illegible]

Nov 17-6

COMMISSION HOUSE.

A. M. LEE & SONS.

RALEIGH, N. C.

[illegible] Specialty.

[illegible] market price, [illegible] promptly for [illegible] We can [illegible] of your cotton, [illegible] yourself [illegible] to fill and [illegible] for it. Be [illegible]

[illegible] goods for

[illegible] dollars, the best in

Wm. LEE & SONS.
Raleigh, N. C.

[illegible] TIES.

[illegible] But One!

[illegible] PRICES REDUCED

[illegible] LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

[illegible] AND EXAMINE THE EXTENSIVE STOCK, JUST RECEIVED AT

J. P. GULLEY'S,

OF

Dry Goods, Clothing,

[illegible] SHOES, HATS, Trunks, Valises, [illegible] White Goods &c., &c.

BURR'S GAITERS & BOOTS FOR GENTS.

WINTER PRINTS! PRINTS!

[illegible] at prices that [illegible]

J. P. GULLEY,
Old Market Square.

[illegible] BRANSON'S NORTH CAROLINA ALMANAC FOR 1876

[illegible] and best Almanac [illegible]

E. BRANSON,
Raleigh, N. C.

[illegible] BOOKS YOU WANT

[illegible] and [illegible] them to you

E. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.

[illegible] SCHOOL BOOKS?

SCHOOL BOOKS!!!

[illegible] prepared to supply [illegible] at the lowest cash rates. The [illegible] reasons why you ought [illegible]

E. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.

[illegible] REDUCED

[illegible] LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

[illegible] AND EXAMINE THE EXTENSIVE STOCK, JUST RECEIVED AT

J. P. GULLEY'S,

OF

Dry Goods, Clothing,

[illegible] SHOES, HATS, Trunks, Valises, [illegible] White Goods &c., &c.

BURR'S GAITERS & BOOTS FOR GENTS.

WINTER PRINTS! PRINTS!

[illegible] at prices that [illegible]

J. P. GULLEY,
Old Market Square.

TO CONSUMPTIVES:

The [illegible] having had placed in his hands by [illegible] a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all Throat and Lung Affections, also a Positive and Radical Cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having thoroughly tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, feels it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send (free of charge), to all who desire it, this recipe, in German or English, with full directions for preparing and successful using. Sent by return mail by addressing,

Dr. W. A. NOYES,
Monroe Block, Rochester, N. Y.

Nov 24 1 y

PETTY & JONES.

Wonderful But True!

SOMETHING NEW!

The King of Shirts!!

SIX WAMSUTTA MUSLIN SHIRTS with [illegible] Irish Lace Bosoms.
Six different styles in each half dozen.

For $8.00!

Every Shirt guaranteed.

These Shirts are [illegible] in the latest [illegible] and [illegible] Any lady can make the [illegible] and put in the gussets, and by sending can save from $1.00 to $1.50 on each shirt.

PETTY & JONES,

We have [illegible] received additional to our Stock of Press Goods.

CALICOES, CLOTHS, as CASSIMERES, BOOTS, SHOES, and [illegible] exhibiting one of the most handsome stocks of Goods in the city, all of which were bought at the very LOWEST PRICES and we sell for small profits, our customers will be sure to get the full value of their money.

Give us a call.

PETTY & JONES,
30 Fayetteville street.

Nov 17-tf.

R. H MACY & CO.

MA 14TH ST. & 6TH AVE. NEW YORK, CY

MA The Largest Importers and retailers in America CY
MA on of Dolls and Toys, and Fancy Goods, CY
MA reliable for Holiday trade. We occupy the CY
MA whole block through from 14th to 13th street CY
MA and for 17 years have made Holiday Goods a CY
MA specialty. 13th Catalogues CY
MA Illuminated Centennial Cards sent free to CY
MA any address. Orders attended to with special CY
MA care. CY
MACY MACY MACY MACY MACY MACY

Dec 1-4t

SAMARITAN NERVINE,

The great Nerve Conquerer, cures Epileptic Fits, Convulsions, Spasms, St. Vitus Dance, and all Nervous Diseases. The only known positive remedy for Epilepsy Fits. It has been tested by thousands and has never been known to fail in a single case. Trial package free. Enclose stamp for Circulars giving evidence of cures. Address,

Dr. S. A. RICHMOND,
dec 8-1m. Box 741 St. Joseph, Mo.

Williams & Haywood,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Oils, Dye Stuffs, Perfumery.

Fancy Articles, Garden Seeds, Fine Teas, Spices, Flavoring Extracts.

CIGARS, CHEWING TOBACCO &C.

Keep constantly on hand, at lowest market prices, White Lead, Putty, Kerosene Oil, Linseed Oil, Lamp Oil, Tanner's Oil, Window Glass, Varnish, &c.

Nov 17-1y

READ THIS

[illegible] the [illegible] Stock [illegible] and [illegible] Prices [illegible] and [illegible] Also [illegible] Cheap [illegible] Call [illegible] Yours [illegible]

Nov 17-3m

LAW & CO.'S

CROCKERY AND GLASS EMPORIUM,

51 FAYETTEVILLE ST., RALEIGH, N. C.

[illegible] and Wares are now first in Raleigh. Chamber and Bedroom articles, Dinner, Tea and Breakfast Sets, Every article usable in English Chinaware, French China, Decorated Dinner Sets, Glassware, Cutlery, Cut Glass Ware, Trays and Waiters, Tin Ware, Kitchen Furniture, Lamps and Chandeliers, Church Lamps, Bridal Gifts, Birthday Presents and Christmas Gifts. The Celebrated German Student Lamp and Fire Proof Oil. Prices low. Goods never brought to Raleigh. We guarantee our prices are at the lowest point. Catalogues [illegible]

LAW & CO.

Nov 17-1y

[illegible] MISSION HOUSE.

A. M. LEE & SONS.

RALEIGH, N. C.

[illegible] Specialty.

[illegible] market price, [illegible] promptly for [illegible] We can [illegible] of your cotton, [illegible] yourself [illegible] to fill and [illegible] for it. Be [illegible]

[illegible] goods for

[illegible] dollars, the best in

Wm. LEE & SONS.
Raleigh, N. C.

[illegible] TIES.

[illegible] But One!

[illegible] PRICES REDUCED

[illegible] LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

[illegible] AND EXAMINE THE EXTENSIVE STOCK, JUST RECEIVED AT

J. P. GULLEY'S,

OF

Dry Goods, Clothing,

[illegible] SHOES, HATS, Trunks, Valises, [illegible] White Goods &c., &c.

BURR'S GAITERS & BOOTS FOR GENTS.

WINTER PRINTS! PRINTS!

[illegible] at prices that [illegible]

J. P. GULLEY,
Old Market Square.

[illegible] BRANSON'S NORTH CAROLINA ALMANAC FOR 1876

[illegible] and best Almanac [illegible]

E. BRANSON,
Raleigh, N. C.

[illegible] BOOKS YOU WANT

[illegible] and [illegible] them to you

E. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.

[illegible] SCHOOL BOOKS?

SCHOOL BOOKS!!!

[illegible] prepared to supply [illegible] at the lowest cash rates. The [illegible] reasons why you ought [illegible]

E. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.

[illegible] PATENT

[illegible] Turbine Water Wheel,

Manufactured by
POOLE & HUNT,
Baltimore, Md.

[illegible] Agent for [illegible]

Oil Well Machinery, Pipe, Casing, Tubing, Rods, Sucker Rods, Engines, Boilers, Derricks, Sand Pumps, Bits, Reamers, Drilling and other Tools, Horse Powers, Belting, Packing, Lace Leather, Rubber Belting, Engine Governors, Injectors, Pumps, Gauges, Valves, Pipe and Fittings of every description, Steam Pumps, Iron and Brass Castings made to order. Send for Circulars.

Nov 24 1y

INSURANCE.

[illegible] Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn.

Assets, Jan. 1st, 1875, $3,000,000.

Insures Dwellings, Stores, Churches, Factories, Furniture, Merchandise, Cotton, Tobacco, Grain, Hay, Machinery, Steamboats, Vessels, Canal Boats, Barges, Cargoes, Freights, Profits, Commissions, Bonds, Mortgages, Leases, Rents, Bonds, Bills, Notes, Specie, Bullion, Jewelry, Plate, Patterns, Models, Drawings, Books, Manuscripts, Horses, Cattle, Carriages, Harness, Saddlery, Agricultural Implements, Live Stock, Hotel Furniture, Sleighs, Sleds, Robes, Wagons, Carts, Trucks, Boats, Scows, Rafts, Logs, Lumber, Shingles, Pickets, Fences, Gates, Posts, Rails, Bridges, Piers, Wharves, Docks, Fixtures, Tools, Machinery, Engines, Boilers, Pumps, Gearing, Shafting, Pulleys, Belting, Packing, Lace Leather, Rubber Belting, Engine Governors, Injectors, Pumps, Gauges, Valves, Pipe and Fittings of every description, Steam Pumps, Iron and Brass Castings made to order. Send for Circulars.

Nov 24 1y

IN STORE

[illegible] MOUS WAMSUTTA SHIRTS the very best Shirt made—warranted to fit perfect.

KEEP'S PATENT

PARTLY-MADE DRESS SHIRTS.

Only $12 Per Dozen!

Ad[illegible] [illegible] for them can now be supplied. Send [illegible] The size of collar is the only measure necessary to insure a fit.

Sole Agents,
R. B. ANDREWS & CO.,
Clothiers, Raleigh, N. C.

OUR STOCK OF FALL AND WINTER CLOTHING FOR MEN & BOYS

Is Large and Complete in every department. The Largest Stock and Lowest Prices go together here

R. B. ANDREWS & CO.,
Clothiers and Gents' Furnishers,

Dec 15 Raleigh, N. C.

JUST ARRIVED AT THE

RALEIGH STOVE HOUSE

Another [illegible] and reliable

COTTON KING STOVE;

No Better Stove Can be found in the City!

[illegible] and get one

BY [illegible] stands of COOKING UTENSILS.

[illegible] PARLOR STOVES, WHICH ARE GEMS OF BEAUTY, TIN WARE, LAMPS, OILS, WOOD AND WILLOW WARE, CUTLERY AND HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS.

Grist and Lock Repaired, Bell Hanging, &c., &c.

J. C. Brewster, Proprietor.
No. 4 Hargett street, Raleigh, N. C.

OLD NORTH STATE HARDWARE AND

HOUSE FURNISHING STORE,

No. — Martin and Market Streets,

Children's Column.

Children's Christmas Hymn.

BY HELEN CHASE STEELE.

My little child-friends, look near and far,
Cease for a moment your play,
And listen to me while I sing to you
The story of Christmas day.
Let me try to answer the questions unasked
That flash from your wandering eyes,
As you see the presents, and hear the bells,
Merry greetings and joyous replies.

'Tis the sweetest and happiest time of the year,
Because on this day, long ago,
The Father in Heaven sent a glorious gift
To His children here below;
For far away in Bethlehem
The little child Jesus was born,
And the hillside shepherds bowed their heads
As they heard the angels' song.

The little one opened His tender eyes
And beheld the holy grace
Of the mother who bent above Him,
With her fair and saintly face.
He saw the incense and shining gold
Which the wise men brought from afar,
And through the cracks of the humble shed
Fell the light of the Eastern star.

And when the child to a man had grown,
He gave the Christ mas day
To His people, that they might remember Him
When He should be far away.
He gave them His birthday to celebrate
For our pleasure and His glory;
To make it the merriest time of the year,
Most gladsome of all the days.

It comes when the days are shortest,
And snow-whites cover the earth—
When the air is filled with music,
And happy homes with mirth
When the moon is high in heaven,
And the stars its arches throng,
Tell our hearts, ewarap, all with a holy spell,
Can hear the angel's song.

Christ never forgot the children,
And He said, in His loving heart,
The little ones in the Christmas
Must have a special part;
For He remembered His own pleasant childhood,
And thought, when He was born,
How the wise men brought their gifts to Him
In the gray of the early dawn.

So He put in the hearts of the parents
Both love and tender care;
To the brothers and sisters and uncles and aunts
He gave a goodly share.
And then, with his queer round figure,
And his suit and beard so gray,
With his gifts and his tricks came Santa Claus,
The saint of Christmas day

Wherever the love of Christ is found
There Santa Claus makes his nest;
At Christmas the Jesus Whispers to him
And tells him abroad to roam.
Then away in his reindeer sleigh he rides;
From chimney to chimney he flies,
And leaves the wonderful books and toys
That brighten your children eyes.

Now I wish you a "Merry Christmas!"
Enjoy it as much as you will;
Hang up your stockings for Santa Claus,
But let Jesus your spirit fill;
And when you rise, in the morning,
Turn thitherward in the very hour,
With grateful hearts thank Santa Claus,
And then remember Him

Was it a Merry Christmas?

It was the day before Christmas! Bessie Gray was seated on the floor dressing Annie Seropha, the youngest of her large family of dolls. We were as quiet and happy as possible, until Leonard came rushin into the parlort exclaiming:

"I'll kill Rod Lane! see if I don't!"

"Oh, Len! what makes you say such wicked things?" cried Bessie, as she dropped Annie Seropha and caught hold of her brother's hand, while her blue eyes filled with tears. "Don't you know papa said it was sinful to get in a passion and threaten the lives of your playmates?"

"I don't care! you needn't preach, you're not a saint! and if you are, you've no cause for being anything else. You do not have boys' trials to endure. Here you sit, quietly talking to that pink and white piece of wax perfection, with no one to rush in and carry it off where you'd never get sight of it again. Ah, you need not hold me! I'll be revenged on Rod Lane, the mean old hypocrite."

"What has Rod done?"

"Done! I've no patience with you! He's done everything. Last week he got into my desk, and carried off my composition, and made me lose the prize. I was sure of it, you see, for there was not a blot, nor a misspelled word in it. Then he managed to rub out the examples I had put on my slate, and stole the big red apple I was intending to give the teacher; and to day, while I was at home at dinner, he carried off my base ball—that splendid one that Uncle Harry gave me," and overcome with the thoughts of all his trials, Len actually let two great tears roll down his cheeks, and fall on the bright eagle buttons of his coat.

"Are you sure that Rod Lane did all this mischief?" asked Bessie, thoughtfully. "Rod don't look like a bad boy, and he never takes his eyes from his books during school hours."

"The little sneak! Of course he did it! All the rest of the scholars are gentlemen's sons. His father,—mother, I mean,—is a poor seamstress, and Rod never has decent clothes to wear, or anything to eat, hardly. He just creeps around like a cat, and one never knows where he is. I hate sneaks."

"Yes, so do I; but are you sure Rod is a sneak? Have you ever seen him do a mean act? What benefit could it be to him to steal your composition, or rub out your sums?"

"Oh, Bessie, how green you are! Don't he know we all despise him, because—because—well, because we do; and of course he'll play us tricks."

"Is that the way you would do, Len, if you were a poor widow's boy and not a gentleman's son?" sarcastically said Mr Gray, who had, unknown to the children, been listening to the conversation. "I am ashamed of you" he continued. "A gentleman's son forsooth! And, pray tell me, what makes a gentleman in your estimation? Money? Well, then, Rod was ahead of you once, for his father could have bought me ten times over, and his mother is, by birth, a lady, the daughter of a no[illegible] you'll have to take back all you [illegible] Roderick, and seek to [illegible] richer companions for your best [illegible] and composition. Rich or poor, gentlemen, and all others do not always cover honest hearts."

Len hung his head. His father was his idol, and he keenly felt a reproof from him. In his [illegible] school he had fallen into [illegible] which, alas! some older [illegible] not escaped, of indulging [illegible] ment and plenty of money [illegible] respectability, and that poor, ill clad persons, must, of necessity, be low and dishonest.

Seating himself upon a [illegible] taking Bessie to [illegible] gravely drew his [illegible] ing:

"My boy, I have long [illegible] growing disposition on your [illegible] give way to [illegible] little [illegible] you are [illegible] companions [illegible] of this world [illegible] I think I need [illegible] that I am [illegible] get.

"Once there was a [illegible] spite of all [illegible] and [illegible] of a boy [illegible] the gravel [illegible] Fitzboy, right [illegible] cargo of a dirty [illegible]

"One night Christmas [illegible] through [illegible] and [illegible] are home [illegible] they collect [illegible] fool no [illegible] sleepers [illegible] snowdrifts [illegible] with light [illegible] street, but [illegible] el, as they [illegible] cent. [illegible] crowded [illegible] gifts. They [illegible] and cake with [illegible] that night; but [illegible] throng, none seemed [illegible] drunkard's son.

"The next day [illegible] to the [illegible] of the [illegible] rested so lovingly [illegible] ambercolored [illegible] cake seemed [illegible] surfeit of raisins [illegible] the dainty [illegible] snow. As [illegible] wa day, [illegible] planning [illegible] rent in [illegible] his auxious [illegible] accompanied by a little boy about his own age, came out, with a basket. The woman [illegible] without glancing [illegible] child, who [illegible] after which [illegible]

"Mamma, do you [illegible] gry?"

"Hastily looking up, [illegible] took in the whole [illegible]

"I think he [illegible] may ask him [illegible] to supper."

"Willson [illegible] the general [illegible] be outcast's hard [illegible] the gaslighted [illegible] reached an elegant [illegible] elegant [illegible] fine. The supper [illegible] wanted expe[illegible] poor boy, as he [illegible] ous hours.

"After supper, [illegible] to the bath room, and [illegible] factor, with his mother's [illegible] took from the [illegible] comfortable suit of [illegible] and presented [illegible] came a large delightful [illegible] sel in looking at [illegible] books, and in [illegible] of the piano. At last, [illegible] withdrawn, the little [illegible] el off to bed, scarcely [illegible] whether he was in Heaven or up [illegible] new earth.

"The next day was [illegible] a merry Christmas [illegible] hitherto neglected [illegible] process was complete when [illegible] new and shining skates were [illegible] upon the Christmas tree, for him.

"Through this lady's influence, a good home was secured [illegible] from that hour prosperity shone upon the drunkard's son. Leonard [illegible] ARD'S SON WAS YOUR FATHER, and the little boy who led him home, who gave him food, shelter, and clothing, was the father of Roderick Lane! Which, think you now, is the gentleman's son, Roderick or yourself!

"Years ago, I lost sight of my boy-friend, and it was only yesterday that I learned of his death and his widow's destitute circumstances; but while I live, the son of James Lane shall share equally with my own children in whatever possessions the Heavenly Father see fit to give me.

"To the long list [illegible] Roderick, I learn [illegible] had [illegible] the success [illegible] tions of his school mates; and I also learned, through Len, that it was [illegible] particular friend, Clarence Moore, who stole your composition, rubbed out your sum, and ate your apple. Roderick, having no proof of these things, and knowing that you would not believe him, kept silent."

It was late when Mr Gray finished his story, and with the promise that the children should go with him to carry the Christmas greetings to the widow and her son, he bade them good night.

Bessie picked up Annie Seropha, and going to her own little room, [illegible] all the rest of her large family of dolls into their various cribs [illegible] for the night. Then, [illegible] in her own bed, she knelt, [illegible] hands, repeated her [illegible], while the new moon looked down, turning her tears to diamonds. Dear, tender hearted Bessie! Her tears were tears of re[illegible] of the happy [illegible] with the merry [illegible]

[illegible] out of his window, and [illegible] he, too, brushed [illegible] away a tear, as if ashamed that the moon should see a boy cry. I don't [illegible] suppose there was a change [illegible] and that he had a bet[illegible] of what constitutes [illegible] and that his tears [illegible] for I heard [illegible] ing that he guessed [illegible] he wouldn't feel Rod Lane just yet.

[illegible] day, a splendid [illegible] the old tenement [illegible] neighbors started as [illegible] another driven [illegible] rubbish [illegible] the starting act, for I [illegible] of this world [illegible] other such the [illegible] that I may [illegible] you [illegible] return to that [illegible] was a grand [illegible] Rod and Len soon [illegible] ing, and loved [illegible] spread [illegible] be [illegible] of a bee [illegible] the grave [illegible] Fitzboy, right [illegible] cargo of a dirty [illegible]

"One night [illegible] Christmas [illegible] through [illegible] and [illegible] are home [illegible] they collect [illegible] fool no [illegible] sleepers [illegible] snowdrifts [illegible] with light [illegible] street, but [illegible] el, as they [illegible] cent. [illegible] crowded [illegible] gifts. They [illegible] and cake with [illegible] that night; but [illegible] throng, none seemed [illegible] drunkard's son.

"The next day [illegible] to the [illegible] of the [illegible] rested so lovingly [illegible] ambercolored [illegible] cake seemed [illegible] surfeit of raisins [illegible] the dainty [illegible] snow. As [illegible] wa day, [illegible] planning [illegible] rent in [illegible] his auxious [illegible] accompanied by a little boy about his own age, came out, with a basket. The woman [illegible] without glancing [illegible] child, who [illegible] after which [illegible]

"Mamma, do you [illegible] gry?"

"Hastily looking up, [illegible] took in the whole [illegible]

"I think he [illegible] may ask him [illegible] to supper."

"Willson [illegible] the general [illegible] be outcast's hard [illegible] the gaslighted [illegible] reached an elegant [illegible] elegant [illegible] fine. The supper [illegible] wanted expe[illegible] poor boy, as he [illegible] ous hours.

"After supper, [illegible] to the bath room, and [illegible] factor, with his mother's [illegible] took from the [illegible] comfortable suit of [illegible] and presented [illegible] came a large delightful [illegible] sel in looking at [illegible] books, and in [illegible] of the piano. At last, [illegible] withdrawn, the little [illegible] el off to bed, scarcely [illegible] whether he was in Heaven or up [illegible] new earth.

"The next day was [illegible] a merry Christmas [illegible] hitherto neglected [illegible] process was complete when [illegible] new and shining skates were [illegible] upon the Christmas tree, for him.

"Through this lady's influence, a good home was secured [illegible] from that hour prosperity shone upon the drunkard's son. Leonard [illegible] ARD'S SON WAS YOUR FATHER, and the little boy who led him home, who gave him food, shelter, and clothing, was the father of Roderick Lane! Which, think you now, is the gentleman's son, Roderick or yourself!

"Years ago, I lost sight of my boy-friend, and it was only yesterday that I learned of his death and his widow's destitute circumstances; but while I live, the son of James Lane shall share equally with my own children in whatever possessions the Heavenly Father see fit to give me.

"To the long list [illegible] Roderick, I learn [illegible] had [illegible] the success [illegible] tions of his school mates; and I also learned, through Len, that it was [illegible] particular friend, Clarence Moore, who stole your composition, rubbed out your sum, and ate your apple. Roderick, having no proof of these things, and knowing that you would not believe him, kept silent."

It was late when Mr Gray finished his story, and with the promise that the children should go with him to carry the Christmas greetings to the widow and her son, he bade them good night.

Bessie picked up Annie Seropha, and going to her own little room,

CHANGE IN BUSINESS.

The Old and Well Known House of

J. M. ROSENBAUM

Having concluded to confine itself to certain specialties, announces that in its main business it is exclusively

A CLOTHING STORE

of the highest grade, where every article of Gentlemen's and Boy's wear of all kinds and grades is offered

ON THE MOST FAVORABLE TERMS FOR CASH.

Buyers need go no further to be suited. Every class of customers can be supplied

[illegible] CHINA, CROCKERY AND GLASS-WARE.

Everything in that line can be found of the best quality and at reasonable prices.

The long established [illegible] of this House is sufficient guarantee [illegible] already attained [illegible] to deserve it permanent. Don't fail to call on

[illegible] QUICKENDEN

Corner Fayetteville and Hargett Sts.

Dec 1875.

NEW FIRM.

The undersigned have this day formed a copartnership under the firm name of Wainright, Williams & Co.

and having purchased the stock [illegible] of Wainright, they will continue the [illegible] and COMMISSION business at

FARMER'S EXCHANGE,

No. 4 Martin Street,

RALEIGH, N. C.

Our Stock will consist of

Bacon,
Flour,
Molasses,
Coffee,
Sugars,
Lard
Salt,
Bagging,
and [illegible]

And all other goods in the Grocery line with Staple Dry Goods, Shoes, etc. Having superior facilities for buying, and a small expense account, we guarantee the lowest prices. Consignments of Cotton and produce generally, solicited, to the sale of which our best efforts will be devoted.

Patronage of our friends respectfully solicited.

GEO. H. WAINRIGHT,
[illegible] Williamson, D'n & Thomas [illegible] Bathurst,
Mill, T. WILLIAMS, [illegible] Johnston,
Wm. H. HOOD,
Raleigh, Sept. 1, 1875.

Having sold my stock of Groceries to Messrs. Wainright, Williams & Hood, I take pleasure in recommending them to my friends and late customers, as entirely worthy of confidence and patronage.

For the present, I may be found at the old stand, and hope all those indebted to the late firm of Hargett, Pou & Whitaker will call on myself, will call on us as soon as possible

J. D. WHITAKER.

Raleigh, Sept 1877

TYSON & JONES

Carriage Builders,

CARTHAGE, N. C.

Having recently purchased [illegible] for Manufacturing, we are prepared to furnish all kinds of the BEST QUALITY OF VEHICLES at short notice and at prices to suit the times. Vehicles shipped to Sanford, Raleigh and Fayetteville N. C. via Raleigh to any part of the State.

We feel confident that, with the close attention we give the business, together with the best materials used, the skilled workmanship employed and the many conveniences we have for manufacturing FIRST CLASS WORK, we can compete in the country can excel us in

STYLE, FINISH, DURABILITY AND

Low Prices.

We manufacture and keep constantly on hand [illegible] of the BEST Quality.

Repairing neatly Done. Shop N. side Railroad [illegible]

July 21 1875

The Best Non-Explosive Lamp in the World!

THE WEST & SOUTHERN SECURITY OIL

Warranted 150 Degrees Fire Test

Endorsed by the Fire Insurance Companies

Read the following certificate, a copy of many others:

HOME FIRE INS. CO. OF BALTIMORE, December 18, '74

Messrs. West & Son: Gentlemen—having tested the various oils sold in this city for illuminating purposes, I take pleasure in recommending your Oil as quite superior to the safest and best now used in our household.

Yours, truly,
ANDREW REESE, Pres't.

GET WILL NOT EXPLODE.

Ask your Storekeeper for it

WEST & SONS,
Wholesale Depot: 113, 115 W. Lombard street, Baltimore.

Sept. 1 6m.

JOHN W. HINSDALE,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

Room [illegible] Fiske Law Building,

Fayetteville street,

RALEIGH N. C.

Attends all the Courts in Raleigh and Fayetteville. Claims collected in all parts of North Carolina. Refers to Hon. R. M. Pearson, Chief Justice N. C.; Hon M. W. Ransom, U. S. Senator; Capt. National Bank, Raleigh, N. C.; Messrs. Heilig & Haywood, Raleigh, N. C.; Fayetteville National Bank, Messrs. [illegible] Bank of Fayetteville; J. D. Williams & Bro., Fayetteville N. C.; Bank of New Hanover, Wilmington N. C.; Gorton, Biles & Co., Phelps, Dodge and Co., D. K. Thrasher & Co., H. B. Hall & Co., New York; D. Landreth & Co. Philadelphia; G. W. Gail & Ax, Baltimore.

The firm of [illegible] continues to practice in the Courts of Cumberland, Moore & Brunswick. Prompt attention to all business intrusted to John W. Hinsdale, care of Maclae & Bros. feed at Payne's mills, will receive prompt attention.

Oct. 29 6m

THE FIRM OF WYNNE, YANCEY & CO., is this day dissolved by mutual consent.

GEO. W. WYNNE
T. H. YANCEY.
J. W. LEE

RALEIGH, June 15th, 1875.

HAVING PURCHASED THE interest as [illegible] the liabilities of the late firm of WYNNE, YANCEY & CO., I would request all those indebted to make [illegible] payment.

Thankful for the patronage so liberally bestowed upon the late firm I [illegible] personal attention to merit the same.

June 23rd GEO. W. WYNNE

BALTIMORE

EYE and EAR INSTITUTE

NO. 55 FRANKLIN ST., Baltimore, Md.,

JULIAN J. CHISOLM, M. D., Professor of Eye and Ear Diseases in the University of Maryland.

SURGEON IN CHARGE.

This Institution is thoroughly organized and fitted up with every convenience for the treatment of Eye and Ear Diseases.

For further information apply to the above.

Sept 9 3m.

THE CARY COTTON GIN.

Is still being manufactured at Cary, N. C., improved to [illegible] respect and warranted to give satisfaction or no [illegible] proprietor to work. Those desiring further information send for Circular, &c. to

W. M. BORRELL,
Cary, N.C.

June 24th

BRINLY PLOWS

FACTORY: LOUISVILLE, KY.

BRINLY, MILES & HARDY,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

Sept 8-6m.

$5 TO $20 per day! Agents wanted! All classes of working people, of either sex, young or old, making more money at work for us in their spare moments, or all the time, than at anything else. Particulars free. Address G. STINSON & Co., Portland, Maine.

Sept. 15-12m

OLD NORTH STATE

FIRE

Insurance Company,

OF

WARRENTON, - - - - - N. C.,

This Company has closed its third year in a condition of GREAT PROSPERITY, and entered upon its fourth year [illegible] the most PROMISING AGE in its history.

It deserves the [illegible] which it receives, being because:

It is a home institution.
It has a large capital and Reserves.
It pays its loss promptly.

ASSETS.

[illegible]

LIABILITIES.

[illegible]

SOUTHERN

PIEDMONT AIR LINE.

Richmond & Danville R. R. [illegible]

[illegible]

CONDENSED

Leave Charlotte [illegible]
" Salisbury [illegible]
" Greensboro [illegible]
" Danville [illegible]
" Keysville [illegible]
Arrive at Richmond [illegible]

Leave Richmond [illegible]
" Keysville [illegible]
" Danville [illegible]
" Greensboro [illegible]
" Salisbury [illegible]
Arrive at Charlotte [illegible]

GOING EAST.

[illegible]

GOING WEST.

[illegible]

PASSENGER STATIONS.

[illegible]

Connections at Charlotte with Atlanta & Richmond Air Line Railway, Columbia & Augusta R. R. for the South, and Chester & Lenoir R. R. for Yorkville.

A. S. HARRIS,
Superintendent.

RALEIGH & GASTON RAILROAD.

On and after Sunday, Dec. 26th, 1875, trains on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad will run daily, (Sundays excepted,) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Leave Raleigh, 4.00 P. M.
Arrives at Gaston, 8.05 "
Leaves Gaston, 8.20 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh, 12.25 P. M.

FREIGHT TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh, 5.55 A. M.
Arrive at Gaston, 1.05 A. M.
Leaves Gaston, 2.00 A. M.
Arrive at Raleigh, 6.30 P. M.

All Mail passengers for the North and West will take the Mail train from Raleigh.

All Mail passengers for Fayetteville and points on Cape Fear River will take the Mail train from Gaston.

A. POPE ANDREWS,
Superintendent.

[illegible]

OFFICE OF TRANSPORTATION,
RALEIGH & GASTON R. R. CO.,
Portsmouth Va., Jan 1st, 1876.

On and after the 1st day of January, 1876, the Mail will leave Portsmouth daily, (except Sundays) at 8 A. M. and arrive at Raleigh at 12.40 P. M.

Returning will leave Raleigh at 4 P. M. and arrive at Portsmouth at 8.45 P. M.

Freight trains will leave Portsmouth at 8 A. M. and arrive at Raleigh at 6.30 P. M.

Returning will leave Raleigh at 5.55 A. M. and arrive at Portsmouth at 1.05 A. M.

No Connection on Sundays between Charlotte and Raleigh, or Raleigh and Portsmouth.

For Through Tickets and Rates apply at Company's Office, Raleigh.

S. B. TAYLOR,
Gen'l Pass'r Agent.

CHEAP EXCURSION TICKETS

[illegible] Raleigh & Gaston Railroad and Seaboard Air Line Railway, to Portsmouth, Va., and return, will be sold at the following rates:

From Raleigh, [illegible]
" Weldon, [illegible]
" Gaston, [illegible]

Tickets good for 10 days.

Jan 1 1876

FALL AND WINTER GOODS!

D. S. WATT & BRO.,

Are now receiving a Large and Attractive Stock of

FINE AND CHEAP CLOTHING!

[illegible] Laces and Neck Wear,

[illegible] Embroidered Flouncings, Ladies' Trimmed [illegible] Handkerchiefs [illegible] Fine Colored Wood

MANHATTAN FINE WHITE SHIRT,

[illegible] and most perfect [illegible] in fact.

Prints! Prints!

[illegible]

WHITE AND BROWN BLANKETS,

[illegible] Breakfast Shawls, Knit [illegible]

[illegible] TOWELS, we take [illegible] and complete in every [illegible] Call and be convinced of the [illegible] 4 Fayetteville St., Raleigh.

D. S. WATT & BRO

SUI GENERIS.

MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.

UNEQUALED UNAPPROACHED

In capacity and excellence by any others. Awarded

THREE HIGHEST MEDALS AND DIPLOMA OF HONOR AT VIENNA, 1873; PARIS, 1867.

ONLY [illegible] Reed Organs ever awarded any medal [illegible] at any world's fair, and such extraordinary excellence could not be claimed a wide value there.

ALWAYS [illegible] Reed Organs at Industrial Exhibitions in America, as well as [illegible] Reed Organs could have been [illegible] at which any other organs have been preferred.

BEST [illegible] by Eminent Musicians, in both hemispheres, and pronounced unrivaled. See [illegible] CIRCULAR, containing opinions of more than [illegible] Thousand [illegible] Leaders.

INSIST [illegible] a Mason & Hamlin. Do not [illegible] other. Dealers get larger profits on inferior organs, and for this reason often say they have it to sell something else.

NEW STYLES [illegible] with most important improvements ever made. New Solo Combination Stops. Superb Cases and other Cases of new designs.

PIANO-HARP CABINET ORGAN An [illegible] combining of these instruments.

EASY PAYMENTS. Organs sold for cash or [illegible] monthly or quarterly [illegible] rent, rent pays for the organ.

[illegible] and Circulars, with full particulars free. Address MASON & HAMLIN CO., 254 Tremont Street, BOSTON; 46 East 14th Street, NEW YORK; or 80 & 82 [illegible]

[illegible] N. T. LEACH

Leach Brothers,

WHOLESALE GROCERS

AND

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

[illegible] Raleigh, N. C.

[illegible] Cotton Ties, Bagging, Rope, Salt, Iron, Nails, Steel, Powder, Shot, Lead, Tobacco, Snuff, Cigars, Pipes, Matches, Candles, Soap, Starch, Candies, Fruits, Nuts, Canned Goods, Pickles, Sauces, Mustard, Pepper, Spices, Ginger, Soda, Crackers, Cheese, Lard, Lard Oil, Coal Oil, Axle Grease, Brooms, Brushes, Buckets, Tubs, Churns, Carpet Sweepers, Clothes Wringers, Baskets, Wash Boards, Mole Shears, Bird Seed, Bird Cages, Tobacco Pipes, Fishing Tackle, Base Balls, Bats, Marbles, Toys, Fancy Goods, Notions, Hosiery, Gloves, Suspenders, Handkerchiefs, Perfumery, Soaps, Pomades, Hair Oils, Combs, Brushes, Shaving Mugs, Razors, Razor Strops, Pocket Knives, Scissors, Shoe Strings, Shoe Blacking, Shoe Brushes, Shoe Nails, Wood Screws, Tacks, Umbrellas, Parasols, Canes, Looking Glasses, Window Glass, Putty, Paints, Oils, Varnishes, Dyes, Medicines, Perfumery, Soaps, Pomades, Hair Oils, Combs, Brushes, Shaving Mugs, Razors, Razor Strops, Pocket Knives, Scissors, Shoe Strings, Shoe Blacking, Shoe Brushes, Shoe Nails, Wood Screws, Tacks, Umbrellas, Parasols, Canes, Looking Glasses, Window Glass, Putty, Paints, Oils, Varnishes, Dyes, Medicines, and a large assortment of our stock of Iron

Oct 1 6m LEACH BROS

PLEIS' FIT POWDERS.

These Powders have been tested by over eighty years experience in the treatment of Fits, Epilepsy, Spasms, Convulsions, St. Vitus' Dance, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Affections, and over 11 years' standing.

When you OBTAIN STATE AGE.

[illegible] sent to any part of the country by the proprietor, [illegible] or express, on receipt of price.

JOHN M. PLEIS, Jr.,

No. [illegible] North [illegible] Philadelphia, Pa.

[illegible] mention that you saw this advertisement in the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

may 11-1y

SWAIM'S CELEBRATED PANACEA

Has long attracted the notice of the most eminent physicians, by its great efficacy in curing what were considered incurable cases of disease where the patient have been almost destroyed by SCROFULA [illegible] Dr. Martine Story, of the New York [illegible], and Prof. Valentine Mott, of the New York University, Physicians Gibson, Dewees and Chapman, of Philadelphia, and many other physicians of celebrity, gave, over their own signatures, letters recommending it, and certifying to its great merits. It has been occasionally advertised, and thousands of families throughout the United States recommend and use it. The laboratory is under the direction of Dr. Franklin Stewart, who has devoted his attention and skill to its careful preparation during the past twenty-five years, and not a bottle put up but is worth many times its cost to the patient. It is perfectly safe for the most diseased and debilitated, and, IN ALL CASES WHERE THE BLOOD IS NOT PURE, IT SHOULD BE USED FREELY.

PREPARED ONLY AT

SWAIM'S LABORATORY,

115 S. Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia.

Descriptive pamphlets furnished gratis on application.

Nov 3-3m.

ZELL'S ENCYCLOPEDIA.

New and second edition. 10,000 articles, 3,000 original [illegible] and copyright Maps The best book of universal knowledge, in the language. Now in course of publication. Agents wanted. Specimen with map sent on receipt of 25 cents. Address ZELL, 1016 Filbert street, Philadelphia. Baker, Davis & Co. Philadelphia.

Nov. 26-6t

PROGRESS THE WATCHWORD

Merit and Success Hand in Hand.

BROOKLYN LIFE

INSURANCE COMPANY,

NO. 141 BROADWAY,

NEW YORK.

Assets- - - -$1,500,000.00

CHRISTIAN W. BOUCK, President.
D. P. FACKLER, Actuary.

WM. M. OGLE, Secretary
DANIEL AYRES, M.D., LL.D., Med. Director

POLICIES VALUABLE IN LIFE, AS WELL AS AT DEATH!

The BROOKLYN LIFE is the only Company in America which guarantees

DEFINITE CASH SURRENDER VALUES,

In case a Policy is forfeited for non payment of Premium.

THE BROOKLYN LIFE embraces the highest principles for the [illegible] of INVESTMENT, ECONOMY of MANAGEMENT, and CARE in the SELECTION of RISKS—upon which elements of administration the security of a Life Insurance Company depends.

The laws of New York compel Companies in that State to maintain the full value of their Policies, each and every year, and in a certain legal standard of security. A [illegible] must be held by the Companies to meet all their liabilities.

Insurers in looking around for Companies in which to insure, should carefully see [illegible] this important safeguard. IT WILL BE FOUND IN THE BROOKLYN LIFE

WM. LITTLE, M.D., MEDICAL EXAMINER.

AW. LAWRENCE,

General Agent for North Carolina,
Office at Raleigh

may 18-tf

MOSELEY'S CONFECTIONERY

RALEIGH N. C.

Is the Place to Buy

French and Plain Candies,

Foreign and Domestic Fruits,

RAISINS, NUTS, etc.,

Fine Cigars, Smoking Tobacco, Chewing Tobacco, Fine Cut Chewing Tobacco, Fancy Good, Childrens Toys, Carriages for the Little Folks, ORDER SET,

BASE BALLS AND BATS, Marbles, Tops, and Kites,

All at MOSELEY'S

INSURE AGAINST FIRE!

In PESCUD & SON'S Agency, Raleigh, N. C.

Money and time saved to those who insure through us in the following strong and prompt Companies, viz: Home, N. Y. Georgia Home, N. C. Home, City Fire, Richmond, New Orleans, Amazon, Atlas, Hartford, Atlantic, New York Firemans Fund, Cal., Penn of Philadelphia, Franklin of Philadelphia.

Extra inducements offered to all who want insurance on Cotton and Tobacco Factories, Mills, Gins, farm property and dwellings and country stores.—Send for a blank application, instructions and terms to Pescud & Son Raleigh, N. C.

F. F. PESCUD. P. F. PESCUD, Jr.

jan 20-tf

J. G. WILLIAMS, Pres S. C. WHITE, Cashier.
W. S. PRIMROSE, Asst't Cashier.

NORTH CAROLINA

State National Bank,

RALEIGH.

Deposits Received

SPECIAL CARE AND ATTENTION GIVEN TO COLLECTIONS.

COLLECTIONS MADE IN THIS, AND

ALL THE SOUTHERN STATES

At Cost, and remitted for in Eastern Exchange, at the Lowest Market Rates.

dec 8 12

ESTABLISHED 1815.

CHAS. SIMON & SONS,

63 NORTH HOWARD ST., BALTIMORE, MD.

Dealers in

FOREIGN & DOMESTIC DRY GOODS,

would call special attention to their splendid stock of Dress Goods, Linen Goods, Embroideries, Laces, and Hosiery; the best assortment of Mourning Goods in the city.

SAMPLES SENT FREE!

All orders amounting to $20.00 or over, will be sent free of freight charges by Express, but parties whose orders are not accompanied by the money, and having their goods sent C. O. D., must pay for return of the money.

J. C. S. LUMSDEN,

Manufacturer and Dealer in

TIN AND SHEET IRON WARE,

Stoves, &c., in Great Variety.

THE STONEWALL is the Largest, Heaviest and Best Cook Stove in the Market.

Tin Roofing, Guttering & Piping a Specialty,

Fayetteville St., opposite the Market Pump.

oct 14 12m RALEIGH N. C.

FURNITURE

W. H. Morris & Co

No 3 Fayetteville Street,

RALEIGH, N. C.

Dealer in all kinds of furniture, such as Walnut Chamber Sets, Cottage Chamber Sets, Parlor Sets, Dining Room Sets, Bedsteads, Bureaus, Wardrobes, Washstands, Tables, Chairs, Sofas, Lounges, Spring Beds of various patterns, Cribs and Cradles in great variety of styles, patterns and prices. Wood and Marble top centre tables &c.

ALSO

Keeps constantly on hand and make to order all kind of Mattresses, such as pure Curled Hair, Cotton and Shuck, Excelsior and Shuck Mattresses, Oil Hair Mattesses renovated and made as good as new.

No trouble to show goods. Call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

W. H. MORRIS & CO

nov 20-tf

WIRE RAILING & ORNAMENTAL Wire Works.

Dufur & Co.,

26 North Howard Street, Baltimore, Md.

Manufacture WIRE RAILING for Cemeteries, Balconies, &c., SHUTTER, FENCE, CAGE, SAND AND COAL SCREENS, WOVEN WIRE, &c. ALSO, IRON BEDSTEADS CHAIRS, SETTEES, &c., &c.

Feb 10-12m

12 Christmas [illegible] The cheapest cash [illegible] ever offered. Agents [illegible] We will mail to any address, post paid, a beautiful [illegible] Christmas, size 9x11, [illegible] in [illegible] Sold for $1. Sold for 50 cts an [illegible] Try [illegible] every [illegible] It is [illegible] buying [illegible] and busy [illegible] We [illegible] a [illegible] to [illegible] men and women, boys and girls, [illegible] or spare time, [illegible] or evenings, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

ISSUE NOT PUBLISHED

END OF

YEAR

Microfilmed by

North Carolina Department of Archives and History

Division of Archives and Manuscripts

Raleigh, North Carolina

MICROFILMED BY
SEP 3 1975
RR-165
N.C. DEPT. OF ARCHIVES & HISTORY

CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE

RALEIGH WEEKLY

1876

1876

FILMED FROM ORIGINALS IN THE DUKE UNIVERSITY LIBRARY
THE FOLLOWING ISSUES MISSING:
JAN. 5 - PART: JAN 12: JAN. 19 - PART:
SEPT. 13: DEC. 20 - PART.

Raleigh Christ[ian Advo]cate.

Published in the Interests of Meth[odism]

Publishers. Raleigh, N. C., Wednesda[y]

$2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

[Vol. XX]V.—No. 1. 3 4 1 8 4 Whole No. 1,089.

[Select] Poetry.

them support and courage; but in the solitude of their souls they have suffered for years, with their devoted wives, burdens which would have crushed out life had they not been sustained by the constant presence of God and the hope of immortality.—Their witness is in heaven—their record is on high.

When the rich, the great and the learned die—the statesman, the orator, the poet, endowed by the Creator with extraordinary gifts, which may have been prostituted to the spread of vicious principles, then admirers carefully gather up their redeeming [qual]ities and doctrinal virtues, pour out impression their wealth, to build monuments, that their memories may not perish.

They would teach us to forget their crimes and forgive their follies, because we are sinners all, and in the sad conflicts of life, we know not what they have resisted. As to their future life we would hope against hope and leave them in the hands of God, who alone knows how to measure human responsibility with human infirmity. The world will love its own, and gladly find some bright path that has safely conducted their departed spirits to the Christian's home in heaven and to the Christian's God. Thus far at least they pay a tribute to the supremacy of the Christian faith and hope. Though many of God's chosen ones have suffered in affliction and obscurity, and died unwept and unsung, yet it is pleasing to know that there are ministers and laymen in our Church ever ready, at the touch of the dying saint, to witness the triumphs of Christian faith, to preserve their memorials and spread abroad the odour of their piety.

"Our blessed Master achieved more in his suffering death than he had accomplished in his life. So has it been with many of his humble followers. So may it be with him whose trembling hand has traced these lines.

Oaky Grove, 11th Dec

For the Advocate.

"Hard Times."

The afflictions of these troublous times are doubtless intended by our Heavenly Father to be overruled for our good, in teaching us a lesson, which, if we are wise, we will heed.

When times are 'flush,' and everything riding on the high road to apparent prosperity, it is difficult for the preachers of the word to convince the minds of men of the truths of the Bible, when it declares that 'earthly pleasures are fleeting and sure to fade,'—that earthly hopes, based only upon the proof of human wisdom and foresight, are most always doomed to disappointment—that earthly treasures are perishable, and only those in heaven are enduring and eternal—that true peace of mind, true happiness and joy, are only the part of those whose hopes are based upon a Saviour's love and a Saviour's sacrifice. It is difficult to convince men in the hey day of prosperity that these Bible truths apply practically to themselves who have not felt and are not ready to admit that "all is vanity and vexation of spirit."

But when in the providence of God, the reverse of this situation comes to be true; when bitter disappointment succeeds to bright anticipations, when they are forced to confess in anguish of spirit that the fruits of their toil, the investment of that boasted wisdom, energy and foresight, which they in their folly deemed infallible, is all come to naught. When they see the glittering bauble of earth's riches and honor fast slipping away from their grasp—then indeed is there a hope for them, that broken in fortune, they may also be broken in spirit, and their hearts be ready to receive the blessing. Thus, it often happens, that the trials and tribulations of this present life turn to blessings in disguise and work out for us a "far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory." Happy is that man who, heeding the teachings of misfortune and sorrow, hardens not his heart, but yields it, softened by the chastening of a Father's hand, to the blessed and saving influences of God's holy Spirit, who, when he is brought low—flies for help to one that is mighty—who, when earthly hopes fail, goes to the Saviour of [sinners] and finds in [him a friend] who seeks relief from the [ills] of life by resting upon the consolations of the Gospel of Christ, who says "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest."

This general feeling of depression and gloom, consequent upon the failure of so many earthly calculations and the disappointment of so many human expectations, may fairly be construed as showing that God is about the exercise of his mercy and love, is moving upon the hearts and minds of the people by his providence and thus preparing the way for a gracious outpouring of his spirit, and for an abundant harvest of sinners to be saved by closing in with the salvation, the peace, the joy and the mercy offered through the Saviour.

The harvest is great. Now is the propitious time to work for Zion.—Man's extremity is oftenest God's opportunity:—and to those who stand as sentinels on the walls of Zion—now is the time to cry aloud and spare not. To the whole church of church—now is the time to be up and doing—leading sorrowful and mourning souls to find peace by believing, trusting, loving the Saviour of sinners—who is always full of pity, love [illegible] and stands to day at the right hand of God, making intercession for us.

W. K. M.

Lillesville, N. C.

The Methodist says: A business man hit one side of Moody's preaching [illegible] a business man, like a merchant with five hundred barrels of beef which he is determined to sell quick for cash." This business manner for nothing else so well describes it—strips off from religion a mass of disguises that it has worn for the popular eye, and brings us face to face with the bare realities of christian faith. No doubt, men of affairs are insensibly moved to reflection by listening to one like unto themselves in address and speech. It is the lay element utilized. Another commendable and noticeable thing is that he does not preach about D. L. Moody; and in this respect he is sui generis—all the other "Evangelists" we ever heard spent half their time in telling their exploits. What Jesus did is the subject of Moody's talks. We wish the rest would imitate him.

Rev. Stuart Robinson, D. D., who has just seen Mr. Spurgeon, says of that gentleman: "He does not seem to be afflicted with that disease which [illegible] the labors of so many of his [illegible] this side of the Atlantic [illegible] on the brain [illegible] of ritualism [illegible] it is that

The Worst Foes of True Religion.

Some religionists are always in dread of the progress of scientific skepticism. They fear lest such men as DARWIN, HUXLEY, TYNDALL, and SPENCER may undermine the very foundations of religious belief, and leave mankind without a God, a Bible, a soul, or a hope of immortality. Other religionists dread the influence of the subtle speculations of those modern philosophers who turn facts into figures of speech, ecclesiastical rites in[to] symbols of thought, and sacred [per]sonages into mythological shows; and hence they are apprehensive [of] spread of the works of such [men] RENAN and STRAUSS. Other relig[ionists] look with dread upon the [various] forms of materialism and [infidelity] such as are supposed to exist [in] certain portions of the so called [learn]ing classes. Many clergymen [are] much exercised over the pow[erful] pretensions of these enemies [of] consider it their most important [duty] to wage relentless war upon [them] from their pulpits. They [rail] against them, argue against [them] quote Scripture against them. [One] HOMMAS says, "prove their [opinions] orthodox by apostolic blo[ws] knocks." Now, we hold [that] greatest danger and injury to [true] in these times, are not scientific [skep]ticism, or speculative mysti[cism] subterranean materialism, [but] the men who profess to believe [in] ligion, but do not practise [it]—I mean those men who nominally [accept] the Scriptures, but, instead of [regu]lating their lives thereto, [follow] the wicked ways of the world. [The] men who belong to the Church [but] they remain in partnership with [the] devil; those men whose [hearts] sweetened with piety while [their] hands are foul with wrong; [and] those men who pretend to [obey] the awful sanctions and [laws] the Divine law, yet, in [practice] them as though they [were] those men whose good [deeds] and whose glory is [not] who are like unto [whited] which indeed appear [beau]tiful outward, but are within [full] "It is such people as [these] there are so many nowadays [who] the worst foes of religion [and] formidable obstacle to [the] and the most successful [weapons] of unbelief. The mere [sneer] at them and say if this [is] ligion, it is a fraud; the [finger] mock; they, and the [finger] thee. The scoffers jeer [and] heavy villains smile at [the] those who live in debauch[ery] the thin veneer with which [they] cover themselves. [It] ing to be wondered at [that] Suppose men followed [the] of these religionists in [the] ments of life. Suppose [all] the community praised [God] the drunkards praised [sobriety] thieves honesty, or the [liber]ness, or the corruption [of] they would certainly be [pre]tenders; and though [they] still be bound to maintain [the] in these virtues, there [would] respect for them would [be] by such eulogists. Example powerful than profession. [For] a man professes belief in [that] which he does not practise [is] a stumbling block in the [way] farers. The life must be [the] the faith, if the latter is [to] in the world.

There are in this city [of] hundred thousand church[goers] more or less. Now, [if] hundred thousand men [were] practised in their daily [lives] truths to which they have [such] legiance. Suppose that [by] their actions the benighted [world] of their nominal belief. [Suppose they] were distinguished from [all] the unregenerate world in all their [ways. Suppose they could be] children of the light, [as] from the children of darkness. [Suppose that religion, instead] of being ent to shine in the [midst] friends, were the [purpose] of its herein. Suppose, these [glowing] and they do you not [think] [we say] be a visible [transformation] in the community? Would [there] side turned back; [would] not hide itself; would [they] be dumbfounded? [Yet] the declere were but ten [thousand] professors of religion [properly] exemplified it[self] city who is not asking too [much] surely We desire, then, in [this] pears of hell, to [cry] against ligious professors [to] wake up the ey should realize [before] that its they profess; the [world] by their practical [illustrate] it show it, not that [it] but as an [idle] fumery, power. If the [church] alas! for the [world] religion.—N.

Then I saw in a dream that it is much easier going [down] hill than it is when we are in it. [Poor] way when we are out [of] getting to it —Bun

Scraps.

—'Oh, mamma!' said the youngest darling, yesterday, 'I tried to read, and I rode.'

—Milton confessed that his poetical genius deserted him in the autumn.

—'Anything pite you dere?' inquired one Dutchman of another, while engaged in angling. 'No. nottung at all.' 'Veil,' returned the other, 'notting pite me, too.'

—'You don't buy bouquets of me as you used to,' said a [rose] to Christ

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE Corner of Dawson & Harrett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev. J. B. Robbitt, } Editors.
R. T. Gray, Esq }

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID, $2.20
IN MONTHS, " " 1.35
If payment be delayed six months, 2.70

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Editors of the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

RALEIGH, N. C., JANUARY 5, 1876.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly.

The post office of Rev. James Mahoney for the present year, is New Port, Carteret Co., N. C.

☞The preachers who wish the Advocate sent to their charges will please inform

The New Volu

With this issue we ... new volume of the Cu... CATE. Through a kind ... have passed through th... responsibilities of the ... entered upon those of ... At this juncture it is ... that we should say some... ADVOCATE and its work.

As a Conference orga... cial periodical for the ... ligious intelligence, it i... published within our ... the only medium we ... publicity to our chur... and the progress of Met... Conference. Its dev... progress cannot be gai... other source. In othe... an important sense ... North Carolina Meth... Methodist who has in... lution or religious aspi... be without it—indeed, ... without it port and comfort, and enable them to go forward more cheerfully and more successfully in the great work of evangelizing the world.

But while the Adv... the organ of the N...

Bro. Ivy moves this week into the new parsonage in Lenoir. This is one of the best parsonages in the State, and in occupying it the preacher will in some small measure be re... compensed for any loss of salary which he may sustain in consequence of a division of the work here.

Several changes are being made in our community, and among the changes none more happy than have fallen to the lives of many of our young people. There has been a great tidal wave of matrimony—(I call it "tidal wave," as that is the popular parlance; and the fact is to perpetrate a pun, the people involved are tied)—sweeping through this country lately, and the Methodist Church here has suffered much in consequence of it. Some of our best girls have gone before the epidemic, and their places in our fairs, festivals, churches and Sunday schools will know them no more. Nearly every Methodist young lady in our ... has married this Fall, and ... our Methodist men also; ...ers your contributors Dr. ...d Mr. Robey. The lives of ...llen in happy places—with ...e than the Doctor men... ...e, it was observed at the ... marriage, in one of our ...ers, had had "a long con... ...veliness and fickle women;" ...in marrying, had shed a ... on the cause of all men ...t good looking!" I beg ...pardon!—but he is now ...d has a wife not only ...ut good, and with every ...adorning true womanly ... Hence you can joke him ...gratulate him too.

...d a whole letter about the ...ver here, but I forbear, and ...o close.

...came and went—pleas... to all. Instead of the ... of snow and cold on ...e, we had clouds of dust ...s, and the mercury in the ...s up to 70, and the wea... ...s warm and sultry, more ...han winter time.

...u have a full share of all ... compliments of the sea... ...he myself E.

Centennial.

... ministers who have ... Raleigh—Edenton ...o 1876, viz:

...ven and Edmund ...and Edwin Cannon. ...erson and Leroy ...orris. ...uce. ...M Dance and J Branch. ...Aden. ...derson. ...kidmore and Parker ...rchy and Amos C. ...h and G. W. Charlton ...derson. ...right. ... Anderson. ...rd. ... Leigh. ...Hammett. ...C. Charlton. ... Blake. ... Bain. ... Nelly. ...an. ...B. Cox, B. T. Blake. ... Donald. ..., Dr. Daniel Hall. ...neison. ...neison. ... Laughorne. ...adsworth. ... Davis. ... Johnson. ...Frame. ... Johnson and B. T. ... Bumpass. ... Bumpass. ...dwards. ...dwards. ... Campbell. ... Burton. ... Burton. ...Hellin. ...Hellin. ...b. ...b. ...E. Pell. ...E. Pell. ... Reid. ... Reid.

1856, Numa F. Wheeler.
1857, Joseph I. Wheeler.
1858, L. L. Hendren.
1859, L. L. Hendren.
1860, Joel W. Tucker.
1861, Joel W. Tucker.
1862, John S. Long.
1863, John S. Long.
1864, Braxton Craven.
1865, Braxton Craven.
1866, H. T. Hudson.
1867, H. T. Hudson.
1868, H. T. Hudson.
1869, H. T. Hudson.
1870, Jonathan H. Dally.
1871, L. S. Burkhead.
1872, A. W. Mangum.
1873, A. W. Mangum.
1874, A. W. Mangum.
1875, A. W. Mangum, L. S. Burkhead.
1876, L. S. Burkhead.

Many of these men have finished their course and entered into rest. Some others are old and infirm—"waiting by the river." Others are in vigorous health and still leaving on the hosts of "God's ... Centennial ... of Raleigh, of ... "continuance," to ... "three or more days ... on of "organ... celebrate the introduct... the State. A ... ized Methodism" in ... en to build a ... collection will be tak... in Raleigh. I ... Metropolitan Church ... last Conference ... was appointed at our ... ds for this ob... an agent to raise m... ject.

I hereby invite all the former pastors of Edenton Street Church, and also of Person Street Church, who are now living, to attend our Centennial and take part in the exercises of that occasion. Dear Brethren and Fathers, gather up such incidents and reminiscenses of N. C. Methodism as you can, and come prepared to add to the interest and pleasure of the occasion.

Will the Nashville and Richmond Advocates copy this article?

L. S. BURKHEAD,
Raleigh, N. C.

Trinity College

The Spring Term begins, Jan 15 1875, and we hope such co operation from the members of the Conference, that every circuit and station shall have at least one student at the College An active effort would send us as many students as we could accommodate Trinity offers unusual and very superior advantages. Our facilities for thorough education and finished culture, and the excellence of our board and boarding arrangements deserve general consideration. Compare the expense with other good Institutions. Ninety dollars will pay all expenses, except books and clothing, for five months. Our highest tuition is only $35 per term. By clubbing board costs only from $7 to $9 per month Preachers' sons pay no tuition, hence perpetual provision is made for the tuition for all the sons of the preachers.

B. CRAVEN.

Dec 29, 1875.

Religious Intelligence

According to the latest statistics of the Universalists of this country they have 37 State Conventions, 647 ministers and 30,905 members.

The first meeting of the Alliance of the Reformed Churches Throughout the World, Holding the Presbyterian System, will be held in Edinburg in July, 1876.

The Home Missionary Society of the United Presbyterian Church has stations in most of the Western States and on the Pacific coast It the year 1874, $35,000 were raised for this work.

What Emperor William and the Italian King did about Ultramontanism, at their recent pleasant interview together, perhaps the "prisoner at the Vatican" may not quite like. The world moves.

Rev. Mr. Wright, a Baptist evangelist of London, is equal to all emergencies. He has made a movable baptistry, which he carries about in the tent in which he preaches. Recently he immersed forty ...ersons in ...

The evangelical ministers ... have resolved not to let the movement inaugurated by Mr. Moody and Sankey pass away. A convention was held in Dublin on the twenty second of October to devise methods whereby the work of awakening the great bulk of the people to a living interest in Christianity may be maintained.

Notwithstanding the fact that missionary work at Acapulco, Mexico, was broken up by the murder of Mr. Stephens, and has not yet been resumed, zealous work has been carried on in neighboring towns, and several churches have been organized by Mr. Diaz, who at the time of the murder of Mr. Stephens was wounded. Mr. Diaz hopes soon to return to Acapulco.

The Madura mission, Southern India, is doing a great work in the field of its operations. Additions are constantly made to their number, and a Brahmin youth of promise has recently been converted. Rev. Mr. Kendall writes: "The great work now in progress in Great Britain, under the direction of Mr. Moody, stimulates us here. Every account of revivals in England and America stirs us up to more ... effort. May we soon see the power of God manifest from on high. We are now in the midst of the great annual Hindoo festival in honor of the goddess Merutchi. One hundred thousand persons have come from all parts of Southern India to attend this festival, and will return with some definite idea of ... Lord ...

RELIGION AND EDUCATION IN PALESTINE.—A brief statement, translated from the American Lutheran from the Lutheran Kirchenfreund, gives an encouraging account of the progress of religion in the Holy Land, in response to the efforts of Dr. Gobat. Fourteen hundred children, it seems, are receiving religious instruction in the schools. The congregation at Jerusalem consists of 400 persons, and a growing Arabian evangelical congregation is also ministered to there by pastor Klein. There is a hospital under the management of deaconesses where 800 patients are annually treated, and in another institution over 200 are religiously educated. The number of inhabitants at Bethlehem has increased to 6,000, and there are 500 children in the Lutheran schools who are making commendable progress. The congregation at Nazareth, and the congregations and schools at Bilia, Nablus, Zebabdeh, Burten, Nain and Lydda, give the encouraging news that the number of ... Protestants has increased ... A German colony ... numbering ... around ... agricultural ... progress.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1876.—The fact that The Living Age soon enters upon its thirty-third year of continuous and successful publication, is a remarkable one in the history of periodicals.—And as it is the only thorough and fresh compilation of a literature which embraces the productions of the ablest writers in science, fiction, poetry, history, biography, politics, theology, philosophy, criticism, and art, its importance to American readers can hardly be overrated. In no other way, in fact, can so much of the best work of the best minds of the time be obtained so cheaply or conveniently, as through this standard eclectic weekly.

The Living Age has always stood at the "head of its class" not only as the best, but all things considered, the cheapest of the eclectics; and since its recent absorption of "Every Saturday," is practically without a rival. In the multiplicity of periodicals claiming attention, it has become almost a necessity to every person or family of intelligence and taste; for it, alone, furnishes such a compendium of whatever is of immediate interest or permanent value in the literary world as to render it an invaluable economizer of time, labor and money.

For those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers make some combinations with other leading periodicals, by which a subscriber is, at a remarkably small cost, put in possession of the best which the current literature of the world affords. The prospectus should be examined by all in selecting their periodicals for the new year. The volume begins January st.

SERIOUS AFFRAY.—For the first time in the past 25 years a very serious and fatal affray occurred in this city on Christmas afternoon, in which over 100 whites and blacks were engaged. The scene was Trade and College streets and at the Square where these streets cross.

We have endeavored to get the facts as to the origin of the difficulty, and what we state (as brief as posible) we think is correct. Policeman Joe Orr informs us that early in the afternoon he found a white man from the country named Tom Wilson, drunk, and engaged in a wrangle with several drunken negroes. Mr. Orr took hold of Wilson and started off with him, at the same time ordering the negroes to stand back and let Wilson alone as he would take him off. Several negroes continued to follow, taunting Wilson and making threats, and finally they began throwing rocks at both Wilson and Policemen Orr—one knocking Wilson off his mule and another striking the Policeman on the leg, inflicting a painful wound. After Wilson was being led off a negro man ran up behind him and hit him on the back of the head or neck with a rock.

After it was seen that the negroes continued to assail Wilson and interfere with the Policeman, several white men went forward and endeavored to drive back the negroes, when they (the whites) were assailed with a shower of rocks. Soon afterwards an indiscriminate firing of pistols commenced and continued until about 30 shots had been fired. At the close of the firing it was found that a negro from the country, named Shephard Johnson, was killed, and eight or ten

...s says that one firm in Concor... ...ls to parties in Cabarrus, Rowa... ...sells goo... ...ore, Montgomery, Iredell, a... ...Stanly Mecklenburg counties. ...nd ha... ...part of M... ...nt names on their Ledger. ...yo... ...880 diffe... ...Morgan also has A. Hendrick...

A. J. ... county, N. C., confesses that ... of Forsy... for a mule for seven ye... his ge... he passe... only two words in all that time. ...t vexat... speaking... strange story, but no doubt ... sid... He tells ... -Revs.

true one. ...SE BUSINESS. The gin house ... Gin H... Murphree at Snow Hill, was ... of Mr. J... by fire on Tuesday week be... destroy... no insurance. The fire originat... fore last, ...int room, ... is supposed to ... ed in the ...d from a ...ch.

have ign... ...nbe coun... ...armer wanted to ... A Bun... ...r a few ...ks, and having go South ...00 and $60 which he didn't ... between ... to do with, placed it in a ... know wh... ...and burn it in the middle ... wooden ... pen. When returned and ... of a slug... the box, found nearly all of ... uncover... in small ...uments, and a lit... his mone... comfor... embedded in the ... ter of mi... fifty ...ollars was saved ... same. ...edition.

from dem... ..., living in Middle ... Mr. Ben Ha... ...unty, was fatally ... Sound, Natur... ...fore last by Mr. ... shot on ...t, o... ...the neighborhood. ... J. F. Eve... ...the ...t, and the evi... Garrett w... ...tt only acted in ... self-defen...

The Mil... ...e learns that a ... Chu... ...haunted by a ne... house in Yanceyv... ...ed by fire Tues... ...gro woman was ...child perished in ... day night, and the ... seems to have ... the ruins. The ...the house and gone ... locked her child ...building took fire ... off visiting, wh... in the flames. ... and her child perry George Wash...

The chair ...occupies the Ma... ...ington as Worshipful ...ria, Va., is now ... some lodge at ...aminity Lodge of ... in the possession ...epted Masons at ... Ancient Free a...wither it was sent ... Edenton, in this ... for safe keeping, ... during the war ...gony, elaborately ... It is of massive ...men of antique ... carved and a fi...will be made to ... furniture. And ... allow this me... induce its exhi... "man and Ma... memento of the ...hibition at Phila... son" to be place... delphia next ye... Association, an...

At the Indust... people in Wil... institution of th... ament of the ... mington, the ol... Henry B Lo... Dismal Swamp ... alive, in hi... wery, used by ... was ...ured espe... daring the ... ...strument ... cially for ... death ... of over ... is said to ... ...ands. ... forty human ...hibiti... ...on a color... There was with ... a tail, or ... odd child two ...al co...umn, three ... continuation ... inches.

...Potter to allow ... yourself to d... incurable dis... ...ease, by neglect ... earliest and most ... treatable st... By contentedly ... waiting for ... well of itself, ... many a one ... himself beyond ... of his Lungs ... before being ... the reach of ... much safer ... ...d, to resort ... scions of dan... first indicati... an efficacious ... Dr. Jayne's Exp...

...Courier says ... M. Watkins ... ...-acre fi... ...porte ton ... grown than a ... five bushels ... the acre, a ... no fertilizer.

One of ... ...erm · xchan... there are no ... ...n but blast... temperature ... ...es of Nor... South Carolin... ...Tennessee ... bama fire for ... the m... of iron. Geo... ...bama and ... seats of the Pacific ... ...est blast... iron, which ... direct to ... from Selm... ...on and ... to native ... and ... numbers ... ...glish. ... and ... workmen w... ...and empl... ...ess at th...

According ... of South ... State is 995 ... the govern... ...ment ... 841, which is ... The Chart... ...ss ... is conclusive ... ...Clinke... either of the ... ...corro... States census ... The new census ... lation at 78 188, ... giving the colored ...

The printing and ... the Western Methodist ... rowly escaped dest... A large building ... across Home Street ... for the firemen to ... building in battling ... to the Concern was ... and four hundred ... stock from water.

Mr. Sterling Allen ... Miss ... Batson were married ... Rev. J... the house of the bri... father, ... December 1875, all of ...

Letters & Reads ...

CHARLOTTE DISTRICT.

1ST ROUND—IN PART.

...ro		Dec	25 26
...ville,		Jan.	1- 2
...coe,		"	8- 9
...ville cl and Harrisons,		"	22 23
...sboro Station,		"	29 30
...ville-oro cir. at Long Pine,		Feb.	5- 6
...sville cir. at Olivet,		"	12 13
...omville cir. at Fountain Hill,		"	19-20
...roe cir. at Shiloh,		"	26-27
...sant Grove cir. at Bethel,		March	4 5
...n Charlotte cir. at Bethel,		"	11-12
...Pleasant cir. at Mt. Pleasant,		"	18-19
...marle ... nly, } cir. at Albemarle,		"	25-26

District Stewards are requested to ...d the Methodist Church in Monroe, on ... morning January the 28th at 11 ...

W. H. BOBBITT, P. E.
Charlotte, N. C.

FAYETTEVILLE DISTRICT.

1ST ROUND.

...lle,		January	8- 9
...ct. at Beaver Creek,		"	15-16
...ct at Poplar Spring,		"	22 23
...ct. at Limberton,		Feb.	5- 6
...g ct, at St. Johns,		"	12-13
...on ct. at Rockingham,		"	19 20
... at Mt. Gilead,		"	26 27
...t. at Buckhorn,		March	4 5
... at Carthage,		"	11-12
...ct, at Pisgah,		"	18-19
... at Laura Chapel,		"	25-26

...ct Stewards will meet in the M. ... Fayetteville January 7th at 11 ...

J. S NELSON, P. E
Fayetteville, N. C.

...BERN DISTRICT.

1ST ROUND.

...		Jan.	1- 2
...field,		"	8- 9
...		"	15-16
...		"	22-23
...		"	29-30
...pson's,		Feb.	5- 6
...alem,		"	12-13
...ey,		"	19 20
... La Grange,		"	26-27
...		March	4- 5
...		"	11-12
...		"	18-19
...		"	25-26
...		April	1- 2

...rds, to wit; J B Webb, ...W Wheeler, Thos Sutton, ...hen Miller, J H Mason, ...T Davis, W A Darden Jr. ...untham, T D Gay and ...e se meet in the church ... Feb. 22d at 12 o'clock. ... E. A. YATES, P. E ... Beaufort, N. C.

...DISTRICT.

...ND.

...reek,		Jan.	1- 2
...		"	4- 5
...m.		"	8- 9
...'s,		"	12-13
...		"	15-16
...l College,		"	19-20
...		"	22-23
...boo		"	26-27
...'s		"	29-30
...		Feb.	2- 3
...		"	5- 6

...s hurry around ... after this, each ...bath. I beg the ...and send on their ...rontage to Hr. ...e come around.

...REEF, P. E.
Shelby, N. C.

...STRICT.

...	Jan.	1- 2
...	"	8- 9
...	"	15-16
...	"	22-23
...	"	29-30
...Feb.	"	5- 6
...	"	12-13
...	"	19-20
...	"	26-27
...ch	"	1- 3
...	"	11-12

...in the ...lington.

GUILFORD CIRCUIT.

1ST ROUND—1876.

1st Sunday in January at Jamestown.
" Wed. in " at Bunker's Hill.
" Thurs. in " at Oak Ridge.
" Friday in " at Goshen.
2d Saturday in " at Gemsenie
" Sunday in " at Lee's Chapel.
At 3½ o'clock, Pisgah.
3d Sunday in January at Friendship.
At 3½ o'clock at Muir's Chapel.
4th Sunday in January at Centre.
3½ o'clock at Bruce's Cross Roads.

JNO. W. LEWIS.

Thomasville, N. C., Dec. 18th, 1875.

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

WHOLESALE CASH PRICES.

Office of CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE, December 14, 1875.

REMARKS.

Business greatly improved. Country produce offered in quantities; especially in exchange for groceries.

COTTON.

Old cotton none. New crop coming to market freely. Tendency downward We quote: Middlings 12¾ Low mindlings 12 1-2. Lower grades none offered.

General Market.

FLOUR, North Carolina $7@6.50.
CORN 1.00
CORN MEAL—100
BAGGING, Standard 15 1-2.
" Dundo 18 1-2.
BACON, N. C. sug round, 14 to 15.
" " hams 16 1-2 rolls
BULK C. R. sides, 12 3-4 13
" shoulders, 10 to 11
LARD, North Carolina, 16 1-2
" Western thrces. 17 1-2@
" Kegs, 16 1-2@17 1-2
COFFEE, Prime Rio, 24 1-2
" Fair Rio, 21
SYRUP, common, 32@3
" [illegible], Cuba, 55
SALT $2.50.
CHEESE, Cream, 15 16.
" Factory, 17.
" Dairy, none.
NAILS, on basis ten 10d, $4.00
SUGAR A, 12 1-2.
" Extra C, 11 1-4.
" Yellow, 10@11
LEATHER, sole 27 1-2 @30
HIDES, green, 7@8.
" dry, 13 1-2
TALLOW, 5@
POTATOES, sweet 75
" Irish, $1.00@$1.25.
OATS, shelled, 80
" sheaf, $1.25
FOODE R old, $1.50, New $1.25
HAY, N. C. baled .95
CHICKENS, grown, 30
" young, 20@30
Eggs, 25
BUTTER, country, 25@35
Fish, Mullets, $6 to 6.50.
" Cut Herrings, $3.75
" Mackerel, new family, $15.00
BEES-WAX, 25.
RAGS, 3
BEEF on foot, 7
" dressed prime, 8@10.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

CHARLES L. MAGILL, M. D., formerly of Hopeford, Canada, but for the past few years associated with the late Dr. Trudeau, of the Adirondacks, has opened in Raleigh, N. C., a Sanitarium for the treatment of Diseases of the Throat and Chest, especially Consumption, Bronchitis and Loss of Voice. Bronchitis, Consumption, Asthma and

ISSUE MISSING

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Bobbitt & Gray, ... ers. | Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina. | $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Vol. XXII.---No. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, January 19, 1876. | Whole No. 1,091.

Selected Poetry.

A Song For The Centennial.

BY F. RAND.

Hail Columbia's hundredth birth day!
Hail a people great and free!
Hail al land of wealth and beauty,
Far outspread from sea to sea.

A hundred years of wondrous progress,
High achievement, perils passed—
Hail a NATION, brave and peaceful,
Vine, and strong, compact, and vast,

CHORUS, (Repeat first verse.)

See our Lakes, Canals and Rivers,
Bearing stores of meat and grain;
See the T legraph and Railroad
Thread the mountain, web the plain.

CHORUS—

Hail the land of Thrift and Plenty,
Where the Stranger finds a Home;
Room enough, and Bread enough,
And Work enough, for all who come.

Hear the busy hum of cities;
See, the anvil, plough and loom,
Mark the spire, the school, the homes
How the wilderness doth bloom!

CHORUS—

Hail the land of quiet Sabbaths,
Where the Pilgrim feet have trod,
Where the Pilgrim faith still lingers,
Where the people Worship God.

See abroad, Columbia winning
Mankind's hearty sympathy;
See our banner gladly welcomed
In the ports of every sea.

CHORUS—

Hail the land of Peace and Freedom,
Where Man enjoys a favored fate,
Where neither blood nor wealth is sign.
Where the People are the State.

"Let us have peace" with other nation
Dishonor come not how;
But while just to other peoples,
We must no ourselves be true:

CHORUS—

Then hail a peace that's universal,
Peace at home and peace abroad—
Peace so righteous and fraternal
It will may be the peace of God!

MONTREAD JANUARY 1 1876.

The Pulpit.

THANKSGIVING-DAY, NOV. 25th

A Sermon Delivered in Edenton Street by L. S. B.

(TO BY REQUEST.)

O praised all ye nations; praise him all ye. For his merciful kindness is toward us; and the truth of the endureth forever.—Praise ye the Lord. Psa. 117.

The Pr of the United States and the Gr of North Carolina, have by patlon, set apart Nov. 25th 187 day of public "Thanksgiving amer."

As a m of the gospel, I cheerfully comply with this reasonable request of ers. I deem it preeminently for a Christian people to thank for his abounding goodness, y prayer and supplication se guidance and protection. "Thavens declare the glory of God he firmament showeth his hand." All created things, animate inanimate, manifest his wisdom, ess and power.

"In r ear thy all rejoice,
And orth a glorious voice
Forever ay they shine,
The hat made us is divine."

If thi true, surely man, the crowning max of creative skill, should be silent. He who was created "imag and likeness of God"—ts on he divine bounty and calls the highest and grandest exhis of haven's sympathy and lovald raise a higher note of praising a sweeter song than ly oreated being. Aye, he y else new ong of praise, in mon the blood-redeemed air—heartsare in union with wild, and thus herald the ningdom of Christ. He should join thraist and sing with full heart ice—"Praise the Lord all ye natpraise him all ye people: For hisiful kindness is great toward v the truth of the Lord endurerver. Praise ye the Lord.

How, bas and mean is the man wh no gratitude to God for alliches of his mercy and truth h an ungrateful wretch does serve the name of man.—He hr. beneath the level of the brute on "Hear O! heavens! and g earth! for the Lord hath n. I have nourished and brou children, and they have rebelled stno. The ox knoweth his owne the ass his master's crib; but Both not know, my people doth nsider." I trust there is no stpid creatures before me to day gophet describes. I am sures not. Such a burlesque on nature—such an incarnation stan would not present him God's house on such an occa this. You are all here, becaus have not lost the sense of grat The remembrance of Godbits has moved you to come up tanctuary to day. You are here in this public "Thanksgivi to call to mind God's kindness and truth and to ivate the and virtu of gride. You cted wise in cor for it is becoming id beu to stop cessive pods in examine hart and impass view the calculate t prob unfold of the futu and le nearly sible, the inces voyage e us. Thonual and Natio Thanksg Day, is a fit occa for reflec- And if, s peop draw to God to we sh better red to ... fully life's tem- ure. n of God's exhibited hould Lum- im, an l at he grateful cannot too e upon the oo clearly ickedness. nd strong, nd truth of "Except hey labor the Lord waketh in ition the infinite, ys right. at knowl- affections al throne ne. here de- mind. e equal ir cause: m show. his bless ustrain, vide do- ith the o and perity us.— the ur and reunite overeign. His will is n is wise and good. We pe his notice—avoid his resist his power. This ligial—state—our probation the exercise of moral fr o may renounce allegiance nd God, and yet seem to pr seem to be children of good fo but the day of doom will surely us and reveal our stupe olly. On the other hand, a may overtake us while we ng uprightly; but in the outcom all be well.

od moves in a mysterious way,
His wonders to perform;
He plants his footsteps in the sea
And rides upon the storm.

Deep in unfathomable mines
Of never failing skill;
He treasures up his bright designs
And works his sovereign will."

Hence, if the way of God seem to unequal, it is on because we are able to fully comprehend the wisdom of the eternal mind. We should therefore repine or murmur; but submit cheerfully the wise dispensations of him "whose ways are past finding out;" and ing—

Man may trouble and distress me—
I will but drive me thy breast;
Life with trials hard may press me—
Heaven will bring me sweeter rest.
O 'tis not in grief to harm me,
While thy love is to me
O 'twere not in joy to charm me
Were that joy unmingled with thee."

What have the God's dealings with us as individuals? Doubtless, [illegible] will be able to our past lives thought, said and will drive us to "merciful kindness ward us." If through the past hold duties un God—to our ne and to our State these, pointing before the bar and before the of omission; are bound to plead

In addition ken vows, mu even heaven-d along the path shaking their calling tor the our heads. ity! How How daring true of the how alarmin worst? H ponderous that overha How terrif wrath, who ering thu scathe and O! the gu ner! He kindness and truth of the Lord endureth forever.

Hov, bas and mean is the man who has no gratitude to God for all the riches of his mercy and truth! Such an ungrateful wretch does he serve the name of man.—He is, indeed, beneath the level of the brute. Hear O! heavens! and give ear O! earth! for the Lord hath spoken. I have nourished and brought children, and they have rebelled against me. The ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his master's crib; but Israel doth not know, my people doth not consider." I trust there is no stupid creatures before me to day as the prophet describes. I am sure this is not. Such a burlesque on human nature—such an incarnation of stupidity would not present himself before God's house on such an occasion as this. You are all here, because you have not lost the sense of gratitude. The remembrance of God's benefits has moved you to come up into his sanctuary to day. You are here in this public "Thanksgiving" to call to mind God's kindness and truth and to cultivate the graces of his grace [illegible] ...ns of his grace ... [illegible] ...nearly [illegible] ...ity by ... [illegible] ...va; may be rough—it cannot be long—[illegible] ...ing up with hope and cheer it will ... some of us, the world's cold scorn may have been turned, persecutions of men and the arts of cevils, with hellish fury but clad in "armour divine," been "able to stand," and "sword of the spirit," cut our ough the ranks of the enemy. ...mparts of his power, and ...ly resting in Christ, joyfully As the mountains are round rusalem, so the Lord is round hem that fear him." "The ...sun and shield, he will give ...grace and no good thing ...hold from them that walk ...

...cial kindness has been ...d us as a church. I know ...f this church—this little ...rist's professed followers. ...at we have not been free ... Many of us may be ...ed with the sin of ignor ...rance is a sin when it re... the wilful neglect of the ...means of obtaining knowl... many men and women ...ofessed faith in Christ. ...on themselves the vows ...o day ignorant of their ...l duties, simply because ...lected the study of the ... Rules of the Church? ...t sought to gain knowl... they should have been ...fficers in the church, ...o taught the first prin... gospel. We are also ... sinful neglect in refer... things. How many are ...rd of their church ob... w many have shown ...ence to the interests ...e salvation of souls ... Christ's cause? How ...done for the glory of ...ppiness of mankind ...t might have been ... How feeble have ...forts! How small ...rifices! But in the ... short comings and ... forsaken us. In ...yers of "a faithful ...niting advocacy of ... Priest, we have ...pared. Not only ...th blessed us and ...f prosperity. How ...d our prosperity ... member had ab... ...pearance of evil. ...y and up to the ...ristian duty:—...ttle church still ...es her "work of ...love." Founded ...cts to stand in ... in the cause of ...church, and in ... the Lord has ... power of the

...ble contains all essential truth—for the Bible, inspired by the Holy Ghost, inspires humanity to seek its highest good and grandest development—The Bible, circulated and read, is the downfall of the Romish hierachy.

No wonder she hates the Bible and seeks to prevent its circulation! and no wonder she labors to kick the Holy Book out of all the public schools! The press—the wonder working press of this nation—the child and ally of Protestantism, is covering our whole land with printed matter. Secret and hidden things are being dragged to the light. Even the "eternal secrets" of the "Romish Confessional" are being exposed. This age must look at facts revealed, and judge what is truth and what falsehood. Truth is of God, is a unity, and as truth is made manifest, universal man is drawn nearer to God.

Flash the truth abroad over the land and the darkness of error must vanish before its light. Educate the masses of the people in the great principles of the Bible, and Romanism must move to other quarters or be transformed by its power. An open Bible, free speech and a free press, are scattering the light, and the light redeems, purifies and saves. Christianity employs all these grand facilities for the diffusion of truth. In this way she is binding us together as a people.

(To be concluded next week.)

For the Advocate.

Things Everlasting.

BY METHODUS

...is no term in our language ...ies with it greater solemnity ...word everlasting. It is an ...of God, and belongs to him ...ense as cannot apply to any ...eing.

...everlasting to everlasting ...God, and there is no other; ...beginning and without end: ...but not comprehended! ...are created things which ...ade everlasting. The most ...of these is the soul of man. ...ghtful mind concedes that ...greatest thing on this earth ...utest thing in man is his ... man dieth, and wasteth ...he giveth up the ghost and ...? Echo answers where? ...says he has gone into the ...od, who made him, who is ...d good. Beyond this all ...e, inference and uncertain... ...ible utter... punishes ...er ...ation. It alone discloses ... states of all the dead. ... go away into everlasting ..., and the righteous into

The ...ight of everlasting punishment, is ter... most abstract conception, to a sensitive mind, if the th... realize... ...ht is projected so as to forever... imagination, one soul lost possibl... can scarcely conceive it can re... ...nt a free, intelligent being, turpit... himself to such a degree of "Dep... as to merit the sentence, fire ... cursed into everlasting stead... is hard to keep the mind may l... fixed on such an object for to be... of time. Were we allowed sight ... it with our naked eyes: the relen... ...ld be insupportable. With speci... horror we recoil from the we w... if instead of one soul lost, of cor... realize, as an existing fact souls ... ...sness, millions of human nal f... ...ring the vengeance of eter... immo... ...nd among that countless life, ...any of those with whom, in ... ...ve been intimately associa... ...ssed God while ...

...discriminations. He has ...s, only in general terms, ...d shall go away into ...nishment; the righteous ...nal. But for that impen... ...at hides from our sight ...lition of the dead. We ...and the feelings of the ...he wrote to the church ... have great heaviness ... sorrow in my heart. ...h that myself were ac... ...rist for my brethren ...the flesh."

...period of suffering ...rable to a man whose ...th the love of God ...e end of that period ...fering, release the souls ...at punishment which ... All his sympathies, all his sentiments prompt ...t were possible, that ...retchedness might, at ...removed from every ... vast creation. Here ...th a conflict between ... and the word of ...is more plainly reveal ...ure, than the everlas ...t of the wicked. No ...criticism can ...ture thier words to a ...ent from that placed ... christian church in ...t then are we to do? ... of God be led captive ...mpathy? Reason and ... if not stronger than ...is now found in human hearts, are ...e authoritative. Neither ... reason can determine ...hen all that relates to ...ly apprehended. Man ...inning of sin, but who ...issues thereof? God only ...oots of evil and can trace ...unifications. When we ... a vision, and as sound a ... God has, our sympa... over from the condem... the law that condems ...resent imperfect knowl... human heart and the ...an degradation, are we ...y conversant with preva... to adjudge the severest ...as the proper reward for ...e the corruptors of pri...blic morals? God hides ...ye but his own a naked ... Yet it is allowed to us ...ne evil principle, envelop ...le utterance, goes on its ...ough all lands, and like a ...t multiplies itself through ... harvest of which is to ... eternity. Are we not con... ...h men around us whose ... teachings are spreading ...oral atmosphere more ...an pestilence and famine? ... in iniquity and spread ... misery all abroad. To... would the reproof of Jesus ..., "Ye serpents, ye gen...ration of vipers, how can you escape ...tion of hell!"

About Hating.

Hate not It is not worth while. Your life is not long enough to make it pay to cherish ill will or hard thoughts toward any one. What if that man has cheated you; or that woman has played you false? What if this friend has forsaken you in your time of need, or that one, having won your utmost confidence, your warmest love, has concluded that he prefers to consider and treat you as a stranger? Let it all pass. What difference will it make to you in a few years, when you go hence to the "undiscovered country?" All who ill-treat you now will be more sorry for it then, than you, even in your deepest disappointment and grief, can be. A few more smiles, a few more tears, some pleasure, much pain, a little longer hurrying and worrying the world, some hasty greetings, and abrupt farewells, and our play will be "played out," and the injurer and the injured will be led away and ere long forgotten. Is it worth while to hate each other?

Story of an Affectionate Dog

In Gray Friars' Churchyard, Edinburgh Scotland, there lie the remains of a Scotch terrier, whose history, as told by the old sexton in summer of 1872, is as follows:

"He was devotedly attached to his master, who died and was buried in this churchyard. For thirteen and a half years this dog stayed on the grave of his master, night and day, until he also died that year, 1872, and was also buried decently in the same yard. Regularly at the firing of the castle gun at one o'clock daily, the dog left the yard and went to a butcher's stall in a neighboring street, where for more than six years he was gratuitously fed.

I saw his photograph, with his history printed on the back, up to the time of his death. Baroness Contts was so much impressed with this remarkable instance of canine affection, that she gave orders for the erection of a monument to his memory; costing one thousand pounds sterling.

The monument to Bobbie's memory is in the form of a fountain. It is of red granite, and stands near the Walter Scott monument. The tablet, with an appropriate inscription and the figure of a dog upon the top, are of bronze.

The Crosses Christians Bear.

Some do not fear personal danger so much as responsibility for others. To be a decided Christian is to be a marked man, whose errors are a scandal to the weak, a burden to the tender, and an excuse to the wicked. But the same burden is upon the shoulders of every living man; and it only presses specially upon the Christian because he has a second and a deeper life to live. There is no little child whose behavior does not make ill behaved children either ashamed or shameless. There is no young man or maiden whose very look has not an effect upon the words and acts of some comrade, since God has allowed the cruel frost of utter isolation to close over no human heart. The merchant influences the morality of trade; the lonely student can not deepen the flood of thought without also cleansing or defiling it. To dread responsibility is to dread life. It is only a statue that sets no example to creatures who have hands which can help or hinder, and eyes which can flash with rage or soften into sympathy. You will not be a Christian because you shrink from danger or responsibility? Then why have you submitted for so many years to be alive?

To be a Christian is to labor. A cross has to be borne, a race has to be run, there are unearthly enemies with whom to wrestle, therefore, men shrink from the din of battle and the dust of pilgrimage. But yet the sap and salt, the freshness and the vigor of our daily life, would be lost if there were no contests, no campaigns, no victories. What names are great in history whose monuments are sacred? Those which belonged to men who scorned delights, and lived laborious days; soldiers, who slept on the ground, and hungered and bled; writers, who built the lofty line in solitary days and sleepless nights, with painful thought and deep experience; reformers, who stood alone against the world; martyrs, whom they burned. These are the men whose lives we [illegible] and dishonorable life is full of labor and vexation. To refuse all toil is to groan under the hatred of strangers and the reproaches of kinsmen; to indulge every appetite is to writhe under a hundred diseases. The reveler of to-night aches and frets to-morrow. Indolence never knows the joy of bounding pulses and a well-braced system. No man is so heavily laden as he who bears no cross; nor so miserable as the man of pleasure.—Exchange.

Pernicious Reading.

No one, perhaps, finds it harder to realize than the journalist himself, how great the influence of a newspaper must be. It is the daily companion of a thousand families. It is their guide, philosopher and friend. What it is to a large extent they are. The solemnity of such a trust is beyond all expression, could it but be realized. There are powers for evil in the land. The wholesale manufacturer of alcoholic drink scatters poison to ruin families unnumbered, by the agency of a thousand bar-rooms; but we doubt if all the evil so brought before the imagination is equal to the mischief produced by the wide circulation of a sensation paper. The effect of drink on the character is not very dissimilar from the effect of trashy stories. A young person who contracts a habit of this sort of reading, very soon learns to let the most pressing and important engagements give way to the temptation of reading that which will not only not build up the intellect, but gradually ruin it, making independent thought almost impossible, while the feelings are burnt over and blunted by being brought into constant and repeated contact with the most exciting and tragic events. Persons have written to us asking by what means they can cure their families, daughters especially, of taking and reading papers published in this city and elswhere, which are thus narcotizing their faculties and numbing their affections. We can give no answer to such a question, but we hope those who are in a position to foresee such a danger will take care that their children are always provided with and learn to enjoy reading of a healthy and educating kind.

In their place stories are a most efficient means for conveying knowledge and impressing truth, but even Sunday school books as a staple diet would be like feeding children all the year round out of sweety bags. We have strong suspicions that the system of Sunday school and where some families of three or four thus bring home half a dozen books a week, to be skimmed over and skipped over for the sake of the excitement of the plot only, it is quite clear that the mischief to which we have been directing attention is being commenced, and that under the very guise and shadow of religion. It is generally observed that Sunday school children will openly refuse books that have any appearance of being meant for their good rather than for their amusement, and the teacher finds in this a constant and often unconquerable counter agent to his best efforts to lead the minds of the young to better things. If the teacher could maintain an efficient superintendence of the books put into the hands of his scholars, and could see that the children gained the instruction intended to impart, all this would be remedied, but failing in this the responsibility of issuing story books in such quantities as is often done is a serious one.

Polar Explorations.

Professor Nordenskiold has accomplished the most successful Polar expedition of last year, He started from Tromso on the 8th of June, passed through the Kara Sea, hitherto considered the ice cellar of the North Pole; reached the mouth of the Yenisel on the 15th of August; proceeded by boat up this stream as far as Yenisesisk, returning by the great Siberian route, via Tomsk, Omsk, and Yekaterinburg, to Europe, having discovered a new ocean route between Europe and Siberia, of the importance of which we can gain some idea by glancing at the territory on a map of Asia drained by the Obi, the Irtisch, the Yenisel, and their tributaries.

A map furnished by Dr. Petemann, of Gotha, shows more clearly than any description the vast territory thus virtually opened up to commerce, and reveals the river system penetrating deep into the interior of Asia, the products of which hitherto transported overland, can now be brought to European markets in a faw days, through the mouths of the Obi and Yenisei.

This territory is larger than the whole of Europe, excepting Russia. A regular steam navigation already exists on the more southern parts of the Obi, Irtisch and Yenisel, and, as Dr. Petermann remarks, if Nordenskiold's assumption comes to be realized,, the valuable products of the immense lands of inner Asia and China will be, by means of suitable steamers, transported to Europe in a few days, just as easily as they have been in modern times from the Petchora, the mouth of which river is dangerous for navigation. The territory drained by it is only equal to a twentieth part of that drained by the Obi and the Yenisel, and the exports conveyed by it are little more than building timber.

Philosophy and Comfort.

Pliny, the celebrated Roman Consul, was born in the reign of Nero, and died about the one hundred and sixteenth year of the Christian era. Near the close of his life he wrote to one of his friends, begging for some consolation on the occasion of a severe affliction and bereavement. His letter is a touching appeal for comfort such as neither the philosophy nor religion of Rome could give him. He writes: "I cannot forbear to lament, my friend. For I have lost, O, I have lost the witness, the guide, and the governor of my life! And, to confess to you, as I did to Calvisius, in the first transport of my grief, I sadly fear I shall, now that I am no longer under his eye, not keep so strict a guard over my conduct. Speak comfort to me. Tell me not that Cornelius was old and infirm, and that his death was by natural law. All this I know. But supply me with some reflections that are uncommon and resistless—that neither the wisdom of the world, nor the precepts of philosophers, can teach me. For all that I have heard, and all that I have read, occur to me of themselves; but all these are by far too weak to support me under such an affliction." Suppose that Pliny had writtten to St. Paul or St. John, instead of to Calestrius Tiro; would either of those apostles have been able to furnish the cultivated and courtly Roman, mourning with inconsolable grief the death of his friend, with truths and facts that would have assuaged his sorrow, or have given a comfort beyond all the wisdom of the world? Pliny, Paul, and John were contemporaries, and yet the former was shrouded in a night of mental and spiritual gloom which no ray of light illumined, while the latter could exclaim, "Thanks be to God, who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ." or, "And we have seen and do testify that the Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world. He that hath the Son hath life." How near together, sometimes, are the Comforter and comfortless, and yet the latter knoweth not where to look for the former.

Advice to a Bride.

"Hope not for perfect happiness," said Madame Maintenon to the Princess of Savoy, on the eve of her marriage with the Duke of Burgundy; "there is no such thing on earth, and though there were it would not be found at court. Greatness is exposed to afflictions often more severe than those of a private station. Be neither vexed nor ashamed to depend on your husband. Let him be your dearest friend, your only confidant. Hope not for constant harmony in the married state. The best husbands and wives are those who bear occasionally from each other sallies of ill-humor with patient mildness. Be obliging, without putting great value on your favors. Hope not for a full return of tenderness. Men are tyrants, who should be free themselves, and have us confined. You need not be at the pains to examine whether their rights be well founded; it is enough if they are established. Pray to God to keep you from jealousy. The affections of a husband are never to be gained by complaints, reproaches, or sullen behavior."

Oh! for one generation of clean and unpolluted men! Men whose veins are not fed with fire, men fit to be the companions of pure women, worthy to be the fathers of children, men who do not stumble upon the rock of apoplexy at mid-age or go staggering down into a drunkard's grave, but who can sit and look upon the faces of their grand-children with eyes undimmed and hearts uncankered.—Such a generation as this is possible in America and to produce such a revolution the persistent, conscientious work of Temperance Reformers is entirely competent.

By rum the nation is emasculated—its vigor destroyed. Business blocked. Relieve the blood of the nation from this poison. Free its mind from drunken lethargy and insanity, the courts from hardened criminals, the scaffold from wretched victims, the alms-houses from degraded paupers, the insane asylums from hopeless wrecks of humanity, the streets from idlers, the purse from taxation and homes from beggary. Down with rum!

The introduction of popular secular airs into the service of song in religious assemblies is not confined to the revival assemblies of England and America. In Baboo Chunder Sen's journal, the Indian Mirror, we read: "Popular tunes, such as one hears in the streets are being introduced in a large measure into the Brahmo Somaj. We have also lately noticed the adoption of such musical instruments as the ektara, etc., used by the lowest classes of Hindoo mendicants. This is significant, as showing a new direction of missionary efforts."

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev J B Bobbitt, R T Gray, Esq } Editors.

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID,	$2.20
IN MONTHS, " "	1.85
If payment be delayed six months,	2.50

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Editors of the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

RALEIGH, N. C., JANUARY 19, 1876.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly.

Sin and Suffering.

This is a world of sin, and therefore a world of suffering. Had there been no sin there would have been no sorrow. The design of suffering is the destruction of sin. The purpose of God in inflicting suffering upon us is to cause us to cease from sin. The threatening of death against the disobedience of our first parents, in the garden of Eden, was to hinder them from sin. But as that failed the terrible curse fell upon the transgressors, "I will greatly multiply thy sorrow," and "cursed is the ground for thy sake; in sorrow shalt thou eat of it all the days of thy life." So he drove out the man from the garden of Eden and placed cherubims and a flaming sword which turned every way to keep the way of the tree of life. And ont upon this sin-stricken earth they came to toil and trial and trouble. Their first born slays his only brother, and becomes "a fugitive and a vagabond in the earth." And the long line of their posterity, as they plod their weary way to the darkness of the tomb in sorrow and sighing, all bear witness to the wrath of God against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men. Yet men go on in sin and revolt more and more. Tears and sighs and groans and graves and disease and death, are all too feeble to arrest man in his mad career of sin and transgression. The more dreadful sentence of weeping and wailing and woe in the future and eternal state, are sounded in their ears in vain. Yet the purpose of God in sending these calamities and pronouncing these curses, is to prevent us from sin.

A still more affecting and astonishing manifestation of the love of God to us on Calvary's mount is the grief and grace and glory all combine to save us from our sins. "The Son of God for sinners died." For Christ hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God." And though the attractions of the cross, and the affection of the crucified Son of God, do most wonderfully draw all men to Him, yet multitudes resist these drawings and refuse to yield.

As Christ suffered for us so ought we to be willing to suffer for his cause. Temptation and suffering are intended to try us. Trial develops strength and matures principles.—Christ forewarned his disciples of the trials and sufferings they would be necessitated to bear, and called such ones blessed. The Apostle James says, 'Blessed is the man that endureth temptation.' The blessedness is not in the endurance of trials, but in the final results thereby secured: "for when he is tried he shall receive the crown of life." Such things are inevitable. None are exempt. It is our duty to meet them calmly, believingly, submissively, heroically, Christ-like. It is through great tribulation the robes are to be made white. The blessed ones above, whose voices are ever uttering joy, gained the promised crown only by bearing the cross. No cross no crown. No action, no reward. The one is a sure guarantee of the other. The battle fought, the faith kept, makes certain the reward of glory and immortality.

It is Dark.

The following beautiful sentiments are from a sketch book, entitled the 'Night of Heaven." It is full of touching tenderness:

"It is dark when the honest and honorable man sees the results of years swept cruelly away by the knavish, heartless adversary. It is dark when he feels the clouds of sorrow gather round and knows that the hopes and happiness in others are fading with his own. But in that hour the memory of past integrity will be a true consolation and assure him even here on earth of gleams of light in Heaven. It is dark when the dear voice of that sweet child once fondly loved, is no more heard around in murmurs. Dark when the light pattering feet no more resound within the threshold, or ascend step by step up stairs. Dark when some well known air recalls the strain once oft attuned by childish voice now hushed in death. Darkness; but only the gloom which now heralds the day spring of immortality, and the infinite light of Heaven."

We have on hand several obituary notices and communications which we could not publish this week. They will appear in due time, and meanwhile we invoke the patience of the

From the proceedings of the N. C. Conference of the M. E. Church (North) held in Winston week before last, we see that a resolution was introduced asking the General Conference to establish two Conferences in North Carolina, so as to allow of a separate Conference for the whites. Rev. W. B. Richardson was the father of the resolution and advocated its passage, but it met with strong opposition from the colored members of the body, and was defeated by a considerable majority. The Winston Sentinel speaks in high terms of the manner in which Bishop Foster presided over the Conference and pronounces his sermon on Sunday to have been one of the ablest pulpit efforts ever made in Winston.

On our first page we print a part of the sermon preached by Rev. Dr. Burkhead at Edenton St. Church in this city on Thanksgiving Day. It made a marked impression when delivered, and we follow our own wishes when we accede to the request, made by several of the congregation, and give it a place in our columns. We regret that it became necessary to divide the sermon into two published parts, but its length would not permit its publication in one issue. But it is best perhaps, as it is—it will now leaven two issues of the paper instead of one.

The National Protestant is a new acquisition to our exchange list which we hail with no little satisfaction and pleasure. The encroachments of the papal power upon the civil and religious liberties of the country brought it into existence as a defender of Protestant ideas and principles. The paper is not sectarian except in being strongly Protestant and not Romish. It is a sixteen page journal, published every month, ably edited and is typographically very neat. Published by Henry Vogel & Co., 67 Liberty St., New York. $1 per annum.

Moody and Sankey will return to New York next month and will hold their services in the Hippodrome. Their labors in Philadelphia were successful beyond expectation and great good was no doubt accomplished there. In Brooklyn, where a revival is greatly needed, both out of and in the Church, they did not succeed as well as they desired. In New York, this winter, they look forward to victory.

Father Bochan, the oldest minister in the United States and a member of the New Jersey Conference, M. E. Church, died recently. The celebration of the occasion is supposed to have affected him injuriously. He was selected by Bishop Asbury as his traveling companion in 1808, and traveled with him until 1813.

Rev T L DeVeaux, editor of the North Carolina Presbyterian, is in the city, having placed himself under the treatment of Dr Nall. He is suffering with a severe form of bronchitis which, it is feared, is incurable. We trust however, that he will experience relief from the skillful treatment of Dr. Nall.

WESTERN CONFERENCE: Embracing the History of the M. E. Church in Kentucky from 1832 to 1854. By A. H. Redford, D. D., author of "The History of Methodism in Kentucky," etc, etc Southern Publishing House. Nashville, 1876.

We are indebted to the distinguished author for a copy of the above entitled book which has just been issued from the press at our Publishing House. It is a book of 550 pages and, as its title denotes, is a history of the brave and hardy pioneers—the van guard soldiers—who in the face of sacrifice and suffering, carried the gospel warfare into the rude settlements of the West, where until Methodism came, Bibles were seldom seen or read, and religion was only known as a thing for the scoffs and jests of blasphemers and infidels. Since the early days of the Church, when the apostles preached and wrought miracles, there has been no movement, so unostentatiously entered upon and employing such humble agencies and yet followed by such wonderful and rapid success, as the Reformation started by Mr. Wesley and his fellow students. And in no period or section has its triumph been more signal than in the Western States of the Union during the last half century. Only divinely commissioned men, carrying a divinely sent message of salvation and peace, could have accomplished what Methodist preachers have done in the newly settled States of the West. Dr. Redford, by his history of Methodism in Kentucky, contributed much to Methodist literature, especially to Methodist biography and incident. In the present work he gives annals of the Methodist Church in the Kentucky Conference from the time of its establishment in 1832 to 1811—a period of twelve years, in which time great things were accomplished for the church in that section. As an annalist Dr. Redford excels. He gives a comprehensive view of the work of twelve years, and yet does not omit such details as prove interesting and instructive. There is much in the book that is instructive, touching and entertaining. Relating to Kentucky Methodism, it is of course more valuable to people in that Conference and section, but its perusal would profit and please any Methodist. [illegible] with [illegible] count to preachers.

Poor Pio Nono.

It pays to be Pope, though Pope Pius the Ninth thinks he is poor and in prison, a beggar and a captive. There is no organization more perfect than that of the Roman Catholic Church and no stipends that are paid more regularly and faithfully than the pounds and pence, the large gifts and mites which Romanists drop into the treasury boxes of their Church. The Catholic Review estimates the income of the Pope from the one source, viz., of "Peter's Pence" to have been not less than $100,000,000 from 1861 to 1868, both years inclusive. His Holiness has other sources of income—the sale of indulgences, for instance—and now it becomes matter of some interest to know how he disposes of the large revenue wrung from his benighted followers.

The National Protestant says: From the Official Annual of the Vatican we learn that the Pope keeps up all the state of a temporal prince, and maintains a large following of lazy drones. The Annual shows that the household of Pius IX is comosed of twenty majordomos, chamberlains, etc., one hundred and ninety domestic prelates, one hundred and seventy-six supernumerary armed private attendants, thirty officers constituting the staff of the Noble Guard, and sixty privates; about one hundred and thirty supernumerary armed private followers, twenty attendants of honor in violet uniforms, seventy others for outside the city, fourteen officers of the Swiss and Palatine Guards, seven private chaplains for outside the city, twenty private priests and ordinary supernumerary chaplains, ten intendants, quarries, etc., fifty ushers, and others, making in all eleven hundred and sixty persons, without counting in the members of the Sacred College domiciled at Rome. Out of this large following five hundred are armed men. In view of the fact that the Italian Government is pledged to maintain the independence and personal safety of the Pope, can any reasoning Catholic assign any valid reason for keeping up this private military force? Surely the Pope is in no danger. Although he attempts to impose upon the world by assuming the role of a captive, he is at liberty to go where he pleases and when he pleases, and the whole power of Italy is committed to give protection.

To be under obligation to a secular prince, however, does not comport with the dignity of one who doggedly maintains that he is King of kings and Lord of lords. He foolishly imagines that he is still a temporal [illegible] himself with [illegible] court. To foot the bills [illegible] working dupes of the Romish priesthood are ground down into wretched poverty. Well may be it said of the Pope and his clerical servants:

"The sheep have crusts, and they the bread;
The cups, and they the cheer;
They have the fleece, and eke the flesh
(O sooty sheep the while!)
The corn is theirs—let others thresh:
Their hands they may not tile."

Centennial of N. C. Methodism.

Grand Mass Meeting in Raleigh, N. C., beginning March 21st, 1876, and continuing three or more days.

The Committee are at work arranging programme and inviting speakers. These will be published in due time. We have just received a letter from Bishop H. N. McTyeire, D. D., in answer to an invitation from the committee of arrangements. We take the liberty of publishing an extract from his letter. The Bishop says: "I rejoice that you are all in earnest, and that North Carolina Methodists intend to have a Centennial. Your programme seems to be well drawn and comprehensive. It will give me great pleasure to be with you and the brethren in March. Put me down for what I can do. It seems that you have done that already. Let the religious services be emphasized in the performance as in the bill."

Will the committee appointed by the last Conference, to wit, Rev. Dr. Closs, Rev. R. O. Burton and Rev. Dr. Wilson, hurry up their appeal to the Methodists of North Carolina in reference to this centennial celebration? Let us hear from you at once.

Oh! for a grand rally of North Carolina Methodists from the Atlantic to the Tennessee line!

J. P. MOORE,
L. S. BURKHEAD,
J. B. BOBBITT,
W. J. YOUNG,
W. J. W. CROWDER, } Com.

A FOOT LAMP.—One of the most interesting things in the Holy Land is the fact one meets everywhere, in daily life, the things that illustrate the Word of the Lord. The streets of Jerusalem are very narrow, and no one is allowed to go out at night without a light. Throw open your lattice in the evening and look out: you will see what seem to be little stars twinkling on the pavement. You will hear the clatter of sandals, as the late traveller rattles along. As the party approaches, you will see that he has a little lamp fastened to his foot, to make his step a safe one. In an instant the verse comes to your memory, written in that city three thousand years ago—"Thy Word is a lamp to my feet and a light to my path."—Ex.

The District Stewards of the Fayetteville District will meet at Fayetteville Feb. 2nd at 11 o'clock A. M.

J. S. NELSON, P. E.

To the Methodist Ministry in N. C., both Itinerant and Local.

DEAR BRETHREN: At the Local Ministers' Conference held in Kinston last July, it was made our special duty, as President of the Conference for 1876, to issue a circular to all the Local brethren, either through the columns of the Raleigh Christian Advocate or in regular circular form, setting forth the object and aims of this organization, and to engage, if possible, a more hearty cooperation of our brethren, both Local and Itinerant, in its behalf.

In reflecting upon the duty imposed by the Conference, we have thought it best, in view of the non-appreciation of our purposes upon the part of many of our Itinerant brethren, and the consequent prejudice which might be expected almost necessarily to arise against the organization, to address our circular to the entire Methodist Ministry in North Carolina, viz: Local and Itinerant.

"The Local Minister's Association," as it was denominated at first, was organized, if we are not mistaken, by a number of our most prominent Local Ministers in the State, at a time near the beginning of the late war. It met a few times only, when the confusion and disorder attendant upon the war in our country caused its members to discontinue the association.

In this organization at that time the late Rev. Wm. K. Lane of Goldsboro, Rev. Levi Branson of Raleigh, N. C., and other prominent and good men in our Local ranks, were the leaders.

In the town of Durham, N. C., in July 1871, the Association was reorganized by the election of the following officers: Rev. B. Yorkow, Professor in Rutherford College, President; Rev. L. Branson, Secretary; three other members as Vice Presidents. In this meeting it was proposed to change the name of the Association to "the Local Ministers' Conference," and a committee was appointed who reported favorably at a subsequent meeting, and the name was changed.

The grand aim of this Conference of Local Ministers is to advance the interests of Christianity in our midst by improving and elevating the members of the Local rank among us. This we desire to do, not in violation of any law of our Church, but in harmonious and social communion, in which discussions relating to methods of more extended usefulness are indulged, and very strenuous efforts are made to inspire each member of the Conference with a laudable ambition to improve himself intellectually, [illegible] Master as to cooperate heartily with his Pastor in the great work of saving souls. In this good work, the Lord, the organization is precisely the opposite of insubordination or opposition. We are bona fide Methodist preachers. We are fully satisfied with our beloved Methodism as it is, though we can see no reason, though we know any law, human or divine, that prohibits our annual meetings, so long as we, in our proceedings, do not transcend our disciplinary limits. That we are acting in good faith may be seen by referring to the following resolution, which was passed at our Conference in Kinston, and printed in our annual minutes: Resolved, That we cordially and sincerely invite all members of the Itinerant work to meet with the Local Ministers' Conference each year, as it is our most earnest desire to cooperate with every desirable way with the regular pastors in the advancement of Methodism throughout the State."

Several of our most prominent Itinerants have availed themselves of the provisions of this resolution, and have always expressed themselves well pleased and benefitted by the meeting. The Itinerants and Locals have worshiped together at each of these Conferences, and, best of all, God has blessed our efforts in reviving his people at each and every "Local Ministers' Conference."

In conclusion, we were first led to this organization from the fact that, the origin of the entire Methodist Ministry is in the Local ranks; for we speak of Itinerants, Presiding Elders, Doctors of Divinity, or Bishops. The higher ranks, so sometimes considered, all go out from the Local ranks. The Local ranks, if not superior to the other and higher ranks, are at least anterior to them. And according to our usages, it is impossible for a Local preacher to become a Presiding Elder or even a Bishop. How important, then, that this class of our ministers should have the very best mental and moral training!

Another fact has helped in prompting this movement. It very frequently happens that the Church snatches up some bold precocious youth, places him in the Itinerant ranks where he staggers and flounders a year or two and is then dropped into the Local ranks, to drag down in status through his neglect of study and lack of talent, those among us who strive to improve the talents given. This organization is determined to improve all such men, or to form a separate class of Local Ministers distinct from them.

These are some of the reasons and facts of our organization. We think that no Methodist Christian, either layman or minister, who properly understands our motives and aims can disapprove the organization.

Our next annual meeting will be held at Rutherford College, N. C., commencing on Thursday before the 1st Sunday in August, 1876. A Camp meeting will be held in connection with the Conference, at which, one of our Bishops is expected to attend. We invite all the brethren to be with us.

Yours in Christ,
R. L. ABERNETHY, Pres. of Conf

MESSRS EDITORS: Myself and family are here comfortably settled in the parsonage, a good house with five small rooms, and in the main very well furnished; also a nice yard neatly enclosed, with one acre or more attached for cultivation. The good people gave us a very cordial reception—bountifully supplied the wants of the inner man, while their kind words and smiling faces made us feel at once that we were at home among friends and brethren.

In accordance with an appointment made by my worthy and thoughtful predecessor (Rev. J. W. Jenkins,) the Stewards met me here on the 1st day of Jan., made a liberal assessment for my support during the year, and assured me by deeds as well as words, that if I minister to them in holy things, they will make an honest and earnest effort to supply my temporal wants. They seem to be intelligent, generous, liberal minded, holy men.

I see from the Circuit Register (which by the way has been well kept) that we have on the Circuit 490 in good standing. If well organized and kept in this place, they certainly ought to do a great deal for the glory of God during the year 1876.

Leasburg Church seems to be in good condition, prayer-meetings well attended and appreciated. Sunday school large for a small village; it is presided over by Bro. William Taylor, and is in fine working condition.

Rev. Solomon Lea, a local minister of our church resides here. He is widely and favorably known in North Carolina, and even in other States as a fine scholar, teacher, and preacher, and last but not least as the best friend and colaborer of our traveling preacher. He is now advanced in years, but in personal appearance, activity and general working ability, he is still in the vigor of manhood.

May the Lord bless him abundantly and raise up hundreds like him in our connection to live for, labor in and bless the church of God. More anon.

T. J. GATTIS.

DEAR EDITORS: I read once and awhile of angel visits about the parsonages or homes of some of our preachers. We had [illegible] visit the town of Dallas on Wednesday Jan. 5th.

I moved into my new home, in this place, on the evening of the above mentioned date.

The rougher sex had prepared some good warm fires, with which to warm our feeble limbs. The fairer sex, to their honor be it said, had a table laden with some of nature's bounties, and we were invited to come forward and partake. And I tell you such treatment was enough to make a man feel pleasant and happy.

We have some noble, kind-hearted Christian women in this place. May the Lord bless them for what they have done for the preacher and his family.

Now, Bro. Editors, I thought it proper and right to make mention of this generous act, and you may call it an angel visit, or by whatever name you please, but I prefer to call it a visit of the fair sex.

I look forward for a prosperous year. May we have it!

I am living in a very neat and comfortable house, rented of Mr. L. M. Summitt ot this place.

Yours,
P. F. W. STAMEY.

Dallas, N. C.

Daily Work.

The world is full of broad, shallow, popular religious life. There are multitudes of religious books, enterprises, societies, assemblies and associations. There is no doubt much piety, zeal, and enthusiasm in all this; as also much speech-making, self-praise and trumpet blowing.

But men's sins are not pardoned, nor are their souls saved, by the glittering generalities that go to occupy the attention of the religious world.—Men will be ignorant, even in colleges, if they will not learn: hungry in cooking shops if they will not eat; and lost in the religious tumult, if they do not have personal dealings with the Lord.

We must have our daily soul work between ourselves and God, our secret communion with him, or we shall starve, even though surrounded by plenty. We must read our Bibles, do our praying and believing and weeping before the Lord, conquer our own enemies in the strength that Jesus gives, and grow in grace and in the knowledge of God singly and in his sight. We cannot be pardoned in masses, or saved in crowds. Straight is the gate, and each must find it and enter it for himself alone. Let us beware, lest in seeking outward excitement, we forget and lose the blessedness of inward Christian life. Let us walk with God! Ex.

THE District Stewards of Shelby district are hereby requested to meet at the Methodist Church in Shelby on the 3d day of Feb. at 11 o'clock.

A. C. [illegible], P. E.

Religious Intelligence

Bishop Potter, of New York, has just admitted to the ministry of the Episcopal Church Rev P. T. Valentine, D. D., formely a Roman Catholic priest. Of course he had not to be reordained.

The Third Reformed Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia is doing a good work in looking after the struggling Chinese in that city, and giving them Sunday instruction. They need all they can get.

A prominent Roman Catholic citizen of Dayton united with the Episcopal Church recently, because he would not accede to the demand of his church to take his children from the public school.

The colored Methodists are going to have a college at Louisville, Ky. They need $50,000, of which about $4,000 has been secured. Bishop Miles is now after the rest and says he will take no rest until he gets it.

Mr. Spurgeon has come out strongly against excluding religion from the national schools. He calls it making infidelity the national religion, and he prefers even the Church of England to having Bradlaugh for Archbishop of Canterbury.

The Protestants have now fifty missionary stations in Japan and many native preachers. A new Presbyterian chapel, with room for seating 300 persons, has just been opened in the capital, and Dr. Verbeck preached the sermon in the Japanese language.

When Philip Philips was in this country, "singing for Jesus," he had as great a reputation as Sankey has now. He is now singing in India, and when he is done there will go to England, to sing one hundred nights of his "praise services."

THE ANNUAL REPORT OF PLYMOUTH CHURCH.—The present membership is 2,490; number admitted this year, 176; scholars in the three schools, 2,811, of whom 1310 are in the Bethel Mission. Church collections for the year, $45,882, exclusive of $2,808 from the schools; pew rents, $71,000. The music costs $7,500.

An article in the Brooklyn Eagle, on the choirs and choir music of the City of Churches, says there are in that city 225 churches, whose aggregate expenditure for music is annually $170,850, or an average of about $750 to each church. The most expensive choir costs about $8,000, the next $6,000, and so they run down the scale to nearly nothing.

The public bequests of the late James S. Seymour, of Auburn, N. Y., amount to $159,000, including $[illegible] to Amherst College, $5,000; [illegible] Wesleyan College, Oberlin, O., $3,600 to Beloit College, Beloit, Wis.; $10,000 to the American Home Missionary Society; $18,000 for a new public library, and the same sum for a new hospital, both of which are to be erected in the city of Auburn.

THE Advance says that it is not the custom to read the Bible at the Friday evening lectures in Plymouth Church, Brooklyn. That is natural enough. We do not see how they could find time to read it, there are so many other things to do. Wait with looking after Moultons, and Peaches West, and Brother Duncan, and Brother Bell, and all the other people who need looking after, and reading church letters and letters from individuals, and fixing for councils and fixing to have no councils, how can brethren find time to read the Bible?

I am thoroughly and solemnly convinced that no other than the preaching of Christ in the demonstrations and power of the Spirit will boldly confront and effectually overthrow the prevailing Rationalism and Materialism of the day. A lifeless, intellectual, Philosophical presentation of the gospel will for all such purposes, make no more vital or lasting impression upon the minds and hearts of the people than the arrow in the air, or the snow flake upon the river. A ministry that is not nucleally evangelical in its doctrine, liberal in its teaching, loving in its life, and clothed with the anointing of the Holy Ghost, is not the ministry the moments and perilous times in which we live. To combat the world and to explode the superstitions of the day, the gospel must be proclaimed without reservation, and must be uplifted without a ritualistic, ghostly priest with mock solemnity, pretensious standing between the Saviour and the sinner.—Winslow.

HUMAN LABOR.—Human labor, like a thousand little rills that rise from the fountain of man's existence, cleaves the rocks asunder to build the highways of commerce; it sends its roots and its powerful roots into the soil, that the crops may in due season be gathered, replenish and gladden the earth, and dives into the darkened mine, and brings cheering sunlight never penetrated before, and brings forward some of the most important necessaries of modern civilization—for where would the civilization be without the products of labor? As we value the products of labor much more should we esteem the intelligent agencies by which they are produced? In whatever light it may be, labor is honorable; there is at times a moral grandeur, a spirit of self denial exhibited by the toilers and renders it sublime.—Ex.

Subscribe for the Ad[illegible]

A Live Press.

A religious paper exists for a definite purpose. It may, pursuing the end for which it was established, answer other purposes also. Still it has some special reason for existing. If it accomplishes all [illegible] objects save that one, it is a failure.

The Church is in the great work and warfare which it has appointed. [illegible] changing. [illegible] period overcomes [illegible] before her. In the surrounding [illegible] not unfrequently [illegible] balance of her [illegible]

Here is just [illegible] in to serve [illegible] reaches the [illegible] the land. Its [illegible] ed, and they [illegible] benefit or for [illegible]

There are [illegible] issues. They involve questions such as [illegible] themselves. [illegible] discuss them [illegible] include [illegible] true of the press of Church Journal.

Prof. John [illegible] will take charge [illegible] be established [illegible]

It is said that [illegible] will soon take [illegible] eigh, to practice [illegible] law.

Messrs Wilbur [illegible] mas have sold [illegible] Grimes, Esq., [illegible] cash. They [illegible] do they propose [illegible]

At the late [illegible] ers of the Raleigh [illegible] same Board [illegible] except W. H. [illegible] place Maj. W. [illegible] was elected. [illegible]

The selection [illegible] one, as being a [illegible] and foresight, [illegible] adviser. Hon W. [illegible] President in the [illegible] lard.

LECTURES.—[illegible] and delivered [illegible] the hall of the [illegible] Association last [illegible] graphic sketch [illegible] tion of 1848 and [illegible] war. They were [illegible] delivered, and [illegible] took advantage [illegible] tending them.

LICENSED.—[illegible] were licensed [illegible] week before [illegible] Braxton Bailey, [illegible] Battle, Edgecombe [illegible]

[illegible] Holden, Cumberland [illegible] Thomas Henderson, [illegible] William Joseph Griffin, [illegible] county. Pinkney Bell, [illegible] Rockingham county. Alexander [illegible] Murphy, Rowan county, [illegible] Newbold, Perquimans, [illegible] Richard Clingman, Person [illegible] county. Wrightstill Burgess, [illegible] Rutherford county. Henderson [illegible] Sandlin, Onslow county. [illegible]

[illegible] Lee, Williamson, [illegible] March; [illegible] Andrews, [illegible] May; [illegible] June; [illegible] August; [illegible] S. Lee, [illegible] 2nd [illegible] R. S. [illegible]

MENTS.—We copy the following [illegible] of interments in Oakwood [illegible] since December 28, 1874 [illegible] Raleigh News of the 9th [illegible] it will doubtless be of interest [illegible] city readers:

[illegible] R Harrison, December 28th; [illegible] Holden, Mayor of Raleigh, [illegible] March 11th; [illegible] umbourg, March 2; Dr. Wm. [illegible] e, 25th April; Prossor Stevens, [illegible] 28th; Mr. Lewie, April 29; infant [illegible] son of Mr. Brought, June 10th; [illegible] hias Mason, infant son Rev. M. [illegible] Marshall, June 14th; infant son of [illegible] Knox Dunn, June 19th; Wm [illegible] ills, June, 21st; W. T. Adams, [illegible] 27th; J. B. Nunnally, July; [illegible] t son of H. S. Keith, 22d July; [illegible] ard Edwards, 23d July; infant [illegible] of Anderson Betts, 1h August; [illegible] H. Separk, Mayor of Raleigh, 31st [illegible] gust; Henry Mordecai, 23d Sept [illegible] ber; E. E. Harris, 1st October; [illegible] eh Backalan, 11th October; Hervey [illegible] t Bragg, 15th October; Mr. Jordan, 1st November; infant son of Mr. [illegible] an, December 9th; infant son of [illegible] A. Parker, December 13th; infant, [illegible] n of Alfred Palmer, December 13th.

I am living in the same house, and [illegible] the same Board, [illegible] except W. H. [illegible] place Maj. W. [illegible] was elected. [illegible]

The selection [illegible] one, as being a [illegible] and foresight, [illegible] adviser. Hon W. [illegible] President in the [illegible] lard.

LECTURES.—[illegible] and delivered [illegible] the hall of the [illegible] Association last [illegible] graphic sketch [illegible] tion of 1848 and [illegible] war. They were [illegible] delivered, and [illegible] took advantage [illegible] tending them.

LICENSED.—[illegible] were licensed [illegible] week before [illegible] Braxton Bailey, [illegible] Battle, Edgecombe [illegible]

[illegible] Holden, Cumberland [illegible] Thomas Henderson, [illegible] William Joseph Griffin, [illegible] county. Pinkney Bell, [illegible] Rockingham county. Alexander [illegible] Murphy, Rowan county, [illegible] Newbold, Perquimans, [illegible] Richard Clingman, Person [illegible] county. Wrightstill Burgess, [illegible] Rutherford county. Henderson [illegible] Sandlin, Onslow county. [illegible]

[illegible] Lee, Williamson, [illegible] March; [illegible] Andrews, [illegible] May; [illegible] June; [illegible] August; [illegible] S. Lee, [illegible] 2nd [illegible] R. S. [illegible]

MENTS.—We copy the following [illegible] of interments in Oakwood [illegible] since December 28, 1874 [illegible] Raleigh News of the 9th [illegible] it will doubtless be of interest [illegible] city readers:

[illegible] R Harrison, December 28th; [illegible] Holden, Mayor of Raleigh, [illegible] March 11th; [illegible] umbourg, March 2; Dr. Wm. [illegible] e, 25th April; Prossor Stevens, [illegible] 28th; Mr. Lewie, April 29; infant [illegible] son of Mr. Brought, June 10th; [illegible] hias Mason, infant son Rev. M. [illegible] Marshall, June 14th; infant son of [illegible] Knox Dunn, June 19th; Wm [illegible] ills, June, 21st; W. T. Adams, [illegible] 27th; J. B. Nunnally, July; [illegible] t son of H. S. Keith, 22d July; [illegible] ard Edwards, 23d July; infant [illegible] of Anderson Betts, 1h August; [illegible] H. Separk, Mayor of Raleigh, 31st [illegible] gust; Henry Mordecai, 23d Sept [illegible] ber; E. E. Harris, 1st October; [illegible] eh Backalan, 11th October; Hervey [illegible] t Bragg, 15th October; Mr. Jordan, 1st November; infant son of Mr. [illegible] an, December 9th; infant son of [illegible] A. Parker, December 13th; infant, [illegible] n of Alfred Palmer, December 13th.

[illegible] Lee, Williamson, [illegible] March; [illegible] Andrews, [illegible] May; [illegible] June; [illegible] August; [illegible] S. Lee, [illegible] 2nd [illegible] R. S. [illegible]

[illegible] from [illegible] killed [illegible] the [illegible] by a [illegible] to [illegible] or [illegible] to [illegible] ock [illegible] ur- [illegible] of [illegible] es- [illegible] d.

[illegible] on News, account of Halifax [illegible] Jim Wilkins vs W. & W. R. R. [illegible] for plaintiff and damages placed [illegible] This was a suit to recover for [illegible] ing of a colored child last June, a [illegible] two from this place, by the train. [illegible] ild had gone to sleep on the track [illegible] up coming train, due here at 4 [illegible] P. M., ran over and killed it.

[illegible] Laws is Judge of Probate and [illegible] Laws is Register of Deeds for [illegible] County. The county where the [illegible] e upheld so faithfully ought to be [illegible] egulated and quiet.

[illegible] onument has arrived and is to be [illegible] at Salisbury to the Federal sol[illegible] ho died in the Confederate prison [illegible] place during the war.

[illegible] Durham Tobacco Plant calls Mr. [illegible] Tilley, of Orange, the champion [illegible] o grower of North Carolina.

[illegible] Parks of Franklinsville, Randolph [illegible] county, recently slaughtered a pig [illegible] six months old which weighed [illegible] unds.

[illegible] Tarboro Southerner says: "The [illegible] er of John A. Taylor, Esq., of [illegible] a beautiful and bright little girl of [illegible] summers, met with a sad death a [illegible] Time since by taking morphine for [illegible] as it is supposed.

[illegible] el H. Wiley, Esq., of Salisbury, [illegible] gold Medal Prize, worth twenty [illegible] lars, to the best mathematician in [illegible] homore class of Davidson College, [illegible] on upon a competitive examina-

[illegible] Wilson Plain Dealer has been [illegible] ed and is for sale.

[illegible] am and Dunn, of Henderson, have [illegible] n business. Liabilities $18.-

[illegible] Wm. L. Erwin, a venerable and [illegible] d citizen of Mecklenburg county, [illegible] dead on his premises on the [illegible] t. Heart disease caused his [illegible] eek the Mayor of Charlotte fined [illegible] 5 for shooting at a dog in that [illegible] n the same day he fined a man [illegible] beating and abusing his wife. [illegible] Bro. Caldwell, intended to show [illegible] ive value of wives and dogs in [illegible] s?

[illegible] nderson Beeson of Forsythe [illegible] except W. H. [illegible] n one week lost all his children [illegible] by diptheria.

[illegible] r. Conrad, a recent student of [illegible] e Theological Seminary, has [illegible] s pastor of the Greensboro Bap[illegible] ch.

[illegible] egroes came out the woods near [illegible] and tried to steal the trunk off [illegible] in's carriage as he drove along [illegible] ve of Rebecca M. Bradly, at [illegible] Gaston county, was opened [illegible] by some thieves who, it is [illegible] were after the gold plate [illegible] was known had been left in the [illegible] the deceased. One leg and a [illegible] e body had been thrown out of [illegible] together with a portion of the [illegible] e entrance to the grave was [illegible] th spades and shovels.

[illegible] well be imagined, the horrible [illegible] created great excitement in and [illegible] around the scene of the work, [illegible] has been visited by a large number of people.

We regret to learn that Wil[illegible] liam Hastings, near Sidi, in [illegible] Johnston county, has become [illegible] partially paralyzed. He has the [illegible] use of his right hand, it entirely [illegible] powerless. Major H is one of the [illegible] most prominent citizens of Easton.

Killed by vicuals. Asboro Enquirer: Little Jimmie Mr. [illegible] Richard Taylor in Randolph [illegible] Neck, [illegible] accidentally turned a pot of boiling victuals on himself, [illegible] Monday last, and was so badly scalded that he [illegible] soon died from the effects.

Murfreesboro Enquirer: [illegible] nteen [illegible] oung lawyers were granted license to [illegible] practice law last week. [illegible] were refused. One old gentleman [illegible] years of age was refused, who left a wife and seven children depending [illegible] him for support. What [illegible] for a wife that he was!

[illegible] R. L. Patterson, Esq., of the [illegible] st courtly gentlemen in the state, [illegible] ed for his wide hospitality and [illegible] ly accomplishments, has recently [illegible] mpleted and furnished one of the [illegible] t elegant family residences in [illegible] stern North Carolina, [illegible] During the holidays, a [illegible] ste-[illegible]" of his mansion, he gave [illegible] rtainment, which the Salem and [illegible] ston papers speak of as a most [illegible] erche affair, where music from [illegible] rechi famous Salem Brass Band, the [illegible] ing by Salem pumpkins, singing [illegible] her with dramatic and [illegible] re-[illegible] together with [illegible] ntations, called to mind [illegible] Mid-summer Night's Dream [illegible] of a LIGHT EXPOSURE in bed[illegible] er, when the system is out of order [illegible] often [illegible] when on a Stubborn Cold the [illegible] bring on a cough irritates the Lungs, and [illegible] ing Costly treated, frequently [illegible] s to prompt[illegible] ey to a tuberculous consumption. To [illegible] to this danger, those troubled with Colds should resort at once to [illegible] Expectorant, which soon [illegible] and eradicates Coughs, soothes the [illegible] inflamed parts, and removes at once by testing the patient on the [illegible] od health once more.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

Graham High School, Rev. A. [illegible] Long, A. M., Principal, has [illegible] the services of Miss Southgate, [illegible] is said to be a most valuable [illegible] to the School.

Pleasant Garden Academy, [illegible] Troy, A. M. Principal. This [illegible] is well conducted and is situated [illegible] healthy and moral section of the [illegible]

J. P. Gulley, Merchant, has a new announcement in this issue of [illegible] paper. He keeps on hand full [illegible] of dry goods, clothing, boots [illegible] etc., and sells at rates that please.

Edwards, Broughton & Co., [illegible] tical job printers and book [illegible] advertise their house in the [illegible] this week. They have an [illegible] ment that is not surpassed by [illegible] the State in the completeness [illegible] supply of type, presses etc.

Raleigh High School, conducted [illegible] Rev. Messrs Atkinson and Scarborough [illegible] sisted by Mr. Martin, is one of [illegible] institutions of which Raleigh may [illegible] boast. The instruction is thorough [illegible] and the moral influences exerted [illegible] the students are of the most [illegible] character. We know of no school [illegible] which we can more cheerfully [illegible] mend to patrons than the Raleigh [illegible] High School. See advertisement.

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING, TERMS $2 20 POSTAGE PAID.

Our Agents.

All the traveling and local preachers in the bounds of the North Carolina Conference are our authorized Agents. Any person sending us ten subscribers, for one year, will receive the paper fre

Our Correspondents.

Communications for publication should be carefully written, and on but one side of the sheet. All letters on business should be addressed to the Editor.

How to Remit.

In sending money, all amounts should be sent in registered letter, post office order or check. The cost of registration, or Post Office order can be deducted from the amount in hand. If money is sent otherwise than herein specified it will be at the sender's risk.

Marriages.

At the bride's residence, The Cape, Dare county, North Carolina, January 2nd 1876, by Rev. Dameron G. Meekins of the M. E. Church, South, Mr. Alpheus W. Simpson, Jr. of Dare, and Mrs. Parlin F. Jaunett, formerly of Elizabeth City, N. C.

Friend of Temperance and Raleigh Era please copy.

Dec. 23d 1875, at the residence of the bride's mother in Lincolnton, N. C., by Rev. J. F. Harris, Mr. Edgar James and Miss Annie Jetton.

By the same, Jan. 5th 1876, at the residence of the bride's father in Gaston co., Dr. Charles Rozzell and Miss Zann Davenport.

At the residence of the bride's mother in Hyde co. Dec. the 23d 1875, by Rev. J. M. Watson, Mr. Robert Jennett and Miss Veanna Benson.

By the same near Middleton, Hyde co. Jan. 1st 1876, Mr. Thomas D. Bridgeman and Miss Adaline M. Gibbs.

Married at the Monroe Circuit parsonage, Monroe N. C. on the 28th of Dec. 1875, by Rev. Max. H. Hoyle, Mr. Rob't F. Dakin of Washington county, Va., and Miss Annie B. Hoyle of Catawba county N. C.

1776 and 1876

What changes have taken place in that period? In none have they been more radical than in the treatment of disease. In the olden time, as ure. prostrate with pain and suffering, was attacked with the lancet, calomel, blisters, starvation and thirst All this was done with honest intentions but with terrible result. It is a pleasing fact that the enlightened public of the present day have discarded such medication. The disorders that sap the powers of life are now expelled by remedial agents, that brace up the vital strength, while running its course. The qualities are found in an eminent degree in Dr. TUTT'S VEGETABLE LIVER PILLS. They have become celebrated over a wide extent of the globe as the safest and gentlest remedy ever offered to suffering humanity, and it is not the result of newspaper puffing, but by the great merit of the medicine itself. It

Deaths.

Obituary notices of twenty lines are inserted without charge. The excess over twenty lines of eight words is charged for at the rate of 10 cents per line. Count the lines and allow eight words to the line. In this way [illegible] Resolutions of respect are subject to the same rule.—Ed.

Died in Elkin Surry county Dec 22nd 1875, Mrs Mary Elizabeth Chatham, consort of A Chatham and daughter of Richard and Elizabeth Gwin in the thirty fifth year of her [illegible]

Such graves is a mysterious way," and if we could judge Him by "mortal sense" we would say "why [illegible] done this? It is the privilege of few to be thrown within the influence of such a christian as Mrs Chatham, and it is impossible to describe character justly in such a seeming to flatter. [illegible] cast down at half three score and ten, her consistent character had developed to the fairest stature [illegible] only by those whose intimate knowledge is not marred by such scrutiny as the patient, whose love for God and his Church is not disarmed by the invisibles of youth, she gave her heart to the Lord of the vine delight, and having the assurance of faith she connected herself with the M. E Church South, the church of her father, at the age of sixteen.

Following out injunction of Scripture "pray without ceasing, she had grown in grace to such a degree that kept her heart in that love which illuminated the countenance and threw a halo of christian warmth on all who came in contact with her.

Last Easter we both were to commune with her God morning noon and night where she always took her three little boys with her to secret prayer; and it is a touching thing to see little Hugh, ten years old, who in answer to his mother's prayers is a member of his mother's church, taking his younger brothers, as his mother did when living, to secret prayer and invite asking God to bless them, and give to them new hearts of love and praise.

The place of such a wife, mother daughter and neighbour as Mrs. Chatham can never be filled. She not only lived that vigorous christian life that is experienced only by those who feed constantly upon the bread of heaven, but when the hour of her departure came, she met it with that rhapsody given to but few of God's people as they approach the dark valley.

Just before her death when kind friends were arranging her pillow she said; Jesus can make a dying bed as soft as downy pillows are, and when they drew the coverlid to the last [illegible] her dear exclaim[illegible] over my delencles head with the shadow of thy wing; and on the wings of her prayer I utter into thy hands I commit my spirit, she passed into the Sunlight of the Almighty.

FRIEND,

Letters and Funds.

Rev R G Barnett for Mrs A W Carpenter 2.20, Rev T J England paper changed Rev J H Grimm paper sent Jno Rutherford sell 2.20, Rev S D Adams Rev Dr Hayguod Rev J Tillett Rev B C Phillips Miss Priscilla McKee sell 2, Dr E Gresson for J P Lawrence 2 20 Rev J T Bagwell papers continued W J Culpepper sell 1.10 Jno H Thomas where was ye former post office? A M Yarboro sell 2.20, E E Howard sell 2 20 Rev B C Phillips J Y May what is ye post office? S B Tay lor for Mrs G H Taylor 2.20 Mrs S A Tyson 2.20 Rev T S Wynn August Rev Silas Wheeler for Miss Ann Everitt 2 20 J B Whitaker sell 2.20, Mrs J S Whitaker 1 20 Rev P L Herman thanks for ye recommendation. We will take heed S S Rodgers what was ye former post office? A Rev Wm Jordan for minister to Rev G W Ivy for A J Carpening 2 20, A Shell 2 20, P Bluff 50 cents. Rev A D Betts for J A Blalock 70 cents. Dr S P Walsh 2. Rev J S Ervin corrected. S S Webb sell 1. Dr C T Simms for P H Allen 2 20. Rev D R Benton Rev W H sell H T Jordan Col W Steele A D Thompson A G Headen for M Bynum 2.20, 10 cents Rev C W Anderson paper sent Mrs M E Mallory sell 3.50 Rev Wm Wise paper changed and continued. Dr J H Jenkins sell 2 20 A Johnson sell 2, C L Vines Rev F D Swindell for ye 1. next week Miss Caroline Blythe sell 2 20. Rev T W Smith D B Nicholson sell 1 10. Rev D Lane C simmons & Sons Rev R L Abernethy Rev J E Mann Rev J T Harris paper changed Rev M H Hoyle Rev D F McKinnis sell 1.10. Rev J C Hartsell for J D Goss 2.20 J L Doggett 2.20, J L Hartsell 2.20. Rev T J Gattis J A Woodburn sell 2.20. N A Willeford sell 2.20. R P Troy for T [illegible] 2.20 Rev P F W Sawney L H Long D W Carpenter J J Misenheimer for R M Cox 2.20 sell 2.20, Rev P Greening for Mrs A L [illegible] by 2.20.

A Simple Cough Corrects.—Few are aware of the importance of checking a cough or common cold which would yield to a mild remedy, if neglected, often attacks the lungs. Brown's Bronchial Troches give sure and prompt relief.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WASHTON DISTRICT.

1st ROUND IN PART.

Tarboro at Ta.		Jan 2
Washington,		[illegible]
Greenville at M[illegible]		[illegible]
Warrenton,		29-30
Warren at Hebron		Feb. 5- 6
Roanoke.		" 12-13
Williamston,		" 19-20
Colmnois,		" 26-27
Plymouth,		March 4- 5
Bath at Bath,		" 11-12
Mattemuskeet at S[illegible]		" 18-19

[illegible]ss, P. E

HILLSBO[illegible]RICT.

1s[illegible]

Flat River, Pleasa[illegible]		Jan, 22-23
Durham Station,		" 29-30
C. Hill & H. River		" 5- 6
Pittsboro, Pittsboro		" 19-20
Deep River, Shiloh.		" 26-27
Alamance, Phillips C[illegible]		rch 4- 5
Yanceyville, Camper[illegible]		" 11-12
Leasburg, Leasburg		" 18-19
Person, Roxboro,		" 25-26
Hillsboro Station.		ril 1- 2

The District Stewa[illegible] meet me promptly at Hillsbo[illegible] 1st day of April at 10 o'clo[illegible] Methodist Church.

L[illegible] P. E
[illegible]ll, N. C.

GREENSBOR[illegible]ICT.

FIRST QUARTE[illegible]NOS.

Winston,		[illegible]ary 15-16
Thomasville, High Poin[illegible]
at Thomasville,		" 22-23
Greensboro,		" 28 30
North Guilford, Pisgah,		" 5- 6
Randolph Hopewell.		" 12-13
Wentworth Lowes.		" 19-20
South Guilford, Pleasant[illegible]		" 26-27
Davidson O[illegible]vet.		March 4- 5
Forsythe, Pine Grove,		" 11-12
Stokes, Palmyra,		" 18-19
Madison, Leaksville,		" 25-26

The District Stewards cease meet me at the Methodist Church [illegible]ensboro Wednesday the first day of Mar 11 o'clock N. H. [illegible]SON, P. E.

FAYETTEVILLE DISTRICT.

1ST ROU[illegible]

Fayetteville,	[illegible]sunary	[illegible]- 9
Cumb'ld ct. at Beaver Cre[illegible]		[illegible]-16
Jonesboro ct at Poplar Sp[illegible]		[illegible]-23
Robeson ct. at Lumberton		Feb. 1- 2
Laurinburg ct, at St. Johns.		" 8-9
Rockingham ct at Rocking[illegible]		" 15-16
Pee Dee ct. at Mt. Gilead,		" 22-23
Buckhorn ct. at Buckhorn,		March 1- 2
Carthage ct. at Carthage,		" 11-12
Montgomery ct, at Pisgah,		" 18-19
Uwharrie ct. at Lanes Chape		" 25-26

The District Stewards will meet in the A. E. Church at Fayetteville Jany 7th at 11 o'clock P. M.

J. S. [illegible]SON, P. E
Fayetteville, N. C.

GUILFORD CIRIT.

1ST ROUND—18

1st Sunday in January at [illegible]am Wil[illegible]
" ed. in " at Bunk[illegible] Hill.
" Thurs. in " at Oak[illegible]e.
" Fri[illegible]y. in " at Gos[illegible]
2d Satur[illegible]y in " at Bethel.
" Sunday in " at Lee's Chapel.
At 3½ o'clock, Pisgah.
3d Sunday in January at Friendship.
At 3½ o'clock at Muir's Chapel
4th Sunday in January at Gen[illegible]
3½ o'clock at Bruce's Cross [illegible]

[illegible] Lewis.
Thomasville, N. C., Dec. 18[illegible]5.

RALEIGH DISTI[illegible]

1ST. ROUND—1876

Raleigh Person street,		Ja[illegible] 1- 2
Louisburg,		" 8- 9
Granville, Salem,		Jan 15-16
Tar River and Youngville,	Plank Chapel,	" 22-23
Henderson, Ridgeway,		" 5- 6
Robbinsville, Sydney,		" 12-13
Nashville & Rocky Mount, and Tolsbo[illegible]	Nashville,	" 19-20
Cary, Ebenezer,		" 26-27
Raleigh Edenton street,		" 11-12
Smithfield Elizabeth,		" 19-20

The District Stewards will [illegible] Thursday the 24th day of February 3 o'clock P. M. in the Methodist Church, in Franklinton. Let every charge be represented.

J. P. MOORE, P. E
Watterson, N. C.

WILMINGTON DISTRICT.

1ST. ROUND.

Kenansville, Kenansville,	Jan.	1- 2
Clinton Clinton,	"	8- 9
Magnolia, Magnolia,	"	15-16
Haden, Bethlehem,	"	22-23
Topsail Prospect,	"	29-30
Wilmington Front St,	Feb.	5- 6
Cokesbury, Wesley Chapel,	"	12-13
Whiteville,	Whiteville, "	19-20
Waccamaw Miss [illegible]		[illegible]
Smithville, Zion.		26-27
Elizabeth, Elizabethtown,	March	4- 5
Osgow, Swansboro,	"	11-12

The District Stewards will meet in the basement of Front St. Church, Wilmington, February 8th at 11 o'clock, A. M.

W. S. BLACK, P. E.
Magnolia N.C.

SALISBURY DISTRICT.

FIRST ROUND.

Alexander ct at Taylorsville,	Jan.	1- 2
Wilkes ct at Wilkesboro,	"	8- 9
Moorresville ct at Moorresville.	"	15-16
Salisbury ct at Ebenezer	"	22-23
Yadkin ct at Yadkinville,	"	29-30
McAlpine station and S. Mission at Mt virg.	Feb.	5- 6
Robson.	"	8- 9
Iredell ct at Turnersburg	"	12-13
Davie ct at Olive Branch,	"	19-20
Mocksville ct at Mocksville,	"	26-27
Salisbury station,	Mar.	4- 5

The District Stewards will please meet me in the Methodist Church at Statesville on Tuesday at 11 o'clock A. M., December the 28th 1875.

D. R. BRITON, P. E.
Statesville, N. C.

SHELBY DISTRICT.

1ST. ROUND.

Lincolnton at Stanly Creek,	Jan.	1- 2
Rock Spring at Bethel,	"	4- 5
South Fork at Betzleburg,	"	8- 9
Double Shoals at Elliott's,	"	12-13
Newton at Newton,	"	15-16
Happy Home at Rutherford College,	"	19-20
Morganton.	at Oak Hill, "	22-23
Dysartsville,
Marion.	at Nebo. "	26-27
Upper B R Miss [illegible]
Caldwell.	at Bittlejohn's "	29-30
Lenoir sta.
Shelby sta, at Shelby,		Feb. 2- 3
Shelby cir. at St. Paul's,		" 5- 6

DEAR BRETHREN:—Let us hurry around and arrange the Finances; after this, each Q M shall embrace a Sabbath. I beg the District Stewards to collect and send on their assessments for District Steamage to Dr. Miller, or pay it over to me as I come around.

R. G. BARNETT, P. E.
Shelby, N. C

NEWBERN DISTRICT.

1st ROUND.

Beaufort,	Jan.	1- 2
Straits, Summerfield,	"	8- 9
Kinston Station,	"	15-16
Wilson Station,	"	22-23
Newbern Station,	"	29-30
Wayne ct Thompson's,	Feb.	5- 6
Snow Hill, Jerusalem,	"	12-13
Mt. Olive ct Dudley,	"	19 20
Lenoir ct
Swift Creek Miss.	La Grange, "	26-27
Neuse ct Stonewall,	March	4- 5
Carteret ct Newport,	"	11-12
Craven ct Lane's,	"	18-19
James ct Lee's,	"	25-26
Goldsboro Station,	April	1- 2

The District Stewards, to wit: J B Webb, Oliver Whitehurst, P W Wheeler, Thos Sutton, P Holland Stephen Miller, J H Mason, A B Thompson. Dan't Davis, W A Darden Jr. S W Latham, D A Grantham, T D Gay and H F Grainger, will please be present in the church in Goldsboro Tuesday, Feb. 22d at 12 o'clock, E. E. YATES, P. E

Beaufort, N. C.

CHARLOTTE DISTRICT.

1st ROUND IN PART.

Monroe	Dec.	25-26
Charlotte,	Jan.	1- 2
Concord,	"	8- 9
Pin ville ct at Harrisons,	"	22-23
Providence Station,	"	29-30
Wadesboro cir. at Long P[illegible]	Feb	5- 6
Huntsville cir. at Olivet,	"	12 13
Unionville cir. at Fountain Hill	"	19-20
Anson cir. at Shiloh,	"	26-27
Pleasant Grove cir. at Bethel,	March	4- 5
South Carolina Conf. at Bethel,	"	11-12
Mt Pleasant cir. at Mt. Pleasant	"	18-19
Albemarle [illegible]cir at Albemarle	"	25-26
A Stanly, [illegible]

The District Stewards are requested to meet at the Methodist Church in Charlotte on Friday morning January the 28th at 12 o'clock.

W. H. BOBBITT, P. E.
Charlotte, N. C.

GRANVILLE CIRCUIT.

1ST ROUND.

1st Sunday, 11 o'clock A M., Calvary.
" 3¼ " P M., at Tabor,
2d Sunday. 11 o'clock A M., Oxford.
" 3¼ " P M., Shady Grove,
" 7¾ " " Oxford.
3d Sunday, 11 o'clock, Bullock's.
" 3¼ " Moore's,
4th Sunday, 11 o'clock Salem.
" 7¾ " Oxford,

Tuesday before 2nd Sunday 11 o'clock at Grey Rock.

Saturday before 2nd Sunday at Bethel,
Saturday before 3d Sunday at Perry's Chapel.

Saturday before 4th Sunday at Hermon.

Brethren be punctual at the above times and places, beginning with January 1876.

S. V HOYLE.

PLAN OF MOCKSVILLE CIRCUIT—1876.

Liberty 1st Sabbath in Jan. at 11 o'clock
Also on Friday before the 3rd Sabbath at 11 o'clock,
Concord 1st Sabbath in Jan. at 3 o'clock.
Also on Thursday before the 3rd Sab.
Mocksville 2nd Sabbath in Jan. at 11 o'clock and at night.
Also 4th Sabbath at night.
Oak Grove 2nd Sabbath at 3 o'clock.
Also Thursday before 4th Sabbath at 11 o'clock.
South River 3d Sabbath and Saturday before at 11 o'clock.
Salem 3rd Sab. at 3 o'clock.
Also Friday before 1st Sabbath in Feb.
Center 4th Sabbath at 11 o'clock.
Also Thursday before 2nd Sabbath.

Yesterday's Mail

Brought three more certificates in favor of "Cannabis Indica," the great East Indin remedy for consumption, bronchitis and asthma.

———Send me one dozen Ointment and one of Cannbis Indica. When Mr. J. W. Fisher brought his wife to me for examination I found her in the incipient stage of Tuberculous Consumption. Then it was I concluded to make a fair trial of Indian Hemp, and now there is a general demand for those remedies. The Ointment excels everything of its kind I ever saw or tried.

Fraternally yours,
P. A STEPHENS, M. D.

Chino Grove, Rowan N. C.

N. B.—This remedy speaks for itself. One bottle will satisfy the most sceptical. Ask your druggist to get it. $2 20 per bottle, or three bottles for $6.60. Pills and Ointment, $1.25 each.

As there are imported remedies we do not compare them, but will make cash agents everywhere.

Address,
CRADDOCK & CO.,
1009 Race Street,
Philadelphia.

Sept 22-13t-6 o w

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

WHOLESALE CASH PRICES.

Office of CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE,
January 11, 1875.

REMARKS.

Business greatly improved. Country produce offered in quantities; especially in exchange for groceries.

COTTON.

Old cotton none. New crop coming to [illegible] Tendency downward We [illegible]ings 12½ Low middlings 12 1-2 [illegible] none offered.

General Market.

[illegible]ch Carolina $7@6.50.

[illegible]50
[illegible]L. 100
[illegible]nded 15 1-2.
[illegible]ll 1-2.
[illegible]C. ng round, 14 to 15.
[illegible]ames 13 1-2 [illegible]
[illegible]sides, 12 1-2
[illegible]ves, 26 to 28
[illegible] Carolina, 16 1-2
[illegible]ern Pierces, 17 1-2@20
[illegible]ed Hams, 16 1-2@17 1-2
[illegible]me Rio, 24@2[illegible]
[illegible]Rio, 23
[illegible]son, 37@9
[illegible]Java, 36.

[illegible]m, 15 16.
[illegible]ery, 17.
[illegible]e none.
[illegible]ce for lbf, $4.00
[illegible]d, 1 1-4.
[illegible]ed, 1 1-2
[illegible]ed, 27 1-2@30
[illegible]@5.
[illegible]@30
[illegible]@75
[illegible] family, $1.50

[illegible]50, New $1.25
[illegible]ed
[illegible]n, 30
[illegible]e, 20@30

[illegible]. 25@30
[illegible]o 620.
[illegible]@75
[illegible] family, $1.50

[illegible]e, $@18

[illegible]

ERTISEMENTS.

NG DEPARTMENT

THE

IGH SCHOOL.

[illegible] of the boarding department are these. Its number of [illegible] These all live in the [illegible]ipals, sit at their table, and [illegible] social and domestic ad-

[illegible]l is healthy and pleasant. [illegible] our blues most of the [illegible] and country. The Prin[illegible] at all times as for their [illegible]ners and morals.

[illegible] year, 275 dollars, no ex-

[illegible]pring half, of 20 weeks,

Rev. J. M. ATKINSON,
C. H. SCOTT.

Jan. 1

H SCHOOL,

[illegible]. N. C.
[illegible]. A. M.
[illegible]y, A. B.
[illegible]. B.
Instructress in Music.
[illegible]e the last Friday in [illegible]d Tuition Three to Jan 12-1t.

6.

GOODS

J.P. G[illegible]

Dry Goods,
Clothing
Fayetteville St. a[illegible]

I wish to say to [illegible] here for Frank L[illegible]

CUT PA[illegible]

Have stock of thes[illegible] all the latest Novelti[illegible] and Boys, for every[illegible] Circulars sent on a[illegible]

Jan 19-1t.

EY'S,

[illegible]oots, Shoes.
[illegible]p Stairs.
Market Square,
[illegible]am Sole Agent

ERNS.

[illegible], comprising
[illegible]es, Children
[illegible]

LLEY.

1876. The 1876

PRINTING HOUSE and BOOK BINDERY OF THE STATE.

THE BEST. THE LARGEST. THE MOST COMPLETE.

EDWARDS, BROUGHTON & CO.

PRACTICAL

Printers and Binders,

Fayetteville Street,
OPPOSITE MARKET SQUARE,
jan 19-12m. RALEIGH, N. C.

[illegible] TEXAS MAMMOTH WATERMELON SEED Average weight of melons 50 pounds, frequently reach 75 pounds, very uniform in size shell thin smooth seed per packet 50 cents, 5 for 2 dollars. Seed purchased from Rev. A. M. Boyd, of Texas. Also, the Amazon Raspberry, and other stock at low rates. Send for Circulars, and enter free. Address [illegible] FIND, Edenville, Kent County, Md. Jan 19 2t-cow.

PLEASANT GARDEN ACADEMY,

Male and Female,

Eight Miles from Greensboro, N. C.

R. P. TROY, A. M., Principal.

The Spring Session will begin January 4th, 1876. Expenses per session from $50 to $75. One half in advance.

Conveyance from Greensboro furnished for $1.00 if notice is given.

For particulars address the Principal at Greensboro, N. C.

REFERENCES.

Rev. B. Craven, D. D., LL. D., Trinity College, N. C.
George Ricks,
Dr. Phillip Rose &c.
" J. W. Jones,
Jan 19 tm

1876 Our Living and Our Dead. 1876.

A MAGAZINE OF 128 PAGES,

Devoted to North Carolina—her past, her present and her future.

TERMS, $3 per year, postage prepaid

Address, S. D. PUTH, Raleigh, N. C.

[illegible] Those to whom bills have been sent will please remit.

Two Years For Only $5.

Having a few complete files of the Living and Our Dead for 1875 on hand, we will furnish that year and the entire year 1876 for $5.

Library Associations and Historical Societies would do well to read 1876.

1st, 2d and 3d volumes handsomely bound—library style—furnish at $2 50 per volume, or $2 75 if sent by mail

Cash must accompany all orders.

Address, S. D. PUTH, Raleigh, N. C.

THE OLD NORTH STATE FOREVER!

Old North State Cook Stove never fails. Buy Rand If you are not pleased with it return to C. A. Hart and get your money. Prices down to suit the times. No 6 with 35 pieces of furniture, $19 No. 7 $23.

Call and see them and examine our stock of Hardware, Tin, Crockery, Wood and Willow Ware, Lamps, Oils, &c., &c. Best Kerosene Oil 25 cts. per gallon.

C. A. HART.
Market Street and Market Square,
Jan, 12-2t. Raleigh, N. C.

JONESVILLE HIGH SCHOOLS,

Male and Female,

Yadkin County, N. C.

The Spring Session of the Salisbury District Conference schools will begin January 4th, 1876. Tuition and board very reasonable. Accommodations ample. For particulars address the Principal, or R. H. Gwyn, at Jonesville, N. C.

Jan 12 2m.

HOUSEKEEPERS.

THE COTSWOLD DUST PAN

is the best for family use. Will do more work than the Feather Duster, and will not scratch your furniture.

AN EGG TESTER

is indispensable. Sold at the reduced price of 10 cents, 10 cents, 10 cents.

TAKE

A look at our stock of House Furnishing Goods — Blue Mange Moulds, Charlotte Russe Cups, Cake Pans, Milk Pans, Nutmeg Graters, Tea Kettles, Shovel and Tongs, Fire Dogs, Bird Stands, Shovel and Tong Stands.

NOTICE.

Our Lee Cook Stove!

and a great many useful and invaluable articles in the Housekeeping Line

Bear in mind they are all good Goods, and all Warranted as Represented.

T. H. BRIGGS & SONS,

Briggs' Building, Raleigh, N. C.

Hardware and Stoves, Wagon and Buggy Material, Paints, Oils, Glass, Doors, Sash, &c. jan 12-1t.

DISSOLUTION.

This day the firm of A G LEE & SONS is dissolved. All persons indebted will please come forward and settle, as we wish to close the business.

A. G LEE.
E. H LEE,
C R LEE.

December 19th, 1875.

COPARTNERSHIP.

Since the above dissolution I have connected myself with Mr J D Whitaker, firm styled LEE & WHITAKER. With him shall do the strictly COMMISSION BUSINESS. COTTON a specialty. Liberal advances on the same.

ED. H. LEE.

LEE & WHITAKER,

AGENTS FOR THE

Celebrated Fish Guano

AND

NORWOOD PREMIUM HAY

DEALERS IN

Bagging and Ties,

Commission Merchants,

NO 1 MARTIN STREET,
jan 5 1y Raleigh, N. C.

TRINITY COLLEGE.

The Spring Term will commence Jan 15, 1876. Whole expense for five months $90 in advance If not paid in advance, from $95 to $100 will be required to meet all expenses. Send for catalogue.

B. CRAVEN.

Jan 5-1m

The 153rd Session OF THE

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA

Will begin on Thursday Jan. 16th 1876 The necessary expenses for the session (exclusive of traveling and clothing) will vary from $100 to $150 For circular apply to

CHARLES PHILLIPS, Chairman.

Jan 5-2w

SHELBY SEMINARY.

Shelby, Cleaveland co. N. C

Rev. S. R Trawick, A. M Prin.
Assistant
Mrs. E. V. Trawick Music and Ornamentals.

The next term will begin Jan. 10th 1876, and continue 20 weeks. Course enell, instruction thorough, terms low, health unsurpassed. Apply to the principal for circulars. Dec. 22-2m.

MR. J. H. HORNER,

Returns to his home near Oxford, N. C., and will reopen his Classical and Mathematical School there the last Monday in January next.

HILLSBORO' N. C., Dec. 18, 1875.

P. S. His address will be henceforth, Oxford, N. C.

HILLSBORO' MILITARY ACADEMY.

Hillsboro' N. C.

This institution, recently known as "Horner & Graves's School," will hereafter be conducted by R. H. Graves as sole Principal, aided, as heretofore, by the accomplished instructors, Hugh Morson Jr. and Maj. D. H. Hamilton.

The spring session of 18'6 will open on the 17th of Jan. For circulars, apply to Maj. D. H. Hamilton until the 5th of Jan. and afterwards, to the Principal. Dec 22-1m.

GREENSBORO FEMALE COLLEGE,

Greensboro, N. C.

The Spring Session of 1876

Will begin on Wednesday, the 12th of January, and continue twenty weeks.

Board (exclusive of washing and lights) $75.
Tuition in regular course, $25.
Charges for extra studies moderate.
For Catalogues containing particulars, apply to Rev. T. M. Jones, President.

N. H. D. WILSON,
President of Board of Trustees.

Dec 8 2m

Monroe High School.

MONROE, N. C.

Next Session begins Jan. 10th. Building new, large and well adapted.

Health Proverbial, Pupils prepared for College. Board $10 per term. Tuition $15 to 30. Address for circular,

J. D. HODGES,

Dec. 8-1m.

TEACHERS WANTED.

The Trustees of the Greensboro Disciple Conference School at Kernersville, desire to secure the services of a gentleman and lady to take charge of the school. It is in a healthy, favorable locality for a school, and under judicious management, may be made a fine success. The teachers must be Methodists, and come well recommended. For particulars address

PROF. WILLIAM C. DOAK,
Greensboro, N. C.
or DR. B. J. SAPP,
Kernersville, N. C.

Jan. 12-3t.

PIANOS FOR SALE.

One new and elegant seven octave piano for sale at cost

Also three second hand six-octave pianos for sale very cheap.

Call on, or address,

DR. J. H. CRAWFORD,
Jan 12-3m Raleigh, N. C.

OPIUM Morphine Habit AND Intemperance

Speedily cured by DR. BECK'S only known and sure remedy. NO CHARGE for treatment until cured. Call on or address

Dr. J. C. BECK, 113 John St., Cincinnati, O.
Sept 22 13t. o o w.

"DOMESTIC" SEWING MACHINES.

Liberal Terms of Exchange for Second-hand Machines in every locality.

"DOMESTIC" PAPER FASHIONS.

The Best Patterns made. Send stamp for Catalogue.

422 Broome St. DOMESTIC SEWING MACHINE CO.
AGENTS WANTED. NEW YORK.

oct 20-13t. eow.

Westbrook Nurseries,

WILSON, N. C.,

C. W. WESTBROOK, - - - - - PROPRIETOR.

Extra Early Peaches and Extra Fine New Late Keeping Apples and Tea Best strawberries for Market are my specialties I have the advantage of 28 years experience in the Nursery Business. I superintended the Propagating Department of the Celebrated West Green Nurseries near Greensboro which were destroyed during the war My father, the late S. W. Westbrook, the leading Nurseryman in North Carolina from 1836 to 1861 frankly acknowledged many of his friends that my knowledge of Horticulture in general was more extensive than his. In proof of the assertion he invariably intrusted the care [illegible] to me.

I removed my entire business from Greensboro in 1871 and located in Wilson in charge of the Agricultural Department of the Wilson College. I have a choice collection of Fruit Trees, Grape Vines, Strawberries, Roses, and a limited supply of shrubbery, which I offer at reduced prices for February and March planting. Catalogues and Prices furnished on applic[illegible]tion. Address, C. W. WESTBROOK, Wilson, N. C.

CAUTION—Impostors are now selling spurious trees and grafts of my Nurseries, and are using my name in the sale of nursery stock. I take this occasion to warn agents and all others against the use of my name in any manner, in connection with the sale of Trees and Plants. Any person furnishing me positive proof against any one guilty of such imposition and [illegible] shall be liberally rewarded with a [illegible]

THE GOLD MEDAL.

The FIRST PREMIUM was awarded to the

Singer Sewing Machine

at the last State Fair in Raleigh.

The sales of the SINGER are the largest.

It is sold on the most LIBERAL TERMS.

A warrant for five years is given with every Machine.

THE SINGER IS ALWAYS RELIABLE.

MME. DeMORESTS PATTERNS

of garments on hand at the office.

CATALOGUE FREE BY MAIL

A few good men wanted as Agents.

Write for Price List of Machines, &c.

T. W. HEALD, Manager,
Nov 17-tf. No. 12 Fayetteville St.

LAW & CO.,
Atlanta, Ga.

LAW & CO.,
Raleigh, N. C.

LAW & CO.,
Augusta, Ga.

LAW & CO.'S

CROCKERY AND GLASS WAREHOUSE,

51 FAYETTEVILLE ST., RALEIGH, N. C.

Franklins and Morphia can now be had in Raleigh at Law & Co's. Largest assortment of Table, Kitchen and Bedroom articles, at lowest prices. Lamps, Chandeliers, Sconces and Girandoles, Cut Glass Water Trays and Goblets, Tea Trays, Bed Room Sets, Hall Lamps, Chandeliers, Church Lamps, Bridal Gifts, Birthday Presents and Christmas Gifts. The Largest and best assorted stock of Goods ever brought to Raleigh The Celebrated German Student Lamp and Fire Proof Diamond Oil—We guarantee all our Goods to be as represented, and our prices are at the lowest point. Catalogues recently revised and issued. Send for one.

LAW & CO.,
Raleigh, N. C.

If you wish to grow Vegetables for sale read

Gardening for Profit!

If you wish to become a Commercial Florist, read

Practical Floriculture!

If you wish to Garden for Amusement or for Home Use only, read Gardening for Pleasure!

ALL BY

Peter Henderson.

Price $1.50 each, post-paid, by mail.

Our Combined Catalogue for 1876, of

EVERYTHING FOR THE GARDEN!

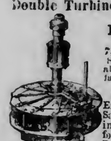
Sent Free to all Applicants.

Our large Illustrated Catalogues of Seeds and Plants, numbering 135 pages, and containing 2 colored plates, sent without charge to purchasers of any of the above three books. Sent to all others on receipt of 50 cents.

Peter Henderson & Co.
35 Cortlandt Street,
NEW YORK.

Jan 5 4t eow.

THE JAS. LEFFEL Double Turbine Water Wheel,



Manufactured by

POOLE & HUNT,
Baltimore, Md.

5,000 NOW IN USE!

Simple, Strong, Durable, always reliable and sold at factory.

Manufacturers also of Portable & Stationary Engines, Steam Boilers, Saw & Grist Mills, Mining Machinery, Castings for Cotton Mills, Flour, Paint, White Lead and Oil Mill Machinery, Hydraulic and other Presses, &c. Shafting, Pulleys and Hangers a specialty. Machine mould Gearing, cut and of very best finish. Send for circular.

mch 24-12m.

THE WEEKLY SUN

1776— NEW YORK —1876.

Eighteen hundred and seventy-six is the Centennial year. It is also the year in which an Opposition House of Representatives, the first since the war will be in power at Washington; and the year of the twenty-third election of a President of the United States. All of these events are sure to excite general interest and importance, especially the two latter, and all of them and everything connected with them will be fully and freshly reported and expounded in THE SUN.

The Opposition House of Representatives, taking up the line of policy opened years ago by THE SUN, will sternly and diligently investigate Grantism and administration; and will, it is to be hoped, lay the foundation for a new and better period in our political history. Of all this THE SUN will contain complete and accurate accounts, furnishing the readers with early and trust-worthy information upon these absorbing topics.

The twenty-third Presidential election, with the preparations for it, will be memorable as deciding upon GRANT'S aspirations for a third term and still more as deciding who shall be the candidate of the party of Reform, and as electing that candidate. Concerning all these subjects, those who read THE SUN will have the most constant means of being thoroughly well informed.

The WEEKLY SUN, which has attained a circulation of over eighty thousand copies, already has its readers in every State and Territory, and we trust that the year 1876 will see their numbers doubled. It will continue to be a thorough newspaper. All the general news of the day will be found in it, condensed when unimportant, at full length when of moment; and always, we trust, treated in a clear, interesting and instructive manner.

It is our aim to make the WEEKLY SUN the best family newspaper in the world, and we shall continue to give to its columns a large amount of miscellaneous reading, such as stories, tales, poems selected from the literature and agricultural information, for which we are not able to make room in our daily edition. The agricultural department especially is one of its prominent features. The fashions are also regularly reported in its columns; and so are the markets of every kind.

The WEEKLY SUN eight pages with fifty-six broad columns is only $1.20 a year, postage prepaid. As this price barely repays the cost of the paper, no discount can be made from this rate to clubs, agents, Postmasters, or anyone.

The DAILY SUN, a large four page newspaper of twenty-eight columns, gives all the news for two cents a copy. Subscription, postage prepaid, 55c a month; $6.50 a year. SUNDAY edition extra, $1.20 per year. We have no traveling agents.

Address, THE SUN, New York City.

$49 [illegible] KENNEDY & CO., Elkhart, Ind. Dec 1 4-1

[illegible] Agents and Business persons. No soliciting required. For [illegible] Address [illegible]

[illegible] Agents wanted. Business permanent. For particulars address [illegible]

[illegible] Agents wanted. Business permanent. For particulars address [illegible]

[illegible] Agents wanted. Business permanent. For particulars address [illegible]

[illegible] Agents wanted. Business permanent. For particulars address [illegible]

[illegible] Agents wanted. Business permanent. For particulars address [illegible]

[illegible] Agents wanted. Business permanent. For particulars address [illegible

Children's Column.

An wers.

"My skin is black upon me and my bones are burned with heat."—found in Job 30th ch. 30th verse. George A. Ray, Mamie Fleming.

"I love them that love me, etc" is found in 8th ch. 17th v. Proverbs. George A. Ray. Mamie Fleming, Mary N. Davis.

A horse in the days of King Solomon cost eighty three dollars and twenty five cents. David A. Claytor.

The last night Peter went a fishing he caught one hundred and fifty three fishes. David A Claytor.

Rachel Claytor sends the following as answer to the Enigma proposed by Laura Davis. 1st is Abiah, 2nd Benjamin. 3rd Ithmar 4th Hoshea 5th uz. Its whole is Abihu.

Rachel Claytor also sends the following as answer to Enigma proposed by Ida Davis: Its 1st is Elijah; 2nd Shaphat; 3rd Tarshish: 4 Hoshea; 5th Eleazar; 6th Rachel: Its whole is Esther.

Questions.

D. A. Claytor asks how many times did Christ appear after the resurrection before his ascension. Also, from what mount and near what village did he ascend.

Cross-word Enigma by Rachel Claytor.

My 1st is in cart, but not wagon
My 2nd is in wine, but not in flagon.
My 3rd is in veil, but not in hat.
My 4th is in lean, but not in fat
My 5th is in laughter, but not scorn.
My 6th not in evening, is found in dawn.
My 7th is in sweet, but not in sour.
My 8th is in might, but not in power.
My 9th is in love, but not in hate.
My 10th is in chance, but not in fate.
My whole is a book of the Bible.

The New Dress.

Alice found her, one day, resting under the cooling shade of a tree outside the garden gate.

'Do you want something?' asked Alice.

'Yes, dear child,' she answered: 'I want a new dress.'

'A pretty calico?' asked Alice.

'That will soon fade,' answered the poor herb woman.

'A black woolen?' asked Alice.

'That will soon wear out,' answered she.

'A silk?' asked Alice.

'I have nothing fit to wear with it,' answered the herb woman, and Alice thought as much.

'A plaid, a beautiful plaid?' asked the child.

'That will too soon get out of fashion,' answered the herb woman.

'Do you care much about the fashion?' asked Alice.

'I want the dress to last me a thous and years or more!' cried the old woman.

'Oh!' exclaimed Alice, drawing back, for she half thought the poor woman was crazy; 'do you expect to live so long? A thousand years is a great while, and you are pretty old now.'

'I shall live longer than that!' said she.

'I will ask my mother,' said the little girl, much puzzled, 'if she knows what dress would suit you; and perhaps she'll buy it for you.'

'Your mother is not rich enough to buy it, dear child,' said the old woman.

'My father is rich,' said she.

'Not rich enough to buy the dress I want,' answered the old woman

'Do you want to dress like a queen?' asked Alice.

'No; but I want to be dressed like a king's daughter.'

'The old woman is crazy,' thought Alice to herself; 'she talks so queer. I don't know where you will get such a dress,' she said, aloud; 'something that will never fade, never wear out or go out of fashion.'

'And never get soiled or spoiled,' added the old herb woman: 'wear it when and where you may, it will always keep white and shining.'

'Oh! was all Alice could say. Then she added. 'I should like such a one. I am sure. Could a little girl have one? But a little girl would outgrow hers.'

'No,' said the herb woman; 'the dress would let itself out so as to suit you always.'

The child was lost in wonder. 'Will you please tell me what it is, and where I can get one?' she asked.

'It is the garment of salvation, the robe of righteousness, which Jesus Christ has wrought out for me and for you, dear child,' said the old woman tenderly. 'Christ came to take away the poor rags of our sins, and to put on us His pure white robe, and to make us fit to be children of God, the King, and live in His palace forever. Should you not like to, dear child?'

'Yes,' answered the child; 'I do want to be one of God's children. I always wanted to. Will he give me a heavenly dress, do you think?'

Rural and Domestic.

The American Agriculturist says: "An account should be opened with every field upon the farm, and with every kind of stock kept, commencing with the first of the year. Each field should be numbered or named, and whatever labor, seed or manure, goes

A Remedy that has made its Mark.

For years in the mouth of every citizen. The fruits of time has never been more forcibly exemplified than by the triumphant career of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. No sooner did the people discover the enormous merits of that superior invigorant and corrective than they hastened to stamp it with the seal of popularity. The press and medical profession speedily followed in the wake of the public, and emphatically endorsed it. Thus from the very outset the success of the Bitters was so remarkable, as to convince even the most incredulous of its positive claims to confidence. This fact, and a degree of popularity which it often takes people any medicines years to attain, was achieved almost at a stride by the new preparation. Since that time every successive year has witnessed fresh accessions to the favor with which the Bitters were early regarded and the record of its popularity is no longer confined to the United States, but includes the British Provinces in North America and the West Indies, South America, Mexico, portions of Europe and Australia. That it is not only a remedy for dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, urinary and uterine complaints, nervousness and debility, but also a preventive of these maladies to which are said, under the influence of which adverse climates, has been nowhere so strikingly evidenced as in those regions where the conditions unfavorable to health exist, and where the Bitters have been longest and most copiously used. Indeed this result is only exemplified by the models' mark, caused the Bitters to receive added consideration, since there is probably no proprietary remedy more sold by knavish, unprincipled rivalry and emphatically endorsed than these Bitters.

Jan. 5-1m.

J U S T A R R I V E D !

Fifty Dozen Shirts!

Made of [illegible] muslin. These Shirts are [illegible] Wamsutta Muslin. The bosoms, collar bands [illegible] bear out them. The bosoms [illegible] at $7.50 FOR SIX!

THE CHEAPEST IN THE STATE.

We invite all to examine them.

Linen COATS' COTTON, all Nos and colors, at 70 cents per dozen.

A handsome line of Dress Goods of the latest styles and best quality.

A few qualities of Water Proof, Navy Blue, Black Cassimere, Brown Cloth and very Plaid.

Every department is full and kept so by daily arrivals of best Linens and Cottons of patterns, bought from first hands and sold at smallest possible profit.

Now a perfect quality stock and Cassimere HATS [illegible] expressly to order for me.

Prices all prices. Real Mink, Lynx Seal and other handsome Furs for the season, at

PETTY & JONES,

30 Fayetteville Street.

Dec 22-tf

COME YE DISCONSOLATE!

Men in search of FIRST-CLASS GOODS, the very Latest in Tripod Fashion, and put up in a style that will suit the most fastidious taste, go to

WEIKEL'S ESTABLISHMENT,

on Fayetteville street, one door South of the Southern Express Office

IT IS A CONCEDED FACT

that Weikel can put up the best and most satisfactory Outfit in the way of fine suits of Clothing, from a Wedding to a Business Suit, that can be turned out in Raleigh. The old and young men say it, the ladies [illegible] men endorse and the children cry over it, cry for joy when their revered "Dad's" put on a suit of Weikel clothing.

Weikel takes this occasion to return his thanks for the liberal and liberal patronage heretofore received, and respectfully asks for continuance of the same. His stock of

CLOTHS,

CASSIMERES,

TWEEDS,

SUITINGS, &c.

is much larger than ever before, and comprises all the latest Novelties in Style, having been recently purchased at low prices from

FASHION HEADQUARTERS.

As a result to force of Workmen are Picked Men whose skill and ability is known to the "dressing" public.

Come one and all to the Emporium of Fashion, Weikel's the Merchant Tailor. For a first class Suit of Clothes of first class goods, put up in first class style.

"SANTA CLAUS"

Is Coming

On the night of the 24th of this month, and

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER

Are Providing For All.

They are receiving new lines of Dry Goods and a general assortment of goods for the different departments, suitable for the Holidays.

Ladies and Children's Underwear,
Hosiery, Gloves, Furs and Handkerchiefs, Silk Mufflers and Ties, Shawls, Belts,
Collars and Cuffs,
Laces, &c.

In piece New Style Prints.
20 Bales N. F. Plaids.
500 pcs Zeigler's Black and Canton
Flannels, Bird's Eye Home and Others

SHIRT DEPARTMENT.

The great demand for our ENFINISHED SHIRTS has induced us to still lower the price. We will sell

6 OF OUR WAMSUTTA SHIRTS with Richardson's Round Thread Linen Bosoms and Cuffs at $6.00
12 OF THE SAME at $12.00

Orders filled according to date of reception. Remember our motto: The best goods at the lowest cash prices.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

Dec 22-1y

PRICES REDUCED

LADIES

— AND —

GENTLEMEN:

CALL AT ONCE AND EXAMINE THE EXTENSIVE STOCK, JUST RECEIVED AT

J.P. GULLEY'S,

—OF—

Dry Goods, Clothing,

NOTIONS, BOOTS, SHOES,

Hats, Caps, Trunks, Valises,

White Goods, &c., &c.

BURT'S GAITERS & BOOTS FOR GENTS.

PRINTS! PRINTS! PRINTS!

A large stock of the latest patterns, at prices that cannot be excelled.

Respectfully

JOSEPH P. GULLEY,

corner Fayetteville and Market Square.

Dec 15th, '75.

Musical Gifts for Christmas! Musical Gifts for New-Year!

Gems of English Song! } 75 of the best songs
Gems of English Song! } extant, collected in a
Gems of English Song! } handsome volume of
Gems of English Song! } 252 (music size) pages.
Gems of English Song! } Will elegant gilt bind.
Use, $4.00. In cloth-gilt $5.00. In boards, $2.50.

Uniform in style, price and binding with the above splendid book, we have other books of "Gems" Ireland, Scottish and carroll; also of best Irish Melodies, and the choicest sacred songs.

CHRISTMAS CAROLS By Howard 25 cts.
ANTHEM. There were shepherds Millard 25 "
MERRY CHRISTMAS. Piano piece, Wilson 60 "

Replete the hearts of the Old Folks with splendid Collection for Old Folk's Concerts. 40 cts. By E. Tourjee.

Gladden your Sabbath School by introducing SHINING RIVER. One of the sweetest of song books.

Order the above books of any of the principal music dealers, or by mail (on being retail price) of OLIVER DITSON & CO., C. H. DITSON & CO., 711 B'dway, N. Y. Boston.

PLEASANT GARDEN ACADEMY,

Male and Female,

Eight Miles from Greensboro, N. C.

R. P. TROY A.M., — — — Principal,
Mrs. R. P. TROY, — — — Teacher of Music,
Miss SARAH M. CHURCH, — — Assistant Teacher.

The Spring Session will begin January 8th, 1876, and continue five months.

Tuition per session, — — — from $12.50 to $25.00
Music, — — — — — — — 15.00
Board, with wood and washing, — — — — 25.00
Contingent Fee, — — — — — — — 50
Use of Piano, — — — — — — — 2.00

One half in advance. No deduction after entrance, except for sickness. The best point of health and further, healthy location, as I am a resident of it.

First-Class Academy,

Summer Hill is only 6 miles from the patronage of those having students to educate. All are required to attend worship every Sabbath, and especial care is taken to promote moral development.

Conveyance from Greensboro furnished for $1.00 if notice is given.

Address the Principal at Greensboro, N. C., for further information.

REFERENCES

Rev. B. Craven, D. D., L. L. D., Trinity College, N. C.
" M. H. D. Whitaker, D. D., Greensboro, N. C.
" W. H. Bobbitt, " "
" L. L. Hendren, Hyatt Hill, N. C.
George Hicks, Randleville, N. C.
" Phillip Kennon, Pittsboro, N. C.
" J. W. Jones, Durham, N. C.
Dec 15-3m.

Mary's Sciopticon and Lantern Slides.

New and brilliant effects. Circular free.

SPECIAL OFFER TO SUNDAY-SCHOOLS

L. J. MARY, 1026 Chestnut Street Philadelphia.

Dec 27 6m.

CHANGE IN BUSINESS.

The Old and Well Known House of

J. M. ROSENBAUM

Having concluded to confine itself to certain specialties, announces that in its main business it is exclusively

A CLOTHING STORE

of the highest grade, where every article of Gentlemen's and Boy's wear of all kinds and grades is offered

ON THE MOST FAVORABLE TERMS FOR CASH.

Buyers need go no farther to be suited. Every class of customers can be supplied.

Attached to the establishment is a Department for the sale of

CHINA, CROCKERY AND GLASSWARE.

Everything in that line can be found of the first quality and at reasonable prices.

The long established character of this House is a sufficient guarantee of its ability and determination to do what it promises. Don't fail to call on

J. M. ROSENBAUM,

Corner Fayetteville and Hargett sts.

Oct. 13-tf.

N E W F I R M

The undersigned have this day formed a co-partnership under the firm name of

Wainright Williams & Hood,

and having purchased the stock and goodwill of J. D. Whitaker, they will continue the GROCERY and COMMISSION business at

FARMER'S EXCHANGE,

No. 4 Martin Street.

RALEIGH, N. C.

Our Stock will consist of

Bacon,
Flour,
Molasses,
Coffee,
Sugars,
Lard
Salt,
Bagging,
and Ties,

And all other goods in the Grocery line with Staple Dry Goods, Shoes, etc. Having superior facilities for buying, and a small expense account, we guarantee the lowest prices. Consignments of Cotton and produce generally, solicited, to the sale of which our best efforts will be devoted.

Patronage of our friends respectfully solicited.

GEO. H. WAINRIGHT, Granville.
[illegible] with Williamson, Uph'r & Thomas
MID. T. WILLIAMS Chatham.
Wm. H. HOOD, Johnston.
Raleigh, Sept. 1, 1875.

Having sold my stock of Groceries to Messrs. Wainright, Williams & Hood, I take pleasure in recommending them to my friends and late customers, as entirely worthy of confidence and patronage.

For the present, I may be found at the old stand and hope all those indebted to the late firm of Thompson & Whitaker and to myself, will call and settle as soon as possible.

Raleigh, Sept 8-tf J. D. WHITAKER.

TYSON & JONES

Carriage Builders,

CARTHAGE, N. C.

Having recently increased our Facilities for Manufacturing we are prepared to furnish Vehicles of the BEST QUALITY on short notice, and at comparatively low prices. Vehicles shipped at Sanford, Raleigh and Chatham R. R. via Raleigh to any part of the State

We feel confident that, with the close attention we give the business, together with the materials used, the skilled workman employed, and the many conveniences we have for manufacturing FIRST CLASS WORK, no house in the country can excel us in

STYLE, FINISH, DURABILITY AND

Low Prices.

We manufacture and keep constantly on hand Harness of the Best Quality.

Repairing neatly Done at Short Notice

Send for Circular.

July 21 1-y

The Best Household Oil in the World!

C. WEST & SONS' ALADDIN SECURITY OIL.

Warranted 150 Degrees Fire Test

Endorsed by the Fire Insurance Companies.

Read the following certificate, selected from many Others:

HOWARD FIRE INS. CO. OF BALTIMORE, } December 2, '74
Baltimore City. }

Messrs C. West & Sons: Gentlemen—Having used the various oils sold in this city for illuminating purposes, I take pleasure in recommending your "Aladdin Security" as the safest and best ever used in our household.

Yours, truly,
(Signed) ANDREW REESE, Pres't.

IT WILL NOT EXPLODE.

Ask your Storekeeper for it

Wholesale Depot C. WEST & SONS,
113, 115 W. Lombard Street, Baltimore.

Sep. 1-6m.

JOHN W. HINSDALE,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

Room No. 2, First Floor, Law Building, Fayetteville street.

RALEIGH, N. C.

Attends all the Courts in Raleigh and Fayetteville. Claims collected in all parts of North Carolina. Refers to Hon. R. M. Pearson, Chief Justice of N. C.; Hon. M. W. Ransom, U. S. Senate; Citizens' National Bank, W. H. & R. S. Tucker, Williams & Haywood, Raleigh, N. C.; Fayetteville National Bank, Merchants' Bank of Fayetteville, J. D. Williams, Cashier; W. J. Lilly & Co., Fayetteville, N. C.; Bank of New Hanover, Wilmington, N. C.; Motton, Bliss & Co., Phelps, Dodge and Co., H. B. Claflin & Co., H. Bliadin & Co., New York: D. Ladreth & Co., Philadelphia, G. W. Gail & Ax, Ball, more.

He has formed a business connection with Messrs. MacRae & Broadfoot of Fayetteville N. C. relating only to his future business at that point. All communications addressed to John W. Hinsdale, care of MacRae & Broadfoot at Fayett ville, will re ceive prompt attention.

Oct. 6-tf

THE FIRM OF WYNNE, YANCEY & CO., is this day dissolved by mutual consent,

GEO. W. WYNNE.
T. B. YANCEY.
J. W. LEE.

Raleigh, June 19th, 1875.

HAVING PURCHASED THE interest as I assume the liabilities of the late firm of WYNNE, YANCEY & CO., I would request all those indebted to make immediate payment.

Thanking for the patronage so liberally bestowed upon the late firm I trust by personal attention to merit the same.

June 23-tf GEO. W. WYNNE

BALTIMORE EYE AND EAR INSTITUTE

NO. 55 FRANKLIN ST., Baltimore, Md.,

JULIAN J. CHISOLM, M. D., Professor of Eye and Ear Diseases in the University of Maryland, SURGEON IN CHARGE.

This Institution is thoroughly organized and fitted up with every convenience for the treatment of Eye and Ear Diseases.

For further information apply to the above.

Sept 15 3m.

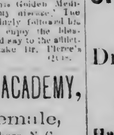
THE CARY COTTON GIN.

Is still being manufactured at Cary, N. C., improved in every respect and warranted to give satisfaction by its trade if properly put to work. Those desiring further information send for Circular, &c. to

W. M. SORRELL,
Cary, N.C.

June 16-tf.

BRINLY PLOWS



BEST AND CHEAPEST IN USE.

Have taken over 250 Premiums at Fairs throughout the South. Send for Illustrated Catalogue and Price List, and certificates of planters who use them.

SOLE MANUFACTURERS:
BRINLY, MILES & HARDY,
Louisville, KY.

Sept 8 6m.

$5 TO $20 per day!

Agents wanted! All classes of working people, of either sex, young or old, making more money at work for us in their spare moments, or all the time, than at anything else. Particulars free. Address G. Stinson & Co., Portland, Maine.

Sept 18-1m

SCHEDULES.

PIEDMONT AIR-LINE RAILWAY.

RICHMOND & DANVILLE, RICHMOND & DANVILLE R. W., N. C. DIVISION, and NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. W.

CONDENSED TIME-TABLE.

In effect on and after Sunday, Dec. 19th, 1875

GOING NORTH

STATIONS	Mail.
Leave Charlotte	5.45 A M
" Air Line Junc'n	6.25 "
" Salisbury	8.00 "
" Greensboro'	10.58 "
" Danville	1.34 P M
" Dundee	1.49 "
" Barksville	6.34 "
Arrive at Richmond	9.35 P M

GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	Mail.
Leave Richmond	5.50 A M
" Burkville	9.10 "
" Dundee	1.39 P M
" Danville	1.44 "
" Greensboro'	4.25 "
" Salisbury	6.54 "
" Air-Line Junc'n	8.52 "
Arrive at Charlotte, &c.	9.15 "

GOING EAST. GOING WEST.

STATIONS.	Mail.	Mail.
Leave Greensboro'	11.00 A. M.	Arrive 4.30 P. M.
Co. Shops	"	"
Arrive Raleigh	2.20 P. M.	Arrive 11.05 "
Arrive at Gaithersburg	4.40 P. M.	Leave 8.20 A M

TO OUR FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS. We take pleasure in saying our stock is now complete in every department, and thanking you for your liberal patronage, we respectfully solicit a continuance of the same. Remember our place, 84 Fayetteville St., Raleigh, N. C.

D. S. WAITT & BRO.

may 13-3m.

STATIONS	Accommodation Train.
Leave Greensboro	7.10 P. M.	Arr 6.30 A M
Co. Shops	"	Lv. "
Arr at Raleigh	2.30 A. M.	Arr 7.45 P M
Arr at Gaithersburg	11.15 "	Lv 2.30 "

NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. R.

(SALEM BRANCH.)

Leave Greensboro' ..... 4.15 P. M.
Arrive at Salem ..... 6.45 "
Leave Salem ..... 8.15 A. M.
Arrive at Greensboro' ..... 10.50 "

Passenger train leaving Raleigh at 11.00 A. M. connects at Greensboro' with the Southern limited train, making the quickest time to all southern cities. Accommodation Train leaving Raleigh at 7.30 P. M. connects with Southern bound train at Greensboro for Richmond and all points East. Price of Tickets same as via other routes.

Accommodation Train leaving Greensboro at 7.30 P. M. connects at Gaithersburg with Northern and Southern bound Trains on the Washington and Western Railroad.

Lynchburg Accommodation Line Richmond daily at 9.00 A. M.; arrive at Burkeville 12.39 P. M.; leave Burkeville 1.24 P. M.; arrive at Richmond 4.54 P. M.

No Change of Cars between Charlotte and Richmond, 282 Miles.

Papers that have arrangements to advertise the Schedules of this company will please print as above.

For further information address

JOHN R. MACMURDO,
Gen'l Passenger Agent,
Richmond, Va.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE.

RALEIGH & GASTON RAILROAD CO.

On and after Friday, May 22nd, 1874, trains on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, will run daily (Sundays excepted) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Leave Raleigh	2.45 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon	8.00 P. M.
Leaves Weldon	9.30 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh	5.45 P. M.

ACCOMMODATION TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon,	12.15 P. M.
Leaves Weldon,	2.45 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh	9.45 P. M.

Mail train makes close connection at Weldon, with the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad and Bay Line steamers via Baltimore, to and from all points North, West and South, and with Petersburg Railroad via Petersburg, Richmond and Washington City, to and from all points North and Northwest.

Also at Raleigh with the North Carolina Railroad to and from all points South and Southwest, and with the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line to Hayw ood and Fayetteville.

A. H. ANDREWS,
Gen. Sup't.

RALEIGH & AUGUSTA AIR-LINE RAILROAD.

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 25th, 1875.

On and after Monday, October 25th, 1875, trains on the R. & A. A. L. Road will run daily, (Sundays excepted,) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Train leaves Raleigh,	4.00 P. M.
Arrives at Sanford,	6.25 "
Train leaves Sanford,	6.30 A. M
Arrives at Raleigh,	9.25 "

FREIGHT TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	8.15 A. M.
Arrives at Sanford	10.50 A. M.
Leaves Sanford,	12.00 A. M
Arrives at Raleigh	2.30 P. M.

Mail Train makes close connection a Raleigh with the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, to and from all points North.

And at Sanford with the Western Railroad, to and from Fayetteville and points on Western Railroad.

A. B. ANDREWS,
Superintendent.

ORDER OF TRANSPORTATION,
Seaboard & Roanoke R. R. Co.,
Portsmouth, Va., April 24, 1875.

On and after this date, trains of this Road will leave Weldon daily, Sundays excepted, as follows:

Mail train at	4 P. M.
No. 1 Freight train at	4 A. M.
No. 2 Freight train at	8 A. M.

ARRIVE AT PORTSMOUTH.

Mail train at	7.15 P. M.
No. 1 Freight at	12.00 NOON.
No. 2 Freight at	4.00 P. M.

Freight trains have a passenger car attached.

Steamer for Edenton, Plymouth and Landings on Blackwater and Chowan Rivers leave Franklin at 7.40 A. M. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

E. S. CHIO,
Supt. Transportation.

OLD NORTH STATE FIRE

Insurance Company,

OF

WARRENTON, ----- N. C.,

This Company has closed its third year in a condition of GREAT PROSPERITY, and entered upon its fourth year under the MOST PROMISING AUSPICES.

It deserves the liberal patronage which it is receiving because

It is a home Institution.
It has ample Capital and Reserves.
It pays its losses promptly.

ASSETS.

Cash on hand and in Bank	$ 8 421 23
Cash in hands of Agents	4,984 00
Stock Notes	45,870 00
Real Estate Mortgage	50,998 80
Loaned on Collaters'l	7,647 66
Due for premiums	3,721 68
Interest due and accrued	944 30
	$130,297 19

LIABILITIES:

All liabilities including full re-Insurance Reserved	$18,480 81
Surplus	111,816 38
	$130,297 19

WM. S. DAVIS, President,
B. F. LONG, Secretary.

ESTABLISHED 1816.

CHAS. SIMON & SONS,

61 NORTH HOWARD ST., BALTIMORE, MD.

Dealers in

FOREIGN & DOMESTIC DRY GOODS,

would call special attention to their splendid stock of Dress Goods, Linen Goods, Embroideries, Laces, and Hosiery, the best assortment of Mourning Goods in the city.

SAMPLES SENT FREE!

All orders amounting to $30.00 or over, will be sent free of freight charges by Express, but parties whose orders are not accompanied by the money, and having their goods sent C. O. D., must pay for return of the money.

E-N-FRESHMAN, ADVERTISING AGENT

190 WEST FOURTH ST.,

CINCINNATI, O.,

is authorized to contract for advertising in this paper. ESTIMATES FURNISHED FREE. SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

$250 A MONTH—Agents wanted everywhere. Business honorable and first class. Particulars sent free. Address J. WORTH & CO., St. Louis, Mo.

aug 4-13m.

FALL AND WINTER GOODS!

D. S. WAITT & BRO.,

Are offering a Large and Attractive Stock of

FINE AND CHEAP CLOTHING!

Gents' Furnishing Goods and Neck Wear,

Boots, Shoes, Overcoats, Shawls and Rubber Goods. Hats and Caps. Window Shades, Blankets and Hosiery. Paper and Envelopes, Collars, Suspenders, Handkerchiefs and Yankee Notions. The Celebrated

MANHATTAN FINE WHITE SHIRT,

A General Good to be the best and most perfect fitting shirt in the market.

Prints! Prints!

Red White and Figured Flannels, Opera Flannels, Homespun Eiderdowns and Jacconets, Ladies' Trimmed Hats, Belts, Ribbons, Corsets, Corset Jeans, Cambrics and Linings, Thanks, Vallises, Umbrellas, Travelling Bags, &c.

TO OUR FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS. We take pleasure in saying our stock is now complete in every department, and thanking you for your liberal patronage, we respectfully solicit a continuance of the same. Remember our place, 84 Fayetteville St., Raleigh, N. C.

D. S. WAITT & BRO.

may 13-3m.

SUI GENERIS.

MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.

UNEQUALED in tone, UNAPPROACHED in capacity and excellence by any others. Awarded

THREE HIGHEST MEDALS AND DIPLOMA OF HONOR AT VIENNA, 1873; PARIS, 1867.

ONLY American Organs ever awarded any medal in Europe, or which present such extraordinary excellence as to command a wide sale there.

ALWAYS awarded highest premiums at Industrial Expositions, in both Europe and America.

BEST declared by Eminent Musicians, in both hemispheres, to be unrivaled. See TESTIMONIAL CIRCULAR, with opinions of more than One Thousand (sent free).

INSIST upon having a Mason & Hamlin. Do not take any other. Dealers get LARGER COMMISSIONS for selling inferior organs, and for this reason often try very hard to sell something else.

NEW STYLES with most important improvements ever made. New Solo and Combination Stops. Superb Basses and other Cases of new designs.

PIANO-HARP CABINET ORGANS.

Illustrated Catalogues free. Address MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 154 Tremont Street, BOSTON. 25 Union Square, NEW YORK; or 80 & 82 Adams St., CHICAGO.

Jan 24-1 year.

G. T. LEACH, N. Y. M. T. L

Leach Brothers,

WHOLESALE GROCERS

AND

COMMISSION MERCHANTS

SOUTH-EAST CORNER MARKET SQUARE, RALEIGH.

Again we take great pleasure in presenting our cards and returning thanks to the readers of the ADVOCATE for their very liberal patronage during the past few years, and offer them the largest and best bought stock of Groceries ever offered in any market south of Baltimore, and while just now Bacons, Sugars and Lard are very scarce and high, we have made extra arrangements, and succeeded in bringing our prices equally low as formerly giving our friends the advantages gained thereby to counter balance the scarcity and high prices now ruled.

We wish to invite especial attention to our stock of staple Shoes and Boots bought direct from the Factories and offered here at first prices.

We have now in store

Sidesville, Rio Coffees,
10 Mats old Java,
10 Hhds. A Sugar,
10 Hhds Extra C Sugar,
10 Hhds. B F Yellow Sugar,
20 bbls Demerara,
20 Hhds Bulk Sides,
10 " " shoulders,
50 Kegs English Soda,
100 bbls and Half bbls Leather
100 Sides Upper Leather,
Burton's Lasting Leather,
40 bags Clover Seed,
50 " Brandy Peaches
5,000 Yds. Bagging,
500 lbs. Twine,
100 Bbls. Super Flour,
100 Bags Family Flour,
50 Bbls Extra Flour,
50 Cases Forrester's Crackers,
9 " Soda Crackers,
60 Boxes Factory and Dairy Cheese,
6000 W. P. and G. D. tire Caps,
3 Kegs Burton Horse and Mule Shoes,
200 lbs. Horse Shoe Nails,
50 Boxes Best Axes,
50 Boxes Adamantine Candles,
10 Boxes Laundry and Toilet Soaps.

We offer our usual liberal inducements to close purchasers, and invite an examination of our goods and prices before purchasing elsewhere.

Oct 7 12 m LEACH BROTHERS.

PROGRESS THE WATCHWORD

Merit and Success Hand in Hand.

BROOKLYN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

NO. 141 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

Assets - - $1,500,000.00!!

CHRISTIAN W. BOUCK, President.
D. P. FACKLER, Actuary.

Wm. M. COLE, Secretary
DANIEL AYRES, M.D., L.L.D., Med. Director.

POLICIES [illegible]ABLE IN LIFE, AS WELL AS AT DEATH!

The BROOKLYN LIFE is the only Company in America which guarantees

DEFINITE CASH SURRENDER VALUES,

in case [illegible] is forfeited for nonpayment of Premium.

THE BROOKLYN LIFE enjoys the highest reputation FOR JUDICIOUS MANAGEMENT, AND CARE IN THE SELECTION OF RISKS,—upon which depends the security of a Life Insurance Corporation depends.

The laws of New York compel Companies in that State to calculate the cash value of their Policies, each year, and in a certain legal standard of reserve and accumulation must be held by it. Insurers [illegible] and for Companies in which to insure, should carefully see [illegible] or this important [illegible] WILL BE FOUND IN THE BROOKLYN LIFE.

M. LITTLE, M.D., MEDICAL EXAMINER.

AW · LAWRENCE,

General Agent for North Carolina,
Office at Raleigh.

may 8-tf

INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE!

In PESCUD'S Agency, Raleigh, N. C.

Money and time saved by insuring in the following reliable companies:

Home N. Y. Germania, New Orleans.
Atlas Hartford, Firemens Fund, Franklin of Philadelphia.
Extra inducements offered to all who want Insurance on Cotton, Tobacco Factories, Mills, Gins, Farm property and Village and country stores.—Call on, or address, P. F. PESCUD, Jr.
Send for a blank and terms to Pescud & Son.
P. F. PESCUD, Jr.
P. F. PESCUD, Sr.
Jan 24-1f

SARATOGA NERVINE,

The great Nerve Conqueror, cures Epileptic Fits, Convulsions, Spasms, St Vitus' Dance, and every species of nervous prostration. Old Hair Restorative restored and made as good as new.

No double sheet of goods. Call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

H. MORRIS & CO

NOV 20-1f

TO CONSUMPTIVES:

The advertiser, an old physician, retired from active practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a simple Vegetable Remedy, for the speedy and permanent Cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, and all Throat and Lung Affections, also a Positive and Radical Cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, feels it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a conscientious desire to relieve human suffering, he will send (free of charge), to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and successfully using. Sent by return mail by addressing.

Dr. W. C. STEVENS,
Monroe Block, Syracuse, N. Y.

Nov 24 1-y

SADDLES!

From $3 50 to $40.00

BUGGY HARNESS!

From $9.00 to $100

ON HAND AND FOR SALE BY

W. B. HUTCHINGS,

Where will be found a large stock of Carriage and Buggy Harness, Wagon, Dray and Cart Harness, Bridles, Whips, Collars, Hames, Saddle Cloths, Horse Blankets, Leather, &c., of my own Manufacture, and at prices to suit the times.

GIVE ME A CALL!

W. B. HUTCHINGS,
Fayetteville St., opposite Tucker Hall,
oct 13-12m Raleigh, N. C.

THE TOLL-GATE!

THE new and improved Toll-Gate is the best ever invented. Send for circular. Price $10. Agents wanted in every county in the United States, to whom liberal inducements will be given. Address, with stamp, E. C. ASHBY, Petersburg, Va.

may 5-1y.

PLEISANT POWDERS.

These Powders have been tested by thousands for the cure of Fits (Epilepsy), Dizziness, Nervousness, Sick Headache, Affections, some over 40 years' standing. When you ORDER STATE AGE.

PRICE, $2 PER BOX, POSTPAID.

Sold by Druggists in all parts of the United States for One Dollar per box.

These Powders are prepared and put up by a Physician of long practice, to whom all orders should be addressed.

JOHN M. PLEISANT, M. D.,
899 North Third street,
Philadelphia, Pa.

 Please mention that you saw it in The CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

SWAIM'S CELEBRATED PANACEA

Has long attracted the notice of the medical profession, by the great variety of diseases considered incurable in some of its constituents have been admitted into the Pharmacopeia, etc., and Prof. VALENTINE MOTT, of the University, Professors Eberle, Dickson, Gibson, Mason of Philadelphia, and many other eminent men of celebrity, have, over their own signatures, given it their recommendation, and certified to its wonderful virtues. It has been occasionally administered by the faculty of families throughout the United States, and now it. The laboratory, Dr. FRANKLIN SWAIM, Jr., has devoted his attention and skill to its careful preparation, and for the past twenty-five years, and it is worth many times its cost to any family suffering from Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Jaundice, Sick Headache, Loss of Appetite, Nervousness, Debility, Low Spirits, and all diseases arising from a disordered liver, stomach or blood. IN ALL CASES WHERE A MEDICINE IS NEEDED, SWAIM'S PANACEA, PURE, IT SHOULD BE USED.

PREPARED BY
SWAIM'S LABORATORY,
115 S. Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia.
Descriptive pamphlets furnished on application.

Nov 3-3m.

ORNAMENTAL WIRE WORKS.

Duff,

36 North Howard St., Baltimore.

Manufacture WIRE RAILING, WIRE CLOTH, Wire Guards, &c., Settees, Fence Materials, Window Screens, Woven Wire, Chairs, Settees, &c., &c.

Feb 10-1m

PROGRESS THE WATCHWORD

Merit and Success Hand in Hand.

BROOKLYN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

NO. 141 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

Assets - - $1,500,000.00!!

CHRISTIAN W. BOUCK, President.
D. P. FACKLER, Actuary.

Wm. M. COLE, Secretary
DANIEL AYRES, M.D., L.L.D., Med. Director.

POLICIES [illegible]ABLE IN LIFE, AS WELL AS AT DEATH!

The BROOKLYN LIFE is the only Company in America which guarantees

DEFINITE CASH SURRENDER VALUES,

in case [illegible] is forfeited for nonpayment of Premium.

THE BROOKLYN LIFE enjoys the highest reputation FOR JUDICIOUS MANAGEMENT, AND CARE IN THE SELECTION OF RISKS,—upon which depends the security of a Life Insurance Corporation depends.

The laws of New York compel Companies in that State to calculate the cash value of their Policies, each year, and in a certain legal standard of reserve and accumulation must be held by it. Insurers [illegible] and for Companies in which to insure, should carefully see [illegible] or this important [illegible] WILL BE FOUND IN THE BROOKLYN LIFE.

M. LITTLE, M.D., MEDICAL EXAMINER.

AW · LAWRENCE,

General Agent for North Carolina,
Office at Raleigh.

may 8-tf

INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE!

*In P

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Bobbitt & Gray, Publishers. | Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina. | $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Vol. XXII.---No. 4. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, January 26, 1876. | Whole No. 1,092.

Selected Poetry.

The Victor's Rest.

BY CARL SPENCER.

His rest shall be glorious.

Heart that so low dost beat,
Striving and tiring;
Off in the battle's heat
Night's cool desiring.
Look beyond life and death,
Hear what the Master saith:
"To him that conquereth
The rest shall be glorious."

"Stay," saith the world; "delight
Lives in my bowers;
Sleep on your arms to-night
Through the watch-hours."
Here is no lawful rest.
Cease the ignoble quest;
God giveth last the best—
His rest shall be glorious.

"Come," saith the quiet grave,
"Have done with living;
Rest such as mortals crave
Is of my giving."
Not here, O earth of woes!
Not such the saints' repose;
Joy like a river flows—
His rest shall be glorious.

Not to the vanquished heaven
Opens its portals;
Rest is the glory given
To crowned immortals.
Where never foes surprise,
Where never storms arise;
Past all uncertainties,
The rest shall be glorious.

Look not for me a recluse—
Welcome victorious!
God giveth more than peace—
His rest is glorious!
Endless when once begun,
Fadeless the laurels won;
Oh, after God's "Well done!"
The rest will be glorious.

The Pulpit.

THANK3GIVING-DAY, NOV. 25th 1875

A Sermon Delivered in Edenton Street Church by Rev. L. S. Burkhead, D. D.

(PUBLISHED BY REQUEST.)

O praise the Lord all ye nations: praise him all ye people. For his merciful kindness is great toward us; and the truth of the Lord endureth forever.—Praise ye the Lord. Psa. 117.

(CONCLUDED.)

In the midst of angry passions, bitter recollections, blazing cities and treading earth-quakes, light is increasing, truth is marching and Christ is being proclaimed. The great points of difference between Protestant denominations are being discussed with honesty and in the spirit of charity. The different churches are vying with each other in acts of fraternal courtesy and generous hospitality.—Thus the light of truth is spread abroad and the grand divisions of the army of the Lord are converging and concentrating. The spirit of the angel song—"glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men," is moulding the hearts of the people and drawing them nearer together, at the manger, the cross and the sepulcher, and the God-man talks with them by the way. Only here and there a little squad seems to resist manifest destiny and the plainest teachings of the Bible. But, thank God, the course is generally onward and these must bend before the gigantic power of the victorious army of the Lord, or desert the ranks. We say, let the great theological points of difference among Christians be earnestly discussed in the spirit of the Master, and although they may not think alike, they will, nevertheless, love and pray for each other; and such manifestation of the spirit of Christ will constrain the world to say—"see how these Christians love." I do not believe that the cause of Christ can be overthrown in this land, even by the combined power of the Pope and the devil. No, no, the cause of Christ will prevail and triumph. The church of Christ is the "salt of the earth," the light of the world," and the "gates of hell shall not prevail against it."—Behold the equipments and the activities of the Church! Her missions, her schools, her publications, her working ministry and laity, and her five million Sunday school scholars in these United States, with their sweet songs and beautiful banners! These banners shall wave on until they shall girdle the world, and these songs shall ring out their melody and charm the nations; and by and by, the shout of final victory shall be heard—"The kingdoms of the world have become the kingdoms of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ."

God's "merciful kindness has been great toward us" as a State and nation.

We have had sore trials and many sorrows. We still bleed from the effects of the late war. The public heart is still agitated with tumultuous passions, which like the heavings of ocean after a storm, still threaten the inundation of the last sweet island of hope. The God of nations has punished us severely for our sins. But who will say that our chastisement has been greater than we have deserved? The tide of ruin has rolled over the sunny South, and well nigh submerged us all in its angry depths. We have been scathed and peeled and plundered. An awful paralysis still broods over one half of the nation and the fierce fires of retributive justice are beginning to flash their fury over the other. As a State and nation, we have grievously sinned, and the legitimate consequences of our crimes are upon us. In the "Day of Adversity," we should have learned wisdom, but have we? Has the voice of God's judgments been heard? We call ourselves a Christian nation, and so we are, but there is still a vast deal of unchristian conduct, and of heaven-daring wickedness in this nation.—Let us look these national sins in the face. Behold the profanity of our people! Men, women and children, take the name of God in vain! Many of those who are, and who seek to be, leaders in the State and national governments, are guilty of the low and damning sin of profane swearing! Many of these seem to regard profanity and vulgarity as accomplishments and qualifications for office! These unwashed and debased demagogues often solicit the votes of decent, Christian people, with obscene and profane language! Shades of Washington! Think of twenty millions of people in the United States guilty of taking the name of God in vain!

Behold the intemperance—the drunkenness that curses and blasts this land! This giant evil costs the United States six hundred millions dollars annually! Murders sixty thousand men and women every year! In the face of these facts, this monster is caressed, petted and legalized by the State and nation!

Then, see the impurity—the licentiousness of the people of the State and nation! Here you behold a great, demoralizing, and damning sin!—Then, again, behold the falsehood and slander! How this great sin blackens our public character! Just think of the private lies—social lies—political lies—legal lies—polite lies—vulgar lies—naked lies—gorgeously dressed lies—party lies—legislative lies—congressional lies—gubernatorial lies presidential lies—oratorical lies—poetic lies—scientific lies—philosophic lies—metaphysical lies and theological lies! What a record stands against us as a people!

And then, again, behold the dishonesty that prevails. I know it may be somewhat unpopular to claim to be honest. We may be regarded as "righteous over much" if we refuse to steal! Stealing has become so common and so popular, both in high and in low places, that both the press and the pulpit, feeling that they cannot do the subject justice, are too often silent. The yankee has come to believe that it is right to steal from the southern or. The southerner that it is right to steal from the yankee. The white man thinks there is but little sin in over-reaching and stealing from the negro. The negro knows there is no harm in stealing from white folks—And both whites and negroes believe in the principle and practice of stealing from the government. The theory of stealing from the government is becoming popular with the people.—The man who can steal most from the State and nation is getting to be the popular character of the day. The honest man has little or no chance of being elected to office. But, in the face of all these things, I believe that honesty is the best policy. It may not pay in dollars and cents; but it will bring the largest revenue in the final summing up. We therefore think it wise to pay some attention to that old law—"Thou shalt not steal." O! the multitude and magnitude of our national sins! The profanity—the intemperance—the impurity—the falsehood and the dishonesty of our people! These are the great loathsome ulcers on the body politic, that challenge the thunder-bolts of God's vengeance! O! how they curse our State and nation! But, in the midst of all our vileness and sins, God's "merciful kindness" has been over us for good. In the midst of political excitement and party rancor, we have had comparative peace, and some prosperity. When we look upon our national sins, we see much to abhor and condemn; but when we behold God's "merciful kindness" to us as a people, we see many things to inspire a spirit of "thanksgiving and praise. For, after all that can be justly said to our shame, who is not proud that he is an American citizen? Where is the North Carolinian who is not proud of the dear old State?

Spoiled and plundered, she is still grand and lovely. Standing, with her head in the clouds, and her feet bathed in the Atlantic—her heart throbbing with good will to all mankind; and her arms gathering bountiful harvests—she nourishes all her children—never forgetting the orphans of her fallen heroes. Abundant crops have been gathered in.—"There is bread to the eater and seed to the sower." Truly, North Carolina is a great State, with vast resources still to be developed and utilized.

And who can tell the possibilities of America? We are, indeed, a great and mighty nation—with boundless resources and possibilities. God has blessed us greatly. Through his "merciful kindness" we have peace and plenty. Under his fostering care we have grown great among the nations. If we are true to ourselves, true to the principles of religious and civil liberty and true to our God, our destiny shall be grand beyond present conception.

This nation belongs to God and must be developed and cultivated for him. How shall this be done? We should base our plans and hopes for the future upon the principles of Eternal Truth. The reason for this course is, "The truth of the Lord endureth forever."

God's truth is eternal and immutable. He who trusts this truth with his heart and obeys it in his life, shall never be confounded. "Righteousness exalteth a nation, while sin is a reproach to any people." Hence our prosperity and happiness in the future, as in the past, will be in proportion to our confidence in, and obedience to, the principles of the "truth of the Lord." "The truth of the Lord endureth forever!" We all know much of change; but O! how little of immutability! We are subjects of mutation. All earthly things are mutable. There are changes in our bodies and in our souls. There are changes in States and nations. These are born, grow, mature and flourish, and then droop and die. The vast globe, hanging upon nothing in space, is a vast panorama of variableness and change. It is rolling rapidly forward, through time, to some grand consummation in the distant future, bearing upon its bosom twelve hundred millions of human beings, and launching millions of souls every year into the great ocean of eternity. O! how rapidly human souls from this State and nation are pressing on to the beyond! There are forty millions of people in these United States. In thirty three years from to day they will have crossed the river of death. More than a million will die every year. More than eighty thousand every month. Three thousand every day. One hundred and twenty five every hour! Where are all these souls? They are gone—but whither? Gone to a just reward. O! where shall we search for things that change not? Shall we look to monuments of marble and brass, that pillow their heads on the bosom of the clouds and deck their brows with the fingers of the rainbow? Monuments, that have been erected to tell the story of national greatness to future generations, and mark the fleeting existence of their builders? The passing ages shall write the sentence of decay and ruin on their cold foreheads. Shall we turn our eyes toward the rolling earth beneath our feet? This mighty globe shall reel and stagger like a drunken man, and shall be removed like a cottage. Shall we look up to the sun, moon and stars, that gild with glory, the vast concave of heaven? The stars from heaven shall fall, the moon shall stream with blood and the sun shall go out in darkness. Where shall we look for stability?—O! is there no place of rest? No foundation upon which to plant our feet and stay our hearts? Yes, blessed be God, there is—"The truth of the Lord endureth forever." "All flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass; the grass withereth and the flower thereof falleth away; but the word of the Lord endureth forever." Here, then, is the solid rock—the immutable basis.—Resting here, we may sing:

"Now let our cheerful eyes survey,
The blazing earth and melting hills;
O! Lord, we smile to see the lightnings play,
And dash along before thy chariot wheels."

The principles of God's eternal truth, made known in the Bible, upon which he administers the affairs of his government in relation to States and nations, men and angels, cannot change. His promises to all these shall be fulfilled, and his threatened punishments shall be executed. We must build individual and national character upon the principles of God's enduring truth, or we shall build in vain. The character thus builded, alone shall stand and prosper. In order to build thus, we must see clearly man's nature and destiny. We must comprehend the grand truth that man has a moral and spiritual nature, and that his mental and physical nature must be held in subordination to this higher nature. In this way only can the true interests of Church and State be promoted. Faith, in the eternal truth must be clear sighted, active and unwavering.—Such faith will work wonders; and this is the grand principle that, as a people, we should cultivate. This faith will produce mighty results.—This made Abraham the "father of the faithful." This caused Moses to "choose affliction with the people of God." This enabled Columbus to cross the Atlantic and mark out a path-way over the deep for the footsteps of Europe. This caused Washington and his brave compatriots to throw off the yoke of oppression; and enabled them to march, with bleeding feet over frozen hills, to victory and national independence. John Wesley believed the truth, and this faith sent him forth into the world a missionary; and now millions bear the name of Methodism on earth, besides those to glory gone. A proper belief of the truth arms man with courage to live and work and die. "We believe, therefore we speak" and work and sing live and die. A firm conviction of the truth, as it is in Jesus, arms a man for the great battle of life. Gives him courage to stand alone, if necessary, in her defense. Enables him to pluck out a right eye, cut off a right hand or foot, rather than sin. Helps him to stand with his foot on the neck of the world, and with the sword of the Spirit unsheathed, ready to cleave off the head of the "old serpent" in whatever shape he may appear.

"Beholdest thou yonder, on the crystal sea,
Beneath the throne of God an image fair,
And in its hand a mirror large and bright?
'Tis truth, immutable, eternal truth,
In figure emblematic expressed.
Before it virtue stands, and smiling sees,
Well pleased in her reflected soul, no spot,
The sons of heaven, archangel, seraph, saint,
There daily read their own essential worth,
And as they read, take place among the just
Or high, or low, each as his value seems.
There each his certain interest learns, his true
Capacity; and going thence, pursues,
Unerringly, through all the tracks of thought,
As God ordains, best ends by wisest means."

Now the Bible holds this mirror's place on earth and reveals truth full-orbed and eternal in Jesus Christ.—Hence it is written—"In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God and the Word was God." This eternal word is the "brightness of the Father's glory and the express image of his person."—And he is the "true light which lighteth every man that cometh into the world." Whosoever shuts his eyes to this great light must walk in darkness. "For this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil." But light makes manifest, and this "Sun of Righteousness" shall continue to pour down his burning rays upon the great heart of the world until all its vileness shall stand disclosed.

"Murder, deceit, revenge, sedition, pride,
Adultery, envy, discord, fratricide,
Gaming, dueling, stealing, idleness,
Brawling, lying, hypocrisy, excess,
Slander, oppression, fraud, idolatry,
Blasphemy, trespass, anger, luxury,
Reveling, drunkenness, emulation,
Unbelief, covetousness, fornication,
Rebellion, robbery, fighting, perjury,
Railing, hatred, strife and forgery."

All these demoniac passions and principles are born and nourished in the fallen heart. There they rage and reign and rule, and Satan is supreme.

"To quell this rage, and awe these refractory foes,
High tribunals sit; hence comes the doom,
The frightful gallows and inglorious tomb;
Hence dreary prisons rise, and castles strong
To hive the wretches, and suppress the wrong."

Jesus Christ came to "destroy the works of the devil," and with the light of truth, chase the last demon out of the heart of man, wash it in his cleansing blood, and beautify it with the blessed principles of his kingdom of grace and glory.

He is faithful and true, and his sanctifying truth shall endure and triumph. "Every good gift, and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom there is no variableness, neither shadow of turning;" and all these good and perfect gifts come down to fallen man through the atonement of Christ and are embraced in the principles and operations of his kingdom and reign.

For all these we should thank God. As citizens of a great nation we should take the cup of salvation, and with grateful hearts call upon God, and strive to lead pure and holy lives.—Inasmuch as "righteousness exalteth a nation," we are bound by the principles of eternal truth to do all in our power to win the erring back to the "obedience of the truth." We are bound, therefore, by our "work of faith and labor of love," to seek the good of the whole nation. We should send up earnest and devout prayers for the conversion and salvation of our chief rulers. Pray that their hearts and lives may be under divine influence and direction;—that they may rule in righteousness—and that under such rule, the advancing prosperity of our State and nation may be secured and perpetuated. As a people, we should "hear the voice of the rod," and properly comprehending its instructions, start out on a course of ever widening prosperity and glory. Remembering that "sin is a reproach to any people," and learning wisdom by the punishments which have been visited upon us, we should forsake all sin and illustrate before the eyes of all men the excellencies of Eternal Truth. Let us pray that the fires of truth and love may flash their light and influence through our minds and hearts, and [illegible] and stimulate all our powers in [illegible] and now [illegible] God's cross [illegible] ing and favor alone can save us as a nation, and preserve to us and our posterity the blessings of civil and religious liberty. God's favor can only be secured to us as a people on the condition of obedience to truth—the truth set forth in the Bible and embodied in Christ. Here in the Bible we find the only basis of liberty. The perfect principle of reciprocity is the foundation of religious and civil liberty; and this principle is clearly revealed only in the Bible. Liberty, then, rests upon the revealed "truth of the Lord." Hence we must receive and obey the principles of eternal truth if we would preserve our glorious heritage. "Some trust in chariots, and some in horses;" but if we would hand down to future generations, civil and religious liberty unimpaired, we must "remember the name of the Lord our God," and reverence and obey his immutable truth. It is true Greece and Rome were Republics,—but they were so only in name—the people were ruled by demagogues. And these, so called republics were, by their miserable demagogues, overthrown. If we forget God and refuse to obey his truths—and yield ourselves to the will of lying demagogues, we shall certainly be destroyed. Wealth may fortify cities, equip and muster armies and create navies; but wealth cannot perpetuate liberty. Greece and Rome had great wealth and they died. Knowledge is good; but mere intelligence—the cultivation of the head, has no preserving influence. The greatest scoundrels on earth are [illegible], their intellects have been cultivated. Greece and Rome were educated—they had knowledge. Power cannot perpetuate liberty. This may be wielded by the devil. Liberty can only be maintained and perpetuated, when truth and virtue rule in the heads and hearts of the people. "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind, and thy neighbor as thyself." Here is the only foundation of liberty. Here is the grand principle of reciprocity. This alone can bind together. When a man receives this divine teaching in his mind and heart, and obeys it in his life, then he is a virtuous man—his character is a virtuous character. 'If the son shall make you free, then shall you be free indeed.' Virtuous character and the freedom which results from it is the production of the 'truth of the Lord.' Now if all would love and obey God up to the full measure of Christ's requirement, all would be free—and yet all would be dependent on God, and on each other. The 'truth of the Lord'—the Bible, then is the Palladium of civil, as well as of religious liberty. The Bible—as its eternal truths are preached and believed—keeps the fires of liberty burning. Withdraw the Bible from the masses of our people, and liberty would be throttled and put to death.

"Behold our Rock! the book inspired by Heaven,
With wonders fraught to rule the nations given.
Truth's ancient fort, the source of sacred lore,
Where oracles declaim, loud trumpets roar,
And bards take fire, whose sweeping numbers flow
High as the heavens, and deep as hell below,
In efforts all, the thoughts in diction bound.
Replete with life; truth swells in every sound!
Terrific now—now soft as zephyrs warm.
As thunder grand, impressive as the storm,
Tears rain on tears, and groan replies to groan,
It warms the soul—Tenlightens morials came,
Prophetic fire, that sets the world on flame,
Great boon of heaven! of complicative design.
A chain unbroken all, and all divine,
To measure duty's ground where all should run.
The world's discordant faith's to bind in one.
To draw all minds with mutual force of love.
And all concentrate to the throne above."

O! let us love and cherish the divine Book! We should mark the man or set of men, who would seek to prevent the free and general circulation of this Book of God. We thank God to day, that we have the Bible. We thank God for our wonderful facilities for the circulation of the Holy Scriptures. We thank God, that we have the privilige to study and proclaim the divine will to mankind. We thank God for the liberty this Bible has given us. We thank God for the confidence we have, that liberty cannot die, in the presence of an open Bible, free speech, and a free press. We praise God for all temporal and spiritual blessings, and for the hope of heaven.

'Praise the Lord all ye nations: praise him all ye people. For his merciful kindness is great toward us: and the truth of the Lord endureth for ever. Praise ye the Lord."

A Telegram from Heaven

Sometime ago a young man was employed as a clerk in a telegraph office, in a town in England. In some way or other God had led him to see that he was a sinner, and this caused him great distress of mind. Like the poor lamb in the Swiss mountains he felt that he had wandered from God's fold, and was a lost sheep. But he could not tell where to find the shepherd, or how to get back to his fold. But Jesus, "the great Shepherd of the sheep," was willing and ready to find him and bring him back.

The young man went to the office one morning in great distress of mind, from the burden of his sins. He was lifting up his heart in secret, and saying, "God be merciful to me a sinner," when the click of the telegraph machine before him told that a message was coming. He looked and saw that it came from Windermere, up among the beautiful lakes of England.—There was first the name and residence of the person for whom the telegram was sent. And then followed these words from the Bible:—"Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sins of the world. In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace." Then followed the name of the person sending it. This was a strange message to send by telegraph. The explanation of it was this: the telegram was sent to a servant girl living in that town. She was in distress about her sins, and trying to find Jesus. She had a brother who was a Christian. He was a servant in the family of a gentleman who was spending the Summer at the lakes. This poor girl had written to her brother telling him about the trouble she was in, and asked him the great question, "What must I do to be saved?" Her brother had no time to write to her just then, so he sent her this telegram. The poor girl found her way to Jesus through those sweet words from her brother. And so did that young man in the telegraph office. This was a telegram from heaven to him. Those precious words—"the Lamb of God," "sin put away," "redemption through his blood,"—brought him to Jesus, and he found peace in him. Here we see "the good Shepherd" making use of the telegraph wire to bring one of his lost sheep back to himself.

CONSTITUTION OF SUNDAY SCHOOL MISSIONARY SOCIETIES.—Quite a number of inquiries come to the secretaries in reference to a form of constitution for such societies.

We would recommend that the whole school be considered members of the society—the teachers a board of managers. Let the society elect say, the pastor president, the superintendent vice president, one of the members secretary, another treasurer. Place one of our juvenile cards, or one ruled to suit the views of the board of managers, in the hands of a member of each class elected by the class; let the collector so elected get a subscription from each member of the class, and any other friends not members of the church—collections to be made monthly. Say once a quarter hold a meeting of the society; let the collector from each class, as the class is called by the secretary, advance to the treasurer's table, hand in the card, with names attached. Let the money collected accompany the card—that from the infant class in a box, from the other classes in envelops. Let the treasurer keep a record of the names and amounts in a well-bound book. After the cards and money have been handed in let there be singing and speeches from juvenile and adult members previously selected, followed, if the audience justifies, by a collection. This is simple, and, if earnestly worked, will be found effective.

J. B. McFERRIN,
D. C. KELLEY,
Secretaries.

Love to Jesus

When Dr Waddell was preaching one Sabbath, at Portsmouth, Va., a ship came into port, of which the master and two of the men were Christians. Learning that the blind preacher was conducting a service, they made their way to the place, but found the crowd such that they could only press their way into one of the aisles. The sermon was from the words of Christ to Peter. Towards the close the preacher appealed to the audience: "Who of you can say, 'Lord, thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee?' Who?' The deepest silence prevailed; but the heart of one of the sailors was full: he could not restrain himself and exclaimed in thrilling tones, 'Lord, thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee!' The congregation was melted to tears.

THE world draws the heart from God; and the more the love of the world prevails, the more the love of God decays.

The Rope of Faith.

'Brethren, I am now going to show you how a poor sinner is saved by grace: and I am sure many of you have been so saved. Let us take the case of a miserable man in the pains of conviction. He is, we will suppose, down at the bottom of the pit of despair. Now let us ask him how he got there, and how he means to get up.' Then, leaning over the pulpit to the right hand, the preacher curved his mouth to it, and, as if speaking spoke aloud this imaginary colloquy, as from the surface down through the pit shaft, after the manner of the 'banksman' at the colliery:

'Hallo! hallo! Who's down there?'

'O minister, a poor sinner—a miserable sinner.'

'How came you there, my poor brother? How came you there?'

'My load of sin weighed me down, and I fell deeper and deeper.'

'O wretched man that you are, how do you mean to get up?'

'I shall never get up. I am lost! lost forever! I've been trying ever so long to climb up by the side of the shaft, but cannot—I fall down again.'

'You cannot succeed of yourself. I'll send you down the rope of faith. Lay hold of that and you will be got out. Cling to it, cling to it. Here it is: (imitating the paying out of a rope.) Lay hold of the only hope set before you. Have you got hold now?'

'I'm so feeble I can hardly grasp it; but I think I have got a good grip now.'

'Then pull ahoy! Let us help this poor sinner up. Oh, how heavy he is! Why, what have you got besides yourself hanging on the rope?'

'Only a few good works of my own.'

'Good works! good works! Throw them down. Down with them or they'll break the rope.'

'Well, if I must I must; but sure they would do me some good.'

The preacher continued to represent the lifting but suddenly stopped as if his arm had received a check, exclaiming to the imaginary accendant: 'Why, what is the matter with you now? What are you struggling with?'

'Doubts and fears, sir. I am afraid I cannot hold on.'

'Lay firmer hold of the rope. Doubts and fears are nothing to strong faith. But what now? Trembling again? What is it now?'

'A great fight of afflictions, master, and I cannot hold on.'

'Hold on, sinner, hold on. You'll come out of the afflictions. But what is this? Shaking again? What can be the matter now?'

'Strong temptations, master. Oh, I shall fall! I'm falling! Oh, help me! Oh, help me!'

'So we will. But ah! what dreadful thing has happened now? The weight is three times as great. What a horrible noise! What have you got there?'

'It's the devil himself has gripped me. He is gripping me hard. O minister, I'm lost! I'm lost!'

Hereupon the excitement in the congregation became intense. Women wept, men rose up, and the minister, seizing his opportunity, continued:

'Now, lads, let us all pray and pull together. This poor sinner is in great danger. But satan cannot long buffet him. The great Captain is with us, and he is too strong for demon and devil.'

Straining with the lifting of the imaginary load, the preacher greatly excited himself as well as his hearers. Finally he appeared to succeed in bringing the imperiled and hard-gripped penitent to the surface. Then with great effort he uttered the words: 'Lads, he's safe! He is saved! There he is! The rope of faith never broke yet, and I know it wouldn't break now.'—Dr. Guthrie.

MARK OF A GENTLEMAN.—No man is a gentleman who without provocation would treat with incivility the humblest of his species. It is a vulgarity for which no accomplished dress or address can ever atone. Show us the man who desires to make every one around him happy, and whose greatest solicitude is never to give cause of offence to any one, and we will show you a gentleman, by nature and by practice, though he may never have worn a suit of broadcloth nor ever heard of a lexicon. We are proud to say for the honor of our species there are men in every throb of whose heart there is a solicitude for the welfare of mankind, and whose every breath is perfumed with kindness.

THE knowledge is small which we have on earth concerning those things that are done in heaven; notwithstanding, this much we know even of saints in heaven: that they pray.—Hooker.

One hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars is what the Episcopal Church of the Ascension in Washington cost. It was opened for service recently. It is a fine building.

Think.

Thought engenders thought. Place one idea upon paper—another will follow it, and still another, until you have written a page. You cannot fathom your mind. There is a well of thought there which has no bottom. The more you draw from it, the more clear and fruitful it will be. If you neglect to think yourself, and use other people's thoughts, you [illegible] know what you are capable of. [illegible] first your ideas may come out lumps, homely and shapeless; but no matter, time and perseverance will arrange and polish them. Learn to think, and you will learn to write.—The more you think, the better you will express your ideas.

A Word to the Wise

Christian women, do not begin the new year by putting an occasion to stumble in a brother's way. Do not tempt your guests with wine. Give them a cordial welcome, your kindest wishes, your brightest smiles, and whatever of "good cheer" your hearts may prompt; but offer them nothing which can by any possibility be a destruction and a snare. Let not your deeds belie your words, and make for any of your friends an unhappy New Year.

Waste Basket.

The man who would like to see you—the blind man.

Always getting things down to a fine point—the needle maker.

'Hail, gentle Spring!' says Thompson; and gentle spring hailed and snowed, too.

Why is a pig the most provident of aninals?—Because he always carries a spare-rib or two about him.

How many grains of common sense go to one scruple? How many scruples of conscience go to one dram.

'I'm married now,' was the excuse a Chicago youth gave a florist for not buying as many [illegible] mer years.

The earliest art students made arrow heads. Some of the latest art students make chuckleheads.

'Courtship is bliss,' said an ardent young man. 'Yes, and matrimony is blister,' snarled an old bachelor.

'I stand upon the soil of freedom!' cried a stump-orator. 'No,' exclaimed the shoemaker; 'you stand in a pair of boots that have never been paid for.'

'Mamie,' said a mother to a little six-year old, 'If I was a little girl like you I would pick up all those [chips.' 'Well, mamma,' said the little one, 'aint you glad you are not a little girl?'

Over the porch of the Old South Church at Boston is chiselled: "Behold! I have set before you an open door," and under, on the door, is printed in emphatic letters. 'Positively no admittance.'

'Now my little boys and girls," said a teacher, 'I want you to be very still—so that you can hear a pin drop.' In a moment all was silent, when a little boy cried out, 'Let her drop!'

'Yes, he may be a good scholar, and all that, but he can't pass a beer saloon,' was what a literary gentleman remarked of another on the street yesterday.

The shortest way the best—Mamma (to Ethel, on their way to the latter's first party)—'Now, mind, darling, if you see any nice things on the table that you'd like to eat, you musn't ask for then. Ethel—'O, no, mamma!—I'll take them.'—Punch.

A noble fellow that tramp was who returned a five dollar bill he said he had found in an old vest a Norwich gentleman had given him. His honesty was rewarded with a one dollar bill, and the next day the five turned out to be a counterfeit.—New York Comercial Advertiser.

THE Irishman had a perfect appreciation of business who, being asked by the judge, when he applied for a license to sell whisky, if he was of good moral character, replied: 'Faith, I don't see the necessity of a good moral character to sell whisky.'

IT HAS been ascertained that Lake Aral, in Asia, is 242 feet higher than the Caspian sea, 157 feet higher than the Black sea. Heretofore Lake Aral was supposed to be only 27 feet higher than the Black sea.

LET it not be imagined that the life of a good Christian must necessarily be a life of melancholy and gloominess; for he only resigns some pleasures to enjoy others infinitely greater —Pascal.

Dr. Leifchild gave to a theological student the following rules for preaching:

"Begin low,
Go on slow;
Rise higher,
And take fire;
When most impressed,
Be self-possessed;
At the end, wax warm,
And sit down in a storm."

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE- Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev J. B Robbitt, } Editors.
R. T Gray, Esq. }

RATES OF SUBSORIPTION:

ORDINARY, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID, $2.20
IN MONTHS, 1.35
If payment be delayed six months, 2.00

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Editors of the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

RALEIGH, N. C., JANUARY 26, 1876.

The Cross (X) Mark is to remind you that your subscription has expired. Let all renew promptly.

The Centennial

This is an important year to our [illegible] its march it has reached a [illegible] since it was taken retrospect [illegible] course it has traversed and the [illegible] has accomplished, for a century past. Nations have their birthdays, like men, which they celebrate with pompons show and joy and feasting. Like men, they have a touch of vanity, when their birth-days come around, and consider that a good thing happened for the world when they were born. Hence their spirits rise and the ringing of bells and the booming of guns awake their people to cheerful thoughts of the past, present and future of their country. The celebrations that have occurred on each recurring anniversary of the natal day of our nation, for the last ninety years, culminate this year in a grand jubilee of national rejoicing. The thoughts of the people will be turned to the small beginnings of our Republic and will dwell with pride upon its onward progress. Poets will celebrate in verse and statesmen in finished speech, the struggles of those who fought for and founded our government as the home of liberty, the asylum of the oppressed, the world's City of Refuge. Chroniclers will array before the eyes of the world the events which have proved our nation to be great and vigorous, and statisticians will arrange long columns of facts and figures to show what resources and riches even partial developments have proven our country to possess, and how rapidly it is rising above the plane on which other nations stand.

It is right and proper that our people should thus celebrate the hundredth [illegible] of the nation. It will have a good effect upon both other peoples and our own. It will stimulate others to emulate the good which our nation manifests, and show to our own people what to avoid and what to pursue in the future.

This is a Centennial year not only of our national existence and therefore an important one to all; but to North Carolina Methodists it is especially interesting in that it is the centennial anniversary of organized Methodism in the State.

Since the time that "Carolina Circuit" was first established and the preachers came to penetrate its roadless swamps and forests and to preach the gospel to its scattered population, great things have been accomplished whereof we should be glad and be comingly proud. The one circuit has become a hundred and more under the supervision then of one Conference, it is now embraced and cared for by three distinct annual Conferences. Then there were no church-buildings, and the preacher spoke in the log houses of the settlers, in barns and forests, at any time and under any circumstances wherever and whenever he could find an audience to receive his message. Now in every village and neighborhood, in cities and town, are seen humble and stately temples erected to the worship of God by the people called Methodists Then, it was only occasionally, and at long intervals, that the preaching of the gospel could be heard and instructions in holy things received by the people. Now the church door is nearly always open and the pulpit rings almost constantly with the promises and threats of the divine law. In that portion of the territory comprised in the N. C. Conference we have three Methodist colleges and Methodist schools without number, ranking with the best and patronized well—a proof to the world that Methodists appreciate and desire to extend the benefits of liberal education.

God has indeed prospered us, both in numbers and influence, and it is but right that we, the descendants and followers of those whose toils the century past has seen, should fittingly commemorate the triumphs which, by the blessing of God, crowned their work. We celebrate this centennial year not in the spirit of boasting pride, but rather in the spirit of thanksgiving,—giving praise to God for what has been accomplished and invoking his blessings for the future.

The centennial meeting in March promises to be an occasion of pleasure and profit. It is not intended simply as a time of rejoicing over the progress and present state of Methodism in North Carolina. But it is intended also to revive and encourage our people for future work. In the language of Bishop Marvin we trust that "the religious feature will be emphasized."

Subscribe for the ADVOCATE. Price $2.20 per annum, postage paid.

The Chinese.

One Mr. Luttrell, a member of the House of Representatives in Congress, last week introduced a bill which forbids the naturalization of Chinese. We do not know where Mr. Luttrell hails from, but opine that he comes from some quarter where the "heathen Chinee" by his shrewdness, industry, and cheap labor has excited the jealousy and hatred of his Caucasian brethren. Wherever the Chinese have gone, they have shown themselves to be industrious and law abiding. And though they cling to the superstitions which their religion teaches and to some absurd customs of their social life, still they have not shown themselves to be proof against the precepts of a higher religion and the demands of a higher civilization. They are, comparatively, a new element of our population, but they have shown no less a disposition or capacity for living and acting as civilized people than any other class similarly situated. [illegible] other class of people should be [illegible] the right of becoming naturalized citizens and of exercising the privileges which that relation affords, is inexplicable to us. The framers of the Declaration of Independence and of our Constitution, boasted of America as the asylum—the city of refuge for the nations,—where all oppressed people might find a home and safety, and where honest toil and industry might acquire fortune and position, for those who employed them. They declared all men to have been created "free and equal" and when they erected the government provided for the enjoyment of its privileges by all its citizens and by foreigners after certain conditions precedent should be fulfilled, such as the acquirement of a fixed domicile by a residence of a certain term of years, the taking the oath of allegiance, etc. To invite the crowding populations of other countries to come to this land of plenty and safety, and then withhold from some of them the privileges which are extended to others, is a discrimination not warranted by fair dealing and justice. John Chinaman may be a heathen, it is true—but it ought to be expected that in this land of gospel light and with new associations and influences, he will become a Christian. And if he should remain a heathen his right to be naturalized ought not to be denied him as long as there is no law preventing atheists, infidels and blasphemers from holding office and selecting others as rulers.

We cannot beat away from our [illegible] of immigration that yearly land thousands of Chinese and representatives of other nations. They will come—and come to stay: and it behooves us to elevate them to as high a plane as we can and to make that element of our population useful and respectable—obedient to law and the demands of good morals. We cannot better do this than by making them citizens, possessing the rights of other citizens, after having conformed to the conditions which, as a safeguard, our naturalization laws have interposed between foreigners and the rights of American citizenship.

Press the Canvass

Now that the preachers have all reached their fields of labor, and as they are, during this pleasant weather, mingling freely with the people, we trust they will use every possible effort to get subscribers for the ADVOCATE. Nothing will pay better financially and spiritually than to influence all your people to take our Conference organ.

We earnestly insist that our ministers and laymen will keep the Centennial department of the paper properly filled. The centennial mass meeting to be held in this city on the 21st of March bids fair to be a grand success.

NOTICE.

The Minutes are about ready for distribution. Will all who contributed for their publication advise us of the amount they paid and the office to which they wish them sent?

We have on hand Quarterly Conference Blanks, which we will forward to those who desire to be supplied.

Bro. J. F. Smoot is at Cool Springs, Iredell county, in principal charge of an Academy at that place which, he writes, has fine prospects.

The New York Methodist says:—"Dr. John Hall does not believe in 'children's services,' as such: but wisely prefers that every service should have some adaptation to their wants The Congregationalist suggests that, if there are children in this good man's household, they do not eat with the servants, nor at a second table."

The Evangelist says of the mission work: "The Papacy has had grand opportunities in nearly all the great nations, but it is safe to say that Protestant missions have done more for the world in the last fifty years than all the Hierarchy has accomplished in two centuries."

A sound head, a simple heart, and a spirit dependent on Christ, will suffice to conduct us in every variety of circumstances.

Who Can Say?

Who feeds the Preacher's family for the first month in the year?

UNO.

An Effective Reproof

Royal lips ought to excel in politeness and gracious words, for rulers may govern their subjects by example no less than by authority. They need to rule themselves and their tempers to prove their right to control others. Rumor has said ugly things of Victoria in recent times, but the following incident in her early reign was beautiful:

When Queen Victoria was about thirty years younger than she is now she was inclined to be very exact in the way of business, and more especially in the way of promptness to appointed times and places. Seven years a queen, four years a wife and three years a mother, she felt probably a more weighty dignity resting upon her than she has felt since.

And yet no exact of dignity or royal station could ever shut out her innate goodness of heart. All the time of which we speak the Duchess of Sutherland held the office of mistress of the robes of the British Queen, and [illegible] occasions her position was deemed of great importance. A day and an hour had been appointed for a certain public ceremony in which the Queen was to take part.

The hour had arrived, and of all the court the duchess alone was absent, and her absence retarded the departure. The Queen gave vent more than once to her impatience, and at length, just as she was about to enter the carriage without her first lady of honor, the duchess, in breathless haste, made her appearance, stammering some faint words of excuse

"My dear duchess," said the Queen, smiling, "I think you must have a bad watch." And as she thus spoke she unloosed from her neck the chain of a magnificent watch which she herself wore, and passed it around the neck of Lady Sutherland.

Though given as a present, the lesson conveyed with it made a deep and lasting impression. The proud duchess changed color, and a tear, which she could not repress, fell upon her cheek. On the next day she tendered her resignation, but it was not accepted It is said that ever afterward she was, if anything, more punctual than the Queen herself.

1776

BY R. F. HUMPASS.

The following reminiscence was related by a septegenarian, who received it from the lips of the Rev. Thomas Sparkes I do not know that it has ever appeared in print; but as I send it for publication, thinking it will be of peculiar interest to many in this our centennial year, as bringing to lively contrast the dangers of our early, with the pleasures of a later itineracy. Surely our fathers have labored, and we enjoy the fruits of their labors.

I cannot give accurately the date or locality, but it was well nigh a century ago, when Phillip Gatch and Thomas Sparkes, were assigned to a circuit somewhere within the bounds of the present Virginia or North Carolina Conference. Within the boundary of this circuit, there was a community nestled in the bend of a river, where the people were so wicked that the place was familiarly known as "Hell's Neck.' A widow woman living there permitted the ministers to preach in her barn. Here, after an interval of two weeks, these heralds of the cross came to proclaim their Master's will. It was not long however, before certain sons of Belial were stirred up against them, and threatened to do them personal violence if they ever set foot upon "Hell's Neck" again. Sparkes heard of the threat, and met Gatch as he was on his way to fill his appointment, and informed him of it. After serious meditation and prayer, Gatch asked the question, "Shall we give them up to die in their sins?" Sparkes replied: "If you will go, I'll go with you." "By the grace of God I'll go," said Gatch. At the narrow strip of land across which they were to enter "Hell's Neck," three ruffian's awaited them, armed with whips, tar and feathers. As the men of God approached, they leaped from their ambush, seizing the bridle of the horse on which Phillip Gatch rode, one of them threw tar upon his forehead, and dashed a handful of feathers upon it. By a sudden turn of his horse Gatch succeeded in getting away, while Sparkes received forty lashes, save one. They rode away into the village, and Gatch binding a handkerchief around his brow, proclaimed the gospel to the crowd that had assembled. These ruffians followed them up to see what would become of them, and one of them was powerfully converted to God, while Gatch was preaching; a second one they left at the altar: and the third soon afterwards joined the army, and they never knew what became of him.

In the prosecution of the enterprises of life, if we fail to manifest the fruits of righteousness—if we do not ever have in view the advancement of God's cause (the manifestation of his glory), what is our just deserts? Banishment from the presence of God and from associations with angels.

If our faith stops in Christ's life, and do not fasten upon the blood, it will not be a justifying faith. His miracles, which prepared the world for his doctrines; his holiness, which fitted himself for his sufferings, had been insufficient for us without the addition of the cross.

Centennial.

MESSRS EDITORS: I have received letters from Dr. L. Pierce, Bishop Wightman and Bishop Marvin, in reference to our Centennial Celebration in Raleigh, N. C., March 21st, 1876.

Bishop Marvin accepts the invitation of the "Committee of Arrangements," and will be with us. The Theme—assigned the Bishop by the committee: "Methodism—its revival History," is an interesting one. Who, that has ever heard Bishop Marvin preach, will not be anxious to hear him on this grand theme? We shall also expect him to preach for us.

REV. L. PIERCE, D. D.

We greatly desired to have this venerable servant of God with us.—Our people generally, had rather see and hear Dr. Pierce than any other man in the Church. The Doctor writes us a long four page letter, filled with the spirit of Christian love and affection; but he cannot be with us—He says: "I take it for granted my N C. friends did not know I had lost my voice, so that I am seldom able to pray in the family. [illegible] have made but one outstanding appointment in two years; but filled other men's places nearly every Sabbath." " " "And now, as to N. C. How glad I would be, to be in it, at this Centennial Jubilee. I was born in Halifax county, N. C., near Roanoke River, March 24th, 1735—So, you see, my 92d birth day will come off the last day of your Centennial Celebration. I was removed to S C. when a child. Was raised in Barn well District. Heard my first Methodist sermon in August 1801, by James Jenkins—was awakened under it, and converted in August 1803. Admitted as a traveling preacher in the S. C. Conference in Charleston, Christmas week, 1804; and traveled Great Pee Dee and Lynche's Creek circuit in 1805 That was the nearest I ever got to N. C., although half of it was in my Conference. They stuck me down in Georgia as a young P. E. in 1809 So I have given 67 years out of my 71 in the ministry to my dear old Georgia. S. C. got 1805 and 1808. And Alabama, in Montgomery, 1842, and in Mobile, 1843. All the balance here. They still keep me on the effective list—the greatest honor of my life. It is for what I have been—and not for what I am now. My dear native State has only got a few picked up sermons. Raleigh, I think, got one or two small efforts in 1840. But I can hope, by the time her second Centennial comes round, she will be all Methodists I am now getting afraid of things that are high. Stand night traveling badly—cannot take care of myself. But I am bent upon fulfilling my place next May as one of your fraternal messengers to the M. E. C. General Conference at Baltimore."

Grand old man! May God spare his life, and enable him to be at Baltimore next May!

BISHOP WIGHTMAN, D. D.

The Bishop says: "On returning from the Florida Conference, I find your note of the 7th inst. inviting me to attend your Centennial of N. C. Methodism in Raleigh. I feel the kindness and the compliment of this invitation. It would afford me special gratification to be present on an occasion of so much interest, and to contribute anything in my power to the ends contemplated. But being unaware of the time, or place, or programme, I have made already, my arrangements for meetings, in five different Conferences belonging to my Epis. District, extending, with only a brief interval between, from Feb. to July. These arrangements are fixed and the parties notified, and I cannot disappoint them.

I sincerely wish that your celebration may be a great success, inaugurating a century of evangelical labors and triumphs in the Old North State, unparalleled in the past, over which posterity and eternity itself shall utter loftiest praises to God."

Words fitly spoken. We regret that our dear Bishop Wightman cannot be with us. His letter shows him to be a "working Bishop." "Meetings in five Conferences!" We thank the Bishop for his good wishes. Let us try to make our centennial celebration what the Bishop wishes it to be. May the great Head of the Church help us!

L. S. BURKHEAD,
For Com. of Arrangements.

Every minister owes it to himself, to his hearers, and to the Master he serves, to make the best possible preparation for his pulpit labors. It is a shame that any minister should attempt to preach, under any ordinary circumstances, without the most careful arrangement of his thoughts.—Such neglect indicates an intolerable self-conceit, or a great contempt for the intelligence of his hearers; and generally both these evils. No learning, no experience, no popularity, and no success can justify, or even excuse, a minister for preaching, except from necessity, without the most earnest efforts to be in readiness for the work.

The New York Christian Advocate says: The Rev, Wm. M'Lendree Walsh, a member of the Baltimore Conference, and preacher of Hedgesville Circuit, West Va., died in great Christian assurance and victory Dec. 10, 1875, in the 62d year of his age and the 41st year of his ministry."

The post-office address of Rev. J. Sandford is Cypress Creek, N. C.

Please Help us

It is well known throughout the State that the Methodist Church in Washington was burned during the war. It is also known to many that our people have been trying to rebuild, and they have succeeded in part. The basement has been fitted up in which we worship. The Church proper is still unfinished. These noble people have formed themselves into an association by which they raise a small amount annually for the purpose of finishing their Church, but it will take years to accomplish the long desired object in that way alone. Hence I have headed their appeal with—"Please Help us."

There are no windows in the Church and the boards with which they are planked up, are insufficient to preserve the walls from exposure; consequently the Church is being greatly damaged. We cannot afford to lose what has already been done. The truth is we have arrived at the point at which something must be done, and our friends must help us [illegible] it, and that quickly. Please help us! I propose [illegible] generous send me one dollar each. I know that there are more than a thousand, who can easily respond to such a reasonable proposition. Who will help us; just will to do it, and it is done. Put your hand into your pocket and get out the dollar and send it for ward by the first mail. That would be christian-like—that would be business-like. Don't wait till to-morrow or next week, but act promptly. The dollar you might invest for God to day, may be gone to morrow Who will be the first to send me one dollar?

O, for a shower of Centennial Green Backs to fall into Washington that God may be honored, and our hearts be made glad—glad. "Please help us."

B. B. CULBRETH, Pastor,
Washington, N. C.

P. S. Will all the secular papers of the State, "Please help us" by inserting the above once.

B. B. C.

To the Preachers and Laymen of the Wilmington District.

DEAR BRETHREN: We have entered upon the labors of another year. Important duties must be performed and weighty responsibilities met. Let us see to it that none of the interests of the church in the bounds of our District suffer at our hands.

As pastors, call together your members in the church conference and bring before them all the spiritual and financial interests of your charge. Lay your plans carefully, judiciously, but surely. Look well to the morality of your members. Correct abuses that may exist early in the year. No church can live long without discipline. Revive class meetings. Do not neglect the love feast. Observe Friday preceding each quarterly Conference as a fast day. Begin to raise your collections at an early day, and do not rest until you have received the full amount assessed. Be diligent in securing subscribers for the Advocate. Prepare your people for the college agents, and assist them in raising the required amount to relieve our institutions of learning from debt.

Visit and pray with your people;—see the widows and orphans and aged and poor members of your flock.—Make the invalid's heart rejoice at the sound of the promise, song and prayer.

Above all let us strive to win souls to Christ. We cannot afford to let the children and grand children of those converted to God through the labors of our fathers in the ministry, go down to hell. We must alarm sinners and then cry. "Behold the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world!"

As sentinels on the walls of Zion, do not let the enemy approach without warning the people. "Cry aloud, spare not, lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and show my people their transgressions, and the house of Jacob their sins." Weep between the porch and the altar, and cry, "Spare thy people, O Lord, and give not thine heritage to reproach." Sinners are perishing all around us. Some must be saved by us this year, or they will never be saved. Think of this, dear brethren, and let none go down through your neglect.

Dear Brethren of the Laity, come up to the help of these men of God.—Give them your moral and financial support. Assist them to correct evils which may exist in the church, and do not wait until half of the year has passed ere you begin to give something towards their support. Relieve these messengers of Christ of embarrassment. Let them have time and a heart to work for you and yours.

My brother steward, do not be slow to perform your duty. Urge upon the people the importance of paying something early in the year.

Some have already set a noble example in this respect. Erect a monument in the hearts of your preachers and make a record in your Quarterly Conference journals of the liberality of your people, by paying in full every claim upon you this year.

Get ready, and let us have a glorious centennial year in the bounds of our District. We want old churches repaired or torn down and new ones built. Parsonages repaired and furnished. The debt on our colleges met in full; and a larger amount raised for the Conference claimants than has ever been done in the District.

Be assured, dear brethren, that you will have (D. V.) the time and energies and prayers of your P. E.

Yours fraternally,
W. S. BLACK.

Magnolia, N. C., Jan. 17, 1876

Appointments of the South Carolina Conference

The following are appointments of the preachers at the late session of the South Carolina Conference:

Charleston District.—T E Wannamaker, P E; Charleston: Trinity, G H Wells; Bethel, J T Wightman; Spring Street, W T Capers; Berkeley, S D Vanghan; [illegible] Hoy ct and mis, A G Gantt; Cypress ct, C C Fish [illegible]; St Paul's mis, to be sup; St Georges ct, Wm P Mouzon; Bamberg ct, P F Kistler; Colleton ct, T Raysor, O N Rountree; Walterboro, J E Silley; Allendale, J B Mass[illegible]beau; Black Swamp ct, J W Hunbert; Yemassee ct, G H Pooser; Hardeeville mis, J R Coburn; Okeetee mis, to be sup.

Orangeburg District.—W Martin, P E; Orangeburg sta, J B Campbell; Orangebrug ct, D D Dantzler; Branchville ct, J W McRoy; Providence ct, Wm Hutto; St Matthew's ct, J H Zimmerman; Upper St Matthew's ct, M L Banks; Upper Orange ct, A R [illegible] Simmons; Upper Edisto mis, to be sup; [illegible] ct, A J Canthen; Williston ct, B G Jones; Ellenton ct, J C Bissell; Aiken mis, S H Browne; Graniteville and Langley mis, H A C Walker

Columbia District.—E J Meeadie, P E; Columbia: Washington Street, A Coke Smith; Marion Street, J W Dickson; Columbia ct, Geo M Boyd; Richland Fork ct, C D Rowe; Winnsboro, G W Walker; Blackstock ct, and mis, D W Seale; Fairfield ct, J M Boyd; Chester ct, Thos Mitchell, A C Walker; East Chester ct, J W Kelly; Rock Hill ct, Thos W Munnerlyn; Yorkville sta, J E Carlisle; Yorkville ct, E L Archer, L A Johnson, Sup; Lexington ct, T J Clyde; Leesville ct, J A Clifton; Edgefield ct, G F Round; Columbia Female College, S B Jones, President, A J Stafford, Professor.

Sumter District.—A M Chrietzberg, P E; Sumter sta, R N Wells; Sumter ct, L M Little, J L Stokes; Bishopville ct, S J Hill; Camden, H F Chrietzberg; Sanders ct, J L Shuford; Manning ct, G W Whitman; Lynchburg ct, J B Platte; Timmonsville, W L Pegues; Hebron ct, E M Merritte; Hanging Rock ct, D J McMillan; Lancaster sta, W A Rogers; Lancaster ct, J C Russell, J F England, Sup, Kershaw ct, W W Williams, Marion District.—W H Fleming, P E; Marion sta, A J Stokes; Buck Swamp ct, J C Stol.; Little Rock ct, Fred Auld, J R Little, Sup; South Marlboro ct, J T Kilgo; Bennettsville ct, J M Carlisle, D Z Dantzler; North Marlboro ct, M M Ferguson; Waccamaw ct, and mis, Wm Carson; Bucksville sta, J Walling; Conwayboro sta, G T Harmon; Conwayboro ct, to be sup; Pedee ct, W H Kirton; Marion ct, Wm Thomas.

Florence District.—W C Power, P E; Florence and Liberty, R L Harper; Darlington sta, J O Willson; Darlington ct, L M Hamer; Cheraw sta, D Tiller; Chesterfield ct, J W Murray; Zoar ct, and mis, A Ervine; Lynch's Creek ct, and mis, A Nettles; Kingstree sta, Whiteford S Martin; Johnsonville ct, G W Gatlin; Gourdin and Sampit ct and mis, R L Dnffie; Georgetown sta, Landy Wood; Black River ct, H J Morgan; Lynch's Lake ct, J S Beazley.

Spartanburg District.—H M Mood, P E; Sartanburg sta, J A Porter, R C Oliver, Sup; Gowansville ct, B M Boozer; Cherokee ct, J F Smith; Rich Hill ct, A P Avant; Limestone Spring ct, I J Newberry; Jonesville ct, J B Willson; Union sta, A H Lester; Goshen Hill ct, J E Watson; Belmont ct, M M McKibben; Cane Creek ct, R W Barber; Clinton, W W Jones; Laurens ct, J A Mood, J W Ariail; Wofford College, Whiteford Smith, W Wallace Duncan, Professors, and H A C Walker, Financial Secretary; Editor of Southern Christian Advocate, F M Kennedy; A M Shipp, Professor, Vanderbilt University.

Cockesbury District.—Manning Brown, P E; Cokesbury sta, R D Smart; Cokesbury ct, J B Trawick, T Sumter Daniel; Abbeville sta, W S Whiteman; Abbeville ct, W A Clarke; South Abbeville ct, S P H Elwell; North Edgefield ct and mis, J C Counts; Lowndesville sta; W H Lawton; Tumbling Shoals ct, N R Melton; Greenwood ct, R P Franks; Newberry sta, C H Pritchard; Newberry ct, T G Herbert, L F Beaty; North Newberry ct, E T Hodges; Little Saluda ct, M H Pooser.

Greenville District.—O A Darby, P E; Greenville sta, W D Kirkland; Greenville City and Marietta mis, W H Ariail; Greenville ct, R R Dagnall; Reidville ct, J K McCain, J A Wood, Sup; Fork Shoal ct, John Finger; Williamston and Belton, Samuel A Webber; Brushy Creek ct, J J Workman; Anderson sta, W W Mood; Anderson ct, J J Neville; Central ct, A W Jackson; Sandy Spring ct, J Attaway; Walhalla and Pendleton, A W Walker; Pickens ct, J Q Stockman; Pickens mis, T P Phillips; Seneca City ct, L C Loyal; Cheohee mis, Felix Hartin; Fork ct and mis, C D Mann; Williamston Female College, S Lander, President, S A Webber, Professor.

Although the prayer for a revival is the greatest of all prayers, there is none that Christians are more encouraged to offer. Although the gift of the Holy Ghost is the greatest of all gifts, there is nothing for which Christians are oftener commanded to ask. The reason why Jesus sits on the mediatorial throne, head over all things to the Church, is that believers may be sanctified and sinners converted. All the histories of God's gracious dealings with His people encourage us to pray for revival. All the proclamations of His mercy in the Gospel, all the explanations of the epistles, and all the types of the prophets exhort to this prayer.

The missionaries of India will hold this month a three days' Sunday-school Convention at Allahabad, the first meeting of the king ever held in Asia. All Churches are to participate. It is estimated that there are 150,000 scholars in the mission day schools of India.

Religious Intelligence.

English Unitarian Almanac for 1876 states that there are 348 Unitari an ministers in England, of whom 279 are settled.

Rev. Alphonse Dupont, formerly a Roman Catholic priest, has taken orders at Syracuse in the Episcopal Church.

An English paper says that it is thought in many quarters that the Jews are going to purchase the Holy Land of Turkey, with a view to going there in a body.

The new Chaplain of the House of Representatives wears his gown and bands, kneels on a cushion, and reads from the service of the Episcopal Church.

A telegram from Rome says that the Marquis of Ripon, the English nobleman who recently embraced the Catholic faith, has presented the Pope with £10,000 sterling.

The National Baptist says that "the Christianity that does not make its possessor at least an average moralist is a cheat, that ought to have the mask torn from it." Amen!

Bishop Jermyn has been chosen Bishop of Brechin, Scotland, in place of Bishop Forbes. Dr. Jermyn was consecrated Bishop of Colombo in 1872, but resigned in 1874, owing to bad health.

Rev. Dr. John Thompson, formerly pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian Chapel, New York, has been appointed to the pastorate of the Chapel of the Established Church of Scotland in Rome, Italy, for the next three months.

The President of the Catholic Association of Great Britain, the Duke of Norfolk, calls for subscriptions to aid the persecuted German priests, and heads the paper with $5,000.

The Sultan visits the mosque in Constantinople every Friday, and this custom makes a weekly pageant. Soldiers and gaily dressed civilians line the streets through which he passes, and vehicles are kept ont of the way. A discharge of cannon announces his departure from the palace, and, as he walks along in the midst of his attendants, the spectators cheer lustily.

The Journal de Geneve contradicts a rumor that Father Hyacinthe contemplated a visit to America. He has been pressed to deliver religious addresses there, but is not able to comply this winter, and will give a series of lectures at Lausanne.

A Baptist Union, or Association, in Central New York, has just declared one of its pastors, Rev. Mr. Palmer, unfit to be a pastor of a regular Baptist Church, and excluded him from membership in the Union. Mr. Palmer's defense was that the question was an open one in the denomination, leaving ministers and members at liberty to adopt either restricted or open communion views.

The power and influence of the Brahmins is visibly declining; the extravagances of the system—self-immolation, self-torture, naked and repulsive asceticism—have disappeared, or are disappearing; pilgrimages are yearly less frequent; endowments are rarer; caste rules are relaxed; people are less prepared to make sacrifices of any kind for their belief. The Hindoo is beginning to forget his religion; he has never formerly deposed it, but it is shunned out of sight by the whole routine of the life which we have introduced.

SEVEN WAYS OF GIVING.—One way is to give something to every cause that is presented, without inquiring into its merits. This is a careless way, but better than none.

A second way is to give from impulse, as much and as often as love and pity prompt. This is adapted to those of the rich who are kind-hearted.

A third way is to save the cost of luxuries, and apply them to purposes of religion and charity. This is for the self indulgent. With the frugal it is apt to be accompanied by narrowness, asceticism and pride in good works.

A fourth way is to make a special effort to earn money for benevolent objects. This is for lazy people.

A fifth way is to lay aside, as an offering to God, a definite portion of our gains—one tenth, one fifth, one third or one half. This way is adapted to all, but especially to the penurious, economical, the hard-working, the extravagant and the poor, whose gift would be largely increased if it was generally practiced.

A sixth way is to give to God and the needy just as much as we spend on ourselves.

A seventh way is to limit our own expenditures to a certain sum, and give away all the rest of our income. This was John Wesley's way.

We should not confine ourselves to one way of giving, but practice and teach our children different modes, each in its proper place, as occasion requires.—Presbyterian at Work.

Is that father too much engrossed with the cares of business, too intent in the pursuit of gain, to devote some time to the culture of the mind and the christian training of his little ones? The child will as surely manifest this lack of culture and training.

Does the parent neglect family worship—neglect to call his little ones around the hearth-stone, and bow with reverence to thank God for the blessings of the day—for the care of the dear ones? Then by what standard can the child measure the Christian character of such parents?

A LAMENTABLE OCCURRENCE.—Fayetteville was thrown into a state of excitement on the 15th inst. by the intelligence that Mr. Williamson Whitehead, a respected citizen of that place, had been found on the night previous, in his office, weltering in blood and in a dying condition. The particulars which we glean from the Wike Awake, a Fayetteville newspaper, are as follows: Mr. Whitehead left home in the morning in usual health and spirits, to go to his office. Not having returned home at a late hour in the night, his wife became uneasy, and in company with a little boy went to the office. The door was closed and fastened by a latch. She opened the door and entered, and when in the center of the room stumbled over the form of her husband lying insensible on the floor. She sent for a policeman and a light, and when they arrived with Dr. Robinson it was discovered that there was a pistol shot in front of the left ear. The doctor probed to the depth of six inches without finding the ball. Mr. Whitehead remained in an unconscious condition all night and was removed the next morning to his home, where he lingered until Monday night, the 17th inst. He was about 50 years of age and leaves a wife and several children. The deed is supposed to have been his own act, as he had been depressed for some time on account of pecuniary troubles.

SUPREME COURT.—Opinions have been rendered in the following cases:

By Pearson, C. J.—Joseph H. Ethridge, et. al. vs. Melford Vernoy, from Bertie. Exception overruled and report of clerk confirmed Harriet Small, adm'x, vs Chas. W Small, et. al, from Perquimans. Judgment below affirmed.

By Reade, J.:—J. C. Bellamy vs. J. H. Pippin. from Edgecombe. Judgment affirmed.

Board of Education vs. A. C. Moody, et. al., from Robeson, (3 cases.) Judgment affirmed.

By Rodman, J.:—Henry W. Faison vs. Holstead Bowden, Ex'r from Duplin, Reversed and venire de novo.

Elish Porter vs. D. T. Durham et. al., from New Hanover. Error and reversed.

By Settle, S.:—Amos Wade vs. Commissioners of Craven, from Carteret. Error, proceedings dismissed.

State vs. Peter Downing, from Washington. Affirmed

By Bynum, J.:—S. W. Latham ex parte, from Beaufort. Affirmed.

State vs. Wilmington & Weldon railroad company, from New Hanover. Affirmed.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Rev. Dr. Closs has bought a lot in Ridgeway and will build there.

The store of J. T. Wiggins, in Wilson, was robbed a few nights since of $15 mutilated currency.

The talented wife of Hon. Thos. J. Jarvis will contribute a serial Southern story to the FAR RIVER BEACON, the new Greenville paper.

Two hundred and fifty seven convicts in the Penitentiary.

The man found dead in the river at Wilmington, proves to have been an Irish sailor, who fell into the water when in a very intoxicated condition.

A northern man has purchased a tract of land near Ridgeway, the "Vassilior" place, at $24 per acre.

Blue fish. Newbern Nut Shell: A large amount of blue fish were brought to market yesterday and sold pretty cheap.

The Penitentiary sent fifty convicts to the Spartanburg and Asheville road, and fifty more will go to the Western North Carolina road in a day or two.

The Third Annual Session of North Carolina State Grange will assemble at Greensboro on Tuesday 15th February.

North Carolina has an area of 4,000,000 acres and is 485 miles in length from east to west. It contains 60,704 square miles.

Good farming. Rocky Mount Mail Mr. Wm. R. Carter, of Nash, tells us that on 30 acres he made 35 bales of cotton and that on 54 acres worked by himself and tenants, over 53 bales were made. His whole farm averaged about a bale to the acre.

Mr. Griffith Richardson, of Anson county, was going to Monroe last week with a load of cotton for sale, when his team started to run. He jumped from the wagon, and in doing so fell between the wheels and had one of his legs broken. So says the ENQUIRER.

Albert Guerry is to paint a portrait of Stonewall Jackson, and will probably execute his work at Charlotte, Mrs. Jackson having proffered all materials in her possession for the purpose.

GATTIS & JONES.—J. A. Jones, Esq., has associated himself with Mr. W. A. Gattis in the grain and feed buisness, in the Adams building, in this city. For meal, flour, mill feed, bran, corn, peas, oats, hay, fodder, shucks, and all kinds of horse and cow food, we commend this firm to our readers. They cannot do better than to buy of them. As honorable, and reliable gentlemen, they have established a well merited reputation. The business they are engaged in, and which they propose to continue with enlarged facilities, is one of importance to our citizens, and will supply a need long felt by the people of Raleigh and surrounding county.

The Charlotte OBSERVER is authority for the statement that there were recently 29 deaths in 14 days in Hickory. Disease, diptheria which was confined principally to children.

Allen Carter who murdered Bushrod Lilly, in Stanly county, N, C., in 1867 has been arrested and lodged in jail in Yell county, Arkansas. Governor Brogden was notified of the arrest and appointed W. H. Hearne Sheriff of Stanly, agent of the State to bring the accused to this State for trial.

There are seventy students at Chapel Hill: all of the four classes represented except the Senior,

THE Raw, Blustering Winds of Winter search out the weaknesses of all who are predisposed to Lung Complaints, and in consequence, Colds, Coughs, and Bronchial Disorders everywhere prevail. Those who have contracted Colds should be especially careful, and not imprudently wait until by constant coughing, they so irritate and rack their Lungs as to bring on themselves a very serious Pulmonary Affection. Let them rather treat their symptoms rationally, and at once, and by the prompt use of Dr. Jayne's Expectorant, cure their Colds, and heal all accompanying Soreness of the Chest.

The Christian Ad[illegible]

PUBLISHED IN THE CIT[illegible]
EIGHT EVERY WEDNESD[illegible]
ING, TERMS $2 20 POST[illegible]

Our Agents.

All the traveling and local preache[illegible] of the North Carolina Conference are Agents. Any person sending us ten [illegible] one year, will receive the paper fre[illegible]

Our Correspond[illegible]

Communications for publication sho[illegible] written, and on but one side of the [illegible] or they will be addressed to t[illegible]

How to Remit

In sending money, all amounts sh[illegible] registered letter, post office order or [illegible] ol registration, or Post Office order [illegible] rom the amount in hand. If money [illegible] than herein specified it will be at the Congressional.

Since the meeting of Con[illegible] of the time of the House ha[illegible] up in the discussion of univ[illegible] ty of those who participated [illegible] war against the United [illegible] Blaine advocated a bill exce[illegible] son Davis from the operatio[illegible] and made a long speech in [illegible] verted to the horrors of t[illegible] treatment which prisoners [illegible] Andersonville and other [illegible] memory of which is calculat[illegible] bitter feeling. The bill wa[illegible] account of the exception it [illegible] The speech of Mr. Blaine i[illegible] most people as it tended [illegible] sores which time has partia[illegible] which, it was hoped, would [illegible] healed during this the cent[illegible]

The Judiciary Committee [illegible] have reported an amendme[illegible] stitution limiting the Pre[illegible] to four years. The same [illegible] ported a bill authorizing [illegible] Claims to take jurisdiction [illegible] who were infants, married [illegible] lunatics, insane persons, [illegible] seas at the time of the [illegible] abandoned or captured pr[illegible] PED, that such claims are [illegible] or shall be on file within [illegible] Referred to the committee

Mr. Waddell of North [illegible] a speech on the 18th on th[illegible] making an appropriation f[illegible] nial at Philadelphia this [illegible] clared that the Southern [illegible] ious to be on terms of a[illegible] people of the North and [illegible] an interest in, and will ex[illegible] ther the success of the [illegible] oration, and that they [illegible] deterred therefrom by [illegible] and fanatical speech of M[illegible]

In view of the fact that [illegible] have a majority in the H[illegible] gos of corruption and fr[illegible] made against prominent [illegible] ons Departments at Wa[illegible] mittees of investigation [illegible] pointed to search into the [illegible] of the charges.

A bill to appropriate $[illegible] centennial exhibition at [illegible] being considered by Con[illegible]

Gen. Scales, of N. C., [illegible] a bill allowing pensions [illegible] Mexican war.

Gen. Robt. Vance, of [illegible] ing in Congress for an [illegible] the improvement of the [illegible] River.

Congress is considering [illegible] investigate the Mississip[illegible]

Personal.

Von Moltke, the Germ[illegible] snuff.

Gen. Beauregard has [illegible] gress for the removal [illegible] ties.

Judge Doolittle, of W[illegible] that Gen. Sherman w[illegible] Republican candidate fo[illegible]

Mr. Beck, a member [illegible] of Representatives in Ge[illegible] tucky, has been elected [illegible]

Mrs. Johnson, wife [illegible] dent, died at the reside[illegible] ter in Greenville, Ten[illegible] inst. For many years [illegible] confirmed invalid. She [illegible] younger than her hus[illeg

The Christian Advocate

PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF RALEIGH EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING. TERMS $2 20 POSTAGE PAID.

Our Agents.

All the traveling and local preachers in the bounds of the Conference Conference are our authorized Agents. Any person sending us ten subscribers, for one year, will receive the paper fre

Our Correspondents.

Communications for publication should be carefully written, and on but one side of the sheet. All letters on business should be addressed to the Editor.

How to Remit.

In sending money, all amounts should be sent in registered letter, post office order or check. The cost of registration, or Post Office order can be deducted from the amount in hand. If money is sent otherwise than herein specified it will be at the sender's risk.

Congressional.

Since the meeting of Congress, much of the time of the House has been taken up in the discussion of universal amnesty of those who participated in the late war against the United States. Mr. Blaine advocated a bill excepting Jefferson Davis from the operation of the bill, and made a long speech in which he adverted to the horrors of the war, the treatment which prisoners received at Andersonville and other things, the memory of which is calculated to stir up bitter feeling. The bill was defeated on account of the exception it contained.—The speech of Mr. Blaine is regretted by most people as it tended to reopen old sores which time has partially cured and which, it was hoped, would be effectually healed during this the centennial year.

The Judiciary Committee in the House have reported an amendment to the Constitution limiting the Presidential term to four years. The same committee reported a bill authorizing the Court of Claims to take jurisdiction of all persons who were infants, married women, idiots, lunatics, insane persons, or beyond the seas at the time of the seizure of any abandoned or captured property; PROVIDED, that such claims are already on file, or shall be on file within two years.—Referred to the committee of the whole.

Mr Waddell of North Carolina made a speech on the 18th on the question of making an appropriation for the Centennial at Philadelphia this year. He declared that the Southern people are anxious to be on terms of amity with the people of the North and that they take an interest in, and will endeavor to further the success of the centennial celebration, and that they would not be deterred therefrom by the ungenerous and fanatical speech of Mr. Blaine.

In view of the fact that the Democrats have a majority in the House and charges of corruption and fraud have been made against prominent officials in various Departments at Washington, committees of investigation are being appointed to search into the truth or falsity of the charges.

A bill to appropriate $1,500.000 to the centennial exhibition at Philadelphia is being considered by Congress.

Gen. Scales, of N C., has introduced a bill allowing pensions to soldiers of the Mexican war.

Gen. Robt. Vance, of N. C., is working in Congress for an appropriation for the improvement of the French Broad River.

Congress is considering a resolution to investigate the Mississippi election.

Personal.

Von Moltke, the German general, takes snuff.

Gen. Beauregard has petitioned Congress for the removal of his disabilities.

Judge Doolittle, of Wisconsin, thinks that Gen. Sherman will be the next Republican candidate for President.

Mr. Beck, a member of the last House of Representatives in Congress from Kentucky, has been elected U. S. Senator.

Mrs. Johnson, wife of the Ex president, died at the residence of her daughter in Greenville, Tenn., on the 15th inst. For many years she had been a confirmed invalid. She was four years younger than her husband, and after their marriage taught him to read and write.

Hon. L Q. C. Lamar has been elected U. S. Senator from Mississippi, receiving all the votes but one. The Republicans did not vote.

The Virginia Legislature now in session, adopted, last week, resolutions of respect for the late Ex-Gov. Wm. A. Graham, who was a member of the Commission to establish the boundary between Virginia and Maryland.

A Washington correspondent of the Raleigh News says that Maj. Wm. M. Robbins is regarded by his associates in Congress as a strong man.

General News.

Heavy shipments of American print cloths have been made to England from New York and Boston.

Senator Gordon, of Georgia, has introduced a bill for the removal of disabilities of Gen. Beauregard.

Geo. S. Bangs, of Illinois, is nominated Assistant Treasurer at Chicago.

The Governor of Maine, in his message to the Legislature of that State, pronounces the prohibitory law a success.

The sugar crop of Louisiana bids fair to exceed all estimates. The figures are now put at 150,000 hogsheads against 117,000 last year.

Marriages.

Married, by Rev. Z. Rush, Jan 13th 1876, Mr J. O. Johnson to Miss Martha Blair, all of Randolph Co., N. C.

Married on the 2nd inst., by John A. Pugh, Esq., Mr. John J. Jones to Miss Julia A., daughter of Henry and Mary A. Burke, all of Chatham.

Sentinel please copy.

Married in New Salem, N. C. Jan 6th 1876, by Rev. Amos Gregson, Mr. Henry C. Lamb to Miss Sarah H. Vickery, daughter of Wm. B. Vickery, Esq.

Married, Jan. 13th at the residence of the bride's father, by Rev. James Willson, Mr. W. C. Blaylock to Miss. M. P. Ward—both of Iredell Co.

Biblical recorder will pease copy.

Married in Guilford county, Jan 12th, by Rev. W. H. Bobbitt, Dr. John J. Cox and Miss Mary Dundas.

Married in the Methodist Church, Carthage, N. C. Jan 13th 1876, by Rev. L. H. Gibbous, Mr. R. N. Bryan of Jonesboro, N. C. and Miss Ida J. Adams, daughter of Rev. S. D. Adams.

Married by Rev. G. W. Ivy, Jan 12th 1876, Mr. L. C. Fergerson of Wilkes Co., to Miss Sarah V. Kendal, daughter of William Kendal, of Caldwell Co., N. C.

Don't Beg the Question.

It is an infallible sign that a cause is weak when its claims are sought to be estab ished by mere bold assertion without argument or substantial proof. Dr. Tutt assorts that his Hair Dye is the best, and he addness undoubted evidence to substantiate the truth of the assertion.

Read what Experts say.

NEW ORLEANS, May 10, 1871.

DR. TUTT:

Dear Sir:—We, the undersigned, wish to inform you that we have tried your Hair Dye, and find it to be the best we have ever used. For its natural color, it far excels all other dyes Our customers will have no other.—Since we began its use our business in the dyeing department has rapidly increased. We think it a great triumph.

ANTHONY HAAS, } Barbers,
CHARLES HORN, }
No. 6 N. Royal Street.

Deaths.

Mrs. Kate H. Pender, wife of J. C. Pender, died near Tarboro Dec 10th 1875, in the 27th year of her age.

The deceased was cut off in the prime of young womanhood and died much loved and regretted

She was more than an ordinary woman.—She possessed a strong native intellect—was amiable, affectionate and firm in her attachments. A beautiful trait in her was her devotion to her husband, who in return, almost idolized her. She was industrious, domestic, ruled her house well, having her children under perfect control. For several months before her death she was concerned about her spiritual condition, and was often in prayer and in reading the Bible. Though not a member of the church, I believe that she was a converted woman In her last illness she desired to be baptized and received into the church, but my absence prevented. When I returned she was delirious. She had been purified in the furnace of affliction. God smote her with the rod of chastening, and stumbled by the blows she kissed the hand that bruised her. Two little graves side by side tell the tale of sorrow; but 'twas a sorrow that led her upward

During her last sickness she told her physician she was not afraid to die. The summons found her ready. Just as the sun was hiding himself in the evening cloud, her spirit left its earthly tabernacle for that one which is beyond. A husband, two children and many friends mourn her loss

F. D. SWINDELL.

Died, on the morning of Oct 11 h 1875 of that fatal disease diphteria, Lotta Vernon, daughter of Prof. L. and Mary I. Johnson, in the eigh h year of her age. She was a dutiful child, of a lovely disposition, is greatly missed in the home circle and in the Sunday school, and mourned by all who knew her But none mourn as those who have no hope.

H C. JOHNSON

Died, on the morning of Dec. 23d 1875 Mrs. Lucy Jane Abell, wife of James H. Abell, Esq., in the 37th year of her age.

A good woman has passed away. She filled well every station in life, to which providence had called her—in the child a good wife and kind mother

She professed religion and united with the M. E Church, South, in her 13 year, and maintained a consistent christian character to the end. She expressed herself as having no fears of death, things hath to leave her husband, mother and children, and affectingly took leave of them the day before she died, giving them her parting charge and blessing. May he who orders all things right sanctify this affliction to his honor and glory, and the lasting good of the bereaved family and church.

B.

MRS. ANNA ELIZABETH LEDBETTER, wife of Col. Henry W Ledbetter, and daughter of P. N. Stanback, Esq., was born n Richmond county, N C., May 23 1839; and died in Anson county, near Wadesboro, N C., Dec 22, 1875.

The life of this estimable Christian woman was passed in a zone of society, which, while it furnishes little to be gathered by the biographer, is often fragrant with the flowers and laden with the fruits which sweeten and enrich the home, and bring upon it the blessing of the Heavenly Father. Few events transpire in the experience of a rural household to interest the outside world; yet the faithful performance of its everyday duties, under the inspiration and guidance of Christian principle, is an appreciable factor in the world's progress. Mrs. Ledbetter's sphere of action was the home-circle, and its multitudinous and delicate demands were met with unwavering fidelity and self-sacrificing devotion. As wife and mother, she was assiduous and untiring, and the aching heart of a stricken husband, and the sad wail of five motherless little ones, attest the bitterness of the bereavement her departure inflicts She joined the M. E. Church, South, very shortly after her marriage, and the duties of her membership were performed with the same scrupulous faithfulness which characterized her domestic relations. Her religious life was undemonstrative, but genuine; and while the nature of her brief illness, of only a few hours, forbade any of those dying utterances so comforting to surviving friends her patient, blameless life, is the testimony which satisfies us that she sleeps in Jesus

F. M. K.

At Scott's Hill, Dec. 24th, in the 59th year of her age, Mrs. Mary A. Foy, consort of the late Joseph M. Foy.

The deceased was long and widely known as one of the most estimable Christian ladies in the land. Her home has ever been the centre of a refined and generous hospitality, and for thirty years a most pleasant retreat for the weary itinerant minister, as many of the N C Conference can testify. Her most excellent husband to whom she was happily married in youth, and with whom she afterwards joined the Methodist Church, preceded her several years into eternity. She lived to rear all her children, and leave the impress of her lovely character on them. She was a devoted wife, a fond and faithful mother, a kind neighbor, and an exemplary Christian She beautifully adorned every relation in life, and threw a halo of loveliness on all around her. For many years she was the subject of very painful bodily affliction. She had every advantage skill and sympathy could give, yet her sufferings were extreme and beyond human remedy She endured all her physical ills with a most wonderful patience and fortitude Her Christian experience was clear and satisfactory—affording her assurance of her acceptance with God, and bringing her the comfort of a daily communion with him. In view of her relation to God, as her Heavenly Father, and her glorious inheritance in Him hereafter, she bore her sufferings as mercies sent, and looked on death not only without fear, but with entire composure—as a time of release from a prison of pain—a departure to meet loved ones in a better home, She had seen the cloudy shadow of the death angel's wing, time after time, fall on the members of her household, but its coming lines to enfold her, she viewed only as the spirit escort, to wait her above the clouds, to be ever with the Lord. She lived a Christian—she died as only a Christian can die—triumphantly.

While the world was merrily hailing the incoming anniversary of the singing angels, shining star and manger-cradled Saviour, heaven was greeting with raptures applause, her spirit which rose like a new born orb amid its constellations, to live, revolve and shine forever.

A large concourse of weeping friends and neighbors gathered the day following, to pay the last sad tribute to her mortal remains, which, with appropriate service, were brought and laid with mournful loving tenderness, beside her husband in Oakdale Cemetery.

Farewell dear mother—a short farewell in view of thy life here, and reward now, we lay the flower-wreathed cross and crown on the mound above thy sacred dust, intending to bear the cross and seek the crown to lay at your feet, until we come to live with thee again in thy beautiful home.

Letters and Funds

Rev R G Barrett M E Parrott Mrs S Wilson sell 2.20. Rev J N Andrews Rev C C Dodson for Dr A R Miller 2 20, F G Griffin 2 20, Dr Tutt assorts that his Hair Dye is the best, and he address undoubted evidence to substantiate the truth of the assertion. Rev F L Reid for Mrs A M Strother 1.10 Mrs L H Massenburg 2 20. Miss M R Massenburg 2 20. H H Perry 2 20. W J Somerset paper continued Rev Jas Wilson Rev B [illegible] keth W B Mangum sell 2 20 J M Watson Rev I T Wyche paper sent. Rev J S Neloms paper changed. Rev M W Boyce paper changed. Rev D C Johnson Rev J T Wyche Bennett & Lafferty Mrs S L Seigle 2 20 N Pitzer Rev L M Pepper for M Wingood Rev T Wyche H T Jordan Rev D A Long to sell 1 Sec S Source Rev M H Hoyle for [illegible] 2.20. Rev R T N Stevenson paper changed. Rev P J Hathaway paper continued Rev L L Hendren F W Moore Rev F M Kennedy Rev J J Renn paper changed. Rev H J Bond paper changed. S M Pettingill A Gothard 23.88 J M Campbell sell 2 20. Rev W S Black paper sent. Rev B C Philips to sell Weston 2.20 T W Johnson for ole 2.50. Rev A H Betts for J Smith 2.20. J W Watson for E J Young 2.20. Mrs B Swindell 2.20, sell 1 20. Rev B B Culbreth papers sent. Miss B Fentress sell 2. Miss U S McBeth sell 2 20 Rev J C Harris Rev J B Culbreth papers sent. Dr C T Sims for Mrs E F Hunter 2.20. papers continued. E Aycock 50 cents, Rev W S Rone for Mrs S A Smith 1.40 G Bynum sell 4.40.

For Throat Diseases and Affections of the chest, "Brown's Bronchial Troches" are of value. For Coughs, Irritation of the Throat caused by cold, or Unusual Exertion of the vocal organs, in speaking in public or singing, they produce beneficial results.

APPOINTMENTS.

WASHINGTON DISTRICT.

1ST ROUND.

Tarboro at Tarboro,	Jan.	8 9
Greenville at Mt. Zion,	"	9-10
Warrenton,	"	11
Warren at Hebron,	Feb	5
Roanoke,	"	6
Williamston,	"	12
Colmonls	"	13
Plymouth	March	4
Bath at Bath,	"	11-12
Mattamuskeet at Swan Quarter	"	18 19

WM CLIVE, P. E.

HILLSBORO DISTRICT.

1st ROUND.

Flat River, Pleasant Green,	Jan.	22 23
Durham Station,	"	29 30
C. Hill & B. River, Chapel Hill,	"	5 6
Pittsboro, Pittsboro,	"	19-20
Deep River, Shiloh,	"	26 27
Alamance, Phillips Chapel	March	4 5
Yanceyville, Camper Springs,	"	11-12
Leasburg, Leasburg	"	18 19
Person Roxboro,	"	25-26
Hillsboro Station	April	1 2

The District Stewards will please meet promptly at Hillsboro, Saturday the 1st day of April at 10 o'clock, in the Methodist Church.

L. L. HENDREN, P. E.
Chapel Hill, N. C.

GREENSBORO DISTRICT.

FIRST QUARTERLY MEETINGS.

Winston,	January	15 16
Thomasville High Point & Trinity,	"	22 23
at Broomsville,	"	29 30
Greensboro,	"	30 31
North Guilford, Pisgah,	"	31 1
Randolph Hopewell,	"	12 13
Avonworth Lewes,	"	19-20
South Guilford, Pleasant Garden,	"	26 27
Davidson, Oaks,	March	4 5
Forsythe Ebe Grove,	"	11 12
Stokes, Palmetto	"	18 19
Madison, Leaksville,	"	25 26

The District Stewards will please meet at the Methodist Church in Greensboro on monday the first day of March, at 11 o'clock A. M.

N. H. D. WILSON, P. E.

FAYETTEVILLE DISTRICT.

1st ROUND.

Fayetteville,	January	8 9
Cumb'ld ct. at Beaver Creek,	"	15-16
Jonesboro ct. at Poplar Spring,	"	22 23
Robeson ct. at Lumberton	"	29-30
Laurinburg ct. at St. Johns,	"	30 31
Rockingham ct. at Rockingham,	"	31 1
Pee Dee ct. at St. Vincent,	"	5 6
Buckhorn ct. at Buckhorn,	March	4 5
Carthage ct. at Carthage,	"	11 12
Montgomery ct. at Pisgah,	"	18-19
Uwharrie ct. at Lanes Chapel,	"	25-26

The District Stewards will meet in the Methodist Church at Fayetteville January 7th at 11 o'clock P. M.

J. S. NEASON, P. E.
FAYETTEVILLE, N. C.

GUILFORD CIRCUIT.

1st ROUND—1876.

1st Sunday in January at Jamestown
" Wed. in " at Bunker's Hill.
" Thurs. in " at Oak Ridge.
" Friday, in " at Boo-ton.
2d Sabb'th in " at Gothsemie.
" Sunday in " at Love's Chapel.
At 3½ o'clock, Pisgah.
3d Sunday in January at Friendship.
At 3½ o'clock at Muir's Chapel.
4th Sunday in January at Centre.
3½ o'clock at Bruce's Cross Roads.

JAS. W. LEWIS.
Thomasville, N. C., Dec. 18th, 1875.

RALEIGH DISTRICT.

1st. ROUND—1876.

Raleigh Person street,	Jan.	1- 2
Louisburg,	"	8- 9
Granville, Salem,	"	15-16
Tar River and Youngsville,	Plank Chapel,	" 22 23
Henderson, Ridgeway.	Feb.	5- 6
Rolesville, Sydney,	"	12-13
Nashville & Rocky Mount,	Nashville,	" 19 20 and Tolsnot,
Cary, Ebenezer,		" 26- 27
Raleigh Edenton street,	March	4- 5
Smithfield Elizabeth,		" 11-12

The District Stewards will please meet in Louisburg the 24th day of February at 11 o'clock A. M. in the Methodist Church, in Franklinton. Let every charge be represented.

J. P. MOORE, P. E.
Warrenton N. C.

WILMINGTON DISTRICT.

1st. ROUND.

Kenansville, Kenansville,	Jan.	1- 2
Clinton Clinton,	"	8- 9
Magnolia, Magnolia,	"	15-16
Bladen, Bethlehem,	"	22-23
Topsail, Prospect,	"	29-30
Wilmington Front St,	Feb.	5- 6
Cokesburg, Wesley Chapel,	"	12-13
Waccamaw Miss Smithville, Zion	Whiteville	" 19-20
Whiteville,	Whiteville	March 26 27
Smithville, Zion		" 4- 5
Elizabeth, Elizabethtown,		" 11-12
Dashaw, Swansboro,		" 18-19

The District Stewards will meet in the basement of Front St. Church, Wilmington February 8th at 11 o'clock, A. M.

W. S. BLACK, P. E.
Magnolia

SALISBURY DISTRICT.

FIRST ROUND

Alexander ct at Taylorsville,	Jan.	1- 2
Wilkes ct at Wilkesboro,	"	8- 9
Mouresville ct at Mouresville,	"	15-16
Salisbury ct at Ebenezer	"	22-23
Yadkin ct at Yadkinville,	"	29-30
Mt Airy station and S. Mission at Mt. Airy,	Feb.	5- 6
Surry ct Blue Ridge Mission at Dobson,	"	8- 9
Iredell ct at Turnersburg	"	12-13
Davie ct at Olive Branch,	"	19-20
Mocksville ct at Mocksville,	"	26-27
Salisbury station,	Mar.	4- 5

The District Stewards will please meet me in the Methodist Church at Statesville on Tuesday at 11 o'clock A. M., December the 28th 1875.

D. R. BRITON, P. E.
Statesville, N. C.

APPOINTMENTS FOR CARTERET CIRCUIT.

New Port 11 o'clock a m 21 Sunday in Jan.
Belgrant 2d Sunday in Jan. at 3 p m
Morehead City at night.
Little Branch Tuesday after 2 Sund y at 11 o'clock a m.
Bethlehem 3d Sunday at 11 o'clock a m.
Harlowe Creek 4th Sunday 11 a m
Bitter's Creek 5th Sunday 11 a m
Adam's Creek 1st Saturday in Feb 11 a m
South River 1st Sunday in Feb. 11 a m

JAMES MURPHY
Preacher in Charge.

New Port, N. C., Dec. 20th 1875.

CHARLOTTE DISTRICT.

1ST ROUND—IN PART.

Monroe,	Dec	25-26
Uharlotte,	Jan.	1= 2
Lockport	"	8- 9
Pineville and Harrisburg,	"	22-23
Wadesboro ct. at [illegible]	"	29-30
Anson ct. at Long Pine,	Feb.	5- 6
Lincolnton ct. at Gravel,	"	12 13
Newton ct. at Fountain Hill,	"	19-20
Montrose ct. at Shiloh,	"	26 27
[illegible]	March	4 5
[illegible] at Beshel,	"	11-12
[illegible] at Mt. Pleasant,	"	18 19
[illegible]	"	25-26

Rev [illegible] Scoggin are requested to [illegible] Church in Monroe on the [illegible] January the 28th at 11 o'clock.

W. H. BOBBITT, P. E.
Charlotte N. C.

SHELBY DISTRICT.

1st. ROUND.

[illegible] at Shelby, [illegible]	Jan.	1- 2
Long Home [illegible] and Concord College	"	19-20
[illegible] at Oak Hill,	"	22-23
Mocksville,	"
Monroe,
Lincoln [illegible] at Nebo	"	26 27
[illegible] at Lowry's [illegible]	"	29-30
[illegible]
[illegible] at Sandy	Feb	2- 3
[illegible] at Paul's	"	5- 6

[illegible] Rev [illegible] hurry around [illegible] after this, each [illegible] Sabbath. I beg the [illegible] and send on their [illegible] Parsonage to Dr. [illegible] come around.

R. G. BARRETT, P. E.
Shelby, N. C.

WESTERN DISTRICT.

1st ROUND.

[illegible]	Jan.	1- 2
[illegible]	"	8- 9
[illegible]	"	15-16
[illegible]	"	22-23
[illegible]	"	29-30
[illegible]	Feb.	5- 6
[illegible]	"	12-13
[illegible]	"	19-20
[illegible]	"	26 27
[illegible]	March	4- 5
[illegible]	"	11-12
[illegible]	"	18-19
[illegible]	"	25-26
[illegible]	April	1 2
[illegible]	"	8- 9

[illegible] A. Webb, [illegible] Shoe, Thos Sutherland [illegible], [illegible] Gay and [illegible] on the church [illegible] Rockford.

A. Yates, P. E.
Rockford N. C.

GRANVILLE CIRCUIT.

1st ROUND.

[illegible] at Asbury.
[illegible] at Island Grove.
[illegible] at Oxford
[illegible] at Shiloh.
[illegible] at Sandy Creek.
[illegible] at Mt. Tirzah.
[illegible] at Oxford.
[illegible] at Sandy

Children's Column.

Cheerful Chats with the Growing Boy.

BY GRANDFATHER SEVENTY.

I knew him well. He was a long, lean, pleasant faced boy, with a stoop in his shoulders and a shuffling walk. He stooped because he was too lazy to hold up straight. He shuffled because he thought it was less trouble to drag one foot along after the other than to lift it up from the ground.

There were about twenty boys in his class at school. He generally stood about the eighteenth or nineteenth in the class. Sometimes he would get up a little higher, but he seemed so much out of his place if he rose more than five or six from the tail end of the class that he would drop again, and always find his level near the last seat. On examination days he was a curious mixture of confusion and indifference. He was never certain of anything, except that he did not know the answer to the question that was asked him. And, even though he knew that he could not give a satisfactory answer, he would remain standing and nibbling his thumb nail till the teacher would tell him to sit down. It made no difference to him whether he succeeded or failed. Once in a very long while, as if by some happy accident, he would know a lesson well; but he was never elated by it. When he missed he was not badly discouraged. He was resigned to his lot, for he thought that, as among the Israelites there were some who were specially appointed to be hewers of wood and drawers of water, so some boys must have been made to stay near the tail end of the class. And, as that involved less labor than hewing wood or drawing water, it suited him exactly.

This poor fellow was so unfortunate as to have a rich father; not that a rich father ought generally to be considered a misfortune, but in his case his father was his sole dependence. He knew that his father would pay his bills; and that on the old gentleman's decease a very handsome estate would be divided among the family. That seemed to remove every stimulus to labor or study, and to quench every spark of ambition from the boy's soul.

One day a kind friend was trying to interest him in conversation. She tried to draw him out on his habits of reading. She asked him if he was in the habit of reading much history. He answered that he did not care much for history. She then asked him about the poets, and drew from him the confession that he did not know one poet from another, and cared nothing for any of them. So with works on science and art and travel and discovery. Finally she asked him: 'Well, what do you read?' and he replied: 'I don't read any thing at all.'

One bright summer afternoon this lazy fellow was at an upper story window of a sea-side hotel. It was a window overlooking the yard. A cat was leisurely making its way across the yard. He threw a boot at it from the window. As he was too lazy to take a good aim the boot missed the cat, and the animal walked away unhurt. Some of the other boys who were in the room with him told him that he had better go down and get the boot, but he said that it made no difference; somebody would pick it up, he guessed. Somebody did pick it up, sure enough; for when, after some hours, he happened to be going down stairs, he went out for it, it was gone. He said it made no difference, for he would get measured for another pair. A young man who would thus throw good boots away will never get along very prosperously. The last I saw of this lazy fellow he was wanting a situation, and asking all his friends to get one for him. He had finished his education—all the education he will ever get. He reminded me of the raw hand from Ireland, who seeking a place in a store was told by the proprietor: "I have very little work to be done now, my man.' 'Shure, sur,' replied Pat, 'thin it's just the place that'll shuit me exactly, sur, for it's little work I want to do, sur.' Our lazy fellow went from friend to friend, from office to office, but with outsuccess. Then he thought he would wait a few years, and perhaps he might get a place as cashier of a bank, or president of an insurance company, I never heard of any such position being offered him. Such people are not generally much sought for.

My boy, there is no place on earth for a lazy man or a lazy boy, except the grave. Lazy people may lounge along the whole threescore years and ten of their unprofitable existence, only to live unrespected and die unlamented. From the days of Solomon to the present time sluggards have been in exceedingly slight demand, and from present indications it is not probable that the demand for them will ever be greater than the supply. Wake up! Keep awake! Don't be a sluggard!—Christian at Work.

The Refiner.

There was once a little piece of gold lying hid in the earth. It had lain hid so long that it thought it should never be used, and it said to itself:

Why do I lie idle here? Why am I not picked up, that men may see me shine?"

One day a man dug it up; and look of it at, and said:

'There is some gold in this lump; but I cannot use it as it is: I must take it to the refiner.'

When the refiner go it, he threw it into a melting pot, and heated his fire to melt the gold. As soon as the little piece of gold felt the heat of the fire, he began to tremble, and cried:

'I wish I had lain quiet in the earth.'

But the fire grew hotter and hotter, till at last the gold melted, and left all the earthy part of the lump by itself.

'Now,' said the gold, 'my troubles are over; now I shall shine.'

But its troubles were not over yet. The man took it once, more, and began to hammer it into some shape.

'Ah!' said the gold, 'what a trouble it is to be gold! if I had been dross or common earth I should not have been put to all this pain.'

'That is true,' replied the man; 'if you had been dross you would not have had all this pain: but then you would not have become what you are now—a beautiful gold ring.'

The piece of gold is a little child. The dross or common earth means the child's faults and weaknesses. Jesus is the Refiner. He sends trials and troubles to us to make us good and strong, and to take away our weaknesses and faults.

Pain is one of a little child's trials. If we bear it patiently, Jesus will make us better by pain. He will make you brave and gentle. Next time when you have to bear pain, say to yourself:

'Jesus is taking away my faults: I must be patient.'—From Parables for Children.

The Way to Welcome Him

'Papa will soon be here,' said mamma to her little three year old boy 'What can Georgy do to welcome him?' And the mother glanced at the child's playthings which lay scattered in wild confusion on the carpet. 'Make the room neat,' replied the little one, understanding the look and immediately beginning to gather his toys into a basket.

'What more can we do to welcome papa?' asked mamma when nothing was wanting to the neatness of the room.

'Be happy to him when he comes,' cried the dear little fellow, jumping up and down with eagerness, as he watched at the window for his father's coming.

Now, as the dictionaries will testify, it is very hard to give good definitions, but did not little Georgy give the very substance of a welcome? 'Be happy to him when he comes.'

A Remedy that has made its Mark.

Success is the seed of excellence. The truth of this has never been more forcibly exemplified than by the triumphant career of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. No sooner did the people discover the genuine merits of that supreme invigorant and corrective than they hastened to stamp it with the seal of popularity. The press and medical profession speedily followed in the wake of the public, and emphatically endorsed it. Thus from the very outset the success of the bitters as a remedy and preventive was an established fact, and a degree of popularity which it often takes proprietary medicines years to attain, was achieved almost at a stride by the then new preparation. Since that time every successive year has witnessed fresh accessions to the favor with which the Bitters were easily regarded and the sum of its popularity is no longer confined to the United States, but includes the British Provinces in North America and the West Indies, South America, Mexico, portions of Europe and Australia. That it is not only a remedy for dyspepsia, constipation, billiousness, urinary and uterine complaints, nervousness and debility, but also a preventive of those maladies to which air and water, impregnated with miasma give birth, has been made sufficiently evidenced as in those regions where climatic conditions unfavorable to health exist, and where the Bitters have been long and extensively tested. To call this superb cordial a remedy that has made its mark, cannot we think be regarded as boasting, since there is probably no proprietary remedy more widely known, universally respected and emphatically endorsed than these Bitters.

Jan. 5-1m.

PIMPLES, ERUPTIONS, ROUGH SKIN.

The system being put under the influence of Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for a few weeks, the skin becomes smooth, clear, soft, and velvety, and being illuminated with the glow of perfect health from within, true beauty stands forth in all its glory. The effects of all medicines which operate upon the system through the medium of blood are necessarily somewhat slow, no matter how good the remedy employed. While one to three bottles clear the skin of pimples, blotches, eruptions, yellow spots, comedones, or "grubs," a dozen may possibly be required to cure some cases where the system is rotten with scrofulous or virulent blood poisons. The cure of all these diseases, however, from the common pimple to the worst scrofula is with the use of this most potent agent, only a matter of time. Sold by dealers in medicines.

Westbrook Nurseries,

WILSON, N. C.,

C. W. WESTBROOK, - - - - - - PROPRIETOR.

Extra Early Peaches and Extra Fine New Late Keeping Apples and Tea Best strawberries for Market or Family Specialties. I have the advantage of 25 years experience in the Nursery business. I superintended the Propagating Department of the Celebrated West Green Nurseries near Greensboro which were destroyed during the war. My father, the late S. W. Westbrook, the leading Nurseryman in North Carolina from 1852 to 1861 frankly acknowledged to many of his friends that my knowledge of Horticulture in general was more extensive than his. In proof of this assertion he invariably intrusted the correction of Nomenclature to me.

I removed my entire business from Greensboro in 1875 and located in Wilson in charge of the Agricultural Department of the Wilson College. I have a choice collection of Fruit Trees, Grape Vines, Strawberries, Roses and a limited supply of shrubbery, which I offer at reduced prices for February and March planting. Catalogues and Prices furnished on application. Address, C. W. WESTBROOK, Wilson, N. C.

CAUTION—Inasmuch as several canvassing agents representing other nurseries, have made use of my name in the sale of nursery stock, I take this occasion to warn agents and all others against the use of my name in any manner, in connection with the sale of Trees and Plants. Any person furnishing me positive proof against any one guilty of such unpardonable and fraud shall be liberally rewarded with a choice assortion of trees and plants, securely packed in moss

Jan 5-6t. C. W. WESTBROOK.

BRANSON'S NORTH CAROLINA ALMANAC FOR 1876

Only $3.00 per 100—the cheapest and best Almanac published in the State.

L. BRANSON,
Raleigh, N. C.

ORDER ANY BOOKS YOU WANT

If I have on hand, I will procure and send them to you on short notice.

L. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.

SCHOOL BOOKS! SCHOOL BOOKS!! SCHOOL BOOKS!!!

I am prepared to supply the schools at the lowest cash rates. These are good reasons why you ought to trade with me.

L. BRANSON, Raleigh, N. C.

nov. 2-tf.

ROSES FOR THE MILLION!

TWELVE choice Roses, assorted colors, by mail, for One Dollar. Descriptive Lists sent free.

TYRA MONTGOMERY, Watsonville, Ill.

Jan 5-4t o w.

THE GOLD MEDAL.

The FIRST PREMIUM was awarded to the

Singer Sewing Machine

at the last State Fair in Raleigh.

The sales of the SINGER are the largest.

It is sold on the most LIBERAL TERMS.

A warrant for five years is given with every Machine.

THE SINGER IS ALWAYS RELIABLE

MME. DeMORESTS PATTERNS

of garments on hand at the office.

CATALOGUE FREE BY MAIL.

A live good men wanted as Agents.

Write for Price List of Machines, &c.

T. W. HEALD, Manager.
No. 12 Fayetteville St.

Nov 11-tf.

DISSOLUTION.

This day the firm of A G LEE & SONS is dissolved. All persons indebted will please come forward and settle, as we wish to close the business

A. G. LEE,
E. H. LEE,
C. R. LEE.

December 19th, 1875.

COPARTNERSHIP.

Since the above dissolution I have connected myself with Mr J D Whitaker, firm styled LEE & WHITAKER. With him shall do the strictly COMMISSION BUSINESS. COTTON a specialty. Liberal advances on the same.

ED. H. LEE.

LEE & WHITAKER,

AGENTS FOR THE

Celebrated Fish Guano

AND

NORWOOD PREMIUM HAY

DEALERS IN

Bagging and Ties,

Commission Merchants,

NO 1 MARTIN STREET,
Jan 5-1y Raleigh, N.C.

COME YE DISCONSOLATE!

Most beautiful assortment of FIRST-CLASS GOODS, the very Latest Tips of Fashion, and put up in a style that will suit the most fastidious taste, go to

WEIKEL'S ESTABLISHMENT.

on Fayetteville Street, one door South of the Southern Express Office.

IT IS A CONCEDED FACT

that Weikel can put up the best and most satisfactory JOB in the way of the suits of Clothing, from a Wedding to a Business Suit, that can be turned out in Raleigh. The old and young men say it, the ladies (that bless them) endorse and the children cry over it, cry for joy when their revered "dad's" put on a suit of Weikel's clothing.

Weikel takes this occasion to return his thanks for the large and liberal patronage heretofore received, and respectfully asks for continuance of the same. His stock of

CLOTHS,

CASSIMERES,

TWEEDS,

SUITINGS, &c.

is much larger than ever before, and comprises all the Latest Novelties in Style, having been recently purchased at low prices from

FASHION HEADRUARTERS.

As usual his force of Workmen are Picked Men whose skill and ability are known to the "dressing" public.

Come one and all to the Emporium of Fashion, Weikel's the Merchant Tailor, For a first class Suit of Clothes of first class goods, put up in first class style.

"SANTA CLAUS"

Is Coming

On the night of the 24th of this month, and

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER

Are Providing For All.

They are receiving new lines of Dry Goods and a general assortment of goods for the different departments, suitable for the Holidays.

Ladies and Children's Underwear, Hosiery, Gloves, Furs and Handkerchiefs; Silk Mufflers and Ties, Satchels, Belts, Collars and Cuffs, Laces, &c.

10 dozen New Style Pitiols.
20 Bales N. C. Plaids.
150 pairs Ladies's Boots and Gaiters.
35 " Boys and Misses' Boots and Gaiters.

SHIRT DEPARTMENT.

The great demand for our UNFINISHED SHIRTS has induced us to still lower the price. We will sell

6 OF OUR WAMSUTTA SHIRTS with Richardson's Round Thread Linen Bosoms and Cuffs at $6.00

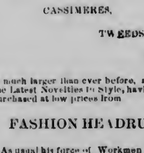
12 OF THE SAME at $12.00

Orders filled according to date of reception. Goods sent C. O. D. The best goods at the lowest cash price.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER.

Dec 23-tf

THE JAS. LEFFEL Double Turbine Water Wheel,



Manufactured by
POOLE & HUNT,
Baltimore, Md.
7,000 NOW IN USE!
Simple Strong, Durable, also a cheap and substantial Iron Gearing. Manufacturers also, of Portable & Stationary Engines, Steam Saw Mills, Flouring Machinery, Gearing for Cotton Mills, Paper Paint, White Lead and Oil Mill Machinery, Hydraulic and other Presses, &c. Shafting, Pulleys and Hangers a specialty. Machine made Gearing, accurate and of very best finish. Send for circular.

mch 24-12m.

Marcy's Sciopticon and Lantern Slides. New and brilliant effects. Circular free.
SPECIAL OFFER TO SUNDAY-SCHOOLS
L. J. MARCY, 1316 CHESNUT STREET Philadelphia, Pa.
Oct 21 3-m.

CHANGE IN BUSINESS.

The Old and Well Known House of

J. M. ROSENBAUM

Having concluded to confine itself to a certain specialties, announces that in its main business it is exclusively

A CLOTHING STORE

of the highest grade, where every article of Gentlemen's and Boy's wear of all kinds and grades is offered

ON THE MOST FAVORABLE TERMS FOR CASH.

Buyers need go no farther to be suited. Every class of customers can be supplied.

Attached to the establishment is a Department for the sale of

CHINA, CROCKERY AND GLASSWARE,

Everything in that line can be found of the first quality and at reasonable prices.

The long established character of this House is a sufficient guarantee of its ability and determination to do what it promises. Don't fail to call on

J. M. ROSENBAUM,
Corner Fayetteville and Hargett Sts.

Oct. 13-tf.

NEW FIRM.

The undersigned have this day formed a co partnership under the firm name of Wainright Williams & Flood.

and having purchased the stock and good will of J. D WHITAKER, they will continue the GROCERY and COMMISSION business at

FARMER'S EXCHANGE,

No. 4 Martin Street.

RALEIGH, N. C.

Our Stock will consist of

Bacon,
Flour,
Molasses,
Coffee,
Sugars,
Lard
Salt,
Bagging,
and Ties,

And all other goods in the Grocery line with Staple Dry Goods, Shoes, etc. Having superior facilities for buying, and a small expense account, we guarantee the lowest prices, Consignments of Cotton and produce generally, solicited, to the sale of which our best efforts will be devoted.

Patronage of our friends respectfully solicited.

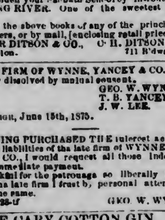
GEO. H. WAINRIGHT,
late with Williamson, Uph & Thomas.
MID. T. WILLIAMS, Chatham.
Wm. B. HOOD, Johnston.
Raleigh, Sept. 1, 1875.

Having sold my stock of Groceries to Messrs. Wainright, Williams & Hood, I take pleasure in recommending them to my friends and late customers, as entirely worthy of confidence and patronage.

For the present I may be found at the old stand and hope all those indebted to the late firm of Thompson & Whitaker and to myself, will call and settle as soon as possible. J. D. WHITAKER.

Raleigh, Sept 8-tf

TYSON & JONES



Carriage Builders,

CARTHAGE, N. C.

Having recently increased our Facilities for Manufacturing, we are prepared to furnish Vehicles of the BEST QUALITY on short notice, and at comparatively low prices. Vehicles shipped at Sanford, Raleigh and Graham R. R. via Raleigh to any part of the State

We feel confident that, with the close attention we give the business, together with the materials used, the skilled workman employed, and the many conveniences we have for manufacturing FIRST CLASS WORK, no house in the country can excel us in

STYLE, FINSH, DURABILITY AND

Low Prices.

We manufacture and keep constantly on hand Harness of the Best Quality.

Repairing neatly Done at Short Notice Send for Circular.

July 21 1-y

The Best Household Oil in the World!

C. WEST & SONS' ALADDIN SECURITY OIL.

Warranted 150 Degrees Fire Test

Endorsed by the Fire Insurance Companies,

Read the following certificate, selected from many others:

HOWARD FIRE INS. CO. OF BALTIMORE, December 28, '74.

Messrs C. West & Sons: Gentlemen—Having used the various oils sold in this city for illuminating purposes, I take pleasure in recommending your "Aladdin Security" as the safest and best ever used in our household.

Yours, truly,
(Signed) ANDREW REESE, Pres't.

IT WILL NOT EXPLODE.

Ask your Storekeeper for it

Wholesale Depot, C. WEST & SONS.
18,115 W Lombard Street, Baltimore.

Sep. 1-6m.

Musical Gifts for Christmas! Musical Gifts for New-Year!

Gems of English Song } 75 of the best songs
Gems of English Song } extant, collected in a
Gems of English Song } handsome volume of
Gems of English Song } 232 [music size] pages.
Gems of English Song } With elegant gilt binding, $4.00. In cloth $3.00. In boards, $2.50.

Uniform in style, price and binding with the above splendid book, we have other books of "Gems," German, Scottish and Sacred; also of best Irish Melodies, and the choicest Operatic Songs.

CHRISTMAS CAROLS. By Howard 35 cts.
ANTHEM. There were Shepherds Millard 75 "
MERRY CHRISTMAS. Piano piece, Wilson. 60 "

Rejoice the hearts of the Old Folks with Centennial Collection for Old Folk's Concerts. 40 cts. By E. Tourjee.

Gladden your Sabbath School by introducing SHINING RIVER. One of the sweetest of song books.

Order the above books of any of the principal music dealers, or by mail, [enclosing retail price] of OLIVER DITSON & CO., C. H. DITSON & CO., 711 B'dway, N. Y.
Boston.

THE FIRM OF WYNNE, YANCEY & CO., is this day dissolved by mutual consent.

GEO. W. WYNNE,
T. B. YANCEY,
J. W. LEE.

RALEIGH, June 15th, 1875.

HAVING PURCHASED THE interest as Assume the liabilities of the late firm of WYNNE, YANCEY & CO., I would request all those indebted to make immediate payment.

Thankful for the patronage so liberally bestowed upon the late firm I trust by personal attention to merit the same.

June 25-tf GEO. W. WYNNE.

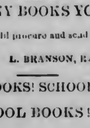
THE CARY COTTON GIN.

Is still being manufactured at Cary, N. C., improved in some respect and warranted to give satisfaction or no trade if properly put to work. Those desiring further information send for Circular, &c. to

W. M. SORRELL,
Cary, N.C.

June 18-tf.

BRINLY PLOWS



MENT AND CHEAPEST IN USE.

Have taken over 250 Premiums at Fairs throughout the South. Send for Illustrated Catalogue with Price List, and certificates of planters who use them.

SOLE MANUFACTURERS:
BRINLY, HUES & HARDY,
FACTORY: 1200, 1202, 1204 & 1206 Rubble Street. LOUISVILLE, KY.

Sept 8-6m.

$5 TO $20 per day! Agents wanted! All other ser. pons or old, making more money at work for us in their spare moments, or all the time, than at anything else. Particulars free. Address G Stinson & Co., Portland, Maine.

dec 1-6-1

$42 A WEEK.—Agents wanted Business permanent. No soliciting required. For further particulars address

J. KENNEDY & CO., Richmond, Ind.

Dec 1-6-1

SCHEDULES.

PIEDMONT AIR-LINE RAILWAY.

RICHMOND & DANVILLE, RICHMOND & DANVILLE R. W., N. C. DIVISION, and NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. W.

CONDENSED TIME-TABLE.
In effect on and after Sunday, Dec. 19th, 1875.

GOING NORTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.
Leave Charlotte.....	5.45 A M
" Air-Line Junc'n	6.55 "
" Salisbury.....	8.20 "
" Greensboro'....	10.58 "
" Danville.....	1.54 P M
" Dundee.....	1.40 "
" Burkville.....	8.51 "
Arrive at Richmond...	9.35 P M

GOING SOUTH.

STATIONS.	MAIL.
Leave Richmond.....	5.50 A M
" Burkville.....	9.03 "
" Dundee.....	1.39 P M
" Danville.....	4.43 "
" Greensboro'....	4.28 "
" Salisbury.....	6.54 "
" Air-Line Junc'n	8.52 "
Arrive at Charlo, te.	9.15 "

GOING EAST. GOING WEST

STATIONS.	Mail.	Mail.
Leave Greensboro'..	11.00 A. M.	Arrive 4.10 P. M.
" Co. Shops.....	"	" "
Arrive Raleigh.....	3.40 P. M.	Arrive 11.15 "
Arrive at Goldsboro'	6.40 P. M.	Leave 8.20 A M

STATIONS.	Accommodation Train.
Leave Greensboro'....	7.00 P. M.	Arr. 6.00 A. M.
Co. Shops.....	"	Lv. "
Arr at Raleigh.....	2.50 A. M.	Arr 7.30 P. M
Arr at Goldsboro'....	11.15 "	Lv 4.00 P. M.

NORTH WESTERN N. C. R. R.
(SALEM BRANCH.)

Leave Greensboro'..... 4.45 P. M.
Arrive at Salem ..... 6.45 "
Leave Salem..... 8.15 A. M
Arrive at Greensboro..... 10.05 "

Passenger Train leaving Raleigh at 11.05 A. M. connects at Greensboro' with the Southern bound train; making the quickest time to all Southern cities. Accommodation Train leaving Raleigh at 7.30 P. M., connects with Northern bound Train at Greensboro for Richmond and all points East. Price of Tickets same as via other routes.

Accommodation Train leaving Greensboro at 7.00 P. M. connects at Goldsboro with Northern and Southern bound Trains on the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad.

Lynchburg Accommodation have Richmond daily at 9 00 A. M., arrive at Burkeville 12.36 P. M., leave Burkeville 1.01 P. M., arrive at Richmond 4.34 P. M.

No Change of Cars between Charlotte and Richmond, 282 Miles.

Papers that have arrangements to advertise the Schedule of this company will please print as above.

For further information address

JOHN R. MACMURDO,
Gen'l Passenger Agent,
Richmond, Va.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE

RALEIGH & GASTON RAILROAD CO.

On and after Friday, May 22nd, 1874, trains on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad, will run daily (Sunday excepted) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN

Leave Raleigh,	9.35 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon,	3.30 P. M.
Leaves Weldon,	9.50 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh,	3.45 P. M.

ACCOMODATION TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Weldon,	5.15 P. M.
Leaves Weldon,	3.20 A. M.
Arrives at Raleigh	2.45 P. M.

Mail train makes close connection at Weldon, with the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad and Bay Line Steamers via Baltimore, to and from all points North, West and Northwest, and with Petersburg Railroad via Petersburg, Richmond and Washington City, to and from all points North and Northwest.

And at Raleigh with the North Carolina Railroad to and from all points South and Southwest, and with the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line to Haywood and Fayetteville.

A. B ANDREWS,
Gen. Sup't.

RALEIGH & AUGUSTA AIR-LINE RAILROAD.

SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE,
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 20th, 1875.

On and after Monday, October 25th, 1875, trains on the R. & A. A. L. Road will run daily, (Sundays excepted,) as follows:

MAIL TRAIN.

Train leaves Raleigh,	4.00 P. M.
Arrives at Sanford,	6.25 "
Train leaves Sanford,	6.30 A. M
Arrives at Raleigh,	9.20 "

FREIGHT TRAIN.

Leaves Raleigh,	5.15 A. M.
Arrives at Sanford	10.35 A. M.
Leaves Sanford,	11.05 A. M
Arrives at Raleigh	3.50 P. M.

Mail Train makes close connection a Raleigh with the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, to and from all points North.

And at Sanford with the Western Railroad, to and from Fayetteville and points on Western Railroad.

A. B. ANDREWS,
Superintendent.

OFFICE SUPT OF TRANSPORTATION,
Seaboard & Roanoke R. R. Co.,
Portsmouth, Va., Jan. 1st, 1875.

On and after this date, trains of this Road will leave Weldon daily, Sundays excepted, as follows:

Mail train at	4 P. M.
No. 1 Freight train at	4 A. M.
No. 2 Freight train at	8 A. M.

ARRIVE AT PORTSMOUTH.

Mail train at	7 15 P. M.
No 1 Freight at	12 00 NOON.
No 2 Freight at	4 00 P. M.

Freight trains have a passenger car attached.

Steamer for Edenton, Plymouth and Landings on Blackwater and Chowan Rivers leave Franklin at 7.40 A. M. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

E. G. GHIO,
Supt. Transportation.

OLD NORTH STATE FIRE

Insurance Company,

OF

WARRENTON, - - - - - N. C.,

This Company has closed its third year in a condition of GREAT PROSPERITY, and entered upon its fourth year under the MOST PROMISING AUSPICES.

It deserves the liberal patronage which it is receiving because

It is a home Institution.
It has ample Capital and Reserves.
It pays its losses promptly.

ASSETS.

Cash on hand and in Bank,.....	$ 8 421 53
Cash in hands of Agents,.....	4,984 00
Stock Notes,.....	45,670 00
Real Estates Mortgage,.....	59,908 80
Loaned on Collater's,.....	7,647 63
Due for premiums,.....	3,720 63
Interest due and accrued,.....	944 88
	$130,297 17

LIABILITIES:

All liabilities including full reinsurance Reserved,...	$18,480 81
Surplus,.....	111,816 36
	$130,297 17

WM. S. DAVIS, President.
B. F. LONG, Secretary.

ESTABLISHED 1816.

CHAS. SIMON & SONS.

81 NORTH HOWARD ST., BALTIMORE, MD.
Dealers in

FOREIGN & DOMESTIC DRY GOODS,

would call special attention to their splendid stock of Dress Goods, Linen Goods, Embroideries, Laces, and Hosiery, the best assortment of Mourning Goods in the city.

SAMPLES SENT FREE!

All orders amounting to $20.00 or over, will be sent free of freight charges by Express, but parties whose orders are not accompanied by the money, and having their goods sent C. O. D., must pay for return of the money.

E. N. FRESHMAN, ADVERTISING AGENT

190 WEST FOURTH ST.,

CINCINNATI, O.

Is authorized to contract for advertising in this paper. ESTIMATES FURNISHED FREE. SEND FOR CIRCULAR.

$250 A MONTH.—Agents wanted everywhere. Business honorable and first class. Particulars sent free. Address J. WORTH & CO., St. Louis, Mo.

aug 4-12m.

FALL AND WINTER GOODS!

D. S. WAITT & BRO.,

Are offering a Large and Attractive Stock of

FINE AND CHEAP CLOTHING!

Gents' Furnishing Goods and Neck Wear,

Boots, Shoes, Overcoats, Shawls and Rubber Goods / Hats and Caps! Merino Shirts, Drawers and Hosiery Paper and Linen Collars, Suspenders, Handkerchiefs and Yankee Notions. The Celebrated

MANHATTAN FINE WHITE SHIRT,

Acknowledged to be the best and most perfect fitting shirt in the market.

Prints! Prints!

Red, White and Figured Flannels, Opera Flannels, Hamburg Edgings and Insertions, Ladies' Trimmed Hats, Bows, Ribbons, Counterpanes, Comforters, Bed-Quilts and Spreads.

WHITE AND BROWN BLANKETS,

Ladies Striped and Plaid breakfast Shawls, Knit Sacks, Jackets and Hoods.

Checks, Plaid Homespuns, Tickings, Brown and Bleached Sheetings and Shirtings, Forest Jeans, Canvases and Linings, Trunks, Valises, Umbrellas, Traveling Bags, &c

TO OUR FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS, we take pleasure in saying our stock is now complete in every department, and thanking you for your liberal patronage, we respectfully solicit a continuance of the same. Remember the place, 54 Fayetteville St., Raleigh, N. C.

D S WAITT & BRO.

oct 13-3m.

SUI GENERIS.

MASON & HAMLIN CABINET ORGANS.

UNEQUALED if judged critically UNAPPROACHED in capacity and excellence by any others. Awarded

THREE HIGHEST MEDALS AND DIPLOMA OF HONOR, AT VIENNA, 1873; PARIS, 1867.

ONLY American Organs ever awarded any medal in Trial Expeditions in America as well as European Europe. Out of hundreds there have not been six in all where any other organs have been preferred.

BEST Declared by Eminent Musicians, in both hemispheres, to be unrivaled. See TESTIMONIAL CIRCULAR, with opinions of more than One Thousand (sent free).

INSIST on having a Mason & Hamlin. Do not take any other. Dealers get larger commissions for selling inferior organs, and for this reason often try very hard to sell something else.

NEW STYLES with most important improvements ever made. New Solo and Combination Stops. Superb Reed and other Cases of new designs.

PIANO-HARP CABINET ORGAN An exquisite combination of these instruments.

EASY PAYMENTS. Organs sold for cash or for monthly or quarterly payments; or rented until rent pays for the organ.

CATALOGUES and Circulars, with full particulars, free. Address MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 254 Tremont Street, BOSTON. Union Square, NEW YORK; or 80 & 82 Adams St., CHICAGO.

apl 14-1 year.

G. T. LEACH, N. Y. M. T. LEACH

Leach Brothers,

WHOLESALE GROCERS

AND

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

NORTH-EAST CORNER MARKET, SQUARE, RALEIGH, N. C

Again we take great pleasure in presenting our card and returning thanks to the readers of the ADVOCATE for their very liberal patronage during the past four years, and offer them the largest and best assorted stock of Groceries ever offered in any market south of Baltimore, and while just now Bacons, Sugars and Lard are very scarce and high, we have made extra efforts and feel sure we have succeeded in bringing other goods equally low as formerly and propose to counter-balance any advance in the few goods named.

We wish to invite special attention to our select stock of stable Shoes and Boots bought direct from the Factories and offered here AT FIRST PROFITS.

We have now in store

5,000 lbs. Rio Coffees,
10 Mats old Gov. Java,
10 Bbls. A sugar,
10 Bbls. E A C Sugar,
10 Bbls. H P Yellow Sugar,
25 Bbls Demarara,
30 Boxes Bulk Sides,
" " Shoulders,
50 Kegs English Soda,
1,000 lbs. G. D and Sole Leather
100 Sides Upper Leather,
50 " Harness Leather,
100 Cases Oysters,
50 " Brandy Peaches
5,000 Yds. Bagging,
6,000 lbs. Ties,
100 Bbls. Super Flour,
100 Bags Assorted Shot,
50 Bbls Family Flour,
50 Cases Forrester's Crackers,
0 " Soda Crackers,
60 Boxes Factory and Dairy Cheese,
6,000 W P. and G. D. Gun Caps,
1 Kegs Burden Horse and Mule Shoes,
200 lbs. Horse Shoe Nails,
50 Dozen Best Axes,
50 Boxes Adamantine Candles,
100 Boxes Laundry and Toilet Soaps.

We offer especial inducements to country and nearby retailers, and invite an examination of our stock defy competition

Oct 7 12-tf LEACH BROS

PLEIS' FIT POWDERS.

These Powders have been tested by over 40,000 cases for the cure of Fits (Epilepsy), Spasms, Convulsions, St. Vitus' Dance, Neuralgia, and all Nervous Affections, some over 40 years' standing.

When you ORDER STATE AGE.

PRICE, $5 CENTS PER BOX; or sent to all parts of the United States for One Dollar per Box.—These Powders are prepared and sold only by the proprietor, to whom all orders must be addressed,

JOHN M. PLEIS, Jr.,
862 North Third street, Philadelphia, Pa.

☞ Please mention that you saw this advertisement in THE CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE. mar 31-1y

SWAIM'S CELEBRATED PANACEA

Has long attracted the notice of the most eminent physicians, by its great efficacy in curing what were considered incurable cases of disease where the patients have been almost destroyed by SCROFULA etc., and Prof. VALENTINE MOTT, of the New York University, Professors GIBSON, DEWEES and CHAPMAN, of Philadelphia, and many other physicians of celebrity, gave, over their own signatures, letters recommending it, and certifying to its great merits. It has been occasionally advertised, and thousands of families throughout the United States recommend and use it. The laboratory is under the direction of Dr. FRANKLIN STEWART, who has devoted his attention and skill to its careful preparation during the past twenty-five years, and not a bottle put up but is worth many times its cost to the patient. It is perfectly safe for the most diseased and debilitated, and, IN ALL CASES, WHERE THE BLOOD IS NOT PURE, IT SHOULD BE USED FREELY.

PREPARED ONLY AT

SWAIM'S LABORATORY,
113 S. Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia

Descriptive pamphlets furnished gratis on application.

Nov 3-2m.

WIRE RAILING & ORNAMENTAL Wire Works.

Dufur & Co.,

36 North Howard Street, Baltimore, Md.

Manufacture WIRE RAILING for Cemeteries, Balconies, &c., SCREENS, FENCES, CAGES, SAND AND COAL SCREENS, WOVEN WIRE, &c. ALSO, IRON BEDSTEADS CHAIRS, SETTEES, &c., &c.

Feb 10-12m

PROGRESS THE WATCHWORD!

Merit and Success Hand in Hand.

BROOKLYN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

NO. 141 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

Assets- - - -$1,500,000.00!!

CHRISTIAN W. BOUCK, President.
D. P. FACKLER, Actuary.

WM. M. OOLE, Secretary
DANIEL AYRES, M.D., L.L.D., Med. Director

POLICIES VALUABLE IN LIFE, AS WELL AS AT DEATH!

The BROOKLYN LIFE is the only Company in America which guarantees

DEFINITE CASH SURRENDER VALUES,

In case a Policy is forfeited for nonpayment of Premium.

THE BROOKLYN LIFE enjoys the highest reputation FOR JUDGMENT OF INVESTMENT, ECONOMY OF MANAGEMENT, AND CARE IN THE SELECTION OF RISKS,—upon which elements of administration the security of a Life Insurance Corporation depends.

The laws of New York compel Companies in that State to calculate the cash value of their Polices, each and every year, and in a certain legal standard of reserve and accumulation must be held by the Companies to meet all their liabilities.

Insurers in looking around for Companies in which to insure, should carefully see or this important safeguard. IT WILL BE FOUND IN THE BROOKLYN LIFE.

WM. LITTLE, M.D., MEDICAL EXAMINER.

AW · LAWRENCE,

General Agent for North Carolina, Office at Raleigh.

may 18-tf

INSURE AGAINST FIRE!

In PESCUD & SON'S Agency, Raleigh, N. C.

Money and time saved to those who insure through us in the following strong and prompt Companies, viz: Home, N. Y. Georgia Home, N. C. Home, City Fire, Richmond, New Orleans, Amazon, Atlas, Hartford, Atlantic, New York, Firemans Fund, Cal., Penn of Philadelphia, Franklin of Philadelphia.

EXTRA inducements offered to all who want insurance on Cotton and Tobacco Factories, Mills, Gins, Farm property and dwellings and country stores.—In appearance to a Gold Watch that costs from $40 to $100. It sells and trades readily, for from $20 to $60. If you wish a watch for your own use, or to make money on, try this. Price $11 only. We will send this watch C. O. D. subject to examination. If you send $3 with the order, the balance of $15 you can pay the Express Co. If the watch proves satisfactory.

ALL CAN make splendid pay selling our goods We have other novelties which are asstapl as Flour. Send stamp for illustrated catalogue.

Address F. P. GLUCK, New Bedford, Mass.

May 3-1-y

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE LIFE AND LABORS OF LIVINGSTONE.

INCLUDING HIS LA

Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Bobbitt & Gray, Publishers. | Published in the Interests of Methodism in North Carolina. | $2.20 Per Annum, in Advance.

Vol. XXII.---No. 5. | Raleigh, N. C., Wednesday, February 2, 1876. | Whole No. 1,093.

Selected Poetry.

Just as God Leads Me.

Just as God leads me I would go;
I would not ask to chose my way;
Content with what he will bestow,
Assured he will not let me stray,
But as He leads, my path I make,
And step by step I gladly take,
A child in him confiding

Just as God leads I am content;
I rest me calmly in His hands;
That which He has decreed and sent—
That which His will to me commands,
I would that He should all fulfill;
That I should do His gracious will
In living or in dying.

Just as God leads, I all resign;
Where reason's rays deceptive shine,
His counsel would I yet fulfill;
That which His love ordained as right,
Before He brought me to the light,
My all to him resigning.

Just as God leads me I abide
In faith, in hope, in suffering true;
His strength is ever by my side—
Can aught my hold on Him undo?
I hold me firm in patience, knowing
That God my life is still bestowing—
The best in kindness sending.

Just as God leads, I onward go,
Oft amid thorns and briars seen;
God does yet not His guidance show—
But in the end it shall be seen
How, by a loving Father's will,
Faithful and true He leads me still.

Communicated.

For the Advocate.

The Claims of the Pastor.

BY R.

NUMBER 1.

The stir and buzz in getting the old pastor ready for Conference, being over, and the new preacher having entered upon his new field of labor, we propose to calmly and seriously consider the subject of the caption of this article, together with some of its cognate ideas.

"Who is the Pastor? what are his claims? and how and when should they be met?" are questions which we design to discuss, as we may be able, in these articles.

The word pasco, from which we derive our English word Pastor, doubtless took its origin from the ancient custom of taking care of sheep, a custom well understood by the people of the eastern country In its accommodated or figurative sense, it is now applied to all regularly ordained ministers of Christ's gospel, who have charge of congregations.

The word used in this sense is a correlative term implying the existence of a spiritual flock over which such pastor or shepherd exercises an immediate care or control.

In a common sense view of the subject, the pastor should be chosen by his flock, and not the flock by the pastor. The flock, in point of logical order, must exist before the pastor; for no minister is a pastor till some charge has been committed to his care. In a correlative sense, the pastor may be removed and yet the flock remain; but when the flock has been taken from a man his pastorship is also gone.

In Methodistic economy, the flock chooses its pastor through the cabinet, which consists of the Bishop and his staff of Presiding Elders. The Church general has resigned its legitimate right of choosing pastors, into the hands of these officers, and the pastors their will in accepting a special charge; consequently, in the Methodist Church, no congregation is without an accredited pastor, and no pastor is left without a congregation or charge, which the Bishop and his cabinet believe to be able to support him.

The relations existing between a properly installed and accepted pastor and his people are very peculiar, and not as well understood by all our people as they should be.

When a preacher takes the oversight of his charge, he in the act of acceptance, assumes a spiritual relation to that people, which no other person on earth can claim. He, in a very high sense, becomes Christ's vicegerent to them. He assumes a mediumship between God and the people over whom he has become a spiritual overseer. In the philosophy of the subject, God will hear his prayers for that charge in a sense that He will hear no other man in their behalf. The pastor, during his pastorate, is, in a high sense, held bound unto God for the salvation and happiness of that people. He cannot at will leave his charge, or even under ordinary circumstances, leave them in the hands of another. God has written the relations down in his book, and both parties are held responsible for the duties which reciprocally grow out of these relations.

The first great duty of the pastor is, to feed his flock with proper spiritual food. This demands all his time in study, prayer, pastoral visiting and preaching. He has no time to devote to secular affairs Indeed, he has no time of his own. In the acceptance of his pastorate, he consecrated all to the spiritual interests of his charge.

On the other hand, when a charge receives a minister either by a direct call, as in some of the churches of our country, or through the hands of the Bishop and his staff, as in the Methodist Church, that charge places itself under the highest possible moral obligations, to support and sustain that pastor and his family during his pastorate.

The relation is so close and the obligations so binding that neither party can neglect his duty without incurring the guilt of moral perjury,... to excuse themselves from paying the pastor upon the grounds of poor preaching ability in the preacher.—The man or woman who does this, might as well attempt to ignore the duties growing out of the married relation, because the husband or wife is found to be a confirmed invalid.—The obligations of matrimony have been assumed, and the parties must continue faithful till death dissolves the compact. So it is in the matter under consideration. The preacher must preach and the people are bound to pay him. A failure upon either side of the contract involves the highest guilt.

For the Advocate.

MESSRS EDITORS: By your permission, I address your numerous readers a few notes of travel in 1875.

In January I accepted the offer of the Ex. Com. of the Grand Lodge of Good Templars, to lecture for them in Virginia.

After preaching and lecturing in Richmond and Manchester and organizing one lodge I passed, by steam boat down James River, to Surry co. and preached, lectured, and organized a lodge at Cabin Point; went to Norfolk and Portsmouth; from thence to Hampton, preached in the Baptist and Methodist Churches, lectured and organized a lodge, returned to Norfolk; from thence to Meddlesex co. preached and lectured and organized a lodge at Urbana; preached and lectured at Harmony village and organized a lodge of over a hundred charter members. Thence to Sandy Bottom, preached, lectured and organized a lodge.

At special invitation, I went to Saluda; after preaching and lecturing, organized a lodge. This movement in Middlesex co. was a very remarkable one, Baptist, Episcopal and Methodist ministers and people, all united cheerfully in the work, and the ladies were enthusiastic in their devotion to the cause. A large number of the most influential families in the county became identified with the Good Templars. I shall, while memory holds its place, always cherish the recollection of my pleasant visit to this county.

I visited Salem, Gloucester co, preached and lectured, and then organized a lodge; went to Matthews co. preached and lectured at the Court House, and then organized a lodge; preached and lectured at Bethel, organized a lodge; preached and lectured at the Point, then organized a lodge. From there to Port Haywood, after preaching and lecturing, organized a lodge. Lectured Monday at Court, to a crowded Court House, people from all parts of the country. In Norfolk co. preaching and lecturing and organizing a lodge. Visited Lancaster co. by invitation lecturing, preaching and organizing: lectured by special invitation at the Court House, graced by the Judge, clergy and a crowd of citizens. From thence to Washington City, made a flying trip to attend a mass temperance meeting at Fort Defiance, on the railroad between Staunton and Harrisonburg, returned to Norfolk, by the Potomac steamer. From thence to Richmond, lectured at Trinity and organized a lodge. From Norfolk back to Richmond, thence to Charlottesville; after lecturing, twice, proceeded to Staunton, then to Covington, and after preaching and organizing a lodge, went to Goshen, then to Lexington, spent several weeks preaching, lecturing and organizing lodges, in Rockbridge, Botetourt Roanoke, and Augusta counties. Left for the annual session of the Grand Lodge in Richmond.

In closing up this communication, permit me to say that all through my travel in Virginia I was received, both as a minister and lecturer, with the utmost kindness, by the ministers of the diffirent churches, and citizens generally. Pleasant incidents and episodes have occurred, sufficienct to fill a volume.

During the eight months, I have traveled about four thousand miles, preached one hundred sermons, delivered one hundred and fifty lectures, addressed at least fifty Sunday schools, and preached, lectured and talked to at least fifteen thousand people, and through divine mercy come out of the campaign in better health and spirit, than when I began. The Lord's name be praised!

SAMUEL PEARCE.

Charlotte, N. C. Jan. 1876.

For the Advocate.

Experimental Religion a Vital Necessity to a Consistent Christian Life.

This is the only kind of religion, that makes itself felt and acknowledged as a power, in the heart of the Christian.

It is the only kind whose exercises in the heart, demonstrate the power of godliness,—as manifested in a consistent Christian walk and conversation.

It is the only kind that impresses the unbelieving world, with an unanswerable argument in favor of that Religion which is a living faith in the meritorious sacrifice of a crucified life of the professor, by his faithful, humble earnest work for Jesus,—in loving Him with all his heart, and his neighbor as himself.

It is the only kind of Religion which has ever yet given to a poor sinner grace to conquer in the unequal conflict with the world, the flesh and the Devil.

The only kind which will sustain and comfort in the dark hours of adversity—when the waves of trouble roll over us. The only kind which will enable us thankfully to walk in the furnace of affliction—if need be—and even to welcome trials and tribulation as chastenings of a father's hand to sanctify us through suffering—and because we have the promise of the author and finisher of our faith—"that all things shall work together for good to them that love God."

"The soul that on Jesus hath leaned for repose, I'll never, no never desert to his foes."

A religion of theory may be beautiful to write or talk about—a religion of the head may furnish to the formalist subjects for lively and brilliant speculation, or it may be for earnest and excited disputation—but it takes religion of the heart to carry the penitent humble trusting soul, safe through the stormy scenes of this life, and to bear him triumphant over the swelling floods of Jordan. It will require a heart filled with experiment al religion to present the poor sinner, accepted before his father's face—to clothe his poor naked soul in the spotless robes of a perfect righteousness—wrought by a Saviour's love.

And when on the morning of the resurrection, the whole universe assembles, summoned by the archangel's trump, to come to judgment—there to answer in the face of the eternal Judge, for the deeds done in the body: when oh sinner! you are there confronted with the long dark catalogue of your sins, and called to make your defence, it will require all the experimental religion of the heart—which a faithful trust in Christ can give—to enable you there, in full view of the solemn realities of that dread day, to rejoice in a Saviour's righteousness—and triumphantly to exclaim, Here Lord I stand a sinner saved by Grace. Professing Christians—Church members examine your foundation—and be assured that if you are resting upon any thing else for salvation than an experimental knowledge of religion in your hearts—which is a living saving faith in Christ—manifested by the works of the believer, when the trying time comes you will find to your dismay that you have built upon a foundation of sand. Christians live for Jesus, and you shall live with Him—both now and hereafter.

W. K. M.

Lilesville, N. C.

Begin Early.

BRETHREN: We have received most of the moneys collected during the Conference year now closing. A number of the Annual Conferences have fallen below their assessments, which will leave the treasury empty before all the drafts drawn by the Bishops in favor of the missionaries already in the field shall have been paid. This deficiency must be provided for in due time. We therefore urge the brethren to take their collections early in the year and forward to the Treasurer at Nashville, and he will return a receipt which will be a voucher in the settlement with the Annual Conference treasurers. Now is the time to begin the work of collecting for Missions.

Mark our word: If each preacher will begin at once and devote a reasonable portion of his time to the missionary collections, calling on every member and friend of our Church in his bounds, for a contribution, nineteen out of every twenty will collect their entire assessment, and five out of every ten will exceed what has been alotted to their charges. The reports from various fields of missionary toil are encouraging. There is a loud call for more preachers. Send us the means, and the men will be ready.

Now, dear brother, don't lay down this appeal and forget the cause of Jesus; but we beseech you to go to work in earnest for the salvation of poor, dying sinners. The calls are urgent.

J. B. McFERRIN,
D. C. KELLEY,
Secretaries.

Science and Religion

The following are among the concluding sentences in the opening address by the Rev. Dr. Deems, at the inauguration of the Vanderbilt University:

The most sacred thing in the sanctum sanctorum of the ancient Hebrew tabernacle and temple was the Ark of the Covenant, the Law, God's testimony to his sense of right, the solitary autograph in human letters of the Eternal, written on stone, inscribed by the very fingers of the Lord God Almighty. Over the Ark which held the law, God ordered that cherubic heroes are ever all His work—and so His mercy seat covered His testimony. When Adam and Eve had been driven forth, the cherubim had stood at Eden's gate with a flaming sword turned every way. They were placed there as guardians to keep the way of the tree of life. In the tabernacle the cherubim re appear, but come without the sword, stretching forth their wings on high, covering the mercy seat with their wings, and gaze down on the awful mystery of Love overlapping Law, and Love upholding Law.

Behold, I have a vision of the cherubim.

The Ark is carried into the temple not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. The cherubim are instinct with life to the outermost tip of each mighty pinion. The very glory of God descends to make His everlasting throne upon the everlasting mercy seat, which covers the everlasting seat of Law. Before the infinite majesty of that glory the cherubim arise, and stand in front of God, and, as they arise, the sounds of their quivering wings are heard to the outer court of all the temple of the universe, as the voice of the Almighty God when he speaketh.

See how they stand, so vast and so superb.

The One who has the place by the right hand of the Omnipotent lifts up himself, and all the glory of all the suns is on His brow, and each great wing is like an unmeasured milky way, ashimmer with the mystic splendor of all stars

The One who has the place nearest the infinite heart of immortal love lifts up himself. His brow is fairer than the light of that morning when all the sons of God shouted for joy. His eyes are lovelier than the sapphired tent that pavilions the eternal throne His lips are ravishingly sweet with the best beauty that comes from the kisses of the Lord. His wings are pinions whose plumes of whiteness shed thoughts of purity down on angelic minds, and whose immense sweep fans all the love flames glowing in seraphic hearts.

Twain they stand, and twain they burn, until hierarchic circles kindle into rapture at the sight. Even God delights Himself in their surpassing glory, and smiles upon them until their vast hearts can longer hold their divinest joy.

Twain they sing. The cherub of the snow white wings and palpitating heart breaks heaven's ecstatic silence with the chant, "Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God of Hosts."

The cherub of starry wings and throbbing brain gives antiphone, "Heaven and earth are full of the majesty of Thy glory."

The heavens can keep silence no more, but seraphim and cherubim, angels and archangels, shout, shout up at the throne of Love and Law, "Glory be to Thee, O Lord most high, and, from the farthest reach of thought and feeling, all the company of heaven fill the temple of God with the multitudinous and musical thunder of the united and overwhelming, "Amen and Amen."

And the King, eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God our Saviour, wraps those interlocked cherubim in his loving arms, and thrills the heavens with his royal edict, "What God hath joined together let no man put asunder." Those cherubim sublime are Science and Religion

A Mother's Love.

[ROSIE M. BACHTEL.]

What a sacred shrine on earth, is a fond mother's holy love! How pure—how unchanging—how deathless! love as pure as the sunny light of heaven, as unchanging as the laws that govern the universe, and as deathless as immortality itself! a love that defies the decaying touch of time, outlives life, and claims kindred with the skies!

A mother's love! What beautiful words! What a sublime combination! How full of beauty and tenderness! and how replete with associations, hallowed and dear to memory! Mother! She who watched over us in the helpless hour of infancy and childhood, and taught us to kneel at her side, and there breathe a prayer to God. Mother! She who endeavored to lead us in the paths of piety and peace, sought to mold our characters for usefulness and honor in society, and longed so earnestly to see us prepared for our great destiny beyond the grave.

O, what happy thoughts cluster around the precious memory of a dear departed mother! That saintly being who, amid the last pangs of dissolving mortality, besought us to meet her in that happy clime where all is peace and joy, and then, with the out beaming sunshine of divine love, gleaming forth in eager expression of countenance and sparkling in heavenly radiance from her eye, bade us a long, long farewell.

[illegible] the dominant attribute of her nature! Love! The sublimest passion that warmed her heart, and spoke forth in every action, word, thought and feature. Love! The sacred link that bound her to her child on earth, and the guardian angel that followed her to the skies.

We may not dwell longer on this delightful, though solemn theme. Her warfare is over, and hers is the "glory of the saints in light."—She has reached the heaven of eternal peace, and is waiting, no doubt, the triumphant entry of those left on earth into the glorious mansions of the redeemed.

No mortal ears no sweeter sounds
Have ever yet been given,
Than linger in the thrilling words,
Mother, Home, and Heaven
Mother! around the name doth cling
A grateful memory
Of warmest love, and tenderest care
Through youth and infancy
And Home! how sweeter still the sound
For mother is there, too,
Dispensing smiles and joy that makes
A paradise below.
And then the thought that cheers me on,
Whatever grief be given,
We still may claim when life is gone,
Mother and Home in Heaven.

How to Reach the North Pole

C. S. says: "I propose to reach the north pole by the construction of an overground tubular railroad, under the auspices of several governments, which should pay sufficient money to construct suitable shops for the making of a wooden tube, 5 or 6 feet in diameter, to be made in light sections for transportation. After some suitable landing place has been chosen, the road could be commenced at the dock. The sections of the tube could be placed on a car which would run inside of the tube and be propelled by hand, and furnished with a light, strong, convenient dummy engine and boiler, to be used when required. Theoretically this idea has many points of great benefit to the explorers. A car can be made and furnished with nearly all the comforts of a home; and the tube, getting covered with snow in the winter, would be quite warm. With properly constructed stoves, plenty of provisions, and fuel, a scientific party could pass a winter in the tubes quite comfortably. I have no doubt but there are plenty of civil engineers who would jump at the chance of constructing a road of this nature if solid government support was guaranteed. If this idea proved feasible, and the barrier of 120 miles that is supposed to exist could be overcome, and the unexplored supposed open sea found, this road could be made the means of carrying material for the construction of suitable fishing vessels. If the open sea does exist, there is no doubt but whales are to be found there in immense numbers, so as to make the road profitable, and furnish oil for the people when the products of the oil region commence to give out. Shelter in nearly all emergencies would be found in a road of this description. Who can tell of the benefits that might come to the nations if the mysteries of the vast unknown region could be brought to light? The outlay on a road of this character would be a mere bagatelle to the results that would accrue from it."—Scientific American.

Have You Enemies?

Go straight on, and do not mind them. If they get in your way, walk around them, regardless of their spite. A man who has no enemies is seldom good for anything; he is made of that kind of material that is so easily worked that every one has a hand in it. A sterling character is one who thinks for himself, and speaks what he thinks, and he is always sure to make enemies. They are as necessary to him as fresh air; they keep him alive and active. A celebrated character who was surrounded by enemies used to remark, "They are sparks, which, if you do not blow, will go out of themselves." 'Live down prejudice," was the Iron Duke's motto. Let this be your feeling while endeavoring to live down the scandal of those who are bitter against you. If you stop to dispute, you do as they desire, and open the door to more abuse. Let the poor fellows talk; there will be a reaction if you perform but your duty, and hundreds who were once alienated from you will flock back to you and acknowledge their error.

Parental Affection.

Among the cases of suffering by the wreck in 1680 of the vessel in which the Siamese embassy to Portugal was embarked, few have stronger claims to pity than that of the captain. He was a man of rank, sprung from one of the first families in Portugal: he was rich and honorable, and had long commanded a ship in which he had rendered great service to the king and had given many marks of his valor and fidelity.—The captain had carried his only son out to India along with him; he was a youth possessed of [illegible] attached to his father The captain watched with the most intense anxiety over his safety.

On the wreck of the ship and during the march to the Cape he caused him to be carried by his slaves. At length, all the slaves having perished or being so weak that they could not drag themselves along, this poor youth was obliged to trust to his own strength, but became so reduced and feeble, that, having laid him down to rest on a rock, he was unable to rise again his limbs were stiff and swollen, and he lay stretched at length, unable to bend a joint. The sight struck like a dagger to his father's heart; he tried repeatedly to recover him, and by assisting him to advance a few steps, supposed that the numbness might be removed; but his limbs refused to serve him, he was only dragged along, and those whose aid the father implored, seeing they could do no more, frankly declared that if they carried him they must themselves perish.

The unfortunate captain was driven to despair. Lifting his son on his shoulders, he tried to carry him. He could make but a single step, when he fell to the ground with his son, who seemed more distressed with his father's grief than with his own sufferings The heroic boy besought him to leave him to die; the sight, he said, of his father's tears and affliction was infinitely more severe than the bodily pain he endured. These words, far from inducing the captain to depart, melted him more and more, until at last he resolved to die with his son. The youth, astonished at his father's determination, and satisfied that persuasions were unavailing, entreated the Portuguese in the most impressive manner to carry away his father. Two priests who were of the party endevored to represent to the captain the sinfulness of his resolution, but the Portugese were obliged finally to carry him away by force, after having removed his son a little apart. So cruel, however, was the separation that the captain never recovered from it. The violence of his grief was undating, and he actually died of a broken heart on reaching the Cape.

PLATO flourished, say about the time of Malachi the prophet, or a very little earlier. There is evidence that he traveled in quest of wisdom It is said that he went to Egypt under pretence of selling oil, but in truth, to learn astrology;—that he surveyed the Nile, sought information from the priests and old men, and drew from this source a belief of the soul's immortality. Some have asserted that he was desirous of repairing to the eastern Magians also and that his plan was intercepted only by Asiatic wars. There is nothing extravagant, then, in supposing that he sought instruction from Hebrew oracles; or at least, that some of the reflected beams fell on his path. That true pharos stood in the midst of nations vast and mighty; and doubtless, knowledge streamed from Juda westward along the shores of the Mediterranean, as well as, on the other hand, toward the lands of the morning. The earlier dispensation was not so exclusively local, as we are apt to conceive In religion, the Hebrews were isolated; and moreover, they were a rural people, with no extensive commerce to bring them into relations with the world at large; but this is only one view of the case. Zion's prophets carried the 'burden' of many a remote city and region: her bards sung of isles and continents, yea, of "the ends of the earth." And who is unwilling to believe that the pitying Father of lights shed a ray, meanwhile, on many an earnest inquirer? Be this admitted; yet let no one therefore affirm that Plato was a Hebrew, or a Christian before Christ. The solitary ray is not the sun with healing wings. Make the most, if you will, of the "element" that unfolds and sets forth "the conception of a saving purpose." Grant that the words savior, salvation, etc., frequently occur in the pages of the illustrious Greek Yet, notwithstanding a multitude of surrounding altars, he makes no reference to atonement for sin. On this great matter, strictly defined, Plato is in the dark, and his system of morals is, by all confession, powerless—it has been pronounced beautiful and symmetrical, but its working cannot be insured.

Family Prayer - An Incident

There were at one time in the Wesleyan Conference in Ireland, two preachers by the name of John Armstrong. To designate them, they were commonly called, "Big John' and 'Little John.' Little John, though not equal to his namesake in bodily stature, was by no means a diminutive man, either in body or in mind.

Shortly after my conversion to God, little John came to Belturbet, and put up with the pious family of Archibald Fitzpatrick, where I was then making my home. He was a very cheerful, [illegible] experience, he said that he had been a long time under deep conviction, and often in great distress of mind, groaning for deliverance from a burden too heavy for him to bear. He said that it became strongly impressed on his mind that, if they had family prayer in his father's house, he would be brought into the light and liberty of the Gospel. For some time, to introduce this subject seemed to be a cross too heavy for him to bear. The family were members of the Church of England, and having attended the Church service one Sabbath, as they were sitting by the fire in the evening. John said.

'Father, do you not think that you ought to pray with your family?'

He replied, 'John, that will be left undone until you do it yourself.'

'Well, then, father,' said he, 'it shall no longer be left undone,' and at once kneeled dnown and commeneed praying.

The rest of the family all got on their knees, and John had prayed but a short time, when his long imprisoned soul was set at liberty, and he praised God for salvation. The rest cried out to God to have mercy upon them, and how many of them were pardoned that night I do not remember, but that season of prayer led to the conversion of the whole family, and John became a useful preacher of the Gospel. How sad is the condition of those concerning whom the Prophet says, 'Pour out thy fury upon the heathen, and the families that call not upon thee.'—J. Watson, in American Wesleyan.

How a Native Evangelist Works

Our readers will remember the converted Brahmin, Rev. Naryan Sheshadri, who was in attendance at the convention of the Evangelical Alliance in New York and greatly interested the members by his earnest eloquence. He writes as follows of the methods he pursues in evangelizing his countrymen:

"I am thankful to say," he writes, "that I am busy at my own sphere of usefulness from four o'clock A. M. to nine o'clock P. M.—of course, meal hours, bathing-time, etc., excepted.—Here is the way in which I spend my day: At five o'clock I go out with my evangelistic party, which is formed of the perfect number seven, to some one of our numerous villages in our neighborhood, within an area of ten miles. My evangelists take with them their musical instruments, viz.: a drum, a guitar and a pair of cymbals. As soon as we arrive at the appointed village our blind minstrel, Bartimeus, sings a Christian hymn to the instrumental music, and as this goes on, men, women and children collect around us. After singing, one of our evangelists steps forward and tries to set forth the truths that have been sung, in as spirited an address as he can. Another hymn is then sung, and a second evangelist gives another address—and what does your humble servant do? His principal business is to supplement the addresses of our young evangelists, and close the whole with a concluding address.—This lasts for nearly an hour and a half We, on the whole, get very good congregations indeed—very orderly and attentive and respectful.—While going to a village I try to give hints to our evangelists on the art of preaching. After preaching I ride home as fast as I can—that is about nine o'clock. After breakfast I have class with our medical catechists to read the word of God. This lasts for nearly an hour. At about one o'clock I go over to the Anglo-Vernacular school, and impart religious instruction to the whole school. After this (at about five o'clock P. M.) I have, twice a week, congregational meetings with our Christian people. At seven o'clock the advanced scholars from the Anglo Vernacular school come to read Angus' 'Handbook of the English Tongue.' The last class I hear is that of our young masons, who read the Old Testament from eight to nine P. M. I assure you I have as much pleasure in this way of working as I used to have when with you. However, with us it is still our sowing-time."

Application has been made to Gov. Tilden to pardon Stokes, the Fisk murderer, but the Governor declines to interfere.

Smiles of God

We love to share the smiles of our friends. How they cheer and brighten our pathway! They infuse indeed into our hearts a wondrous joy and seem to inspire us with new life. How much of real sun-shine and heart-felt joy do the smiles of those we love beget within us! They cause our whole horizon of life to become more luminous, as if some new sun had arisen in our skies. Smiles scatter many dark shadows from our pilgrim way and set the bright bow of promise arching over all our heavens.

[illegible] than those of any earthly friend. They transcend by far the miles of those we most tenderly and dearly love. They scatter, by their illuminating rays, the last shadow from our moral heavens, and cause within our souls the glorious day of God! The smiles of our great sympathizing High Priest are benignant and life-giving indeed! How in this vale of tears, amid griefs, numerous trials, hardships and loss, should we be hopeful and happy without these approving evidences of the divine favor? For "His favor is better than life." How greatly it brightens our darkest days, cheers our poor, sinking hearts lightens our burdens, animates our footsteps and beckons us on to the better land of glory! Then let us ever seek and enjoy "The smiles of the Lord, as the feast of the soul."

—Pittsboro Advocate.

Discovery at Jerusalem

A curious archeological discovery has just been made at Jerusalem. The proprietor of a piece of ground outside the city, 150 yards north of the Damascus Gate, and on the west of the north road, while digging a cistern on his property, came upon a rock 12½ feet below the surface. It appeared to him to sound hollow when struck. He broke it through, and found beneath a series of sepulchral rock-cut chambers. They present nothing remarkable in their structure, and consist of two irregular quadrilateral vaults, one of them being 15 feet long by 10 feet broad and 8 feet high, together with a third, the plan of which is at present imperfect; and, under the smaller of the two vaults, another, with three loculi occupying the whole of its area, excavated to a depth of 10 feet below the first. But in the larger chamber was found a stone chest of very unusual dimensions, which contained when discovered human bones. It is cut from a single stone, measures 7 feet 7 inches in length, 2 feet 8 inches in breadth, and is 3 feet 2 inches in height. It stands upon four feet, and has the rim cut to receive the lid, portions of which—or what were believed to be portions—were lying in the chamber. The rock roof of the vault has been cut away to admit the chest, which Dr. Chaplain thinks is of much later date than the tombs.—Athenæum.

Father Boehm.

The following is an extract from the address of Bishop Janes at the funeral services over the remains of Father Boehm: "The oak on the mountain top has covered itself with foliage for a hundred summers, and presented its naked form to the storms of a hundred winters. But in the course of nature the time arrives when neither the genial warmth of spring nor the chilling frosts of autumn can move its sluggish currents. Strength fails and decay follows. But the fact that it wrestled with the blasts of so many seasons proves that it had a strong constitution and great tenacity of life. Otherwise it had not survived the multitude whose acorns opened in the same spring time, and whose circumstances were similar. So with our sainted friend whose remains are before us now. He had seen a hundred spring seasons clothe the earth with verdure, a hundred autumns clothe the earth with harvest. He not only lived to celebrate his own birthday, but also the birthday of his Saviour and ours. He lived till all who were cootaneous with him had passed away. And this is all the more remarkable because of the hardships and perils of his labor."

To fatten fowls within ten or fourteen days, they ought to be placed in a wooden cage two feet above the soil the bottom of the cage to be strewn with wood ashes daily; the food should consist of rice, boiled in skimmed milk, adding a spoonful of carbonate of soda; the poultry ought to receive also, pure water twice a day, and, like the food, in earthen vessels. The chief object is to maintain great cleanliness, and to avoid the presence of any acid. The flesh of fowls thus fattened is highly praised.—Southern Farmer.

Dr. D. W. Ward, of Onslow county, has induced several of his neighbors to embark with him in the culture of tobacco.

The Christian Advocate.

OFFICE—Corner of Dawson & Hargett Sts

THE ORGAN
OF THE
NORTH CAROLINA CONFERENCE
OF THE
M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH.

Rev J. B Bobbitt, R. T Gray, Esq. } Editors.

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

ONE YEAR, IN ADVANCE, POSTAGE PAID,	$2.20
IX MONTHS, " "	1.35
If payment be delayed six months,	2.60

All letters on business with this office should be addressed to the Editors of the CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

RALEIGH, N. C., FEBRUARY 2, 1876.

☞ We will send the Advocate to subscribers, in clubs of ten, at two dollars a year, postage paid by us. We trust our people will take advantage of this proposition, at once.

Methodism--Its Comparative Strength.

American Methodism is one hundred and eight years old. It has been operating as an element of moral, social, intellectual and spiritual power on the American mind and the American heart only a little over a century, and it now numbers between two and three millions of communicants.—There is not a prominent religious denomination in this country that has not been operating on American society from fifty to one hundred and fifty years longer than the system of Methodism. Yet as a church we count our membership by the millions.

As an evidence of the superior efficiency of Methodism as a progressive and aggressive religious system over every other religious organization of our country, let us look at the comparative and relative difference in the results of the labors of these several systems, as indicated by membership.

The Methodist Church in the United States has a membership more than a third larger than the Baptist, nearly, or quite, three times as large as the Presbyterian, eight times as large as the Congregational, and twelve times as large as the Episcopal.—Thus by comparison of Methodism with the four leading evangelical denominations of the United States, we have it demonstrated most clearly that our system of operation and the doctrines we teach place us in advance of any other religious organization upon the American continent. This numerical strength of American Methodism cannot be set aside by the captious remark or bold assumption that numbers is no evidence of strength and influence. Numbers, other things being equal, which we hold is true, is an evidence of strength. Methodism is not only in advance of all other Christian denominations in the number of her membership, but she has a membership of as exemplary Christian character, as pure morality, of as strong faith, as warm sympathy, and as unselfish benevolence as can be found in any church. Dr. Chalmers, an eminent Presbytorian divine, says that "Methodism is Christianity in earnest." Dr. Tyng, a pious, learned and eloquent divine of the Episcopal Church, says that "Methodism is the best form of practical Christianity known in our country." With such testimony as this to the purity, power and efficiency of Methodism, it will not do for captious criticism to say that numbers with us is no evidence of strength. Numbers will not prove that error is truth, nor that right is wrong, but we do not enumerate our membership with any such purpose. That as Methodists we teach the truth and practice what we teach, is evident from an appeal to our teaching and practice. The great numerical strength of Methodism does prove the superior efficiency of our church machinery for aggressive religious effort, to any other system in this country or Europe.

It is not only true that the Methodist Church is in advance of all others in numbers, but is in advance of them all in practical benevolence, Sunday school enterprise, Bible and tract distribution, and in her efforts for general educational progress. The origin of Methodism as a district organization shows that she is a child of Providence, called into existence to work out a great spiritual reformation among the masses of society, and her brief history shows that she has nobly done her work. She is but in the infancy of her growth and the beginning of her usefulness, and is evidently destined to go on to still greater triumphs In our own State and Conference, we intend, under the direction of the great Head of the church, to test our strength as a church on this the centennial year of our Methodism. We intend to say, in some practical way to coming generations, that we had a place among her communicants on the centenary of her existence. While we rejoice at the general prosperity of the Methodist Church upon the American continent, and more especially since we have to do, and are identified with Southern Methodism, let us see to it that Methodism in the bounds of the North Carolina Conference shall keep abreast with the rest of the Conferences of our connection, in the great aggressive movements which she as a church is making.

OUR neighbor, the "Old Richmond," though blessed with a strong force in the possession of Dr. Bennett and the cheerful Rev. J. J. Lafferty, takes unto itself Rev. Dr. A. W. Wilson, of the Baltimore Conference, as special editorial contributor.

The Centennial of N. C. Methodism.

As the present year is the centennial of North Carolina Methodism, it is proper that we should recur to the subject, in some appropriate way, in every issue. We greatly prefer, however, that the centennial department of our paper should be filled from week to week by others. Brethren in the ministry and laity in the State, as well as many who have gone to other States, could contribute greatly to the interest of this department.—They are in possession of facts touching the work and progress of Methodism in North Carolina, and now is the time to give publicity to them in these columns. There are quite a number of distinguished ministers who formerly belonged to the N. C. Conference, but who have at different times been transferred to other Conferences, who are cordially invited to take part with us in celebrating the centenary of Methodism in our State. We should be glad to have articles from Revs Dr Wadsworth, Dr Andrews, Dr. Jones, Dr. Edwards, Revs S. Bryant, Jas. Jamison, Thos. S. Campbell, and others whose names do not occur to us just now. Those names are familiar to our people.—They would esteem it a great privilege to hear from them through the ADVOCATE. They could give many pleasant reminiscences relative to their work in our bounds. We shall be favored, we trust, not only with communications from them, but also with their presence at our grand centennial mass meeting to be held in this city beginning on the 21st day of March.

Seeking Their Own.

The Atlantic cable brings the news of a movement in the extreme ritualistic section of the English Church, which many have for a long time expected, to wit, a proposition of an annexation to the Roman Catholic Church. About one hundred ritualistic clergymen, with a congregational following of about 75 000 men and double as many women, have signed a memorial to the Pope in which they offer to recognize him as the head of the church, to accept the Vatican decrees, and to conform in every point of doctrine and worship to his church, provided he will grant them certain indulgences. As many of those clergymen who propose to go over to the Pope are married men and could not, without a violation of one of the strongest doctrines of the church, belong to its priesthood, the petitioners ask the Pope to allow those who are already married to continue as priests, while those that are single shall remain single, celibacy hereafter to be the rule.

They also ask that they be allowed to use the vernacular in worship—except that in the celebration of the mass Latin shall be employed. They desire that a United Anglican Church be formed in communion with Rome, but with a national independence. If these concessions are granted the petitioners will secede from the English Church and recognize the Pope as the supreme pontiff. It is not likely that the Pope will grant the indulgences asked for. He loves no half-way service, but claims full obedience to the ways and doctrines of his church. The Roman yoke is one to which necks must fit themselves,—it cannot or will not bend and accommodate itself to them. Everybody coming to Rome must do as Rome does, claims the Pope.

The malcontents in the established church—the ritualists—would feel easier in the Romish Church than where they are, and the sooner they leave the better it will be for themselves and the church they desert. The same may be said of many High Church Episcopalians in this country, who affect the airs of Romanists and in doing so make themselves ridiculous in the eyes of the world and hurtful to the church which they regard themselves as outgrowing.

We have forwarded the Minutes to the parties who have notified us of the amounts paid for the same at Conference, and of the offices to which they wish them sent. Let those who have not notified us do so at once. If any did not subscribe for the Minutes, and wish to be supplied, we will furnish any number at 25 cents per copy, or five copies for one dollar—very nearly the cost.

Will the ministers, on stations and circuits, endeavor to sell copies to the members on their charges? The Minutes contain much valuable statistical information with which our preachers would do well to supply their charges. We shall be glad to receive and will give prompt attention to orders.

Rev. Dr. T. M. Jones, the efficient President of Greensboro Female College, at the close of a business letter to us, conveys the intelligence that the College is doing well notwithstanding the hard times of which everybody is complaining. There are one hundred and fifteen young ladies in attendance upon the College, of whom ninety are boarders. More are expected. We are glad to note this evidence of the determination of our people to sustain our colleges and to discharge one of the first duties they owe to their children—the furnishing them with a good and liberal education.

WE must ask our friends who receive their paper with the cross (X) mark on the margin, to renew their subscription without delay.—We need the cash to meet the weekly expenses of our office.

Rev. Dr Deems

We give below the complimentary resolutions unanimously adopted by the North Carolina Conference relating to Dr. Deems and his location:

Whereas, Dr. Deems, who has been for thirty four years a member of the North Carolina Conference (believing it to be his duty), has asked for, and has been granted, a location; and whereas, he has been eminently useful and successful during his connection with our Conference in his ardent work as a competent instructor in our institutions of learning, and in wielding his vast influence over the public mind to promote the cause of Christ; therefore,

Resolved, That we can but deplore the act that severs him from us; but as in the providence of God his lot is cast in a field of labor where we believe his brilliant talents and active energy will accomplish grander results for the good of souls, we acquiesce in his decision.

Resolved, That we duly appreciate his valuable services while among us, and pray that the benedictions of the Great Head of the Church may be upon him in his present important [illegible] and inviting [illegible]

The Raleigh Sentinel under the head of "More Happiness," says:

"In addition to the marriage celebrated at the Baptist church in this city this morning, we record the triumphs of Cupid and Hymen in another quarter. Early this morning a pleasant party assembled at the residence of Mr. Alfred Jones, at "Woodland," about eight miles from this city, to witness the nuptials of Rev. J. P. Moore, of the N. C. Conference and Presiding Elder of the Raleigh district, and Miss E. Cornelia Boddie, of this county, a lady whose good qualities are, like her friends, innumerable. The interesting ceremony was performed by Rev. J. B. Bobbitt, of this city. The attendants were Miss Boddie and Mr. Alfred Jones; Miss Nannie Mangum and Mr. N P Jones, and Miss Nannie P. Jones and Rev. W. C. Norman. After the marriage the party proceeded to the depot at Neuse where the wedded pair embarked for Warrenton, the home of the bridegroom.

Report of Joint Board of Finance (in part.)

BISHOP'S FUND.

The Board recommend that the Conference raise for next year for Bishop's salary and traveling expenses $1500.00, and that it be apportioned as follows:

Raleigh District,	$170.00
Hillsboro "	160.00
Greensboro "	150.00
Salisbury "	120.00
Shelby "	130.00
Charlotte "	130.00
Fayetteville "	160.00
Wilmington "	160.00
Newberne "	160.00
Washington "	160.00
Total assessed,	$1500.00

CONFERENCE FUND.

The Board recommend that the Conference raise for the next year $7.000, and that it be apportioned as follows:

Raleigh District,	$755.00
Hillsboro "	743.00
Greensboro "	686.00
Salisbury "	663.00
Shelby "	663.00
Charlotte "	686.00
Fayetteville "	663.00
Wilmington "	663.00
Newbern "	663.00
Washington "	663.00

Respectfully submitted,
H. H. GIBBONS,
Chairman.

Is Infant Baptism Declining

[New York Christian Advocate.]

Several of our contemporaries, as in duty bound, made the advent of the new year an occasion for thankful recollections of blessings received, each finding some subject to be named. Our brother of the Examiner and Chronicle—standard close-communion Baptist—finds as his cause of joy that "the sprinkling of children has come to be renounced by thousands"—which means, if it means anything, that infant baptism is declining in the American Churches. In the General Minutes of the Methodist Episcopal Church for 1875—just published—in the table of statistics we find: Infants baptised, 58 216; last year, 58, 911; decreased, 693—a decline of one and one fifth per cent. During the same year the decrease of adult baptisms was 5,197, or a little over seven per cent. If, then, the first show of numbers proves that infant baptism is declining among the Methodists, the second must prove that adult baptism is also declining. The explanation is that 1875 was slightly less a revival year among us than was 1874, and, therefore, there were fewer baptisms, but while there were fewer new families to be baptized, the old Methodist families so largely increased their number of children brought to baptism that the relative loss was almost entirely wiped out; while the adult baptism fell off nearly six thousand.

The total number of infant baptisms in the M E Church for ten years was 474,535; total adult baptisms for ten years, 585,187.

Sometime in September last, Dr. Jones, of Greensboro Female College, sent us a good list of young lady subscribers to the ADVOCATE, desiring, as he said, to have the paper read by as many of his scholars as possible. He writes again making arrangements for another large list for this session, and assures us of the benefits which the young ladies received from the paper last fall.

To the Ministers and Members of the M. E. Church in North Carolina--Greeting.

DEAR BRETHREN: We were appointed a committee at the last Conference held in Wilmington to address you on the Centennial of Methodism. "Grace be unto you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ." At the late session of the N. C. Conference of the M E. Church South, a large committee of ministers and laymen—members of the Conference—were appointed to consider and recommend what was the duty of the church on this, the hundredth, year since the introduction of Methodism in the State of North Carolina. With great unanimity, the committee reported in favor of the celebration of the centennial, by appropriate religious services in the whole State, and that she be called upon to lay her thank offering upon the altar of God. This report was adopted by Conference, and the objects to be presented for your beneficence were specified, and the report and action of that body is published. We call your prayerful attention to the reports.

We can but believe that the members, laborers, of the Methodist family, ministering of the Methodism in the State as embraced in the North Carolina, Virginia and Holston Conferences, are ready to commemorate this great event of Divine providence by offering praise and thanksgiving to God, through Jesus Christ our Lord, for the countless blessings flowing from this form of religion, as expressed in the doctrines and usages of Methodism. The memory and recollection of great events in individual, social, national and religious history have happily and deeply affected man in all ages When we stand at the mausoleum of the great and good who have passed away, and left us a legacy of wealth of character and influence, how sadly, and yet fondly, does memory travel over the past and gather the flowers that regale and the fruits which feast the soul as their bright deeds shine on their pathway from manhood to the tomb!

We ask you to assemble as a great religious family around the altar of God, and turn your eye over the past history of Methodism in this State, and to behold, humbly and thankfully, her present prosperity, and consider what is required of you to perpetuate this great blessing to posterity.

With adoring gratitude and with thanksgiving, let us realize what God has wrought for us and our children. On the 21st of March 1876 will be the hundredth year since Methodism was introduced into North Carolina, when one pastoral charge extended over the whole State. "A little one has become a thousand." How deeply are you indebted to God for the influence Methodism has exerted on the people of this land! Who can estimate the preciousness and power of the great truths she has so earnestly and warmly pressed home on the consciences of the people? She has ever stood up, the unflinching advocate of conscious pardon, and the "witness of the Holy Spirit" to attest forgiveness by Jesus Christ. This truth has been the support of the weak, the joy of the strong and the shield of the assailed. Her voice is now heard as in days gone, calling all men to the ample provisions of the gospel of the Son of God for a sinful world—and the power of his truth to sanctify and save. Your fathers and mothers heard, and wept and rejoiced and died in hope of Heaven—a hope, begotten of God, through the instrumentality of the "Circuit Rider," who ignoring the claims of earth, left the plow to rot in the furrow, and left the "dead to bury their dead," while he "preached Jesus and the resurrection." On the mountain, along the seashore—in the vale and in the towns, is now heard the voice of her pulpit and the songs of the redeemed. Seminaries of learning have sprung up in her pathway, and are pouring their healthy influence over the State. Your sons and daughters have tasted their healing and enjoyed their refreshing. Many of them stand now as "olive plants around your table," or "corner stones, polished after the similitude of a palace."—What society in the State owes to Methodism, and how to perpetuate this good to coming generations, may well engage the thoughts of the patriot as well as the devout Christian. The present is linked to the future. The rill of the hills rolls to the sea—So our actions link us to future years and generations. Shall we transmit to coming generations the blessings we enjoy, and raise to a higher plane those who follow us, and over whom God has given you influence? A religion without gratitude to God, expressed in beneficence, is a delusion and a mockery. Let us raise our "Ebenezer and say, hitherto the Lord has been our help."

Great as is the good done by your institutions of learning, much remains to be done by you to make them secure, and to perpetuate their influence to the church and the country. You, with us, count a profession of religion without beneficence "as a sounding brass or a tinkling cymbal." We invoke your prayers and material aid in favor of these great objects, the creations of your kindness;—objects, so deeply touching and affecting you and your country's weal. These institutions, located in different parts of the State, are presented for your kind favor, prayers and generosity by our last Conference in the centennial of Methodism.

On the 21st of March next, at Raleigh, we propose to hold a mass meeting beginning on that the centennial day—and, with adoring gratitude to God, recount his goodness to us as a people. We invite and urge you to attend, or send from the different charges, some representatives.—We urge you to honor the occasion, show that the spirit of consecration still lives and that the spirit of self denial abides with you in pristine vigor. Unite with your Bishops and ministers and laity and speak of what God has wrought. We urge farther on you the celebration of this event everywhere in the State under the guidance of your pastors, and that you pay as a thank offering on the altar of thanksgiving the amounts asked by Conference.

Finally, allow us to exhort you to consider how ardently our great founder, John Wesley, loved learning, and how much you are indebted to it for the influence God has given you We hope the review you will take of the past century will greatly animate your hopes, enlarge your hearts, and deepen your humility, enliven your zeal and increase your efficiency.—May the God of grace bless you, and [illegible] a thousand times so,

ROBT. O BURTON.
WM. CLOSS.
N H. D. WILSON.

P S Richmond Christian Advocate and Holston Methodist please publish. Signed by R. O. B in behalf of the committee.

Religious Intelligence.

Cumming is about to destroy the world again, some time between now and the first of September.

A deaf mute, who is a candidate for orders in New York, will be admitted to the Episcopal clergy.

The clergy of Salvador are yielding submissively to the government.

The special mission conducted by the Episcopal Church among the little Italians of New York, is receiving great encouragement.

A movement is on foot in Cumberland, Md., to organize a congregation of the Reformed Episcopal Church.

At its late session in Charleston, S. C., the South Carolina Conference passed a resolution forbidding ministers attending circuses

The Marquis of Ripon, who recently joined the Roman Catholic Church, has presented fifty thousand dollars to the Pope.

The Russian missionaries in Siberia report the conversion to the Greek faith of four Buddhist lamas during the month of August.

Rev William P. Harrison, D. D., of the Georgia Conference, has become associate editor of the Baltimore Episcopal Methodist. His official duties commenced January 8.

The Italian government is to levy a tax upon the incomes of the cardinals and all persons attached to the Papal court.

Mrs. Van Cott, the great revivalist, whose large and successful meetings held in Baltimore and vicinity last year will be remembered, began a series of protracted meetings on Wednesday of week before last, in the Clinton street Methodist Church, New York.

In 1777 the number of churches in the United States was only nine hundred and fifty. By the census of 1870, the number was seventy-two thousand. Churches have multiplied thirty seven fold. In 1870 religious societies owned $354,000,000 worth of property.

A London music house advertises music boxes which play the following list of Sankey's hymn tunes: 'Safe in the Arms of Jesus,' 'Gate Ajar,' 'Jewels,' 'Great Physician,' 'Jesus of Nazareth,' 'Knocking,' 'Bury Thy Sorrows,' and, 'Clinging to the Cross.'

The First Baptist Church erected in San Francisco was lately sold for a Chinese opium factory. The old Samson Street Church in Philadelphia is now used as a stable, and the church on 7th Street, below Arch, from which Dr. Kane was buried, is converted into a comic opera house.

The Methodist shows that the South is, relatively, the Protesant section of the Union. Twelve Southern States have less Catholic population than has Massachusetts, and the sixteen Southern States have less Catholic population than Massachusetts and New York. The twelve Southern States whose population is less than Massachusetts have 93 electoral votes; Massachusetts only 13. From these facts the Methodist reasons that the complete reconciliation of Northern and Southern Protestantism is just as urgent as resistance to Catholic aggression—the moral is FRATERNITY.

A Correction.

MESSRS EDITORS: There is a mistake in my article which appears in the Nashville Advocate of this date.

"All of which is most respectfully submitted—L S. Burkhead, Chm'n," should have followed the 14*th resolution*. This 14*th* resolution closed the Report of the Committee. The resolutions numbered 15, 16, 17, in the article referred to, were passed by the Conference, after the adoption of the Report, though in immediate connection with it.

Please insert this note and oblige yours truly, L. S. BURKHEAD.

Jan. 29th, 1876.

Subscribe for the ADVOCATE. Price $2.20 per annum, postage paid.

What Faith Should Do.

The Israelites marching up to the edge of the Red Sea till the waves parted before their feet, step by step, are often taken as an illustration of what our faith should do—advance to the brink of possibility, and then the seemingly impossible may be found to open.

But there is another illustration in the New Testament more sacred and striking—the women going to the sepulchre of our Lord. With true woman's nature, they did not begin to calculate the obstacles till on the way. On the road, reason met with the objections, "Who shall roll us away the stone?' And faith itself could not help them; but love did. A bond stronger than death drew them on, and "when they looked they saw that the stone was rolled away."

We may bless God that He can put into men's hearts impulses stronger than reason, and more powerful even than faith—such impulses that, if they are going to himself, they shall find that "He is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we can ask or think." Reason, faith, love, but the greatest of these is love We can the [illegible] beginning of the instinct in presses past the hard clod—its great stone—and finds itself in the midst of sunlight and spring—Sunday Magazine.

Recent Publications.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE, Jan. 8, contains the True Eastern Question, by Edward A. Freeman, (Fortnightly Review); an instalment of 'The Dilemma,' one of the remarkable stories of the time: Walt Whitman's Poems, by Peter Bayne, (Contemporary Review); The Curate in Charge, by Mrs. Oliphant; In a Studio, by W. W. Story, (Blackwood); West Indian Superstitions, (Contemporary Review); Hindoo Proverbs, (The Globe); and the usual choice poetry and miscellany; making a very attractive and valuable number for the week. $8 a year: Littell & Gay, Boston.

Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine, for January, 1876, has been republished by THE LEONARD SCOTT PUBLISHING Co., 41 Barclay Street, N. Y. The contents are as follows:

I The Dilemma.—Part IX. II. In my Study Chair.—No. II. III. Left handed Elsa.—Conclusion. IV Lace and Bric a-brac. V Bee or Beattix. VI. The First Step in Army Reform VII. Public Affairs.

The periodicals reprinted by THE LEONARD SCOTT PUBLISHING Co (41 Barclay Street, N. Y.) are as follows: The London Quarterly, Edinburgh, Westminster, and British Quarterly Reviews, and Blackwood's Magazine. Price, $4 a year for any one, or only $15 for all, and the postage is prepaid by the Publishers

---

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE.—The February number of the Eclectic contains an excellent portrait of the Hon. William M. Evarts, accompanied with a brief editorial sketch of his life. The leading article is on 'Modern Sorcery,' and in it, the claims and pretension of Spiritualism are subjected to a caustic analysis Other articles are 'Weather' 'The True Eastern Question,' 'Women' in the 'German Home Life' series: an interesting record of a visit to 'Charlotte Bronte's Birthplace' 'A Neglected Humorist' of the past generation—Foote, the dramatist: 'Notes from the Crimea;' 'The Wagner Festival of 1876;' 'The Pleasure of Wealth;' and 'Hymnus Responsorius,' by the Right Hon. W. E. Gladstone. Liberal installments of the two stories—'Her Dearest Foe,' by Mrs. Alexander, and 'Jonathan,' by C. C. Fraser Tytler, are given; and the Editorial Departments contain the usual variety of interesting and useful notes on literature, science, and art

Published by E. R. PELTON, 25 Bond Street, New York. Terms, $5 per year: Single number, 45 cents.

Scribner's Monthly Magazine for February is a very attractive number. It is one of the leading magazines of the world and is edited with consummate ability. The present number contains among other interesting articles, a second paper on "New York in the Revolution," "The Hollis Bust of Milton," "A Hundred Thousand Homes: how they were paid for;" third paper on Beds and Tables, Stools and Candlesticks;" A Piece of secret History. "The University of Michigan" etc, etc. Topics of the Times, The Old Cabinet, Home and Society, Culture and Progress, etc, etc, lend their usual interest to the Magazine. Scribner & Co. New York. $4 a year.

Peterson's Ladies' National Magazine for January was duly received and is always a welcome visitor The present number is very attractive. There are two steel engravings, a mammoth colored fashion plate and a splendid Berlin pattern in twelve colors; besides innumerable wood engravings of fashions, patterns, etc. The principal steel-plate, "A little Tot of 1776, is after a celebrated picture by Sir Joshua Reynolds. A novelet, called, "The Days of Seventy-six," is begun by Mrs. Ann S. Stephens. All the stories are good There is also an illustrated article on old Independence Hall, in Philadelphia, and the Declaration of Independence, which was signed there. As a guide for the fashions, Peterson's has no rival. "You do not know how to dress," says a contemporary, "till you have seen 'Peterson.'" The price is only two dollars a year, with great deductions to clubs, and valuable premiums to persons getting up clubs. Specimens are sent gratis, to those wishing to get up clubs.

Address, CHAS. J. PETERSON, 306 Chestnut Street Philadelphia, Pa.

Southern Christian Advocate says: For the first time since his return from the West, we had the pleasure of an hour with Bishop Pierce in our office during the past week. Whatever "wear and tear" may have been incurred from his travels and pulpit labors, has to all appearance been repaired by a brief season of rest, and he is looking as robust and ready for service as at any period within the last ten or fifteen years.

The City.

Don't pull flowers or walk on the grass in the capitol square, if you heed the warning of the keeper and a five dollar fine.

The city authorities have under consideration the expediency of building gas works of its own. There is greater need of a system of water works.

H. W. Fairchild works on a truck farm near Raleigh and though he has no hands or arms hoes vegetables, drives a nail, cuts wood and writes well. He has a steel hook and ring braced about both shoulders and when he hoes he puts the hoe handle through the ring on the right arm and the left arm he hooks into the handle through a mortice. When he writes he fastens a pair of pincers on for a left hand and readily uses a pen. So says the Raleigh News.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS.—The following decisions of the Supreme Court, were rendered on Monday:

By Pearson, C. J.: Samuel Harker vs W. L. Arendell, from Carteret. Error. Judgment modified so as to strike out the order to the Clerk and allow execution on the judgment against the defendant.

Boylston Insurance Company et al. vs. John D. Davis, from Carteret. No error, Affirmed.

By Reade, J.: Flora McFarland vs. John McKay, administrator, from Richmond. No error. Cause remanded may answer.

By Settle, J: R. Barnes, administrator, vs. Piedmont & Arlington Life Insurance Company, from Harnett. Affirmed.

State vs. Jerry Rorie, et al., from Richmond. Error. Venire de novo.

By Bynum, J.: F. Borden Mace vs. Isaac Ramsay, from Carteret Affirmed.

C. B. Curlee vs. Annie Thomas, from Union. Error. Judgment reversed.

HOMICIDE.—On Tuesday the 25th inst, Adolphus G. Moore was shot by Geo. W. Swepson at Haw River in Alamance county. Both parties were well known in the State and the affair has produced great excitement and interest not only at the place where the homicide occurred, but in all parts of the State where the news has gone. The matter is being investigated before three magistrates at Haw River and the testimony thus far elicited has been conflicting, as to whether the killing was in self defence or unprovoked. It seems that Mr. Moore went bird hunting on Tuesday morning, carrying two guns and two negro boys with him. They passed Mr. Swepson's house both going and returning, Mr. Moore showing signs of anger as he passed. Mr. Swepson appeared on his porch and after a few words between him and Mr. Moore, the former raised his rifle and fired, though missing his aim. He rushed into the house and shot again, the ball taking effect and inflicting a wound from which Mr. M. died on Friday. The dying statement of Mr. Moore was to the effect that Mr. S. asked him 'what he wanted;' he replied, "Come out into the road and I'll fight or shoot with you," whereupon Mr. S. raised his rifle and fired

The counsel for Mr. Swepson say they can prove that Mr. M. was in the act of shooting at him when he fired. The deed was the culmination of a long standing feud between the parties.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Bald Mountain is rumbling again.

A new paper is talked of for Durham.

The gauge of the Atlantic & N. C. Railroad was changed last week.

T. G. Cozart and G. A. Reams fought in Durham lately, the latter receiving a severe wound in the head.

A runaway horse attached to a wagon ran over a little child in Durham last week, breaking its skull in two places.

State Senator W. T. R. Bell, of Carteret county, has moved his residence to King's Mountain.

The citizens of Wentworth recently forwarded to the Oxford orphan asylum $26.50 and a package of merchandise.

Large quantities of tobacco are now sold at the warehouses in Hillsboro, as we learn from the Recorder, and at good prices.

"Fine cut" chewing tobacco is manufactured at Hillsboro by H. P. Jones & Co., and the Recorder says large orders are received from Liverpool, Boston, New York and other places.

Jehial Atwater, a highly respected citizen of Chatham, died a short time since from the effects of partial paralysis.

Carson and Cowles, two negroes, sit in the Alabama Legislature and are escaped criminals from this State.

The Stockton Gold Mine near Monroe will be publicly sold on the sixth of March.

Of the 230.000 white children in North Carolina, only 15 000 attend subscription schools.

The name of Little Yadkin post office, on the Mt Airy route, has been changed to Dalton.

Paul Crutchfield, while in the employ of the Richmond & Danville Railroad, lost the use of his right arm and has brought suit for damages.

The First National Bank of Winston has been organized, Joseph A Biting, President, and Col J W Alspaugh, Cashier.

Wooten's Express has sold to the Southern Express Company its right to express freight over the C. C. Railway.

Judge Henry, while traveling in the mountains in the Western part of the State a few days ago, was thrown from his horse and received some severe injuries.

Col. I. J. Young seized the tobacco factory and a lot of manufactured and leaf tobacco belonging to G. W. Watkins, of Granville county, for violation of Internal Revenue laws.

A colored man has been appointed post master at Warsaw, whereat the people of that vicinity are justly indignant.

It is regretted that Rev. J. M. Rose, pastor of the Portsmouth (Va.) Presbyterian Church, and a native of Fayetteville, has entirely lost his voice and returned to his old home.

"Blind Tom," the wonderful musical prodigy, gives two concerts in Goldsboro, on the 2d and 3d inst.

Solicitor L. J. Moore has indicted nearly every business man in Wayne county for failure to pay license tax for 1876.

The Toisnot TRANSCRIPT speaks in high terms of the initial sermon of Rev. N. M. Jarney, the new pastor for that charge.

There are 250 patients in the Insane Asylum, of whom 126 are males and 124 females.

REUNION OF THE 6TH N. C. REGIMENT.—A reunion of the 6th N C. Regt will take place at Durham, N. C, on July 21st 1876. The members of the 6th Regiment will be entertained by the citizens of Durham. An oration will be delivered suitable to the occasion by a member of the Regiment. The re-union has no political significance whatever, its only design being to promote the history of this celebrated Regiment.

Communications relative to the Reunion should be addressed to the field and staff officers; Col. R. F. Webb, Flat River, N. C.; Lt. Col. Tate, Morganton, N. C.; Maj. R. W. York, Morrisville, N. C.; Rev. A. W. Mangum, Chaplain, Chapel Hill, N. C.; Lt. Cornelius Mebane Adjt., Mebanesville, N. C.

Neal Knox, the ring-leader of a band of robbers who have been operating on the highways near Charlotte, was arrested at Cool Springs, Iredell county, last week, and is in jail at Charlotte. All the officers of the gang are now safe, says the Observer, in the custody of the law.

Particulars of the death of young McCorkle from the Baltimore SUN: Franklin W. McCorkle, of Newton, N. C., a medical student attending lectures at the Maryland University, Lombard and Green streets, was accidentally drowned at 9 o'clock Saturday night, by walking overboard into Jones' falls at the foot of Plowman street. The young man boarded on West Lombard street. He was 22 years of age and in the first year of his course, having come to Baltimore in October last. It is supposed that he thought was on West Lombard street and returning to his lodging place, when he wandered into the falls at Plowman street in the dark, and met his death. The locality of the falls at Plowman street is not provided with a bridge, but there is a combing 2½ feet high, through which, however, there is an opening for the surface drainage. It is supposed Mr. McCorkle walked through this into the water. Mrs. Susana Cosgrove, living on Plowman street, heard the splash and gave an alarm. Every effort was made by persons who responded to rescue the young man, and a boat was procured, but not until it was too late. The body was recovered and efforts made to resuscitate it, but without success. J. H. Younut, a room-mate of Mr. McCorkle, telegraphed to Newton, Catawba county, N C, to the father of the deceased. The jury rendered a verdict of accidental drowning in Jones' falls.

At a shooting match at Rayner's Mill in Johnston county on the 22d ult., a difficulty arose between W. J. Jernigan and Thomas Barefoot, and the former killed the latter by striking him on the head with a broad side slab. Jernigan is at large.

"Owen Hill" the former residence of Col Guion, now of Charlotte, was destroyed by fire on the 22d ult. It was an elegant mansion, about 20 miles below Fayetteville on the Cape Fear River and was occupied by Jno. A. Williams, Jr.

The Merchant's Bank in Fayetteville, E. J. Lilly Esq., President, has consolidated with the Fayetteville National Bank.

The Magnolia Record says there is a gourd in the upper part of Duplin county that is 190 years old, having been grown in 1686.

Water courses are low in many parts of the State, and many mills have ceased to grind: a remarkable fact to record at this season of the year.

Julius Martin formerly a prominent politician in Stokes county, has become deranged.

The Graham Gleaner says: John Andrews, of this county, met with a serious accident last week. He was run ning as a fireman on the N. C. R. R. and by some means got his foot and leg between the engine and tender, when it bumped together and crushed his foot and ankle in a horrible manner.

The Graham Gleaner says: Robert F. White, a worthy citizen of our county, about ten days ago was engaged in cutting down a tree in a small clearing he was making. By some means the top of the tree in falling struck him on his arm and brushed him considerably.

The next meeting of the North Carolina State Grange will be held in Greensboro. commencing Tuesday the 15th of February. Arrangements will be made with hotels and railroads for reduced rates of fare for all members who may attend.

S. V. P., of Hendersonville, writes the Asheville Citizen that the builder of the first railroad car ever construcked in the world, now lives within four miles of Hendersonville. He is 72 years old, well informed, of great energy and quick and active.

